Abortion Debate Sizzles
Students Seek Board Reversal

By CHARITY CICARDO
Herald Staff Writer
About 100 senior political science students from Lake Brantley High School are going to attempt to change a Seminole County School Board policy that forbids the discussion of abortion in classrooms.
Five political science students and their instructor, Della Horner, asked the board Tuesday to let the students debate state funding of abortion.
The issue is part of the class' mock legislature season, a simulation game based on the operation of the Florida Legislature.
The board unanimously voted not to allow the abortion debate because of a board policy which states: "The topics of birth control and abortion shall not be incorporated in any classroom... until written material, film, lecture notes, or other forms of communication has been reviewed and approved by the district school board in advance of presentation."
Student Verna Lenihan said they were really fired up about this. We'd like to get the policy changed in time for our debates, which start Dec. 15.
The students are hoping to be on the board's agenda for Dec. 10.
Lenihan said if the students can't get the policy changed in time for their debates, then they hope to get the policy changed for future classes.
Lenihan said parents are also organizing to get the policy changed. Lenihan said they are going to make up their own policy after consulting board attorney Ned Julian to see what the current policy states.
The students feel the board should be able to review material and films, she said, but not forbid discussion or debate of the topic.

WOMAN RESCUED FROM HER HOME

Seminole Fire Investigator Ray Pippin (right) and Charlene and Glenn Drake are an elderly woman from her Paola home following a fire reported shortly after 9 p.m. Wednesday. The woman shared the home at 2220 Via Bonita with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keeney. Pippin said the fire started when the heating system was turned on, overheating a flue up against ceiling joists. The home suffered about $4,000. Pippin said. Neither the Keeney family, their dog or their neighbors, the Drakes, who helped them from their home, were injured in the smoky blaze.

Special Commission Meeting

Decision On Chemicals Expected

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The Sanford City Commission will decide today on action to end chemical waste storage in the western section of the city.

City Manager Warren Knowles has suggested the commission consider requesting a court injunction to stop City Chemicals from storing additional chemicals at the site as well as an order demanding that the chemicals now stored there be removed.

At the special 4 p.m. meeting, David Kirkhoff, a lifelong resident of the area and a hybridizer of day lilies by profession, will present petitions seeking removal of the 3,500 drums of waste chemicals stored on a one-acre parcel in the community. Kirkhoff began circulating the petition Wednesday.

The storage site is off Jewell Lane and Airport Boulevard, leased by City Industries Inc. from the Seminole Employment Economic Development Corp. (SEEDCO). Horace Orr, president of SEEDCO, has said the lease — for a one-year period beginning in September 1980 at a fee of $20 a month — has been canceled and the firm has been given 30 days to remove the drums from the property.

Kirkhoff, an environmentalist, said today the petition being circulated through the city is directed to the Sanford City Commission, the city manager, mayor, all governmental agencies, "bureaus, agents, bureaucrats, elected and appointed officials."

The wording of the petition is as follows: "We the people of Seminole County, wish to protest the storage of hazardous chemicals in Seminole County. We desire an immediate ban on all such storage of hazardous chemicals now and in the future."

The state and federal agents also will meet with the city commission at its 4 p.m. meeting.

A cousin of County Commissioner Bill Kirkhoff, Kirkhoff said the issue of the chemical waste on a Sanford site was the cause of his changing from an "armchair observer of the political process" into a participant.
"This particular thing is so grave it will touch all our lives," he said. "If worse comes to a little bit worse than it already is."

Sanford Fire Chief G. Manning Harriett, whose department has been keeping a 24-hour watch at the chemical storage area since early this week, said today that City Chemical Co. Inc., which has been storing the chemical waste, removed five leaking drums Wednesday and posted "no trespassing" signs there.

"We don't mind them taking any of the chemicals away. We just don't want them bringing in new drums," Harriett said.

Arthur Greer, president of both corporations, was not available for comment from his Orlando office today.

Knowles was to meet with officers from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, and the state Department of Environmental Regulation at 1 p.m. today to discuss how the storage can best be regulated.

The state and federal agents also will meet with the city commission at its 4 p.m. meeting.

Iran Asks U.S. To Clarify Position

United Press International

Iranian Prime Minister Mohammad Ali Rajai, stating the United States has agreed in principle to Iran's four demands for the release of the 52 American hostages, said today his government has asked Washington to clarify its reply — especially regarding the return of the late shah's wealth.

