

Turfmen Expect 1938 To Be Best Trotting Season

GOSHEN, N. Y., Dec. 20. — (AP) — Highlighted by eight new world records, plans to merge five organizations into one central governing body, and marked gains in prices paid for yearlings, the 1938 trotting season was the best, say turfmen, in 50 years.

While such champions as Billy Direct and Greyhound were hanging up new all-time marks, the administrative end of the horse sport was planning to free the turf from much duplication of effort and expense; new stakes were being established for introduction in 1939; handicapping of horses by weight was touched as an experiment; horsemen were willing to pay top prices for yearlings since the future looked bright.

Of the eight new world champ, the Midwest took leading honors, with four, and the North and South, with a dash of the West, copped two each. Greyhound, lowering his record by three quarters of a second, closed the season with a mark of 1:55.11. Billy Direct, 4-year-old pacer, beat the 23-year-old record of Dan Patch (1:55.1) for the harness half at 1:55.

Fifteen thousand harness horses were trained during 1938. About 6,000 rode to the races. Three million dollars in purses were being up on the Grand Circuit and other racing circuits. There were new stakes, more entries in established events and richer purses.

Lawrence B. Sheppard, manager of the Hanover, Pa., shoe farm, made a wise purchase when he paid W. H. Case $20,000 for McLin. The colt went on to win the Hambletonian and $30,319. At the end of the season, Sheppard sold him to Count Paolo Mangelli of Milan, Italy. B. C. Mayo's Black-

Wild Bill Hallahan Released By Phills

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 20. — (AP) — Release of "Wild Bill" Hallahan, veteran out-pitcher for the Phillies, was announced yesterday by President George Nugent.

Hallahan, 40, was one of the Phillies' mainstay in baseball for a year to take a cruise around the world.

"Wild Bill," who came to the Phillies from Cincinnati, has not been effective for the past three years.

ALBUQUERQUE ARRIVE

SANTA FE, Dec. 20. — Nick Altruck, veteran coach and owner of the Albuquerque team, and other members of the team arrived in Albuquerque yesterday for the start of the 1938 season.

Altruck, in his 67 years, is an excellent golfer and a fully back in the high twenties in his right arm. He also plans to do a bit of fishing while here.

This is the fourth winter here for the Altruicks.

RED SOX BUY FARRELL

Kirby Farrell, who played first base for Greenville of the Cotton States league last season, has been purchased by the Boston Red Sox and probably will be assigned to Scranton of the Eastern league.

The Sanford Herald

The Importance Of Meteorology

An interesting article appears in the current issue of Nature magazine which says that millions of dollars could be saved in the United States annually through the establishment of an adequate system of meteorological stations making possible the accurate forecasting of weather conditions in advance. The article is written by Capt. Clifford MacGregor of the U. S. Weather Bureau, who has recently completed valuable experiments in the Arctic.

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

DESTINY LIES WITH THOSE WHO ARE IN HERMANS WITH GOD'S PLANS. And the Lord does not do from before to all the people, since the American people in the land, therefore we should also see the Lord for his will. Also God—John, 2:18.

THE SIGNALS

Often I meet an walking from a distance. A flash of about thirty feet before. I know, particularly when whirling by. They start around a corner at the eye.

The weather bureau gives us 36 hours of warning," writes. "This isn't enough. Weeks of warning are needed to prepare for things to come. Knowledge of meteorology is what today, but the warning can be given. It involves no magic, just a few simple facts about the great masses of air that move high over the earth.

"The continental United States should establish a chain of meteorological stations not more than 100 miles apart. Stations also are needed in the West Indies and in Alaska and the Aleutian Islands, where there are only three at the moment. International cooperation would be required to establish the chain of Arctic stations that are so badly needed.

Rumors Say Joel Hunt Is Ousted As Georgia Head

Authorities Refuse To Confirm Or Deny Reported Action

ATLANTA, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Drifting rumors of a shakeup in the University of Georgia coaching staff broke into print yesterday when The Journal said "a reliable report" indicated Joel Hunt, head coach, would be ousted.

