

5000 St. Nicks Needed To Bring Happy Christmas

750 Children In Four State Homes Hope For Yuletide Cheer

Would you consider acting as Santa Claus for just a few moments if you could be assured of ample pay for your time and trouble?

Five thousand persons to act as Santa Claus are needed badly—as well as 5000 fine women who will act the part of Mrs. Santa.

These men and women, strange as it may seem, can be of any age, any size, any creed, any condition, and neither the men or women need to wear any false mustache, whiskers, uniforms, etc.

About 500 Santas and 500 "Mrs. Santas" are wanted from this county. Your services can begin today and the pay begins just as soon as you begin to act; and you need not leave your home, your community, or your business for even one minute.

This is all absolutely true—Believe it or not—and you are just the person to fill one of these positions at once.

These "Santas" and "Mrs. Santas" are wanted to bring toys, nuts, goodies, suits, dresses, shoes, sweaters, games and anything that children from west babies up to boys and girls 10 years of age can eat, wear or enjoy, for four large families of children—nearly 750 in all—who are now under the care and study of Florida's Greatest Charity—The Children's Home Society of Florida—in its four happy and "homey" receiving homes in Jacksonville, Pensacola, Lakeland and Miami, and who are in hospitals, boarding homes and special institutions under the direction of the Home Society.

All you need to do to qualify as a Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus is to sit right down and send your application to the State Superintendent—the "Daddy" of all these hundreds of orphans and homeless kiddies, Marcus C. "Daddy" Furr, 49 Buckman Building, Jacksonville, together with a check or money order for whatever amount you feel you should receive for your services. Or—if you have no money available you may send a crate of eggs, a dozen chicken, a turkey or two, a side of meat, some canned goods, a crate of fruit, a hamper of vegetables, a sack of nuts, candy, toys, games or goodies, a box, barrel or carton of children's wearables, and just mention the value of the same.

Less than two-thirds of a cent out of each dollar of freight revenue was paid out by the railroads in loss and damage claims in the first half of 1939.

Fewer accidents resulting from equipment or track defects took place on the railroad in 1938 than in any year on record.

City Revenue Certificates Get Approval

(Continued From Page One) ment of the present deteriorated wooden line has been ordered and is expected to arrive within a short time. The WPA project which the City is sponsoring for laying the line has not yet been approved.

City Engineer Fred T. Williams gave the Commissioners a report of the recent hearing in Washington on the proposed St. Johns Indian River Canal before the Board of Engineers for the House Rivers and Harbors Committee, in which he told of the optimism which prevails among proponents of the project over the possibilities of a favorable report to the House Rivers and Harbors Committee.

Mr. Williams also gave a resume of the progress being made on the current street paving project which is sponsored by the City through the WPA.

The Commission authorized the purchase of 10 tons of asphalt and 531 feet of sewer pipe to be used on this project.

The purchase of two traffic lights at the cost of $102.95 each also authorized. One of these lights will be installed at the intersection of Park Avenue and Twentieth Street and the other at the intersection of Park and Geneva Avenues.

The construction of back steps on the negro tennis courts on Ninth Street and Sanford Avenue and on West Seventeenth Street was also approved, as was a quarter page advertisement in the 1940 issue of the high school annual.

The payment of the City's annual dues of $70 to the Florida League of Municipalities was authorized while the Commissioners took under advisement a request by representatives of the Florida National Exhibits, Inc. for a donation to a fund to be used for the maintenance of Florida exhibits at prominent locations during the winter months.

The two local banks were designated as depositories for the ensuing year.

Fire losses on American railroads in 1939 amounted to $3,821,414, a decrease of 15 percent below 1938.

BOOKS GIVEN
SASKATOON, Dec. 12.—(AP)—Through public donations more than 400 books and magazines have been distributed among the Sudeten settlers in northern Saskatchewan, Canada, by the young men's section of the Saskatchewan Board of Trade.

