WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(Special)—Over 100,000 new homes have been started with private capital and under F. H. A. inspection in defense housing areas specifically designated by the President since April, Federal Housing Administrator Abner H. Ferguson announced.

At the present time, Mr. Ferguson said, 75 percent of all homes being started under F. H. A. inspection are located in the 200-odd areas which have acute or impending housing shortages threatening to impede the national defense program. These areas have been designated at various intervals, and 68 percent of all new homes started under F. H. A. inspection since April are located there.

Altogether, as of Oct. 31, under the F. H. A. program, 102,500 homes had been started in these specifically designated defense areas, compared with 150,000 in the entire country in the seven months period. For the year as a whole, almost 200,000 homes have been started under the FHA program.

Chinese Say Japan Reply Is "Insult" To Public Of U. S.

Far East Situation Remains Tense As British Sailors Ordered To Ships

Soft Answer Is Given Roosevelt

"Unpredictable" Is Correct Word For Crisis In Pacific

MANILA, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Immediate evacuation of all non-essential civilians from Manila and other areas was recommended today.

The Commonwealth Cabinet held a special session yesterday and President Manuel Quezon indicated that military operations might follow.

The Far Eastern situation still is tense and British sailors were ordered aboard their ships abruptly. The Chinese say the Japanese reply to President Roosevelt is an "insult" to the intelligence of the United States public.

The Japanese returned a soft answer yesterday to President Roosevelt's pointed question as to the purpose of their large military concentrations in Indochina and the Philippines.

In a 150-word note, the Tokyo government said it viewed the Japanese move as a precautionary measure, induced by Chinese troop movements across the border. It said that the government has the assurance of the government at Washington to "continue with sincerity to try to find a common formula for a peaceful solution in the Pacific."

Washington officials, however, frankly suspect that the Japanese troop concentration is in preparation for an invasion of Thailand, formerly Siam, and it was reported that the Japanese had been told the Tokyo explanation for their move was unsatisfactory.

Further, President Roosevelt has made unmistakably clear his position on the Japanese move. He said that the United States government would not permit the Japanese to use the Philippines as a base for their operations.

In addition, Roosevelt charged that Japan had sent heavy troops into Indochina. He said that the Japanese had violated the terms of the Tokyo agreement. This Japan agreement today saying that it had agreed with all the stipulations of that agreement.

Washington is expected to announce a new policy in response to the Japanese move.

(By Associated Press) Great Britain will be at war against Finland, Hungary and Rumania at midnight tonight, Berlin and London agree the situation will not be changed by the action, but it is not clear the room.

Low flying British planes also set fire to gasoline trucks in the Gulf of Sirte region and ranged out into the Mediterranean to machine gun ferries and tug boats between Italy and Sicily, the communique added.

Young Deferred Men Might Be Drafted

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(AP)—A War Department official suggested Friday that it may become necessary to draft young men who have been deferred from selective service training because of the nature of their civilian jobs.

Peak Of Violence Is Reported Reached As Hitler's Men Take Seven Towns

Reds March in Kalinin Sector

German Troops Take Klin And Mozhaik In Hard Fighting

NEW YORK, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Italian radio declared today "One and a half million men, 8,000 tanks and 1,000 guns are moving toward Moscow in the most terrific offensive of all time."

Fighting on the Moscow front, raging amid temperatures 31 degrees below zero, Fahrenheit, swirled to a new peak of violence today as Adolf Hitler's invasion armies claimed the capture of seven towns while the Russians were reported to have broken through German lines in the Kalinin sector, 90 miles northwest of Moscow.

The Germans today reported the capture of two key cities in the Moscow defense, Mozhaik and Klin, in fierce fighting. The Nazis say violent Soviet attacks in the Donets basin were repulsed and an enemy attempt to break out of Leningrad was repulsed with heavy losses. The Russians report a terrific battle is raging around Taganrog.

The most substantial defensive line yet formed by the rear guard, of the retreating German armies of southern Russia—along the Mius river in the vicinity of Taganrog—trembled last night under the tremendous shock of a Red offensive spread over a 70-mile front.

The main bodies of the frontal assault corps along the Mius were reported to have passed upon 1500 German army trucks in dealing with the surviving Nazis there.

Moreover and this was one of the most significant of all factors, the British radio reported that the Soviet Black Sea fleet was heavily shelling the Germans along the Azov coast.

Along the Mius, which flows down from just east of Staling and empties into the gulf through an estuary west of Taganrog—Russian bombers in a single area were reported pouring explosives upon 1500 German army trucks in dealing with the surviving Nazis there.

