PLOT TO MURDER WILSON FOUND IN GOMPERS' BOOKS

Mr. Gompers, in telling the discovery of the plot against the life of the war president, also reveals what may be another hidden tragedy of the war—the fate of an unchronicled secret service man named Garland.

Garland Learns of Plot

"After the outbreak of the European war," says Mr. Gompers in a chapter headed "President Wilson's Assassination," "I was in the United States and later following his profession as a free lance, ingratiated himself into the confidence of these agencies and learned many things which he communicated either through Mr. Ralph M. Easley or to the direct."

Hulick And Hulick Enrolled As Members Of Sanford Chamber Of Commerce; Attendance Is Increasing

Howard and Bloomfield Hulick, hotel men who will erect the Forrest Lake Hotel in Sanford, became members of the Sanford Chamber of Commerce Friday afternoon at the largest attended meeting of the organization held in recent months. How and why the hotel project related by Howard Hulick, formed one of the feature addresses of the meeting.

Sound Praise For Sanford

Mr. Hulick stated that there is no town in the state that is well adapted to care for the needs of tourists as Sanford is. He likened the city to the hub of the wheel, with the entire state surrounding it. He said "everything" is compelled to come here as Sanford is the logical center of the state.

Charges of Discrimination

In the discussion of the advertising prior to the vote on the bill, the speaker urged that an appropriation for advertising be made but advanced conservatism. Chamber members were advised to make their advertising plans in detail and if necessary, increase their appropriation but to watch for the proper time and when this time came, "spread the news."

POSTAL BILL'S FATE NOW LIES WITH COOLIDGE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—Fate of the postal pay and rate increase bill now rests with President Coolidge, the senate having joined the house in approving the conference report, virtually substituting the house bill for a measure previously approved by the senate. Administration leaders believe the bill will receive the President's approval.

Campaign Expense Rider Tacked On Bill

The bill also carries as a "rider" a corrupt practice act strictly limiting campaign expenditures of congressional candidates as recommended by the Senate campaign finance committee.

Salary Increases Are Same As Carried In Measure Passed At Last Session

The salary increases are the same as carried in the measure passed at the last session and vetoed by President Coolidge. With the rate advances added, however, administration leaders are hopeful the bill will receive presidential approval.

Opposition To Conference Report Was Based Entirely On Rate Provisions

Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee, one of the conferees also told the Senate the President had "asserted his prerogatives in insisting on some of the rate increases, mentioning particularly the two cents service charge of parcel post packages."

Controversy Over Rate Increases Centered Over Second and Fourth Classes

In the former, the rate is made uniform on all reading matter at one and one-half cents a pound, while for advertising matter the rate is set at two cents in the first and second zones; three cents a pound in the third zone; six cents a pound in the fourth, fifth and sixth zones; and nine cents a pound in the seventh and eighth zones.

MAYO PROPOSES INSPECTION LAW FOR CITRUS FRUIT

Unless Consumption Increases Or Foreign Markets Gain Fast, Industry Is In For Readjustment, Says Report

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 26.—Nathan Mayo, commissioner of agriculture, will present to the Florida Extension Club, at the forthcoming meeting called for formulation of the citrus fruit inspection law to be presented to the legislature in April, a forecast made by the United States department of agriculture on the outlook for the citrus fruit industry.

The forecast, received here from Washington, points out that unless the "per capita consumption of citrus fruits increases considerably and foreign markets are developed rapidly the citrus industry is confronted with an exceedingly difficult problem of readjustment." With a few exceptions, such as summer oranges and possibly some replacement plantings no new groves will be needed to supply the market for the next decade, except in the event of a severe freeze it says, and continues:

"Production of all citrus fruit increased from 20,000,000 boxes in 1920 to around 40,000,000 in 1923. If all the young non-bearing groves in existence at present are given sufficient care and attention to bring them into bearing and if new and old trees continue to produce at the present rate there will be a production of at least 70,000,000 boxes by 1930.

"Oranges show the greatest prospective increase. New plantings of oranges during the past few years in California have been sufficient only to maintain the present acreage of bearing trees, but more than seven million trees were planted in Florida in the five years, 1919-1924. There are large acreages of young grapefruit in both Florida and Texas. New plantings of grapefruit in Florida have been at the rate of from 250,000 to 500,000 trees per year since 1919 and a total of more than a million have been planted in Texas during this time.

