Marian S. Lewis

Probation Officer Reinstated With Less Pay Loss

By Deane Jordan
Herald Staff Writer

A probation officer out of work for 2½ months got her job back with the county Tuesday after the Seminole County Commission reinstated her and reduced her punishment for criticizing a supervisor from being fired to five weeks suspension without pay.

"I feel pretty good. I feel it was a fair compromise and I am happy about the decision," said Marian S. Lewis, 53, of Winter Springs. "I feel the commission did what was best for the county."

Ms. Lewis was fired Feb. 6 for publicly criticizing her supervisor, Donna Haerich, of the county's probation office. Ms. Lewis was critical of the handling of an investigation into allegations of thefts in that office. In response, Ms. Haerich suspended Ms. Lewis with pay then a few days later fired her for misconduct. Ms. Lewis appealed her firing to the county Personnel Board saying that she thought it wrong that she should be fired when the purported thief was allowed to resign.

On March 13, the county's Personnel Board recommended to the commission that Lewis not be fired and that her punishment be the total time she would be suspended without pay until her reinstatement. Commissioner Fred Streetman, a member of the personnel board, and who made the suspension motion, told the commission Tuesday that when he made the motion he had about a 30-day suspension in mind not the 2½ months Ms. Lewis has been out-of-work without pay.

Christine M. Alber, Ms. Lewis' attorney, asked the commission to consider reducing the amount of time her client was suspended without pay and to receive some assurances that Ms. Haerich would try to get along with Ms. Lewis. Ms. Lewis had already agreed to cooperate with Ms. Haerich, she said.

Lois Martin, personnel director for the county, told the commissioners that Ms. Haerich had reorganized the office management structure and that Ms. Lewis would not be directly reporting to Ms. Haerich.

After hearing comments about the office reorganization, the commission unanimously agreed to reduce Ms. Lewis' punishment to 5 weeks without pay.

Ms. Lewis was fired after she criticized the investigation into the theft of money from the probation office. The confrontation was prompted by an article in the Evening Herald about the arrest of a Sanford man accused of thefts from that office. The man, Orestes Cobb, has since

Reagan May Face Questions On Terrorism

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Reagan, who in his last public speech warned Libyan leader Moammar Khadafy he will be held "fully accountable" for future terrorism, has a chance today to drop the other shoe.

Reagan was scheduled to speak to newspaper editors at about noon and then field questions from reporters at a nationally televised evening news conference, his first in two months.

Two subjects likely to dominate the news conference — his 34th in five years in office — are plans for retaliation against Libya and prospects for a summit meeting this summer with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev.

Reagan extended a planned 15-minute meeting with departing Soviet ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin by a full hour Tuesday to discuss the full range of East-West issues and to receive a letter from Gorbachev.

Officials would not reveal the contents, but Secretary of State George Shultz announced he and Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze would meet in mid-May to prepare for a summit in the United States at an unspecified date.

Wekiva Plan Rejected 4-1

Christensen Sees Court Fight

By Sarah Fischer
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County Commissioners Wednesday night turned down a request for a high density residential development along the Wekiva River.

Commissioners rejected plans by Amcor Investment Corp. for the 1,240-unit project known as Plantation, after concerned residents packed the meeting room to speak out against the request.

Commissioners decided that the proposed project is not consistent with the county's land use plan, and they voted 4-1 against making such a change. Barbara Christensen cast the dissenting vote.

Commissioners voted unanimously to deny the request to rezone 573 acres to the west of Markham Woods Road from agriculture to planned unit development. They also followed the recommendation of the county planning and zoning commission in denying approval of the project as a development of regional impact.

Mrs. Christensen said today, while she felt the project was not consistent with the county's land use plan, the commission should have been open to the possibility of changing the plan.

She criticized the county's procedure during the meeting, saying the discussion was limited to the comprehensive land use change question. Other aspects of the project, such as sewage and water quality, were not addressed, she said.

"All I wanted to do was listen," she said. She added that she felt the procedure prevented the developer from "due process and a fair hearing."

Mrs. Christensen said she voted against the DRI and rezoning after the commission was advised by County Attorney Nikki Clayton that votes on these two issues were a "formality" once the land use change was denied.

Mrs. Christensen also charged that the county's decision precluded the discussion of any type of compromise by the developer and said the county ignored a decision by the East Central Florida Regional Plan-

Remodeling Violates Ordinance

By Karen Talley
Herald Staff Writer

The remodeling of a downtown Sanford building owned by Jeno Paulucci has been cited for violations of the city's historic district ordinance by Sanford's engineering and planning director and the city's Historic Preservation Board chairman.

The violations involve a paint job and the removal of garage doors and window sashes, historic board chairman Jerry Mills said.

According to a Paulucci representative, the efforts were undertaken due to the building's deteriorated condition. The wooden garage doors were replaced with coil spring doors, the window openings were filled in with cement and the building was painted white.

According to Sanford's historic district ordinance, the historic preservation board must review and approve all proposals for external modification of structures located in the historic district. The ordinance allows "maintenance or repair" in cases "which do not involve a change in design, material, color or outer appearance."

The work done at the 207 W. Second St. structure "is technically in violation" of the ordinance, Engineering and Planning Director Bill Simmons said.

The structure lies directly behind the First Street corporate headquarters of Paulucci Enterprises and served for many years as headquarters for the Stein Machine and Supply Company before being purchased by a Paulucci representative at auction on Feb. 8.

NASA Admits Fumbles In Detecting Dangers

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The space agency's chief trouble-shooter says NASA overlooked earlier hints of potential catastrophe and accepted a "marginal" rocket joint design that ultimately doomed the shuttle Challenger.

"The simple answer to the public is I think NASA has taken an awful lot of bows on these prior launches," J.R. Thompson, who is in charge of NASA's accident investigation, said Tuesday. "On this one we just fumbled."

National Transportation Safety Board officials today planned to outline their findings about how the shuttle broke up after the explosion of its external fuel tank on Jan. 28, a blast triggered by a rupture in a joint between two fuel segments in Challenger's right-side rocket booster.

Several large pieces of the shuttle apparently hit the water

8.9 miles below relatively intact. The crew cabin, for example, was found in 100 feet of water in a compressed mound of wreckage.

But the prime goal of the salvage operation is recovery of wreckage from the area of the joint that failed in the right-hand booster.

At a news conference Tuesday, Thompson said NASA will present its formal accident report to the presidential disaster commission April 18 but that some members will be given preliminary findings Thursday at the Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala.

"Clearly, the failure was in the joint. From everything we know that joint's got to be redesigned," Thompson said, echoing earlier testimony before the commission.

"What were the individual steps that led us to this problem

2 Libyans Expelled

BONN, West Germany (UPI) — West German Foreign Minister Hans-Dietrich Genscher today ordered the expulsion of two Libyan diplomats in retaliation for the Berlin nightclub bombing, a ministry spokesman said.

Genscher, according to the spokesman, made his decision after evaluating information developed by a special crisis staff set up immediately after the terrorist attack on the La Belle disco early Saturday. One U.S. soldier and a Turkish woman were killed and 230 people were injured, including 63 Americans.

The spokesman did not identify the diplomats. He said the activities of the diplomats were incompatible with diplomatic practices.

'If Man Had Wings...'

Pursuing Ancient Dream, Team Developing Human-Powered Aircraft

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pursuing man's ancient dream to fly, a team of scientists is developing an aircraft powered solely by human energy and capable of soaring 60 miles, officials said today.

If accomplished, the feat would be triple that of the world distance record for human-powered aircraft, the National Air and Space Museum and the Massachusetts Institute of Technology said.

The prestigious institutions have completed an investigation into the project that involves the plane flying from the shortest open-water strait between Crete to the mainland of Greece.

The aircraft will be customized to minimize sensitivity to winds and turbulence, they said.

The project is dubbed Daedalus for the mythical Greek inventor who flew to freedom from the island of Crete by using wings he had fashioned himself. Legend has it Daedalus is the first mortal ever to reach the sky.

The scientists decided to discuss details of the craft's workings, but during previous experiments a juddering device was used to keep the craft

Although a non-mechanical aircraft that could make the journey does not now exist, such a flight is technically possible, scientists say.

The Daedalus team reported today experimental research conducted during the past year has produced the development of an aerial wing 50 percent less drag than those used on previous human-powered aircraft.

The team also said it has designed and built an advanced all-composite wing structure.

only during three months of the year for each journey.

The two institutions already have allocated $7.4 million for the project, which also is funded by the Greek government, Anders Instruments and Union Carbide Corp.

During the second phase of the project, scientists will design and construct a prototype aircraft that will be tested in the United States.

The weather for the journey is forecast only in March, April or September and the team the earliest possible flight date for the Daedalus is the spring of 1987.

IN BRIEF

Air Force Spent $1 Billion
On '12 Days Of Christmas'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — On the 12 days of Christmas, Air Force officials went on a spending spree, congressional investigators say.

Admonished to speed up spending of budgeted funds, logistics officers for the military service doled out more than $1 billion at the end of December, often setting aside the usual safeguards against waste, aides to a House Energy and Commerce subcommittee said Tuesday.

One investigator for the subcommittee on oversight and investigations charged the yuletide spending rush is another indication "that the Pentagon has more money than it can spend."

The flurry of purchases, mainly on spare parts, was triggered by a Dec. 20, 1985, memo from the Air Force Logistics Command at Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Ohio noting there was "much focus and pressure on prior year unobligated balances" in three accounts totalling $4.7 billion.

"You should therefore attempt to obligate available 1984 and 1985 funds (from those accounts) to the maximum extent possible for inclusion in the Dec. 31, 1985 accounting reports," said the memo, made available to United Press International.

The memo cautioned that any purchases must follow all laws and regulations, but suggested that procurement officers "pursue one-time waivers" if an Air Force policy or directive impeded an expenditure.

"On the 12 days of Christmas, they spent $1.05 billion, or 5 percent of the total money they had available for 1984 and 1985," an investigator for the subcommittee chaired by Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., said.

Diver's Family Sues TWA

NEW YORK (UPI) — The family of a Navy diver who was killed in the hijacking of a TWA jet last June is suing the airline for nearly $21 million, claiming was "reckless" in handling security checks in Greece enabled terrorists to board the plane.

The parents, brother and sister of Robert Stethem, 23, of Waldorf, Md., filed the suit Tuesday in U.S. District Court in Manhattan, seeking $14.75 million in compensatory damages and $6 million in punitive damages.

Stethem was aboard TWA flight 847 when it was hijacked June 14 on a flight from Athens to Rome, beginning a 17-day odyssey of terror in which the pilot was forced at gunpoint to shuttle three times between Algeria and Lebanon.

Early on, the Shiite Moslem hijackers dragged Stethem into the plane's cockpit where they beat him, shot him and then dumped his body onto the airport tarmac in Beirut, Lebanon.

The suit said disorder prevailed at the security checkpoint and that security guards let one of the hijackers go through a weapons detector backward and board the plane without a physical search.

It said this was done even though one terrorist twice set off the weapons detector and once threw up his hands to indicate surrender.

Eastwood Wins Mayor's Race

CARMEL-BY-THE-SEA, Calif. (UPI) — Comparing his victory to the thrill of a hit movie, Mayor-elect Clint Eastwood acknowledged that yes indeed, Carmel's voters had made his day.

The tough-guy movie actor was elected to a two-year term as mayor of this picturesque seaside hamlet Tuesday in a landslide, picking up 72 percent of the vote to oust incumbent Charlotte Townsend, a 61-year-old former librarian.

LaRouche Basks In Prominence
That Could Lead To Downfall

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Since rising from obscurity a month ago, Lyndon LaRouche and his eccentric politics have basked in a newfound prominence that critics hope ultimately will bring his own downfall.

Two of his followers scored victories in the Illinois Democratic primary three weeks ago, focusing unprecedented attention on the normally reclusive LaRouche, who says his political followers are gaining support nationwide.

Today, LaRouche, the subject of a recent wave of newspaper, television and magazine reports as well as words of outrage by conservatives and liberals, is to address the National Press Club.

"I don't like to see him get such a prestigious platform," said Terry Michael, a spokesman for the Democratic National Committee. "At the same time, I realize everytime he opens his mouth, people see how off the wall he is."

"I don't think LaRouche can stand exposure," said Murray Seeger, an AFL-CIO spokesman. "He and his members are like bugs under a rock. You turn over the rock and the bugs disappear or die."

Calls to LaRouche's headquarters in Leesburg, Va., Tuesday went unanswered. A woman said no one was available to comment.

LaRouche, a former Marxist, heads a cult-like group of a few thousand people worldwide. He has been denounced by the Anti-Defamation League, the AFL-CIO and others as a "whacko," a "fascist," an "anti-Semite."

LaRouche, 63, calls the Queen Elizabeth a "drug pusher" and Walter Mondale a KGB "agent of influence." He blames much of the world's ills on conspiracies by bankers, communists and Zionists.

He lists among his enemies the KGB and the FBI. He says he is in constant danger of assassination. He travels with armed bodyguards.

At the press club, as part of a prior agreement, LaRouche's security men were to leave their guns outside, said Mary Kay Quinlan, the club's president.

"Quite frankly, some members said we shouldn't give Lyndon LaRouche a platform," said Quinlan. "Others said, we should let the world see him for what he is. Regardless, the Illinois election made him a man in the news."

With his followers winning the Illinois Democratic primary for lieutenant governor and secretary of state, LaRouche sent political shockwaves across America.

The Democratic Party called the election a "fluke" caused, in large part, by uninformed voters and non-vigilant politicians. In an effort to prevent a repeat, it sent informational packets on LaRouche to state party chairmen.

LaRouche ran for president in 1976, 1980 and 1984, gaining just a tiny fraction of the vote.

Sexual Assault Trial Continues

An account of two days of sexual assaults and sordid abuse on a 21-year-old woman unfolded Tuesday during the trial of half-brothers who were guarded constantly in the Sanford courtroom by four armed sheriff's deputies.

Trial continued today for Robert Brooker, 38, of Colorado, and Stormy Faddis, 23, a September escapee from a Brevard County jail. The men are charged with five counts of sexual assault, robbery and the kidnapping of a woman from Fern Park Nov. 10, a day before her birthday.

The duo could receive up to life in prison if convicted by the five-man one-woman jury. Testimony is expected to include comments from two other women who are supposed to tell the court that the men in question in this case, have, on separate occasions, done similar things to them.

The trial is before visiting Circuit Judge J. Emory Cross who for a few minutes Tuesday during open arguments cleared the courtroom of everyone except trial and security personnel.

The short "in camera" session occurred just after special public defender Leon Cheek made reference in his opening arguments to the victim's past dating practices.

State Attorney Don Marblestone objected, apparently not wanting the victim's past behavior discussed in the presence of the jury or in open court. After an exchange of comments at the bench, Cross, at Marblestone's request, ordered the courtroom cleared. State statute provides that such activity of a victim, when being considered for evidence, can be discussed in a closed courtroom.

After the session, court resumed and the victim, a topless dancer, was the first witness to testify.

In the embarrassingly quiet courtroom, the woman told of meeting the accused men in a bar, of being offered a ride home, and of being kidnapped at gun point, sexually assaulted, and defiled. At one point, after being "assaulted" with a gun barrel, she told the court she had the gun in her possession and wanted to kill the man who forced her to use it but was too nervous and unknowledgeable about guns to fire it. She said she thought the safety might have been on and she said she didn't know if the other man had a gun.

Through her testimony, the woman said she performed the sexual acts and submitted to sordid actions and abuse from both men because one of them, "... had a gun and I was afraid," and that if she didn't cooperate they would "probably kill me or hurt me real bad."

After the abduction in Fern Park, the woman was taken to Altamonte Springs and then to Daytona Beach where she escaped two days later.

The defence is expected to put on a defense showing that whatever happened during those three days, it was with consent of the woman, a point she denied constantly during her testimony.

Up to 30 people have been named as witnesses in the trial from forensic experts to motel maids who found strips of sheets reportedly used to bind the victim.

Graham Wants Gun Laws

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham said restrictions on concealed handguns should be left to localities and not state lawmakers, a newspaper reported Tuesday.

Graham told the Tallahassee Democrat that he hopes state legislators will sustain his veto of a bill that would eliminate city and county restrictions on carrying concealed weapons.

"I believe that there is a recognition in both the House and the Senate that this is an issue that ought to be left to local people, who are best in the position to evaluate the appropriateness of an individual to carry a concealed weapon," Graham told the Tallahassee Democrat.

Under the bill, (CS/SB 661), which was approved last year, a person would be allowed to carry a concealed weapon by paying a $100 fee, undergoing a criminal background check by the state, completing a pistol safety course and proving he has reason to carry a concealed weapon.