University authorities declined to deny or confirm the report carried by the paper, which said Wallace Butts, an assistant coach under Hunt, "has been, or is to be, placed in command of football at Athens."

Hunt, youthful former back-field coach at Louisiana State university, took charge of Georgia football at the start of the 1938 campaign. He succeeded Harry J. Mehe, who resigned after 10 years of coaching Georgia teams. Reached at Baton Rouge, La., where he is spending the holidays, Hunt said the published report "I simply cannot understand it. My three-year contract still has two years to run. I haven't resigned and I don't intend to resign."

Dr. W. O. Payne, Georgia athletic director, said at Athens, Ga., that he and President Horner W. Caldwell of the institution were in agreement that there would be no announcement regarding the tenure of Hunt "or any

$7000 Appropriated To Construct 5000 Seats In Stadium

MIAMI, Dec. 21.—(AP)—With less than 700 tickets left for sale for the Orange Bowl football game, the city yesterday appropriated $7,000 to erect 5,000 additional temporary seats at the west end of the stadium, to be sold for $2.20 each.

The recreation board was advised that the stadium, erected only last year and with a normal seating capacity of about 24,000, must be enlarged to meet increasing demands. Both Tennessee and Oklahoma universities were clamoring for more tickets in addition to the thousands already assigned to them.

Memphis alone will send 100 persons in one group and additional requests have been received from there. A trainload will come from Jacksonville.

Mack Is Looking Forward To Seventy-Sixth Birthday

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21.—(AP)—Connie Mack, beloved manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, looked forward yesterday to his seventy-sixth birthday come Friday and asserted he'd stay in baseball until "I don't know my business or trade a 300 hitter for a 200 hitter."

"People ask if I am tired of baseball," said Mack. "I can only give one answer: There is nothing in baseball I dislike."

"What's more, I'll stay in the game as long as my mind is clear. They say when a man advances in years his mind isn't so clear. When I coach the stats where I don't know my business or trade a 300 hitter for a 200 hitter, then you'll know I can't fit. Until then I'll be in."

ferent. Then he was suffering from the effects of a long illness and except for a few occasions he remained indoors most of the winter.

His average day now starts at 7:30. He's in the office room from 9:00 A. M. until 5:00 P. M., and rarely retires until after 10:30 P. M.

Even his diet is highly restricted these days. Lunch is chop suey, breakfast, roast beef, lamb or chicken for dinner and above it—pie.

"I'm a heavy pie eater," Mack confesses. "I always finish my meal with a big piece."

Connie looks forward to the future with all the enthusiasm of a youngster.

"I've had my thrills and disappointments. I hope I can get more exciting moments out of the game. There won't be any disappointments. I decided that long ago in 1921." He recalled an experience when his Athletics were deep in the American league cellar position and fumbled a chance to pull themselves out.

The thrill of his lifetime, he says, came in 1929 when Bing Miller's ninth inning double defeat of the Cubs and gave the Athletics the world championship.

LEESBURG, Dec. 21.—Leesburg's Yellow Jackets took another trimming last night when the Bushnell Golden Gators came over and won the game, 14 to 15.

Jimmy Herlong, captain of the Jackets, made two free shots in the first quarter but failed to score again until he hit the basket twice in the last few moments of the game. Shumaker made five points to be high man for Bushnell, but it was team play that kept Bushnell in the lead throughout the game.

LEESBURG, Dec. 21.—(Special)—The Mount Dora high school basketball team rallied in the final quarter here last night to score a 24 to 39 victory over the Leesburg high Yellow Jacket cagers.

Capt. Jimmy Herlong, of the Jackets, was high scorer, collecting 18 points. McCowan, Rosenborough and Sadler got eight each for the visitors.

The Leesburg reserves trounced the Mount Dora B squad, 29 to 15 in a preliminary game.

