Seen the money doors at Sanford Atlantic National Bank?

They've caused so much curiosity President Howard Hodges explains how the array of U. S. coins were embedded in the "glass" doors at the bank's entrance.

Actually, the doors aren't glass. They're acrylic—one of the most versatile of plastics, perhaps better known as lucite or plexiglass. The mold for making the panels is partially filled with a slurry which is allowed to jelly. Coins are placed into position and the mold completely filled and sealed off tightly.

The panels are baked for 12 to 13 hours, machined and ground to remove irregularities, and when the doors are finally buffed and polished the panels are crystal clear.

Wants buy any parking meters?

The City of Vero Beach, according to an advertisement in the September edition of the Florida Municipal Record—a magazine—has 487 meters (complete with spare parts, a coin counter and coin sorter) for sale.

City officials will consider all "reasonable" offers. By the way, they cost $51 each, new.

Sam Lee, veteran retail merchant for more than 50 years, recently observed his 51st birthday. Lee, long a Floridian, came to the Sanford-Osteen area many years ago. He once taught school in Alabama. He is also a retired Baptist minister and still is quite able to recite Scriptures. He has an excellent memory but his eyesight has begun to fail. He is the father of a large family which includes triplets. He resides in Osteen and likes to welcome visitors.

Have a bit of political history that surprised you. Did you know that Jefferson Davis, president of confederacy, was a candidate for vice president of the United States during the elections of 1852? He was!

And here's another bit of history: The assassination of John F. Kennedy and the succession of Lyndon B. Johnson to the presidency marked the 16th time that the United States has been without a vice president.

Orlando TV announcer pulled a boo-boo in a commercial. He meant to say "rib roast," only it came out "robe wrist."

All Right! Who's got a steno chair? The United Fund, getting ready for its 1964 campaign to raise $40,000, needs to borrow one for its special office help during the drive. If you can spare one of yours give 'em a buzz on the phone.

Senate Report Of Estes Deals Finds Nobody Guilty Of Fraud

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two Republican senators charged today that the Agriculture Department showered Billie Sol Estes with favoritism that helped him build a fraudulent farm empire.

Sens. Karl E. Mundt, (R-S.D.), and Carl T. Curtis, (R-Neb.), said Estes, once regarded as a Texas financial wizard, schemed to manipulate cotton acreage allotments as part of a master farm plan. They called it "fraudulent from the start."

The Republican senators charged that the Agriculture Department "in many instances . . . was actually a companion to this fraud through the actions, or failure to act, of its officials in high offices."

The Mundt-Curtis charges were attached to a Senate investigating committee report on a study of how Estes was able to amass a fortune through farm manipulations. The report was filed with the Senate today.

The report was signed by all the members including the Republicans. It was mild in its conclusions. It made no mention of political favoritism, found no one guilty of fraud, and did not recommend disciplinary action against anyone.

Estes secured the cotton allotments from displaced farmers in Alabama, Georgia, Oklahoma and Texas in 1960-61.

The farmers agreed to purchase land from Estes in Reeves and Pecos counties, Tex. They would then transfer their pooled allotments to this land and lease the land back to Estes for a period of three years.

The committee said neither Estes nor the farmers really considered the land sales to be bonafide transactions.

Chairman John L. McClellan, (D-Ark.), of the investigating group also filed separate views. He said:

"The timidity, vacillation and indecision, and the neglect or unwillingness on the part of high officials in the agriculture department to act appear to be the principal cause for the unfavorable conditions that developed and the inefficient administration that brought on this investigation."

2 Republican Senators Hit Farm Agency

WASHINGTON (UPI) — "We need to pinpoint airport requirements for Seminole County," Frederick declared.

Miss Marjorie Brink, representing Leo Fischer and Associates, a firm now making a study for the East Central Florida Planning Council, was asked to determine what the ECFPC can accomplish along this line and the cost of such a study. Frederick said that the County Commissioner would be asked to finance the survey.

"The need for the facility has already been established," said Frederick, "by the FAA."

Asked what this had to do with the request already made to the FAA for an airport, Frederick explained: "We have met with FAA officials in both Miami and Atlanta. But this deals only with a site approval. Any airport location must be OK'd by the FAA. We must detail a few more minor items for them, they will in turn make an on-site inspection, and provide us with their approval."

The survey the committee now wants, Frederick said, "will deal with traffic, accessibility, the possibility of establishing an industrial area adjacent to the airport, the estimated cost of construction, the availability and possibility of procuring federal funds plus the projected use and growth of the airport in the future."

CC Asks Airport Survey

By Julian Stenstrom, Associate Editor

The airport committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon decided to ask for a survey on the advisability and feasibility of establishing an airport to serve the county.

Committee Chairman Gordon Frederick agreed with County Commission Chairman James P. Avery that that there should be a master plan, Frederick said he felt that some study should be made especially for Seminole County.

Port Property Surveys Begin

By Julian Stenstrom, Associate Editor

"We're getting preliminary property surveys underway today," said Jack McCarthy, project engineer for Lockwood Green Engineers' feasibility study to determine the possibility of establishing a port facility in Seminole County.

The firm was retained several weeks ago by the Port Committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce. Francis Roumillat is chairman.

McCarthy said that surveyors "are running topographic information at a possible site upon which the port facility might be located. Soil boring tests are now being made to determine if the site is suitable."

McCarthy said his firm is also obtaining information as to determine the feasibility of the site, access, cost of adapting the site for port terminal usage, its relation to other modes of transportation and the relation of the port site to the future growth and development of the county proper.

The survey firm, McCarthy also pointed out, is now in the process of contacting various industries in Seminole and Orange counties, in addition to other industrial companies along the Atlantic seaboard and the Mississippi River to determine as effectively as possible the volume of cargoes which could be expected to pass through the proposed port.

McCarthy said a complete report should be forthcoming within three to four months, perhaps sooner.

Lockwood Green, McCarthy revealed, has recently designed and supervised the construction of deep water marine terminals at Norfolk, Va. Charleston, S. C., Savannah, Ga., Brunswick, Ga. and Gulfport, Miss.

JACK MCCARTHY, project engineer for preliminary studies to determine the feasibility of a port facility for Seminole County, explains procedures to be followed in the survey to Francis Roumillat (right) chairman of Seminole County Chamber of Commerce Port Committee. Knowles To Get ICMA Award

City Manager Warren E. Knowles was to receive a 15-year certificate of recognition tonight in Chicago from the International City Managers Association but he will be unable to accept the award in person.

Knowles said this morning he had made plans to attend and be among one of 129 city managers in the United States, Canada and Western Europe to get such an honor. Last-minute changes in plans forced him to cancel the trip, he said.

Long-tenure awards were to be presented for 10, 15, 20 and 25 years service in the profession.

Knowles was a member of the Resolution Committee but had to forego that duty also when local plans were changed.

The association is observing its 50th anniversary conference and the awards were to be presented by Bert W. Johnson, ICMA president and manager of Arlington County, Va.

Many of the award managers have served in the same city during their entire career.

Dock Strike Seen Tonight

NEW YORK (UPI) — Union negotiators today rejected a proposal designed to end the bargaining stalemate between shippers and longshoremen. A walkout by 60,000 East and Gulf Coast dock workers set for midnight tonight appears almost inevitable, the union said.

"It looks very, very bad," a union spokesman said.

A strike would tie up ports from Maine to Texas and idle some 29,000 seamen and about 10,000 truckers in addition to the longshoremen.

The proposal was presented to the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA) representing the dock workers, and the New York Shipping Association (NYSA) by Assistant Secretary of Labor James Reynolds, head of a special presidential fact-finding panel.