Rajai's remarks, quoted by the Kuwaiti News Agency, were a clear indication Iran is negotiating on the hostages issue despite frequent statements in recent days that the demands were non-negotiable.

Diplomatic sources, quoted by KUNA, said Iran has accepted the U.S. reply to two conditions and the Algerian mediators had extended their stay in Tehran to work for the

Rape Trial Nears Jury
Court Psychiatrists Disagree On Sanity

By DAVID M. HAZLER
Herald Staff Writer

After three days of testimony about rare psychiatric disorders, demonic possession and exorcisms at the Seminole County Jail — and the legal definition of sanity, six Seminole County residents were scheduled to decide this afternoon whether an admitted rapist knew right from wrong when he committed his crime.

Closing arguments began this morning in the trial of Willard Patrick Johnson, 37, of Orlando.

Thought jurors will have the opinions of three court-appointed psychiatrists to consider while making their decision, the three doctors were not consistent in their opinions. Two called Johnson legally sane while a third called him absolutely incapable of controlling his actions or knowing right from wrong on April 17, the night of the assault.

Dr. Michael Gutman explained to the court he believed Johnson was "a mish-mash of a man" torn between "Willard," a criminal, anti-social being and "Pat," an entirely separate personality who is religious and tries to reform the person as a whole.

Johnson is constantly torn by "the hurricane" of his mind, Gutman told the jury, and cannot control himself.

According to Gutman, "Pat" was created by the partial rehabilitative effects of an earlier prison term. Johnson tried to reform himself, but ended up with two very separate, very different personalities, possibly with separate sub-personalities, Gutman said.

But doctors J. Lloyd Wilder and Robert Kirkland told the jury the dual personality defense and Johnson's actions were simply ways to avoid punishment.

Kirkland told the court none of the security information on multiple personalities suggests a person suffering from the condition would commit criminal acts.

He added he believed Johnson was faking the separation between Willard and Pat.

But on cross examination, Kirkland said he considered Johnson's "mirror writing" called by other witnesses evidence of his personality disorder, a fraud, probably copied from a letter turned over and traced.

Johnson's reversed writing was perfect and definitely not traced or contrived, Wilder testified.

Kirkland also told the court he had not spoken to persons who observed strange behavior in Johnson in the past and did not take into account an assessment of tests given to Johnson by a psychologist and used by Gutman to help back up his conclusion the suspect was insane.

Wilder testified for the shortest time of the three doctors, telling the court Johnson was "malingerer," trying to avoid punishment through claiming a mental disorder.

"He had the ability to know what he was doing, to know right from wrong," he said. Johnson tries to separate good and evil, but has only one personality, he said.

He called the mirror written letters irrelevant. "I have known people who know how to do that," he said, calling it a skill, not as described by other witnesses as a sign of a "disassociative" personality disorder.

Throughout the day, Johnson remained almost motionless, starting at the desk in front of him, occasionally blinking.

Even when his wife, Kathy, testified, Johnson remained unresponsive.

Mrs. Johnson, who met the defendant in prison in 1975 while she was singing with an evangelical Christian group and married him when he was released in 1978, told the court he had suffered in the past from amnesia periods, similar to the one Miller claims blocked out memory of the Winter Springs rape and robbery he is charged with committing.

She told how on one occasion Johnson did not come home from work, but called from Indiana, saying he did not know who she was, but found her number in his wallet.

When Johnson finally arrived back at an Orlando bus terminal, he walked right past her, Mrs. Johnson said.

But Johnson's Winter Springs victim and the woman he tied up and robbed two weeks earlier in College Park told the court they believed he was sane when he committed the crime.

Testimony in the trial finally ended at 7:30 p.m.
Earlier in the day, two Episcopal priests testified they had witnessed evidence of demonic possession in Johnson when they visited him at the Seminole County Jail.

Rev. Richard Bowman, of the Church of the Holy Spirit, Apopka, and Rev. Fred Eastham, of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Maitland, said they had seen Johnson stricken by the kinds of symptoms testified to Tuesday by a Sanford minister.

Bowman said he even attempted exorcising the demon from Johnson, commanding it to come forth.

Under Florida law, persons are only legally insane if they do not know the difference between right and wrong and the penalties they may face at the time they commit a crime.

