3 Die In Traffic Accidents

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

A north Orange County man was killed in an accident involving a jeep that overturned on county Road 426 about 200 feet from Trinity Preparatory School at 6:26 a.m. today.

According to preliminary reports from the Florida Highway Patrol, Craig Sanders, 21, of 705 Carnation Drive, southwest of Goldenrod off state Road 426, died in the emergency room of Winter Park Hospital. Further details were not available at press time.

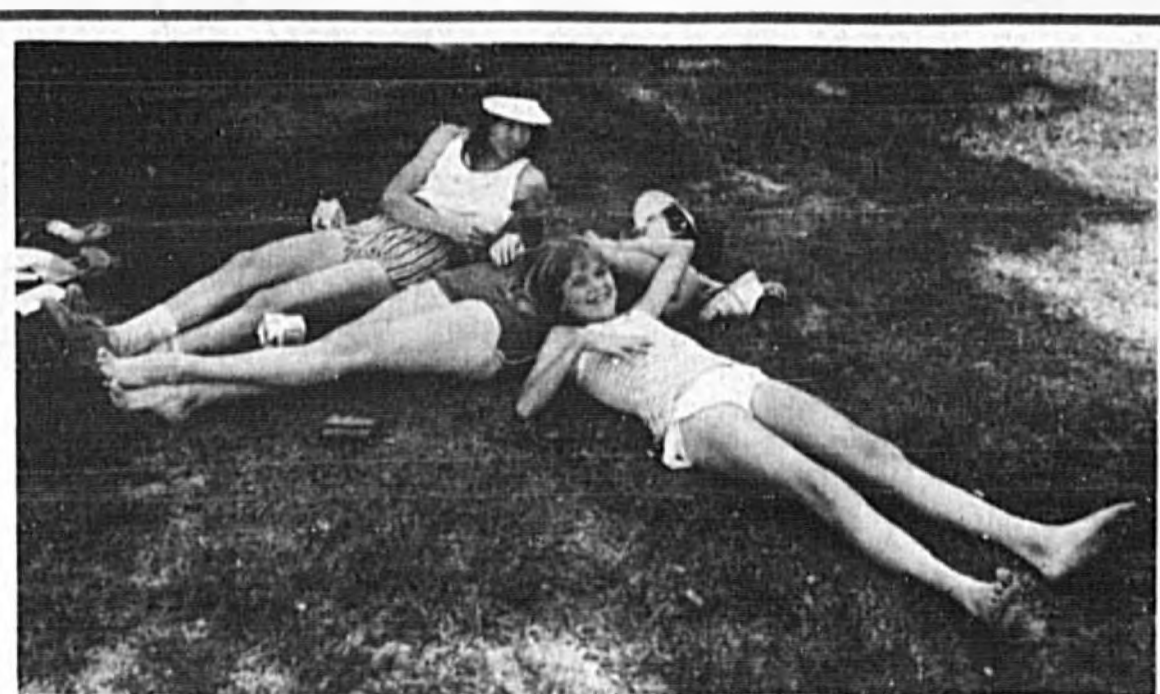

In other traffic-related accidents during the weekend, a Deltona man was killed and three others injured in a three-car crash in Deltona, and a Longwood man died when his van crashed and burned in Longwood.

Kevin P. Leatherberry, 30, of 1711 Fruitland Drive, Deltona died at the Central Florida Regional Hospital in Sanford two hours after the 4:35 a.m. accident on Providence Boulevard.

According to an FHP report, Leatherberry was northbound in a 1979 Mazda on Providence when he crossed the center line on a long curve and hit nearly head-on a 1972 Oldsmobile driven by Mark Vincent Miller, 27, of 414 DeBary Ave., Enterprise. Leatherberry's car then struck head-on a 1979 Cougar driven by Robert D. Gardner, 26, of 329 E. Tangerine St., Altamonte Springs.

Miller, Gardner and a passenger in Miller's car, Michael Pfeister, 21, of 514 Stone Island, Enterprise, received minor injuries.

Nation's Top Heist

4 Hammer Way To $25 Million

NEW YORK (UPI) — Four masked gunmen used sledgehammers to crash through the wall of a Wells Fargo depot early today, overpowered the guards and "cleaned out" a vault of more than $25 million in cash, authorities said.

The bandits escaped in an armored car, which police found four hours later — near the Brooklyn Bridge and 1½ miles from where the robbery occurred in lower Manhattan. No money was recovered.

FBI agent Kenneth Walton said more than $25 million was stolen. Police had earlier reported that $50 million had been taken, which would have made the heist the largest in history.

The robbery occurred shortly after 1:30 a.m. at the Wells Fargo Armored Service Corp. depot, which is used as an overnight drop-off point for money on its way from banks to the Federal Reserve.

Police said the bandits broke in to the Merrill Lynch building next door to the depot and used sledgehammers to break through a cinder-block wall into the depot.

They then went up a flight of stairs, bashed through another cinder-block wall into the office area and watched on a monitor as guards arrived and opened the vault to take inventory. The gunmen then went back downstairs and overpowered the guards, police said.

The building is empty between 2 p.m. and 1:30 a.m. every day and Walton said the gunmen must have entered the depot some time between those hours.

"Obviously they were there prior to the arrival of the guards," he said.

Walton said authorities were investigating whether the robbery was an inside job.

The bandits loaded one of the armored trucks parked in the depot with the cash and sped away, Walton said. He said it took 16 minutes for them to get the money into the truck and one of the guards helped them start up the vehicle.

Walton said there was video surveillance in the building but it was not known whether the robbery had been taped.

Police discovered the armored car about 6 a.m. about 1½ miles from the depot but none of the money was recovered.

Wells Fargo officials refused to comment on the theft.

Police said the heist was one of the largest robberies in history.

In 1983, a London gold robbery netted the thieves $39 million. The largest cash theft in the United States was the 1982 $11 million Rentry Armored Car-Courier heist in New York.

Bus Driver Suspected In Shooting Faces Aggravated Battery Charge

A Mims bus driver who said he was unaware that he had shot a man who tried to board his bus may be charged with aggravated battery.

The victim, James Alexander, 28, of 2163 Center St., Sanford, was listed in satisfactory condition today in Central Florida Regional Hospital, Sanford.

Alexander was shot once in the shoulder with a .38-caliber pistol after a confrontation with a man outside the Cool Breeze bar on Sipes Avenue in Midway.

According to sheriff's spokesman John Spolski, Alexander reportedly tried to enter a migrant workers bus driven by Vunary Lee Majors, 58, of Mims, at about 11:47 a.m. Friday.

Majors said he believed Alexander wanted to sell drugs to his passengers. Majors said he did not want any drugs on the bus and after arguing with Alexander for 5 or 10 minutes took a gun from above the bus visor. He said he wanted to frighten Alexander away.

Majors later told sheriff's investigators that he fired a warning shot at Alexander, then drove the bus back towards Mims. There were about 25 people on the bus at the time, investigators said.

Majors said he was unaware that Alexander had been shot until he was stopped just inside Brevard County on state Road 46 by Brevard County deputies about a half-hour after shooting.

Majors has not been arrested. But Spolski said investigators will recommend to the State Attorney's office that Majors be charged with aggravated battery.

52,500 Gallons Per Developer

Builders To Get Iron Bridge Shares

By Donna Estes
Herald Staff Writer

Stalled building projects waiting for Iron Bridge sewage treatment capacity allotments may be able to start up within the next few months.

According to Seminole County Administrator Ken Hooper sewer capacity at Orlando's Iron Bridge sewer plant which has been unavailable to Seminole builders for the past six months should be available within the next 30 days.

And developers, whose names have been on a waiting list for sewer capacity for months, were expected to begin the trek to the county's environmental services office at Five Points today to confirm that they still want their share.

The department, which oversees the operation of the county's water and sewer plants, sent letters to the 86 developers whose names are on the waiting list telling them 500,000 gallons of capacity daily at Orlando's Iron Bridge sewer treatment plant is expected to be awarded to Seminole within the next 30 days.

The developers who confirm they are still interested will have 30 days after submitting their confirmation of desire for service to the county to get permits from the state Department of Environmental Regulation and to pay a county sewer connection fee of $2,071 per unit to be served.

It was May 1984 when the state Department of Environmental Regulation and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, acting in concert, stopped Iron Bridge from accepting new connections until repairs were done to stop pollution of the Econlockhatchee with effluent containing a high degree of nitrates. Nitrates encourage the growth of aquatic weeds.

Since the amount of Seminole's new capacity is limited at this point to 500,000 gallons per day, each developer will be given only 52,500 gallons, enough for 150 homes, Hooper said.

A large portion of the county's connection fees will be used to help pay the costs of correcting deficiencies at the Orlando sewer plant. Cost of the repairs is estimated at $12 million. Seminole County's share is expected to be slightly more than $1 million.

Hooper said the county is also to receive another 900,000 gallons per day capacity at Iron Bridge and as Orlando implements a program which will use water hyacinths to absorb nitrogen in the effluent, Seminole has been promised 1.34 million gallons daily more.

New House Sales Up 8.9% In March

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sales of new single-family houses jumped 8.9 percent in March, the fourth month of improvement and the biggest surge since September.

The average price of a new house went up $1,700 to a near-record $100,200 during the month yet was still only 2.7 percent above last year's average. "This is welcome news for an industry that was particularly hard hit by the last recession," White House spokesman Larry Speakes said.

It was also an industry particularly hard hit by a big drop in sales in November that prompted many analysts to anticipate a steady trend downward that did not happen.

No Sex Please, We're Against Apartheid

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (UPI) — Anti-apartheid feminists said today they will use an old-fashioned way to protest the New Zealand national rugby team's tour of South Africa — they won't have sex with rugby players or fans.

"Let me put it this way. We are not counselling the women to do the Lysistrata bit," said Dinah Priestly of a group named Women Against Rugby or WAR.

"But if they think they can have an effective protest this way, then we certainly won't discourage them," she said.

In the play "Lysistrata" by the Greek dramatist Aristophanes the women of Athens withdrew sexual favors in protest against endless wars waged by their menfolk.

WAR is one of many groups opposed to the forthcoming tour by New Zealand's national rugby team, on the grounds that there should be no sporting links with the white-minority government of South Africa.

WAR is suggesting to young women that unless nobody else is available they should avoid having sex with rugby players and fans.

Apart from the possibility of a no-sex protest, the anti-tour group is also advising women to protest by not washing rugby shirts and by encouraging boys to stop playing rugby and take up soccer instead.

Race Panel May Get OK

The Sanford City Commission is scheduled to meet today at 4 p.m. in the city manager's conference room to discuss the formation of a bi-racial committee.

Commissioner Bob Thomas, the city's first black commissioner, has been pressing for the committee to study race relations in Sanford. His colleagues are expected to name a steering committee which will establish goals and rules for the committee.

Last week the commission put off forming the bi-racial panel after Mayor Bettye Smith and two commissioners, David Farr and Milton Smith, said it was a sensitive issue that needed further study.

So far, 16 people have volunteered to serve on the panel and Thomas said he expected them to be confirmed at last Monday's commission meeting. However two of the objections raised to the formation of the group was that the committee would be too large and had ambiguous goals.

Once Is Enough

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI) — Once is enough for English teachers trying to end the traditional form of punishment for errant students: writing the same phrase hundreds of times.

If teachers follow a resolution passed by the New York chapter of the National Education Association, students in the state will no longer be forced to write "I will not talk in class" or "I will not chew gum in class" or similar phrases when they break school rules.

"This discourages the love of writing," said Linda Rosenblatt, NEA spokeswoman. "The use of writing assignments as a form of punishment creates negative feelings toward all written work."

Complain All You Want, Reagan Is Going To Bitburg

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Criticism of his planned stop to a German military cemetery has "wounded" President Reagan but there is no chance he will cancel the stop, White House chief of staff Donald Regan says.

"It's unfortunate the way this has dominated the real purpose of the visit, to show the reconciliation between the United States and Germany 40 years later," Regan said in an interview Sunday on CBS' "Face the Nation."