"In recent years there has been a downward trend in prices especially of grapefruit and of oranges that are marketed during the winter season. Auction prices at New York for Florida oranges of Golden grade averaged $6.07 per box and only $3.27 in 1923-24. Prices of Florida grapefruit averaged $4.75 per box in 1919-20 and $4.55 in 1923-24, but only $2.98 per box in 1923-24. The action prices for a group of representative brands of California navel oranges averaged $5.70 in 1919-20 and only $2.97 in 1923-24. Prices for the 1924-25 season have not varied widely from the prices of last year.

"While there is doubtless a possibility of increasing the number of market markets it must be remembered that through redistribution from central markets citrus fruits now reach practically every market in the country and the problem so far as domestic trade is concerned is almost entirely one of stimulating the demand and increasing the consumption in the territory now being served. Lemons and oranges are sent to market every month in the year but the bulk of oranges must be marketed in the period from Nov. to June and practically all of the grapefruit comes to market during this period. The problem thus becomes one of stimulating demand particularly during the winter and spring months.

"It is to be expected that the growth of the population of the country will result in a corresponding growth in the demand for citrus fruit, but at present our population seems to be increasing at the rate of only one to two per cent a year. Thus, our population in 1930 will very probably not be more than 10 per cent greater than it is at present, while the prospects are that citrus production will be at a rate of more than 50 per cent greater than at present.

"To some extent the consumption of citrus fruits can be increased through the use of by-products. At the present time a considerable amount of fruit is used for such purposes but the by-products industry can never be expected to take more than a small amount of the fruit.

"The United States may look for increased exports in her citrus fruits. In 1924 the total orange exports amounted to over 2,500,000 boxes. While this is only a small amount of the total production the potential demand is of considerable importance.

"Most of this fruit went to Canada. The exports of citrus fruits to European countries is at present difficult because of competition with producing areas in the Mediterranean district, Palestine and South Africa. Transportation especially from the Mediterranean countries is at a cost much lower than from the United States to the various consuming centers in Northern European markets.

"The immediate foreign situation seems to favor improvement in the market for lemons. Production of lemons in Italy, the chief competitor of the United States in domestic markets as well as in Canada, appears to be declining. There also seems to be some prospect for improvement in European economic conditions which will increase the European demand for lemons and afford some relief to the United States by taking more Italian lemons off the domestic and Canadian markets. A relief from competition in these markets would turn over to American producers a market which now takes about a million and a half boxes.

"The problem of the foreign market for grapefruit is primarily that of creating a demand. In increasing sales in Europe it is necessary both to educate the European taste for grapefruit and to find economical methods of marketing which will make it possible to sell at relatively low prices."

Tuberculosis; Cady's C. C. R.

Disabled Veterans of the World War:

Six months after being discharged from the service, I broke down in health, and upon an examination, I was found to be suffering with Acute Tuberculosis. I took the rest cure at home, using no medicine, and a year later I was sent to a Government Hospital in the South. I was placed in one of the wards as one of the twenty-four hour bed patients, and after being there nearly a year, I became quite tired of the place and left, still being active and having the cough. Soon after leaving the hospital, I noticed in the daily paper an ad for this CADY'S C. C. R., and reading of a few wonderful cures it had made I decided to try a couple of bottles, and after tak- ing the second bottle, I noticed my cough a great deal better. I continued with this medicine and in all I have taken about 12 bottles. A couple of months later I returned to my home in the North, and a few weeks after returning, I was requested to report for an examination, and was told by the doctor that I had an ARRESTED CASE. I cannot lay the cure to anything but this CADY'S C. C. R., as I had taken no other medicine, and when I left the hospital I was still a twenty-four bed patient. Hoping this statement will reach many of the disabled ex-service men, I remain, Very truly yours, Chas. B. Engels. Ge Del., St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 25, 1925.

SUPPLY IS SURE.—Trust in the Lord, and do good, so shalt thou be fed. Delight thyself also in the Lord; and he shall give thee the desires of thine heart. Psalm 37:3-4.