LAMENT THAT IS NOT FOR FLOODS

(From The New Statesman and Nation)

I had a horse.
Tractor had no man, gentle and more patient.
Plowed me together the long October furrows.
Harvested black buckwheat, carried yellow maize sheaves.
Soldiers now have stolen him, spurs passed, rough ridden him.
No more shall we labor, no ever reap our sowing.
But this is small matter.
More was lost at Munich field.

I had a farm

Pigs had, and cattle, geese, and horned oxen.
Storm-safe barn, and comfortable white house and a straw rick.
A wife that new hay sweetened apple checked my chin down.
My farm is taken from me, can breast my cattle.
Homeless my children, husband less my wife.
But this is small matter.
More was lost at Munich field.

I had a country

Braver had no man, nobler, more beloved;
Free was she, contented, rich and well defended.
Mighty her fortresses, mighty her sons.
Now lies she broken, mangled, limbless, bleeding.
In peace dismembered, for enemies by friends.
But this is small matter.
More was lost at Munich field.

I had a soul

For centuries cherished, a thousand years a growing.
In martyrs' hearts deep-rooted, with deathless memories, fed More dear than life or country, phoenix, in fires reborn.
Shamed, trampled, self-extinguished, herself her own destruction.
Soul's candle now is quenched, cold ashes all her flame.
This is no small matter—Soul was lost at Munich field.

Harry Hopkins is being bullied for Secretary of Commerce.

Most hostile of all prominent men in the country toward business, he would be a queer bird to head

Miami Beach, wealthiest port city in Florida, perhaps in United States, has no trouble collecting taxes. At the close of its last fiscal year tax collections had reached the remarkable percentage of 99.1. Ever since its incorporation in 1918, it has operated with a budget balanced accurately, despite booms, hurricanes and depressions. During the past few years hundreds of new homes have been built there, ranging in price from a few thousand dollars to a quarter of a million.

Kissimmee is trying something new to encourage new building.

To anyone who will build a house in it within one year, the city will deliver free of charge one ton of "anyone" however, must be a responsible white person, resident of otherwise. Sanford is doing something like this a year ago, offering a lot free to any white railroad worker who would build a house. None was built, everyone "suspecting a catch" in the "something-for-nothing" deal. However, the City has hundreds of jobs on its hands.
It will not hold an auction, sell land to the highest bidder.

Price-Fixing

Another of the economic fallacies of the New Deal was exposed in Tampa Monday when Judge Akerman held an unconstitutional State dry cleaning and laundry price-fixing law enacted by the Legislature.
This was of course a State law, but as Judge Akerman said, "it was an attempt to set up a little NRA" and with a little window dressing and high-sounding phrases" to intentionally interfere with the rights of citizens engaged in lawful business.

If this law had been upheld in the courts, would have had to hold that a certain group of business men had the right to conspire to fix prices that they had the right to fix those prices as high as they wanted to for their own advantage, and that anyone of their number who did not conform to their conspiracy was guilty of a crime.
If such a law had been upheld, it would mark an amazing departure from our entire judicial history.

The law is not unlike Florida's highly controversial milk control law, which also gives the dairymen of Florida
"the right to fix their prices and brands any of their number as a criminal who sells for less than the fixed price, or who price goes of his milk away. And it is not unlike the federal law which fixes, after it has raised the price of oil and the Coffee, Food Act, and similar statutes, most of which have been declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States.

If America had become the victim of this particular type of economic bureaucracy in its history and a century ago had made it locally impossible for anyone to patronize the public legislative savings in the operation of business, we wonder what would have become of the inventions which have been made during this period and whether the country could have grown or developed as it is if the man who could make a better mousetrap than his neighbor could be restricted in the selling of it.

All of these price-fixing laws have been enacted in the interest of stimulating prosperity, but if it would make the country prosperous to stick the consumer an extra 15 cents for the pressing of a pair of pants, why not stick him a dollar and make everyone a millionaire? What makes for real prosperity is to reduce prices so that the consumer will have more money to spend on something else. But even this is not something which the government can do arbitrarily but is something which has to be accomplished by the business men themselves as great efficiency, lower taxes, and other lower costs, make it possible.

