Former Chairman Plans Move To Texas

Warren To Resign School Board

By Richard Whittaker Herald Staff Writer

Nancy Warren said she plans to move to Texas before the end of her second term on the Seminole County School Board is over next year. The former board chairman said her family is moving to Austin because her husband, Jerry, has found a new Job there.

With Warren leaving, the board will consist of chairman Joe Williams, Larry Betsinger, Ann Neiswender and vice chairman Pat Telson.

A replacement for Warren would be appointed by Gov. Bob Martinez after an official announcement is made on her decision to leave the board. The person Martinez appoints will fill the vacancy left by Warren until her term is over next year.

School board members are elected for four year terms. The salary for serving on the board is $16,458 annually.

Martinez has recently come under fire from State Education Commissioner Betty Castor for not appointing enough minorities to boards on the community college level. Williams said he doesn't know much about Martinez' record in connection with local school boards, but he believes Martinez' appointments on the community college level have shown a lack of concern for minorities in the decision making process of

Karen Coleman, Seminole Schools spokesman, said there has been no official announcement from Warren on her leaving. "I'm just as surprised about this as anyone," Coleman said. "I had no idea she was planning to leave."

Joe Williams, school board chairman, said Warren had told him she may or may not be

Chad Invades Libya

NDJAMENA, Chad (UPI) -Chad said today its troops killed 1,713 Libyan soldiers in destroying a strategic airbase in southeastern Libya and captured three East bloc military advisors.

If the casualty figures are true, it would be the bloodiest battle this year in Chad's effort to end Libyan influence in northern Chad. Chad had reported killing 1,200 Libyans last March 22 in capturing the Libyan airbase of Wadi Doum in northern Chad.

There was no immediate response on casualty figures from Libya. Chad and Libya are contesting ownership of the Aouzou strip, a 70-mile-wide swath of desert believed rich in minerals that runs 1,000 miles along the border between the two nations.

Chad said it captured 309 Libyans and two Yugoslavs and one East German, described as "mercenaries." They were the first East Bloc military advisers captured in the Chad-Libya conflict, although French officials have reported that Libya relies heavily on communist advisers.

The Chadian military said it destroyed 28 Libyan aircraft. including three Soviet-designed MiGs, four French-built Mirages, helicopters and other aircraft before pulling out of the airbase.

The Chadians also destroyed two air strips, eight radar stations, 86 land-rover troop transport trucks, 78 large trucks, eight batteries of SAM missiles and other equipment, the state-See CHAD, page 8A

A Seminole County fail in-mate's attempt to make coffee in his cell at about 10:45 p.m. Sunday brought out the Sanford Fire Department. But the blaze had already been put out by another inmate who put a flaming roll of tollet paper into Seminole County sheriff's arson investigator Barry Brady said Tuesday that inmate Richard Byrd Jones, 20, apparently set the tollet paper aftre and intended to used the blaze to heat water in a small milk carton to make coffee that had been hoarded from the jail supply. Inmates are not allowed to make coffee in their cells, although cigarette smokers are allowed to have matches, Brady said.

A jail guard spotted the fire and ordered another inmate, Sam linato, to extinguish the fire. The burning tollet paper was thrown into a tollet, Brady said. Sanford firefighters arrived to find the fire under control. There was no damage and inmates were not evacuated from that area of the fail.

Brady said since the intent of the fire was not to cause harm, if charges are filed the charge will probably be one of culpable negligence.

Mayor Ed Myers said, "I see no reason we can't adopt this budget we have here, he (City Administrator Ron Waller) has made the changes we asked for on Aug. 11." The commissioners approved the revised budget proposal by consensus.

The budget calls for a real and personal property tax rate of $3.15 per thousand assessed property valuation, up 8.6 percent, or 25 cents, over the old $2.90 rate. The 86-87 fiscal year general fund budget was $4.1

There was no confirmation from Kuwalt of Baqeri's

College Education Costs Go Up, Up!

Staff And Wire Reports
The College Board released the first in a series of college cost indexes today and said it had licensed a bank to issue certificates of deposit with interest rates tled to the new measure of college expenses.

The board, a non-profit educational association, said its first index, the annual Independent College 500 Index, will measure average expenses for full-time freshmen at 500 four-year independent colleges and universities with the highest fixed charges for tultion, fees, room and board.

Freshmen at such colleges will pay an average $11.312 for the 1987-88 school year, a one-year increase of 7.39 percent from the previous year, according to the board's index.

Freshmen at Stetson University will pay $9,990 this year for tuition, fees, room and board, and books, an increase of about 9 percent from the previous year, according to an admissions official.

Rollins College students will pay $13,295 this year for their college expenses. Paula Simmons, a secretary in the admissions office at Rollins, said she did not have last year's figures, but "there is usually a 5 to 6 percent increase (in college costs) each year."

At the University of Central Florida students who live on campus and are Florida residents will pay about $3,900 for their college costs. Non-residents will pay $6,500 per year for tuition, fees, room and board. and books. Betty Lieble, admissions operater at UCF, said all college costs at the university remained the same as last year except for tuition, which increased 5 percent.

Florida residents who attend Seminole Community College and take 12 hours a semester spend about $950 per year for tuition, fees and books. Nonresidents at SCC spend about $1,360 in college costs per year. The figures for all students at SCC repesent a 5 percent increase over last year's college

The board said cost indexes for other types of colleges, such as public four-year or two-year schools, will be issued in coming months, said Haskell Rhett, College Board vice president for Student Assistance Services.

