Key A-Sub Announcement

Expect Soviet Atom-Power Claim To Be Made Soon

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—The Navy's sensational announcement that a contract had been placed for the world's first atom-powered submarine took a bit of the edge off Washington speculation concerning production of electricity with atomic energy.

Insiders had expected the Soviet Union to come up with an announcement—any day now—that it was using A-power to produce electricity. The fact is that the United States Atomic Energy Commission already is turning out "A-Juice," but has been unwilling to discuss progress in this direction because it may be some time before certain experiments will be considered conclusive.

There are three main reasons why the AEC has held back on any announcement about atomic electricity.

For one thing, the commissioners are very much averse to any "stunt" production of power. By that, they mean that the electricity must be economical. They point out that it would be possible to rig up an apparatus on any smokestack to produce electricity but that the procedure would have no significance.

For another thing, the experimental power plant at Arco, Ida., is producing 100 kilowatts of electricity successfully but there will be no guarantee that the power is economical unless it creates more atomic fuel than it burns.

In the third place, the rate at which fuel is consumed, possibly a pound a year, is so slow that it will be months before the fuel can be taken out to see whether the machine has created more new radioactive atoms than have been destroyed by splitting.

ROAD WORK—Political insiders in Washington take it for granted that President Truman will light out on a transcontinental "whistle stop" tour shortly after Oct. 1.

Congress is expected to adjourn on that date, leaving unfinished work of the legislative business Mr. Truman has labeled as "must," and falling to satisfy him on other items.

Therefore the President is eager to go to the country with his side of the story and to complain in his tried-and-tested, off-the-cuff fashion about the Republicans and Southern Democrats whom he accuses of having ganged up against him.

The junket may be camouflaged as a tour of defense plants and military installations, but its political overtones will be obvious.

Several Presidential advisers, including Senate Secretary Leslie Bush, have counseled Mr. Truman that his popularity with the grass roots folks is on the rise and that now is the time for him to make a personal appearance tour.

Most observers expect the President to decide, from the reaction to his proposed trip, whether or not he will seek a return trip to the White House in 1952.

ARGENTINE ELECTION—Diplomatic observers are looking for a flare-up of violence in Argentina when dictator-president Juan Peron comes up for re-election next February.

Travelers recently returned from Argentina report that discontent is more widespread than the government-controlled news dispatches would indicate.

They are not by any means predicting any overthrow of the Peron government, but they believe that Peron may have more trouble pulling back into office than he has ever had before.

News of the recent railroad strike was too big to be suppressed but the outside world hears little of the evidence that Peron is losing popular support.

For one thing, travelers insist that Argentinians are becoming increasingly tired of Evita, Peron's capricious blond wife. Some anti-administration congressmen have even dared ask publicly for an accounting of the millions of pesos allegedly poured into the Senora Peron's entertainment fund.

Then there are reports of inflation rampages with the cost of food especially high. This, in a land of agricultural plenty, is said to be particularly hard for Argentinians to bear quietly.

reparations from Japan.

Japanese Premier Yoshida and his party, technically still World War II enemies, arrived Sunday.

Diplomats said they will take no active part in the conference except to sign the treaty. Yoshida may speak then. To reporters he expressed hope "the peace conference will proceed and terminate successful according to schedule."

Delegates doubted that the Saturday deadline would be met. The prevailing prediction is that it may not be possible to have the signing ceremony before the following Monday or Tuesday.

And a signing even then depends, in the American view, on adoption of the rigid rules which the United States has drafted. It is seeking support for them from every delegation at the 51-nation meeting, except the three Communist groups.

The rules would limit speeches of each delegation to about one hour and would state, in effect, that the purpose of the conference is to sign the Anglo-American sponsored draft treaty.

Under this definition, Russia's proposals for changes in the text could be ruled out of order.

Until some rules are adopted, however, Acheson as chairman has no authority to run the proceedings. Thus if the Russians want to tie up the conference with marathon speeches they may try to do it before his power is established.

Inside such projects possible, Rev. McKinley pointed out the part that the Sanford Housing Authority, revived by Mr. Higgins, had played in the project. He singled out for special commendation, Ralph A. Cowan, chairman, George A. Williams, secretary, treasurer, and E. J. Moughton, architect. He commended Bradford Builders, Miami, for a "job well done."

Mr. Stemper pointed out that the part played by the City Commission in the construction of Castle Brewer Court had been one of co-operation.

