The Jury of Award which has examined thousands of plans that have been submitted as possible solutions to a world-wide peace, is composed of Elihu Root, chairman, James Guthrie Hubbard, Edward M. House, Ellen Fitz, Pennington, Raccoe Pound, William Allen White, and Brand Whitlock.

BAHSON DECLARE CO-OPERATION IS VERY ESSENTIAL

Noted Statistician in Jan Speech Points Out Things that Would Make Florida Great State.

Co-operation and state unity were strongly stressed as an essential in the future development of Florida by Roger W. Babson, the eminent statistician, in a noon luncheon address here Tuesday before the combined membership of the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club.
Mr. Babson has made extensive investments in Florida during the past three years and is an enthusiastic booster for the state. At the same time, his analytical turn of mind enables him to accurately estimate deficiencies in existing plans for the upbuilding of Florida and to suggest constructive improvements.

Discussing at some length the notable advantages of the state for special agricultural crops, and referring particularly to citrus fruits and winter vegetables, Mr. Babson mentioned the present marketing conditions in no uncertain terms, earnestly advocating greater support of the Florida citrus export, not only on the part of growers but bankers, business men and all commercial interests.
The speaker made a convincing demonstration of the degree to which increased output, while reducing cost of production, inevitably requires greater expenditures for advertising and selling.

A moving appeal to all Florida communities and to every Florida citizen was made by Mr. Babson to the end that petty jealousies and local interests be submerged in a general movement to exploit Florida. He pointed out fundamental advantages which, if capitalized, will make Florida the greatest agricultural state in the union.
Mr. Babson's favorable conditions for successful manufacturing and in relation to transportation. The cultivation of tourist travel was commended, as affording both immediate revenue and opportunity to interest men of large means in Florida.

"When you sell a product that is mined, there is inevitably a reduction of the world's supply," Mr. Babson stated. "The same thing is true of the sale of natural resources, like lumber and turpentine. In a somewhat lesser degree, due to the opportunity which farmers have for quickly restoring fertility, every farm or fruit crop also exhausts the wealth of the soil. In offering fresh air, sunshine and other climatic elements, for the happiness and health of the people who come to Florida by one other talk will be made by Mr. Babson while in Florida this winter. It has been announced, this to be at Tampa. After spending a couple of days in Palatka where he is to visit a brother of Secretary of Treasury Mellon, Mr. Babson will proceed to Babson Park in Polk County where he will spend a couple of months for recreation and to look after an extensive citrus operation that he is developing along new and scientific lines. The distinguished Massachusetts economist announced that his association with Florida interests will be an increasing one as that he regards cooperation with the proceeding development of the state as affording him an unusual opportunity for service of a constructive character.

The address was the second that Mr. Babson has delivered in Jacksonville, an evening speech about a year ago having first introduced him to the people of this city. After the festival, the legion will finish up the week with their convention.

Dances, boat rides, fishing trips—in fact everything that goes toward rounding out a pleasant time—will be ready for the visitors, those in charge of the arrangements promise.

SLAVES ARE SOLD FOR IMMOLATION IN BURMA BILLS

RANGOON, Jan. 8.—Human slavery and the practice of sacrificing slaves at religious festivals still exists in the Naga Hills, according to a report recently issued by H. A. Thornton, a government commissioner. This district, which is nominally under British rule, lies in northern Burma near the Assam border. The government has received authentic information of the sacrifice of six Naga slaves at different places during the past two months. These victims were bought from head-hunting villages whose inhabitants, though they do not themselves practice human sacrifice, do not hesitate to sell victims to those who desire them.

Slavery in the Naga Hills has been increasing during recent years, largely on account of the difficulty and danger involved in capturing recruits to replace those who die or who redeem themselves. The number found by census takers this year is 215, as opposed to 271 last year. Some have purchased freedom, and others have been liberated by their masters. A few have taken the yellow robe and become Buddhist monks. Those remaining in slavery are said to be either contented with their lot or too lazy and opium-addicted to work out their redemption.

Until recent years most of the slaves in this district were Indians who had been kidnapped in Assam, but on account of the increasing hazards of this practice, the Nagas have lately confined their raids to mountain tribes nearer at hand. No Indians are known to have been sacrificed since 1921, when two authentic cases were recorded. In capturing new slaves, it is customary for the Nagas to search for victims about whom no inquiry is likely to be made.

"If he starts a forest fire ought to be arrested for arson," said the welfare worker. "Not quite right—he ought to be shot at sunrise."

