CHIEF JUSTICE WHITE IS DEAD AT WASHINGTON

DEATH OF VETERAN CASTS GLOOM OVER THE CAPITAL CITY

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 19.—The death here early today of Edward Douglass White, veteran chief justice of the United States, cast a shadow of sorrow over the national capital, where during his long years of service on the supreme bench he had grown in admiration and esteem not only of his official associates but of the entire community. Death occurred at two this morning. At the bedside were his wife, two nieces and Rev. Father S. J. Creeden, of Georgetown University, who had administered last sacrament during the early morning. According to tentative funeral arrangements interment will take place in Oak Hill Cemetery following simple services, under Catholic ritual at St. Matthew's church Saturday morning.

FLETCHER TAKES CARE KEY WEST NAVAL PROJECT

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 19.—At the urgent request of Senator Fletcher, who has been at work on the matter for some time, the senate yesterday agreed upon an amendment of $800,000 to the naval bill for the completion of the submarine base at Key West. Already there has been appropriated about $1,500,000 for this work and the added amount agreed upon by the senate will permit of a large and commodious base being made available for submarines. Senator Fletcher was congratulated upon being able to have this amendment agreed to and it will now be for the house to take hold of the matter and retain the item in conference. He is confident that the Key West project will be retained in the bill.

Higher Rates on Fresh Meats Are Unjustifiable

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, May 18.—The Interstate Commerce Commission yesterday rendered the following decision:
"Proposed cancellation of the proportional commodity rate of twenty-seven cents per 100 pounds on fresh meats, in carloads from Jacksonville and Florida transfer, to Tampa and other points in Florida, applicable on shipments originating in Western territory, and application of proportional fourth-class rate of fifty cents, is found not justified. The other items under suspension found justified. An increase in such proportional commodity rate not to exceed thirty-nine and one-half cents found justified. "Suspended schedules ordered cancelled without prejudice to the publication of schedules in conformity with the findings herein. By schedules filed to become effective Jan. 10, 1921, respondents proposed to cancel their proportional commodity rates on fresh meats including dressed poultry, and on salted meats, in straight and mixed carloads, from Jacksonville and Florida transfer to Tampa, Port Tampa, Port Tampa City, Ybor City and Baulvard, known as the Tampa group, applicable on shipments originating at points in Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Kentucky, the greater part of Ohio, and states north and west thereof, which we will term Western territory, and to apply in lieu thereof proportional class rates. Upon protest of Armour & Co., Swift & Co., Morris & Co., and Wilson & Co., the operation of the schedules was suspended June 9, 1921."

If there are any errors in the service record as shown on the discharge certificate of any of those who apply for this medal and they will make note of such error, a correction of same will be made.

BIG CUT IN PRICES HUPMOBILE CARS

REDUCTIONS OF $325, $264 AND $200—BIG VOLUME OF BUSINESS RESPONSIBLE

On authorization from the Hupmobile factory the local representatives of the Hupmobile cars, the B. & O. Motor Co. is advertising a decided reduction in the price of Hupmobiles. The factory and local prices under the new schedule follows:
Roadster and touring car, reduced from $1,685 f. o. b. factory to $1,485, a cut of $200. The price delivered at Sanford will be $1,685.
Coupe, reduced from $2,725 f. o. b. factory to $2,485, a cut of $240. The price delivered at Sanford will be $2,750.

The local cut matches the factory cut and is done on authorization of the factory.

"This large cut in the prices of Hupmobiles," said Perry Jernigan, of the local firm, "is made possible by the fact that the Hup factory is operating to full capacity today. It is only by maintaining this immense volume of business that the Hupmobile can be sold at such prices. The factory people wired us, in announcing the cut, that they would expect us to do our part in keeping up this volume of business so that the lower price could be maintained."

"New York financial papers recently showed that the Hupmobile output in 1920 yielded the factory only $95.72 net per car. It is the huge volume of business, founded on the popularity of the Hupmobile cars, that makes it possible for the Hupmobile people to operate on such a low individual car profit."

"We have found the Hup agency a good one, with a continually growing demand for these cars. We are averaging one to two carloads of Hupmobiles each month."

Further proof of the popularity of this splendid car is shown by the sales of four cars last week. Following are those who purchased: Geo. F. Pezold and Linoel Monroe, Sanford; S. E. Sentell and W. X. Garren, Orlando.

DO WOMEN WANT TO FORFEIT PROTECTION THEY NOW ENJOY?

TALLAHASSEE, May 18.—Senator Malone is anxious to know if women really want to have the right to sue and be sued.

"I am really anxious to know if women want to give up the safeguards with which they are now surrounded," said he. "In my opinion they will give up more than they will gain. A woman's property rights are now safeguarded by the fact that her husband can not sell their property without her consent. She will lose this safeguard. Does she really wish to lose it? I should be glad to hear from the women of the state on this point." There have been some lobbies of women here working for the bill, which has passed the house, and he is anxious to know if they represent the business thought of the women of the state.

DAYTON, May 16.—Mrs. Helen Cox Mahoney, twenty-five, daughter of former Governor James M. Cox, Democratic presidential candidate, died suddenly at her home here today.

WEST PALM BEACH CHOSEN AS NEXT MEETING PLACE FOR AMERICAN LEGION

Ex-Service Men Vote for The Bonus Plan

LOWRY CHOSEN

LEGION EXPECTS STATE AND NATION TO RECOGNIZE THEM

ORLANDO, May 17.—Orlando woke up yesterday morning to find itself agreeably captured by invading hosts of Legionnaires and their ladies from all over Florida, and notwithstanding the drizzling rain of the morning, which had ceased at noon and gave way to the sun, the elaborate arrangements for billeting the city's welcomed guests went through without a hitch.

At noon delegations had arrived from Brooksville, Bartow, Clearwater, Fernandina, Gainesville, Homestead, Lake City, Lake Worth, Miami, Madison, Ocala, Plant City, Mulberry, Winter Garden, Milton, Palmetto, Pensacola, Palatka, Perry, Punta Gorda, Sanford, St. Augustine, St. Petersburg, Tampa, Tarpon Springs, Tallahassee, Wauchula, West Palm Beach, Winter Haven, Sarasota, New Smyrna, Coconut Grove, Monticello, Avon Park, Kissimmee, Ft. Myers, Daytona and Tavares in addition to the two special trains from Jacksonville and Tampa, which arrived Sunday night. Automobiles are literally arriving in droves loaded down with visitors and delegates to the Second Annual Convention of the American Legion.

The first of the friendly battles waged is over the selection of the 1922 meet. West Palm Beach proved the early bird by arriving Saturday and stringing banners across the principal streets and placarding the city with announcements of its ambitions. Paschal C. Reese was in the vanguard of the West Palm Beach invaders and brought the alluring promise of quartering the next convention day and night in the luxurious Royal Poinciana. The opposite ends of the state are also putting up a strong fight.

After reporting at the Chamber of Commerce and having quarters assigned, the Legionnaires began to look around to find old "buddies" and pals of the service. At 9 a. m. Monday morning the reunions of the various divisions with which the Florida men served were held. Those who hadn't met all of their old comrades were thus enabled to greet them and renew old associations.

At 1 p. m. the opening meeting of the convention was held at the Lucerne Theatre, followed by an informal reception held by the Women's Auxiliary for the visiting Legionnaires and guests. At 3:30 one of the most popular amusements provided for the day, was furnished at the Fair Grounds when Joe Tinkers' Tigers and Tommy Leach's Tampa Smokers grappled for diamond honors in the Florida State League. Orlando took the honors 5 to 1. Those not caring to attend the game were guests at the local theatres.

"Chow" at Eola Park was next on the program. Words cannot describe the mountains of good things to eat that awaited the hungry visitors. This "feed" was the event of the program that appealed to every visitor and the Orlando Post had spent $2,500 to see that it was well done.

Dancing at various places throughout the city until 1 a. m. marked the close of the first day's program of the Convention.

ORLANDO, May 18.—One more terrific downpour of rain, which fell yesterday afternoon, broke up the parade plans of the third annual reunion of the American Legion, Florida department, but even the deluge would have failed to dampen the warmth of stone stirring scenes of the closing day of the session of the legion in Lucerne theatre.

