The Rotary league pennant winning Cubs had the All Stars groggy in the annual game at Memorial stadium Friday night, but stars turned back with four runs in the final inning to down the Bruins, 6-3.

In pre-game ceremonies the Boy Scout Sportsmanship trophy was awarded Cub George Perides and the Most Valuable Player award given by Sonny Powell went to Bobby Johnson of the Pirates. Twelve gold baseball charms went to the league champion Cubs players.

Perides on the mound for the Bruins worked a fine game, but it was one inning too long for him, giving four of his five pitches in that frame as he tried. The hard working Cub struck out 12. Bobby Johnson caught the pitching chores for the Stars with Mike Roberts.

The Cubs tallied in the second when Ronnie Lindsey went to first on Steve Powell's best, stole the next two sacks and some home on a wild pitch.

In the fourth frame they reached over their heads for markers. Mike Roberts took the ball to start the inning and was greeted with a two-bagger by Dave Wilson and a single from the hat of George Perides that tallied Wilson. Perides also worked. Vil Barka was bench on on Wilson, Lindsey walked and was hit by second, Brumbaugh sacrificed him to third. On a wild

Gas Official, City Turn Down Contracts

In a nearly 60-minute discussion the proposed franchise for the Sanford Gas Company to operate in the City of Sanford both the Board of Sanford City Commissioners and an official of the gas company refused to approve proposed contracts.

The City of Sanford submitted two proposed franchises to the Sanford Gas Company for consideration and were rejected. Last night a proposed franchise submitted by the Sanford Gas Company was turned down by the board of commissioners.

"This proposal is predicated on certain features, is loosely woven and doesn't spell out what the city needs," Commissioner Earl Higginbotham said. However, A. H. Gaede, head of the local gas company stated "the fundamental purpose of the franchise is to allow the use of streets, road highways and for the city to gain the use of gas."

Commissioner David Gatchel stated "There's no similarity whatsoever in this franchise and the one submitted by the city and it is clear that one would be a detriment to the citizens of Sanford." Gatchel claimed that the city would have no comeback "on what you might do to the streets" as he looks to Gaede. Gatchel added "I don't see that there's a thing in the world to your franchise—it's just so many words."

Gaede claimed that his proposed franchise was "a copy of the Florida Power & Light Company contract." At that time, members of the commission loudly said "We'll sign a franchise of that kind right now, just change the name from Florida Power & Light Co. to Sanford Gas Company."

Commissioner Higginbotham claimed that "Everything I sign will be spelled out."

But Gaede insisted that "My proposed franchise is simple and to the point."

At that point Commissioner Higginbotham insisted that "We're not going to buy a pig in a poke."

Gaede explained to the Board of Commissioners that "We have been assured of natural gas all the way down to Miami by July 1958."

To shorten the discussion, commissioners brought out that Gaede should list his objections to the franchise proposed by the City of Sanford, in order that a study could be made.

Gaede explained that his company's objections were to Section 9, 12, 18, 19, 21 and 24. Written objections will be submitted by Sanford Gas Company for a legal study by the City Attorney and for consideration by City Commissioners.

No action was taken by the Board of Commissioners other than to note the objections for further study.

Sanford Receives Dividend Check From Insurance

The City of Sanford is $250 better off today with the receipt of a dividend check from the Prudential Insurance Company delivered last night to the Board of Sanford City Commissioners by Floyd Palmer, agent.

Palmer, reading a letter from the president of the insurance company, asked to "review the city's contract for life insurance on its employees."

This is the most unshared municipality in the State of Florida," Palmer stated as he called on the city to consider doubling its coverage on municipal employees.

The present life insurance coverage in the group policy for city employees is for $1,000 on each person under the contract.

The board of city commissioners agreed to "take the increase into consideration and review it when the budget is discussed."

Commissioners stated that the increase in coverage would affect the budget and only at the beginning of a budget year could the matter be discussed.

Downtown Parking Debated; Proposed Ordinance Tabled

"Words waxed hot" during a discussion of downtown parking last night when ways and means of curtailing all-day parking in one parking stall were proposed.

The present city ordinance provides for fines of $25 for those who receive more than two tickets for the same offense.

The first offense in overtime parking is $25 under the present ordinance; the second offense is $50; and other offenses involved in the same charge can be $25.

At one time during the discussion, it was proposed that the City Attorney draft an ordinance to provide for two-hour parking in the downtown area with offenses after the original ticket at $5.

We want the people to come down and park—we don't want to drive them off," said Commissioner A. L. Wilson.

The proposed ordinance was tabled.

Road Board To File Condemnation Suits

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The state Road Board authorized its attorney to file condemnation suits for the immediate acquisition of right-of-way for interstate projects in Dade, Seminole and Volusia counties.

The projects are the east and west approaches to the 26th Street causeway in Dade County and 10 miles of highway west of Sanford, including bridge across Lake Montau.

The board said it must get the right-of-way as soon as possible because contractors bids will be received on the projects June 26.

The condemnation authority for the Seminole County land is merely insurance against delays because the property owners have not yet been approached and the department hopes to persuade them to sell without litigation.

Property owners in Volusia and Dade County have already refused the price offered by the Road Department, making the condemnation suits necessary.

Land to be condemned in Dade County includes six palatial mansions along Biscayne Bay whose owners turned down the appraised price offered by the Road Department.

A new record has been set at the Municipal Swimming Pool, City Manager Warren E. Knowles advised commissioners at last night's session.

There were 382 admissions to the pool the first weekend it was opened, the City Manager reported.

"The season is starting out wonderfully," the City Manager told commissioners and "we hope to have much larger crowds this year."

Board Opposes Proposed New State Constitution

Without lengthy discussion, the Board of Sanford City Commissioners last night unanimously opposed the adoption of the proposed new state constitution.

Commissioners approved the drafting of a resolution opposing the proposed constitution and the sending of copies to the press and all persons interested including the Seminole County legislative delegation.

The Florida Municipal League urged the opposition on the grounds that the proposed new constitution "does away with the last vestige of home rule"; "provides for surprise legislation"; "allows for state review and equalization of assessments within municipalities"; and provides "for municipalities to perform state functions with the municipalities being given funds to do so."

Another objection raised to the proposed new state constitution was that it would "provide for counties to pass ordinances that would cover the whole county and could conflict with municipal laws."

New Recreation Director Begins Duties Here Today

Ronald W. Perry officially begins his duties as Recreation Director for the City of Sanford today.

He reported last night to the Board of Sanford City Commissioners before launching the citywide year-round recreation program for children of all ages.