Government interference in the operation of business only makes it worse no matter how the government interferes.

Women Auto Drivers

Congratulations to Rose Wilder Lane, a woman, who admits in the Good Housekeeping magazine, not only that women as a rule are not as good automobile drivers, as men, but also that three times as many women as men cannot drive automobiles at all. There are, she says, for a million automobile drivers in the United States, only one-fourth of whom are women.

In an endeavor to determine the accuracy of the charge that women notoriously are bad drivers, Miss Lane says that the American Automobile Association has conducted an elaborate investigation of this highly intriguing subject and proved beyond all question of doubt that men are the best drivers, though out of politeness to the gentle-sex, it admits that men are only slightly better drivers than women.

Furthermore, Miss Lane goes on to explain, women are by far the best back seat drivers. "The woman, wanting to be helpful and knowing nothing whatever about driving, tells the driver that a car is coming which he saw minutes ago, Miss Lane explains. "She warns him to avoid the looming truck that he is already avoiding, continues to announce the visible curve until he answers her, and shouts: 'Stop! Stop!' in that sudden instant when nothing but the swiftest speed ahead will prevent murder and suicide."

We have heard many reasons advanced as to why women do not as a rule excel in an automobile driving, none of which we ever believed, such as their generally nervous constitution, their usual lack of mechanical aptitudes, their lack of knowledge of traffic regulations, their natural disposition to expect the other fellow to get out of their way, their greater willingness to endure the pain and suffering of highway accidents.

All this, of course, is what other people say about women automobile drivers. Personally we have always thought that women are much better drivers than men.

Nazis Borrow U. S. Gangland Technique

By NORMAN E. COLLINS

There is a reason for everything in this world, and if you want to understand why the Hitler government is cracking down so hard on the Jews you might consider the economic crisis that is developing so fast in Germany.

During 1938, according to a recent United Press dispatch, new loans amounting to some $2,200, 000,000 were floated, bringing the nation's total indebtedness up to $20,000,000,000. This is almost entirely an internal debt money owed by the German people. The government continues to operate at an annual deficit estimated at $2,800,000,000. The nation's prosperity depends on government orders, and it is an open question whether in the near future this will not push the nation up to the edge of disastrous inflation.

Such figures make dry reading, but they are the only background against which the recent pogroms can be understood.

For the essential fact about the wave of anti-Jewish savagery is that it is a financial measure.
The technique perfected by Machine Gun Kelly and Aes Buley is being used cold-bloodedly by the German government. A brief review of the facts will make this perfectly clear.

First, there is the "fine" that is being collected from Germany's Jews. The first installment of this $40,000,000 is going into the Reich's treasury now, and more will follow.

And in hand with this goes the issue of the restrictive provisions by which the Jews are to

"TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY"

By RUSSELL RAY

Kenneth Friedmann, Florida
"Riley" has been a good man, since, during up, interesting facts and information about Florida which he classifies presents in cartoon form under the title "Florida Book of Facts." Particularly has been pointed out to our tourist and vacation travelers, the many interesting and unusual things to see in the state.

Even as a guide to the state, it is equal to a thousand words, clever, well chosen, and equally factual in making quick and yet lasting impressions, and during the year, Ken Friedmann has saved his state in presenting his ideas and interests in so pleasing and effective a manner. It is a complete, thorough, and home talk, able to be known and appreciated Florida.

Now Ken comes forward with something new and unique in the way of a Florida Guide. Getting entirely away from the old stereotyped style of tabulated compilation of more or less dry facts and statistics, he sets out to take the reader by the hand on a jovial manner and leads him into a delightful tour of Florida.

While his book is entitled "Ken Friedmann's Cartoon Guide to Florida", it is a lighthearted but average so-called guide to the state indeed. Streamlined, breezy, humorous, it presents all Florida in a manner that is both pleasing and authoritative.