The president, who leaves Tuesday on a 10-day visit to Europe, spent Sunday at the White House reviewing briefing books on the four countries he will tour: Spain, France, Portugal and West Germany, site of an economic summit and the cemetery at Bitburg, where about 47 members of the Nazi Waffen SS are buried.

The journey has been marred by criticism from Jewish groups and American veterans of plans for Reagan to join West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl in a wreath-laying ceremony at Bitburg.

When asked if there is any chance the cemetery stop would be canceled, Regan replied, "No, there isn't."

Of Spirits, Gold And God

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — The Mormon Church has released a 155-year-old letter purportedly written by a key figure of the early church, whose version of the church's founding conflicts with the official church version.

The possibility it could have been forged a century and a half ago when "the church had many enemies" was suggested by a church official Sunday.

The letter — purportedly written by a "witness" to the church's founding, Martin Harris, to newspaper editor W.W. Phelps — discusses certain magical events and tells how a spirit turned into a white salamander that attacked church founder Joseph Smith to stop him from obtaining golden plates that were buried in the ground. Old Hebrew writing on the plates told of a new Biblical World on the American continent and was the foundation of the church.

The Salt Lake Tribune reported that the official church version says Smith was told by God in 1823 he had been chosen to restore the church and was told by an angel where the plates were hidden.

The letter was given to the church by Steve Christensen, a Mormon bishop who purchased the letter last year from LDS document collectors Mark Hoffman and Lyn Jacobs. The document had been part of a stamp collection in New England.

von Bulow Maid Back On Stand

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (UPI) — The German maid who helped convict Claus von Bulow of attempting to murder his heiress wife takes the witness stand again this week, one year after the Rhode Island Supreme Court overturned his initial guilty verdicts.

Maria Schraillhammer began testifying last week about the two days in 1979 and 1980 on which prosecutors say von Bulow injected his wife, Martha "Sunny" von Bulow, with potentially lethal doses of insulin at their opulent Newport mansion.

The state contends von Bulow, a financier-socialite and one-time aide to oil billionaire J. Paul Getty, wanted to inherit $14 million of her $70 million and marry his girlfriend, a former soap opera actress.

Von Bulow's 1982 conviction on both counts was overturned by the Rhode Island Supreme Court one year ago Saturday.

His retrial enters its fourth week today.

CIA Accused Of Sending Middle East Weapons To Rebels

United Press International

The Nicaraguan government is accusing the CIA of secretly equipping anti-Sandinista rebels with small rockets and other weapons made in the Middle East.

Guns of varying brands and calibers, including small rockets used to shoot down aircraft, have been confiscated from rebels after recent battles, Defense Minister Humberto Ortega told reporters Sunday.

"The U.S. Central Intelligence Agency has given the counterrevolutionaries powerful Egyptian machine guns to kill our people," he said. "These are arms coming from the Middle East that the CIA has bought in its fight against Nicaragua."

The United States last year pulled out of talks with Nicaragua held in the Mexican resort of Manzanillo, saying they had failed to produce positive results.

President Reagan has instead called on Nicaragua to accept proposals for a national dialogue with the internal opposition, which the Sandinista government has persistently rejected.

'Protests Can't Be Stopped'

WARSAW, Poland (UPI) — Solidarity leader Lech Walesa warns that Poles will show their support for the outlawed union in independent May Day demonstrations and "neither riot police nor roadblocks" can stop them.

Walesa, in a letter to Warsaw steel workers that was distributed Sunday to Western reporters, implicitly backed a recent call by underground Solidarity leaders for a series of protests May 1.

The demonstrations are meant to press for the release of an estimated 150 political prisoners and for wage hikes to compensate for recent price increases, which ranged from 10 percent to 14 percent.

The authorities have denounced the call for independent May Day protests and warned that they were proposed by the enemies of Poland.

Viet Vets Remember ... Again

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The flood of news stories marking the 10th anniversary of the fall of Saigon are pushing many Vietnam veterans to federal counseling centers with emotional problems, officials say.

Counselors say the reports, splashed across newspaper front pages and aired on evening newscasts for the past several weeks, are causing nightmares, flashbacks, anxiety and depression in untold legions of former warriors.

"We have a number of centers saying they are being flooded with people," said Raymond Scurfield, assistant director of the Veterans Administration's Readjustment Counseling Service that oversees 157 outreach centers nationwide.

Scurfield said his information was based on "informal feedback" from many of the centers, most of them in big cities.

"Instead of five or six new people, we're seeing as many as 10 to 12 new clients a day," said Bob Baker, a counselor at the vet center in San Diego.

"One guy, a middle-aged businessman, married with two children, came in after seeing all the stuff on TV," Baker said. "He felt panicky and felt suffering inside. It was like he was back in Vietnam."

Ches Goodman, a counselor at the Phoenix center, said he has not seen any increase in clients but, "As more publicity comes out we expect to see more."

"We've had a couple of spouses call in who noticed a sudden change in their husbands," Goodman said.

"They experienced a sudden depression after reading articles about Vietnam."

Generally, these vets have symptoms of post traumatic stress disorder, a syndrome commonly referred to as "shellshock" or "battle fatigue" during World War I and II.

Experts estimate up to 500,000 of the 3.5 million Americans who served in Southeast Asia now suffer periodic bouts of the disorder, a condition blamed for problems ranging from broken marriages and depression to sleepless nights and suicide.

Scurfield said, "We have a lot of vets coming in recent weeks and it appears to be related to the TV coverage, the newspaper coverage" about the 10th anniversary of the fall of Saigon and related stories about America's longest and most unpopular war.

"We are not surprised at all,"

Scurfield said. "It's the whole issue of bringing to one's attention a traumatic event they would like to forget. It's hard to avoid when it's right in your face every day."

"It would be like if all of a sudden there were nationwide stories on rape victims for two weeks," he said. "I guarantee you, everyone who has been raped would think about it and those who have gotten over it, their problems would be exacerbated."

Don O'Neil, a counselor at a Detroit vet center, said the facility has handled about 400 cases this month, up from an average of 340.

"A guy may read or see something and say to himself, 'That happened to me,'" O'Neil said. "There are things these guys have been suppressing, trying to deal with on their own. They begin to realize that that they can't handle everything themselves."

Natural Gas Blast Kills 5, Injures 3

SUMMER SHADE, Ky. (UPI) — The fiery explosion of a natural gas pipeline that killed five people and injured three others left a gaping crater and five homes destroyed.

Four members of our family were among those killed by Saturday night's blast, which touched off a fireball a mile wide, gouging a crater 1 1/2 feet deep, 80 feet long and 46 feet wide in a bedrock of solid limestone, authorities said.

"It looks like somebody just dropped a bomb," said Gordon Nichols, spokesman for the state Disaster and Emergency Services office. "It was just clean — flat to the ground with no foundations left from any of the homes or anything."

The blast, which occurred about 10:15 p.m. Saturday, leveled five mobile homes, Butler said, and a civil defense spokesman said the intensity of the explosion razed a nearby sawmill and melted the paint from a school bus.

Butler identified the dead as Nell Shelley, 69, her son, Bobby Shelley, 48, his wife Elsie Shelley, 43, the couple's 12-year-old son, Anthony Mitchell Shelley, and a neighbor, Mary Buchanan, 56. The cause of death for each was asphyxiation.

"When there's a blast — a fireball — of that nature it depletes all the oxygen," said Butler. He said the victims' mobile homes were 366 feet from the pipeline.

Nichols said there was no damage estimate and it would be "a day or two" before an exact cause was determined for the explosion.

Half-Naked Woman Fights Off Would-Be Rapist

A 37-year-old Sanford woman who accepted a ride from a stranger said he tried to rape her, but she kneed him in the groin and hit him on the neck and fled in her underwear and a shirt.

The woman told Seminole County sheriff's deputies the man offered her a ride from Cumberland Farms on Park Avenue at 3rd Street in Sanford to a Winn Dixie supermarket after she walked to the convenience store and found it closed at about 10:10 p.m. Saturday.

Instead of going to the Winn Dixie, the attacker drove to Rand Yard Road, Sanford, and pushed the woman out of the car and onto the ground in a railroad switch yard, a sheriff's report said.

The abductor said "make love or else," and forcibly removed the woman's jeans and shoes. As the man attempted to rape her she fought him off and ran to the Fleet Reserve building on West First Street, Sanford, to get help, the report said.

Sheriff's investigators went to the scene of the attack with the woman, but she couldn't locate the exact site. Her shoes and jeans were found in the area and the woman said she didn't need medical treatment, the report said.

The party guests parked cars along the roadway and in orange

Police Accused Of Brutality Face Indictment

NEW YORK (UPI) — Indictments against at least four Queens police officers accused of torturing drug suspects with a stun gun could come as early as Tuesday, Queens District Attorney John Santucci says.

Four officers of the 106th Precinct in Queens have been arrested and suspended without pay for allegedly torturing drug suspects with stun guns to force them to confess.

The integrity officer at the stationhouse was also suspended but not charged in the growing police brutality scandal.

Santucci said Sunday the cases against the four officers are scheduled to go to a grand jury Tuesday and that it should reach its decision by Tuesday night.

Eighteen top-ranking officers were transferred out of the precinct last week, and Police Commissioner Benjamin Ward Saturday announced that two of the department's most senior officers would shift to other duties and would retire in a matter of months.

Ward also announced changes in internal investigation practices, saying all reports of brutality, regardless of their severity, will be investigated by the Internal Affairs Division rather than the Civilian Complaint Review Board.

Another investigation was under way into a possible fifth stun gun attack in February by an officer from the 108th Precinct in Queens.

The district attorney was expected to at least present cases against the four officers charged with torture to the grand jury Tuesday. The New York Daily News said as many as six policemen could be indicted.

groves, blocked driveways with their vehicles and walked in the roadway obstructing traffic, the report said.

The crowd, lured to the area by fliers distributed at bars, parking lots, and universities with the promise of all the beer you could drink for a $6 donation, exceeded the capacity of the area and the Slovic Gardens dance hall, the report said.

Lawmen reported the crowd became abusive and threw rocks at patrol cars. Two Casselberry police cars were vandalized, the report said, but no one was injured.

One of three men who hosted the party, Altamonte Springs firefighter Mathew C. Sheppard, 23, of Spanish Trace #200, Altamonte Springs, told lawmen the fliers advertising the party were distributed in areas frequented by adults, the report said.

But deputies reported many of the party-goers appeared to be juveniles and no effort had been made to establish the age of the guests who were served beer.

No charges have been filed in connection with the incident.

Growth, Malpractice, Politics Top Legislative Agenda

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The Florida House takes up two top issues of 1985 — growth management and medical malpractice — this week while the Senate deals with some of next year's major political matters.

Senate President Harry Johnston, D-West Palm Beach, has a news conference scheduled this afternoon to announce his plans to run for governor, with Attorney General Jim Smith as his runningmate. Johnston had supported Smith for governor, until the attorney general dropped out of the race March 4, but last week the two men were reported to have made a new pact for the 1986 race.

Senate Democrats have a caucus scheduled later this week to formally elect Johnston's successor as presiding officer for the 1987-88 sessions. Sen. Ken Jenne, D-Hollywood, has signed pledges from fellow Democrats to make him president-designate on Thursday.

Johnston and Jenne last week scoffed at persistent reports that Republicans and conservative rural Democrats might form another coalition to deny Jenne the presidency, regardless of the outcome of the Democratic caucus. The GOP holds nine seats in the 40-member Senate, and would need to pick up a dozen votes in 1986 — either through Republican victories or a combination with renegade Democrats — to stop Jenne.

Sen. Dempsey Barron, D-Panama City, who denied another Senate president-designate the office in 1975, forged a coalition with Republicans to control the Senate in the late 1970s and early 1980s. Last year, while Johnston was still president-designate, he engineered Jenne's election for the subsequent term to head off a return of power from the urban southeast to the rural northern Senate districts.