Canadian Products Show Big Increase (By The Associated Press)
 OTTAWA, Ont., Jan. 11.—The farm and fishery products of Canada, during 1923, showed material increases over the 1922 figures. The value of the Dominion's mineral, forest, agricultural and fishing industries is placed at $2,420,000,000 in unofficial government estimates for 1923. This represents an increase of $252,000,000 over the values of the previous year.
 Canada is now the greatest single contributor to the world's wheat supply, with more surplus wheat for export than any other nation. Statistics compiled by the International Institute of Agriculture in Rome and transmitted to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, British Columbia's salmon this year will total 1,250,000 according to preliminary reports of the provincial Department of Fisheries. This is an increase of 400,000 cases over the pack, and is the largest since 1910.

SELL YOUR VEGETABLES ON THE EARLY MARKET

Canco Smudge Pots Make It Safe To Plant Two Weeks Earlier

Two weeks during which you delay planting because of probable frost, or take a long chance in planting, are the most important of the winter trucking season. They make the difference between early selling and late selling; big profit and average or no profit.

Advantages of early planting can be yours without danger of loss through frost.

Canco Smudge Pots in your field, 100 to an acre, will raise the temperature, keeping frost out and crops safe. These heaters are simple in construction, easily stored, durable and long burning. They take the gamble out of trucking by preventing loss through frost or heavy rains which come in the late season.

Refer to your past experience. What would you have made if you could have saved your crop those years when vegetables were hard to get at any price? Add to that the better prices, year after year, that you could have realized had you sold your fruit on the early market.

In these figures is absolute proof of the extra profits that Canco Smudge Pots can make for you.

This coupon will bring complete information concerning Canco Smudge Pots. It places you under no obligation. Fill it in and mail it.

CAN YOU BAKE CAKE

By HELEN HARRINGTON DOWNING

During a recent visit to a food sale, it seemed that everyone was baking cakes. There were all kinds—large cakes and small cakes—loaf cakes and layer cakes, delicious and fine in texture. In fact, many of them were perfect, yet there were several that had either a hard or a soft crust, or one side that was better than the other. This latter fact brought forth queries from two or three of the ladies as to the reason. One of the women in charge of the cake booth endeavored to explain. I was interested in hearing her give these reasons.

"It might be the uneven temperature of the oven in which the cakes were baked—the manner in which the batter was put in the pans, or again, poor quality and non-uniformity of the materials used, and, you know, in this baking powder plays an important part."

Baking powder should be thoroughly sifted together with the flour two or three times, at least, before it is combined with the other ingredients. The oven should not be too hot, rather should the temperature be too low, in fact, a moderate or medium oven is satisfactory and best, with a medium acting baking powder, that is, one that requires a modern oven. Then, if the matter is spread evenly in the cake tins, the cake will be of uniform thickness throughout when it is baked.

Oven temperature is an important consideration. It should always be even and at the proper degree for each kind of food to be baked. A standard oven thermometer is inexpensive—a reliable one does not cost over 50 or 60 cents and should be found in every kitchen together with a baking chart giving the correct temperatures required for various foods.

These kitchen aids will save the young, as well as the experienced housewife, many a failure and much waste of good material. If, instead of guessing at the temperature of the oven in which she bakes her cakes, cookies, biscuits, etc., she actually follows an accurate time and temperature chart. One cannot always guess the correct oven temperature when baking by simply holding the hand in the oven.

TYPHOID DEATH RATE IN STATE FOR 1922 LOW

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Jan. 11.—Florida had the lowest death rate from typhoid and paratyphoid fever during 1922 of any of the states south of the Potomac and Ohio rivers and east of the Mississippi, with two exceptions. Statistics covering the entire country have just been made public by the United States department of commerce. They show that Florida's rate per 100,000 of population totaled 16.9. This was divided 12.1 among whites and 23.8 among negroes.

Georgia's death rate from these diseases was higher than any state in the described territory, the Empire commonwealth losing 69.7, or 23.5 per 100,000 population. Among the white people there were 316 deaths and 381 negroes, 18.0 and 31.4 per 100,000, respectively.

North Carolina and Virginia had the best records, with totals of 11.2 and 11.4 per 100,000, respectively.

A tabulation of the eight states mentioned follows:

State	No. of Deaths	Rate per 100,000
Florida	163	16.9
Georgia	697	23.5
Kentucky	466	19.0
Louisiana	329	17.9
Mississippi	340	19.0
North Carolina	298	11.2
South Carolina	391	22.4
Tennessee	433	20.3
Virginia	270	11.4

The total number of deaths in the U. S. from these causes was 6,981. Virtually all states showed decreases as compared with previous years.

