"How best can I trade in my present car for a new car?"

WHEN you are ready to trade in your present car for a new car, you naturally want full value for your present car. But most of all you want full new car value.

It will therefore pay you to consider varying trade-in allowance offers in the light of these basic facts:

Your present car has only one fundamental basis of value: i.e., what the dealer who accepts it in trade can get for it in the used car market.

Your present car has seemingly different values because competitive dealers are bidding to sell you a new car.

3 The largest allowance offered is not necessarily the best deal for you necessarily the best deal for you. Sometimes it is; sometimes it is not.

4 An excessive allowalice that you are paying an excessive price for the new car in comparison with its real value.

First judge the merits of the new car In comparison with its price, including all delivery and finance charges. Then weigh any difference in allowance offered on your present car.

6 Remember that you are making a purchase-not a sale. You are buying a new car and simply using your present car as a credit against the new car's purchase price.

WEST POINT, N. Y., Oct. 20:-One of the big enigmas of the present football season is the army eleven.
