

Women Rank With Men As Expert Drivers Says Noted Statistician; Statement Proved By Recent Survey

Women have proved themselves as competent in control of motor machinery, according to the findings of Frederick L. Hoffman, LL. D., in his recent survey of motor traffic and its hazards. He sees no reason why they should not be equally skillful in the handling of the aeroplane. For this reason, he says, the rule adopted by the International Commission on Aviation, excluding them as aviators, "is not to be commended."

"There are no reasons," asserts Dr. Hoffman, "for assuming that women, in the course of time, will not prove as capable of managing aeroplanes as they have been found to be in the driving of motor cars. The prejudice against women drivers and the charge that they are erratic or unreliable is usually voiced by men who could be convicted of recklessness."

As consulting statistician of the Prudential Insurance Company, Dr. Hoffman is now making an inquiry into aerial traffic hazards in view of the prospective development of commercial aviation in this country and the resultant demand for the insurance of aviators. Flights are now among the few persons positively declined as aerial risks.

Dr. Hoffman believes that air traffic as rapid transit for both passengers and freight will become a commonplace of the next decade. In his opinion, based on data procured from his investigations of rail and motor traffic, the accident hazard will decrease in ratio to the increase in the number of flying machines. There is no reason, as he views the situation, why women should not be permitted to qualify as pilots for the planes that carry freight, passengers or mail.

Niagara Falls is where nature placed it. The Hudson River remains in its permanent location. Manhattan keeps on growing as nature geographically has destined it must grow. Today 181st Street is one of its busiest streets.

And MIAMI SHORES
—lying along Biscayne Bay in the path of Miami's northward expansion, is in exactly the same relation to Miami as upper Manhattan is to the older section of New York. It is just far enough out for the creation of new environment, with wider streets, better building and zoning regulations—new opportunities.

And just as Manhattan has in its highest class residential development grown north with Riverside Drive as waterfront attraction, so both Miami and Miami Beach are following the geographical and natural trend in the matter of their individual growth and expansion—and it will continue so to be.

As New York has grown northward along the main lines of travel, and the waterfront, so is Miami growing northward. Wise investors are seeing this, and are investing in Miami Shores the profits they made on similar investments made in earlier days in Miami.

It is natural—a fundamental—law, aided by the ever steady development in the northern trend.

Commercial Body Building Is New Field Entered By Originator Of Ford Autos

DETROIT, Mich., July 13.—While the use of commercial cars continue to grow and while users are more and more turning to the lighter units as the most economical, a review of recent advances in this division of motor transportation reveals an interesting and significant development. This is the entrance of Ford as a commercial car body builder.

Everyone is familiar with Ford in the passenger car fields, where he has brought low cost transportation without parallel anywhere. The gradual introduction of Ford built commercial cars indicates that users in this particular field are to benefit now to a greater extent than ever before.

For years the Ford ton-truck chassis has been the most popular of the lighter truck units and at present approximately 75 per cent of the one-trucks in use in the United States are Fords. Until a little more than a year ago, however, purchasers of the Ford truck chassis had to secure bodies from outside manufacturers.

The first appearance of Ford in the commercial car body field came with the introduction of an all-steel express type body with open cab, also of steel construction. The car and body were built with a view to giving the user the greatest possible value in construction and materials and at the same time a unit that was light and durable, designed to meet a variety of requirements.

With this body it wasn't long until the Ford Motor Company provided screen sides and canopy top, thereby extending the truck's utility to delivery and hauling where the vice requiring protection from the elements and from theft, providing at the same time ample loading space.

In order to satisfy this demand, the company recently introduced a new stake body, which not only meets many hauling needs, but has a particular value to the farmer, for the body is easily adaptable to the use of cattle and grain sides giving the man on the farm a transportation unit to meet practically all of his hauling requirements.

A closed cab steel has also been introduced. It is adaptable to any of the body types and because of the complete protection it affords against the elements has grown rapidly in popularity. A feature of this cab is that two panels in the back may be removed to afford access to the truck body.