Fatalities resulting from highway-traffic grade crossing accidents totaled 78 in August, 1939, the smallest number for any month in the past seven years.

The average revenue received by the railroads for carrying a passenger one mile was 1.84 cents in the first nine months of 1939.

700 Russians Believed Dead In Ship Wreck

Crowded Fishing Vessel, Enroute To Vladivostok, Runs Aground In Storm

395 Are Saved By Rescue Ship

1,100 Fishermen Many Women, Children Were Aboard Ship

WAKKANAI, Japan, Dec. 13—(AP)—More than 700 Russians, including women and children, were missing today and were believed drowned or frozen to death in the wreck of the Russian steamer Indigirka on the treacherous coast of Kokkaido.

The Japanese ship Karafuto Maru arrived here, 395 survivors of the crowded Russian fishing vessel which went aground in a blizzard yesterday. The survivors, most of them suffering from exposure, said the ship carried 1,100 fishermen, many accompanied by their wives, children, and a crew of 30.

Survivors said they sent out one S. O. S. before a heavy snow storm set in. A team held rescue ships in port through-out yesterday.

The Indigirka was only 2,600 tons capacity but vessels playing the northern sea routes to Vladivostok often carry large passenger lists. It originally was one of several older American ships sold to Russia in recent years.

Guards Emergency Training Will Be Discontinued Soon

There will be no continuation of the present emergency training measures for the Florida National Guard after Jan. 31, Col. A. W. P. Sands, of the Fourth Corps Area Headquarters at Fort McPherson, Ga., told members of the Florida National Guard Officers Association at its annual meeting in the San Juan Hotel in Orlando Sunday, according to a report of local officers who attended the affair.

In the election of officers, Col. Preston Ayers of Orlando, commanding officer of the 124th Infantry, was elected president of the association for the ensuing year, while Lieut. Karl Koyck of this city, was elected vice president from the 124th Infantry.

During his discussion of military affairs with the officers from all of the National Guard organizations in the state, Col. Sands pointed out that the continuation of the present two-day a week drills and the emergency field training period would not be necessary after Jan. 31 because of the provisions of the National Defense Act, which he declared is not likely to be changed at the next session of Congress.

He also announced that the annual encampment of Florida's 124th Infantry, of which the local companies are a part, will be held at Fort McClane, near Anniston, Ala., from July 14, to July 25, 1940. It will be an encampment of the 62nd Brigade which includes the Florida regiment and the 107th National Guard regiment of Alabama.

Other officers elected included the following vice presidents from each of the regiments: Major H. E. Couchman of the State Staff, Lieut. Julian C. Pfaff of Jacksonville, 106th Quartermaster Regiment; Capt. Frank C. Paul of Tampa, 118th Field Artillery; Major F. W. McClain of Jacksonville, 107th Coast Artillery, and Capt. H. W. Sperry of Apalachicola, 104th Engineers, Lieut. E. W. Cooper of St. Augustine was elected secretary and treasurer.

November Sales At Farmers Market Total $70,000, Manager Reports

With the sale of more than $70,000 worth of produce at the Sanford State Farmers' Wholesale Market during the month of November, aggregate sales for the current fiscal year, beginning July 1, have reached a total of approximately $100,000, Market Manager H. J. Lehman announced today.

Optimistic over the prospects of the most successful season in the market's history, Mr. Lehman stated that the impressive record of sales had been compiled during the month of November despite the shortage of fall crops from the Seminole County area.

The reason at the market is just beginning, however, and Mr. Lehman expects a large increase over last month in the volume of sales during the month of December. For several seasons the goal of those connected with the market has been gross receipts of a million dollars for a single season. According to Mr. Lehman, this year's sales, if they continue as at present, should come near this goal, "if the farmers take advantage of this outlet for their crops and increase the diversification of their plantings," Mr. Lehman said.

