Hobby Case Goes To Jury Today

Well-Known Speaker Addresses DeBary Chamber Of Commerce

Government, Defense Wind Up Arguments

Arguments for the government by Assistant District Attorney E. David Rosen in the concluding portion of the trial of J. Luther Hobby, suspended Seminole County Sheriff and five co-defendants, took the entire morning session yesterday before Judge William J. Barker of the U. S. District Court, Southern District of Florida and the jury of 12 men.

Defense Attorneys William W. Judge, Mack N. Cleveland Jr., and E. M. Murrell wound up their arguments before the jury and court late yesterday afternoon with Assistant District Attorney Rosen concluding the rebuttal arguments at 5:30.

In a brief argument by Attorney Sam Murrell representing defendant Jerry Martin he told the jury "From evidence given on the witness stand—the defendant Jerry Martin is not guilty."

"My client feels flattered," said Murrell, "that he is pictured as conspiring with the high sheriff—what he had the knowledge and know how," he said. "All of you know how a bunch of Negroes will act when some high-powered investigator comes around and they're told that if they don't sign they will go to jail."

Defense Attorney Mack N. Cleveland Jr. pictured two City of Sanford Police Department patrolmen, Joe Hickson and Carl Dodson, were "pretty busy men" when they went to prosecuting Attorney Karlisle Housholder, former Assistant State's Attorney Hubert Griggs and State's Attorney Murray Overstreet, then to get in their cars and go to Tallahassee for commissions as Special Investigators and later return to work their eight hour shifts, following which they worked about 24 hours a day "for no pay."

From Jan. 30, 1944 to Jan. 30, 1948 there has been no prosecution of the cases made during the special raids made two years ago. They didn't tell you, Cleveland said, of the 37 raids made in their own territory or the outcome of the trials before a City Court with no jury.

the Federal Law, is the combination of two or more people to violate the laws of the United States. In the books, they call it a partnership in crime," Attorney Judge told the jury.

"I don't want to have it said that I overlooked for any reason the testimony of Mr. Lee Pace," said Judge. "Irrespective of the resentment that Mr. Rosen holds as to Mr. Pace's honesty I say to you we have not challenged his honesty. And I want to make it clear that the testimony of Lee Pace is of concern in this trial—it should concern you. But the testimony of Lee Pace should be examined in the light that will set it out in full," he said.

"I most respectfully urge, gentlemen of the jury, that Judson Luther Hobby is not guilty. The conviction of Judson Luther Hobby will result in a miscarriage of justice. You won't want to put the taint of dishonor on a man who has done his duty—to put the taint of dishonor on a man who has done out these words," he said.

In the rebuttal, by Assistant District Attorney Rosen, he pictured suspended Sheriff Hobby as a dishonest law enforcement man and in barbed remarks attempted retaliation to the closing arguments made by the defense.

The court recessed until 10 o'clock this morning.

No Relief In Sight For Europe

LONDON (AP)—A slow thaw spread fearsome landlides and flood threats over parts of southern Europe today. The rest of the Continent shivered, with little sign of a break in the worst winter anybody could remember.

No deaths were yet reported from the slides in Italy and Yugoslavia, but it was believed they would add to the toll of 831 known dead in the record freeze, now in its 23th day.

At Vasto, in central Italy, a landslide crumpled 150 homes. Hundreds of workmen fought to divert the vast mass of rumbling soil and snow from other homes and a railroad.

Scores of smaller slides engulfed and menaced villages throughout Italy's central Apennine Mountains. Landslides also were reported in Yugoslavia.

SNAAS Combined Charities Drive To Begin March 1

The NAAS Sanford—Hawling One annual combined charities drive will begin March 1 and run through March 20. The drive is headed by the Combined Charities Committee under the chairmanship of Capt. J. T. Blackburn.

Others included on the committee are the various commanding officers who served as a policy committee and the SNAAS chaplain. The second committee is the Drive Committee composed of representatives of the various units which will be a working unit.

The purpose of the drive is to combine all the drives into one big event so there will be no other collection from the station personnel during the rest of the year.

A goal of $10,000 has been set by the committee, who will solicit from the approximately 2,300 men and civilian personnel on the base, included also will be the squadron now based in Fort Lauderdale, VAIL-8, and the unit stationed at Jacksonville, VAIL-1.

Resides the national charities picked, local ones will be included also "as if it were a Community Chest Fund Drive."

Capt. Jackson stated "We are most pleased to have our station civilian personnel join with the military personnel in this important drive and support those who are less fortunate than we are."

We are also grateful to the Sanford Herald for printing and furnishing the pledge cards for the Drive and also to the Sanford Federal Savings and Loan Association which will receive deposits until they are collected," he continued.

Rosen Strives To Make Amends For Statement

Judge William J. Barker, U. S. District court, southern district, in a 45-minute charge to a Federal Jury at Orlando this morning bearing the trial on Judson Luther Hobby, suspended Seminole County Sheriff and five co-defendants instructed them to carefully weigh the evidence and testimony heard during the lengthy eight day trial.

The jury was retired to deliberate its verdict at 11:40 this morning and at press time had not reappeared in the courtroom to announce its decision.

Immediately on the retiring of the jury this morning, Assistant District Attorney E. David Rosen, who had prosecuted the case throughout asked Judge Barker, "I would like to know whether Mr. Judge (chief counsel for the defendant) or Mr. Murrell (attorney for Jerry Martin) would like to have additional instructions given in the jury in regard to my regrettable remark yesterday?"

Judge Barker stated that the jury had been immediately instructed to disregard Rosen's statement and no further instruction was necessary.

Judge Barker covered in his instruction and shows to the jury the six objectives and the eight overt acts named in the indictment handed down by a federal grand jury in Tampa last November.

"The burden is on the government to prove one or more of the objectives, and that is all which is required," the judge said.

12,579 Automobile License Tags Sold In Seminole County

Up through the rush period including Feb. 21, the day after the deadline for obtaining 1958 automobile license tags, a total of 12,579 tags were sold, it was revealed today by John L. Galloway, Seminole County Tax Collector, who acts as Agent for the Motor Vehicle Commissioners.

These sales amounted to around $275,000. Collections for tags are remitted to the Motor Vehicle Commissioner just as soon as reports can be prepared after the sales are made.

During the last few days before the deadline, and the following lines formed in the last minute rush to buy automobile license tags but four cashiers were on duty and it is doubted that anyone had to wait in line more than an hour, and possibly more than long, Galloway stated.

Registration cards are written up during the summer months and placed in order on the desk behind the first time is a different transaction is a straight renewal of a Seminole County tag the transaction takes only a few seconds. Transfer of titles and the obtaining of Seminole County tags for the first time is a different transaction as all documents have to be carefully examined to see if they are in order before issuing the tags.

The 1958 sale of license tags shows an increase of 1,578 over the number of tags issued during 1957. Tax Collector Galloway stated today, during 1957 11,001 tags for automobiles and trucks were issued, he said, in comparison to the 12,579 issued so far this year.

Cooper Appointed District Manager For Southern Bell

John S. Cooper has been appointed District Manager for the Orlando area effective March 1. He replaces Jim Brown who is being transferred to Nashville, Tenn.

Cooper's first assignment in Florida was in Jacksonville in 1935, after several years with the company in Atlanta. He held various positions in Daytona Beach and Miami before being appointed as District Manager for the Gainesville area in 1948.

In 1950, he was transferred to Jackson, Miss., as District Manager where he stayed until May of 1952.

Cooper came back to Florida in 1952 and was assigned on the Staff of the Florida Commercial Manager. He has directed customer relations activities for Southern Bell as part of this position. He has been very active in civic affairs wherever he has been located. He and his wife, Jerry, are members of the Baptist Church. Jim Brown will become District Manager of the Nashville area with headquarters in Nashville.

Telegraph Network To Speed Messages Between Offices

The Sanford office of the Winn-Dixie Stores Inc. has inaugurated a six hundred square foot telegraph network which will be connected with five other offices of the wide spread two-state produce buying function.

Rotary Club Meet Monday Canceled

There will be no meeting of the Sanford Rotary Club Monday noon because of the Ladies' Night Chicken Supper held last Wednesday night on the grounds of the local Elk's Lodge. The affair, which was attended by nearly 80 local and visiting Rotarians and guests, was voted one of the best yet held by the club, both from the culinary and fellowship angle.

The ladies were particularly gratified that they could dispense with the planning of an evening meal and the men were pleased because the menu consisted of both smoked and barbecued chicken, chicken and dumplings, tossed salad (although it really was "mixed" by Tom Jones), potato salad, doughnuts and coffee. Al Lee and his committee, Tom Brown, Jim Holtsclaw, M. L. Raborn, Earl Turner, and Tom Jones, ably assisted by "Skipper" Gene Rountree, were "voted" cooks and good fellows "par excellence" for their fine handling of the function.

To give attendance credit to those local Rotarians as well as to visitors who did not attend the ladies night function, Dr. B. W. Ruprecht club secretary, will be at the Yacht Club during the noon hour next Monday to register those desiring to check in.

Increase In Sale Of Tags Shows Tourists, Visitors 'Here To Stay'

Another phenomenal growth has been recorded in Seminole County with the announcement today that an increase of 1,878 tags was sold for automobiles and trucks was recorded in the office of the Seminole County Tax Collector.

It is natural to believe that with such an increase in the sale of automobile tags, there was also an increase in the number of people that use the automobiles.

Wherever we turn there are signs of growth. Tourists and visitors to Sanford and Seminole County are turning the trick on the fellows who call them by such names. Once a visitor or tourist stays with us long enough to become acquainted and finds out what our people have to offer, they become permanent residents.

Hardly a day goes by but what someone announces that "he's here to stay."

And right here and now, we want to extend a hearty hand of welcome to all of the folks who move in with us to take part in the growth of the Central Florida city that is so close to everything that goes on in the Sunshine State, yet one can live in the luxury of being just "downright close to nature".

'Hoop Skirt' Revival

We don't want to get involved in fashions in the editorial columns of The Sanford Herald for should we begin remarks about "this and that" of the ladies attire there would be some pros and cons about the likes and dislikes of the feminine world.

But there has been a certain revival of some of our forefathers' day of fashions. Many times we have seen, pictorially described in all of their loveliness, the many delightful fashions the ladies wore during the early days of our country.

And it seems to us that there is a revival of the "hoop skirt", in a very beautiful sort of way.

There is nothing more beautiful than to see, today, the coming back into the formal wear, and sometimes in the street dress, a leaning toward the huge billowing skirts, the lovely and dainty blouses, as well as the revival of the pastels.

It is heart warming to see the present day style reverting back to the likes of those we have admired in the "days gone by."

Kids Enjoy Marbles

Are you a marbles champion? Have you forgotten how to play a game of marbles?

Renew your interest in the game that youngsters adopt and hold on to year after year.

To stop by the Junior High School, during afternoon hours or even before the last bell rings in the morning, you'll find a group of boys eagerly participating in a game of marbles.

It's thrilling to watch them and your fingers sort of itch to get hold of an "agate" or a "glassie" once more to see just what kind of a shot you really are.

A number of organizations have adopted the pastime to keep it going in ever increasing interest.

There may be some scrubbed out knees, scuffed shoe toes, and dirty hands, but there's also a lot of fun and real sport in a "game of marbles."

New Denver Frightens Man's Soul

By MAL BOYLE
DENVER (AP) — Beautiful old Denver, crumbling away — beautiful new Denver, striding the sky higher.

Old Denver, I love you. New Denver, you amaze and frighten me. I really don't know you now. I'm not quite sure of you. Perhaps that is the way a visitor should feel — uncertain, the emotional feeling always of the stranger.

But I don't want to feel that way, and I don't want to be a stranger, I have walked this way before.

I believe it was O. Henry who perpetuated the legend that nothing interesting or important could really happen, in a way, except in New York, San Francisco, or New Orleans.

Those were the only three American cities where real romantic things reportedly could happen. He said, and having set up his straw dummy went on to prove in "A municipal report" that adventure could come to Nashville too. As I recall it, it was a quietly gruesome tale of how a loyal Negro retainer did away with the worthless white husband of a worthwhile white lady, and thereby as a servant kept an old family flag flying.

O. Henry, trying as an author to prove that anything can happen anywhere, might well then have included Denver, as a symbol of the American adventure, just as today Chicago, Los Angeles, Kansas City, and long-overlooked St. Louis are symbols of new growth. So are Omaha, Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth and other cities.

But as the old individual buildings of the past are torn down and the new more efficient buildings — in terms of the utilization of space — go up, well, something is lost.

What is happening here in Denver in the current American prosperity boom is what is happening to other cities. It is losing a portion of its former personality and getting a crowded feeling.

Even though the fresh tall towers are planted on stilts, the crowded feeling deepens.

There are so few towns that always gave such a spontaneous sense of human freedom such as San Francisco, and Denver.

Beautiful, beautiful Denver, fading away! Beautiful new Denver, blooming in sepiated patterns where once wild flowers grew!

What can a man from out of town say about you, Denver? You have garnered the gardens of tradition, and pressed your new plantings closer together and yet farther apart. You group deeper and yet wider, as others cities do.

You hold a great promise as you cling to a previous performance. You are like a growing youth, Denver, 'had must and will grow taller, but equally is loved smaller.

For the days when he was more boisterous, less predictable — and smaller.

Shop At Home!

We're beginning to think that Sanford and Seminole County folks are beginning to like their shopping at home.

In a two-hour survey of a metropolitan shopping center the other day, and on close scrutiny of the many folks going and coming, only three folks from Sanford were seen.

It must be tiresome to push and shove through an ever increasing mob of people all wanting to get ahead, or attempting to get somewhere first.

To really enjoy shopping at home, in the pleasantness of knowing the folks who wait on you, and with the folks who support the city with their taxes and civic pride, one should get into the drive of thousands who are going nowhere fast.

Not only is it pleasant to shop with your next door neighbor, but there is such a phenomenal saving on your merchandise. Shop at home is not an idle jest.

It's just one of the pleasant things that we sometimes overlook.

Dorcas Class Has Important Session In G. Harris Home

The Dorcas Class of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. G. A. Harris, 1106 W. First St. Tuesday night at 8 p.m. with Mrs. F. O. Lamb and Mrs. Claudia Humphrey as co-hostesses.

The session was called to order by Mrs. Hubby Spears after which a devotional was given by Mrs. A. L. Thomas who used as her topic, "Kindness."

She then closed with a prayer. In the absence of the class secretary, the minutes of the December meeting were read by Mrs. Humphrey. The president then announced that Mrs. Thomas had accepted the treasurer's job of the class for the rest of the church year.

The class teacher, Mrs. Gardner, read a chapter from the book, "In His Steps" written by Charles Sheldon. The session adjourned and games were played. Prizes were won by Mrs. E. Barbour, Mrs. Barbour, Mrs. H. J. Finch, and Mrs. Charles Benham.

Delicious refreshments of coffee, cake and open sandwiches, along with nuts and mints were served in Mrs. W. D. Gardner, Mrs. Shelia Cameron, Mrs. E. E. Barbour, Mrs. H. J. Finch, Mrs. E. C. Campbell, Mrs. Charles Benham, Mrs. A. L. Thomas, Mrs. John Kader, Mrs. Hubby Spears, Mrs. W. I. Crabtree, and the hostesses.

The next session will be held March 20 at the home of Mrs. C. W. Ergle with Mrs. Samuel Alford as co-hostess.

After many weeks of preparation, the Junior dance committee presented a never-to-be-forgotten prom. It was held at the Mayfair Hotel on the seventeenth.

The officers of the class of '57 and their dates stood in the receiving line. They were J. D. Stone (resident) and Gracey Dugger; Mary Grace Hobby (vice-president) and Kenneth Ramsey; Henry Cason (treasurer) and Ann Dondran; and Bobby Little (chaplain) and Nancy Cash.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone officially began the dance by leading the traditional grand march. After a few dances, J. D. Stone welcomed the seniors to the dance and Jimmy Owen replied that the statement "a fine example of southern hospitality" was the best way to describe the prom.

The floor show which was given by high school students carried out the theme, "A Trip Back to the Old South." The acting, singing and dancing was directed by Mrs. Coleman with the help of Miss Whitte.

Following novelty dances and a hat contest the Mint Julep Hour was held. During this time punch, cake, and sandwiches were served buffet style.

A perfect dance came to an end at midnight with the Starlighters playing a medley of "Good Night Sweetheart" and "I'll See You in My Dreams."

The clean-up committee deserves an award. Seven-thirty is mighty early for a big night!

Our assembly program on the twenty-third was given by the Future Teachers Club. The Opera star, Richard W. Holtzclaw sang a selection of songs. He sang two operatic numbers and several negro spirituals.

Allison Lee played "Bumble Bee Boogie." The students' applause demanded an encore for which she played "Nola."

Due to Dr. T. W. Lawton's illness he was unable to be present so in his place Mr. Morris presented to the Future Teachers club their charter. This is proof that S.H.S. is playing its part in the fulfilling of the national demand for teachers.

Double Birthday Anniversary Is Observed Saturday

A double birthday anniversary was celebrated Saturday at the home of Lillian and Mrs. J. L. McCracken Jr., in Little Venice, Lock Arbor.

Honored guests at the luncheon were the couple's daughters, Jan, four and Joy, three. Serving the traditional cake and ice cream highlighted the afternoon.

