Political Spy Linked To Nixon Staff

Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) - FBI documents indicate that President Nixon's appointments secretary and personal lawyer hired Donald H

Segretti, who has been identified in news stories as a political spy against the Democratic party The records were turned over to the Senate Judiciary Committee Wednesday by acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III. The committee is hearing testimony on Nixon's nomination of Gray to be permanent director. Gray returns to the witness stand today.

Gray's statement about Herbert W. Kalmbach. Nixon's lawyer and fund-raiser, and Dwight Chapin, the presidential appointments secretary, said in part: "Mr. Kalmbach said that in either August or

September 1971 he was contacted by Mr. Dwight

Chapin and was informed that Capt. Donald H. Segretti was about to get out of the military service and that he may be of service to the Re-

At Chapin's request, Gray said, Kalmbach 'did contact Segretti and agreed that Segretti would be paid $16,000 per year plus expenses, and he paid Segretti somewhere between $30,000 and $40,000 between Sept. 1, 1971, and March 15, 1972." Segretti's pay came from campaign centributions, Kalmbach said.

Gray said Kalmbach, a lawyer with offices in Newport Beach, Calif., told FBI agents that "he merely acted as a disbursing agent for Segretti's salary and expenses, and he has no idea how Segretti received his instructions or whom he reported to He said he had no knowledge of what Segretti was doing to justify these expenses or to earn his salary.

The acting director told senators also that an FBI check of telephone records showed that, between August 1971 and June 1972, Segretti was in telephone contact with the White House, Chapin's home and the home and office of E. Howard Hunt Jr., then a White House consultant.

Hunt was one of seven persons who pleaded guilty or were convicted of federal charges of breaking into and wiretapping Democratic national headquarters in the Watergate in

The Washington Post and other newspapers have written that Segretti and several other agents conducted a spying and sabotage campaign against Democratic presidential candidates last year

Meanwhile, Sen. John V. Tunney said Wednesday he's concerned about White House in fluence over Gray and the FBI, especially in the agency's investigation of the Watergate bugging.

"I'm trying to ascertain the degree of independence you had from White House counselors," Tunney, a California Democrat, said Wednesday after spending much of the afternoon probing the relationship between Gray and White House counsel John W. Dean III in the Watergate affair.

"I made it very clear from the beginning." Gray replied. "I told them I don't care how high this (investigation) reaches.

"I have turned down requests from the White House," he continued. "And, when I can't do it, I'm going to leave. I came to this town with a good reputation and integrity, and I'm going to take it with me, so help me God.

A work session to which representatives of Seminole's six cities will be invited is being scheduled for next Tuesday to assist the municipalities resolve their problems of trash and rubbish disposal. Following a report from Pollution Control Officer

Langley Adair that the City of Longwood was burning again at its trash dump last week, Commissioner Greg Drummond suggested the county could possibly offer a reduced rate for the cities at the county sanitary facility at Osceola. The commissioner said the county gets state funds for its sanitary landfill operations which cities do not receive. He urged that all cities be included in the work session as a 'consolidated effort."

It was reported road and bridge tax funds to be returned to the cities are: Sanford $42,099; Oviedo $5,052; Longwood $9,264; Altamonte Springs $24,877; Casselberry $28,039 and Winter Springs $2,905.

Bulking large in Asia's ideological and economic wars are the Philippines.

A nation of 7,100 islands spread across 115,000 square miles with a population of 42 million—of whom 4 per cent are Moslem and 83 per cent Roman Catholic-it has been in deteriorating turmoil for the last three years.

Creeping anarchy has been the way of life, with the highest per capita crime rate in the world, murder in the streets and violence in every extreme degree, private armies literally at war over smuggling supremacy, blackmarket domination and the protection racket. In the last year there have been a dozen occasions when the private warlords have stood up to the Philippine army in pitched battle.

A growing level of Communist-inspired subversion has complicated the problem. It is supported by the Red Chinese in the northern part of Luzon, and by the Soviet Union in Southern Luzon and the Moslem regions of Communism has fed on widespread corruption in government, price gouging, usurious interest and oppressive landlordism that held thousands of farmers in peonage.

President Ferdinand Marcos was losing control of the country-not to any one force but to a combination of these forces. To complicate matters. Marcos himself has a tremendous ego. a determination to consolidate his power and an almost imperious unwillingness to endure criticism from anyone. His undeniable charisma with the common people, his legendary fame as the Philippines' most decorated soldier of World War II, are in some degree neutralized by a growing image of high-handed vengefulness.