Donations Swell Empty Stocking Fund To $83.90

Contributions yesterday raised the total of the Salvation Army Empty Stocking Fund to $83.90, chairman Charles Morrison and Capt. R. E. Rose announced today.

Pointing out, however, that this amount is far short of the necessary funds to feed the more than 100 families the Salvation Army has planned to provide for Christmas Day.

A total of $10 in donations was made yesterday.

Those making contributions were: Florida Pro-Cooling Co., by R. L. Cornell $10, Anna Cornell, $2, E. M. Swain, $1, F. W. Talbot, $1, O. G. Smith, $1, Mrs. Mary Hawkins $2, Santa Claus $1, and Miss Malina $1.

There are only 10 more days remaining in which contributions may be made, Mr. Morrison said, adding that many children will miss a happy Christmas unless the people of this community contribute to their aid.

All persons who wish to contribute to this worthy cause may give their donation to either Mr. Morrison at the Ritz Theatre or to Capt. R. E. Rose at the Salvation Army headquarters on Second Street.

Stockholders Of Production Group To Hold Meeting

Stockholders of the Sanford Production Credit Association will hold their annual meeting in Sanford at the City Hall on Wednesday morning, Jan. 31, at 10:30 o'clock, according to an announcement by Ralph B. Chapman, president of the association.

At this meeting, complete and detailed reports will be made by the officers of the association on its operations for the year just past. Directors for the year 1939-40 will be elected and other important business transacted.

In announcing the date of the annual meeting, Mr. Chapman said that it was hoped that the attendance of stockholders at this year's meeting the largest in the history of the association. He said that the annual meetings of the association afford the stockholders an opportunity to learn every detail of the operations of their organization.

The Sanford Production Credit Association, which makes short-term loans to finance all types of farm and livestock operations, serves Bradford, Lake, Orange, Osceola, Seminole and Volusia counties and in 1939 made loans totaling $268,000 to its members.

Directors Told Of Hearing On Canal To Coast

Chamber Resolution Praises Williams, Bagwell For Work

Following a detailed report of the recent hearing on the proposed canal to the East Coast given by Fred T. Williams, of the Board of Directors and membership of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce in their monthly meeting last night passed a resolution expressing appreciation to Mr. Williams and Secretary Ralph Bagwell for their untiring efforts and tireless amount of work done toward securing approval of a project of vital importance to this section.

Mr. Williams stated that it was not known exactly when the Board of Engineers would announce its decision, however, he expressed considerable optimism over prospects of favorable action.

A vote of appreciation for the Chamber's many accomplishments of the past 12 months was also placed in the minutes.

Walter Haynes, president of the Business and Professional Men's Association, said:

YOU NEVER KNOW DENVER, Dec. 13—(AP)—Of all places, Balluff Norman Cook thought his lunch would be safe in his desk in the county court room. But somebody stole it during a court session.

"Why We Should Buy In Sanford"

In an effort to show why we should buy in our home town, I intend to try to trace a dollar spent by a Sanford citizen in a neighboring town and a dollar spent by a Sanford citizen in Sanford.

When a Sanford citizen spends a dollar in a neighboring city the dollar goes into that city. First the cost of the article is sent to the factory, the profits going to the merchant of that city. From these profits the employees of that merchant are paid, thus sending Sanford money all over this city. This Sanford money goes to grocery stores, apparel stores and to the home-owned utilities company of this neighboring city. Then some of the profit is paid to that city for taxes, thus enlarging and beautifying this city on Sanford money. The owner's share is used in much the same way as the employees' salary but rarely does any of this money that is taken out of Sanford come back into Sanford in trade as these people buy in their own home town because they want to help it grow.