Resolutions that brought forth a pronounced demand for the bonus from both state and nation, a new staff headed by Sumter L. Lowry, Jr., of Tampa, and lastly but not least, took the convention for 1922 to West Palm Beach after one of the most hotly contested parliamentary battles. Opposition to the bonus plans had already faded and it was a foregone conclusion what would happen when it reached the floor for discussion today—to be stamped through with acclam from all sides, while a sincere minority silently bowed to the will of the majority. A surprise was the fading away of opposition to Sumter Lowry, but only those who saw the precision with which the Tampa delegation's campaign for its "buddy" worked yesterday can appreciate the hidden factor that made his election by acclamation possible—preparedness. The Tampan and a few loyal friends took no chances and a little stamped of their own all bottled and labeled, ready for Jim Morris to pull the cork. When he did in a pointed nomination speech a dozen pledged supporters from as many different counties and from every corner of the state were on their feet clamoring at the chair, and as rapidly as one sat down there was another second to the nomination. The convention fell in behind and started a stampede which had really begun with a full two minutes' demonstration the moment Mr. Morris mentioned the name—Lowry. The most pronounced outbreak of the day, excepting only the bonus demonstration, followed Ed Vestel's nomination of Morris Givens, Tampa, for historian, and only the act of Jim Morris who, coming to the rescue of Mr. Givens after the convention howled the nominee down every time he raised his head to refuse, and actually pulled him off the orchestra rail and forced him to his seat when he tried to refuse the nomination, broke up the demonstration. Thinking that Mr. Morris intended seconding the nomination, the convention finally recognized him and with reluctance accepted the statement that Mr. Givens could not accept office at the hands of the state department as he is barred by being a county official.

Other officers elected were: Dr. Jack Halton, Sarasota; Wade W. Hampton, Jr., Gainesville; Giles F. Lewis, Milton; H. N. Kurtman, Palatka, vice-commanders for four districts were elected in the order named: J. Y. Cheney, Orlando, adjutant; Claude C. Jones, Arcadia, finance officer; Lucian Spencer, Fort Myers, chaplain; Clyde Mauls, Orlando, historian; Jack Blizzard, Stuart, master-at-arms; I. O. Bishop of Fort Pierce, T. J. Swanson of Perry and H. L. Covington, Jacksonville, trustees; Davis Forster, New Smyrna, national committeeman; J. W. Morris of Tampa, Floyd Thomason of St. Petersburg; E. J. Close of Tavares, Watt Lawler of Fort Myers, C. V. McClurg of Lake City, Lewis H. Chazal of Ocala, C. B. Allen of Monticello; E. L. Adams of Perry, Goldie McEwen of Milton, C. A. Landrum of Pensacola, Earl D. Smith of Pensacola, George W. Owen of Pensacola, Howard Rowton of Palatka, G. M. Davidson of Fort Pierce, Jerome Wideman of West Palm Beach, and Harvey Payne of Jacksonville, state executive committee; R. B. Sturkie of Dade City, D. C. Pearce of Palatka, Harvey Payne of Jacksonville, W. D. Joyce of Clearwater, J. W. Morris of Tampa, V. B. Collins of Plant City, and Jerome Wideman of West Palm Beach, delegates to the national convention. The decision to send a committee to Tallahassee to press the fight for legion measures was the principal decision of the morning session, coming as it did, in conjunction with the decision to prod the Florida solons for action both on the state and the national bonus, a memorial to congress being urged in regards to the latter.

The fight for the next convention, coming to a head with the committee report to go to West Palm Beach brought Miami into the struggle with an array of parliamentary obstructions which had to be cleared one by one, and the convention practically fought its way through two years' battles during the forty minutes consumed, for when Palm Beach emerged with the next convention, Pensacola had practically clinched the 1922 gathering. Miami fought hard. It offered everything that Palm Beach could offer, the delegation said, and then included Miami, only forty-five miles away, which, however, was wiped out when an enthusiastic Palm Beach man told the convention, right hot off the anvil that Palm Beach would not have to "take you to Miami." Miami based its fight principally on the season of the year. Palm Beach proposing to hold the convention March 15, 16 and 17, and the shift to three days instead of two brought a popular response from the delegates, who in a busy convention have little or no time for the entertainment at a two-day session.

PALATKA GOES AFTER REAL REMOVAL

ASSOCIATION ADOPTS RESOLUTION TO REMOVE CAPITAL EAST OF SUWANEE

At a meeting of the Capital Removal Association of Palatka, Fla., held May 11, 1921, the following resolutions were adopted:

"A joint resolution, proposing an amendment to Section one (1) of article sixteen (16) of the Constitution of the State of Florida, relating to the seat of government:

"Be It Resolved by The Legislature of the State of Florida, that the following amendment of Section One of Article Sixteen of the Constitution of the State of Florida, relating to the seat of government is hereby agreed to and shall be submitted to the electors of the state for adoption or rejection at the next general election of representatives to be held in the year A. D. 1922; that is to say, that Section One (1), Article Sixteen (16) of the Constitution of the State of Florida be amended so as to read as follows:

"Section One (1). The seat of government of the State of Florida shall be at, or near, the County Seat of a county situated and being east of the Suwanee river in the state of Florida, to be selected and determined by the legislature of the State of Florida at the general session thereof in the year, A. D. 1923, and when the seat of government shall have been so located and determined, same shall there remain permanently; and it shall be the duty of the legislature of the State of Florida immediately after the determination of such location to make all necessary appropriations and provisions for the erection of buildings suitable for the transaction of the business of the state of Florida; provided, however, that the seat of government may temporarily remain at the City of Tallahassee, until a sufficient number of such buildings shall have been erected for the transaction of the business of the state."

As you know, the present location of the state capital is costing the citizens of the peninsula of Florida thousands of dollars each year. It is, therefore, imperative from an economic point of view that the capital should be centrally located east of the Suwanee river. From these resolutions you will observe that no city has been named for the capital site, as this is an after consideration which may be finally determined by the citizens of the State of Florida. I believe that these resolutions, in letter and spirit, reflect the wish of the people of the peninsula, and therefore request that you support same by getting your delegations at Tallahassee to work for this bill.

C. H. KENNERLY, Secretary.

GO NO FARTHER

The Evidence Is at Your Door

Sanford proof is what you want and the statement of this highly respectable resident will banish all doubt:

W. A. Stafford, prop. plumbing establishment, 408 Holly Ave., Sanford, says: "Kidney complaint had annoyed me for some little while. I had backache so bad I couldn't stoop to pick up anything when working. I was pretty well handicapped. I was also afflicted with a kind of dizzy feeling and there were times when I could see dark specks in front of me. I felt generally run down. I doctored, but didn't get much benefit, so I sent for a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Aldridge's Drug Store. I wasn't long in finding out the merit of this remedy, for it soon cured me and I have remained free from kidney trouble for some years now."

CHAPPELL-LOVELL NUPTIALS.

(From Saturday's Daily)

A wedding of more than usual interest occurred at high noon Wednesday at Washington when Miss Luca Chappell and Mr. Vail Lovell ended a childish romance by plighting their troth and becoming man and wife. The wedding occurred at the Washington Foundry Methodist Church and was performed by the cousin of the bride, Dr. Chappell of Washington. An uncle, A. W. Wheeler, of Baltimore, gave the bride away and the attendants were Forbes Winda, of New York and Golet Wheeler, of Baltimore. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Lovell left for New York where they will be at home after June first at 112 Haven avenue where the groom had prepared a nice apartment for their future home.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Chappell, of Celery avenue, and was born and spent the greater part of her girlhood days here where her sunny disposition and business ability made her a valuable acquisition in business circles. During the war Mrs. Lovell was an employee of the War Department Aeronautics Division and at the close of the war came home to take a position as book-keeper of the Wight Tire Co., which position she held until a few weeks ago. She was an active member of the Business and Professional Woman's Club and of the D. A. R. and kindred organizations and is one of the brightest and fairest of Sanford's daughters.