The bombardment was reported going on under the eyes of Red army advance troops which had reached the river at some points.

Hitler clearly was applying growing pressure, probably to try to take some of the curse of his failure in the south, and Russian reports spoke of at least 15 German armored divisions in action around Moscow.

The service is moving its offices from Kingston, N. Y. to the old Sanford airport in accordance with plans made with the Chamber of Commerce and the City, which is now putting the field in shape.

THEM FAMILY TREES

They've studied up the family tree of Ebenezer Bings. And proved that his descent is straight from dukes and earls and kings. He has a brand new coat-of-arms so handsome and so gay. A mixture of monogamy and polygamy in crochets and floras. They only mention relatives who fought with courage fine. Or rose to great distinction in the intellectual line. But if they'd searched enough, 'Til he'd, the fact they'd run across. That somewhere in that family tree somebody stole a horse. Then family trees don't sell us well as much as they keep hid. It wouldn't be a thing 'gainst Ebenezer if they did. He's generous an' he's kind an' allus pays his honest debts. He doesn't drink, nor chew, nor smoke, nor even cigarette. But then it takes all kinds 'o folks to make a world you see. There's mighty wide assortment in 'most every family tree. Let's just admire the gliding an' the trimmings an' the floras. An' be content to overlook the snag who stole the horse. PHILANDER JOHNSON in Washington Star

Watch the axes in Fort Mellon Park this winter. They will be worth thousands of dollars to Sanford.

Wonder what President Roosevelt will do if the Japanese do continue their southward march of aggression... and when.

The Japanese are talking pretty big for a people who already have more fight on their hands than they can take care of.

Henry O. Partin, Kalamazoo politician, has been nominated by the Progressive Farmer magazine as the "Man of the Year" in Florida agriculture.

Human nature: everybody wants us to get the paper out on time but everybody wants us to make an exception of his story or his when it gets in late.

The Clermont Press brings forth the rather timely expression that now is the time for every couple who do not wish to buy Christmas presents for each other to break up.

Women workers in a Chicago factory are asking for men to pay women half as much as men. They take it—Bradenton. They'll get it one way or another, sooner or later.

The Japanese are still not content that Uncle Sam is not fighting. They will be when some old gentleman's scrip is coming in their direction in the form of shells instead of money.

The large number of inquiries received by the Chamber of Commerce resulted from the first ad in the magazine advertising which will be seen this winter.

Just going to talk with my neighbor as an object for conversation have the mighty fall. Forlorn News-Week. George's mighty shout: his fall down to his wretched, wretched partner would be.

Woman Driver. A woman driver passed for a moment in front of the fallen. The woman driver is in the line of the fallen.

General MacArthur

If war breaks out in the Far East as now appears almost inevitable, one figure will stand out prominently above all others as far as the American public is concerned. The name of General Douglas MacArthur will grow in importance and may even assume the significance which formerly was attached to General John J. Pershing who led the American Expeditionary Force during the last war.

Clara Booth, wife of Henry Luce, editor of Life, writes the life story of General MacArthur in the current issue of her husband's magazine. Through inheritance, training and tradition General MacArthur is every inch a soldier and a perfect natural for the office he now holds in the Philippines and for the position of commander-in-chief of America's Far Eastern armies in the coming struggle.

His father, General Arthur MacArthur, a veteran of the Civil War, completed the defeat of the Philippine Insurrection and became the first military governor of the islands. Manuel Quezon surrendered to him personally and then 35 years later made MacArthur's son a field marshal at the head of all Filipino troops. Arthur MacArthur is remembered in the Philippines as a progressive governor who installed the first system of education, law and justice the islands ever had.

At West Point, to which he was bound to go, Douglas MacArthur ranked at the head of his class, which included such military scholars as Ulysses Grant III, and made the highest record in 25 years. Early in his career he was with General Funston at Vera Cruz where, disguised as a sailor, he reconnoitered behind the Mexican lines and captured three vitally necessary locomotives.

It was during the World War that he had his first real test under fire. As commander of the Rainbow Division he took part in some of the most spectacular engagements of the American forces, usually at the head of his troops, even into the enemy trenches. Wearing an Overseas Cap, instead of a steel helmet and carrying nothing but a riding crop, he once captured a German officer and marched him back to the American lines through No Man's Land. MacArthur was wounded twice, received 13 decorations for gallantry under fire, and seven citations.