A veto override takes a two-thirds vote of both chambers. Graham would need 14 Senate votes and 41 House votes to uphold his veto.

"It's important to remember that we're not talking about someone's right to carry a rifle or a handgun. We're talking about someone carrying that in a concealed manner — which represents a threat to other citizens and a threat to law enforcement," Graham said.

Proponents of the law argue that honest citizens wishing to carry guns are deterred as a result of various county laws.

If Graham's veto is overridden, analysts say between 100,000 and 130,000 concealed weapon permits would soon be issued.

An Altamonte Springs girl received broken bones and a Kentucky man was injured when she ran in front of his motorcycle on Interstate 4 Monday, according to the Florida Highway Patrol.

The injured girl, Denise Wilbur, 16, of 175 N. Spring Lake Drive, was taken to Florida Hospital-Altamonte where she was in satisfactory condition being treated for broken bones and cuts. Treated for road burns, cuts and bruises at the same hospital is Thomas Hayden, 28, of Stanley, Ky. He was released around 10 p.m., a spokesman said.

According to a FHP report, Hayden was eastbound on I-4 in heavy traffic at 4:27 p.m. when Miss Wilbur reportedly tried to run across the six-lane highway and ran in front of Hayden. No charges have been filed.

Police Chief Prospects
To Begin Interviews

Lake Mary City Commissioners will begin interviewing the six final candidates for the city's vacant police chief's office Thursday night, according to City Manager Kathy Rice.

The six were selected from nearly 50 applicants for the job by the Central Florida Police Chiefs Association's screening committee, chaired by Altamonte Springs Police Chief Williams Liquori. Other members of the committee were Seminole County Sheriff John Polk, and Winter Park Police Chief Raymond Beary.

The city asked the chiefs' group to screen the applicants, and make their recommendations on a final list. The six finalists were named in early March, and since then, the screening committee has conducted background checks on each.

Four of the six will be interviewed by the city commission in a public worksession at Lake Mary City Hall, 158 North Country Club Road, starting Thursday at 7 p.m., and the other two will be interviewed on April 24. According to Mrs. Rice, the schedule for Thursday night's half-hour interviews are as follows:

— 7:00, Edward Joseph Overman, Altamonte Springs; an Altamonte Springs police lieutenant with the department since 1973.

— 7:30, Robert Andrew O'Connor, Winter Park; a former Seminole County Sheriff's Deputy from 1976-1983. Presently involved with a private security firm.

— 8:00, Mark Bradford Lamprey, Casselberry; a Winter Park police lieutenant with the department since 1977.

— 8:30, Frederick Justin Staly, Orlando; an Orange County Sheriff's Department detective sergeant, with the department since 1977.

The other two finalists, both from out of state, will be interviewed by the city commission on April 24. Scheduled to appear are:

— 7:30, Charles Williford Lauderdale, Lillieen, Texas; a 25-year U.S. Army veteran and retired chief of Fort Hood, Texas police.

— 8:00, Charles Emmett Olive, Richmond, Virginia; a Virginia State Police Major, with the department for 25 years.

Lake Mary's former chief of police, Harry S. Benson, retired from the department March 1, after 11 years at the post.

The city commission appointed department lieutenant Samuel Belfiore as acting chief during the interim period. At the April 3 city commission meeting, the city approved raising Belfiore's pay from the lieutenant's level of a reported $21,000 annually, to the chief's level of $25,689, until a new chief is selected.

Belfiore had applied for the chief's job, but was not among the six finalists recommended. Many Lake Mary residents and two commissioners, Charlie Webster and Paul Tremel, have expressed a desire to have Belfiore's name added to the finalist list.

Jailed Sanford Man Faces Two Added Assault Charges

A 33-year-old Sanford man, held without bond in the Seminole County jail since April 2 in connection with the rape, robbery and battery of a Sanford woman March 30, has been charged in connection with assaults on two other women.

Also on March 30, the man who was arrested in the above Sanford police case allegedly kicked in the front door of another Sanford area home and held a woman and her two children hostage for several hours. He reportedly told that woman he was looking for another woman who formerly lived there and who owed him $250 for cocaine.

Seminole County sheriff's investigator John Butler arrested the same suspect in connection with that case and charged him with burglary to an occupied building and aggravated battery at the Seminole County jail at 4:30 p.m. Monday. Bond in that case was set at $8,000.

But before Butler arrested that man, Seminole County sheriff's investigator Willie Chandler, at 11:15 a.m. Monday, charged the same suspect with sexual battery, burglary and robbery in connection with the rape of a 24-year-old Sanford woman who was attacked in her home March 14. About $240 was taken from that victim, Chandler reported.

In all the cases either the victims or witnesses reportedly identified a suspect in photo lineups. Those identifications led to the arrests on multiple charges of Christopher Hall of 23 Bamboo Cove, lawmen reported.

Man Pleads No Contest In Murder Of Girlfriend

An Oviedo man, accused of killing his common-law wife, has pleaded no contest to second-degree murder.

Johnny Dupree Jr., 45, entered the plea before Circuit Judge Robert B. McGregor who set May 20 for sentencing. Dupree, who shot his wife Ellen Hamilton, 48, on Nov. 21, could receive up to life in prison though the recommended sentence is 12 to 17 years.

According with witness statements in the court record, Ms. Hamilton's nephew, Larry Hamilton, and two females went to Ms. Hamilton's home because she had called and asked them to come over and take her away, "because Johnny was beating me up," a sheriff's report said.

When the trio arrived in Oviedo and pulled up to the Pineview Street home, there were no signs of trouble. According to Hamilton's statement the victim and her husband were sitting on the porch talking.

Within minutes, they moved from the porch to the street and began an argument, which escalated into pushing and shoving, the records show.

Larry Hamilton was about 20 feet away from Ms. Hamilton and Dupree when a shot was fired by Dupree, striking Ms. Hamilton.

The woman fell to the ground and Dupree fled in a pickup truck. Ms. Hamilton was transported to Winter Park Memorial Hospital in Winter Park where she was pronounced dead. Dupree surrendered to authorities about a week later.

They Care Enough ...

During the past 12 months many efforts have been mounted to combat hunger in the world. The haunting strains of "We Are The World" linger in the memory as a constant reminder of the first of the Aids-type concerts. Millions of dollars poured into coffers to aid the hungry in Africa: the falling farmers; children everywhere.

We can see the world and we can see the forests. But too often we miss the trees. We can visualize hunger in Ethiopia or the Sudan, perhaps even think we understand it. Certainly we understand that the Good Samaritan provided comfort and sustenance to a foreigner. Thus, we seem to understand and support causes on other continents, or far from our homes: the ghettos of America's largest cities; the slums of metropolitan areas everywhere.

Some, however, have also read that charity begins at home and have looked around Sanford. And they didn't like what they saw. Children forced to eat garbage from rubbish bins, or else go hungry; proud people with hunger gnawing in their stomachs because a check was delayed or illness prevents work; many reasons, but the fact remains: There are hungry people right here. People who need, and must have help.

And where there are the needy, there are also those who will help. Those who recognize that need, and care enough to do something about it.

The Rev. Jimmie Johnson, pastor of Freedom Assembly, is one of those people. He saw the hungry children of Sanford. And in that sight, he had the vision of a solution.

That solution became a reality Monday with the opening of Manna Haven. For those in need, the first food offering was not manna from Heaven but chili from the hands of many who willingly are giving of their time and substance to aid the needy of our city.

This ministry to the hungry of the area was organized as Trinity Pines, Inc. and while refurbishing a location, cared for the needy as best they could. They are Marlane Smith, Iris Kelly, Barbara West, Henry Faint, Robert Bellhorn and Bill West. "They" also includes the Seminole County School Board which has made an old school building, located at 519 Palmetto Ave, available for an initial six months without charge. "They" also includes New Life Assembly, businessmen and individual donors, and dozens of volunteers who prepare and serve the food, and clean up afterwards — Monday through Friday 11 a.m. until 1 p.m.

These are good samaritans caring for their neighbors and in so doing making Sanford a better place for all. For they care enough.

Promising Plan

A program started by the United Nations in the African nation of Chad could be a model for using international aid to help underdeveloped countries fight famine.

Chad, the world's poorest nation, received more than 200,000 tons of donated food to help fight famine caused by drought and poor farming practices. Now that the situation has improved, U.N. administrators in Chad have 13,000 tons of surplus grain left in the country.

Instead of giving the surplus food away, the administrators decided to use it as an incentive to improve economic conditions in Chad, so that if another drought hit, hunger would not be as widespread.

Chadians who help their country to increase its ability to feed its people deserve to be rewarded. Passing out food indiscriminately rewards people whether they work or not. Knowing that a payment is related to work instead of being just a handout can contribute to an individual's pride and self-respect.

White House Getting Itself A New Look

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House underwent some renovation while the President and Mrs. Reagan were on vacation at his mountaintop ranch near Santa Barbara, Calif.

The Oval Office is getting a face lift with several new coats of paint. A roof over part of the West Wing is being redone to stop the leaks — rain leaks that is.

When first families get away, the maintenance crews at the White House usually get to work on long-delayed projects that have been put off because they would interfere with official business.

More refurbishing probably will be done in August when the president takes a long summer vacation lasting up to Labor Day.

But outside changes are made even when the president is in residence. East Executive Avenue, which is where visitors enter the executive mansion for public tours, is being transformed into a park.

The street has long been blocked off to all vehicles except for service traffic and now the land is being landscaped into a pedestrian mall.

Security is a big factor, and although tourists may walk along the East Executive Avenue Park, there will be many occasions when the entire area will be closed off by the Secret Service. A White House aide said it will provide "a secure perimeter."

The National Park Service is supervising the project, which will cost about $3 million and will be completed in October or November.

Also involved in the project is the Treasury Department, situated next door to the White House, where the street is being torn up because of structural problems caused by old coal bunkers. The bunkers date back to pre-Civil War times and "are in bad shape," the aide said.

More and more the White House is being sealed off from the public, and that saddens many observers who have admired the openness of Washington, the ability to walk past the White House lawn, or drive by the wrought iron fence facing Pennsylvania Avenue.

But the threat of terrorism has changed the landscape in many ways. There are barriers in the street in front of the White House and some security-minded officials would like to close off the entire area.

Gone are the old days when access to the White House grounds was easy. Now, visitors must pass megatometers and all bags are searched.

In the '60s, when the Vietnam War was at its height, hundreds of protesters marched in front of the White House, but it's doubtful that any mass demonstrations will be allowed anymore.

Washington is a city that belongs to the all the citizens and strolling by the White House has always been a part of the freedom picture.

President Reagan's daughter, Patti Davis, is not going to be the only author in the Reagan family. The first lady has been keeping a diary, as all of her recent predecessors did, and she is expected to write her memoirs.

Yeast Not The Problem

By Ruth Youngblood

BOSTON (UPI) — Two physicians are warning patients to avoid doctors who blame a wide range of disorders from athlete's foot to cancer on yeast infection.

Treating serious diseases as if they were linked to yeast infection may delay appropriate remedies and allow the conditions to worsen, said Dr. E. Richard Stehm, a pediatric immunologist at the University of California-Los Angeles Medical Center.

"There just isn't any objective evidence that the (yeast treatment) procedure really works," Stehm said.

Stehm and a UCLA colleague, Dr. Albert Haas, outlined the hazards encountered by patients of yeast-connection proponents in a letter to The New England Journal of Medicine and in an interview.

Yeast infections are caused by fungus. Stehm said the most common yeast infections are vaginitis in women and diaper rash and thrush, a white coating of the tongue, in babies.

Yeast-theory proponents have made fungus a "catchall diagnosis," Stehm said.

Fearing yeast-connection adherents are growing in number in the southern and western United States, Stehm said. "Patients may be subjected to costly and unproved diagnostic tests and remedies. If a physician espouses the yeast connection, see another doctor."

But Dr. W.G. Crook, a leading exponent of yeast-related health problems, called the warning "a great injustice" and contended the California critics found the theory "threatening coming from a physician out in the boondocks."

Crook, a Jackson, Tenn. pediatrician, allergist and author of "The Yeast Connection: A Medical Breakthrough," contends that antibiotics induce yeast to multiply and release toxins that circulate throughout the body.

The toxins, Crook maintains, contribute to nonspecific symptoms including bad breath, fatigue, nervousness, irritability, depression, memory loss, panic attacks and headaches to specific disorders like constipation, infertility, indigestion, asthma, psoriasis, athlete's foot, cancer, multiple sclerosis, schizophrenia, autism and Crohn's disease, a type of bowel disorder.

The theory that fungus is responsible for a variety of medical complaints originated with Dr. Kazuo Iwata at the University of Tokyo in the 1970s.

Khadafy: Strong Terrorism Supporter

By Jack Anderson
And Dale Van Atta

WASHINGTON — A series of State Department cables disclose the far-ranging, Libyan-sponsored acts of terrorism and subversion that aroused the Reagan administration's ire against Libyan troublemaker Muammar Khadafy.

The cables covered five years of incidents, from the Italian island of Sardinia to the deserts of Sudan — each one chronicled in detail by American Embassy officials in the countries targeted by Khadafy and his assassins. A 1981 report by the State Department's intelligence and research bureau, which had been classified Secret, attempted to sum up what was then known about Khadafy and to share this information with U.S. embassies.

"Libya has been an active supporter of international terrorism since at least 1972," the intelligence analysis noted, citing evidence that Khadafy had "targeted several world leaders" and carried out

JEFFREY HART

Gate Of America

A lot of people have one opinion or another about the SDI or Star Wars, and, even in the case of scientists, these opinions are not always based upon relevant knowledge. Neither a man who has studied monkey brains nor a man who is a theoretical physicist necessarily has a more valid opinion on the matter — Nobel Prize or no Nobel Prize — than the cop on the beat. What is required is a state-of-the-art knowledge of the relevant technology — rockets, lasers, computers — plus an unblinking knowledge of the strategic realities.

Yesterday I had a long lunch with a man who has both, and who has all of the scientific credentials one might possess. I will here let you in on his thinking.

The professor believes that we have made remarkable progress toward a practical SDI, which might begin to go into place during the early 1990s. The principal advances have been made in ultra high-speed computers, which would run the system in the event of a massive attack upon us by Soviet missiles. Initially, the defensive shield would not be "perfect," but it would be good enough to make a first strike prohibitively risky. As other components were added, the shield would become progressively formidable.

He dismisses as pseudo-argument the case that the shield would be more expensive than the offensive missiles opposing it. The arithmetic of the critics is all wrong, he says, and wrong for the third time in this debate. He is now writing on the latest arithmetic.

But he is concerned to see the progress of SDI in large strategic and political terms. So viewed, he believes analytically that the Soviets are now and have been — and indeed are obliged to be — planning a first strike against the United States. Why?

First, because the Soviets have in place a 20-megaton behemoth missile. Two megatons is enough to wipe out a city. The only purpose of the 20-megaton monster is to pulverize our NORAD command post, which is buried deep inside the Colorado mountains. Twenty megatons would do it, and without NORAD we are out of luck, open to attacks of lesser missiles.

But why are the Soviets driven in that direction? Because of the Soviet system, the climax of European socialism and centralized planning, now in place for 69 years, is a failure. It cannot match the performance of free societies like the United States, Western Europe and Japan, to mention only the leading ones, and in fact is falling further behind at an accelerating rate.

The option of transforming the Soviet system in the direction of freedom is only a theoretical possibility. The status and power of the ruling elite depend precisely on that dying system. The Soviets do not possess the dynamism to embark upon the unknowable "Chinese road" being attempted by Deng in Beijing.

Therefore the inevitable clash with the West sometime in the future. The Soviet system cannot survive in a capitalist environment.

Right now, the Soviet leadership is playing for time. SDI, if it goes into place, will render the 20-megaton missile irrelevant, along with any first-strike strategy.

ROBERT WALTERS

Is Fagin Alive, Well?

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (NEA) — The scene is repeated thousands of times every day throughout the country: A child appears at the front door selling cookies, candy or similar items and a sympathetic homeowner makes a purchase.

In many cases, the youngsters are scouts or members of other reputable groups. In some instances, however, the solicitors are part of a commercial operation dedicated primarily to reaping profits for its adult organizers.

"Significant income from these schemes goes to out-of-state profiteers who operate through an ever-changing, interlocking maze of companies," says North Carolina Labor Commissioner John C. Brooks.

"The common denominator," adds Brooks, "is the spirit of Fagin, the villain in Charles Dickens' 19th century novel, 'Oliver Twist,' who made a living by sending underprivileged boys out to pick the pockets of wealthy Londoners."

