Advanced Computer To Aid Sanford Crime Fighters

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

The Sanford Police Department will introduce its newest recruit to the city commission Wednesday when it officially unveils a $26,000 IBM micro-computer system. The system is designed to increase crime fighting capabilities, cut down on manhours and be on-call 24 hours-a-day, 365 days-a-year, according to Computer Operations Officer George Atkinson.

The state of the art device is the first such type of law enforcement equipment in the country and "is sure to greatly enhance our efforts against crime," Atkinson said.

The system, a table top terminal and a companion unit that can be rolled into any of the department's offices, "will quickly take all our incident data and automatically formulate files which will be available whenever we need them," the officer said. Compiling this information under the old system takes days and it can only be obtained from 6:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., when the department's records office is open.

At the station, officers will be able to feed information into the computer and then "target and analyze areas of concern. From there, we'll be able to act on these evaluations," Atkinson said.

For patrolmen, having the electronic officer always available will enable them to call in for suspect or vehicle information "whenever a situation warrants it," he said. "If they see someone acting suspiciously, the officers can stop him, call in, get an update of who he is, what he's done in the past and then make an evaluation of whether this person is possibly contemplating a criminal offense," he said.

Atkinson spent last week utilizing his long time

Car-Motorcycle Crash Leaves 1 Dead; 1 Hurt

A Winter Park motorcyclist was killed Sunday and his passenger seriously injured when they were catapulted from the cycle after striking a car that pulled in front of them.

Dead is Willard Chad Lindsey, 23, of 3305 Summerwind Road, according to Casselberry Assistant Police Chief Winn Gates. Lindsey was dead on arrival to Winter Park Memorial Hospital.

In serious condition today at Orlando Regional Medical Center is the bike's passenger, Stephen John Shebly, 17, of 1202 Summerwind Road. He was transported to the hospital by helicopter.

The accident occurred at the intersection of State Road 436 and Casselcreek Road, according to Gates.

Lindsey was southbound on SR 436 at about 8:20 p.m. when a car pulled northbound into his path, Gates said. Lindsey tried to avoid a collision but struck the car anyway, pitching he and Shebly into a drainage ditch, Gates said.

Driver of the car, John Joseph Kwasneski, 73, of Daytona Beach, was also injured in the incident and was transported to Florida Hospital/Altamonte where he was treated and released.

Gates said charges are pending in the case.

It was the 34 traffic fatality in Seminole county this year.

Wheeling Free

It's knees down and wheels up as Tom Artesi, 19, of Longwood, defies gravity during a quick trick at a skateboard contest in Sanford Saturday. The contest at Sanford Plaza sponsored by Native Casuals clothing store did not include ramp tricks but Artesi was rewarded with onlooker's interest. The skateboarders were scored one to ten on their tricks and then the scores averaged.

Treason Trial Begins

Commonwealth To Pressure South Africa

NASSAU, Bahamas (UPI) — British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and the heads of 45 former British colonies have agreed on compromise measures to pressure the South African government to end apartheid.

The accord, reached late Sunday after five days of intensive negotiations at the meeting of the Commonwealth heads of government, includes a list of economic penalties to be applied immediately — a concession by Thatcher, who had opposed any new sanctions beyond those Britain already applies.

In Johannesburg Monday, sixteen leaders of the opposition United Democratic Front went on trial for high treason by entering not guilty pleas and singing "Happy Birthday" in honor of one of the defendants.

The 16 men, including joint UDF presidents Archie Gumede, 70, and Albertina Sisulu, who turned 67 today, went on trial in Pietermaritzburg, about 300 miles southeast of Johannesburg. They pleaded innocent to high treason, which carries a possible death penalty, and to a charge of terrorism.

The Commonwealth agreement, reached at a conference which began in Nassau Wednesday, also calls for communications between the white-dominated Pretoria government and the nation's black majority, and the lifting of a ban on the African National Congress, which is waging an armed struggle against the government.

Thatcher had said Sunday she would not negotiate with any group "unless they are prepared to renounce violence." But after the agreement was reached, she said, "it was worth paying some price to keep the Commonwealth together."

Three sanctions — a ban on government loans to the South African government and its agencies, greater efforts to halt the import of Kruggerands and a ban on government funding for trade missions — went beyond previous British sanctions.

Britain, which has $15.5 billion invested in South Africa, already had prohibited military contacts and sales of arms, oil and computer and nuclear technology, measures included in the Commonwealth restrictions.

Thatcher described the shift from her previous stance as "very tiny." She said Britain imports only about $700,000 yearly in Kruggerands, the gold coins that are an important part of South Africa's foreign income.

Thatcher said she had met with Indian Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi, Canadian Prime Minister Brian Mulroney and Australian Prime Minister Robert Hawke in the late stages of negotiation at the leaders' weekend retreat at the Lyford Cay resort.

"A group within the Commonwealth made it very clear that although there was a considerable gap between our positions, they wanted a statement we all agreed on," she said.

The agreement calls for the end to apartheid, South Africa's system of racial segregation, the freeing of banned ANC leader Nelson Mandela and other political prisoners, and the end of the state of emergency.

It demands the legalization of the ANC and other banned parties and sets a six-month deadline for progress towards all five goals.

"The growing crisis and intensified repression in South Africa mean that apartheid must be dismantled now if a greater tragedy is to be averted and that concerted pressure must be brought to bear," delegates said in a statement.

The accord also proposes to "initiate, in the context of a suspension of violence on all sides, a process of

Stalled Teacher Contract Talks To Reopen

By Jim Searls
Herald Staff Writer

After half a dozen failed bargaining proposals in the last two months, the Seminole Education Association and the Seminole County School Board will meet again today at 5:30 to try to iron out a new contract for Seminole County teachers.

The talks will be held at the Lake Mary High Media Center and Ernest Cowley, chief negotiator for the school board, and Marshall Ogletree, executive director for the SEA, will be present with their negotiating teams.

Thursday at Lake Mary High a special hearing officer, selected by the state Public Employee Relations Committee, will chair a hearing to listen to both side's grievances in the stalled talks. The teacher's contracts expired Aug. 26 when the SEA, the bargaining agent for the county's 2,216 teachers, voted down their contract.

It was the first time in contract talks with the school board that the SEA had voted down a contract. The main objections to the proposed contract came from veteran teachers who expressed dismay at the 4 percent pay hikes they were scheduled for while inexperienced teachers were due a 13 percent increase.

At the first scheduled talks Sept. 4 the School Board declared talks at impasse and filed a grievance with PERC in Tallahassee. It took both sides till the end of Sept. to select a negotiator from a list of seven men appointed by the state as contract arbitrators. The hearing officer or "special master" does not have the authority to make bargaining decisions. Though he does listen to both sides and he can make recommendations to the school board it is the school board that holds final authority in the matter.

Cowley said the school board favors this type of negotiation because the school board members are elected officials and they are directly responsible to the people for their decisions. He said it is not the school board that makes salary requirements rather it is the people of the county.

Teachers have voiced dismay over this type of negotiation, known as contract settlement arbitration, because they say it favors the school board and that the recommendations of the hearing officer are just that, recommendations.

Regardless of the outcome of the talks, teachers will continue to work at last year's pay levels until a new agreement is forged.

1st Vaccine For Chicken Pox Due In '86

ATLANTA (UPI) — The first vaccine for chicken pox is expected to be licensed next year to prevent many of the 3 million annual cases of the disease and save $400 million spent each year caring for sick children, health officials say.

Highly contagious, chicken pox is the last common infectious disease of childhood for which no vaccine is available.