The City Commission, he said, originally authorized the appointment of a committee, the Sanford Housing Authority, composed of the late Edward Higgins as chairman and other members of the County Chamber of Commerce.

This committee, at the request of the Public Housing Authority, was required to conduct an extensive survey showing the need for public housing in Sanford. The City Commission, he added, advanced the money at this time to conduct the survey, thus saving many months of time.

From the results of this survey, said Mr. Stemper, Castle Brewer Court was authorized. The Sanford Housing Authority, then acting as a representative of the federal government, secured a co-operative agreement with the City embracing agreements on land, streets, sewers and other facilities. These agreements have been substantially carried out.

He pointed out that the dream and realization of Castle Brewer had not only meant hard work but also resulted in temporary hardships on colored residents who were moved to other homesites so that the project could be built.

Among those cited by Mr. Stemper for their work for the project were the late Mr. Higgins, R. C. Cowan, George Williams, Volie Williams, Sr. and Volie Williams, Jr., Rev. McKinley, Harry Lee, Sam Martins, W. V. Hitting and Clarence Redding.

H. L. Duhart told of his association of more than 40 years with the late Rev. Castle Brewer, whom he described as one of the greatest colored ministers who ever lived, and who served St. Paul's Baptist Church for more than 44 years. He described Rev. Brewer as a meek and smiling man who was noted for his amiable disposition and co-operativeness.

Kaesong neutrality zone where they were held.

All charges have brought denials from the U. N. command. An official Communist note delivered Sunday night said that way "if you are determined to break up the negotiations you should openly and formally declare your intention to do so, instead of ceaselessly carrying out such scoundrelly provocations."

It told the U. N. command: "If you still have the intention of resuming the Kaesong talks" he must "conscientiously and responsibly deal with the series of grave, provocative incidents."

Red China's Peking radio added to the scope of Communist charges.

Peking said an American plane bombed Manchuria and American warships entered Chinese waters. The broadcast said two bombers flew across the Yalu River border between Korea and Manchuria last Wednesday. One of them dropped a bomb in the Antung area of Manchuria, the radio asserted.

Peking said American warships entered North China waters the same day. The ships were alleged to have flashed their searchlights and shot flares along the Shantung coast near Chefoo, off the north coast of Kung Tung Island east of Chefoo, and off the east coast of Lung Kou Chen.

Previous Red charges centered on alleged U. N. violations of the Kaesong neutrality zone. There has been a long series.

Vice Admiral C. Turner Joy, chief Allied truce negotiator, added to the equally long series of denials Sunday night.

The Reds had charged that "South Korean troops" murdered two military police in the zone Thursday.

"If the alleged incidents of Aug. 30 actually occurred," Joy replied, "it is reasonable to assume they were perpetrated by the same group of irregulars that was involved in the incident of 19 August."

Holiday Deaths

Boat, with 56 persons aboard, capsized. Thirty-seven persons perished. Nineteen bodies have been recovered and 19 persons were rescued.

There were traffic fatalities in all but five states, Texas had 30 deaths reported, Ohio 23, New York 22 and Pennsylvania 18.

The states with no deaths were Montana, Nevada, North Dakota, Rhode Island and Wyoming.

The Associated Press survey of deaths began at 6 P. M. Friday (local time) and will continue to midnight Monday.

During this period in 1950 there were 353 traffic deaths, 80 drownings, and 94 miscellaneous deaths, an all-time high toll of 527 for the three day labor Day holiday in 1949, the record for traffic deaths was set with 410 recorded.

income in taxes.

Because Japan suffered many bitter experiences in the conflict between army and navy during the last war, her military men have been watching American unification with great interest.

If Japan is to start all over again, she would be in a unique position to unify her land, sea and air arms from the start.

There would be no lobby for any service branch trying to win votes in the diet.

A coast guard could be created from the present maritime safety board. That board operates harbor patrol boats. Additional boats would come from the U. S.

America probably could provide planes for the start of an air force. But the training of pilots would take a great deal of time before anything more than reconnaissance could be expected.

Meanwhile the Caribbean hurricane—number four—continued its westward movement.

The San Juan, Puerto Rico, Weather Bureau reports the storm, which formed yesterday in the same general area that spawned the hurricane that killed almost 300 persons last month, was located at 8 A. M. today about 225 miles south of Cabo Rojo, P. R.

Winds near the center of the tropical twister were estimated at 100 miles an hour while gale winds extended about 100 miles to the north.