A dollar spent in Sanford goes into our own city and stays there, excepting of course that which goes to the factory. The profit is spent in employees' salaries, which is spent in Sanford thus circulating through Sanford business. Taxes that are paid out of this dollar spent in Sanford help to enlarge and beautify Sanford, thus making it more attractive to tourists who bring more money into our town. The owner's share of the profits is naturally spent here in Sanford in order to stimulate trade and set an example for the town people to follow. Money spent outside Sanford generally stays where it is spent, while money spent in Sanford will circulate here and help our own city and will soon get back to the original spender.

In trying to get people to sign pledge cards not to buy out of Sanford, I found the main reason offered for buying in neighboring cities was that they could not find what they wanted in Sanford. If everyone would try to find what they want here at home before going out of town they would usually be able to find what they wanted here, and if not the merchants would gladly order the article for them and probably stock up on the merchandise wanted.

Many people think merchandise is cheaper out of town; this is not so. Pay a dollar less for an article and the quality is a dollar more. This is bound to be true, because no matter where an article is bought, the cost is the same at the factory if the quality is the same.

Furthermore, observant shoppers find in comparative quality, that the larger stores in neighboring cities on account of high rental and expensive overhead, usually charge more rather than less for good merchandise.

Also let every shopper consider the cost of transportation to and from the shopping center and the additional and the incidental money spent during the day.

I suggest in order to further this campaign that Mayor Higgins have small badges made, stamped "SANFORD MAID" and distribute them to the high school girls to wear to keep alive the interest in this "Buy In Sanford" during the Christmas shopping season.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This story was written by a member of the Junior class of Sanford High School for the "Trade at Home" contest. The name of the author will be withheld until the prize results are announced.

U.S. Ships Being Sought By Europeans

Sinkings Of Merchant Ships Cause Demand For More Tonnage; U. S. Industry Aided

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13—(AP)—Chirman B. D. (E. N. C.) of the Senate Commerce Committee today disclosed that foreign purchases of a portion of the American Merchant Marine may help to solve the problem created by the flying up of American ships under the Neutrality Act.

He said he sees no objection to the sale of ships to Canada or other nations of ocean vessels which have been made idle by the ban on entering the war zones.

He explained that he had been informed of a number of such offers that had been received by shipping owners.

"Because so much sinking has been taking place in the sea lanes, there is going to be an increasing demand for tonnage," he said. He thinks we have a good chance to "get rid" of some old ships that the government would have had to take in anyway under the Merchant Marine Act.

He thought possibly 50 of 58 American flagships were affected.

Dr J. E. Abbott Is Speaker At Kiwanis Lunch

Club's Work With Underprivileged Children Given Praise

In discussing his welfare for underprivileged children, which took place in the development of this year's Christmas Dinner, Dr. J. E. Abbott, chairman of the Underprivileged Children's Committee of the Sanford Kiwanis Club, declared at the weekly luncheon of the club at the Valley Hotel today.

Kiwanis is entering into its endeavor with increased earnestness, Dr. Abbott said, and it will be a contributing force to the development of active, manly and womanhood in the nation.

He outlined to the members of the Sanford club the accomplishments of the club and group in this work last year, and also the plans for the coming year, pointing out that the club is indebted to Charles Morrison, of this city, who recently presented a number of suggestions for the club to carry on this work during the ensuing year.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. E. H. Reynolds, who is chairman of the Underprivileged Children's Committee of the Sanford club.

British Cruiser Is Reported Sunk By Pocket Battleship

A Resolution League of Nations committee today adopted a resolution condemning Russia as an aggressor, containing an implied demand that Russia be ousted from the League.

The resolution, then submitted to the League assembly which may act tonight, was incorporated in a subcommittee report "inviting" League members to aid Finland, as Argentina led the way toward expulsion by threatening to resign if Russia, which refused mediation, stays in the League.

There were unconfirmed reports available of a naval engagement between British and German naval vessels in the Atlantic. A British pocket battleship, Admiral Scherff, off Cape Finisterre, had been reported sunk.

HOW THIN A BLANKET

There is so much misery in the world, So much poverty and pain, So many who have no food, Nor shelter from the rain, So many wandering friendless, So many facing cold, So many gnawing bitter bread And growing old!

