

Navy Jet Fighter Shoots Self Down

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Evening Sun said Thursday a new Navy jet fighter, flying at supersonic speed, shot itself down by running into cannon shells it had fired seconds before.

In a story by Donald Bremner, the paper quoted the Navy in Washington that the fantastic accident—first of its type in aviation history—occurred last month while a test pilot was firing new 30mm. cannons over the Atlantic Ocean near Long Island.

Bremner said test pilot Tom Attridge was making a series of diving runs Sept. 21 in an F11F, a new single-seat carrier-based fighter still undergoing tests by the Grumman Engineering Aircraft Co.

The article said the Navy gave this account:

The pilot's mission was to reach a certain speed and test the four cannons at that speed by firing them into the ocean.

He put his jet into a shallow dive at a speed of 880 m.p.h. Some 12,000 feet above the water and fired a four-second burst from his cannons. After a pause, he fired another four-second burst.

As he finished the second round of firing, an object shattered the bullet-proof glass in his windshield. Thinking he had rammed a bird, Attridge headed for the field at Peconic River near Calverton, L. I.

But unknown to the pilot, a second shell had pierced his jet engine which died, causing the jet to crash land in a woods a half mile short of the field.

The 33-year-old ex-Navy pilot was hospitalized with a fractured leg and three broken vertebrae.

The battered cannon slug was recovered from the jet engine-proof of what happened.

Sheriffs Bureau To Hold School

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The Florida Sheriffs Bureau has announced it will conduct its first general law enforcement school for sheriffs and deputies in the House chamber here Nov. 12-16.

Director Don McLeod said the purpose was to give these officers training in modern scientific law enforcement methods. Emphasis will be on criminal investigation.

In the class will be 21 new sheriffs—elect who will be named in the Nov. 6 general election.

On the closing day, Gov. Collins will present certificates to members of the class who successfully complete the course.

Members of the faculty will include special agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Asst. Atty. Gen. George Owen, state attorneys and solicitors and members of the staff of the sheriffs bureau and highway patrol.

Tax Council Agrees To Public Hearing

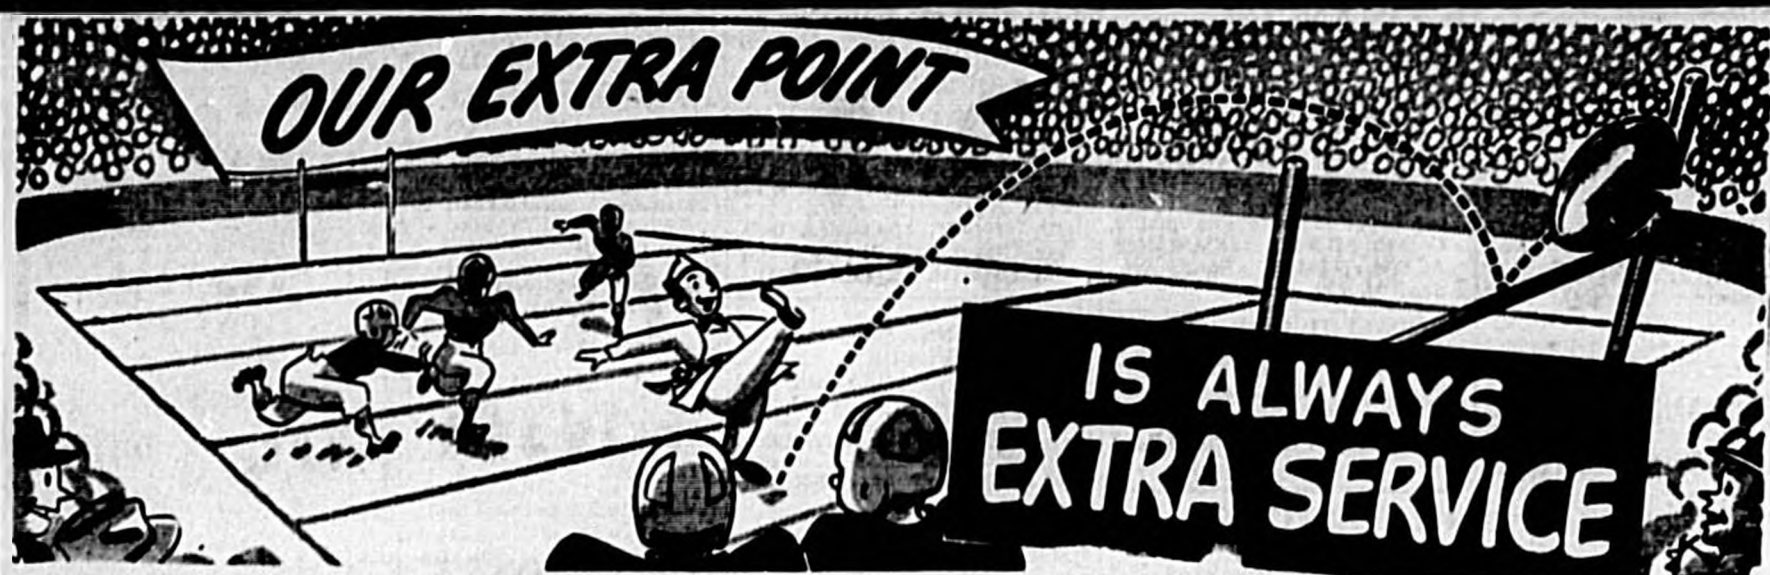

TALLAHASSEE (AP)—The Citizens Tax Council has agreed tentatively to hold a public hearing early in February before drawing up final recommendations for revision of Florida's tax structure.

The council expects to submit its report to Gov. Collins a month before the 1957 Legislature convenes in April.

Council members reported county tax councils are well underway with their studies in most counties. The small groups are due to submit reports to the state council by mid-December.

Ike, Council Review Middle-East Crisis; No Statement Given

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower met for two hours today with National Security Council expanded to include military and civil chiefs of the armed services, in a full-dress review of the Middle East crisis.

The session of the nation's top strategy board opened at the White House at 9 a. m. and broke up just before 11.

Presidential press secretary James C. Huzar, in announcing the end of the meeting, said he had no statement to make.

The Security Council never divulges its deliberations.

Eisenhower ruled out last night the use of American armed forces in the present situation brought about by the Israeli attack on Egypt and British-French intervention.

But the Security Council — the country's top strategic planning agency — has responsibilities reaching far outside the purely military into coordination of diplomatic and economic action.

British and French planes carried on nonstop attacks on Egyptian airfields today and Cairo announced attacking aircraft sank an Egyptian warship in the Suez Canal—blocking traffic and cutting off oil shipping to Europe.

Cairo said British and French warplanes sank the Egyptian warship Akka in Tinnis Bay at the mouth of the canal.

Britain and France launched military operations against President Nasser's regime last night with the declared purpose of protecting the Middle East Waterway from fighting swirling between Egyptian and Israeli forces in the Sinai desert.

The Egyptians gave out no official information today on the fighting with Israeli troops. But the Israeli claimed Egyptian troops were in retreat and would soon be cut off in the Sinai Peninsula.

Even before Egypt announced blocking of the canal, shipping was reported turning back from its approach because of danger from military operations.

Egypt asked other Arab states to block another source for Middle East oil—the pipelines from the main production centers to Mediterranean ports.

Egypt broke off diplomatic relations with Britain and France. Jordan broke relations with France.

Sanlando Flying Service To Open This Weekend

By MRS. RUTH LAYO

This weekend will mark the official opening of a new flying school, the Sanlando Flying Service, at the Slade Airport in Longwood.

Marshall Sherrill, owner of the Sanlando Flying Service, is a licensed pilot and has been a resident of Florida for the past three years and resides in Maitland. Sherrill's son, Marshall, 29, an Aeronautic Engineer Major at Purdue University, will also be associated with his father at the school. Sherrill Jr. received his pilot license when he was a senior in high school.

Roy Lasater, a native of Florida who resides in Apopka, very well known throughout Florida as a pilot, will also be an instructor at the school. Lasater has approximately 15,000 flying hours to his credit and has taught flying to Florida now holding pilot licenses. Also he has done much of the many of the folks in Central Florida photography that has been done through this section of the state.

Sanlando Flying Service will provide complete instruction starting with the initial ground training, then on to the plane and flying. A student must complete at least six hours of flying before being allowed to solo. Then upon completion of 45 hours of flying time, minimum required for a private license, he will be given tests as required. Upon receiving this license one may fly alone, carry passengers or fly for his own gain or pleasure. However, one cannot carry passengers or engage in any "for hire" activities with a private license. They must continue their training and pass the necessary federal and state examinations.

A designated instructor. Training for a commercial license is also available at the school.

A fleet of planes has been ordered for the school and by the latter part of November there will be three trainer planes available in addition to their other planes making the following services available.

Planes available for licensed flyers who wish to keep and increase their flying hours, also sight-seeing trips have been planned. Another service to be offered will be for grove-owners who would like an aerial inspection of their grove, also an exact tree count can be made. An accurate tree count is quite difficult to obtain.