Another crucial political issue of 1986, limiting Cabinet members to two terms in office, comes up for a vote in the Senate Judiciary-Civil Committee on Wednesday. The constitutional amendment would allow Cabinet incumbents to run again next year, but they would only be allowed one more re-election campaign after that.

Johnston frankly admits he wants the two-term Cabinet limit as a step toward abolishing the six-member executive board. Johnston conceded he does not have the votes to do away with the Cabinet, so he decided its members should at least be limited to the same eight years governors can serve.

In the House, meanwhile, an 85-page medical malpractice package is set for hearings before the Health Care and Insurance Committee on Monday. The bill by Rep. Art Simon, D-Miami, would tighten peer review requirements for physicians accused of incompetency, set up a fund to make sure no doctor pays more than 15 percent of gross income for malpractice insurance premiums, and impose a sliding scale on attorney contingency fees in such tort cases.

The bill would also modify the legal doctrine of "joint and several liability," which allows plaintiffs to collect entire judgments from hospitals if their doctors lack enough malpractice coverage to satisfy a verdict.

The Senate Commerce Committee also has hearings scheduled Monday on nine malpractice bills — including abolition of joint and several liability, which Johnston wants.

On Tuesday, the full House has floor debate scheduled on Gov. Bob Graham's comprehensive state growth plan. The 10-year plan sets broad goals — such as state acquisition of 100 more miles of beaches, making a 10 percent gain in the number of elderly people living self-sufficient lives, and attaining the upper one-fourth among states in educational achievement by 1986.

The plan would toughen environmental protection laws and spur both qualitative and quantitative improvements to the state's transportation systems, schools, hospitals, prisons and other services.

According to estimates by Graham and House Appropriations staff, the state would spend between $32 billion and $34 billion if each of the plan's provisions were enacted today. Accounting for inflation, House leaders expect the plan to cost nearly $100 billion by 1995.

Millionaires

Most Are Hard-Working, Self-Made And Plan Ahead

ATLANTA (UPI) — There are nearly 1 million millionaires in the United States, but a researcher says some have so little money they have to borrow their lunch money.

Dr. Thomas Stanley, a marketing professor at Georgia State University, said millionaires are different from other people — they plan ahead. But that does not mean they have more money.

"Most of them don't have a million dollars in the bank," Stanley said. "A man once said to me, 'I have to borrow money to eat lunch.'"

Stanley, who has surveyed millionaires since 1973, said they place emphasis on wealth appreciation, minimizing taxes, providing financial protection for their families and assuring college educations for their children.

"About 80 percent we've surveyed are first generation wealth," he said. "They made their money themselves. What I find with millionaires is they are self-employed.

These people are hard workers, driven. They are more frugal and they have a lot of ambition.

"Discipline has a lot to do with it — they are frightened that they are not going to succeed."

Stanley said the number of millionaires in the United States is approaching 1 million.

He said in 1984 there were 832,602 and the number continues to grow at a rate of about 9 percent.

"At the rate we're going, we could reach a million (millionaires) in 1986 or 1987," he said.

The number of millionaire households varies widely from state to state with California having the most — 114,427 — and Vermont the least — 1,031. Stanley said most millionaires have their money tied up in real estate and their companies.

Millionaire households are traditional — more than 80 percent composed of a married couple with children living in a home near or in a metropolitan area, said Stanley.

The average millionaire is 57 years old, and 85 percent of all millionaires have college degrees. Twenty percent are retired and 70 percent are self-employed, Stanley said.

Southern states have the greatest number of millionaire households at 30 percent, and Stanley said the South is growing rapidly in terms of affluent population.

The Northeast has the highest concentration with one-fourth of the nation's millionaires, but only 21 percent of the households.

In the Northeast, Connecticut has the highest concentration with 1,717 millionaires per 100,000 households. The Washington, D.C., area has the highest in the South with 1,501 per 100,000.

Illinois is the leader in the Midwest with 1,149 per 100,000. Alaska has the highest concentration in the West with 2,161 per 100,000.

Residents Of Nation's Capital Aren't Big Givers

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation's capital is home to many of the world's most influential people, but its residents give less to philanthropic organizations than other major cities, according to a new study.

"The Washington area lacks the critical mass necessary to generate a strong philanthropic base because it has few very wealthy residents and few large national corporations are headquartered here," analyst Mallory Walker said in a study by the Greater Washington Research Center.

Although Washington has a higher average income than the six other cities studied, taxpayers made less charitable deductions, gave less to the United Way, and generally favored national and international concerns over local ones.

The other cities studied were Atlanta, Boston, Cleveland, Dallas-Fort Worth, Minneapolis-Saint Paul, and San Francisco.

Because many Washington residents are from other cities, the study said, residents send money to their hometowns, instead of keeping it here. Most of the city's long-time residents are poor, the study said.

Taxpayers in oil-rich Dallas gave the most to charity, and led the nation in individual and corporate fortunes. Dallas residents claimed a total of $630,000 in charitable deductions on their tax returns. Washingtonians claimed $596,000.

Cleveland contributed the most of the seven cities to the United Way. The charitable organization received an average of $26.72 per capita from Cleveland. From Washington residents, they received less than half of that — $12.81.

The nation's capital also has the fewest philanthropic organizations.

The study showed that the first community-based foundation in Washington, the Community Foundation of Greater Washington, was established in 1973.

The study also showed that of every Washington dollar given to non-profit organizations, only 8 cents went to local non-profit groups.

Caffeine Does Not Affect Chances Of Breast Disease

NEW YORK (UPI) — Neither breast cancer nor benign breast disease appear to be more common in women who drink coffee or eat chocolate, according to a study of women in Israel.

Contrary to prior research, caffeine and related substances found in tea, coffee, cola, cocoa and chocolate do not appear to make a woman more susceptible to benign breast disease, researchers from the Chaim Sheba Medical Center in Tel Hashomer, Israel and the New York Medical College in Valhalla reported in the current issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The Israeli scientists also reported in the Journal of the National Cancer Institute that they found no link between caffeine and an increased risk of breast cancer.

Strictly defined, benign breast disease refers to rapid, but normal tissue growth in the ducts of the breast. Almost every adult woman has such growth at some time in her life, said Dr. Maurice Black, co-author in the study and clinical professor of pathology at New York Medical College.

The researchers interviewed 854 Israeli women diagnosed with benign breast disease and more than 1,400 similar women without the disease between 1977 and 1980 about their diets and other possible risk factors for the disease.

In the first group as well as the second, the number of women who refrained from drinking coffee equaled the number of women who drank at least five cups a day.

The women consumed comparable amounts of coffee, tea, cocoa, cola and chocolate combined, they reported.

Differences in the type of women studied might account for the disparity between this and previous research findings. Some earlier studies evaluated women who had serious enough breast disease to have had a tissue sample extracted and examined for cancer.

"This was the first time that a study population was carefully classified," said Black.

Synfuels' Big Failure

The U.S. Synthetic Fuels Corp. has been a total failure. It was supposed to encourage the development of a commercial industry for converting coal and oil shale into liquid fuels, but that hope has proved to be grossly premature. For the foreseeable future, there is no way to bring synthetic fuels to market without enormous public subsidies, since the synfuels can't conceivably be produced in quantities that would make a difference in an energy emergency.

Geared as it is toward commercialization of synfuels, the SFC isn't even in a position to solve the real problems of this technology. It doesn't fund the kind of small-scale, technical research that must precede commercialization. It hasn't even tried to address the serious environmental issues raised by an industry that, if it ever came into existence, would be producing thousands of tons of solid waste each day at each plant, in addition to a multitude of new air and water pollutants.

In fact, the SFC hasn't yet funded much of anything, although it is continually trying to give its money away. The most significant thing to come out of the agency thus far has been scandal — the Reagan appointees to the SFC board who have had to resign because of conflict of interest; the generous and unnecessary consultant contracts provided to friends of the board; the expenditure of millions of taxpayer dollars on things like carpeting and a sauna at SFC headquarters.

Nonetheless, Congress and the president have left nearly $8 billion at the SFC's disposal — to give away in loans, grants and price supports as it sees fit. That's far less than the $10 billion the government first thought to spend on synfuels, but it remains an absurd amount of good money for the taxpayers to be pouring after bad.

White House Budget Director David Stockman has admitted as much in congressional testimony. But, Stockman said, the administration must stick by the deal it cut with several senators, who agreed to go along with a reduction in SFC funding last year on condition the administration leave the program alone this year.

That's a deal that should never have been made, particularly in the midst of a deficit crisis, in which far more worthy government programs are being sacrificed left and right. Fortunately, the rest of Congress is under no obligation to uphold it.

Minus One Engine

A three-jet Boeing 727 lost an engine last week on a flight from Dallas to San Diego. The engine not only stopped operating; it was wrenched off the pylon supporting it to the fuselage. It fell to the ground, but the airliner kept on flying to a safe landing at its destination.

The engine mount is designed to shear when an engine seizes, to protect the airplane's body against stress. And the plane is designed to fly safely on two engines.

The 727 is one of the most popular airliners in the world. And, it appears, one of the safest.

Bitburg Cemetery Visit Haunts Reagan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — White House spokesman Larry Speakes has been trying to say as little as possible about President Reagan's controversial decision to visit the cemetery at Bitburg, Germany where German soldiers of two world wars are buried.

When one reporter explained "he's stonewalling" in order to refrain from any comment, another newsman quipped: "He's gravestone-walling."

Aides agree there is a "cloud" over Reagan's 10-day European journey as a result of the uproar over his plans to place a wreath at the Bitburg cemetery where some Nazi SS troops also are buried.

And there is a lot of fingerpointing at who is to blame. The heaviest responsibility for the blooper has fallen on deputy chief of staff Michael Deaver and William Henkel, Reagan's chief advance man.

"There's a lot of blame to go around," said one aide. "Someone didn't do their homework."

Deaver is leaving the White House in mid-May and although his last hurrah trip with Reagan is beset with unexpected headaches, he still has solid credentials with the president, whom he has served for some 20 years.

Deaver is the master of the "photo opportunity" but wags are now saying he undoubtedly hopes that the pictures from Bitburg will be few and far between.

The president will walk around the cemetery. He also intends to visit Bergen-Belsen concentration camp, where he will speak and will attend worship services and a picnic with American and German military personnel and their families.

When Nancy Reagan invited the first ladies of the world to attend her international conference on drug abuse among youth, 17 of them accepted.

One reporter asked her press secretary, Jennifer Hirschberg, whether Dennis Thatcher, husband of British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, was invited.

Apparently he was not.

The president likes to joke about his age (74) and the self-deprecation always draws an appreciative laugh from his audience.

In a Rose Garden ceremony to give the Peace Corps volunteers a send-off to Africa, Reagan said:

"The French chronicler of American life, Alexis de Tocqueville, remarked on the spirit of voluntarism in this country 150 years ago. I was only a small boy then. I didn't hear him ... but I remember well. He said 'Americans are forever forming associations. No sooner do they see a need than they rush to meet it.'"

"I enjoyed reading The Washington Post for the first time in a long time," Reagan said in his opening remarks to the National Association of Realtors at its convention.

The obvious reference was to the ad the realtors had put in the Post expressing strong support for his budget cuts and efforts to trim the federal deficit.

SCIENCE WORLD

The "Safe" Times

By Jan Ziegler
UPI Science Writer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Now that barrier methods of birth control are more popular than the pill, it is especially important for women to know when they ovulate so they can be aware of their "safe" periods, an Ohio nursing instructor says.

The problem is, many college women — even those who have had sex education — are misinformed not only about ovulation, but the entire menstrual cycle, Maureen Brown found in a survey at University of Missouri-Columbia.

Brown, who teaches nursing, has a clinical practice at the university student health service and does consulting work for Planned Parenthood, found that less than 3 percent of 221 women in her survey could correctly identify their ovulation date.

It didn't make any difference whether they had had sex education, or that they were older, knew about barrier methods of contraception, or were farther along in school.