WALTON SHOWING BIG INTEREST IN SATSUMA ORANGE

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Jan. 11.—Increasing interest is shown in the satsuma orange industry in Walton County, according to the weekly report of J. W. Mathison, demonstration agent for that county. Fifteen hundred satsuma trees have been planted there by the farmers during the last week, Mr. Mathison says, and adds that they are expecting to set out four hundred acres to satsumas this season.

"Our farmers are out with tractors, deep-breaking the land, getting ready for large fruit plantings," he reports.

On the other hand, the truck growers in Dale County are enjoying prosperity, according to County Agent J. S. Rainey. Tomatoes of excellent quality are being shipped by the carload, he reports, and says potatoes have yielded well and are bringing high prices.

Mango trees in that county are reported in full bloom, the earliest ever reported.

Hillsborough packing houses have resumed operations, reports R. T. Kelley, agent there, who says strawberries and vegetables are moving to market steadily.

Hernando truckers have shipped another carload of vegetables, William Gomme, of Polk, reports, that citrus shipments are light, but he says prices are improving.

Cabbage in that county is looking remarkably well, while strawberries are on the local market at 50 cents a quart, Mr. Gomme says.

Planting of Irish potatoes has begun in earnest in Volusia, with many homeseekers in the county at this time, T. A. Brown reports.

Why Are Drugs Standardized?

They are standardized in order to bring about uniform therapeutic efficiency to the patient whenever required. This efficiency is most needed in the sick room—not merely in the laboratory.

What is true of drugs must be true of foods. Purity and efficiency in the can is only part of the problem—purity and efficiency in the kitchen is the true test.

The law requires that baking powder contain 12% leavening gas at the time of sale to the consumer. This measure insures uniform leavening efficiency and protects the health of the public.

In order to comply with this fixed standard for baking powder, manufacturers must produce and pack their product so as to avoid the deterioration which may result from absorption of atmospheric moisture.

Baking Powder manufacturers to avoid violation of the law, also spend thousands of dollars yearly in testing grocers' stocks and removing "spent" goods from his shelves, in spite of the fact that every possible precaution had previously been taken against deterioration.

With the exception of Texas, the pure food laws are not applied to baking powder mixed with flour at the mill and sold in bags as "Self Rising Flour." There is no penalty on the manufacturers if this fails to "self rise"—the consumer is the "goat"—he is the one that pays the penalty through indigestion and ill health that comes from eating bakings that are not properly raised. The standardization of baking powder is a protection to both the consumer and the manufacturer—who welcomes such laws and co-operates in every way possible. But!

Not so with the self rising flour manufacturer—he resents such laws and fights such legislation. Why? Because a standardization of self rising flour would require moisture-proof containers instead of cheap sacks—because low grade "clears" could no longer be sold as "fancy patent flour." It would also mean he must maintain expert chemical control such as is now maintained by baking powder manufacturers.

Calumet Baking Powder contains only such ingredients as have been officially approved by the U. S. Food Authorities.

Cooperation and Service

In discussing the marketing problem the Packing House News hits a long nail squarely on the head when it points out that the one big outstanding problem of fruit and vegetable producers today is that of systematic and intelligent handling and marketing of their produce.

Then there is the problem of service—and in every instance where the grower remembers the principle of service and applies it in his business it has proven to be one of his great assets.

In Seminole county growers who give the proper forethought and who work out new ideas for placing their products in the market in a more presentable way, are receiving greater returns and at the same time are building a greater reputation for the high standard of our products.

Getting back to systematic marketing, the Packing House News, says:

The biggest problem confronting shippers and producers for the next few years will be that of—systematic marketing! Let us consider for the moment an allegory.

Somewhere, leagues ahead, is the port of destination.
Between are mile on mile of heaving billows that ceaselessly slip astern.

Between are all the uncertainties of time and chance, fair weather with favorable winds and a foaming wake, or a shrieking gale and mountainous seas that snatch at scudding, low, black clouds.

The ship, a mere speck afloat in the ocean, plows steadily on toward her port. For the captain, by the aid of the sextant, chronometer and chart, lays his course straight to the harbor where a market welcomes his cargo.

The coasts of business are forever being strewn with wrecks of products that put to sea for Port Acceptance with only a compass and log to sail by.