Tourists and winter visitors will find it worth many times the modest purchase price and will find it a really worthwhile addition to their library. Native Floridians, even those who pride themselves on a knowledge of their state, will find this little gem of a book an acquaint them with a lot of things they never knew before.

And while we are on the subject of Florida books and authors, there recently came to my desk, a distinctly different kind of a book entitled "Miniature Flower Arrangements" written by Edith Mason and Edith Wana.

The attractive book, charmingly written and beautifully illustrated, was printed in the plant of the Record Company, St.
Augustine, known for its distinctive work. The binding is in cloth, featuring a floral print of exceptional delicacy and beauty.

While considerable, has been said and written on artistic floral arrangement, it seems that authors and authorities have dealt with flowers in general and no one had attempted to cover the subject of the arrangement of those miniature or tiny flowers that hide away in field and garden and are usually overshadowed by their larger and after more brilliant relations.

It seems, however, that when given the proper consideration from the standpoint of vase or holder and arrangement, the flower and beauty lover can accomplish some amazing results, and the beautiful illustrations of such arrangements as shown in this delightful book give visual testimony of what can be accomplished with Nature's tiniest contributions.

This book serves a long felt need and it is fitting that it should come to the world as a Florida's product, written in book all created and modeled by member and alike for its information and value will find "Miniature Flower Arrangements" a treasure indeed.

From the pen of Tamara A.
Casady, artist and a true comprehending authority on floral arrangement, "The Book of Floral Art" will be the most interesting and amusing book you ever read. It is a complete guide to the art of floral design, and its journey through the state.
There's no one else and no one else who can do it better.

Buy all the little Bibles you can. You'll love them all and they ought to be in every home. No point of interest in a book, looked, and the reading time through about the book is a fully comprehensive, they will will get a good description of the subject.

It's queer about these books, they have to be bought in have knees. These dwarf like times, that is, they are out. And when you are in the house, it's through the house the eyes of the house, it's years and it's a death to cause these books to be seems to me, they will get

Plats, Prints Shape Styles For Wear At Resorts

By ADELAIDE KERR
This year's play clothes for the South have a decidedly feminine air.
Lines are soft, colors are gay, skirts are short and full.
Lots of prints and stripes appear in spectator sports frocks designed for hours in the sun.
Spun rayons of a linen-like texture (much used this year), silks and cottons are splashed with gay all-over flower, splotch or snapper patterns or with little white charm designs silhouetted against a color.
Plats of all kinds—box, plain and knife—appear in their full skirts and their short-sleeved bodies are often cut to give a littlegirl air.
There are a number of plain spun rayon or acetate alpaca dresses, too, in such shades as mauve-violet, pink, citron (a light greenish yellow), white and a delectable range of blues including "cloud" and a mauvedelectable range of blues including "cloud" and a mauve-violet hyacinth. A number of these are worn with gay little boxed jackets in a striped mixture of linen and wool.

Sheer wools have come to the forefront in plain weaves and stripes to make scores of smart spectator sports frocks sometimes topped with a jacket.

Christmas Party Is Given By Methodists

A Christmas party was held following the regular business meeting of the Fifty-Fifth Bible Class of the Methodist Church Monday night at the home of Mrs. L. C. Price in Lake Monroe.

Mrs. C. L. Wynn, class president, presided over the meeting. It was announced that the monthly program of giving lunches to two school children is to be continued. The next meeting will be held in the church annex on Monday, Dec. 26, at 7:30 p. m. Mrs. L. M. Swain, Mrs. N. Wynn and Miss Edna Rivers are in charge of the program. The ad-vocated program was also in charge of Mrs. Wynn who read the scripture and led in prayer. Several Christmas cards were sent by the assembly. Mrs. Tom Gray presented a special vote to Mr. E. W. Ware and a laudatory vote to Mr. Ware, class teacher, as a special Christmas gift from the class. Mr. Ware was in charge of the entertainment for the evening. An amusing get-acquainted game was played. Mrs. Lorenz and Judge Ware received their perfect attendance at Sunday School during the past year.