Later he became the youngest Chief of Staff of the United States Army ever had, one of America's few four star generals, the only one to serve more than one appointment. When he "retired" in 1935, people generally thought he was through, and when he was shunted to the Philippines where he became field marshal of the non-existent Philippine army, they knew it.

But now the well equipped and efficient Philippine army of 150,000 men has been made a part of the American Army and Douglas MacArthur is back in a U. S. A. F. E. which may yet become as well known as the A. E. F.

The Editorial "We"

The derivation of the word "editor," and the origin of the editorial "we," by which the newspaperman seeks to avoid the obnoxious "I" have never been more interestingly explained than by Paul Jones, in the Lyons Daily News. It comes to us via Horace Wilkinson's Geneva County Reaper, and to the Geneva editor via Ralph Jones in the Atlanta Constitution, but loses nothing in its travels. "A new member of the high school journalism class," writes Jones of Lyons, "asks us the derivation of the word 'editor.' Seeking always to be of assistance, especially to the young, we elucidate. 'Editor' is a combination of two Latin words, 'edi' meaning to give or put out; and 'taurus'—Spanish 'toro'—meaning the bull.

"While on the subject, we may as well explain the origin of the editorial 'we.' In the pre-historic days, when editors carved their papers on stone, an editor bawled out a citizen for not paying his personal taxes and his pledge to the Coronado committee. The fellow came with a big, knotty war club, hammered on the lintel of the cave, peered into the darkness and howled, 'Come out of there, you lily-livered so-and-so!' The editor, doing some peering in return and seeing who it was yelled back, 'All right, you ditto, we'll be there in a minute!' The irate subscriber, not being prepared to make war on a gang, hurriedly fled, soon forgot the incident and was back in three weeks begging the editor not to publish his name for rowing a boat while intoxicated."—Dothan (Ala.) THINGS WE'VE SEEN AND HEARD

By MAYME M. HODGKIN

Though age has gripped up and has rather a firm grip on us, we are glad to relate that we are still youthful enough to get a thrill. And that's just what happened yesterday over the first tea given for the tourists. These tourists of ours are just simply love and we love them all. Not even that certain bad place and high water could keep them away when they wanted to attend. The rain spent its entire stock of tricks in its efforts to discourage them but in spite of it all, deluge upon deluge, we had 30 tourists and (this we put in parentheses so it won't show much) seven faithful souls from our fair City of Sanford, three of whom were hostesses and three who served and yours truly. Anyway, our guests were so pleased in their expression of pleasure that come what may we are very jolly over it all. We have a good mark to aim for next week and know we will more than make it.

Our deepest appreciation is extended to our hostesses and to our willing cooperation. If this service is a sample of what the Chamber of Commerce can expect from its faithful supporters, we take our hats and bow our grateful heads in profound thanks.

Mrs. Hofmann Aids In Membership Drive

"While America is making it self strong against today's dangers, it may not forget the men who gave their strength in the country's service 23 years ago," Mrs. W. D. Hofmann, rehabilitation chairman of the Campbell-Loring Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, said today as she aided the Auxiliary campaign for 1941 members.

"A country which forgets its defenders of the past is not likely to have men eager to risk their lives in its defense in the future," she continued. "America has not forgotten or been ungrateful to the disabled veterans of the World War for it is a great continuing work of the American Legion and Auxiliary to make sure that their needs are supplied.

After describing the benefits gained from the government for the disabled men and their families through Legion and Auxiliary action, Mrs. Hofmann pointed out that the need for effort in their behalf is now greater than ever.

"It is the country's attention focused upon defense preparations, the Auxiliary must work harder than ever to hold the benefits gained for the disabled, for wives and children, for the widows and orphans of the dead, and for the aged parents.

"We are hoping that all the wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of veterans in Sanford will be with us this year as we strive on for those who have borne the battle."

Feds End Season By Surprising St. Augustine, 13-12

Coach McLucas Gets Delayed Wedding Gift When Locals Gain Upset Victory

Newly wed Coach Leonard (Whitey) McLucas received what might be termed a delayed wedding present when his Celery Feds ended a poor grid season with a surprise 13 to 12 victory over the heavily favored Katterlins' High Mulletts at St. Augustine last night.

Trailing 12 to 6 as the final quarter neared its close, Sanford's aerial attack began to click. With a flourish on the Mulletts 14-yard line, All-Conference Left Halfback Bill Brunan tossed to Left Half McKay Trubuck to tie the score. Brunan then completed a throw to End Jack Herring for the first point that provided the tie.