The groom is also a Sanford boy, a graduate of Sanford High School, a self-made young man of the sturdy American type who since early childhood had an ambition to become one of the leaders in his chosen profession and who has made a record of which any boy in all of the United States could well feel proud. He is a graduate of the Georgia Tech from which well known institution he received the degree of B. S. in Electrical Engineering. For some time afterward he was connected with the Atlanta Power and Light Co., and at the first call for men in the World War enlisted in the Air Service, was sent to France and was commissioned in France as First Lieutenant and served in engagements at the St. Mihiel and Argonne Forest drives and took part in many engagements, making a fine record in the American air forces. At the signing of the armistice Mr. Lovell took advantage of the European universities to attend the schools while the American forces were over there and attended Cambridge University, receiving a degree from the London Mathematical Society.

He is an associate member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, of the American Physical Society and now holds the responsible position of assistant to the head of the Engineering Department of the National Electric Light Association with headquarters in New York City.

He is the son of Capt. and Mrs. M. W. Lovell of this city, and brother of Mrs. D. G. Marlowe. He is of a quiet and retiring disposition and a young man who has been a credit to his native city, his parents, his schools and his many friends.

To these fine young people who have just started down the primrose path of life with such bright prospects the Herald joins a large circle of friends in wishing them a long life of happiness and prosperity.

IN HONOR OF MRS. KELLY

(From Monday's Daily)

One of the most delightful affairs of the spring season was the luncheon given by Mrs. A. M. Phillips at her home on Oak avenue, on Friday, in honor of Mrs. D. A. Kelly, who leaves Monday for California, where she will spend several months.

In the living room wicker baskets and crystal bowls of petunias and carnations were tastefully arranged. Wicker baskets of Shasta daisies were used in the dining room while vases of roses and ferns were placed on the small tables where the luncheon was served. A delicious four course luncheon was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Fred Williams.

The occasion was one of much happiness and enjoyment for this cordial hostess and her guests. Among those invited were Mesdames D. A. Kelly, Blackman, Henry Wight, Galloway, Roy Bower, Sam Puleston, Walter Morgan, Will Watson, Scoggins, Fred Williams and Schelle Malines.

BEAUTIFUL SERVICES AT THE TEMPLE SUNDAY EVENING

(From Monday's Daily)

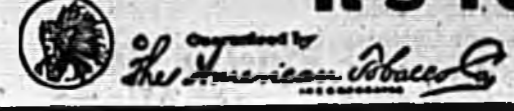

On Sunday evening a beautiful song and story service entitled "Mothers of the Bible" was rendered at the Baptist Temple, by the choir, under the able direction of Mrs. A. M. Phillips, chair leader; Miss Clara Millen read the story of some of the illustrious mothers of Bible times. Of the many fine services of this kind held at the Temple this was one of the very best. Although the weather was inclement the attendance was excellent.

SHIP CANAL ACROSS FLORIDA VIA SANFORD IS TALKED BY MEN WHO MAY KNOW

An American Shipping Corporation Said To Be Parent

TALKED HERE ALSO

PALATKA NEWS HAS INTERESTING ARTICLE ABOUT THE VERY LATEST CANAL

The following from the Palatka News will be interesting to Sanford people even if it never comes to pass:

"That an American shipping corporation, associating with it shipping interests of the entire world, will finance the construction of a canal across the state of Florida, with some government aid, was a statement made here by Henry H. Read, author of 'Read's Waterways of America,' and noted engineer who has been making a survey of the proposed canal route for the corporation.

The preliminary survey has been completed, Mr. Read said, of the route of what will be a deep water way canal extending from Mosquito Inlet, on the East Coast, to Port Inglis, on the West Coast, cutting a straight canal through the center of Florida, thereby cutting off more than 1000 miles of the route by steamer from New York to New Orleans and other West Gulf Coast ports.

"The plans on which Mr. Read and his employers are working call for the making of Mosquito Inlet the port of entry for ships from New York, the dredging of Spruce Creek, the canal to follow the waterways to that point, where large dockages will be constructed, a canal 35 feet deep built, of 900 feet width. The canal will then take a course west from Spruce Creek, through Sanford and Lake county, to Port Inglis, just south of Cedar Keys.

"While the project of building a 35-foot canal, 300 feet wide, is an immense one, Mr. Read is of the opinion that it could be completed in three years' time, and believes that work will be commenced as soon as he finishes the survey which he is making westward at this time.

"The building of large dockage facilities at Spruce Creek, where the Dixie Highway crosses the creek, and the dredging of the creek and Mosquito Inlet, up to the dockages, will be one of the largest undertakings of the entire project.

"The new plan of cutting the canal across state from Mosquito Inlet to Port Inglis, instead of following the former plan which has been talked for many years of following the St. Johns river across the eastern portion of the state has been substituted as it will allow a route shorter by 150 miles, it is claimed.

"The survey being made at this time is backed by the large steamship lines, or the trust as it is called, comprised of lines operating boats from New York to New Orleans and Mexico. By the cross-state canal at this point more than 1000 miles will be eliminated from this trip, making a saving in time and expense which it is claimed would soon pay for the building of the canal.

"The project is the largest ever broached in the state, and will mean an industrial boom for this part of the state such as has never been seen, according to those back of the present plan, furnishing of materials, and bringing the East Coast, industrially, within a few days of New York.

Hupmobile

PRICES REDUCED $200 to $325

Effectively immediately, Hupmobile prices are reduced $200 on open cars, and $315 to $325 on closed cars.

The Five-Passenger car and the Roadster are now $1,485; the Sedan, $2,485; the Coupe, $2,400; all prices f. o. b. Detroit, war tax to be added.

What this reduction actually means is an increase in Hupmobile value that is worth far more than the revision in price.

The truth is that at its new price, and with its well known economy, low repair-costs, long life and high resale value, the Hupmobile stands forth today as the best buy in the motor car market.

The revision represents the rock bottom figure at which the high quality of the Hupmobile can be maintained.

TAKES HIS HOME PAPER

Fort Pierce, Fla., May 15, '21.

To the Editor of the Sanford Herald: Friend Holly: I returned to Fort Pierce from Miami and found a bundle of papers from Sanford that my wife had laid by for my perusal. To say that I am very proud to show my friends the paper that is edited by you is drawing it very mildly. I was showing a friend one of the papers that had letter written by Editor Goddard relating to "Ella Pearl Smith (of Missouri) and we made up our minds that her letter had done more good than damage to the state of Florida, as it has given our state more and heartier advertising than we could possibly have gotten in any other way. But I am afraid that she has lost her chance to go on a like mission again.

My wife and I will be home some time this week and hope again to be among respectable citizens of Seminole county and good old Sanford. We have surely enjoyed our trip to the limit. The East Coast is certainly fine and if we can only get a few capitalists interested in our town it will be beautiful also. As we have everything except the ocean and we have the best land in the state and as good opportunities.

Respectfully yours,

J. H. FERGUSON.

CHANGE IN BUSINESS FIRM

(From Wednesday's Daily)

Among the recent changes in business firms is that of D. L. Thrasher, who has sold a half interest in his business to N. H. Garner and the new firm will operate under the name of Thrasher & Garner. Mr. Thrasher and Mr. Garner need no introduction to the people of this city and county. Both of them have been in business here since the memory of man runneth not. Mr. Thrasher in the dry goods and clothing and shoe business for many years and Mr. Garner for some time was engaged in the grocery business but of late years in the real estate line and selling Oldsmobiles. Mr. Garner was in the general merchandise business in Dade City for many years before coming here and is only going back to his old love in re-entering the business here. Their many friends are congratulating these gentlemen upon the new move and with this strong team the firm of Thrasher & Garner, supplemented by Fred Dalger, who will assist in the business, ought to get the proper results. The new firm will also take liberal space in the Daily Herald and will have special sales and special bargains to enliven the trade from time to time.