Attending were Judy and Susie Mills, Janet Johnson, Janet Mills, Jay McCracken and the honorees.

Limelight On Lyman

BY ALVIN WINTER

Here it is the end of the week already. Time sure is flying. It won't be long now before the warm weather will be here to stay.

The kids at Lyman attended the Central Florida Fair Monday and a good time was had by all. Glad that the temperatures were still in the high 70's then because it would have been a little cool while on those rides.

Besides the fair to break our week up a little bit, there was a show Wednesday afternoon sponsored by the Junior Class. The picture was entitled "The Enchanted Forest." It was really a good movie and all the kids who went enjoyed it. The Juniors made $70 clear which will help them with the prom that is coming up in the near future.

Five Lyman students who are interested in the teaching profession visited Seminole High School yesterday morning in see the new T. W. Lawton chapter of the Future Teachers Club accept its charter. It was certainly interesting to see how things are done in other schools.

The seniors, as I have mentioned before, have been writing to other schools in the area to find out what activities and privileges they have. So far there have been many replies received by the class secretary, all of which will be helpful.

The First Edition of the Lyman school paper came out last Friday and will be a regular feature in our school every other Friday. The paper is sponsored by the Sophomore Class and the money that they earn will be used to provide for a better paper in the future. The Sophs are doing a swell job and I hope that they keep up the good work. They held a contest to name the paper with the prize being a year's subscription to the paper. Phyllis Creamer, a Senior at Lyman, won the prize with her suggested name "The Lyman Pup." This may sound peculiar, but it really isn't if you know that we call our athletic teams the "Greyhounds."

And speaking of the athletic teams, the basketball team has placed second in the Central Florida Conference. Hope that the team keeps making those baskets.

The First Edition of the paper featured stories about Abraham Lincoln and George Washington. Sports, cheerleaders and general gossip were among the other things to be found in the paper. There was an article in the paper that might interest all those school-age kids who are reading this column. It seems that the "school fashion" of a few days is Bermuda shorts for the girls and pastel shirts for the boys. Don't ask Karen. Duitley whether or not some girls wear sloppy shirts with jeans, because she of all people wouldn't know!

The Senior class has an engagement to announce. Frances Four acre and Gene Meeks have finally made the first step. Also Phyllis Creamer and Howard Nickelsen have announced their engagement. Phyllis is a Senior at Lyman, but her husband-to-be is already out of school. Kaly Fagan and Loretta Holley, Juniors at Lyman, are sporting rings, also.

Congratulations to all of them! Not much more to say, so will stop now and say that Limelight on Lyman will appear next Friday with more news and views.

Quilting Project Is Undertaken By Demo Club

The Elder Springs Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Buckner at 2 p.m. Tuesday where plans were made to sponsor a Quilting Bee to raise money for club projects.

The quilting work will be done at the home of Mrs. F. A. Tindall and anyone interested is asked to call 224-471. The price will depend on the size and design of the quilt.

Mrs. George Ott, State Home demonstration agent, was guest speaker and other visitors included Mrs. Vincent Meckel and Mrs. Murray.

It was announced after refreshments of coffee and sandwiches were served that the next session will be held in Mrs. Simpson's home.

BELLES IN COTTON is the theme this year. On the "hot-weather" evenings of the southern circuit are divine dresses of new resort cotons that "bring on the party spirit."

Cottons will go "Ritz" this year in date frocks which glitter with gold embroidery. Repeating the magic of India is a party dress in Madras plaid, re-embroidered with gold and shaped with a surplice neckline and full skirt. Other date dresses are rich with the drama of the Orient and are styled as tea-timer sheaths, haremskirted dance dresses, and minaret sheaths tiered in rows of ruffles.

"Evening dresses go to any lengths to dazzle," say designers. This year "There are two approaches to long-skill evenings. The first is a long narrow 'dress shirt' gown that has a covered look. For less-than-formal dates, this type goes all out in plaid gingham."

"The second is the traditional evening silhouette: bare shoulders sleek bodice, sweeping skirt. Heaven on a 'Lise is a black cotton satin halter and glitter-trimmed skirt in palely printed cotton."

Spring in Sanford will be pretty wonderful with a slim sheath topped with a bolero. Something different is the double-bolero suit, a brand-new idea for spring. This features a slim, high-rising skirt usually attached to a bodice, a matching brief bolero and beneath this a second bolero blouse in white linen or contrasting fabric, when you put off the top bolero you have a costume with contrasting top.

That harem skirt, I just spooked about above, is featuring a wide band at the hemline, drawing the skirt into a narrow line at that bottom. (I think I'll try this one!) For myself I think form-fitting clothes have one main purpose: to make women look beautiful. Claire Schaffel, a Swiss designer has come up with some fabulous dresses by veiling a silk print with lace, or dramatizing a black dinner dress with accents of white embroidered organdy.

ACCESSORY ACHIEVEMENTS: There's real excitement in new leathers that are woven, patterned and printed. In shoes, there's a heel, a color, a silhouette, and a leather for every occasion. The new two-inch heel height, termed the "bobbed heel", is new for all types of shoes from the daytime pump to the evening mule. Flats with the wedged of stacked leather heel are fashion right for the city as well as suburbia.

And drained canned lobster chunks to a medium sauce; serve over sliced hardcooked eggs for lunch or supper. Accompany with triangles of buttered toast.

Increase In Sale Of Tags Shows Tourists, Visitors 'Here To Stay'

Another phenomenal growth has been revealed in Seminole County with the announcement today that an increase of 1,878 tags for automobiles and trucks was recorded in the office of the Seminole County Tax Collector.

It is natural to believe that with such an increase in the sale of automobile tags, there was also an increase in the number of people that use the automobiles.

Whenever we turn there are signs of growth.

Tourists and visitors to Sanford and Seminole County are turning the trick on the fellows who call them by such names.

Once a visitor or tourist stays with us long enough to become acquainted and finds out how delightful seasons we have this year round, they become permanent residents.

Hardly a day goes by but what someone announces that "he's here to stay."

And right here and now, we want to extend a hearty hand of welcome to all of the folks who move in with us to take part in the growth of the Central Florida city that is so close to everything that goes on in the Sunshine State, yet one can live in the luxury of being just "downright close to nature".

'Hoop Skirt' Revival

We don't want to get involved in fashions in the editorial columns of The Sanford Herald for should we begin remarks about "this and that" of the ladies attire there would be some pros and cons about the likes and dislikes of the feminine world.

But there has been a certain revival of some of our forefathers' day of fashions. Many times we have seen, pictorially described in all of their loveliness, the many delightful fashions the ladies wore during the early days of our country.

And it seems to us that there is a revival of the "hoop skirt", in a very beautiful sort of way.

There is nothing more beautiful than to see, today, the coming back into the formal wear, and sometimes in the street dress, a leaning toward the huge billowing skirts, the lovely and dainty blouses, as well as the revival of the pastels.

It is heart warming to see the present day style reverting back to the likes of those we have admired in the "days gone by."

Kids Enjoy Marbles

Are you a marbles champion? Have you forgotten how to play a game of marbles?

Renew your interest in the game that youngsters adopt and hold on to year after year.

To stop by the Junior High School, during afternoon hours or even before the last bell rings in the morning, you'll find a group of boys eagerly participating in a game of marbles.

It's thrilling to watch them and your fingers sort of itch to get hold of an "agate" or a "glassie" once more to see just what kind of a shot you really are.

A number of organizations have adopted the pastime to keep it going in ever increasing interest.

There may be some scrubbed out knees, scuffed shoes, and dirty hands, but there's also a lot of fun and real sport in a "game of marbles."

New Denver Frightens Man's Soul

By HAL BOYLE

DENVER (AP) — Beautiful old Denver, crumbling away — beautiful new Denver, striding the sky higher.

Old Denver, I love you. New Denver, you kind of frighten me.

I really don't know you now. I'm not quite sure of you.

Perhaps that is the way a visitor should feel — uncertain, the emotional feeling always of the stranger.

But I don't want to feel that way, and I don't want to be a stranger, I have walked this way before.

I believe it was O. Henry who perpetuated the legend that nothing interesting or important could really happen, in a way, except in New York, San Francisco, or New Orleans.

Those were the only three American cities where real romantic things reportedly could happen.

So, and having set up his straw dummy went on to prove in the municipal report that adventure could come to Nashville too.

As I recall it, it was a quietly gruesome tale of how a loyal Negro retainer did away with the worthless white husband of a worthwhile white lady, and thereby as a servant kept an old farmer's flag flying.

O. Henry, trying as an author to prove that anything can happen anywhere, might well then have included Denver as a symbol name for adventure.

Chicago, Los Angeles, Kansas City, and long-overlooked St. Louis are symbols of new growth.

So are Omaha, Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth and other cities.

But as the old individual buildings of the past are torn down and the new more efficient buildings — in terms of the utilization of space — go up, well, something is lost.

What is happening here in Denver in the current American prosperity boom is what is happening to other cities. It is losing a portion of its former personality and getting a crowded feeling.

Even though the fresh tall towers are planted on stilts, the crowded feeling deepens.

There are so few towns that always gave such a spontaneous sense of human freedom such as San Francisco, and Denver.

Beautiful, beautiful old Denver, fading away! Beautiful new Denver, blooming in serial patterns where once wild flowers grew!

What can a man from out of town say about you, Denver? You have garnered the gardens of tradition, and pressed your new plantings closer together and yet farther apart. You group deeper and yet wider, as others cities do.

You hold a great promise as you cling to a previous performance. You are like a growing youth, Denver, that must and will grow taller, but equally is loved smaller.

For the days when he was more boisterous, less predictable — and smaller.

Copper Rests At Highest Level

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Copper today is at the highest price level since the time some 80 years ago when it was considered a scarce metal.

At 46 cents a pound copper brings boom times in the mining states, but producers aren't as gleeful as you might think. They fear high-priced copper will lose some permanent markets to substitutes—chiefly aluminum and plastics.

The United States uses so much copper now—more than half of that mined each year this side of the Iron Curtain—that it can no longer control the world market.

Chill can, and just has, forced the price up here. Europe can, and does, snag copper supplies that American users would like to have.

The Copper & Brass Research Assn. holds out hope of a 16 per cent increase in copper-producing capacity in the non-Communist world in the next three years.

Copper users here clamor for relief now—eyeing the government's strategic stockpile of the metal and urging tough curbs on the export of copper scrap.

If you're in a hurry for copper it seems as scarce a metal now as 80 years ago, before the big mines were opened. If you go to a custom smelter for copper today you may pay more than 32 cents a pound. A year ago it cost 30 cents. Early in 1950 the price was as low as 16 cents. Government controls in World War II pegged it at 12 cents.

Copper expansion programs are under way, the Copper & Brass Research Assn. notes today in a survey of world production. Existing mines are tapping additional ore bodies, and new properties will come into production during the next three years.

The association estimates mine production outside the Iron Curtain at 2,778,000 tons in 1955. It estimates that strikes prevented the mining of another 150,000 tons, giving a capacity total of 2,928,000 tons. It says 228,500 additional tons will be added to capacity this year, another 105,100 in 1957, and 123,600 more in 1958. This would bring total capacity in 1958 to 3,266,600 tons.

But demand could keep on rising too. The Bureau of Mines reports that in the United States per capita consumption jumped from 8 pounds in 1900 to 17 pounds by 1954. Yet, outside the United States, world consumption was less than 2 pounds per capita by 1954.

Dorcas Class Has Important Session In G. Harris Home

The Dorcas Class of the First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. G. A. Harris, 1106 W. First St. Tuesday night at 8 p.m. with Mrs. F. O. Lamb and Mrs. Claude Humphrey as co-hostesses.

The session was called to order by Mrs. Huby Spears after which a devotional was given by Mrs. A. L. Thomas who used as her topic, "Kindness."

She then closed with a prayer. In the absence of the class secretary, the minutes of the December meeting were read by Mrs. Humphrey. The president then announced that Mrs. Thomas had accepted the treasurer's job of the class for the rest of the church year.

The class teacher, Mrs. Gardner, read a chapter from the book, "In His Steps" written by Charles Shelton. The session adjourned and games were played. Prizes were won by Mrs. S. E. Harboure, Mrs. Barbour, Mrs. H. J. Finch, and Mrs. Charles Benham.

Delicious refreshments of coffee, cake and open sandwiches, along with nuts and minis were served to Mrs. W. D. Gardner, Mrs. Sheila Cameron, Mrs. S. E. Harboure, Mrs. H. J. Finch, Mrs. E. C. Campbell, Mrs. Charles Benham, Mrs. A. L. Thomas, Mrs. John Kader, Mrs. Huby Spears, Mrs. W. L. Crabtree, and the hostesses.

The next session will be held March 20 at the home of Mrs. C. W. Ergle with Mrs. Samuel Alford as co-hostess.

Opera star, Richard W. Holizclaw sang a selection of songs. He sang two operatic numbers and several negro spirituals. Allie Lee played "Bumble Bee-Boogie." The students' applause demanded an encore for which she played "Nola."

Due to Dr. T. W. Lawton's illness he was unable to be present in his place Mr. Morris presented to the Future Teachers club their charter. This is proof that S.H.S. is playing its part in the fulfilling of the national demand for teachers.

A double birthday anniversary was celebrated Saturday at the home of Li(Jr.) and Mrs. J. L. McCracken Jr., in Little Venice, Lock Arbor.

Honored guests at the luncheon were the couple's daughters, Jan, four and Joy, three. Serving the traditional cake and ice cream highlighted the afternoon. Attending were Judy and Susie Mills, Janet Johnson, Janet Miller, Janet Johnson, Janet Miller, Janet Johnson, Janet Miller, Janet Johnson, Janet Miller.

Bring a covered dish and get an entire meal say Mrs. H. K. Fisher and Mrs. Ben R. Evans, chairman of the affair. Entertainment has also been planned for the evening.

Spread hamburgers with prepared yellow mustard before boiling.
Teale, Miss Patay Teale, Miss Peggy Heat, Miss Ruby Stenstrom, Miss Bobbys Morton, Mrs. Von Herbulis, Mrs. Dot Anthony, Miss Margaret Von Herbulis, Mrs. Anton Michels, Miss Betty Michels, Miss Mary Ann Michels, Mrs. C. C. Haig, Mrs. Josephine Von Herbulis, Mrs. Lucien Normand, Mrs. Anita Kelly, and the hostesses.

Quilting Project Is Undertaken By Demo Club

The Elder Springs Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. Buckner at 2 p.m. Tuesday where plans were made to sponsor a Quilting Bee to raise money for club projects. The quilting work will be done at the home of Mrs. F. A. Tindell and anyone interested is asked to call 2243-W1. The price will depend on the size and design of the quilt.

Mrs. George Ott, State home demonstration agent, was guest speaker and other visitors included Mrs. Vincent Meckel and Mrs. Murray. It was announced after refreshments of coffee and sandwiches were served that the next session will be held in Mrs. Simpson's home.

BELLES IN COTTON is the theme this year. On the "hot-weather" evenings of the southern circuit are divine dresses of new resort cottons that "bring on the spring" spirit.

Cottons will go "Ritz" this year in date frocks which glitter with gold embroideries. Recreating the magic of India is a party dress in Madras plaid, re-embroidered with gold and shaped with a surplice neckline and full skirt. Other date dresses are rich with the drama of the Orient and are styled as tea-timer sheaths, harmon-skirted dance dresses, and minaret sheaths tiered in rows of ruffles.

"Evening dresses go to any lengths to dazzle," say designers. This year "There are two approaches to long-skirted evenings. The first is a long narrow 'dress shirt' gown that has a covered look. For less-than-formal dates, this type goes all out in plaid gingham."

"The second is the traditional evening silhouette: bare shoulders, a sweeping skirt. Heavily on a cruise is a black cotton satin halter and glitter-trimmed skirt in paisley printed cotton."

Spring in Sanford will be pretty wonderful with a slim sheath topped with a bolero. Something different is the double-bolero suit, a brand-new idea for spring. This features a slim, high-rising skirt usually attached to a bodice, a matching brief bolero and beneath this a second bolero blouse in white linen or contrasting fabric, when you put off the top bolero you have a costume with contrasting top.

That harem skirt, I just spooked about above, is featuring a wide band at the hemline, drawing the skirt into a narrow line at the bottom. (I think I'll try this one!) For myself I think femininity, to make women look beautiful—Claire Schaffel, a Swiss designer has come up with some fabulous dresses by veiling a silk print with lace, or dramatizing a black dinner dress with accents of white embroidered organdy.

ACCESSORY ACHIEVEMENTS: There's real excitement in new leathers that are woven, patterned and printed. In shoes, there's a heel, a color, a silhouette and a leather for every occasion. The new two-inch heel height, termed the "bobbed heel," is new for all types of shoes from the daytime pump to the evening mule. Flats with the wedged of stacked leather heel are fashion right for the city as well as suburbia.

Add drained canned lobster chunks to a medium sauce; serve over sliced hardcooked eggs for lunch or supper. Accompany with triangles of buttered toast.

THE NAUTICAN SAILS AGAIN

THIS SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 26th AT 1 P.M.

The Fountain of Youth:

Extensive research has proved that people do live longer in Florida.

By LOGAN FRANEY, Ph.D.