Johnson is charged with robbery and rape, for the April 17 attack on a Winter Springs woman in her condominium, a crime his attorney admitted the defendant committed.

RETURN OF THE RITZ

Although it's hard to tell from this flipped-over banner, Sanford's Ritz Theater on Magnolia Avenue will open soon. The theater will reopen in the next two weeks under the ownership of Louis Santiago of Boston, according to George DeJesus of Deltona, the new manager. DeJesus said the theater, now being given a new coat of paint, new carpeting and seats, will show double features for $2.50, featuring mostly family oriented films.

How About A Look At Halley's Comet?

Voyager's dramatic views of Saturn and its rings and moons have told us more about that distant planet in a few days than was accumulated in the entire history of astronomy.

A second Voyager making the interplanetary tour will reach Saturn for another look next August. Then, only one planetary probe remains on the agenda for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration—sending a spacecraft into orbit around the planet Jupiter in the late 1980s.

The rest is silence, as far as further U.S. space exploration is concerned. The space shuttle which NASA is developing with the Defense Department is scheduled for its first launch next year, but that piloted reusable space vehicle has no missions at present beyond the application of space technology from earth-orbiting satellites.

Western Europe is developing its own Ariane spacecraft through the 11-nation European Space Agency. The Chinese are said to be training astronauts for their space program. Even poor India is planning to spend $1 billion on space satellites.

The final indignity to the U.S. space program came last year when the Carter administration decided the United States cannot afford to send a spacecraft to rendezvous with Halley's comet in 1986, a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to probe the nucleus of a comet.

Ken Deffen, manager of Corporate Communications for General Foods Corporation, who was in Sanford for the Post, Fun 'n Fitness Golden Age Games, was back in his White Plains, N.Y. office Monday pleased with the success of this year's games.

Even though the decision to sponsor Sanford's 1980 senior citizens event was not announced until September, General Foods and Post have provided a good friend to Sanford and the games providing invaluable backing and national media exposure and through their sponsorship of the honorary chairman Buster Crabbe.

The firm is now evaluating its possible participation in next year's Golden Age Games and Deffen says if they decide to do so they plan on getting in on the planning earlier this time. Deffen says he hopes all the Florida seniors 55 and over will participate in Post's program whereby they can obtain athletic equipment free by saving Fun 'n Fitness proof of purchase seals.

The program which has been offered to elementary schools has been expanded to this state's senior citizens to promote their health and fitness. The company expects to expand it to seniors nationwide next year.

To receive a catalog or more information call the toll-free number, 800-433-9178. To accumulate enough stamps senior organizations may wish to pool their stamps.

There are so many intangible benefits to the community from the Golden Age Games in addition to obvious ones. John Edwards, manager of the Lake Monroe Holiday Inn, which was host to the swimming events, said he never met so many "wonderful people" as those participating in the games.

"We plan for the youth participating to stay together during this fact so that while we share the experience of feeling hungry, we can also learn why hunger exists in the world and what we can do about it," he said. They will learn about factors such as lifestyles, population and energy crisis through audiovisuals and other program materials and discussion, long-range solutions.

While such staggering figures of misery and suffering give many of us a feeling of hopelessness, a group of Sanford youths have decided to do something about it. Some 60-70 youths of the Light House Youth Ministry of the First Assembly of God will begin a "Planned Famine" Friday and will continue their fast for six hours. Each youth participating will contribute $6 of his-her own money plus $6 donations from supporters in an effort to raise $1,200 for the hunger relief and development project of World Vision International.

In the last five games, the Chargers have stuck to their pass-first-lately offensive philosophy, throwing 59 percent of the time. But San Diego runners have shown fresh zip in gaining 111, 108, 118, 113 and 171 yards in those games—more than 4 yards per carry.

Grin, Bear It, Liberals

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Liberals, and to some that erroneously includes everyone whose words regularly appear in print, have been getting an earful of derision from conservatives since Tuesday past.

However, since the games, etc., and after the razzing folks of the right have had to take in previous November, it seems only fair that they should be some strutting about their big and unexpected 1980 victory.

Actually, the liberals may find this loss and the minority status they will have to assume in the Washington post which they bid a lot more clever bumper stickers than original suggestions for dealing with national or international problems.