The problem is not limited to North Carolina. Almost half of the states have reported similar questionable door-to-door, sales operations involving alleged deceptive selling practices and violations of child labor laws.

Included in that list are California, Oregon, Washington, Arizona, Oklahoma, Texas, Connecticut, New Jersey, Maryland, Nebraska, Illinois, Iowa, Georgia, Alabama, South Carolina and Florida.

At the center of many of those operations, according to federal and state officials, is Gerald L. Winters, who is board chairman of and a stockholder in four firms that specialize in children's door-to-door candy sales.

The companies are Fund Raiser Products, Inc.; Global Home Products, Inc.; Junior Careers, Inc.; and Processing Sales, Inc. All are located in the northern New Jersey suburbs of New York City, where Winters also lives.

North Carolina is typical of the states that have sought in vain to control the sale operations. "We were passionately committed to getting rid of them here," says one official of the state's Labor Department. "They flagrantly violated all kinds of laws," adds another.

Among the problems cited by those officials:

— Although none of the money collected from the candy sales goes to any charity, the youthful solicitors often imply that they are part of a philanthropic operation, through the use of names such as the Student Aid Program.

the next few years confirmed the 1981 intelligence warning. Here are some highlights of these cabled reports, which were obtained under the Freedom of Information Act by our associate Lucette Lagnado:

— In July 1982, the Madrid embassy learned of a Libyan plot to assassinate Saudi Arabia's King Fahd. "The group which would carry out the murder had access, through a U.S. agency intimately connected with the CIA, to the Saudi royal family's security measures," the embassy cabled.

— In March 1984, the embassy in Amman, Jordan, reported on a plot to destroy the Jordanian embassy in Libya. The cable said the Jordanian prime minister had provided details about the planned attack.

— In December 1982, the embassy in Rome reported a Libyan plot to help "separate Sardinia from Italy." Fifteen Sardinians had been arrested in the conspiracy. An Italian political party was implicated, as was "a Libyan by the name of Geri Mehed Tabet, currently at large, with whom the separatists apparently had contact in October 1981." The Libyan government was to supply money for the breakaway militants, who planned "to undertake a number of ambitious acts of sabotage at airports and a NATO military base ... (and) to kidnap an American military officer."

— In June 1984, a Libyan airline employee gunned down a Libyan-born shop-owner in downtown Athens. The victim, who survived, was the publisher of an anti-Khadafy paper. Three other Libyans in Greece were killed the following month.

— In July 1984, the embassy in Khartoum, Sudan, reported a plot by Libyan-backed terrorists to assassinate then-President Gaafar Nimeiry and blow up the American Embassy and other targets. The plotters were caught and confessed that their Sudanese revolutionary movement was led by "a Libyan hireling."

Invest In The Future, Graham Urges In Speech

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham urged lawmakers Tuesday in his final state of the state address to invest in Florida's future by protecting the state's environment and tourist trade and by improving education.

"We must be visionary. We must chart a clear path for our future, not be consigned to responding to yesterday's crises," he said.

Graham cited improvements in education, the economy, human services and law enforcement during the past eight years. He said expanding the economy, safeguarding Florida's resources and residents, and keeping taxes low are the goals for the legislative session that began Tuesday.

In education, Florida has focused since 1979 on reducing the student-teacher ratio in kindergarten through third grade. During that time third grade test scores have increased by 10.5 percent, he said. Tougher high school graduation requirements enacted in 1983 have led to a 68 increase in college entrance scores.

Graham said Florida will need 80,000 new teachers in the next 10 years, and proposed to keep teachers from leaving the profession by increasing their minimum salary from $18,000 to $22,000 in the next two years. He also called for a 7.86 percent across the board pay raise and a career ladder program for teachers.

Citing gains in the economy, Graham said his administration had created 1.2 million new jobs since 1980 while keeping the unemployment rate well below the national average and keeping taxes lower than in 47 other states.

"We reached the national average for per capita income for the first time in Florida's history," he said.

He urged lawmakers to levy a tourism promotion fee that would raise $20 million, to be spent on overseas promotion of Florida tourism. He said Florida has obtained more than $600 million in advanced interstate construction funds, but needs to reduce the cost of buying right-of-way property.

The state must hold road contractors responsible for completing construction projects on time and making them durable, he said in an apparent reference to last week's announcement that federal transportation officials would inspect eight Florida road and bridge projects that are taking too long and falling apart too soon.

On the environment, Graham said Florida has brought more endangered land into public ownership than any other state. He urged the Legislature to continue buying sensitive coastal lands, help protect water supplies and guard against contamination from leaking underground petroleum tanks.

On human services, the governor said the state's Work Incentive program had trained and found jobs for 41,000 welfare recipients in the last three years, saving $63 million in public assistance costs.

A 1979 program that provided home health care for the elderly now serves more than 33,000 people and saves the state $56 million dollars a year in long term health care costs, he said.

Calling the program "an investment in dignity and independence," Graham urged the Legislature to add 5,000 senior citizens to the health care program. He also called for more services for pregnant women and infants, and the creation of 2,000 more openings in child care centers.

Graham said Florida's crime rate dropped for three straight years after half the revenue from a one-cent sales tax increase was earmarked for local law enforcement agencies.

He cited this year's increase in the crime rate as evidence that the state needs to spend more money to fight crime.

"We will do whatever it takes to keep crime out of Florida," he said.

First Witness Testifies In Arrow Air Inquiry

OTTAWA (UPI) — Canadian authorities Tuesday opened a formal inquiry into last year's Arrow Airlines crash, quoting witnesses as saying the plane had a glowing orange spot on its belly just before it crashed, killing 248 U.S. servicemen and eight crew members.

Peter Boag, chief investigator of the Canadian Aviation Safety Board, testified witnesses who watch the plane take off saw an "orange glow" on the jet's belly seconds before it crashed at Gander International Airport.

Boag said several witnesses also saw the plane in a right bank as it flew over a highway near the airport, where it made a retelling stop while on a flight from Europe to the United States.

The plane was destroyed by impact and fire after striking trees on a slope in a "nose high, right wing down" position, Boag said.

"The pitch angle of the aircraft was seen to increase but the aircraft continued to descend until it struck trees right of the extended center line of the runway," Boag testified.

Boag was one of five witnesses expected to testify today, the first day of the seven-day inquiry led by Canadian Aviation Safety Board Chairman Bernard Deschenes.

Witnesses will be called later in the week from Miami-based Arrow Air, the U.S. Army, engine manufacturer Pratt and Whitney and Douglas Aircraft Co. Canadian investigators have been unable to determine what caused the chartered DC-8 to crash Dec. 12 in Newfoundland, killing all 248 U.S. servicemen and eight crew members. The soldiers were returning to the United States from peace-keeping duties in the Middle East.

Peter Boag, the chief investigator into the crash, was expected to release hundreds of pages of reports written by dozens of experts who investigated the crash.

The main report, according to the CASB, will cover the plane's actual operation before and during the crash. Other reports will focus on air traffic services at the time of the crash, weather, human factors and the plane's structure, and power plant.

The latest evidence released by the Cindicated the plane's No. 4 engine sustained less damage than the other three, indicating it may have been powered at fewer revolutions per minute. That information is consistent with analysis of the so-called black box which revealed the plane had veered 20 degrees to the right of its intended course.

Dozens of investigators in Ottawa have spent the past three months collecting and collating evidence and examining aircraft instruments to determine readings at the moment of impact. It is believed the plane exploded after it smashed into a hill about three quarters of a mile from the runway.

Other recent evidence from investigators indicated the plane was carrying at least 12,000 pounds more than the weight estimated by its crew.

Investigators have said the plane's actual weight of 342,000 pounds was under the maximum allowable weight of 355,000 pounds, but that does not take into consideration the effect of being on the plane's wings.

Gifted Education Topic Of Talks

Dr. Dorothy Sisk, Executive Secretary of the World Council for Gifted and Talented Education in Washington, D.C., will make a series of presentations to students, parents, educators and others in Seminole County Thursday and Friday.

Her topic will be "Developing Our Gifted Children's Potential: A Cooperative Effort Between the Community and School," at a 7:30 p.m. session at Altamonte Elementary School Thursday, according to Seminole schools spokesman Karen Coleman. Discussed will be trends in education and what parents and teachers can do to enhance the education of very capable students.

On Friday, Dr. Sisk will speak in the county school board offices in Sanford at 9 a.m., and at Lake Brantley High School at 2 p.m.

"The Gifted Education Movement: Its Past, Present, and Future" will be discussed at the school board offices. The public is invited, but reservations for the free presentation are needed, and may be obtained by calling 322-1252, extension 289.

The afternoon session at Lake Brantley is for gifted students from Seminole County's secondary schools.

Dr. Sisk is an internationally respected authority in the field of gifted education, said Mrs. Coleman. She is a former Director of the U.S. Office of Gifted and Talented Students, has taught elementary through college level students and lectured throughout the United States and abroad.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

Study Finds Guidelines Needed For Child Abuse Counseling

GAINESVILLE (UPI) — The first statewide child abuse study by the University of Florida shows more attention should be given to treating and preventing abuse than to just identifying and reporting the victims.

Bonnie Baker, a public school counselor who completed the survey while earning her doctorate, polled 343 school counselors about what they knew about child abuse, what they currently were doing and the effectiveness of child abuse interventions.

"Most school counselors are spotting abuse and reporting it to the proper authorities as legally mandated, but overall, they reported doing very little in the way of prevention and treatment," Baker said Tuesday.

Gator Sets Community Abuzz

FORT LAUDERDALE (UPI) — A state game commission official says he is skeptical of reports that an alligator "terrorizing" a rural subdivision and eluding a trapper has eaten nine dogs.

"A 7-foot alligator does not eat nine dogs in four days," said Lt. Dick Lawrence, the Florida Fresh Water Fish and Game Commission's alligator coordinator for the Everglades.

Lawrence said residents who live at Sunshine Ranches, a community on the edge of the Everglades about 12 miles west of Fort Lauderdale, have complained to authorities that the beast is a threat to their children.

Lawrence dismissed the fears and complaints as groundless. He said residents are only assuming the gator devoured the dogs; no remains of the pets have been found, he said.

Teen Chief Face Hectic Days

LAUREL HILL (UPI) — A 6-4 teenager hired as police chief of this small town near the Alabama border says little has happened in the month he's held the job, but the rest of April promises to be more hectic for the young man.

"I'm getting married soon. Probably in about two weeks to a girl from Niceville," said Robert "Chris" Hendry, 19, who was subjected to a lot of media attention last month when he was hired to head the one-man force here.

Hendry, who said his bride-to-be works for an electronics firm in Fort Walton Beach, Fla. said they met when he worked at a hamburger joint. They decided to get married after seeing the job in Laurel Hill was working out, he said.

Hawkins Out Of Surgery

DURHAM, N.C. (UPI) — Sen. Paula Hawkins, R-Fla., should be able to begin campaigning "in a few days" by using the telephone, following six hours of neck and shoulder surgery at Duke Medical Center, doctors say.

"Everything just went superbly," said Dr. J. Leonard Goldner, professor of orthopedic surgery at Duke. "She can't play ball or throw darts or do aerobics. But with reasonable care, she'll be able to do quite a bit of work in about three weeks."

WORLD IN BRIEF

With 'Right' Policy, IMF Sees 3% World Economic Growth

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The world economy will grow 3 percent in 1986 and the economies in the developing world gradually will strengthen if the right policy choices are made, an International Monetary Fund report predicted today.

IMF officials, in a briefing on their "World Economic Outlook" for April 1986, said its report anticipates growth averaging around 3 percent in both industrial and developing countries.

But the officials, who asked to remain anonymous, said the developing world could be growing at an annual rate of between 4.5 percent and 5 percent by the end of the decade if the right mix of monetary, fiscal, domestic and global economic policies are adopted by both debtors and lenders.

Police Block Mass Funeral

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Security forces today blocked a mass funeral for 11 people killed by police in the Bophuthatswana tribal homeland and shot a mourner walking to the home of one of the victims.

Police and soldiers manned roadblocks near Winterveld, a squatter area about 80 miles north of Johannesburg, turning back thousands of people heading for the funeral from ghettos around Johannesburg and Pretoria.

The people who were to have been buried were killed when police and soldiers opened fire on about 5,000 people protesting detention of school children March 26 — the bloodiest day of racial violence in South Africa in 26 years.

The funeral had been scheduled for 10 a.m. today but police informed victims' families late Tuesday night that only one of the 11 bodies would be released from the government mortuary.

Teacher Missing In Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — A French schoolteacher disappeared in Moslem west Beirut Wednesday in what police feared was another kidnap aimed to pressure France to free persons held on terrorism charges.

Police identified the man as 45-year-old Michel Brilliant. "He did not report to work this morning, and we suspect that he has been kidnaped by Shapur Bakhtiar in Paris in 1980."

The other four Frenchmen, members of a television crew in Beirut to cover mediation efforts to free the other kidnap victims, are allegedly held by the previously unknown Revolutionary Justice Organization.

ing Council which had previously approved the DRI for the Plantation project.

She said she feels the development has become a victim of the new state growth management law, which requires local governments to take a stricter and more comprehensive look at land use changes.

"We're all confused about the new procedures," she said.

Although the commission's vote Tuesday apparently stopped the project in its tracks, Mrs. Christensen predicted it is not the last the county will hear about the Plantation.

"Our actions will give them an excellent court case," she said. "They have no where else to go."

The issue continued to spark controversy during the three-hour public hearing. The Friends of the Wekiva River, area homeowners and other citizens voiced opposition to the construction, which they feared would have a negative impact on the environmentally sensitive Wekiva area.

Opponents of the development have claimed the request was "premature" in light of the county's land use policies and said approval would create a "domino" effect for other development in the area.

Although developers revised the project's density from 1,600 units to 1,240 units, the county P&Z last month turned down the Plantation plans after hearing resounding opposition by residents.

Project backers maintained the land should be developed at a greater density than the one unit per acre allowed under the county's land use policies, and they proposed to install an interim water and sewage treatment system as well as widen a portion of Markham Road near the proposed development.

County staff said the plan had not adequately addressed water, sewer, transportation and other concerns.

Staff members said the sewage disposal method proposed for the project is only acceptable for a maximum of 182 dwelling units.

on this flight at that joint is what we're trying to understand now."

Thompson said some 300 tests have been conducted since Challenger's demise to pin down the precise cause of the rupture.

While he said the joint clearly failed, it probably was because of a combination of factors and that signs of trouble were overlooked by NASA.

"I think clearly that we just missed it in this joint," he said. "I think we just missed it in the design and I think some of the prior flight anomalies weren't taken seriously."

After several previous flights, engineers found evidence that O-ring seals in fuel segment joints had been damaged but the damage was thought to be within acceptable limits.

"That joint has several shortcomings and it's quite marginal so if things aren't just right its susceptible to leak," Thompson said. "I think the conditions were marginal enough that it just fell over the edge."

He said the following factors may have played a role in the disaster:

- The amount of bulging the rocket joint experiences because of the tremendous pressure that builds up inside at the moment of ignition.
- The impact of record cold launch-day temperatures on key rubber O-ring seals in the joint.
- The performance of putty in the joint designed to form a barrier between hot gas inside and the O-ring seals.
- Problems during assembly of the 14-story rocket a month before launch. One fuel segment in question was "out of round" and had to be forced into shape.

The presidential commission is scheduled to present its formal report by early June.

pressing for a summit in June or July but has not publicly received confirmation of a date from the Kremlin.

When Reagan last spoke in public, at a March 27 political fund raiser, U.S. military forces had just completed exercises in the Gulf of Sidra, sailing past what Khadafy called the "line of death," 200 miles off the Libyan coast.

At that time, Reagan warned: "The United States will not be intimidated by new threats of terrorism against us," and, on a prophetic note, "We're aware of intensive Libyan preparations that were already under way for terrorist operations against Americans. Mr. Khadafy must know that we will hold him fully accountable for any such actions."

Companies and organizations may reserve tables at $150 for the catered luncheon, which will begin at 12:30 p.m. at the civic center.

This will be the second luncheon featuring a well-known personality to be co-sponsored by chamber, the Central Florida Press Club and the Seminole Community College. The first speaker, Columnist Jack Anderson, spoke to a large enthusiastic audience at the civic center on Jan. 17.

Dr. Brothers is a columnist for Good Housekeeping Magazine and more than 350 newspapers. Her books have been translated into 26 languages.