The Weather Bureau predicted the storm would continue to move westward at a speed of about 18 miles an hour and that it would increase in size and intensity during the next 12 hours.

Land areas are in immediate danger and chief storm forecaster Grady Norton of the Miami Weather Bureau last night said: "Unless there is a radical change of direction it will be a long time before any land area is endangered."

Ships in the path of the hurricane were advised to avoid it.

Recalling that in 1948 it said, "The State of Florida would not suffer or be embarrassed should Colin English, William Shands or Fuller Warren be elected governor," the Miami Herald now apologizes for that remark.

Governor Warren took six hundred words to say what he thought about Senator O'Connor and the Senate Crime Committee's report on Warren's connection with illegal gambling activities in this state, but he neglected entirely to explain why his own statement of campaign expenditures showed only $8,825 spent when three men testified they had given him over $400,000 for this purpose.

Making Autos Safer

The practice of compulsory inspection of motor vehicles, as an assurance of their safe condition, has begun to spread again, and groups with a special interest in highway safety are pushing hard for the universal adoption of inspection laws.

Statistics definitely support the value of inspection programs in reducing accidents. In the states requiring inspection, traffic accident deaths in 1950 were nearly 15 per cent below the national average, while in other states they were 4 per cent above the average.

One of the factors which retards the spread of inspection programs is the fear that inspection will develop into a racket for the benefit of repair shops, especially when the inspecting is done by privately owned garages.

Political Drafts

In a sharp and descriptive scene in the play "Julius Caesar," Shakespeare describes how Caesar three times refused a crown when it was offered to him in the market place.

The scene is brought to mind by the recent "draft" in Argentina of Juan Peron and his wife Eva to run for the offices of president and vice-president.

Scientists Are Enthralled By Sunrise Eclipse Over New York

NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(AP)—A partial sunrise eclipse Saturday delighted astronomers but drew only puzzled frowns from the man in the street.

Some of the latter had expected the dawn's arrival would be delayed by the moon appearing in front of the sun like a penny on a nickel at the sunrise hours.

Daylight nevertheless came on schedule, despite some cloudiness. There was enough sunlight so the clouds glistened even though the moon obscured about 87 per cent of the sun's surface in the New York area at 6:01 A. M. (EST)—the height of the partial eclipse.

Some neck cranes said they could see it, but other aquined in vain.

"I looked but didn't see anything," commented one man hurrying to work.

"And to think I got up early for it," another said ruefully. Those too tired to get out to see it at that hour were able to watch it in their homes on television.

In the New York area, the eclipse was partial, leaving the sun in a crescent "quarter moon" shape.

But in the best viewing area, a 66-mile-wide path bounded approximately by Dobson, N. C., and Norfolk, Va., and running across the Atlantic to Madagascar, it was an Annular eclipse.

That is like a total eclipse, except that the moon is so far from the earth it does not completely cover the sun's surface. It centers on the sun, like the penny on the nickel, leaving a ring of light around the moon.

Reflecting the enthusiasm of experts, Robert Coles, chairman of the Hayden planetarium, boarded an airplane shortly after 4:30 A. M. (EST) to see the spectacle from on high.

Coles gave a running report of the phenomena on a tape recorder and when he landed he gave this report on the eclipse: "It was all very successful and according to schedule."

Watching the sun through dark glasses like those worn by welders, Coles commented: "It is amazing when an eclipse takes place, but I'm always afraid it won't happen."

As the plane circled at 12,000 feet on a route running 50 miles southeast of New York and 30 miles off Point Pleasant, N. J., Coles declared:

"The sunlight is brilliant. There are cloud banks below and the ocean is still as a millpond. The sun is a blinding glory."

Other exclamations such as "amazing" and "stupor" were recorded on the tape.

This was the fifth eclipse seen by Coles. There was a partial eclipse last Mar. 7. The last annular eclipse visible in the United States was on Apr. 7, 1940. The next one is scheduled for May 30, 1951.

Coles said an eclipse was scientifically useful in providing a check on the constancy of the earth rotation. It has seemed to be slowing down fractions of seconds over the centuries, he reported.

Trail Blazer - with plenty on the ball

How long since you lifted the hood of a car, and took a good look at what's beneath? We like to have folks do that with a Buick.

You'll find that broad bonnet isn't put there for show. It's packed with horsepower—high, wide and handsome—more horsepower than normal drivers will ever use in full.

And—if you're up to date on modern features—you'll find that this bonnet is packed with these too.