Perry's work as Recreation Director coincides with a proclamation of "Recreation Month" during the month of June. Governor LeRoy Collins yesterday issued the proclamation for a statewide program calling attention to the need for planning community, family and individual recreation activities in the traditional American way.

The city's Recreation Director will launch the summer recreation program for school children with the Youth Wing of the Sanford Civic Center going into use for the first time Friday night.

A schedule of activities for children of all ages has not yet been announced for the youth wing of the newly completed center. However a paved skating area has been completed and is ready to be used.

Last month, during a visit to Sanford by the new Recreation Director, Perry emphasized that "I am certainly in favor of a year-round program that will attract everyone from the youngest child to the adult."

He pointed to the fact that the Youth Wing of the Sanford Civic Center will "lend itself to a well rounded program of diversified recreation for various ages of children."

Perry stated that "It is possible to have several programs going on at the same time to reach several ages of children and none will interfere with the other."

Governor Collins, in his proclamation naming June as "Recreation Month" said "Americans have more leisure time than ever before and it is imperative that we learn to use this expanding time to best advantage so that we can fulfill America's destiny by maintaining healthy bodies, inquiring minds and adventurous spirits through recreation."

Pointing out that such forecasts are published only for the use of the Federal Government and the States, he said that the Bureau's forecasts are "not intended for the general public."

Social Security--A Constantly Growing Tax Burden To Shoulder

Congress has liberalized the laws and increased the benefits under Social Security during every Congressional year since 1948. There is no reason to believe that this year will see any deviation from that record.

Already more than 100 bills to liberalize Social Security benefits have been thrown into the legislative hopper -- ranging from mild to radical. At one end, for instance, there would be a slight liberalization of benefits to widows and dependents of disabled workers, while at the other end is a plan to launch the Social Security system into the health field by providing payments for retired workers' surgery and hospital bills.

If the Social Security system is going to continue this expansion, as it gives every indication of doing, it would be well to at least pause and survey what has happened thus far, what is being proposed and what the future seems to hold in store. It would also be well to let the fact sink in once in a while that the whole business must be paid for -- by ourselves or by our children -- and that the more benefits that are provided, the more it is going to cost. It would also be well to consider where this whole program is leading us.

Various reasons and arguments are being used to support current bills that would expand Social Security benefits. Some say that increased payments would aid in the anti-recession program. Others say that increased benefits would be one of the most desirable methods of expanding purchasing power. Underlying all of them, however, is the spreading shadow of the welfare state. There can be no escaping the fact that if Social Security payments are pushed over higher, and if coverage is expanded to take in all kinds of financial and physical misfortune, there is unquestionable danger that the sense of individual responsibility and self-reliance will disappear from the American scene altogether. The people can vote in the welfare state, the socialist way of life, if they want to -- but they should at least realize what they are doing.

Skiping Stones On The Water

Except in rare moments of insight, man takes himself very seriously. He looks about and sees that his kind, and the works of human mind and hand, dominate the earth. He stands with his shoulders thrust up against the eternal heavens, thinking that one day

The Social Security program has already broadened far beyond its original conception when passed in 1935. Nine out of ten workers are under the Social Security umbrella. Already about 11 million persons -- one out of every six in the labor force -- are drawing benefits. And the cost has gone up proportionately, with the younger voting people and their employers shouldering a constantly growing tax burden to provide it.

The amount of earnings subject to Social Security taxes has increased from $3,000 in 1937 to the present $4,300, and some are proposing that this base be raised to $6,000. Moreover, tax rates have already more than doubled -- from one per cent each for employes and employers in 1937 to the present 2 1/4 per cent each. Another near doubling is scheduled by law -- to 3 1/4 per cent in 1960, then in 1965 to 3 3/4 per cent, in 1970 to 4 1/4 per cent, and in 1975 to 4 3/4 per cent. Thus the maximum contribution by a worker -- and by the employer for each of his workers -- has increased from $30 to the present $94.50, and by 1975 this maximum rise to $178.50 each.

And all this is not enough to pay the current cost of the present Social Security benefits. Social Security tax collections are running well below the amount of benefit payments, and the program is expected to show a deficit this year -- something that was not supposed to happen for many years. And in the next fiscal year, estimates are that tax collections will amount to $7.1 billion, while benefit payments will total $8.5 billion.

In view of the increasing longevity of people -- and if benefits are liberalized still further as many are proposing -- it is difficult to estimate what the deficit of operating the System will be in the year ahead -- or what it will be costing employes and employers if it is attempted to increase taxes sufficiently to pay for the benefits.

Of course, the taxpayers will pay for any increased benefits in one way or another, whether taxed directly for them or not!

California political report -- Political observers in California say that the Democratic candidate for governor, State's Attorney General Edmund (Pat) Brown, is now a definite favorite to defeat Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland. Knowland's troubles are attributed to his demand that curbs be imposed upon labor unions and a "wait and see" attitude toward the recession.

Seasoned western politicians say that if Brown defeats Knowland in the gubernatorial battle, he will become a powerful contender in the Democrats' lineup for the 1960 presidential nomination.

Congressional Exodus -- Capitol Hill leaders are shooting for additional votes in California in the wake of his mild stroke of last November, the President has adopted a robust schedule and has been fighting hard for his program now before the Democratic Congress.

In addition to his presidential workload, Mr. Eisenhower has been taking up long-neglected ceremonial duties and obviously enjoys the short, informal talks he has been making to small groups convening in the capital.

The President's health is still a matter of concern and watchfulness but in general, insiders say he is feeling more chipper than he has since his heart attack in September, 1955.

WEAKENING SALES RESISTANCE

Inside Washington

By HENRY CAYCART
General Press Washington Writer

WASHINGTON -- United States policy toward Latin-American countries is under careful reexamination as a result of the Communist riots in Peru and Venezuela which endangered the life of Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Some members of Congress demand that in retaliation for the ugly affronts to the vice president, the United States impose severe trade restrictions on countries where the anti-American demonstrations occurred. Others insist the answer to the problem lies not in punitive action but in deliberate efforts to create good will in South America through trade and aid channels.

Nixon, despite the ordeal he was forced to endure, is said to favor the second course and intimates he will be so reported to President Eisenhower.

Both diplomats and legislators agree that even though the riots were instigated by Communists, the roots of the trouble lie in economic ills, some of which, it is contended, result from pre-occupation with Europe, the Middle East, and Asia.

Like's Health -- White House intimates scoffed at Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler's prediction that President Eisenhower might step out in favor of Vice President Richard M. Nixon before the 1960 elections. They point to the chief executive's increasing vigor and activity as the strongest repudiation of the resignation rumors.

