

Brailey Odham Talks About 'Sanora' Subdivision

WHY SANORA?

I have been in the homebuilding and land development business for almost 20 years now. These are the best and most active years I have ever seen in development in central Florida. And, as big

WHY SANFOR?

I chose Sanford basically because I was raised here and have always wanted the same good things to happen to Sanford that have happened all over the State of Florida. Having had most of my recent building activities in Orlando, I looked there and in Altamonte Springs, Longwood and Lake Mary, areas for a good site for building. Then John Krider called me and showed me this property that belonged to the H. L. Hunt family. And while we felt that the other areas were more active at the moment, we chose Sanford for this development. Really, Sanford has a great deal to offer. It has a fine police department, and a fine fire department. It has adequate sewage disposal system, good quality water and a good street maintenance program. All of these are attributes of good tasting value.

HOW IS IT FINANCED?

We didn't receive any encouragement from FHA when we first started working on the plans for this project — that was about 15 months ago. Some of the mortgage bankers and investors were hesitant at first, so we turned to a long friend, Bob Hester, who is president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Mid-Florida (this was formerly known as First Federal of Deland). I discussed my plans with Hester and his associates and within one week, their board voted to make a $600,000 land acquisition and development loan. This represented about 65 per cent essentially of the cost of the first phase of streets, water, sewer, drainage and other related problems we faced in the early stages.

They also agreed to make permanent loans and as of this date, we have under construction and nearing completion 47 homes, valued at $1.8 million. In addition, 24 town houses we started last week mean an additional $1 million. Within 30 days, we will start the first phase (representing 120 apartments) of the apartment complex, located north of the single family residence area and will mean an additional $2 million cost. This area which is located 1000 feet east of Sanford Avenue, lies just south of Airport Boulevard, will eventually encompass 300 apartments of the garden type, worth over $5 million.

CITY ATTITUDE

Without a progressive city commission such as Sanford has and without planned unit development and a chairman of the zoning commission like Art Harris and others who served without pay, there would be no Sanora. I am confident that the beginning and ultimate development of Sanora will be the real testimony to the wisdom and foresight of the elected city officials of Sanford, and to Pete Knowles, city manager and his staff and all the others who have cooperated with us in every possible way.

I really feel that they are trying — there were some unavoidable delays because the city is trying to go forward with me and at the same time, set up in a new program of tough standards, tougher than any other city or county requires, at least that I know of, so that the public interests are best served.

WHO PAYS FOR THIS PRELIMINARY WORK

In this and most instances, the work is done the developer's expense, in this case, I paid for the streets, water and sewer lines and drainage and all the other necessary utility facilities.

HOW WAS DESIGN CHOSEN

Our patio homes and the reason we are so enthusiastic about them is that in Kingswood, where we live, the entire rear yard of our home is enclosed insuring privacy. It is such a wonderful way to live. We did the same thing to 130 homes in the Kingswood development in the rear yards. Then we decided that "Why not figure a way to enclose the front and side yards as well, for ever greater privacy and security and less yard maintenance?"

WHO WILL BUY AT SANORA?

There is a building boom in Florida today and it is due to the beauty and climate in the area and to the fact that Disney World brings 12 million visitors here per year.

Leased School Buildings Solution To Congestion?

By BILL SCOTT

Greg Drummond, Seminole County Commission chairman, invited a number of land developers, real estate men and city officials representing the municipalities in Seminole County to an Orange County dinner theater Thursday to hear his proposal to relieve temporarily the county's overflowing school problem. Speaking to some 100 persons gathered at the Howard Johnson Theater-in-the-Lounge, Drummond disclosed a plan whereby developers would be charged a $200 fee for each multiple housing unit and $300 for each single housing unit they construct. These costs presumably would be passed on to the home buyer at the time of purchase. Drummond said this was "only an interim solution" until the county can realize the ultimate solution to the school problem. Suggesting ways the fees could be collected, Drummond said this would only affect that property not yet zoned and charges could be collected when building permits are issued, or during certain phases of preparation of site plans when they are brought before the county zoning board. Apparently the reasoning by the commissioner in bringing forth his suggestion was since the impact on the school system is caused by new people moving into Seminole, it is logical to let those who overflow the schools pay for building the new schools to house their children. Lawrence Swafford, Altamonte mayor and one who is concerned with the costs of county growth, stated cities or the county commission have no control over the schools. He suggested looking at the whole

'Free Visits' Usually Not, Says State

By ERIC SHARP

MIAMI (AP) — There was a time when some Northerners who accepted "free vacations" in Florida found themselves lodged in flimsy hotels, pressured by fast-talking land salesmen and dragged hundreds of miles in buses to look at steaming scrublands. The Florida Land Sales Division, development companies and major vacation certificate distributors say a few simple rule changes should run fly-by-night operators out of business. Most of the so-called free vacations were not "free." Distributors usually offered couples four days and three nights in Florida for $15 per couple. Many of the certificates said in the fine print that the couple had to listen to a land sales pitch and visit developments or pay the entire cost of the "vacation" themselves — which could run as high as $100.

A. L. Baker, director of the Land Sales Division in Tampa, said the opening of Walt Disney World near Orlando a year ago gave rise to a tremendous number of complaints. People who purchased certificates for deluxe vacations near the giant tourist complex found themselves housed in third-rate hotels as far away as Miami, 225 miles to the south.

The board also required developers to limit the number of certificates offered. "This way, you won't have anyone issuing 200,000 free vacation certificates when he only has 600 pieces of property to sell," Baker said. Duke Mills of the Orlando Chamber of Commerce said his office received hundreds of complaints last fall "from people who thought they were getting vacations near Walt Disney World."

"Some said they ended up in hotels in Miami and that a lot of the deluxe accommodations they were promised turned out to be dumps they wouldn't even stay in," he said.

Longwood Faces Suit Over Road

By DONNA ESTES

LONGWOOD—The city may be involved in another law suit—this time from a builder insisting that a road be paved adjacent to houses which he is building. Following a report from City Engineer William Palm, Thursday night, that cost of earth moving and paving of a strip of Georgia Street would be $9,900, Mayor Kenneth Brown informed the board that builders W. H. Green and Sons, according to report given to him, are threatening to sue over the matter.

The chief executive said half of the right-of-way is in a lake and much of it is muckland. "I would recommend we let him sue," Brown said.

Council Chairman Eugene Jaques looked horns with the mayor a few weeks ago over another item concerning the Green Company and at the time said he was formerly employed by the company. Last night the chairman stated he had a discussion with "Green" about the paving. Jaques said he told the builder he would refer the matter to the street committee and was "advised by Green if he does not receive a reply soon, he would seek legal advice."

E. E. Williamson, chairman of the street committee, appeared offended at the fact Jaques had been conferring with the builder and asked why he was not contacted.

Jaques said since there is a possibility of legal action the advice of the city attorney should be sought. Attorney S. Joseph Davis Jr. declined, however, to give an immediate opinion and agreed to view the right-of-way with Williamson.

In other business, Brown informed Dr. Gerald Grissom that the city has no authority to change the speed limit on Seminola Boulevard from its present 30 miles per hour. Grissom insisted a speed trap is being conducted on the road.

The mayor said the city's police department is not conducting the trap; but charged arrests are being made by Constable Bob Jane's office.

The mayor continued that Police Chief R. E. Sweat has asked the State Department of Transportation to increase the limit to 45 miles per hour.

Two Priests Arrested For Illegal Broadcast

MANILA (AP) — Government troops have arrested two American Roman Catholic priests accused of inciting rebellion through illegal broadcasts over their radio station on Negros Island, central Philippines, Information Secretary Francisco S. Bruno announced today. The Rev. Bruno Hinks, 43, was arrested on Sept. 26 and the Rev. John Peterson, 45, on Sept. 29, on charges of violating the closure of all news media in the nation after martial law was imposed Sept. 22, Tatad added. He said the priests made the broadcasts over a station they called "The Voice of the Voiceless." In his afternoon news briefing, Tatad said the two priests were undergoing interrogation by the military and no details were available. The director explained these monies are certificates of deposit; and the authority is virtually "broke" in that aspect. The Board at Wilson's request approved hiring an accountant now with the Rochester (New York) Housing Authority to spend about a week here preparing another set of books for the authority. Wilson said the present bookkeeping system is 20 years behind the times and he wants a new set of books

Just For Votes Angel, Layer Spar

By DONNA ESTES

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS — Barbs were traded by incumbent John Angel and William P. Layer, Republican and Democratic candidates, respectively, for the office of school superintendent, during the meeting of the Maitland-South Seminole Chamber of Commerce Thursday. Insisting the "largest problem in Seminole County cannot function with no decisions, indecision, poor decisions and vacillating decisions," Layer invited support for his candidacy for "courageous and foresighted leadership." Angel, after pointing to the accomplishments of his administration with school children in state examinations testing the highest of any school system in the state, declared, "Now is no time to turn to a rookie for signal calling." Layer branded discipline in the classrooms and No. 1 problem in the Seminole school system. "Before the teaching-learning process can be established, there must be discipline in the classrooms and an amendment to provide state funding for local school construction. He also advocated improved reading programs in grades 1, 2 and 3.

Angel, commented the problems suffered by the school system "with federal interference in all segments of education including the requirement for desegregation in a society that is becoming more and more segregated. The school superintendent pointed to the county's narrow base, the effects of inflation, the serious cutback in state school construction dollars. Yet, with all these problems, he said, the school system has initiated 30 new vocational-technical programs as well as new programs for the physically and mentally handicapped.

The solution to the problem, Angel continued, is an active roll of supervision by principals and staff on all campuses. "Ninety per cent of the problem can be prevented by from the "day I came here." Board, at Wilson's request: Approved expenditures to install a burglary alarm at the housing project office and a bullet-proof glass enclosure for the office desks where tenants pay rents.

Approved a request from Wilson to apply for federal funds to implement training programs for men living at the city projects. These vocations would include U.S. Labor Department help to enable them to become plumbers, electricians, etc., in order to obtain better jobs.

Approved expenditures of $140 to purchase 1,000 decals to be placed on cars parked at the housing projects. When implemented, cars at the various units not bearing the stickers will be removed.

Pastor's Corner Respect For Life

By REV. JAMES MARTINEZ, St. Augustine Church

In the Old Testament, Isaiah 5: 1-5 we find the prophet speaking about his friend and the friend's vineyard. His friend did all that anyone could do to bring forth a good harvest of grapes. But the grapes he anticipated never came. Instead he got back worthless grapes.

This is the story of Israel, the House of the Lord. It is the story of God and His chosen people. What did God do to his people who have not borne the fruit of virtue?

In the gospel of Matthew (21: 33-43) Christ uses the same parable with a different twist. The landowner leases the vineyard to tenants. The tenants refuse to give to the landowner his portion of the harvest. The landowner sends his slaves to collect what is rightly his. The slaves are mistreated and killed. The landowner sends his son whom the judges will be treated with respect. The son is also killed.

The judgment of the owner on his tenants is posed under the form of a question: "What will He do?" The bearers themselves pronounce the verdict: The master of the vineyard will put to death the guilty vine-dressers and lease out his vineyard to other tenants.