ONE YEAR TO LIVE

If I had but one year to live; One year to help; one year to give; One year to love; one year to bless; One year to better things to stress; To brighten earth a little while; One year to sing my Maker's praise; One year to fill with work my days; One year to strive for a reward. When I should stand before my Lord, One year to strive for a reward I think that I would spend each day in that the very self same way that I do now. For from afar The call may come to cross the bar At any time, and I must be Prepared to meet eternity. So if I have a year to live, Or just one day in which to give A pleasant smile, a helping hand, A mind that tries to understand A fellow-creature when in need 'Tis one with me—I take no heed; But try to live each day He sends To serve my gracious Master's ends. —Mary Davis Reed.

Once upon a time work was started upon the Sanford yacht basin. That was over a year ago and still we have no yacht basin. What's the matter with rushing things and get it completed?

The Matter of Co-Operation

Sanford and Seminole county are now menaced by a loss that may amount to as much as two million dollars through damage to the celery crop, particularly the new celery, through the depredations of the Celery Leaf Tyer, and insect pest which, in the moth stage of development, is now numerous throughout the celery districts. This loss and possibly a larger one will be suffered if celery men stand idly by and allow the pest to take its course.

In a meeting held at the court house a few nights ago, which was attended by a large number of representative celery growers and which was addressed by men who know how to raise celery and men who know what successful celery raising means to this section, a program of dealing with the pest was mapped out. The essence of this program may be stated in a single word, which trite and over used as it is, is expressive of great meaning. This is co-operation, or working for others as well as oneself.

The actual mechanics of the program are careful destruction of all celery debris after the vegetable is cut and an intensive spraying campaign to kill the pest while it is in the worm stage. Any one man can, with the proper sprays, go out and kill millions of the pests in a single day, but unless others do the same thing, his effort is as wasted as those of a single electric fan against a cyclone. If all of the celery growers start such a campaign, it is merely a matter of work, time, and a nominal loss before the pest is brought under control. This is where co-operation enters into the situation.

Sanford has through working together build up the leading celery industry in the United States which means the world as well. Though the celery industry in Seminole county is about twenty-five years old, Seminole county is just now beginning to understand the benefits that may be derived from co-operation and just beginning to see the extent to which co-operation may be beneficially carried.

By co-operating people of the county may avert a loss of two million dollars. The old adage "Money Saved is Money Earned" is as true as ever though it has been modernized to "Money Saved is Clear Velvet". Is two million dollars in "clear velvet", to be earned by working together worth working for?

Take Note of The Children's Games

If they can manage it without being obtrusive parents and other grown-ups interested in the welfare of children can derive much valuable information by watching the "make-believe" game of boys and girls.

The Herald has in mind the case of seven-year old boy who has been playing one kind of a game for the last four months without any one, so far as we can discover, finding anything to worry about in the character training the games seem to indicate.

Being a leader in his neighborhood, the boy usually has five or six younger children following his directions in the thrilling make-believe, and to this writing we have heard of no interest being shown by any of the neighborhood families in their children's playtime learning.

The boy, a bright, rugged little fellow, plays "murder" all the time. Sometimes he is a great Indian chief and conducts a wholesale massacre. Sometimes he is a Bluebeard. Sometimes he is a lone bandit who picks off his victims man by man. Often he is a robber who slips into the house at night and cuts everybody's throat before he begins his search for the family jewels.

"Say your prayers," he will thunder. "I will give you seven minutes and three seconds to live. Then you shall DIE, DIE, DIE!" The younger children, under his dramatic direction, say their prayers, and fall at the pop of his toy gun, or groan as he plunges his pasteboard dagger into their hearts.

To a casual on-looker the game is probably amusing, but just what is going on in the mind of that youngster as he devises his bloody scenes? What sort of thoughts are started in the minds of the less imaginative children? And where do their observing parents keep themselves?

An active, bright child, like this murdering boy, should have plenty of imaginative play. He should have encouragement to carry on his entertaining games. But something has been sadly wrong in the quality of the inspiration this child has had. He has been exposed to something vicious, either at the movies, or in the conversation of his elders. He is too young to have read books dealing with the themes with which he is so familiar.