Chase Re-Elected To Head State Highway Users

S. O. Chase Jr. of Sanford was re-elected president of the Florida State Highway Users' Conference yesterday at the annual meeting of the group held in Orlando at which about 30 persons were represented. Proposed restrictions on use of auto license tag money, which would make available an estimated 450 million dollars for highway construction in the next 13 years, will be discussed by various groups before the Florida State Highway Users Conference takes a stand.

They agree, it was said, in general with proposals for presentation to the Legislature but feel they first should be studied on a community level.

The conference represents 63 organizations, including growers and shippers, gas retailers, motel and hotel associations, auto clubs and industries.

One of the proposals was for a constitutional amendment prohibiting diversion of auto license tag money from highway purposes.

Tag revenue not allocated to schools is more than 20 million dollars a year in Florida, it was reported.

The proposal said "within the next 13 year period of the development of the interstate system and the constant growth of Florida, it is possible that this portion of the tag money would bring over 450 million dollars for highway construction."

Injunction Hearing Before Judge Today

Nov. 4-10 Named American Legion Week In Sanford

The week of Nov. 4-10 was set aside this morning as "American Legion Week" in Sanford by Mayor F. D. Scott as he called for "the citizens of Sanford to lend their wholehearted cooperation to the American Legion in its activities for the ensuing year."

Mayor Scott, as he proclaimed "American Legion Week" pointed to the origin of the American Legion just after World War I "dedicated to the preservation of the memories and incidents brought about by the association of Americans in the great war."

He also called attention, in the proclamation, that "among the aims of this great organization are to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States of America, to maintain law and order, to foster and perpetuate a one hundred per cent Americanism, to inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, State, and nation, to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses, to make "right" the master of "might", on earth, to safeguard and transmit the principles of justice, freedom and equality and to consecrate and sanctify their comradeship by their devotion to mutual helpfulness."

With Mayor Scott at the time the proclamation was signed was Post Commander Lynn Lyon and Service Officer Carlyle Housholder.

Commander Lyon said that the all-out membership campaign of the Campbell Lassing Post of the American Legion would be conducted during "American Legion Week."

"We are proud of the Campbell Lassing Post American Legion and its accomplishments," said Commander Lyon, "and through these accomplishments we have been able to serve the people of Sanford and this area beyond description."

The local Post Commander stated that "through our membership we are able to complete our projects through the cooperation of devoted men who know what deprivation means to those who need, and it is our hope that we will have the largest membership roster when the climax of American Legion Week is reached."

Post 53 of the Sanford American Legion has such a fine history of civic minded accomplishments, during its first 36 years that to attempt to record any concise record of all this in a short article is of course impossible.

The people of Sanford and Seminole County have, year after year, witnessed the Legion's generous contributions to the Red Cross, Salvation Army, March of Dimes, etc. And the young people of the community have felt the guiding helpfulness of the Legion in its work with the Legion Junior Baseball Team, Boy and Girl Scouts, The Legion's annual School Awards and Boys and Girls State.

Weather

Fair through Friday; low tonight near 60.

Local American Legion Has Brilliant History

The work of the Legion and its Auxiliary do in helping veterans and their families in time of distress is always unending and therefore not generally known.

The Sanford Legion not only is truly a servant of and for the people—The Legion aspires to train its members to serve this County faithfully in all fields of public endeavor and responsibility.

All anyone has to do is to look around him for young men, and often for an "oldster" who are accomplishing big things for better government, for men who are the leaders in time-consuming and often quite thankless philanthropic endeavors and the chances are that you will find the men and women you most admire were Legion trained.

The list naming such men and women in this community would be too long, for printing here. Suffice it to say, though, that Sanford Legionnaires are very prominent among those who make Sanford and Seminole County one of the better places in Florida in which to live and bring up a family.

The Legion's money which is spent upon The Legion itself ranges from nothing at all—to a very little. The Sanford City Commission and the Seminole County Commission, realizing this, has for years helped The Legion in every way that was properly possible to them.

Where does The Legion get all this money? Well, the main source of income is derived from the hard work of Legionnaires on the Seminole County Fairs. These Fairs allow local business establishments to advertise their products before the eyes of all the people of Seminole County—instead of just to the comparatively few who come into their places of business. And the Fairs afford the populace and their children an outlet for pent-up emotions and pleasure and thrills that their children will remember for months to come.

The number of years of Legion fair work represented by the Officers and Directors of the coming Seminole County Fair amounts to the surprising total of 32 years.

Yes—The Sanford Legion is truly the helpful friend and useful servant of all the people of Sanford and Seminole County.

A PROCLAMATION SETTING aside Nov. 4-10 as "American Legion Week" was signed this morning by Mayor F. D. Scott. Looking on was (left to right) Lynn Lyon, Post Commander of the local American Legion Post, Mayor Scott, and Carlyle Housholder, Service Officer of the Campbell-Lassing Post of the American Legion. Funeral Tomorrow For C. T. Kent Columbus T. Kent, 75, died at the Seminole Memorial Hospital at 10:40 a. m. yesterday.

He was born Aug. 9, 1881 in Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. Kent came to Sanford in 1919 from Atlanta, Ga. and was formerly employed as a machinist with the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad.

He was a member of the Baptist Church of Lake Mary and lived in Lake Mary eight years.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. J. W. Thraill, Wauchulla; two sons, C. T. Kent of Jacksonville, Lawrence G. Kent of Ft. Pierce; one grandson, Robert Kent of Jacksonville; one granddaughter, Lanita Kent of Fort Pierce; two brothers, J. E. Kent of Cocoa, and D. H. Kent of Atlanta, Ga.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a. m. tomorrow at Hrisson Funeral Home with the Rev. Ellenwood and the Rev. Gilson officiating.

Burial will be in Evergreen cemetery, Sanford.

Commission Aspirants Address Jaycees Today

Three of the candidates for the Board of Sanford City Commissioners is the City Election held Tuesday and a representative speaking for another of the candidates, appeared before the Jaycees this afternoon at its noon luncheon meeting.

In a broadcast of the Get-Out-The-Vote meeting held at the Yacht Club, the candidates presented their platforms in their bid for the three seats on the City Commission which will be decided Tuesday.

Those speaking in their own behalf were A. L. Wilson, incumbent, Earl Higginbotham, incumbent, and Merle Warner, speaking for Paul Yates, Jr. was Bob Holly, Yates, the publisher of the Sanford Journal was not present at the meeting. Holly is the editor of the new weekly.

Higginbotham declared that "I have become familiar with the operation of the city and have helped solve some of its problems. More problems are ahead that will help the city grow. I hope to be able to help in any way possible to get more industry, a good street system, a community center, and adequate parking space."

"For this reason," said Higginbotham, "I am offering myself as a candidate for reelection to the Board of Sanford City Commissioners."

A. L. Wilson, who was appointed by the Board of Commissioners to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of former City Commissioner Jack Ratigan, said "I landed right in the middle of power franchise developments, budget adoption, capital improvement program, which includes a Sanford Civic Center, new fire station and swimming pool, along with many other discussions concerning progress for the City of Sanford."

With the experience gained from these few months of rapid activity I felt that I was obligated to offer myself as a candidate to succeed myself and for the rest of the unexpired term," Wilson told the Jaycees and radio audience.

"I am vitally interested in the progress of our city and in the projects that are underway and in the future development of our possibilities and resources," he said. "These include a street improvement program, dock and terminals, a water tank for the south side of our city to take care of growth and I believe that these progressive accomplishments are possible with an aggressive City Commission who will work together to attain them without extra burden upon our taxpayers."

Merle Warner, Sanford service station operator told the Jaycees "One thing that I must emphasize is the fact that our city employees must be paid adequate salaries commensurate with their jobs. I

Cleveland Speaking For Board

"I think Mr. Steed has insulted the voters of Seminole County when he says they can't read the special referendum on harness horse racing and determine the difference between it and the constitutional amendments," said County Attorney Mack N. Cleveland Jr., representing the Board of Seminole County Commissioners this morning in a Circuit Court hearing requesting a restraining order on the special referendum to be held in conjunction with the general election next Tuesday.

Jerry Collins, operator of the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club, surrounded by a battery of attorneys heard Cleveland state statutes and describe the actions of the Seminole County Commissioners in the application by W. R. Kemp, president of Seminole Raceway Park, before the commission for an election to determine the ratification of the permit issued by the Florida State Racing Commission on Aug. 13, 1956.

Nat Turnbull, attorney for Seminole Raceway Park pointed out to Circuit Judge Vassar Carlton this morning that "Jerry Collins, sitting right there, was at the meeting of the Florida Racing Commission and was aware of the granting of the referendum on Sept. 4 of the referendum, but he has elected until this 11th hour to bring such litigation."

Attorney Mack Cleveland Jr. earlier told the court that absentee ballots have already been received on the special election, more are coming in and tomorrow is the last day they can be received.

The Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club was represented at the hearing this morning by W. J. Steed and Arthur Steed of the Orlando firm of attorneys Steed and Steed.

Steed, in a lengthy presentation of the 11 page complaint asking for a restraining order against the special referendum on horse track racing included a statement that "They (Seminole Raceway Park) could not be harmed because of the postponement for they do not have any racing dates."

The attorney representing Collins told Judge Carlton "If your honor will grant this restraining order we will go into final hearing within ten days."