REGISTRATION DAYS are rapidly coming to a close at the Seminole County Courthouse with the deadline being this Saturday. Here Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Kyle are shown as they sign up for the privilege of voting in the Nov. 3 election. Checking them is Mrs. Madge Deas, clerk in the offices of Voting Registrar Camilla Bruce. Mrs. Bruce reports 402 persons signed the proper forms Tuesday. (Herald Photo)

650 At NAS Now Can Vote

An estimated 650 persons living on the Sanford Naval Air Station reservation are now eligible to vote for local candidates here.

This is the gist of the decision handed out yesterday afternoon by State Atty. Gen. James Kynes who ruled a 10-plus year old order of a former attorney general is outdated.

Previously, persons stationed on military reservations were not allowed to vote except by absentee ballot from their home communities.

Now, however, if they meet still other requirements such as length of stay at the base they can register and vote.

But the registration deadline is fast approaching and Registrar Camilla Bruce and her staff are girding for a heavy influx of Navy personnel at the courthouse offices as they sign up for the Nov. 3 election.

Navy officials yesterday gave the estimate of 650 eligible persons on the base but admitted a "firm figure" could not be attained due to other factors for each person. These include the length of stay at the base, the person's age and if the person is now deployed at sea with one of the base's squadrons.

Harper Attacks Claim Baker Backs Marina

E. C. Harper Jr., candidate for the City Commission in the Nov. 3 election, today blasted claims by his opponent, Commissioner Joe Baker, that he favored the proposed marina project.

Harper, in a statement to The Herald, said: "My opponent now finds it politically expedient to endorse the bankers' marina project."

"However," Harper continued, "during the July 13th hearing by the City Commission he vigorously supported, recommended and made a motion that the City lease a half mile of Sanford's lakefront to a private group for 40 years with a guarantee of receiving only $3 in return."

Harper pointed out that "Had this motion passed it would have the effect of taking control of the lakefront away from the citizens of Sanford for 40 years and further prevent any future development of the area."

Harper asked: "For whose interest is he (Baker) working, a private group or all of the people of Sanford?"

Finder Of Lost Watch Lost Too

Will the finder of the lost, found and "lost" again watch please stand up?

It all started last Saturday in Sanford when Mrs. Florence Smith of 910 Live Oak Street, New Smyrna Beach, lost a diamond-studded wrist watch.

When Mrs. Smith discovered the loss she visited The Herald office and placed a lost and found ad in the classified section.

The ad ran Monday and asked the finder to take the watch to Sweeney's, a local office equipment and supply firm, on Magnolia Ave. and claim a $10 reward.

The watch was found and the finder took it to Sweeney's. However, nobody at the store knew the lady or anything about the watch or paying a reward.

The finder left and took the watch with him. Now, Mrs. Smith is attempting to find out who the gentleman was and how she can contact him. About all the information available is that he is employed at Dynatronics.

Mrs. Smith says the watch has an extremely high sentimental value.

Walker Files Two $2 Million Suits

JACKSONVILLE (UPI) — Former Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker filed a $2 million libel suit against the Associated Press Tuesday for stories about his role in the 1962 racial rioting at the University of Mississippi.

The suit claimed the stories defamed Walker, held him up to public contempt and were motivated by a desire to "blacken his good name." It was filed in Circuit Court.

Walker specifically complained about AP dispatches on Oct. 1 and Oct. 2, 1962, which he claimed cast him in the role of leading student charges against federal marshals in the rioting that was touched off when Negro James Meredith entered the university.

He asked $1 million in compensatory damages and $1 million in punitive damages.

In addition, attorneys for Walker also filed a $2 million libel suit against Lindsey Newspapers, Inc., at Sarasota. The suit claims editorial comment in the Sarasota Herald-Tribune about his activities during the disturbance defamed him.

Barry's 'Gloves' Coming Off

LBJ Plans Trip To Paris To Outline World Peace Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson plans to fly to Paris in November or December to outline a world peace program to America's European Allies. He would like this to be followed before long by a meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev if the Communist leader is agreeable. Assuming he defeats Sen. Barry M. Goldwater in the Nov. 3 election, Johnson does not want to dawdle about going overseas on his first presidential mission of personal diplomacy. He feels his present inhibitions about leaving the country while there is no vice president would be dispelled once Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey becomes vice president-elect.

The trip to Paris could involve an appearance before either the NATO parliamentarians' conference in November or the NATO council in December. While in the French capital, Johnson would probably be happy to receive an invitation to meet with President Charles de Gaulle. These views became known as Johnson returned Tuesday night from a trip to Omaha, Neb., where he showed America's strategic nuclear service center to Manlio Brosio, new secretary general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO). Johnson hosted a lunch in Brosio's honor at the White House Tuesday, then took him to the Strategic Air Command (SAC) command post at Offutt Air Force Base, west

Omaha. Apart from personal hospitality, the trip was aimed at shoring confidence overseas in America's commitment to the Atlantic alliance. There were also domestic political overtones in the 8 1/2-hour journey: —Sen. Barry M. Goldwater has accused the Johnson administration of downgrading NATO. The Republican presidential candidate has vowed to strengthen the partnership, partly through granting the NATO supreme commander authority to use tactical nuclear weapons in defense against a Red attack with such arms. Johnson holds that such power must rest solely with the President. —Goldwater also has charged that the administration is doing less than it should to support SAC's deterrent abilities. But Johnson said his tour with Brosio—highlighted by a top secret briefing from Gen. Thomas S. Power, SAC commander, and other top officials—convinced him the airborne striking force was deserving of "a well justified 'well done' from their chief."

of Omaha. Apart from personal hospitality, the trip was aimed at shoring confidence overseas in America's commitment to the Atlantic alliance. There were also domestic political overtones in the 8 1/2-hour journey: —Sen. Barry M. Goldwater has accused the Johnson administration of downgrading NATO. The Republican presidential candidate has vowed to strengthen the partnership, partly through granting the

LBJ Playing Politics With Planes -- Barry

EN ROUTE WITH GOLDWATER (UPI) — Sen. Barry Goldwater today accused the Johnson administration of playing politics with U. S. military plans development. The Republican presidential nominee made the charge in remarks prepared for delivery in Dayton, Ohio, on the second day of his whistle stop train tour of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. In the speech Goldwater said the "alleged interceptor" was first disclosed by President Johnson in January as a reconnaissance plane A-11 and later redesignated as Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara as a fighter interceptor YF12A. Still later, Goldwater said, the President revealed the existence of a strike reconnaissance plane SR71.

reconnaissance Cincinnati Gardens sports arena, Goldwater charged — and then twice repeated — that the administration was soft on communism. In the regionally televised speech Goldwater said: "I charge that this administration has decreed a moratorium on government until the election is over — and you know it. "I charge that this administration has a foreign policy of drift, deception and defeat. And you know that too."

Fire Auxiliary Holds Meeting

The Women's Auxiliary to the Volunteer Firemen of Lake Mary had its first meeting for the coming new season last week at the Fire Hall. Plans were made to hold an ice cream festival on October 17th from 2:00 to 5:00 p.m. All kinds of yummy toppings to go with the ice cream will be served. A big cake sale will be held at the same time. All members are asked to call their friends for donations for this sale, and anyone wishing to make a cake or cookies for it are asked to do so. All residents of the community and neighboring areas are invited to attend and have fun and at the same time show the firemen that their volunteer work and availability whenever called is appreciated.

Quartet Will Sing At Church Oct. 11

By Robert B. Thomas Jr. 323-8780

The Singing Kings of Joy Quartet will appear in concert at Second Baptist Missionary Baptist Church Sunday Oct. 11 at 7 p. m.