FOR many years, Florida's climate has justly been hailed as the nation's best. Chambers of commerce, tourist commissions and private interests have spent millions of dollars proclaiming that Florida is warm in winter, cool in summer, exceptionally pollen-free—in short, the ideal climate in which to spend a vacation, to convalesce, or just to live. Now, eminent medical authorities, backed up by years of research, confirm these claims with a new theory of treatment called "climatotherapy." As explained by Dr. C. A. Mills of the University of Cincinnati, and Dr. Douglas H. K. Lee of Johns Hopkins, climatotherapy is based on research that proves people can live longer, healthier lives in Florida-like climates.

It's all a matter of metabolism, says Dr. Mills. Each time the weather changes from hot to cold, or vice versa, the human body must adjust to the new conditions. These constant adjustments may confer a certain degree of immunity to infectious diseases; but at the same time, they throw a severe strain on the heart and blood vessels as well as the metabolic system. In tropical or subtropical climates, where sudden changes rarely occur, blood pressure tends to be lower and body processes work more smoothly. Patients with heart disease or similar ailments, for example, usually improve when they exchange a cold climate for a warm one. There is considerably more diabetes in the cold states, and the death rate is twice as high. Cancer, except that of the skin and mouth, is less common in the South. Infectious diseases, however, seem to strike more often in southerners under 40, and people living in the North seem to have a better health record, at least until they reach the half-century mark. After 50, the trend is reversed: oldsters in the North seem to deteriorate more quickly and die at an earlier age than do southerners.

Doctors now believe that climate has a marked effect on health and life expectancy. A cold, seasonal climate will spur people to greater effort, while a warm one will have a sedative, almost enervating effect. Residents of temperate climates will accomplish more, but they burn up too much energy in doing it. Because of the climate, southern living is more leisurely, less exciting, and in the long run causes less wear and tear on the body. At the age of 50, the average Floridian will be five to 10 years younger, metabolically speaking, than a Pennsylvanian of the same age.

Certain types of illness respond especially well to climatotherapy: heart and blood vessel ailments, respiratory diseases such as chronic bronchitis, asthma or sinus trouble, and the rheumatic and arthritic disorders. Older people almost invariably benefit by the change from a stormy, stimulating climate to a warm and soothing one. Children fare better because there are fewer dangerous infections with such diseases as rheumatic fever or polio. Allergy sufferers are helped, especially in South Florida, by the pollen-free atmosphere. And by and large, Floridians suffer from fewer colds than their northern cousins. But the South has some drawbacks, too. Appendicitis is two and a half times as fatal in the Gulf Coast regions as in the northern states or Canada. And Dr. Mills found that tubercular patients in Ohio lived much longer than those in the Gulf States.

The relaxed and leisurely tempo of life characteristic of a semi-tropical climate is bound to have a beneficial effect. This same view is held by the large number of newly arrived Floridians, many of them in the 50-plus age bracket, who have settled here permanently. To these folk, the chamber of commerce line is an understatement! But no matter how extravagantly they boast of the glorious sunshine and soft sea breezes, the fundamental truth is still there: the Florida climate actually does add years to their lives!

Looking Over ALL FLORIDA

Our cover girl, having a high old time on a see-saw, is Linda Hunn whose daddy, Max Hunn, is one of the great contemporary photographers. The scene is Bryan Edwards Park, a hideaway picnic spot with swings and other small fry delights located a few yards west of U. S. 1 in Florida City, jumping off place for the Overseas Highway. In this portrait of his daughter, Max used a 4x5 Meridian view camera, affectionately known in the family as "The Monster." Next week we bring you another notable piece, "Hotel in the Hammock," written for us by the beloved Florida novelist, Baynard Kendrick.

THE LAST SUPPER—One of the most memorable scenes in the Black Hills Passion Play which opened recently at Lake Wales for a run of two months, is that in which Jesus and His disciples sit at the table in the upper room for the Last Supper. Josef Meier is a member of the fourth generation in his own family to play the role of The Christus.

The Last Days

By Eleanor M. Marshall

JOSEPH MEIER's work in the most difficult role in the world—that of Christ in the oldest Passion Play—has been praised in the highest terms by noted critics, but only after years of struggle through which he has become the sole remaining member of a cast of 20, who left Germany just before Hitler took over. They all came from Luenen and were determined to preserve their priceless manuscript, and to do their best to teach Americans the main facts in the passion of Our Lord. That all they owned was less than a thousand dollars, a brass chalice and some well-worn costumes, will give a faint idea of their optimism. Even the difficulties of learning English did not appall them. Mr. Meier had studied our language in Luenen, so he was better prepared than the others to appear before audiences here. Yet for years, they were ignored. All too often the numbers in lesser roles in the cast, exceeded by far those who had paid admission.

During those years when they were travelling about America, Mr. Meier kept looking for some place which would serve as permanent headquarters. Now he has two, one in Spearfish, S. D., and the other in Lake Wales, so that summer and winter there are productions of the Passion Play. As older members in the group died or were unable to conquer English, and found employment in other types of work, their places were filled by Americans, many of whom came from either Lake Wales or Spearfish.

Mrs. Meier, formerly Clara Hume, still plays Mary, the mother of Christ, which she has done since joining the original group years ago, when the German actress taking the part became ill. Carla Beyer, a newcomer, is playing Magdalene for the first time. Charles Arganbright has played Pontius Pilate for eight years. He once owned a studio in Hollywood and trained actors. For the same length of time, Julio Averill has enacted the role of King Herod Leland S. Harris, who formerly portrayed Judas, now has switched to Ezekiel, which is assuredly a severe test for his undoubted talent. Mark Leahy, who re-enacted Simon Peter's struggle, is doing Annas this year. So the cast does not remain static and content to do just one role, regardless of how difficult or exacting it may be. The roster of disciples includes Charles Spoon for John, the beloved cousin of Jesus. John Harrison Augler is Simon Peter and Fred Hagen gives a capable presentation of the betrayer, Judas, a role most actors covet. Others in the cast are Mason Wilkes as Caiaphas; Wally Wallace as Dathan; Johannes Baere as Japhet; Esther Jean Hagen as Rachel; William Boater as the blind man; Jean Marsh as Veronica; Anton Hauf as Simon of Cyrene; Malcolm Nelson as the thief, Barabbas, whom the Jewish people freed in preference to Jesus; and many, many others who usually are "home people."

With a play such as this one, which requires such a large number in the cast, the performer who wants to do more than one role can be permitted to do so, as easily as the performer who likes his role well and wants to remain in it, can be allowed to do that. The wives and children living in Lake Wales serve in the mob scenes, some of them faithfully appearing for each of the many performances, for they realize they are getting invaluable stage experience. In Germany, it was traditional to pass the role of Christ from father to son. Because Mr. Meier has no son, he sent for a nephew, Henry, who is his understudy for his arduous part.

The script used for all performances was written in 1242, by the monks of the Cappenberg Monastery, who were the first actors to portray all the major roles. Mr. Meier has made only two changes in this priceless script. It far out-dates more famous ones such as that used at Oberammergau, which was put on for the first time in 1634 in gratitude for their citizens being spared the Black Plague, which wrought havoc throughout the rest of Europe during the previous year. As the priests were educated men of their day, he knew they would not have used the language of the original manuscript. And he added a soliloquy for Judas, to reveal him as a human being, but a greedy, sinful one out to get those 30 pieces of silver he never used because he knew they had cost Jesus His life.

In speaking of his difficult role, Mr. Meier says, "I strive to be guided by His personality," which seems to him sufficient explanation for his success in inducing others to learn a little about Christ by attending some performance of the Passion Play. There are 33 scheduled performances for the Black Hills Play at Lake Wales this season. It opened February 15 and will close April 15. Regular performances are at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of each week. There will be three Wednesday matinees, and twilight performances will be staged every Sunday at 6 p.m., at the Passion Play Amphitheatre two miles south of Lake Wales, east of Highway 27.

The industrial growth of the state goes ahead at an increasing pace, with a legislative appropriation for an atomic furnace.

The Atom Comes to

By HOLCOMB KERNS

THOUSANDS of years ago man discovered fire. It may have happened when a bolt of lightning struck a dead tree. Or when a flint arrow-head hit a rock among dry leaves. No one knows. But we can well believe that the dawn men were at first terrified by this uncanny force which was, in time, to give them a standard of living beyond their wildest dreams.

Today, thousands of years later, man has discovered another fire. And many people are afraid of it. But we also know that this "fire" will give mankind a higher standard of living than any of our present-day seers and prophets can visualize. The "fire" is, of course, atomic power.

Man has a new power source—and Florida is right in on the ground floor. The lack of one vital resource—cheap power—has stunted our industrial growth for 300 years. Now, with $500,000 voted by the Legislature to establish an atomic furnace, called a nuclear reactor, at the University of Florida in Gainesville—the Sunshine State is on its way. Dean Joseph Weil of the University's College of Engineering, and director of the Engineering and Industrial Experiment Station, has called the state "a slumbering industrial giant on the verge of awakening."

Long an ardent booster for atomic energy in the state, and charged with conducting the necessary research and training of technical personnel, Dean Weil lists five necessary ingredients for great industrial growth:

1. Markets. Florida has the entire world as a market for the goods it will produce, using atomic energy to turn the wheels. It has more harbor space for shipping than any other state in the nation, and is closest to the two most rapidly developing continents—Africa and South America.

2. Materials. Florida is rich in the "metals of tomorrow"—metals which laboratory work has shown to possess enormous possibilities for future use—such as titanium, twice as strong as steel at half the weight, along with hafnium, zirconium and thorium, important in the construction of nuclear reactors. Florida is already producing one-third of the country's limonite and rutile, ores containing these metals, but because of the high cost of fuel in Florida, the processing of these ores is more economically feasible in the North.

3. Manpower. Florida's manpower "pool" is the best of the nation. Chamber of Commerce figures indicate that over 700 families are migrating to Florida every week. Dean Weil points out that one of the major trends of industry is toward areas where recreation facilities and good climate attract potential employees.

4. Power. Atomic energy requires the one fuel which is as cheap or cheaper in Florida than in any other part of the world. It is estimated that Florida could recover each year 2,000 tons of uranium from the wastes of its phosphate mines alone. Ninety tons, if completely burned up, would have generated all the electricity used in the United States during 1964.

Page 6—All Florida Magazine—3-26-66

DEAN JOSEPH WEIL of the College of Engineering, University of Florida, receives a long distance call from Governor Collins, informing him of the signing of appropriations bill for nuclear reactor.

5. Vision and Capital. That our state has men of vision was proved in the 1955 Legislature when the lawmakers voted the appropriation for the reactor. Raising capital has never been difficult in Florida; last year, for instance, the state ranked second only to Texas in chemical plant construction.

Florida is not alone in exploring the nuclear energy field, but it may receive the greatest benefits. As Gov. LeRoy Collins pointed out to the legislators, the Federal government has put $10 billion into atomic energy for peace-time purposes. Atomic research is gaining momentum so rapidly that Dean Weil claims Florida would have been left behind if the Legislature had waited until the 1957 session to vote the appropriation.

How a Reactor Works

The nuclear reactor is essentially a simple device. The basic principles on which it works are much like those of the familiar steam plants used all over the world.

And it's safe. Dean Weil, who is probably Florida's most outstanding authority on nuclear energy, feels safer around a reactor than in a modern high-pressure steam plant.

In nucleonic work, the reactor takes the place of the furnace used in the ordinary power plant. In modern power plant operation, coal or fuel oil is combined with oxygen to produce heat. This heat is then used to make steam which drives the pistons of a steam engine or the turbines of a generator.

In a reactor, the same thing occurs except that no oxygen is needed for combustion, and instead of the ordinary fossil fuels—coal and oil—fissionable materials are used. As this fissionable material, usually uranium, disintegrates, heat is generated and harnessed, just like the heat from an ordinary furnace.

Florida

In another sense, the reactor is something like a very small atomic bomb, only instead of the material disintegrating all at once, as in the bomb, it is controlled, and disintegrates over a period of time producing a steady and copious quantity of heat.

For example: If the gas from a large storage tank is drained off and burned slowly, a small, steady amount of heat is produced in the gas stoves of hundreds of housewives. If, by some mischance, the entire tank were fired at once, a tremendous amount of heat would be released in one blast.

A reactor is controlled to the 'Nth degree. The safety committee of the Atomic Energy Commission has imposed precautionary measures for the operation of reactors which insure safe operation. A tank containing 500,000 gallons of oil could cause a tremendous explosion and a subsequent fire. A pound of uranium, if allowed to work in a reactor under controlled conditions, would produce the same amount of heat without any danger.

The reactor proposed for the University of Florida will be the largest on any university campus in the country. At the present time, only one college—North Carolina State—has a working reactor. And theirs is small using only about two pounds of uranium and having a rating of 20 kilowatts, with no useful power output. (.7 of one kilowatt equals one horsepower.)

Other reactors are planned, or are under construction at Penn State College, University of Michigan, University of California, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Vanderbilt University and the University of Miami. The University of Michigan has received an appropriation of $7,000,000 for an atomic research program.

The Michigan reactor will have a rating of about 1,000 kilowatts, the largest college reactor except the one planned for Florida. The heat rating of the University of Florida atomic furnace will be about 10,000 kilowatts, and in addition to facilities for research, it will be capable of producing 1,000 kilowatt hours of electrical energy, or about 20,000 pounds of steam at 500 degrees Fahrenheit per hour.

Research in physics, chemistry, biology, medicine, and other fields will be possible with the reactor which will also provide a valuable research tool for engineering and industry. Dean Weil points out that since the reactor will be unique, it will enable the State of Florida to take the lead in nucleonic industrial research.

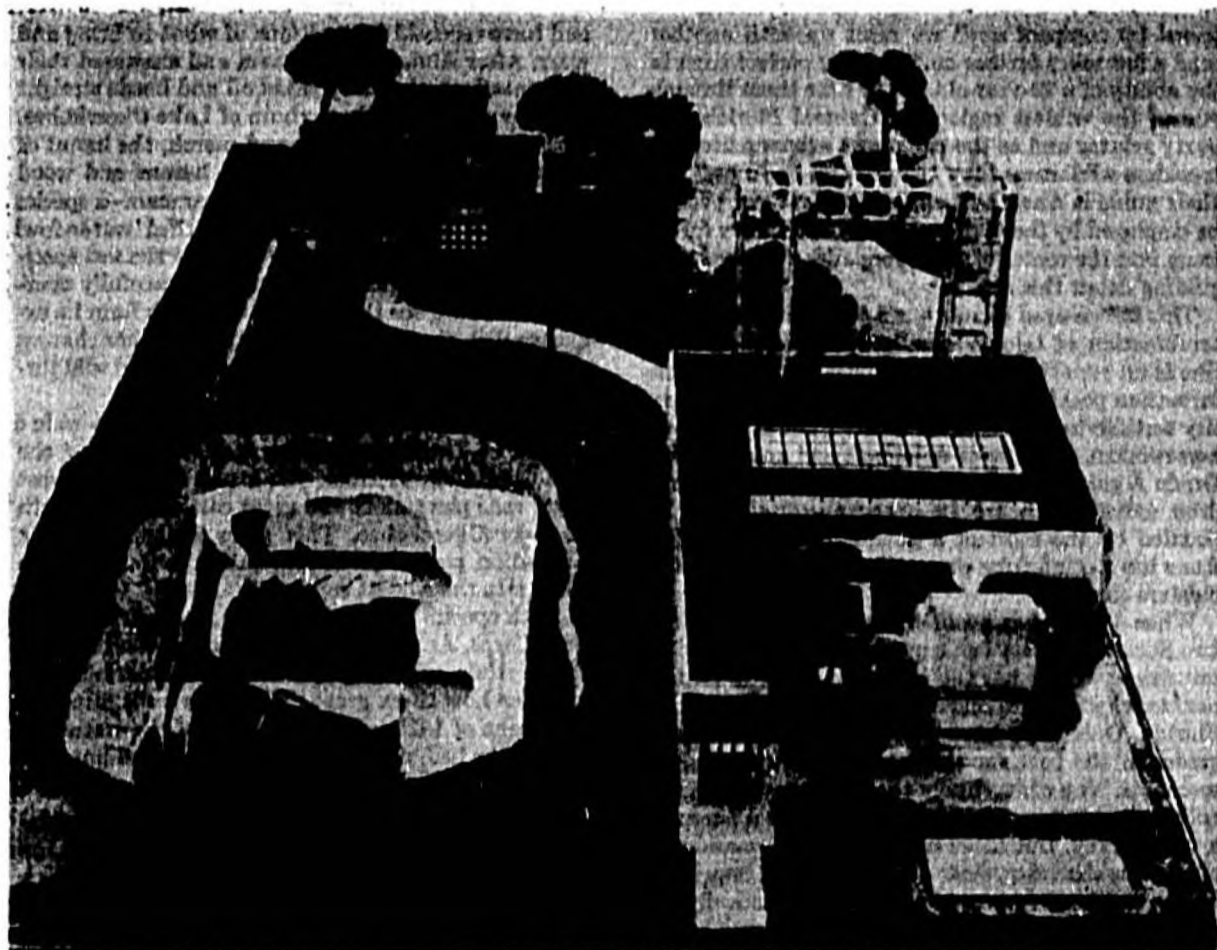

Furthermore, this industrialization and research will take place without endangering Florida's natural beauty. A reactor produces no smoke, smog or polluted waters.