Do you know, for example, that every new engine introduced or previewed in recent years is built on the valve-in-head principle?

Score one for Buick. No Buick engine has ever been built any other way.

Do you know what it takes to make full use of high compression? A valve-in-head engine!

Score two! Buick has been stopping its compression ratio for years.

But Buick has blazed one trail which other engines still haven't followed—don't ask us why.

Every Buick has a Fireball Engine which, as we've said before, is like having a string of bonnets by the tail.

Fact is, in every flame-packed cylinder there is a comet—rolled into a twisting ball by a special turbo-top piston—touched off by a spark every 3 times you travel in a Buick.

That's why we're proud to show you that Buick has a Fireball Engine—and you'll be able to have your share of the fun and performance out on the road.

Want to try it? Come in and see us soon.

Gene Tucker Crushes Piercy To Win City Tennis Championship 6-0, 6-1

By ED HARPER

In a sparkling display of power and court finesse, City Champion Gene Tucker decisively defeated Hollis Piercy 6-0, 6-1, Sunday to win the City Tennis Tournament for the second consecutive year.

Utilizing his bewildering variety of shots and strategy to the utmost, Tucker was never in trouble as he ran his opponent to the point of exhaustion in the early games of the first set and breezed to victory in the second.

Tucker's first service boomed in with the slight twist which baffled Piercy time after time while the City Champion apparently was undisturbed by the challenger's usually effective drop and cut shots.

Breaking Piercy's service in the first game, Tucker won 10 straight games in the match before dropping one.

Matchless net play by Tucker nullified much fine retrieving by Piercy who continually made beautiful defensive shots only to find himself cross-court by the omnipresent city champion.

In other matches over the Labor Day weekend Barbara McNabb defeated former Women's Champion Helen Tucker 6-3, 4-6, 12-10 in a marathon match which can only be classified as an upset of the first order, and Roland Dean and Jim Higgins beat Gene Tucker and Charlie Morrison to enter the finals of the Men's Doubles.

Mrs. Tucker, usually a hard hitting offensive player, inexplicably adjusted her game to that of Miss McNabb whose superb defensive play matched any seen in the tournament so far this year.

After losing the first set in extra games, Mrs. Tucker took command in the second and it looked as if the match would be ended in short order, but Miss McNabb not to be denied.

Both players were facing exhaustion in the final games of the third set which was played with remarkable caution. Each held service until the 51st game when Miss McNabb broke Mrs. Tucker's at add, and went on to take her own.

Roland Dean and Jim Higgins continued their straight set wins in the men's doubles with a decisive defeat of the favored Tucker-Morrison combination.

Relying as always on an impeccable attack at the net, the two volley artists repeatedly attacked attempted lobs and cross court shots out of reach of their opponents.

In the second set veteran Charlie Morrison and City Singles Champion put on a valiant rally which forced the match into extra games but they were unable to fathom the forecourt game of Dean and Higgins, finally going down 6-3, 8-6.

Labor Day Sports Crowds Are Huge; Tracks Draw Best

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—If Labor Day sports, the holiday sports fan would rather risk a couple of hobs on a bangtail than spend it on a good ball game.

Despite the heat of the pennant races in both circuits, major league attendance was off 37,001 from the Labor Day crowds of a year ago.

A total of 297,968 fans turned out at 13 racing establishments and posted $1,921,921 through the mutuel windows.

But the most significant fact is that a comparison of the five major track shows wagering $1-

Feller Wins 21st As Indians Take Sox In Twin Bill

CLEVELAND, Sept. 4.—(AP)—"We've got a fine chance to win the pennant, if we can keep our pitching and continue to get those hits," says Manager Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians.

"I think we're over that batting slump and that we're going to get started to add to it."

The Tribe pushed back into first place yesterday by sweeping a doubleheader with Chicago while the New York Yankees were splitting at Philadelphia. That put the Indians half a game—but only one percentage point—in the lead.

To back up Lopez' opinion that the slump was over, the Tribe smacked 12 hits in the first game and beat the White Sox, 8-7. They got nine in the nightcap and won, 6-1.

Until Sunday when Cleveland hit 11 times against St. Louis—Lopez had confined his worrying to the hitting. Cleveland batters had been backing their superb pitching staff with an average of six blows a game.

Lopez cannot account for the hitting slump which helped the Yankees push the Indians out of first. Nor can he explain the sudden outburst which carried them back to the top rung—except to note that now they are "hitting the hole" between holders instead of banging the ball right into fielders' gloves.

