

Area Students Form To Support President

By MELENDIA CASSELBERRY

A group of 17 students gathered to organize in support of President Nixon's policy on the Vietnam War withdrawal. The majority were from Seminole Junior College with a few representatives from Florida Technological University and Winter Park High School.

The two-fold purpose of the newly formed group is to support the President's policy and to keep people better informed about Vietnam. One of the organizers of the movement is Carlton Callenberger, SJC student and Vietnam veteran, who is more knowledgeable than most as he served as a U.S. Army officer assigned to the South Vietnamese forces.

The students plan to be represented at the debate on Vietnam Friday, 12 noon to 2 p.m., at Weldon's Pond on the SJC campus between Don Foster, state president of the John Birch Society, and Thomas Tip-ton, SJC economics professor.

Candidate Opposes Legislative Bill Sales Tax Looms On Utilities

By BILL SCOTT

If the city-owned utilities in Seminole County are placed under control of the Florida Public Service Commission, as had been requested in a bill backed by the Seminole County Taxpayers Association, then persons now exempt from sales tax on water and sewer services will be required to pay an extra four per cent in addition to regular utility bills and municipal taxes.

This is the statement of Sanford mayorally candidate Harry Skop, who said today he is beginning a campaign to inform city residents of the bill to be discussed Thursday during the legislative hearings scheduled for 7 p.m. at the Seminole County Commission chambers.

Skop said he would perform the act of a "modern day Paul Revere" by going house-to-house, if necessary, to let the people know what will happen to their pocketbooks if the bill is introduced and allowed to become law by the legislative delegation.

Rep. E. Pope Bassett already has announced his intentions of seeking to pass the act at the next legislative session, and will discuss with other members of the Orange-Seminole delegation the proposed bill during Thursday's hearing.

Skop said it is important that the people of Sanford realize what would happen: if the bill should become law and he would make an effort to have a large group attend the session.

The proposal to place the Sanford-owned utilities under state control is a request to Bassett made by the taxpayers' association after a group of Sunland Estates residents opposed to the city's increase in water rates sought action from the representative to prevent the reported 20 per cent rate increase for utility customers located outside the Sanford city limits.

Mrs. Edna Norman, secretary of the taxpayers group, said the organization met in a business session last night and voted to attend Thursday's hearings where they will press for the passage of the utility control bill.

Rep. Cecil Bothwell, an association member, attended last night's meeting and advised the bill should be changed in certain areas where it asked the Public Service Commission to keep the outside city limits utility rates to a maximum 50 per cent over what city residents are paying.

Bothwell told the group this would be limiting the PSC and would not be in order especially since help was being requested of the governmental body.

Mrs. Norman said Sheriff John E. Polk attended last night's meeting and spoke on his efforts to place county lawmen on civil service status.

"We were pleased to welcome our sheriff into the association," Mrs. Norman informed, and stated that Polk had paid his entrance fee to join.

WHERE ARE THE FISHERMEN?

"OLD MAN WINTER" joined the "snowbirds of the North" yesterday and came South. High temperature yesterday was 71 and then it dropped to 44 here in Sanford while 25 or an inch of rain fell. Winds whipped up to 20-25 mph and churned Lake Monroe, when Herald staff photographer Bill Vincent Jr. snapped this beautiful picture. Note: Weatherman predicts the cold will taper off and normal temperatures will prevail in a day or so.

Rape Case Is Dropped

By MARION BETHEA

Arraignments were held in Circuit Court before Judge E. Thom Rumberger.

Henry Bradshaw, charged with breaking and entering, pleaded not guilty. Trial was set for a later date. Larry Brunner, charged with breaking and entering with intent to commit a misdemeanor, entered an innocent plea. His attorney, J.

Nantz, was given 10 days to file motions.

Patricia Dykes, charged with resisting arrest with violence, was declared indigent. Assistant Public Defender Ned Julian was appointed to defend her and arraignment was continued. Earl Dupree, escape, entered a not guilty plea and Julian was given 15 days to file motions.

Raymond Franco, worthless check, was out of town. His attorney, Frank Walkner, Orlando, was present. Arraignment was continued. Zell Gilmore, aggravated assault, pleaded not guilty to file motions.

Rich A. Lee and Earl Knowles, breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony, were represented by Kenneth Lafflor. They entered a plea of guilty. Court withheld adjudication of guilt and ordered a pre-sentence investigation. Defendants were placed under the supervision of probation and parole officer James Lee. Punishment could be 15 years imprisonment at Raiford.