The conservatives haven't done much in the way of innovation, either, but after all, that isn't supposed to be their role. The fact that they have latched on to a odd liberal Democratic idea for restoring the economy—John Kennedy's stimulative tax cut—is no stranger than the fact that the moderate Democrat Carter adopted the same restive monetary formula for fighting inflation as moderate Republican Gerald Ford.

Now both moderate and liberal Democrats are looking for some new idea since the Peace Corps. That seemed to be the case with Sen. Edward Kennedy's ill-fated challenge of President Carter, which left behind a lot more clever bumper stickers than original suggestions for dealing with national or international problems.

Here We Go Again?

If you've been taking as a joke suggestions that the campaign for the 1984 election has already started, you can stop laughing now. It's a quiet that, but almost. Here we are, still knee deep in the fallout of the most agonizingly drawn-out campaign in memory, and some among us are already gearing up for the next national vote, the 1982 congressional elections.

By its own reckoning, the committee was instrumental in the defeat of liberal candidates in the congressional races this year. It is amusing to do as well or better in 1982.

The tentative list, released by the committee's Washington office, includes some 20 names. The most prominent come as no surprise, such as Sen. Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts or Sen. William Proxmire of Wisconsin and Howard Detenham of Ohio or Rep. Morris Udall of Arizona.

But others raise a question as to what, other than identification as a Democrat, goes into the committee's definition of liberal. Sen. Henry Jackson of Washington and Robert Byrd of West Virginia are clearly out of place in the committee's definition of liberal. Sen. Daniel Moynihan of New York would appear suitable, if at all, only on grounds of his highly liberal personal interpretation of the liberal creed.

The initial list is subject to some later trimming, according to the committee, and it would appear to offer ample opportunity for negotiations over still under way and exactly two weeks after Carter was nominated to be the Democratic Party's presidential candidate.

Carter's Tainted Name

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Despite his other liabilities, one of President Carter's major accomplishments in office was presumed to be the restoration of integrity and honesty to the governmental process—but now even that isn't doubt.

During the initial years of Carter's tenure in the White House, he was high-level government jobs who were in any way tainted by scandal or believed to be insensitive to the highest standards of ethical conduct.

But the recent little-noticed appointment of Douglas G. Robinson to be the Department of Energy's chief of staff, a major policy-making position, raises serious questions about the president's conduct in appointing him to his earlier principles during the waning months of his term in office.

The most scandalous episode involving Robinson was noted in various news accounts during the late 1970s, but the most comprehensive exposition appears in a number of published books, "Unselected Representatives," by Michael J. Malbin.

DOE's office of Inspector General subsequently investigated Robinson's conduct and reported its findings in a January 1978 document that never has been released to the public.

By his past record, the exact point spread of two points in the Lake Howell-Spruce Creek game. For the season 49 votes of confidence, 15 absentee balloters. Percentage wise that figures up to 765 on the year.

Now for the final countdown of the season in week number 10.

Water Park at Lyman. Unfortunately for the Greyhounds it looks like a 6-10 season.

Lyman is licking its wounds from the 29-3 drubbing suffered last week at Seminole.

Now the Greyhounds must play host to Winter Park, which brings some heavy credentials into Longwood Friday night.

College Rushing Title At Stake In Weekend Meetings

By United Press International
 South Carolina senior George Rogers is a good bet to win the year's national college rushing crown.
 Rogers, who finished second to Southern Cal's Charles White a year ago, is currently second again to a Southern Cal player, trailing Marcus Allen of the Trojans by an average of 4.4 yards per game.
 But Rogers closes out his season Saturday against Clemson while Allen has to take on two highly regarded defenses — 19th-ranked UCLA Saturday and 2nd-ranked Notre Dame which handed Alabama its first home-state shutout in 22 years on Dec. 6 for national honors. Rogers, who finished last year with a nation-leading 1,613 yards in his final game and if he maintains his average (18.3) against Clemson (which held him to 102 last season), he would wind up with the sixth-highest single-season total in NCAA history. His career total of 4,790 ranks him fourth on the all-time list behind Tony Dorsett, Willie and Archie Griffin.