Since he won medical approval in the wake of his mild stroke of last November, the President has adopted a robust schedule and has been fighting hard for his program now before the Democratic Congress.

In addition to his presidential workload, Mr. Eisenhower has been taking up long-neglected ceremonial duties and obviously enjoys the short, informal talks he has been making to small groups convening in the capital.

Foreign News Commentary

By CHARLES M. McCANN
Negotiations with Soviet Russia which may lead to a summit conference on cold war problems apparently are going to start soon.

President Eisenhower's new letter to Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev offers hope that technical negotiations on the possibility of an agreement to suspend tests of nuclear weapons may be opened within a matter of weeks.

These negotiations would be strictly limited to the one question of the weapons tests, which lies in the field of disarmament. But they should show whether the Soviet government is ready to set in good faith in summit negotiations also.

Further, they presumably will be accompanied by direct negotiations on the summit conference, to be conducted in Moscow between the United States and British ambassadors to Russia on one hand and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko on the other.

Latest 6099
Eisenhower's latest step is a series of exchanges which started last December when former Soviet Premier Nikhail A. Bulganin began clamoring for a summit conference.

These exchanges have concerned both the summit conference itself and the related question of reopening the deadlocked disarmament talks.

Eisenhower suggested to Khrushchev, Bulganin's successor, on April 26 that "designated technical people" study the possibility of establishing safeguards which would prevent violation of an agreement to suspend the weapons tests.

The President also reminded Khrushchev that he previously had suggested broader negotiations on limiting the danger of nuclear war.

Khrushchev replied on May 10. He said he had "serious doubts" about the desirability of expert negotiations on suspension of weapons tests because they would merely delay an actual ban on the tests.

But he said that, as Eisenhower attached great importance to the expert negotiations, he was prepared to agree to them.

Experts Appointed
The Soviet government is agreed to have either side appoint experts who should immediately start work on studying the means of detecting possible violations of an agreement to end nuclear tests, with the proviso that work should be completed in the shortest time agreed upon between the two sides.

It was noted that Khrushchev's acceptance was limited to expert negotiations on a test ban alone. But the White House said at once that it might serve as the basis for progress toward agreement on disarmament.

It is to this limited acceptance that Eisenhower has replied. The President now suggests that negotiations be started within three weeks after Khrushchev's confirmation that he is ready for them.

Swiss experts, meeting in Geneva, Switzerland, would make a progress report within 30 days of the start of their work, and then make a final report within 90 days.

This certainly seems to meet Khrushchev's desire to complete work within the shortest time.

Construction in Florida in 1957 broke all records and is continuing brisk in 1958. Bank deposits are increasing and every indication points to our sound and prosperous future growth.

Speaking of Florida as a whole, Conner said he had great faith in the basic strength of Florida's economy as well as that of the nation. Admitting that all segments of our economy suffered in some degree for the most severe winter in our history he said he was more convinced than ever that Florida's future is bright and promising.

While Floridians naturally sympathize with those areas of the country which are having unemployment and other economic problems, Conner pointed out that at the same time Floridians can rejoice that our state is faring far better than other sections of the country.

For example, he pointed to Duval County's record breaking $55,500,000 retail sales last December, "in the year they said the depression started."

"That figure does not mean a great deal," he explained, "until you put it in proper perspective and consider that in January of the same year our retail sales were only $38,500,000. In other words, during the course of that year, (1957) when the cries of recession were getting louder and louder in many other parts of the country, monthly retail sales in Duval were increasing more than 50 per cent."

"While 1956 was considered one of the best business years in the nation's history," Conner continued, "in Duval retail sales were 10 per cent higher in the so-called recession year of 1957 than they were in 1956."

He cited other figures that are highly significant in demonstrating the dynamic strength of this state's economy. He pointed out that during 1957, only five states had more workers employed in manufacturing plants than they did in 1956, and Florida led all the rest, both numerically and in percentage of gain. He said the state increased by 8,900 workers or 5.5 per cent during a period when the nation as a whole was showing a decline of 83,000 or 4.9 per cent.

Speaking before the Civitan Club of Jacksonville recently, Doyle E. Conner, Speaker of the House of Representatives, praised Duval County for its enterprise and positive thinking.

The people of Jacksonville and Duval County are busy with constructive thoughts and I see no evidence here of the psychological reaction. Business is good and Duval County is moving ahead and I commend you for refusing to talk yourself into a depression, the legislator said.

Conner expressed gratification over the evidence of progress to be found on every hand, new buildings going up, new industries being established, new homes being built, streets and other municipal improvements under way and "all the other visible manifestations of growth and prosperity."

If Bleeding Develops After Tooth Is Pulled

By HERMAN H. SUNDBEREN, M. D.
WITH OUR modern dental techniques and equipment no body has to worry much any more about having a tooth pulled, even with the "smoothest" extraction, pain, swelling and hemorrhaging sometimes develop after a patient gets home.

What can you do about such dental emergencies?
Well, first of all, don't invite bleeding. Don't rinse your mouth too violently and don't suck too thoroughly when you spit.

To halt bleeding once it has begun, rinse your mouth with a warm saline solution (mix one-half teaspoonful of salt in a glass of warm water).

Then fold a 2-in. by 2-in. sterile gauze pad (a moistened teabag will do) into a small hard mass and place it over the site of the extraction. Bite on it with firm pressure for about 10 or 15 minutes. This should stop the bleeding.

If it does, don't rinse your mouth and don't spit excessively for at least 24 hours.

Get Advice
If it doesn't, I suggest you contact your dentist or your physician. They might advise retaining a hydrogen peroxide solution about the bleeding socket followed by compression. Or maybe they will use iodine-form gauze saturated with epinephrine. There are a number of things they can do.

Pain may follow immediately after extraction of a tooth or it may be delayed for two or three days.

Immediate pain may be caused by an infection in the socket or by an injury during the extraction. Generally, applying cold applications to the face will relieve it.

Delayed Pain
Delayed pain usually develops two or three days after the extraction. It becomes increasingly worse after the third day and is severe for the next four or five days.

By the 10th day or so it usually subsides, but it may persist in subdued form for a total of two or three weeks. This, of course, requires treatment by a doctor. It is caused by local inflammation of the alveolar bone.

Post-extraction injury usually is caused by swelling to the soft tissues. It is seldom accompanied by pain or tenderness.