As a consultant to the business world, Dr. Brothers creates and performs in films and seminars designed for corporate personnel training programs. She has a daily radio broadcast on NBC Radio Network and is a frequent guest on network television and is a news commentator for TVN Inc., a syndicated television news service.

For six years she was a member of the faculties of Hunter College and Columbia University in New York City and is a frequent guest lecturer at universities across the country.

For the sixth year, she is listed in Gallup Poll's "most admired women."

On the program will be Earl Weldon, president of SCC; Shirley Schilke, chairman of the chamber board; Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith, and Herald Managing Editor Tom Giordano, president of the Central Florida Press Club, who will introduce the speaker.

Horne said, "We appreciate the Central Florida Press Club's bringing speakers of this calibre into Sanford."

estate manager Tom Stevenson confirmed that the building is owned by Paulucci, as did the Seminole County tax assessor's office. Stevenson also said although he did not handle the transaction for Paulucci, it was his understanding that the building was "remodeled" due to its deteriorated condition.

He referred further inquiries to Paulucci representative Harris Turner, who could not be reached.

The alterations were undertaken in mid-March, apparently without the city's knowledge because the efforts did not require the issuance of a building permit, Simmons said.

Simmons said he learned of the matter last week from Mills and that "It's up to the (historic) board to determine how the situation will be approached."

Mills said when the historic board meets Thursday, "the whys and hows of the violation and the possible penalties for it" will be discussed.

Regarding the building's appearance, Mills said "at the very least," the coil garage doors "should come out" and the "bright, snow white paint should be stripped off or painted over with a more compatible shade of tan."

According to the historic ordinance, those found in violation of its requirements, "shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1,000 and not less than $100 and/or imprisonment for not more than one year."

The ordinance further states "each day during which there exists any violation of any provision herein shall constitute a separate violation of such provisions."

In reference to the penalties, Simmons acknowledged the relative inexperience the city and the board have in addressing historic district violations. He said if the board did formally cite the remodeling as a violation of the ordinance, "it will take some legal research to determine who calls down the penalty, the code enforcement board or the city commission."

Mills supplemented Simmons' sentiments by referring to the ordinance's provisions and then saying, "I don't know what will happen. We haven't really dealt with a situation like this before."

Mills also said the matter will be approached "in a practical way. We'll review the circumstances surrounding the violation before we make any determinations."

The board was chartered in October and its only other experience with an alleged violation of the historic ordinance came last month and involved the unauthorized removal of two plaques from the Atlantic Bank building on First Street. The board discussed the removals at the end of its last meeting and decided to express its displeasure with a letter to the bank's corporate headquarters in North Carolina.

The manner with which the Paulucci building alterations and the plaques' removal were discovered underscores a necessity for the development of organized and regular patrolling of the historic district, Mills said.

Mills also said he "just happened" to see the Paulucci building remodeling during a drive down Second Street, and board member W.E. "Duke" Adamson said he "noticed" that the plaques were gone from the bank building while he was taking a walk along First Street.

pleaded guilty and awaits sentencing. The Evening Herald, since the arrest, has run several articles about the incident, the hiring policies of the probation office, and the way it handles funds.

Cobb was arrested in January for theft discovered in the fall. Ms. Lewis, however, was only aware of theft discoveries in the summer and thought Ms. Haerich was ignoring the summer discoveries and only bringing the fall-found discrepancies to the attention of authorities, according to comments made during the March 13 Personnel Board hearing. That belief, coupled with alleged management problems in the office, prompted Ms. Lewis to confront Ms. Haerich and to post a letter critical of Ms. Haerich on the office bulletin board.

Ms. Haerich, in fact, had discussed the summer theft discoveries with a county judge who recommended they not be prosecuted because the person had made restitution, resigned his position as a probation officer, and because there reportedly wasn't any evidence of a crime.

That person reportedly told Ms. Haerich when he resigned that there were no other missing funds from the office. However, through routine case review discrepancies were found and those turned over to the Sanford police for investigation.

At the Personnel Board hearing, the members heard of lax money handling techniques and ordered department policies be brought more in line with other county departments. According to testimony, more than $1,000 was often left in a strong box in the office for as much as a week.

Since report of the incident, hiring policies also have been changed in the office to include thorough background checks of persons considered for employment.

An investigation by the Evening Herald found that Cobb had a sporadic job history before being hired by the county probation office, did not have the educational background he claimed to have, and was arrested but not prosecuted on a charge of welfare fraud in Georgia.

After the commission hearing Tuesday, Ms. Haerich, in what appeared to be a friendly gesture, said to Ms. Lewis, "See you at work Monday."

Prior to Tuesday's hearing, Ms. Haerich by letter urged Ms. Lewis be fired if another position with the county could not be located.

She wrote: "As a person totally dedicated to serving the Board of County Commissioners and the interest of the citizens of Seminole County, I will abide by whatever decision you make concerning the future status of Marian Lewis. However, I feel that the facts that Marian Lewis has never yet apologized for her conduct or expressed any sincere desire to cooperate with and work for the manager of the Probation Department (Ms. Haerich) indicate that the county recommendation by the Personnel Board may be too liberal. Accordingly, I would suggest that the Board give serious consideration to terminating Marian Lewis' service unless she can be transferred to another department."

"Finally, I believe that the Board should take notice of the fact that Orestes Cobb — the former employee whose misdeeds resulted in the events involved in this matter — has plead guilty and will be punished by the Judicial system. In this regard, it should be emphasized that Mr. Cobb was prosecuted not because of Ms. Lewis' inflammatory letter but rather as a result of earlier action taken by the Probation Department through appropriate police and legal channels. Thus, while Marian Lewis claims that she was acting out of public concern, her letter contributed nothing to the ultimate disposition of the Cobb case."

Letterio's Vacuum Inhales Tribe

By Sam Cook

Herald Sports Editor

LAKE MARY — Letterio, ss 4 0 0 0

Sometimes the boxscore doesn't give a clue.

Lake Mary's Rams whaled Seminole's Fighting Seminoles, 13-3, in six innings of Seminole Athletic Conference baseball Tuesday, but the reason the Tribe's total stayed constant after the third inning was the vacuum-like defensive play of Rams' shortstop Shane Letterio.

Lake Mary, ranked No. 4 in the state class 4A poll, pulled away in the fifth and sixth innings when it scored six runs. The 'Noles, however, were on the verge of pulling even on three occasions when Letterio came up with rally-killing fielding gems.

The plays left Lake Mary coach Allen Tuttle impressed. "I watched Florida play Auburn Saturday," Tuttle said. "There weren't any of their eight infielders who can play with Letterio. He's just incredible."

Letterio, a sure-handed junior, fielded five chances flawlessly while turning two into double plays.

The victory improved the Rams' SAC record to 5-1 while Seminole dropped to 2-4. Lake Mary, 21-2, travels to Lyman Friday night. Seminole, 10-13, hosts Orlando Oak Ridge Thursday at 4 p.m. Lake Mary and Seminole meet again Saturday at Sanford for a makeup of a rained out game. First pitch is 1 p.m.

The Rams took a 1-0 lead in the first when Wes Weger walked and went to third when third baseman Dave Rape threw away Mike Pinckes' ground ball. A passed ball by Ray Jensen allowed Weger to score.

Lake Mary upped the margin to 6-0 in the second against loser Brian Sheffield (5-6) with five runs, three of which were unearned. Neal Harris singled, Kelly Hysell walked and T.J. Sutton singled to load the bases.

After Harris scored on a wild pitch, Letterio followed with a hard one-hopper to Rape at third who gunned down Hysell at the plate. Weger drew another walk and shortstop Jeff Blake dropped Pinckes' grounder as Sutton scored. Mike Schmit followed with a double over shortstop for two runs and the 6-0 lead. The ribbles ran Schmit's county-leading total to 33.

Seminole ran itself out of a scoring opportunity in the third when Willie Grayson wandered home on a one-out fly ball and Pinckes made a nifty scoop of the relay for the first of three Rams' double plays.

Jensen, who ripped his first homer of the year Friday against Lyman, took Schmit out of the yard to lead off the third.

"He got all of it," Schmit, who went five innings to raise his record to 9-0, said. "Seminole hit the ball a lot better than I thought they would. They got some good sticks."

One out later, Alonzo Galney walked and Gary Derr reached on an error by Weger. Sheffield followed with a double off the left center field fence to score Galney and cut the lead to 6-2.

Letterio made his first big play next. Greg Pond, who lined out the first time up, spanked a hard ground ball up the middle. Letterio went behind the bag, gloved the ball, straighted up and threw out Pond.

"I didn't think I could get to that one," Letterio said. Although a run scored on the play, Letterio held the other runner at third and when left fielder Sutton made a nice running catch on Grayson's liner, the Rams were out of the third with a 6-3 lead.

"Shane made some real nice plays today," Schmit, who spaced six hits, struck out two and walked three, said. "He got me out of several jams."

After Hysell and Sutton stroked back-to-back doubles for a 7-3 third-inning lead, Letterio worked his vacuum cleaner move again in the fourth.

Blake crushed a double to right center and Joey Corsi took a pitch on the shoulder to open the frame. Jensen followed with a sharp grounder near second base. Letterio picked up the ball and in one motion stepped on the bag and fired to first for a twin killing. Galney lined out to left to end the inning.

"Letterio made some great plays," Seminole coach Mike Ferrell said.

Letterio

Jensen

"That's why they've won so many games. They have people who can make great plays."

Letterio balled Schmit out of a minor scrape in the fifth. Sheffield drew a one-out walk and Pond followed with a single. Grayson rapped another grounder near the bag at second and Letterio duplicated his third-inning feat by catching the base on the way by for an inning-ending double play.

In the fifth, Mollie doubled and Harris walked. Hysell socked his second double to plate Mollie. Sutton followed with a sacrifice fly to score Harris. Letterio's fly ball moved Sutton to third. Weger, who scored three runs, walked and Pinckes blasted his county-leading 11th triple to chase home both runs.

In the sixth, Tuttle sent up three pinch-hitters and two responded. Mollie walked but Billy Jenkins flew out. Matt Messina, hitting for Hysell, roped a double to left center which pushed Mollie to third. Doug "Bando" Bandy, batting for Sutton, scorched a single up to middle to chase home Mollie and Messina and bring on the slaughter rule.

Sink Helps Lions Clinch OBC Share

Mike Sink homered and added a pair of singles while driving in four runs as the Oviedo Lions clinched a share of the Orange Belt Conference championship Tuesday night with a 9-4 victory over Leesburg at Leesburg.

Oviedo is 7-1 in the OBC, 1 1/2 games ahead of Bishop Moore and St. Cloud. The Lions, 12-8 overall, return to action tonight at Lyman. Coach Howard Mable said he is leaning toward junior Scott Bowers for the mound assignment.

Along with Sink's career best, Oviedo received a strong relief stint by senior Jimmy Barrett who came on in the second for starter Bobby Bradley and hurled the rest of the game. Barrett struck out six and didn't allow an earned run.

Sink drove in two runs in the first when he followed a Tony Bellflower single with a 370-foot drive over the left field wall.

In the third, Craig Duncan walked and Mark Merchant singled. One out later, Frank Torres singled home Duncan and Merchant, who had moved up on an errant pickoff attempt.

In the fifth, Sink struck again, singling between shortstop and third with the bases loaded for two more runs. In the seventh, Glenn Reichle put the game out of reach with a two-run double.

Stevens' Hit Halts Lyman's Skid, 7-4

By Chris Piater
Herald Sports Writer

With a hitter like Denise Stevens in the lineup, you would figure the right situation would come along sooner or later for her to have a chance to put an end to Lyman's losing streak.

That situation came Tuesday afternoon as Stevens stepped to the plate with two outs and two runners on in the top of the seventh of a 4-4 tie with Lake Mary's Lady Rams. Stevens, who went into the game with a .480 batting average, unloaded a two-run triple and also scored on an error on the play to lift the Lady Greyhounds to a 7-4 victory, snapping their 11-game losing streak. In Seminole Athletic Conference play at Lake Mary High.

Lyman, which hadn't won since March 1 going into Tuesday's game, now stands at 5-12 overall and won its first SAC game after seven losses.

"We were do to win one after losing so many close ones," Lyman coach Lisa Carlson said. "The girls came together today and they all played well on the same day, which was nice to see."

Lake Mary, which has lost eight of its last nine, now stands at 7-12 overall and 3-4 in the SAC. The Lady Rams host Seminole Thursday.

Lyman had taken a 4-0 lead early with three runs in the top of the first and one in the second. In the first, Debbie Skirvin walked, Kristie Kaiser reached on an error and Stevens was intentionally walked to load the bases. With one out, Sabrina Jarrett ripped a double to score Skirvin and Kaiser and Stevens scored on a single by Lori Helms.

Softball

In the second for the Lady Greyhounds, Gwen LaDuke drilled a triple and scored when Skirvin grounded out.

Lake Mary came back with four runs in the bottom of the second to tie it and it stayed tied until Stevens' blast in the seventh. For Lake Mary in the second, Brooke Taylor, Lomelia Whitaker and Marnie Frey hit consecutive singles and Taylor scored when Reedy Metz drew a walk. Whitaker then scored on Laurie Leiffer's sacrifice fly and a Lyman error on the play enabled Frey to score. Val Smith then singled in Metz with the tying run.

LIONS ESCAPE STING

The Lady Lions of Oviedo narrowly escaped the sting of the Bishop Moore Lady Hornets winning 6-4 Tuesday afternoon at Oviedo High School. The Lady Lions are now 12-8 overall and 6-1 in the OBC, while remaining 4-3 in the SAC. Oviedo hopes to improve its record today when it takes on Lake Brantley at 4:15 p.m. at Brantley.

Oviedo took a quick lead in the bottom of the first as Cathy Bergman singled to left, but was thrown out at second on a fielder's choice hit by Jessica Bradley. Jodie Switzer then singled to place runners on first and second and Caroline Chavis hit a run scoring single to right center.

ahead, Oviedo then retaliated with a four-run inning of its own as Chavis led off with a walk and Jill Kuntson redeemed herself after a previous error with a single up the middle followed by Dee Dee Beasley long single scoring both runners.

Darla Hall then reached safely on error, putting on first and second. Barbara Malone then hit into a fielder's choice. Trudy Ferguson the reached on another error and Bergman did the same, scoring Beasley.

Oviedo picked up one more run in the fifth when Mikki Eby singled followed by Switzer's walk. Then Chavis' RBI single to left.

Coffey, Maddox Lift Brantley Past Hawks

By Scott Sander

CASSELBERRY — Tuesday afternoon's Seminole Athletic Conference baseball game that pitted the hard hitting Lake Howell Silver Hawks and the equally hard hitting Lake Brantley Patriots was supposed to be another "War of Aluminum." The last time the two squads played they combined for 27 runs and a 14-13 Lake Howell victory.

The "War of Aluminum" did, indeed, occur. Unfortunately for the Hawks it was a one-sided war. The Patriots, who were no-hit last Friday night by Lake Mary's Mike Schmit, smashed out 13 hits en route to a 10-1 SAC victory in front of 53 fans at Lake Howell High School.

"This was an extremely tough loss," said Lake Howell coach Birto Benjamin. "We were lifeless out there today. There was no enthusiasm at all. I really don't know what the problem is."

The loss was costly for the Hawks. Coming into Tuesday's game the Hawks were 4-3 in the SAC. They trailed Lake Mary by a half a game. With Lake Mary's 13-3 victory over Seminole and the Hawks' loss, they fall 1 1/2 games behind the Rams. Howell is 14-9 overall and 4-3 in the SAC. The victory boosted the Pats record to 10-13 and 2-5.

Maddox, who returned last week after missing a good portion of the season due to academic ineligibility, went the distance for Brantley and held the Hawks to just six hits.

"We are really playing as team now," Maddox said. "It feels really great to be out here."

Mark Coffey followed with his first of four hits — a single up the middle scoring Dunn.

Coffey, who has the second best batting average in the SAC (.441) finished the game with four singles that were good for three RBI, upping his total to 25 for the year.

The Pats added three more runs in the top of the third inning. Senior tri-captain Mike Beams reached Silver Hawk shortstop David Martin scooped up Beams' ground ball and threw it over the head of first baseman Eric Martinez. Dunn walked sending Beams to second. Davis chopped a single off of home plate to load the bases. Coffey blooped a single that scored Beams and kept the bases loaded. With one away, Pat Lusk rolled out to Martin, but the ground out scored Dunn. Davis scored when loser Mariette unleashed a wild pitch.

Frenzied Seminoles Fall

By Chris Piater
Herald Sports Writer

It seems like Seminole High's Lady Seminoles go into a frenzy every time they go up against Lake Howell's Lady Silver Hawks.