 Rogers' bid for the national rushing crown which eluded him last year highlights Saturday's relatively light southeast schedule.
 The Southeast's three top-10 teams all have open dates. Top-ranked Georgia, the only unbeaten-united major college team in the country, will host Georgia Tech next week and then play Notre Dame in a Sugar Bowl showdown for the national championship; 4th-ranked Florida State, an Orange Bowl entry, had its season finale with 30th-ranked Florida moved from Saturday to Dec. 6 for national television; and 10th-ranked Alabama, which plays Baylor in the Cotton Bowl, closes its regular season next week against Auburn.
 This week's schedule, starting with 15th-ranked South Carolina at Clemson includes Mideastern Mississippi State vs. Ole Miss at Jackson, Kentucky at Tennessee, Tulane at LSU, Chattanooga at Vanderbilt, Louisville at Southern Mississippi, North Texas State at Miami of Florida, and Wichita State at Memphis State.

 Many of the Southeast teams are going to bowls this winter. In addition to Georgia, Florida State and Alabama, Florida has been paired with Maryland in the Tangerine Bowl, Mississippi State in the Sun Bowl, South Carolina meets 6th-ranked Pitt in the Gator Bowl, Southern Miss in the Independence Bowl, Tulane plays Arkansas in the Hall of Fame Classic, and Miami is making a bid for a Peach Bowl berth opposite Virginia Tech.
 Rogers isn't the only Southeast player seeking a national title. Southern Mississippi's Sammy Winder, with 120 points on 20 touchdowns, holds a commanding lead in scoring.
 Mississippi State, where Emory Bellard has turned the football program around in just two years, is a lockdown favorite Saturday. An expected victory would give the Bulldogs, who upset Alabama (63) when the Crimson Tide was ranked No. 1 and riding a 28-game winning streak, a 5-1 Southeastern Conference record and an overall mark of 9-2 — both the best they have done since 1961.
 It could be a high-scoring game since both teams have scored a lot of points and given up a lot of points this season. Although Ole Miss has only three victories (including last week's 20-0 win over Tennessee), the Rebels lead the SEC in total offense with an average of 368 yards per game. Ole Miss quarterback John Fournace, a junior, is leading the SEC in individual offense for

Stamp Drive Nets $1,600 For RMH

By DORIS DIETRICH
 The Junior Women's Club and Women's Club of Sanford have completed what a spokesman called "a very successful" S & H Green Stamps drive to benefit the Ronald McDonald House (RMH), a home away from home for families hospitalized at Shands Teaching Hospital, Gainesville.
 The cash value of the stamps collected was $1,600 which was presented to Mrs. Tom Hunt, area representative for RMH, to forward to the Gainesville facility.
 Woodlands Elementary School was the winner of 27 reading books from the club for contributing over 200 books of S & H Green Stamps to the cause.
 The Ronald McDonald clown made the books presentation. The school, in turn, presented these books to the RMH through Brenda Stewart, primary specialist, and Kathy Dooley, guidance counselor.
 Altamonte Elementary School was the second place winner in the drive. This school received fifty reading books from the clubs which were also presented to RMH by Cornelia Hand.
 A letter of recognition was presented to Donna Fueserhand, junior chairman, by the S & H Stamp representative for a job well done.

Brinson Sparks Cowboys To Title

Bryan Brinson put on a one-man scoring show Saturday to lead the Cowboys to a 25-9 win over the Rams to clinch the championship in the Sanford Recreation Department's Flag Football League.
 The Cowboys scored on their opening drive when Brinson fired an eight-yard aerial to Albert Armstrong. Dexter Franklin caught a pass from Brinson for the extra point, making the score 7-0.
 The Cowboys increased their lead to 13-0 when Brinson dashed 25 yards down the right sideline for a touchdown. Rams quarterback Daryl Williams put his team on the scoreboard late in the first half with a two-yard run. The PAT failed and it was 13-0 at the half.
 A 25-yard run by Brinson accounted for the next Cowboys touchdown, increasing the lead to 19-0.
 The Rams cut the deficit to seven points when Williams ran 152 yards around the left end for a TD. After recovering an on-side kick, the Rams marched down the field again. Williams topped the drive with an 80-yard run. Williams passed to Brian Sheffield for the extra point, tying the score to 19-19.
 The winning touchdown came on a four-yard run by Brinson.