Perhaps as Christ told this parable it didn't have too much force. But I'm sure it must have hit home strongly after his death. In looking back it seems that almost all the apostles rejected Christ for a moment and the one moment Judas had brought about the death of His Master. We are Christians, professed followers of Christ, and it seems an obvious contradiction to ask ourselves if we reject Christ. We respect His divine life for what it is and who He is. Reject Christ? How could we ask ourselves that question?

Instead for our own enlightenment and self-improvement let us ask ourselves some other questions about this vineyard of God. What am I doing to foster life itself in the environment? What efforts to help avoid air, water, or noise pollution. What stand have I taken to bring an end to the war in Vietnam? What stand on the social issues of our time and especially in our own country?

Would I lie? Maybe, but I wouldn't reject Christ. Would I cheat in business or in my marriage vows? Maybe, but I wouldn't reject Christ. Would I treat someone else as inferior because of the color of their skin, or the length of their hair? Maybe, but I wouldn't reject Christ. Would I pass by a poor person, or refuse to help the less fortunate? Maybe, but I would never reject Christ. Would I kill anyone? Never. Would I procure or help with an abortion? Maybe, but I would never reject Christ.

These questions and answers given above involve contradictions. Christ has told us what we do to the least of his brethren, we do to Him. If we respect the life around us, in reality we respect Christ.

The Vineyard of God is the people of God. How are we cultivating our little patch of God's vineyard? Has the sending of His Son made such a great difference in our way of life?

Index Compiled By 1 Priest, 2 Monks, 3 Nuns Computer Put To Work On The Bible

By CARL HARTMAN, Associated Press Writer BRUSSELS (AP) — With the help of three Benedictine nuns, two monks and one American computer, a Belgian priest is completing what he hopes will be the most useful index to the Bible yet produced.

The Rev. Georges Passaleucq is himself a monk from the big Benedictine Abbey at Marredsous, known for its mild cheese and strong beer as well as for its deep learning. A bustling, sandy little man of 63, he spends only about a quarter of his time within its walls.

More often he can be found carrying a battered briefcase anywhere between the Brussels bank that lends him his computer and the pulpit of a synagogue in Cleveland, Ohio.

Just now he is concerned to get some publisher in the United States to translate his "Analytical and Analogical Index" from French into English. His computer can't do that. Father Georges speaks English himself—as well as French, German, Dutch, Italian, Latin, Greek and Hebrew—but he says this job has to be put into the hands of someone who can work in his own mother tongue.

"The Bible," he is explained, "is the word of God and is used by religious Jews and Christians as a source of prayer and meditation. It is also a reference work used by every writer and reader who deals with history, philosophy, theology, ethics, ancient literature or even sociology."

He wants to provide these writers, students and readers with an easy to use reference tool that will help them find any passage they need.

This is not the first time a computer has been used for a scholarly religious work, but the authors think it has not been tried before on a religious book destined for general circulation.

Many indexes to the Bible, called "concordances," already exist. They list every passage in which a given word is used. Look up the word

"crime," for example, and you will find that it does not appear often: no more than a dozen places in the Revised Standard Version, between Deuteronomy and the Acts of the Apostles. But there are more crimes than that in the Bible. How to find them?

Look up "crime" in Father Georges' index and you will get references not only to the word itself, but also to passages that recount specific crimes even though the word "crime" itself does not happen to appear in them: the murder of Abel, the rape of Tamar, King David's adultery and his plot against poor Uriah the Hittite.

Father Georges began his index in 1958 and after 10 years had collected 80,000 index cards. At this point he enlisted the help of the Revs. Ferdinand Poewick and Eric de Borchgraeve from the Benedictine monastery at Quevy. With their help he arranged to share—at night, on holidays and in other free time—the IBM 370 computer of the Caisse Generale d'Epargne at de Retraite (CGER), a savings bank organized by the Belgian government.

Deltona Evangelistic Effort Under Way

DELTONA—The Christian churches in Deltona are mobilizing for an evangelistic effort to be realized during the year 1973, and to be known as Key-73. The plan calls for an offensive in which every person in the community will be challenged with the teachings of Jesus Christ.

Locally, Key-73 carries the vision of every unchurched family in the community being visited by someone who comes with religious concern to share his faith in Christ. Key-73 will also include and effort to place the Christian scripture in every household.

Using an overall theme, "Calling Our Continent To Christ," the program of Key-73 is being organized into six phases: (1) Calling the Continent to repentance and prayer; (2) ... to the word of God; (3) ... to the Resurrection; (4) ... to new life; (5) ... to the proclamation; (6) ... to commitment.

At a recent meeting, the Christian churches of Deltona expressed their determination to do precisely this. To begin Phase I of the Key-73 program, they are calling upon merchants, and citizens of Deltona to assist in distribution of Scripture to prepare themselves for a noon call to prayer and repentance on Jan. 5.

These questions and answers given above involve contradictions. Christ has told us what we do to the least of his brethren, we do to Him. If we respect the life around us, in reality we respect Christ.

The Vineyard of God is the people of God. How are we cultivating our little patch of God's vineyard? Has the sending of His Son made such a great difference in our way of life?

Ex-Company Director Charges

Turner Motto: Fake It Till You Make It

By PAT LEISNER Associated Press Writer CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — Lured by the prospect of making $40,000 a year, potential investors in Dare To Be Great were urged to borrow money and "fake it till you make it," a former company official has testified at the securities trial of Orlando business tycoon Glenn W. Turner.

William F. Humphries, a 23-year-old former Tampa Bay area director for the motivational firm, was dropped as a codefendant in the case after agreeing to turn state's evidence.

PETITE Debbie Fabry, Lakeview Middle School seventh grader stands on tiptoes as she uses voting machine to vote for her class officers.

Leased School Buildings?

(Cont'd From Pg. 1A) school problem. Everett Huskey, Sweetwater Oaks developer, said he backed Drummond's approach to the problem and commended the commission chairman for his interest in calling the meeting of those concerned.

Lester Mandell, Greater Construction Company, agreed with Huskey's comments. However, Charles Clayton, English Woods developer, drew the most interest when he proposed the developers build the schools for the county at the time they construct their projects. "We should build the schools and let the School Board lease them from us."

Later, at a specially called meeting of the Seminole County School Board, Thursday afternoon, Jean Bryant and A. F. Keith indicated they would ask Walter Teague, school finance officer or Supl. John Angel to consult with Tallahassee on the legality of leasing school buildings that have been constructed in accordance with state school standards.

Attending from Sanford were county commissioners Julian Stenstrom, Gordon Meyer and A. A. McClanahan. W. E. Knowles, city manager, was also in attendance.

Meyer told Drummond he would like the school administration to concentrate on education and get out of the school construction business.

Stenstrom later observed to the press, "There were no Sanford developers such as Braley Odham, whose Sanora project is at present the largest under construction in the city, invited to the meeting."

"Dare To Be Great is a self-confidence building course sold in four parts, costing from $300 to $5,000. One who invests at the top two levels can sell to others for a commission.

The state claims this constitutes a security under Florida law as an investment contract in a profit sharing or participation agreement.

Turner's lawyers say franchisees are involved not securities.

Turner, a 38-year-old Orlando millionaire is charged with 86 counts of selling unregistered securities and failure to register as a dealer.

Humphries, a recent University of South Florida graduate who spent six months with Dare To Be Great and quit last June, was one of the first of some 80 prosecution witnesses.

Testifying under immunity, Humphries told the three-man, three-woman jury the basic philosophy used in marketing was "the idea of being able to make money out of selling the program . . . to other individuals."

Just about anyone who could "walk, talk or breathe," was a qualified buyer, he testified, as long as he was 21 and had access to money.

"Fake it till you make it," said Humphries, explaining it meant that to sell success one had to look successful.

This salesmen were encouraged to wear fancy clothes, buy flashy cars and pick up the tabs for those they sponsored on "GO" tours.

Generally, independent salesmen selling the course whetted curiosity by asking if a prospect would like to make more money, double his income or was happy in his job.

"Once curiosity was aroused you'd invite him to a 'GO' tour," Humphries said. "Then company employees took over, most times working from a memorized script."

"GO" tour stands for "Golden Opportunity" and is a fastpaced, highly charged weekend of meetings and seminars conducted by high pressure salesmen, he said.

Under cross examination by Turner's lawyer, James Russ, Humphries said he bore no grudge against the organization or Turner. In fact, he said he had been impressed by it all and worked 16 hours a day to be a success.

After investigation, it was determined the shells came from the Crowder robbery and further investigation disclosed a diamond ring valued at $2,000 was missing from the Crowder home. Sgt. Abbey said this was recovered when one of the youths admitted giving it to his girlfriend at school.

Deputy Kunkler revealed a 15-year-old Altamonte boy was booked on grand larceny charges after an apartment at Capistrano Apartments was entered and several items taken. A .25 caliber pistol was recovered in the incident, Kunkler added.

Burglaries Solved With Eight Arrests

By BILL SCOTT County detectives George Abbey and Robert Kunkler today announced the arrests of six persons, including seven juveniles, on a multitude of charges growing out of several thefts and burglaries that were solved, some with the cooperation of Altamonte police.

Sgt. Abbey said Roland Reed Freeman, 37, Valdosta, Ga., was jailed in lieu of $2,000 bond on breaking and entering with intent to commit a misdemeanor charge after he was caught by Altamonte police several blocks from the scene of a burglary at the Village Green apartment rented by Wesley Royal. Abbey said money, amounting to less than $100, had been removed from Royal's apartment and was found in Freeman's possession.

Two boys, ages 12-13, were arrested Thursday at their Lake Mary homes and charged with breaking into the Lake Mary School, where a $90 tape recorder was taken and several obscenities written on the walls and doors.

Det. Kunkler reported four youths, ranging in age 15-18, were arrested and approximately $3,000 in property stolen from the Donald R. Crowder home, 601 Karen Drive, Altamonte, was recovered, after Altamonte policeman Sgt. Steve Garver found the four in the woods.

Abbey said all were brought in for being drunk but when shotgun shells were found on one, suspicions were aroused and Seminole detectives were called.

After investigation, it was determined the shells came from the Crowder robbery and further investigation disclosed a diamond ring valued at $2,000 was missing from the Crowder home. Sgt. Abbey said this was recovered when one of the youths admitted giving it to his girlfriend at school.

Chappel Offers His Aid

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Congress man Bill Chappell has wired the mayor of Sanford offering every possible assistance in securing federal funds to help meet state water treatment requirements.

Chappell said the sewer moratorium announced Tuesday by the State Board of Health threatens each community in a variety of ways, including a stagnation in the construction industry, unemployment of construction workers on a wholesale basis, the freezing of the area tax base, a threat to local home mortgage institutions, an end to industrial expansion and the hardship of no further improvement in the living condition of the people.

Chappell said the federal government has several programs which could be brought to bear to help communities affected by the moratorium. Among these are Housing and Urban funds, Environmental agency programs and others.

Chappell also sent telegrams to the mayors of Jacksonville, Palatka, Green Cove Springs and St. Augustine. He would like to be brought up-to-date on city plans for federal applications so that he could bring the pressure of his congressional office to bear on federal agencies to expedite the applications.