The board said it licensed the College Savings Bank of Princeton, N.J., to Issue Insured

The College Savings Bank provided an example of how the family of a 5-year-old might use CollegeSure CDs to build a nest

The family could buy four CollegeSure CD units keyed to the IC 500, one to mature in each of the four years the child attends college. A unit bought today to cover the 2000-2001 school year would cost $14.570.39 and one for 2001-2002 would be $14.845.31. The cost for four units would be $59,951.90.

The bank said that if the 10 percent annual college cost inflation of the 1980s continues. the total expenses for the class of 2004, the hypothetical class of today's 5-year-old, could exceed $181,000.

The College Savings Bank expects to sell the CDs in units with the guarantee that each unit at maturity will pay for at least the average cost of one year at a four-year private college, as measured by the IC 500 Index.

Solitary Confinement Justified, Officials Say

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) - State criminal, did go to court after a prison officials say keeping Florida State Prison inmate Robert Sheley in solitary confinement is necessary even though he has spent nearly 13 years alone in a cell smaller than the bathrooms of most homes.

It was the most time spent by a Florida inmate in isolation ever, officials said.

Department of Corrections officials have said the isolation, or 'close management," was appropriate because Sheley kept trying to break out of prison and. in fact, did escape from Union Correctional Institution in 1974.

The 11th U.S. Court of Appeals in Atlanta, however, ruled last month that Sheley's 12year, 256-day stretch in isolation structed a federal district judge to hold a hearing and decide whether it was constitutional.

Sheley was placed in an FSP isolation cell on June 27, 1974. the St. Petersburg Times reported Monday. He wasn't released into the general inmate population until March 10, 1987, after he had won a court-ordered attorney to pursue a handwritten brief he had filed challenging his isolation.

He went back into solitary confinement in June after FSP corrections officers discovered tools for an escape in his regular cell. The prison system may argue that the appeals court ruling is moot because of the new disciplinary violation, although that hasn't been decided.

"I never realized I'd be in there (solitary) for 13 years because nobody else had been there that long." Sheley told the Times. "I always thought it (release) was right around the corner. So I waited and waited and waited. I figured that before I could get any relief in court, I would be out. So what's the sense in filling.

Sheley, a 48-year-old career decade in isolation. His handwritten complaint was rejected by a Jacksonville judge in 1984. but the case went up to the Atlanta appeals court and Sheley got a court-appointed lawyer, Timothy J. Corrigan.

Corrigan got the appeals court to kick back the case to Jacksonville, where additional hearings are scheduled. He hopes the federal courts will order changes in prison system rules and procedures for isola-

"If a person to held for extended periods of time, there should be a greater review period." he told the Times. "

During his 13 years in isolation. Sheley was denied a radio or television set. He could see visitors only one hour a month. He was taken out of his cell only once every other day, for a shower.

Sheley was sentenced to life in prison in 1973 for robbing a Miami jewelry store and carrying a firearm during the offense. He escaped from Union Correctional on Feb. 27, 1974. Two weeks later, Florida Highway Patrol troopers stopped him in a stolen ear on the Florida Turnpike. He was captured after a shootout.

He tried to escape a short time later from the Osceola County Jail, and then from Shands Teahing Hospital in Gainesville where he was being treated from ; a wound he suffered during the shootout with troopers. He was ! sent to FSP at Starke and put in ! isolation, where he continued escape attempts, prison officials :

Press Ahead On Arms Accord

"We are near an historic agreement," President Reagan said in Los Angeles the other day, the same day that West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl helped bring East and West even closer to the first U.S.-Soviet arms-control accord in nearly a decade. Kohl's decision to dismantie 72 Pershing 1A missiles in West Germany removed one potential stumbling block; the Reagan administration's stated willingness to be more flexible on verification procedures promises to remove another.

Despite reservations expressed by Republican presidential candidate Jack Kemp and other American conservatives, and despite the uneasiness of European NATO governments over the possibility that intermediate-range nuclear missiles, or INF, will be eliminated from Europe, President Reagan should press ahead.

An INF agreement of the type now on the table at Geneva would be the first to begin chipping away at the huge NATO-Warsaw Pact confrontation in Europe: it would put a conservative U.S. administration behind arms control; it would improve the U.S.-Soviet political climate, and it would pave the way for progress on even more significant arms-reduction agreements. It's Ironic that domestic political considerations prompted the West German chancellor's initiative — along with a desire "to help the American president to successfully conclude the Geneva arms talks." The opposition Social Democrats had called for a special session of Parliament Sept. 2 to debate the missile issue; they hoped to use the debate to generate trouble for Kohl's centerright coalition before important regional elections next month. Kohl's move, in effect, defused a gathering political storm.

Domestic politics also colored President Reagan's Wednesday remarks. Along with his confident prediction that an arms-control agreement is imminent, the president included his customary rhetorical missiles aimed at the Soviet Union - though they were muted. They were included, no doubt, to mollify those American conservatives who are increasingly restive over talk of peace in Central America and agreements with the Soviets.

We take the president's muted Russkybashing as an obverse sign that the administration is indeed serious about concluding an arms-control agreement. The president seems ready to resolve the one final problem standing in the way, that of verification. Now that the Soviet Union has agreed to no missiles in Europe — a zero-zero condition that is easier to verify than the previous position of retaining 100 on each side - the president has dropped some of his more stringent verification requirements.

Verification, of course, is a serious issue, and procedures must be considered carefully. But administration officials now seem confident that differences can be resolved without compromising the security of either country. We're confident that an agreement that begins the necessary task of gradually dismantling the dangerous military confrontation in Europe is in everyone's interest. We hope that now the path is clear for a final arms-control agreement.