It was out of this dangerous mixture that the Marcos dictatorship exploded—one that is applan led by some, condemned just as strongly by dustrialized world may be going through a period of paradox. Here in the United States the country appears to be on the verge of a cumulative boom of record-breaking proportions. Yet there is a pessimism here and abroad relating to our economy. And the stock market-traditionally a four-month to six-month harbinger of things to come-is woefally weak despite excellent corporate earnings.

Stock Market Weak

Money Paradox Is Unnecessary

Monetarily, the paradox is less clearly defined. With the Vietnam war at an end (discounting Laos), it would seem that the United States is in position to reduce foreign outlays and take whatever other steps might be necessary to shore up the value of the dollar. International money market developments indicate most foreign nations don't expect prudent U.S. action. On the economic front, whatever develops will take considerable time. Where internatioal monetary values are concerned, however, changes are apt to be abrupt and even frantic once the forces of change are visibly set in motion.

Such a time is upon us. What most likely will develop, in the writer's view, is that European nations along with the Japanese will permit ali currencies to float temporarily so that laws of supply and demand will exert their power.

World money markets then, as a composite, could be expected to fix with at least short-term certainty what one currency might be worth in terms of another. If this occurs, it would tend to intimidate trade-since longterm agreements of any kind would be subject to inordinate chance-and new fixed parities would be pursued with Along this line of reasoning, however, it is quite possible to envision the establishment of some sort of periodic currency review-the reevaluation of currencies-perhaps

It is also possible that some sort of moratorium may be worked out among the leading nations, under which the years-to get its international payments into balance and take pressure off the dollar. By official edict, in this case, the dollar would retain its parity relative to other currencies, possibly with some sort of low interest payment involved. For example, since an estimated $75 billion to $80 billion still is in foreign hands and represents in effect U.S. indebtedness, the United States might be assessed 1 per cent per year on dollars within a foreign country's boundaries. Andre J. Levie, an authority on precious metals who predicted $100-per-ounce gold many months ago (it reached $95 in London before backing down), believes a moratorium is quite possible. He feels it would be linked to gold. The contemplated new European Common Market expected to come into existence about 1980 will be gold backed.

United States would be given time--say five years or 10

On the basis of foreign exchange quotations at weekend. the trade-weighted average devaluation of the U.S. dollar was approximately 6.5 per cent from central bank rates established by the December, 1971 Smithsonian agreement. Some nations retained parity with the dollar, reducing the average, while a few nations-notably West Germany and Japan-revalued in excess of the average.

Further devaluation seems likely, since the dollar is pegged against gold at slightly less than one-half of what gold has been selling for in the open market. Americans are prohibited from owning gold bullion, but the United States might consider opening the doors to gold in any form for its citizens as a way out the back door from the present dollar predicament.

Problem, Not Crisis

Ignore 'Energy Doom' Harbingers

When the United States of America discovers a problem the first line of attack upon it frequently is a barrage of facts and figures that often obscure its epicenter, as the outpooring about the current energy crisis exhibits. There is inneed no lack of data to show that our demand for gasoline, gas, oil and electricity is outpacing our own ability to produce the usable energy -- or that the gap will become wider. Forwarned, however, is forearmed. We should have learned by the fervor of the so-called ecology movement, a cause noble in its intent and sincere in its zealousness, that it is as dangerous to overshoot with correctives as it is to land short. With that in mind, it is appropriate to say that we do not have on energy crisis in the United States, but amply a serious energy problem.

The National Petroleum Council.

for example, tells s that some $5 per ceri of the discoverable oil in the United States remains to be found.

Plentiful gas and oil on the North Slope of Alaska, discovered in 1968. remains untapped today, as does much of the petroleum on our continental shelf. Moreover, the United States has more than 600 years of known coal supplies untouched by a miner's pick. Nuclear generation of electricity supplies only one tenth of one per cent of our total energy and only 10 per cent of our power needs after a full decade of development. We have yet to begin operating the first breeder nuclear reactor com-

In these terms, the energy crisis that we like to talk about resolves itself down to a matter of national priorities, economics and our love for a full two-car garage, as well as for the 166 appliances in the average American home. We must indeed consolidate the thrust of the 64 federal agencies dealing with energy problems into a Council on Energy Policy as process of doing.