"It was really amazing to me," Brown said in a telephone interview.

The one variable that made any difference was sexual experience. Those who were more frequently sexually active were slightly more likely to know when they ovulated, she said.

"Also what emerged was a definite at-risk group," Brown said, which amounted to about a third of those surveyed. "Those were women who reported having infrequent sexual activity and didn't use a method of contraception."

That put them at significant risk, if they're having unprotected intercourse and don't have a clue about how to avoid pregnancy.

The reason most often cited was that they thought — mistakenly — they had been on their "safe" time of month when they had sexual relations.

"In that same group, women on the pill didn't even know how to count their menstrual cycle properly," she said.

Use of birth control pills, which control ovulation and cause any fertilized eggs to be swept out of the body, is closely tied to the menstrual schedule. Barrier methods — condom, diaphragm, sponge and others — simply block sperm from entering the uterus.

A major problem is that many women believe ovulation occurs on the 14th day of the menstrual cycle, or in the middle of the cycle — when it actually happens 14 days before menstruation begins.

Judgeships Available

WASHINGTON (NEA) — With more federal district and appeals court judgeships open than ever before, the process of filling them is turning the Senate into a battleground.

Democrats charge that conservative Republicans are using the judicial nominating process as a tool to promote their own ideology.

Since these are lifetime U.S. posts, the judges who hold them can have a long-term influence on legal dealings throughout American society.

Some judicial openings are the result of deaths or retirements. Others stem from the reorganization in 1984 of the federal bankruptcy courts. Congress has created more than 100 new judgeships to ease the crushing backlog.

In the past, if the nominee was suggested by the senator of the president's party and was found to be "qualified" by the ABA, the person was almost sure to get the job. However, this is no longer the case.

Recently, GOP officials in the District of Columbia have suggested that Deputy Solicitor General Andrew L. Frey be nominated for an opening on the D.C. Court of Appeals. In addition, Sen. Alfonse M. D'Amato, R-N.Y., nominated New York Legal Aid Society lawyer William E. Hellerstein for a new judgeship.

With both men highly regarded by their peers, the nominations should have sailed through. Instead, both nominations were withdrawn when conservative groups complained that Frey was pro-abortion and pro-gun control and that Hellerstein was "too liberal."

Then New Jersey's Republican Gov. Thomas H. Kean nominated the state's public advocate, Joseph H. Rodriguez, a former member of his cabinet — who, if confirmed, would be the state's first Hispanic federal judge. Rodriguez's nomination was seconded by both of New Jersey's Democratic senators. As a former head of the state bar, he won quick ABA approval. Since he would have been President Reagan's first Hispanic judicial appointment, Rodriguez was quickly approved by the White House and the nomination was forwarded to the Senate Judiciary Committee.

At that point, Rodriguez was sent an eight-page questionnaire by three conservative Republican members of the committee — Sens. Jeremiah Denton, R-Ala., Orrin G. Hatch, R-Utah, and John P. East, C. The questionnaire asked whether he believed "that a 'viable' fetus is a human being" and whether he had "a belief in the existence of a Supreme Being" and asked his views on the legalization of abortion, prayer in public schools, the right to bear arms, the Equal Rights Amendment, union power, the death penalty, affirmative action, private-school tuition vouchers and school desegregation. It also sought a list of his political contributions for the last 10 years.

The questionnaire outraged Democrats, who charged that it amounted to a political litmus test.

DON GRAFF

On The Peace Academy

Suppose there were an outside party that could take in hand the endless Iran-Iraq war, bringing the combatants together in a search for a mutually satisfactory solution.

It wouldn't be easy. It might mean not even meeting face to face at first. The hostile parties might have to be segregated in separate rooms, with the third party's representatives shuttling between, relaying suggestions and counter-suggestions.

But eventually the process just might produce a formula that could be the basis of a cease-fire and even peace.

As a matter of fact, there is such a party, the International Peace Academy. Based in New York, its modest offices on First Avenue look out on the monumental buildings of another institution — the United Nations — which hasn't proved to be of much help in situations such as just described.

The IPA, in its low-profile way, seeks to remedy that failing. It works for the U.N., but is not technically of it. It is a non-governmental organization with consultant status to the U.N. The IPA was established in 1970 by private internationalists, largely Americans, to strengthen U.N. peace-keeping capabilities, which the U.N. was unable to do.

The reason, as IPA President Indarjit Rikhye delicately puts it, was "because of the political difficulties that exist" within the U.N. structure itself, i.e., Soviet resistance to institutionalizing such procedures.

Rikhye is a military man who has made a career of the pursuit of peace. A retired general of the Indian army, he was a military adviser to two U.N. secretaries-general — Dag Hammarskjöld and U Thant — and was the top military on the spot during the upheaval when the former Belgian Congo became independent in the early '60s.

He also saw service with the first U.N. peace-keeping force — UNEF-I — following the 1956 Suez war. Rikhye assisted in the establishment of the peace academy and has been its head from the start.

As it has developed, the IPA is a multipurpose operation. Its first function is as a research and training institute in the ways of establishing and maintaining peace. To that end, it operates training programs for professionals — diplomats, military officers, civil servants — from interested countries.

Look-Alike Choppers Confusing

By Jack Anderson
And
Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — The worst fears of federal officials who uncovered the illegal sale of American helicopters to North Korea have been confirmed by the latest top-secret intelligence from Seoul: North Korea apparently has already penetrated South Korean airspace with the choppers.

In fact, high administration officials have told us that the South Korean air force is so alarmed at overflights by look-alikes of the helicopters we supply that it has grounded its own U.S.-made choppers at various times.

The idea is to make sure that if ground troops (and anti-aircraft units) see one of the Hughes helicopters nosing around south of the demilitarized zone at a designated time, they'll know it's a North Korean infiltrator.

In a war or emergency situation, it's obvious that the North Koreans could use their look-alikes to create confusion in South Korean defense forces and perhaps gain a crucial advantage in the early stages of an invasion.

The tragedy is that U.S. intelligence had several major clues that the helicopter diversion to North Korea was taking place, but the right people in the Defense and Commerce departments — the people who certainly would have put a quick stop to it — were never informed. Here's the frustrating story:

In September 1983, U.S. Customs agents received detailed information that the North Koreans were illegally acquiring Hughes helicopters through a West German company. In fact, customs intelligence reported, two helicopters — the first of an eventual 87 — had been shipped out of the United States six months earlier. Incredibly, the bill of lading filed with the Customs Service had actually listed a North Korean company as the recipient.

For still unexplained reasons, customs did not share this alarming intelligence with the Commerce Department, whose undersecretary for international trade, Lionel Olmer, could have halted further shipments. And although customs did pass the information along to the Defense Intelligence Agency, the DIA for some reason did not pass it on to the Pentagon official who undoubtedly would have spotted the security breach: Assistant Defense Secretary Richard Perle.

With no one barring the door, the West German company was able to buy and send five more shipments to North Korea. The last load before Commerce caught on was sent in November. Fifteen helicopters left Los Angeles on a Panamanian freighter to Antwerp, Belgium. They were then loaded onto trucks and taken to Rotterdam, the Netherlands. On Dec. 10, the choppers were loaded onto a Soviet ship, the K.H. Prorokov, which carried them to Hong Kong and finally to North Korea.

It wasn't till January that Commerce learned in general about the illegal diversion of the helicopters and began an investigation. (Hughes Helicopter Co. was cleared; Commerce is investigating the West German businessman who was crucial to the operation.)

A high White House official described the helicopter diversion as "one of the most serious we've ever had" in more than a decade of Soviet-bloc efforts to beg, borrow and steal American technology.

The civilian helicopters North Korea obtained can easily be converted into military aircraft by adding machine guns, anti-tank rockets and air-to-ground missiles. But the confusion factor could be more important in the always sensitive DMZ area, because the South Koreans have more than 200 identical Hughes helicopters.

Brauman's Seminoles Hit Warpath

By Rob Laria
Special to the Herald

There has been a changing of the guard on the District 4A-9 track scene lately, a move that even has the perennial state juggernauts taking notice.

From out of Seminole High, a tribe has been assembling and making increasing amounts of noise. Led by Ken Brauman, a veteran and successful chief, and paced by numerous talent, warriors, the Seminoles appear poised to go on the warpath. They have their sights set on restaking claim to the Florida territory, a land long held by others.

Last year, the boys' squad carved out a little turf by winning the Five Star Conference crown. The victory was duplicated this year, breaking up a dominance held by schools to the north —

Mainland and Seabreeze.

Thursday, the Seminoles will be seeking to claim the regional title, while looking to battle for the state championship May 11.

Brauman, who had been through the wars at Palatka High for 11 years before leaving a year ago, has built a group strong in numbers and quality. Standouts include Franklin Barnett, Cliff Campbell, Billy Penick, Eric Martin, Leo Peterson, Alvin Jones, Willie Brown, Deron Thompson and Pat Davis, but there are others. In all, the squad has some 40 members and that, Brauman contends, is a real key.

"One of the big things is that we've been able to get a lot of people out," he says.

With those numbers, he seeks to develop overall strength. "We believe in having a well-rounded program. We want kids in all events.

Track/Field

"We just don't want sprinters or distance runners," Brauman explains. "We offer everyone the opportunity to compete. We don't cut anyone, regardless of how good you are or how bad you are at this point. We offer the kids a chance to compete and improve."

During his stay at Palatka, Brauman piloted his teams to 10 district titles, seven regional crowns and two state championships. His philosophies are proven, and they appear to have taken hold with the Seminoles.

"We don't go at it with the idea that you just run and get in shape," he says. "We work on running techniques, running drills, things to help promote power, strength and flexibility, and the type of workouts that are aimed to have the athlete right at the right times."

To help utilize those techniques, Brauman looks for the best competition and the best opportunities to learn. "We've offered them some new experiences, traveling to Jacksonville and the Florida Relays," he says. "We've given the good kids those experiences they need to become better."

"They've got the opportunity to compete, to travel, and not just be the best in Seminole County or the best in Central Florida. We give them the best the state has to offer. They found out they can be successful. That success breeds success," Brauman adds, though, that talented performers, like Barnett and Campbell — among Florida's premier high hurdlers and quarter-milers, respectively — make the strategy work.

"There's good athletes here. I'd be the first to admit that," he says. "The talent is where it all starts."

Brauman has worked hard and been successful at getting those athletes, thanks in part to his team. "The key is having our own athletes promote it (the program)," he asserts. "They know the kids who can run and have the ability to run. They've grown up with them."

Campbell, who registered the state's top quarter-mile time of the year (47.6) last Friday night, supports Brauman's claim. "We recruit a lot for coach," he says. "Me and some of the other

Ken Brauman has built the Seminoles into a state track contender in two years. Brauman won two state titles while coaching at Palatka.

Ferrell's Decision: Right Or Wrong It Was Exhilarating

A more heartbreaking conclusion could not have been imagined for coach Mike Ferrell and his Fighting Seminoles in last week's 7-6 district loss to DeLand. It will be a game which will be remembered and replayed forever.

But if you're looking here to see if I think Mike Ferrell's crazy, take another look.

Tuesday's last-inning suicide squeeze with the bases loaded, trailing by one run, one out and a 3-2 count on Gary Derr was, indeed, an unreal call. Many called it a poor one. Others said unprintable things.

But for that one moment — when Dexter Franklin was racing down the third base line and Derr turned to face the pitcher, right hand sliding up the handle — time stood still for the big crowd at Conrad Park. It seemed the next five seconds took forever. It was an instant replay without the replay. It was an incredibly exciting and suspenseful moment.

It turned out to be an incredibly disheartening one for Seminole when Derr popped up the pitch into a game-ending double play. But for the sports purist, the high was fabulous. It was heart-pounding baseball at its best.

Even if it wasn't the correct call, it was a beautiful example of a young coach having the utmost confidence in his young star. Gary Derr is a fine young player and over the course of his career he will execute more suicide squeezes than he pops into game-ending double plays.