WASHINGTON WORLD

Coming Soon: World's Biggest Poker Game

By Eliot Brenner

WASHINGTON (UPI) - In about a month, probably in an ornate room just off the Senate chamber, about 40 members of Congress will deal the first cards in a $1 trillion legislative

It will be time for what is becoming one of Capitol Hill's newest rituals. It is forced on Congress by the fact there are literally hundreds of competing interests all after a piece of the pot. and the growing inability of legislators to wrap up in time all the spending bills needed to keep the wheels of government grinding away at the start of the new fiscal year, Oct. 1.

Around a series of tables joined together to form a huge rectangle - with the staff crammed into folding chairs packed against the wall behind them - the members will start work on the "continuing resolution," otherwise known as the "CR" in legislative shorthand.

It is the taxpayers who pay into the pot, but it is the senior members of the House and Senate appropriations committees who make the bets.

Because none of the 13 regular appropriations bills have passed by both the House and Senate and received a presidential signature, increasingly Congress is turning to this massive vehicle at the end of the fiscal year. The key elements of all 13 bills are packaged into a single bill, and the price tag equals the federal budget.

And not only is the game played at the table. there's a long-distance game of showdown going on between those at the table and in the White

Typically any number of things - from a wasteful water project to an arms control provision - can prompt the threat of a veto from the White House, which keeps a close eye on the chips on the table to see if the stakes are getting too high for the president's liking.

While the game is going on, if Oct. 1 has come and gone without a final package being adopted - and that is likely to happen this year members who are not in on the game will be called upon several times to pass stop-gap spending bills to keep the government operat-

Sometimes they get one passed quickly enough. Sometimes they do not, and when that happens, expect federal employees to get all or part of the day off, courtesy of congressional wrangling.

The game is not always played at the table. Quite often it floats about Capitol Hill, as the key players break off into subcommittees dealing with specific areas - defense for example - and retreat with their aides to make their trades out of public view. All the while, out in the hallway that leads up to the Senate chamber, agency and industry lobbyists with a stake in particular programs await the outcome or the chance to buttonhole a player and plead a program's case.

Each day's game runs long - sometimes 18 hours or more with meals almost an afterthought for exhausted staffers and members and the pressure can be intense. No member wants to hang around Washington any longer than necessary.

No one expects Congress to be perfect.

But the way the system of appropriating has evolved in recent years, the entire process of deliberating the merits of programs has been compressed into a marathon game that leaves the players near exhaustion.

JEFFREY HART Massive Firepower May Work

According to figures I have carefully analyzed, the United States is now deploying in the narrow waters of the Persian Gulf more fire-power, naval and air, than we deployed during the entire length of World War II everywhere. The big question, however, is whether this enormous deployment has a rationale behind it.

In World War II, our deployment of forces was serious. The ships went out to "hunt and kill" the Japanese navy, and indeed they did. But the ayatollah's government thinks we are bluffing in the gulf, and though he is not quite sure that he's right, he probably is.

The way you test a bluffer is incrementally, and that is what the Iranians are doing. You float out some antique mines. Then you wait. And if nothing happens, you send out some more. Then you put on movies in Teheran to screaming patriotic audiences showing PT boats speeding on suicide attacks against U.S. vessels. But they aren't suicide attacks. The big Western 'Satan'' does not move a muscle. He marches his forces up the hill, and then back down the hill.

The rationale for tentativeness in dealing with Iran is perfectly clear, and one knows all about the debates within the National Security Council and within the higher echelons of the State Department. Iran occupies a highly strategic lecation, geographically. Its population, resources, and fanaticism offer dire threats to its neighbors. The Soviets have an interest in the region, and had moved into northern Iran in 1946, only to be expelled by Truman with dire threats. When the nationalistcommunist Mossadegh regime threatened our interests there, Eisenhower installed the Shah. President Carter flunked the test, when the Shah was toppling, by not having a back-up candidate. We got the ayatollah, instead of some decent pro-Western Iranian general, who would have been a transitional figure on the way to a civilian

So, now, with that history of weakness and lack of purpose, what we are now looking at is war.

The frantans are taunting us, advertising the fact that their fishing boats are really mine-layers, turning their "martyr" speedboats into national gestures of Islamic heroism. But the Soviets have their own internal Islamic problems, and no interest in encouraging fanatics in the gulf.

DICK WEST

All That Garbage

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Now that New York's wandering garbage barge finally found a dumping ground - in Brooklyn, of all places – perhaps a similar fate awaits a "pirate" radio station operating from a ship off Long Island.

This is not to suggest there is anything trashy about the station's rock 'n' roll format.

But if the ship's musical tapes and records were loaded onto a barge with the expectation of disposing of them elsewhere, something similar might happen.

Other states and nations have a duty to protect their environments against undue pollution, don't they? The amount of pollution of the airwayes depends, some purists say, on whether the ship played "hard" rock music. But since I never heard a rock tune I considered "soft." that contention stirkes me as problematical. if not downright moot

Anyway, it was good to hear the gar-barge found a home after a 6,000-mile odyssey - if such a fragrant word can be used in connection with the transportation of so malodorous a cargo.

Never mind that five states and three foreign countries up and down the East Coast refused the cargo.

The barge set sail from Islip on Long Island, loaded with empty juice cartons, old tires, rock 'n' roll discs and other throwaway items. it returned to New York harbor after spending 155 days hunting for an alten landfill.

Arrangements finally were made for a Brooklyn incinerator to burn more than three tons of non-toxic waste and send the ashes on to an Islip landfill.