Ford also is providing a light pick-up body for the Model T. Chassises, designed to care for light delivery work. This body, is also all steel and is mounted on the Ford runabout, which gives the driver a comfortable seat with ample room for another passenger.

With all these combinations it is estimated that the Ford Motor Company not only produces bodies for close to ninety per cent of the commercial car requirements, but through the economies of quantity production is able to provide those bodies to customers at low prices. Because of this, the business man or firm seeking commercial truck equipment is now able to select any body combination of Ford build to meet his particular requirements without the trouble of shopping around.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

By CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, July 13.—What may this country expect in the way of tax changes in the next few years?

It can feel perfectly sure of a lot of talk about reduction, and almost equally sure of higher taxes.

Federal taxes are coming down. There's no bluff about that, State, county, and city taxes are increasing steadily.

The former are not being cut and cannot be cut and nobody has a right to ask that they be cut as fast as the latter are rising.

What does it profit the tax-payer to have a few per cent dropped off his federal burden if twice that many per cent are added on to his local burden?

Income taxes almost certainly will be trimmed by another 25 per cent next winter. This doesn't necessarily mean, however, that the man of moderate income will be relieved another 25 per cent, on top of his last year's relief.

Secretary of the Treasurer Mellon is determined to give a large share of the benefit this time to sur-tax payers—a little of it to the smaller fry, but most of it to the big fish.

How this will come out nobody knows yet. There'll be a per capita decrease, but some millions of people may not come in on the per capita. Next December will tell, most likely.

THERE'LL BE further decreases after next winter, scattered along over several years, but they'll be more gradual, except in certain contingencies.

Luxury taxes—as on automobiles and auto supplies, jewelry and theater tickets—will dwindle, bit by bit, to nothing. Income tax exemptions will be increased slowly.

It's a rather wild guess—which is the best anybody can make—but perhaps the federal load will be lightened, in the absence of any of the contingencies referred to, by 30 per cent, all round in the course of six or seven years.

The contingencies? Well, the United States has about 12 billions in debts outstanding in Europe and is getting nothing, principle or interest, on approximately eight billions of it.

If this matter's fixed up, and the debtors begin turning in the interest and making a few inroads on the principle, it will help materially.

Then there's America's own war indebtedness—but it has to be paid for all that.

Its principal has been reduced since 1919 from about 26 to about 20 1/2 billions. This saves interest. As it continues—still less interest.

Now, as to state, county and city taxes, which offset these federal reductions. Local levies, from state on down, were $13.91 per capita, the country over in 1912, which was an increase of more than 50 per cent in 10 years, and in 1922 the per capita was $22.23, or an increase of nearly 132 per cent in two decades.

The states, counties and cities weren't paying their bills as they went along either. Their indebtednesses, per capita, were $22.73 in 1902 and in 1922 $79.90, nearly a 238 per cent increase.

Orange river rises in the southwestern part of the peninsula and flows in a general northwesterly direction and empties into the Caloosahatchee river about six miles above Fort Myers. The stream today, is about six miles long and varies in width from 40 to 90 feet.

ACTIVITIES OF UNITED STATES ARMY AS SEEN BY GEN. PERSHING

By General John J. Pershing. A large number of young men of the prime of life will be out of doors this summer, devoting from two to six weeks of their time to military training.

Most of these young men in uniform will be civilians, spending their vacation periods in their country's service. We shall have the maximum number of civilian soldiers to receive military training since the World War.

The various groups in this service will be assembled in some 400 camps for civilians on 240 military reservations, large and small, scattered all over the United States.

Fortunately, the slack-time in commercial life is most suitable for outdoor military training and for the coordinate development of a better citizenship.

At all of our military camps will be members of the regular army, both officers and enlisted men, acting as instructors and in other helpful capacities.

Our new citizen army, created by the National Defense Act of 1920, is the logical product of our bitter World War experience in unpreparedness.

In addition, there will also be some 8,000 young men from our colleges and schools in Reserve Officer Training Corps Camps, and about 35,000 from all classes and communities in the Citizens' Military Training Camps.