The waste material from a reactor is rapidly becoming valuable also, Dean Weil explains. This radioactive "ash" is used for many purposes, including the making of radioactive isotopes, described in a later article. As research discovers new uses for it, the price of the waste material is expected to increase, since there will undoubtedly be a shortage.

(Next week—how practically every citizen of the state will benefit.)

GOV. LEROY COLLINS is interrupted by the telephone while discussing, in his office, the bill he has just signed appropriating $500,000 for a nuclear reactor to be used by the University of Florida. It will be the largest reactor on any university campus in the country. Standing, from left to right, are Representative Andrew J. Muselman, Jr., of Pompano Beach; Senator Joe Bill Rood of Bradenton; and Representative Hugh Dukes, Cottondale.

THE MODEL above, built in the University of Florida College of Engineering shops, gives a picture of the nuclear reactor for the electrical power plant. The heating rate of this atomic furnace will be about 10,000 kilowatts.

Girl Guide to the Everglades

By Cleveland van Dresser

ANNE LA BASTILLE: authority on the flora and fauna of South Florida, expert woodcrafter, former timber cruiser and instructor in carpentry, she looks like the girl you'd most enjoy taking to the senior prom.

ON DUTY Anne wears a shirt with the emblem of the Audubon Society on the sleeve, and blue jeans, her blonde hair in practical pig-tails. In this station wagon she pilots tourists through the Everglades.

A STATION wagon, following a faint track across the prairie, finally comes to a "jumping off place" where the "road" is no more. Five tourists, armed with bird-watching binoculars and cameras, ask the guide a little apprehensively, "Where do we go from here?"

"From here," she says, with a dazzling smile, "we travel by compass until we meet up with another road a few miles further on." Putting perfect trust in the ability of a 22-year-old girl to take them through one of the wildest regions of Central Florida, the party relaxes and as the car plows across a literally trackless wilderness they "leave it up to Anne." For their guide is Anne LaBastille, the first girl ever to be employed by the National Audubon Society for its tours into the center of the Everglades. She made her guiding debut this season.

This brown-eyed blonde has a job which requires a combination of talents usually found only in men. She is an expert botanist, zoologist and wildlife information provider—a diploma from Cornell University testifies to that. But in addition, she is an expert horsewoman, a master of woodcraft and an all-around Grade A guide. The Audubon tours do not take children under six, but even a seven-year-old can be startled by the sight of a good-sized alligator, and Anne has a comforting way with small fry—and timid oldsters as well.

When John Baker, president of the National Audubon Society, met her last summer, he was sufficiently impressed to give her the job managing the wilderness tours which are scheduled each winter in South Florida. Only men have been Audubon wilderness guides in the past, for the job can have its rugged moments. You are as likely to meet a rattlesnake, a cotton-mouth moccasin or a big 'gator, as a heron or a wild turkey. But there was a calm self-confidence about this charming, clear-eyed girl, which impressed Baker, and his judgment has been enthusiastically endorsed by scores of visitors who have returned home, richer by a close acquaintanceship with the wild life of the peninsula, gained under her care and instruction.

Page 8—All Florida Magazine—2-26-56

Three times a week during the season, which lasts from December 10 to March 25, she meets her charges in front of the Chamber of Commerce office on Flagler Drive in West Palm Beach. They have made their reservations well in advance, have sent their $25 checks for the two-day tour to the Chamber of Commerce or the Miami office of the Audubon Society, and have received instructions of what to bring and wear. After Anne has met them and answered their first questions, the party takes off and heads straight west toward the southern shore of Lake Okechobee. They travel through brush and marsh, the haunt of burrowing owls, limpkins, egrets, herons and wood ibises, often spotting the Audubon caracara—a species of hawk—quail, wild turkey, plentiful water-fowl and alligators. On a lucky day they see the last specimens of the Everglades Kite sailing gracefully overhead, searching for the small snails which form its exclusive diet. On a recent jaunt Anne and her charges spotted 76 species of birds, including the shy wild turkeys. This was practically a record.

The tour is carefully laid out to include as wide a variety of Florida terrain as possible. "During the first day," Anne explains, "we cruise around the vast sugar cane plantations and great cattle ranches south of Lake Okechobee. This gives the customers a 'transition period' from civilization before we take them into the wildest country."

With special permission of the U. S. Army Engineer Corps, Anne travels along part of the immense levee system on the southeastern rim of the lake. She explains how these great dikes were built after the hurricane of 1928, which tore half of the water out of the lake bed, drowning 2,000 people and inundating whole communities.

By nightfall of the first day, the party is grateful for a stop and the comfort available at Clewiston Inn on the south shore. Early the next morning, after a good breakfast at the hotel, Anne takes off for the "wild" part of the journey. The State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission has cooperated with the Audubon Society in making available one of the greatest wildlife areas in Florida for Anne's tour. It is known as the Fisheating Creek Wildlife Management Area, and is the center of the Game Commission's most important wild turkey restoration program. Not every casual tourist gets into Fisheating Creek. It is rough country to begin with, and roads are almost non-existent.

The Audubon Society's first girl guide had no parental tradition influencing her choice of this rugged profession. Her father is a professor at Jersey City State Teachers' College and her mother was a writer. But the great outdoors always held a fascination for her. She went to the University of Miami for two years and while there got a job as a secretary in the Audubon Society office in Miami. Roger Tory Peterson's book, "Field Guide to the Birds" strengthened her decision to learn all she could about the wild creatures. When she took the Audubon trip through Everglades National Park and down along the Keys, she became more than ever determined to make a career for herself in wildlife conservation. (This year, as soon as her tours are completed, she plans to leave for the University of Wyoming where she will work for a Master's degree in wildlife management.)

Miami University did not have all the courses she wanted, so in 1953, she transferred to Cornell in Ithaca, N. Y. In spite of the ratio of four boys to every girl at Cornell, Anne devoted most of her time to "wildlife" of the furred and feathered variety. During her first year she "cruised" timber in the Arnot Experimental Forest operated by the school, and began her activity in breaking precedents, for this had always been considered a strictly male occupation.

During vacations from both Miami U. and Cornell, she found time to teach the children of the scientists at the Oceanographic Institute in Woods Hole, Mass. "I just taught them elementary seashore ecology," she says, tossing off a fairly advanced field of natural science as if it were fourth grade arithmetic.

During another summer, she worked at a resort hotel in the Adirondacks where she was riding instructor, taught wood carving and carpentry, and lectured on trees and plants.

During yet another summer, she went to Brazil

"I always wanted to go there," she says. "So I wrote an essay on 'Why I Want to Go To Brazil.' That was during the Pan-American Trade Conference in Miami a few years ago. Some Brazilian government officials read my paper and liked it. I was pretty specific about all the flora and fauna of the country that I wanted most to observe at close range. Anyhow, they gave me a trip to Brazil.

On her fourth and final school vacation she went to Wyoming and met Dr. Margaret Altmann, recognized authority on elk and moose. The two of them took a pack trip by mule back through the wilderness area of Jackson's Hole and Eastern Yellowstone National Park.

During that summer in the West, Anne tried to get field jobs with the State Game Commissions of Wyoming, Idaho, Arizona and Montana. She was turned down on every try. The Commissions didn't have any women in the field and none of them cared to break the precedent. So Anne returned to her first love—the National Audubon Society. Her letter to its president, John Baker, must have been very convincing, for he sent for the indomitable young girl.

"So you'd like to be an Audubon guide?" he asked her, interviewing her in the Audubon headquarters on upper Fifth Avenue in New York. He went on to point out the difficulties and hardships that went with such a job, but Anne said she was willing, and Baker judged that she was capable. She got the job.

She came down to West Palm Beach late last fall to go over the ground with Sandy Sprunt, her male predecessor, and after several trial runs over the 300 mile course, Anne knew the terrain and was on a first name basis with the wildlife.

"I was a little nervous on my first trip," she confesses. "I didn't know how people would take to the idea of a girl leading them through such wild country."

She didn't have to worry. People began clamoring to go along. All of her trips are booked well in advance, and Florida scored another "first" in its long series of innovations—first girl guide to the wilderness.

Audubon Tours of South Florida

CHAMBERS of Commerce and tourist information centers have a leaflet on Audubon Wildlife Tours which gives the dates and all necessary information. However, you may write to the National Audubon Society, 13 McAllister Arcade, Miami, for this data.

Fees are $15 per person for the one-day tour, $25 for the two-day tour, meals and lodging not included.

Tour No. 1—Everglades National Park—Florida Bay. One day, starting November 28, last tour ends April 30. Station Wagon and boat from Miami, south through the park, and the famous Anhinga Trail—the boardwalk through the swamp—observing alligators, herons, egrets, ibises, anhingas and gallinules. Thence to Tavernier on Key Largo and by one of the Society's boats through Florida Bay, where the great white herons and other spectacular shore and water birds are on parade, including the roseate spoonbill. Tourists are returned to Miami by station wagon that evening.

Tour No. 2—Leader meets the party at Tavernier on Key Largo. Two days by station wagon and boat. Tours begin November 28, run through April 28. The first day the group journeys by station wagon down the Overseas Highway to Sugarloaf Key and the Great White Heron National Wildlife Refuge. Side trip includes a visit to Big Pine Key, home of the tiny and almost extinct key deer. A glimpse of one of these timid creatures is a lucky—and rare—event. The party puts up for the night in comfortable accommodations on Tavernier Key. The second day is spent on the water, cruising Upper Florida Bay: Man-o'-War birds, pelicans, the shore birds and possibly a bald eagle are to be observed.

Tour No. 3—From Fort Lauderdale, two days by station wagon through the wild and fascinating country, circling southwest of Lake Okechobee, and the great Everglades "river of grass," farm lands and primitive prairie. In Clewiston, where the group spends the night, one can often see the Smooth-billed Ani. Further details of this tour, which covers the same ground as No. 4, are given in the preceding article. December 10 through April 29.

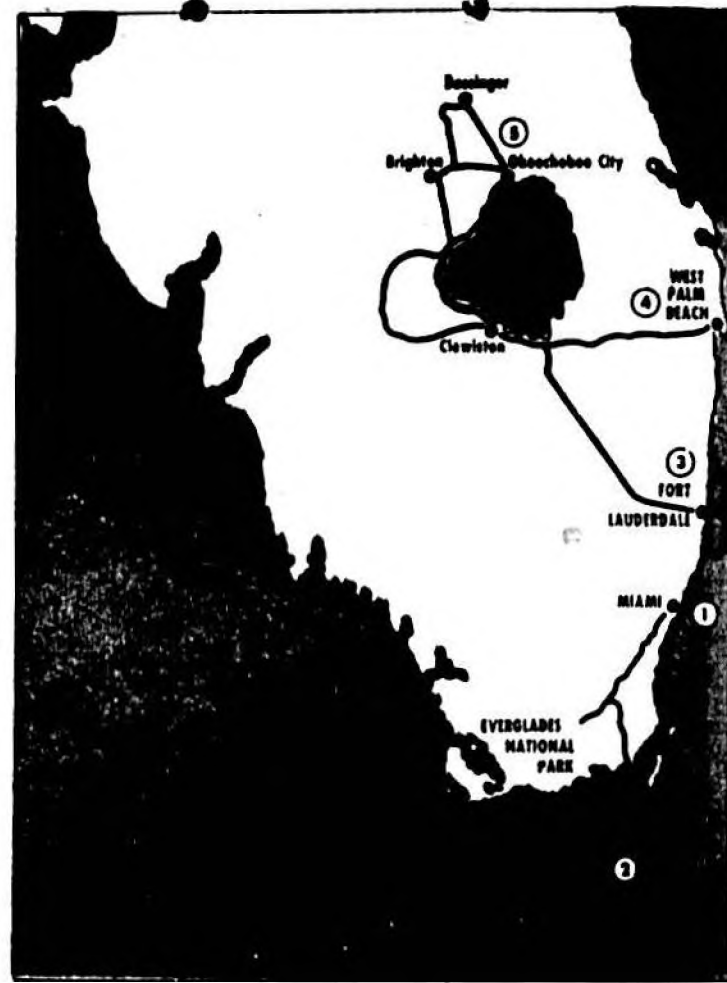

Tour No. 4—Out of West Palm Beach with Anne LaBas-

tille, same itinerary as No. 3, December 10 through March 25.

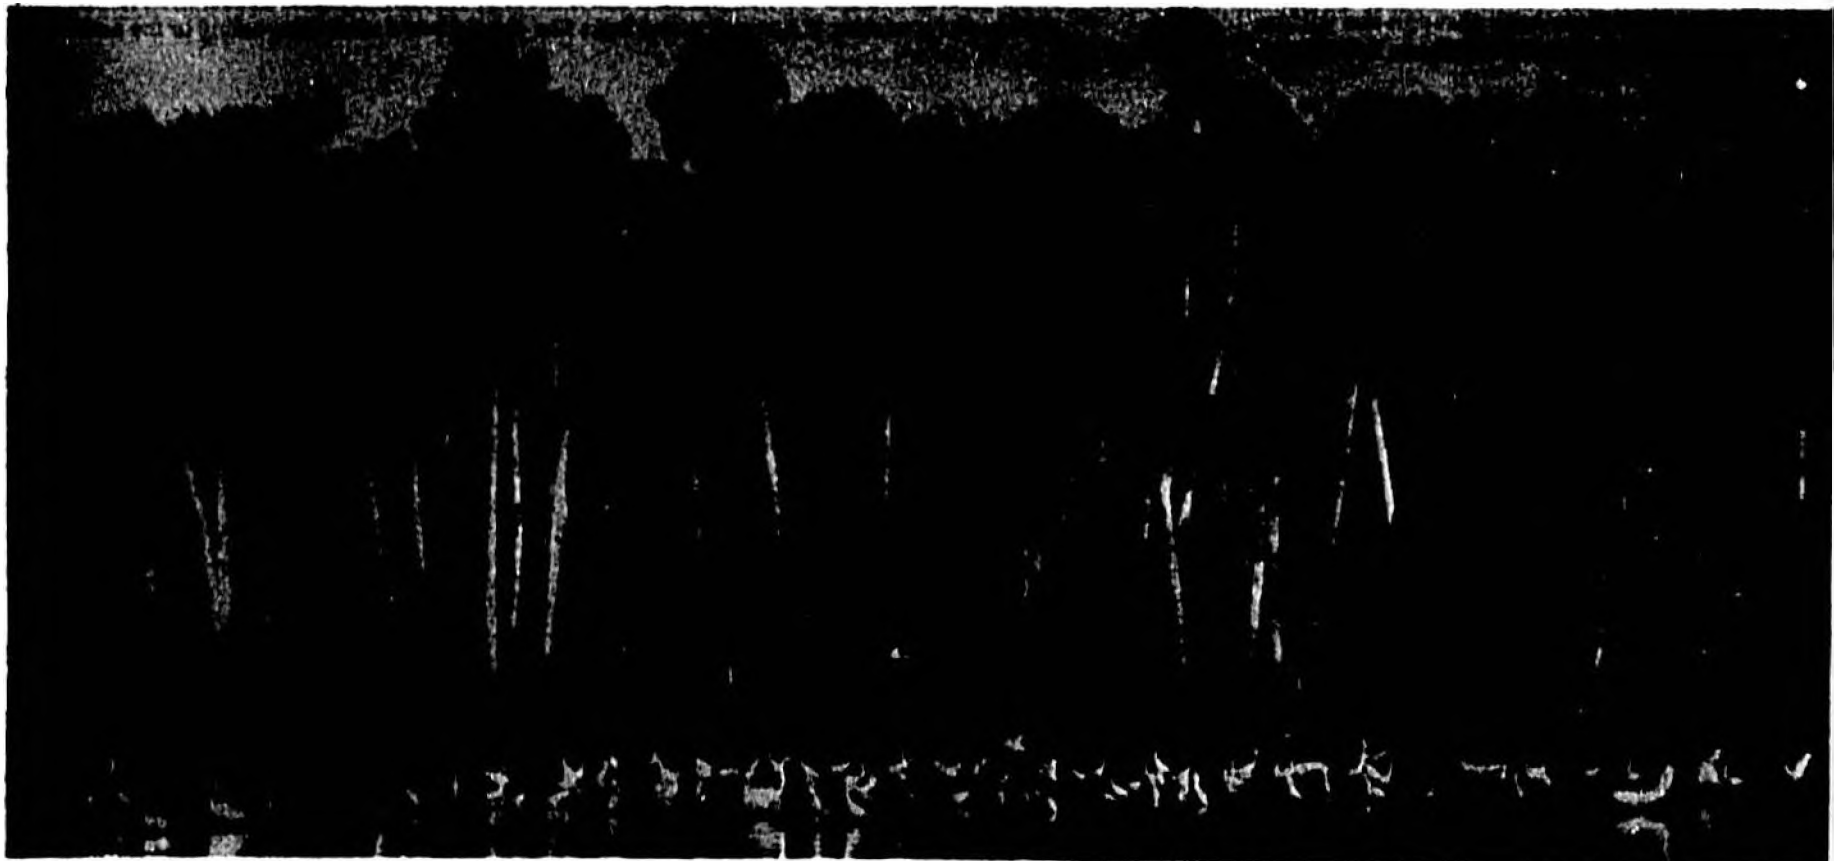

Tour No. 5—Two days by station wagon, based at the Southland Hotel in Okeechobee City on the north shore of the famous lake. First day—southwest along the lake shore. Limpkins, rails, gallinules, glossy, white and wood ibises, egrets and herons. On the second day you head into the Kissimmee Prairie to the north. Burrowing owls, Florida cranes.

