Public Is Warned To Be Careful In Buying Oysters

JACKSONVILLE Oct. 10, (Special)—With oyster season in full swing, bivalve buyers were urged this week by the State Board of Health to be their own inspectors when purchasing the shellfish so prolific in Florida waters. Although sanitarians make routine inspections of local markets, the public's cooperation as precautionary measure in disease control is sought.

The warning to buy only a certified product from a bona fide dealer was issued, because 22 oyster-producing areas around the peninsula have been condemned due to raw or inadequately treated sewage from cities and towns emptying into the regions, according to the Bureau of Sanitary Engineering. Plans and specifications for needed sewage treatment works for abating pollution in some of the condemned areas, but this week has been held back by the war and other circumstances.

The condemned areas are at Fernandina, Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Daytona Beach, New Smyrna, Vero Beach, Ft. Pierce, Lake Worth, Bradenton, Tampa, St. Petersburg, Tarpon Springs, Panama City, Pensacola, Escambia Bay, Blackwater Bay, Caloosa, Hachee River, Carasota Bay, Clearwater Harbor, Homosassa, Spring Creek and Apalachicola Bay.

Usually, these condemned areas produce a very fat and succulent oyster, which consequently are harvested whenever possible by "stealer" gatherers. The oysters are usually shucked by the "boot-leggers" on the spot and sold at the backdoors of markets and eating houses who also defy the law by handling a contraband, health-menaced product.

It was emphasized that oysters from polluted waters may be means of transmitting typhoid, paratyphoid, bacillary dysentery and other intestinal infections. It may also contain, therefore, what can happen in the human wastes from persons suffering from, or who is a carrier of any one of these diseases should drain into one of the 22 condemned oyster landing regions—should bivalves from such regions be eaten.

Shellfish from clean approved growing areas and processed in approved establishments will not jeopardize the public's health, it was stressed. All legitimate shellfish dealers are controlled by regulatory authority with assigned certified shellfish products.

Purchases made from peddlers and unauthorized sources are dangerous. Also, persons on picnics, fishing trips and outings should be sure they do not gather oysters within the condemned areas. Information can be obtained from local health departments about these condemned waters.

DANGER ON THE PRODUCTION FRONT

How Much Will You Have to Pay for Your New Car? How Long Will You Have to Wait to Get It?

RECONVERSION BOGGING DOWN

Strikes are threatening the entire automobile industry. General Motors is being specifically singled out for attack to enforce unreasonable demands. Some of our plants have already been closed and shipment of materials from the plants of many of our suppliers has already been stopped by strikes.

The interests of all Americans should be considered. This is not only a General Motors problem. It is a national one as well. If our plants are closed by strikes the strikes will be against the interests of all the people of our country as much as they will be against General Motors.

AFTERMATH OF WAR

While the war is over, the aftermath of war presents big problems. War is terribly wasteful in blood and treasure. This one was especially so. It was not prosperity even though to some it may have seemed to be. And the immediate aftermath of such a war cannot be prosperity either. The clean-up, the mopping-up, the reconversion still require hard work, patience, understanding, and some sacrifice on the part of all of us.

INDUSTRY ON THE JOB

Our fighting men crushed our enemies with the huge quantity of weapons produced by American industry. But that is behind us. We would like to have been better prepared for peace, but the terrific demands of the war for men and materials did not make this possible. Now we have planned a second all-out effort and stand ready and anxious to do an equally impressive job.

PROBLEMS OF RECONVERSION

American industry has proved its ability to perform. It has the know-how, the resources, the courage to push ahead. But even with these fine assets it cannot do the job alone. It must have the goodwill and backing of the people of our country.

Our second all-out effort to meet a critical situation will bog down unless the real facts are recognized and sound measures promptly taken to solve the problems. Temporarily, while we are liquidating the war, there should be a sound national wage-price policy to stabilize and expand the economy.

DANGER OF INFLATION

The most serious threat we face is that of runaway inflation. The danger comes from three sources: first, the wartime and current tremendous deficit spending of our government; second, the pent-up demands for goods and services to the point where some are willing to pay excess prices even in black markets to satisfy their impatient and selfish desires; third, the desires of equally selfish unions to take advantage of the situation and force unreasonable wage increases.

Inflation is the worst of all economic diseases. It reduces the value of money in terms of what money will buy. It reduces the value of the savings of the people. It undermines security. It underwrites depression. It destroys confidence. It creates unemployment. Inflation must be avoided.

REAL PRICES

In a free market and in the absence of subsidies and speculation, the cost of human effort, be it in the form of wages, salaries or other forms of compensation, quickly determines the price we pay for goods.

Higher wages without a corresponding increase in productivity are inflationary. Nothing is gained unless higher wages mean more goods and services, more customers and more good jobs. This requires individual application to the job in hand and technological progress all along the line—better ways of doing all the things that must be done to produce and deliver products to customers at reasonable prices. This takes time.

A minority, by monopoly or by pressure group action, may temporarily profit at the expense of others. But the idea of wage increases all along the line without a corresponding increase in productivity is a delusion. All the people cannot lift themselves by their bootstraps.

UNION DEMANDS

Today, unions in our plants are demanding 52 hours' pay for 40 hours' work. Their demands if granted would result in over 67 hours' pay at present base rates for 48 hours of work where plants are working on such a schedule.

Equivalent or greater demands have been made on our suppliers—the parts manufacturers—the electrical industry—the steel industry—the rubber industry—the oil and gasoline industry—the railroads—in fact, on practically every industry involved in the production of automobiles.

WAGES AND PRICES

General Motors wages are now at an all-time high and are importantly higher than the average wages paid throughout the country for similar work.

The present government stabilization policy permits wage increases without government approval only if such increases will not result in a request to increase prices. The formula the OPA has proposed for pricing our new products does not recognize or allow all the actual increases in our costs that have been incurred since 1942.