Sedatives Help
Usually you can reduce the swelling by applying an ice bag for half an hour every hour until the area returns to its normal size. It's probably a good idea to consult your doctor, since he can prescribe phenobarbital or other sedatives to keep you calm.

One more word about tooth extraction. If you have congenital heart disease or have, or have had, rheumatic fever, tell your physician and dentist. They probably will administer penicillin both before and after the extraction to prevent bacterial inflammation of the heart.

QUESTION AND ANSWER
P. R.: Are sebaceous cysts dangerous, and do you think they should be removed?
Answer: Sebaceous cysts are seldom dangerous. However, it's usually best to have them removed surgically.

Conning The News

Sweet harmony and wonderful food was enjoyed Sunday night at the home of Jane and John Miller. Gathered together to admire Jane's beautiful new living room (straight from House Beautiful), were Pete and Jane Patrie, John and Jean Dooley, Mike and Treia Michel, Betty Hazlett and this reporter.

General conclusions: we are all dated by our choice of songs. But Treia wins the prize for the most fabulous memory. Have been accused in a friendly way, by John Krider (and many others), of going home at night to sit over this typewriter and think of nasty things to say about Sanford and Seminole County. Some times, it may be true. For the most part though, I try to be constructive, or instructive, if possible.

The controversial school bond issue was brought to this column because this is really where it belongs. During the past year, this reporter has written reams about P-TA's, school programs, children's parties. The parents who follow these activities are the ones who read the "progress" but the ones who are actually interested in the school are generally not interested. Since there seems to be no way to arouse public feeling through editorials, the tack of "no progress" was used. This is a community of which I am very fond. Not only are the people appealing, but the area is attractive, convenient and potentially important. If it were not so dear to my heart, I would never have bothered with the issue or the accusations.

The truth hurts—any of us. And while this columnist is guilty many times of writing quickly without examining carefully the facts, tonight that is not the case. Progress is the cry in these times; but progress cannot be achieved without a future. The future will not be fulfilled without the proper education of our children. And education cannot be given them without adequate facilities. It would be a wonderful moment if one could overhaul a comment like this, "The roads in Seminole County may not be the very best in the world, but you should see their schools!"

We are entering a period when vacations will be of prime importance—the kids will be out of school and school conditions will be shelved for the summer. Before this sets in, you who are concerned about our problems in this county should express your views on the subject. Only one weak typewriter and a knuckle brain (that's me) cannot accomplish the job. You, the voice of the people are the ones to state your opinion, pro or con. This means Navy, too.

A school that was good enough for a student 30 years ago does not meet the requirements of today. Families with children are the ones who spend money in a town and preserve its economy. And families with children need adequate education facilities. It would be a wonderful moment if one could overhaul a comment like this, "The roads in Seminole County may not be the very best in the world, but you should see their schools!"

Whatever Happened To

HANK BOROWY

By United Press International

Hank Borowy, a right-handed pitcher, came up to the Yankees in 1962 and enjoyed considerable success through the war years. Then in 1964, after piling up a 10-3 record for New York, he suddenly was sold in mid-season to the Chicago Cubs in a $100,000 deal that helped put the Cubs in the World Series that fall. After moving to Chicago, Hank won 11 more games and lost only two.

Borowy never again approached that '64 showing of 10-7 and finally ran out his career with a 2-3 record for Detroit in 1961.

Whatever happened to Hank Borowy? Now 42, Hank is in the real estate business in his native Broomfield, N. J. He still keeps an active interest in baseball and late last season served briefly as a batting practice pitcher for the Yanks.

Athletes Must Keep Grades Up To Get Aid

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI)—The Big Ten has decided not to risk financial aid to athletes who can't stay in the top two-thirds of their high school class.

Conference faculty representatives voted to eliminate prep stars from consideration if they cannot maintain the scholastic standard and then left final action on their decision to a December ballot.

The representatives voted down a proposal to cut the number of financial grants issued, reversing a vote by the same group last March which called for a slide from 100 to 75 grants-in-aid allowed each year.

Today's Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Milwaukee Braves still have to be the favorite to win the National League flag but the time has come today to take those surprising San Francisco Giants seriously.

Two weeks ago you could still have doubted the Giants. They had fattened themselves by winning eight of 10 from the decrepit Dodgers, whose veterans finally have started careening down the other side of the hill.

But during the interim the Giants have won nine of 13 games thanks to four young men and a boy who, it begins to seem fairly certain, aren't going to fold as expected.

The Giants had the crux of a winning ball club in Willie Mays, Ruben Gomez and Johnny Antonelli. They simply weren't enough to carry the club to the jackpot. Mays is having another fine year, just as he did last season when the club finished sixth. Antonelli won 20 games in 1960, when again the team wound up sixth.

The supporting cast simply wasn't there.

Cites Rookies

Which brings us to the quartet of rookies which has made the team jell: Namely first baseman Orlando Cepeda, catcher Bob Schmidt, right fielder Willie (Boom Boom) Kirkland and third baseman Jim Davenport. Throw in 18-year-old pitcher Mike McCormick and we have the answer to a ball club which obviously, as of now, isn't going to pull an el foido.

The 20-year-old Cepeda so far has done everything right to spark the infield and Davenport is a superior glove man. The 23-year-old Schmidt has closed a catching gap and the 24-year-old Kirkland is doing a solid job.

McCormick has been another surprise. A $60,000 bonus baby when signed in August of 1960, in two years he won three games. Pitching with remarkable poise, he has won four games in the last three weeks.

In re-evaluating the National League, you still have to hand the overall award to the Braves, but it has become obvious that there are new challengers. The Cardinals, Redlegs and Dodgers are going back. It is the Giants and, surprisingly enough, the Pirates, who are coming on as the teams of the future.

Pittsburgh has a sound club. It's weakness is in lack of reserves.

Dick Groat, at shortstop, is the Pee Wee Reese type and Bill Mazeroski at second is the best Goobie play man in the league. Hank Folsa probably is the best catcher in the league right now, with Roy Campanella gone and Cincinnati's Ed Bailey in a slump.

Frank Thomas at third, an outfield composed of Roberto Clemente, Bob Skinner and Bill Virdon and three good pitchers in Bob Friend, Ron Kline and Vera Law give Pittsburgh a club which needs only reserves and some help here and there to be a real bidder.

Rotary All-Stars Defeat Orlando Team 5-3 Saturday

The Rotary All-stars journeyed to the Princeton school grounds in Orlando Saturday afternoon and took a tight tussle from the Curry Electric baseball team, 5 to 3. It was a case of airtight defense by the local club against a sterling mound performance by the host nine's Dick Stott, and the game went five scoreless innings before the big guns started booming.