Potter Pegs 1st In Mayfair Event

First place honors in the Mayfair Women's Golf Association Seniors Tournament went to Sanford's Alice Potter Wednesday.
 Potter finished ahead of runner up Marge Horne in the tournament sponsored by Flagship of Seminole.
 Irene Brown of Flagship was on hand to present awards to the winners of the special event.
 In the weekly play, a scramble, it was quite a scramble.
 Margaret Bots, Ann Guth, Fran Albrecht and Genevieve Woodruff all knotted with 76's in the top flight.
 12' flight honors went to a foursome with identical 81's including Vivian Conklin, Rita Findell, Keen Ivery and Ellen Donley.
 Mary Ann Williams led a trio with 86's that shared C' flight honors.
 Marge Perssons and Barbara Pfuke joined Williams.
 Rounding out the play on Wednesday Ann Moore, Pinky Midluck, Grace Sauer and Lorraine Miller all fired 83's.

Philly Keeps Rolling 110-101

United Press International
 Philadelphia kept rolling with another basketball game with 28 turnovers, but it's impossible in a game with the Philadelphia 76ers.
 The Golden State Warriors were man-handled Wednesday night by the 76ers' full-court press, and the result was a 110-101 loss that snapped the Warriors' four-game winning streak.
 "The full-court press really helped us," said Philadelphia Coach Billy Cunningham. "I've seen Golden State get the ball past our initial defense, they were still having trouble when they got to the front court."
 The 76ers, who now have won 16 of their last 12 games, got 21 points from Julius Erving and 16 from Steve Nis, and broke open a close game in the third quarter.
 Golden State led 70-68, with 10:10 left in the first half, but the 76ers outscored the Warriors, 16-2, to take an 86-72 lead with 33 seconds left in the period. Golden State never threatened again.
 Bert King, who was the game's high scorer with 29 points, helped Golden State take a 95-83 lead.

Knee Injury Puts Laker's Magic Under Knife

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — The Magic man has run out of tricks, at least for awhile.
 Ervin "Magic" Johnson, last year's runner-up in the Rookie of the Year balloting and currently the NBA leader in assists and steals, will undergo surgery on his left knee Monday to remove torn cartilage and will be out of the Los Angeles Lakers' lineup from two to three months.
 Johnson, the flashy 6-foot-6 guard, has his second season from Michigan State where he led his team to the NCAA championship in 1978, sustained the injury Tuesday night, midway through the second quarter of a game against Kansas City.

Husband Insists One Kid Enough

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for eight years and have a 2½-year-old daughter. We are both career people. I am a school teacher. I love children and want another child soon, as I'm not getting any younger. My husband doesn't want any more. He was an only child and prefers peace and tranquility. He's an excellent father although sometimes he's a bit indifferent. We were married because he said he wanted children, but he insists that one is enough. This is our only serious doubt about whether he really wants to go through with it. (His fiance lives out of state.) He is considering calling it off until he gets his head straight. He says their wedding date has been changed twice because first she wasn't sure, and then he wasn't. I wouldn't feel that I was breaking up anything if I might end up single. What do you think?
 DEAR BOWLEDERED: If he promised you children, you're reminded him of his promise. And pray he has a change of heart before you have a change of life.

DEAR ABBY: I met this guy at a nightclub, and we were immediately attracted to each other. He's a Virgo and I'm an Aquarian, so our signs are perfect for a lasting relationship. He asked to see me a long story short, we soon became very close, if you know what I mean. Abby, I never fell in love last in all my life. It turns out that he is engaged, but he's having serious doubts about whether he really wants to go through with it. (His fiance lives out of state.) He is considering calling it off until he gets his head straight. He says their wedding date has been changed twice because first she wasn't sure, and then he wasn't. I wouldn't feel that I was breaking up anything if I might end up single. What do you think?
 DEAR BARBARA: I have received a rash of letters attesting the healing powers of the duplexing treatment. The mail is running so high against me, but I'm not licked yet.
 DEAR READER: I thought you'd never ask. One of my biggest problems is the newspaper that fails to run the bag with my column that reads: "For a personal, unpublished reply, write to Abby, 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. And please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Then they chew me out for failing to answer their letters.
 I am the earliest person in the world to reach. Should you

Hormone Dieting Simply 'Atrocious'

DEAR DR. LAMB - Does HCG cause fat tissue to be broken down? I am active and it would be great if I could take HCG injections to allow me to maintain my muscles while I crash off the fat that has accumulated on my hips and waist in a shorter than normal period for most diets.

I know from the rest of your letter that you're a young woman and if you restrict your dietary intake to such a degree, you run the risk of upsetting your normal hormone cycles and the risk of losing your hair.