Growth Is The Challenge All Around

Look where you will in the state of Florida and the solid, inescapable impact of growth and the problems which this has placed in the lap of governments, courts and private enterprise is stealing the headlines even in this presidential election year.

Probably the single most controversial and dangerous issue is that of land use and land costs. Florida has experienced "boom and bust" times before with the spur being the lure of easy and pleasant living.

That was the era when the "Green Benches" of St. Petersburg were stars in the promotions which lured the frost-bitten north to the sunshine and solace of the Sunshine State.

Now, however, the allurements is much more in the line of high profits from not only a land boom but the attraction which industry finds in the Florida opportunity for new beginnings where the lessons learned in former years can be upgraded to that of the space age, in which Florida is a star.

Thus when the construction industry was brought to a grinding and unexpected halt with the sewer tie-in moratorium—a fatal blow if allowed to continue—the prospect of relief at the special session of the legislature becomes more than possible.

Again when the sale of 25,000 acres of land near Homestead in South Florida by the state to Aerogel General at the bargain basement price of $50 an acre came up for legal determination, the U.S. Supreme Court and the Florida Supreme Court became involved.

Responsible appraisal of the acreage today is ten times that of the $50 which was obtained by an option to buy in 1961 by Aerogel.

When the U.S. Supreme Court handed down a decision on Tuesday upholding this option, the state supreme court ruled on Wednesday that the land must be offered to Dade County by the state as having prior rights. This is headlining growth and the land boom in earnest.

But it is not the state legislature or the high courts which are in the minds of residents and the builders and the planners of Seminole County.

For the extraordinary growth which has made this county the fastest growing in the United States has triggered interest by developers whose vision of a bigger, better and even more liveable county has been somewhat dimmed.

There is increasing signs, happily, that the ones in government who do control the zoning are aware of the true value of the better kinds of planned developments.

It is quite understandable that caution is the guideline for those who have watched the rather unbridled housing construction which has taken place in Casselberry, Altamonte Springs and Longwood, to be wary of any such duplication or extension of these practices.

Approval of the "Greenbelt" plan by the Seminole Planning and Zoning Commission is a long step in the right direction. When the "Heathrow" proposal comes before the Seminole County Commission for reversal of the planning commission's three to two turn-down, it is essential that this receives the same kind of balanced and wise treatment as "Greenbelt" enjoys.

The only way in which all of the various interests involved in this great challenge of phenomenal growth can be met is by the determination of all that it will be the common good which will be sought.

Are Your Marbles Rattling - Some?

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—If you're losing your marbles, you ought to be the first to know, shouldn't you?

Then maybe you can do something about it before the world gets around to it.

That's why it's a good idea to check up on yourself occasionally, just to see if you need a few screws tightened or to rearrange your prejudices.

In this civilization, having the right mental attitude is an integral part of the game.

Fortunately for you, today we have a do-it-yourself test that will enable you to tell whether you're still an average heel on an even keel, or whether you need to be doctored somewhere for an overhaul.

Here is the test. All you have to do is answer the following simple questions. Try to be as honest as your nature will allow.

During a long drought, does it seem to you that more rain falls on the lawn of the expensive home owned by the guy across the street than falls on your lawn?

If you saw three great big bulls beating up on a guy twice your size, you'd just walk right by and let them go on having their fun, wouldn't you?

Do you ask yourself at least a dozen times a month, "Where does all my money go," when you know darned well where your money goes?

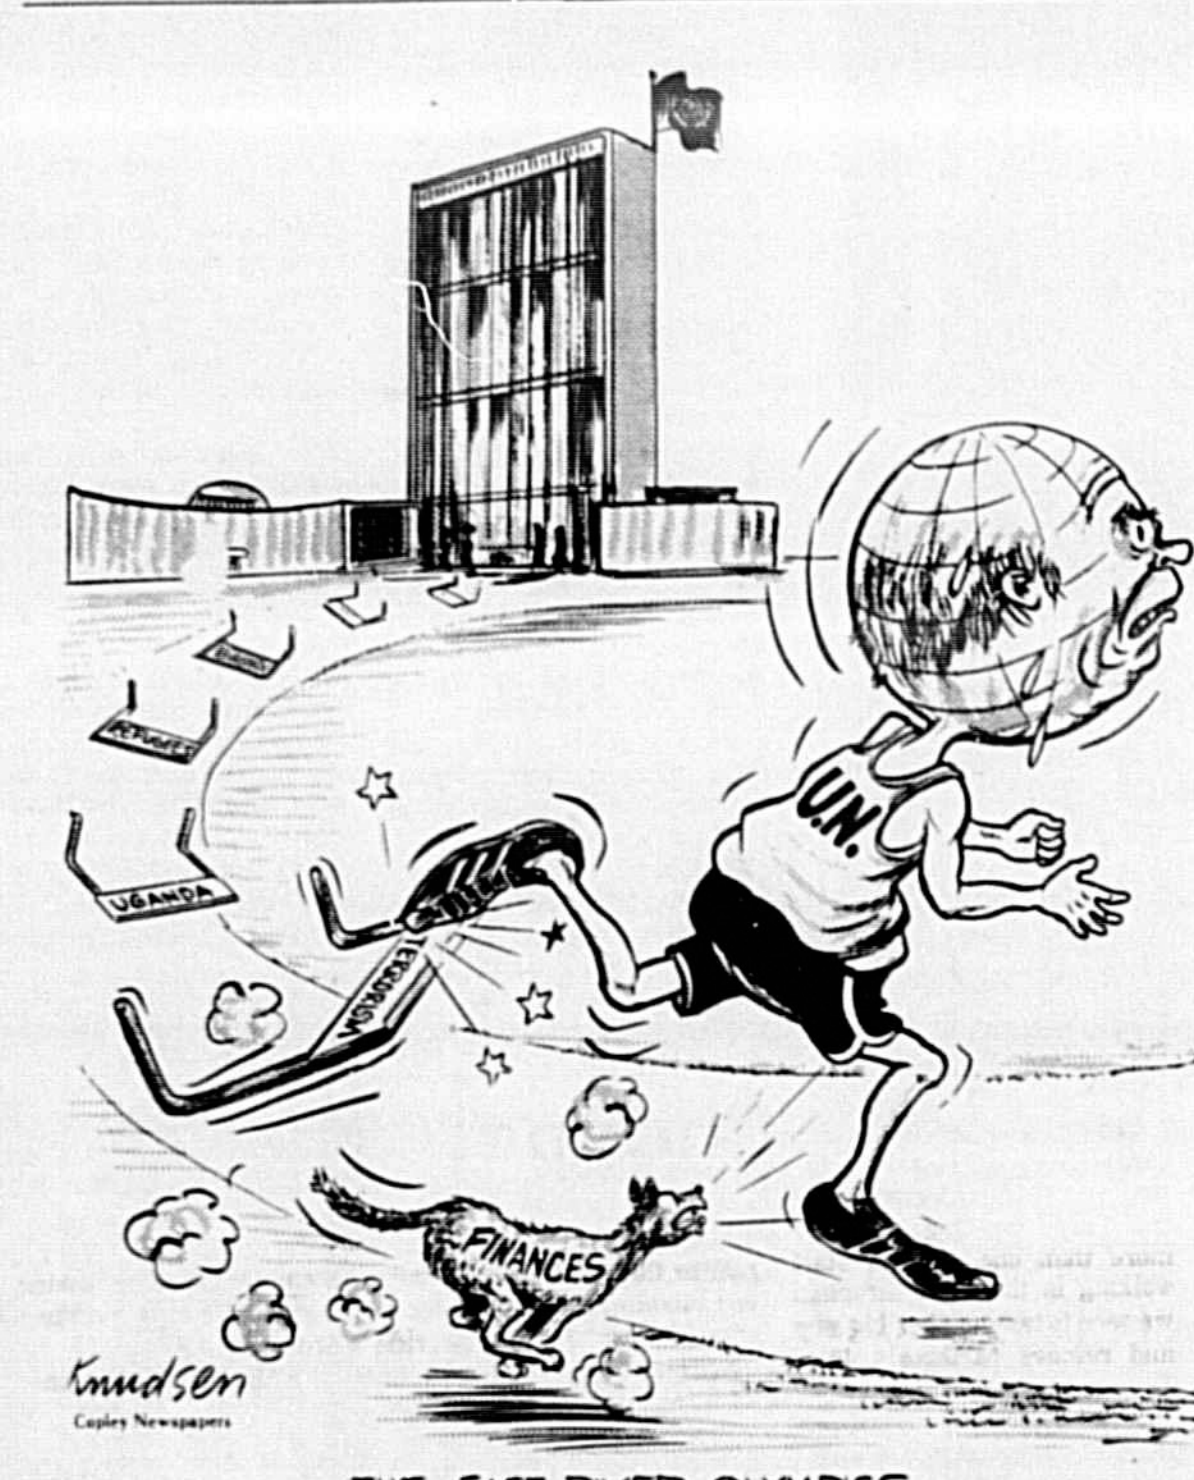

Now and then don't you get the sneaking feeling that your favorite bartender is paying more attention to the woes of other guys at the bar than to your woes?

Doesn't it annoy you when your wife makes you sit still and snap beans for the dinner table while she is giving you a bawling out for your misdeeds? When you start worrying about our own mental health, don't you first tell yourself that well, everybody you know is a little bit off his rocker, anyway? Now to the score: If you answered yes to most of these questions, you're just one of the kind of normal misfit who makes life what it is. If you answered no to most of these questions, take the test over. You may have misunderstood the questions.

McGovern Is Big In The District

By EDWARD NEILAN
Copy News Service

WASHINGTON — Three blocks down Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House, a blue and white banner flaps in the autumn breeze and proclaims: "McGovern, Shriver, Fauntroy."

Inside the modest building to which the banner is affixed, confidence permeates the top-floor suite of offices which serves as District of Columbia headquarters for presidential candidate Sen. George McGovern, vice presidential candidate Shriver and District congressional delegate candidate Walter E. Fauntroy.

"We won't be going to win big here in November," says Helena Greene, 22, a volunteer worker at the headquarters.

"But, well, I'm not too sure the rest of the country is going to vote the 'man' (President Nixon) out of the White House."

It is not necessary to consult a poll, a palmist or a crystal ball to figure out that McGovern will carry the District of Columbia in November.

In fact, the only electoral votes that McGovern can consider to be absolutely wrapped up at this stage are the three belonging to the District.

There are 294,697 registered Democrats, 34,644 registered Republicans, and about 30,000 independent registered voters in Washington, according to D.C. Board of Elections figures.

In the 1968 presidential election, Mr. Nixon received 31,012 votes in the District, or 18.2 per cent. Democratic Sen. Hubert Humphrey received 139,566, or 81.8 per cent.

Ouster By Egypt Benefits Russia

By JOHN J. O'MALLEY
Copy News Service

When Egyptian President Anwar Sadat obliged the Russians to leave his country in mid-July, there was a general feeling of satisfaction in the Western world. Peace, it was thought, had to be a step closer because of Sadat's surprise action.

Reflection on the actualities of the situation now raises considerable doubt as to the validity of this viewpoint. While Sadat's action removed all likelihood of Egypt attacking Israel, it did not diminish Mideastern tensions and it probably left the Soviet Union even better disposed to counter American forces in the Mediterranean.

