Big Search Is Made For Missing Plane With Eight Persons

Huge Transport Ship Has Been Long Over-Due And Was Flying Thru Bad Weather

WINNSLOW, Ariz., Sept. 4 (INS)—Nine airplanes of the Trans-Continental Air Transport, a dozen commercial ships, army and navy planes from Riverside, Cal., and San Diego, took allotted areas of storm-ridden Arizona today in the most intensive air hunt in the state's history to locate the missing passenger airplane. Eight passengers and crew of the ship were still unreported today. Their plane was last sighted over Grants, N. M., enroute from Albuquerque to Los Angeles at noon yesterday. Pilot that the storm had forced pilot J. B. Stone to fly far to the south, turned the search toward southeastern Arizona today.

T. A. T. officials maintained constant watch along private dispatch wires crossing northern Arizona today. Sheriff's forces, government forest rangers and citizens were in the field seeking traces of the tri-colored plane. Weather in Arizona continued to hamper the search. Highways and landing fields were heavily damaged by rain and numerous thunderstorms lashed at times the air searchers.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 4 (INS)—T. A. T. officials here dispatched two planes today to search for the air transport. One of San Francisco, the other plane left here yesterday for Winslow, Ariz. The City of San Francisco pilots and a crew of six, had about five hours' supply of fuel when it hopped off here officials said.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 4 (INS)—Missing in search of the Catalina, the westbound Trans-Continental Air Transport plane which left here at 10:20 A. M. yesterday for Los Angeles, was the subject of search today. The plane, the City of San Francisco, carried five passengers when it left and was due to arrive in Los Angeles at 5:30 P. M. Diversions led reported the plane passing over Grants, N. M., the center of a terrific wind, rain and electrical storm late yesterday, covering an area of approximately a hundred miles. The passengers met Mrs. Geo. B. Raymond, Glendale, Cal.; A. B. McGaffey, Albuquerque; William H. Boers, New York; Harris Laver, more, Boston; and M. M. C. Kelly, of Cincinnati.

MAN TAKES AUTO AND SKIPS AFTER FORGING CHECKS

Plans For New Paper Go On Rocks With Promoter's Flight

J. A. Atkinson, lineman printer and high-pressure advertising promoter, was missing today and behind him was left a trail of forged checks and frustrated plans for a weekly newspaper venture in Sanford. He left here Sunday morning, after obtaining an automobile from Reed's yard, which was owned by his friend, a local contractor, and has not been seen since.

Police authorities were notified Monday by R. J. Reed, head of the automobile business, and yesterday hundreds of cards, bearing a description of Atkinson and the machine, were sent out to officers throughout the State and other parts of the country. Three checks, on which Atkinson had forged the name of Jules Soule, of the Central Florida Press, local job printer, established, have already been cashed. One for $25 was given in payment for board, another for $10 was paid on Tom's store, and another for $10 was given to Mr. Reed as the time Atkinson returned here.

Atkinson had planned to start publication of his newspaper, the Central Florida News, within a few days. He was said to have secured a large amount of advertising contracts but was not successful in his endeavor. He was believed to have exhibited poor judgment in his financial matters, and to have been induced to take up his publication.

Richard Gallogly Is Put Upon Chain Gang

ATLANTA, Sept. 4 (INS)—Richard Gallogly, wealthy "chill murderer," has been transferred from the prison farm at Milledgeville to the Muscogee chain gang, following interception of letters between him and an escaped desperado, it was learned here today.

Details of the correspondence between Gallogly and Aubrey Smith, who escaped while serving a 14-year sentence for banditry, were not divulged, but the prison commission confirmed the fact of Gallogly's transfer. Gallogly proved a hard prisoner to handle, the commission said. In addition, more room was needed at the prison farm. Gallogly is serving a life sentence for the murder of two Atlanta store clerks following a brief career of crime undertaken for a wealthy Georgia student, and Gallogly's accomplice, is also serving a life sentence.

BODY OF WOOD DISCOVERED IN PLANE WRECK

Craft Of Los Angeles To Cleveland Racer Is Found On Desert California Wastes

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 4 (INS)—The body of Major Owen Wood, missing Los Angeles Cleveland air racer, was found in the wreckage of his plane in the desert wastes near Nevada, California today according to a telegram received here from a search party.