Socially gifts were distributed to the class members and their guests by Miss Dorothy Price and Carl Williams, Jr. Mrs. Price served refreshments of hot chocolate, cake, and Christmas nuts. During the social hour small green candles were lighted on the mantle.

The room was artistically decorated with holly and a large lighted tree. Red and green window decorations and pictures with silver stars and lighted tapers were used to carry out the holiday motif.

Those present were: Judge and Mrs. Ware, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gray, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Swain, Mrs. C. E. Williams, Mrs. L. C. Price, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur M. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wynn, Mrs. N. Shift In Congressional Attitude Toward Businesses In U. S. Noted

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. The shift in Congressional attitude toward business is well illustrated by the largeness of a Senate tax committee to listen to plans for cutting business instead of punishing it.

Two years ago the undistributed profits tax was enacted as a combination punishment and reform measure. It was argued that big corporations were piling up excessive idle reserves instead of paying them out in wages and dividends which would encourage business to step out with new vigor. They talk of "incentive taxation" to encourage such things as plant expansion and modernization, as well as to en-and dividends which could be taxed in the regular income brackets.

Corporations protested that the law penalized thirty managers saving against a rainy day, and at the same time made it impossible to save money for plant expansion and improvement. So many complaints were made that last year it was almost wiped out by the similar device of reducing the tax virtually to nothing.

Now a special Senate committee is learning from experts how to apply taxation to encourage business to step out with new vigor. They talk of "incentive taxation" to encourage such things as plant expansion and modernization, as well as to encourage such worker-benefit programs as profit-sharing and pension trusts.

Just what it will wind up is something else again but the situation contrasts significantly with the sock 'em attitude of 1936.

Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of the General Motors Corporation, told the committee that a blanket reduction of taxes would be the greatest piece of "incentive" he could think of in that line incidentally, that has been the theme song of most of the industrialists appearing before the committee.

Throughout the first and second depression the greatest capital goods industry among the machinery makers and the tool makers, the very ones who would first be put to work if manufacturers of consumer goods began demanding new equipment. Already a basketful of "incentive tax" methods have been proposed. Sloan suggested a tax reward to companies installing new and more efficient equipment.

"America's production plant is obsolete, as measured by today's technology," he told the committee. "Today the tax structure and its administration tend to discourage the substitution of the new for the old."

Installing new equipment not only would stimulate the capital goods industry producing the equipment, he said, but would help the plants which bought it to lower costs of manufacturing consumer goods. Thus at one blow purchasing power would be increased on two fronts.

Other proposals include tax rewards for companies setting up trust funds for pension or similar worker benefits. At present only those companies which contribute an 85 per cent share to pension funds can offset the donation from taxable earnings.

Already the Congressional tax technicians are more concerned about difficulties of putting "incentive taxes" into effect than about what they might do to revenue, although that of course ultimately will be the primary consideration. Badly applied, an incentive tax might unbalance competition among rival companies and in the end disrupt business even more seriously than the undistributed profits tax.

One thing is certain. More government revenue must be had and it can come only from two sources. One is from sterner and broader levies, and the other from increased national earnings which will turn out more revenue under present rates.

Size, Pockets, and Common Sense Are New Fashion Note

By ADELAIDE KERR

Size, pockets and common sense make the news in winter handbags.

Bags are big this year. Deep pouches, square or oblong envelopes and English travel bags (like small overnight cases) are all designed to give plenty of room for make-up kits, money and "date books."

There's no nonsense in their design or trim. Most of them are liberally equipped with pockets often closed with slide fasteners. One deep envelope has a closed pocket which extends from the top of the bag, when opened, to its base and another is neatly partitioned into sections, like a filing cabinet.

A new invisible fastening which closes the bag without catches or locks and holds it open to a wide oval when desired, is one of the outstanding innovations. The closing is achieved by means of a band of flexible Swedish steel.