Ferrell, who will take the heat for the move, has done an excellent job in his first year with the 'Noles. I've known Mike Ferrell for 10 years and I know how badly he has wanted a head coaching job. He apprenticed forever at Lake Howell before he finally received the opportunity at his old high school last year.

Tuesday night, he tried to force the issue. He walked the tightrope without a net and fell off. He tried to win the game, not sit back and lose it. Even if the decision was wrong, you have to admire Ferrell's courage. He was going to win — or lose — by his own volition. Now, that's what coaching is all about.

"It was a risky decision," admitted Ferrell. "But I coach by instincts, the same way I played. Gary and I discussed it before we did it. He just didn't want to do it on the first pitch."

Ferrell said the previous inning when his club left the bases loaded may have had a lot to do with his decision. "I had a real empty feeling when I walked across that diamond after the sixth inning," he recalled. "I didn't want to have that feeling again without at least trying to get the run home somehow."

Ferrell also said the experience of being in that situation will help his young team. "We played a great game," he said. "Jensen, Derr, Sheffield, Hersey and Turner all did great jobs. They'll remember what it's like to play under district pressure and do well."

Still, it will be an unfortunate memory for some, especially the seniors who were so close to ending their four years on an upbeat. Anytime a team has the tying run 90 feet from home and the potential winning run 180 feet away, it will only agonize over what might have been.

Let's take a look one more time...Seminole, a 15-0 loser to DeLand just 11 days prior, came into the first round of the District 4A-9 Baseball Tournament as a decided underdog.

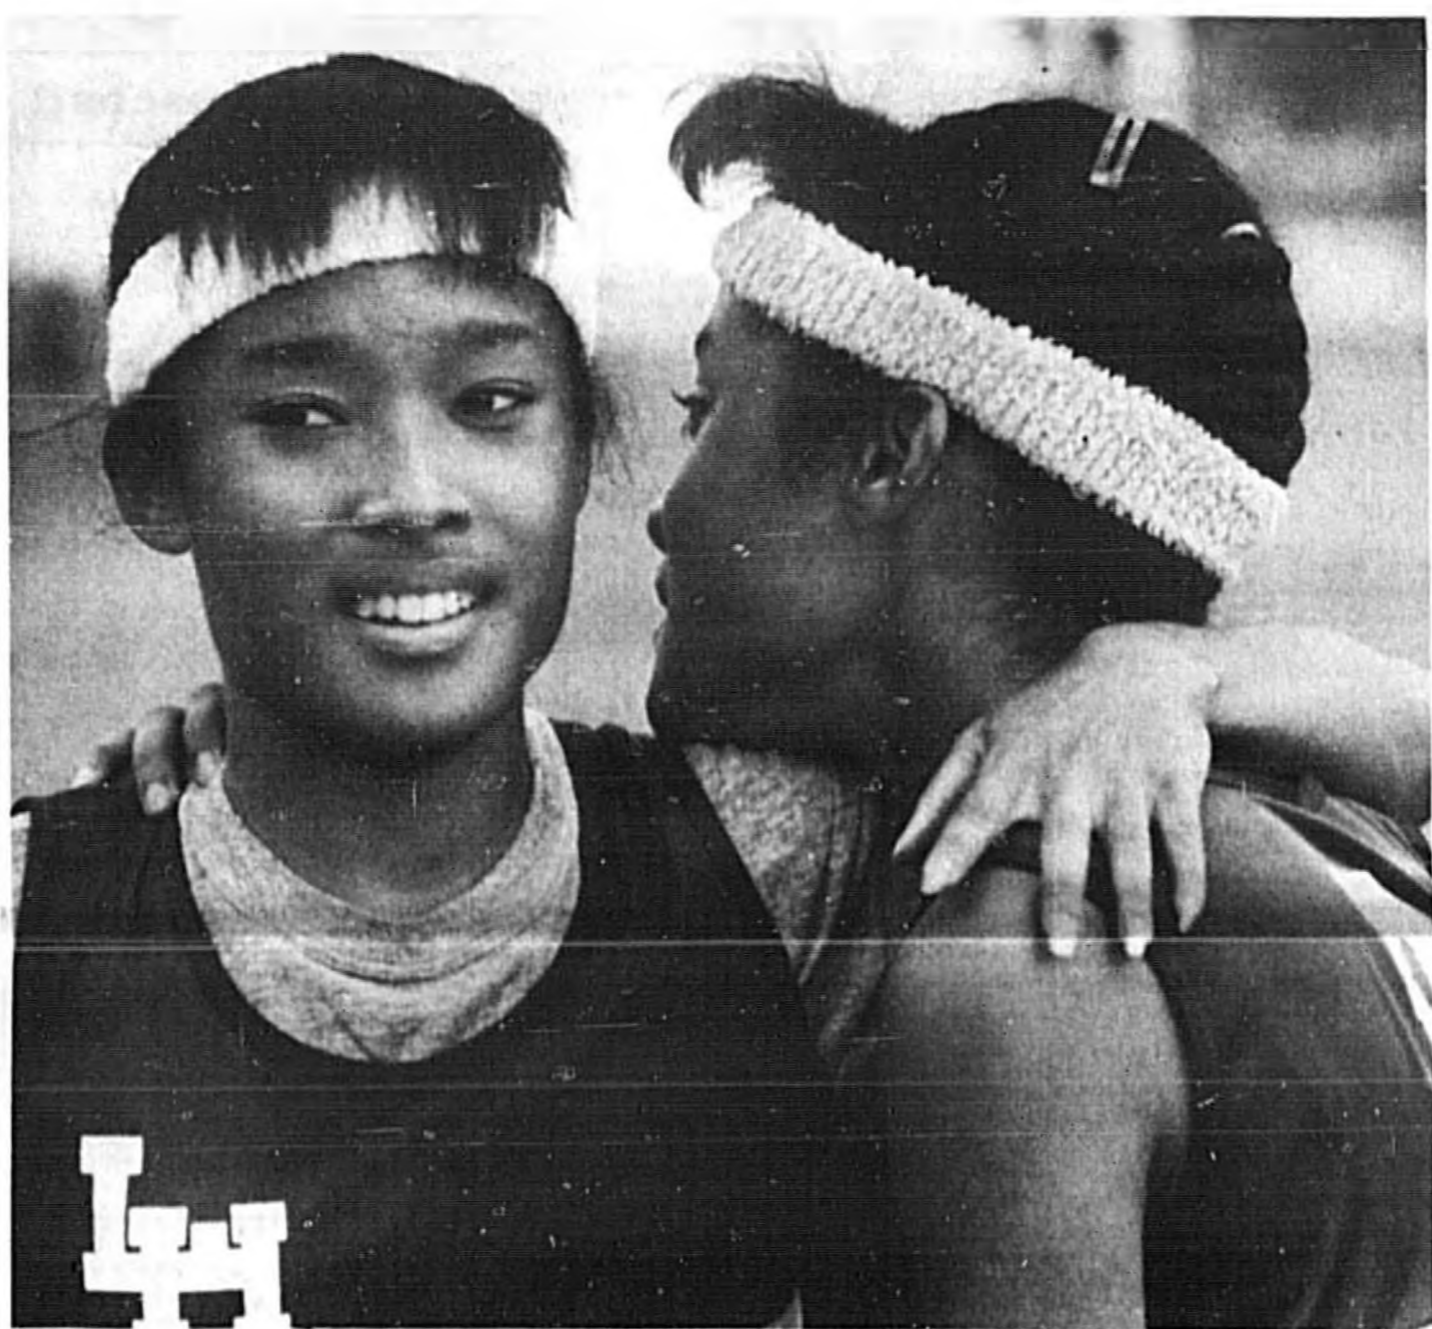

Knowing this, Ferrell pulled a little psychological play with his players. He had them run through infield practice without a ball. The phantom ball. It's a strange and eerie drill where the players go through the motions without the ball. It draws different reactions.

Some people didn't know whether to laugh or cry. "At least we won't kick the ball around in warmups," quipped Ferrell. "I want us starting this game with a positive attitude."

The play worked. Seminole came out really psyched up. DeLand, which had to be somewhat overconfident despite the urgings of coach Jim Joyner, was flat. Two walks and a sharp single by Brian Sheffield loaded the bases. Tony Cox, who had deposited a foul ball grand slam into a distant tree in the 15-0 laugher, was next.

Cox, a stockily built first baseman, has

Double Pleasure

The Spearman Twins — Rochelle, left, and Michelle — had a lot to celebrate Friday at the District 4A-9 Track & Field championships. The Lake Howell seniors both qualified for Friday's Region 4A-3 meet at Winter Park's Showalter Field. Rochelle won the 110 and 330 hurdles and placed second in the long jump. Michelle ran fourth and qualified in the 220 dash.

Lyman Makes 13 Lucky For McCullough

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

LONGWOOD — Maybe 13 isn't so unlucky after all.

Lyman coach Bob McCullough, the dean of Seminole County's baseball coaches, completed his 13th regular season by guiding the Greyhounds to a third place Five Star Conference finish.

Last Friday night, McCullough and the Greyhounds added to their success by upsetting Lake Mary in the District 4A-9 championship game at DeLand's Conrad Park. Prior to the convincing 6-2 victory over Lake Mary in the final, Lyman upended Lake Howell, 4-1, and DeLand, 9-0.

That's a yield of just three runs in 21 innings against three of the hardest-hitting teams in the conference. Pretty good for a club McCullough thought would be short on pitching prior to the season. "(Pitching) coach Eddie Nuss and I thought Derek (Livernols) would win his share, but we weren't sure about the rest," said the Lyman skipper.

"The key to our season was that the rest of the staff came through."

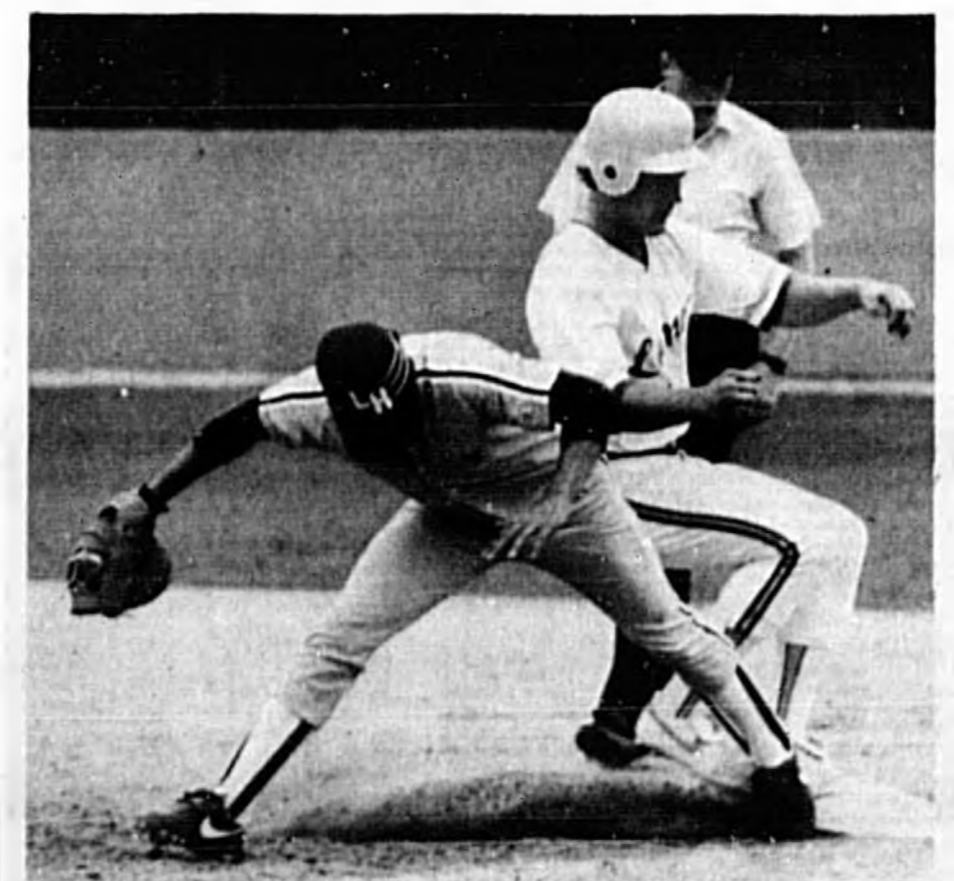

That key has enabled the Greyhounds to win 26 of 31 games. They finished the season ranked No. 8 in the Florida Sports Writers Prep Baseball Poll. Tuesday night at 8, Lyman will host Winter Park in the Region 4A-5 championship.