MAP showing routes of the five Audubon Society tours of South Florida. They offer a variety of different types of terrain and wildlife. In addition, some of the excursions include long jaunts by boat.

The trip averages views of from 80 to 100 species of birds. Remote Seminole Indian villages, part of the great inland cattle range. January 6 through April 29.

You receive full instruction on where to meet the guide and what to wear when your reservation, accompanied by check, is acknowledged. For two-day trips, wear hiking clothes.

THOUSANDS of several species congregate on the edge of a palm hammock deep in the Everglades. Scenes like this are hard to come by unless you take one of the wildlife tours

BORDER GUARDIANS

By CLEVELAND van DRESSER

This is the conclusion of a series of true experiences of the United States Border Patrol, the Federal law enforcement body charged with the duty of protecting our country from infiltration by aliens from foreign countries. It carries the official approval of the United States Department of Justice, under whose authority the Border Patrol functions.

THE preceding nine chapters of this series of true experiences of the United States Border Patrol have dealt exclusively with activities of professional alien smugglers. It has been said, and amply proven many times, that this type of lawbreaker is the most dangerous criminal of all.

There is logic as well as proof behind this statement. One of the first things a criminal does when in danger of being caught, is to try to destroy the evidence.

The professional alien smuggler deals in living contraband—the lives of human beings. Like practically all criminals, he, too, tries to suppress evidence. Sometimes such suppression takes heinous forms.

The men of the U. S. Border Patrol are equipped and trained to wage war against the professional alien smuggler. The Federal men do not ask, nor do they expect, the average citizen to trade punches with these vicious outlaws. But the Border Patrol does ask the citizen to give aid in the never-ending battle against infiltration of our shores by illegal aliens.

The average citizen, especially one who lives on or near the seacoast, may be in a position to give more valuable aid than he realizes.

Let us take a hypothetical case. Details in the story to be related are not factual, but are so close to the truth that it can safely be taken as a sample of what has occurred many times in the recent history of the Border Patrol.

George Masterson, aged 36, is an average, decent American citizen. A veteran of World War II, he is married, has two children and lives near the beach just south of St. Augustine.

One Friday night, while returning home late, he notices some peculiar activity along the beach near his home. Several men land in a small boat. There seems what appears to Masterson, as furtive activity. Four men walk up the beach to the road and get into a car. The vehicle moves away, and that seems to be all there is to it.

Three nights later, the scene is repeated. Masterson, curious for the last two nights, was taking a stroll up the beach, just in case.

This time he thinks he'd better do something. Half apologetically, he calls up the sheriff's office and tells what he's seen. The sheriff becomes more than mildly suspicious and arranges a stake-out.

Two nights later, a small boat approaches the shore. Four men clamber out and wade onto the beach. The sheriff and his deputies collar the quartet. One of them talks, and a few minutes later, the sheriff surprises a man parked in a car half a mile away.

All are taken to the local jail. The nearest U. S. Immigration Service office in Jacksonville is contacted next morning, and a Border Patrol Inspector drives to St. Augustine.

It doesn't take the Federal man long to find out the true situation. Another landing of illegal aliens has been thwarted. The driver of the car—the "runner" in this case—is tried and convicted of violation of Federal immigration laws. The aliens are deported.

Here is another case, founded on actual facts:

A few years ago a freighter was steaming into the Port of Palm Beach. As it passed the inlet, a fisherman on the north shore of the inlet saw a man dive from the deck into the sea and start swimming toward land. The fisherman notified the U. S. Coast Guard Station on Peanut Island and the officer in charge immediately telephoned the U. S. Immigration Service office in West Palm Beach.

Within five minutes, the U. S. Border Patrolman was on the north shore of the inlet. He arrived just in time to arrest an alien who was swimming to the beach.

In the foregoing case, two law enforcement agencies and one private citizen cooperated in the capture of an illegally entered alien. The private citizen notified the Coast Guard, which in turn telephoned the Border Patrol. The city police cleared the way for the Patrol car so that it got to the scene in time.

If any single factor had failed, the alien would have made good his entry into the United States.

If the Border Patrol had to depend solely on its own manpower, the task of patrolling our shores would be virtually impossible. Florida alone has 1,600 miles of shore line, much of it ideal for making unobserved landings.

Border Patrol substations in Florida are maintained at Jacksonville, Daytona Beach, West Palm Beach, Miami, Key West, Fort Myers, Tampa and Pensacola. Each has several radio-equipped patrol cars. In addition, the Patrol maintains boats, airplanes and airboats, all radio-equipped.

IN AREA unapproachable because of open terrain, the patrol inspector finds observation post in tree overlooking suspicious site, from which he can make walkie talkie contact.

All patrolmen from Florida to the Texas-Louisiana boundary, are under the supervision of Chief Enforcement Officer E. B. Topmiller.

Until four years ago, smuggling of aliens came under the classification of a misdemeanor, with relatively light punishment for offenders. As difficult as it is to believe, before that date a man could be found guilty of smuggling the most dangerous type of criminal into the United States and be sentenced to no more than a couple of years,—sometimes only a few months.

Congress finally realized the potential danger of enemy infiltration of our country. On Dec. 24, 1952, the smuggling of aliens became a felony, punishable by five years in prison for each alien.

This matter deserves serious thought by the people of America. Why will a man pay as high as $2,000 just to get into this country? Is that kind of money furnished by governments of foreign countries who wish to get their nationals into the United States? It is more than possible.

We read a great deal these days of enemy infiltration, of sabotage, or pilloined military secrets. Who but enemy aliens, or tools of enemy agents, are engineering these dangerous activities?

There are, of course, several ways an enemy agent can get into America. He can come in under a legitimate quota, and his intentions can be masked by a bona fide passport. He can have a forged passport or can pose as an American citizen by getting hold of a genuine birth certificate of a person who is dead.

Falling these methods, an enemy alien can get himself smuggled into the United States.

The Patrol asks for the cooperation of every citizen and the help of every law enforcement body in the land. It is surprising how many illegally entered aliens are picked up by alert county and municipal officers and turned over to the Federal authorities.

Uncle Sam is constantly urging the citizens of America to join the Ground Observer Corps and scan the skies for enemy planes. It might be a good idea to keep an eye on the shore line as well.

Simply drop all four Motaloy tabs in the fuel tank. As the vehicle is driven, the tabs, consisting of nine different metals of which tin is the principal metal, give minute portions into the fuel. When the fuel reaches the combustion chambers, "Flash" fire and intense heat create a catalytic action which (1) reduces the hard carbon deposits and (2) replaces worn pistons, rings, valves and cylinder walls with a smooth, anti-friction plating while you drive that will last the life of your motor or 300,000 miles or more! Motaloy-gas solution remains in suspension in your fuel tank and works only when you drive. New cars should be Motaloyed immediately to insure continued top performance. Motaloy gives thousands of extra miles.

Recipe Contest

Floridians' Favorite Foods

This column is devoted each week to dishes utilizing products from the wealth of Florida's yield—on land and in its waters—or to those traditional in preparation.

Our recipe column today offers a wide and interesting variety of recipes, each of which uses as principal ingredients products native to Florida. These have been contributed by followers of All Florida Magazine's recipe contest.

Those presented below, as is always the case with recipes selected as being worthy of publication, are winners of $1 each for contributors. One of them will be judged recipe-of-the-week, and will win an additional $5. The $5 winners for the month of February will be announced next Sunday.

If you have a traditional Florida recipe—or even a new one which depends upon Florida products for its tasty goodness—mail it to the Recipe Contest Editor, All Florida Magazine, Ocala.

ROYAL POINCIANA POMFANO WITH SHRIMP STUFFING

Two cups cooked shrimp; 2 eggs; 1 cup rich cream; 1 boned pompano; 1/2 cup chopped mushrooms; 1/4 cup cherry wine; pepper; salt; paprika.

Clean the shrimp and put through the meat grinder. Beat the eggs and half of the cream together. Mix the shrimp, mushrooms, and seasoning together and stir in the cream and eggs. Stir to a smooth paste. Put the mixture on one-half of the pompano. Sew the two halves of the fish together and put in a baking dish. Pour the remaining cream over the fish, and bake in a moderate oven about 45 minutes.

—Mrs. R. H. WHITE, Ocala.

POINSETTIA SALAD

Lettuce leaves; sliced Florida pineapple; pimiento; cream cheese; French dressing; salt; paprika.

Place a lettuce leaf on a salad plate and put a slice of pineapple on it. Cut a pimiento into half-inch strips and place around on the pineapple slice in pinwheel fashion. Make a soft paste of the cream cheese by moistening with French dressing and seasoning with salt and paprika. Place a small ball of this mixture in the center of the pineapple. Serve with French dressing.

—Mrs. J. E. FERGUSON, Palatka.

ORANGE BREAKFAST ROLLS

Two cups flour; 3 tsp. baking powder; 1 tsp. salt; 2 lbs. sugar; 4 lbs. fat; 1/4 cup milk; 1/4 cup melted butter; 3 lbs. grated Florida orange rind; 1/4 cup sugar.

Sift flour with baking powder, salt, and the two tablespoons of sugar. Cut in fat and add milk to make soft dough. Place on floured board and knead lightly. Roll to one-eighth inch in thickness. Spread with melted butter and sprinkle with sugar, which has been mixed with orange rind. Roll up jelly roll fashion. Cut into one-inch lengths. Place cut side down in greased baking pan. Bake in a 450 degree oven 15 to 20 minutes.

—Mrs. O. W. PREVATT, Jacksonville.

LOBSTER HALF-SHELL

Four avocado half-shells; lemon juice; salt; 1 cup flaked lobster; 1 1/2 cups diced celery; 2 tsp. capers; tart cooked salad dressing; salad greens; lobster claws for garnish.

To prepare half-shells, cut fruit into halves lengthwise and remove seeds. Sprinkle cut portions with lemon juice and salt. Combine lobster, celery, capers, and sufficient dressing to moisten and blend. Place half-shells on garnished salad plates and fill seed cavities with lobster mixture. Decorate with lobster claws.

—Mrs. S. L. JETER, Bonifay.

MOLDED AVOCADO SALAD

One cup mashed avocado; 1 lbs. plain gelatine; 1/4 cup cold water; 1 cup boiling water; 2 lbs. lemon juice; 1 tsp. sugar; 1/4 cup sour cream; 1/4 cup mayonnaise; 1 tsp. salt; 1/4 tsp. pepper; dash of cayenne; tomato wedges; watercress.

Soften gelatine in cold water. Add boiling water and stir until gelatine is dissolved. Stir in one tablespoonful of the lemon juice and the sugar. Chill. Mix the other tablespoonful of lemon juice with the mashed avocado, sour cream, and mayonnaise. Add salt, pepper, cayenne and slightly thickened gelatine. Turn into six small oiled ring molds or one large mold, then chill until firm. Garnish with tomato wedges and sprigs of watercress.

A drop or two of green food coloring may be added to enhance the color of this salad.

SAM HUBER, Fort Pierce.

FLORIDA TANGERINE SQUASH

Two med. acorn squash; 4 level lbs. brown sugar; 3 lbs. butter; salt; 4 tangerines.

Wash and wipe squash. Cut in half lengthwise. Scrape out all inside waste. Steam in a covered pot in about one inch of slightly salted water for 10 minutes. Drain well and make fork holes all over the insides of the squash. Blend together butter and sugar to soften. Divide into four parts and press well into each squash center with the back of a spoon. Bake for 15 minutes in a hot oven (400 degrees). Remove from oven and fill each section with the tangerine sections, lightly dust with fine sugar and continue baking about 15 minutes more until the squash can be tested for tenderness with a fork.

—Mrs. DOROTHY BRIDGES, S. Daytona.

GRAPEFRUIT SLUSH

Two cups sugar; 4 cups Florida grapefruit pulp; 1 cup water.

Bring to a rolling boil the sugar and water. Pour over the grapefruit. When cool pour in freezing tray and freeze.

If desired, add a little green cake coloring.

—Mrs. OLA REED, Hawthorne.

"La Florida Linda"

White sand and the Halifax River make Daytona Beach the perfect background for the Flower Show.

By Lillie May Marshall

"LA FLORIDA LINDA!" No, it isn't a battle cry. It isn't even the state motto, though it wouldn't be too bad at that, for it means "The Land of Beautiful Flowers," or as officials of the Florida Federation of Garden Clubs prefer to translate it—"Florida, the Perfect."

"La Florida Linda" is the theme for the Fifth Annual Florida Flower Show scheduled for March 2, 3 and 4, at Daytona Beach.

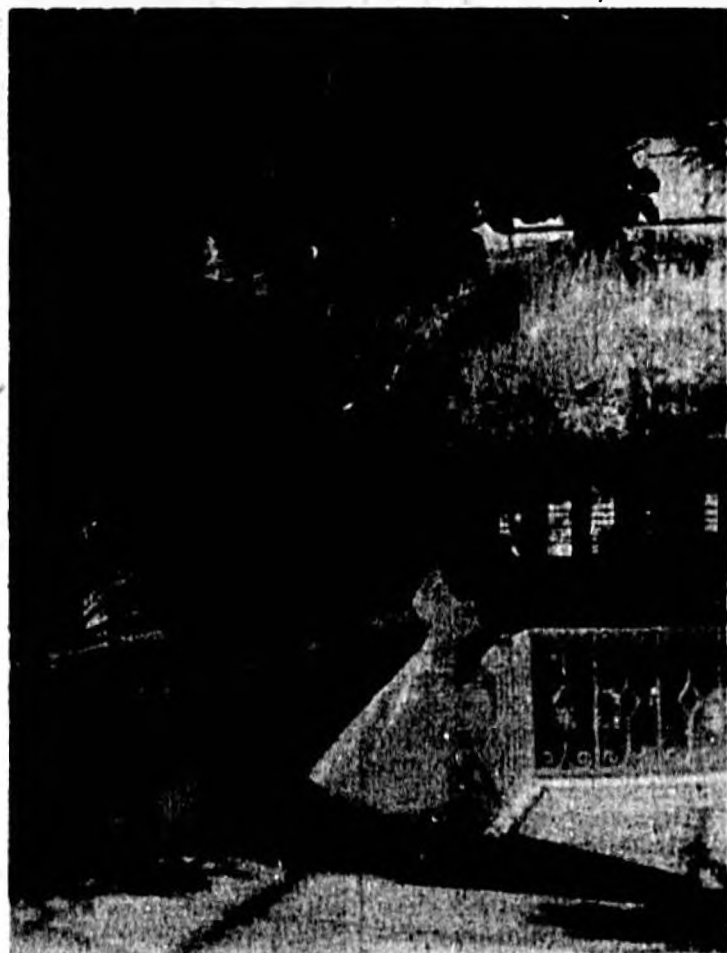

With such a theme title, the "perfect" setting just had to be found. And for this, the Bath and Tennis Club overlooking the serene Halifax River, flowing between the mainland and the peninsula, was considered ideal. The club, with its natural warm elegance and distinctiveness, is being transformed into a place of breath-taking beauty for the show.

A waiting room and lobby with an inviting air is being erected at one side of the entrance hall, the mantelpiece centered with a Christmas motif arrangement. Directly across the hall will be another charming room in which will be staged the Junior Section of the show, under direction of the Ormond Beach Garden Club.

Further into the hall will be 12 modified shadow boxes with arrangements depicting the four seasons. A pine hedge and a simulated hanging garden of ivy and azaleas will form the background for the shadow boxes. Directly opposite this intriguing display, there are large windows depicting respectively, Christmas, Easter and Thanksgiving, overlooking the swimming pool.

Visitors to the show will not pass lightly the breath-taking scene on a curbed dais at the end of the loggia, with hundreds of orchids arranged in their natural setting, around a fountain and a waterfall.

Around a swimming pool in a huge, glass-enclosed fairy tale room, a giant banyan tree spreads its branches, and terraces are built. This swimming pool is the setting for the piece-de-resistance creating the illusion of a mountain grotto, complete with a 30-foot mountain wall and a slow, sparkling waterfall. Small gardens, one a Victorian green and white, nestle close to the pool—a fairyland, indeed!

AN ENCLOSED swimming pool, where a giant banyan tree spreads its branches, appears as a mountain grotto with a sparkling waterfall.

An arcade along the pool, walled in by the pseudo mountain, is the setting for the horticulture exhibit. Just outside in the barbecue terrace set up for serving refreshing drinks. There, also, the lanai table settings are shown.

On the dining terrace, the Men's Garden Clubs' exhibits represent various phases of "The Cockfight."

A curved porch affords a superb view of sloping lawns and the Halifax River, and here growers and naturalizers throughout the state will exhibit prize, rare, or unusual tropical plants. Below, on lawn level, will be commercial displays. These exhibitors are obligated to follow the pattern of the show. Latest styles of outdoor furniture for casual Florida living will be grouped on outdoor terraces beneath moss-hung live oak trees.

Yes, Daytona Beach, with the natural splendor of its white sand, and the beautiful Halifax River, form a perfect backdrop for "La Florida Linda."