Neither is there any provision in the present OPA formula for increasing prices to compensate for the additional costs that would be incurred if wages and salaries were increased at this time.

A sound and equitable solution must be found in the interests of not only our 400,000 employees, but our 426,000 stockholders, our 15,214 automobile dealers, who have had no new cars for over three years, our 10,000 subcontractors and suppliers and their employees, and the more than 10,000,000 potential customers who are anxiously waiting for new cars and our other products they need so badly.

WARTIME PROFITS

General Motors did not make big profits during the war. Although sales and employment doubled, the average yearly net profit in dollars earned during the war was less than the average prewar net profit. Dividends paid to stockholders averaged less than those paid before the war.

The war profit limitation policy voluntarily adopted by General Motors immediately after Pearl Harbor was so reasonable that the resulting profits were accepted in renegotiation without change by our government for the years 1942, 1943 and 1944.

During the war, Victory Was Our Business.

EXCESS WAGES REFUSED

Demands are being made for higher wages without any corresponding increase in production, on the assumption that the additional costs can be absorbed from profits previously earned or from uncertain future profits.

General Motors cannot use money saved up for many years for the purpose of modernizing and expanding its plants and providing more good jobs, to pay excess wages for work not performed. The money cannot be spent twice.

Neither can excess wages be currently paid from presumed future excess profits when a realistic forecast of costs shows there will be no such excess profits.

Nor can we pay from current income the increased wages demanded when the present OPA policy holds prices to substantially 1942 levels—especially in view of the fact that there have been important increases in wages and operating costs since 1942.

Runaway inflation must be avoided. If an adjustment in price levels must be made at this time, the interests of all the people must be fairly considered. If wage and salary increases are made, it must be recognized that they increase costs and such costs must be adequately reflected in the prices of products produced. Internal strife and unemployment must be avoided. Only productive work and more good jobs will increase our standard of living and satisfy the desires of the American people.

League Voted Dissolved By United Nations

Russia And Australia Beaten In Move; New Evidence Found For Pierre Laval

ROME, Oct. 12 (AP)—Gen. Anton Douster, the first German general to be tried in Europe as a war criminal, was convicted by an American military tribunal today and sentenced to death for ordering the execution of 15 U. S. soldiers captured behind the German lines in Italy.

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Voting down the Soviet Union and Australia the United Nations executive committee today recommended the dissolution of the League of Nations and that a new world peace organization take over its non-political functions.

The Russians and Australians objected that such a move might make the United Nations just a continuation of the League. They proposed the League be kept going until a United Nations organization is established.

In Berlin the Allied control council formally pronounced the death sentence on the Nazi party, all its branches, formations and affiliated organizations, and decreed any attempt at their revival would be a criminal offense.

In Paris attorneys for Pierre Laval, under death sentence for collaborating with the Germans, declared today they have uncovered important new evidence which will "explode" the case against him. They say the evidence will prove he was arrested by the Germans while plotting to turn over his government to General Charles De Gaulle. They added the documents smuggled out of France and hidden in Switzerland, have been found and were returned today. They said they show Laval came to Paris at the beginning of August 1944, to declare it an open city and have a meeting of parliament. Paris fell to the Allies on Aug. 25 and De Gaulle entered the same day. They said they could prove that Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler personally ordered Laval's arrest before he could carry through his plan. They said they will present directly to General De Gaulle an appeal for a new trial.

Jean Herold Paquis, the French "Lord Haw Haw," was shot by a firing squad and a ministry of justice official said the execution of the former radio broadcaster would be postponed until (Continued On Page Three)

Thomas, 101 East Seventh Street. He was accompanied from La Grange, Ga., by his wife and two-year-old son, Kenneth, Jr., a graduate of Seminole High School. Pfc. Gustavson formerly lived in south Sanford. He has recently received an honorable discharge from the service. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nels Gustavson of Sanford and Chicago, Ill. ## Collision Is Result Of Drunken Driving

Charged with drunken driving after his army type Dodge truck collided with a truck parked on West Third Street near Magnolia Avenue, the bond of L. N. Swearingen of Summerville, was set at $501 by Police Chief Roy G. Williams, following Swearingen's arrest.

The accident occurred at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. Damage to the truck that was run into, a Dodge one and a half ton truck, amounted to $116 or more, according to Lee Sand, owner.

Committee members present at the meeting were Edward Higgins, G.A. Speer, G.G. Kilpatrick, J.W. Field, R.A. Smith, H.H. Coleman, Oscar Harrison, J.E. Harvey, T. W. Lawton, H.E. Morris, Roy Hollis, Ed Lane, and W.F. Connolly.

County Quota In Eighth Bond Drive Set At $571,000

Kilpatrick Is Named Chairman At Meet- ing With Lehmann

Seminole County's overall quota for the Victory Loan Drive, the eighth and final drive, was today announced as $571,000 by Karl Lehmann, state war finance committee director who met this morning at the City Hall with members of the Seminole County War Finance Committee.

At the close of the talk a meeting of the committee was called by Edward Higgins, vice chairman, and E.G. Kilpatrick, president of the Florida State Bank, and T.W. Lawton, the former in turn praised the "very fine work" being done on the drives, especially the school children's phase of it, by Ralph Bagwell, former Seminole County Chamber secretary, and new State-War-Finance secretary.

The E bond quota set for Seminole County will be $174,000 as compared with $233,000 on the 7th loan which on E-bonds was subscribed 123.5 percent. The overall quota of $571,000 is much less than the $875,000 quota of the last drive, which with sales of $1,055,000 was one percent above the state average, said Mr. Lehmann. Schools in Florida bought $3,827,881 worth of bonds and stamps with Seminole County pupils buying $78,456.