The message addressed to Paul R. Fletcher, vice-president of the Aero Corporation at Pasadena, said: "I am glad to report that the body of Wood was found in a plane wrecked in the desert wastes. No trace of the wreckage was seen." (Signed) Smith.

Smith's message came shortly after a telegram had been received by the Lockheed Aircraft Company at Burbank, near Los Angeles, from Capt. Edward Bromley, who reported that he believed he had sighted Wood's body from an airplane.

Bromley said Wood's plane had been struck by lightning at a point west of Needles, Wood and Ward Miller, a mechanic of the Lockheed factory, left Van Nuys, California, early Monday on an uncompleted project flight to Cleveland. When the plane went into a spin during a storm, Miller leaped out with a parachute and landed safely 20 miles from Needles.

Graf Lands Safely At Her Home Port After Globe Girdle

Loud Chorus Of Hochs Greeted Huge Airship As It Floats Down At Friedrichshafen

By Otto B. Tolushus
International News Service Staff Correspondent
FRIEDRICHSHAFEN, Germany, Sept. 4.—Safe at home once more after her epochal conquest of the world by air, the giant dirigible Graf Zeppelin arrived here shortly before 8:30 A. M. (3:30 A. M. New York Daylight Saving Time) today.

A reception worthy of the mighty conqueror was accorded the dirigible upon her arrival. Thousands of persons, many of whom had spent the night camped on the landing field, joined in a swelling chorus of "hochs" as the huge airship floated gracefully over the field at the end of her long journey around the world.

Under the command of Captain Ernst Lehmann, pilot of the dirigible in place of Commander Dr. Hugo Eckener, the Graf Zeppelin completed the round the world record established in the field from Lakehurst to Lakehurst.

She covered the long 22,800-mile trip in 27 days, four hours and 15 minutes, against the 21 days, 7 hours and 21 minutes required to circle the globe from Lakehurst to Lakehurst.

IN FINE TRIM.

Cannonball Clyde Crabtree, all Southern quarterback, in whom Florida pins a lot of faith in its coming campaign for the Southern Conference title.

FLORIDA SEEKING QUARTER TO HELP CLYDE CRABTREE

Jimmy White, Signal Caller For Rats, Is Boosted For Place

By JOE HOLSINGER (Barkfield Coach, U. of Fla.) GAINESVILLE, Sept. 3.—At this early writing it is rather difficult to accurately determine the quality of the candidates who will make up the backfield of the 1929 Gator machine. The outlook, however, is indeed quite promising. Florida has a reputation for having many fine backs and this year is no exception.

The position which involves considerable uncertainty is the quarterback post. There is a decided absence of experienced material for this most important position. The only candidate who has had any previous varsity experience is Clyde Crabtree. I am sure little need here be said of his ability as a field general and all around football player. The fact that he was almost unanimously chosen for All Southern quarterback in 1928 certainly speaks for itself. However no one player, no matter how good, can carry the entire burden of directing a team thru such a schedule as faces us this season. To find one or more players who can furnish stiff competition for Crabtree is the most serious backfield problem which confronts us at this time.

Among the youngsters who will strive to push Crabtree for the quarterback post is Jimmy White, former Tampa star and regular quarterback on last year's Babo Gators. Jimmy is a fast clever ball carrier with an effective change of pace. He is cool under fire and possesses a good knowledge of offensive strategy. He shows considerable promise. From all the coaches for his steady work in spring practice, Jimmy should furnish plenty of competition.

Another youngster who showed fine possibilities in spring practice is "Monkey" Brennan, a former Gainesville boy. He has a very aggressive spirit and is popular with all the players. He is a good ball carrier and his passing is commendable. He is eager to learn and with a little experience should be a valuable asset to the squad.

J. L. Sanders, another Tampa boy who a great crowd will carry him by bear watching, is also a candidate for quarterback. But Jimmy White and Brennan he has had no experience.

There is a possibility that Mills D. Jib, who was a halfback on the 1927 team and who is to return to school this fall, will be shifted to the quarterback post. We know little of Smith's ability having never seen him in action but judging from reports which have been flowing about rather faintly he will be hard to keep off the team. He has a considerable weight advantage over the other candidates for the position, which should stand him in good stead. In case he is used at quarterback:

In the event that other plans fall it is probable that Homer Seay will be shifted to the quarterback position. Seay was one of the outstanding highlights in the spring season, at left halfback. He is a natural all around back and can be used in any position. However his all around ability would be of greater value in a halfback position. He will not be shifted unless it is absolutely necessary to do so.