Moss Albums

By DORA D. UTZ

A mossy and pastime, which is perhaps not as popular today as it was in my childhood, is that of collecting mosses and compressing them into an album. I am referring now to the water mosses, not the mosses which grow on the ground or trees.

In the late 80's we lived at Jupiter, where two lovely rivers, the Indian and Loza-hatches, merge their waters and flow out to sea through a wide inlet.

Along the banks of these rivers, and the seashore, many beautiful mosses were found at that time. And I am sure they may be found there today, also.

The women of Jupiter found it an absorbing diversion to hunt these mosses. It was amazing the variety of shapes and colors they found. Some were as delicate as a baby's hair. Others were thicker, and resembled flowers from a garden. The pastel tints of many were thrilling.

The women kept albums of their mosses. They went to great lengths to embellish the books, using gold or silver lettering, or colored inks to match the tint of the specimens. Some who were poetically inclined, wrote verses to the beauty and appeal of their finds.

The method was simple. They took each individual moss and placed it in a shallow dish of water. Using almost any sharp pointed instrument, like a crochet or knitting needle, they straightened out the fronds, or tiny branches, into the most attractive shape. Then they used a heavy piece of cardboard the size they wanted for their album, and brought it gently up under the moss, being careful not to disturb their arrangement, yet allowing the water to flow off. Then they placed the cardboard between sheets of blotting paper and under a heavy press, allowing it to remain there several days.

A natural adhesive quality in the moss caused it to cling to the cardboard. The cards could be bound into an attractive album, to suit the handler's taste. Some of these albums were real works of art.

All of you who hunt odd shapes and types of sea shells, might try collecting mosses as well, in your wanderings.

To Reach Verdict

J. L. HOBBY

(Staff Photo)

After deliberating 12 hours and 42 minutes a 12-man Federal jury hearing the conspiracy trial involving suspended Sheriff Judson Luther Hobby and the five co-defendants, Andy E. Evans, Dwight E. Yelvington, Willie R. Cooper, Jerry Martin and James Smith, Judge William J. Barker delayed a verdict Friday night at 11:30 when the jurors reported that they could not reach an agreement on a verdict.

The jury came from the jury room only one time during their deliberations, with the exception of short periods for lunch, and that was at 4:05 in the afternoon when Judge Barker advised the twelve-man jury "If there is a reasonable doubt in your mind, give the defendants the benefit of the doubt and acquit them." He told them, "You should examine the evidence with candor."

Spectators stayed at the court room throughout the daylong deliberations awaiting a return of a verdict from the jurors.

At 11:30 Friday night, J. E. Lupfer Jr., a Kissimmee hardware man, reported to Judge Barker, "Your Honor, please, we have not been able to reach a verdict."

Judge Barker asked, "Is there any point of law being discussed that should be cleared?" The foreman answered, "No sir."

In explaining the report from the jury, Lupfer said, "We have disagreed on all of the defendants. We have had no change in ballot in nine hours."

Judge Barker said, "I am sure that you appreciate the importance of reaching a verdict in this case." However, Lupfer, in making his report said, "I am sure that everyone on this jury is sincere in his opinion and I see no evidence of agreement."

After receiving a negative answer to his question, "You don't think that anything can be gained by further deliberations?" Judge Barker declared a mistrial in the nine-day trial that came to an electrifying climax when Assistant District Attorney E. David Rosen brought hearsay conversation into his closing remarks to the jury.

Jury members hearing the lengthy trial were: J. E. Lupfer, foreman, Kissimmee; Charles P. Jerome, Orlando real estate man; Donald Lancaster, Pinellas cattleman; Earl S. Coote, retired Orlando auto dealer; James H. Liles, Orlando auto body repairman; Clyde L. Leach, Orlando real estate man; Ford Gardner, retired builder of Orlando; Louis Castor, Orlando accounting marble salesman; R. L. Rogers, wholesale electrical and plumbing supplies dealer of Orlando; Edward J. Edwards, Orlando real estate man; Robert O. Lockhart, Winter Park irrigation sales engineer; Harry D. Loucks, Orlando plumbing contractor; and alternate John F. Dalley, retired restaurant operator of Winter Park.

Hobby, following the announcement of the mistrial, said, "I can see and Seminole County in the eye and say that I have conscientiously done a good job in carrying out the enforcement of the State laws in Seminole County."

The suspended Sheriff of Seminole County appeared confident throughout the lengthy trial and Friday night was still smiling, confident, and appeared undefeated.

"I have always been determined to make Seminole County the most beautiful in the State, and my committee members filled even the stage and kitchen of McKimley Hall for the fried chicken dinner. Each Den had made elaborate decorations for its own table.

Dens 6 and 12 tied in winning the den count with 32 representatives each present. The large size of the crowd was due in part to the formation of a new Den 14, the second den to be started in the Pinecrest area in two months. During the program, six boys in this den were welcomed into the pack by Woodrow Cash, pack secretary, in a Bobact induction ceremony for eleven new Cubs: John H. Daubhus, Kevin Edge, Robert L. Glenn, H. James D. Grice Jr., Anthony J. Gonzalez, Robert L. Hopkins, Cecil R. Jones Jr., Donald E. Sheppard, Emory M. Speir, Jr., John D. Todd, and Preston F. Willis.

After introductions of everyone present, Cubmaster Ted Williams presented the Rev. Milton H. Wyatt of the First Methodist Church, which is the sponsoring organization of Pack Ten. The Rev. Wyatt made welcoming remarks, after which everyone joined in some Cub songs, led by Lou Pells with piano accompaniment by David Kirchoff.

The following Cubs received achievement and elective awards from Woodrow Cash: Danny Nettles, Wolf badge, gold arrow; Carl Smith, Bear badge, 2 silver arrows; Jimmy Ogden, Silver arrows; Jack Ivery, Service star, Denner badge; Jack Williams, silver arrow; Fred Galletta, silver arrow, service star; Billy Hall, service star; Roth Vihlen, gold arrow and 2 silver arrows; Donald Krocchek, gold and silver arrows; Hobby Peters, gold and silver arrows; and Johnny Anderson, service star.

It was announced that next month's pack meeting will be earlier than usual, on March 22, to avoid conflict with Holy Week. The corresponding committee meeting will be on March 19.

Bailey Is Speaker At School Dedication

The Superintendent of Public Instruction for the State of Florida will be the principle speaker at dedication exercises for Pinecrest School next Sunday afternoon at 2:30, according to an announcement made today by Mrs. Margaret Reynolds, principal of the school.

Thomas D. Bailey, Florida's 13th State Superintendent of Public Instruction, now serving his second term of office, will be guest of honor and principle speaker as Pinecrest School is officially dedicated.

The school, with 325 children and 12 teachers in its Elementary section of grades one through sixth; Junior High School with 140 children and five teachers in the eighth grade; and a lunchroom under the direction of Mrs. Lucille Fessler, manager and four helpers; will be thrown open for inspection following the ceremony and program.

Pinecrest School is situated immediately south of Sanford on a 25 acre site which provides ample grounds for expansion as well as parking space and playgrounds.

The program will include the presentation of the School Key, by R. T. Milwee, Seminole County Superintendent of Public Instruction. Guests will be introduced by Senator Douglas Stenstrom.

On the platform, as guests of the school for its dedication will be members of the Seminole County School Board, J. L. Brumley, chairman, C. F. Harrison, W. A. Patrick, J. A. Bialino, and L. E. Jordan.

Seminole County School Trustees: R. E. Cooper, chairman, Roy L. Howell, and Roy F. Mann. Civic Club Presidents; Geo. A. Torky, Seminole County Chamber of Commerce; A. B. Don Cossack Gr Association's F Concert Of Sea

Memberships in the S Mutual Concert Association be renewed for the 1956-57 Tuesday night as the final for the current year is held at Pinecrest School.

As one of the most seasons in Concert Association here comes a close as Roumillat, president advised that membership dues next year's season will be for adults and $3.50 for children.

Among the attractions considered for next year's Festival Symphonette, an orchestra of 14 men conducted by Bert Rudie, formerly a conductor of the Old City Symphony. He is also violinist with Elizabeth A soprano, Cynthia Otis, and Howard Shaw, baritone.

ers Incorporated, a committee doing the American "Charley's Aunt" by Brantmas. They bring with the own set, lights and other equipment; The Chanticleer male quartet; David F concert pianist; and The Trio, three young ladies the piano, violin and cello.

Admission for the concert by membership only with missions sold at the door seating capacity of the auditorium is limited.

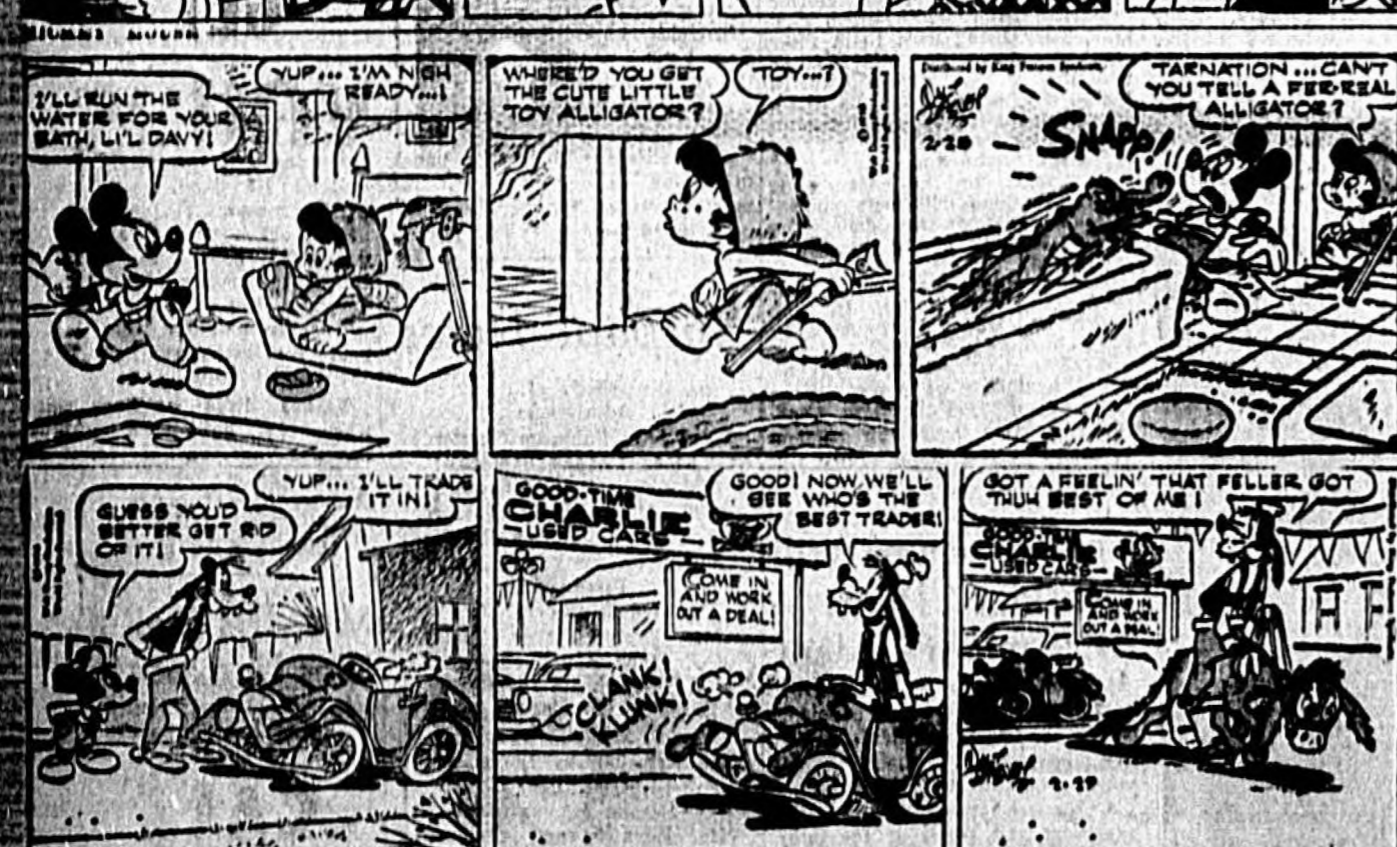

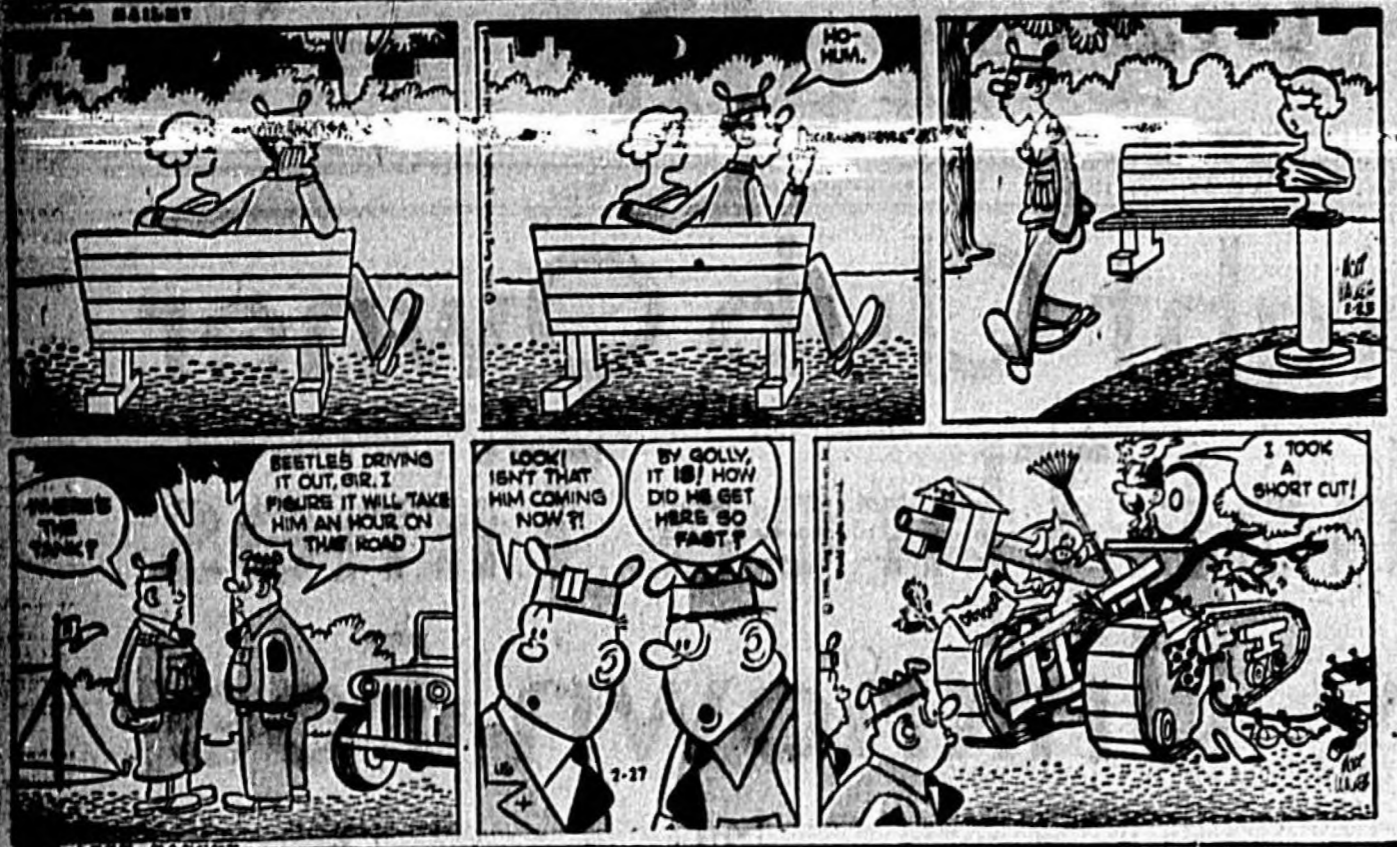

Tomorrow night's concert features the Original Don Chorus and Dancers conducted by the famed Serge Jaroff.

A three part program heard beginning at 8 o'clock. The giant Don Cossack opera became American en masse in 1930. To celebrate occasion they memorized

Longwood

BY RUTH LAYO

Wednesday was a busy day for Longwood Fire Department when the Longwood Fire Tower called for assistance. A fire covering approximately 40 acres had burned between 14th Street and Longwood Hills Road and was threatening nearby homes when the Longwood fire-fighters were summoned. The homes were not damaged but for a time were seriously threatened. The Forest Rangers were able to set up a fire break and after several hours the fire was brought under control.

At 8:35 p.m. another alarm was received when a grass fire on Paradise St. went out of control. Due to the high wind this fire swept two city blocks before being extinguished. The Longwood firemen were able to set a backfire that brought the fire under control. There was no damage to any of the nearby homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cameron of Orlando spent Wednesday visiting with Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Leighton. Jess Cottingham was taken in the Sanford Memorial Hospital last Sunday evening. We are sorry to report that Mr. Cottingham is still quite ill but has shown some improvement since entering the hospital.

Citizens Should Get Explanation of Happenings Of Recent Date

There appears in various forms—that of a "perfect right to be so." Several events of recent date have led our citizens to think in two directions.

Unfortunately, these confusions are increasing as we see at the present time on the surface, man made. And there are some explanations to be made. It is a right of every citizen to ask for these explanations and that they may decide for themselves what to do.