Can musical authorities swear that rock cmanations are non-toxic to human beings, particularly in the pelvis region? While the garbage barge was anchored in New York harbor after vain stopovers at North Carolina and points South, agents of three federal bureaus were boarding a ship off Long Island.

They accused Radio New York

International of operating without a license from the Federal Communications Commission. But maybe the agents just didn't like rock music The operators vowed to continue the screnade. Would it have made a difference if they had been broadcasting "easy listening" tunes or using some other format? It's sure William Shakespeare didn't have rock 'n' roll in mind when a referred to the "vile squealing of the wry-necked fife."

Rock bands seldom feature the fife, wry-necked or not. They apparently prefer the guitar and drums.

Nor was the Immortal Bard thinking of rock lyrics when he complained he was "never so bethump'd with words since I first call'd my brother's father dad."

Some of those lyrics are pretty raunchy, particularly when dear of brother's father is concerned. But most of the words hadn't been invented in Shakespeare's time.

And we know he hadn't been listening to a pirate radio when he wrote that a musician "makes a swan-like end." Not unless the ship's sound engineers are a lot better than those with FCC licenses.

SCIENCE WORLD Whence Come The Lonely

By Larry Doyle UPI Science Writer

CHICAGO (UPI) - Eleanor Rigby may live all alone and put on the face she keeps in a jar by the door. but with deference to Lennon and McCartney, she may not be lonely at all.

At least that's what the latest rescarch seems to indicate.

Loneliness, once found deep in the soul of the poet or buried in the classified ad columns, is now being dissected with a precision usually reserved for the lonely hearts of frogs.

"Loneliness would seem like a very straightforward phenomenon. related to how much social contact a person has, but it's not," says Dr. Larry Mullins. "For example, we find that the people who are the least lonely are people who have no friends at all."

Mullins, a professor of gerontology at the Univerity of South Florida in Tampa, is particularly interested with the lonely elderly, a group whose social isolation and despair put them at special risk for illness and depression.

A 1981 Harris poll found that loneliness was a "very serious problem" for 13 percent of nation's elderly, and many believe it may be a primary motivating factor in e suicide, which accounts for 25 percent of all self-inflicted deaths.

At a recent conference of the special mental health needs of the elderly, Mullins and others discussed the newest findings in this burgeoning field. A study from Sweden, for example, found that lonely elderly are more likely to come from smaller households and to perceive their health to be poorer than the socially active - two not particularly surprising findings.

But loneliness researchers are also turning up some counterintuitive peculiarities.

U.S. researchers, for example, reported that socially isolated elderly people do not visit their physicians more often simply for the companionship, a popular notion often supported by doctor's anecdotes.

In fact, they are more likely not to see a doctor at all, although they are hospitalized more frequently and for longer periods of time than socially active seniors. The researchers speculated this is not because they are lonely but simply because they have no one to care for them when they become ill.

The Siren Call Of Home Equity Loans

By Jack Anderson And Joseph Spear

WASHINGTON - Home equity loans have become the cocaine of the financial world. They are the trendy way for American homeowners to keep up with the Joneses - at the risk of an addiction that can be as disastrous as a craving for the expensive white powder that brings temporary Nirvana.

The big trouble with home equity loans is not just that they are so easy to get in an era when real estate inflation has given many homeowners a paper profit beyond their wildest dreams. The big trouble is that these loans - If they are abused to the point where monthly payments can't be met - may cause a wave of foreclosures that will rock the American economy.

Consider that Americans borrowed $27 billion by means of home equity loans in just the last three months of 1986, and will probably borrow an additional $125 billion this year. With more than $4 trillion in private housing equity nationwide it seems likely that the market for home equity loans has barely been tapped.

Have American consumers gone on a sudden buying binge? Not really. The fuel for the boom in home equity loans was provided by the 1986 Tax Reform Act. The new law phases out the deduction for interest payments on consumer loans - except for interest on home loans. After 1990, taxpayers will no longer be able to deduct interest they pay on credit card balances. auto loans and other borrowing not backed by a mortgage on one's

But thanks to a truly revolutionary loophole, interest on home loans is still deductible - even on new loans that use the equity in an existing home as collateral. And the loophole didn't limit home equity loans to any particular purpose. As a result, these loans have been taken out for everything from medical bills to vacations in the Caribbe-

The banking industry was predictably quick to capitalize on the new version of an old form of credit. The bankers have enticed homeowners with low initial interest rates and disarmingly easy loan procedures. Once a homeowner goes through the minimal pain of applying for a loan, he can start borrowing - and start paying interest - as easily as he would write a check or flip out a credit card.

In fact, the rule for home equity loan applicants is a simple one: Buyer beware. Studies by Congress and consumer groups show evidence that loan hustlers are using dubious claims to promote their pricing and repayment require-

Two-thirds of the banks surveyed in one study said they demand full payment at a deferred date, while other lenders required only an interest payment during the loan term. Both set up a terrible crunch at the end of the term.

Few lenders offered fixed-rate loans, and 90 percent of the lending institutions refused to put a cap on the jump that interest rates could take in a year. These practices could throw millions of home equity borrowers into default practically overnight.

Another problem frequently cited by investigators is the "teaser rates" that lenders offer to lure borrowers, but which last only a few months and are superseded by ruinously higher interest rates.

"Current mortgage lending practices force consumers into a game of Russian roulette," a consumer advocate, told our associate Michael Binstein, "When interest rates rise, even consumers who thought they had shopped wisely can get badly burned."