Steed contended in his argument "The ballot is not a fair ballot—the law says it should be a special election—and it is now co-mingled with the general election and at the top of the constitutional amendments."

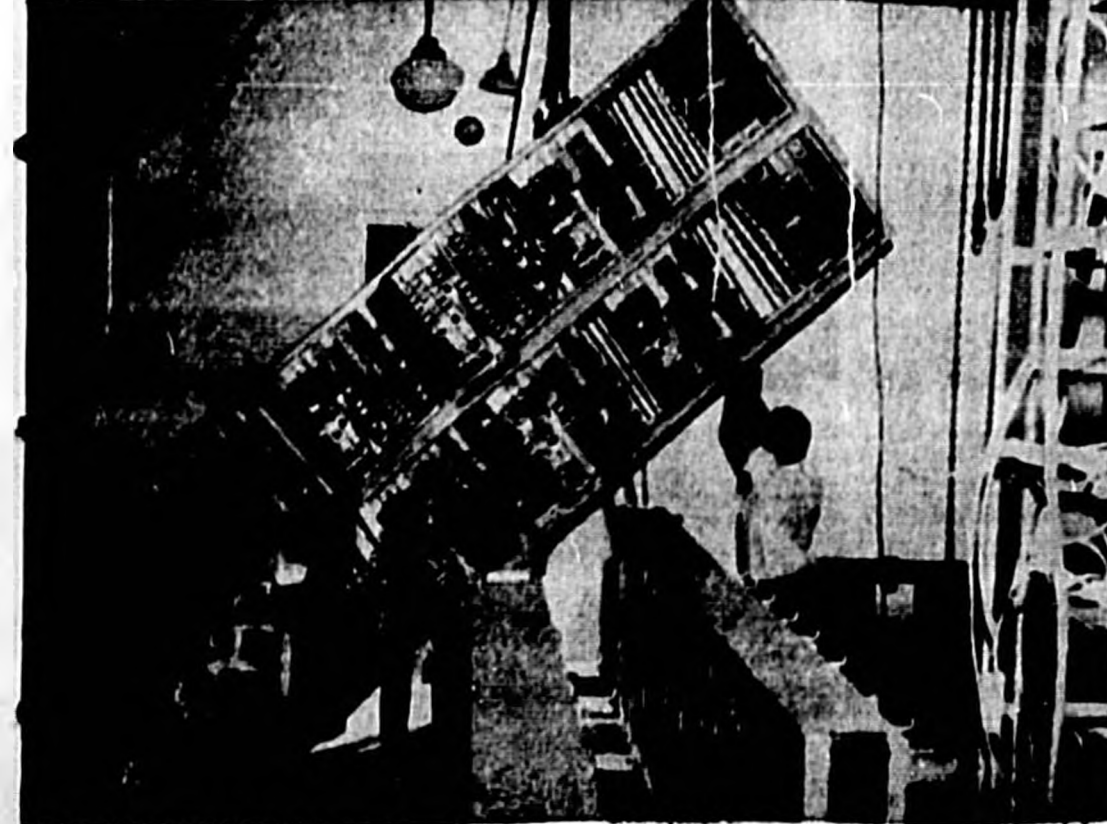

"We have statutory rights," said Steed, "and it is going to cost us some ten thousand dollars to try to defeat this election next Tuesday."

The hearing, requesting a restraining order already stated for Tuesday, was adjourned at 12:30 this afternoon and is being continued at 2 o'clock.

Judge Vassar Carlton is expected to hand down an immediate decision at the conclusion of this afternoon's hearing.

SENATOR SPESARD HOLLAND IS WELCOMED to Sanford by Senator Douglas Stenstrom this morning about 11:30. On hand to greet Senator Holland were Carlyle Housholder, James H. Lee, chairman of the Seminole County Democratic Executive Committee, Senator Stenstrom, Representative Gordon V. Frederick, Senator Holland, and John E. Lee, Democratic Campaign Chairman for Seminole County. (Photo by Jameson)

USE OF THE MANY "BAYS" of dial equipment being erected in the new Southern Bell Telephone Co. building at Ninth St. and Elm Ave. One hundred and eight pieces of similar equipment have been bolted in vertical position in preparation for wiring phase of the installation job. According to Gordon Rothermel, Sanford, — DeLani Group Manager, 67 Western Electric Co. employees are working on the job presently. The job is on schedule and service will be available on March 17, 1957. All telephone numbers will be changed to the new national numbering plan of two letters and five digits coincident with the beginning of dial service.

The Picture Of Health
By Robert A. Aron, M.D.
Thyroid Trouble

The thyroid gland plays an important role in metabolism. Its hormone, thyroxine, governs the rate at which the body will burn or store its food supply. The thyroid is located in the neck on either side of the larynx.

If the gland secretes too much thyroxine it causes "hyperthyroidism"; too little results in "hypothyroidism." Goiter is an enlargement of the thyroid gland. This can exist where the appearance is normal except for a full look around the neck and down the front of the chest. Goiters grow inwardly. A goiter stretching down under the top of the breast-bone for instance, can best be detected by a radiological examination of the chest.

Untreated goiters can lead to illness. Some doctors think they may be early forms of cancer. Or they may cause thyrotoxicosis. Here the goiter literally poisons the system. The patient becomes jittery, with muscle tremors, and tires very easily beneath his false energy. He will often break into a sweat; his temper shortens and he is apt to grow thin. His eyes may feel bulgy. Some toxic goiters produce heart symptoms.

Today four invaluable tools are used in the management of thyroid diseases: surgery, drugs, radioactive isotopes and super-voltage x-rays or Cobalt-60 radiation.

In testing the thyroid the radiologist now gives very small amounts of radioactive iodine to determine how much the thyroid gland will pick up. If it overworks the physician may prescribe a larger "cocktail" of radioactive iodine. The iodine will lodge in the thyroid and its radiation will slow the gland down.

The underactive thyroid in mild states produces fatigue, dry skin, and a tendency to gain weight. In more severe degrees, lack of thyroid produces a brittle, brittle, or mentally defective child and the myxedematous adult. Fortunately, both conditions can be helped by taking thyroid tablets. For these children whose glands reveal great immaturity, x-ray examination by the radiologist may be valuable as a check on whether the hormone is making the skeleton mature as it should.

MEAT BUYING

When purchasing large cuts, have a few chops or steaks removed for another meal. A pork loin, leg of lamb or rib roast of beef may have a few chops or steaks removed for broiling or broiling. This will save you from having too many leftovers and will also add variety in the use of large cuts.

MEAT TIPS

Ground fresh meat and variety meats, such as liver, heart and brains, should be stored loosely wrapped and for best flavor, should be cooked within two days after purchase.

Science Is Close To Control Of Cold

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—An official of the California State Health Department says science is close to control of the common cold.

Dr. Arthur C. Hollister Jr., chief of the Bureau of Acute Communicable Diseases, said the chief handicap of development of a cold vaccine is the many strains of virus involved in the cold.

"Many viruses appear in the laboratory when we start to take the common cold apart," Dr. Hollister told representatives of 150 southern California public health departments. "Where the polio vaccine had to deal with three strains, a cold vaccine may have to deal with as many as 10."

HE LOOKS LIKE WINNER

MIAMI (AP)—He looks like a winner to a Chicagoan who says he has conducted an unusual sort of poll every presidential year since 1916.

Art Briesa shoots off fireworks at state fairs. This year, Briesa said he has been projecting portraits of President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson and asking spectators to applaud their choice. "Everywhere, Ike's picture has drawn the most applause," he said.

Tholer, Miami, secretary; Margaret Henley, Tallahassee, and Peggy Yates, Sarasota, members-at-large.

All Are Agreed Southside Carnival Was Great Success

"Very successful carnival," "the children had a marvelous time," "there was a wonderful crowd." These are only a few of the opinions expressed about Southside School's carnival Tuesday night, but as these remarks indicate, everyone is agreed that the carnival was a great success, with children and grown-ups alike thoroughly enjoying themselves.

Also everyone seemed to think the Spook House, if it was not the most popular booth, at least it had the longest line all evening.

Several of the ladies who worked so hard to make the carnival a success were asked to give their opinions on the outcome of the carnival and here is what they had to say:

Mrs. W. R. Reed "Wonderful crowd!" "All the booths were very attractive!" "lot of children in real clever costumes!" "Spook house a real big success!" "two real good talent shows by Duxbury School!" "worth everything to see the thrill the children got out of the least little thing!"

Mrs. J. T. Nelson "lot of people there!" "Handicraft booth did real well!" "post office sold everything they had!" She also said that she thought there were even more people there than last year and that everyone had a good time. Mrs. Robert Stone "tremendous success!" "we certainly had enough cooperation!" "Fathers stayed till late at night and cleared up!" She said she certainly thought the fathers deserved a word of praise and thanks.

Mrs. Donald Jones "there was a very large crowd!" "quite successful!" "very nice for children!" "Spook house and train ride had longest lines!"

Mrs. R. C. Duncan "huge success!" "children and grownups had so much fun!" "children enjoyed the spook house!" "think carnival was more of a success this year!" "think post office was cutest booth!"

Mrs. T. C. Brown "real nice!" "wonderful carnival!" "everything went off so well!" "midway seemed more professionally done!" "spook house had longest line!" "train well-liked by children!" "lot of civic pride in this carnival this year!" "didn't think there were that many people in Sanford to come!" "hand real good!"