She is spending her fortune wisely and generously. $100,000,000 for roads--$30,000,000 a year for schools. And the consequence is, that the valuation of her property increased one thousand per cent. in twenty years, or from $306,579,000 in 1900 to $3,130,705,000 in 1920.

FLORIDA FACTS

The port of Pensacola was blockaded by United States vessels on May 6, 1861.

On June 6, 1861 the port of Key West was blockaded by United States forces.

An effort to form two states of Florida in 1845 when it was admitted into the Union failed to materialize.

Federal troops burned a naval dock held by the Confederates at the mouth of Pensacola Bay on September 2, 1861.

Prisoners at the farm during 1924 were from 28 states of the Union, the District of Columbia and seven foreign countries.

The average daily prison population during the year was 442 and the average cost of food and tobacco per inmate was 20.81 cents per day.

The price received for Florida honey was more than that received elsewhere, the honey being of an exceptionally good quality during the 1924-25 season.

The term Seminole or isti semanole signifies separatists or runaway. The Seminoles were regarded as outcasts from the main body of the Creeks.

The value of buildings at the state farm including their contents, according to the last biennial report of the Commissioner of Agriculture, was in 1922, $199,475.

During the year 1924 the expense of operating the state prison was $450,000.00.

Northern capital invested in the state of Florida during the year 1924 totalled $450,000.00, says a report of the state agriculture department. North Carolina was Florida's nearest competitor for northern investors, with $19,000,000 for the year and Georgia was next with $8,000,000.

The State of Florida has four congressional districts. The representatives from these districts are: first district, Herbert J. Drane, of Lakeland; second district, R. A. Green, of Starke; third district, John H. Southwick, of Panama; fourth district, William J. Sears, of Kissimmee.

on farm totaled $195,269.24. The farm collected through sale of farm products and such $37,194.30.

The value of livestock at the state prison farm of December 31, 1924 was $9,925 worth of cattle; $23,800 worth of horses and mules; $23,800 worth of cattle; $9,460 worth of pigs. Total value $43,275.

The board states that the industry is growing in the state and that they and the experiment station is constantly in receipt of inquiries relative to the bee-keeping industry.

The state commissioner of agriculture is a member of the following boards: pardons, commissioners of state institutions, trustees of the internal improvement fund, drainage, and text book commission.

Some historians say that the Seminole Indians were originally Creek Indians who joined forces with Governor Moore of South Carolina when he attempted to drive the Spanish out of St. Augustine in 1702.

In their early wanderings the Seminoles gave refuge to runaway negro slaves who had escaped from the Spanish and the British. In time they inter-married thus decreasing their full American type of Indian blood.

A statement issued by the Plant Board of Florida says that Florida's honey production the season 1923-24 was an average of 80 pounds per colony or on an average of twice as much per colony as produced in any other state.

A meeting was held in St. Joseph on December 3, 1838 for the purpose of framing a constitution and asking for admission into the Union. The bill admitting Florida into the Union was passed in 1845 and was signed by the president on March 3 of the same year.

The State of Florida has four congressional districts. The representatives from these districts are: first district, Herbert J. Drane, of Lakeland; second district, R. A. Green, of Starke; third district, John H. Southwick, of Panama; fourth district, William J. Sears, of Kissimmee.

The Seminoles in time, came to be known as the Peninsula people and by 1733 they claimed the country between the Flint river and St. Augustine. By 1760 they had extended their domain southward and in time were in possession of the lower peninsula and had absorbed remnants of many other tribes.

The State Bureau of Marketing, under the direction of Commissioner J. M. Rhodes, sends out daily an average of 1,230 pieces of mail, of which about one hundred are typewritten letters giving information with reference to marketing, and answering inquiries from every state in the Union and more than 24 foreign countries.

The bureau issues a bulletin to farmers throughout the state in which they may advertise without cost any articles used in furtherance of agricultural pursuits. The products thus advertised in the bulletin amount to in value of $14,000 per day and the amount sold equals about $10,000 daily. Approximately 6,500 persons advertise yearly in the bulletin.