More than that, if we are serious about solving the energy problem we also must come to terms with ourselves. We cannot have air as pristine as it was in 1776 and still expect to get to work on rubber wheels-even with mass transit. We cannot continue consuming fully one-third of the world's energy-and doubling the consumption every decade-without asphyxiating

In some respects, solutions would be easier if we did have a full-blown crisis because extreme exigencies generate strong and immediate

However, because we have to find a balance-exactly the right amount of pollution that we must accept on the one hand and the exact compromise in our conveniences on the other-the energy "crisis" will demand our full attention.

Mao Sends Us His Acupuncture Best

The recent "discovery" of China by America has peek-in in Peking to acupuncture and now, in the latest diplomatic development, the announcement by that peripatetic peace-pursuer, Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, that 'liaison' offices will be established in the capitals of both

Such offices will fall just this side of official recognition of each government by the other. In April. Anchor Press will publish "The People's Comic Book," seven stories in comic book form popular in China. With translated captions, the cartoons will be exact reproductions of Chinese comics.

In the people-to-people sphere, China is now sending over 10,000 acupuncture teaching kits as "contributions to the medical and health protection of the American people, so as to enhance the friendship between the Chinese and American people.'

The kits, which are being marketed by Sobin Chemicals, Inc., of Boston, feature a 22-inch-high plastic human figure showing the 361 acupuncture points used by Chinese physicians for anesthesia and therapy and will be offered for sale to U.S. physicians, dentists, hospitals and accredited researchers interested in this ancient Chinese

The kit, incidentally, is endorsed by both the Shanghai Research Institute of Traditional Chinese Medicine and the Nanking College of Traditional Chinese Medicine. The accent on the traditional aspects of one of the first Chinese products to be imported into this country in the current era of good feeling suggests that the new China is not all that different from the old. A 4,000-year-old civilization does not change drastically in one generation. The Asia Information Office, located in Hong Kong, has in fact made an interesting list of comparisons between the "then" and the "now" of China.

Then: The government functioned by recruiting men of Now: A political elite is running the modern Chinese

Then: A strong secular faith in Confucianism worked its way into every corner of Chinese thinking and institutional life.

Now: Mao Tse-tung's "thoughts" are the all-powerful, all-pervading secular faith of modern China.

Then: A frowning on heterodoxy and improper conduct. Now: A demand for an orthodox Marxist lifestyle and constant guarding against backsliding and "revisionism." Then: Law was the tool to regulate society and the state; stress was on social order, not individual rights.

ously muddled by misconceptions about defense man-Including both military and civilian defense manpower the President estimates 1974 costs in this field at roughly 56 per cent of the total defense budget-the same percentage as applies in current fiscal 1973. Independent budget pecialists accept the proportion as valid. Not alone in percentage terms, but in dollar figures, these costs have skyrocketed in the last several years. The most dramatic gauge: While military and civilian efense manpower was being cut by 1.5 persons in the period 1968-1973, total outlays for such manpower rose $10 billion. That is, the present annual cost is higher by that

Since 1968, average military pay has more than doubled, and pay for civilians in the Defense Department has risen Most lawmakers intent on cutting the defense budget do not question these calculations. But a few are making some rather curious arguments. They say the pay boosts simply reflect the necessary incentives to stimulate enlistments which will become so crucial when the draft ends this June and we go to an all-

Since those who make this argument tend to have been consistent critics of the war in Vietnam, they take the matter a step further. They say the move to a volunteer force was an inescapable administration decision because the war made the draft so thoroughly unpopular. In other words, they are portraying the rise in defense manpower costs as a postwar penalty for our having engaged in a war they detested. The link between Vielnam and the ending of what is widely judged to be an inequitable draft system is a separate matter I shall leave aside in this report.

2 Bombs Devastate Sections Of London

LONDON (AP) - Two powerful explosions erupted in central London today a few hours after a large unexploded bomb was discovered outside Scotland Yard.

One explosion came outside the Old Bailey, London's central criminal court. The other rocked Whitehall, a street of government offices, and Trafalgar Square. Smoke rose hundreds of feet into the sky above the Ministry of Agriculture building.