"I would suggest that the cost of the disease indicates there is a need to prevent it," said Dr. Steven Preblud, an epidemiologist at the national Centers for Disease Control.

Preblud said Sunday the chicken pox vaccine "looks safe and very good in preventing chicken pox in normal children and preventing complications in ill children."

"If the vaccine was available on the market, many, many physicians probably would use it," Preblud said.

Hearing On Building Official Tonight At Longwood City Hall

By Jane Casselberry
Herald Staff Writer

A public hearing on complaints made against Longwood Building Official R.A. "Bud" Bryant by City Administrator Greg Manning will be held at 7 p.m. Monday at city hall, 175 W. Warren Ave., preceding a 7:30 special meeting.

Manning has charged Bryant with violating the personnel policy by going over his head to send a memo to members of the city commission and by his making a complaint to the Home Builders Association concerning improper transfer of $8,500 in building department funds to the police department.

Manning has also cited several instances in which certificates of occupancy were issued without the project being completed to meet city regulations.

Bryant, who has headed the building department for six years, has called the charges "nothing" and said the discrepancies Manning cited do not come under the building inspector, but the city engineer.

The commission has wanted to put City Engineer Charles Hassler over the building department, but under the building code they can not remove the building official without a hearing to prove sufficient cause.

An annexation request submitted by Henry Hardy Jr. and Mary Dell Hardy, owners of AAA Tree Service, will be considered at the meeting. The 10-acre site is located on the east side of Lake Howell Road at County Road 427, adjacent to Dog Track property. If the annexation receives preliminary approval a public hearing will be set for Dec. 9.

The property is zoned agricultural in the county and the owner is asking it be changed to commercial C-3 and I-2 light industrial so that he can relocate and reopen his existing tree processing and building supply business.

Site plans to be reviewed by the commission include the Plaza del Sol retail stores submitted by the owner/developer Schrimsher Management, Inc., and located on the north side of State Road 434, on the east side of Harbour Isle Way, and Sanlando Shopping Center submitted by owner/developer B/P Development and Management Ind., and located on the Southeast corner of State Road 434 and Savage Court. Both sites are zoned C-3 commercial. Proposed use for the latter is a retail nursery and a 156-seat

Baby Not Killed?

Fingerprints Surface In Lindbergh Case

TRENTON, N.J. (UPI) — Lawyers for the wife of the man executed for murdering the Lindbergh baby say they have fingerprints that prove the baby was not killed.

Attorneys for Anna Hauptmann and a man who claims to be Charles Lindbergh's son said Sunday the fingerprints were recently recovered by the state police.

The finding of nine sets of fingerprints, believed to be those of Charles Lindbergh Jr., "is of tremendous significance," said Trudy Maran, a New Jersey lawyer representing Anna Hauptmann in her $100 million wrongful death suit filed over the 1936 execution of her husband, Bruno.

That suit, rejected last year by a federal judge in New Jersey, now is before the Supreme Court.

The existence of fingerprints has been confirmed by Col. Clinton Pagano, superintendent of the New Jersey State Police, who said, "We'll have a number of interesting issues to discuss," at a Tuesday news conference.

Man Has 9 Lives

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Donald Paulick has a habit of dropping dead.

The first time was in January 1984, when he arrived at church and fell over.

"They tried to do CPR on me but couldn't bring me back," Paulick, 63, told the Milwaukee Journal. "Then the rescue squad came and they couldn't bring me back. So they put me in an ambulance and took me to St. Vincent's, where they jump-started me."

Paulick's heart has stopped seven other times since that incident. But he's hoping to kick the habit with the help of an experimental implantable device that can automatically shock a heart back into operation.

Casselberry Man Not Guilty Of Sex Assault

A six-member jury deliberated about 30 minutes Friday and found a Casselberry man not guilty of sexually molesting a 12-year-old girl.

The trial was for Demitrus Harris, 20, of 332 Hidden Pine Cir. Defense counsel was Hal Roen of Orlando.

According to an arrest report, Harris was arrested June 20 after surrendering himself to authorities at the Seminole County jail.

He was charged with two counts of lewd and lascivious assault on a girl and two counts of carnal intercourse.

The girl's mother initiated the charges, according to court records.

CHARGED IN FONDINGS

A 42-year-old Winter Park man has been jailed for lewd assault on a child. He has been accused of fondling two girls, ages 13 and 15.

The alleged attacks occurred at the man's home, a Seminole County sheriff's report said.

Edward Douglas Barnes of 17711 Gladiolas Drive, was arrested at 10 a.m. Friday at 400 W. Lake Brantley Road in southwest Seminole County. He has been released on $8,000 bond.

ARMED ARREST

Casselberry police responding to an armed suspect call at Club Juana, U.S. Highway 17-92, reported nabbing a man in the parking lot who was armed with a .357 magnum handgun and who had allegedly been pointing it at occupants of a vehicle, whom he reportedly said had been talking about his "old lady."

No shots were fired and the victims left the scene without being identified, a police report said. Police reported recovering a gun loaded with five rounds from the suspect.

Leo Taft Jones, 20, of 305 Pine St., Casselberry, was arrested at 1:15 a.m. Saturday on a charge of carrying a concealed firearm. He was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

FOUGHT POLICE

A man reportedly creating a disturbance at a Casselberry bar was confronted by police and allegedly fought with officers. The suspect has been charged with two counts of battery to a law enforcement officer, resisting arrest with violence, trespassing and disorderly conduct.

Police were called to the ABC Lounge, U.S. Highway 17-92, at about 9:50 p.m. Friday. The suspect who was outside the business was reportedly cursing and yelling. He allegedly cursed the police and resisted, hitting two officers in the face as they were attempting to handcuff him, a police report said.

Shawn H. Winsor, 21, of 64 Kent Court, Sanford, was arrested at 9:57 p.m. He was being held in lieu of $5,000 bond.

SURRENDERED

Oviedo police reported charging a Lodi, California, man with auto theft after he reportedly walked into the police station at about 1:25 p.m. Friday and claimed he had stolen a pickup truck.

Police checked the man's claim and determined the recovered GMC truck, valued at $500 had been reported stolen in Orange County on Thursday, a police report said.

Michael Dean Jackson, 29, was being held in lieu of $8,000 bond.

DUI ARRESTS

The following persons have been arrested in Seminole County on a charge of driving under the influence:

—Leslie Anne Daniels, 20, of 111 Cove Lake Drive, Longwood, was arrested at 10:40 a.m. Friday on U.S. Highway 17-92. Casselberry, after she reportedly drove her car into a Casselberry police car parked with emergency lights on at the scene of another traffic accident. She was also charged with careless driving.

—Robert Joseph Prada, 29, of Orlando, at 12:43 a.m. Saturday on Hermits Trail, Altamonte Springs, after his van ran a red light and was seen weaving on State Road 436.

—Eugene F. Halliburton, 54, of P.O. Box 88, Geneva, at 3:23 a.m. Saturday after his car was clocked traveling 90 mph on east State Road 46, Sanford. He has also been charged with speeding.

—Schila Michelle McGuire II, 30, of Sorrento, at 12:06 a.m. Saturday, on State Road 46 at Interstate 4, east of Sanford, after a Seminole County sheriff's deputy at the scene of a traffic accident was alerted by Longwood police of a possible drunk driver whose car had been seen weaving on the roadway.

—Luis Felipe Carrillo, 50, of 121 Bayos Road, Winter Springs, at 2:10 a.m. Saturday after his car was seen weaving on U.S. Highway 17-92, Longwood.