Corporal punishment was abolished at the Florida state prisons by an act of the legislature of 1923. The responsibility of enforcing discipline was placed upon the commissioner of agriculture and the board of commissioners of state institutions. Solitary confinement on a diet was decided upon as a method of disciplining prisoners.

MARTIN MAKING PROGRESS AFTER NORTHERN TRIP

Returns to Capitol Thursday, Clears Up Much of Accumulated Business; Still Has Job Signing Drainage Bonds

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., July 14.—Governor Martin, returning to the capital late Thursday night after his trip to the North and East had made good progress by the week-end in clearing up the accumulated business matters. He still had before him, however, a man's sized job in the signing of $9,500,000 worth of Everglades Drainage district refunding 5 per cent bonds, which the Board of Commissioners of that district sold several weeks ago to Spitzer, Borick & Co., of New York and Ohio.

Other members of the governor's cabinet worked laboriously over the job still was far from completed. Rivers H. Buford, the attorney-general, who has to sign each one of the 9,500 bonds twice daily on the job, signing them at the rate of about 100 an hour, figuring that it would require about thirty days to finish.

Governor Martin was well pleased with his trip to Chicago, New York and to Poland Springs, Maine, where he attended the conference of governors. Especially he was delighted with the great interest shown by the people wherever he went in Florida. He believes the state will enjoy an unprecedented era of prosperity next winter.

R. Hudson Burr, chairman and J. H. Trench, rate expert of the Florida railroad commission, returned to Tallahassee at the week-end from Washington where they went about a week ago to attend the final conference on the southern class rate case, which has been pending for more than three years.

F. B. Dixon, division inspector of convict camps, is investigating the shooting of E. L. Murphy, white, at a road camp near DeFuniak Springs late in the week. Murphy, who was attempting to escape from the camp, received four buckshot from a gun fired by W. F. Prescott, guard and halted. His companion in the flight, Alie Wilson, succeeded in getting away. Murphy was serving three years from Granite county for larceny of an automobile having been sentenced in June, 1924. Wilson was servng five years from Hardee county; criminal attack; having been sent up in October, 1923. This was the second attempt of both men to escape.

Fred C. Elliott, chief Engineer of the Everglades drainage district and J. B. Johnson, attorney for the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund are just back from a trip to Moore Haven and that section of the district, in connection with business of the board.

Increasing value of state-owned lands was indicated in sales made during the last week, one tract of 22 acres, consisting of an island of about seven acres and adjoining mud flats, bring $1,000 an acre. The island is located in the vicinaty of Bradenton. Other tracts of uplands brought $400 and $395 an acre, respectively. Total sales for one day—board meeting day—brought into the state's coffers approximately $450,000, a good portion of which goes into the school fund.

Passage of the new corporation charter act by the 1925 legislature making it easier for corporations to obtain charters to do business in Florida, is resulting in an increase in Tallahassee's population by the large number of lawyers coming here to work in connection with obtaining charter papers. Half a dozen or more already are here and others are coming, say reports, some from New York.

SUN CAUSES FIRE

BERLIN, July 14.—The sun's rays shining on a shaving mirror caused a fire in a Berlin home. A concave mirror left standing near a window caught up the sun's rays and reflected them upon the curtains which became ignited. In a few minutes the entire room was aflame.

Electoral Ambulance Serves Good Purpose

GLANDUDNO, Wales, July 14.—In an address before the Welsh teachers recently, David Lloyd George, former British premier, characterized Whitehall as a "misty and malarial swamp." He had been to Whitehall 17 years, he said, and "the fog entered at times into one's bones."

The former premier declared that he had seen many stout-hearted and "many more stout-mouthed" gentlemen enter that area feeling they were going to pull through, and in a very short time they "became trembling and bedridden until the 'electoral' ambulance carried them away."

Theater Bankruptcy Makes 300 Actors Idle

BUDAPEST, July 14.—Three hundred actors and actresses and a like number of other employees in four of the city's largest theaters recently were thrown out of work when the Union Circuit, controlling the theaters declared itself bankrupt. The circuit announced a deficit of $60,000.

The management offered the free use of the four theaters to the performers to continue the season, if they desired on a co-operative basis.