State school activities resulted in purchase of 6,620 pieces of equipment from life raft to hospital service supplies. An important phase of the present drive will be that schools of the nation will be called upon to finance the hospitalization of war veterans at an average cost of $3,000 each, he added. Hospitalization of 800,000 men is expected and the Army has asked for 70,000 and the Navy 10,000 additional beds, he said. Each hospitalized veteran will be given a card showing which school sold bonds to pay for his treatment. This system, first tried in Connecticut, was reported to be very successful, and many veterans and children exchanged letters, declared Mr. Lehmann.

Bringing back the men due to come from overseas will cost $1,400,000,000, said Mr. Lehmann. Mastering out pay at $300 an average each will cost $2,000,000,000 or equal to the national E quota. The total national quota is $11,500,000,000 of which Florida's share is $4,700,000,000. Other uses for the bond money will be compensation for contract cancellations and maintaining 2,000,000 men in Japan and Germany, as occupation forces.

Committee members present at the meeting were Edward Higgins, G.A. Speer, G.G. Kilpatrick, J.W. Field, R.A. Smith, H.H. Coleman, Oscar Harrison, J.E. Harvey, T. W. Lawton, H.E. Morris, Roy Hollis, Ed Lane, and W.F. Connolly.

Considerable damage by fire to a negro home at 710 Orange Avenue resulted yesterday afternoon when the house caught fire due to negro children playing with matches. It was reported by Fire Chief Mack Cleveland.

Repeal Is Sought Of Labor Law In Face Of Continued Strikes

Citrus Packing Houses Commence Fall Operations

Stringbeans, Other Vegetables Expected On Market Soon

Sanford's vegetable and fruit industry centered in the neighborhood of the State Market at French Avenue and Thirteenth Street is getting off to a good start with two citrus packing houses now in operation and more due to start soon.

The Niblack and Patrick Fruit Company was the first packing house to get underway and started picking fruit a week ago Monday and by Friday began packing operations, according to W. A. Patrick. Up to yesterday afternoon, 6,000 boxes of fruit had been packed and shipped.

The Sanford Fruit Company of which Harry Touke is manager, started packing operations Thursday but had to suspend operations when rain interfered with fruit picking. Parson Brown and Hamlin oranges of good size, color, juice content and sweetness were packed, and grapefruit packing is expected to start on Saturday.

The plant equipment has been added to with new conveyors and a color added tank.

L. E. Southard stated Thursday that he expected to start operations today, that the fruit was of good quality and adequate supply, and that he looked forward to getting going this season. The Market Fruit Company will start operations about Oct. 15 it was announced.

Many large trucks are parked at the Sanford State Market to bring in long distance vegetables of any amount other than a few cucumbers are now available for sale but string beans locally grown are expected to be on the market next week, according to Manager H. J. Lehmann.

Plans for an eight stall addition to the State Market to be located on West Thirteenth Street on the market site, the same building where platform, have been received by Mr. Lehmann. Bids on construction will be receivable until Oct. 25, he said. The building will be of frame construction, 180 feet long and 60 feet wide and with loading platforms for both truck and rail shipments.

A veritable river of oranges was flowing through the conveyor in the Niblack and Patrick Fruit Company, Thursday. Fruit was constantly being unloaded from trucks and after being processed and crated, was returned to rollers in the same platform where huge trucks were ready to receive it.

The processing layout is very efficient, operations have been speeded up this year, Mr. Patrick said. After the fruit is washed, color is then added, the fruit then is polished and then passes through a waxing spray known as flavor seal and is quickly dried. Conveyor belts hurry the fruit to bins where it is automatically separated for size and is graded. Packers work fast and efficiently, and a man with a wire clipping tool fastens the crate lids down, picks the crates on rollers which take it up to the shipping platform.

Crates seem to have plenty of juice this year and are pleasantly sweet in taste.