Police Aid Pact Studied

By TOM ALEXANDER

A mutual police aid pact, believed to be one of the first of its type in Central Florida, is presently under consideration in South Seminole County. The pact, if it becomes effective, will link the police departments of Casselberry, Altamonte Springs, Longwood, North Orlando and Oviedo.

A discussion of such a pact was carried on at a planning session of the Casselberry City Council.

It was cited that a complete outline would have to be arrived at and forthcoming agreement by the other cities concerned before such an act could be formulated and approved.

Mayor Curtis Blow told the Sanford Herald that he was investigating the possibilities of forming such a pact for the City Council and said that it would be similar to South Seminole fire departments' mutual aid agreements.

Blow stressed that at no time would any neighboring police department enter another city's boundaries on police business unless called upon in a time of emergency or need.

A reliable source informed The Herald that Casselberry City Attorney Kenneth McIntosh is presently formulating plans for such a police pact for approval.

Charles Hall, charged with second degree murder, represented by Nantz, arraignment continued. Evans Fringle, non-support, declared indigent. Julian appointed to represent the defendant.

Elizabeth Calloway, charged with second degree murder in the death of her daughter, Mabel, requested a trial. Julian was given 15 days to file motions.

Hugh Hollar, who was charged with assault with intent to commit rape, entered a plea of not guilty. His attorney, Julian, requested the court to quash information. Motion was denied. Later in the proceedings, Attorney Albert Hering read the information and the case was nolle prossed.

Schools Plan To Study 100 HEW Allegations

A special meeting of the county school administrative staff and the School Board will be held Friday at 1:30 p.m. to deal with a list of 100 allegations made by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) in its administrative proceedings against the county school system.

John Aydt, superintendent, said the session was set after the list was received Friday in the administrative office.

Apparently the HEW assertions were made to the board for that body to either confirm or deny after discussions among board members and administrative assistants.

The information presumably would be forwarded to Washington for use by the HEW in a scheduled Nov. 19 hearing on withholding of federal funds from Seminole County since the county's 1969-70 school desegregation plan was not considered adequate as, in the opinion of the HEW, it did not do away with the dual school system entirely.

HEW insists that Goldsboro, Midway and Roosevelt Schools are still attended by Negro pupils only and alleges that only three white students now attend Hopper School and four white students attend Crooms High School.

Another allegation by HEW states that those white students attending Southside Elementary live as close or even closer to Goldsboro Elementary School.

Still another allegation maintains that fewer than 75 Negro students attend Southside School this year.

(The Herald will publish all 100 allegations in Thursday's edition.)

Angel said today he did not know how the HEW received much of the information contained in the allegations, indicating such information is available only to administrative staff and board members.

The letter informing the county of the HEW actions contained the signature of Mrs. Alice Helms, HEW attorney, who disclosed over two weeks ago to William D. Rowland, Orlando civil right's attorney, that the U.S. Supreme Court would clarify its earlier decision on integrating the schools by stating the court's old term of "with all deliberate speed" would be changed to mean "here and now."

Rowland representing several county clients opposed to the freedom of choice school plan was correct when he revealed the court's impending decision. To The Herald two weeks before it occurred.

Decision Reversed

Lack of access roads in the area bounded by SR 438, U.S. 17-92 and Derbyshire Road was the prime reason this morning for the County Commission to reverse a decision by the County Zoning and Planning Commission recommending approval of rezoning to multi-family units.

Condev Corporation planned to build two apartment houses, with 212 units. The P & Z Commission recommended rezoning from residential and agriculture but the County Commission rejected the recommendation.

Delegations from the English Estates and Indian Hills Association were on hand to protest construction of apartments adjacent to single family dwellings but the County Commission, pointing to the lack of access roads from the fast-growing apartment area onto SR 438 and U.S. 17-92, denied the rezoning request for that reason.

Yule Parade Theme Winner Announced

The theme chosen for this year's annual Sanford Christmas parade, scheduled for Saturday, Nov. 23, at 10 a.m., is "Space Age Christmas." The winning suggestion, submitted by six-year-old John F. McGrath, of 1318 Croton Drive, Altamonte Springs, was chosen as best out of over 200 entries competing. He is a student at St. Mary Magdalen School.

The space achievements of Apollo astronauts apparently influenced many youngsters entering suggestions this year as many of the entries dealt with space or the moon.

Receiving honorable mention were Kim Kusak, 11, of Fern Park, a student at English Estates School, and Jenny Hancock, 8, of Sanford, who attends Southside School.

The hard pressed judges were George Touhy, Rev. William Barron, and Ronald Hunt.