Not knowing the parents of this boy we cannot say what their attitude is toward moving picture shows. They may have been among that large number of selfish, ignorant people who use no discretion whatever in selecting pictures for their children to see. One thing only is certain, the boy is thinking wrong and his mind will never be cleaned of all the poison it is absorbing.

Look into the kind of play your children enjoy. Notice their make-believe games. Examine what you are offering in the way of inspiration for plenty of the right kind of fun.

MANKIND ARE ALWAYS happier for having been happy; so that if you make them happy now, you make them happy twenty years hence by the memory of it.—Sydney Smith.

THE AIR-CRAFT SQUABBLE

Whatever else may be said of Col. William Mitchell, former brigadier general and assistant chief of the United States army air service—and there is plenty being said about him—he cannot be accused of being a "quitter." Under the hottest kind of fire from his superiors in the War Department, who, became angered at his testimony given before the house aircraft committee and accomplished his mission to colonelcy, Mitchell has held fast to the best traditions of the army and "carried on." His name is inscribed among the proverbial five per cent who do not know what fear is and hence are never influenced by it.

Colonel Mitchell believes, with a number of less courageous officers, that the bombing plane and the pursuit plane have ended the usefulness of the battleship. Formerly he had no hesitancy in so stating his views before the investigating committee from the house, before representatives of the press, and in magazine articles at various times. In fact, in this respect he seems to have broken the mysterious bounds of discipline to such an extent that it has become necessary "for the good of the service," as President Coolidge put it, that he be removed from the former high position and assigned to a relatively unimportant place in the service.

However much one is inclined to sympathize with Colonel Mitchell in his hour of trial; however much one deplores the public spectacle of the man's superiors in the army and navy doing execution upon him

As Brisbane Sees It

Lunacy, "Under the Elms," Mice, in Nine Letters. Mellon is Richer. Good News. BY ARTHUR BRISBANE (Copyright 1924)

THE BIG city of New York is enjoying a virtuous spasm about "immoral plays." Twelve of the various plays, running are called immoral. Honest policemen of simple heart are sent to investigate. They are so much overcome by the sight of ladies with their backs bare down to the waists that they can't hear the lines, and report "the play should be closed."

THERE IS much excitement about one play "Desire Under the Elms." It's a dull kind of a production, according to those that have seen it, with a plot worthy of a thyroid-lacking moron.

A man with a gloomy son marries again. The son resents putting somebody in his own mother's place and hates the stepmother.

The stepmother falls in love with the stepson, a pretty little thought "Under the elms."

She finally persuades him to disgrace himself and his own father. As a result of this monstrous mess a child is born. The mother, thinking to oblige the stepson, murders their child. The stepson starts for the sheriff, to hang the stepmother, then suddenly discovers that he is in love with her, or words to that effect.

SUCH A PLAY as that isn't exactly "immoral," it merely ought to open the doors of the insane asylum for everybody concerned in producing it.

As for people that go to see such performances, they are worthy of the performance.

IF YOUR cross-word puzzle calls for a word in nine letters meaning jumping mice, the answer is Zapsididae. The manager of the London Zoological Garden answered that question and then printed this notice, "We can't help you to solve any more cross-word puzzles."

CROSS-WORD puzzles are highly interesting, and they undoubtedly increase the vocabulary. But they do it in an unsystematic, quite useless way.

Young people who want to increase their vocabulary should not deceive themselves with cross words. Let them read Shakespeare, understand what they are reading. In six months they will have more of a vocabulary, more knowledge and command of the English language than they could get from cross-word puzzles in six thousand years.

ON WASHINGTON'S birthday, for the first time in a century, Washington's Farewell Address telling the United States to keep out of European entanglements was not read in the lower house. This is one year when it SHOULD have been read.

AS USUAL, somebody reminds you that George Washington was the richest man in America in his day. You are asked to wonder that a rich man should work so hard for his country.

But you needn't wonder. Andrew Mellon, the Secretary of the Treasury, is with two possible exceptions, the richest man in the United States, or in the whole world for that matter. He could buy George Washington, Mount Vernon and all at least once a month and not feel the expense.

MR. MELLON works hard and efficiently administering the national finances with marvelous ingenuity and skill, and enduring much heated criticism, for a salary less than he pays to any one of a hundred minor employees in his own concern.