The first time Seminole faced Lake Howell this season, the Lady Hawks rolled to an 18-7 victory. After that game, though, Seminole got its act together and played tough in just about every game, winning a good deal of the time.

But Lake Howell came back on the schedule Tuesday afternoon and once again the Lady Tribe fell apart. The way the Lady Hawks were hitting the ball, they didn't need any help, but Seminole obliged anyway, committing 11 errors, as Lake Howell claimed a 16-3 victory in Seminole Athletic Conference play at Lake Howell High.

The win lifted the Lady Hawks to 13-9 overall and kept them right in the SAC chase with a 5-2 mark. Lake Brantley is on top at 8-1 and the Lady Patriots will be at Lake Howell Thursday in the biggest conference matchup yet this season.

"I hope today is just a warm up for Thursday," Lake Howell coach Jo Luciano said. "Sometimes you get somebody's number and it's been that way for us against Seminole the past few years. It would really say something about us if we could carry it over to our big games."

The loss dropped Seminole to 7-10 overall and almost completely out of the SAC title picture at 3-4. The Lady 'Noles host DeLand today at 4:15 and return to league play Thursday at Lake Mary.

"We had a severe case of softball-dystrophy today," Seminole coach Lance Abney said. "Lake Howell is really the only team that we have humiliated ourselves against."

Seminole had a chance to close the door on Lake Howell in the bottom of the first when it had two outs with no runs every scored. But, after Lake Howell got four runs out of what looked like nothing, it was open house the rest of the game.

With one out in the bottom of the first, Erin Hankins singled up the middle but Jaudon Jones lined out for the second out. Vikki Oliver then made a nice stop of Christy Tibbitts' grounder, but Hankins beat the throw to second. Ava Gardner then tapped one in front of the plate and beat it out to load the bases.

Then came the straw that broke the Seminoles' back as Susan Hayden smacked a single to left center that scored both Hankins and Tibbitts and an error on the play sent Gardner to third and Hayden to second. Gardner then scored on Leslie Barton's infield single and another error on the play enabled Hayden to score to make it 4-0.

"If we would have gotten that third out in the first inning it might have made a difference," Abney said. "But I could tell when the girls got on the bus to go to the game that they weren't ready to play."

Seminole loaded the bases with two outs in the top of the second on consecutive singles by Miss Wheeler, Oliver and Showanda Walker, but Bart Detreville lined to Hankins at shortstop for the third out.

The Lady Hawks then took advantage of four Seminole errors to score four runs in the bottom of the second. Julie Barton singled and went all the way to third on an outfield error to lead off and she scored on a single up the middle by Jennifer Thomas.

Masters May Be Foreign

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — The 50th Masters begins Thursday amongst the azaleas and dogwoods of the Augusta National with a definite foreign flavor.

Two-time champion Seve Ballesteros of Spain is ranked among the favorites, Bernhard Langer of West Germany is the defending champion, and Sandy Lyle of Scotland is the most recent winner on the PGA Tour.

"You may be amazed at all the foreigners, but I'm not," said three-time champion Gary Player of South Africa, who became the Masters first foreign winner in 1961. "As I've traveled all around the world, I've seen it coming."

"Because of its 125 exemptions, the American tour is not going to improve as it should. The all-exempt tour is breeding complacency," said Player.

Ballesteros, who won the Masters in 1980 and 1983 and the British Open in 1979 and 1984, was suspended from the U.S. Tour this year. Because of financial considerations, Ballesteros was unwilling to play in the required minimum of 15 tournaments last year. He has played in only one PGA tournament this year — at New Orleans where he missed the cut.

However, Ballesteros was in the top 10 in all but one of the 11 events he played in on last year's European tour, winning five of them.

Presley's Slam Sails Mariners Past Angels

United Press International
Jim Presley, as he did last season, is off to booming start.

The Seattle third baseman hit home runs in consecutive at-bats, including a two-out grand slam in the bottom of the 10th inning, to lead the Seattle Mariners to an 8-4 triumph Tuesday night over the California Angels in the season opener for both clubs.

"It was just a great feeling to do that," Presley said. "Angels pitcher Ken Forsch was trying to get the ball in on me like he did to Gorman (Thomas) and Barry (Bonnell). It was over the inside half of the plate."

With one out in the 10th, Phil Bradley walked and went to third on Ivan Calderon's single to center off Forsch. Thomas walked to load the bases. Bonnell popped out before Presley stroked a 1-2 pitch deep into the left-field seats to make a winner of Pete Ladd.

In the ninth inning, Presley

tied the score 4-4 with a two-run homer, a line shot to center that traveled more than 400 feet.

Presley's fast start could serve as a good omen for him and the team. Last year, he had six homers and 13 RBI in Seattle's first nine games. During that span, the Mariners jumped to a club record 6-0 start.

The Mariners eventually tailed off, but Presley went on to enjoy an outstanding season — his first complete one in the majors. He surprised people with his power, hitting 28 homers and knocking in 84 runs.

Yankees 4, Royals 2

At New York, Butch Wynegar hit a three-run homer to back Ron Guidry's first Opening Day victory. The largest Opening Day crowd in the history of Yankee Stadium — 55,602 — saw Lou Pintella make a successful debut as Yankee manager. Hal McRae hit a two-run homer for Kansas City.

Rangers 6, Blue Jays 3

At Arlington, Texas, Larry Parrish smashed a three-run homer and Don Slaught added a two-run shot to help rookie pitcher Jose Guzman become the first major-league rookie to start and win a season opener since Los Angeles' Fernando Valenzuela beat Houston 2-0 on April 9, 1981. Dave Stieb took the loss.

Twins 3, A's 2

At Oakland, Calif., Mark Salas drove in one run and scored another to lead the Twins over the error-plagued A's in the season opener for both teams. The A's committed four costly errors, including two by first baseman Dave Kingman. Frank Viola was the winner and Chris Cottrell took the loss. Oakland loaded the bases in the ninth with one out, but failed to score.

Ron Guidry picked up an opening day win by going five innings against Kansas City. A pulled calf muscle forced him out of the game in the sixth. Yankees won, 4-2.

Tudor Checks Cubs; Mahler Blanks Expos

United Press International
Stellar pitching performance — three of them in openers — lit up the National League Tuesday night.

In St. Louis, John Tudor and Chicago's Rick Sutcliffe both turned in shining efforts in the Cardinals' 2-1 victory. San Diego's Dave Dravecky and the Dodgers' Orel Hershiser dueled in Los Angeles, with the Padre left-hander prevailing 1-0 on a brilliant three-hitter. In Atlanta's opener, Rick Mahler's sparkled, hurling a five-hit shutout over Montreal.

Finally, the league's brightest star last year, New York's Dwight Gooden, struck out six and scattered six hits, going the route in the Mets' 4-2 triumph over the Pirates.

Ironically, one of the evening's finest outings was in a losing effort. Sutcliffe, who was put on the disabled list three times last year and made only 20 starts, gave up just two singles to the Cardinals, and still lost.

Winning pitcher John Tudor safely put his performance from the seventh game of last year's World Series behind him. Pitching in front of a sellout crowd of 48,672, Tudor scattered five hits in his first opening day start.

Tudor was shelled for five runs in three innings by Kansas City of Game 7 en route to the Royals' winning the title.

Tudor, 21-8 last year, has won his last 12 regular-season games and his last 17 decisions at home.

"I just looked at it like another game," Tudor said. "Last year was last year. I didn't even think about it. I just stayed within myself. I had a good fastball and I kept it down."

The Cardinals scored both their runs in the fourth inning. Tommy Herr, who walked, never stopped at second when Jack Clark cracked a broken-bat single to left-centerfield and beat Cubs centerfielder Bob Dernier's throw to third. Clark took second on the throw, and both scored on the only other St. Louis hit — Andy Van Slyke's single to right.

"We had a walk and two singles. A real Big Mac attack," said Cardinals manager Whitey Herzog. "But Sutcliffe did have some good stuff."

The Cubs spoiled Tudor's shutout bid in the seventh when Jody Davis scored Keith Moreland with a sacrifice fly.

Padres 1, Dodgers 0

At Los Angeles, Hershiser was the loser in a similar duel. His 11-game regular season winning streak — dating back to last July — was snapped, as Terry Kennedy's RBI single provided the only support Dravecky would require. Dravecky allowed a single in the fourth and then retired 15 batters in a row. Hershiser, who lost for the first time at home since Sept. 9, 1984, gave up nine hits — seven in the first three innings.

Braves 6, Expos 0

At Atlanta, 1985 NL home run king

Dale Murphy hit a two-run homer and Mahler went all the way for an opening day victory to power the Braves. Starter Bryn Smith took the loss for the Expos.

Tim Lincecum was 0 for 3 for the Expos.

Mets 4, Pirates 2

In Pittsburgh, Keith Hernandez drove in two runs with a single and a double, to back Gooden's complete-game. The loss spoiled the Pirates home opener and the debut of their new owners, front office, and manager Jim Leyland. Veteran Rick Reuschel, who gave up three runs on five hits over six innings, took the loss.

Giants 8, Astros 3

In Houston, Nolan Ryan was a loser allowing homers to rookie Will Clark (in his first major-league at bat), Jeff Leonard, and Bob Brenly. Candy Maldonado's three-run triple in seventh broke a 3-3 deadlock and chased Ryan. Mike Krakow went six innings for the victory, and Mark Davis picked up the save.

Hersey's Heat Melts Valencia

By Mark Blythe
Special to the Herald
Sanford's James Hersey threw a gem Tuesday afternoon at Valencia Community College allowing only four hits while striking out seven and walking only one to lift Seminole Community College's Raiders to a 1-0 shutout victory.

Hersey, who ran his record to 5-1 for the season, needed only 94 pitches, 71 of them strikes, to take care of the Matadors in a key Mid-Florida Conference game at Valencia.

The only run scored in the game came in the top of the eighth inning when Chad Sims singled and Casselberry's Jeff Greene tripled to give SCC all it needed for the win.

The win was the Raiders' fifth in a row and 12th out of their last 15. SCC now stands at 22-13 overall and 10-3 in the conference, tied with Florida Junior College for first place. SCC hosts South Florida in a nonconference game today, then has a big conference matchup Thursday at Santa Fe.

"We're looking forward to Santa Fe, and not really fired up for these games preceding it," SCC coach Jack Pantallas said. "We go out and just play hard enough to win."

Hersey, an SCC freshman who played at Seminole High, was never in serious trouble taking control from the start and not tiring as he went the distance. Pantallas said Hersey's last pitch of the game, which came on a strikeout, was clocked at 89 miles per hour.

Pantallas said he was "happy to save Hersey from going into the Army. He has a lot of untapped potential and is coming on strong as of late."

The Matadors' John Wiggs pitching performance was overshadowed by Hersey as Wiggs allowed only three hits while going the distance.

Chunat's 7 RBI Tip Sanford Scale Past Atlantic

Jeremy Chunat was a one-man gang for the Sanford Scale Company as he drove in seven runs with four hits in a 20-2 rout of Atlantic Bank in Seminole Pony Baseball Bronco Division action.

Chunat drilled a single, two doubles and a triple and also scored three runs as Sanford Scale won its second game against four losses. An 11-run second inning put the game away early for Sanford and Ronnie Allman went on to pitch a two-hitter.

In other Bronco Division play, Salvaggio's Boys improved to 6-0 with a 13-0 rout of Postime Cafe. Davey Hudick tossed a one-hitter for Salvaggio's and was backed by a 10-hit offensive attack. B.J. Calapa and Kevin Twigg each belted a pair of doubles to lead the way.

In one other Bronco game, West Lake Hospital evened its record at 3-3 with a 7-2 victory over Lake Mary Travel, which also stands at 3-3. Jimmy Keiger was the winning pitcher and also had three hits to lead West Lake Hospital while Danny Redwick added a pair of singles.

In Mustang Division play, Pants USA and Jon M. Hall continued to fight for their league titles and both climbed Perkins Fence to do it. Pants USA (National League) improved to 6-1 with a 17-5 victory over Perkins Fence while Jon M. Hall (American League) handed Perkins a 12-10 defeat.

Pants USA got a strong pitching performance from Dustin Lucas while Robert Gaffert and Greg Hirsch drove in two runs each to lead the offense. Gaffert's two RBIs came on an inside-the-park homer.

Scotty Couch drilled a single and a double and drove in two runs to lead Jon M. Hall to its victory. Ben Thomas was the winning pitcher as Jon M. Hall ran its record to 5-1-1.

In the Pinto Division, Frank's Frozen Yogurt and Mario's Marauders continue to battle for the American League pennant. Frank's Frozen Yogurt improved to 7-0 with a 15-12 victory over Advanced Brake while the Marauders outslugged Moran's Raiders, 16-13, to run their record to 6-1.

For Frank's Frozen Yogurt, Eddie Tooke had four hits while Tony Morgan and Aaron Black had three each and Dwayne Edwards two. One of Morgan's three hits was a homer. Shadow McClung and Jimmy Parson had two hits each for Advanced Brake.

Rocky Nassso had five hits for Mario's Marauders in the victory over Moran's Raiders. Mario DeLiaffico and Tommy Powers both had four hits, including a homer, and three RBI.

TRC, Brown Boveri Put Perfect Softball Records To Test Tonight

The only two unbeaten teams remaining in the Sanford Men's Spring League return to action tonight at Pinhurst Park. The Tim Raines Connection, 4-0, goes up against winless Prestige Imports at 6:30, followed by Brown Boveri Company, 2-0, against Six Flags Nursery and the nightcap has Central Florida Hospital facing AJs.

In Monday's action, the Connection belted 10 homers en route to a 27-12 thrashing of AJs. Eddie Jackson, Levi Raines, Doug Dowdy and Al Squartino each hit two out while Burnett Washington and Ned Raines had one later apiece. Along with his three-run homer, Washington also had a two-run single. Both of Jackson's homers were two-run shots.

AJ's couldn't match the power of the Connection but Seminole High baseball coach Mike Ferrell showed he's still got the stroke as he unloaded a pair of homers.

In other action Monday, Ray Mack drove in five runs with a three-run homer and a two-run blast as McKee Development got back on the winning track with a 15-0 whitewashing of Bill Knapp's. McKee won its first game of the season but then dropped four straight before rebounding Monday.

Perhaps Dr. Joyce Brothers should referee the best-of-five opening round of the Washington Capitals and New York Islanders. Long before Wednesday night's faceoff, they were engaged in a series of mind games.

"From the start, they've turned the rivalry into a psychological affair," the Islanders' 61-goal scorer Mike Bossy said.

HIACLEAH (UPI) — A cortical fracture of the left front shin — the second such fracture suffered by My Prince Charming in one year — will keep the 3-year-old colt out of the Triple Crown races.

The injury will keep My Prince Charming out of the Kentucky Derby May 3, the Preakness May 17, and the Belmont Stakes June 7.

Manion, Knights Trip Rollins

Russ Manion, routed by Rollins College in his last appearance against the Tars, hurled a four-hitter as the University of Central Florida drilled its arch-rival, 8-2, in college baseball Tuesday night at Alford Field in Winter Park.

Manion struck out six and walked three to run his record to 7-4. Mark Songalia suffered his fifth loss in 10 decisions for the Tars.

Vince Zawaski slugged his fourth homer, a three-run blast in the ninth inning to put the game out of reach. Scott McHugh and Todd Reese each rapped three hits for UCF, which improved to 38-9. Rollins fell to 21-18.

LEESBURG (UPI) — John Leech of Leesburg caught seven of eight strikes Tuesday to take over the lead in the 8867.315 MegaBucks bass fishing tournament.

Leech's catch brought his two-day total to 31 pounds, 14 ounces. His fishing partner and first-round leader, George Cochran of Little Rock, Ark., caught only two small bass and dropped into fifth place with 27 pounds, 9 ounces.

Randy Mosely of Lake of the Ozarks, Mo., jumped from 16th to second place with a catch of 17 pounds, 15 ounces and two-day total of 29 pounds, 7 ounces. Doug Gilley, of Winter Springs, is third with 29 pounds, 14 ounces.

FSU's McManus Cleared To Play

MIAMI (UPI) — Florida State quarterback Danny McManus hopes to put the troubling dizzy spells that sidelined him for much of last season behind him in 1986.

McManus, a junior from Hollywood, Fla., said in a telephone interview Tuesday that he has received tentative approval to rejoin the Seminoles for fall practice.