BURGLARIES & THEFTS

About $1,000 worth of fishing gear and a $500 generator were stolen from the garage of James Swift Turner, 35, of 103 Canada Ave., Longwood, between Oct. 13 and Friday, a sheriff's report said.

Alison A. Kruse, 23, of 633 Green Cove, Altamonte Springs, reported to sheriff's deputies her wallet containing about $120 cash was stolen from her desk at the Car Connection, 1129 State Road 436, Altamonte Springs, on Thursday.

Bird Enthusiasts Sought For Audubon Study

The Florida Audubon Society is seeking volunteers to take part in what it says will be the most comprehensive study of Florida birds ever undertaken.

The Florida Breeding Bird Atlas will involve five years of intensive fieldwork throughout the state starting in January 1986.

Professional ornithologists as well as amateur bird enthusiasts of every level of expertise are to comprise the workforce. C. Wesley Biggs, state coordinator, and Dr. Herbert W. Kale II, project director, have scheduled training workshops in various Florida cities during the next three months and are actively seeking volunteers to participate in the project.

Those interested may contact them at the Breeding Bird Atlas headquarters, Florida Audubon Society, 1101 Audubon Way, Maitland, (305) 647-2615.

The atlas will be a collection of maps documenting the distribution of all breeding species in the state, and will provide baseline data against which future surveys can be compared.

Major funding for the project will be from the Nongame Wildlife Trust Fund which has been established by the 1984 Florida Legislature. Moneys for the fund are received from the first time registration of automobiles, and donations made at the time of registration renewal.

Storytime Set For 2-Year-Olds

Congress Sows Farmers Reap

In September, Willie Nelson & Co. raised $9 million in the highly publicized FarmAid concert. Not to be outdone, the Democratic-controlled House of Representatives has approved a $141 billion bundle for the farmers.

The House package, which makes a few cosmetic changes to sanitize the odoriferous subsidy programs, now goes to the Senate. The hope, probably futile, is that the senators will come to their senses and enact a more modest farm bill that assists only those farmers in dire financial straits. Failing that, President Reagan should veto this latest budget-busting farm subsidy and force Congress to craft a more tolerable farm program.

The outlook is bleak. Cutbacks proposed by the Reagan administration have been vetoed by both the House-approved bill and a measure agreed to by the Senate Agriculture Committee. During the next three fiscal years, for example, the House bill would spend nearly $34 billion on crop programs, $4 billion more than the administration originally requested.

And to what purpose? The hard truth is that after years of federal subsidies, American farmers are in the worst financial bind since the Great Depression. The number of farm failures and foreclosures has increased dramatically during the last five years. Nevertheless, Congress is proposing more of the same drug that has put American agriculture on the critical list.

The House proposes to spend an average of $11 billion annually during the next three fiscal years on farm subsidies. Never mind that federal income-transfer payments to farmers are at record levels. Or that federal subsidies have priced many U.S. farmers out of the world market. The lawmakers believe that throwing evermore billions of dollars at the farmers will somehow bring about a renaissance in American agriculture.

To the contrary, these profligate programs only distort the market and damage the economy. Grain producers receive higher prices for their crops, while livestock producers cannot afford to buy feed, the price of which is inflated by subsidized crop prices. The government is spending upwards of $20 billion each year to buy up the surplus production from American farmers. Having artificially raised prices, Washington then limits imports in order to prevent consumers from buying lower-priced products from abroad.

U.S. agricultural policy is a shambles because it presumes that farmers must be protected against the vagaries of the marketplace. The plight of American farmers is proof that they will be hobbled so long as they depend upon price supports and production controls that work at cross-purposes.

What can be done to reduce the enormous agricultural welfare system that punishes food buyers, crop exporters, and taxpayers?

For starters, Congress and the Reagan administration must stand up to the powerful farm lobby and produce a farm bill that encourages farmers to make the transition to a free-market economy. The president's proposal would phase out income subsidies and link price supports to the marketplace forces of supply and demand. That sensible approach would make American crops more competitive in foreign markets and avoid the folly of production controls. Billions of dollars would be saved annually by millions of Americans who now lose doubly as consumers and taxpayers.

Clearly, a pared-down farm program poses political risks. But the congressional alternative of massive federal handouts to U.S. farmers is considerably more dangerous because it is self-destructive.

Federal Twist: Fund With A Big Surplus

WASHINGTON — We've been bombarded so much lately about the government's deficits that it might be therapeutic to consider where Uncle Sam is running up a huge cash surplus: the Social Security program.

As a result of payroll-tax changes and other reforms made by Congress in 1983, the Old Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance programs are expected to run up an $8.4 billion surplus by the end of this year.

In fact, according to Social Security Administration actuaries, OASDI will have a multitrillion dollar windfall on its hands in the coming years — big enough to retire the national debt in the next 30 years.

According to a study prepared for the California economics firm of A.B. Laffer Associates by Stuart J. Sweet, a former congressional policy analyst, Social Security actuaries have made two surplus projections, II-A and II-B. The former is a more optimistic projection of future economic trends; the latter is based on more pessimistic assumptions.

Assumption II-B projects that the surplus will peak at $12 trillion by 2031.

Assumption II-A bullishly forecasts that the surplus will grow to $7.6 trillion by 2015, $22 trillion by 2040 and to $38 trillion by 2060.

Erring on the side of caution, government officials think the surplus will be closer to the lower forecasts. But Sweet's analysis says that if the Social Security laws remain unchanged, the surplus will be closer to the higher projections.

"That means," says Sweet, "that the Social Security surplus likely will be much larger than most policymakers anticipate."

What will Congress do with this growing mountain of cash?

Congress could spend the surplus by raising Social Security benefits and/or funnel the money into other social programs. Sweet thinks this is unlikely because of continuing pressure in the foreseeable future to hold down government costs.

"A more likely choice," he says, "is that the looming surplus will be used to justify cuts in the Social Security tax rates" — helping to improve the economy and boost the creation of jobs.

The Social Security tax rate, levied on both employer and employee, has shot up from 6.13 percent in 1980 to 7.05 percent in 1985. By 1986 it will be 7.15 percent, rising to 7.65 percent by 1990.

As the payroll tax has risen, substantially pushing up labor costs, it has acted as a powerful disincentive to increase jobs. This has caused many businesses to seek ways to reduce their labor force through more automation and self-service innovations. By reducing the tax rates, we "would augment economic growth and profits," Sweet argues, "especially in industries that use or are highly dependent on low-skilled, low-wage workers."

Unfortunately, cutting Social Security tax rates, and thereby reducing Social Security's revenues to meet expenditures, raises the possibility of a future cash crunch by 2020 as the baby boomers reach retirement age. In that event, Social Security taxes would have to be raised up to 33 percent to make promised benefit payments, Sweet says.

But such a crisis could be averted if the tax cuts precipitated enough additional economic growth to expand Social Security's tax base, or by reducing future benefits or raising the retirement age.

A third option would be to simply let the surplus grow, yielding two very attractive possibilities:

One is that the Social Security system's massive surplus could be used to retire the national debt by the year 2016.

Another possibility, says Sweet, if the fund is aggressively invested, would be to turn the system "from its current pay-as-you-go basis into a fully funded, vested national pension system."

Injuries Are Often Missed

By Jan Zeigler

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In cases of suspected child abuse, things are not always what they seem.

Marks that appear to be the result of abuse might be signs of an unusual disease or caused by folk medicine practices. Conversely, deaths that appear to be accidental may have been caused by beating or other mistreatment.