MURDEROUS MOONSHINE

"Moonshine" whiskey used to have a rather poetical association. It has yet, in the minds of some Northern tipplers, who sadly compare the "bootleg" stuff they get with what they have heard of "pure" whiskey made under the open sky among Southern hills. From the Cordele (Ga.) Dispatch comes disillusionment:
 "The man who will take a drink of 'moonshine' liquor whose making he did not superintend himself cares little about his term of years on this planet.
 "The writer of these lines in the good year of 1920 looked into the dead faces of three men, everyone of them heads of families, who gave their lives to wildcat liquor.
 "These three dead men, their funerals and flowers, their widows and orphans, and the toil of mothers and the little ones they left to struggle on in the world—all these frightful things are preaching more powerful sermons against moonshine liquor than any eloquence of prohibition lecturers we have known and heard in years."
 In what state—one almost feels like saying, in what community—can this sad story not be duplicated? Home brew, wood alcohol and deadly concoctions of a hundred kinds have taken a heavy toll in the last year or two, and are taking it still. Even Canada, which many Americans mistakenly regard as a sort of alcoholic paradise, and which is now nearly as legally as dry as this country, tells the same story. A Canadian newspaper remarked lately that "so far as the ordinary citizen is concerned, there is no pure whiskey in the world now."
 As knowledge of this fact spreads, it has, indeed, more effect than preaching. Observers say that lately there are signs of a diminution in drinking, and in bootlegging. Taking a drink furtively is not so much of a joke any more, since it has often proved to be a tragedy. Respect for prohibition is gaining, less from conscientious observance than from the fear of death.—Tampa Tribune.

SANFORD WILL HAVE BASE BALL THIS YEAR

(From Wednesday's Daily)
 Even though Sanford was not able to make a go of a team in the Florida State League is no reason why we will not have base ball in Sanford this year. Already plans have been made whereby the Sanford fans will have an opportunity of witnessing at least two fast games each week, beginning Monday, May 30th.
 A fast team from Fort Myers will be here for two days, May 30th and 31st. This club is touring the state playing series of one, two and three games with each of the different towns in which they stop and will play a like number of games on the return trip. At this time it has not been learned just what two days they will play their return games.
 From the advance dope that has drifted up from Ft. Myers way we learn that an advertising car is traveling about a week ahead of the team and will be here shortly arranging all the details and advertise the games well throughout the county and nearby towns. They also claim to have a ten piece band traveling with them.
 The Sanford Club is under the supervision of C. L. Britt, assisted by Chapman and Pope, and the entire team will be made up of players that had experience, at least four and maybe five of whom are old Florida State League players.
 Sid Rive, who caught for Tampa and Sanford in 1919 will be the regular catcher with Royce Robinson as his relief. Clyde Chapman, an old Sanford pitcher and who also pitched for Daytona this year, and Amil Ammond, an old timer in fast company, are the two twirlers already on the ground, with one more good pitcher expected here a little later.
 Biddy Burdick is known to every fan around this part of the country and every one will agree that he will have no trouble in holding down short stop. Pope is an infielder, having had experience in the Cape Fear League somewhere in the Carolinas. Other players will be assigned to their different positions later and that a good ball club will represent Sanford this year is assured the fans by the management.
 Work will start this week on a new base ball diamond, one that will be made just as good if not better than the one used in the past. This new park will be at the corner of Ninth and French.
 A schedule is being arranged with "Head-IT-OFF"—ENERGIZE—NOW.

Gainesville, Ocala, Leesburg, Palatka and other towns that have fast teams. Watch for the opening games and support this new team, they will give you a brand of base ball that will be worth your while.

CLYDE CHAPMAN HERE TO STAY

(From Wednesday's Daily)
 Clyde Chapman, who has been pitching for Daytona this season and played several seasons for Sanford in the Florida State League, has decided to give up organized base ball this season to enter into business for himself, here in Sanford.
 He arrived in town yesterday to close a deal with Perkins & Britt, whose tailoring, altering, cleaning and pressing business he will take over as his own. He also expects to add good features to this already good business and wants all his friends in and about Sanford to know that he is here to serve them.
 Chappie was going good with the Daytona Club this season and was not able to get his release but was able to get a suspension that still makes him the property of Daytona should he want to play again this season. He believes he can make a better thing of a business of his own and will therefore let base ball rest as far as organized ball is concerned and try his fortune at a business life for a while.
 Chapman will play for the fast Semi-pro Club that Sanford is organizing and every one of his Sanford friends are glad to learn that he will be here to stay. Pay Chap a visit in his new business in the rear of the store that is different.

THE BUSINESS AND PROFESSIONAL WOMAN'S CLUB MET MRS. ADAMS

In a Luncheon Today to Which Mere Men Were Also Invited

The business women and men of Sanford sat down together today at a noon-day luncheon. There was nothing strange in this proceedings and nothing was thought about it—at this time.

A few years ago it might have created considerable comment but today with the women of the country taking their places in business and standing shoulder to shoulder with the men it seemed perfectly natural for the men at least to have the ladies with them—only in this case it was the ladies that had the men with them for the Business and Professional Women's Club had invited the directors of the Chamber of Commerce, the directors of the Rotary Club, the board of governors of the Woman's Club and the members of the local bar to meet Mrs. Annette Adams, Assistant Attorney General of the United States, and Miss Lila White, President of the State Association of Business and Professional Women's Clubs at a luncheon at the Valdez Hotel.

The long tables were most tastefully arranged by this well known hostelry and as usual the luncheon was all that could be desired and all the guests thoroughly enjoyed the menu while discussing affairs of the city and state and it was discovered by the men present that the ladies were well up on all the important questions of the day.

At the close of the luncheon Mrs. John Leonard, the president of the Business and Professional Women's Club arose and very gracefully introduced Miss Lila White, of St. Augustine, Miss White, although in business in Jacksonville at this time is really a farmer and stock-raiser and admitted it at the luncheon. Miss White is a most forceful speaker and is a thorough going Floridian, knowing her state as few know it. Giving Sanford some very nice compliments Miss White launched into the beauties and glories of Florida in general, gave a brief outline of the work of the Club and their itinerary thru Florida and then introduced Mrs. Adams, giving a brief outline of the activities of this wonderful woman.

Mrs. Adams has a very pleasing address and a well modulated voice and is the kind of speaker that puts an audience at ease and makes them feel very friendly from the start. Entirely unaffected and a real American woman, Mrs. Adams makes one feel that it is a pleasure to meet her and to hear her. Coming from California Mrs. Adams has much in common with Florida people and expressed herself as pleased to be in Florida at this particular time when "tourists" had flown and she could see the state in the spring time and get the chance to eat all the green vegetables and all the fruits she wanted. Mrs. Adams paid Sanford a high compliment in the wonderful fields of growing stuff and said the "Pep" that she had noted in the business women probably came from the big pepper crop. The speaker gave her audience a side trip into the business world of growing fruits and vegetables by describing the working of various associations of growers in California and the methods of growing, packing and shipping fruits, a matter that has state aid and co-operation in California but as the speaker also pointed out had not yet reached perfection and the growers there have their troubles as well.

Passing on to the subject of women in business the speaker aptly said that before the women went into business and organized clubs that they were not a help to the men in taking care of big problems and the men had not formed such a high opinion of them. But today with the trained women in the various clubs working toward something definite the men are anxious for their help and their co-operation for they are alive to the various situations that confront the nation and the men and women who make up the nation.

Mrs. Adams touched on the great spirit of co-operation as she had found it in Florida everywhere, on the development of the state along safe and sane lines and the many friends she had made speaking especially on the warm welcome that had been accorded her.

She was asked about the Florida grapefruit in comparison to the California grapefruit and answered that it was all according to whether she was in Florida or California, but she would say that while her own state had nicer looking fruit that Florida grapefruit had a better flavor. Mrs. Adams gave some very interesting information about her work, about the future of woman's work and the great idea of the women and the men working together for the upbuilding of their community, their state and their country.

Mrs. Adams was attorney general of California after serving as assistant attorney general and held other offices in her native state before being called by President Wilson to take the position of assistant attorney general at Washington. She expects to give up this position soon and return to California to again take up the practice of law.

Action of the organization resulted from the recent killing of William Murphy of Wilmington, Del., who, it is charged, was shot by Frank Quigley, a convict guard, while attempting to escape. Murphy was serving a sentence for that offense. Speakers at the meeting at which the subject was discussed, declared if a man was sentenced to the chain gang for such a trivial offense it might make a hardened criminal of him. Quigley, who has been indicted for manslaughter, will be tried during the present term of criminal court.

The new ordinance also would embrace a provision giving pedestrians the right of way over automobiles and other vehicles at street crossings.

FLORIDIANS NEED TO GO TO HOLLAND TO FIND H. C. L.

WEST PALM BEACH, May 18.—Floridians need to go to Holland to learn about the high cost of living, according to G. von Munster, a former resident of West Palm Beach, who has just returned after a two years' residence in the Netherlands. In Holland, Mr. Munster said, one pays 40 cents a pound for sugar, $1.70 a pound for butter, $30 for an ordinary pair of shoes, and rents are proportionately high. On the other hand wages and salaries are little better than they are here.