After a scoreless first period, the Feds opened up in the second to forge ahead. Brunan smashed the line from eight yards out to kick up six points. St. Augustine quickly replied with a touchdown.

In the third quarter, the Mulletts went ahead when their captain, Billy Coons, found a hole at his right tackle and rammed 42 yards to score.

Ceminoles High then staged its game-winning rally, giving the Feds a season record of three wins and seven defeats. The result doubtably pleased Coach McLucas, who said before the game, "I think the boys are right mentally to fight for this game. If so, we may surprise them."

Seven visitors ended their grid careers for Seminole and all were rated regulars. They are Brunan, Trubuck, Mack Cleveland, Herring, Taylor Brown, Glenn Odham and Junior Brown.

The Feds made six first downs five for the Mulletts, and upheld their lax over the St. Augustine club. The Mulletts have won only about two games in 12 or 13 seasons of the two teams.

Mehen Will Lead Vol Cage Artists

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Dec. 6.—(AP)—A spider-legged, cat-footed kid whose slender frame stretches six feet, four inches, will key Tennessee's defense of the Southeastern Conference basketball championship this winter.

He's Bernie Mehen from Wheeling, W. Va., dubbed "Honey-Bini" because of the magic he performs with a basketball in his hands and a crowd shrieking for points.

He is one of five lettermen left from last year's team which dropped only five games and won 17.

He's the reason for Tennessee's status as the pre-season favorite in the 12-team conference—the spot usually occupied by the University of Kentucky.

"Mehen undoubtedly is one of the best natural basketball players I've ever seen," says Coach Johnny Mauer.

Executive Body Of Legion Post To Have Meeting

Group Will Discuss Manner Of Aiding Nation In Crisis

The Campbell-Lensing Post of the American Legion called an executive committee meeting this afternoon at which a discussion of the war situation was contemplated along with any plans that might be for assistance to the community and the nation, Joel Field, local commander, stated this morning.

Mr. Field stressed the importance of the people of the nation remaining calm at this crucial time, and added, "The American Legion, for almost 23 years, has declared to the world that it is prepared to serve the country in peace as in war. Now the declaration has been reversed to say that the Legion is ready and alert to serve the country in war as in peace."

"Now we have 1,500,000 men who know what war is like and can assist in keeping the nation calm and clear thinking. Before the other war we did not have this experience," Mr. Field added.

All past commanders of the local post were invited to attend the meeting as well as Legionnaires who have held office in the Post, district or state department.

Major Sparkman To Visit Draft Board Tuesday

Men Leave For Pre-Induction Station At Camp Blanding

Activities around the selective service have been affected today by the war in the Pacific, E. H. Carter stated this morning. Major Byrd Sparkman, co-ordinator from headquarters, telephoned this morning to say that he will be in Sanford all day tomorrow to investigate prospective selectees with Mr. Carter. Three young men left for the pre-induction center at Camp Blanding early this morning where they will take a physical examination before final acceptance.

The new "pre-induction procedure" begins today with this quota. A survey, or hasty examination is given to draftees by local doctors then the men are sent to a station for examinations by an Army physician. Effective with the first of next month, a station for this area will be established in Orlando.

The three young men who left this morning include, Richard Dool, an accountant, Otto Keith, employed in the trucking business; George Glen Dury, state highway patrolman.

President Asks Congress For War Declaration Against Treacherous Japs

Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States, appeared promptly at 12:30 P. M. before a joint meeting of the Senate and the House of Representatives today and asked Congress for a declaration of war against Japan.

The President recited to Congress the events since Japan's assault on America's Pacific bastions and said he had "directed that all measures be taken for our defense."

"Hostilities exist," Mr. Roosevelt asserted. "There is no blinking at the fact that our people, our territory and our interests are in grave danger."

"With confidence in our armed forces—with the unbounding determination of our people—we will gain the inevitable triumph—so help us God."

Mr. Roosevelt addressed the House and Senate, meeting in joint session for the second time within a generation to hear a President ask for a declaration of war. His words were solemn but brief.

He said Japan had undertaken a "surprise offensive" extending throughout the Pacific, noting that the Nipponese empire not only had attacked Hawaii and the Philippines but also Malaya, Hongkong, Guam, Wake and the Midway Islands.

"Always we will remember the character of the onslaught against us," the President said. "No matter how long it may take us to overcome this premeditated invasion, the American people in their righteous might will win through to absolute victory."

He believes I interpret the will of the Congress and of the people when I assert that we will not only defend ourselves to the utmost but will make very certain that this form of treachery shall never endanger us again."