Doctors who come up with the wrong diagnosis risk falsely accusing the child's parents, causing embarrassment or worse. Or, by failing to diagnose abuse, they may leave surviving children in danger of the same sort of treatment.

"The vast majority of child abuse cases in this country are handled appropriately," said Dr. Vincent A. Fulginetti, editor of the American Journal of Diseases of Children at a seminar sponsored by the American Medical Association, which publishes the journal.

Dr. Robert Kirschner of the Cook County medical examiner's office in Chicago, estimated less than 3 percent of child deaths he and his colleagues investigated had been misdiagnosed as child abuse.

"What is disturbing is not that the error was made — but the way in which it was made," he said. "It reflects gross incompetence or extreme insensitivity to the family, (and) that produces psychological trauma."

Among the mistakes Kirschner recorded in Cook County:

— A child whose parents claimed he had fallen off his bike and hit his head suffered lethargy, bruises and fever. He was diagnosed as having a cerebral concussion, the result of child abuse. The correct diagnosis was meningitis.

— Another child who was semicomatose was brought for medical attention after sudden development of bruise-like marks on buttocks and legs. The diagnosis was severe beating, when it should have been "purpura fulminans," hemorrhages that can appear after infectious disease.

— A 1-year-old girl suffering a coma was X-rayed, results of which showed what appeared to be skull fracture lines. They were actually mismatched suture lines. Suture lines are the lines where sections of the skull join together.

All 50 states have laws requiring doctors to report suspected child abuse, but autopsies are not automatically required when a child dies suddenly and unexpectedly.

WASHINGTON — Within weeks after the chairman of the House Banking Committee got a large mortgage loan from a Florida thrift institution and his re-election campaign received a contribution from its political action committee, the committee's staff director made several calls to federal regulators on behalf of the savings and loan company.

The chairman is Rep. Fernand St. Germain, D-R.I. The thrift institution is Florida Federal Savings & Loan of St. Petersburg, the largest in the state. Here's the chronology:

ROBERT WAGMAN

Doubts In Pirate Bag

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Because of contradictory accounts, doubts remain about how the United States intercepted an Egyptian airliner carrying four Palestinian terrorists. And President Reagan's role remains uncertain.

The official White House account is that U.S. intelligence sources determined that — despite contrary claims from President Hosni Mubarak — the four terrorists were still hidden at an Egyptian military airfield. It was learned that they would try to leave at night on a chartered commercial Egyptian Airlines 737. Egypt wasn't to blame for this, says the White House, since it didn't know of the death of Leon Klinghoffer.

According to this official account, Reagan was making a speech in Chicago when he was told of the plan to intercept the plane and force it to land at a joint U.S.-Italian airbase in Sicily. He approved the plan in principle, then gave the final go-ahead while flying back to Washington aboard Air Force One.

The White House says that the intercept was carried out with "surgical precision" and that the terrorists were turned over, as planned, to Italian authorities when the plane landed at Sicily's Sigonella airfield.

However, contradictions in both official and semi-official intelligence accounts paint a significantly different picture.

It has been confirmed that the F-14s from the carrier Saratoga were launched at 8:15 p.m. local time in the Mediterranean (2:15 p.m. EDT) — more than two hours before the White House says Reagan gave the go-ahead for the mission. The planes were so laden with arms that they had to use their afterburners to take off, and thus used a huge quantity of fuel to get off the carrier's deck. Therefore, their first task was to top off their fuel tanks in a midair refueling maneuver. They then flew in a slow holding pattern south of Crete in an effort to save fuel.

Also launched from the Saratoga was an E-2C Hawkeye surveillance plane, which was to track the 737 and control the mission.

National security advisor Robert McFarlane has insisted that all of the key intelligence was gathered "by our own means," but sources in the intelligence community confirm that much of the key data came from the intelligence network of "a third nation." That country isn't identified, but it's almost certainly Israel, whose Mossad agency has many sources within the Egyptian military.

The key piece of intelligence was the tailnumber of the 737 carrying the terrorists — information that reportedly became critical later.

According to the White House, Reagan's "go" order came before the 737 took off. However, intelligence sources say the plane took off more than 20 minutes before the order was actually given, and that the operation had already begun on the assumption that the go order would be forthcoming.

From the official accounts, it sounds as if the E-2C had the 737 on its radar screens right after takeoff and that it was easily able to direct the F-14s to the intercept. But Navy sources confirm that the air corridor in which the 737 flew was crowded that night, and that the E-2C tracked several targets that could have been the Egyptian 737.

Politicos Focus On Doughnut

By Arnold Sawislak
UPI Senior Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There used to be a coffee shop down the street that had a slogan above its door offering the advice: "As through this life you wander, whatever be your goal, keep your eye upon the doughnut and not upon the hole."

The Democratic Party, which for the fifth time in about 15 years is rewriting its rules for nominating a presidential candidate, is trying very hard to keep its eye on the doughnut, which means to win the 1988 election.

To that end, Democratic National Committee Chairman Paul Kirk has put the job of revising the party's national convention delegate selection rules in the hands of party leaders he hopes will put practical politics ahead of political science.

In charge of the new rules commission is Don Fowler, a lean and soft-spoken South Carolinian who has demonstrated during more than a decade of service on the Democratic National Committee that he can put the national interests of the party ahead of the state, regional or even local priorities that motivate so many of its members.

Fowler has identified four areas of work for the commission:

1. The timing of primaries and caucuses.

2. Assuring that party members' candidate preferences are fairly reflected in the number of delegates allotted to the candidates.

3. Determining the mix of party leaders, elected officials and rank-and-file Democrats to serve as convention delegates.

4. Encouraging maximum voter participation in the nomination process.

Judging by the performance of past rules commissions, there is the potential for months of controversy in these four priorities.

The mere suggestion, for example, that New Hampshire and Iowa don't have a God-given right to hold the first primary and caucus respectively has been enough to provoke rumbles of revolution.

So too with the notion that presidential hopefuls ought to be able to attract some minimum percentage of the votes in primaries and caucuses in order to win delegates and the idea that Democratic governors and members of Congress ought to be given convention votes without having to run for delegate seats.

verted to a stock company with the bank board's approval on May 26, 1983, St. Germain bought 1,500 shares of stock for $30,000, "pursuant to a form letter mailed to all depositors," he told us. This was a tiny fraction of the 9.5 million shares, but it was larger than at least nine Florida Federal officials, St. Germain sold the shares at a loss.

On Jan. 18, 1984, Florida Federal's political action committee bought another $500 ticket to a St. Germain fund-raiser in Washington.

Five weeks later, St. Germain's re-election committee — for which the congressman acts as treasurer — opened a $100,000 money market account with Florida Federal. To date it has earned $9,824.39 in interest.

THE TEST

Athletes: Glamor, Recognition Coincide With Responsible Training

(Editor's note: This is the second in a two-part series concerning the proposed alcohol and drug testing program which Seminole Athletic Conference principals hope to implement next year.)

By Sam Cook
Herald Sports Editor

Andrew Smith, Mark Schnitker and Sammy Sears all enjoy the glamor of being a star athlete. They enjoy the recognition and the popularity. They also realize, however, the responsibilities which accompany that recognition and popularity. They know they must toe the line and adhere to training rules.

So when the news of a proposed alcohol and drug testing program was introduced to them, they weren't surprised. As serious athletes, they stick to training rules and don't abuse their bodies with alcohol or drugs. They said periodic alcohol or drug tests would have a positive effect in more ways than one concerning their participation.

Oviedo High's Smith, one of the top running backs in Florida, said he would welcome the test. "I agree with it," he said Thursday. "A player will think twice about ever trying any drug. If an athlete really loves sports, he won't mess up his career with drugs or alcohol."