The "red flags" that home equity borrowers should watch out for include closing costs and annual "fees," which can be excessive and will add up over the life of the loan; taking the biggest possible "line of credit." which you may never use. but which could inflate your closing costs and make you appear overextended when you apply for other credit; and the "payment shock" of a drastic rise in interest rates, which could send your monthly payments ballooning out of control

Scott Runs Fly Pattern After Waive Granted

Chuck Scott ran his longest fly pattern Monday - one which will probably make or break him as an NFL performer.

Scott, frustrated with a lack of playing time with the Los Angeles Rams, requested to be waived earlier this week and had his wish granted by coach Jehn Robinson Monday.

The former standout wide receiver and defensive back for Lake Howell High, was one of 12 players waived by the Rams to get down to the required 45-man roster. The NFL opens play Sunday.

'I'd rather either make it or not make it (with some other team)," Scott, a second round draft choice of the Rams two years ago, said. "I'm going to wait for a week to see if I get picked up. If I don't, I'll try to walk on at Tampa."

Scott huddled with Robinson last week and laid his cards on the table. Robinson told him that he would make the team as the fifth receiver, meaning he would start the year on the injured reserve list. He would languish there for at least four weeks.

"A lot of people think he's crazy." Chuck's father. Charlie Scott, said today, "He's giving up a lot of money ($200,000), but it just got to the point where he had to find a place to play."

Scott made The Sporting News' All-American Team as a tight end during his junior year for Vanderbilt. He had periodic shoulder injuries during the past few seasons, but he said he was 100 percent last season.

The elder Scott said his son performed well (three TD receptions) in Tampa Bay coach Ray Perkins' presence in a college all-star game. "He's hoping coach Perkins will remember that and give him a chance." Charlie Scott said.

Lake Howell's Silver Hawks, who posted the finest record (9-1) in the school's history last year and return many of those fine players, were rewarded by the Florida Sports Writers Association Monday night with a No. 6 ranking in the Class 5A Prep Football Poll.

Pensacola Washington, which finished 8-3 last year, was ranked No. 1. Merritt Island was rated No. 3 while Orlando Evans received the No. 5 slot.

Lake Howell opens at home with Apopka Friday. In other openers, Seminole hosts Titusville Astronaut, Lake Mary entertains Winter Park, Lyman journeys to Orlando Boone and Lake Brantley welcomes Oviedo in the first Seminole Athletic Conference game of the season.

Buccaneers Stick With 2 QBs, Cut Loose Shula

TAMPA (UPI) - Mike Shula was among 10 players waived Monday by the Tampa Bay Buccancers, leaving Vinny Testaverde and Steve DeBerg as the lone quarterbacks on the 45-man roster.

Shula, a 12th-round draft choice, was Tampa Bay Coach Ray Perkins' starting quarterback at Alabama for his final three seasons. After throwing a touchdown pass against Cincinnati in the exhibition opener, he did not play in the final three games.

Dan Land and Maurice Williams, free-agent guard James Huddleston, nose tackles Bob Nelson and Dan Benish, rookie punter Greg Davis, free-agent tight end Steve Holloway, free-agent linebacker Pat Teague and rookie wide receiver Gene Taylor.

Placed on Injured reserve were free-agent defensive end Thomas McHale (back), defensive backs Ricky Easmon (knee) and rookie Ray Isom (ankle), wide receiver

Bruce Hill (knee), a fourth-round draft choice, and second-year running back Quentin Walker, who tore an Achilles tendon.

Nine of Tampa Bay's NFL-high 20 draft choices survived the final cutdown and eight Buccaneers are currently on injured

On Friday, the NCAA ruled Sileo was ineligible to play for Miami this season because he had used up his five years of college eligibility. He was signed by the Buccaneers as a free agent and faces minimal competition at nose tackle.

Unkind Cut Arrives For Moore, Nathan

MIAMI (UPI) - Nat Moore, the leading receiver in Dolphins history, and Tony Nathan, the team's fourth-ranked career rusher, were among 13 players waived Monday as Miami reduced its roster to 45 players.

Miami also placed linebackers Andy Hendel and Hugh Green on injured reserve. Green injured his knee in the final exhibition game and the Dolphins said Monday the injury was diagnosed as a sprain.

Also cut were: wide receiver Stanley Shakespeare: guards Vernice Smith, Doug Marrone and Dan Rosado; nose tackle Mike Lambrecht; linebackers Tim Pidgeon and David Marshall: safeties Larry Griffin. Donovan Rose, and Liffort Hobley: and defensive end Thomas Strauthers.

The Dolphins kept on the active roster linebacker John Offerdahl and tight end Dan Johnson, both of whom will not be able to play for several weeks because of injuries. The Dolphins will place Offerdahl. who has a torn bicep muscle, on injured reserve Tuesday. A player placed on injured reserve before the roster is reduced to 45 players cannot play until the seventh game of the year. A player placed on injured reserve after the roster is reduced can play in the fifth game.

"Obviously, the two tough decisions were on the two veteran players. Nat Moore and Tony you're dealing with players who have contributed so much to your success over the years, its tough. There's no easy way. You just have to try to be as objective as you possibly can be."

Dallas Coach Tom Landry also said Kevin Brooks, the team's No. 1 draft choice two years ago. had replaced 14-year veteran John Dutton as starting left defensive tackle.

HERNDON, Va. - The Washington Redskins cut Curtis Jordan and Ken Coffey - the team's starting safeties last season - and nine other players, and placed four on injured reserve to reach the 45-man roster limit.