Within a few days of Sadat's decision on July 17, 20,000 or more Russians did indeed leave Egypt.

These were specialists; instructors, mechanics, some 400 MIG23 pilots, trainers and technicians — in short, the people whom the Russians had provided to supervise the rebuilding of the Egyptian combat forces. Left behind were the stocks of hardware — particularly defensive material — which the Russians had given or sold the Egyptians, as well as a few contract civilian technicians.

What did not end, however, was the Soviet military presence — in its own interest — on Egyptian soil. Little has been said of the fact that Sadat's expulsion order had nothing to do with the bases which the Soviets had been permitted to establish for their own purposes in Egypt. They still occupy Cairo-West, a major air base between Cairo and Alexandria.

They still occupy the major naval base which they built at great expense at Mersa Matruh on the Mediterranean coast between Alexandria and the Libyan border.

They still occupy a base at Port Said as well as a major part of the Alexandria shipyard where they have built heavy workshops, a ship repair facility, a supply depot and a large munitions storage.

Look for a Nixon Vietnam Surprise

By BRUCE BOSSAT

The odds are rising that somewhere in the Oct. 18-22 span President Nixon will spring a Vietnam war announcement which may dash altogether Sen. George McGovern's enforcement and police protection. Locally, the city and county governments will spend some $2,313,190 for this service. This figure includes only local law enforcement and not the costs of state and federal government agencies.

The citizens paying the highest amount per capita (per person) are those residing in the City of Longwood where a budget for the police department of $152,693 has been approved for fiscal 1972-73 which begins Nov. 1.

With a population of 4,500, estimated by city officials, the per capita cost is $33.93. And remember folks, these same taxpayers have to chip in another $8.60 each to support the Sheriff's Department too, for an overall per capita cost of $42.53.

Standardization Needed?

Recently, Sheriff Polk, appearing at a Longwood budget session at the request of the City Council gave his opinion that police salaries in the county ought to be standardized.

Results of a survey of patrolmen's salaries certainly shows that some standardization is necessary if departments are to stop the practice of men leaving one force for another in order to get better wages.

Uniformed officers in the county are paid wages ranging from $6,000 in Oviedo and Winter Springs to $7,343 in the Sheriff's Department.

Next to Oviedo and Winter Springs, the lowest pay for a uniformed officer is in Altamonte Springs at $6,240. Others are Longwood $6,900; Casselberry $7,200 (under the tentative budget); and Ft. Smith at $7,343.

Chief salaries range from a high for the sheriff at $17,650 to a low for Winter Springs Chief Walter Bachelor at $6,670. Others are Sanford Police Chief Ben Butler $15,140; Casselberry Police Chief George Karcher (tentative) $11,618; Altamonte Chief Justus East $10,500; Longwood Chief H. E. Sweat $10,000 and Oviedo Chief Kenneth Triplett $7,320.

Visit Oak Ridge Seminoles Seem 'More Ready'

"We're more ready for this game than any other this season." That's how Seminole High head coach Bill Young feels about his team's game with Oak Ridge tonight at 8 p.m.

The game will be played at Oak Ridge High's field. Fans making the trip to Orlando should take Interstate 4 to the U.S. 41 (Orange Blossom Trail) exit. Go south to Oak Ridge Road and turn left. Take Oak Ridge Road to Wiegand and turn right to the field.

Both teams carry a 1-3 record into tonight's contest. Sanford opened the season with a 13-6 win over the Oviedo Lions, but then dropped games to Gainesville (33-0), Winter Park (34-0) and Lakeland Kathleen (43-4).

Oak Ridge last their first three games, but got into the win column for the first time last week when they defeated West Jones.

The Seminoles, who played Kathleen without the services of their first string quarterback, will probably see little action from him this week. Brent Carl didn't dress for last week's game, after suffering a knee injury during a practice session. He'll be suited up tonight, but is expected to see only limited action. Young doesn't want to risk reinjuring Carl's knee until he's back to full strength.

Donald Brown, who suffered a deep cut on his arm during last week's game, will be back in action tonight. John McGregor, an offensive tackle who started earlier in the season, is out with a knee injury and will not play tonight.

Will McCoy is slated to start at the quarterback position tonight, joined in the offensive backfield by Turner Davis at fullback, Tommy Thompson at tailback and Benny Montgomery at wingback. Davis and Thompson did a fine job running the ball for the Seminoles last week, as the team moved the ball better than they had since their opener. Thompson ran 73 yards for a touchdown, after the Seminoles had gone over 10 quarters without scoring.

Marcellous Daniels is expected to start at offensive center, with Alan Myers and Reggie Smith at guards and Larry Germain and Billy Hardy at tackles.

On defense, Dickie Deas will anchor the line, playing at nose guard. He'll be joined on the line by tackles George Beasley and Reggie Smith. Freddie Dunn and Jim Steffens will start at the linebacker spots, with Clint Holt and Larry Germain playing defensive ends.

Johnny Gordon and Herb Sutton will play at the defensive halfback spots, with Jim Clements at monster (strong safety) and Keith McClain at free safety.

Young plans to go with a balanced attack of running and passing. Oak Ridge keys against the running attack on defense, and they're expected to put on a strong rush. The Sanford passing attack could be effective, if the offensive line will give the quarterback time to make his passes.

MOVING IN TO stop Tampa Temple Heights quarterback, Keith Groover, are Lake Brantley's Dave Arnett (28) and Jeff Hammond (20) during last week's Tampa win over the previously unbeaten Patriots. Lake Brantley plays host to Sanford Naval Academy Saturday at 8 p.m. at Lyman Field. (Bill Vincent Photo)

Patriots Fair Game For Middie Eleven

The wary Lake Brantley Patriots play host to win-hungry Sanford Naval Academy Saturday evening at Lyman Field at 8 p.m.

The Patriots, much of their starting offensive and defensive forward will go down due to injuries that may last all season, will be looking for their second varsity win against one loss, while winless Sanford Naval searches for its first victory against two defeats.

Brantley Head Coach Bill Duty, who saw most of his starting line disappear after two varsity contests, is approaching his first meeting with the Middies very cautiously.

The Patriots explosive Wishbone T backfield is intact and running hard, but must rely on virtually untested and comparatively small offensive blocking to move the Wishbone T at center and Bob Frazier

SANFORD RUNNING back Tommy Thompson is brought down out-of-bounds after a fine run against Lakeland Kathleen last week. Thompson picked up Sanford's only score of the game on a 73-yard run. Sanford visits Oak Ridge tonight at 8 p.m. (Roger Hodges Photo)

Hounds Host Braves In Homecoming Tilt

There's a celebration dance scheduled tonight at Lyman High School and the followers of Greyhound football are hoping it will be a double celebration of sorts.

Tonight finds the Lyman eleven hosting the Boone Braves in their annual Homecoming game scheduled for the Lyman High Football Field with an 8 p.m. starting time.

The Homecoming festivities include a post-game dance regardless of who wins the grid meeting. But it will be a much more festive evening should the Greyhounds of Dick Copeland end their losing ways with a victory over the Braves.

Both teams come into the game tonight sporting losing streaks. Boone has dropped three in a row while the Hounds have been handed setbacks in their last two outings.

The Braves opened much like the Greyhounds, pulling a surprise and opening the Pioneers of Oak Ridge by a 13-0 count. But since that time they have lost to Winter Park 38-0, Daytona Mainland, 13-6 and Colonial, 25-14.

The loss to Colonial found the Braves regrouping themselves and coming up with their best effort since the victory over Oak Ridge. They were in command of the Grendriers for the best part of three quarters only to falter at the end.

Boone has an evenly balanced attack when they are able to get it in gear. In the loss to Colonial they rushed for 125 yards and added another 112 through the air, on six of 12 passes. Both of their touchdowns against the Grendriers came via passes as quarterback Chuck Averra teamed with Mark Evans for both scores on tosses of six and 27 yards.

But perhaps more important than their offensive effort last week was the performance of the Boone defense. Especially so in their stopping of Colonial ace Tom Arrant, who had been running over everyone, including Lyman, Boone's defense contained Arrant, holding him to only 44 yards total rushing.

Defensively it should be Glenn Hill and Ben Craft at the ends; Phil Fader and White at the tackles; Warren, Paul Kelley, Clay Phillips and Mike Tennyson at linebackers; Terry Travis and Rich Stokes at halfbacks and John Mitchell at safety.

Tonight marks the fifth straight home game for the Greyhounds who play eight of their 10 games at their own field.

Trinity Prep Defends Its 3-0 Record

By J. RICHARDS Herald Sports Staff

Undefeated Class A Trinity Prep, ranked 19th statewide and sporting a 3-0 mark, treks to Jacksonville today at 4 p.m. to renew a growing rivalry with the number 10 ranked Class AA Jacksonville Episcopal, which boasts a 3-1 record card.

Calling this "one of our biggest games," Trinity head coach Tom Ruby places state title hopes against a team the Saints had a lot of trouble putting away last year, 20-18.

"Their only tie was to an undefeated Crescent City club," Ruby related, "and we know they'll be out after us." Class A Trinity Prep has had the last week off, working on improving offensive timing and polishing their successful Wishbone - "T" attack that recently unhinged Sanford Naval Academy 56-0. If Trinity's bruising fullback Mike "Red" Austin can power behind the blocking of Rob Knowles, Lou deGanahl and Brad Purdum, center and guard the Saints may be able to tighten Episcopal's rugged defense enough to spring fleet-footed running back Lawrence Cleveland for some of his patented running magic.

Greg Miles, who fills out the other halfback slot on the Wishbone, compounds the inside-outside running threat for Trinity. "We'll try to utilize our backfield's speed advantage, but we have to gain control of the running game first," Ruby said, pointing out that Jacksonville's multiple "I" set formations favors much the same kind of running attack as Trinity's. Most of the Saints' depth is in the backfields, and Trinity can field almost two completely different units that Coach Ruby feels confident in.

Most of the Saints' depth is in the backfields, and Trinity can field almost two completely different units that Coach Ruby feels confident in.

There's a three way tie for the points lead in the District 3-A race and part of that situation may be resolved when the prep gridgers return to action tonight.

Ruby's Trinity Prep Saints, unbeaten in three games, are one of the three teams tied for the lead. They'll be returning to action after a week off.

Opposing the Saints will be Jacksonville Episcopal, currently fighting for a playoff spot in District 4-A. Episcopal is also unbeaten but has a tie game marring their record.

Trinity Prep has 30 points in its District 3-A battle which puts them in a tie with Sarasota Mooney (3-0) and Tampa Temple Heights (3-1). Also in the same district and only 10 points back are Clearwater Catholic and Tampa Berkley, both of which have 2-2 records.

Without a doubt the District 3-A chase is the closest of any in the state. There are but five teams in the district.

In District 3-AAAA the top spot belongs to the Wildcats of Winter Park and their 4-0 mark. The Wildcats, however, do not have much room to breathe. Their 34 points is but six more than Gainesville and Edgewater. Gainesville's mark is in jeopardy, however, since they are slated to meet unbeaten Lakeland Kathleen tonight.

The Lyman Greyhounds have 20 points with their 2-2 record. Sanford Seminole continues to share the bottom spot with Oak Ridge and that situation will be resolved tonight when the two clash at Oak Ridge.