Smith said he doesn't think drugs or alcohol is a problem with the Oviedo football team but he said he doesn't know about elsewhere in the county. "I'm very close to everybody on our team," Smith said. "At Oviedo, we just talk about football and girls, we don't talk about drugs."

The senior running back, who has played four years of varsity football, is proud of his accomplishments on the field. He said they have brought him recognition and he would not do anything to tarnish that image.

"Everybody knows me and speaks to me because of football," Smith said. "People I don't even know come up and speak to me. That's because of football and what I have done as an athlete. I wouldn't let my teammates or those people down by using drugs."

Sears, a senior wide receiver standout at Lake Brantley High School, echoes Smith's feeling when it comes to alcohol and drug use. "When God's given you a good body, it's a blessing to be an athlete," Sears said Thursday. "When it's polluted by stuff like that (alcohol or drugs), it's a shame."

Sears said at Lake Brantley the football players sign contracts where the athlete pledges to stay free of drugs and alcohol. "It works pretty much here but it hurts our school whenever a problem with alcohol or drugs arises," Sears said.

Like Smith, Sears said the drug tests would be a positive influence. "That really sounds like a good idea to me," Sears said about the proposed plan. "It would make the athlete set his priorities if he hadn't already. It would be good for the player who is sitting on the fence (undecided whether to try drugs or alcohol)."

The Seminole County principals said they feel alcohol is a bigger problem than drugs (marijuana or cocaine) and Sears agreed. "I think dope use is way down in the county," Sears said. "Drinking is much more prevalent. People don't consider that as bad and the easiness at which it can be purchased makes it more popular."

"They think it is a lesser infraction. Since the older athletes are closer to college, the use is higher for alcohol. But, it's still against the law."

Sears estimated that countywide, 45 percent of the athletes drink alcohol while less than 10 percent smoke marijuana.

Schnitker, Lake Howell High's powerful fullback, agreed that drug and alcohol abuse was taking place and that a test would help some athletes. "I'm sure it's happening," he said Wednesday. "A test would clean up some people. It would probably keep some people from using."

"It would catch the heavy user mostly," Schnitker said, however, the conscientious athlete knows the consequences of alcohol and drug use. "Most people realize if you want to play sports (that you won't use.)"

Winter Park 1-5 Unpacks Howell

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

In a meet with close to 150 runners, sometimes having a couple individuals place high can be better than having a pack. Particularly when a couple of the runners in the pack have off days.

Winter Park's Lady Wildcats, keyed by the outstanding performances of Kim Bovis and Amy Gamber, claimed the DeLand Invitational title Saturday at the DeLand Airport with a team score of 74. Lake Howell, which wasn't at its best, finished second at 82. The loss ended a 16-meet regular season winning streak for coach Tom Ham-montree's Lady Hawks, who were ranked first in the state coming into the meet. Winter Park was second.

Meanwhile, in the boys meet, Lake Mary's Rams also had an off day as they finished sixth at 191, two points behind Lake Howell. In the individual battle, Boyd Anderson's Mike LeValle and Seminole High's Billy Penick locked up in a fierce race with LeValle outkicking Penick at the finish.

Bovis outran the rest of the field for the individual title with a time of 11:30 while Gamber placed fifth at 11:54.4. That one-five punch was enough to overcome Lake Howell's pack.

For the Lady Hawks, Lisa Samockl took fifth with a time of 11:52. She was followed in the top five by Martha Fonseca (13th at 12:44), Jenny Bolt (19th at 12:58), Rachel Barnes (21st at 13:04) and Mary Fonseca (29th at 13:21). Having off days were Amy Ertel (50th at 13:51) and Bonnie Oliver (55th at 13:54).

Lyman's Lady Greyhounds

had an outstanding meet as they placed sixth with a team score of 179 and outran two teams ranked in the top 10 (4A) in the process.

"We ran the best meet of the year by far," Lyman coach Joe Laughlin said. "I told the girls not to worry about times, just to go out and run the competition. And that's what they did."

Leading the way for Lyman was junior Julie Greenberg who took 11th at 12:04. She was followed in the top five by Lynn Gomezperalia (28th at 13:20), Tracy Fisher (40th at 13:36), Jennifer Hitzges (51st at 13:52) and Tara Braheny (54th at 13:54).

"If you don't have somebody up front in a meet like this you don't have much of a chance of being among the leaders," Laughlin said. "This was bigger than the state meet will be."

Seminole High finished 12th in the meet at 133 and came out on top of Lake Brantley for the first time this season. Leading the way were Shownda Martin (10th at 12:38) and Dorchelle Webster (20th at 12:59).

Number three runner Debbie Coleman finished 71st at 14:14 but was slowed down when she caught up in a pack on the first half mile. The pack practically came to a standstill trying to cross a narrow bridge over a ditch filled with water.

Completing Seminole's top five were Noelle Brown (114th at 15:29) and Lashownda Gathers (133rd at 16:37).

Reveiz FG Sends Bucs To 7th Loss

MIAMI (UPI) — The Miami Dolphins are lucky to be tied for first place in the AFC East today.

The Dolphins, who blew a 17-point lead in the fourth quarter, got a 43-yard field goal from rookie Fuad Reveiz with 6 seconds left Sunday to beat the winless Tampa Bay Buccaneers, 41-38. The triumph left Miami tied with the New York Jets with a 5-2 record.

"When you win one like that, you've got to be thankful, and we are," Miami coach Don Shula said. "The game had about everything you would want in a football game, except there was a little too much of Tampa's offense. Our defense struggled all day."

"I understand the Jets lost (20-13 to New England), so somehow, some way, we're tied for first."

After Reveiz' kick, the Buccaneers completed a 57-yard desperation pass, but time ran out as wide receiver Kevin House was tackled at the Miami 33.

The Buccaneers got fine efforts from tight end Jimmie Giles, who caught 7 passes for 116 yards and a club-record 4 touchdowns, and quarterback Steve DeBerg, who threw for 365 yards. Donald Igwebuike kicked a 38-yard field goal with 43 seconds left to tie the game at 38-38.

The Dolphins appeared headed for an easy victory when quarterback Dan Marino threw a 3-yard TD pass to Bruce Hardy with 2:46 left in the third quarter to give Miami a 38-21 lead.

But Tampa Bay rallied for 17 straight points to tie. Besides Igwebuike's field goal, the Buccaneer scores in the fourth quarter came on passes of 7 and 16 yards from DeBerg to Giles, the latter with 7:32 left.

"We fought them pretty good and still came up short," said Buccaneer coach Leeman Bennett. "I can't say how well we hung in there."

After Tampa tied the score, Marino, who completed 27-of-39 passes for 302 yards and three touchdowns, drove the Dolphins 45 yards in three plays to set up Reveiz's kick. Two of the completions were to Tony Nathan, who also scored on a 1-yard run in the third quarter.

"I'll tell you one thing," said Marino. "Tony Nathan comes through when it counts. He's such a clutch player." Nathan finished with 8 catches for 80 yards.

Miami also scored on Marino passes of 16 yards to Nat Moore and 4 yards to Jim Jensen, a 1-yard run by Ron Davenport, and a 20-yard field goal by Reveiz.

Tampa Bay's other points came on a 10-yard run by James Wilder, who finished with 98 yards on 24 carries, and passes of 15 and 39 yard from DeBerg to Giles.

Reveiz, whose 20-yard field goal was tipped at the line and barely cleared the crossbar, said he tried to approach the game-winning kick like any other field goal attempt.