The Curry hurler struck out 12, walked two and allowed five hits. The Sanford lads had a double play and were in fine form with their throwing, picking off base runners at critical times. Wheelchel was particularly effective with his pickoffs at first and second bases.

Extra base blows were hit by Gerry Fleming who rapped a home run and Perley who had a double. The Rotary team drew first blood in the sixth inning when Bob Johnson walked. Johnny Emerson and George Perides both had gone out when Ronnie Lindsay misplayed a bloop to right back of the pitcher's box that no one could reach and Johnson straked on home as he took up the "two out, nothing to lose" race around the base paths. Then came the three Electrician errors right in a row.

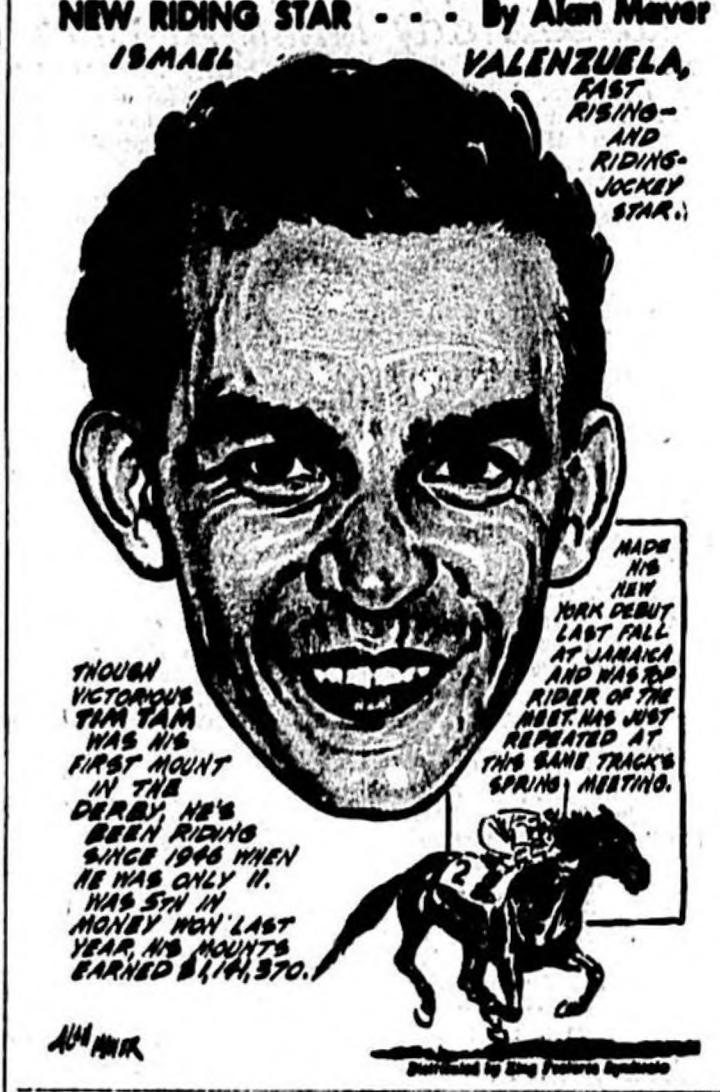

McKibbin was safe on shortstop Fleming's high heave, he going to second and Lindsay to third. Johnny Wheelchel pumped a roller right at second sacker Melihenny. It shot between his legs and when right fielder Jenkins attempted to back up the play, the elusive horsehide raced between his legs. Lindsey and McKibbin scored.

Fleming led off and seemed determined to make up for his miscue. He crashed a homer into the trees in left field. The next two batters went out on a fly to McKibbin and an infield out Marsh to McKibbin.

Ranny Cooper then laced a liner over second for a single and Perley's double sent him across home.

With a 3 to 2 lead the Sanfordites stormed back. Mike Roberts came out on strikes, but Bobby Johnson singled. Both runners tallied on George Perides' bingle.

Curry greeted the tiring Johnson (he had pitched in Friday night's all-star game) with singles by Stott and Gill. He swapped places with Perides, who also had a stint of mound work the preceding night. George took out pinch batter Schmidt on strikes, but walked Fleming. Jenkins led off to Marsh for the second out. Hudson lined to left to score Stott, but the rally checked out when Cooper dumped a knock to Perides who tossed him out at first.

THE CARD OF THANKS
 Very often a Card of Thanks in The Sanford Herald meets a need which is difficult to fill in any other way. Not only is it a grateful expression of gratitude to those who have done favors for us but also courteously acknowledges the services and kindnesses of the many to whom a personal note of thanks cannot well be mailed.
 Newspaper Cards of Thanks are accepted as socially correct. Emily Post, the noted authority on etiquette, feels they serve many good uses.
 There is no prescribed form for a Card of Thanks. It can be as brief or as detailed as you desire. When the occasion arises you will find a sympathetically understanding member of our staff to assist you.
THE "IN MEMORIUM" NOTICE
 It is the custom of many families in this country to commemorate a bereavement by an "In Memoriam" notice in newspaper classified columns. They find a real solace therein. Preparation of a suitable verse brings back to them fond, precious recollections. An Eliza Cook, the English poet has so beautifully expressed it:
 "How cruelly sweet are the ebbes that start
 What memory plays an old tune on the heart."
 Most frequently an Memorium is inserted on the anniversary of death. However, other dates, which it is felt are appropriate or meaningful are also selected. The birthday of the departed, the wedding anniversary, Memorial Day, even Christmas are a most fitting occasions to honor those who have passed on.
 If you are hesitant to express your fond thoughts in poetic form, you may avail yourself of the Herald's collection of original verses. These express in poetic beauty the emotions of the bereaved. Among them are verses appropriate to any circumstance.
THE RATE
 Cards of Thanks and In Memoriam notices, due to the fact they may run to considerable length, are billed at $1.00 per column inch.