The cold storage hold up of eggs on April 1st showed a total of 1,884,000 cases compared with average stocks of 25,000 cases for the last five years on the same date. The creamery butter in storage is 5,000,000 pounds in excess of the five years average. Apples in storage show 630,000 barrels over the average of the last five years. Frozen pork in storage is more than 100,000,000 pounds above its five year average.

TAMPA MAN GIVES CREDIT TO TANLAC

HIMES SAYS HE COULDN'T HAVE HELD OUT ANOTHER MONTH BUT FOR TANLAC

"Yes, sir, I'll go out of my way to recommend Tanlac since it has put me back in such fine health," said A. J. Himes of 1223 Franklin street, Tampa, Fla.

"My health was all broken up and at the rate I was going down hill I could not have held out another month. My liver was out of order and caused me to feel sluggish, tired and no account all the time. Malaria was all through my system and that sapped my strength until I got so weak I could hardly pull through the day. My appetite went back on me and it looked like I was in for a long spell of sickness.

"But I began taking Tanlac just in time and three bottles of it have put me back to where I feel as fine as I did the best day of my life. My liver is in good condition, the malaria has all been driven out of my system and my appetite is so big that every time I go to the table I feel so hungry it seems that I missed the last meal. I'm as strong as I ever was, and am glad to give this statement for I make no secret of what Tanlac has done for me."

CHAMPIONS OF WILD GAME TO PUSH MEASURE

INDUSTRIOUS EFFORT TO BE MADE TO STOP HUNTERS

TALLAHASSEE, May 18.—Friends of state wild game and wild life conservation will make a desperate effort during the week to get the game bills untangled and to arrive at some conclusion as to which to pass. There are practically two bills now up for consideration, one, the Lindsey bill, being on second reading in the senate and the other from the house committee being on second reading in the house.

The main difference between the two is that the Lindsey bill calls for a state commissioner of game and fresh water fish with power to enforce the law, while the house bill leaves enforcement to the sheriffs and county game wardens, a need which friends of conservation say has in the past proved a mighty weak one to lean upon.

The bills offered by Representatives Parrish and Gunn in the house have been given chloroform in the committee and the house committee bill is practically the only bill now left in the house. It shortens the open season on all game and in this respect is good. The present hunting season is from November 1 to March 1, with several counties allowing the shooting of squirrels from October 1 to March 1. The bill places the season from November 20 to January 31.

Another feature in which the house bill is a good bill is in cutting out the free hunting for hunters in their own precinct. A minimum license of $1.25 is fixed. It seemed to be almost impossible for a hunter to tell where his precinct lines ran. Just what will come out remains to be seen. It may take a conference committee to straighten out the points of difference.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

DARKENS BEAUTIFULLY AND RESTORES ITS NATURAL COLOR AND LUSTRE AT ONCE

Common garden sage, brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of muss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant, and you appear years younger.—Adv.

DISTRICT GOVERNOR TURNER INTERNATIONAL CLUBS VISITED HERE TODAY

He assisted in installing the Daytona Club last night and attended the noon-day luncheon here today of the Sanford Rotary Club.

Mr. Turner is always ready to talk Rotary and he gave the Sanford club a fine talk today on the principles of Rotary and all that it means to the men who are out for "service above self" and he brought out many good points and precepts for the Sanford club to follow. His visits here will be looked forward to with much interest by all the members and by his many Sanford friends when he comes here again.

Two Sanford Girls Will Graduate From Philadelphia Hospital

Sanford girls seem to take to the profession of nursing and this month several of them will graduate from different hospitals as real nurses. Among them are Misses Gladys Dietrich and Ruth Stewart, who will graduate from the Philadelphia Memorial Hospital Training School on May 24th. Franklin K. Lane, Former Secretary of The Interior, Dies

ROCHESTER, Minn., May 18.—Franklin K. Lane, former secretary of the interior, died at a local hospital early today. Death was due to angina pectoris.

Lane was operated on here May 6th for gall stones and appendicitis and was said to be recovering when heart disease from which he had suffered from time to time for the last eight months developed. Hospital physicians expressed the belief that the operation would remove the heart affection but the attack early today developed fatally immediately after he had recovered from an anesthetic.

Lane said, "I am surprised to be alive." "I hope to be able to live a long life in doing good things forever." Lane left no estate.

EX-SOLDIER ARRESTED IN JAX

JACKSONVILLE, May 18.—Krisjan Breadvad, a former sergeant of Carlstrom Field and a member of the detail commended by Lieut. B. G. Toohar, who shot and killed Fred Pitt, a prominent resident of Punta Gorda last month, after Pitt is said to have fired upon the soldiers who were searching for a deserter, was arrested here today as he was about to board vessel for New York. Breadvad was recently discharged from the army. Army officers opposed efforts of DeSoto county authorities to gain possession of Toohar and the enlisted men of the party after the coroner's jury had charged Toohar with murder and the enlisted men as accessories. Governor Hardee has instructed Duval authorities to hold the man while it is understood that an officer from Carlstrom en route here to demand his release. Authorities say this case will result in a clash between the state and the army.

The merits of the Fordson Tractor can be best judged through the opinions of its daily users. We have asked a few of our customers for their frank comments concerning the operation of their Fordsons. Read what these owners have to say and then judge whether or not they are pleased with their purchases—Or better still, ask them yourself.

Sanford, Florida, Oct. 6, 1919.
Mr. Ed. Higgins, Sales Agent Fordson Tractor, Sanford, Fla.

Dear Sir:
Referring to your recent inquiry as to how the Fordson Tractor that we purchased a year ago had performed.

I have a letter from our Mr. A. Q. Lancaster, Superintendent of our Isleworth Grove, which reads as follows:
"Replying to yours of Sept. 27th. As regards the Fordson Tractor I beg to advise that as a whole the tractor has given very good satisfaction. We had to renew all the bearings in the front wheels after using it about 40 days, which cost around $28. After we put in new bearings we fixed flanges on the wheels to keep the sand from getting into these bearings and have not had any more trouble at that point with it. We have an order in now for new repair parts which will cost about $60.00. As far as we can see these repairs will put it in first class shape to start in for another season."

"From the experience we had with the other tractor, and from what I can learn from people who have operated other tractors I believe the Fordson Tractor is the best tractor for sandy land. I think it would be wise to order another one of these tractors, as we can do as much work with one of them and one man as we can do with three teams, and three men, and do better work."

The report that Mr. Lancaster sends, in my opinion is very satisfactory, especially so since he thinks enough of the Fordson Tractor to request us to order another one. Repeat orders on tractors are certainly a good endorsement.

Yours truly,
CHASE & COMPANY.

Sanford, Fla., Sept. 1st, 1919.
Mr. Ed. Higgins, Sanford, Fla.

Dear Sir:
I am very glad to tell you how well pleased I am with the Fordson Tractor purchased August, 1918. I have used the machine constantly on our 60-acre truck farm and have done a great deal of work for others. The total cost for repairs has not exceeded $10.00. While not a machinist, I do all my repairs and adjustments myself. I do a good deal of my own driving but any good hand can handle it.

Yours truly,
RALPH CHAPMAN.

Sanford, Fla., Sept. 15-19.
Mr. Ed. Higgins, Sanford, Fla.

Dear Sir:
Replying to your inquiry in regard to the Fordson tractor purchased from you.

I consider this machine the best investment in the way of farm machinery that I ever made. I have a fourteen-year-old boy driving and he harrowed 20 acres with it yesterday, and did a better job than could be done with teams.

You could not buy this machine back for several times what I paid for it if I could not get another.

Yours truly,
ROY F. SYMES.

SANFORD GRAMMAR SCHOOL HAD INTERESTING PROGRAM LAST SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The Grammar school is one of the liveliest departments of the city schools and under the leadership of the principal, Miss Clara Millen and Mrs. Babbitt and the efficient staff of teachers, the children have developed into first-class musicians, orators, writers and general all-round good scholars. Much good work has been accomplished in the Grammar school this year and there have been several fine entertainments staged by the children of the school. At the various entertainments the Grammar school orchestra composed of younger children has caused much favorable comment and the musical talent of this department of the city schools is one of great merit.