The annual parade is co-sponsored by the Downtown Merchants Association and the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees.

School Board Awaiting Word

By BILL SCOTT
Seminole County School Supt. John Angel is awaiting word from the State Education Department at Tallahassee that approval has been granted county to discount by five per cent remainder of the school construction bonds.

Angel said today he had read that the state had authorized selling $2.5 million in construction bonds at not less than 95 per cent of par value, but had not yet received official notification by mail. The discounting of the bonds was requested by the school board after it became apparent that because of the six per cent interest limit placed by the state on the bonds it would not be possible to find a buyer.

Nixon's Frank Vietnam Speech Asks Support

President Nixon's address to the American people on the Vietnam war was delivered in a manner and at a time which does not allow any quick or superficial analysis.

The "Middle Class" or "Silent Majority" for understanding based on logic and reason which would support the Nixon plan for peace.

After a three-week build-up, the speech did not contain any dramatic peace move which many had expected. There was no announcement of a ceasefire.

There was no time-table of troop withdrawals given. Quite the opposite. The Commander-in-Chief is keenly aware of the sharp criticism which has gone his way on this subject.

Words And Words

If you happen to be that hard to find "average American," one-quarter of the words you use daily are either slang or profanity.

Words are like the air; we rarely think about them, but without them we'd be in bad shape. They intercede between us and reality to shape our world.

Out of the 625,000 words in our language, the average American only uses about 1,000 in his working vocabulary.

Nullification!

A British manufacturer says it has a cure for money bag robbers. In fact, money managers are advised to turn over their cash containers to robbers without protest.

Adding a degree of fascination to the new product, the chairman of the manufacturing firm says that the money case can be boiled, frozen, kicked, baked or shaken, but that absolutely nothing but the special key will set up unstained money.—Birmingham (Ala.) News

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy expects there will always be some critics and adversaries to keep before the troubling matter of his July 18 accident at Chappaquiddick.

What will emerge, etched in painful specificity, is a fuller story—a version not contrived by him or unannounced from official probing—that will lay out the postaccident chaos that led him, on nationwide television, to label his own behavior that night to be "indefensible."

Strikes And Spares

BY JOHN A. SPOLSKI

There are many ways I get my kicks out of bowling... the obvious is a high game or series, but there are other avenues as well.

I'm thinking while teaching others how to keep the ball on the lanes or more specifically, like this past Thursday evening when I got together with those cute Candy Strippers of Seminole Memorial Hospital and talked to them about organizing into a league of their own.

The "meeting" was originally planned to last all of 15 minutes or so, but they got to signing and before you know it an hour-and-a-half had slipped by.

My pleasure? Just being around the young at heart... if series has a way of rubbing off on you. (Maybe that's why I never get over 20 years of age, eh?)

Anyhow, a public salute for making my evening enjoyable and a reminder that we'll have another one of those same meetings tomorrow at 8:30, with the actual start of the league set for next Thursday.

Those who've signed to bowl are Carmen Vela, Ruth Bullard, Wendy Schillo, Nancy Blooming, Jan Shook, Sherry Sires, Glendon Queen, Peggy Waddle, Denise Clark, Laurie Haig, Rhonda Smith, Karen McKay and Cindy Dalbols.

BOWLING POT POURRI

Let's see how many new names we can pop at you today... those who've been off a little in their games lately, or else they're newcomers to the game, and a lot of the game for them pretty good.

Starting with the SHOOTING STARS LEAGUE... Dottie Hogan rolled a 178, Peg Patey of the B. E. Link tournament rolled a 264, Freddie Sisk of the Carolas had a 175 and teammate Juanita Collins clipped a 302 and Mickey Trammel 165.

High individual effort for this week's play went to delectable Deb Butler who had a 390-50.

Gilbo Hits On All 2's

A lucky number at 4 at Bob Gilbo of the Toyota Mixed League is concerned is a two. As a matter of fact, when you strike 'em side-by-side... 22 that's even more appealing.

He was the high individual effort for the Toyota Early Mixed League while there were more than a few of those newbies who were flitting with "poodies", too.

Fay Carroll had a 172, while Gloria Arcarelli was six pins more than Fay at 178. Her son Roger needed one more strike to make it into the charmed circle of 200 or higher, but was satisfied with his 186.

Johnny Jacob, a Sellah

Johnny Jacob, a Sellah we haven't been reading of too much here-of-late, unshaken a 220 to remind us he's still around; Pete Phillips zoomed up to a 220/180 while Don Gorman produced one of his better nights with a 224. Good to see Alice Best pin-pounding again, this time with 183, ditto for Tom Krick who finished with a 208 and teammate Fred Weston not too many pins behind at 202.