Oviedo's Lions are part of a three-way tie for the cellar in District 5-AAA along with Cocoa and Jones. All have 0-4 records and it appears they all will remain tied after this week's action. The lead in 5-AAA is shared by Cocoa Beach, Leesburg and Ocala Forest, all with 3-1 records and 30 points.

Lions Entertain Lakeview Tonight

By GREG SINDAD Herald Sports Staff

The Oviedo Lions meet the Lakeview Red Devils tonight in Oviedo and the Lions will again be looking for their first win. Oviedo is 0-4 and has badly beaten last week by Apopka, 56-7. But this week the team has made a number of major changes, both in strategy and in personnel.

In a big move, Frank Gooch has taken over for Greg Washington at quarterback, with Washington being moved to the backfield. The Lions will probably go to the air more tonight than in recent weeks, but they will still want to establish their running attack.

This week has been quite hectic at Oviedo, with all the changes that have been made, and it has been a difficult job preparing an entire new offense and defense in only one week. Tonight will tell just how well the team has been prepared.

The defense has also undergone some drastic changes which is not too surprising after their performance against the Blue Darters last week. The Darters shredded the defensive secondary with passes and the Apopka running backs had very little trouble in picking up good yardage against the Lions. There will probably be some new numbers on the defensive squad as well when the team takes the field tonight and this is all part of the Oviedo coaching staff's attempt to put a game in the win column.

Against Lakeview tonight, the Lions face a strong running attack from a team that will remain on the ground for most of the evening. Lakeview runs its offense from the power-T formation and they have several good running backs that could give the rearranged Oviedo defense some problems. The Lions could also have a problem in controlling a Red

WE'RE ALL ROOTING FOR OUR TEAM TO BE...

on Frosty's Fairway by Ron Frost

The 1972-73 season of the Mayfair Mens Golf Association got started with a tremendous charge last weekend as nearly 70 members competed in the first of many tournaments. It was an individual points tourney which seems to be one of the more popular events in golf.

Harold Brooks carded a fine 76 which included a 35 on the back side and racked up a plus nine to capture first place money. Some "new member" by the name of JOHN PIERCE, who I understand needs to be watched very closely, now scrounged up enough points to finish at plus eight and second place. All kidding aside though, I don't know what we would do sometimes without John. Third place went to Clyde Robertson at plus seven. In fourth place with a plus six was Earl Higginbotham, while R.C. Whitmore took fifth spot. Six players finished in a tie for sixth place at plus four. They included the likes of Henry Tamm, Bud Richards, Doc McCullum, Ernie Horrell, Marion Roberts and my good friend and foe Ralph Simas.

Seventh place also was bunched with four more players sharing that prize. Bill Somerville, Frank Hahn, Dave McCoy and my old buddy Fletcher Cockerill all ended play with plus three. Jack McGrotha and Fred Hoffower rounded off the winners circle by finishing at plus two.

The members of the Mayfair Womens Golf Association were to play their second round of the Roberts Golf Tournament this past Wednesday but will need rain halted the event until next week.

Rolling Hills

It was annual member-guest time at R-H last weekend and according to publicity chairman Bill Munn, it was a huge success. One hundred and thirty-four members and guests participated in the two day affair which finished on Sunday evening with an awards banquet.

Prizes were awarded for individual efforts in low gross and low net for each day, team prizes for low gross and low net as well as some special awards for closest to the pin on each day.

In the individual honors category, Don Reed captured the low gross prize in Saturday's play with a 73. Fred Peithman took second in that event with a 74. Low net on Saturday went to M. Reese with a 66 while Joe Roberts took second with 67. On Sunday, L. Carrier laid a two under par 70 to win low gross for the day. Gordon Gibb won second with a one over par 73. Low net for Sunday went to M. Weaver with a 62 while Virgil Johnson won second with a 64. Eddie Miller won closest to the pin at the 11th hole Saturday. Eddie's ball came to a stop six feet, two inches from the cup. On Sunday, Dick Bellows came about as close as one can get without scoring an ace. Dick's ball came to rest just 1/2 inches from the hole. This was also at the 11th green.

In the team category, member Eddie Miller and guest Terry Rivers combined for the low gross of the event with a 118. Well known Jack Schubert and his guest Don Reed finished three strokes back at 141 giving them second place. Dick Smith and his guest Steve Slack, captured the two day low net award with a 117 which was 27 under par. Harry Tucker and M. Weaver were second place winners with a 120. The next five places in order were won by Dean Grove and Jack Jones 122, Bob Yeasty and Bob Nolin 122, Virgil Johnson and Dick Higley 124, Ted Hayes and Jay Kiraly 127 as were Frank Eaton Sr. and Fred Peithman.

The members of the Rolling Hills Womens Golf Association played their second rounds in the Fall Handicap Golf Tournament which is a match play event. The first round losers also played their first rounds for consolation in each flight.

In Championship flight, it was Peg Johnson over Gail McNary 1 up (11 holes), Edna Gustand over Joan Day 1-2, Fritz Cook over Milla La Roche 4-3 and Edith Galt over Lou Scott by default.

Consolation Championship Flight-Barbara Priver over Gene Harris 1-up, Charlotte Andrews over Sue Hughes 3-2, Celia Calhoun over Thos Mitchell 3-2, and Virginia Stockman over Helen Bliss 1-up.

First flight saw Margaret Partlow over Oris Martin 1-up, Sally Casick over Joan Goddard 3-2, Rose Mary Start 1-up, Mary Weaver 4-3 and Doris Bortner over Ann Pittner 2-up. First Flight Consolation, Dot Norman over Peg Gordon 2-1, Mary Nicholson over Charlotte Creaman 4-3, Lucy Weiman over Gloria Coleman 4-3 and Eloise Guest was lucky enough to draw a bye.

Second flight, it was Jan Radigan over Rose Hornize 2-1, Flomy Lann over Freddie Taylor 4-3, Ilae Lanigan over Mary Bradley and Ruth Chenoweth over Russell 4-3.

Second flight consolation, Jeanette Kiddler over Bert Renella by default, Thelma Jenkins over Cookie Claus 4-2, Katie Marshall over Vivian Quick 6-4, and Babe Lenz over Betty Marshall 2-up.

Third flight, Bernice Morris over Gail Williams 1-up, Martha Franklin over Shirley Ely 3-2, Madeline Maryedy over Cathy Munn 3-2 and Jean Dresse defeated Mary Lou Linton 6-4.

Third flight consolation, Doris Kobolyk over Fran Lee by default, Phyllis Cardascia over Esther Mullins 2-1, Nancy Brunner over Lucille Mathewson 1-up and Alice Schultz over Marcia Hixson 2-1.

Somehow or other there was a fourth flight that started and finished in just two weeks. We find that the winner was Grace Mellow who defeated Vivian Jones 5-4.

Semi-final rounds will be played next Thursday with the finals the following week.

Campbell To Disney

Singer Glenn Campbell and Dean Beman, winner of the recent $100,000 Quad Cities Open, have added their names to the star-studded Pro-Am Tournament of the second Annual Walt Disney World Golf Championship.

Beman also will compete in the four-day, 72-hole $150,000 Championship, scheduled for Nov. 30 through Dec. 3 over the Palm and Magnolia Courses at the Central Florida Vacation Kingdom, facing such formidable competitors as Jack Nicklaus, winner of last year's inaugural tournament, Arnold Palmer, Julius Boros and Frank Beard.

Another new name in the Nov. 29 celebrity Pro-Am, preliminary to the final tournament of the 1972 Professional Golf Association tour, is actor Fred MacMurray. Other entertainment world celebrities already committed are orchestra leader Lawrence Welk and singer-composer Bobby Goldsboro.

Practice and qualifying rounds will be played Nov. 27 and 28. Both courses have been lengthened and toughened for the assault by the professional golfers. Nicklaus' win last year earned him first place money of $30,000 and the all-time annual winnings crown.

Tickets outlets include all Sears stores in the Orlando and Tampa areas, the six First National Banks of Orlando, Walt Disney World, Martin-Marietta, McCoy Air Force Base, Orlando Naval Training and Honeywell in St. Petersburg, Fla.

First Since 1931 Oakland 'Runs' To Capture Pennant

By LARRY PALADINO Associated Press Sports Writer DETROIT (AP) — In 1931 Herbert Hoover was President, champagne was illegal, and Manager Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics were the American League baseball champions.

A lot has changed in the 41 years since but one thing is the same—the Athletics, now of Oakland, are again AL champions.

They will carry the pennant into Cincinnati where they'll face the National League champion Reds beginning Saturday in the World Series.

It took the maximum of five games, but the Athletics finally overcame the Detroit Tigers with a 2-1 victory Thursday to take the AL playoffs.

The day I got traded (from the Chicago Cubs) Dick Williams called me at my home and said, 'We're going to put you in the World Series. And damned if he didn't,' said Oakland pitcher Ken Holtzman.

Most of his teammates were exploding champagne corks, splashing beer, hugging each other, and yelling with joy. Even millionaire owner Charlie Finley joined in, pouring champagne on dry heads and crying with happiness at the moment which seemed to be slipping away after Tiger victories Tuesday and Wednesday.

Holtzman is Manager Williams' choice to pitch the Series opener and the A's will have suspended shortstop Bert Campaneris back in action, although Reggie Jackson broke at a pulled hamstring muscle suffered in a successful steal of home plate Thursday.

The A's won Thursday on the strong arms of John "Blue Moon" Odom and Vida Blue, plus some questionable Tiger fielding and the running of Jackson and his replacement, George Hendrick. Winner Odom gave up an earned run in the first inning as he pitched a two-hitter for five frames before getting an upset stomach. Blue finished the job with a lightning fastball, allowing three harmless singles in picking up the save.

Campaneris, suspended by AL President Joe Cronin for the last three playoff games for throwing a bat at Detroit pitcher Lerrin LaGross, joined in the Oakland post-game bedlam but wasn't saying much.

It was learned Thursday night that Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn will permit Campaneris to play in the Series, but he is still pending approval from the Oakland A's.

Jackson opened the A's second with a walk off loser Woodie Fryman, stole second, and reached third on a long fly out by Sal Bando.

Mike Epstein was hit with a pitch and Gene Tenace struck out before Epstein broke for second on a steal, hoping Tiger catcher Bill Freehan would throw to second and give Jackson a chance to steal home. And that's what Freehan did, both runners sliding in safe.

Jackson was injured in the slide and replaced by Hendrick, who reached first leading off the fourth on a throwing error.

Hendrick took second on Sal Bando's bunt and scored the winning run on a single by Tenace.

Left fielder Dave Sims was a little slow getting the ball out of his glove on the hit. It was a close play at the plate and Freehan let the throw slip away; however, Hendrick was ruled safe before that.

pitching question mark, right-maybe three times," Anderson noted. "The A's have Jim Hunter, John Odom, Ken Holtzman, Vida Blue and a darn good bullpen."

Anderson said of his own team that the Reds' pitching was 50 per cent stronger than it was in 1970 against Baltimore. Cincinnati does have one run, have good pitching and a fine defense. And they've got some good bats in Reggie Jackson, Joe Rudi, Mike Epstein and Sal Bando."