One of those key pitchers — senior Clint Baker — combined with Livernols to shut out Winter Park.

Livernols, with two wins in the district, improved to 11-2 on the season. Byron Overstreet, a junior right-hander, hurled the shutout over DeLand in the district to improve his mark to 7-1. Baker finished at 4-1. Livernols posted three saves while submariner Craig Meyer was effective relief. Junior Mark Whittington and sophomore Kenny Oswald were also effective when summoned.

Despite the whitewash, McCullough remembers Winter Park as a solid ballclub. "I was pretty impressed with them early in the year," said McCullough. "They had good hitting and a good defense. They must be a pretty solid club. They beat Boone for the championship."

Winter Park's victory in the District 4A-10 title game came as a direct result of Bill Lee's eighth-inning two-run homer. Lee, who came up through the Maitland Little League system, is a power-hitter junior catcher. Rich Eposito, the Wildcats' shortstop, was one of the cogs on coach Howard Mabie's Big League U.S. championship team last year.

Lady Lions Ride Crest Into Region

By Chris Flater
Herald Sports Writer

At one point in the 1985 softball season, Oviedo's Lady Lions were in the middle of a hitting slump and hovering at the 500 mark with a 7-7 record. But, after dropping two games in the Lady Hawk Tournament, the Lady Lions got their bats going and haven't lost since.

Oviedo, 17-7 with a 10-game winning streak, is looking to keep the offensive fireworks burning Tuesday night when they travel to Brooksville to take on the defending state champions and top ranked Lady Leopards of Brooksville. Hernando High for the 3A-3 Region Championship.

Tuesday night's game will be played at 7 at Tom Vary Park which is off Highway 60A in Brooksville.

Oviedo coach Jackie Miller is hoping the Lady Lions can continue their hot hitting streak and play strong defense against the Lady Leopards.

"If we play our best game, we stand as good a chance as anyone," Miller said. "Whether or not we're hitting will make the difference. The two defenses look pretty equal. It depends on who gets the hits to fall in."

In the regular season, the Lady Lions had four players who hit over .400 and four who drove in 20 or more runs.

Mikki Eby led the way with a .462 average which was fifth in Seminole County. The sophomore outfielder also drove in 32 runs to tie for the county lead and smacked three homers. Caroline Chavis, a sophomore shortstop, was right behind Eby with a .452 average that was sixth in the county. Chavis also tied for the county lead in runs with 29 and drove in 23 runs.

The lone senior on the team, outfielder Fran Foster, hit .413 while another sophomore, third baseman Cathy Bergman, hit at a .404 clip.

Also hitting over .300 for the Lions were, catcher Teri Coe (.375), sophomore second baseman Jessica Bradley (.352), 3 homers, 19 RBIs), junior outfielder Barbara Malone (.333), sophomore first baseman Dee Dee Beasley (.306, 31 RBIs) and freshman pitcher Jodie Switzer (.300, 20 RBIs).

The pitching styles between the two areas are a bit different, according to Miller.

"Their (Brooksville's) pitcher pitches a rainbow," said Miller. "It's kind of flat and deep. Umpires from around here don't call those deep pitches strikes. Jodie (Switzer) has a high arch that drops down."

Miller went to see the Lady Leopards in their district title game against Dade City Pasco and said they have a lot of strong hitters.

Varn, whose teams have compiled a 50-2 record in the past two years, said his leading hitters include Dawn Edwards, Sarah Huckaby, Colene Nelson and Wanda Griffin.

Varn said hitting has been the strong point of the team this season. "We're not near as good on defense as we were last year," he said. "We lost six players off that team. I was really surprised this year. The girls have done a good job."

The Lady Leopards' only loss this season was a 5-2 setback to Tallahassee Lincoln.

IN BRIEF

Nuggets' New Style Trips Spurs — Celtics, Sixers Coast To Wins

United Press International
The Denver Nuggets, the epitome of unrestrained offense, won via its defense Sunday night.
Behind a stifling defense and 33 points from Alex English, the Nuggets ripped the San Antonio Spurs 126-99 to advance to the second round of the playoffs.
"We just played great defense, that was the ultimate defense," said Nuggets coach Doug Moe.
The Nuggets, which won the best-of-five series 3-2, advance to the semifinals of the Western Conference against the Utah Jazz. The best-of-seven series begins Tuesday night in Denver.
The Jazz concluded the other first round series Sunday, beating the Houston Rockets 104-97 in Game 5.
Elsewhere, the Celtics and 76ers opened the Eastern Conference semifinals convincingly. Boston pummeled Detroit 133-99 and Philadelphia routed Milwaukee 127-105.
In a Western Conference semifinal Saturday, the Los Angeles Lakers beat the Portland Trail Blazers 125-101 to lead 1-0. Game 2 is Tuesday night.

NFL Draft: Slim Pickings At Top

NEW YORK (UPI) — With the senior crop about to be harvested by the NFL, advance reports indicate slim pickings at the top but a bountiful supply of players.
The NFL holds its annual draft Tuesday with scouts, player personnel and general managers agreeing there is not a wealth of blue-chip talent available. However, there is a consensus that rounds three through eight will yield a generous supply of professionals.
"This year's draft falls in the category of a deep draft because we have about 7 1/2 rounds of guys rated to make it, but not a whole lot of top quality high in the first round," said Dick Steinberg, the New England Patriots' director of player development.
"It is a pretty good draft in the eyes of our people," said Al LaCasse, the Los Angeles Raiders' executive assistant.

Legends: Littler's Putt Caps Win

AUSTIN, Texas (UPI) — Not only do golf legends still know how to play the game, they still know how to provide good theater.
And plenty was provided Sunday during the final round of the Legends of Golf — the tournament which sparked what has become a lucrative second chance for many of the game's great players.
For a brief period Sunday there was a decent chance for a playoff involving four teams.
But Gene Littler ended that possibility by running in a 30-foot downhill birdie putt at the final hole.
Littler and his teammate Don January thus produced a one-stroke victory that brought them each $50,000 and their second win at the Legends. Littler won the best-ball tournament in 1981 with Bob Rosberg as his partner and January won in 1982 while teaming with Sam Snead.

PGA: Floyd's Feeling Is Right

THE WOODLANDS, Texas (UPI) — Ray Floyd had a good feeling going into the finals of the $500,000 Houston Open.
For once, he was right.
"I felt that way at the Masters and Greensboro (tournaments), and I was wrong both times," Floyd said. "The last three tournaments, I've gone to bed on Saturday night with the lead."
But in his three previous outings at the Masters, Greensboro and the Tournament Players Championship, he faded in the final round.
Floyd was right Sunday at the Houston Open, though, winning the $90,000 first prize by shooting a 69 to finish with an 11-under-par 277.
"I knew that I had the talent," Floyd said. "What was getting me was playing two or three good rounds and then having a mediocre round. To me, that's a mental problem."

LPGA: Miller's 66 Takes Classic

ST. PETERSBURG (UPI) — Alice Miller already has won more money this year than in any of her previous seven years on the LPGA tour — and the tour is less than a third of the way complete.
Miller fired a final-round 6-under-par 66 Sunday to come from behind and win the $175,000 S&H Classic going away with a 16-under 272, a distant six shots ahead of her nearest competitors.
The victory was worth $26,250 in official money, pushing her further ahead on the money list with winnings of $176,375. It also meant she won the first segment of the Mazda Series and that gives her a 1985 Mazda RX-7.

Softball

District champion DeLand and the team it beat in the semifinals, Lake Mary, placed three players each on the Five Star All-Conference softball team. The team was selected Friday after the 4A-9 District title game in which DeLand rolled past Mainland, 11-2, at Lake Mary High School.
The team was selected on a different format this season. Instead of selecting one player at each position, there was one pitcher, six infielders and four outfielders chosen. Also, there were no Honorable Mention selections.
For Lake Mary, junior pitcher Beth Watkins was an All-Conference First Team selection along with senior shortstop Kim Averill and junior outfielder Karen DeShetler.
DeLand's first team selections included infielders Robyn Swartz and Shawn Lane and outfielder Phyllis Sanders. Swartz recently signed a softball scholarship with Stetson University.
Lake Howell placed two of its senior leaders on the first team, second baseman Sandy Gillies and outfielder Eileen Thiebauth. Lyman first baseman Kristie Kaiser and Lake Brantley outfielder Laura Davis, both juniors, completed Seminole County's first team selections.

George's Ax Brings Martin Back

United Press International

Right about now, George Steinbrenner is probably searching through an old storage closet at Yankee Stadium for those "Billy's Back" posters.
No, this is not an old newspaper story from August, 1975; or June, 1979; or January, 1983. Billy Martin, previously hired and fired three times by the stormy New York owner, is back again to whip some life into the sagging Yankees.
Martin, who has made a career and numerous commercials milking tussels with everyone from Reggie Jackson to marshmallow salesmen, replaced Yogi Berra after New York's 4-3 loss Sunday — its third straight defeat to the Chicago White Sox at Comiskey Park.
The Yankees' record is 6-10 and they are last in the AL East, 4 1/2 games behind first-place Detroit. Stint No. 4 begins tonight in Arlington, Texas, against the Rangers.
Yes, Billy's back and now only one thing is certain.
"You can bet Billy will be fired again," said California Angels left-hander Tommy John, a former Yankee. "But, you can also make good odds that he will be hired again. George loves Billy. Whenever the ballclub is in trouble, he calls Billy to bail them out."
Berra, a Hall of Fame catcher and one of the most popular Yankees ever, saw his club blow two weekend games to Chicago. On Saturday, they let a two-run ninth-inning lead slip away and lost in extra innings. On Sunday, reliever Joe Cowley walked in the winning run with two out and the bases loaded.

"This weekend, I don't think it had anything to do with it," said Berra, who replaced Martin last Dec. 16. "We lost a couple one-run games. If we had gotten blown out, that probably wouldn't have changed his (Steinbrenner's) mind."
"We have a good ballclub. It's not jelling right now."
Orioles 8, Indians 7
At Baltimore, Eddie Murray's two-run double triggered a three-run eighth that downed Cleveland. Reliever Don Aase, 2-0, earned the victory by allowing only one hit over the last three innings.
Angels 2, Mariners 1
At Seattle, Tommy John and three relievers scattered 10 hits to give California a four-game sweep. The loss was Seattle's eighth straight and 12th in its last 13 games. The Mariners, who stranded 14 runners, have scored five runs in the last five games.

Royals 5, Red Sox 2
At Boston, Frank White cracked two solo home runs to lead Kansas City. Charlie Leibrandt, 3-0, scattered 11 hits over 7 1/3 innings for the victory. Dennis "Oil Can" Boyd, 2-1, pitched 8 1/3 innings and took the loss.
Twins 10, A's 1
At Minneapolis, Mickey Hatcher went 4-for-5 and tied an AL record for consecutive hits and Mike Smithson hurled a seven-hitter to pace the rout over Oakland. Hatcher, who went 5-for-5 Saturday, tied the record for most consecutive hits over two nine-inning games. Don Baylor accomplished the feat with Baltimore in 1973.
Tigers 6, Brewers 0
At Milwaukee, Walt Terrell pitched a four-hitter and Alan Trammell and Lance Parrish belted eighth-inning homers to power Detroit. Terrell, 2-0, posted his first shutout and first complete game for Detroit. Rookie Ted Higuera, 0-1, took the loss.
Blue Jays 6, Rangers 1
At Arlington, Texas, Willie Upshaw hit two homers and Huck Martinez and George Bell added solo shots to pace the Blue Jays. Doyle Alexander, 3-0, recorded the victory despite permitting home runs to Cliff Johnson in the sixth and Gary Ward in the seventh.