Choreographer Has More Than One Job
 By FRID DANZIG
 United Press Staff Correspondent
 NEW YORK (UPI)—It's no longer enough for a choreographer merely to know choreography. Now, with TV, he's got to dip their toes into music, script writing and photography, says Rod Alexander, one of the busiest TV dancers around.
 "During TV rehearsals, I walk around with a lens on me. I can help plan the camera shots. It's important to a choreographer because many cameramen don't know how to photograph dancing—it's different world to them.
 "Besides knowing about cameras, angles and lenses, a choreographer should know something about music, too—know the two-four beat, three-four and four-four beats," Alexander said.
 Dance should have points. When it comes to script writing, Alexander prefers it when the writer includes the dance as part of the story line. "The dancer should carry out a point in the story and advance the script. It should fit naturally and when it does, it's easy. But it's tough on me when the writer suddenly inserts into the script those two words, 'dances here,' and nothing else."
 "We go it alone and afterwards the writers come over and complain that the dance is stopping the story."
 With his wife, Bambi Linn, Alexander has appeared on some of the most lavish TV shows. They were on the pioneer "Show Of Shows" for about three years, later performed on a half-dozen spectaculars and still more variety shows. All of which means Alexander and Linn know how to handle themselves before the camera.
 "When we're dancing, we instinctively feel if the camera is coming in on us right. If it's too far away, we'll move closer to it. We don't want too much floor showing," said Rod.

Agriculture News

Cecil A. Tucker, II
Livestock owners in Seminole County who wish to move their animals to points outside the recently established screwworm quarantine area of Florida, may arrange for inspection of their stock and any necessary treatment by contacting the County Agricultural Agent's office, Court House, FA 2-3233, or Cecil A. Tucker Sr., who is livestock inspector for this county. The livestock inspector can be reached at Christmas, Phone No. 4.

The quarantine, which the Florida Livestock Board ordered into effect May 1, 1959, involves 20 counties and embraces all of that portion of the state lying within the city limits of Ocala.

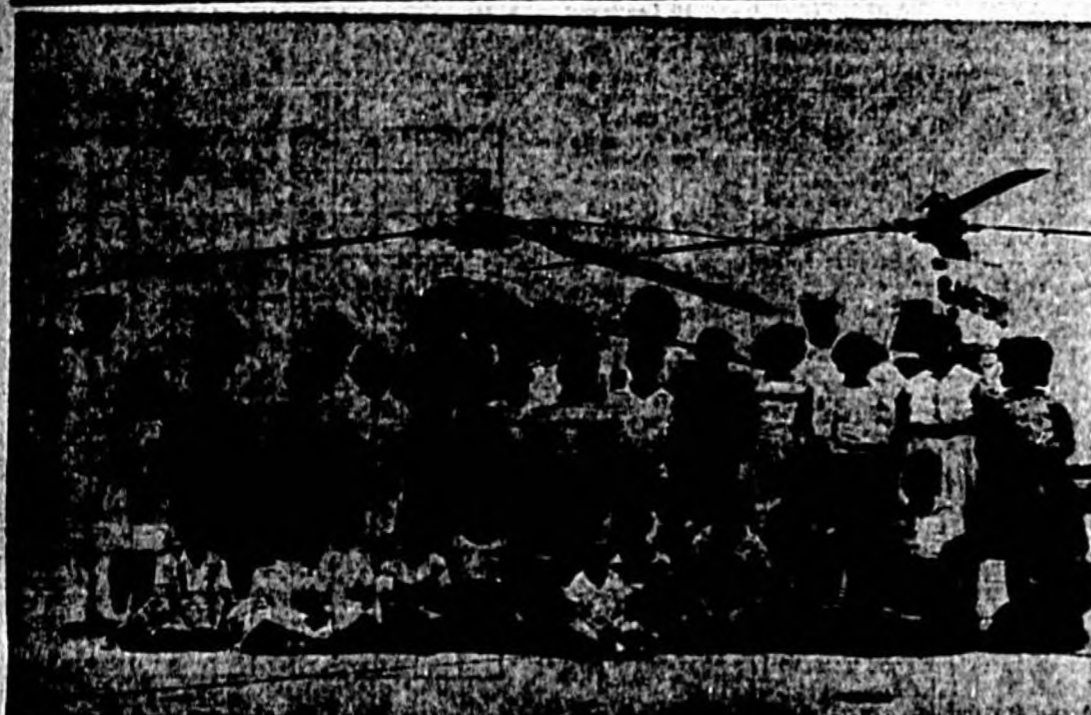

Any livestock or other animals subject to screwworm infestation may be moved out of the quarantine area if accompanied by a certificate of inspection and necessary treatment by a duly authorized representative of the Livestock Board. Otherwise, all shipments must be routed through a central quarantine station at Ocala where they will be inspected and treated if necessary before being allowed to proceed into unquarantined territory.

The quarantine is one phase of the combined State-Federal Screwworm Eradication Program, and is designed to hold any of the over-wintering pests to the southern part of the state until the program gets into full operation about mid-summer.

In the meantime, livestock owners in every Florida county are being urged to continue their vigilance in spotting, treating, and quickly reporting any suspected screwworm cases to their county agent or livestock inspector.

Strongly urged, also, are preventive measures by prompt treatment of all wounds or cuts with application of approved remedies, such as EQ-200 or Sorewar 60, and keeping animals under observation until wounds are healed.

Suspected screwworm eggs or maggots should NOT be destroyed, but should be carefully collected and held for the inspector to pick up and report to the proper authorities. Egg masses should be placed in a closed container, such as a glass fruit jar, on a piece of damp paper, and maggots should be placed in a similar jar half full of clean tap water. Both jars should be kept in a cool place until the inspector calls for them.

This is the time of year that hordes of insect pests begin to infest your rose plantings, so prepare now to repulse these invaders.

From Dr. Stratton H. Kerr, entomologist with the Florida Agricultural Experiment Station, comes an identification of this enemy horde. He says the important insects of roses are flower thrips, mites (red spider), scale insects, aphids, caterpillars, flower beetles and leaf beetles.

Spring and fall months bring the largest numbers of mites, or red spiders. In spraying for them it is important to do a thorough job, especially on undersides of leaves. Some effective wettable powder miticides which can be used are: 25 percent Malthane, 1 1/2 tablespoons in a gallon of water; 15 percent Aramite, 2 tablespoons to a gallon; and 50 percent Orotran, 2 tablespoons to a gallon of water.

For control of flower thrips, it is recommended that you apply 4 or 5 percent malathion dust or a 5 percent chlordane dust directly to the flowers. A spray of 4 tablespoons of 25 percent malathion wettable powder to a gallon of water can be used instead of either dust.

Aphids, most common in early spring, will succumb to sprays made of 3 teaspoons of 50 to 57 percent malathion emulsion concentrate or 4 tablespoons of 25 percent malathion wettable powder to a gallon of water. If you prefer dust for use directly on the plant, use 4 or 5 percent malathion dust. Another effective liquid

Mrs. R. Cushing Attends FNAE 2-Day Confab

Prominent advertising executives were the speakers last week-end when the Florida Newspaper Advertising Executives was held at the Langford Hotel in Winter Park.