The Cincinnati manager said Oakland posed a different problem from a pitching standpoint than Detroit would have presented.

"If the Tigers had won, we would have had to look at Lelich maybe three times," Anderson noted. "I had never been to a World Series. I was just so glad to be there in Cincinnati. The whole season was just that way. I remember the reaction in Cincinnati when I got the job. They said Sparky who?"

Every play at the Series couldn't understand how I could be so nice after losing. Well, I was so glad to be there I didn't realize until I got home that we had just lost four games in a row.

Anderson watched the A's go ahead of the Tigers 2-1, then win by that score.

"Oakland has great balance," Anderson said. "They can run, have good pitching and a fine defense. And they've got some good bats in Reggie Jackson, Joe Rudi, Mike Epstein and Sal Bando."

The Cincinnati manager said Oakland posed a different problem from a pitching standpoint than Detroit would have presented.

"If the Tigers had won, we would have had to look at Lelich maybe three times," Anderson noted. "I had never been to a World Series. I was just so glad to be there in Cincinnati. The whole season was just that way. I remember the reaction in Cincinnati when I got the job. They said Sparky who?"

Every play at the Series couldn't understand how I could be so nice after losing. Well, I was so glad to be there I didn't realize until I got home that we had just lost four games in a row.

Anderson watched the A's go ahead of the Tigers 2-1, then win by that score.

"Oakland has great balance," Anderson said. "They can run, have good pitching and a fine defense. And they've got some good bats in Reggie Jackson, Joe Rudi, Mike Epstein and Sal Bando."

Commission Candidates Woo Members Of C of C

By DONNA ESTES

ALAMONTE SPRINGS — Some 75 to 100 local business men and women attended the monthly program meeting of the Maitland-South Seminole Chamber of Commerce Thursday to hear candidates of both parties for elective office in Seminole state their platform.

Dick Williams, Republican candidate for the district 3 seat on the County Commission, called on the citizens and elected officials of the county to "reject both growth at any price and growth now with solutions later."

"Quality growth attracts quality business which in turn attracts quality growth for a quality life," the candidate declared. He suggested three changes in current thinking as far as zoning is concerned.

Incumbent Commissioner Al Davis, during his allotted time, pointed to his record of holding taxes to a minimum, noting he had voted against the county budget this year because of deficit spending in some departments. He gave as one example the location of the motor vehicle inspection station in Sanlando.

Davis invited attention to the fact he has consistently supported the sheriff's department, prosecuting attorney's office and the judiciary budgetarily. He said he has followed the county's land use plan for orderly, constructive and economic growth.

The need to attract more business and industry to Seminole to broaden the county's tax base was stressed by Don Struble, GOP candidate for the district 1 seat on the County Commission.

Struble, identifying himself as an advocate of residents' rights said the question now confronting officials and the people is one of not only orderly growth but the speed of growth. He said a major problem is the fact that most tax dollars in Seminole come from homeowners.

"Within four years there will be many striking solutions to the problems of growth and density," he predicted. Pointing to his background as vice president of one of Central Florida's largest financial institutions, an organizer of two corporations and as president and business consultant of a company specializing in business systems, he said as a commissioner he could work with the port authority, the industrial development board and the Chambers of Commerce.

J. M. "Mike" Hattaway, democratic nominee for the district 1 seat, a native of Seminole, called the job of a Seminole commissioner a demanding one and pledged if elected he would devote full time to the office.

Noting he resigned his position with a national insurance company last summer in preparation for the county office, Hattaway said he now is spending full time in the county.

Having attended County Commission meetings on a regular basis, the young businessman said he will give a "total effort" to the job. He advocates continuous updating of the county's land use plan.

Saying that many times the problems of individuals have been treated lightly and the individuals themselves treated in an impolite way, Hattaway said he would respond to the wants and needs of the people. He termed a vote for him one for a clean, conservative government.

He also mentioned that he would respond to the wants and needs of the people. He termed a vote for him one for a clean, conservative government.

Overrun Border Camp Reds Renew Offensive

By GEORGE ESPER

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese forces today overrun the Ben Het border camp in the central highlands, a legacy from the Green Berets that had withstood years of assaults.

A two-day attack drove South Vietnamese forces from the camp for the first time in the war. This coupled with increased attacks in other parts of the highlands apparently signaled a renewal there of the of-

THE FIRST of probably seven or eight barges pulled into the Sanford Port late last night with concrete pilings to be used in the construction of the Orlando East-West Expressway. According to Port Administrator Jim Ryan these barges will be frequent visitors to the area, in a continuing series of barging additional construction materials for major projects in the Central Florida area.

Jailed For Contempt Scribe Stands Firm

By LEW HEAD

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — "I'll serve as long as necessary. The longer I stay here the stronger my resolution becomes," says Peter Bridge, the newspaper reporter who was jailed for refusing to answer questions before a grand jury.

Bridge maintains that if he yields it would be an act of surrender of the free press.

The 36-year-old city hall reporter for the former Evening News of Newark could go free if he would answer five questions out of 85 put to him by the Essex County grand jury, but he maintains that would be a betrayal of his news sources.

"I may be the first reporter in jail but I'm afraid I won't be the last," Bridge said in an interview Thursday. "I think the government has tried with me a frontal attack on the freedom of the press. I consider myself no more and no less than a representative of the free press."

"If I were to give up I would surrender that free press to those who don't really want it. To do that would be to betray that much larger segment of society that not only wants it but needs it. Newsmen under New Jersey law have a right to protect their confidential sources," says Peter Bridge, the newspaper reporter who was jailed for refusing to answer questions before a grand jury.

The mountain top camp is just east of the triborder region where the frontiers of South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos meet. It was established as an observation post to track North Vietnamese infiltration along the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

Muskie Claims Sabotage

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie says his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination was riddled with an "astounding espionage" of incidents of apparent sabotage.

Though sidestepping accusing specific individuals, the Maine Democrat and his staff suggested Thursday that Republicans were to blame.

Muskie said he has not ruled out the possibility of filing suit against the Committee for the Re-election of the President and certain White House officials linked in published reports of alleged sabotage.

The occurrences labeled suspicious by the Muskie staff peaked during the period the senator was considered the frontrunner for the nomination subsequently won by Sen. George McGovern.

The incidents dropped off when Muskie's campaign faltered. The list released by the Muskie staff included possible cases of wiretapping, stolen documents, forged campaign literature, false news releases, and bogus telephone calls arousing voters in the middle of the night.

The list was prefaced with the admonition that the incidents had not been thoroughly investigated and were "not intended at this time as charges against any individual or group."

John T. McEvoy, the senator's administrative assistant, said the incidents "were not undertaken in the spirit of fun. They were undertaken to destroy a candidate."

3 Nixon Aides To Testify

MIAMI (AP)—Three of President Nixon's top fund raisers have been ordered to appear as material witnesses in the Florida trial of Watergate defendant Bernard L. Barker.

Barker, is one of five men arrested in the break-in of Democratic headquarters in Washington and is accused of misuse of a notary public seal on a $25,000 campaign check from Kenneth Dahlberg, Republican finance chairman for the Midwest.

Dade County Criminal Court Judge Paul Baker signed an extradition order Thursday for Dahlberg, former Secretary of the Treasury Maurice Stans and Hugh W. Sloan to appear at the Oct. 26 trial in Miami.

Meanwhile, Barker's attorneys subpoenaed The Associated Press, United Press International, 13 radio stations and six television stations in the Miami area to appear at a pretrial hearing today.

The subpoenas sought tapes, transcripts and files of news stories concerning "the Watergate-Caper."

Barker's order for the extradition of the three Republican figures said their appearance "could not be secured voluntarily."

Barker, a 58-year-old former Central Intelligence Agency operative, is accused of fraudulently using his notary public seal to acknowledge Dahlberg's signature on the $25,000 cashier's check.

The money, part of $108,000 from the Committee to Re-Elect the President, went through Barker's bank account at the Republic National Bank prior to June 17.

On McGovern Tape War Horror Told

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

AP Political Writer MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — As hundreds of thousands listened, the voice of an anonymous young man describing the horrors of Vietnam poured from loudspeakers across the vast mall of the University of Minnesota.

"I don't think the American people really, really understand war and what's going on," the voice began. "We went into villages after they dropped napalm, and the human beings were fused together. They were fused like pieces of metal that had been soldered," he said.

"Sometimes you couldn't tell if they were people or animals." The voice stopped. There was silence.

Finally Sen. George McGovern said, "I guess there is nothing more to say after that except that this is a young man who has spoken the truth and now I think it's up to us to take the next step which is to change the kind of leadership that put the young man in the position out of which he's just come.

"So let's go out and do the job that we need to do and put a new leadership in charge of this country next year."

Some applauded, though most of the predominantly student crowd stood quietly. By newsmen's estimates, 10,000 were there Thursday night.

3 Astronauts To Shower

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. (AP) — Astronauts on the Skylab mission will be able to wash that space dust right out of their hair with a shower system designed for zero-gravity environment.

When the Skylab workshop is placed in orbit next year, astronauts Charles Conrad Jr., Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin and Paul J. Weitz will be able to take earth-type shower baths, thanks to the ingenuity of researchers at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Langley Research Center.

The shower cubicle, according to John B. Hall Jr. of LARC, is a collapsible fabric arrangement which will be anchored to the spacecraft's deck and opened only when needed to save space for the number of other experiments planned during the venture.

To overcome the flow problem, the researchers devised a vacuum-towel technique in them to the storage site. In addition, the bath uses special towels.

Orange Yield Up Record Crop Seen

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Florida Department of Citrus head Edward A. Taylor told growers not to be alarmed Thursday following the U.S. Department of Agriculture's prediction of a record 174 million-box Florida orange crop for the 1972-73 season.

Although the forecast is some 37 million boxes above the 1971-72 crop total of 137 million boxes, citrus industry officials were quick to caution consumers the estimate doesn't necessarily herald a drop in the prices of orange product.

Taylor said he felt industry reaction "would be in dramatic contrast to some past years when reports of record crops would cause widespread alarm."

"The estimate doesn't come as a complete surprise," the executive director of the DOC said. "The Department of Citrus is prepared with the most comprehensive marketing plans ever developed and I believe every other marketing organization in the country will be approaching the new system with a great deal of confidence."

The report, issued in Washington, said Florida production of early, midseason and naval oranges was forecast at 92 million boxes, up 34 per cent from 68.8 million boxes harvested last season. The state's Valencia production was put at 82 million boxes, up 20 per cent from last season.

Florida's grapefruit production, forecast, however was down. It was estimated at 45 million boxes for 1972-73, compared with 47 million last year. The Florida temple crop was off, too, with 5 million boxes predicted, compared with 5.3 million last year.

Tom Osborne, executive director of Florida Citrus Mutual, the state's largest grower organization, said the government's estimate of 27 million more boxes of oranges this year represents "the single greatest opportunity the industry has ever had."

Secretaries Enroll In 'Personality At Work'

Some 78 senior secretaries at Florida Tech University currently are enrolled in a 3-part seminar entitled "Personality at Work" being conducted by Mrs. Marilyn French Aspley, of Winter Park, a former director in Chicago's Dartnell Corporation, author and editor.