Bob Feller got credit for his 21st pitching victory in the first game, but needed help in the last inning from Mike Garcia. "Feller's control hadn't been too good and I didn't want to risk getting men on base," Lopez explains. "With those shadows around the place, it was the spot for Mike's swift one."

Steve Bromek got credit for the second one and was especially pleasing because Frank Lane, Chicago general manager, had refused to consider him in trading last winter.

No player has been able to win the U. S. amateur championship three times in a row. Six men have won it twice consecutively.

Virginia Mayo gets the nod over John Agar and Kirk Douglas in this scene from Warner Bros.' "Along With the Great Divide," showing on the Ritz Theatre screen Tuesday and Wednesday.

The five tracks are Amundson, Atlantic City, Washington Park, Narragansett and Bay. The first three are under the management of John A. S. Sweeney and the last two are owned by the Sweeney family.

The four junior circuit programs drew 104,612 last year, they attracted 159,801.

The National League attendance was up 20,078 from 6,612,749 the day before. The top crowd was at the Philadelphia Phillies game at Sports Field, Pennsylvania. The National League's heaviest turnout was at 22,222.

Members of the National Topical Club, including Al Foster, Bill O'Connell and Ed Egan, were in the big crowd at the 14th annual convention and some 4,000 others who were able to gain admission.

Crippled Red Sox Field Crazy Quilt Line Up For Yanks

BOSTON, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Although of patchwork design, the Boston Red Sox will have a somewhat stronger lineup tomorrow night when they invade Yankee Stadium for the first of several critical games against the world champion New Yorkers.

The third place Sox are four games behind the Yanks who trail Cleveland by a half game.

Tom Williams, who missed yesterday's doubleheader after a twist with Tom Griffe, is expected to be in left field.

Clyde Vollmer whose bruising but kept the Sox in contention through July, will be back in right field after an absence because of his father's death.

The ubiquitous Billy Goodman will be at third base and Walt Dropo on first.

Hob Doerr, who has played second base for the Bostonians since he first came to the major in 1927, will be at his post, "steaky back or no crummy back."

Johnny Pesky, who has driven his average up from .225 to .317 since he began playing regularly, will play shortstop.

Young Leo Kiley, slick working left-hander, will face the New Yorkers for the first time in his short career.

Kiley, who has a 4-3 record with a 2.14 ERA, also Sunday in Cleveland when he pitched a no-hitter—both hits were home runs.

Buddy Rosar, an old ex-Yankee himself, will catch Leo's sharp breaking stuff and Dom of baseball's DIMaggio will be at his accustomed post in center field.

These manipulations are nothing new for the Sox this season. Vern Stephens is missing from the lineup for the sixth time, Lou Verdora for the fourth, Doerr has out games three times.

"Others who have been out because of hurts include Rosar, Bill Wight, Ella Kinder, who made his 51st and 52nd appearances of the season yesterday, Mel Parrish, Ray Scarborough, Kiley, Willard Nixon and Vollmer.

Dom DIMaggio also missed several games because of his mother's death.

Goodman was moved to third because Fred Hatfield who was filling in for Stephens, made only one hit in 26 times at bat.

Manager Steve O'Neill, who admits "we've got a tough road to travel," hasn't had a full squad all season.

Somewhat ruefully he agreed he just might have to depend upon pitchers or catchers in infield or outfield positions.

"I," said one of the Sox emphatically, "if not grammatically, we ain't blabbing about our hitting line. The Yanks did two years ago."

Bill Meyer, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, was a catcher with the Yankees for two years in 1913 and with the Philadelphia A's in 1916 and 1917.

Athletics Become Most Feared Club By Flag Hopefuls

By HENRY ALTSCHULL

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics are becoming the most feared club in the American League, despite their lowly position in the pennant race.

The A's are in seventh place and have practically no chance of reaching the first division. But how they knock off the big boys yesterday for the third time this season, the A's joined the New York Yankees out of first place. And they haven't played favorites. Australian Ace Sedgman Favored To Win National Tennis Tourney

By GAYLE TALBOT

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Sept. 4.—(AP)—For the first time since the National Tennis Championships were first played back in 1881, an Australian will in all probability accept the big silver cup on the grass of the stadium late today.

Few of those who had sat through the tournament for the past 10 days could envision anything but a victory for Frank Sedgman, the Aussie Ace, over Vic Kozlas of Philadelphia in today's final.