Soft calf, suede and alligator (which is getting a big play this year) make by far the most of the bags. When it comes to color, Fifth Avenue shops say that the smartest women are choosing such sober hues as black or brown to match coats or that fur trims, but wine, plum, red and deep green are also seen about town.

Handles, when used, are generally simple in construction and not exceedingly long. "Ribbon handles"—four or five inches wide—finish some of the afternoon bags and occasionally a loop handle is seen.

Despite all this concentration on utility, shapes are far from dull. From a New York designer's workroom comes a "post-man's bag"—a flap-topped envelope with a long, over-the-shoulder strap and a huge suede moff bag with a purse in top.

The smartest afternoon bags are big squashy pouches of black suede, though a number of small ones are also shown. Mountings of carved crystal-like plastic material or gold metal clasp finish them.

Brocade and powdered velvet still make scores of evening bags which are generally designed as medium-sized pouches or flat envelopes.

A farmer in Avery county, Western North Carolina, reported a net profit of $270 and 11 acres of cabbage.

Yuletide Paradox Offered In Land Of Christ's Birth

Guns Roar Along Road Which Was Traveled By Three Wise Men

PALESTINE, P. The Bethlehem of the Holy Land, where the birth of Christ is celebrated, has become a scene of the most intense and bitter fighting since the outbreak of the Arab revolt in 1936. The city, which was once a peaceful and prosperous town, is now a scene of desolation and suffering. The roads, which were once traveled by the three wise men, are now filled with the roar of guns and the cries of the wounded.

Member Hubert S. Borah, R-Vt., is seen here with his family. He is the author of the bill which would provide for the establishment of a national observance of the birth of Christ.

Still Christmas Celebrations Despite the war, the Christmas season is being celebrated in Bethlehem. The city is filled with the lights and decorations of the season, and the people are observing the traditional American way of celebrating Christmas. The city is a scene of peace and joy, a stark contrast to the fighting that is taking place in the surrounding areas.

Essential Rules For Writing To Senators Given

The rules are simple and easy to follow, and they are designed to ensure that the letters are read and acted upon.

On the hill, and in the valley of the Holy Land, the birth of Christ is celebrated. The city is a scene of peace and joy, a stark contrast to the fighting that is taking place in the surrounding areas. The people are observing the traditional American way of celebrating Christmas, and the city is filled with the lights and decorations of the season.

Many take pilgrimage to Bethlehem and many retrace the Via Dolorosa, where He carried the cross to his crucifixion. The city is a scene of peace and joy, a stark contrast to the fighting that is taking place in the surrounding areas.

But the world probably will not hear the impressive ceremonies at Bethlehem. There, when the Holy Babe is revealed in the manger, the thousands of pilgrims and pilgrims usually attracted from foreign lands are flocking to the Christmas time. Churches and shrines are empty, hotels and tourist companies face bankruptcy.

FIGHT FIRE WITH SCOOPS
 ST. JOHN, Kas. —(AP)— Grain scoops were the only fire fighting "implements" available when a prairie fire broke out near Hattiesburg creek recently. Hastily recruited farmers grabbed the big scoops and began scooping water from the creek onto the flames, halting them after they burned over 60 acres of meadow land.

Advertising Increase For 1939 Predicted

NEW YORK, Dec. 22 (AP)—

Advertising in the United States is expected to increase by 10 percent in 1939, according to a report by the Advertising Council. The report is based on a survey of advertising agencies and publishers. The increase is expected to be due to a combination of factors, including a general improvement in the economy and a growing interest in advertising as a means of reaching consumers.

The report also predicts that the advertising industry will continue to grow in the coming years. This is due to the increasing importance of advertising in a competitive market. As more businesses seek to reach a wider audience, the demand for advertising services will continue to rise.

The Advertising Council is a non-profit organization that works to promote the interests of the advertising industry. It provides a variety of services, including research, education, and advocacy. The council's report is one of the most authoritative sources of information on the advertising industry.