Last Saturday afternoon the patrons of the school were invited to attend a showing of the work accomplished by the scholars this year and it was exhibited in the various rooms on the walls and the rooms were all beautifully decorated for the occasion. The interesting program in which the children from the various grades participated showed the result of the superior training given them by their teachers and the large crowd present was agreeably surprised at the wonderful talent shown by all the children on the program. The instrumental and vocal selections and the readings and dialogues were well rendered. The following program was carried out:

THE AMERICAN LEGION HELD GREAT MEETING

Dear Mr. Holly:

You should have been in Orlando during the third annual convention and reunion. Orlando certainly does deserve lots of credit in handling the convention in the high and commendable manner, laboring under such weather conditions.

The town was in all respects up to their promises, even to throwing the keys away and giving their chief of police a two days' vacation. He labored rather hard every moment owing to the fact that he is post commander of Orlando Post and plenty he had to do.

The order of business carried on for two days in the Lucerne theatre was beyond reproach. Our state commander, Mr. Billingsly, was on the job every moment and was stating his facts clearly, allowing everyone who would or wanted to say a word or make nominations plenty of time and opportunity to do so. And I am very sorry every member of the Campbell-Lossing Post were not there, for the spirit which makes the American Legion a go was exemplified at all times. Every delegate was on the job and trying to get all the good from the meeting possible. Every moment of the meeting, was interesting from the address of welcome in behalf of Orlando by their mayor, Mr. E. G. Duckworth, who left a working and good time expression and impression from his address. Some of the very latest bills were brought, showing their weak points whereby they represented the ex-service men but merit absolutely nothing for them. But those days are not existing today. The members of the American Legion do not appreciate or approve of anything only what is fair and just to all. But allow me to say there is no bungling or misrepresenting bills coming up before our legislative bodies either at Tallahassee, Fla., or Washington, D. C., but what is thoroughly thrashed out by the American Legion legislative body and if it is Legionnaires then our legislative body feel it a privilege and a pleasure to state facts clearly when these bills come up pertaining to ex-service men.

Sanford's part of the American Legion was represented by R. W. Dean, D. D. Whitcomb and myself. All during the convention we were on the job, trying to gain every ounce of wisdom possible. We were very much disappointed when our nominee for state chaplain was defeated by two votes but we are sure at our next convention Dr. George Hyman will be nominated and elected state chaplain.

Our Public Schools--The Best In the South

FULLY has it been said that no nation is greater than its public school system. Nor is any state, county or city greater than its schools. Sanford, rich in farming industries, rich in citrus groves, rich in commercial lines, is no less rich in her most excellent system of public schools. Well may the citizens of Sanford be boastful of her schools, for they rank among the very best in the state. Our graduates are admitted on diplomas, without further examination, to any reputable college in the South. And they "make good", while in college, for their preparation has been thorough.

Prof. Claude S. Ogilvie, principal of the Sanford High School, is without a superior in his line in the state, and he has gathered about him a faculty of men and women of high scholarship and successful experience, and the work done throughout the year just drawing to a close is without parallel in this city.

Miss Clara Millen, principal of the Grammar School and Mrs. S. P. Arrington, supervising principal of the Primary Schools, have both been connected with our school system for many years, and stand high in their profession. Associated with them are teachers of marked ability, who are co-operating heartily in making this one of the best schools of the South.

The Board of Trustees, composed of men of large business affairs, willingly sacrifice matters of personal interest in order to serve the schools, and their sound business judgment contributes much to the success of the system.

Patrons, and citizens in general, support the schools with their influence and their money. Especially commendable is the fine work of the Woman's Club, which is always ready to come to the assistance of our educational institutions. And nothing could be finer than the helpful attitude of the churches, Chamber of Commerce, banks and business men, who have co-operated so cordially with the principals, teachers and superintendent in every effort made for the improvement of our schools. The people of Sanford work and vote for school bonds, for special taxes, and for a higher maximum general school tax. No bond issue ever fails to be carried; no constitutional amendment for increased millage for education ever fails; and the people who are willing to work for, vote for, and pay for good schools are sure to have good schools.

While we are building the city substantial for ourselves, we are also building a substantial citizenry to take care of this city after the present builders have retired from their labors. But these boys and girls are helping us to build the city. They are showing to the world what Sanford can do and what kind of citizens will make up the next generation. They are writing essays on "The City Substantial" that present new and greater possibilities for the future, and indicate that they realize some of the responsibilities that will soon be theirs as citizens.

We are building for the future industrially, commercially, and socially, and we are not unmindful of the fact that of more importance than all else are the men and women that our schools are building, for—

"We are all blind until we see
That in the human plan,
Nothing is worth the making if
It does not make the man.

Why build these cities glorious,
If man unbuilt goes?
In vain we build the world unless
The builder also grows."

SQUARE SIX-ROOM HOUSE OF STUCCO

Handsome Home for a Family of Medium Size.

INTERIOR WELL ARRANGED

Exterior Presents Exceptionally Fine Appearance—Design Presents Dwelling That Will Not Cost Excessive Sum.

By WILLIAM A. RADFORD.

Mr. William A. Radford will answer questions and give advice FREE OF CHARGE on all subjects pertaining to the subject of building for the readers of this paper. On account of his wide experience as Editor, Author and Manufacturer, he is, without doubt, the highest authority on all these subjects. Address all inquiries to William A. Radford, No. 1827 Prairie Avenue, Chicago, Ill., and only enclose two-cent stamp for reply.

During the last few years one idea about home building has been radically changed. That idea is regarding the size of the house. There was a time not so many years ago when practically every one who built a house had in it a number of "spare" rooms. There was a parlor on the first floor that was seldom used unless there was company. A "spare" bedroom, or two, usually was incorporated into the plan for the second floor. Now there are practically no "spare" rooms, while in the cities many homes and nearly all apartments are constructed so that one or two rooms do double duty—are used daytimes as a living room or a dining room and by the use of concealed beds become bedrooms at night.

A home that contains sufficient room for a medium-sized family is the six-room square bungalow shown in the accompanying illustration. This house contains three good-sized bedrooms on the second floor, so that a family of four adults easily can be accommodated, and by "doubling up" there is room for a guest or two to stay over night. At the same time this home is small, being only 31 feet square. At the present cost of building more room or a larger house than the needs of the family require is sheer waste of money, and considerable of it.

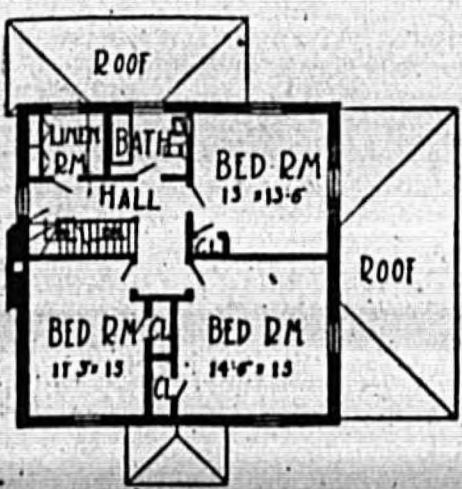

In exterior appearance this home, with the outside walls treated as they are, and with the large porch, presents an exceptionally fine appearance. The building is either of frame, brick or hollow clay building the construction, with the exterior walls cov-erred with stucco. One of the side walls is paneled by the use of a square lattice work, but it is not good policy to plant vines to cover the trellis, because vines discolor the stucco. However, the lattice work takes away the plainness of the wall. The colonial porch, at the side, with settees on either side is a good exterior feature, while the brick floors to the porches add another attractive touch.

handy to the kitchen, while at the same time it takes the mussy work of washing out of the room where the cooking is done.

The stair leads to a central hall on the second floor. Opening off the hall are three bedrooms, all corner rooms. They vary slightly in size, the largest being 14 feet 6 inches by 15 feet and the smallest 11 feet 3 inches by 15 feet. The other bedroom is 13 by 13 feet 6 inches. At one end of the hall is the bathroom, while adjoining it is a room fitted with closets and shelves for the storage of linen.