WIFE'S SISTER IS OTHER WOMAN IN LOT OF DIVORCES

Young Woman Proctor Expresses Views On Marital Tangles

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Aug. 31.—(INS)—The "other woman" in most divorce cases is none other than the wife's sister, according to Stella Ann Riley, Kansas City's youngest divorcee.

Miss Riley hasn't been married but just the same she speaks from experience. It is her job to interregate women who are sued for divorce by men.

"Most men blame the wife's sister for the rift," she said. "Often it is a divorced sister who never seems satisfied until she induces her sister to follow her example."

In the matter of divorce, men are as chivalrous as ever, opined Miss Riley. They dislike to sue their wives.

"Maybe it's just because they want to be the martyr in the case," she added.

"I have found exceptionally few cases where marital happiness results when both husband and wife work," she continued.

"DON'T WORK OUT. It just won't work out. The wife comes home tired and doesn't do a good job of cooking dinner. Then a spot usually follows. The wife doesn't want to give up her job, so she usually gives up her husband."

Just at present, Miss Riley is working on one of the most perplexing divorce cases she has yet encountered. It involves the case of a man who believing himself divorced by his first wife, remarried and has four children by the second marriage. Now he is trying to obtain a divorce from his first wife and he has remarked that he does not intend to marry the mother of his four children when he gets his divorce. Apparently he has decided twice as enough.

Woman Has Record Of 64 Years With One Mill Concern

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 3.—(INS)—A little girl who went to work in the Warratt Mills while the town bells were still tolling the news of Lincoln's assassination, has just rounded out 64 years of employment in the same plant.

At the age of 71 Miss Julia Hanlon looks back on 64 years of textile work with satisfaction and expects to remain at her present job in the sheeting department for many years to come.

Holds Record

When presented with a gold pin by the chamber of Commerce recently it was revealed that Miss Hanlon holds the record for continuous employment in this city—and likely in most other cities.

Arriving in New Bedford at the age of seven, Miss Hanlon secured a job as a sweeper at the mill. She progressed through the plant, working on spinning frames, as a spooler, and finally as a weaver. Most of the cloth sent to the St. Louis Exposition was woven by Miss Hanlon. During the world war she devoted her loom to the production of airplanes, gas masks and uniform cloth. At present she is employed in the pressing room where she finds the work slightly less remunerative but easier and more pleasant.

Quiet Prevails In Strike Torn Area Of North Carolina

MARION, N. C., Sept. 4 (INS)—Quiet prevailed today in the strike situation here, following a conference between strike leaders and heads of the militia sent here by Governor O. Max Gardner to keep order. Following was to be resumed by several of the mills during the day, the military leaders announcing that they would object to the strikers stationing themselves near the plants.

It was also agreed at the conference that personal property seized by the marshmen from individuals would be returned and that no further search of persons entering the mill villages would be made. The fact that strikers held in jail in connection with the strike was a source of concern to the mill villages last week were released on bond. The trial of these and 50 others, who are under arrest charged with inciting a riot, or aiding and abetting in the strike and left for trial next week, but the case may be continued until the next term of court.

Meanwhile, J. Reid Payne of the Communist International labor defense issued a statement in which he condemned the sides of the strike and left for the American Federation of Labor, on duty here declared that they believe now that the communists will take no further part in the local controversy.

x-Kaiser Holds No Desire To Return To His Fatherland

There are other technical reasons why the ex-Kaiser may not wish to return. Although he is reputedly one of the richest men alive, so far as estates concerned, he no longer owns a single cent which might be a source of income in Germany, he would have to be able to render any of the ex-Kaiser's estates in Germany like he enjoys in Germany.

His stay in Germany also means an undesirable burden for the ex-Kaiser, who has to support many members of the Hohenzollern family.

All these reasons probably not as weighty as to prevent him from returning to his fatherland in Germany. Monarchs agree that the ex-Kaiser given up all hopes of ever being restored to the throne and that this seems to have killed his once ardent desire to return to the land of his fathers during his life.

Jazz is Industry In Terms of Music

RAY NICHOLS.