THE CONGRESSIONAL committee has decided to go on with the aircraft investigation. That's good news. It is suggested that the President or somebody representing him wished the investigation closed. That is not true. President Coolidge wants the TRITTI and wants the people as well as himself to know it.

SENATOR BORAH, heartless sort of man from the wide West, will force Congressmen that voted to increase their own salaries to stand up and be counted. They don't wish to be counted, because they don't want the home-folks to know that they voted to raise their own pay. That's why the thing was done in secret with out a roll call. But the increase is reasonable.

A GREAT many young people read about Osborne Wood, son of the United States Governor of the Philippines, and about his big winnings in Wall Street and his big winnings in European gambling houses. Now comes the end of the story. Young Wood has no money. The French police, hunting him, accuse him of passing worthless checks. Young Wood says, "I have had my dance, now I must pay the fiddler." Don't gamble, it doesn't pay.

ANNUAL SPRING FASHION SHOW IS PRESENTED BY BAUMEL'S SPECIALTY SHOP THURSDAY NIGHT AT MILANE

One of the most elaborate events yet staged by the Baumel's Specialty Shop was the presentation of spring models at the Milane Theatre Tuesday evening. Eight lovely members of Sanford's social set, who acted as models were: Mrs. D. P. Drummond, Mrs. John Maurer, Mrs. R. S. Holly, Miss Iris Speering, Miss Hazel Sorrell, Miss Olive Newman, Miss Gladys Wilson and Miss Mildred Holly.

An attractive background for the display of the gowns was furnished by a scene arranged to represent the interior of a gown shop. Tall French floor vases filled with cherry blossoms and spring flowers were suggestive of the season while attractive articles of feminine apparel were pleasingly arranged.

Straight lines continue in favor, but for the young girls, the bon-fait model seemed popular. The length of the gowns varied from ten to twelve inches from the floor. Each model presented to an appreciative audience eight distinctive costumes, each worthy of mention. Some of the most admired costumes were:

Mrs. Drummond made a beautiful study in an ensemble suit of powder blue. The coat was a straight model of faille with Chinese neck line and the dress was of white flat crepe with a band of blue faille in points on the bottom. A hat of white embroidered taffeta and straw completed the costume.

Another costume that Mrs. Drummond appeared in was a dinner gown of white chiffon crepe which was made in a simple boice fashion with a design of large roses exquisitely embroidered in shading colored beads on the full skirt.

Mrs. John Maurer wore an attractive ensemble suit of Kasha cloth in maize and white stripes, trimmed with metal bottoms. With this she wore a sport hat of white taffeta and straw embroidered in metal thread and braid.

Another lovely frock that Mrs. Maurer modeled so charmingly was a Peggy Daige creation of floured chiffon fashioned over apricot silk, with this she wore a small poke-shaped hat of apricot silk and straw with a vari-colored ornament placed at one side.

One of the most admired costumes shown was a white sport dress of flat crepe with round collar and cuffs of cut work in blue and ties and belt of narrow blue ribbon. A close fitting white turban with a single ornament of rhinestones completed this costume, which was strikingly modeled by Miss Hazel Sorrell. Miss Sorrell also wore a new spring coat of flannel in Lanvin green with a printed motif in gray and green on a collar and cuffs. With this she wore a poke bonnet of Lanvin green straw with a loose faille bow on one side.

Mrs. R. S. Holly, modeled an exquisite Peggy Daige sport frock of white and brick red flat crepe, fashioned on straight lines. The top was white embroidered crepe and three folds of the brick red crepe finished the bottom. A ribbon hat in amber tones was worn with this frock.

A lovely afternoon gown of powder blue crepe trimmed with ivory lace, was worn by Mrs. Holly. A picture hat of henna straw trimmed in shaded flowers completed this costume.

Miss Mildred Holly wore a beautiful imported hand-made Peggy Daige sport frock of apricot crepe which was elaborately embroidered. With this she wore a hat of apricot faille trimmed with a showed bow of metal ribbon.

An exquisite afternoon gown of black and white flat crepe, with jumper effect and full skirt upon which, a panel was set embroidered in leather patch work, was worn by Miss Holly. A close fitting black straw hat with white burnt peacock feathers was worn with this gown.