The proceeds from this program will help Mrs. Louise Foster in her quest for the title of "Miss Alumnae" of Bethune Cookman College.

The funds from the "Miss Alumnae" contest will be used to help needy and deserving students at Bethune Cookman. Mrs. Foster is asking everyone to make a contribution to this most worthy cause. She is most dedicated to her alma mater.

Albert Edwards Sr. is the sponsor of the program. You are cordially invited to attend.

The Woman's Day Program which was held at Allen Chapel A.M.E. Church last Sunday was most successful.

Mrs. Pearl Mae Ford ousted Mrs. Grace Haynes from the "Miss Allen Chapel" title. Mrs. Lucille Brown placed third, and Mrs. Aldonia Mitchell came in fourth.

The pastor, officers, and congregation are grateful to all who participated in the program whether it was in attendance, performance, or financially. The names of patrons whose names were not on the program next week.

In memory of Mrs. Joannah L. Moore, and commemorating her 80th birthday on Sept. 26, 1964, Miss Fannie Reid, a life-time friend and successor to Mrs. Moore upon her retirement as principal of Goldboro Elementary School and seven of her former teachers, Mrs. Rebecca Henderson, Mrs. Leonia Fyke, Mrs. Sally Bentley, Mrs. Floriata Smith, Mrs. Ella M. Lee, Mrs. Thelma Hall and Mrs. Thelma Franklin were instrumental in securing a beautiful floral spray which was placed on her grave last Sunday.

Assisting Miss Reid at the graveside were life-time friends, Mrs. Jessie Walden and Mrs. Daisy Brown and nephew, Earl E. Minott.

The R. A. Allen Chapter T.R.F.Y. held its first back-to-school get-together last Friday night at the home of club member Irene Jackson. Those in attendance enjoyed an evening of school girl chatter and making plans for activities to be sponsored this school term.

Their first and major project will be the soliciting of parents and neighbors to get out and register to vote on Nov. 3. They have selected the slogan, "We are too young to vote therefore the adults will have to vote for us." So join the "Y" way, the red, white, and blue way—the right to vote way.

Those in attendance were Barbara L. Kelly, Yolanda Holloway, Lucy Tensell, Dorothy Stevens, Lavern Dixon, Linda Hatch, Cecelia Miller, Viole Miller, and Cassandra Francis. Parents attending were Mrs. Jewel Jackson, Mrs. Marie Francis, and Mrs. Marshall Holloway.

The Orlando Negro Chamber of Commerce is to be commended for its contribution to the community of Orlando. This chamber has made its program felt throughout the community, even into every home. A group of men decided they would try to find ways and means of assisting the city with its many worthwhile civic projects.

Representatives from the Orlando Greater Chamber of Commerce were invited to attend a meeting. This meeting gave them the spark which led to organizing the Orlando Negro Chamber of Commerce.

On Nov. 26, 1948, the Orlando Negro Chamber of Commerce was organized. It is to be commended for its contribution to the community of Orlando. This chamber has made its program felt throughout the community, even into every home.

Two of the appointments were in the Eighth Congressional district. They are S. E. Sparks of Stark, for Bradford county, and Wardell Fugate, for Levy county.

Two appointments were in the Ninth District. They are Mrs. Edna Dekie of Bristol, chairman for Liberty county and C. W. Roberts of Hoxford co-chairman. Moody Pierce of Crawfordville was named for Wakulla county.

Fleming also confirmed the appointment of Robert J. Bishop, Orlando attorney, as coordinator for the 11th Congressional district; Walter O. Gibson Jr., as Polk manager, and John W. McLaughlin, chairman for Brevard.

Negro Chamber of Commerce became a permanent organization under the leadership of Z. L. Riley, who was elected president at that time. The Chamber has sponsored many worthwhile civic projects. In 1943 and 1947, the chamber took the lead in the Community Chest Drive and the Infantile Paralysis Fund-raising drive. This organization supports and works with the TB Seal Drive, the Red Cross, the Greater Orlando Chamber of Commerce in promoting the Annual Clean-up and Paint-up Week; the Armed Forces Day Parade; the Welfare, Salvation Army, Police Department and Juvenile Department and the Annual Christmas Parade.

Sanfordites, gentlemen, let's get started. We can do the same thing. We usually do the things we do because a concerted effort is made on our part. Shall we?

Vandals are continuing to break window panes at Goldboro Elementary school. The old Red School was not treated with such vicious attacks. This was due mainly to parents teaching their children the rights from the wrongs. Many youngsters find themselves involved in situations that they otherwise would not be if they had done a little thinking before they acted. Psychologists refer to individuals who do what their group usually does, without reflecting whether it is good or bad, as conforming conventionals.

Parents let's keep a closer check on our boys and girls. They might be seeking group approval or acceptance; and it might not be a worthwhile group.

The ACL Social Club has started a door-to-door campaign to get as many members as possible registered to vote in the Nov. 3rd General election.

D. C. McCoy is president of the group and the drive is being coordinated by James D. Hagin. A telephone committee is also being organized to call citizens and urge them to register. Hagin said the group was strictly non-partisan.

Downtown Bypass Route Sought For Truck Traffic From I-4

Through trucks which now travel First Street on leaving Interstate 4 west of this city may soon get another route, leaving the busy downtown street to more normal automobile traffic.

City Commissioners Monday night asked City Manager Warren E. Knowles and Police Chief Roy G. Williams to study the route alteration and offer suggestions at a subsequent Commission meeting.

Suggested routes included Seminole Boulevard, Third Street and others but no decision was reached.

In other action, commissioners: —Okayed a request for a street light at 1400 W. 17th St. —Referred a request to close an alley at the Good Samaritan Home on Mulberry to an analysis by Knowles and the home's architect. Good Samaritan officials desire to erect a new building and the alley is needed, they say, to do it.

—Approved a request for transfer of a beer and wine license from Isadore Morgan to Ocie Lee Morgan at Morgan's Place, 1214 W. 13th St. Ill health was given as reason for the transfer which had been approved by Chief Williams.

—Denied a request by the HLH Company for the city to supply large quantities of water at 17 cents for 1,000 gallons without their paying for being outside the city limits.

—Agreed to study the parking habits of motorists at the Chase parking lot to see if the public is receiving the benefit of the meter-free lot. Some officials say Chase employees are occupying most of the lot and the "taxpayers should not pay lease money that was intended for the public's free use."

—Greeted a reported that the Florida Power & Light Company, through its manager, Scott Burns, has voluntarily given the city a credit of $231.05 for interrupted service on street lights from hurricane Dora.

—Heard Knowles report that city crews are back to normal operations now, having cleared the city of major storm damage and debris.

—Heard that the Lake Monroe level has dropped nearly five inches from the high of 7.35 feet above mean sea level. The boulevard will remain closed until roadway cave-ins can be temporarily repaired.

—Approved special recognition for two men who are retiring after long service with the city. The men are James Dunn and John Abrahams, the latter with 40 years service.

—Accepted for study statistical information on county assessment figures supplied by Vernon Dunn.

At a meeting of the executive board Thursday, membership chairman, Mrs. Ralph Moore, announced that 400 members have joined the organization since school started.

Mrs. R. E. Love was named co-chairman of the clinic mothers, replacing Mrs. N. L. Heinemann, who is moving away.

Mrs. John H. Van Espeel submitted proposed changes to the constitution and by-laws, which will be acted on at the October executive meeting.

THIS HAPPY group was on the way to one of the most unusual social events of the season, a "Womanless Wedding" sponsored Saturday evening in the auditorium of the Enterprise School by the men of the Barnett Memorial Methodist Church and surrounding communities. Wise Hardin was the bride and Elmer Echols, the groom. Officiating was Harvey Dunn, at right in picture.