Early action within a matter of hours was expected on the declaration of hostilities.

In his address, the President noted that the American naval and military forces had suffered "severe damage" in the lightning bombing raid on Hawaii and that "very many American lives have been lost."

In addition, he said, American ships have been reported torpedoed on the high seas between San Francisco and Honolulu.

He was less specific, however, than his assistants had been earlier when they announced that an American battleship had exploded in Pearl Harbor, that several other war vessels had been damaged seriously, a destroyer blown up and a large number of planes destroyed by bombs at the Army and Navy airfields.

But the White House said that America's defenders had brought down a number of Japanese planes and had sunk some submarines.

At the very outset of his address to the legislators, Mr. Roosevelt remarked:

Several Local Men Stationed In Pacific Area

Some Known To Be At Points Attacked By Bombs Or Subs

With the outbreak of hostilities in the Pacific, war has been brought close to home to many persons in Sanford because of the number of local men who are serving the armed forces of the Nation in that area.

Jennings Hurt, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hurt, and Robert Altman, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Altman, former Sanford residents, are stationed with the Army Air Corps at Hickam Field, Hawaii, where severe damage was reported in the initial Japanese bombing operations.

Lt. Comm. Harry Carlson and Buster Williams are stationed in the vicinity of Pearl Harbor. The former is in command of an air division, while the latter is a radio operator, first class, on board the cruiser North Hampton.

Lt. Comm. George Griffin Herring is stationed "somewhere" in the Pacific, also Carl Soderstrom who is a member of the crew of the U. S. S. New Mexico.

Oliver Miller left San Diego Nov. 30 on board an oil tanker which would take him to his assignment at the Lexington, en route to Honolulu. Word has been received that he reached his destination safely.

Harold Robertson, son of Mrs. W. W. Johns is on board the cruiser, S. S. Salt Lake City and a letter to his mother was post-marked Pearl Harbor.

Military Heads Plan Immediate Army Expansion

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—(AP)—Immediate and vast expansion of the Nation's armed forces, now that hostilities have been thrust upon the United States, was regarded in military circles Sunday night as certain.

It was believed that one of the first steps would be to call enlisted reserves to active duty. This would mean a return to Army posts for those selective service trainees who recently were discharged from active duty because of being past the age of 28 or for other reasons.

Army officials at Fort Lewis, Wash., were reported already to have issued calls to such men.

Officials at the War Department here said, however, that no general order calling enlisted reserves had been issued. They understood such a call would have to come from the War Department.

With a declaration of war by the United States, men in the age bracket between 28 and 35 and registered under the Draft Act would be liable for immediate call to training.

These men were given a deferred classification by congress until act a few months ago. The legislation, however, specified that this deferment would cease automatically if the Nation went to war.

Before the Japanese attack, plans were to release more than a third of the Army's 1,600,000 officers and men for the Christmas holidays. They were to be given leave periods ranging from ten days to a month.

Many of these men may be given their scheduled Christmas holiday leave, the War Department indicated tonight, regardless of the sudden emergency.

Brigadier General Alexander D. Burke, chief of the public relations branch, told reporters that "as far as is known Christmas leaves will not be cancelled, except in case of certain designated units" which he did not identify.

Other officials said that in the meantime local commanders who had granted holiday leaves were authorized to rescind them without reference to the War Department. Dispatches indicated such action was taken promptly at various posts.

Home Defense Unit To Have Regular Drill

Intensified Training Scheduled Due To Present Situation

Intensified training is scheduled for Company C, the Seminole County unit of the Fourth Battalion of the Florida Defense Force, as a result of the war situation, Captain E. C. Harper, unit commander, stated this morning. The regular weekly drill will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the Armory.

"We have about five vacancies caused mainly by the departure of men who have joined active Army service," Mr. Harper announced, "and we would like to get them filled with responsible men, who will attend the drills regularly. We can't use men unless they really want to do their bit for our country."

"The present state of emergency emphasizes the importance of the home training unit and proves 'the wisdom of' organizing this nation-wide organization months ago," Mr. Harper added.

The drill tonight will consist of close order drills, rifle practice and other phases of training. Mr. Harper also announced the organization of a rifle team by the local unit which will compete in matches with other units of the Fourth Battalion in Orlando, Mt. Dora, Tavares and Clermont.

The local unit will stage a dance next Friday night which will be for members of Company C only and their guests. There are 66 men in the unit at present, and every man can invite as many guests as desired.