Moonlight Bowling Madness

There's no way (under the moon) that we know of that the crowds will reduce in size on Saturday nights. Not as long as they have a chance of going home that same evening with their pockets lined with the long green, raybow.

This past week, the lanes were jammed as per usual, with those happy boppers rubbing up to the counter to collect their prizes for various skill, conversation, or red-pin strikes, or some such each method of being a winner.

Actually, it's not the higher average bowler who does the best for the night as much as it is those who are born with a rabbit's foot in their pocket. (And how much good did it do that poor little rabbit, wise guy?)

Anyhow, come on out and join the crowds for lots of fun and prize... starts at 7 p.m. the same time as those who are vying for the Bowler of the Week honors are taking to the lanes.

Undoubtedly, the most prolific scoring takes place on a regular weekly basis in the Dek's Classic League on Wednesday evenings around 9:30.

To give you an example, last week Harold Owens of Deland uncorked a 257-678 game in leading his team (Owens bowled a 9 and 6 point victory over Inland Materials, even though team sponsor Rich Murphy shot a 242/239).

Others who contributed to the cause were Bob Driscoll 220/179, Wes Gost 208/193, Reggie Sigmon 201/170, Chamberlain 202/162.

Get, we almost neglected Dan Miller's explosion of a 246/285. Danny just has to be one of the most intense bowlers in our area and one who doesn't hide the fact that he enjoys bowling.

Maybe that's the reason why so many people are bowlers taking part in the world's largest participation sport—bowling.

Injuries Plague Hapless Lions

By DOUG ARIE, Herald Sports Staff

OVIEDO—The Oviedo Lions will host the Mount Dora Hurricanes this Friday at the John Courie Field in Oviedo. The Hurricanes hold a 1-3-3 record while the Lions hold a 1-6 record.

The Lions, under the direction of head mentor Herman Lofton, are preparing themselves for the season. The Hurricanes, an excellent offensive formation. At the same time, the Lions are working to improve their present offense, to try to get it to a more timely attack.

The Lions have again lost some players due to injury. Mike DeBols, an excellent offensive player, and their abject ankle in the Ocoee contest. Malcolm Lavender, another end, hurt for the second time this year, pulled a muscle in his back. Both of these Lions were valuable to the Oviedo offense, and their absence from the Mount Dora game from the Mount Dora game.

Forecast Tabs County Tilt

By TOM ALEXANDER, Herald Sports Editor

Oh merciful fans, please be kind to me this week! Last year I predicted that Lyman would beat Seminole Tech, and this certainly will be a battle. The Panthers are improved and I see them stopping the Hurricanes. CROOKS IS WYMORE 15. The Oviedo Lions tangle with Mt. Dora this weekend and it looks like the Lions are in trouble again. I see Mt. Dora by a touchdown.

Bill Klein's Midshipmen will take back to their winning ways this weekend as they play Florida Central Academy. The Buccaneers will win by at least six points. SANFORD NAVAL IS FLORIDA CENTRAL 7. A concluding note. All these teams need your devoted support. If you haven't been out to see a contest this year, you are really missing something. Take time out this week-end and support your favorite high school team. They will appreciate it, and I'm sure you will enjoy yourself.

Great Match On For This Friday

By CRUCK GRILE, Herald Sports Staff

LONGWOOD — The pride and power of South Seminole County, the Lyman High School fighting Greysounds, trek to Sanford this Friday evening to take part in staging the biggest intra-county rivalry of the year. Their adversaries, the talented and successful Seminole High Semholos, on hand to play host.

The Hurricanes are coming off their first defeat of regular season play in over two years, and are hopeful to rebound back in the groove of winning ways Friday night. Head Coach Richard Copeland stated, "Getting beat by Deland was a big letdown, but we have three more games and we are going to give out all efforts."

Since the tragic loss, Copeland and his staff have drilled with fundamentals: practicing blocking assignments, tackling drills, and a general review over the Greyhound tactics. Running and passing techniques have also received brushing up, with all hopeful polished for this week's big tilt.

Copeland and Lyman always look at Seminole vs. Lyman clash, as the season's big match for both schools, no matter what the record of either school is at the time of the game. This year though, it is even more of a "taunt."

Both are sporting identical 5-1 season marks and both have displayed fine young talent for Seminole County. Copeland believes, "Seminole

They have a 5-1 record and just as easy as 3-0." The Lyman head mentor has high regard for the fighting Semholos and looks to Friday night with much concern.