Mrs. Bill Southward "very successful carnival!" "children had a marvelous time!" "showed a grand spirit of cooperation, mothers worked together!"

Everyone also expressed the sentiment that they were glad it was over for this year, and now they can relax for a while.

By SARA KING

Have you heard or read about the controversial "Peyton Place" by Grace Metalious? We have it, but you read it at your own risk! It is a novel of life in a small New England town, baring the virtues and vices of the townspeople in clinical detail reminiscent of King's Row. An unbridled, penetrating study of human nature and the inter-relationships of the open and hidden lives of a small community.

"Glenport, Illinois" by Paul Darcy Bales is life of a midwestern town through the 20's and 40's shown through the eyes of dozens of its inhabitants. The main character, Tom Grayleaf, is a boy of 12 when the story begins. As he matures and his personal horizons enlarge, the angle of vision widens proportionately for the reader, until the community as a whole is seen in full perspective.

"Our Valiant Few" by Van Wyck Mason is a novel of the Confederate Navy and its desperate efforts to break the blockade that was strangling the South. Alisair Boyson, a Charleston newspaperman, was shocked to discover that the blockade runners upon whom the city was dependent were more interested in smuggling high-priced civilian luxuries than necessities and his investigation led him to some of the lowest and highest figures in the embattled city. A vivid picture of the Civil War South, bringing alive a lusty, brazen world, fighting desperately for its life.

The new Frank Slaughter novel brings him back to writing about Florida again. This time in the swamps and pinebarrens of central Florida in 1835. Under the leadership of the great Seminole war-chief, Osceola, the relations of the Indians and the white men exploded into war. Charles Paige, a blood brother to the intelligent and dangerous Osceola, knew of the encroaching white men, of the notorious "blackbirders" and of the government's efforts to force the Seminoles to migrate to Arkansas. He tries to save the situation with the help of a Major's wife, whose brutal husband, traps them and makes this a novel of passion and tragedy and in it Frank Slaughter brings another vivid chapter in American history.

Several good non-fiction are out for circulation. "Love or Perish" by Smiley Blanton; "Designs and How to Use Them by Joan Prohn"; "Underwater Skin Divers Manual" by Bill Basada; "Blind Piper" by Robert Standish (overly) takes place in the fast-rising Europe of the 1930's. It tells of a wealthy young American and the conflict brought on by his money, his ideals, and the girl he loves. In this exciting novel you will become involved in the war in Spain, the daring exploits against the Communists, black marketeering in a night club called the Blind Tiger, and a romance that traces its climax in France. The author knows so well.

Recommended reading are two mystery novels "Death of a Fool" by Ngain Marsh and "Die-hard" by Jean Potts a suspense story, also "Birds alibers Quarry" by Manning Cole.

Don't forget to read "Sun's Story" and "Don't Go Near the Water." And remember, don't get too busy to read a good book not only for relaxation, but so you won't get out of the "reading" for that's so easy to do.

Mrs. C. Ironside Will Speak At Meet Of Southside P-TA

The Southside P-TA will meet tonight at 8 p.m. Prior to the meeting, parents are to sign registers in the individual teacher's rooms. Guest speaker at the meeting will be Mrs. Charles Ironside, who has been a resident of Sanford for eight years. Her varied and extensive training plus the fact that she, through her work has travelled extensively, makes her well prepared to discuss the subject of Mental Health and Educational Frustrations.

Her education was started in Louisiana, where she was born and educated. She graduated from the Louisiana State Normal School. She also has several degrees from Teachers College, Columbia University in New York City, as well as a Supervisor's Diploma. In addition she holds a certificate as Guidance Counselor for the State of Florida.

At the period when her career started, teachers were promoted from grade to grade as their proficiency increased. As a result she has taught every grade in school from kindergarten to elementary grades, High School, and college. This profession has carried her from Louisiana to Mississippi, Connecticut, New York and finally Sanford.

While on one of these trips to Europe, in the capacity of a lecturer informing tourists of the historic background of the countries they were visiting, she met her husband, who was engaged in the same work as a representative from Scotland.

During the past thirty years they have carried on a mutual interest which comprises the collecting of documentary materials throughout the Museums of Europe and America for teaching the history of civilization.

Together they operate in Sanford a consultation service, assisting parents in understanding the abilities of their children.

Everything Done Concerning Present Conflict Will Involve Human Lives

The news of bombing, war, struggle and conflict has been reaching the ears and eyes of Americans during the last 24 hours.

We Americans often make mistakes because we view the problems of other countries within a limited narrow focus. We see the problems of other nations in terms of big political issues, especially in relation to that most vital issue, the struggle of the free world against the totalitarian world.

But if we interpret other nations and their policies solely in terms of this issue, we will make mistakes. And we will be reaching a point where mistakes can be a luxury most illly afforded.

In international affairs one must deal not only with issues but also with people. We in America — those of us living right here in Seminole County — do not spend all our days thinking and living in the big issues of the day. We strive personally; we give our energies to our work and our personal ambitions. We love and think of our families and the future of our children. We play. Similarly, the vast majority of other people are involved in the pursuits of daily life. And just as so many Americans judge policies and world issues only as these affect them and their dear ones personally, so do other peoples.

It is difficult to see clearly when one must keep in mind both dangerous issues and the fact that these are related to people who are flesh and blood and who have within themselves all of the contradictions, strengths and weaknesses which Americans possess. In saying this, we do not mean to weaken resolution, or to create any moods of apathy toward the totalitarian enemies of freedom.

Rather, we wish to think that all of us can deepen that resolution by reminding ourselves that everything we do concerning the big and menacing problem of our era

In a few years motorists will be able to follow routes through Florida simply by staying on roads marked with a particular sign color. Imagine the embarrassment if you lose your way when it's that simple. Following the green sign instead of the blue could really mean a red face.

Secret For Staying Young

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Famous folks often are asked what keeps them so young.

The secret of many seems to be—they don't always act their age.

Nothing really makes you feel and look older than your years than letting your calendar age put you in a mental straitjacket.

"When are you ever going to grow up," is a rebuke often heard from the liljoys of this world. I by growing up they mean when are you going to put away all childish pleasures and be deadly serious about everything, your answer should be a fervent, "Never, I hope!"

The trouble with people who always insist on being deadly serious is—they often become seriously dead before their time.

No one could say that statesman Winston Churchill, financier Bernard Baruch, architect Frank Lloyd Wright or Casey Stengel, the leading exponent of world championship baseball, haven't done well in their respective fields. But they are all young men. Why? Because each has kept alive in him a small boy's sense of fun.

The late Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, who quipped "Oh, to be 70 again!" had the same quality. So did genial Albert Einstein, father of the atom age.

The adult who feels he is wasting time unless he is always thinking high thoughts or doing important deeds is guilty of a greater waste. He commits a form of suicide. He murders the spirit of childhood in him, the child he once was and must somehow keep alive or else he'll turn forever old.

It works as simply as a formula—let the delight of childhood die within you, and you begin to wither, too.

And what does delight of childhood consist of? It consists of the feeling of joy you get in doing things, not because they are important, but because they are fun. Celebrities, when they aren't busy being celebrities, often relax in pursuits that seem childish to involves not only issues but also flesh and blood human beings.

The thing of war sometimes narrows our scope of thinking — especially thinking about those who are in similar circumstances in nearby countries where the rumblings of bombs can be heard.

We Need Industry

"What we need in this town is industry of some sort." We have all heard that statement or one like it a hundred times over. But how many of our rural communities are really ready to take care of a new industry? How many have facilities such as good schools, available housing, places for recreation, attractive shopping centers, and other things management looks for in addition to a factory site?

Of course, here in Sanford, we believe that conditions are perfect for industrialists — they have the finest community in the state to choose for their future business venture. But there are others, and from what we have read there's an opportunity to prepare ahead for what may come.

For instance—a program called "Planned Progress" which has been operating for several years in a three-state area of our country—is designed to help the smaller communities become more attractive places in which to live and work. It is sponsored by three electric utilities companies. They help organize the program, and provide coordination, advice, and the stimulation of cash awards to spark local effort.

Townpeople in more than 200 communities have participated in the program since 1952. Some of the things they have done include the following: installed new sidewalks, paved streets, made and installed street signs, carried on supervised recreation programs for children, campaigned for bond issues for improved schools and water systems, developed city parks and community centers, organized volunteer fire-fighting associations, and organized clean-up campaigns on a community wide basis.

To quote from an editorial written about "Planned Progress":—"Although it is not possible for an outsider to solve another community's problems, it's certainly possible for an outsider to help a community solve its own problems. And that is exactly the kind of boost we are getting from Planned Progress."

Counting major and minor party choices there are twelve presidential candidates this year. It leads to the conclusion that while every boy can't grow up to be president he has an excellent chance of at least being a candidate.

There's been a lot of political talk about balancing budgets. One housewife says time she hears about an unbalanced budget she thinks her husband has been talking about her again.

Information For Veterans

A warning to veterans and widows and children of deceased veterans receiving pensions from the Veterans Administration to report immediately any increase in income that would raise their annual income above statutory limitations was sounded today by V. S. Parker, Manager of the Passaic-Grille Regional Office.