So Says Former Coal Mine Worker, Now Jazz King

New York City.—Jazz is American industry translated into music. So says Ray Nichols, former coal-mine worker and railroad fireman, now one of America's leading musical directors.

"I think one must understand the rhythm of the American worker to understand jazz," he explains. "My training in my father's coal-mine was probably my greatest aid in getting the tempo and rhythm of our American jazz music. There is a certain alertness in the American worker's movements that you find nowhere else. The tempo at which he literally hurries himself into his job is just the tempo of our dance music."

"My first musical opportunity came to me through a shop band in the coal mines. It was a good band because unconsciously we translated into tone our movements in the mines.

"Just how much industry owes to music and music owes to industry will probably never be realized, as the rhythm of one is the rhythm of the other."

"The number I am requested to play most often is a fox-trot called 'An Eyefull of You,' which has the very best buoyancy that is so purely American. Its rhythm makes one dance, yet it is the same rhythm that speeds up the earning capacity of the workman."

"I have watched foreigners at work in the mines and I have watched foreigners on the dance floor. Neither place can they get our rhythm or tempo. Jazz tempo is purely American."

Mr. Nichols is the musical director at the Palais Royal in Newark, New Jersey, one of the largest restaurants in the United States, and therefore has ample scope for observation of dancers.

SERVICE BUREAU OFFERS PLAN TO PREVENT CRIME

Promotion Of Friendship Between Cops And Boys Is Wanted

By PHILIP JOHN HESS, International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, Sept. 4.—The census bureau sent for a way to nip crime in the bud in large American cities has led to a new experiment in Chicago. The prosecuting attorney's office, in cooperation with municipal organizations, has organized what is called the Youth's Service Bureau, organized on the theory that police of the boy in the street and the policeman on the beat is the best crime barrier.

"Help the policeman become the pal of the boys and girls on his beat and crime is greatly reduced," states Attorney John A. Swanson, partly responsible for the new step, told International News Service in explaining his plan. "As their friend and helper, he will turn their minds toward wholesome things and right characters will result."

Minister In Charge

The Rev. Charles A. Gage, a minister of wide experience in the crime-prevention field, will be in charge of the bureau. Outlining the aims and purposes of the organization on Sept. 3.

"The Youth's Service Bureau is born out of a desire to create between the policeman on the beat and the boys and girls a better and more wholesome understanding. The policeman must be introduced to the child to help every youthful citizen avoid the path which means crime and ruin. Crime, alas, not pay. It costs in character, in manhood and the peaceful pursuit of happiness. The boys and girls must learn that the policeman is not just a 'cop' but is their friend and helper, giving guidance and pointing out a path for training for real manhood.

"The field of service of this bureau is in home, school and club and in wise is the character of such service political or partisan or sectarian. To keep a boy from going wrong is infinitely more commendable than using corrective methods on him after he has gone wrong.

To Be Helpful

"We will seek through every available channel to create an atmosphere of helpfulness, freedom from delinquency and crime. To do this we must have not only the wholehearted cooperation of the police department but also the constructive influence of every civic organization, the personal

German Starts Home In His 18-foot Boat

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 4 (INS)—Paul Muller, who several months ago sailed in an 18-foot boat from his home in Germany to the United States, today was on his way for New York, on the first leg of his homeward journey in a similar craft.

Muller left Charleston following his marriage to Annelie Gieseler, the girl who crossed the seas to wed her fiance after he had completed his trip to America. It was at first planned that the return trip but the arrangement was changed at the last minute. She is expected to cross on a passenger ship.

The Youth's Service Bureau has organized a field of service for the boy in the street and the policeman on the beat is the best crime barrier.

"The Youth's Service Bureau has been organized as a long term organization to help the boy in the street and the policeman on the beat is the best crime barrier. Help and guidance will be extended. The bureau's main aim is to create a better understanding between the policeman on the beat and the boys and girls on his beat. As An Agriculturalist Sees Farm Board's Job

The New Agricultural Marketing Act approaches farm relief from a materially different point of view from that of former bills before Congress in recent years, says Dean H. L. Russell of Wisconsin University College of Agriculture in the American Bankers Association Journal.

"It contains a new idea, fraught with the greatest possibilities—the organization of a Federal Farm Board," he says. "It has been possible for farm cooperatives to borrow from Federal aided institutions before, and at a materially lower rate than city business men had to pay for working capital, but this is the first set-up made by the government in which a commission has been carefully chosen to give undivided attention to an effort to solve the problems of a farm group."