THIS GOLD TELEPHONE was presented to Hunt Lincoln-Mercury this past week in recognition of the firm's outstanding sales performance. The phone, brilliant gold and worth considerably more than an average phone, was awarded in connection with a trip to Rome won by Willie Hunt for sales activities during May and June. Shown are, from left, R. M. Patten, PBX installer of Southern Bell Telephone Company for 30 years; Willie Hunt, owner and president of the company and Ed Hunt, sales manager.

STATE CHARTER for the incorporation of Deltona Volunteer Fireman's Association, Inc., was presented to Randy Kaufmann, acting fire chief, by Gaston Bridges (left) of the Deltona Corporation. The certificate was secured through the help of Mackle Brothers offices. Men wishing to enroll as active firemen may secure application from Harvey C. Day, 1248 Whitewood; William Ebbitt, 1534 Drayton and J. Stanley Gardner, 537 N. Floyd Circle. Plans are underway for the purchase of life-saving and fire fighting equipment.

Womanless Wedding Amuses Packed Hall

By Mrs. Ritchie Harris The most hilarious social event of the season took place at the Enterprise School auditorium, which was filled to capacity Saturday evening when the men of the Barnett Memorial Methodist Church and communities of Enterprise, DeBary and Deltona donned women's clothing for a "Womanless Wedding."

The bride (Wise Hardin) was dressed in a white sheer strapless street length dress. "Her" train bearer was James Wilborn and ring bearer, Cecil Sellers. "She" was given in marriage by the father, Frank Winkler, and the groom was Elmer Echols. The best man, Roberto Naran, carried a shot gun. Aunt and uncle of the bride were Bobby Wilborn and Ralph Coulette; the grandfather and grandmother, Mr. Drew and Mr. Bryant; the bride's mother, John Sullivan; her twin brother and sister, Morris Raines and Junior Cunningham; and her baby brother, Lee Ludlow, was accompanied by his colored nurse, Allan Sain. Other guests were Ernest Jones, the jilted lover; Charles Carpenter, Miss Know-It-All, and Forrest Nutt as Miss Spain. The preacher (Harvey Dunn) in his top hat and tails read from the Sears Catalog.

Danny Brodbeck and Jack Neal were bridesmaids and Walter Trost, flower girl. At the close of the performance the Woman's Society sold pie and coffee and potted plants. Any church or organization interested in having the group present a "Womanless Wedding" in their area should contact Rev. Kirtley at the Methodist Church office.

"Candid Chatter"

By Ruth Williams
Daily Editor

SANFORD IS BLESSED with an abundance of interested talented people who engage in all sorts of activities to benefit the community, and they graciously give of themselves in the promotion of civic interests. We feel people who receive no remuneration deserve a bit of public commendation, so sing out if you would like to see a public official figure in the limelight.

A girl whom we ran into recently with talent, beauty, brains and braid, all neatly proportioned (and in the proper sequence) is Elizabeth Klein. Lis is a local dancer, and has been in Sanford for the past two years, exhibiting her talents in many productions, which have benefited local civic enterprises.

Elizabeth started dancing at the age of five and danced around all over the country with her parents. Her father's business necessitated extensive travel, so she was always in the act, wherever they were.

A North Carolinian, Elizabeth entertained the thought of heading for the metropolis for real big time when she graduated from high school. Her parents (you know, those earth people known as adults and grown-ups and definitely beyond reach) convinced her of the advantages of brain power combined with the pedal digit. So our petite ballerina packed up her dancing slippers, and headed for The Woman's College of North Carolina, where she majored in merchandising. While in college, she took the lead in most of the musical productions, dabbling occasionally in summer stock.

After college, our merchandise dancer moved with her parents to Jacksonville, and became associated with civic dance groups. Dancing was still her major interest with the thought of New York in the back of her mind. But who and what can change a woman's mind and reverse her strategy? A man of course! So Lt. Harry Klein became our dancer's major interest and the light of her eyes, with the Broadway lights only a minute flicker. Harry whisked the dancer off her feet, and headed for the hitching post, and after seven years, Elizabeth is dancing through marriage.

The Kleins are what the experts might term a properly suited couple. Elizabeth is a stunning natural blonde, with brown eyes and her poise and refined manner reflect old southern culture. Harry is a goodlooking brunette, who overdoes himself to assist his partner. Elizabeth has been bowling less than a year, and Harry has threatened to cook her trophies some night for dinner. With all her outside interests, Harry does most of the cooking, and graciously offered Elizabeth a trophy if she would do more cooking.

"Phooey to that static," sez Lis. "You do so much better than I."

Elizabeth confided she could not possibly engage in all these activities without her wonderful cooperative husband, who also baby sits with the Klein offspring, Sharon, six, and Stephen, three. The Klein's go horseback-riding, water-skiing, and play golf for "exercise." "How! How much exercise can one stand?"

So it is indeed a pleasure to have someone like Elizabeth Klein in our midst with a husband like Harry to give her a boost so that the people of Sanford can enjoy the benefits of her talents.

RAN INTO KAY BARTH-OLOMEW recently, and was so delighted to learn that she decided to return to Sanford to make her home, for the present anyhow. Just happened to be a bit curious as to what prompted this decision.

ELIZABETH KLEIN

and Kay spontaneously replied that it was the people of Sanford.

Kay, who is very popular among civilians as well as military, said never had she seen people so warm and friendly and the genuine interest the people have shown has been astounding. The people of Sanford inspired her to return here and she said it was really heart touching, to know that so much human interest existed.

SPEAKING OF RUNNING into people, just happened to run into a leading doctor in town in consultation room 2. After a few 50 cent words (you know, medical terminology, got back down to earth lingo with

"How are the newlyweds, Doc?"

"Oh, just fine. They have real nice quarters on the campus. Jeanita and I never had it so good. Ronnie is making good grades, and has done some improving around the apartment, and Kay is real happy with her teaching job."

"Tell me is Kay a good cook?"

"Ah uh yeah, she does real well, but we didn't stay for dinner, oh, ah, we had been gone all day and had to get home. Yeah, she's a good cook."

Please have pity, Doctor, and remember your Hippocratic oath, and bedside manner, too!

OVERHEARD AT A DOCTOR'S lunch table — "and this guy was so fond of drinking that he willed his brain to a hospital with the provision they put it in alcohol with just a dash of vermuth—"

JUDY WELLS, county editor and Dottie Austin, city editor, two of our Herald angels, have both been dismissed from Memorial Memorial Hospital. Dottie is returning to the fold on a part time basis each day, until her dog stops growling, at which time she will resume full operation. She sez this foot surgery is for the birds, not the angels.

In the meantime, Judy

Wells has returned to her home for a prolonged rest. She has a long list of time consuming chores requiring no physical dexterity to do during her convalescence. Just bet she's up and about and raring to go in nothing flat.

Jane Casaberry is pinch hitting for Judy during her leave of absence. Jane has been a Herald correspondent for the past four years covering the Casaberry area, and has done a jawn-up job in her coverage.

"Covering a story is one thing," quotes Jane, "but editing and all the rest... Phew, it's hectic!"

THIS POLITICAL CONTROVERSY between Sanford's female department has caused a lot of eyes to open, and the dragons have begun to spit fire. Think it might be interesting to get you girls view points on the pros and cons of the election. Jot down a few sentences and sign it or phone in, and we'll see if we can't do some combining for real interesting news copy.

THE TOPLESS SWIM SUIT and the "shock frock" have provided the fashion conscious men and women with some interesting conversation masterpieces.