Henry Quodnan, president of Henry Quodnan Advertising Agency, Miami and Tampa, cited the danger of a proposed ad tax in his message to the group. Another informative speech was made by R. O. Roth, National Live Stock and Meat Board chairman from Chicago.

During the two days, members enjoyed such recreation as cocktail parties, an ice show and a dinner. Wives of the advertising men were treated to a scenic boat trip through five connected lakes.

Representing The Sanford Herald was Mrs. Robert Cushing, one of two women executive advertising managers in the group. She was accompanied by her husband, who found himself securing the visiting ladies.

Twenty-eight newspapers belong to the F.N.A.E.

Police Catch 'Beer Bottle' Harris With Stolen Clothes

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—Police really caught Willie "Beer Bottle" Harris with the goods Monday—some $25,000 worth of clothing stolen from an exclusive men's shop.

Sheriff's deputies who raided Harris' home found 170 fancy suits and sport coats that had been stolen recently from Eddie Albert's Men's World. Another 100 suits stolen at the time were missing.

The raid followed a tip from the FBI that Harris had been seen carrying in a large amount of clothing in the early hours Monday morning. The FBI agents had been staking out his house "for another reason," they said.

Harris, who has a long record of arrests for burglary and jewel thefts with few convictions, was booked on charges of receiving and concealing stolen property. He was released on $5,000 bond.

Lions Club Starts Plans To Construct Own Meeting Place

The Sanford Lions Club yesterday began initial plans to construct their own building to be used as a meeting place.

W. Hugh Duncan appointed a building committee which includes M. A. Yelvington, Volle A. Williams Jr., Grady Duncan, and H. W. "Buddy" Rawls.

Delegates to the annual Lions Convention held in Sarasota earlier this month made their official report to the club at yesterday's noon luncheon meeting held at the Yacht Club.

H. W. "Buddy" Rawls, president-elect told the Sanford Lions Club that 2800 attended the annual convention session. There were 1000 voting delegates.

The delegates, representing the Sanford Club, said there are now 206 Lions Clubs in Florida with a membership of 14,000.

Obie "Georgia Boy" Braswell, whom officers said is about 22 years old, was thrown out of the automobile and under the bumper of the car as it came to a stop in a deep ditch.

4-Cent Stamp Goes Into Effect Aug. 1 WASHINGTON (UPI) — The four-cent stamp for local and out-of-town letters definitely goes into effect Aug. 1.

President Eisenhower signed a bill Tuesday which raises both postal rates and wages. First class letters will be increased from 3 to 4 cents.

The President said the bill's "public interest" features outweighed its objectionable provisions. But he said several provisions caused him "grave concern."

Other presidential objections were "failure of the Congress to provide sufficient revenues to meet the full cost of operating the postal service," and a salary structure for postal workers which raises pay of lower salaried workers whereas some top bracket employees got no increase at all.

Speeding Car Rams Into Truck; Man Hurt

A Chevrolet sedan, traveling at what officers say was "a high rate of speed," skidded 102 feet this morning, turned on its side, and crashed into the back end of a Therm-O-Tane Gas and Appliance Co. pickup truck.

4-Cent Stamp Goes Into Effect Aug. 1 WASHINGTON (UPI) — The four-cent stamp for local and out-of-town letters definitely goes into effect Aug. 1.

President Eisenhower signed a bill Tuesday which raises both postal rates and wages. First class letters will be increased from 3 to 4 cents.

The President said the bill's "public interest" features outweighed its objectionable provisions. But he said several provisions caused him "grave concern."

Other presidential objections were "failure of the Congress to provide sufficient revenues to meet the full cost of operating the postal service," and a salary structure for postal workers which raises pay of lower salaried workers whereas some top bracket employees got no increase at all.

Violence Causes 16 Deaths This Week In Cuba

HAVANA (UPI) — The worst outbreak of violence in eastern Cuba since government forces crushed rebel leader Fidel Castro's "all-out war" last month has caused at least 16 deaths this week, it was reported today.

Rebel raiders killed four soldiers in Guantanamo, near the U. S. Navy's big south-coast base, and a newspaperman in the provincial capital of Santiago. The bodies of at least 11 unidentified persons were found in the streets of the two cities.

"Heavy skirmishing" between loyal troops and rebel bands was reported in the Sagua de Tanamo area and in the Mesetas Mountains, where Castro has been hiding out for a year and a half. There was no mention of stampedes.

Five armed rebel saboteurs broke into a Santiago warehouse owned by the Cuban Electric Company, an affiliate of American and foreign power, and set a fire that caused $100,000 damage.

Another band of raiders forced its way into the offices of the government organ, Libertad, in Santiago, killing one employe and wounding another.

In Guantanamo, gunmen firing from ambush killed all four members of an army patrol.

Navy scientists at Cape Canaveral and Washington admitted behavior of the Vanguard was confusing. But it was not until dawn that they announced the attempt had failed.

Dr. John P. Hagen, director of the Vanguard project who came to this launching base to observe the event, said the 75-foot rocket "appeared to function well through the firing of all three stages but still did not result in an orbit."

Rocket Plunges Back To Earth, Burns

CAPE CANAVERAL, (UPI) — The Navy reported early today that the full-scale satellite launched Tuesday night with the Vanguard rocket shot 2,000 miles into space but at an off-angle which caused it to plunge back to earth and burn.

It was the second consecutive failure of the Vanguard to put a fully instrumented 20-inch satellite into orbit. This was the satellite President Eisenhower talked about in 1955 when he first announced this country's space program for the International Geophysical Year.

The Vanguard was fired at 10:26 p. m. e.s.t. It pierced a puff of clouds and in about two minutes was no longer visible.