"It is hard to conceive of a higher degree of responsibility than must be assumed by this commission. No board ever created by congressional action has been clothed with as wide plenary powers. It is authorized not only to advise but to execute, to plan and to buy and hold, to dump, to dip into the Federal treasury to accomplish its ends with what would be almost unlimited resources to any private commercial concern. The board's only job is to succeed, and to governmental agency even during the war time emergency had a wider latitude."

"Many will think the farm relief program will be universally applicable to the individual land owner or operator. Such procedure is far from the case. Aid is to be extended through cooperative organizations by making it possible for such groups to obtain cash advances to hold crops as to permit of more orderly marketing."

"While the primary relation is with cooperatives, the individual or unorganized farmer will also profit by the activities of his organized fellows. If a stabilized program of merchandising is able to eliminate the surpluses that exert such depressing influence on prices, the general price relation should be improved. If this occurs the individual farmer should also benefit."

"It is here the government is proposing a novel attempt in economics. Through stabilization corporations for each commodity it is proposed to make possible the handling of the surplus so as to lessen its disturbing influence on prices. With non-perishable products such a program, of course, conceivably possible, but one wonders what would happen if a stabilization corporation had to handle a perishable crop in great quantities."

"Is it going to be possible for a stabilization corporation to stabilize prices? It would be one thing if it had merely to stabilize the American situation, but often that situation is complicated with world conditions. Perhaps the very fact that such a stabilization corporation is in position to function may have a steadying effect on the market."

"Markets respond to psychological stimuli as do individuals. The very fact that the government has now definitely stepped into the breach with all its resources available to make the new plan work will exert undoubtedly a strong stabilizing effect."

"It would be presumptuous to forecast what the ultimate effect of the new act will be. It can, however, be definitely stated that in the present plan much of the philosophy that had been so drastically criticized as economically unsound has been eliminated. The existing plan is worth trying. It will undoubtedly cost the Federal treasury no inconsiderable amount of money, but if it produces the hoped for result it will have been well worth while."

Bitter Legal Fight Faces Auto Driver Who Ran Down Jap

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 4 (INS)—A bitter battle was waged today as Mrs. Lois Pantages, 42-year-old wife of Alexander Pantages, multi-millionaire theatrical man, faced trial in superior court for killing a man with her automobile.

Twenty-two witnesses, including factors, policemen and other autoists have been subpoenaed by the prosecution and 20 by the defense.

The trial is expected to last two weeks or more and conclusion means a term in prison of from 10 years to life.

While Pantages himself awaits trial for an alleged criminal attack on Eunice Pringle, 17, a dancer, the murder charge against his wife is the outgrowth of the death of Juro Rokumoto, a Japanese earner. Rokumoto was guiding the family car along Sunset Boulevard, one of the main arteries of traffic in Hollywood, on Sunday evening, June 16, when Mrs. Pantages' machine rammed it. She was accused of being drunk.

The Japanese, his wife and her two sons, a woman friend and her two children were injured as well as Mrs. Pantages. Rokumoto died later after an operation.

Ridiculous — isn't it?

When you're ill you want service — quick service — personal service — friendly service — interested service — known, efficient service — and you call in one of our good home town physicians.

HOLLYWOOD MAY PRODUCE WRITER LIKE IMMORTALS

human nature, the work of the new Shakespeare will not perish with its contemporaries, but will be as valuable as it will be as readable as the combination of a play and a novel. It will end itself to posterity by its own merit, if that is found necessary."

Photoplay Writing Is Seen As Capable Of Producing Geniuses

By Frederic A. Chase, International News Service Staff Correspondent, HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 1—Hollywood today will give rise to a writer whose name will become as great as that of Shakespeare, in the opinion of Fred Nibbs, the director.

FOR ROYAL THIRSTS

Summer time is the season when our thirst assumes royal proportions, and a succession of drinks goes far to make a successful day. Luckily, spending this thirst is good for us. The liquid which we imbibe helps cool us off, and if it has fruit juices in it, they add vitamins and minerals to our system, and the sugar which it contains will give energy.

For Children and Adults

For the children and for grown-ups, too, it is their delight to combine milk with fruit juices. For the purpose, evaporated milk is especially desirable, as it will not curdle on the combination.