To remain eligible for pension under the law, according to Parker, pensioners of World War I, World War II, and of the Korean conflict may not have an annual income from other sources exceeding $1,400 without dependents, or $2,700 with wife or minor children.

VA checks the annual income of those receiving pension through the medium of annual questionnaires which are distributed about Jan. 1 every year.

Later, if the person receiving the pension fails to notify VA promptly of an increase in income which raises his annual income above the statutory limit, payments will be discontinued retroactively to the first of the year.

This creates an overpayment, Parker said, and is subject to recovery by the Government.

If the person receiving the pension notifies VA promptly of such an increase, payments will be discontinued as of the date the last payment was made and the overpayment will result.

Parker said veterans, widows and children receiving pensions can save themselves inconvenience and possibly money by notifying VA promptly of any increase in income which would put them above the statutory limitations.

Pensions are payable to veterans for permanent and total disabilities of a non-service-connected nature and to the widows and children of deceased veterans for non-service-connected death, providing the applicants are otherwise eligible.

Parker said any VA Office can explain full eligibility requirements for pension.

Soil Conservation News

By BEN WIGGINS
Soil Conservationist, USDA

Sensing the need for expanding his dairy operations in Orlando in the latter part of 1950 Elbert Cammack began exploring surrounding territories. In the early part of 1951 he located and purchased approximately 400 acres of native prairie land three miles South East of Geneva. Portions of this land . . .

Chemical analysis was made of soil in the bare areas and the results showed that these areas contained high concentrations of chlorides. In fact several of these areas were over 2,000 parts per million of chlorides. After consultation with the technicians of the Soil Conservation Service and Experiment Station personnel a good drainage system was designed and staked out in hopes that our normal annual rain-fall of approximately 58 inches would leach out most of the chlorides in these areas. The system was constructed about four year ago and a periodic check is being made to determine the amount of reduction in chlorides. The results continue to show a great reduction in chlorides and to-day all of these formerly barren areas are supporting a thick sod of succulent pangola grass and White Dutch clover.

Approximately 160 acres have already been established to improved pasture grasses and clover ers and the balance is devoted to woodland, wildlife, and temporary range.

Cammack is a great believer in harvesting and feeding grass silage to his dairy herd. In fact he tries to have sufficient silage to feed his milking cows through out the entire year. Last year he cut his pangola-clover silage three times and averaged over eight tons per acre per cutting. He also managed to obtain considerable grazing in addition to the amount of silage harvested. At the present time he has two metal silos and a large trench silo filled to capacity. And there is still one field of pangola and clover, about two feet tall, to be harvested as soon as space in one of the metal silos becomes available. Cammack feels that his feed costs have been cut over 25 percent by feeding silage.

In order to obtain the maximum benefits from the improved pastures and also to keep the land productive a strict rotational grazing program is being followed on this farm. Liberal and frequent applications of lime and fertilizer materials are also being applied on these improved pastures.

Sanford Women Attend Meeting In Leesburg

Representing the Sanford Woman's Club Tuesday at the District 7, Florida Federation of Women's Clubs meeting at Leesburg were Mrs. F. T. Meriwether, Mrs. D. A. Gregory, Mrs. S. J. Nix, Mrs. Ralph A. Smith, Mrs. E. C. Harper, Mrs. H. W. Rucker, Mrs. S. G. Hartman, and Mrs. Stephen TerHofst.

The meeting in Leesburg was held at the Woman's Club Building.

There were 206 women, including two past presidents, representing 26 clubs and County Federations, registered for the event.

Mrs. J. F. Warren, Senior Director and Mrs. T. E. Triplett, Junior Director, both of Orlando, presided, and reports were heard from the Senior and Junior clubs during the morning session.

Also presented were Mrs. C. M. Washburn, Tampa and Mrs. Art Witmer, Lakeland, President and second Vice President of the State Federation and Mrs. Charles Campbell, Zephyrhills, State Junior Chairman. Mrs. Washburn said, "A nation's survival depends upon its ideals. These are of no effect without action. We must be mentally, spiritually and physically prepared to meet emergencies. Let us work up enthusiasm for the world at large."

"Let's develop leadership in our clubs. Leadership is known by the personalities it creates." She urged the members to know their State and General Federation policies.

Mrs. Witmer said she was dedicated to the purpose of a club in every village and asked the members to extend the Federation benefits over an increasing area. Mrs. Campbell praised the work of the Juniors in their support of the work of the Florida Farm Colony, Gainesville.

After luncheon was served at the club house, Mrs. C. L. Meuser, Jupiter, First Vice-President, called upon the chairman living in District 7. She announced contests in art, poetry and international relations and spoke of the General Federation's Community Achievement Contest, carrying a top prize of $10,000. She urged clubs to have more group singing, panels, pageants and plays.

Conning The News

By VIRGINIA CONN

Judy Smith entertained several guests for coffee Tuesday morning. The guest list has slipped my mind, but you may be sure it was imposing.

We attended the carnival at Southside Tuesday night, as did practically everyone else in town. The tremendous crowd cleaned out the booths, children of all sizes rode the ponies, the snapping turtle, and any number of assorted vehicles. The Spook House was high on the popularity list, as a weird creature sat on the steps collecting tickets. Glimpses in the crowd—Jean Fitton leading her little clown across the field; Mr. Harman of the Herald looking for a spot to focus his camera—Didie Weber, Fanchon and MacMac-Roberts, and Roy Symes standing in the middle of it all discussing golf and politics—Betty Guy and Ruth Norville picking up boats on the Fishpond—Kathy Bishop in the Fishpond line with her children—Jane McKibbin drinking coffee—Harriet Williams looking for John and John looking for Harriet—Shirley Perkins asking WHEN will you get more hot dogs? Olivia Simmons frantically having one of her children patted.

Seven Books Slated For Publication By Uoff Press

GAINESVILLE — Seven books dealing with gardening, fatigue, economics, poetry, dancing, Caribbean political problems, and Florida's native trees are scheduled for publication by the University of Florida Press this fall.

"YOUR FLORIDA GARDEN", by John V. Watkins and Herbert S. Wolfe, has been revised to include new information about fruits and 20 pages of new illustrations. The book contains factual information about every phase of gardening in Florida.

"THE NATIVE TREES OF FLORIDA", by Erdman West and Lillian E. Arnold, has recently been revised by the authors to include new data and new illustrations. This popular guide to Florida trees has already gone through five printings.

"NEW ANSWERS TO THE FATIGUE PROBLEM", by Adelaide K. Bullen, is based upon scientific studies of military and civilian personnel. The work discusses nervous and mental fatigue, and suggests means of combating job absenteeism.

"THIS CHANGING SOUTH", by John M. MacLachlan and Joe S. Floyd, analyzes Southern population trends between 1940 and 1950. The relationship of these trends to the economic and social development of the region is outlined, as the influence of race, sex, and migration.

"COVENANT WITH EARTH", a selection from the Poems of Law Saret, was selected and arranged by the late Law Saret's widow, Alma Johnson Saret. Carl Sandburg, noted poet, provides the introduction to his former prize-winning colleague's works. Six previously unpublished poems are included.

"GUIDE TO DANCE PERIODICALS", VOLUME VI, compiled by S. Yancey Belknap, provides a bibliography of the important dance publications all over the world. This work is intended to facilitate the search for information about a dance periodical or its contents.

The Sanford Seminoles JV's blanketed through for 19 points and blanketed the Seabreeze JV's yesterday afternoon in Memorial Stadium in a decisive victory to close out their home schedule for the season.

Crooms Takes On Eustis Saturday; Homecoming Game

The Crooms Academy Panthers, on the downhill skid for the last two weeks, will be trying to snap out of the sluggishness that has come over them Saturday night when they take on powerful Eustis in the Panthers homecoming game.

Head mentor Joe Fair said, "Something seemed to come over the boys these last two weeks, and their morale hit zero. But this week they seemed to have wakened up, and they've been vicious as always in practice."

The Panthers, 1-3-2 for the season, stand to win if they can play the spirited type game they played against the larger schools earlier in the season. "You can't blame the boys for wanting wins," Fair commented. "Sure, they did wonderful jobs in tying and holding the big schools to close scores, but the boys got dumps because they were always coming out second best. I think they'll come through for us Saturday night."

FSU Going After Main Objective, To Beat UofM

TALLAHASSEE — Florida State University's rising football team goes after one of its longstanding major objectives Friday night in the Orange Bowl—to beat the University of Miami.

The other major objective is and has been to defeat the University of Florida. They won't get a chance to fulfill that one until November 22, 1956.

The Seminoles have failed in three previous appearances in the Orange Bowl, and none of the previous games have been close. The scores were: 34-0 (1953), 27-0 (1953) and 28-13 (1951).

"Miami looms as by far the strongest team we've met this season," says Seminole coach Tom Nugent. "Their defense particularly will be the best we've faced yet."

The Tribe coach is especially worried about the Hurricanes' passing attack, and again in particular Bonnie Yarborough.

"We expect Miami to throw the ball a lot despite the fact that they have that big fullback Rossler," Nugent commented.