The foundation is of concrete up to grade and brick above. The basement excavation is under the whole of the house proper and is finished with a cement floor. The basement should be divided into rooms; one for the heating plant, one for fuel storage and one for food storage, leaving room for the storage of lawn and garden tools and other things that usually are kept in the basement.

Taken both from the standpoint of exterior beauty and convenient and commodious interior, this home building design is excellent and will provide a dwelling for the average family that will not cost an excessive sum.

Whenever those who have in mind the erection of a home see a home building design that appeals to them, one of their first thoughts is "what will it cost?" Building costs are difficult to estimate with any degree of accuracy, because so many factors enter into them. There is the question of shortage or abundance of the skilled labor required to build a home; there is the great variance of freight rates on the materials, and the location of the building site in relation to the source of material supply and labor. For those reasons it never is safe to say what a home of a certain design will cost. But it is an easy matter to secure estimates of cost. The local architect, the contractor who will be asked to bid on the building and the material dealers all can give a pretty good estimate of erred with stucco. One of the side walls is paneled by the use of a square lattice work, but it is not good policy to plant vines to cover the trellis, because vines discolor the stucco. However, the lattice work takes away the plainness of the wall. The colonial porch, at the side, with settees on either side is a good exterior feature, while the brick floors to the porches add another attractive touch.

How the six rooms are arranged and the size of each one are shown by the floor plan that accompanies the exterior view of the house. A living room of exceptionally large size, 15

by 20 feet, extends across the house. An open fire-place at one end, with a built-in bookcase at the side and the open stair running to the second floor are good features of the living room. Connected by a double casement opening is the dining room off one end of the living room. The dining room is a cheery room, being on the corner and having a double French door leading to the open porch. The kitchen adjoins the dining room and can be reached either from the living or dining room. This room is of good size, 13 feet 6 inches by 12 feet. Adjoining it are pantry and laundry. This location for a laundry is good, as it is what a home of a certain size or style will cost in their immediate localities, and by consulting them the prospective builder will get reliable figures.

Without a doubt the most satisfactory method of securing a home is to build it. By building the owner gets a home of the right size for his family; its exterior appearance and interior arrangement will conform to his ideas of how a home should be laid out, and he will be able to keep his requirements within the range of his financial ability.

This is the year of home building and every man of family who has been paying the high rents now demanded is either building a home of his own or considering building one. While it is considerable of an undertaking to assume the financial obligations necessary in most cases, when the home is finished, the owner is more than compensated.

Answer Business Letters Promptly.

Even though you are not a business person yourself business letters should be written with the utmost promptness—if not the day of their receipt, then the day after. For instance, if you receive a letter from a stranger regarding the reliability of a servant in your employ, you should answer at once. If you receive a letter from a business concern concerning some confusion in your account, that, too, should be written at once. The only person who can afford to neglect answering business letters is the person who has a business manager to attend to such matters for him.

Butter Once Used as Ointment.

Butter was used locally in the earliest periods for which records exist, as it was believed to be the best possible ointment for the skin, and in some parts of southern Europe it is not yet used as a food. Olive oil, used as a lubricant for bread in the old days, still is used by many there in the place of butter. In the early day, butter also was used in lamps.

THE U.S. CHAIN TREAD
One of the few tires of which it may be said that they deliver economy year in and year out and tire after tire.

The U. S. Chain Tread gives sufficient traction on all ordinary road surfaces. It is probably the handsomest, and by all odds the most popular, of the whole U. S. Fabric Tire line.

"As in the greatest cities so in his own home town—the U. S. Tire user gets fresh, live tires of current production."

"In every section, however remote, you find a dealer in fresh, live U. S. Tires."

Economy rides on U.S. Tires

IF you could get together all the car owners you know, you'd probably find that their tire experiences had been much the same.

Most of them have taken their fling at "job lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks." Soon or late, nearly all settled back on quality first as the one sound assurance of tire value.

As soon as a man forgets the cut-price tag, and comes to the dealer who concentrates on a full, completely sized stock of U. S. Tires—he learns what it means to get fresh, live tires—not once in a while but every time.

Not merely in the big cities, but in his own home town.

Not merely for the heavy car, but for the medium and light-weight car—a full selection of size, tread and type.

Your U. S. Tire dealer can give you this service because of the service he gets from his neighboring U. S. Factory Branch. There are 92 of these Branches. Each gets its share of U. S. Tires, so that the dealer is always supplied with fresh, live stock.

U. S. Tires sell as fast as they are made. There is no over production. No surplus piled up waiting for a "market."

Wherever you buy a U. S. Tire—you buy a tire of current production, as full of life and value as the day it left the makers.

SUICIDE WHISKEY

The Birmingham Age-Herald has done a good service to the country in a recent editorial showing how rapidly whiskey drinkers who are willing to take any chance in violating the law are being eliminated from any further interest in earthly affairs. And this condition is doing a great deal to make every man afraid to drink; it matters not how many oaths may be piled upon oaths to prove that the stuff that is offered to him is genuine.

The Age-Herald says that at a stag dinner held at the home of a Birmingham citizen "several participants are said to have brought bottles as a contribution, for it was more or less of a business dinner on a matter of import to Birmingham." One citizen is said to have dubbed his contribution "T. N. T." It was concocted and had the same effect upon the "swallow" of a man that lightning has upon the bark of an old and stately oak. "One man pronounced the kick extremely effective and took a second portion. Within three days thereafter the funeral was largely attended."

Only recently, said the Age-Herald, a splendid Birmingham man offered the writer of the editorial a drink of "very fine old bottled-in-bond whiskey," which he had just bought from a man who had brought it up from Savannah. The offer was declined, "but the next day the man who had offered it opened the bottle and took a drink. Within half an hour thereafter, though the best physicians were called in he died in convulsions after leaving verbal warning to his friends not to take anyone's word as to what was whiskey."

A prominent manufacturer of Birmingham had a bottle of supposedly "bottled-in-bond" at his home. A number of ladies and gentlemen partook of fruit punches made of it. Within an hour every participant became ill.

"Yesterday's Age-Herald," says the story, "told of an analysis of whiskey which killed a strapping big man and a good citizen of Birmingham whom everybody liked. This man was not a regular drinker, but a friend from Northern Alabama brought in a bottle of moonshine and persuaded the Birmingham man to take a drink. He took two drinks, and he was soon in convulsions, and was buried three days later. A friend who was with him took one drink, and he has just gotten out of bed as a result." An Age-Herald reporter got the remains of what was in the bottle and had it analyzed by an expert chemist. It was found to contain 27 per cent. of deodorized wood alcohol, a deadly poison.

Some of the soldier boys recently in camp near Birmingham bought a half gallon of moonshine and were planning for a rousing time when the captain found out about the matter and warned them that it was probably a deadly poison. "To prove it he had the boys catch a stray cur and a teaspoonful was poured on the dog's tongue and his head held up so that he had to swallow it. In 15 minutes the dog was dead."

The Age-Herald reports that some printing shops are turning out counterfeit government labels smeared with dirt and water to give the appearance of age, so that no one knows what he is getting when he buys what is claimed to be whiskey. As a remedy the Age-Herald suggests "the hangman's noose for every man who puts wood alcohol or any other deadly poison in a bottle alleged to contain whiskey."

The story of the Age-Herald is being repeated in many places. Every concocter of so-called whiskey or moonshine is trifling with human life, and is indeed a murderer in heart and often in act. Every man who drinks the stuff is running the risk of committing suicide and, according to the reports to the daily papers, the suicide club is growing with amazing rapidity by reason of the fact that some men are perfectly willing to risk death and the lower world for the privilege of putting the accursed stuff in their stomachs.

Very rapidly the number of drinkers is being lessened by those who are murdering themselves in order to gratify a depraved appetite.—Manufacturers Record.

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 17.—Final statistics placing the total population of the Continental United States at 105,719,620 or 27,502 more than announced last October when preliminary figures were given out, submitted today to Speaker Gillett of House for apportionment purposes by Director Stewart of the Census Bureau. Final figures place total population of the outlying possessions of the United States at 12,048,738 which brings population for entire country and possessions to 117,859,358.

IF BACKACHY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

EAT LESS MEAT, ALSO TAKE GLASS OF SALTS BEFORE EATING BREAKFAST

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urine waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from back-ache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

"Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness."

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists there say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Adv.