Menefee Lends Hurdling Hand

Coaching Style Makes For Easy Transition For 4 Lady Rams

By Chris Fister
Herald Sports Writer

Lake Mary High's four hurdlers aren't exactly blessed with a great deal of natural talent, but hard work and a helping hand from Langston Meneffee have made them highly competitive and they are determined to continue up the Seminole County Honor Roll ladder.

The hurdling foursome for the Lady Rams includes senior Jodie McCurdy, junior Lisa Shelby and sophomoresONEYKE Berry and Tabatha Gano.

"I've had hurdlers before who on raw talent have been better," Lake Mary coach Mike Gibson said. "But I've never had hurdlers before that have worked as hard as these four."

Along with hard work, Gibson said the guidance of Meneffee has been a great asset to the hurdlers. Meneffee is a Seminole High graduate and the hurdles were one of the events in which he competed in high school.

"He (Meneffee) has been coaching hurdles at our school for two years and we've had more hurdlers in that time than ever before," Gibson said. "He has a good easy-going coaching style that he seems to convey to the runners. And he's putting in all the time with the athletes as a volunteer who isn't being paid."

Going into Friday's Seminole Athletic Conference Meet at Lyman High School, Berry and McCurdy are both ranked among the county's best in both the 110 high hurdles and 300 lows. Gano is close to the leaders and Shelby is working hard to get into the picture.

Berry, who just began running the hurdles (this season, is currently second in the county in the 110 highs with a time of 16.0 and she broke the school record with that time this past Friday. She also ranks fifth in the 330 lows at 48.6.

"Coach Meneffee has really helped me out a lot," Berry said. "This is my first year running hurdles and I wasn't sure how I'd do but he made it easier for me."

McCurdy has been running track for Lake Mary since her freshman year and started out as a distance runner. Last year, as a junior, she ran hurdles for the first time and now she is among the best in the county. She is currently tied for fifth in the 110 highs at 16.4 and is sixth in the 330 lows at 48.7.

"Coach Meneffee made me stick with it and he's given me a lot of support," McCurdy said. "I'd really like to make it to state and place this season. It's going to take a lot of practice and being positive about everything."

McCurdy, given the chance, has proven on more than one occasion this season that she is an excellent competitor. In the Lyman Invitational, she won a coin flip to get the eighth spot in the finals of the 330 lows and went on to finish fifth in the race. This past Friday, her fifth place finish in the 330 lows gave Lake Mary enough points to hold on for fourth place in the Seminole High Invitational. She also ran her personal best in the 110 highs in that meet.

McCurdy and Berry are both good examples of what determination can do for an athlete. Both have asthma but they don't use it as an excuse when they falter. They just try that much harder the next time out.

"Jodie (McCurdy) was pretty good running the 880 but sometimes her asthma would give her problems and she'd drop out of races," Gibson said. "Both she and Berry had the same problem in cross country. But they don't let it get them down. They want to compete."

Gano also started out as a distance runner but moved to the hurdles midway through last season. Her top times this season include a 17.1 in the 110 highs and a 49.1 in the 330 lows. Both times are seventh in the county.

"As far as workouts go, Tabatha (Gano) probably does them better than anybody," Gibson said. "She has had to work for everything she's ever gotten. And she does anything that coach Meneffee tells her to do. She does it and then comes back and asks if there is anything she needs to improve on."

Gano said it was difficult to get the hang of the hurdles at first, but she was determined to stay with it and improve.

"It took me about nine months to get the steps down," Gano said. "And I fell a lot of times but always got back up and kept going. Last year, it took me until around the end of the year before I ever made it to the finals of a race. I thought I would never make it but when I made the finals for the first time I decided to stick with the hurdles."

Shelby is another distance runner who has been converted to the hurdles. She has been on the track and cross country teams for the Lady Rams since her freshman season. Since switching to the hurdles, Shelby has run an 18.0 in the 110 highs and 52.0 in the 330 lows.

"Lisa (Shelby) was a decent runner in the 880 but she's really making progress in the hurdles," Gibson said. "She works just as hard at it as the other three."

Bernadette Peters sets up for a forehand. Former Lake Mary High netter gained a scholarship at Birmingham Southern.

Self-Taught Peters Nets Scholarship

By Larry Castle
Special to the Herald

I got a call last fall from a well-known local high school player. This player wanted some private tennis lessons. Her name was Bernadette Peters. I had seen Bernadette play for Lake Mary High School on several occasions and I knew that she was a good player.

In fact, I had thought that she had left this area to play college tennis. I was surprised to learn that she had stayed at home after graduating from high school and was enrolled at Seminole Community College where I teach.

When we started our lessons it became very obvious to me that Bernadette had excellent potential and could play for many colleges throughout the U.S. I asked her if she would like to go somewhere to play and perhaps get a good scholarship.

She said that she would like to "give it a go" to try to make it as a college player and, of course, continue toward a degree at the same time. We talked with several schools and all were interested.

One school happened to have a full scholarship open because it was losing a player at the end of the fall term. That school was Birmingham Southern College, a solid tennis program with a good coach and an outstanding school academically.

Bernadette visited Alabama with her high school coach, Karen Layer. She liked everything about the situation and just that quick decided to enroll in January. Things have worked out great for everyone concerned and it seems that Bernadette will have a solid four years at the school.

A 1985 graduate of Lake Mary, Bernadette played four years of high school tennis. She played the first two years at Lake Howell and after her family moved into the Lake Mary district, played her junior and senior years at Lake Mary.

Bernadette was very fortunate to have strong high school coaching at both schools. Mike Hargis at Lake Howell and Karen Layer at Lake Mary were both strong coaches and well-regarded among area coaches.

Bernadette had outstanding records in singles and doubles in high school at both schools. Finishing the 1985 season with an outstanding 16-1 singles record. Actually, many, many colleges would have offered her a scholarship right out of high school, but her exposure was limited.

A self-taught "street player," she played only local tournaments and did not get a state ranking. This state ranking is very important in attracting the college scouts.

Bernadette loves tennis. She would be playing regularly even if she were not in college on a tennis scholarship. At 5-8 and with a strong, athletic build, Bernadette is equipped with the physical tools to reach a high level in the game.

The strongest part of her game is her strong mental attitude and ability to fight for every point. She is mentally tough and hard to beat. The area she says she would like to improve in is her footwork. Knowing Bernadette, I'm positive she will work in this area and improve in the next year or so.

Birmingham Southern is 10-6 for the 1986 season. Playing a strong schedule with a lot of Division I teams, it will be a force to be reckoned with when the Division II National Tournament comes around.

Bernadette is 12-4 in singles and 10-1 in doubles. At this point in the season she has been the biggest winner on the squad.

Seminoles Close Out Creek, 5-2

The Seminole High girls tennis team ended one of its finest seasons in recent years in fine fashion as it downed Spruce Creek's Lady Hawks, 5-2, Tuesday at Spruce Creek. The Lady Seminoles finished the season with a 6-7 record.

Paula Volpi got the Lady 'Noles off to a good start as she defeated Sally Vowrosen, 8-6, at number one singles. Spruce Creek's Val Osterman downed Kim Machnik, 8-4, at number two, but Rose Speer kept the Seminoles on top by outlasting Tara Collins, 8-5.

Lori Swain kept the momentum going for the Lady Tribe by trouncing Jill Poole, 8-0, at number four while Jennifer McKibbin pulled off the upset of the match by defeating the Creek's Julie Harms, 8-3, at number five. Harms had finished second in the Five Star Conference.

In doubles play, Seminole won one of two matches as Speer and Karen Edgemon won by default at number two.

The Seminole boys were not as fortunate as the girls as they ran into a powerful Spruce Creek team and dropped a 6-1 decision.

The Seminoles finished the season with a 1-13 record while the Creek now stands at 13-2.

Seminole's lone win of the match came at number three singles where Chad Perce downed Lance Reines, 8-4.

In one of the best matches of the day, Spruce Creek's John Higgins was taken to the limit by the Tribe's Mike Bagley before Higgins finally came out on top, 8-7 (11-9 in the tiebreaker).

Cook Of The Week

Plain, Southern Cooking Is The Specialty Of Her House

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

What's in a name? Coincidentally, our Cook Of The Week shares her name with one of the things she likes to do best. An "original" Floridian, born in Orlando, Mrs. Cook decidedly calls herself a "copycat" cook because most of her recipes have come from someone else over the years.

Plain, southern style cooking is usually the order of the day in Mrs. Cook's kitchen, some of which was learned from her mother, Lera Wilson. "Mother is a very good cook," said Mrs. Cook, "but most of my favorite recipes and the things I am now known for doing have come from friends and relatives. I've never had an original thought in my entire life," she confessed with a laugh. "I am the original copycat!"

Recalling an amusing incident which happened years ago, Mrs. Cook calls her husband, Walter, "the soul of discretion." After following the cake recipe given to her by a friend, Walter admitted that the cake was good, but not quite as good as the cake the friend had made. Then Mrs. Cook discovered that she hadn't turned over the recipe card to complete the instructions for the topping! "So the next time I put the topping on it and they liked it much better," she said.

A definite feeling of cheerfulness, good humor and welcome are the mainstays at the Cook household, especially when Mrs. Cook speaks of her family. Her dad, three-time mayor of Sanford, founded the Wilson-Maier Furniture Co. on First Street in 1947, which is now operated by Mrs. Cook's brother, Fred. Growing up in Orlando with her brother, Mrs. Cook remembers fighting World War II in a field next door to their home. "I always think about that when I talk about our childhood," she said. "We fought the war all by ourselves. We went through that field and we bombed places, and we were in submarines and that field was just World War II. Of course, we didn't know how to pronounce words then, and instead of saboteurs, we became that best 'sabotagers.'"

She helps out occasionally at the furniture store when needed, but admits to being without a full-time job for 28 years. "I worked part time at the court house up until eight years ago, then I got involved with a grandchild and never did go back to it. I stay so busy doing nothing," she laughed. "Doing nothing" consists of 30 years as children's director at First Baptist Church of Sanford, where Mrs. Cook also teaches a Sunday School class part time. One Sunday a month, she takes her turn in the church nursery. "I look forward to that one Sunday a month," she said, "when I rock babies. That's when I get all my rocking done," she said, "then I give them back to their mamas."

Nowadays, Mrs. Cook likes to dote on her grandchildren and enjoys every moment she spends with them. "We have six, and I dearly love them," she said. "We have five little boys and one little girl. Another grandchild is due soon and we are praying pink."

Married in 1955 to Walter Cook, a locomotive engineer for the Seaboard System Railroad, she and her husband have two sons, David and Dan, and a daughter, Sherry Noel. An entire wall of the Cooks' home is devoted to a handsome gallery of family portraits. "We've lived in this house for 31 years," said Mrs. Cook. "It was only going to be for a little while, but then we got to doing this and doing that, and we're still here. There are so many nice memories here." Her pride and joy is a large screened-in back porch, where she loves to entertain guests. When Mrs. Cook talks about her family, she says, "We thoroughly enjoyed the children." Vacations were always family-oriented and good times were spent at the beach and at Rock Springs. "We'd get up early in the morning, get the laundry done and one would vacuum, one would do the dishes, and when all that was done, we'd all get in the car and go to Rock Springs. As they got older, we went through Little League, Junior League, Senior League and a church softball team. Our boys played baseball from the time they could swing a bat until they graduated high school. Then I went from Brownies through Junior Scouts with my daughter."

Son David is now a locomotive engineer with the railroad, married to Jimette, and they have three boys. Dan is "in charge of everything that comes and goes at Acme Conveyors" and is married to Wendy. Sherry is now a lance corporal in the Marine Corps, and her husband, Joe, is an administrative sergeant with the Corps. They have 2 boy and a girl. Mrs. Cook enjoys relating how Sherry joined the Marines, and is quite proud of her daughter's accomplishment. "She's really had a chance to see something of the world and do something different. She finished college at Stetson University and was working at the crime lab when she came home one night and told us that she was going to join one of the Services. She felt that she needed to try something different." All through Sherry's training period at Parris Island, S.C., Mrs. Cook said all their friends at First Baptist Church "prayed her through." "This was my child who went off to college not weighing 100 lbs. and had allergies all her life," she said. "I just knew they would either send her home, or call and tell me where to claim the body! Parris Island is not a vacation getaway."

Sherry came through it just fine, said Mrs. Cook, and wrote home once saying, "I jumped off a tower today - it was neat!" After graduation and a training course in Texas for the military police, Sherry received orders to report to Camp Smith in Hawaii, "and guess where we went on our vacation," laughed Arthurene. A wonderful three weeks in Hawaii with Sherry and her family is one of the highlights of Mrs. Cook's memory album of scenic photographs.

Mrs. Cook shares a very close and loving relationship with her mother, Lera Wilson. "I would be lost without her," she said. "I check with her every day and we do a lot of things together. I cook very much like her. She's the one who taught me how to use a pressure cooker. I was scared to death of one, but she made me get on with it and I love it for certain things. I love to make beef stew in a pressure cooker." Mrs. Cook also enjoys using her microwave for many things and puts her food processor to work making "tubs and tubs of cole slaw." In the winter time, she will press her slow cooker into service for a hearty vegetable soup or a roast. "I'm not into doing a lot of things that take a lot of preparation," exclaimed Mrs. Cook, "and I'm not a fancy cook. I'm much more liable to invite you over for hamburgers on the grill on the back porch than I am to give a 'high tea.'"

As busy as she is "doing nothing," Mrs. Cook still finds time to volunteer her services as a Pink Lady in the Surgical Waiting Room at the hospital and finds it very rewarding. "I'm a people person," said Mrs. Cook, "and needed to be doing something that was other than just for us right here at home." She also calls herself a "flower fiddler" and enjoys working in the garden. A collector of butterflies in the form of ceramics, bric-a-brac and pins, she said, "I have a butterfly pin on every jacket I own. My husband says that if I put one more butterfly on the wall, this place will just rise and fly away!"

Microwave Magic

Crumb Coating Provides Color For Pork

Pork chops can be microwaved very satisfactorily if they are of even thickness with most of the fat removed. A crumb coating or sauce provides color for the pork, which turns white when completely cooked. The crumbs also hold the moisture. Mushroom soup provides a compatible flavor, but other cream soups can be used. If you are calorie-counting, omit crumbs and cream soups and try the recipes on the Leaner Side.

CRUMB-COATED PORK CHOPS

4 pork chops, 1/2 inch thick
1 envelope prepared coating mix

Micro-cook for 16 1/2-18 1/2 minutes per pound. Shake chops with coating. Arrange chops in an 8x8 dish with meaty portions to outside. Cover with wax paper. Microwave on 50% power for 1/2 the total cooking time. Rearrange the chops so the less cooked areas are to the outside of the dish. Discard the paper. Microwave for the second 1/2 of time.

SMOTHERED PORK CHOPS

Arrange chops in an 8x8 dish with meaty portion to outside. Spread undiluted mushroom soup over chops. Cover with vented plastic wrap. Microwave on 50% power for 1/2 of the cooking time. Turn over chops. Replace the plastic wrap. Microwave for remaining time.

For a quick supper casserole using pork chops try this tasty combination.

CHEESY PORK CHOP CASSE ROLE

4 pork chops, 1/2-3/4 inch thick
2-3 med. potatoes, sliced thinly

1 medium onion, sliced thinly
1/4 teaspoon basil
1 (10 oz.) can Cheddar cheese soup

1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup Parmesan cheese
Salt and pepper to taste

Place pork chops in bottom of baking dish. Layer potatoes and onions on top of chops. Mix cheese soup with Parmesan cheese, milk and spices. Pour over chops. Cover with plastic wrap, and microwave on 70% power 20-25 minutes. Rearrange midway through cooking time. This favorite combination makes an easy dinner casserole.

PORK CHOPS AND SAUERKRAUT DINNER

(serves 4-6)
4-6 pork chops
2 onions sliced in rings
1 (27 oz.) can sauerkraut, well drained

2 large potatoes, sliced
2 large apples, sliced
1/2 cup white wine
2 teaspoons instant chicken bouillon

1 teaspoon caraway seeds
1 tablespoon parsley flakes
1/2 teaspoon pepper
4 oz. salt pork, finely diced

Place all ingredients in a water-soaked clay pot. Mix well. Place pork chops on top of mixture. Cover with water-soaked lid. Microwave 100% power 15 minutes. Turn pork chops and stir mixture gently. Microwave on 50% power 45-55 minutes or until chops are tender. Let stand 5 minutes before serving.

A Red-Letter Day For Kentuckians

Kentuckians transplanted to Florida got together for a covered-dish buffet at the Eastmonte Civic Center, Altamonte Springs.

The group of 125 joined together for a chorus of "My Old Kentucky Home" while they renewed acquaintances and made new friends.