What can I do? And you? What can we do alone? How short a way The few spare crumbs We have to reach To those who know No handshake anywhere, How little help our love When they themselves No longer care, How thin a blanket ours For the withered body Of despair!

—LANGSTON HUGHES

President Roosevelt has already set next year's Thanksgiving for November 21.

We've been calling them the Reds for years but it looks like they'll be black and blue before the Pinks get through with them.

As someone said over the radio the other night, the Germans are beginning to suspect that the Man That Walks Like a Bear has got flat feet.

Thieves entered the Florida Nurseries and Landscape Company on Park Avenue the other night and stole five camellia bushes. Isn't it funny that anyone who can really love a camellia could be so lacking in Christian principles as to steal it?

The communists in this country were very complimentary of newspaper criticism of Germany for attacking Poland, but they keenly resent the attitude of the same source in jumping on poor little Russia for attacking Finland.

Did you know that there are 4,473 patients at the Florida State Hospital at Chattahoochee, and that there are probably as many patients not there who should be? The hospital operates its own drug store, casket factory, power plant, ice plant, commissary, hog ranch, water works, fire department, telephone system, bakery, barber shop, laundry, cannery, dairy, library, mattress factory, and practically every other kind of industry which can be used by the inmates.

Italy is sounding off again in the Mediterranean. As we expected months ago, whenever the European situation got bad enough, Mussolini would repeat his demands for concessions in the Mediterranean. Now all he wants is an outlet to the Red Sea through the Suez Canal, free passage of the Dardanelles which is the gateway to the Black Sea where Russia now rules the roost, and access to the Atlantic through the Straits of Gibraltar. Making these demands at this particular time can mean only one thing, that France and England must put up at once, or else.

In reading about the liner Bremen safely reaching a German port from its exile in Murmansk after a desperate run of the British blockade in which it may have come within an ace of being sunk by a British submarine, one is moved to wonder why it was necessary for the Germans to take such chances with their most luxurious passenger ship. It may have been because they were afraid the Finnish war might have resulted in trouble between Russia and England in which Germany would take the offensive against the comparatively unarmed and unprotected port of Murmansk with possibly disastrous consequences to the Bremen; or they may have been afraid that she might be used as a bargaining chip in the possibilities of trouble between the Russians and simply used to get the Bremen out of trouble.

Not everyone believes in trading at home. Of course most people who trade out of town do so carelessly without thinking of the serious consequences it is having for their local merchants and the town in which they live and they are perfectly willing to go along with the crowd when it is brought to their attention that something has got to be done to put Sanford in the place it deserves as one of Florida's more progressive communities.

But there are others, a few, thank heavens, who even so still think that it is a good thing to trade out of town. They believe that the way to enable the local merchants to sell at better prices is to restrict their sales and hence their income by buying from out-of-town merchants. They think that the best way to get the local merchants to increase the quantity and variety of their stock is not to buy anything from them.

They ride up and down First Street and count our vacant stores and they chortle to themselves as they think of the property owners who are deriving not a nickel of income from their vacant property. And they gleefully recall how their own purchases out of town helped to close those stores. Their idea of a good town would be completely met only if every store were closed.

These are the ones who are constantly griping, "Why doesn't the City Commission do something?" They want the City to repair the grandstand at the ball park, to fix up the tennis courts, to keep the golf course in first class condition, to widen the streets and to improve our parks and playgrounds, and when the Commission says, "We have no money," their reply is, "Why don't they levy more taxes." Then they vote the homestead amendment so the City can levy only on business property.

These same people are the ones who are always complaining, "Why doesn't the Chamber of Commerce do something? Why doesn't it try to bring in more tourists? Why doesn't it advertise in the big northern newspapers? Why doesn't it go after new industries?" And when they are told such things cost money, and are asked to kick in with a three dollar membership, they say, "Why don't you go to the business men?"