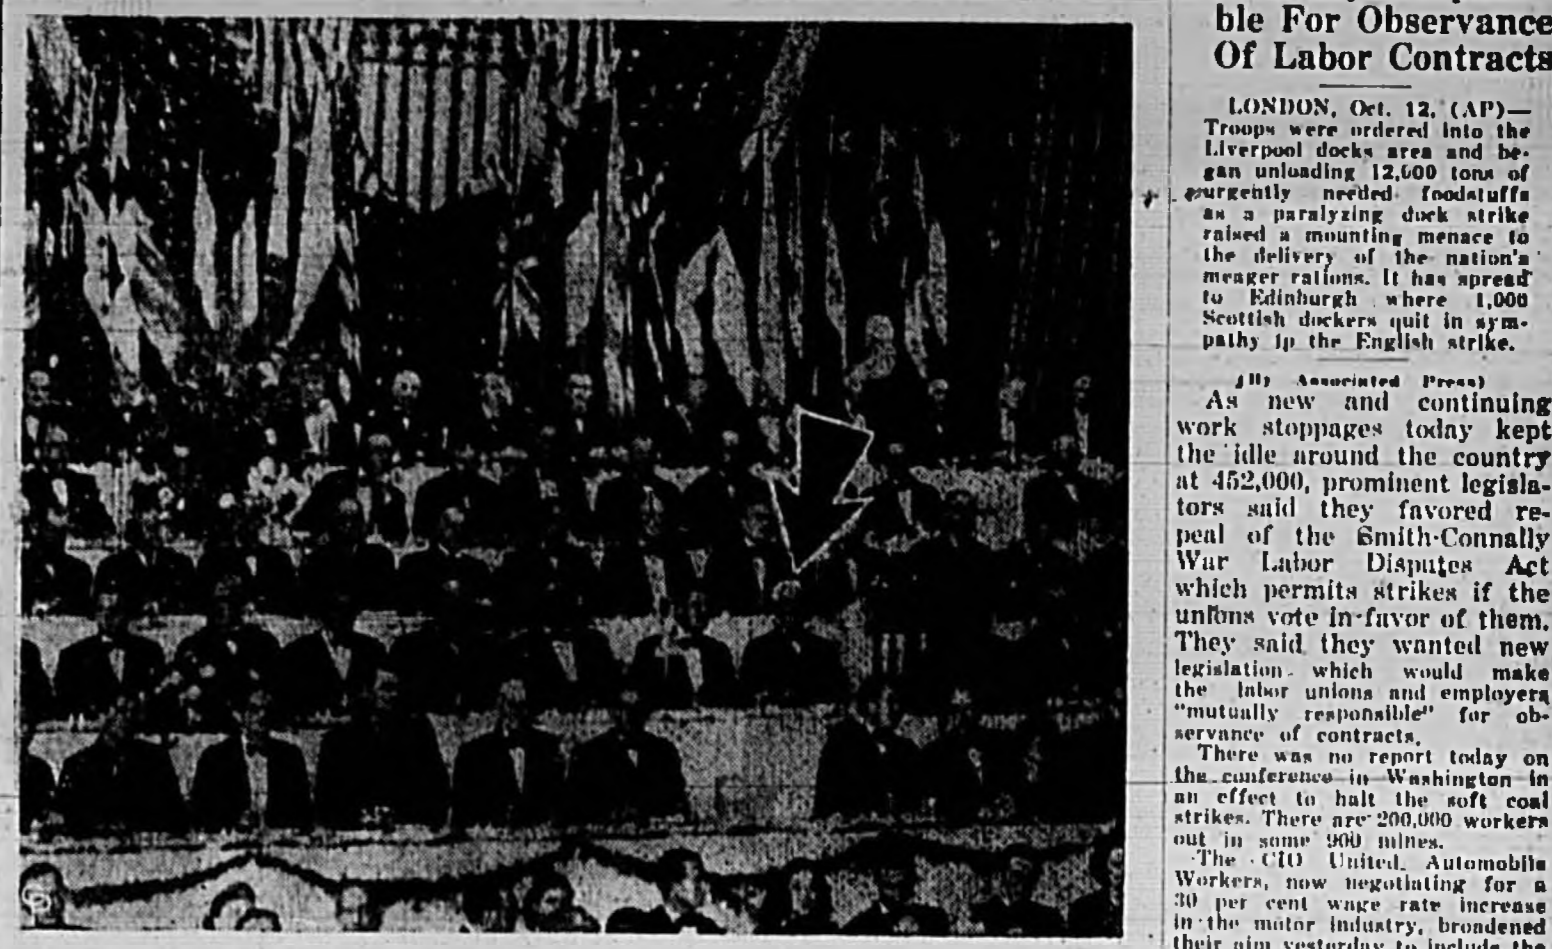

When the cranberry prisoners of war started pouring in, the 100th was given command of a prisoner camp containing approximately 1,000,000 prisoners. Dr. McDaniel was assigned as surgeon for the Remagen Prisoner of War Camp, which was supervised by American personnel. He had 10,000 German medical aid men and 200 German officers, which included four colonels under his command in this camp.

Although there were some well trained German professional men in the camps, it was felt that at least 50 percent of them were poorly trained. This was the consensus of opinion of both the American and German medical officers, Dr. McDaniel said. ## Doctors Worked 20 Hours Daily To Save Wounded

Dr. McDaniel Tells Of Campaigns In European Theater

The American Army doctors worked 20-hour operating shifts during European warfare and when fighting was heaviest they stayed on the job as long as 20 hours daily, operating and visiting patients previously operated on, said Dr. Fincher McDaniel, prominent Sanford doctor, who returned to resume his practice here.

Dr. McDaniel, formerly a Major in the medical corps, is a veteran of the campaigns of Normandy, Northern France, Arnhem, Rhineland and Central Germany. During these campaigns the 102nd Evacuation Hospital, to which Dr. McDaniel was assigned, processed 28,000 patients, perhaps the largest number processed by any single hospital in the European Theater of War. Hospital and from there to the 102nd Hospital Dr. McDaniel was assigned to the 67th Infantry Division. This division lost 50 percent of its personnel and 75 percent of its fighting strength in the battle of the Bulge.

When the German prisoners of war started pouring in, the 100th was given command of a prisoner camp containing approximately 1,000,000 prisoners. Dr. McDaniel was assigned as surgeon for the Remagen Prisoner of War Camp, which was supervised by American personnel. ## Celeryfeds Will Play Deland Team In Deland Tonite

By "Duke" MacNeill Tonight the "Celery Fed" from our local high school will journey to Deland to play the Deland "Hulidogs" in what promises to be one of the most thrilling games of the season.

Deland has won all three games and has had six points scored against them. Deland has one of the best forward walls in Central Florida. He is reported to be a fine passer and kicker aside from his good running.

Sanford will start tonight's game with one win and one defeat to its credit. They smashed Seneca 41 to 6 last Friday in their first home game. They lost to Egust 13 to 6 in their initial tilt.

Coach Kettle has stressed pass defense for the last week. Deland is reputed to have a fine passing attack. He also gave the squad a few new plays which they worked on.

The starting line up is expected to be: Callum, LB; Brockley, RB; Anderson, FB; Ellis, QB; Lingle, LB; Clark, LT; Fielding, LG; Kilpatrick, C; Cox, RG; Singletary, RT; and Kastner, RE.

Sanford Soldier Protests Against Strikes In U. S.

Lieut. C. W. Culpepper Says Army Suffered For Want Of Food

Protest against strikes which he stated deprived soldiers in invading the Philippines of food and needed ammunition, was made in a recent letter to The Herald from Lieut. Carroll W. Culpepper who is stationed with the 56th Infantry Division at Mindoro, Philippine Islands.

He likewise protested against those who in a public opinion poll voted to continue the war after the Japanese had offered to surrender.

"When a group of men sit around and talk about different things they hear over the radio, he wrote, "one of the most talked of is something we always hate to hear, yet it is true. My feelings are expressed in this letter and I'm sure there are hundreds of others with the same feeling."