Miss Iris Speering appeared in a beautiful dinner gown of white flat crepe elaborately embroidered in steel beads on a cut work design. This is an imported Peggy Daige model and with it she wore a picture hat of flower-trimmed orange straw and an orange scarf.

Miss Gladys Wilson made a charming model in an afternoon gown of Irish green and black, made on straight lines, the green top being embroidered in metal thread and a band of black satin finishing the bottom. A deep fringed Spanish shawl of green with hand painted flowers upon it was worn with this dress.

Another frock modeled by Miss Wilson was a lovely chiffon trimmed with yoke and hem of net embroidered in many colors. With this she wore a hat of maize and white silk and straw in a tam-o-shanter shape with braiding in white.

Miss Olive Newman modeled a black satin afternoon gown made with the straight lines, and flounced with petal-shaped ruffles piped in red. Bright red poppies on leaves of gold patchwork were the only trimmings. A small hat with a black pom-pom completed this costume.

A cherry red canton crepe sport frock, made with hiptricks and a tie of white, was worn with a close fitting straw hat of red.

The closing scene was most attractive, each model appearing in a sport costume of bright hue carrying an opened Japanese parasol.

During the evening the following program was given and greatly enjoyed:

Mrs. Frank Donaldson sang "It Had to Be You."

Miss Martha Fitts gave several novelty dances.

H. C. Clause sang "Lovely Hawaiian."

Miss Mildred Holly sang "All Alone."

S. S. Baumel gave several soft shoe specialties.

The Dale Troy orchestra of Orlando furnished the music throughout the evening and as a speciality during intermission, gave several numbers.

Appreciation for the co-operation of all those whose help made the showing a success, was expressed by Mr. Baumel today.

65 Years of Pain stopped in this matchless way

For 65 years St. Jacobs Oil has been ending pain for millions. It stops at once most of the pains we suffer, and gives Nature a chance to cure. All pains allied to rheumatism, to backache and lameness are among them. And the pains and dangers of chest colds.

Some results come through counter irritation. Some by relieving congestion, by bringing the blood to the skin. All are prompt. Before you stop rubbing on St. Jacobs Oil the pain ebbs away.

Then you forget the trouble, while Nature has a chance to cure the cause. You can afford to wait.

Some will tell you other ways to do this. But remember that this way has for 65 years been relieving pains for millions. It does that quickly, without burning the skin. You can rely on it. Your general guarantance it. Why take chances on a method not so sure?

Keep St. Jacobs Oil on hand. Have it ready when the pain starts. Don't waste hours which you can spend in comfort. Just a moment of rubbing with St. Jacobs Oil will end most of the pains you suffer. And check a chest cold at the start. Think how little the cost—only 35 cents—to insure that.

PARLIAMENT IN BRITAIN DECAYING

"Big Ben" Stopping Caused of Soot; Stone So Brittle Lacked off With Nail

Feb. 25.—Big Ben, clock of the Houses of Parliament, recently and completely stopped. This suggests that the office of the clock must be done over to prevent the clock from entirely changing its features, because the Houses of Parliament considered one of the finest of Gothic architecture, and strenuous consideration to its famous pinnacles were crumbling away. It has disappeared and the same of restoration had to be for the purpose of the symmetry of the famous building, which about half the pinnacles had fallen, or been in time to time as a safety.

Heavy of the stone features of the figure of the clock tower and some of the pinnacles, battered by the winds and soot, have a mass of skulls and bones. In many places the work has begun to decay over the tower to the purpose of the symmetry of the famous building, which about half the pinnacles had fallen, or been in time to time as a safety.

Problem of subsidization of St. Paul's Cathedral explained recent conditions on which the parliament are built are structure itself is sound. It is simply a decay of the external from the time the parliament were built, the process of external decay is manifest, the softening of the stone due to the action of sulphur in the atmosphere.

A Hint for Beginners
The crossword puzzle diagram is merely a means of concealing words which are synonymous to those listed and which will interlock perfectly and so read equally well crosswise or downwards. Always look for the number of the synonym on the diagram. If horizontal, you must find a word to fit between that number and the first shaded stop to the right; if vertical, you must fit your word between the number and the first shaded stop below.