Louise Jackson, Sanford, who organized the meet, was awarded a Kentucky Colonel honor by Bernie Bockweg. Door prizes, donated by Frank's Yogurt Shoppe, Sanford, were presented to 20 attendees.

Barbara Williams served as mistress of ceremonies, and committee members Rosemary Prather, Margaret Robinson and Betty Kline assisted with preparations.

According to Ms. Williams, the Kentuckians had a great time and plan to do it again soon. It was truly a red-letter day for the Kentuckians, she said.

Bernie Bockweg presents a Kentucky Colonel award to Louise Jackson of Sanford when 125 Kentuckians gathered for Kentucky Day.

Mr. and Mrs. James Holbert Jr.

Carolyn Moyer, J.E. Holbert Jr. Exchange Vows

Carolyn Marie Moyer and James Edward Holbert Jr., were married at 5 p.m. March 28, in a ceremony overlooking the lake at 240 Dublin Drive, Lake Mary. The Rev. Herold Heckenbach performed the traditional wedding.

The bride is the daughter of Herbert L. Moyer, Shipman, Va. The bridegroom is the son of Bessie L. Muirhead, Sanford.

The bride chose for her vows a baby blue silk gown with white swiss dots, trimmed in white lace, and a white Southern Belle hat trimmed in baby blue lace ribbon. She wore fingerless 3/4-length white lace gloves and carried a basket of red roses, daisies, green ferns, white and lavender mums, white carnations, orange blossoms and white and blue baby's breath.

Alice Fauver served as maid of honor, and Bessie Muirhead was matron of honor. Mrs. Fauver's knee-length gown was purple and navy on white, and she wore an orchid corsage. Mrs. Muirhead's knee-length suit was monaco blue and white, and she wore a white orchid corsage. Bridesmaid Sonya Fauver wore a blue knee-length dress trimmed with white lace and a blue orchid corsage.

John E. Fauver served as best man.

A reception was held at the home of Alice Fauver, the bridegroom's sister. Mrs. Muirhead, Sonya Fauver and Donna Fauver assisted.

Following a cruise on the cruise ship Romance, the couple will live in Staunton, Va. The bridegroom works for E. I. DuPont Co., Waynesboro, Va.

Food for Thought

by Bill Painter

Better than baked apples...steamed apples. Use a vegetable steamer over wine or water flavored with vanilla and the peel you take off the tops of the apples. Squeeze lemon juice over apples and sprinkle with sugar. Steaming takes just 15 to 20 minutes. Top with reduced cooking liquid, and caramel if you dare.

When recipes call for a cup of buttermilk, it's easy to make your own. Mix 1 lbs. lemon juice or white vinegar with enough milk to make one cup, let stand for 5 minutes.

You can "fry" your microwave in to even cooking of food with uneven pieces. Place the biggest piece of chicken on the outside edge of the dish, where they'll cook faster, the smallest or thinnest in the center.

Eggs poach more neatly if you add 1 tsp. of white vinegar to the simmering water.

Home-Made Spray Will Pickle Nose

Dr. Gott

DEAR DR. GOTT — Our adult daughter has been using a nasal spray she makes herself many times a day, every day. She uses hydrogen peroxide or a mixture of that and spices, such as chili and/or pickling juices. She has gradually been losing her sense of smell and has constant painful headaches and difficulty breathing. She's had tests and X-rays, but never tells the doctor about her nasal spray. I'm very concerned about her problem. She says that since she's not using commercial sprays, she does not have to worry about becoming dependent on this one. Please help.

DEAR READER — From the sound of your letter, I'd say your daughter is pickling the inside of her nose — and the nerves of smell as well. The strong components of her homemade spray may certainly be causing tissue damage. If she refuses to tell her doctor about her unusual practice, I wonder what sort of secondary gain she is experiencing by being miserable and overtested.

People do not become "addicted" to commercial nasal sprays. Rather, the problem is that these medicines cause a condition called "rebound": After about a week of use, sprays cause (instead of relieve) nasal congestion.

Try to convince your daughter to give up her kitchen-medicine proclivity. Dilute salt water (one teaspoon per quart) may relieve her symptoms with far less danger.

DEAR DR. GOTT — My husband, 47, had TUR prostate surgery nine months ago. To this date, he sometimes urinates on his own and sometimes uses the catheter, because of blood in the urine. I'm worried he'll become dependent on it. All he gets from the doctor is, "It takes time."

DEAR READER — A catheter is always used after a TUR (transurethral resection) of prostate tissue because the remaining prostate gland is raw and irritated for several days following the surgery. Nine months seems like a long time for bleeding to occur and for your husband to need help urinating. I'm concerned that he may have a complication of surgery. Ask for a referral to another urologist for an opinion.

To give you more information, I'm sending you a free copy of my Health Report on THE PROSTATE GLAND. Other readers who would like a copy should send 75 cents plus a long self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of this newspaper to P.O. Box 2597, Cincinnati, OH 45201. Be sure to mention the title.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
When you're defending against a grand slam, you look for a safe lead. Then you carefully guard your broken high cards so that one of them might possibly take a trick. See how West led the queen of diamonds, jealously protecting his black suit queens. Now watch for something you never learned in your first 100 bridge lessons.

Declarer won the king of diamonds and drew trumps. Then he played the king and jack of spades. West first played the spade six and on the jack he smoothly followed with the 10. Now really, what would any of us do as declarer? Could West possibly have the spade queen and play like that? Of course, declarer rose with the spade ace and led the nine from dummy.

When East played small, South threw his club loser and bit his tongue when West produced the queen.

The play by West was logical. If declarer had started with three spades, he would most likely win the diamond ace at the first trick and lead from dummy toward the spade jack. Or he might win the opening lead in his hand and after drawing trump, would lead first to dummy's spade ace and then back to his K-J. For declarer to play as he did, he must have K-J alone in spades. If that is the case and if West covers with the queen, it is very possible and even likely that declarer will ruff the third round of spades and happily see the 10 come tumbling down. But when the 10 is played on the jack, the result is virtually a foregone conclusion.

What The Day Will Bring...

YOUR BIRTHDAY APRIL 10, 1968

In the year ahead, you're not apt to spend much time worrying over money matters. Returns will come to you in proportion to the efforts you expend — occasionally you'll get even more.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Today, your outgoing and gregarious urges can be gratified by some form of active, social involvement with friends. Don't limit the group — the more, the merrier.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Without doing anything special or voicing any profound statements, you'll still command total respect from people you associate with today.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't entertain thoughts about being a loner today. Get out and circulate with others and enjoy yourself. You'll be a smash with an active crowd.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) There is greater financial opportunity around you today than usual. You could be particularly lucky generating earnings from a second source.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Cupid is focusing his attention on you today. Plan something special for just you and your loved one, and post a no-trespassing sign to ward off intruders.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your real happiness will be found in your family circle today. You won't need outside interests, only the cozy surroundings of heart and home.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) If you have been planning to launch a venture you've originated, this is the right day to do it. Lady Luck will be spreading rose petals in your path.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) A sum of money might come your way today through a rather circuitous route. It may be precipitated by the doings of a relative.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Plans pertinent to your self-interests can be advanced today through frank and open discussions with people in the know.

'A Case Of Deadly Force' Airs Tonight

By Mark Schwed
UPI TV Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — It was a dreary, rainy night in Boston. James Bowden Jr., a hospital worker and father of two, ran to his car and got in. Outside, two undercover police officers thought they had their man.

Guns drawn, they bolted to his car and a few seconds later Bowden was dead, police bullets in the back of his head and between his shoulder blades.

So began one of the most controversial cases in Boston police history — a case that impacted police officers, court systems and cities around the country.

Tonight, viewers will have the opportunity to find out why "A Case of Deadly Force" was so important. It airs on CBS, WCPX-TV, Channel 6 (9-11 p.m.), opposite "Dynasty" and "Blacks Magic."

The story began in 1975, when Bowden, a 25-year-old black man, was shot by two white Irish Tactical Patrol Force officers searching for an armed robbery suspect. The case would have ended there had it not been for Bowden's wife, Patricia, and an Irish cop-turned-lawyer, Lawrence O'Donnell Sr.

The police said Bowden robbed a grocery and tried to run them down. They said they fired warning shots and then killed him. O'Donnell launched a three-year investigation and spent $13,000 of his own money to get the answers.

This is what he found: police fired no warning shot and the man they killed in no way resembled the armed robbery suspect except for the color of his face. They killed the wrong man.

In 1980, a federal court jury found the two policemen were at fault. And through O'Donnell's persistence, Bowden's family won the first-ever civil damages awarded to the victim of a police killing.

In 1985, as the production crew moved back to Boston to shoot the movie, it was evident that the wounds still have not healed.

"It may be the friendliest city I've ever been in," said Richard Crenna, who played O'Donnell in the TV movie and Rambo's colonel in the Rambo flicks. "We shot one day outside the courthouse and there was this huge banner across four windows. It said 'We Love You Richard,' and there were these secretaries leaning out the window."

"People brought gifts. One family gave us a bottle of wine and said thanks for shooting in our neighborhood."

"But that's the people. Now to get to the crux of it. We did have some resistance from the Police Benevolent Association. I understand their discomfort."

"The Police Benevolent Association would not cooperate for volunteering for off-duty security. The city had to do it."

Crenna said the shooting was motivated by tremendous racial tensions in Boston at the time.

"These guys were just a couple of bad cops," Crenna said. "Most inexcusable was the attempt to cover it up."

According to the book by O'Donnell's son, Lawrence O'Donnell Jr., and the TV movie, Bowden's wife was not interested in the money.

Richard Crenna

"I met her," Crenna said of Mrs. Bowden. "I am absolutely convinced that her motivation in the lawsuit was to clear the name of her husband. He had no criminal record at all — not even double parking."

The Bowden civil lawsuit produced the first judgment against a police department for wrongful death and it caused communities to take another look at their deadly force policies. But still, the policies vary from city to city.

"Hopefully, what this movie will do is cause police, cities and communities to consider the standardization of deadly force: at what point can an officer draw a gun?" Crenna said. "Every city has a different viewpoint. If there is any subliminal message (in the movie), maybe it is that."

"If you have an 11-year-old standing there with an Uzi, do you shoot him?" Crenna said. "If he's 21 do you shoot him?"

Because the case is such a touchy issue, and many of those involved are still alive, the program had to be cleared by CBS's program practices department and the legal division.

Things have changed in Boston since the shooting, but the memories are still there and so is the evidence used in the case.

The property department was able to secure actual items used in the trial, including

O'Donnell's handwritten notes. "When I'm standing in the courtroom talking to the jury, those notes in my hand, they are the actual handwritten notes used in the real trial," Crenna said. "It was eerie."

Elizabeth Taylor and Robert Wagner are teaming together for the first time to work on a TV project. The two will star next season in a two-hour ABC TV movie called "There Must Be a Pony," based on the novel by James Kirkwood... Taylor portrays an actress making a successful comeback in Hollywood who also develops a new personal life with Wagner when tragedy strikes. Wagner is executive producer.

TV Hall Of Fame Names 7

It may not be as famous as the baseball museum in Cooperstown, but TV has its own hall of fame, created by the Television Academy of Arts and Sciences.

Its seven newest members are: Steve Allen, producer-director Fred Coe, Walt Disney, Jackie Gleason, Mary Tyler Moore, former CBS President Frank Stanton and puppeteer Burr Tillstrom.

Their induction ceremony, which airs on NBC on Monday,

April 21, was taped at a black-tie event March 23 at the Santa Monica Civic Auditorium. Narrators and presenters included Ed Asner, Patty Duke, Jim Henson, David Letterman, Audrey Meadows, Diane Sawyer and Dick Van Dyke.

Another notable ceremony airs Saturday, April 26, on NBC when the American Film Institute honors director Billy Wilder with its Lifetime Achievement Award. Jack Lemmon will host the tribute to Wilder, which was taped last month in Beverly Hills.

Wilder, 80, an Austro-Hungarian immigrant, began his motion-picture career in the 1930s.

'Other Woman's' Invitation Exceeds Boundaries Of Taste

DEAR ABBY: My 7-year-old daughter (I'll call her Jessica) received a mailed invitation to a bridal shower. The bride-to-be is "Thelma" — a young woman who is marrying Jessica's father, whom I divorced when I learned that he and Thelma were having an affair.

Dear Abby

Since Jessica doesn't drive yet, or do her own shopping, am I expected to purchase a shower gift for the bride and take Jessica to this event?

A little background: My husband met and fell in love with Thelma while he was commuting to work for his latest job change from Los Angeles to Newport Beach. Since I was not aware of the affair, I put our home on the market so we could relocate in Newport Beach. It sold in a few months, and we moved.

In less than a week, I learned about Thelma. I immediately moved back to Los Angeles, where my family, friends and career have always been. I also filed for divorce. I'll admit, I was burned up about selling our home and disrupting Jessica's school, plus bearing the expense of moving — both ways, since I wouldn't have moved in the first place had I known the score.

I need to know how to handle Jessica's invitation to the bridal shower. It seems thoughtless and in poor taste, but I want to do the right thing.

JESSICA'S DISGUSTED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: I have never recommended ignoring an invitation, but considering the tastelessness of this one, I am making an exception.

DEAR ABBY: My fiance and I are planning our wedding and need your help in settling a disagreement. We are both music lovers (classical) and talented performers as well. I am a pianist and Dennis has a beautiful singing voice.

It would give me great pleasure to play a few numbers immediately following the marriage ceremony. (I wouldn't do anything inappropriate like a jarring Prokofiev.) Dennis' song to me would be an appropriate selection in keeping with the occasion. He says the logistics of my moving from the altar to the piano in my long, flowing wedding gown would be awkward and disruptive — that I should be a bride and nothing more. And he should do no singing.

I think it would be a shame to engage outsiders to prove the music when we could deliver music at its best. (We have already agreed on an organist for the prelude, march and recessional.)

Please help me, Dennis' mother is siding with Dennis.

MUSIC LOVER

DEAR LOVER: I'm also siding with Dennis. Sorry. But if you must perform, do it at the reception.

Problems? Write to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038. All correspondence is confidential.

...Cook

quickly emerges when she explains how much she loves her dishwasher and her clothes dryer. "A dishwasher is my best friend," she says. "I don't mind having a lot of people over for dinner because I know I don't have to stand over the sink. Then, about 18 years ago, my husband asked me what I wanted for Christmas and I said, "A clothes dryer, and I'll only use it in bad weather." Well, we haven't had a pretty day since!"

Back in her kitchen, Mrs. Cook has some favorites that she relies on and gives credit where credit is due. Her method of roasting a turkey is unique, and the first time she tried it, she said, was for a Thanksgiving dinner. "So I cooked a 22-pound turkey at 500 degrees for two hours at ten o'clock the night before and I pictured having bologna sandwiches for Thanksgiving dinner. But when I got up the next morning, it was just beautiful. Now everybody uses the recipe. It cooks out all those delicious juices that you can do all sorts of things with." One of the Cook family's favorite dishes is turkey with yellow rice.

Following is a list of recipes from Mrs. Cook's collection:

HOW TO BAKE A TURKEY THE EASY WAY

(Millie Landreth)
One 10 to 14 lb. turkey, completely defrosted

1 large grocery sack, cut open to lie flat

1 stick of margarine or butter
2 cups of water

Use a regular roaster with a rack. Put the turkey and water in, then butter the paper sack and tuck all around the turkey. Cover with 2 layers of heavy duty foil, crimping the edges to seal. Turn oven on to 500 degrees. Bake for 1 hour. Turn oven off and leave turkey in oven overnight. If I do this early in the morning, I leave it in the oven all day. It will still be warm when you are ready to serve it. If you use a 20 plus pound bird for the holidays, bake for 2 hours and use 4 cups of water. You can take the juice that cooks out, cool and remove the fat and use for all sorts of things. One of the favorites is turkey and yellow rice. For every 2 1/2 cups of broth, use 1 cup Uncle Ben's rice and 1 package of yellow rice seasoning.

OATMEAL READY-TO-GO CAKE

(Norene Turner)
1 1/2 cups hot water
1 cup quick oats
1 stick butter
1 cup light brown sugar
1 cup white sugar
2 eggs
1 tsp. vanilla
1 1/2 cups flour
1 tsp. baking soda

1 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. salt
Pour hot water over oats and set aside to cool. Cream together the butter and both sugars until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Add vanilla and oats mixture. Blend well. Add flour which has been sifted together with soda, salt and cinnamon. Mix well and pour batter into a well greased oblong baking dish. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 minutes.