A friend of ours recently saw a new combination, either topless or bottomless, the wearer's choice. Seems this nightie was on a model, not in the flesh, but a mannequin. Now our friend had another friend of the opposite sex with her, and after some rapid mental calculations, carefully debated the pro and cons of this filmy scanty remnant.

The shorty short skirt had an elasticized waist with two match straps serving as the nightie top. So by moving the skirt upward a few inches under the arm pits, it magically became a bottomless nightie, with the original bottom becoming the top of the original topless sheer bit of nothing. Now this can be confusing.

So our friends turned to a clerk, who was hysterical with laughter, as well as other observers, and asked, "you sell any of these?"

"Yes ma'am, we can't keep them in stock."

"Well, who on earth to?"

"Men!"

The gentleman turned to his lady friend and inquired, "Darling, are you going to wear one of these after we are married?"

"Well, no," was the instant response. "Why go to the expense and bother of debating whether the situation demands topless or bottomless attire when actually that lil' piece of sheer fabric doesn't even partially cover up anything. Be just as well off in my birthday suit, and that would be an easy effort. Now as far as this partial cover-up in fashions, I'll take mine in milk, not a full length, mind you, a stole will serve the partial cover-up adequately."

With purchasing a garment with a metallic thread, read the label carefully for instructions on proper care, advises the American Institute of Laundering.

Sums metaphis have a very low melting point, and it's a good idea to use a low temperature setting on the iron along with a pressing cloth.

The color red symbolizes good luck in China.

Fashion Gremlins Take Strange Maneuvers

NEW YORK (NEA) — A flashback to last fall in Paris makes one wonder which is the gremlin tells the designers how a woman should look.

He must be capricious. After all, women don't change much in appearance in a year, give or take a pound or two. Yet the same designers see us differently each time around.

Take Jacques Heim. He is warm, courtly, bespectacled and gray-haired. He looks like anyone's uncle. You wouldn't think he would move an inch from the position that women should look distinguished and elegant.

Last fall, deciding that knees were unsightly, he covered them all the way down to about four inches below.

Yet this fall, he made knees the focal point. Not only are his skirts an inch or two above the knee, but he has pinpointed that unbecoming area with breeches which just top the knee, trimmed in fur for daytime and ostrich feathers or lace for evening!

Young Yves St. Laurent, devotee of the sportive look, offered as last fall Robin Hood jackets, cooked feathered hats and slim pants tucked into thigh-high boots. But we must have been a disappointment to him in that garb, for his current fall gremlin has given him the message that ladies must look like ladies. This time around he didn't even show one pair of pants. His collection was so genteel that it was reminiscent of Chanel's spring line—tiered and wrap-around skirts and long chain necklaces.

Marc Bohan for Dior, who last year believed we should all look like soldiers in military coats, has changed his mind. This fall, he would make us Russian peasants in tight-waisted bodices, flared skirts and sable-banded hemlines.

Punging necklines at Dior and Cardin were the shockers last fall. This time most necklines were high or slightly off the shoulders.

In fall '63, waistlines had an as-you-like-it approach. They turned up everywhere from under the bosom to below the hips.

This year the trend is toward lightly emphasizing the natural waist. And belts are back again on everything from dresses to coats.

Gone, it seems, are the drastic changes in fashion into which we were hounded once a year between the two World Wars. New ideas stay mainly within the confines of cutting, trimming, buttoning and sleeve lengths, all of which can give a new look to an old silhouette. And in every collection there are basic bread-and-butter, models to which the comforting reaction can be, "Ah! I can still wear last year's dress."

JACQUES HEIM, completely unpreoccupied with knees last fall, dropped the hemline of his daytime clothes to nearly four inches below that point. Currently he has knees peeking out from short pants as in the bottle green chiffon costume, above, with wide gathered skirt. Pants are edged in a wide band of glittering green paillettes.

ONCE A DEVOTEE of the sportive, Yves St. Laurent had women thigh-high in boots with tucked-in pants. A Robin Hood hat completed the picture. This year he shows the elegant woman in this town suit of gray and blue plaid with pleated flounce under the tunic dress, above. Not one pair of pants was in his collection.

Lutheran Ladies Outline Future

The evening circle of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer met recently at the church for its regular monthly meeting with Mrs. Walter Moore presiding.

The meeting was opened with prayer and devotions conducted by Mrs. C. Biggs.

During the business meeting it was decided that the members of the Ladies Aid would help the kindergarten in the float they are sponsoring in the Christmas parade.

An amendment to the constitution was presented, this to be voted on at the next meeting. A discussion was held on the Lutheran Women's Missionary League Convention to be held in Jacksonville Oct. 16 and 17, three delegates will attend from the Ladies Aid Society.

Pastor Herbert Goeras presented a booklet entitled "Code for Parents of Teenagers" to the members present and also a pamphlet "What It Takes To Be A Christian."

"Keeping Christ in Christmas" cards will be handed again this year and the cards should be in the hands of the ladies shortly.

It was announced that a covered dish supper is being planned for Nov. 1 in preparation for Loyalty Sunday, Nov. 8. At this time the work-program for 1965 will be presented and an inspiring movie shown. Pastor Goeras urged that everyone put this date on his calendar and make a special effort to attend.

During the fellowship that followed the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Walter Moore. The next meeting of the evening circle of the Ladies Aid will be Oct. 13, 7 p.m. at the church.

HAIL AND FAREWELL, FRIENDS!

This is the swan song of our little town "all round town" each week — a decree has come down that there're too many columnists per square inch around these parts.

But don't worry — old columnists never die — they just lose their voice, and you can hear us getting fainter and fainter as we fade into the sunset and sink slowly out of sight.

You all have been so kind with your compliments and the nice things you have said about us, and we do appreciate it.

Never more so than during our recent week in the hospital, when your cards, flowers, letters, notes and gifts made it seem almost like fun.

And having Mary Anderson for a room-mate was the most fun of all — a delightful person with a big sense of humor and good conversationalist who made the long hours hurry by.

May we take this last opportunity to say thank you to all the good people at Seminole Memorial Hospital, who are so kind and compassionate.

Jane Morgan Sings For More Sales Outlets

ATLANTA (UPI) — Singer Jane Morgan plans to expand her commercial ventures.

First, she said, she wants to open an exclusive New York fashion house, and then try her hand at the antique business in the summer tourist section of Maine where she now sells blueberries.

Miss Morgan's fashion enterprise will be in partnership with Maj Hagman, wife of actor Larry Hagman and daughter-in-law of Mary Martin.

A London designer before her marriage, Mrs. Hagman currently advises on fashion only for Miss Morgan and Miss Martin.

In Atlanta to play Mother Rose in a summer theater production of "Gypsy," the husky-voiced singer said her own wardrobe numbers 200 gowns and more than 500 hats.

But to her disappointment, she wears mostly dowdy clothes as Mother Rose.

Miss Morgan said she has three homes brimming with antiques.

Her farmhouse at Kennebunkport, Me., is her show place for colonial antiques. Her New York apartment is French and English and her 21-room old style Southern mansion in New Bern, N.C., is Empire and Directoire.

Miss Morgan estimated her collection of antiques was worth $50,000.

A native of Boston, Miss Morgan wasn't really "discovered" as a singer until impresario Bernard Hilda put her into one of Paris' top clubs.

That started a five-year stint in Europe, where she is still a popular cafe entertainer and television personality.

"It was while she was in Europe that she began to plan her two new ventures.

"Living in France you learn to love two things — fashion and antiques," she said.