Becker, Mandlikova Become Open Victims

NEW YORK (UPD - Boris Becker traced his defeat in this year's last Grand Slam tournament to the first major event of 1987.

In January, after losing at the Australian Open, Becker fired long-time coach Gunther Bosch. After that, the two-time Wimbledon champion lost in the semifinals of the French Open and the second round of Wimbledon.

On Monday, the men's No. 4 seed was upset by 13th seed Brad Gilbert in the fourth round of the U.S. Open. 2-6, 6-7 (4-7). 7-6 (7-4), 7-5, 6-1. Also losing was Hana Mandlikova, seeded fourth among the women. Former men's champions John McEnroe and Jimmy Connors both advanced with little problem.

The 19-year-old West German said he split with Bosch because of "the way Gunther was going away from me, it was hurting

"From then on, everybody was kind of 'Let's see how you play without Bosch.' And the pressure was just too much. Everybody was waiting for the mistake and the losing matches.

Gilbert, who rallied from a two-set deficit for the first time in his career, trailed 3-1 in the third set. He then broke Becker's serve and added a second break.

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) - First-year Southern Cal Coach Larry Smith Monday found tradition a poor substitute for offensive execution.

"I'm a little uptight, a little angry." Smith said after losing 27-13 to Michigan State in his inaugural game as the Trojans coach. "It was not a lack of effort. It was not a lack of attitude. It was not a lack of preparation. It was a lack of execution on offense."

Southern Cal threw three interceptions and fumbled four times as Michigan State snapped the Trojans' 17-game winning streak against Big Ten teams. "If we make mistakes like that the rest of the year, we'll be-0-11," Smith said. Michigan State quarterback Bobby McAllister and tailback Lorenzo White combined for 277 of the Spartans' 341 total yards.

'Some guys were thinking this was an early Rose Bowl, showing that the Big Ten can be dominant over the Pac-10," Michigan State defensive back Todd Krumm said.

McAllister completed 10 of 15 passes for 103 yards and ran for 63 yards on 15 carries. White rushed 22 times for 111 yards and two touchdowns in passing former Southern Cal back O.J. Simpson on the NCAA career rushing list. White has 3,165 yards, 41 better than Simpson.

"Bobby McAllister showed me that he is very, very dangerous," Michigan State Coach George Perles said. "His running, his throwing is a very good combination. With Lorenzo back there, I think we've got a very explosive situation.

Wild Plesac Aids Toronto; Stewart: 19th

United Press International Milwaukee relief ace Dan Plesac let the Toronto Blue Jays stay in control of the American League East by losing control over his pitches.

Plesac wild-pitched home the go-ahead run in the eighth inning, allowing the Blue Jays to win their sixth straight game Detroit, which beat Baltimore

"It's probably the worst (outing) I've ever had in the big leagues," said Plesac, who leads the Brewers with 23 saves. "It was the first day in a long time where I was out there and really had no command of the strike zone, really had no idea where the ball was going."

Plesac, 5-6, walked Nelson Liriano to open the three-run Toronto eighth. Pinch-hitter Garth lorg followed with a double that moved Liriano to third. Lou Thornton ran for lorg and Tony Fernandez blooped a single to right, scoring Liriano to tie the score 3.3. Thornton held at third.

With a 1-0 count on pinch hitter Juan Beniquez, Plesac's pitch eluded catcher Bill Schroeder, allowing Thornton to score and putting Toronto ahead 4-3. Fernandez went to third on another wild pitch by Plesac and scored on a sacrifice fly by

"We've never seen Plesac be anything less than successful against us," Toronto Manager Jimy Williams said. "He's human just like the rest of us. He's a very good pitcher, his numbers indicate that, but he can have a bad day too."

Duane Ward, 1-0, pitched one scoreless inning of relief to get his first major-league victory. Tom Henke pitched two innings for his 32nd save, tops in the American League. The Brewers threatened in the ninth but were unable to score Henke walked Schroeder and surrendered a double to Ernest Riles. The right-hander then retired B.J. Surhoff, Paul Molitor and Robin Yount to end the Michael On Way Out: Vukovich Or Lucchesi?

CHICAGO (UPI) - Gene Michael's announcement that he does not want to continue managing the Chicago Cubs next year apparently will cost him his job for the remainder of this year. Michael, who announced his decision Monday, will likely be dismissed by the team Tuesday, sources said.

Michael's contract expires at the end of the season and he told a local radio reporter after the Cubs' 3-2 loss to Pittsburgh Monday he made up his mind last week not to return.

"About a week ago, I decided I didn't want to come back." Michael said. "The players and coaches have been outstanding. They tried hard and battle hard."

Cubs President-General Manager Dallas Green said he was not told of Michael's decision.

"It's nice he told somebody," Green said. "He didn't tell me." Sources told United Press International Green was upset about Michael's surprise announcement and that an interim manager would be likely be appointed to finish the season. Green had no comment on the report, the Cubs' flagship station, WGN radio,

John Vukovich, bypassed when Michael was hired in the summer of 1986 to replace Jim Frey, is the likely candidate to finish the season. Vukovich, the club's third-base coach, is also a top choice to manage the team next year. However, USA Today reported in today's edition that Green will replace Michael with Frank Lucchest, former Philadelphia and Texas manager. Green had said he would determine whether he would want Michael back at the end of the season.

I wanted to judge him on what he did on the final 40 games of the season," Green said late last month.

Scott's Mentor Vows Secret Pitch In Shirt

United Press International

San Francisco Manager Roger Craig, who taught Houston right-hander Mike Scott the split-fingered fastball, says the SAN DIEGO secret of his pupil's success Monday could be found in his shirt.