DeBerg summed up the Buccaneers feelings.

"Almost" is a word I'm getting tired of," he said. "We didn't quit when we were down 14-0 and this team is coming together. We are still 0-7, which is the bottom line."

Pendleton's Double Silences Leibbrandt, Royals

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI) — Charlie Leibbrandt's mood said it all, but the sad performance really belonged to Kansas City manager Dick Howser.

With Leibbrandt doing everything but sending out distress signals, Howser kept ace reliever Dan Quisenberry in the bullpen Sunday night while the St. Louis Cardinals rallied to win a game that should have tied the World Series at one game apiece.

Instead, Terry Pendleton's three-run, two-out double in the ninth inning gave the Cardinals a 4-2 victory and a 2-0 lead in the best-of-seven series.

"I have nothing to say tonight, gentlemen," said a quiet Leibbrandt. Later, when pressed for comment as he was leaving, the 29-year-old left-hander hung his head and said, "No, no, no."

Leibbrandt's collapse, and Quisenberry's absence, all but buried the Royals. Instead of going to St. Louis with a split and an upbeat mood, Kansas City must win two of three to even survive the trip.

"Charlie was in complete command," Howser insisted. "I talked to our pitching coach, Gary Blaylock, before the ninth inning started and decided it was his game to win or lose."

True to the code of the managers' fraternity, Cardinals' skipper Whitey Herzog declined to second-guess Howser, even before anyone asked him to.

"Leibbrandt pitched a super game," said Herzog. "Three different kinds of hits won it."

Leibbrandt was not hit hard in the ninth, but there was little question that the situation called for Quisenberry.

Quisenberry is being paid millions of dollars over a lifetime contract, simply to protect situations like the 2-0 advantage the Royals took into the ninth.

Leibbrandt owned a two-hitter entering the ninth. Of the 26 batters he faced, 21 received a strike on the first pitch. He had thrown 108 pitches, all but 36 of them strikes.

Remember those stats. They figure later.

Willie McGee led off with a double, only the third St. Louis hit and paralleling a playoff situation in which Leibbrandt took a shutout into the ninth against Toronto and walked the leadoff man.

Escort Service Chauffeurs Thomas

By Chris Flister
Herald Sports Writer

Don't be surprised if you see Robert Thomas following a bunch of big guys around Lyman High School this week.

The way the Lyman offensive line escorted Thomas through the Oviedo defense Friday night, he may want to sign them up full time.

The offensive line, which consists of center Pat Perkins, guards David Leach and Sean Martinson and tackles David Kwiatkowski and John Spolski paved the way for Thomas to gain 176 yards on 31 carries Friday night as Lyman won its third straight, 17-10, over Oviedo.

"I can't say enough about the

job the line did tonight," Thomas said after the win. "They were blowing open big holes in both the first and second half."

Of course, it also helps to have a back the likes of Thomas.

"Now we know who the best back in the county is," Perkins said after Thomas outgained Oviedo's Andrew Smith who had 152 yards.

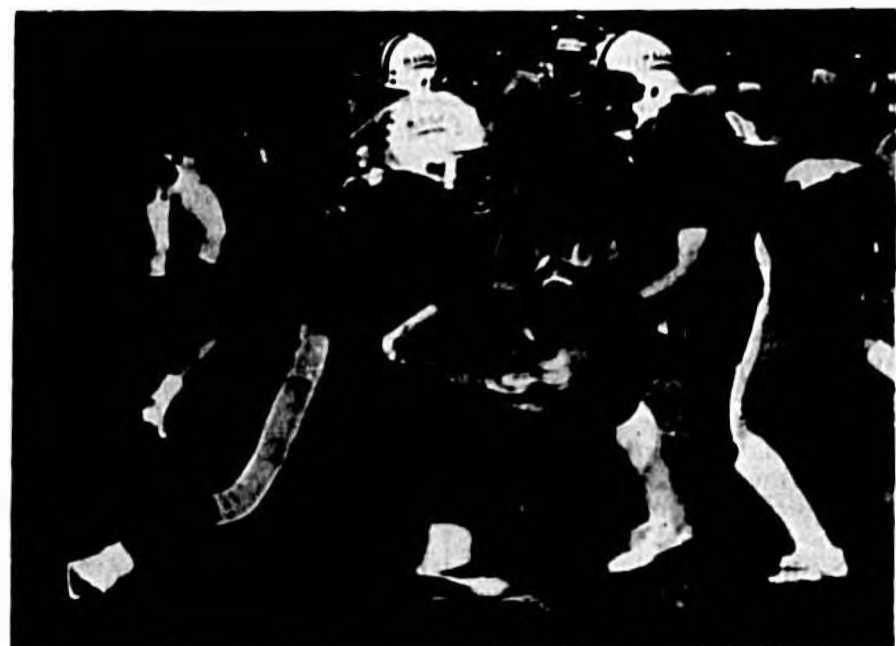

Lyman didn't have the ball enough in the first quarter for the line to make a difference, but it started to steamroll Oviedo defenders early in the second period. And, as the line created the holes, Thomas started picking up mass yardage.

Thomas ran the ball for 78 yards in the second quarter alone and scored two touchdowns, the first from 12 yards out and the second from 13 as the Greyhounds built a 14-3 halftime lead much to the delight of the home crowd.

"The guys on the line really came together tonight," Perkins said. "Especially in the first half. Getting those early scores was the key."

In the second half, Smith ran wild for the Lions but Lyman kept the ball on offense enough to keep the Lions from taking control.

IN BRIEF

SYSA Basketball Schedules 2 Registrations At Middle Schools

The Seminole Youth Sports Association basketball league will hold two registration dates for the 1985-86 season.

The first registration date will be this Saturday from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. at all Seminole County middle schools. The second registration will be Saturday, Nov. 1 at the middle schools.

John Smith, SYSA spokesman, said boys and girls should register at the middle school which they attend. Elementary players should register at the middle school they will attend.

The registration fee for elementary player — fourth and fifth graders — is $25. The fee for middle school players — 12 and under, 13 and under, 14 and under and 15 and under — is $40.

Players should bring a birth certificate and identification photo. The SYSA cage season opens Dec. 14.

Edwards Wins And Makes Plane

PENSACOLA (UPI) — With two booming 4-irons and one soft putt, Danny Edwards won $54,000 Sunday ... and made his plane.

Edwards snapped a two-year victory drought by dropping in a 15-foot birdie putt at the 17th hole, breaking away from a three-way tie and winning the $300,000 Pensacola Open by one stroke.

En route to his fifth PGA triumph, Edwards two-putted from 12 feet out for par on 18 to avoid a playoff.

Edwards was deadlocked with Gil Morgan and John Mahaffey at 14-under when he stepped up at the par-3, 194-yard 17th. A 4-iron left him 15 feet away from a birdie, and Edwards rolled it in to become the undisputed leader. At the par-4, 454-yard 18th, Edwards unleashed another strong 4-iron and two-putted from 12 feet away for the par that made for a very happy plane ride home to Edmond, Okla. Edwards finished with a 67 and a total of 15-under-par 269.

Jones, Benoit Win Marathons

CHICAGO (UPI) — Steve Jones of Wales and American Joan Benoit Samuelson won titles at the America's Marathon Sunday, with Jones coming agonizingly close to a world record.

Jones, 30, finished the 26.2-mile race in 2:07:13, two seconds behind the world record set by Carlos Lopes of Portugal in April. He said he did not know how close he was to the record until it was too late to do anything about it.