Impressive Ceremony Installs Rainbow Girls

By Mrs. Clarence Snyder
Miss Maxine Stowell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Stowell of Osteen, was installed as Worthy Advisor of the Order of the Rainbow in a colorful candlelight ceremony at the Masonic Temple, Sunday afternoon.

Harvey L. Dunn was the installing officer assisted by Miss Stowell's father, who acted as marshal; also Mrs. Harvey Dunn, chaplain; Mrs. Stella Pryor, recorder, and Mrs. Clarence Snyder, musician.

Two seven-branched candelabra with white lighted tapers flanked a tall wicker basket holding red and white gladstoll and white mums placed in the east. A single lighted taper was at the stations in the west, north and south.

Miss Stowell, lovely in a pale yellow taffeta formal was escorted by Charles Stein, Master Counselor of the DeMolay. Other officers installed and their escorts were, Miss advisor, and Bobby Rumley; Paul Markos; Miss Donna Bezwiechin, hope, and Wade Hancock; Miss Evelyn Feh-man, faith, and Johnny Butts. Also Miss Sharon Stenstrom, treasurer, and Steve Stein; Miss Karen Thorpe, chaplain, and Bill Stemper; Miss Pam Reynolds, drill leader, and Ernest Heinbuck; Miss Sylvia Bateman, love, and Alken Herbat; Miss Pam Patterson, religion, and Dickie Dunn; Miss Scherry Hastings, confidential observer, and Eddie Hubbard.

Miss Stowell had her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Stowell, escorted to the east. She introduced them and told of their wonderful cooperation in helping her to attain her goal. She presented each with a gift. She also introduced her grandmother, Mrs. Lois Brooke and her sister, Mrs. Donna Neal.

She then had her installing officers introduced and presented each with a gift.

Miss Stowell said her theme was love and stated, "If there were more love in the world, it would be a better place to live." Her motto is "Love Conquers All," her color is red and she read her Bible verse, Corinthians, 13th verse.

Red and white year books were distributed to the officers with all commitments and the year's program. Mrs. Kathleen Reynolds, mother advisor, was introduced and invited to sit in the east.

She explained how service points could be earned by serving in special projects and presented service award cards to Miss Susan Stein, Miss Scherry Hastings, Miss Maxine Stowell, Miss Linda Conn, Miss Evelyn Fehman, Miss Karen Thorneil and Miss Pam Reynolds.

Mrs. Reynolds said the special project this year would be to make items to be used in the pediatric ward of Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Three members of the advisory board were introduced, Bob Peurlfoy, Mrs. Essie Cole and Mrs. Irving Pryor.

The meeting was closed by the DeMolay boys giving the 9 o'clock Interpolation.

Refreshments were served in the dining room by Mrs. Stowell, Mrs. Eva Williams and Mrs. Millard Tyson. The table was overlaid with white linen centered with an arrangement of red gladstoll and white mums. Punch was served from a milk glass punch bowl. The large sheet cake was iced in white and decorated with red roses and the words "Congratulations Maxine." Red and white minis and nuts were also served.

School Parleys Helpful

The newly announced plan of the Seminole County school system to set aside times for periodic meeting between parents and individual school authorities to discuss educational procedures of any nature and also periodic meetings between representatives of parent-teacher organizations and school board officials is to be hailed as a significant step in the right direction.

R. T. Milwee, superintendent of public instruction, has told school principals to establish times when parents or parent group representatives can meet with individual school principals and administrative aides to discuss anything from the alphabet to transportation and from grading to text books.

On a higher level, Milwee himself and his aides will establish times for periodic meetings at which parents or parent-teacher groups can present problems from hours to library service, or anything else, to the attention of board authorities.

The Herald feels that the Seminole County school system is making a progressive move toward not only helping parents and parent organizations but also the school board itself. These meetings could result in finding ways and means of meeting the mounting problems of education in these particular days.

From a standpoint of public relations, it is certainly a wise move.

From another viewpoint, that of acquainting the public with problems concerning education which are faced daily by the school system, it will be boon to better education.

From time to time parents desire and demand certain things the school board cannot approve financially. If such meetings are held periodically, the chances are good that parents can be acquainted as to why these demands cannot be met. On the other hand, an informed group of parents might help the school board find ways and means of meeting the new procedures or changes parents seek.

The Herald believes that if parents and parent-teacher groups will take advantage of these "open door" policies being instituted by the schools and the school system office, most of the minor problems can be solved and the big ones can be treated with tolerance and understanding long enough to produce effective results.

Thought For Today

Religion that is pure and undefiled before God and the Father is this: to visit orphans and widows in their affliction, and to keep oneself unstained from the world.—James 1:27.

To pity distress is but human; to relieve it is Godlike.—Horace Mann.

Using What We Know

The question, "Why don't we use what we know?" is an ever present one for the dedicated teacher. With the wealth of psychological and educational research available—much of it documented and still extant—why do we teachers ignore it, or only give lip-service to it? Why do we, as so many of our detractors claim, continue in the same old routines?

A few examples can be cited to illustrate the point that we, in fact, do fail to use what we know. Pertinent research shows that among elementary, junior high, and secondary teaching a major problem in the classroom is motivation. In the most literal sense, a teacher does not teach, but only facilitates learning. Stated another way, a teacher can only provide the climate within which a student may learn, or is motivated to learn. Yet, how much of the class time is spent in this endeavor?

Research has also found

By Dr. W. M. Shackelford
Department of Education,
LaGrange College

and practice has shown that more effective learning results when differentiated assignments are made for students. In other words, the higher achievers should be given more difficult and diverse assignments than should the lower achievers. Surely no teacher or parent would question the logic of such a practice. Yet, how often are differentiated assignments made in the average classroom? Frequently? Seldom? Almost never?

Another area of significance for children is that of attitudes and values. Almost all are agreed that the school has an obligation to students here as well as in the cognitive domain. Research reveals that teachers can provide activities which aid students in developing attitudes and firming-up values. Among the processes which enhance this development in school are (1) personal examples of teachers, (2) identification of attitudes and values to be acquired, (3) provision of desirable identifying figures for learners, (4) arrangement of appropriate contexts for practice and confirmation, (5) opportunity for choices, and (6) encouragement of deliberate cultivation of desired attitudes.

Particular attitudes and resulting value systems are derived from choices. Teachers should not only allow students to make choices, but should provide activities which compel students to choose without the guiding hand (open or closed-fist). Only by choosing can one learn to make satisfactory choices and establish a value system which will act as a compass for future direction.

Attitudes and values are personal. If they agree in principle with those held by others, it is coincidental. They are chosen by the individual and thus become his own. The life of the school could be a most appropriate workshop for the acquisition of attitudes and values. But is it? And if not, why not?

Finally, research has found and practice has shown that concepts and generalizations are retained by students for longer periods of time than are facts and technical specifics. As a result of these findings our classrooms should abound with opportunities for students to form concepts and to develop generalizations. By the same token, student mastery of nonsense or unrelated material and highly technical language for its own sake is absurd. Is this what we find in the classroom? The reader should be the judge. When students leave the classroom with only factual acquisitions, we can be sure that possession of these facts will be of short duration.

Many questions have been asked. Some answers are demanded. The writer suggests two such answers to the question, "Why don't we use what we know?" These are laziness and don't-careness. Do you agree? Are there others? More significant ones, perhaps?

Britons' Contrast Note

LONDON — British politicians like to think their battles are fought on issues rather than personalities. And between the in-power Conservatives of Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home and the Laborites of Harold Wilson there are real differences which will become apparent depending upon which party wins the general elections on Oct. 15.

But it has been a warm and extraordinarily pleasant summer in Britain. The country is riding the crest of almost total employment and rising production.

If trouble is to come because Britain imports too much and exports too little, it still is in the future, and most Britons profess to see little difference in the platforms of the two parties.