The feeling was that the tall, racy checked Davis Cup star had displayed too much speed, power and all-around class in each of his matches to be felled now by a player who entered the tournament seeded only seventh on the American list and who was ranked only eighth in this country last year.

The 27-year-old Main Linder had, however, made a remarkable showing to this point, no matter what might strike him today. His first-set victory over No. 1 seeded Dick Savitt of Orange, N.J., in yesterday's semi-finals was somewhat tarnished by the fact that the Wimbledon champion scarcely could get around on an infected leg, but there were no strings attached to his triumph over Ken McGregor of Australia and Herb Flam of Beverly Hills in his two previous outings.

Sedgman, for his part, simply ate Art Larson alive, much to the surprise and chagrin of a packed crowd of 15,000 which had expected better of the slim left-hander who won the title a year ago. That one lasted only 48 minutes and the score was 6-1, 6-2, 6-0. Maxon used up an hour and 17 minutes in administering his mercy shot to Savitt by 6-0, 6-8, 6-2.

Even an extra day's rest because of Sunday's rain failed to take the fire from the infection just below Savitt's left knee. He couldn't straighten the leg, much less gun with his usual speed or

Not long ago, the Yankees were a fearsome ball club at the plate. And both New York runs in the nightcap resulted from an error, more of judgment than anything else.

The Yankees took the opener, 3-1, and the A's won the afternoon, 5-2.

Grove Is Proudest Of Grand Slam Hit And Yank Shutout

By CHARLES R. LEWIS MORGANTOWN, W. Va.—(AP)—Robert Moses (Left) Grove generally has little to say about base ball today—he wants nothing to interfere with that rockin' chair and those fish.

Grove, now 51, made this observation while a guest of honor at an American Legion Junior baseball tournament here.

Grove pitched an exhibition game for the A's against Paige when he was with the Homestead Grays in Pittsburgh in 1925—and he was an old man then.

Actually, Grove returned, Satchel must have several years' advantage on me.

his career in 1941 as one of baseball's greatest hurlers, in gray now but refers to himself as a "blonde."

What was his greatest thrill as he won 300 games and lost 141 during nine years with the A's and eight more with Boston?

Probably the 10-run explosion set off by the A's in a single inning which wrapped up the World Series triumph over the Chicago Cubs. Grove appeared in relief in that game, fanning four of the six men he faced.

Although he never buried a no-hitter—"I was always more interested in winning the game," he emphasized—Grove had a grand slam home run among 117 circuit clouts of which he still is quite proud.

That one came after he had gone to Boston, and in a game he was pitching against his former Athletic teammates, with two on base, the A's walked the Boston catcher intentionally to get at Grove.

Rail Settlement Urged On Truman By Florida Solon

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Senator Holland (D-Fla.) said today he has urged President Truman to seek a settlement in the controversy between railroad management and the three operating brotherhoods as quickly as possible.

Holland wrote Mr. Truman that Florida labor leaders are seriously concerned over the delay. "These leaders," Holland said, "feel that our government has not exerted proper interest in solving the matter."

He added: "In my opinion, Mr. President, the seizure of the railroads by the national government has brought upon you and the executive department very heavy responsibility to do everything possible to bring the long-standing controversy to a speedy and equitable solution. I sincerely hope that the White House will exert every effort towards that end."

Hurricane

(Continued From Page One) Bureau said, but there were no reports immediately on whether damage had been suffered. As hurricane "Dog" traveled its menacing course at 20 miles an hour, another storm sprang up far out in the Atlantic, 1,100 miles east of the island of Antigua in the British West Indies. Hurricane hunter planes were unable to reach the new storm area yesterday but an Air Force B-29 will check it today.

With two storms to follow at the same time, the Weather Bureau began using standard communications terms in referring to them. The first hurricane of the season was "Abbie." Then came "Baker," "Charlie" and now "Dog."

If the Atlantic storm grows into a hurricane it will be called "Bobby." Hurricane "Dog" has winds of 60 miles an hour velocity around its center and winds of hurricane force reaching out 150 miles to the north of the storm's eye and 75 miles to the south. The last report said it was growing in size and intensity.

It formed Sunday between the islands of Martinique and St. Lucia. Winds estimated at 110 miles an hour ripped away roofs and uprooted trees in Fort De France, capital of French Martinique, as the hurricane began its westward run over the Caribbean.

It began moving first on a direct westerly course that would have carried it 1,200 miles over the western part of the Gulf of Mexico to the coast of Nicaragua. Then it began curving northward to threaten new land areas.