Topping

1 cup angel flake coconut
1 cup chopped pecans
1 cup light brown sugar
1/2 cup evaporated milk
1 tsp. vanilla
1 stick butter at room temperature

Mix all together and spread on top of hot cake. Put under broiler for 5 minutes. WATCH CLOSELY.

BREAD DIP

(Liz Horton)
2 cups mayonnaise
2 cups sour cream
Blend above ingredients. Add 2 tablespoons of each of the following:
Onion flakes
Parsley flakes
Dill weed (not seeds)
Beau Monde (Spice Island brand)

Mix and serve in two round loaves of rye bread with seeds. Make a bowl out of one loaf and dippers out of the other. Put dip into bread bowl. When dip is gone, eat the bowl!

8-LAYER SALAD

(Ginny Taffer)
(Make 24 hrs. ahead of time and let set.)
1 head lettuce, shredded
1 cup chopped green pepper
1 cup chopped celery
1 medium red onion, cut in rings (optional)
1 pkg. frozen green peas, thawed and uncooked
1 1/2 cups mayonnaise
8 oz. sharp cheddar cheese, grated
8 to 10 slices crisp, crumbled bacon or Bacon Bits

Arrange ingredients in layers, cover tightly and refrigerate. Mix just before serving. Another friend, Margaret Knight, uses chopped egg on hers and sometimes I use both the chopped eggs and bacon.

HAMBURGER/RICE CASSE ROLE

(Sandra Wilson)
1 1/2 lbs. ground beef
1 cup rice
2 cans cream of chicken soup
Cook rice. Brown beef and drain fat. Mix rice, hamburger and 1 1/2 cans of the soup, adding a little water if it is too thick. Top with the remaining soup. Bake at 350 degrees until bubbly. Serves 4 to 6.

BANANA NUT CAKE

(Hazel Madden)
(A good recipe for bananas that might otherwise be thrown away)

1/2 cup margarine
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 eggs, unbeaten
1 cup, or 2 to 3 mashed bananas
1 1/2 cups flour
1 tsp. baking soda
4 tsp. buttermilk, or 1 tsp. vinegar in 4 tbs. milk
1 tsp. vanilla
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Cream first 4 ingredients. Add remaining ingredients and pour into bundt pan that has been greased and floured. Bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes.

BLENDER COCONUT PIE

2 cups milk
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup Bisquick biscuit mix
4 eggs
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 tsp. vanilla
1 cup Angel Flake coconut
Combine milk, sugar, biscuit mix, eggs, butter and vanilla in blender. Cover and blend on low speed for 3 minutes. Pour into greased 9 inch pie pan. Let stand for 5 minutes. Sprinkle with coconut. Bake at 350 degrees for 40 minutes. Pie will make its own crust with biscuit mix. Serve warm or cool.

Master Chinese Banquet Dishes

Among the great cuisines of the world, Chinese cookery has many complex dishes that require the talents of a great chef. There are, however, some that rely on unusual combinations of fruits, vegetables and accompanying sauces which, the novice chef can prepare easily.

Fruits play a important role in the cooking of all China. We find citrus was celebrated there in poetry nearly 4,000 years ago and made its way from China to Africa. It then traveled to Italy in the 1st Century A.D., and from there to Spain where Columbus brought them to America. It was probably Ponce de Leon who took the seeds to Florida where the combination of the felicitous climate and the dedication of the early citrus growers made it the citrus capital of the world.

Chinese Banquet Beef demonstrates the unique Oriental flair for unusual ingredient mixture. It's a savory dish of beef that's simmered in a sauce fragrant with Florida grapefruit juice and embellished at serving time with succulent, fresh grapefruit sections and crisp water chestnuts. Made ahead and reheated at serving time, it's an elegant company dish with no last-minute fussing.

Five Vegetables Grapefruit Salad is a spectacular presentation of fresh vegetables and Florida grapefruit sections. The key components are interspersed with sprigs of watercress for color. The Chinese style of dexterity with a knife or cleaver makes each ingredient stand out like a blossom in a bouquet of flowers. One needs only a very sharp knife and a little patience and practice to recreate the effect. Since this is also a do-it-ahead choice, success can be assured before mealtime.

Take out your prettiest plates...arrange your food with care and have an Oriental banquet for all to enjoy.

CHINESE BANQUET BEEF
 4 tablespoons vegetable oil
 2 pounds stewing beef, cut in small cubes
 2 cloves garlic, minced
 6 green onions, cut in 1/2-inch pieces
 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
 2 tablespoons sugar
 1/4 cup soy sauce

 1 can (8 ounces) water chestnuts, drained and sliced
 2 Florida grapefruit, peeled

Chinese Banquet Beef and grapefruit salad sparkle with flavor

 Heat 2 tablespoons oil in deep, heavy pan; add half the beef; brown on all sides; remove to bowl. Repeat with other half of beef and oil. Return all beef to pan. Add garlic, green onions, cloves, sugar, soy sauce and grapefruit juice. Cover; bring to boiling. Reduce heat; simmer 45 minutes. Uncover; simmer 30 minutes or until beef is tender and liquid has reduced. Remove from heat; stir in water chestnuts and grapefruit sections. Serve with hot, cooked rice, if desired. Yield: 8 servings.

FIVE VEGETABLE GRAPEFRUIT SALAD
 1/4 cup soy sauce
 1/4 cup Florida grapefruit juice

Arrange grapefruit sections, mushrooms, radishes, cucumbers and bamboo shoots in separate rows on platter or tray. Separate section with watercress sprigs. Serve with chilled dressing. Yield: 8 servings.

Potpourri

Springtime Calls For The Ultimate Taste Of Asparagus

Spring and asparagus are synonymous. It is no surprise to learn that this vegetable has been favored since the 2nd century B.C.

For many Europeans the white asparagus is the ultimate taste treat.

And there are many arguments among devotees about how best to enjoy this luscious sprig.

Abundant now (and available frozen or in cans year-round), asparagus makes an excellent hot or cold soup.

Using ground oat flour as a thickener in this asparagus soup adds fiber and flavor.

EASY ASPARAGUS SOUP

1 pound fresh asparagus, trimmed, cut into 1-inch pieces (about 3 cups), divided
 2 10 1/2-ounce cans condensed chicken broth, divided
 1 1/4 cups milk, divided
 1/2 cup Ground Oat Flour (instructions follow)
 1 cup (4 ounces) shredded Swiss cheese
 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg

Combine 1 1/2 cups asparagus pieces and 1 cup chicken broth in blender container; blend until smooth. Combine asparagus mixture, remaining asparagus pieces and remaining chicken broth in large saucepan; bring to a boil. Reduce heat. Simmer about 5 minutes or until asparagus is tender.

Gradually stir 1/2 cup milk into oat flour; mix until smooth. Bring asparagus mixture to a full, rolling boil; gradually add oat flour mixture, stirring constantly. Add remaining milk; simmer about 5 minutes or until thickened. Remove from heat; add cheese and nutmeg, mixing well. Cover; let stand 3 to 5 minutes before serving. This kitchen-tested recipe makes 5 cups.

Note: Additional milk may be added if soup becomes too thick upon standing.

Variation: Substitute two 10-ounce packages of frozen cut asparagus, thawed, for fresh asparagus.

Ground Oat Flour: Place 1 1/4 cups quick or old-fashioned oats, uncooked, in blender or food processor. Cover; blend about 60 seconds. Makes about 1 cup. To prepare larger quantities of Ground Oat Flour, repeat above directions to produce amount needed. Flour can be made ahead and stored in tightly covered container in cool dry place up to 6 months.

SAUTE OF CALVES LIVER

Per serving:
 4 to 6 ounces calves liver slices
 Seasoned flour
 1/2 Tbsp butter
 1 Tbsp fine Irish whiskey
 1/4 cup concentrated beef stock (see note below)
 Garlic to taste
 1 Tbsp chopped tarragon leaves
 1/2 Tbsp heavy cream

Heat butter in a heavy frying pan until it foams. Dip the livers in flour and fry on both sides in the butter. Push the meat to one side of the pan, then pour in the whiskey.

If cooking on gas, tilt the pan toward the heat, allowing the flame to leap in and ignite the whiskey. Otherwise, light with a match. When the flames have died down, add the stock, garlic and tarragon. Boil down until syrupy, then stir in the cream.

Note: To make concentrated stock, take one cup of ordinary household beef stock and boil down to reduce the volume by half.

WHISKEY ORANGES

6 oranges

2 eggs
 1/4 cup sugar
 1/2 cup milk
 1/4 cup whipped cream
 3 level tsp unflavored gelatin
 2 1/4 Tbsp fine Irish whiskey
 For decoration:
 1/2 cup whipped cream
 24 fresh bay leaves
 1/4 Tbsp Irish whiskey

For 12 orange halves, boil sugar and milk together until thick. A drop falling from the side of a spoon should leave a slight thread. Separate yolks from the whites of the eggs and add milk mixture gradually to the yolks. Beat to a thick mousse.

Squeeze juice from oranges and scrape the skins clean to leave nicely shaped orange halves. Dissolve gelatin in a little of the orange juice in a cup or bowl over boiling water.

Blend carefully with five-eighths of a cup of remaining juice. Let cool. Add it with the whipped cream and whiskey to the yolks. Whip egg whites stiffly and fold them in also.

Fill into orange halves, heaping up as much as you can. Freeze for 2 hours. To decorate, pipe a line of whiskey-flavored, sweetened whipped cream across the center of each orange. Stick 2 bay leaves on either side.

IRISH COFFEE

1 jigger (1 1/4 ounce) Irish whiskey
 4 ounces hot black coffee
 1 to 2 tsp brown sugar, to taste
 Lightly whipped cream

Preheat an Irish Coffee glass by filling with hot water. Allow to stand for several seconds, then empty. Fill warmed glass with coffee, then add sugar to taste. Stir until sugar is dissolved.

Add jigger of Irish whiskey and stir. Then pour lightly whipped cream over the back of a spoon so the cream floats on top. Do not stir. Sip the hot coffee and whiskey through the cool cream.

SCARBOROUGH FAIR

For 12 servings:
 1/4 cup mayonnaise
 1/4 cup lemon juice
 1/4 tsp ground thyme
 1/4 tsp rosemary leaves
 Pinch garlic powder
 White pepper to taste
 Pinch of ground oregano
 Pinch of ground sage
 3 pounds smoked turkey breast
 1 pound yellow delicious apples, cut into small chunks
 1 pound celery, coarsely chopped

2 ounces green onions, chopped
 1 1/2 ounce sliced almonds
 1/4 ounce fresh parsley, coarsely chopped
 Romaine lettuce leaves
 Combine mayonnaise, lemon juice, thyme, rosemary, garlic powder, white pepper, oregano and sage. Refrigerate several hours or overnight.

Trim turkey and cut into half-inch chunks. Combine dressing with apples, celery, onions, almonds and parsley just before serving. Portion about 1 cup of turkey mixture on each romaine leaf. Spoon dressing on top.

ORANGE TRIFLES

1 package (10 1/4 ounces) frozen plain pound cake
 1/4 cup dry sherry
 1/4 cup seedless raspberry preserves
 4 eggs
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 1/2 cups milk
 1 cup Florida orange juice
 4 Florida oranges, peeled and sectioned
 1 cup (1/2 pint) heavy cream, whipped

Ronnie Next On List To Receive Willy's Epicurean Delight, Salmon

By WARREN PERLEY
TANGIER, Nova Scotia (UPI) — Any day now, Willy plans to send Ronnie the same epicurean delight he has shared with Lyndon, Elizabeth, Charles and thousands of other gourmets around the world.

When you're 73, look like Santa's elf and have a reputation for producing the best smoked salmon in the world, you can get away with calling presidents, queens and princes by their first names.

Willy Krauch says he plans to send President Reagan one of his finest smoked salmons because "he's a real good fellow."
 "I like the Americans," Krauch said in a recent interview. "We can't do without them. Else we'd have communism. Ronnie tells them off."

Krauch's smoked salmon may be the greatest sales pitch ever devised to promote free trade between Canada and the United States, according to some of his customers.

"It's fit for a president," says Jim Smith, an interior designer from Coconut Grove, Fla., who orders a side of salmon from Krauch every year.

"I've tried smoked salmon in a good many places, but his is the best I've ever tasted," Smith said in a telephone interview from Coconut Grove. "His particular blend of seasonings and his smoking process give it a wonderful, moist flavor."

In 1981, a Mobile, Ala., doctor called in the FBI when Krauch's shipment of smoked salmon failed to arrive in time for his Christmas party. The FBI traced it to a mixup at customs in Chicago.

Krauch has been using his secret smoking recipe since 1956, five years after he emigrated from Denmark to the seaside town of Tangier 50 miles east of Halifax.

Helped by his sons Dan and John, he uses maple wood to smoke 35,000 to 40,000 pounds of salmon and 40,000 pounds of mackerel every year. Much of it is sent by mail to clients around the world for about $11.75 per pound and shipping costs.

Among those who have received gifts of salmon from him over the years are President Lyndon Johnson, Prince Charles for his wedding and Queen Elizabeth II.

The 1978 gift to the Queen elicited a note from Buckingham Palace, which said in part that the Queen "is delighted to add this very welcome gift from you to the fare of her table."

Krauch rolls his blue eyes when asked the secret of his success.

"They have to be fat fish," he said in his heavy Danish accent. "If they're skinny, they taste bitter. And we cook it a little more than our competitors. But I don't like to reveal our secrets."

Innovative Crawfish Makes World Debut

By JOHN DEMERS
UPI Food Editor
NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Blocked in Europe by a cheap Turkish import, the makers of the world's first cryogenically frozen crawfish are looking hungrily at a domestic market still pulsating from the pepper-hot Cajun craze.
 Fortunately for the folks at Ecrevisee Acadienne, the feeling seems to be mutual.
 The firm's three variations on Louisiana crawfish — whole bodied in the shell, tails frozen in a block and tails frozen individually — have been turning up with increasing frequency in cities coast to coast.
 Washington got its first taste in March, with New York joining the party the first week of April.

"This is the advent of the crawfish," declared Bunny Jumonville, who along with Joy Mounser will teach the New York stores how to cook crawfish for promotional displays.
 "Among the Creoles and Cajuns, this delicacy has been the best-kept secret for years."

The two women were chosen for the Ecrevisee assignment after successfully penning the first and only cookbook devoted to the subject. "The Louisiana Crawfish Cookbook."

It is their contention crawfish should become the most popular seafood in the world, once cooks discover how receptive it is to innovation. Its texture, they say, is so perfect and its taste so subtle it can turn up in virtually any form or forum.

CRAWFISH CORN MUFFINS

1 large onion, chopped
 2 cloves garlic, chopped
 1 large bell pepper, chopped
 5 ribs celery including leaves, chopped
 1 stick butter
 1 pound crawfish tails, chopped
 1 can puree Ro-tel tomatoes

2 raw eggs
 2 packages corn muffin mix, prepared according to directions
 Salt and pepper to taste
 Sauté vegetables in butter. Add crawfish and Ro-Tel tomatoes. Cook 15 minutes, add 2 raw eggs and mix well. Remove and reserve centers of corn muffins, leaving the shell as thin as possible.

 Crumble reserved corn muffin and add to crawfish mixture. Add seasoning to dressing, then stuff dressing into muffin shells. Heat at 350 degrees until warm. Serves 8 to 10.

CRAWFISH TORTELLINI LOUPE

1 medium onion, finely chopped
 2 cloves garlic, minced
 1 stick butter
 1 pound crawfish tails
 1/4 to 1/2 cup Parmesan cheese
 1/2 cup chopped parsley
 Whipping cream (enough to create a heavy sauce)

1 7-ounce box tortellini filled with cheese
 Salt and red pepper to taste
 Sauté onion and garlic in butter, then add crawfish. Continue to cook for approximately 5 minutes. Add Parmesan cheese, parsley and whipping cream. Prepare tortellini as directed and fold into crawfish mixture. Season with salt and red pepper.

CRAWFISH AND CORN SOUP

6 Tbsp shortening
 5 Tbsp flour
 1 large onion, chopped
 1 medium bell pepper, chopped
 3 green onions, chopped
 3 Tbsp minced parsley
 2 cloves garlic, minced
 Salt and pepper to taste

2 pounds crawfish tails

Make a light roux with shortening and flour, then add onion and simmer slowly until it is clear. Add bell pepper, green onions, parsley and garlic. Simmer for 10 minutes.

Add salt, pepper, cayenne, Tabasco and tomatoes, then cook for 15 minutes. Add chicken stock and corn. Simmer for 25 minutes. Add crawfish and simmer 15 minutes more. Check seasoning. Serves 8.