Today is Columbus Day honoring Christopher Columbus, Genoese navigator, who is known as the discoverer of America for having landed on the island of San Salvador, Oct. 12, 1492. He later was sent home in chains by a newly arrived royal commissioner following his third expedition which was financed by Queen Isabella of Spain and which resulted in the discovery of South America. Shortly after his fourth expedition, in 1504 Queen Isabella died, and he spent the rest of his life poor and unnoticed.

Unions May Be Made Mutually Responsi- ble For Observance Of Labor Contracts

LONDON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Troops were ordered into the Liverpool docks area and began unloading 12,000 tons of urgently needed foodstuffs as a paralyzing dock strike raised a mounting menace to the delivery of the nation's meager rations. It has spread to Edinburgh where 1,000 Scottish dockers quit in sympathy in the English strike.

As new and continuing work stoppages today kept the idle around the country at 452,000, prominent legislators said they favored repeal of the Smith-Connally War Labor Disputes Act which permits strikes if the unions vote in favor of them. They said they wanted new legislation which would make the labor unions and employers "mutually responsible" for observance of contracts.

There was no report today on the conference in Washington in an effort to halt the soft coal strikes. There are 200,000 workers out in some 900 mines. The CIO Union, Automobile Workers, now negotiating for a 30 per cent wage rate increase in the motor industry, broadened their aim yesterday to include the aircraft and air line fields.

Extension of the wage campaign—was mapped after President R. J. Kirsch of the American Automotive Union described a wage increase granted by Wright Aeronautical Company as "the first compliance by a major corporation with the union's wage program."

Japs and had captured a total of 22,146 prisoners of war, Japanese and Koreans up until Sept. 24, with scores of Japs streaming into 31st Division stockades every day. Before V-J Day, the division had captured 941 Japs, taking in the remaining 21,202 at various surrender points on the big southernmost Philippine island of Mindanao after V-J Day.

After the 32nd Division arrived at Oro Bay, British New Guinea in March of 1944, and up until the day it was alerted for assignment home, 6,108 replacements had entered its ranks—nearly half the division strength. During those 10 months the division had lost 398 men killed, had 1,528 wounded in action, plus some (about 4,000) evacuated for medical reasons other than wounds, and hundreds transferred to other outfits.

Oldtimers in the "Dixie" Division can almost taste the delights of civilization which they missed in their 19 months overseas.

H.V. Moreland, Sanford all-state high school star a few seasons ago, is back in the grid picture at Corns Christi as he nears completion of his training as an Aviation Cadet. Moreland is playing at left end for the Corns Comets and saw action in the Comet victory over Rice Institute 26-13 and over Southern Methodist U. 22-7. During the 1944 season he performed with the Iowa Seahawks.

From the time the 31st arrived overseas in March of 1944 until the day it was alerted for shipment home, it lived and fought on all-out-of-the-way, backwoods battlefronts.

31ST DIVISION infantrymen made three New Guinea campaigns, invaded and held for seven months the island of Morotai, took the Jap-held Asia-Mania island group, and completed the Mindanao campaign during that time and have yet to see a paved street, plate-glass windows, or a house bigger than a nipa shack. But although they by-passed Australia, didn't quite get to Manila, and will never go sight-seeing in Japan, they're not complaining. They're thankful to be going home after nearly two years in the sticks.

Many of the veterans returning home with the division are members of the original National Guard division, made up of units from Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Florida. Among its 6,108 replacements, the majority are from Pennsylvania and New York.

More than two-thirds of the 14,310 officers and men of the 31st Infantry Division which came overseas 19 months ago are now eligible to return home, with it.

The famed "Dixie" Division will bring back about 9,500 troops, approximately 71 per cent of the present division strength.

All these figures, administrative officers said, were based on a screening score of 60 points for enlisted men. Officers' points were 85 for lieutenants and captains, and 100 for majors and above, but it was expected that all officers' levels would be dropped to 75 early this month.

When it was first announced that the 31st would ship home as a unit from the Philippines, 21 per cent of 2,888 troops of the division were already eligible for stateside redeployment under the point system, with 89 as the point level for enlisted men. By setting 60 as the screening score and using 75 as the screen for all officers, 6,291 additional troops were made eligible for shipment home.

The soft coal strike negotiations in Washington remained dead-locked and more than 195,000 men were out in six states and new pits shut down.

4. AFL bus employees voted to strike tomorrow (Saturday) for higher pay from a line serving nearly 1,000,000 daily passengers in 71 Massachusetts communities.

Raises Granted
UAW officials described the wage increase obtained from Wright Aeronautical as its Patterson, N. J., plants as approximately 40 per cent. Wright granted a 22 cents an hour raise on all basic rates for hourly paid employees. About 6,000 workers are affected immediately and probably more will be after reversion to peacetime operations. Previous basic rates ranged from 81 cents to $1.41 an hour.

Demands for a 30 per cent wage increase for 6,000 workers at seven Bendix Aviation Corporation plants have been presented to the War Labor Board by George F. Addes, UAW secretary-treasurer, who declared the union would ask for a strike vote if the board refused to accept jurisdiction.

The wage demands are similar to those presented to the Big Three of the automobile industry—Ford, General Motors and Chrysler—in behalf of their more than 600,000 employees. Strike votes have been set for this month and next among employees of the three firms.

Secretary of Labor Schweitzer reported to President Truman on the growing soft coal dispute but said the President sent no message to United Mine Workers or soft coal operators' conferees who are seeking a settlement.

League Voted Dissolved By United Nations

General DeGaulle returns from Brussels in the habit of reviewing all high court verdicts personally," the official said, "even when the defendant refuses to sign an appeal, as Laval has done."

Laval was sentenced to be shot Tuesday for treason and having intelligence with the enemy.