It now is following the same general course as hurricane "Charlie," which swept Jamaica, crossed the Yucatan peninsula, and struck the Mexican coast at Tampico to trigger floods that drowned 26 persons.

(Continued From Page One) ten minutes. Mr. Coleman pointed out that this has been the worst season for lightning that he has ever seen. The Fire Department, which had a relatively quiet week up to yesterday had a busy Labor Day with a total of five calls.

In addition to the three alarms caused by lightning, firemen were called shortly after noon to put out a blaze which partly destroyed the wooden garage back of the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Routh, Third Street and Jessamine Avenue. The cause of the fire has not yet been determined. The immediate area was jammed with automobiles of sightseers.

Jap Treaty

(Continued From Page One) took in the drive to build the free world's defenses. While formally ending World War II and restoring Japan's independence, it would permit Japan to rearm and sign a projected Japanese-American agreement to station United States forces in Japan after the occupation.

That is why these officials expect Russia to put up a stiff fight against the pact. Secretary of State Acheson and his aides, in close cooperation with British delegate Kenneth Younger and other key envoys here, have worked out an elaborate battle strategy to meet a disruptive campaign by Soviet Delegation Andrei Gromyko.

Concerns with possible Russian efforts to knot the conference in long debate and thereby wreck the treaty has, in fact, dominated their pre-conference planning. Yet some of Acheson's advisers do not entirely rule out the chance that Gromyko may pull a surprise play, lay down a conciliatory line and, after making objections and reservations, conceivably sign the treaty.

At the other extreme it is considered possible the Russians may threaten prolonged war in Korea and raise the spectre of World War III if the United States and nations friendly to it persist in concluding with Japan a treaty which Russia objects and in which Russia's ally, Red China, can have no part.

American, British and other diplomats friendly to the U. S. admittedly would be surprised if either extreme course were taken by Gromyko. But the Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister himself, wrapped in silence and seclusion since his arrival Saturday, has not yet done or said anything which would rule out any line of action.

Whatever the Soviets do, Mr. Truman was represented by an aide as being confident that the treaty will be signed about as scheduled. The signing ceremony has been set for Saturday afternoon. But many diplomats believe this will be delayed, perhaps until Monday or Tuesday.

The heart of Secretary Acheson's strategy for dealing with Gromyko is to get the conference to adopt a set of rules which would limit speech-making by each delegate to one hour and prevent any amendments to the treaty text drafted by the United States and Britain. Gromyko is expected to fight and perhaps even filibuster such rules.

The first big debate therefore is due to break out in the organization session of the conference Wednesday morning. Yesterday American Ambassador John Foster Dulles conferred with delegates of 10 other nations having a primary interest in the Pacific area.

Subsequently, British delegate Younger, who presided, said this had reached "general agree-

Deportation Of Red Newsmen Is Called For By U. S. Editor

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 4.—(AP)—The president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, Alexander F. Jones, says representatives of Russia's Tass News Agency should be sent back to the Soviet Union.

Jones, executive editor of the Syracuse, N. Y., Herald Journal, proposed this action yesterday in retaliation for the jailing of Associated Press Correspondent William N. Oatis by Communist Czechoslovakia on espionage charges.

Writing in the September issue of the "Ame Bulletin," Jones said a first step against the Red newsmen could be a congressional ban barring Tass representatives from the press galleries of Congress. There will be no real progress toward freeing Oatis, who is serving a 10-year jail term in Prague, "until there is a realistic approach to the subject of American-Russian press relations," Jones said. Asking "what can we do?" Jones urged revision of congressional gallery rules whereby no government agency, U. S. or foreign, could be member of the galleries or enjoy their privileges. Jones said "This would affect only Tass."

ment" on procedure. Nations represented in the session were Australia, Canada, Ceylon, France, Indonesia, the Netherlands, New Zealand, Pakistan, the Philippines, Britain and the United States. The United States is seeking support of all other non-Communist delegations as well.

It was understood that the 11 delegations at the pre-conference session on procedure were prepared for a debate of "reasonable" extent on the rules, running throughout Wednesday and perhaps into Thursday. But they were reported determined to cut off the argument and vote the rules after Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia had ample opportunity to express their views fully.

The French foreign minister, Robert Schuman, said he planned to ask for no changes in the treaty and added "in principle I am coming for the signing." Delegates of the Arab bloc countries—Egypt, Saudi Arabia, Lebanon, Syria and Iraq—held a caucus late yesterday, presumably to develop a joint policy for the conference. Persons at the meeting declined to say what if any decisions were reached.