In response to the inquiry of many telephone subscribers: "What can I do to help my service?" this advertisement is published.

Visiting Over The Telephone

When telephone users hold the lines for an unnecessarily long period of time, the result is delay and annoyance due to repeated "busy" reports.

Particularly is this true in the case of party line telephones.

Brevity in telephone conversations and releasing a party line when requested to do so, will assist us in our effort to improve your service.

Right now when the switchboards are congested on account of a serious shortage of equipment, every useless call and every unnecessarily long conversation hampers the service that much more.

Children and servants should not be permitted to block your line with idle telephone conversations.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION'S FINE RECORD IN BUILDING SANFORD

Home Institution is Now Building Eleven New Homes

(From Tuesday's Daily)

In speaking to A. P. Connelly, the secretary of the Building & Loan Association, we gained some knowledge about the greatest asset to Sanford and the wonderful work being done by the Sanford Building & Loan Association which is everybody's co-operative home building association.

"I am glad to tell you we had the greatest month in its history during the month of April, and have arranged to finance the building and improvement of eleven houses in April and May, and we have applications for thirty thousand dollars desired by stockholders which we hope to reach during the summer," said Mr. Connelly.

"I wish every person doing business in Sanford, or making their living in Sanford, could and would co-operate by taking out stock. The combined dollars of the many will soon result in building the homes that are so badly needed, and even if you don't want to borrow any money to build, it has been fully demonstrated during the past thirteen years that in addition to stimulating trade and building, your investment is a sound paying one.

"Ask everybody to inquire of the Secretary and Treasurer, any of the banks, any member of the Board of Directors, or any one of the old stockholders, and they will one and all recommend it.

"We have the ability within ourselves, to make a great Sanford, and thereby cause outside capital to come in and make it a Greater Sanford.

"A long pull, a strong pull, and a pull altogether for the building and betterment of our city. Why not?"

DAYTONA HAS NEW ROTARY CLUB

(From Tuesday's Daily)

St. Augustine Rotary Club installed the Daytona Club last night and District Deputy Governor John Turner was there to give the baby Rotas their new charter with the elaborate ceremonies that go with this important occasion.

There were Rotary representatives from the clubs of Gainesville, Ocala, Palatka, St. Augustine, Jacksonville, Miami and Palm Beach and Sanford and several other clubs. The visitors met at the Elks Club and marched in a body to Cataneo's Grill where a fine dinner of fried chicken, shrimp salad and all the good things that Cataneo knows how to arrange so well. St. Augustine put the Daytona club through their paces and there was something doing every minute. Every one said something, all the songs of Rotary were sung, Gainesville gave some instrumental music and it was an evening long to be remembered in Rotary circles.

The new Rotarians of Daytona are as follows: J. D. C. Morris, president; Max Leidesdorf, secretary; David Sholtz, Jerome D. Maley, Dr. H. L. Merriday, S. C. Archibald, E. H. Armstrong, Julian Arroyo, I. W. Ramsey, George Marks, W. K. Tavell, Charles Smith, S. B. Crosby, Cornelius Christianity, George Balch, F. J. Niver, and Rev. W. L. Lewis.

There were more than one hundred guests present at the banquet and Rotarians and Rotari-Anns enjoyed every minute of the time. Those who attended from this city were President and Mrs. H. R. Stevens, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Holly, R. H. Pearman, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Roumillat and little son and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Britt.

The man who is waiting for opportunity to hit him in the slats to awaken him will never meet her.

LABOR FACES GRAVE CRISIS IN SOUTHLAND

ALBANY, Ala., May 17.—Declaring a crisis is upon American labor as a result of the so-called open shop movement, William L. Harrison, president, in his address at the opening session of the annual convention of the Alabama Federation of Labor here yesterday, called upon union men to stand by their guns unless they want to be hurled into "industrial slavery."

In every strike, large or small, local or national, "open shop" advocates, with all the means they can muster, attempt to defeat the purposes of union men, the speaker said. The Alabama anti-picketing law was sharply condemned and its repeal demanded by Mr. Harrison, who termed the statute a virtual anti-strike law.

Ninety-nine out of every hundred miners who sought work after Governor Kilby's recent award in the coal strike were turned down flatly by the coal operators, Mr. Harrison stated. Owing to general industrial depression, he added, miners are without employment and destitution is prevalent. The speaker said great employing interests of the country are taking advantage of the war's aftermath to either destroy the standards of labor or to destroy the closed shop in industry. He said the cotton operators during the recent strike in Alabama employed "hundreds of gunmen" and the military "did all possible to crush striking miners."

He said the climax of the autogonistic attitude of the soldiers came on January 13th, when William Baird, a miner, was alleged to have been taken from the Walker county jail and lynched by the national guardsmen, who are now under indictment.

"This was the brand of law and order these agents of the state exhibited in the strike district," concluded the speaker.

THE LEGISLATURE TO BLAME?

Those who have seen the defiant attitude of legislators when approached on the question of abolishing free range, either as a state-wide or local proposition, are asking the question: "Is it because of that attitude the range cattle men are burning out the homesteader and the small farmer settled in their midst?"

Lee county is the scene of what appears to be relentless war against agricultural and horticultural development. The properties and lives of those who are there undertaking these things are in jeopardy. Thousands of acres of homestead and farm improvement have been destroyed, with all the houses, agricultural and farm implements, household goods, crops and groves of the unfortunates. The fires continue to spread into sections where other homesteaders and farmers are living. In this fight it appears that the range man has an alliance with the legislature, for certainly that body has expressed not a word of disapproval. On the contrary members of it have declared they will not see any range cattle legislation enacted; while others have even declared they will maintain the right of the range cattle man against all other classes of citizens.

Every day brings more harrowing stories of fires in Lee county. It seems time to put an end to them. The law seems powerless; the legislature is adding fuel to the flames by its attitude; and there seems nothing left but for the homesteaders and farmers to organize vigilance committees and protect their property and lives.

Dispatches from Fort Myers declare that the "range riders and cattlemen" are directly responsible for the fires. Many declare they have seen them in the act of starting fires. In the Alva section, one of the oldest and best citrus regions of the county, groves have been burned and fences destroyed and the direct statement is made in that section that fires which the residents extinguished Tuesday were deliberately started again "by persons who were sent to set out new fires, and who made off before they could be approached closely."

And all the time while these rights and properties of citizens are being trampled under foot and destroyed, the legislature is wasting its time in the attempt to enact inheritance tax laws to take from the people what they have accumulated despite such difficulties, riparian steals to deprive the people of other properties and rights, and bills to tax out of Florida the timid, barely venturing in, commerce of its ports, and others of like nature. Is it any wonder the lawless of the state attack property and person, when there is no evidence that the lawmaking body of the state cares?—Tampa Tribune.

THREE HUNDRED MILES OF FINE HIGHWAY

A dispatch from DeLand says the dream of the Florida motorist and good roads enthusiast for many years, that of a paved highway from Jacksonville to Tampa, is on the verge of reality as the result of the acceptance by the Volusia county Board of Commissioners of the proposal of the state road department to build the highway in District 3 of Volusia county from DeLand to the Putnam county line, if the Volusia commissioners would agree to pay the state road department $8,333.33 a mile for the road as it is completed. The district has had $200,000 in the bank the last two years waiting for the state and federal governments to supply the remainder of the fund for construction, as had been promised.

The highway already has been graded by the state department.

Completion of this stretch of 25 miles, together with a short section in Putnam and Clay counties, is all that is necessary to complete the trunk line brick or asphalt paved highway between Jacksonville and Tampa, about 260 miles. The road passes through Green Cove Springs, Palatka, Seville, Pierson, DeLeon Springs, DeLand, Sanford, Winter Park, Orlando, Kissimmee, Bartow, Lakeland and Plant City and on to Tampa. The asphalt block and brick paved highway between Tampa and St. Petersburg, an additional stretch of more than 60 miles, has been in use for several years, and with the completion of the Volusia-Putnam clay section a motorist will be able to drive more than 300 miles into South Florida on a trunk highway without changing a gear of his machine.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with coated tongue, foul breath or a dull headache, or if your meals sour and ferment, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize and then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and thirty feet of intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to headaches, backaches, bilious attacks, constipation or stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from a drug store and begin enjoying the morning inside bath.

Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.—Adv.