"When I made the turn (at the top of the final straightaway more than a quarter-mile away from the finish), I obviously knew I was slowing down quite drastically," Jones said. "I was ready to start waving to the crowd and shaking hands with my friends. About halfway down the stretch, I saw the clock and I realized it was so close, within my grasp. I didn't know how fast I had run."

Jones, 30, led the entire race and ran at a world record-setting pace until about the 20th mile.

Waltrip Increases Points Lead

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (UPI) — A chassis adjustment and a fresh set of tires with about 70 laps left in the Nationwide 500 added up to a victory Sunday for Darrell Waltrip and increased his lead in the NASCAR point standings.

With his third victory of the season, Waltrip built his lead over Bill Elliott to 35 points with two races remaining. Going into Sunday's 492-lap event at the 1.017-mile North Carolina Motor Speedway, Waltrip held a 20-point advantage over Elliott.

"If we could add 15 or 20 more points at Atlanta I would feel comfortable going into Riverside," Waltrip said. "Thirty-five is nothing to write home about."

Elliott, who Sunday became the first race driver ever to surpass $2 million in winnings in a single season, finished fourth in a Ford.

Sabal Point Offer Free Clinic

The Halloween treat at the Sabal Point County Club is a free golf clinic on Oct. 31 at 1 p.m. The only trick is to show up.

Dr. David Lehrman, a noted Miami back specialist, will demonstrate with the club's pro the body mechanics of a "back-safe" swing and easy-to-do exercises to alleviate everyday back pain.

Lucky participants will win Back Aids raffled by Miss Orlando 1985. For more information contact Brian MacFarlane, Sabal Point Country Club, (305) 788-6578.

Thomson Rallies To Win Suntree

MELBOURNE (UPI) — Australian Peter Thomson, four strokes out of the lead with six holes to play rallied with three birdies to edge out Charlie Sifford by one shot to win the $165,000 Barnett-Suntree Senior Classic.

The victory Sunday was Thomson's ninth on this year's senior PGA tour.

Thomson spotted a final round 3-under-par 69, good for a 9-under-par 207 total over the 6,533-yard Suntree Country Club course.

Sifford, winner of the event in 1980, also posted 69 for an 8-under-par 208 tally.

Tribe Boosters Meet Monday

The Seminole High School Boosters Club will meet Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the high school gym for a presentation by the fall sports coaches.

Rose Futrell, Boosters Club president, said the meeting is open to all members and urged any other interested parties to attend.

Coaches Not At Fault For Lady Hawk Demise

Paula Trier would like to make one thing perfectly clear. True, there will not to a Lady Hawk Christmas Basketball Tournament this year at Lake Howell High School.

The reason, however, needs clarifying. There will be no Lady Hawk because there were not enough parents who volunteered to operate the tournament. Mrs. Trier said there was not a problem acquiring help from the coaches.

Therefore, the Lady Hawk, which was entering its ninth year, has been cancelled. The eight-team tournament, which drew the best teams from the old Five Star Conference and the powerful Metro Conference, usually started the day after Christmas each year.

The Lady Hawk was the brainchild of Elder and Joyce Frank. They started the tournament because there wasn't such a thing for girls basketball in those days and it turned into a very popular event. It gave the young ladies much-needed exposure for their abilities and a showcase for the college scouts.

The Franks ran the show for two years before Don Jonas took over the past two years.

Sam Cook
SPORTS
EDITOR

Due to pressing business demands, however, neither Jonas nor the Franks could direct the tournament this year.

Mrs. Trier said the boosters asked for volunteers among the parents but only one person came forward. "It is too big of an undertaking for one person," Mrs. Trier said regretfully. "We just don't have the manpower to do it."

The boosters set a deadline and when sufficient help couldn't be procured by that date, the decision was made to cancel the tournament.

The Lady Hawk was plagued by other problems, too. When the Franks were running the tournament, it was guaranteed to bring in $500. It was considerably less than that last year. Although the Metro teams brought quality competition to the tournament, they never brought any fans. While the Metro was dominating the semifinals and finals, the gate receipts suffered.

"It was a combination of things," Lake Howell assistant coach Mike Hargis said. "You can't really blame anybody. Mrs. Trier got caught in the middle. It was a complex problem."

Mrs. Trier said she thinks a change of lifestyle was one of the biggest problems. "So many families have both parents working that they just don't have the time to volunteer," she said. "Sometimes, it's just a big enough problem to haul everybody to the games."

Although Lady Hawk '85 will not materialize, Mrs. Trier said the boosters will make every effort to resurrect the tournament for '86. That's good to hear. A lot of people, primarily the Franks along with Ray Smith and his late wife, Eunice, built this tournament from the bottom up. It's a tournament that will continue to thrive — if it gets the necessary assistance.

Lyman's Lady Greyhound volleyball team celebrates a successful spike. Lyman invades Seminole Tuesday night for a Seminole Athletic Conference encounter.

Lyman Gains Tourney Experience

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Lyman's Lady Greyhounds journeyed to Jacksonville Saturday and found that the competition is tough outside of the Central Florida area. Lyman was 2-1 in pool play, then dropped a close match to 3A power Brooksville Hernando in the quarterfinals of the Jacksonville Invitational.

Lyman returns to Seminole Athletic Conference action Tuesday at home against Seminole. The Lady Greyhounds can clinch at least a tie for the SAC title with a win over the Lady Tribe.

"I think the girls were physically and mentally exhausted from this past week," Lyman coach Jerri Kelly said. "And we haven't faced the caliber of teams that were in the tournament. We don't have that kind of competition in Central Florida. It was a very good experience for us. The girls learned a lot and saw they are capable of playing with the better teams in the state."

Lyman opened the tournament Saturday morning with a victory over Jacksonville Bolles, then took two straight from Jacksonville Fletcher. The Lady Greyhounds then dropped a close one to Jacksonville Sandalwood in the final match of pool play.

The top two teams from the pool, Sandalwood and Lyman, advanced to the quarterfinals. Lyman took on Hernando's Lady Leopards, the winner of their pool, and dropped the first game. Lyman came back to take a 12-8 lead in game two before Brooksville stormed to a 15-13 victory to eliminate the Lady Greyhounds.

Hernando has been a nemesis for Seminole County volleyball teams that past two years. Last season, Hernando downed Oviedo in the sectional playoffs to keep Oviedo from going to the state tournament.

Kelly said the most consistent players in the four tournament matches were seniors Dawn Boyesen and Sheila Mandy. She said Donna Ball, also a senior, had good serves that kept Lyman in the game on many occasions.

Another player for the Lady Greyhounds who hasn't seen much action this season, junior Jodie Vega, went in to serve for Tami Foss, who had an off day, and did an excellent job. Kelly said Vega, one of only two juniors on the team, also played well in the back row.

NEWMAN WATCH — Lyman volleyball coach Karren Newman, who was paralyzed from the chest down in an automobile accident Saturday, Oct. 12, has been moved from the intensive care unit to a semi-private room at Orlando's Humana Lucerne Hospital.

Miss Newman's mailing address is Room 254, Bed 2, Humana Lucerne Hospital, 818 S. Main Ave., Orlando, FL 32801.

Crawford's Run Sinks Knights

Football

ORLANDO (UPI) — Eastern Kentucky's James Crawford scored on a 16-yard run with 3:45 remaining in the game Saturday to boost the Colonels to a 28-21 win over the University of Central Florida.

Crawford was one of two Eastern Kentucky rushers to account for more than 100 yards on the ground, carrying the ball 14 times for 130 yards. The Colonels, 4-2-0, totaled 379 yards, 341 of those on the ground.