The sessions, which will be held over a three-week period, will feature such subjects as "Are You Reactions Human?", "Your Sense of Direction," and "Accent on Better Communications."

All of the women attending are secretaries who hold positions with senior responsibilities at the University. Coordinator for the series is Mildred A. Kennedy, executive secretary to FTU President Charles N. Millican.

Mrs. Aspley, who is listed in "Who's Who of American Women," and author of "Keys to Etiquette for the Business Girl," previously had conducted the Dartnell "Personality in Business" seminars for office women.

Since moving to Winter Park, she has become actively involved in a number of local organizations. She is an officer and publicity chairman for Central Florida Civic Theatre and for the Civic Theatre Guild.

She also is on the Loch Haven Society board and is chairman of The Town Club of Winter Park.

MRS. MARILYN FRENCH ASPLEY, author and editor, will conduct a three-part seminar for secretaries at Florida Technological University.

Women Pay Tribute To Housekeeper For Loyal Service

By ANN SIECZKOWSKI

At a recent meeting of the All Souls Catholic Women's Club, tribute was paid to a very grand lady who has been of inestimable value and service to the club, to the parish and to the priests who have served the parish for more than 20 years.

This warm and generous woman is Anna Jansen. She has been housekeeper for the priests of All Souls at the rectory for at least 20 years.

But that never deterred her from giving of herself to the parish festivals, to the bake sales, to service to the catholic woman's club as a worker, not just as a member.

She has brought so much comfort and joy to all who have known her and so it was with a great deal of pleasure that the members of the club honored her on this very special occasion.

Mrs. Nina Crouse, president of the Woman's Club at All Souls, presented Anna with a beautiful pair of diamond pierced earrings as a memento of the great affection and regard with which she is accorded by all of the members.

Shower Honors Mrs. Hamlin

Mrs. Hiram Hamlin was guest of honor at a baby shower given recently at the South Cameron Avenue home of Mrs. B. J. Dreggers.

Assisting Mrs. Dreggers as hostesses were her daughter, Miss Debby Smith, and Miss Louise Priest, and Miss Sandy Stiefried, who led the guests in get-acquainted and other appropriate games.

Mrs. Hamlin, wearing a red dotted-Swiss dress and a carnation corsage, was presented her gifts in a white bassinet. She opened the many lovely and useful items as pictures were taken.

A white cloth covered the refreshment table which held a bouquet of pink, blue and white daisies. The large white cake was decorated with designs of baby blocks, booties, pretty bows and tiny flowers, all in pastel colors.

A tall stark stood on each side of the table and hanging from the ceiling were blue streamers holding a pink parasol with baby rattles attached at each rib-point.

With the cake, the hostesses served punch, coffee, and delicacies of filled crackers with olives on toothpicks. Novel favors holding mints were pink and blue waxed-cups in the shape of an old-fashioned diaper fastened with a little gold pin which were made by one of the guests.

Enjoying the occasion with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. O. L. Woody and her sister, Miss Diana Woody.

Also Mrs. B. W. Hodricks, R. L. Harris, Barbara Mason, B. E. Richardson, H. C. Harris, Gerald Young and R. D. Priest.

Also the Misses Beth Hall, Beth Mason, Trudy Brooklin, Sue McIntosh, Pam King and Tammy Driggers.

Book Provides Women With New Role Models

By PEACE MOFFAT
AP Newswriters Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Joyce Teitz could have written about herself.

After all, she's the personification of a liberated woman — 28-years-old, the graduate of Harvard law school who successfully coordinated the Coalition Against the SST in Washington, D.C.

But when Miss Teitz wanted to offer models of liberated women in book form, she chose to write about others — a broadcast journalist, lawyer, physician, oceanographer, physicist, company president, campaign committee chairman, economist, foreign service officer, systems analyst and writer. The result is, "What's a Nice Girl Like You Doing in a Place Like This?"

Here for a brief visit, Miss Teitz explained why she wrote the book. "When I started working, I found other working women who were admirable, and who had satisfying personal lives, but who weren't emancipating, as liberated women were said to be. I thought then how helpful it would have been to have had models like that earlier. So one point was to provide role models for women, and another was, indirectly, to congratulate women who have worked all alone.

"I felt it was important to go step by step," she continues. "I wanted a personal approach to show the women were real people."

The liberated women Miss Teitz wrote about do not know each other. Eight are married, six have children and only two are actively involved in the feminist movement. Their lives are different, but according to Miss Teitz, who spent three months interviewing her subjects, they share several qualities.

"They are pioneers," she says. "In realizing personal aims, they have created new roles which integrate a working life into a personal one. They share some problems, including a lot of pressure. Several said, 'I'm a better wife and mother because I work.' That's true, but there are moments when they're not better wives and mothers because their work doesn't permit them to be there.

"But it's better than being washed-out women," she goes on. "It seems to me that when a woman works, she looks better, has more money, is more interesting and often is very glamorous."

Miss Teitz adds that the single women still think of marriage as a valid goal, though not necessarily for themselves, and that frequently in the home, the married women still perform traditional roles such as cooking and cleaning.

"Only two husbands do an equal amount of work in the home," Miss Teitz notes. "A third does a lot, but his wife still feels it is her role. Several of the women said they work long hours."

In spite of the problems, though, Miss Teitz thinks the costs of pursuing meaningful careers to the women involved were slight, and the rewards great. "It just seems that everything improves when a woman is working," she says.

The author's own background was career-oriented, but she recalls that when she was 19, nobody suggested she might want to go to law school. In fact, when Miss Teitz was 20, she took an aptitude test and recalls, "the results showed I was good at working with people and good with words. That's perfect for a lawyer, but what was suggestive was that I become an English teacher."

Long blonde-haired, soft-spoken and recently married, Miss Teitz says she isn't a feminist who considers men "the enemy."

"For a while I thought women were the enemy," she says. "And I had a very hard time being sympathetic to women who put other women down. Such a woman," she explains, "is one who is not satisfied to lead what she considers to be a fulfilling and traditional life, but who has to try to find that kind of life off on other women too."

Now, with the women's liberation movement, however, Miss Teitz thinks the tide is turning. In fact, she says, "It's harder now for women who want to stay at home. But for women who want to work — it's easier."

The concert season is underway! Happiness, during these trying days, just could be membership into Seminole County Mutual Concert Association!

Hurry! Deadline for joining the association is Friday, Oct. 20, with a few memberships still left.

During the 1972-73 season, the concert association has three top-notch performances scheduled which promises to be the most exciting season of them all.

Beginning the exciting series on Nov. 14, will be the appearance of Hildegarde, the international chanteuse, who will perform with great excellence at the piano, sing her incomparable songs and tell her distinctive tales, as only the talented artist can do.

Adding warmth to the cold, cold winter will be Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians who will appear here on Feb. 8, 1973.

Ushering in spring with pomp and pageantry is the Florida Symphony Orchestra on March 27, 1973.

As a prelude to the Holiday Season, SCMCA will sponsor the annual winter gala, the Champagne Ball, with SCMCA patrons receiving first option to attend the glittering affair. Site of this year's ball is Mayfair Country Club, Dec. 2, to get the social season underway.

Membership into the concert association is a community endeavor and the 1972-73 season is open to all persons desiring to keep this phase of keeping culture alive in the area. There are no restrictions and all are welcome to participate.

Concert membership chairmen are Mrs. Rose Southard and Mrs. Jenice Springfield, Florida State Bank. Further information may be obtained from any member of the board of Directors and Mrs. Walter A. Gielow and Doris Williams at The Sanford Herald.

CARROLL RIGHTER'S horoscope

from the Carroll Righter Institute

GENERAL TENDENCIES: By smiling and showing you are willing to be of service to others, you can make this a productive action on your part.

TAURUS (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Any outside duties you may have should be handled from the standpoint of cooperation with those you get right to work on it over those so much.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) You have some fine ideas and methods for getting appearance improved before you get busy with other contracts you make. Do not lose touch with time-wasters.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you contact experts early, you know how to handle pressures that are confusing right now. Do not criticize mate but give encouragement.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you do some extra work for associates today, you will cement far better relations with them. Remain poised during those possible upset where the public is concerned. Think logically.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Get busy early improving your appearance so you are at your best and feel sure of yourself when you then get those dull duties behind you that are nonetheless important. Avoid one who likes to downgrade you.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You are in the mood for a good time and should follow along such lines so you feel and look happier. Take mate along with you and reach a better understanding. Don't forget to pay that bill first, though.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening to get a good rest and carefully think out the ways and means by which you can put your life on a more firm and practical foundation for greater satisfaction. Ideas are the best now for making your life more secure.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) That new plan you have in mind is fine provided you iron out the wrinkles in it and study the details well. Plan also how to deal to present roster of influential friends. Think constructively instead of pessimistically.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Your intuitive faculties are working very well and should be used for double-checking with your best judgment and common sense. Little courtesies extended to mate bring fine results. Avoid one who is a troublemaker.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can make fine plans with associates now for greater cooperation in the future that bring fine mutual benefits. Get that affair handled satisfactorily. Show you have real ability.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You can make requests of allies that gently now will be granted. Be sure you have good health. Show others you are truly a social lion, ioness.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get into the recreation that will make you forget worry, and you find you start the new week ahead refreshed. Think creatively so you make life more satisfying and prosperous. Get to bed early tonight.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get into practical matters at home and improve conditions there with kin. Rid yourself of what is a real nuisance to progress. Eliminate clutter and be sure you get that streamlined look.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Once you have attended services you prefer, make sure you contact persons you know and who are in the same interest here. Be a model for your endeavor. Talk over how to have more progress in the future. Get facts you need.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are capable of bringing ideas down to a practical level and about talk them with persons you want to have allied with you. A monetary expert can be most helpful. Consult with him or her.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Ideal day to think over what you are doing and how you are progressing. Set a goal and what is best to do in the future. Bring with congeniality and right if you go socially later. Avoid the new and untested wiser now.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Plan to have better contacts with friends and you contact with an expert who has the know-how, data you need. A period of meditation can be most helpful to you. Don't argue with anyone, if you can help it.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) You can now contact that elderly person who can be relied upon for good help and advice. One you know how to make more rapid strides in your vocation. One you meet socially can come up with fine ideas. Listen carefully.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young people who will have much ability at whatever has to do with property and property management, the stock market, or any other profession requiring good judgment and wise business methods, and should be taught early to be practical and to build career step by step, and to study in the same fashion. The nature here is a naturally serious one, but should be encouraged to use that fine sense early.

For Study Of Zoning Bids Urged

By MARION BETHEA
Richard Hanks made a hasty departure. Noticing that only Wendell Agee and George Deschambeau remained Dahn requested Farr cease his statements and the audience waited, and the remaining board waited.

Dahn told the audience that a governmental study group recommended there be no instantaneous decisions of the board as is the present policy.

Dahn said consideration is being given to hearing the presentations and deliberating them at length. The public, he said, would be informed of the decision through the news media.

Dahn solicited comment from the public as to a course of action. This contemplated action is coupled with a statement by County Planner David Farr that due to confusion last month as to the meaning of his statements concerning Heathrow, he would make no further recommendations but merely list good and bad points of presentations and let the board decide upon the issue.

Farr began his legal description of the property and is in the process of outlining the area on a map, when one by one board members unceremoniously began to depart.