"Yarborough will be the only left-handed passer we've faced all year, and we think he's coming into his own now. They've got a big, tough line, particularly strong defensively," the Tribe coach added.

Yarborough proved he deserved the notices about coming into his own when he passed for the first Miami touchdown in their 14-0 triumph over Texas Christian last Saturday.

Nugent praised specifically the line blocking in the Seminoles' 20-13 win over Villanova Saturday night in Philadelphia.

"I guess I'd have to say that was our best blocking of the season," he commented after the game. "We did just as good a job blocking against Ohio, but Villanova is a much bigger and better football team than Ohio."

Junior guard Bob Elliott from St. Petersburg received special praise from Nugent for his play in the Villanova contest.

"Elliott was the standout defensively on the whole ball club, but I thought the whole team did a wonderful job," Nugent said. "I may use Elliott defensively on the first team in the future, though it's a toss-up between him and Leo Baggitt."

Nugent also thought Al Pacifico, who was one of the game captains, played his best game of the season and had praise for Ronnie Schomburger and Joe Holt among others.

Seminoles May Change Friday Night's Lineup

The Sanford Seminoles, eager for the taste of a win, have tapered off their scrimmages for the week, and there is some hint that there will be some changes in lineup for the game with New Smyrna Beach Friday night.

The New Smyrna Beach club, always a scrappy club, will be up for the game also, and it shapes up to be a battle down to the wire. NSB shows a better record than the Seminoles — they have dumped Bunnell and Crescent City while losing to Winter Park, Apopka, and DeLand — while the Seminoles are winless for the season.

The personnel of the New Smyrna Beach club will be stronger than last year. Besides sporting a 250 pound tackle, Lindsey Carr, NSB's outstanding end last year will head the host of returning lettermen, including Ed Shipman, hard running fullback.

"A lot of new faces will see a lot of action Friday night," head mentor Bill Fleming promised. "We're going to use many of our reserves, and see what they can do for us."

The Seminoles spent most of the week working on defense—particularly the ends—and the offensive scoring punch. Yesterday practice ended early and the teams went to Memorial Stadium to watch the JV's defeat the Seabreeze JV's. Today the practice will be held sans pads. "We're at full strength with the exception of Al Stanley," Fleming said, "and we're not taking chances of a late injury that could hurt us badly."

Florida Frosh Bow 27-13 To Hurricanes

By JAHNNY JONES
Florida's freshman Gators scored a quick touchdown on the opening series of plays, but could not hold on as Miami's frosh rolled to a 27-13 victory in the Orange Bowl Friday night.

The loss was the Florida freshmen first since 1950, which also came at the hands of the Hurricanes by a score of 20-7.

Miami scored three touchdowns in the first period of play and led 20-7. Florida came back in the second quarter and scored again as Halfback Jack Westbrook took the ball over from seven yards out. This ended the first half with Miami leading 20-13.

Miami pushed over their final touchdown in the third quarter — a 81-yard drive. Florida dominated the last quarter, but over-aggressiveness cost the Baby Gators two touchdowns, one on a plunge by Giles, which was nullified by a penalty, and the other on a fumble.

Halfback Clive Yates, formerly of Miami Edison, and guard Vic Miranda of North Miami, were both standouts for the Gator freshmen along with Sonny Giles, Dick Pojeay and Jack Westbrook.

The Gators racked up 14 first downs to Miami's 12 and outgained the Hurricanes on the ground, 210 yards to 159. Miami gained 288 total yards to Florida's 253, outpacing the Gators 129 to 45.

Barrow, Eaton Are Out 'Indefinitely'

By JOHNNY JONES
Grid captain John Barrow, who dressed but saw no action against L.S.U. Saturday, will be out of action indefinitely, according to trainer Sam Lankford.

Barrow's injury is a cracked rib, and although it is not serious, it will be enough to keep him sidelined for a while, despite one newspaper report that he will play against Auburn Saturday. His injury was kept secret for as long as possible before the LSU game to keep the Tigers from adjusting their strategy to the change.

End Jim Eaton sustained a knee injury during the LSU game and will also be lost to the team indefinitely, according to trainer Lankford.

Sears Leads In Individual Running

GAINESVILLE — Fullback Ed Sears boomed his way for 80 yards rushing against Louisiana State last Saturday and jumped from third to first place in Florida's individual running department.

A member of Florida's Orange team, which alternates with the Blue team, Sears moved out in front of the Blue's Joe Brodsky, also a fullback and last week's leading ground gainer.

Sears has run for 200 yards on 45 carries for an average of 4.4 yards per carry. Amazing fact is that he has not been thrown for a loss this season.

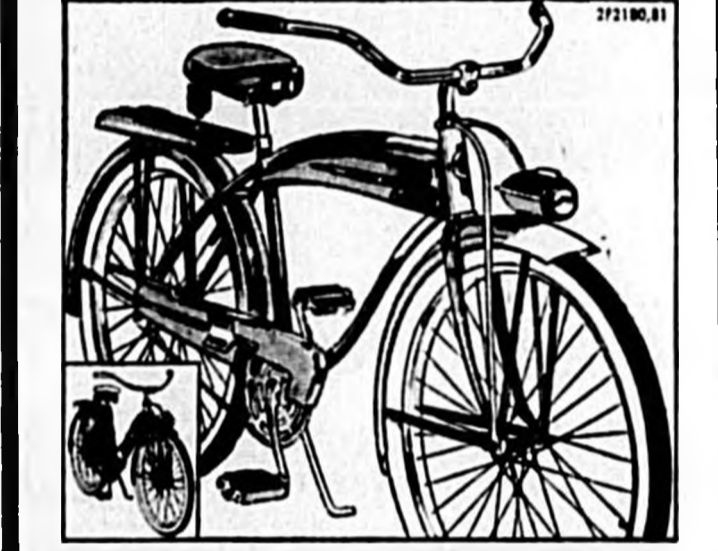

Brodsky has run 19 times for 183 net yards, an average of 3.7 yards per carry. Three other Florida players have rushed more than 100 yards. They are Jim Rountree, 160, Jackie Simpson, 138 (another who has not lost a yard this season), and John Symank, 117.

Quarterback Jimmy Dunn surged well ahead in passing, following his fine performance against LSU. Last Saturday he threw 10 times, completing seven, bringing his season's total to 227 yards gained passing. He has completed 19 of 22 throws for 34.5 percent age completions.

Rountree tops the team's receivers with five catches for 90 yards. And a touchdown. Ends Bobby Burford and Jim Yeats have each caught three, Burford for 61 yards total and one touchdown and Yeats for 34 yards total. Symank has snared five passes for 23 yards gained.

Quarterback Harry Spears brought his punting back up into national ranking figures this week. He has punted 17 times for an average of 40.1 yards. Spears punted twice against LSU for a 46.0 average. Quarterback Jon

Agriculture News

By CECIL A. TUCKER, II
Seminole County Agricultural Agent

(From time to time the county agent will highlight in this column some of the Seminole County farms and farmers which he has visited.)

If you would like to see a modern and efficient dairy, someday drop by Elbert Cammack's Fairglade Jersey Dairy on Highway 46, some three miles east of Geneva. There you will see an up to date, nearly all mechanical dairy. In fact, they can boast that their product "never comes in contact with air," because the milk is drawn by vacuum directly from the cow to a large vacuum stainless steel holding tank.

The cattle enter the "milking parlor" from a large holding pen. Here they have been fed grass silage automatically by a self-unloading and a conveyor belt from one of two Harvester upright silos. Each silo holds close to 235 tons and is arranged so that the conveyor belt to the trough can be disconnected with either silo. Any of the help from Mrs. Cammack down in Owen, their twelve year old son, can feed some 160 head of cattle in less than thirty minutes by flicking the proper switches. This certainly beats the old "pitch fork" method of silage feeding.

The cows enter the parlor and go into individual stalls where they are fed a balanced concentrate feed. Some of the cows have found that they can get an extra portion of feed by merely sticking their head through the bars and muzzling the feed control lever.

A strong stream of water is used to clean the feet and legs of the animal. The order is thoroughly cleaned and a Surge automatic milker attached. On test days for the DHIA records (Dairy Herd Improvement Association) a 4 gallon graduated jar scales are arranged to weigh each cow's output. After weighing the milk is drawn into a stainless steel vacuum cooling tank where it is kept until it is picked up by tank truck for delivery to the processing plant. According to the record, Cammack's dairy herd has been among the top five herds in efficiency and production in the state DHIA program. Last year the production average of the herd was over 4000 pounds of butter fat and 8,057 pounds of 5 per cent milk per cow.

Cammack figures that his pasture and silage facilities fill about 60 per cent of the total feed needs of each cow. In fact, the use of silage alone cut down his feed cost from $2.00 per cow milk to $2.40 per cow milk. There are some 160 acres of Paspalum grass which is grazed and from which silage is cut. This year he figures that they harvested close to 1,300 tons of silage from this area.

While I have been mentioning Elbert's name mostly, I wouldn't want to imply that is the only

Cammack working at the dairy. It is a family affair. Mrs. Cammack and Owen work side by side with Mr. Cammack in almost every phase of the dairy work. Of course, there are three other regular workers helping, too, because there are over 250 head of cattle, 125 of which are now in lactation. There are only eight stalls in the milking parlor and these 125 cows must be worked through the parlor twice a day and be milked.