Former Winter Park High standout Elroy Harris led the Colonels ground game with 165 yards in 19 carries. He scored two touchdowns on runs of 14 and 11 yards.

UCF, 2-4-0, trailed 21-10 entering the final period. But Aaron Sam scored his second touchdown of the game on a 5-yard run with 14:37 left in the contest to pull the Knights to within 21-16. Then on the extra point attempt, quarterback Kevin Helm connected with Brian Glasford for two.

The Knights scored again with 5:41 left in the game when Ed O'Brien hit a 20-yard field goal to tie the score at 21-21.

Crawford's winning touchdown romp culminated a seven-play, 78-yard drive highlighted by Harris 26-yard run from the UCF 42 to the Knight 16. Two plays later Crawford scored the winning Touchdown.

UCF outplayed Eastern Kentucky statiscally, getting 12 more first downs than the Knights' 21 and passing for 263 yards, compared to the Colonels' 38.

Central Florida also had the ball for 35:59 of the contest, compared to Eastern Kentucky's 24:01, but the Knights failed to capitalize.

The Colonels did manage 341 yards rushing on 48 carries.

No Qusenberry. Cesar Cedeno received an intentional walk and up came Pendleton. By now, Leibrandt had obviously lost it. He fell behind in the count, and Pendleton lined a double down the left field line. Cedeno using his speed to score from first.

"I felt the first pitch of the ninth was up and he didn't have the same pop," Pendleton said of Leibrandt.

Now back to those stats, for a measure of how much Leibrandt had lost. In the ninth, Leibrandt threw 30 pitches. Only 15 were strikes. Of the seven batters he faced, only two saw a strike on the first pitch.

Suddenly, the fourth-inning RBI doubles by Brett and Frank White looked tiny.

The seventh-inning play in which left fielder Landrum cut down Buddy Biancalana trying to score from second on Lonnie Smith's single loomed a little larger.

When Jeff Lahti finalized the game with a double-play grounder thrown to pinch hitter Jorge Orta, Ken Dayley owned the victory instead of Leibrandt.

"Orta is a strong hitter inside and he tried to pull a fastball which was outside," said Lahti. "It was in my best interest to stay away from him."

"Leibrandt was outstanding. We started out together in '78 in Eugene (Oregon). I feel a little sorry for him, but I wanted the Cardinals to win."

to win or lose, the Royals lost. Howser denied that Qusenberry's inconsistency this post-season, especially against left-handers, affected the manager's decision.

"My decision was dictated more by Leibrandt than by Qusenberry," said Howser. "We know Qusenberry is going to give up an occasional run, but really Leibrandt was pitching so well that we just didn't feel any need to make a change then."

Qusenberry believes he might have been used if he had been pitching more effectively.

In the Series opener on Saturday night, he allowed a ninth-inning insurance run that took the Royals out of the game.

"I threw in 88 or 89 games and I'm a little tired," he said.

But so is Qusenberry. The situation reminded you of what former New York manager Casey Stengel used to say.

"They may beat me," Stengel said. "But they're going to have to get the winning hit off Allie Reynolds."

On Sunday night, Howser left his version of Allie Reynolds in the bullpen.

Unsympathetic M.D. Should Be Dropped

DEAR DR. GOTT — I am 50 years old and had my last menstrual period about a year ago. I am bothered by dry skin and a dry vagina, and have developed light, downy facial hair during the past year. My gynecologist has been neither helpful nor sympathetic. He does not believe in a woman taking estrogen unless it is absolutely necessary. He is supposed to be one of the finest, but I find myself losing faith in his competence, especially since so many doctors seem to be advocating the use of estrogen. I surely would appreciate your comments.

DEAR READER — You are clearly menopausal and are suffering from the consequences of diminishing hormone levels in your body. You are also suffering from another, more serious disorder: physician indifference. There are certainly many approaches your gynecologist could take to help you through this difficult metamorphosis. I think his behavior, although understandable, is reprehensible. Seek out another gynecologist who is more aware of the profound alterations taking place in your body. Perhaps a female specialist would be more sympathetic.

In any case, the judicious use of combined estrogen-progesterone therapy may be appropriate in your case and should be considered. However, I believe your first priority is to find a gynecologist who will better serve your needs. For many women, menopause is enough of a problem without the added burden of an unsympathetic doctor, no matter how well-qualified he is.

DEAR DR. GOTT — In a recent column, you said that you were not aware that biofeedback can control migraine. I was dismayed by your answer. I am a certified biofeedback therapist and am enclosing a list of references to introduce you to the effectiveness of biofeedback in treating migraine.

DEAR READER — I got caught with my references down. I did not intend to demean biofeedback as a means of controlling migraine. In that question, the reader asked if biofeedback could cure migraine. As you know, it can't. However, temperature biofeedback is certainly one type of treatment that has shown promise in treating migraine. I meant to indicate that such treatment is not yet universally accepted or available. Nonetheless, biofeedback can help migraine sufferers and certainly must be included in any list of effective options.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
A bridge convention that's near and dear to me — the Jacoby transfer bid — seems to have brought on a bad result in today's deal. When North bid two diamonds, transferring to hearts, South jumped to three hearts (he had four-card support, a maximum no-trump and a doubleton diamond). North unhesitatingly raised to game.

The contract was good but the omens were bad after the opening lead. It seemed as though East held the spade ace. If so, it was less likely that he would also hold the diamond ace. With a sigh, declarer played the king from dummy. East won and returned the four of spades. West took the jack and continued with the nine. That seemed strange to declarer. How could West know that South had another spade? Declarer played dummy's eight of hearts, overruffed by East's jack, and the contract was one down.

As is so often the case, declarer's mistake came at trick one. Since there was no possibility that West held the spade ace, declarer should play low from dummy. East will win the second spade, but the threat of an overruff will no longer exist. However, South must still be mentally nimble. East will probably lead a low diamond back, away from the ace. Declarer must now go right up with the king, giving East credit for not making such a bad play as leading away from the queen of diamonds with dummy's jack staring him in the face.

HOROSCOPE

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY
OCTOBER 22, 1985
This year you are likely to be given greater responsibilities to manage where your career is concerned. If your performance is good your rewards will be commensurate.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
Carefully examine any merchandise offered to you as a bargain today. You could be taken if you're not extremely alert. Trying to patch up a romance? The Matchmaker set can help you understand what it might take to make the relationship work. To get yours, mail $2 to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, Box 1846, Cincinnati, OH 45201.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
Do not let your patience and tolerance desert you today when dealing with testy family situations. You'll regret it later if you lose your cool.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Limitations that confront you today could be of your own making. Don't let negative thinking paint you into a blue corner.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Be sure to voluntarily pick up your end of the check today when socializing with friends. Don't give pals any reason to think you're freeloading.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
To achieve career objectives today, you'll have to be tenacious and thick-skinned. Victories might not come easily.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
It's best not to become too locked in on a single course of action today. Plans that you think are feasible may have to be totally revised.

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
It's best not to become involved in any joint ventures today if the people with whom you'll be associating are unproven entities. Stay on familiar turf.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
The easy answers for which you'll be looking today might not be there. Face up to difficult decisions, yet do nothing in haste.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Today you might experience a little more pressure and urgency at work. Regardless of what occurs, don't let it overwhelm you.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Don't take foolish gambles today on people or ventures you don't control. Those upon whom you depend may lack competency.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
Harmony on the home front will be disrupted today if you bring up issues upon which you and your mate disagree. Let sleeping dogs lie.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
Normally you're the first to be of service to others. But today you might turn a deaf ear to one who needs you.