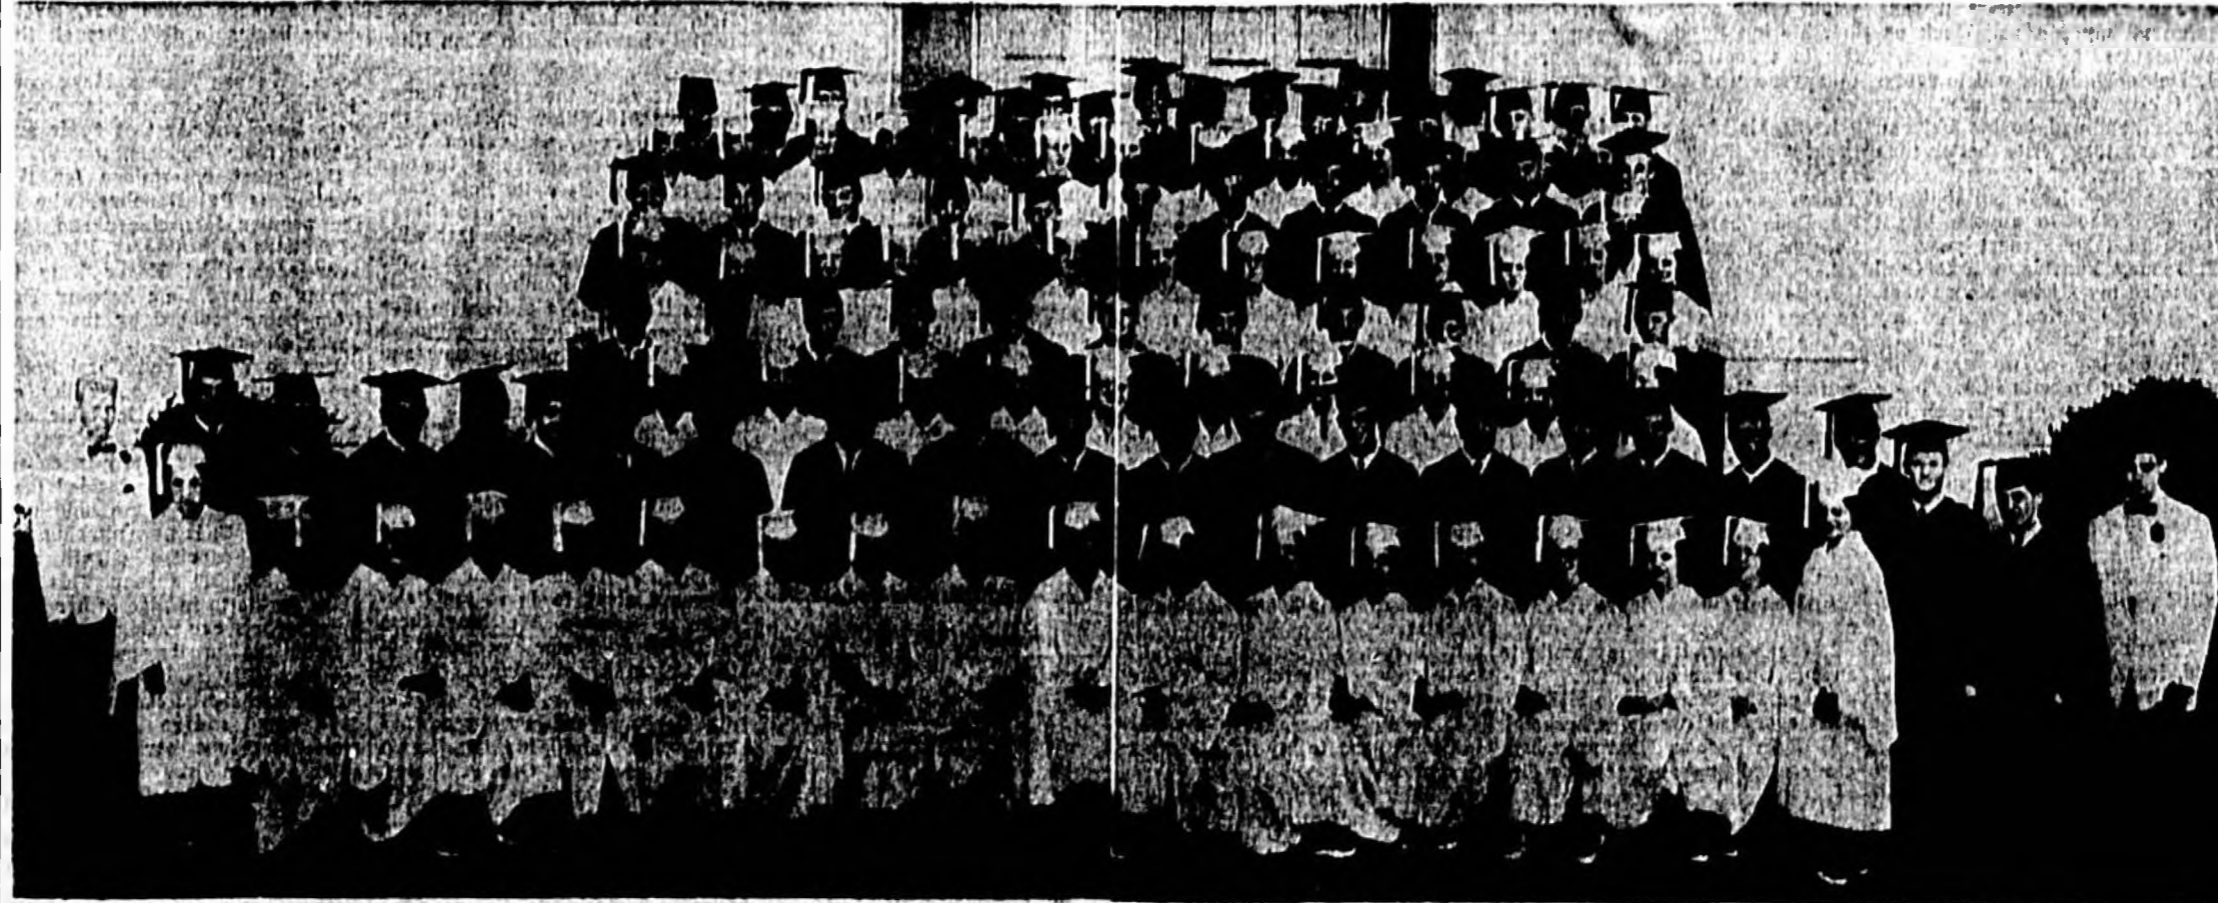

At first it appeared the launching was successful and that the satellite would join in space the 6.4 inch Vanguard test moon put into orbit last March 17, the two

In Washington, Dr. Richard W. Porter, chairman of the IGY satellite program, issued an identical statement to newsmen who had kept a vigil with him.

2,000 Miles Up Hagen said radio signals received from the satellite at a station on Antigua Island in the West Indies indicated that the satellite "had assumed an arc-like upward attitude."

According to initial calculations the satellite reached "a peak altitude of about 2,000 statute miles at its zenith and fell back to earth," Hagen said.

He emphasized that while the little artificial moon failed to attain an orbit with the three other U. S. satellites now whirling around the earth and the Russian Sputnik, the great height it achieved was expected to produce "much valuable scientific information."