All of the replacements for the herd are raised right there on the dairy. Carter, for the calves has been Owen's job. For the past five years they have raised an average of 40 to 50 calves a year. The only raw milk that the calves receive is the colostrum or "first milk" which has been taken from the cow and frozen in order not to waste any of it. After they have received the colostrum, the calves are placed on a calf starter supplemental feed until they are old enough to be placed on pasture.

Dairying is not new to the Cammacks. Mr. Cammack graduated from the University of Florida with high honors with a Bachelor of Science degree in Agriculture in 1948. If my memory serves me right, I saw his name inscribed on a plaque at the University Dairy Laboratory as the outstanding graduate of that year. He continued his studies in dairying, and received a Master of Agriculture degree in 1949. He worked for three and a half years as the technician for the Orange County Artificial Breeding Association.

The Cammacks acquired the Lake Harney marsh land in 1950 and started improvements. They had their own dairy operation in Conway for four years before moving the all-Jersey herd to their Fairglades Jersey Dairy in June of 1955.

am certainly in favor of giving these public servants more money, paying them salaries that will keep them valued employees."

Warner said "I am in full accord with the progressive programs that the Board of Sanford City Commissioners has undertaken. "We must go farther," he said, "for we need the Sanford-Titusville Canal, docks and terminals, a citywide street paving program, an airport to serve citizen liners and commercial airlines, more sewers and water mains, and a sewage treatment plant."

"These, my friends, are just a few of the real progressive, aggressive projects that must be accomplished, not in the years ahead of us, but now while they are needed," said Warner.

"I believe that I am the one candidate of the two asking for this office, capable of attaining down and working for these vast projects to benefit all the citizens rather than a few," Warner concluded.

M. L. Nichols, a candidate for the Board of City Commissioners was not present for the forum.

Bill Gankow is the Jaycee Chairman of the Get-Out-The-Vote Committee.

Low Pressure Area Moving Through Central Bahamas

MIAMI (AP)—Wind velocities increased to 40 miles an hour and possibly higher today as a low pressure area moved in a north-northeastward direction through the central Bahamas Islands.

A Miami Weather Bureau bulletin at 11:15 a.m. EST said winds of 20 to 40 m.p.h. had been reported by ships as far as 300 to 500 miles northeast of the storm.

Some areas in the northeast quadrant of the disturbance may be getting galeforce winds in squalls, the bulletin added.

On the northwest side, winds reached out to the Florida east coast and small craft warnings flags flew from Daytona Beach southward to Tavernier in the Florida Keys.

The disturbance was moving at about 10 miles an hour and after another 12 to 18 hours was expected to shift to a more northeastward direction.

Weather forecasters were bracing a close watch on the area because of the chance that it might develop into a tropical storm.

District Deputy To Visit Elks

A group of 13 candidates of the Grand Exalted Rulers' Class will be initiated tonight at the Sanford Elks' Lodge.

The meeting, starting at 8 o'clock, will be presided by a "free" feed, according to officials of the Elks' Lodge.

Highlighting the meeting will be the annual official visit to the lodge of District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler Willis V. McCall.

Next Tuesday's City Election Important

Temporary Injunction Denied By Circuit Judge

A restraining order preventing a referendum to determine whether or not a harness horse track operates at Seminole Raceway Park be allowed was denied the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club yesterday at a hearing before Judge Vassar Carlton in Circuit court.

Judge Carlton, following the day-long hearing which started at 10:30 and ended shortly before 4:30, summarized his decision when he announced that the "temporary injunction is denied."

He said "It seems to me that the issues are simple in this case. A temporary injunction should be issued only when shown there is irreparable injury. I don't believe there has been shown that irreparable injury would result if the election is allowed. I therefore deny the temporary injunction."

Attorneys for Jerry Collins, operator of the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club immediately announced that a hearing will be requested at 9 a.m. Monday morning in Tallahassee before the State Supreme Court petitioning a constitutional writ of injunction.

Representing the Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club was the firm of Orlando attorneys, Steed and Street.

Headings were made before Judge Carlton by W. J. Steed, assisted by attorney Hoffman.

Representing Seminole Raceway Park and Seminole Race and Fairgrounds, Inc. was the firm of Orlando and Winter Park attorneys, Turnbull and Senterfit. Both attorneys were heard.

Mack N. Cleveland Jr., attorney for Seminole County represented the Board of Seminole County Commissioners. The entire Board headed by Chairman Brown W. Miller was present at the hearing. Other commissioners named in the 11-page petition for the restraining order in an attempt to halt the Tuesday referendum were: John Meisch, B. C. Dodd, Fred Dixon and Otis Forsaker.

Cleveland, in a brilliant defense of the Board of County Commissioners, look a near violent explosion in charges by Sanford-Orlando Kennel Club's legal counsel that "they just didn't follow the law—were not paying attention to it."

Steed charged that the ballot is not a "fair ballot."

"The County is giving these people a free ride when the law says they should pay for it," the Kennel Club attorney charged.

However, Cleveland explained to Judge Carlton that the Board of County Commissioners of Seminole County, in their interest to prevent any undue expense and to lighten the taxpayers' load, agreed to conduct the special referendum in conjunction with the general election, all with the full advice from the State's Attorney General.

"The full authority to order a special referendum according to the statute is in the hands of the Board of County Commissioners," said Cleveland as he pointed to specific statutes for his authority.

Speaker To Talk On Experiences During Travels

ALTA MONTE SPRINGS — The Altamonte Springs Civic Club will meet for its first fall meeting, at the Community House, Mrs. J. D. Morrison pres., will preside over the business meeting, and a program will follow immediately with Mrs. R. F. Leedy of Winter Park in charge of the program.

Mrs. Leedy will talk on her experiences in her three trips abroad in all parts of the world. Because of her ability and knowledge in making such lectures she has been very much in demand and is always not generous in showing the many movies that she has made in her travels.

Mrs. Leedy is the organizer of the Wesleyan Class of the Methodist Church in Winter Park three years ago and has been the teacher of this class for all of the 33 years.

Honorees for the Wednesday meeting are the Mrs. B. D. McIntosh Jr., Mrs. Webber B. Haines and Mrs. Donald Harris.

Amendments To Be Explained Monday At Rotary Meeting

In an attempt to clarify the amendments which will be voted on next Tuesday, Seminole County's Legislative Delegation will appear before the Sanford Rotary Club at its regular weekly meeting Monday noon, at the Yacht Club, and cover point by point, the ramifications of each item.

Senator Douglas Stenstrom, accompanied by Representative Mack N. Cleveland Jr. and Gordon Frederick will address the club and as a public service their talks will be broadcast over WTRR at approximately 12:45 p.m.

It is hoped that their explanations of the amendments will give the public a better understanding of that which they are asked to consider at the polls.

Shuffleboard Club To Convene Nov. 7

LONGWOOD—Longwood Tourist and Shuffleboard Club will meet in Sunnyside Park, Nov. 7, for its first meeting of the coming year.

President Ira Wilson announced that a meeting will be held and at 12:30 a special dish will be served. He urged all members to attend and anyone desiring to join.

At the conclusion of the meeting there will be shuffleboard played.

Southside To Display Art Exhibit

The Colonial Art Exhibit, with more than 100 large reproductions of standard art masterpieces of the world's greatest painters, will be on display at Southside School all next week in the school auditorium.

The exhibit, says Mrs. Velma Mitchell, is open to the public. However, she says, a small admission fee is being charged in order to defray the expenses of the exhibit.

All of the Southside School children will view the accurate reproductions made direct from the original paintings. So perfectly reproduced the brush strokes of the original paintings are plainly visible and the color values have been carefully retained.

Pictures in the exhibit, says Mrs. Mitchell, are in the full color of the original paintings and are mostly genuine facsimile reproductions from the finest craftsmen of both America and Europe.

The exhibit occupies approximately 1,000 square feet and will be hung in the auditorium at Southside School with all pictures labeled with the name and the name of the artist.

The Colonial Art Exhibit comes to Southside School from Oklahoma City, Okla.

In the week immediately following the exhibit at Southside School will portray "living pictures" as shown in the display of famous masterpieces.

"This is another way in which we are presenting appreciation to the students of our school," Mrs. Mitchell said today.

Club To Stage Fashion Show, Coffee Dec. 6

The Sanford federated Garden club will hold a Coffee and Fashion Show at the Mayfair Inn the morning of December 6, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Frank Mehane will be moderator of the Fashion show which will be sponsored by the Mary Esther store.

Christmas decorations and arrangements will be featured by members of each circle.

Betty Crocker Thanks Local Homemakers

By MARY FOWLER

Was Betty Crocker ever your friend? She has been mine for years and years; Betty Crocker, whose picture appears on General Mills products and beams understandingly from the Betty Crocker cake packages. From that age old, time-misted era when I was a bride experimenting with cooking, I felt that I could write Betty Crocker about any topic that vexed or rejoiced me. My flair for evolving tasty recipes was sound nature to me and interwoven in my letters, but I didn't write primarily about food. I told her about grandma's cooking even after I was married; I wept a bit about loneliness in the big city of New York and sometimes boasted about my new friend my husband and I made, who complimented us on our arrangements. Betty always answered, with a complete understanding of my problems. For years she was my closest confidante.