Last year on their road to a perfect season, the Longwood based squad whipped the Semholos 28-12, but the Sanford squad became the first and last to score twice against the fearless rugged Greyhound defensive unit.

Lyman never twice against the Semholos, while only falling in the last few seconds to an undefeated Palatka squad.

Lyman has completed an impressive 5-1 season mark. Their only defeat coming two weeks ago at the hands of a fired up Deland Bulldogs team, 29-0, a nightmare that will stick in Lyman history for many years; the game snapped the longest winning streak in the school's history.

Friday evening, the game will unfold in Sanford Memorial Stadium with game times set at 8 p.m. and by 10 p.m. all Seminole County will know who is the best, but for now all that can be made are random guesses.

When the Air Force Academy soccer team tied defending NCAA co-champion Michigan State 1-1 this fall it was the first deadlock for the Falcons bookers in 37 matches.

Seminole Travel To Blacksburg

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Florida's 5-1 record stands away its aerial tomahawk despite the emergence of some solid Seminole foot soldiers.

Both forces may be needed when FSU travels to Blacksburg, Va. Saturday for a game against Virginia Tech.

In four previous meetings in the Virginia mountains, Florida State has won only once — in 1959 by a 7-6 score.

Florida State, now 5-1, is having one of those years that makes the Seminoles prize pickup for Virginia Tech, now 2-3.

But the lack of a deep receiver has caused FSU to make some adjustments in its pro style attack.

The running game has started paying off dividends for the Seminoles, while quarterback Bill Cappelman is still flinging the football at a better than mediocre pace.

In a 20-17 conquest of Mississippi State, the Seminoles got 258 yards via the air, another 226 with the infantry. Last week against South Carolina, FSU rushed for 48 yards while Cappelman contributed 219 with the pass.

There are three main cogs in the rise of FSU's ground troops. Inside, Tom Bailey has collected over 100 yards rushing in his last two showings. The junior fullback has carried 88 times for 471 yards.

Sophomore Paul Magalaki came into his own last week, running 12 times for 110 yards, mostly up the middle.

Outside, sophomore Art Morrow has shown strength. He's made 57 trips for 217 yards.

Florida 41 was well represented at the recent Eastern Inter-District Conference of the Coast Guard Auxiliary in Cape May over the weekend of October 25-26. This important gathering was held at the Cape May Training Center in the New Jersey resort, and was attended by several dignitaries of both the regular Coast Guard and the Auxiliary. The ideal host was Captain Henry, Commanding Officer of this active Coast Guard unit. Boarding the Coast Guard plane at McCoy were: Rear Commodore Sam Levy, Asst. District Supply Officer; Alicia Levy, Acting Florida Commander; Norman McKelvey and Loretta McKelvey; Shirley and Jim Ribner; and Alma and Curtis Dunaway.

The program was varied and comprehensive. National Commodore John A. Florida-Georgia In Grudge Match Duel

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The annual Georgia Florida Gator Bowl grudge game — a series led by Georgia 28-17-1 after 46 battles — highlights South-eastern Conference football play this weekend.

Florida goes into the game in the poorest physical shape of the year, minus wide receiver Paul Maliska who was benched by a concussion and senior defensive tackle Robbie Hebel, out with an injured knee.

Georgia will be defending last year's 51-0 win without junior center Tommy Lovett, crippled with a knee injury. Coach Vince Dooley named two sophomores Tuesday as co-captains, light end Mike Greene of Jacksonville, Fla., and linebacker Chip Wisdom of Atlanta.

Tennessee, only undefeated SEC team, was missing its All-American linebacker Tuesday. Steve Kline was out with a wrist and shoulder injury as the third-ranked Vols began preparations for their homecoming clash Saturday with South Carolina.

At Starkville, Coach Charley Shira told the Maroons Auburn is the best team they have faced this season. They worked two hours in cold weather, without two backfield regulars injured last week, tailback Steve Whitely and wingback Terry Smith. Neither is expected to play against Auburn.

Vanderbilt Coach Bill Bryant got something out of Tuesday's practice, but the second defense was "sorry." The tide of the game was "a two-hour workout in preparation for

Sanford JCs Motto Is 'Quality Service'

By CHARNER IERONE
(Last of a series)

Quality service to the community. That is the motto of the Sanford JayCees. They build leadership among their membership. The organization of over a hundred young men between the ages of 21 and 26 carried on over 200 civic projects locally last year.

The fishing rodeo, the teen-age driving rodeo, the Big Top Park operation, the 4th of July Funfair, and the distinguished Service Awards, the top award in the community recognizing civic service, are a few of their year's projects.