We understand that some investigations were made. We do not deny that investigations are proper. But, until the present moment, there has been no explanation to the citizens who foot the bills of their City and County, especially in this instance the citizens of the City, on what basis were these investigations started.

Under whose directions were they made and who guided them to their final analysis? Is it possible for folks who have worked and labored, and who have stunted, to pay their share of the burden of a growing City to know the "why" behind such a move?

Special investigators have been used in the past and probably will be used in the future to delve into what problems cannot be solved by employees already on the City's payroll.

Possibly the Board of City Commissioners could clear the air somewhat as to what has been going on.

Perhaps, many of us are too busy, in too much of a hurry, to sit down and pause with reason or to think deeply into the cause and effect of certain challenging incidents that could be used to mar the future growth of our good City.

Certainly, some of us are determinedly convinced our own beliefs are ultimate truths. But, we ask, how many of us are right? There is where the "clearing of the air" can help in the disposition of thoughts surrounding our beliefs.

In bringing up the questions, we have but one thing in mind. Ultimately that the citizens of Sanford and Seminole County may know the truth and explanations, to be continually be advised of the facts concerning the happenings right here under our nose.

No better words could have been used than those of a widely known attorney when he spoke, "The United States never loses! Should the defendant win or lose, should the government win or lose, the United States never loses—when justice is done."

No one will lose when the truth is told. When the chips are down, truth will hurt or heal on to the weight of the words in those truths that are finally told. When facts are kept from the citizens of a community, the citizens lose. When the facts are made known at the time they are made, then we are all advised and the ability to serve as a citizen is enhanced.

A Seminole County Grand Jury will no doubt delve further into its findings of a recent date and come up with some of the facts that we are looking for, but until that time, every effort should be made to tell Sanford citizens what has been going on behind their backs.

We are not "agin no one," nor are we "for someone," we want to know the truth, the facts, the plans, the engineering, and the reasons for unfortunate circumstances that made others turn their faces toward us and say "isn't that a shame?"

Sanford is a proud City, basically. Seminole County is a proud county, basically. But when some one in the night creeps in and gags the pride then there should be some brave soul who can come along and untie the knots that bind.

We feel that the only counsel we can give is this—that we be given the privilege of laying the facts before the people of Sanford and Seminole County in the news columns. We say, listen and learn so that plans can be made to correct the errors that have occurred.

The citizens should be provided with the assurance that their money is being spent wisely and to the best advantage—not to the whims and desires for the ultimate goal of reaching a selfish motive activated by personal desire.

Selfishness, revenge, personal gain, and the satanic devotion to power can but destroy a City whose objectives are but those of progress, cleanliness, improvement and service.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE
A prayer of Habakkuk the prophet upon Belshazzar.—Habakkuk 2:1.

Don't Let The Tree Be A Fire Hazard

Of course, the children want a Christmas tree this year and so do you. But there's a lot more to preparing a tree properly and safely than you may think.

Although most of us did away with Christmas tree candles years ago, holiday fires still take a staggering toll of lives every December. Many of these deaths—probably most of them—are due to Christmas tree fires.

Simple Precautions

By taking a few simple precautions, you can do a lot to insure a safe and joyous Yule season for your family.

Try to buy a tree which has been cut as recently as possible. A tree with brittle stems is dried out and will burn easily. Don't buy it.

When you get the tree home, cut the bottom of the trunk diagonally about an inch above the old cut. Then stand it in a pan of water. Keep the tree outside until you are ready for it.

The Coolest Spot

In the house, place it in the coolest spot in the room. The tree stand should hold water. Keep the tree away from fireplaces, radiators, hot air registers and stoves. Use only artificial snow and other decorations which are flameproof or noncombustible.

Check all lights and wiring for loose sockets and other defects. Use wires and lights approved by the Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc.

Distribute the electrical load among several outlets. And never leave the lights burning when everyone leaves the room for any length of time. Disconnect the electric plug when going to bed.

Anchor Tree

Anchor the top of the tree to the wall with a wire to prevent it from tipping over.

Never leave small children alone with a decorated tree.

Keep a fire extinguisher or pail of sand handy, just in case.

Quarantine And Quarant

M. B.: Would Burger's disease cause swelling of the legs?

Answer: Burger's disease as a rule would not cause swelling of the legs. However, it is possible that you have some additional circulatory disorder which has affected the joints and is responsible for the swelling.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CARR

IF YOU CHANCE to walk on 23rd street, between Ninth and Tenth Avenues in New York, you might give a thought to Clement Clark Moore, wealthy professor of Greek and Hebrew who lived there in 1823.

The name of his home was "Chaldee," later applied to the whole district. The good professor tired of his Greek and Hebrew long enough one evening in 1823 to dash off a little poem. He called it "A Visit from Saint Nicholas," and the meter of the verse ("Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the house," etc., etc.) was suggested to him, declares Clark Kinnaird, by a jingle of "Chaldee"—a sound long since replaced in that neighborhood by the melancholy toot of the trolley bells like the Queen Elizabeth inching away from their dock.

Moore, hurrying back to the convent, dropped her bag in the mud and it lay empty. The town doctor—nothing pleased across the street to rescue it for her.

"I'll never let anybody say again that you're an independent honest fellow," said Mrs. Moore, as she picked up the bag to produce...

Stalin's Heirs Denounce Him

WASHINGTON — Stalin's heirs now denounce him like men anxious to get rid of a stench. Becoming so extreme about it as suddenly, they raise an immediate question about his death.

These new Kremlin leaders, tumbling over in another to condemn Stalin at this late date, were his right-hand men either all or part of the 29 years he ran the show in Russia. He died in 1953.

If he was as bad as they now say he was, why did they wait not only let him get away with it but cooperate with him and glorify him in his lifetime?

They can't claim ignorance of what was happening. They were part of it. This makes them hypocrites who either agree with him in his lifetime or lack the guts to throw him out, and now put on this act because it serves their purpose.

At the Russian Communist Party's 20th Congress last week Stalin was attacked by some or indirectly by party boss Khrushchev, Premier Bulganin, Deputy Premier Malenkov, Suslov, Mikoyan and Kaganovich, and Foreign Minister Molotov.

Summed up, this in effect was the catalogue of sins they blamed on their old boss.

He betrayed the spirit of the Revolution with one-man rule; he twisted history in his writings; he set back the Revolution with his domestic and foreign policies; and some or all of his Old Bolshevik comrades, whom he had shot in the purges of the 1930's, were framed.

Why this switch by Stalin's heirs? They had to make it. They had to give communism a fresh and attractive look, which meant wiping out the Stalin look. He had left them and com. Islam hanging on a hook.

By the time of Stalin's death communism, except for what the Red Chinese could do, was standing still. The West was surrounding Russia with allies, or trying to. And Stalin had made communism repulsive, even to an ignorant native of Malaya.

Communism the world over had become associated in people's minds with violence, aggression, murder, purge, liquidation of even the party faithful, subversion, subservience (to Russia), and meager rewards.

Stalin, in becoming the symbol of communism, had become the symbol of all the tyrants in history.

And for years, he had had no new ideas. He had become incapable of taking advantage of new and favorable situations by changing his tactics. He wasn't letting communism expand. He was freezing it solid behind the Iron Curtain.

The new leaders must, if they are to win against the West, change this world view of Russian communism, scoop up in any way they can the nations not attached to the West, and even soften and break the Western partnerships.

Profit Reports Better This Year

NEW YORK — Nine out of ten corporations are turning in better profit reports today than a year ago. Their increase in net income after taxes in 1955 averages about a third higher than 1954. For many of them the prospect of continuing on the upgrade are good for the first half of 1956.

So far, 616 corporations — of all sizes, and scattered through most major industries — have reported on their 1955 operations. The number will swell rapidly in coming days.

But, take the 616 as representative of what is to come, and you find only 58 of them reporting a decline in earnings.

Even in the best of boom times, however, there are laggards. Eight of the 616 operated at a net loss last year compared with 17 in 1954.

The 616 show combined net profits after taxes of $10,010,549,536. In 1954 the same 616 had total earnings of $7,595,925,350. The increase is $2,414,624,186, or 31.8 per cent.

The gain for the U.S. Treasury is roughly the same, since corporations put aside for federal income taxes about the same amount they report as net profits.

Leading the parade in percentage gains over the previous year are those industries who suffered most from the 1954 recession or those tied in with the big boom in the auto industry.

The big gainers include: meat packers, steel and iron, rail equip-

Whale's Skeleton To Be Exhibited

PORTUGUESE BEND, Calif. — A 14-foot whale, the 1,100-pound oddity from polar waters, didn't last long in captivity, but her value as an attraction isn't all lost.

Scientists plan to make an exhibit of the skeleton after completing studies.

The mammal, named Mariba Washington by her captors, succumbed Thursday to what a veterinarian described as shock and heart failure. She had been placed in a large tank at Marineland of the Pacific Wednesday.

Skin diver Al Hansen found the young mammal beached in a kelp bed at offshore Santa Catalina Island. She was towed and ferried to the Marineland oceanarium at this Los Angeles County beach community.

ORDNANCE DEFEATED

TAMPA — A proposed ordinance to eliminate Sunday bar sales in Tampa and end them weekdays at midnight was defeated by the city board last night.

The board approved, however, a resolution asking the county to include a referendum on the issue in the May 8 primary "if legally possible."

The Japanese beetle, first detected in this country in 1916, has now been found as far west as the Mississippi Valley.

MEMBERS OF PARTY ARRESTED

DAMASCUS, Syria — Seven members of the outlawed Syrian Social Nationalist Party have been arrested on a charge of conspiring to assassinate three high military officers and a member of Parliament, military court sources said today.

The plot allegedly was aimed at Brig. Shawkat Shurkat, Syrian army chief of staff; Capt. Abdul Hamid Sarraj, chief of the army staff; and Capt. Mohamed Jarrah, military prosecutor, and Akram Hourani, leader of the opposition resurrection Arab Socialist party.

Feather in Your Cap

The phrase "A Feather in your Cap" started with the Indian War Bonnet. It is a feather represented a coup performed by the wearer and was notched or decorated to designate the type of deed. Naturally, the more feathers, the more notable the achievements for women come in such "bonnetism" creep into our language during the Frontier Days and has survived to the present. Hence, when complimenting a person on a job well done, we often say, "That's a feather in your cap."

Seventh Army Novice Boxing Tournament. Reynolds won the championship in his weight class by winning three fights over a period of four days. In the first round of fights in the tournament
Reynolds won on a quick knockout in the first round. The second fight was an easy decision for Reynolds as he coasted to the victory. The final bout found Reynolds outweighed and outwitted, but with the aid of a very nice left jab he came through with a close, but unanimous decision.

Where Do Women Conceal Firearms in Police Work?

BALTIMORE, Md.—Official brows in Baltimore's police department are knit in worrisome wonder these days over a problem to challenge the agency of Christian Dior.

Where does a lady carry a pistol? Baltimore's policemen have been given guns for the first time in departmental history.

Commissioner James M. Heppron said the, until now, the distaff cops have been used primarily in juvenile cases. But in the future, he said, they will perform more dangerous criminal work.

The weapon is a specially designed snubnosed .38 caliber revolver known as the "cobra." Several holsters for carrying it are being tested by the department.

There are various schools of thought on where to carry the cobra. And all have certain advantages and disadvantages.

The old who-does-it-standby, a purse, apparently has more of the latter than the former.

The women, Heppron said, will be used as decoys in an effort to halt the growing number of purse snatch cases in the city. As the purse went, so would go the gun. Then how would she make the arrest?

Bolder holsters beneath deftly tailored suits have been suggested.

But how about summer when suits aren't normally worn by women?

During warm weather, chief inspector Fred Ford said, the holster could be fitted next to the skin inside a suitably plunging blouse. But to allow a quick draw, the decolletage would have to be something frightening and there are straps which might ensnare the cobra.

Then there's a holster that fits into the top of the stocking. But it might cause stockings to droop and seem to go awry. It also requires a certain bearing of the thigh in order to draw.

Warren Takes Pot Shot At Opponent

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Fuller Warren warmed up for his gubernatorial campaign today by taking a pot shot at one of his opponents, retired-Lt. Gen. Sumner Lewry of Tampa.

In a statement, Warren said Lewry, "has been shelling me sharply with a barrage of verbal blanks."

"A little later on, I may fire a few salvos of light ammunition at this one-star political general. At present, I am too busy assembling the heavy artillery for more formidable enemies to take time to lob a few shells into the general's walnut-paneled, Persian-carpeted foxhole on the Tampa 'front.'"

Lewry, who is campaigning on a platform of maintaining segregation, said Tuesday that Warren, when he was governor, vetoed a clause in a 1951 appropriations bill which would have taken public school funds away from counties permitting a mixture of the races.

Fire Department Has Active Week

The Sanford Fire Department had a busy week said Chief Mack N. Cleveland Sr. this morning.

However, the Chief said, most of the fires did not claim heavy damage.

"At one time last week, on Friday night, all of the equipment was out," said Chief Cleveland as he reviewed the week's firefighting.

The heaviest damage was done, the Chief reported Friday morning when a frame home at 413 East 5th St. was at least 60 percent destroyed. The rental house is owned by D. C. Brock, according to the Fire Department Chief's records.

Other fires occurred 26th and Grapeville Ave, outside the City limits and on the south side of Sanford Ave. on Onora Road when a frame dwelling was "practically well burned out," said the Chief.

Another house fire was put out, said the Chief, on Southwest Road. "We were fortunate in that we contained the blaze Friday morning in the one house on Fifth St. It was in a pretty heavily populated area," he said and the entire area was threatened.

The U. S. Constitution as part of their repertoire are probably the only Americans who can recite the Constitution from beginning to end.

In 1955 they made a three-month USO tour of Europe, including England, France, Holland, Belgium, and Germany, to sing for American service men, along with General Dwight Eisenhower, whom they entertained at his farewell party for SHAEP in Frankfurt.

The program tomorrow night includes 15 selections with two dances as part of the presentation. Two of the selections to be heard are Tchikovsky's "Blessed Art Thou, Oh Lord" and Kedroff's "Lord's Prayer."

B. R. Morrow Makes 2,000th Catapult Off Ticonderoga

Lieutenant Commander Billy Ray Morrow and his crew were prepared for a routine catapult launching when they stepped onto the flight deck of the USS Ticonderoga one day last week. Instead, they learned to their pleasant surprise that their launch was a little more than routine - it was to be 2,000th catapulting of an aircraft off the ship. Pausing only long enough to admire the description on the nose of their A-1J, Morrow and crew then launched on another routine mission in support of the U. S. Sixth Fleet somewhere in the Mediterranean Sea. A huge cake, suitably described, awaited them in the hangar's ready room upon their return. After the cake-cutting, speech and photo, all hands present made short work of the cake. LCDR Morrow's comment: "We'll leave the 2,000th one for VAN-5!"

College Students To Conduct Revival At Local Church

Preaching services are being held next week, March 4-9, at the Ebenezer Methodist Church on the old Sanford-Orlando highway. The leadership of these revival services will be entirely in the hands of three pre ministerial students from Florida Southern College at Lakeland. The theme chosen for the week is "New Life With Christ."

The speaker throughout the week of services beginning this Sunday will be the Rev. John Tindell, a 19-year-old sophomore student from Miami. During this past summer he spent six weeks teaching Vacation Bible School for children in Cuba and also preached evangelistic services in the same Cuban towns of the Oriente Province. In addition to this work in Cuba, he has preached in Starks, in the Miami District; and here at the Ebenezer Church.

The song services will be led by the Rev. Eddy Debie, a junior student from Williston. His father is a former chaplain at the Florida State Prison and is now the pastor of the First Methodist Church in Williston. Eddy is active in music activities at the college. He will also bring the message this Sunday morning at 11 a. m.

The pastor of the Ebenezer Church, C. E. Murlin Jr., also a junior at Lakeland, announces plans for the showing of color slides each evening depicting the life of Christ. Also he will bring messages to the children by his scriptural magic. The church extends a warm invitation to all of this community to attend and take part in these services.

State Market Here Suffers Spreading Decline Last Week

"Fairs, shows and expositions are invaluable in the development of all phases of agriculture and Florida is extremely fortunate in that its Commissioner of Agriculture, Nathan Mayo, recognizes this fact," according to L. H. Lewis, Director of Florida's market system. "It is through Mr. Mayo's foresightedness and his intense interest and desire to improve Florida's agricultural industry that some of the finest facilities in the south have been provided for this purpose."

Florida is particularly fortunate in the fact that most of our major shows involving agriculture, horticulture, animal husbandry and the like are staged during the winter months when they serve the double purpose of spurring our own folks to new achievements, and offering thousands of visitors from other states an opportunity to see our products and catch a vision of the possibilities for future development.

"Volume-wise and price-wise we experienced a 'spreading decline' at our Sanford State Market last week," Manager Sandy Anderson bemoaned in his weekly report. "We only sold 62,980 units valued at $101,137.55, a decrease of 32,597 units and $53,656.45 value. A good portion of this decrease was brought about by slow trading in cabbage, celery, iceberg lettuce, cauliflower, which is our heaviest volume. Good supplies of most items are expected this week."

Driver's License Activity Report Revealed Today

The driver's license division of the Department of Public Safety today released its December activity report showing the following Seminole County and statewide actions against Florida drivers.