"Betty Crocker" of General Mills has probably had more than nine lives, for she has been the friend of brides and shy people for generations. Her understanding has built the Betty Crocker line of General Foods to an enviable high in flour milling circles. Other flour groups have followed this lead but none has excelled the pull "Betty Crocker" has had with us wives. We would gaze in horror at any of our friends who suggested buying another flour product. We were her loyal followers. I remember entering a Gold Medal I was presuming on our letter contest for homemakers when I was too shy to send my own name, for fear "she" would think

Ministers Call Important Meeting

An important meeting of the Seminole County Ministerial Association will be held Wednesday, Nov. 7, 10:30 a. m., at the County School Administration Bldg. Rev. Milton H. Wyatt will preside. Pastors serving churches in the county are invited.

Voters Will Name 3 To Fill City Commission Vacancies

One of the most important local elections in the history of Sanford will be held Tuesday paralleling the general election.

To be decided by the voters of Sanford will be seats for three commissioners of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners.

Candidates who have qualified, and whose names will appear on the ballot, are A. L. Wilson, incumbent for the unexpired term; Earl Higginbotham, incumbent; Merle Warner, a candidate for the seat to be vacated by Commissioner John Kridler; Paul Yates Jr., who is opposing Merle Warner; and M. L. Nichols, who is opposing Earl Higginbotham.

The election is to be held in the Sanford City Hall with booths set up in the commissioners room. Officials at the polls are: Mrs. F. E. Roumillat and Floyd A. Palmer, Inspectors; Mrs. Ralph Austin Smith, James B. Gut, B. L. Perkins Jr., N. J. Stonstrom, Cliff Ables, and W. Hugh Duncan, clerks.

The polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. to coincide with the general election.

The City Election to name members to the Board of Sanford City Commissioners is separate and distinct from the general election.

Those not registered at the City Hall will not be qualified to vote in the local election. However, City Clerk H. N. Sayer said this morning that everyone who has registered since 1930 will be eligible to cast a ballot in this election.

There are approximately 3,500 qualified voters who are eligible to vote in the city election. City Clerk Sayer said today that there had been approximately 137 new voters registered this year.

In the importance of this year's election, local city leaders are urging voters to turn out in full force to name the leaders of the City for a complete year term in two instances, and for an unexpired term in another instance. From the "grass roots" of the nation, interest is created in the careful planning of the country. With city political organizations properly planned and placed in office, the continued expansion and growth begins.

Citizens are reminded that there are two ballots to cast next Tuesday: one in the general election and one in the local City Election.

4 True Bills Are Returned At Grand Jury Investigation

An 18 member panel of Grand Jurors, charged yesterday by Judge Vassar Carlton, ended their investigation into three murder charges and one assault with intent in rape charge.

Shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon the Grand Jury returned its findings with one no true bill, and four true bills.

Indicted in the one day hearing were:

J. L. McCoy for the first degree murder of Annie Bell McCoy was arrested and taken into custody on May 11.

Ida Mae Brown for the first degree murder of Eddie Lee Worthington. She was taken into custody on Aug. 11.

Leon Williams for the second degree murder of Carrie Bell Wilson. He was arrested on May 14.

J. A. Lloyd for the fondling and assault on a female child under 14 years of age. Lloyd was arrested on Aug. 11.

The no true bill was returned against Eric Puff of Lake Mary who was charged with molesting a minor.

Foreman of yesterday's Grand Jury was Roy Redding. The Assistant Foreman was William F. Minshew.

Members of the Grand Jury were: Carl Lommel, John T. Stuart Jr., Woodrow W. Press, Earl W. Stewart, Clarence E. McKee, L. Burke Steele, R. E. Paul, Paul O. Engleman, Howard J. Thompson, Wilbur O. Nolan, Richard W. Keogh, Fred Elyear, William T. Wheelock, Carlos B. Smith, R. E. Muse, and Oliver W. Hall.

Assistant State's Attorney Volie A. Williams Jr. handled the investigation.

Parris Island Marine Band Arrives Today

The Parris Island Marine Band, from the Parris Island, S. C. Marine Base, arrived aboard Sanford Naval Air Station, late yesterday, where they will be quartered during their visit to Florida to participate in Homecoming Activities at Stetson University in Deland, today and Saturday.

In early morning activities at the NAS today, the band was officially welcomed aboard by Captain Robert W. Jackson, USN, Commanding Officer of Sanford Naval Air Station. The band later played the National Anthem at morning colors, and presented a brief precision march demonstration, before departing for the Homecoming Activities in Deland.

The 48 enlisted men, and Officer-in-Charge, Marine Warrant Officer B. Lalocca, are scheduled for morning and afternoon performances in Deland, today, a morning parade in Deland tomorrow, as well as playing for the Stetson University Homecoming Game, tomorrow afternoon. They are also scheduled to play at "The Gator Bowl" in Jacksonville, on Jan. 1.

Besides being one of the best Service Bands in the U. S., the Parris Island Marine Band is recognized in their primary duty as a Machine Gun Platoon as being the sharpest Machine Gun Platoon in the entire Parris Island Marine Base.

Middleton Accepts Call At Altamonte Baptist Mission

ALTA MONTE SPRINGS — Rev. Paul Middleton, Orlando, accepted the call for Pastor at the Altamonte Springs Baptist Mission, at a meeting of the congregation Wednesday night, following the prayer service.

Rev. Middleton came to Orlando last March from Long Grove, Iowa where he was Pastor of a church for eight years. He received his formal education at Des Moines, Iowa and began his ministry in 1925 after training with the Berean Bible Institute at San Diego, Calif. Both Rev. and Mrs. Middleton are members of the College Park Baptist Church in Orlando. They have three daughters.

Rev. Middleton will replace Rev. Cecil Baughman of Deland who resigned recently to return to school.

Christmas Mailing Deadlines Told

Surface Christmas mail destined for civilians in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico should be mailed by postal patrons by very early December. Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield said today.

This is necessary, he explained, because of available ship schedules from the port of dispatch, as well as possible delays due to bad weather frequently encountered at this time of year.

Mr. Summerfield urged postal patrons to send holiday surface mail to the following schedules: residents of the Eastern and Central time zones, not later than Dec. 1, 1936; Mountain time zone, not later than Dec. 3, 1936; Pacific time zone, not later than Dec. 4, 1936. Mail for Puerto Rico should be sent by Dec. 3, 1936.

These, of course, are deadline schedules. Mr. Summerfield pointed out that postal patrons are being advised that even earlier mailings will be an aid to the postal service, as well as provide an additional measure of insurance of delivery by Christmas.

Church Is Holding Revival Services

Revival services are now in progress at the Church of God, French Ave. at 23rd St.

Big Crowd Attends Civic Club Tea

ALTA MONTE SPRINGS — A large group of residents, both new and old, attended a Tea last week at the Community House, given by the Altamonte Springs Civic Club.

The club house was decorated throughout with fall flowers except for the club's adopted flower, the hibiscus which is an ever-blooming flower.

The tea table was covered with a lace cloth and at one end stood candleabras with burning white tapers. Plumosa ferns entwined the candleabras and formed a bed in the center with yellow chrysanthemums dotting the greenery. As a table on the porch of the club and vegetables overflowing from the punch bowl was Mrs. Henry Hansen. Mrs. Helen Rasmussen and Mrs. C. H. Gilbert Jr., while soft piano music was rendered by the Misses co-chairmen.

Tea given for newcomers of the community by the club.

Witches, Spooks Try Hand At Real Estate Business

By MARIAN JONES

OVIDO — If you are one of the Aspirants for the purchase of the Ovido Drug Store at the advertised sale price, you may as well put your dreams in your pipe and smoke them, or just content yourself with the fact you've been day dreaming.

A large sign for sale—$1,800.00 caught our eye as we came to work. What a bargain, we thought!

From experience, we know it just can't be done. We tried. Roy and Ross (Roy Weisenberger, owner, and Ross Nögel, manager) just were not interested—the idea such a price for such a modern place of business. They had not even seen the sign.

We came to the conclusion that our transactions would have to be made with the spooks, witches and goblins. We fear such a transaction would not be legal! Oh, well, we had a nice inspiration anyway.

Navy's Operation Deepfreeze Lands At South Pole

AUCKLAND, New Zealand — Seven members of Operation Deepfreeze stepped from a U. S. Navy Dakota on to the ice of the South Pole Wednesday night.

First man out was Rear Adm. George F. Dufek of Washington, D. C., and Rockford, Ill., the expedition leader. The others were: Capt. Douglas L. L. Cordiner, Navy Air Development Squadron 6; Capt. S. Hawkes, Jersey City, N. J.; Lt. Comdr. Conrad Shinn, Spry, N. C.; Lt. J. S. Swadener, Elkhart, Ind.; Aviation Mechanic 2e John Strider, Kearneysville, W. Va., and Radioman William Gumbie Jr., Milton, Fla.

The Dakota made an uneventful jet-assisted takeoff after a stay of 45 minutes. The party, first to set foot at the Pole since Capt. R. F. Scott of the British Navy was there in January 1912, left radar reflectors and other navigational aids for future landings.