DEAR DR. LAMB - When someone is taking heart and blood pressure medication, do you always have to take it with water or could you take it with orange or prune juice or the morning?

DEAR READER - No, you don't have to use water. You could take your pills with a glass of milk or almost any beverage that you haven't been asked not to use.

Raquel Welch Is Not Upset At Turning 40

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) - If life begins at 40 for most people, that particular milestone is the death knell for Hollywood glamour girls - unless the lady happens to be Raquel Welch.

Raquel went public with her age a couple of months ago and says she has no regrets about "telling the world" she turned 40 last Sept. 5.

"People figured I was 38 or 37 anyway," she said, smiling. "It's the big difference in three or four years' difference is that American society puts a premium on youth and vitality."

For that reason, glamour girls have kept their birthdays secret. Historically, they've remained steadfast, playing off about age while sending off mother nature with makeup, operations and other camouflage.

Even so, their lifespans as sex symbols have been over so brief - four or five years, a decade at most.

But Raquel might be the exception. It's been almost 15 years since she started modeling and acting in Hollywood.

"I'm not a young girl," she said. "I'm a woman. I've got a lot of life left in me."

to his jack of trumps. Both opponents followed and he spread his hand to claim the trick. East looked over carefully and said, "You mean you are down one, don't you?"

Then the Professor led his club suit. East's king led to East's ace and a heart came back. The Prof took his ace, led a trump to dummy's ace, ruffed the nine of clubs and led his seven of hearts.

It didn't matter which opponent took that trick. If East won, he would lead a heart or club to give the Prof a chance to ruff in the process. If East won, he would lead a heart or club to give the Prof a chance to ruff in the process.

"Of course," replied the Prof. "But if East held just three diamonds he would have had a five-card heart or club suit and would not have opened one diamond."

Gonorrhea On Increase Among County Teen-Agers

By DIANE PETRYK
Herald Staff Writer

But between July 1, 1979 and June 30, 1980, there was a decrease in the number of contagious syphilis cases treated in the county, he said.

At the same time, the number of visits to the health department for diagnosis and treatment of all types of sexually transmitted diseases is up, Deju said. Deju reported that gonorrhea cases have increased slightly among all age groups, but in the 15- to 19-year-old group 61 cases were reported to the county in the months of July, August and September 1980. This compares to 90 cases in the first six months of 1980 and 194 cases in the last six months of 1979.

Longwood To Discuss Code Enforcement Board

By JANE CASSELLBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

A public hearing and final approval of the proposed ordinance establishing a Code Enforcement Board in the city of Longwood are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Dec. 13. The ordinance passed on first reading Monday night in a 5-2 vote with city commissioners J.R. Grant and William Mitchell voting against the motion to adopt and Mayor Steve Uskert and commissioners John Hogg and June Lermann voting in favor.

The commission voted 4-1 (with Uskert voting 'no') to authorize City Administrator David Chacey to contact the Department of Environmental Regulation to see if the agency will permit the city to use a dragline to clean up trash and sand in other bodies of water. Uskert expressed a fear that the city would be starting a precedent which might lead to requests to clean out other lakes. "I can see the weed killer, but I don't think we should get involved that much," he said.

SCC To Present Theater Comedy

Seminole Community College Fine Arts Theatre presents the second production in the 1980-81 theater series, the three-act comedy "Accommodations," written by Nick Hall. Production dates are 8 p.m. Dec. 4, 6 and 7 in the Fine Arts Theatre.

"Accommodations," directed by Roger Jarand, features two veteran SCC performers Paula Williams and Charles Jordan as Lee and Bob Schaller, a newly liberated wife and chauvinistic husband. The comedy revolves around Lee having Bob and moving into a cold-water flat in New York City with a part-time model, Pat, played by newcomer Tina Preater, and a muscular NYU psychology major, Tracy, played by Drew Mead.

Jaycees Set Special Evening For Families

The Sanford-Seminole Jaycees will join the United States Jaycees in celebrating Jaycee Family Week beginning Sunday. The purpose of Jaycee Family Week is to place increased emphasis on the importance of the family, to help identify ways to become more active with our family, and aid a major national effort to improve the quality of family life in our communities.

Casselberry Forum Thursday

Who Dunit? Area Police Play Their Hunches

By DIANE PETRYK
Herald Staff Writer

While most of America will have to wait until this evening to discover who shot J.R. Ewing, Seminole County Sheriff John Polk said he already knows.