Scott retired the final 26 batters he faced and Glenn Davis broke a seventh-inning tie with a home run to lift the Astros to a 4-2 victory over the Giants. The loss reduced the Giants' lead to 4 1-2 games over the Astros in the NL West.

Craig and pitcher Mike LaCosa were ejected for arguing that Scott was defacing the ball.

"He was caught red-handed," Craig said. "He put something down his shirt. Two of the umps (Bruce Froemming and Jim Quick) saw it but said they didn't have the right to search him.'

Crew chief John Kibler said a "scraped" ball had been confiscated in the eighth inning.

"Roger came out and asked us to check the ball," Kibler said. "We found a little scrape. We warned him that if we found another ball with a scrape, he's done."

Scott, the 1986 National League Cy Young award winner. was a sub-par pitcher until receiving a course from Craig after the 1984 season. Since then Scott. 15-10 this year, has gone 51-28, but has been accused of cheating on several occasions.

"I'm used to it by now," Scott said. "I'm sure they did find a scrape on the ball. I threw it in the dirt a couple of times and Spilman fouled one off and hit a groundball."

Scott allowed three straight hits with one out in the first inning, but did not allow a baserunner the rest of the game. He walked none struck out seven to take the NL strikeout lead with 214.

LaCoss fell to 11-10. With the score tied 2-2 in the seventh, Glenn Davis belted his 23rd homer of the season to give the Astros a 3-2 lead.

IN BRIEF

Sides Not Close; NFL Players Reveal Strike Deadline Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) - The NFL Players Association today is scheduled to announce its strike deadline after receiving a contract proposal from management that its director says "didn't even come close" to addressing the players' demands.

The Management Council, the league's bargaining arm, Monday unveiled an offer featuring a roster increase of two players, "liberalized" free agency and improved pension benefits.

But union Executive Director Gene Upshaw said the 11-page proposal would not settle the contract talks. The union is scheduled to announce its strike date at a news conference Tuesday after a meeting of its Board of Player Representatives.

"There is nothing in there that I can see that's encouraging whatsoever," Upshaw said in an interview with United Press International. "This is a framework for settlement? I've looked at it, I've gone through it and I've read it and they didn't even come close to hitting the

The offer decreases the draft-choice compensation required of a team signing a free agent. But it denies the players' demand for unrestricted free agency without compensation or a team's right of first refusal.

LSU Jumps To 6th In UPI Poll

NEW YORK (UPI) - Louisiana State's climb from 10th to sixth in the college football ratings has made Coach Mike Archer wary of contentment.

"Last year, we beat Texas A&M in the opener, then we lost to Miami of Ohio," said Archer, whose Tigers smothered the Aggles 17-3 Saturday. "We can't have a letdown. I've got to stay on my players butts."

Archer, at 34 the youngest Division I-A coach, was elevated from defensive coordinator to replace Bill Arnsparger in December. He said Monday LSU was "very honored to move up in the poll," but added there's more to

While LSU climbed in the ratings by United Press International's Board of Coaches, Oklahoma maintained its hold on No. 1 by securing 744 of a possible 750 points and 44 of 50 first-place votes.

Nebraska, the Sooners' Big Eight foe, stayed at No. 2 with 646 points and one first-place vote. No. 3 UCLA and No. 4 Auburn both advanced a spot while Ohio State fell two positions to No. 5.

Gant Captures Gatorade 200

DARLINGTON, S.C. (UPI) - Harry Gant of Tayloraville. N.C., took the lead with 36 laps to go and won the rain-delayed Gatorade 200 NASCAR-Busch Grand National Series Race Monday at Darlington Internatinonal Raceway.

Gant, a regular on the NASCAR Winston Cup Series. passed Morgan Shepherd on lap 112 of the 147-lap race and held on for his second Grand National Win of the

The race was finished under a caution flag condition due to a blown engine on L.D. Ottinger's car with only four laps

Gant, who drove a Buick Apollo, collected $10,750 for his victory and completed the 200 mile distance at an average speed of 103.181 mph.

The race was originally scheduled for Saturday, but was halted due to rain after 13 laps and rescheduled for Monday.

Shepherd finished second in another Buick followed by Pontiac drivers Rusty Wallace and Neil Bonnett, and Tommy Houston in a Buick.

Roche Peddles To Third Win

VILLACH, Austria (UPI) - Stephen Roche of Ireland became only the second man to win three major cycling events in the same season.

Sunday's race began with thunder and torrential rain assaulting the wooded hills of the Kaernten region of south Austria and ended with Roche on the medal podium in bright sunshine with the World Championship title. He previously won the Giro d'Italia and Tour de France.

When we reached the last corner I thought: If I stay here I'm going to be fourth so I thought I must try something,' the 27-year-old said after the 171-mile race. "So I jumped. and I was surprised that I passed the line first."

Jones' Birdie Trims Lopez

SPRINGFIELD, III. (UPI) - Rosie Jones, dubbed one of the best "non-winners" on the LPGA tour, Monday beat one of the circuit's most consistent winners. Jones sank a birdle putt on the final hole to edge Nancy

Lopez by a stroke and capture the $200,000 Rail Charity Golf Classic. Jones, who finished in the top 10 in all the four major LPGA events this year, set up the dramatic finish by missing a number of putts earlier in the round.

"I had a lot of putts, lots of chances," Jones said. "I'm really glad I won by one, but I thought I could have won by

Stocks Open Lower

NEW YORK (UPI) - Prices opened lower Tuesday in active trading of New York Stock Exchange issues.