Paquis, whose pro-Nazi broadcasts made him of the most-hated of the French collaborators was shot with four members of the White Russian section of the Nazi Kestapo at Fort-de-Chatillon, where Joseph Darnand, former chief of the Vichy militia, met his end before a firing squad yesterday.

It now appears unlikely that Laval will be executed before the end of next week, even if DeGaulle refuses the trial which Laval's lawyers are demanding.

The general required at least a week to review the case of Darnand, Paquis and other doomed traitors.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 (AP)—Amid shouted demands for slashes in Federal spending, the House passed yesterday the first tax-cutting bill to enter Congress in 18 years—causing individual and business burdens by $5,350,000,000 in 1946. The vote was 343 for, 10 against.

For 1947, the legislation provides a $2,250,000,000 reduction below present levels.

Now tossed to the Senate, the bill takes 12,000,000 low income persons off the income tax rolls completely and gives at least a 10 per cent reduction to all other persons subject to this levy.

Chairman Doughton (D-N.C.) of the House Ways and Means committee and the House Republican Leader, Martin of Massachusetts, joined during the debate in demanding curtailment of government spending, as the only means to assist further lightening of the tax load.

Doughton said the budget must be balanced and payments made on the national debt. He declared: "To make taxes payable is important that all non-essential Federal spending be eliminated."

Fight Continues.
Martin took the floor to say: "I never notice that although the Republican members of the House will give their support to this measure, we shall continue to fight with unflagging determination to reduce the cost of this government and, by so doing, eventually reduce the burden of tax."

Other Republicans demanded larger tax reductions at this time. Representative Knutson of Minnesota, senior vice and member Republican, expressed hope the Senate will repeal outright the excess profits tax which is only partially eliminated in the House bill. Some Democrats complained that the House measure gives insufficient relief to low and middle income persons and to small business.

The House measure, which may be revised in the Senate, provides this relief for taxpayers in 1946:

1. Lifts all income taxes from 12,000,000 persons and gives other individuals (there were 50,000,000 taxpayers when the war ended) cuts ranging from 10 per cent to more than 40 per cent. No person would get less than a 10 per cent reduction. Income tax savings to individuals would amount to $2,527,000,000. Pay-as-you-go withholdings from wages and salaries would be reduced January 1.

Luxuries Levy Cut.
2. Fases corporation burdens by $1,888,000,000, including partial repeal of the war time excess-profits levy and lowering of the business surtax rate.

3. Reduces sharply, next July 1, the record wartime excises on so-called luxuries, including liquor, luggage, furs, jewelry and cosmetics. This would save consumers $538,000,000 in the last six months of 1946. The House bill would cut from $20 to $5 a gallon. About $160,000,000 in "luxury" stocks taxes would be refunded.

4. Abolishes the $5 automobile tax next July 1.

5. Frees the Social Security tax in 1946 at one per cent each one employee's pay and employer's payroll. Without the freeze the tax would jump to 2.5 per cent against each on January 1.

Anderson Coming To Florida For Farmers Meet

TALLAHASSEE, Oct. 12 (Special)—Florida's agricultural problems, believed by many leaders in all parts of the state to be of serious proportions, particularly in the matter of surplus disposals at "cost and better" prices, will be fully aired at Orlando on Nov. 14 and 15, Nathan Mayo, commissioner of agriculture, announced here today.

Secretary of Agriculture, Clinton P. Anderson of Washington, will take part in the Nov. 15 discussions," Mayo said.

Secretary Anderson will be the guest of the Florida Farm Bureau Federation.

At Mayo's request the fall meeting of the Agricultural Division of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce, of which William L. Wilson is chairman, and L. H. Kramer co-chairman, originally scheduled for Jacksonville, will be held at Orlando instead, on Nov. 14.

In making the announcement, Mayo declared that Kramer for months has been at work in the field surveying Florida's agricultural problems "from tip to tip," and that information, following a detailed study by State

BIBLE VERSE FOR TODAY

IT TOOK FAITH TO SAY AND BELIEVE THIS A SHORT TIME AGO, BUT EVENTS OF THREE THOUSAND YEARS HAVE ESTABLISHED ITS TRUTH OF OLD TIME AND IN THESE LATTER DAYS. Psalm 73:26; For what I needed there'd be...

THE LAST WORD

(From The Saturday Review of Literature) This horror is ecumenical; all men's. Beyond power to cleanse.

There is no consolation for abomination. But along the shelves I looked among our Better Selves (Poets, living or dead) For something they might have said.

For what I needed there'd be Perhaps only two or three: Cummings, E. E., or "Burning the Bee Tree" By Ruth Pittler.

Possibly Hopkins, S. J., Or, at last, too rare best, Mann.

Then I found, with gratitude "The poet of one mood" Bo she called herself, Alice Meynell.

"Love, hide thy face From Man's unpardonable race." CHRISTOPHER MORLEY

Wartime Washington, we are told, has all the efficiency of the South, all the charm of the North.

The "Full Employment Bill" has a lot to say about the "rights of a man to a job" but it is strangely silent on the "responsibilities of a man to his job."

President Truman came back from his vacation full of fighting, rebuffing for all he was worth the "few selfish men" who are retarding reconversion. But he didn't say who the selfish men are.

In Boston three chorus girls pitched their tents on the Boston Commons when they could obtain no hotel rooms. But the police evicted them from their tents. Down here there are plenty of wide open spaces for tent cities.

Steel production is being seriously curtailed by the coal strike. That means those things made out of steel like tractors, automobiles, trucks, and steel building supplies, will be delayed. And for this we can thank John L. Lewis.

The Lions Club has a committee investigating the feasibility of a new hospital. The County Commission has a similar committee. So has the Chamber of Commerce. With all three of them working toward the same end, we might get somewhere. There is nothing which Sanford needs quite so much as it does a new hospital. It should be our major project in the post-war period.