The division revoked 817 licenses, suspended 356 and canceled 145.

In addition, 101 were returned by the parole commission with restrictions.

Following actions were those in Seminole County: Ovelo-Frank Kostik, Nathaniel Whittney, Revoked; John Pinkey Hart, Canceled; Nash McNeil, Returned by the Parole Commission with Restrictions.

Sanford, William Green, Suspended; Everett Raymond Snyder, Sylvester Burley, Abner Gehart Haug, Returned by the Parole Commission with Restrictions.

Lake Mary, Edward Lareau, Suspended; Geneva, Alex Levine, Suspended.

Poll Shows 90 Pct. People Opposed To Federal Aid Bill

About 90 per cent of the people of the Fifth Congressional District are opposed to the federal aid for school construction bill now being considered by the Rules Committee of the House of Representatives, if the results of a poll now being taken by Congressman A. S. (Syd) Herlong Jr. are an accurate barometer.

In his annual questionnaire to the people of the district, Congressman Herlong asked this question: "Several bills have been introduced calling for federal assistance in a school construction program. One will no doubt soon be considered by Congress. We are confronted with the possibility that aid under any such program may be denied states which have not made 'satisfactory' progress toward integrating their school systems. Under these circumstances, do you favor the federal aid for school construction program?" Replies to this question in the Congressman's office so far are an overwhelming "No."

"No doubt the integration issue has had a great deal to do with this tremendous opposition to the program," Congressman Herlong said. "In previous years, when questioned on federal aid to school construction, a slight majority of the people replying to the questionnaire had favored such a program. The fact that there is a possibility of Florida residents having to pay taxes to support a program and not receive any of the money unless we integrate our schools certainly must have had its effect," Herlong continued. "Another thing - Gus Kelley, author of the bill, told me that there was no question but that any person who wanted to could bring suit and obtain an order which would prevent any of the money from being spent toward the construction of any schools which were not integrated. The NAACP has already served notice that such suit will be brought in Florida. I am glad that our people understand what the problem is and have expressed themselves so conclusively on this program," the Congressman concluded.

The federal aid to school construction bill has been passed by the Education and Labor Committee of the House and is now before the Rules Committee. Unless the bill passes that committee, there is little likelihood of its being brought up in the House of Representatives this session.

Paraplegia Victims Are Eliminating Major Handicap

CHATTANOOGA, TENN. (AP)—Victims of paraplegia here aren't throwing away their crutches and wheelchairs, but many of them are eliminating one major handicap—the sense of dependency the disabled often feel because they can't land a job.

Directly responsible is Disabled Enterprises Inc., a rehabilitation center for paraplegics.

Chattanooga's tri-state chapter of the National Paraplegic Foundation, whose leaders worked tirelessly to establish the center, knows of no other center, which opens its own grounds, building, is open to veterans and nonveterans alike, furnishes transportation, is operated by paraplegics for paraplegics, and, most important, combines therapy training, employment and public information in one project.

The Chattanooga Junior Chamber of Commerce recently presented its distinguished service award to three paraplegic war veterans for their roles in the development of Disabled Enterprises. They were Gordon Scott, Charles Miller and Mike Lawrence.

Scott was the tri-state chapter's first chairman when it was organized in 1951, with a membership of 14 paraplegics. Since then, more than half the approximately 200 paraplegics in the area have become affiliated with the chapter.

In 1952, Scott purchased a site for a workshop with $15,000 of his own money. A fund-raising campaign brought in $3,000.

With contributions of materials, equipment and labor by Chattanooga building and labor organizations, the chapter converted the lone building on its property into a work, sales, training and recreation center with emphasis on physical therapy.

By November 1954 the chapter was able to buy the property from Scott at the same price he paid for it.

The same month, the organization received approval of a request for an expansion grant of $8,000 from the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation in Nashville and Washington.

The $3,000 has been placed in the bank and may be used for administrative salaries and office and shop equipment.

Small assembly work, such as stuffing toys and putting together pencil toys, comprises the center's major operation. There is also production of wood items.

The center hopes to have 35 paraplegics employed regularly by the end of this year, and to lease or purchase equipment needed to handle new business.

One of the major factors in planning work at the center has been the establishment of work methods and procedures designed to train paraplegics for jobs in regular industry.

Its income from total sales and services was $23,000 last year, compared to $6,000 in 1954.

Warren Takes Pot Shot At Opponent

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Fuller Warren warmed up for his gubernatorial campaign today by taking a pot shot at one of his opponents, retired-Lt. Gen. Sumner Lewry of Tampa.

In a statement, Warren said Lewry, "has been shelling me sharply with a barrage of verbal blanks."

"A little later on, I may fire a few salvos of light ammunition at this one-star political general. At present, I am too busy assembling the heavy artillery for more formidable enemies to take time to lob a few shells into the general's walnut-paneled, Persian-carpeted foxhole on the Tampa 'front.'"

Lewry, who is campaigning on a platform of maintaining segregation, said Tuesday that Warren, when he was governor, vetoed a clause in a 1951 appropriations bill which would have taken public school funds away from counties permitting a mixture of the races.

Fire Department Has Active Week

The Sanford Fire Department had a busy week said Chief Mack N. Cleveland Sr. this morning.

However, the Chief said, most of the fires did not claim heavy damage.

"At one time last week, on Friday night, all of the equipment was out," said Chief Cleveland as he reviewed the week's firefighting.

The heaviest damage was done, the Chief reported Friday morning when a frame home at 413 East 5th St. was at least 60 percent destroyed. The rental house is owned by D. C. Brock, according to the Fire Department Chief's records.

Other fires occurred 26th and Grapeville Ave, outside the City limits and on the south side of Sanford Ave. on Onora Road when a frame dwelling was "practically well burned out," said the Chief.

Another house fire was put out, said the Chief, on Southwest Road. "We were fortunate in that we contained the blaze Friday morning in the one house on Fifth St. It was in a pretty heavily populated area," he said and the entire area was threatened.

B. R. Morrow Makes 2,000th Catapult Off Ticonderoga

Lieutenant Commander Billy Ray Morrow and his crew were prepared for a routine catapult launching when they stepped onto the flight deck of the USS Ticonderoga one day last week. Instead, they learned to their pleasant surprise that their launch was a little more than routine - it was to be 2,000th catapulting of an aircraft off the ship. Pausing only long enough to admire the description on the nose of their A-1J, Morrow and crew then launched on another routine mission in support of the U. S. Sixth Fleet somewhere in the Mediterranean Sea. A huge cake, suitably described, awaited them in the hangar's ready room upon their return. After the cake-cutting, speech and photo, all hands present made short work of the cake. LCDR Morrow's comment: "We'll leave the 2,000th one for VAN-5!"

Kiwanis Club Receives Achievement Award For 1955 Activities

W. Brown Miller Reveals Candidacy For Reelection

W. Brown Miller announced today his candidacy for reelection to the District 1 for the Seminole County Board of Commissioners subject to the May 8 Democratic primary.

"At the urging of my friends," Miller said, "and because I want to see the Board of Commissioners complete several projects already planned, I am asking for a second term." Among those projects, he says, are State Road 413 (Galaxy Ave.) and State Road 415 (Galaxy Ave.) to be started in July.

Miller said today, "Since election, I have never missed a meeting of the Board of County Commissioners and have voted my own convictions on every question. I have favored and worked for all forward-looking projects such as the Seminole Memorial Hospital, Highway 17-92, 27th Street Branch Ave., and the General Sanford Memorial Library and Museum, as well as working for secondary roads in various parts of the county and a workshop and garage building to protect expensive road equipment.

"I am, at the present time, Chairman of the Board of Seminole County Commissioners," Miller said, "and have rendered as best a service to the public as possible." He said, "I have made it a point to take time to talk to people and explain the need for road and ditch work in any district."

Miller stated, "This effort has been appreciated by many citizens. I am the kind of man you can talk to because I am interested in your problems."

W. Brown Miller came to Seminole County in 1907, and except for the time in the Army during World War I in France, has never been out of the County more than a few days at a time.

He is married and with his wife has operated and lived on his celery farm on Celery Ave. for over 35 years. He is a member of the Presbyterian Church, Men's Bible Class, a Mason, member of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

SHS Students Hold Sadie Hawkins Day Events Tomorrow

Tomorrow, Feb. 23, beginning at 1 p. m., the students at Seminole High School will hold their Leap Year Sadie Hawkins Day events.

Every leap year the student council of the school sponsors a leap year day in which the reverse of things is carried out such as girls chasing boys, buying their refreshments and of course entering the marriage race.

The first event will be the Sadie Hawkins Day marriage race in which the girls will catch the boys and be married by "preacher" Roger Harris for a dime.

Other events such as a pie eating contest, tug of war, sack race, pillow fight, bong calling contest, and greased pig race will take place at 30 minute intervals, up till 5:30 p. m.

The different clubs of the school are sponsoring booths and will sell candied, apples, soft drinks, snow cones, waffles, sandwiches, coffee and other treats. Also planned is a balloon booth, a dart game booth and pitch-ball-at-the-man booth in which some "lucky" teacher may get a duncecap.

At 6 p. m. a square dance will be held in the auditorium of the school and will last to 9 p. m. A band will furnish the music and Lila Almer and Daisy Mae will be recognized.

The students had until 1:45 p. m. today to cast their penny votes in a jar for the lucky senior boy and girl. The Public is invited to attend the events.

Board To Investigate Possibilities Of Pool

A swimming pool for the Goldsboro Recreation Area was the key discussion at last night's meeting of the Board of Sanford City Commissioners.

Commissioner John Krider said, "I realize we have no money at the present moment but the time has come to discuss a project that is definitely needed."

City Manager Warren Knowles said that it would take 40 to 45 thousand dollars as a minimum expense to construct a swimming pool for the area.

Mayor F. D. Scott told the commissioners "We don't have enough money to take advantage of a paid director to supervise the recreation program in the City."

However, Commissioner Krider said, "I am speaking of a summer program when we do have a paid director. The time has come—probably next year—when a paid director must be provided."

Then Krider said "I would like to see the City go on record for an investigation into the type of pool needed, its cost, and the method of financing for it will take a full program to attract the children to the Goldsboro Recreation Area and its facilities."

Commissioner Earl Higginbotham said "This type of facility has an intangible value that you can't put your finger on."

Surveying the present program that was put underway at the first of the year Krider told the commissioners, "We have enough money to complete what we have planned up to now."

U Of F Fraternity Pledges Redecorate Gift, Loan Closet

Not long ago, the Pi Lambda Phi, a social fraternity at the University of Florida, was looking for projects for their "Help Week" efforts that were being made to replace their "Hell Week."

The Seminole County Junior Chamber of Commerce, when its president, A. B. Peterson Jr., was contacted, referred them to the Seminole County Unit of the American Cancer Society which needed its Gift and Loan Closet, recently contributed by Mrs. Beulah Thornton, redecorated.

Four of the pledges to Pi Lambda Phi were sent to Sanford to complete the project.

Sheldon Huffer of Coral Gables, Martin Horwitz of Miami, Jules Lion of Miami, and Pete Mula of St. Petersburg were sent here and spent the night in the City Jail Friday night on arrival by direction of the fraternity.

Saturday morning, under the direction of Mrs. Gertrude Ditzfelder, chairman of the local Cancer Society Unit, the fraternity pledges went to work cleaning and repainting the two rooms at 105 East 12th St.

The two day project was one of eight different projects in as many cities in Georgia and Florida undertaken during the "Help Week" efforts of the fraternity.

On hand to see that the boys were steadily at work, and to see a project well done, were Mrs. Don Bales and Mrs. Ditzfelder of the Seminole County Unit, American Cancer Society, and Casfield Willetts, chairman of the Community Service Committee of the local Jaycee organization.

The boys said, "We're happy that we've given an opportunity to help in worthy projects throughout the State."

Films To Be Shown

The CPO Wives Club will have a showing of films on cancer tonight in the CPO Club on the base starting at 8 o'clock. All members are urged to attend this meeting. Light refreshments will be served afterwards.

February Building Permits Go Over Half Million Mark

Douglas Stenstrom Seeks Reelection To Senate Position

Senator Douglas Stenstrom of Sanford today announced his candidacy for re-election in the Democratic May primaries. Senator Stenstrom was elected to the Senate in 1952 to represent the 27th Senatorial District, comprising Brevard and Seminole Counties.

A former Judge of Seminole County, he was born and raised at Sanford, and is a graduate of the University of Florida and John B. Stetson College of Law.

Senator Stenstrom stated, "I have appreciated the privilege of service in the Florida Senate afforded me by the people of the 27th District. I hope that my public and private conduct has been such as to merit your continued confidence and support."

"I like to feel that the vote I have cast in the Senate has been in the public interest and that in some small way, I have contributed to the ideal of clean government in Florida."

"I will continue, if re-elected, to cooperate with county, city, and school officials of both Brevard and Seminole Counties when called upon, and to work for the growth and development of our two counties, as I have done in the past."

During the 1953 legislative session, Senator Stenstrom served as Chairman of the Senate Citrus Committee and also on the Inter-County Senate-Bureau Committee. He is a member of the Inter-County Senate-House Joint Committee on Mental Health.

In 1953, Stenstrom was voted the "Most Promising First Term Senator" by his Senate colleagues. In the traditional poll of capital correspondents, he tied for fifth place in the St. Petersburg Times "Most Valuable Senator" award.

An active civic worker, Stenstrom has served as president of the Seminole County Children's Committee, the American Red Cross, Junior Chamber of Commerce, and the Sanford Kiwanis Club. A veteran of World War II, he has served as Senior Vice-Commander of the Florida Department of the Disabled American Veterans and as Chairman of the Sixth District American Legion Boys' State Program. He is a past vice-president of the Florida Juvenile Judges' Association, and is presently vice-president of the Seminole County Bar Association. Senator Stenstrom is a past vice-president of the Florida Bantled Brotherhood. He is 34, married, and has two children.

EXCHANGE AGREEMENT

MOSCOW (AP)—Five American medical men have arrived in Moscow for a month's visit under an exchange agreement with the Soviet Union. A Russian medical delegation now is in the United States.

Building permits for the City of Sanford will go over the half million dollar mark for the month of February this year.

According to John M. Gillon, Building Inspector for the City, permits up to today total $502,570.

The continued growth of Sanford is marked in the new building that is under construction at this time with prospects of continued advancement and an influx in the permits for the future.

In comparison with February of 1953, building permits for the month of February 1954 are more than double with two more days to add to the total.

Construction for February, as shown in the permits issued this month, will include commercial construction as well as homes and churches.

Acceleration is expected in the number and total value of construction apparently planned for the future.

The opening of the French Ave. thoroughfare will, no doubt, expand the commercial and industrial building for the future.

Construction permits issued in February of 1953 were for building valued at $243,078, Gillon said as he revealed the more than half million dollar total for the first 27 days of this month.

Sen. H. M. Kilgore Succumbs Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Harley Martin Kilgore, the first West Virginia Democrat elected to three successive terms to the U.S. Senate, died early today.

Death came at 2:23 a.m. to the 63-year-old Democrat at Bethesda Naval Hospital.

He became seriously ill Feb. 23 when he suffered "a minor stroke" at the hospital. He had gone there 12 days before for a physical checkup and treatment for high blood pressure.

Prior to the stroke he had responded favorably to treatment and had expected to leave the hospital within a few days.

Harold C. Miller, Kilgore's administrative assistant, said the senator suffered another cerebral hemorrhage early this morning and died soon afterward. He had been in a semi-coma for most of the past two days, Miller said, and was unconscious at the time of death.

Mrs. Lois Kilgore, his wife, a son, Robert, and a daughter, Mrs. Albert T. Young Jr., visited the senator yesterday evening.

Miller said doctors at the hospital attributed death to a stroke stemming from high blood pressure.

With Kilgore's death, the Democratic majority in the Senate was reduced to one seat, 48-47. The West Virginian was the first senator to die in this session of Congress.

Court House Will Close So Employees May Attend Rites

The Board of Seminole County Commissioners, because of their intense interest in the progress of value of the French Ave. project, has agreed that the Seminole County Court House will close Friday March 9 in order that County employees may attend the dedication ceremonies which will be held at 4:30 that afternoon.

Seminole County Clerk of Circuit Court said this morning that the Court House will close and all employees will avail themselves of the opportunity to attend the ribbon-cutting ceremonies that will be held immediately in front of Seminole High School.

The Seminole High School point was chosen, said James A. Wright, chairman of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce French Ave. Dedication Committee, because of its vantage point in viewing the entire project and because of the large area available for parking and in placing the speakers platform.

Interest is increasing in the dedication which is scheduled to take place in approximately ten days.

It is expected that many dignitaries from over the entire state will be in Sanford for the event with hundreds of road minded citizens and officials from the entire Central Florida area coming here for both the ribbon cutting ceremony and the banquet which will be held at 7 o'clock that evening at the Mayfair Inn.

Names of the dignitaries who have accepted invitations have not as yet been released but they are expected to include well known figures from the State's political and governmental offices as well as interested citizens.

The banquet, to be staged by the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce, and headed by James A. Wright as committee chairman, is expected to be a sellout affair with reservations and tickets made available more than three weeks ago.

The French Ave. project is the first major road building for Seminole County in 23 years.