The Christmas parade and lighting contest which will highlight the coming holiday for many of the area's youngsters is another of their projects currently underway. Also, for the first time this year the Sanford JayCees will sell Christmas trees to raise money to continue their civic projects.

"Determination, the JayCees have the reputation as the most active civic organization," said Sid Vihlen, Jr., president of the Sanford JayCees. The JayCees is forbidden individual monetary gifts—they must pay their own expenses for conventions or other functions.

EAST LONDON, South Africa (AP) — The Posts and Telegraphs department of segregationist South Africa has banned non-whites from using rural party telephone lines. Confirming this, Assistant Director of Telephones, P. van Boven said non-whites left in charge by absent farmers are liable to use the farmhouse telephone. Razing Will Cost $350,000 $10 Million Pavilion Worthless

By WALTER R. MEANS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government claims it's a marvelous building, despite a sagging, leaking roof, but they can't give away the $10 million U.S. pavilion at the New York World's Fair.

So an appropriations bill is before the Senate to provide $350,000 to tear it down and clear the site where little more than four years ago fairgoers stood in line to ride a miniature train through scenes from American History.

Vacant since the spring of 1968, the pavilion has now been officially spurned by the city in which it stands, and Mayor John V. Lindsay wants it cleared away.

The mayor wrote the Commerce Department on July 18 that the pavilion was made of concrete, jobs said, the roof wasn't so durable. "It was not made for permanent use and it has begun to leak and sag."

"When the World's Fair closed we then entered into negotiations with the city saying it is a marvelous building, can't you use it?" Larry A. Jobe, an architect secretary at Commerce, said. "We drew up an agreement handing it over to the city free." No deal.

While the pavilion was made of concrete, jobs said, the roof wasn't so durable. "It was not made for permanent use and it has begun to leak and sag."

Boeing's Biggest Bird Believed Too Big For Nest

By VERN HAULAND
AP Aviation Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 747, Boeing's biggest bird, makes its airline debut next year. But airport officials fear they cannot provide runways large enough to handle the luxury jetliner.

"They will produce instant traffic peaks on the ground, more passengers, more cargo, more visitors, more terminal public use and parking facility needs, more clogged access roads and no less aircraft noise," says one worried official.

The 747—capable of carrying between 300 and 380 passengers and twice the cargo of the now popular 707—will be first put into commercial service by Pan American World Airways.

Pan Am's chairman, Harold E. Gray, sees less of a problem. "Any terminal that today can handle two 707 aircraft or two aircraft within the same time span—say about 15 minutes—can equally well handle a 747," he said.

But Warren H. Hawes, director of economic services for Airport Operators Council International, Inc., the non-profit trade association of governmental bodies owning or operating major airports throughout the world, disagrees.

"The immediate problem is that the 747 will be in service before the airports are ready for it," he said.

"We are building, at the airports, as fast as we can, but there are many tremendous problems. The biggest problem of all is people—handling them, directing them, feeding them, getting them to and from the airport."

Pan Am paid a half-billion dollars for 25 747s in 1968 and later increased the order to 33 planes, costing a total of $163 million.

"This Pan Am had a large say in shaping of the 747. Its first plane's tail is taller than the average six-story building."

The 747 has 10 doors, six galley and 12 lavatories, and will carry 14 stewardesses.

In preparation for the super-jet, the airline industry is investing hundreds of millions of dollars in new computerized reservations systems and automated ticket facilities, and is working toward an automated baggage delivery system.

Other big buyers of the 747 include United Air Lines, with 18 of the $30 million airplanes on order, and Trans World Airlines, with 15 747s on order.

Altogether, 31 airlines have placed orders with Boeing for 183 planes.

Cancer Experts Skeptical

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Some cancer experts in the United States are skeptical about an announcement by a British research team of "one of the biggest breakthroughs in cancer research in 20 years."

But they agree that it brings nearer the day when leukemia may be cured.