In the first bit of thick weather they are blown off the course. Some, forced to run before a sudden hurricane, discover themselves on a dangerous lee shore. Some, hopelessly lost in fogs, drift out of the trade channels and onto hidden reefs. Some lie becalmed in the great, stagnant sea of Sargossa.

Captains of products that ply, year in and year out, between the ports of Supply and Demand, do not steer by dead reckoning. They employ all the knowledge and discoveries of scientific navigation. They study the charts of the seas of commerce for knowledge of harbors, of advantageous currents, of tides to be awaited, of shoals and ledges to be avoided.

Profiting by charted records, the fruit shippers and farmers of the future will lay their course over well-defined trade routes, direct to known and favorable markets.

A Lesson from "The Green Lantern"

Last week unknown parties wiped out 'The Green Lantern' road house near Tampa after the occupants had been given a severe thrashing, and as a result officers of Hillsboro county are offering large sums of money for the apprehension of the guilty parties.

Such lawlessness of course should not be tolerated but is it not a fact nevertheless that the greater evil lies in the failure of officers to enforce the laws of the land resulting in these roadhouses being made possible.

It has been stated on good authority that the people of Tampa have long labored in an effort to close just such places as "The Green Lantern." There has been no large sums of money offered as a "reward" however to officers who would do their duty in closing them out.

Now that parties have taken the law in their own hands and have given the promoters of this "roadhouse" a sound thrashing and applied a torch to the place, officers of the law are greatly incensed and propose to "get the guilty parties."

In commenting on the situation the Lakeland Star-Telegram asks:

What did the sheriff say when this road house was reported to him along with a dozen other hell holes and dives in Hillsborough county and Tampa? "Bring me the evidence and swear out a warrant!" The sheriff of that county can see that the law is enforced or not just as he likes or he can wink at it. His blow about getting the evidence and swearing out the warrant is just another means of passing the buck and the lawless, gambling element of that county are absolutely and to a man behind every low down road house and dive not only in that section but that low element is to be found defending road houses in every section and unless the officers see that the law is enforced there will be more road houses burned and more men horse whipped not only in Tampa but in every section of the state. Things that happen in these road houses cannot be printed in this paper.

Unless there is a brake put on the way the people are living these days and the parents curb their children through the use of the automobile which in many cases is the agency through which the road house hopes to keep in operation, there is no telling what will happen if some parents we know would find that their children were being harbored and taken into these hell holes at all hours of the night under most any condition, do you suppose that they would stop at the burning of the institution? Not on your life! You know what happens and people who are really led to believe that a law has been broken in the burning of these places and the whipping of those who operate them are just swallowing the argument of those who run them and the officers who are protecting them along with the sentiment of a certain class who knows why and for what purpose they are allowed to run.

Tampa has been shocked by the burning of "The Green Lantern" but nevertheless it has brought a lesson home to the people of that city. As long as duly constituted officers allow such places to operate there is a possibility of a repetition. The only way and the sure way to prevent such outrages is for the people to convince their officers that they are determined that such places shall not operate.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB

That gallant Virginian, Fitz-forward as fast as his mare feet high Lee, who first distinguished himself in the Confederacy and many years later added to his reputation as a soldier and civil administrator in Cuba, loved a good story. Which was natural, but what was more unusual, he particularly loved a story aimed at himself. Here was one which he delighted to tell—and he told it with a wealth of local color, too.
At the close of the war between the states he was chief of cavalry leader in the army of his illustrious kinsman, Robert E. Lee. Following the memorable thing that happened at Appomattox the young cavalry leader started on horseback across country for his home.
A few miles behind the recent battle lines he met a lanky North Carolina infantryman in ragged butternut jeans who was limping

YOU know the fable about "The Mountain in labor." Much groaning and travailing and when the critical moment came, out popped a little mouse. That was the mountain's baby about which it had been making all the fuss.

That story of the mountain must come back to Mr. Edward W. Bok as he contemplates the result of his $100,000 peace prize offer. It's a very small mouse that he got for his money.

THAT BOK prize peace plan will amuse you. Poor Mr. Bok must feel rather silly paying $50 000 for a suggestion that the people of the United States should do now what four years ago they refused to do with 7,000,000 votes to spare.

Go into the World Court now and join the League on a modified basis is the $50,000 suggestion.
It is as though serious people, discussing what they should have for dinner should see a well-meaning doggie drag in a cat long dead and offer that as a solution.

The League of Nations is a dead cat.