Sour Taste

Gwynn's Sweet Swing Turns Off Valenzuela

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — One sweet swing by San Diego Padre Tony Gwynn changed the taste in Fernando Valenzuela's mouth.
Valenzuela, who allowed just two hits, fanned Padre reliever Craig Lefferts to end the eighth inning with his 10th and final strikeout of the game. That allowed the Los Angeles Dodger pitcher to surpass the record of 40 2/3 innings without permitting an earned run at the start of the season, set by Hooks Wiltze of the 1912 New York Giants.
"It left a bittersweet taste in my mouth," Valenzuela admitted. "I'm glad to have the record, but if we don't win, it's meaningless."
The Dodgers didn't. Gwynn's game-winning and streak-ending homer in the ninth lifted the Padres over the Dodgers 1-0.

N.L. Baseball

Phillies 3, Cubs 2
At Philadelphia, Kevin Gross tossed six shutout innings and the Phillies took advantage of two errors to defeat Chicago. Gross was pressed into service when scheduled starter Steve Carlton was sidelined by a sore shoulder. Larry Andersen earned his second save. Rick Satalife dropped to 3-2.
Mets 5, Pittsburgh 4
At New York, Mookie Wilson scored from third base on an error by first baseman Jason Thompson with no out in the 18th to beat the Pirates. Gary Carter led off the inning by walking on four pitches off loser Lee Tunnel, 0-2. Wilson ran for Carter and advanced to third on Darryl Strawberry's single. Clint Hurdle lashed a shot to score Wilson and make a winner of Tom Gorman, 2-1.

Giants 2, Reds 1
At San Francisco, David Green, hitting just .061, ripped an RBI single off Tom Hume, 0-2, in the 11th inning to win it for the Giants. Reds player-manager Pete Rose pinch hit in the ninth inning and grounded out. He still needs 82 hits to break Ty Cobb's career-hit record. Winner Greg Minton, 1-1, hurled one inning in relief.
Expos 5, Cardinals 3
At Montreal, Tim Lincecum's second-inning sacrifice fly carried the Expos past the Cardinals for their sixth straight victory. Steve Rogers, 2-2, was the winner of the rain-delayed game. Raines had a pair of singles and stole his Fernando Valenzuela's pitching woes continued Sunday as he gave up just two hits but lost, 1-0.

Trinity Trio Relies On Quality In March To Another 1A Title

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

WINTER PARK — Trinity Prep's Lady Saints may not have much depth, but they more than make up for it in quality.

The outstanding trio of junior Adrienne Polittowicz, sophomore Katie Sams and freshman Stacy Johnson, along with some last-event magic, enabled the Lady Saints to edge out Orlando Luther and win the 1A-4 District title Saturday at Showalter Field.

Trinity Prep, which trimmed Luther, 58-57, goes after its second straight 1A State Championship this Friday at Showalter Field.

Polittowicz, who easily won the mile and two mile at the district meet, is going after the two mile title she won last year and is anxious to get another shot at Tampa Berkeley Prep's Laura Isbell in the mile.

"I always look forward to competition," Polittowicz said. "I think it will be a good race. I'm not going to lay down and just let her win."

Polittowicz, who also won the 1A individual title in cross country this season, won the mile Saturday with a time of 5:26.5 and Sams was second at 5:34.7. There was no competition at all for the junior standout in the two mile as she cruised to first with a time of 11:52.4 while the second place finisher, Mount Dora Bible's Michelle Scruggs, came in at 12:54.4.

The lack of competition this season along with missing a week because of illness has kept Polittowicz' times higher than she would like them to be at this point.

As far as the competition goes, Polittowicz was pushed a lot last year when Trinity Prep competed against 4A teams but the Lady Saints haven't been in many 4A meets this season and not as many overall as last year.

Like in the mile, the top competition for Polittowicz will come from Isbell. The Berkeley Prep standout has run an 11:01 this season while Polittowicz' best in 11:14. Polittowicz has proven she can come close to the 11 minute mark as she ran an 11:03 last year in the Seminole County Postal Run.

"We didn't win districts last year and won state," she said. "I think if Katie (Sams) and I can place 1-2 or 1-3 in the mile and me win the two mile that will be the difference. Lakeland Christian is usually our toughest competition."

Sams will try to repeat as state champion in the 880 run and she anchors the mile relay team which also won state last year.

Sams won the 880 Saturday with a time of 2:28 while teammate Becky Baskin was second at 2:35.6.

The Lady Saints won the district title by winning the mile relay with Luther placing second. Joining Sams on the mile relay team were Johnson, Ava Archibald and Laura Barrett. The Lady Saints finished with a time of 4:16.5 compared to 4:18.4 for Luther.

As only an eighth grader last year, Johnson was one of the top 1A sprinters in the state. This year she has turned in some times that rank among the leaders in the area in any classification.

Johnson came through with another fine performance Saturday in winning the 440 with a time of 60.6 and the 220 at 26.9.

Adrienne Polittowicz hits the finish line with another win.

'Gades Try To Slow Up New Jersey

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (UPI) — The New Jersey Generals will attempt to extend their winning streak to four games Monday night against the Orlando Renegades at Giants Stadium.

The Generals, who entered the weekend tied with Tampa Bay for second place in the Eastern Division with a 6-3 record, defeated the Renegades in the second week of the season, 28-10, in Orlando Stadium March 1. Orlando, 2-7, is last in the seven-team division.

In the first meeting, rookie quarterback Doug Flutie enjoyed his first big day as a pro, throwing for a Generals-record four touchdown passes, three to Clarence Collins. Herschel Walker ran for the first of his six 100-plus yard games this season, gaining 110.

Walker has made life easy for Coach Walt Michaels, grinding out more than 100 yards in each of New Jersey's last three victories for a total of 506 yards, including a league record 233 against Houston. His 164 yards last week against the Memphis Showboats in a 21-18 victory raised his season total to 1,006.

"Somebody's taking a beating out there," Michaels said. "And it's not Herschel."

Orlando took a beating last week, 31-10, against the Jacksonville Bulls. The Renegades had won two straight entering that game. Orlando has allowed the most points against in the division, 242.

Walker continues at this pace, he will better his league record of 1,812 yards set in 1983. The 1982 Heisman Trophy winner is the USFL's all-time rushing leader with 4,156 yards. He has carried 184 times this season for a 5.5-yard average.

Walker has gained nearly 300 yards more than the league's second-leading rusher, Denver's Bill Johnson.

With Walker leading New Jersey's ball-control offense, Flutie has not been required to improvise much and has settled into an efficient groove. Against Memphis last week, the 1984 Heisman winner was 7-of-12 for 107 yards and one touchdown, his 10th of the season. He was neither sacked nor intercepted against the Showboats and ran for one TD, his fifth.

Last week against Jacksonville, Renegades quarterback Reggie Collier completed 20-of-41 passes for 194 yards, hooking up with receiver Jeff Smith eight times for 97 yards.

fellows, when we see guys who can really run but don't want to take the time to come out, well, we take time to talk to them. We tell them to give it a try."

Campbell, for instance, is the ideal ambassador. Beginning as a freshman, he has improved each year and recently has signed a scholarship with Auburn University.

Franklin is another. Living with his grandparents in Palatka, he followed Brauman to Seminole last year, where he has continued his rise.

There looks to be no end in sight for the program, which labored in obscurity before jumping into the ranks of the state's elite. Brauman loses only six seniors this season. "We have a lot of good people returning next year," Brauman understates. "I think the key to any program is getting the freshmen out every year. As long as we keep getting good freshmen out, we'll keep having some success."

In the meantime, the battle lines have been drawn, and the Seminoles are ready to show everyone just how far they've come.

...Ferrell

always looked menacing at the plate but he hadn't measured up statistically until this year. Five homers, 23 runs batted in and a .329 average took care of the books.

DeLand pitcher David Barnard, apparently had a good memory. Cox batted four times Tuesday. He walked on 13 pitches the first three times up. That's respect. The fourth time, chomping at the bit, the big fella whiffed with a Ruthian swing.

Cox's first walk gave Seminole a 1-0 lead. DeLand bounced back with three in the second and when the Bulldogs offset a Seminole rally in the third with two more of their own. The crowd was looking for the 'Noles to fade.

They didn't. Roy Jensen, who had four hits, started a four-run fourth which Derr and Sheffield prolonged with RBI singles. James Hersey concluded it with a two-run single to push the underdogs on top, 6-5.

The crowd was stunned but the Bulldogs weren't. DeLand used a double-play ground ball and an RBI single by Dan Finley to retake the lead, 7-6, in the bottom of the fourth.

The Tribe made a run in the sixth but Joey Mohr came out of the bullpen to shut down a first and second, one-out situation. An unusual error by Chuck Graham loaded the bases but Mohr toughened up to fan Cox on a 3-1 fastball and get Hersey to ground into a force play.

Surely, DeLand insisted, these boys will head south now. Not just yet. After Sheffield, who had a brilliant game with three hits and a gutsy relief job, breezed through the sixth, Seminole came up for the final time.

Jeff Blake went down on strikes and Mohr breathed easier. Jensen, though, reached on a hit. What happened next blew everybody's mind but it shouldn't have if they were familiar with the exploits of one Tracy Turner.

Turner, who finished fifth in the state wrestling tournament this year as a freshman, is one of those few gifted performers who has the capacity to rise to the occasion when it is most needed.

He had a good regular mat season but not a great one. But when the tournament time came around, so did Tracy.

It was his time again Tuesday. Facing Mohr, who displayed a superb curveball, Turner breathed life into the Seminoles when he rifled a double over the left fielder's head. Dexter Franklin, pinch running for Jensen, barreled into third just ahead of the throw with a head-first dive.

DeLand was unsettled. Jovner, who counts on his infield like the Celtics depend on Larry Bird, ordered Larry Thomas walked to set up a force play at each base.

Mike Ferrell gambled and lost last week in the district tournament but it provided one of the most exciting moments of the year.

That brought up Derr. The splendid sophomore had walked, struck out and singled in a run in succession. Mohr quickly got ahead on the count, 1-2, with two sharp-breaking curveballs. Derr looked bad on both of them. Then Mohr missed with two pitches to bring the count to 3-2.

An Mohr started his windup. Franklin headed for home plate. The crowd held its breath as everyone realized what Ferrell had in mind. A suicide squeeze on a 3-2 pitch with one out.

Unreal. The intensity level running through Derr must have been incredible. To have the game in your hands like that has to be quite a feeling. Ferrell, needless to say, had great faith in his young third baseman.

But faith wasn't enough. Derr squared up. The pitch was a strike, just above the belt. He tried to push it to the right side but he got a tad underneath it and popped it up in foul territory. Kevin Weickel cruised under it, made the catch and tossed the ball to third baseman Hlevins. The DeLand senior couldn't conceal his glee and he slapped a tag on the base for the final out and the end of Seminole's season. Franklin had no chance to retrace his steps.

Speculation at once centered on the decision by Ferrell. The first-year coach has done wonders while rebuilding the Tribe around just a handful of seniors. It didn't seem fair that his gamble should go against him. Especially when the 'Noles were on the verge of such an incredible upset.

People will tell you 10 things that were wrong with Ferrell's gamble. Nine of them will probably be right. But those people are all telling you after the fact. Ferrell made his move when the game was on the line.

When a gamble backfires, of course, it is always the wrong decision. But I'll always remember the play as the second most exciting moment of the tournament. A time when a young coach put the game on the line with his best young player. A gamble that didn't work and might have been the wrong call, but a gutsy one nonetheless, one that well could have worked and that will always send a chill down the fan who had the opportunity to watch it unfold.