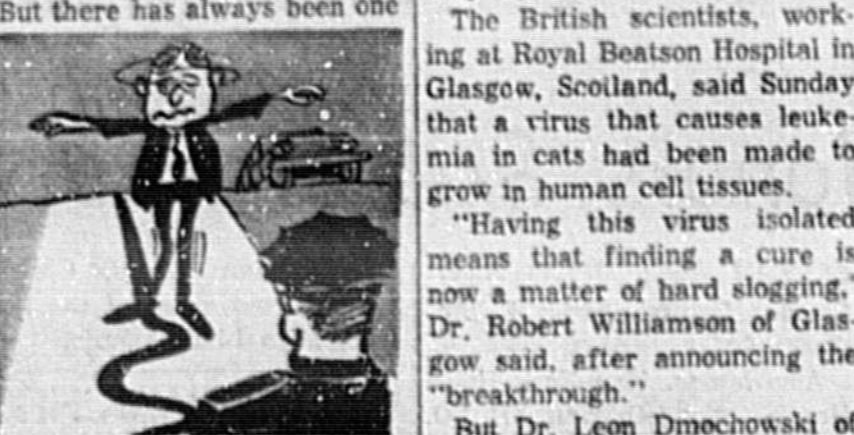

The British scientists, working at Royal Brompton Hospital in Glasgow, Scotland, said Sunday that a virus that causes leukemia in cats had been made to grow in human cell tissues.

"Having this virus isolated means that finding a cure is now a matter of hard sloggging," Dr. Robert Williamson of Glasgow said, after announcing the "breakthrough."

But Dr. Leon Dmochowski of Houston, chairman of the department of virology, and an adviser to the Leukemia Society of America, said the Glasgow findings were "hardly a great breakthrough."

Dmochowski said, however, that it would "serve as a stimulus" to leukemia research.

Al Davis, science editor of the American Cancer Society, said the Britishers were "exaggerating" their "bit in terms of the real significance." He said they should not have mentioned the word "cure" in the announcement.

big problem: what to do about the motorist who, after being stopped by a policeman, refuses to take the test. To force him to submit to a raise touchy questions of constitutional rights.

Now, however, a growing number of states are finding the answer by passing an "implied consent" law. This law says that a motorist, just by using the public streets, gives his implied consent in advance to a sobriety test. Then, when he is halted, he faces a kind of ultimatum: either take the test or lose your driver's license.

True, he cannot be put to this choice without reasonable grounds. An arresting officer may not insist on a test unless there are visible signs that the driver really is intoxicated.

Furthermore, it does not count as a refusal to take the test if the motorist is simply unable to carry out the officer's instructions.

In one unusual case, a motorist was unable to blow into a testing balloon because of difficulty with his dentures. A court ruled afterward that, under these circumstances, the state had no right to revoke the man's license.

On the other hand, a refusal to take the test is not excused by the fact that the motorist is later acquitted of having been intoxicated. His license can be revoked anyhow, not as a penalty for drunk driving but as a penalty for his refusal to obey the officer's lawful request.

"It must be remembered," said one court, "that it is a privilege to operate a motor vehicle on our highways and not a right. The state may prescribe conditions on which that privilege is exercised."

Lake Mary Women Gather For Coffee

The refreshment table was covered with a beige linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow and white roses in a silver vase. Silver appointments held assorted pastries, tea sandwiches, petit fours and other delicacies and a silver compote held toasted nuts. Coffee was served from an ornate silver service.

The approximately fifty ladies who called during the appointed hours of 10:30-12 noon, were attired in chic fall fashions encompassing a wide spectrum of colors.

The club, which meets the fourth Thursday of each month, is altruistically noted for its support of the Lake Mary library.

MRS. FRANK EVANS was the charming hostess for a fall coffee of the Lake Mary Women's Club. Among the guests enjoying the delightful gathering with Mrs. Evans, left, are Mrs. Wallace Hall, Mrs. Earl Weidon and Mrs. John Lacey. (Marion Bethea Photo)

To Bra Or Not To Bra?

Downfalls, Uplifts Of Bra-Less Era

By HELEN HENNESSY
NEW YORK (UPI) — There's an "uplift" quality even in the no-bra look. It uplifts the eyes of men from the female's current ergonomic zone.

Yet this new phase of the "freedom in dress" trend does have its drawbacks. Only about half the female population can play the other half just isn't built for the game.

They will simply have to "dream they wear bra-les" in their Maidenform.

If the bra is about to join the fashion limbo?

"Certainly not," said Bettie Bardot (cousin of Brigitte), who has been named "Miss Bra America."

Miss Bardot doesn't wear a bra on her job. She is said to be America's highest-paid stripper. But when she's not working she belongs to the pro-bra contingent. After all, she measures in at 44-28-32.

The no-bra look, like every prevailing fad since the mad mod aces, is aimed at the "little girl" figure. But sadly, women who shouldn't indulge will. And now we will be treated not only to beach-ball knees under flirty skirts but neat jersey tops pushed out of shape by wire halter necks a few inches above the navel.

The small-bosomed lass can look attractive without a bra. The purpose of a bra is to control and mold and if your figure is perfect to begin with, molding you don't need.