We are profoundly impressed, as no doubt many others were, by General Marshall's report on the necessity for being ever prepared. But the danger is not for the present generation of adults but for their children twenty years hence. Will Marshall's warning then fall on deaf ears? Will people then be more interested in selfish enjoyment than in preparing for future trouble. We are afraid so. People learn slowly and history tends to repeat.

The Herald has repeatedly warned the public against the dangers of emptying sewage into neighboring lakes and streams, long a common practice in Florida. As the state increases in population, as towns grow into cities, this problem becomes more and more acute and the hazards to public health from contaminated water are more apparent. It is no argument to say we have survived for generations without sanitary sewage disposal. Less than a generation ago there were few that built as many roads as there are now. Recommended roadways for public officials and interested citizens are the series of articles running in the Tampa Tribune on the contamination of water.

Totally Unprepared

Just how woefully unprepared for war the United States was in the dark days of 1941 when we were extending all-out aid to Britain "short of war" and standing athwart the path of Japanese aggression in the Dutch East Indies is indicated by General Wainwright in "This Is My Story," currently appearing in many large newspapers.

"We were in a war for which we were no more prepared than a child is prepared to fight a cruel and seasoned professional pugilist," he said in one of his articles. And in another he writes, "Bluemel's infantrymen trained on an average of three or four weeks before being forced to fight. His engineers got no training at all. His artillery never fired a practice shot."

"His infantry had no combat practice, no combat training, little or no rifle or machine gun practice." General Wainwright, who spent over three years in a Jap prison camp, continues, "There was no infantry-artillery team training."

"As was the case with all other Philippine Army divisions which fought under me, the 31st division did not have a full complement of artillery. What guns it had—British 75 mm's and 2.95-inch mountain howitzers—were obsolete. There was little means of transportation for any artillery. The 71st and 91st divisions were badly undermanned."

"None of my divisions had an anti-tank battalion. None had anything like the required transportation and signal communication equipment. They were all short of ammunition, but with the exception of certain vital types we received a store of this in the nick of time through the efforts of Col. (Now Brig. Gen) Lewis Beebe, MacArthur's assistant chief of staff in charge of supply."

"We were terribly short then, and understandably shorter later, of hand grenades, 50 calibre machine gun and infantry mortar ammunition. We had only a few rounds of the latter type, critically needed in jungle fighting. We were poverty-stricken, too, in ammunition for the 2.95 howitzers, for these were obsolete guns and the ammunition for them no longer was being made."

"We got practically no transportation for any purpose: hardly a truck, hardly a car. My command, destined to receive the forthcoming blow of perhaps a quarter of a million well-equipped Japanese troops, supported by warships and an air force in full charge of the skies, was spread over an area 75 miles from north to south and 100 miles from east to west."

But the only means of communication with the various divisions was through the public telephone lines. To top everything, the main bulk of my men were not only untrained but undisciplined, and were led by extremely inexperienced Filipino officers."

"What I am saying is this: 'The Philippine army units with the North Luzon force were doomed before they started to fight. That they lasted as long as they did is a stirring and touching tribute to their gallantry and fortitude.' All this was not at San Diego or San Francisco, or in the Aleutians, or at Pearl Harbor. It was in the Philippines at the exact spot where former President Roosevelt predicted the first blow from the enemy would fall."

Pravda's 10,000th

On the occasion of its 10,000th issue, Pravda, organ of the Communist Party in Moscow, once again tried to define "freedom of the press," declaring Russia has it and the United States doesn't. Journalists in this country are not free because of "capitalist publishers," Pravda claims. The Soviet journalist, on the other hand "is free because no exterior opinions can influence him."

In the United States, a journalist can write what he pleases, within limits of libel and decency. The "capitalist" publisher can print what he pleases, with the same restrictions. The product of each must find a public willing to buy and read, under the "capitalistic" system, or each venture will fail. The right and privilege is there for all to see. It is the public which decides whether that right is being employed in their interest.

In Russia, newspapers and magazines, the buildings and their equipment, not only are owned by the government but are an integral part of it. In fact, the Russians have but one newspaper under different names. The opinions and information offered in that newspaper must satisfy the "people," and the "people" in Russia are the small group of party leaders and officials. Any other opinion or information is condemned.

What would happen if some enterprising young man in Moscow managed to locate a printing press and published a newspaper criticizing Stalin or the Communist system? We all know the answer.

Until a young Russian can do just that without disappearing into Siberia we cannot believe in Pravda's claims of freedom.—Editor & Publisher.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

By RUSSELL KAY

You know I always looked on my friend Al Cody, publisher of the Florida Cattleman, as Florida's greatest booster of our growing livestock industry but it looks like Paul Scarborough, Jr., Special Representative of the Seaboard Airline, is running him a close second.

Anyhow Paul dropped by to see me after attending a cattle show and sale held in Okeechobee not long ago and about all the guy could talk about was Florida cattle and what a marvelous future lies ahead for Florida as a cattle state.

According to Paul they really had quite a party down there on the shores of Lake Okeechobee with the Livestock Association, Chamber of Commerce and city and county officials playing host to a flock of dignitaries that gathered from earlier and later for the occasion, which, from all I gather, was what might well be termed an "auspicious" one.

In weather that ran the gamut from brilliant sunshine to sudden squalls of rain, the Okeechobee Livestock Market enjoyed the second busiest day in its history. To the accompaniment of bawling cattle, roaring of a bevy of buyers who came from just about everywhere and stood around eagerly with their pockets full of folding money.

In the background, taking in the show, was a lively crowd of lean and lanky cow hands, town folks from bankers to bootblacks, a colorful assortment of Seminole Indians in their native garb, state, county and city officials and a smattering of newspapermen.

The genial "Colonel" from Umatilla, Mike in one hand and gavel in the other, paced the auction from early afternoon until nearly dark and when the chore was finally finished, it was possible for W. E. Carson, president of the market to proudly inform all and sundry that only once before in the history of the auction had more cattle been sold at the Okeechobee county seat.