Home Town Last To Hear Doctor's Fame

GLASGOW, Feb. 25.—The fame of Sir James Mackenzie, heart specialist, who died last week, had spread to the United States, and to other parts of the world, long before he became a figure in the medical world of Great Britain. In connection with his passing the story is told of the visit of Dr. Simon Flexner, director of the Rockefeller Laboratories for Medical Research, who came to London in 1911 and was entertained at the London Hospital. At a distinguished assemblage of surgeons and physicians, Dr. Flexner inquired why James Mackenzie was not there.

"Mackenzie," Flexner said, "I had the honor of being introduced to him by a doctor by that name who has accomplished anything of note." "Well," Dr. Flexner said, "Mackenzie is mighty well known in America, and so are all his works on the heart."

RECIPES FOR PALATABLE DISHES
BY HELEN H. DOWNING

White Loaf Cake
One half cup butter, one and one half cups sugar, white of four eggs, two cups flour, three fourths cup milk, two level teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder, one fourth teaspoon almond extract.

Sift flour once and measure; add baking powder and sift five or six times. Sift sugar, then measure. Cream butter and sugar together thoroughly, then add flour and milk alternately, a little at a time, then flavoring. Fold in carefully the stiffly beaten whites of eggs, and bake in angel cake pan or two loaf pans, forty to sixty minutes at 350 degrees F. Add one cup chopped nut meats if a Nut Loaf cake is desired.

Strawberry Mousse
One quart cream, one box strawberries, one cup sugar, one fourth box gelatine (scant) or one and one fourth tablespoon granulated gelatine, two tablespoons cold water three tablespoons hot water.

Wash and hull berries, sprinkle with sugar, and let stand one hour; mash, and run through a fine sieve; add gelatine soaked in cold and dissolved in boiling water. Set in pan of ice water and stir until it begins to thicken; then fold in whip from cream, put in mould cover, pack in salt and ice, and let stand four hours. Raspberries may be used in place of strawberries.

Petit Fours
Yolks four eggs, one cup sugar, three tablespoons cold water, one and one half tablespoons cold water, one and one half tablespoon corn starch, one and one fourth level teaspoon Calumet Baking Powder, one fourth level teaspoon salt, one teaspoon lemon extract, flour, whites four eggs.

Beat yolks of eggs and water until thick and lemon-colored, add sugar gradually, and beat two minutes. Put corn starch in a cup and fill cup with flour. Mix and sift starch and flour with baking powder and salt, and add to first mixture. When thoroughly mixed, add whites of eggs, beaten until stiff, add flavoring. Bake in a shallow pan, cool, and shape, using a small cutter.

Isle of Wight Mushrooms
Select 12 mushrooms of medium size. Put in a frying pan three tablespoons of butter. When hot, lay in mushrooms, stems up. Sprinkle with salt and a little paprika. Fry slowly for six or eight minutes. Turn and fry on other side until tender. Place thin slices of buttered toast on serving dish, moisten each with one tablespoon of hot cream, lay mushrooms on toast, and surround with thinly cut, delicately browned bacon.

Devonshire Eggs
Boil 6 eggs 20 minutes. Remove shells and cut in halves. Mash yolks with a fork until smooth and light—then add one-fourth teaspoon salt, one fourth teaspoon paprika, two tablespoons finely minced ham, enough cream to moisten.

Put mixture back between whites of eggs and press together. Lay in shallow baking dish and pour over them one cup thick tomato sauce or tomato soup. Sprinkle with bread crumbs and bits of butter. Bake in hot oven.

Curried Shrimp
One small onion, two tablespoons butter, three tablespoons grated coconut, one tablespoon curry powder, one cup shrimp, one tablespoon lemon juice, one cup boiled rice, one tablespoon salt, one cup stock.

Slice onion thin and fry a little in the butter. Stir in the coconut, curry powder, salt and stock, simmer for half an hour. Add shrimp, cooked, and lemon juice. Place rice in serving dish and pour over it the above mixture, very hot.

Household Hints

A delicious, inexpensive dessert—Bake a loaf of soft gingerbread, split and spread while hot with warm apple sauce, having a layer of the sauce on top. Serve either plain or with whipped cream. It's delicious.