And so, inevitably in the coming elections personalities must play a part.

Both leaders had had to establish themselves in little more than a year. Wilson took over a party welded together by the late Hugh Gaitskill and already showing increasing power in local elections. It was Wilson's job to preserve what already had been accomplished.

Douglas-Home took over from the ailing Harold McMillan after Britain had suffered the successive shocks of failure to gain entry into the European Common Market and the Profumo sex scandals.

It was Douglas-Home's job to restore confidence in his party. And that he has been at least partially successful is shown by the polls which today rate the two parties almost even.

There scarcely could be greater contrast between the two men.

Wilson, 48, is the rotund, pipe smoking son of an indus-

Letters

To The Editor

The Herald welcomes letters from its readers on public affairs. The writer may use a pen name provided the letter also carries the writer's name and address. Letters of fewer than 250 words will be given preference. Letters addressed to others are acceptable provided they do not deal in personalities. Poetry is not published by The Herald.

Editor, Herald:

Since the mayor of Altamonte Springs has injected the issue of redistricting into his political maneuvers, it seems fitting to note that the redistricting which he now finds so objectionable was actually done by Zoning Director Brown, former County Engineer Bliss and Registration Supervisor Bruce.

The County Commission voted to accept the plan with a unanimous vote, 5 to 0! It is further interesting to note that I do not recall seeing the mayor at the public hearing where interested citizens were given an opportunity to object to the plan, nor was there any objection by the mayor at the proper time. Since he did not object to the redistricting when he had an opportunity to do so, why is he now trying to be a hero to the people of Lake Mary and Longwood at the expense of our County Commission?

It seems to me that our present County Commission has certainly been a credit to Seminole County, and we have indeed been fortunate to have men of intelligence, education, honesty and genuine interest in the affairs of the county. We can only hope that we will have men of this calibre to serve us after Nov. 3!

getting this area out of danger, and the last hurricane certainly shown the necessity of this drainage work from one end of Gee Creek to the other, which is from Lake Kathryn to Lake Jessup.

I have on my wall, a large photographic survey prepared by the agricultural department. It shows all the lakes, streams, bayheads, muck patches and good high pine land, from north of North Orlando to Maitland, and from west of Altamonte Springs to east of the Tusculum Road. We can see where every little stream runs, and Gee Creek is clearly discernible as it twists and turns through the swamps that are in the south portion of Moses E. Levy Grant property.

You can see that the area all around North Orlando drains into Gee Creek; Longwood north of 434 by Martin Anderson's lake through Fairy Lake to Lake Kathryn, and thence down Gee Creek; from the railroad track at Altamonte Springs east through Prairie Lake, and Lake Trip let to Lake Kathryn, and thence down Gee Creek; and from Bradshaw's pasture the same way, and from Bradshaw's east pasture which is the area comprising Howell Park, on into the Quintuplet Lakes and then the Triple Lakes to Lake Kathryn, and all the intervening lakes in Casselberry, 27 in number, all drain through Gee Creek to Lake Jessup.

The people of this town and the surrounding towns should be extremely grateful to Mr. Avery for his concentrated effort in getting the Federal Aid to assist the County Commissioners in clearing this creek for better water control.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Marilyn's husband demands a blood test for he claims he is not the father of their baby. Yet Marilyn has been a model wife, except for her preoccupation with the new baby. Her husband simply cherishes a false notion about woman's sexual ardor, so send for

CASE T-487: Marilyn M., aged 25, is the mother of a new baby.
"Please help me, Dr. Crane," she pleaded tearfully, "for my husband is so jealous."
"He claims he is not the father of my baby and has even slapped our child cruelly on several occasions, probably to make me cry."
"But I have never even looked at any other man since I first became engaged to my husband!"
"So why should he have such a false idea? He now is demanding that we take blood tests to prove if he is really our baby's daddy. Will blood tests do that, Dr. Crane?"
"Blood Tests and Jealousy"
Blood tests can prove if a man is NOT the father of a certain baby.
But they do not prove if he is the infant's father.
A competent lie detector test (polygraph analysis) will usually eliminate such doubt within an hour or so.
But why should Marilyn's husband show such insane jealousy?
Marilyn is at least 80 per cent to blame though she thinks she is entirely innocent of any fault in the matter.
But she is a typical young wife who is not over 25 per cent erotic and 75 per cent maternal.
So when the baby arrived and she diverted that 75 per cent of her attention to its care, then her husband was shocked at the decline from 100 per cent to 25 per cent in her regard for him.
Because Marilyn was also inclined to be overly preoccupied with her new offspring, she may not have directed even 10 per cent of her attention to her mate.
What complicated her case further, was also the fact her husband had absorbed the widespread but false notion that a woman is ALWAYS wildly passionate if she loves a man.
That's not true at all! So millions of you males better get help to the true facts about female psychology.
Human females are not much more erotic than cows or mares.
That may sound brutally

frank but it is medically true.
Yet millions of men have been tutored by lewd older males who have been patrons of "red light" houses.
Those Don Juans then tell their credulous teenage listeners that women are even MORE passionate than men.
Many sheltered, idealistic young men then marry with this false notion bashed into their subconscious minds.
So, after the arrival of the first baby, they are shocked to find their wives are diffident and offer sexual procreantors!
"But my wife MUST be wildly passionate," Marilyn's husband later affirmed in my office.
"So—since she is frigid with me, doesn't that prove she is having an affair with some other man?"
Yet Marilyn had never had an affair with any other man prior to marriage and had been true to her husband ever since their wedding!
You wives can eliminate such unmerited jealousy and also much of the cruelty of fathers toward their children, if you will banish mankind's false sex notion about women.
So send for my booklet "Sex Differences Between Men and Women," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.
(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Letters

Editor, Herald:
Let me give you some quotes about that man Johnson whom you have endorsed. Karl Marx's credo for the Communists: "From each according to his abilities, to each according to his needs." Now from Johnson's speech: "We are going to try to take all of the money that we think is unnecessarily being spent and give it to the 'have nots' that need it so much." Top Communist Gus Hall thinks Johnson is the man for the White House, too. Socialist Norman Thomas said, "We all have reason to be grateful to Johnson." How do you like those recommendations? It makes one think, doesn't it?

Then, let's consider Humphrey. He is co-author of the left wing organization, ADA. Here are some positions taken by the ADA: Opposed UN censure of Soviet Russia for the murder of the Hungarian freedom fighters; supports an all-powerful (Communist managed) UN with authority to distribute U. S. Foreign Aid. Yes, sir, I mean just that—manage our money! Here's another: Wants to abolish House Un-American Activities Committee; eliminate FBI security checks of federal employees. Now that's a good one! Put Communists in office, wholesale. O, yes, Humphrey promotes the Communists since he goes so well that he never gets criticized in the Communist Press.
Don't you feel just a wee bit ashamed for endorsing such "gentlemen"?

E. O. Cromartin

Dear Abby:

DEAR ABBY: In the 10 years that we have been married, my husband has never written a letter to his parents. I didn't mind writing all the thank-you letters for the gifts they sent our pre-school children, but I resented having to write letters for their 27-year-old son. He was always too "busy" to write, but he found time to do the things he wanted to do. Last year I became so disgusted with his juvenile attitude that I finally told him that if his parents were going to hear from us, he would have to write the letters. He didn't write one letter, but each time we'd get a worried letter from them because of the long silence, he would call them long distance. This put a strain on our budget. I wonder how many other wives have husbands like mine, and what do they do about them?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: Your husband's type is legion. And most wives break down and assume the writing role again. The more stubborn ones cling to their promises, which usually hurt them far more than it does their husbands.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a 47-year-old man who never misses a chance to hold his 17-year-old niece on his lap? I am sending you his picture. Please send it back with your answer. I thank you.
WILMINGTON WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I am returning your husband's picture. Now send me a picture of the niece and I'll be able to give you a better answer.

DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and have to get married as soon as possible. My fiancée is in the Army and is stationed in Germany. He can't get home for a year and a half. He left last month. I can't get over to Germany. Something has to be done and fast. Is there any way we can be married without being together? No one knows I am in trouble. Not even him. We love each other very much. I can't ask anyone I know to help me. Please put your answer in the paper, Abby.

DEAR DESPERATE: First, you MUST take your problem to your mother. Then you had better inform your fiancé of your condition. Your clergyman should also be consulted. He will know how a couple can be married, though apart. It has been done in the past.

CONFIDENTIAL TO DEBBIE AT UCLA: Next semester include a course in art. It's time you learned where to draw the line.

ing one and wind up with six. Now suppose that a desperado is sitting North. He may overcall with two clubs or he may even jump to three clubs. Then suppose South decides to defend at five clubs. East and West can still bid and make five spades, but it is very tough for either one of them to bid that high. Instead, they are likely to settle for a sure profit and double five clubs. Five clubs will only be down two tricks so that the desperado and his partner will escape for a loss of 200 points and a very good score.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

"American women are not as afraid of their husbands as British, French and Italian women are," the retiring master of Hairdressers, Wigmakers and Perfumers recently told a British audience.

That was how he explained the fact that so many more American women than women of other lands get their hair-colored at a beauty salon—instead of accepting whatever color nature bestowed upon them.

young-looking wife is a status symbol and because a man with a young-looking wife "seems" to be younger than a man whose wife lets the years show.

Beauty after Forty

EDYTH THORNTON McLEOD

Please tell me... that is the beginning of every letter in the mail bag today—
"Would I be foolish to color my white hair now at age 75? No one knows my age and I forget it as much as possible. I am flying to Europe to see family and friends of many years ago. I would like to 'shock' them a bit by looking as youthful as possible. They have had an easy life of money and property; I have worked hard and loved every minute of it. I weigh just the right amount according to your 'Figure Perfection' chart, which I find so helpful. I follow the diet every day and do well on it. Thank you—N. C."
Thank you! And, of course, color your hair! Look as smart and as successful as you wish and can. I glory in your approach to maturity. You have the right approach to a healthy and enjoyable "old age." Go—have fun and do as I do, "forget your birthdays."
"If the bride, my daughter, wears a gown of white tulle, should the six bridesmaids also wear tulle as well as the matron of honor?—Mom."
No—the matching of materials is not necessary and would, in a way, be monotonous. The bridesmaids could have nylon net, lace, or tulle with lace overskirts. The matron of honor could have the same thing but, perhaps more elaborate. And, about "Mom!" Have you thought about what you should wear? Mothers play a very important role in the weddings of their sons and daughters.
"Do you consider a pink evening gown correct for a woman of 45, a career woman who is having a testimonial dinner given for her special achievements. Her hair is blonde and she has a slender figure. As we live in a warm climate she can wear a stole over her shoulders.—Sister."
How nice for a sister to be so interested. Yes, a gown in pink would be quite lovely. Be sure that it is of simple, elegant material. And do have slippers to match. Sorry that you did not tell us what the "achievements" are. We are always interested in the "after-forty" women who do interesting things.

GENERAL TENDENCIES:
You want to throw off bonds that you feel are too tight for you and to strut in whatever place there are others, but you would find that they are just as eager to gain the attention of those about as you and only frustrations on everyone's part would follow. Do your work well and tonight be charming, affectionate.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) While your mind is on pleasure during the day, you find it is wiser to handle financial affairs of pitch and moment. Don't be extravagant, don'tirk others. Quiet fun in P.M. is fine.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) It may not be possible until P.M. to get your family to understand what it is you have in mind. Spend day getting more order about you. Look after health matters.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Don't allow that private worry to keep you from doing whatever is constructive and adds to good will you now enjoy. Show others you are interested in their ways, welfare. Get desk work cleared up.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Try to keep personal and business contacts separate today or there can be unnecessary arguments. Labor diligently, then interesting things occur. Get bills paid up.

LEO (July 22 to August 21) Do whatever will prove that you do not shrink any public matters others feel you are doing. Also be sure that your credit is handled scrupulously. Everything fine for whooping things up a bit.

VIRGO (August 22 to September 22) Just get into that feeling of persecution if you want to see all the fine opportunities about you vanish. Fine ideas are yours. Put them in operation early instead. GROW.

LIIIRA (September 23 to October 22) Close ties are in a mood of generosity now, but it is up to you to co-operate with alacrity. Forget that affair of the heart. Be a true friend and all comes to you easily.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Do all in your power not to enter into imminent argument with an associate or higher-up or spool present fine set-up. Be secretive with others. Be impressive with all in P.M.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You must be very patient during day hours, since others seem quite on the nervous side. Then improvements come about. Be kind with everyone, of assistance.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 20) Better not listen too much to somewhat embittered advisors if you plan to enjoy yourself today. Be the one to plan your time so that you combine the serious with the light.

AQUARIUS (January 21 to February 19) Don't do any thing that will disturb any plans you made in the business world and be sure to co-operate with partners. They have good ideas. Pleasant likelihood family tie in P.M.

PISCES (February 20 to March 20) Rid yourself of the tiresome as quickly as you can and be with good friends for a happy time. Evening is best time for actual work. Look into new outlets, etc. during the day.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY he or she will have a remarkable imagination and is a natural-born mixer, but be sure to have only the finest types of individuals about, since the others could easily rub your youngster the wrong way. Because of the generosity of spirit and high mind here, teach early to keep only worthwhile persons of character within life's orbit. Fine success comes.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Earl Dossey Jr. In Exercises

Specialist Five Earl F. Dossey Jr., 25, whose parents live on Route 2, Box 266, Sanford, and other members of the Seventh U. S. Army participated in Exercise Fallex 64, an eight-day NATO directed and controlled training exercise in Germany.

The bi-annual exercise is designed to test and evaluate coordination procedures and command communications within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) military structure in Europe. Orders and communications between headquarters command posts and the dissemination of information to lower headquarters are being stressed to insure maximum proficiency during the training exercise.

Specialist Dossey, overseas since October 1962, is regularly stationed near Butzbach, Germany, as a manual central office equipment repairman in Company A of the 16th Signal Battalion.

The 1967 Seminole High School graduate was employed at the Western Auto Associate Store in Sanford before entering the Army in October 1961.

Endorsements

MIAMI (UPI)—The national conference of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen (BRT) endorsed Lyndon Johnson-Hubert Humphrey as presidential candidates yesterday.

BRT President Charles Luna said "the working man has no alternative in this election. The voting record of Sen. (Barry) Goldwater is 100 per cent anti-labor. His last public campaign was on an anti-labor basis."

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UPI)—The Cincinnati Enquirer today endorsed Sen. Barry Goldwater for president.

The Enquirer thus became the first major daily in Ohio to support the senator. It announced its endorsement in a front-page editorial entitled "You Know He's Right."

House Panel Drops Sugar Legislation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House Agriculture Committee today abandoned an effort to pass sugar legislation because the sugar industry refused to give unanimous support to stop-gap sugar quotas.

The legislation proposed a six-month extension of present foreign import quotas.

Representatives of the beet sugar industry came out in opposition to the bill during an earlier hearing. Witnesses for the cane sugar industry gave it only qualified endorsement.

McRoberts Girl At Howey