Well, there are not many people like that, but there are some. They want to have their cake and eat it too. They want to make money themselves, but they don't want anybody else to. They want to have good schools and churches, fine parks and playgrounds, modern public improvements, but they don't want to pay for them.

They want a first class theater in Sanford so that they can go to Orlando to see the movies.

Fairbanks Falls

No one would have thought that the man they saw—it seems so recently—jumping over balconies, swinging from chandeliers, or defeating with a single rapier the combined assault of a whole regiment of medieval lancers, would have been taken from this world at the comparatively youthful age of 56 because of physical ailment. Yet Douglas Fairbanks died early yesterday morning from a heart attack.

More and more is heart trouble taking its place as the Number One scourge of mankind. Whether it is because of the increasingly rapid pace which human beings travel in this modern world, or whether it is because of the increasing effectiveness with which other ailments are warded off, leaving the longer span of average life to be ended only by a final breakdown of the heart muscles, we do not know, but we rather imagine it is a combination of both of these.

Douglas Fairbanks was fortunate that his life was not ended long ago by a fall from the dizzy heights of some attic rafter. More than once we have wondered how he managed to escape with his life from all the hair raising stunts which he so casually performed in his daily work. He might also have died a long time ago from any one of a multitude of diseases such as diphtheria and typhoid which once were great destroyers of human life but for which science has now found an answer.

Even so Fairbanks is probably a martyr to his profession. He put his heart through a daily routine which it quite obviously now was too much for it. He worked hard, through long hours, and he constantly performed feats of physical strength and endurance which would have put anyone's heart to a final test. And more than likely, being wealthy, he ate too well, drank too much, and slept too little.

However all that may be, we are sorry that the adventure stories he once depicted so ably and so often on the screen are over. We always liked "The Three Musketeers," "The Mark of Zorro," "Robin Hood" and the pictures like that which he was always making. They were good entertainment and there was a definite lift in them. They never failed to leave you with the feeling that there is plenty of adventure, excitement, and fun in the world if you look for it.

CHRISTMAS APPEAL

TAMPA TRIBUNE

This is Giving Time—the time for making gifts, not to our families and relatives and friends alone, but to the poor, the deprived, the disconsolate.

All over the land, at this season, organized and unorganized, givers take it upon themselves to supply the urgent needs of the unfortunate, to fill empty stockings to carry cheer and comfort to deprived and desolate homes, to relieve the loneliness of those who are without homes, to ease the sick and suffering. It is the exemplification of that human sympathy which "makes the whole world kin"—and kind.

It is so in Tampa—and it should be more so. Tampa's heart beats in response to the call for Christmas charity. But heartbeats do not bring food to hungry mouths, solace to stricken souls, Santa Claus to the children of the poor. That takes money—money that must come from you—the more blessed and more fortunate you—to pay for the things that mean help and assistance and comfort and cheer for the forgotten man, the forgotten woman, the forgotten child. Tampa has been responding to the call of the Empty Stomach and Christmas Relief Fund—but the response has not been so full as it should be.

CHALKING 'EM UP

With CHARLIE CHALKER

It seems we can't get baseball off the ground. Said a little talk with Cleo Jeter the other day about the approaching season, which is actually less than three months off, and not so strange to say, Cleo seems to think the Lookouts will have another good team this year, perhaps just as good if not better than last year. At least, Cleo said that was the impression Charley Bradshaw gave him a few days before. The ace Lookout hurler said the general Look-out prey certainly was enthusiastic over prospects for this year, and confident that Sanford fans would again be cheering the best team in the League. Well, we certainly hope so. And we think we'll have the team to beat. The Lookouts did lose Ed Hudson, Dixey Dean, Red Lane (who belongs to Chattanooga), Wasee Barnett and Mayo Langston, (who are class men and may not be returned.) Also it is not definite that Dale Alexander will be back. But those left will be much better this year than last. Jeter himself will be a tremendous help to the club. It was his strong right arm that brought the Lookouts through in several crucial playoff games, and he can be depended on for many more victories this coming season. At present Jeter is working for the St. Johns River Line. He should be in good shape when the season begins. If he is the opposition will have a tough time of it again.