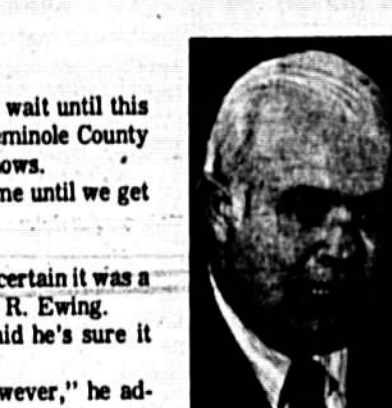

Yes, local police officials are fairly certain it was a woman who killed the rich rancher J.R. Ewing. Sanford Police Chief Ben Butler said he's sure it was a woman, who wielded the .38.

Longwood police Det. Sgt. Frank Taylor isn't afraid of saying Polk's suspect. He said his instincts tell him the female felon is J. R.'s dipso wife Sue Ellen. She had the .38, he said.

Butler, however, said his wife is more worried about it than he is. Winter Springs Police Chief John Govevack said everybody at the Seminole County courthouse is worried about it.

Butler said he has no suspects, but when the case is finally solved "it will be interesting."

The episode will be aired at 10 p.m. on Channel 6. Other prime suspects in the shooting of dastardly J.R. Ewing — the man America loves to hate — are his brother, Bobby Ewing, J.R.'s wife, and a young child, perhaps Bobby decided to strike first.

Seminole County Sheriff John Polk knows a woman was behind the trigger.

—Vaughn Leland, the family banker J.R. sold worthless oil leases that cleaned out his bank account.

—Dusty Farlow, Sue Ellen's one-time lover believed killed at the airplane crash.

—Dallas, which is seen in dozens of foreign countries as well as the United States and Canada, received additional hope when last summer's actors' strike force postponement of the solution to who shot J.R. by two months, thereby heightening the suspense.

2-identity Claim Splits Rape Jury

By DAVID M. RAZLER
Herald Staff Writer

A mistrial was declared today in the rape case against an Orlando man who had pleaded not guilty because a second personality inhabits his body.

During the three-and-a-half days of testimony, the jury had been presented with conflicting medical evidence on the defense's claim Johnson possessed multiple personalities and was insane at the time of the attack in April. Williams said a new trial date will be set the first week in January.

Johnson, 37, of 2425 Amber Ave., Orlando, is accused of raping and robbing a 28-year-old Winter Springs woman after coming to her condominium on an appointment to install burglar alarms on April 17-18.

Johnson remained free for about a year, was recaptured and sentenced to a 25-year term for escape, Muller and Erickson said.

Johnson converted to fun fundamentalist Christianity while in prison, meeting his wife when she came with the woman on the idea of having the equipment installed.

Drug Story Riles Brantley Principal

By CHARITY CICARDO
Herald Staff Writer

A Seminole County Sheriff's Department undercover agent and the Lake Brantley High School principal disagree on the number of students who take drugs at the school.

Thirty-three percent of students in four classes observed at Lake Brantley High School are on some type of drug, said an undercover agent from the Seminole County Sheriff's Department at a Parent-Teacher Association meeting held at the county school board room Wednesday.

According to Sheriff John Polk, the undercover police officer was just giving an example of what he saw in four classrooms he observed.

Spokalski stressed the point that the statement was made by an agent with an observation of four classes at the school.

Both said, "I don't know how he (the undercover agent) determines his information. I don't know if he questioned every student in the classes or not."

Both said he registered the agent personally in late August and was under the impression that his identity was to be kept secret.

Sanford To Take Chemical Firm To Court

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The city of Sanford and the state Department of Environmental Regulation will file suit today to stop operation of a waste-chemical storage facility on Sanford's west side.

The suit also will ask Seminole County Circuit Court to set a 90-90 day period for removal of the "hazardous" chemicals and to require the segregation of flammable chemicals to lessen the danger of fire or explosion.

He said City Chemical has not segregated flammable and explosive drums. The two most serious matters he found at the site, Ferrarozzo said, was the company's lack of security and the potential for fire and explosion.

He said he will make a report of his findings to EPA and from his recommendations it will be determined whether an imminent and substantial danger to the public health and environment exists. That finding must be made before EPA can take action.