Korean War

(Continued From Page One) to wage an offensive operation in the near future within this sector." General Matthew B. Ridgway's headquarters in Tokyo said the Reds were in position to launch a new offensive. It gave this picture of the Communist build-up:

Forty divisions—about 400,000 men—on the battle line. At least 30 divisions, including "large numbers of Caucasian Soviet puppet troops" in reserve. A thousand combat planes across the border in Manchuria. But Van Fleet said he doubted the Reds would attack, unless goaded by political reasons.

The most savage fighting since April raged over the eastern ridges Tuesday. Allied troops were locked in a continuing battle with 83,000 Chinese and North Koreans for control of ridges and mountains ranging up to 4,000 feet. United Nations planes and warships pounded Red groups near the front. Allied planes also blasted rail and highway centers from just behind the front almost to the Manchurian border.

U. S. Fifth Air Force planes knocked out more than 400 Red vehicles Monday night. These were added to 860 vehicles and 275 railroad cars destroyed or damaged in Monday's daylight hours.

Warship guns raked the Reds along more than 250 miles of east coast up to Chongjin. The U. S. Eighth Army was punching hard in East Korea's wild mountain country, adding nearly five miles southward a main line which already extended up to 25 miles north of Paraeji 38.

The Reds brought out segments of their rarely committed air force Monday. Their fighter bombers dealt six hit-run bombings and strafing attacks on Allied ground forces. Aground the Reds hurled 15 successive counterattacks against one ridge in efforts to stall the United Nations push. They were thrown back.

Beautiful Young Austrian Adopted By Royal Family

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 4.—(AP)—Sweden's tiny Cinderella princess arrived here today, and scarcely noticed the hubbub she created.

Three-year-old Monika Heissler now she is Countess Monika Bernadotte—was more interested in trying to grab the cap from a Red Cross nurse's head than she was in the excited delegation of reporters, photographers and officials at the railroad station.

The child, born of poor Austrian parents, left her Salzburg home yesterday to become the foster daughter of Count Karl Johann Bernadotte, son of Sweden's king. The count and princess saw her when they attended the Salzburg music festival last month, were captivated by her and decided to adopt her. She met them through the Venezuelan minister to Stockholm, who is active in a "save the children" campaign in Europe.

The girl is one of a group of 19 orphans, deserted children and sons and daughters of displaced persons, all of whom are being adopted by Swedish families. Five and Austrian and 14 are German.

Monika's new parents were not at the station to greet her. They are still abroad and will return the end of this month. Until then Monika will remain at a save-the-children home in Djursholm, a garden city a few miles north of Stockholm.

Monika will live the life of a princess, but she cannot become a princess in actuality, since custom and law prevent adopted children from being in the line of succession. Her foster father himself renounced his rights to succession when he married the countess, a commoner named Kerstin Wijkmark. Monika

Ervin Supports Funds Request By Haley Committee

TALLAHASSEE, Sept. 4.—(AP)—A state of emergency exists in Florida because of the report of the U. S. Senate's Crime Investigating Committee, Attorney General Richard W. Ervin told the state cabinet today.

Ervin made his statement in announcing his support of a request by Rep. James Haley, chairman of the state's own crime investigating group, for funds to carry on its work. The cabinet asked Ervin to prepare a formal opinion on whether it had authority to give the committee funds. Ervin said it was his intention to rule that the money should be given the committee.

"I think this is an emergency," Ervin said. "The Kefauver-O'Connor Committee Report, whether true or not, tells of powerful, organized crime in Florida."

Ervin recalled the Senate Committee's findings that infiltrate crime syndicates operate in Florida, that hoodlums have infiltrated the state, that officials have been bribed and corrupted and that racketeers have tried to transmute into mediums of public

expression

"This finding is of sufficient import, whether true or not, to give this watchdog committee funds," Ervin said. Rep. Haley appeared before the cabinet with a request that the budget commission release some group to carry out the task assigned it by the 1951 Legislature.

Reps. Gus Dekle of Perry and John L. McFarlin Jr. of Marianna, members of the committee, supported Chairman Haley's plea. The Legislature set up the Haley Committee to investigate crime and criminal activities in the state and report back to the 1952 Legislature. But the Legislature failed to provide the Committee funds for its interim work. The House approved a $50,000 appropriation for the group, but the measure died on the Senate calendar.