By MARION BETHEA
Two defendants appeared before two different Circuit Court judges this week for sentencing.

John Byrd, charged with robbery in February, pleads guilty on June 6 to the lesser offense of conspiracy to commit a felony. A presentence investigation (PSI) was ordered by Circuit Judge Richard Muldrew and bond was reduced. On Oct. 5 PSI was concluded.

Byrd appeared this week before Circuit Judge Clarence Johnson. Probation and Parole Officer James Lee requested the defendant be remanded to custody because the defendant did not report or stay in contact with the probation officer. Judge Johnson remanded the defendant, cancelled bond and informed the defendant sentencing will be rescheduled by Judge Muldrew.

David Ross, charged with a three count information of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony, pleaded guilty on April 3 to the lesser offense of breaking and entering with intent to commit a misdemeanor. The state advised the other two counts would not be pursued (dropped) until completion of the PSI.

Ross appeared before Circuit Judge William Akridge this week, and the court granted a judgment of guilty and placed the defendant on probation for three years with 60 days to be served in county jail commencing from the date of sentencing. The state now pressed the other charges.

All members contribute to the expense of the United Nations organization, wealthy nations paying more than poorer ones. The United States pays a little less than one-third of the U.N.'s expenses. The state now should pay more than 30 percent of the U.N. budget.

Congratulations..... Had a woman call to tell me that "perhaps your safety reminders about driving with the headlights on," is starting to work. She said that from her home in Pinecrest, a distance of approximately 5 miles, all of the oncoming autos did have their headlights on... not a single one without lights!

And a special thank you to all of those concerned citizens who did in fact pitch-in and offer their aid at the tragic accident this past Saturday, on highway 17-92 near Lake Monroe.

According to FHP Dan Lawrence there were numerous deeds of personal heroism including one gentleman who backed his truck up to the other burning truck and pulled it away from the damaged auto in which some of the passengers were still trapped inside; of the young man who offered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, plus heart massage to one of the victims; to those who used their fire extinguishers in trying to put out the flames (one unit which is in the possession of the Florida Highway Patrol and waiting for it to be reclaimed).

All of these people are heroes...and we're certainly proud of them. They didn't turn their backs as has been reported in other parts of the country, here-of-late.

More "plaudits"...this time to the Seminole County Board of Commissioners...at tomorrow's meeting they have all good intentions of approving the minutes of previous meetings of August 22 and 29, as well as Sept. 5, 12, 19 and 26.

Thought that these are normally approved at the subsequent meeting, and not permitted to drag on?

For the record...received another call this morning by a Lake Mary resident who said "those were NOT Lake Mary residents at our chamber of commerce meeting Thursday night" who offered their opposition to the Heathrow project.

Curious...then where did they come from?

Traffic Crash Kills 2

By GARY TAYLOR

A fiery collision on U.S. 17-92 west of Sanford Saturday afternoon claimed the lives of two people and left another in a serious condition. The accident, termed by many officers at the scene as the "worst of 1972," boosted the Seminole County fatality count to 15 for the year.

Alfred S. Henley, 24, of 143 Mayfair Circle, Sanford, was dead at the scene, after efforts to revive him for a third time failed. Twice his heart stopped beating, but he was revived through mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and heart massage. After the third time, he would not respond to either effort.

According to Troopers D. S. (Dan) Lawrence and E. W. (Ernie) Jacobs of the Florida Highway Patrol, Henley was west-bound on U.S. 17-92 and came around a curve at a high rate of speed. He locked his brakes to avoid hitting the back of a slower car, and he skidded out of control nearly 200 feet in his 1967 Chevrolet pickup truck before going across the center line and was struck broadside by a 1971 Cadillac.

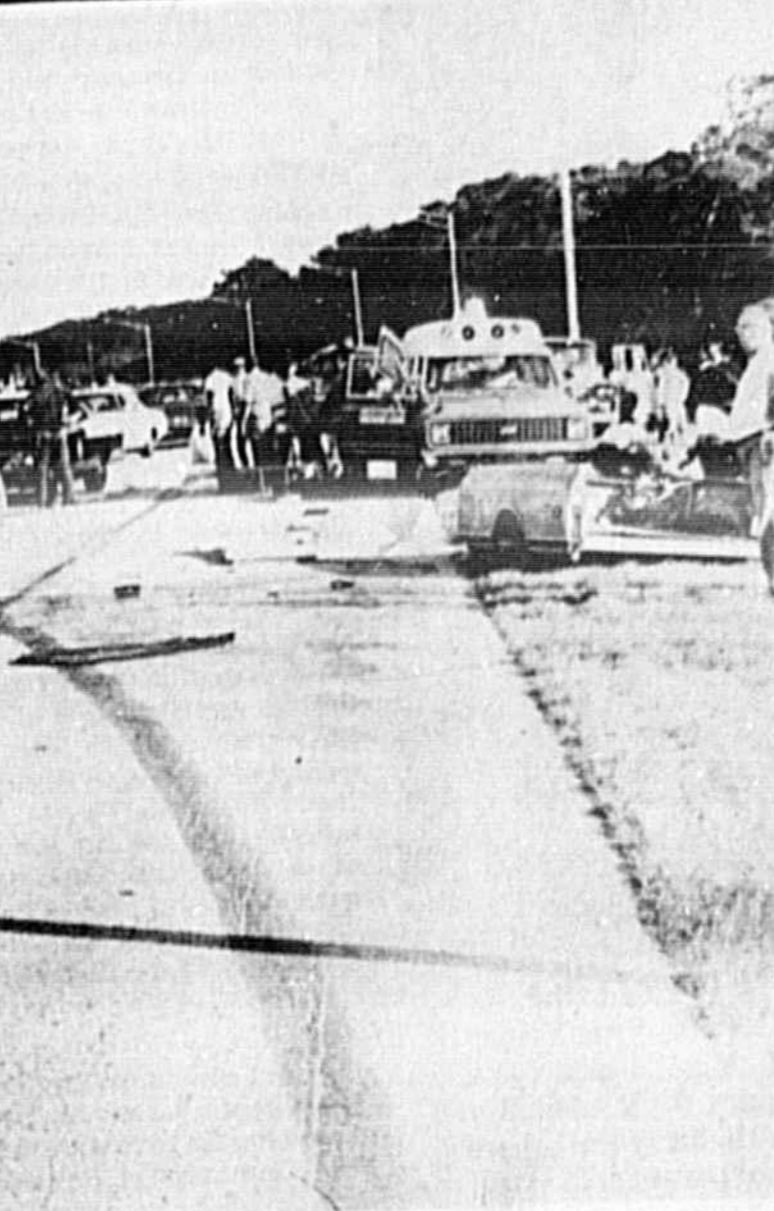

Waymon R. Willoughby, 71, of 492 S. Beach Street, Ormond Beach, was the driver of the Cadillac and is in serious condition at Florida Hospital, where the accident victims were taken by "Lifesaver One," Herndon Ambulance's helicopter. His wife, Clara C. Willoughby, 67, was dead on arrival.

According to Lawrence, the first law enforcement officer on the scene, the pickup truck burst into flames with Mrs. Willoughby still inside the car and the two vehicles together. An unidentified passer-by used a private vehicle and a chain to pull the burning truck away from the other wreckage, and an engine company from the Sanford fire department responded since a life was in danger.

Black Terrorists Linked In Murders Of 9 Whites

CHICAGO (AP) — Sheriff Richard J. Elrod says eight members of a black terrorist gang charged in the recent murders of nine persons were apparently "roaming the countryside looking for someone to kill."

Authorities said apparently not all of the eight men charged had participated in all slayings. Elrod told newsmen Sunday the nine white victims, including the members of two separate families, apparently were randomly selected by a Chicago street gang which he said called itself "De Mau Mau."

Pupil Adjustment Program Studied

Six Students Scheduled For Expulsion At Tonight's Meeting Of Seminole County School Board

Six Seminole High School students, said to have been involved in the recent student unrest at the school, are scheduled for expulsion proceedings during tonight's 7:30 p.m. Seminole County Board meeting.

Two of those to be expelled for the rest of the year are awaiting court action on assault and battery charges arising in the beating of two Sanford youths who required hospitalization.

Both have pleaded innocent to the charge. Originally scheduled for a week ago, action on the expulsions was delayed after only two of the five member School Board showed up for the regularly scheduled meeting.

A possible connection with the expulsions is the appearance tonight by David Hermann, project coordinator for Social Adjustment Education (ESAP), seeking board approval for a federally-funded Seminole County ESAP program to work with students and their parents who are alleged to be socially maladjusted by their violent conduct toward teachers and other students at school.

Hermann said the Office of Economic Operation (OEO) program would receive $100,000 to set up the Seminole County ESAP program, provided the School Board approved the program for Seminole County.

"We have the endorsement of all high and middle school principals," Hermann advised. The program is not included in elementary schools. The coordinator explained the program is now in its third year at Alachua County.

"Ninety per cent of socially maladjusted students usually return to the regular classrooms after receiving 30 days of ESAP," Hermann added. Dr. Mark Bear, director for the Alachua program will also be at tonight's meeting.

New PUD Concept Planned

A new building concept in planned unit developments (PUD) is ticketed for the east side of U.S. 17-92 on a 20-acre tract, an official with Royal Line Builders, developer, divulged today.

Norman Shiff, with Royal Line Builders of Winter Park, said today his company working with Environmental Design Group Planning, Inc., of Winter Park, in planning a revolutionary concept in PUD on the site, just outside Sanford.

Shiff declined to discuss the new idea of his concept, explaining his desire to await the reaction of the City of Sanford when it is presented to the City Commission at today's 4 p.m. work session.

"We expect to have preliminary plans ready by the first of the year," Shiff added. With a note of optimism, Shiff said he anticipated no problems with the new plan imposed by the state water and air pollution board prohibiting any further sewer hookups to the city plant.

Planned unit developments or PUDs, as they are shortened, utilize a complete residential development with certain portions set aside for development into single family, other acreage for multiple apartment development and still other areas partitioned for green recreational areas and commercial uses.

For Sheriff's Deputies Polk Seeks Pay Hike

The sheriff said the appeal to the Jacksonville office had been turned down and, if a regional appeal is not successful, then the next step would be to Washington.

Wage board has allowed no more than $2.75 per hour salary for the sheriff's employees. Other than the deputy increases, only two other employees would be affected, Polk said. These are the sheriff's bookkeeper and secretary, who were slated to receive $2.77 and $2.78 per hour, respectively.

Asbury Jones, deputy court clerk, said the county may be involved with the appeal, since on the whole the county had submitted a 10.6 average wage increase. However, most increases were six and seven per cent, Jones explained.

Request for $114,000 to cover deficits for the last year was made to the Seminole County Commission early this afternoon by the board of trustees of Seminole Memorial Hospital. The trustees requested and received $54,000 for the same purpose last year.

Yesterday's high 89 low this morning 64. Generally fair through Tuesday. Highs mid and upper 80s. Low tonight mostly mid and upper 60s.

A wave of unseasonably cold air settled into eastern half of the nation today chilling most of the Mid Atlantic, the Atlantic Seaboard, Gulf Coast states and the Southern Plains.