But even the girl with a bosom that's nonexistent to all points and purposes in fashion needs a little molding. And the big gal needs a lot of it.

There are reasons why the entire feminine world won't clutch the bra rebellion to its collective breast.

Gravity is its toughest enemy.

To bra or not to bra, that is the question. The bra rebellion is on and the "no-bra" look is here. From the rigid rig of a short time ago (left) we have progressed to the revealing type with just enough support such as the Maidenform "No-Bra" sketch (center). For the girl who has little to reveal (right) "no bra" can be a comfortable new way of life.

If you wear larger than an A-cup you won't achieve the comfort from bralessness which is claimed to be its greatest asset. That downfall isn't going to be a joy. In addition, many doctors claim it will strain muscles.

Olga introduces Smooth Se-cure, a new bra with a natural body look. It just means a new body awareness.

Vanity Fair recognizes the trend to freedom in undergarments and suggests bras and bodynets in all sizes.

Nemo Industries believes no-wire-braed women will be contemplating the "savage" fluidity of an unrestrained bosom.

They plan to continue making sheer bras with a minimum of coverage but with one ultimate goal—to fit the mind as well as the body.

Blackton's claims that "no bra" means the self-bra look and that literally NO BRA will never come to pass as something accepted by the majority of women.

Obviously, the bra industry isn't going under for the third time over this so-called rebellion. Except maybe for one firm. I read recently that a Texas-based firm is now going into the men-wear field. Huh?

Full, even if the revolution is just a temporary in a bra cup, it does have its militants. One young feminist declared, "I believe bras have a certain functional purpose if you're pretty large. But I'm against the social necessity of reshaping the body." Now that's real serious thinking.

Gossard offers a new number that gives the feeling of bralessness but also gives a modesty.

Married Couples Live Longer

One result of our greater longevity is that married couples have the best chance ever to real old age together—assuming they want to.

Statistics of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company show that a husband aged 25 and a wife 21, can now expect to live until the wife's 80th birthday in 2 out of 3 cases. Fifty years ago, the chances were 1 in 2.

In bronze holders. The gadget arrangement was presented to the honor guest at the conclusion of the party.

Miss Donna Holland, Terrance Scott Married In Candlelight Ceremony

By MARYANN MILES
Scott, Bear Lake.

The three-tiered wedding cake was accented with a miniature Marine and bride on the top. The beautifully embossed cake was decorated with yellow roses with the top and second layer separated with yellow columns.

Assisting at the reception were Miss Joyce Holland, Mrs. David Ryan and Miss Sandy Holland. For traveling, the bride wore a gold A-line long sleeved dress with beige accessories and the archaic contrast from her wedding bouquet.

Following a wedding trip to Daytona Beach, the newlyweds will reside in North Carolina where Lance Cal Scott is with the Marines at Camp Lejeune.

Among the out-of-town wedding guests were the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Donald Gillies from Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Stampfl, Mrs. Kathy Orell, and daughter Joy, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Bullock and Roger H. Thornton.

Factor Paul Cuming was the officiating clergyman at the double ring nuptial Mass. Accented the altar were two bouquets of white mixed flowers. The family pews were identified by white satin bows and streamers.

Mrs. Whiting Webb, organist, presented a pre-wedding recital of appropriate nuptial selections.

Given in marriage by her father and mother, the radiant bride chose for her vows a formal A-line white lace gown delicately designed of imported Chantilly lace, over white satin. The bodice was fashioned with a stand up lace ruffe and a satin band outlined the Empire waist with a Dior bow in the back. Her long tapered sleeves and the bottom of her gown were edged in ruffles. Her three-tiered shoulder length veil was accented by a crown embellished with seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white carnations centered with a white detachable orchid corsage.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Teresa Varguez. She wore a floor-length long sleeved gown, fashioned along the Empire silhouette A-line, in yellow, and carried a cascade of yellow roses.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was David Ryan, usher was Tom Webb. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Richardson chose a yellow and blue street length dress with blue accessories and a corsage sage of yellow roses.

Mrs. Scott chose a blue knit street length dress enhanced with beige accessories and corsage of yellow roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Scott, Bear Lake.

Also present were Mrs. Helen Brown, Kenneth Hall, R. O. Egan, Gordon Bradley, and the Misses Kathy Todd, Duane Vihlen, Candy Wharton, Pam Edwards, Candy Adams, Gay Echols, Patti Howland, Mary McGill, Serita Nelson, Karen Sipes, Susan Brown, Christy Shadden and sister of the honoree, Miss Linda Harris.