Community To Celebrate Festival On The Green

Altamonte Springs' First Annual "Festival On The Green" is part of the year long centennial celebration of the old Altamonte Community Chapel. The little Chapel, completed in 1885, was originally located near Lake Brantley and called Lake Brantley Union Chapel. After "The Big Freeze" 10 years later, the area was deserted and the chapel fell into disuse. Over a decade later, in 1908, the chapel was moved to the thriving area of Altamonte Springs and its present location.

The "Festival On The Green", an arts and crafts exhibition, is free to the public and is to be held on the chapel's grounds on Saturday, May 4th from 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. The Altamonte Community Chapel, as it was renamed after its relocation, is on the corner of S.R. 436 and Forest Avenue.

In conjunction with the Festival On The Green, members of the chapel will hold an "Antique Doll Show & Tea". Antique Victorian dolls and 19th century memorabilia will be exhibited, and tea, finger foods and sweets served. The doll show and tea will take place from 1 to 5 at the chapel. A $2.50 donation is requested for attendance at this event.

The Central Florida Chapter of the American Red Cross has scheduled its first water safety program of the season.

The course, taught by Lynne Stevens, will be held at Lyman High School in Longwood on May 6 through 30 on Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6 to 9 p.m. Call 831-3000 for more information.

Another Lake Brantley High School student has been honored by being chosen to receive a college scholarship. Oglethorpe University, a liberal arts college near Atlanta, has presented Colleen Kelley, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. John A. Kelley of Longwood, a Scholarship Award for the 1985-86 academic year.

Panelists in the "Senior Smarts Brain Bowl" held recently at the Casselberry Senior Center showed off their knowledge of trivia and current events at the competition whereby six teams of four members each competed.

The winning team, comprised of Dorothy Kelley, Janet Van Gelder, Lillian Forster and Clay Jackson, will represent Seminole County in the "Senior Smarts" district 7 finals at the Marks Street Senior Center in Orlando on May 11th. Senior finalists from Orange, Brevard and Osceola counties will also compete.

Classes in greenhouse and nursery practices and horticulture are being offered during the spring and summer sessions at Seminole Community College. The first class is to be May 6th to June 24th.

Sam Brashear at the S.C.C. Greenhouse can be contacted for further information at 423-1540 extension #355.

Lake Brantley High School's Book Drive to collect both fiction and non-fiction volumes is continuing through May 4.

Book drops are located at the school and the Trague Middle School, Forest City Elementary, Bear Lake Elementary, and Sabal Point Elementary Schools. Additional drops will be at these businesses: Public, Winn-Dixie, Goodling's, The Market, the Hunt Club Shoppes. So clean out those cluttered shelves and closets and contribute!

Brian Cook, who attends Lake Mary High School, has been named a 1985 U.S. Achievement Award winner in physical education by the United States Achievement Academy. Brian will be featured in the nationally published U.S.A.A.'s official yearbook.

The Sunshine Connection, a support group, will host an open house for the public in the South Seminole Community Hospital Auditorium from 7:30 to 9:00 p.m.

Phillip Blackburn, author of the book, "Every Every Day" will be present to autograph copies of this book.

The Lake Brantley High School P.F.S.A.'s planned program, "Teenage Suicide Prevention", is to be held at the school's Media Center at 7:00 p.m. Tuesday, April 30th.

The program will feature speakers and a question and answer segment. These speakers are Dr. Lewis Green, Joyce Fullis, Barbara Bernham, and a representative from "We Care, Inc."

This week, April 29th through May 3rd, has been set as "Law Week" in Seminole County and will be celebrated throughout the Nation. This year's theme is "Liberty and Justice for All".

"Law Week" is sponsored by the Seminole County Bar Association. A series of free public service and information activities include an "Ask an Attorney" booth from 10 a.m. - 9 p.m. May 1 at Altamonte Mall and local Bar Association members answering questions during call-in radio shows from 6 - 8 p.m. today, Tuesday and Thursday on WDBO AM. Other planned activities include Drivers Education alcohol awareness programs at county high schools where high school students will also participate in an essay contest. Elementary and Middle schools will have poster contests relating to the "Law Week" theme.

Artist Gives Unwanted People 'The Brush'

DEAR ABBY: I got a good laugh from the letter about the family who had their ex-son-in-law airbrushed out of a family portrait. I found it particularly funny because I am a photo retouch artist who has given many people "the brush". I remove not only wrinkles and zits, but entire people. I once turned a handsomely tuxedoed groom into some grass and shrubbery — leaving his bride visible. On another occasion I removed two ex-husbands from a family wedding portrait. The parents of these divorced daughters became annoyed every time they looked at the picture, so they hired me to remove the offending parties.

My talent for making people "disappear" in photographs comes in handy when I want to keep my husband in line. I just tell him if he doesn't behave, I will turn him into a tree!

KIM COUSINEAU, BUFFALO

DEAR KIM: I'm reminded of some unsolicited advice I heard many years ago from a political figure who never missed an opportunity to get his picture in the newspaper. "Honey," he said, "when you're posing with three or more people, never stand on the end, they might cut you off."

DEAR ABBY: I was appalled that you advised your readers not to send wedding invitations, etc., to patients who were terminally ill and/or senile. Some do have lucid moments and would be delighted to know that they have not been forgot-

WORKS IN A NURSING HOME

DEAR WORKS: I apologize to those who have lucid moments and could appreciate being remembered. I had in mind comatose patients who can neither respond to an RSVP nor send a card or gift. This responsibility would then fall on family members or caretakers whose time and money are probably in short supply.

Defense Contractors Billing Uncle Sam For Haircuts, Golf...

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Billings to the government for haircuts, sports tickets, golf outings, and model airplanes are hurting the nation's defense industry, says Rep. Bill Nichols, D-Ala., a major defense advocate.

"It's imperative we keep them (defense contractors) viable, but they're going to have to put their house in order," said Nichols, who chairs the House Armed Services subcommittee on investigations.

"It's not my nature to nail their hide up to the barn door but my people in Alabama are just fed up with this thing."

Nichols is co-chairing a special study on defense contractor billings. An interim copy of the study was revealed today and Nichols spoke about the findings in an interview last week.

Contractors billed the government for $10.713 million at a barbershop for executives, $12,333 for two season tickets to all sports events at the Los Angeles Forum, $1 million for losses at an employee cafeteria and $261,000 for an executive dining room where executives paid nothing to eat.

The 14 auditors for the panel also found $529 for "entertainment expenses for representatives of the government of Sweden," $959 for a golf outing, $160,000 for taxes paid in a foreign country and related to a firm's commercial business and $62,000 for public relations work after a company plane crashed.

There was $162,149 in airplane models and other giveaways, $1,328 for lodging, meals and travel for a senior executive's trip to Washington in 1979 and $950,698 for expenses related to the Paris Air Show.

"The revelations that have surfaced are extremely negative for those who support a strong military," Nichols said. "It's the most negative thing we face on the floor when we bring a defense bill."

Nichols also said he "wouldn't walk away from a suggestion of that sort" when asked his reaction to plans by Pentagon Inspector General Joseph Sherick to recommend David Lewis, chairman of the General Dynamics Corp., and Gordon MacDonald, its financial officer, be barred from further business with the Defense Department.

Nichols said the study is showing $1 out of every $33 in so-called overhead expenses are questionable. Of $3.6 billion in billings, $109.7 million was questioned, the study said.

Small Amount Of Sun Activates Vitamin D

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT - I've read that exposure to the sun is bad for the skin and can cause cancer or aging lines. Recently, I read that women especially need more calcium after a certain age to prevent osteoporosis. Getting vitamin D from the sun is recommended to help us use the calcium we take in. I'm confused.

DEAR READER - In general, commercially available milk is fortified with vitamin D. So are calcium-containing pills for dietary supplement.

The sun does effectively activate vitamin D in the body, but the amount of sunshine necessary for this reaction is quite small. If, during an ordinary week, you are exposed to some sun on your hands and face, this will be sufficient even if you are not a milk-drinker. You do not have to be a sun-worshiper to prevent vitamin-D deficiency.

If you have reached menopause, however, you will need more calcium in your diet. The current recommendation is 1,500-2,000 milligrams a day. Should you decide to increase your calcium intake, take some vitamin D as well. In the form of fortified low-fat milk or calcium pills with vitamin D.

Since sunshine can be harmful to skin, use it recreationally, not therapeutically.

DEAR DR. GOTT - Would stress in pregnancy affect the unborn child?

DEAR READER - Certain chemical stresses during pregnancy can profoundly affect the unborn child. These include alcohol, cigarette smoking, many medicines, narcotics, hydrocarbons and poor nutrition.

If, by your question, you mean psychological stress, the picture is not so clear. Life-threatening stresses, such as bereavement and war, appear to produce consequences in some pregnancies. By and large, however, fetuses are pretty hardy, and mothers seem to be affected more deeply than do their babies. I would advise any expectant mother to avoid stress to the extent she can. Getting help in coping with stress is preferable to passively putting up with it, and may reduce many of its results for both woman and baby and may ameliorate many of its results.

DEAR DR. GOTT - I am a 22-year-old woman and occasionally, when awakening from a good night's sleep, I feel slightly nauseated and dizzy. What could be the cause? I am in perfect health otherwise.

DEAR READER - Lightheadedness and queasiness often occur in healthy people who are blessed with low blood pressure. Assuming a doctor has given you a clean bill of health, you are probably experiencing a transitory fall in blood pressure when you first arise in the morning. This normal condition does not require treatment.

Send your questions to Dr. Gott at P.O. Box 91428, Cleveland, Ohio 44101.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby

If you've been around the game awhile, you know that bridge deals have a healthy share of the bizarre and improbable. Witness today's deal from a pairs tournament.

Those North-South pairs who bid a small slam in either minor suit or in no-trump were successful, usually scoring an overtrick. In diamonds, declarer would simply draw trumps and take a club finesse, first playing the club ace to guard against a singleton queen in the West hand.

However, if clubs were the trump declaration, declarer had to be careful to take a first-round club finesse to guard against the actual holding - four clubs to the Q-8 with East. In no-trump, even with a spade lead, declarer would win the spade ace, cash ace of clubs and A-K of hearts, and then run all the diamonds. At the end, East would be squeezed out of either the heart Q-J or the clubs.

The actual contract reached in the bidding box seems as if it should make. Certainly it would against the normal lead of the spade king. But the hand was played late in the session and West was a little weary. In reaching for his spade honor, he pulled out the six of diamonds by mistake. The diamond was won in dummy and the first-round club finesse taken. But on the second club lead, East played the queen. Declarer returned to dummy with a third club, but now had no way to get to his hand without East taking the setting trick.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY APRIL 30, 1985

This coming year you will experience a rise in status and popularity in your social circle. Your peer group will begin to orbit around you.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) This is one of those days when business and pleasure are not apt to mix well. Decide upon one or the other but don't try to do both at the same time.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) New information may be revealed today pertaining to an important decision you'll have to make. Treat your new knowledge respectfully.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Something you've been hoping for has a good chance of coming into being at this time. Don't let self-doubts dissuade you from taking positive action.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) A personal ambition can be furthered today, provided this is your primary objective. To be successful, total dedication is required.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Restrictions that have hemmed you in for the past few days will now be alleviated. Independent and effective action can be taken.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Today you might be quietly rewarded for a confidential favor you did for another. Friends will be unaware of either situation.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) A person you like but doubt the depth of his friendship will prove his loyalty today through gestures that he will make on your behalf.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) You will have a real sense of accomplishment today if you complete a difficult task you've been postponing. Onlookers will also recognize your achievement.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A positive, optimistic attitude will have a desirable effect upon people you associate with today. It will inspire them to behave likewise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) This is a good day to shop for needed but hard-to-get household items. The bargains you're looking for may be found in some out-of-the-way place.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Make it a point to deal fairly with others today, even if someone doesn't treat you similarly. You'll look good while he won't.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Conditions affecting your financial position hold promise today, provided you strike while the iron is hot. Advantages dissolve with delays.