The United States doesn't intend to join the League of Nations, doesn't intend to pay Europe's bills, or be held responsible for them, and does not intend to enter any World Court that would cause the affairs of the United States to be submitted to foreign tribunals.

Mr. Bok can charge his $50,000 to experience.

"MARKET BUOYANT" on a big turnover was Wall street line yesterday. Somebody bought 1,319,- 000 shares of various bonds and nearly all of them traveled upward.

It would be hard to find cause for gloom as regards this country's prosperity. If our lawmakers would allow enough emigrants of the kind that this country needs to come in to develop used acres, conditions would be even better.

The worker who thinks that immigrants would reduce wages should remember that the average man makes to-day, with 110,- 000,000 people in the country from six to ten times as much as he made when there were only 4,000,- 000 people here.

GET NOW the overcoat that you have perhaps neglected getting thus far. Cold waves are starting in the North and traveling in various directions. You will not except the Winter's cold and there is no greater folly than to economize on the warmth that means health.

One severe cold might cost you a great deal more than several dozen overcoats.

THE BRITISH are building biggest dam in the world on the Indus River. It will be a mile long, nearly a thousand feet high. Sixty six gigantic steel gates will control the waters of the Indus, irrigating a territory nearly as great as all England.

One single canal will supply water to five hundred thousand acres of rice land, enough to feed millions of Hindus.

THIS KIND of building in India by the British is better than useless monuments that ancient Raj-ahs used to build for their own comfort or glory. It's better than Gandhi's suggestion of a boycott on the English, and going back to the handloom. That one single British enterprise will do more to wipe out starvation in India than ever was done by all the Rajahs that rule the country. Let that be remembered to the credit of our British cousins.

LENIN OF RUSSIA carrying bullets fired into him by at least two would be assassins, and often promoted dying or dead by newspapers, has been out twice recently hunting in the forest. He seems to have a constitution almost as tough as that of his Soviet Government.

ONE ASSASSIN tried to kill Femel Pasha, up-to-date ruler of Turkey, and succeeded only in injuring his wife.

Another assassin, of a sort hitherto unknown to Japan, threw a bomb against the royal palace.

It is hard for Western people to understand what that means to the Japanese. The Mikado is in temple of the "Son of Heaven" in captive of flying machines, tractors and machine guns.

IT IS QUITE likely that one or more Japanese of the ancient type will feel impelled by duty, to commit hari-kari, ripping open the stomach with a knife especially made for the job, to express horror at the blasphemous attack on the Mikado's only avary polito, well-meaning gentleman. He means something much more than that to eighty per cent of the Japanese.

Now Just What Is This Thing Stuffed With?

Pork Barrel—or Budget Economy

SENATOR ARTHUR CAPPER

On the first working day of the new Congress more than 3,000 legislative proposals were introduced.
Of these two-eighth-three were proposals for appropriation of a ereet new Federal buildings, every one in excess of budget estimates for needed repairs and renewals and new construction.

In addition, a bill appropriating one-hundred millions, killed at the last session, is again to be introduced at this session. This hundred-million bill, also is for new Federal buildings.

The last Congress overrode the budget estimates for river and harbor improvements by appropriating $27,000,000 in excess of budget estimates for such purposes.

That was "pork"—an expensive item in the national bill of fare.
In the background awaiting a favorable moment for approach are other projects for spending other millions of public money—reclamation projects that argue for shoveling out Government money to add productive acres to compete with the American farmer who is now all too slowly being bucked from the verge of bankruptcy.

Only the budget system stands between the people and this orgy of spending. Conclusive evidence of this will be found in comparing expenditures before and after the establishment of the budget system. Not until we acquire the hope for the taxpayer, for a reduction of tax burdens. The bid-get put an end to squandering but not to the squanderlust, as the "pork" proposals now pending too clearly indicate.

Budget system economy enables the Harding administration to beneath to the country a handsome

University of Florida Makes Plans for Golf Team for Tournament

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 11.—A golf team to represent the University of Florida in the Southern Intercollegiate Golf Association tournament is being planned here. If arrangements are perfected for placing the team in the field, the University will be assured of strong representation.

Among the skillful players available are Gordon Gibbons of Tampa, former amateur champion, who holds many cups and course records. Bob Brunty, member of the University of Georgia golf team last year and city champion of St. Petersburg, also is a promising member. Jack Camp of Ocala and S. J. Taylor of Largo are among the other contenders. Ark. Newton, football star, may also be in the running, judging from the showing he is making. Only a day or two ago, he smashed a record drive of 207 yards on the Galveston course.