Highlight of the afternoon was the sale of a fine red bull for $10 per hundred. The animal weighed out at 1075 pounds.

Immediately preceding the auction a lavish catfish dinner was staged with all hands participating and I can tell you when those folks dump around Lake Okeechobee just naturally don't fool around about it. The catfish grow wild down there and they are the "best" kind.

The event was staged at the Community Center where the Chamber of Commerce and Livestock Association big-wigs played host to several hundred guests. Presiding was Chamber President R. B. Messerve, who launched his program with an address of welcome from Mayor H. V. Rauler and wound it up with a brief talk by Mr. Carson.

State Senators N. Ray Carroll of Deer Park and John B. Beacham of West Palm Beach respectively lent dignity to the occasion and spoke on the general theme, which you have probably guessed by this time, was cattle and the thriving cattle industry.

After tracing the early struggles of the Florida State Cattleman's Association, Senator Carroll expressed the belief that Okeechobee should become the outstanding cattle market in Florida while Senator Beacham asserted that the economic future of Florida lies primarily in continuous agricultural and industrial development. He pointed with pride to the considerable progress made by the cattle industry in the last few years and predicted that it was only the beginning.

Guiding spirit of the whole operation in Okeechobee is W. E. Carson, president of the market which he established here on April 5, 1945 after moving here from Alachua County. Commenting on the future of the industry in an interview with Scarborough, he said:

"Even though this year has been hard on cattle, first because of prolonged drought and later with an excess of rainfall, Florida will remain a leading beef and weather and brighter years are ahead of us and I feel certain that Florida will become one of the greatest cattle producing areas to be found anywhere in the world."

"Okeechobee will play a very important part in that development."

On the first coast to coast air mail flights, the mail was carried in planes by day and trains by night. Two-way radio telephone communication between planes and ground stations was established in 1930.

My nerves were on edge, I had to depend on strong laxatives for elimination, and at times every muscle in my body seemed to feel sore and painful. "These 70 percenters must not have a son, husband, sweetheart, no, not even a friend in the armed forces. If they have, their friendship certainly isn't worth having, for they were offering to give them up, rather than let the Japs surrender and save thousands of American lives. "All the strikes back in the States caused a lot of talk and hard feelings among the men and women overseas. Why? Because we weren't getting enough of the things we needed to carry on a battle! "I have gone three days in a row without a decent meal because it wasn't available. Spam has been served (I'm not saying that it was eaten) twice a day for two or three days. I've eaten it so much and meat and vegetable stew that I can't stand to look at either one anymore. "At times even ammunition was scarce. Can you imagine ammunition being rationed during a battle? I can, for it actually happened. At night, men on the front lines need flares to light up the area in case of a counter-attack or infiltration. There were days when I could get only one or two cases - eight flares to a case - and other times I couldn't get any. These flares light an area for only about 20 seconds. In a one hour attack, we would use 100 flares for one battalion. Certainly a battle cannot be carried out successfully if you don't have the ammunition you need. Flares certainly weren't the only type of ammunition we used.

"The people in the United States want a landing on the Southern end of Okinawa. How can they expect to have two fronts on the same island when there isn't enough ammunition to carry on one battle front? They blamed it on the Army and Navy, when the blame should rightfully be placed on the people in the factories and other places where they were having strikes. "These people struck for higher wages when most of them were probably making at least $1.00 per hour and time and a half or more for overtime. I don't believe that anyone had over a sixty hour week. "The doughboys I spoke of in a previous letter have a 168

REPORTS FROM TOKYO state that Baron Kijuro Shidchira, 73-year-old liberal, will succeed Prince Naruhiko Higashi-Kuni as the Japanese Premier. Shidchira, a former Ambassador to the United States according to broad-casts, has pledged full co-operation with General Douglas MacArthur. (International) hour week. My Regiment, the 382nd Infantry, 96th Infantry Division, was in battle 33 days on Leyte, Philippine Islands, without being relieved. Each man is awake at least one third of the night, every night. What would happen if the doughboys sat down and said I won't fight unless I get higher wages. Remember, a Private is only paid $65.00 a month and he pays for his own insurance. Yes, the Army feeds him, such as it is, and they clothe him.

"From the time we hit the beaches on Leyte on D-Day, it was only 21 days before, many of us had an opportunity to take a bath and wash our clothes. Clothes that were worn 24 hours a day for 21 days. Perfume? Yes, we had a perfume all our own; no one else could stand it. The odds were also against the doughboys living. We fought not only the Japs, but every kind of disease you can think of and others you have probably never heard of.

"All I can say is the people pulling these strikes wanted to have their cake and eat it too. One of the things that is against the men now overseas, certain people want the draft to stop immediately. If it is discontinued it only means that the men now overseas will have to serve in the army of occupation besides all the fighting they have done.

"I still consider myself young for I am only 25, and I've been in the Army five years Nov. 25. Now, I would like to get back and get started on a life of my own. Sure, I'm around home these days of 18-and-25 who haven't spent any time in the Army, could join for two years. If not, it will mean the men who have already given three to five years will have to give from two to five more. We can't see where that is fair to the men who have been in combat.

"I don't mean that everyone has let us down, for that certainly would not be true. I think the people around home have done a wonderful job. I have heard of no strikes, bickering or anything else that would endanger the lives of the men overseas and I'm mighty proud of you. That is one thing no Jap or anyone else will ever take away from me. "I would like to hear from some of my old friends if they have time to drop a few lines my way. Regards to all."

A single U.S. Quartermaster truck company moved as much as 3,000 tons of engineering equipment, food, clothing and gasoline supplies weekly during the war.

Military forces of the Allies in 1918 used about 33,000 barrels of gasoline daily, of which 6,500 was aviation gasoline and 32,500 motor gasoline.