A Fine Opportunity Bob Hardaker tells us the Ocala Tennis Club has asked for some matches with a team from Sanford. At the present there isn't a team selected but that shouldn't be difficult to arrange. There are a number of good players here who could give a good account of themselves with almost any team in the state. It would be a fine thing for Sanford and Ocala to establish athletic relations by staging such matches. One match could be played here and another in Ocala. If they proved successful, matches with other cities could be sought. This need not be limited to tennis, either. The City sponsors softball teams, badminton, shuffleboard and other activities. Many cities would like the opportunity to participate in such matches.

Outdoor Bowling Alleys Will Be Opened On Friday

The bowling alley which has been constructed across the street from Fort Mellon Park will open on Friday night, Harry Robson, owner, said today, adding that the alleys will be open for play daily and nightly thereafter. The latest type automatic alleys have been constructed for use by the followers of this sport. Built under the supervision of an engineer who supervised the construction of outdoor alleys, the six lanes are made of concrete with a special ballite enamel surface. Shelters have been constructed at both ends of the alley of natural cypress. The courts are completely lighted with the latest type equipment. Both duck-pins and regular pins are available to the bowlers. In a short time, construction will begin on a miniature golf course adjoining the alleys.

ROME, Dec. 13.—(AP)—Virginia Gayda, authoritative Fascist editor, said in a broadcast today that "it is necessary for Italy to have free certain exits from the Mediterranean." Revision of the colonial system, Gayda asserted, "is among the elementary constructive necessities of the new Europe." The broadcast indicated that Italy did not intend to let her own "natural aspirations" be forgotten during the European conflict.

DAN DUNN—SECRET OPERATIVE 48

ALLEY OOP

By RAY THOMPSON And CHARLES COLL

We, The MERCHANTS And BUSINESS MEN OF SANFORD....

In co-operation with Mayor Higgins' campaign to keep Sanford dollars in Sanford, we the local merchants and business men have signed a pledge card like the one illustrated below. It is our sincere desire to do our part in making the campaign a success, and thereby help to build Sanford into a bigger and better city.

MERCHANT PLEDGE

Hon. Edward Higgins, Mayor
City of Sanford

Dear Mr. Mayor:

- I will co-operate in your plan to keep Sanford Dollars in Sanford and pledge myself to the following:
1. To carry such stock of goods as are necessary to fill all demands and to sell at such prices to meet competition.
 2. To purchase all supplies and accessories, except stock for resale, as are incidental to my business in Sanford as far as possible.
 3. To impress upon all my employees the importance of spending their wages in Sanford.

Signed

Mindful that much of the trading out of town comes through individual thoughtlessness, the merchants of Sanford wish to appeal to each person to survey his or her particular needs in the light of civic welfare before concluding that a purchase must be made in a neighboring city.

We realize that in some rare instances a certain product may not be available in Sanford, and in these instances we have no quarrel with the person who goes elsewhere to purchase. It is only in the cases where people buy indiscriminately out of Sanford without local investigation and with no thought of the loyalty to the town in which they live, that we wish to make our plea.

We are conscious of the fact that the success of the present campaign must come from the mass of individuals in Sanford. Unless each person in Sanford co-operates, the plan is doomed to failure, and our merchants will continue to be penalized and handicapped as they have in the past, and will not be able to succeed and improve their stores as we all desire.

There is no power on earth that can make people buy locally, unless it is the power of public opinion, and if this power of public opinion can be so directed as to discourage, or rather abolish, the practice of many in trading elsewhere, then everyone will be benefited: the merchant, the individual citizen, and the city as a whole.