The Dow Jones industrial average, which fell 77.97 last week, was down 12.43 to 2548.95 shortly after the market opened. Losers led gainers 1,164-147 among the 1,621 issues crossing the New York Stock Exchange Turnover amounted to about 43.783,000 shares in the first half hour of trading.

Stocks retreated for the second week in a row iast week as dollar and interest rate worries gave the market its weakest showing since mid-May. The Dow posted a gain Monday but retreated every day thereafter as the dollar fell to its lowest level in three months against the West German mark and U.S. Treasury bond yields rose briefly to 9.5 percent, their highest level of the year,

Analysts said the intense selling of the last two weeks could produce a reactive bounce this week. "My short-term indicators show the market to be as oversold as it has been since the end of May when the April-May correction ended," said Al Goldman, technical analyst at A.G. Goldman.

Trade Deficit Worries Weaken U.S. Dollar

By United Press International

The dollar weakened against major foreign currencles Tuesday as traders worried about the upcoming release of U.S. merchandise trade figures. The price of gold was mixed.

The trade figures are expected Friday, and one analyst in London said the bearish sentiment on the money markets indicated dealers are convinced the report will show a still-widening trade gap. In Tokyo, the dollar weakened fractionally against the yen in the absence of fresh market-affecting news. . The dollar closed at 141.70 yen, down 0.10 yen from Monday's closing rate of 141,80 yen.

Dealers said market players reacted calmly to news that central bankers reaffirmed their decision on concerted intervention for stabilization of exchange markets at their meeting in Basel, Switzerland, Monday.

In European trading, the dollar opened in Frankfurt at 1.7910 leaving the county, but that she had not formally notified the school board of her intentions.

Warren sald she has not set an exact date for her departure, but that it will probably be sometime after the end of the semester. She thinks that will give her two daughters, Mandy, an eighth grader at Rock Lake Middle School, and Amy, a sophomore at Lake Brantley High School, a chance to make friends before the summer.

Warren has intimated she may try to make a stronger push for things she wants to accomplish in the school district before she leaves the board. She can now do that without fear of the consequences at election time. Williams said he felt one of Warren's major priorities has always been the support of the district's building program. "I would say this is one of the items that concerned her most." Willaims said.

Williams also thinks Warren will be concerned about moving closer to the completion of items on the boards five year comprehensive plan. Priorities listed for the plan include improvements in the areas of basic skills. general education, advanced knowledge and skills, occupational skills, and program development and implementation.

Moving back to Texas has been a consideration ever since the Warren family moved to Seminole County. They lived in Houston for eight years before moving to Central Florida. "Losing Warren is like losing part of the family," Williams said. "She was here when I started on the board."

"I would like to see someone with the kind of energy, in reference to working together. she (Warren) had with all of us." Williams said of the kind of replacement he'd like to see for the departing board member. "I hope the new person comes in with the desire to be a part of the

Although concerned about recent remarks critical of the strength of the board with Warren's departure by local media. Williams said the school board is a strong one. "I don't think that kind of rhetoric will dissolve or soften our (school board) ability to work together," he said.

Non-clients of the department will be charged $20 for the tests with results available in the normal time period, and an additional $20 if they wants results in 24 to 48 hour.

The testing is done on a confidential basis and clients are given counseling both before the test is given and after results are available.

The presence of AIDS aniibodies does not mean a person has or will develop AIDS. However, that person is capable of passing the virus on to someone else.

Dr. Deju said persons requesting an AIDS test can remain anonymous, however this does not preclude the health staff who care for them from being aware of the test

All tests performed at the clinic since they began last month have been negative, the commissioners will be told.

The charge for AIDS tests is part of a revision in fee schedules the health departmnt is recommending. A present $5 fee for children's immunizations is recommended to be eliminated because of a conflict in interpretation of the Florida statute regarding the authority to charge for children's immunizations.

Another change recommended include changing the name of the Teen Clinic to the School Health Clinic.

Offers Same-Day Service At Wholesale Prices

Sunshine Laundry & Cleaners

Sunshine Laundry and Cleaners, Inc., is a wholesale dry cleaner with wholesale prices. For instance, their shirt laundry launders shirts for 15 other drycleaners in the area.

Sunshine gives also its "off the street" retail customers the benefit of wholesale prices with same-day service on normal dry cleaning. They charge $1.50 per garment cleaned, bagged and back to the customer and 99 cents a shirt.

For a slightly higher price per garment, free pickup and delivery are available. All the customer has to do is to call 322-0522 to arrange for convenient pickup and delivery at residences and businesses.

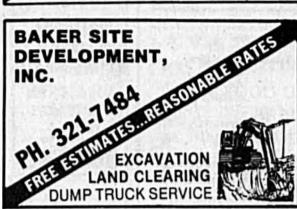

Some wholesale cleaners climinate the quality factor, owner Al Richards said, but this is not true at Sunshine, which offers the best quality at wholesale prices. Most of their 10 employees are graduates of the Central Florida Fabric Care Institute, which is an intensive care cleaning and laundry processing school.

Richards said the primary reason Sunshine can afford to offer such low prices is that it is located in a low-rent district of downtown Sanford unlike the shopping centers with high costs and rent. Most of their employees live in the area and can walk to work.

Previously known as Steen's Dry Cleaners, the business has been in the same location for 10 years and was purchased four months ago by the new owners, Richards, and his wife, Karen.

Sunshine offers complete dry cleaning and laundry service. They offer all types of starch and specialize in removal of problem spots. The have special equipment and chemicals to eliminate problem spots on any type of garment.