When frying doughnuts have a pan of boiling water ready and dip doughnuts in and out quickly (that is, after they have been fried) and place on brown paper. You will find that it removes all the grease from doughnuts and makes them much more delicious as well as more healthful. After you have dipped a batch of doughnuts, if you let the water stand until cold you can see the grease that has come from them. The dipping in hot water tends to toughen the doughnuts slightly, although it does free them from fat.

When using dry cocoanut with cake frosting, try steaming the cocoanut first and you will be pleased with the results. Before putting the cocoanut over the steam, I place it in a clean white cloth or table napkin. In this way none of it is wasted.

Do your "fresh" eggs come from Georgia and Tennessee as do you use PEDIGREED EGGS stamped and guaranteed by the Seale County Poultry Association?

LISTENING IN

By Helen H. Downing

There is an art to listening in that housewives should learn. And they should learn, too, the value of having certain hours devoted to house-keeping by radio. For it is the radio that is bringing the new gospel of housekeeping to every home in the land. Although it may be an impossibility for some housekeepers to leave their homes in order to attend cooking demonstrations and home economics talks, there are some who cannot take an hour a day to listen-in over the radio in the very same kind of lectures.

In setting oneself for an hour's listening-in, one very necessary asset is a pencil and pad. There are often suggestions to be noted down. Recipes are given so slowly that they may be written down, while listening. There are household hints to be remembered and tried out later, and decorative suggestions, color schemes and countless other things relating to the science of house-keeping.

Often at lectures speakers will answer questions after they have given their talks. Radio speakers cannot do this—over the radio—but they can answer your letters. Your letters, in fact, are the only way they have to gauge your interest in their talks. So, if a speaker interests you, write him and say so. Your letters are their applause.

No matter how deliberately a speaker may give a recipe, it will be too fast for some listeners-in. So learn to use abbreviations. A capital "T" for tablespoon; small "t" for teaspoon and "c" for cup. One may add a few abbreviations of one's own, as "fl" for flour, "sug" for sugar, and so on.

So listen in, the tremendous advances in the science of house-keeping is proof of the importance, and the permanence of their new form of education and entertainment.

CHURCH PLANS BUILDING

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 27.—Grace Baptist Church of this city is planning a 10 story office and church building to be located at Fourth Street and First Avenue north. It is stated by a member of the body. The plans being consid- ered call for a modern 10 story steel structure, it is stated. On the Fourth Street and First Avenue sides would be stores and the au- ditorium would be in the rear with an entrance, like that of a theatre, on the street. On the second and third floors would be Sunday school rooms, while space above the third floor would be rented to business and professional men.

Men Are Faithless And Women Stupid, States Dry Cleaner

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26.—The old saw that no man is a hero to his valet might be trans- posed to say that no man or wo- man either is entirely a mystery to his or her dry cleaner. If one accepts the views of Miss Elizabeth Santry, receiver at a local dry cleaning establishment.

Miss Santry sums up her reac- tions severely as follows: "The men are unfaithful and careless. The women are stupid and indifferent." She explains that men are prone to leave love letters in their clothes, and that women make a habit send- ing garmets with jewelry at- taching.

"If, in a dry cleaning office is just one piece of jewelry after an- other and one love letter on the heels of another. When we send the letters home in the cleaned clothes, wives always get them and trouble follow."

"I called one woman up at a hotel and told her we had her dia- mond sunburst worth a fortune. She yawned and said, 'All right, dearie, I'll send a bell hop over some time today.'"

Advertisement for Bell Telephone System. Text: 'Big Investment For Service THE expenditure for additions and extensions to the Bell Telephone System in Florida during the year 1925 promises to be the largest in the history of the State. More than $1,685,000 will be required to carry out this program of expansion and meet the constantly growing need for telephone service. Practically all this is new money, secured from investors, who furnish these funds with the expectation of earning a reasonable return. It is estimated that more than 5,000 new telephones will be added in Florida this year as a result of this big investment. Telephone subscribers are receiving more for the money they spend for telephone service than for any comparable service or commodity. This is made possible by the efficiency of the Bell System organization in Florida and elsewhere.