A spokesman for the Yard, the headquarters of the London police force, said 150 pounds of gelignite was discovered in a sedan parked outside the Yard's towering modern office building in Westminster, a few hundred yards from the houses of Parliament

First To State

Lyman High School became the first school in the county to get a prep wrestler into the state tourney and they did it this year, as not one but two matmen advanced past the

And Coach Bill Scott had it figured just about right. The Lyman coach felt Glenn Hill and Bob Brucato, both juniors, would make it past the district mest but felt both boys would do it by winning the district little Bracato wor his 186 pound division but Hill lost in the final match of the 170 pound class. Bruca', o now tartes a 14-0 mark into the state tourney to be held this weekerd at Stranahan High School in Fort Lauderdale. Hill meanwhile brings a 21-1 record into the

Aid Each Other

The two Greyhounds who advanced to the state tieet should complimed each other in the workouts prior to the final action this week at Stranahan. Not only do the two grapplers have the same ambition, of wint on a state title, but the two are only a weight class apart which means they can practice against one another. With only one grappler making it to the state it would have made somewhat of a problem since his mates who would be practicing against him would naturally not have the same heated desire to excell in preparations for the state

Firece Competitors

In Hill and Brucato the Greynounds have two of the greatest prep competitors going. Both are bulllike strong yet have the experience to finesse their opponents.

Brucate joined the Greyhound starting lineur late in the season, becoming eligible for competition in late January. Scott was singing his praises long before Brucato ever took to Brucato's toughest match this season came in the quarterfinals of the district where he won a 14-13 decision from Merritt Island's 188 pounder. He never gave up on his foe and emerged the victor because of his competive nature. Hill fell behind 5-0 in his final district match but he too did not give up and while he lost he did come back to

What's Ahead

Just how far Hill and Brucato can go in the state is a difficult question to answer. The overall caliber of the competition they have been meeting is not the same as the wrestlers from the southern sections. Stranahan, the host school, is one of the dominating teams in the state year after year. And the stiff competition match after match makes for constant improvement. Action in the state tourney begins tomorrow night with the first round matches.

Harry Smith, the Recreation Department official who helps give the youngsters of Sanford much of the publicity they receive underwent surgery yesterday in Orlando. A retired Air Force Colonel, Smith, recently graduated from Rollins College, completing his education goal. Much of the advance publicity on Sanford's baseball and basketball leagues, as well as the flag football leagues, is the work of Smith who usually stays in the background when the accolades are handed out.

UNBEATEN HEADING into the state tournament this weekend is Lyman's 188 pounder, Bob Brucato. A junior Brucato won the District tourney last week in Cocoa and takes a 140 mark to Stranghan High School, site of the state tourney He'll be accompanied by Glenn Hill, the Heands 170 pounder who is 21-1 on the year and eitsfule for the Tigac Tourney.

Women Exhibit Art In DeBary

BY FANNETTE EDWARDS

DEBARY - A reception for the opening of two one-woman art shows was given Sunday, March 4, from 2 to 5 p.m. in the DeBary Mansion Hall.

One show of fine water colors and acrylics and paper mache woodsies was given by Marie Richter (Mrs. Arthur) of Sanford, president of Sanford-Seminole Art Association. The other exhibit of large oil paintings was by Eleanor Timmerman of Orlando.

Many viewed the fine work of these two women artists among whom were Guy Beattie, director of the Maitland Art Center and Mrs. Kay Rodriguez, director of the Florida Federation of Art, whose headquarters is in the DeBary

"PURPLE ORCHIDS", is the title of this acrylic by Marie Richter, As she stands beside it she calls attention to the "Mr. and Mrs. Quail", a woodsie she has made and is exhibiting.

Secretary should follow instructions or quit

By Abigail Van Buren E 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am a private secretary to a gentleman who owns a successful business. I like my job and have been with him for some time.

Recently a young woman has been calling my boss at east six times a day. He seems eager to talk to her as he has instructed me to put her thru immediately no matter what. [His wife is told he will return her call when he is available 1 Sometimes this young woman telephones and leaves an involved message which I must relay to my boss promptly. ["Call me at 5 p. m. at home and if I am not there, don't call again, but leave a message on your answering service where you can be reached after 8 p. m."] I have other things to do, Abby, without handling this 'affair," and I also find it embarrassing as well as annoying to be in the middle of it. I am instructed to tell his wife that he is "tied up" in a conference when I know he is having a long lunch with this new girl friend. This rubs me the wrong way. How do I get out of this bothersome and embarrassing bind? I like my job and have built up seniority and many benefits, and don't want to quit. IN THE MIDDLE

DEAR IN: You are paid to handle your boss' telephone calls, messages and follow his instructions, so do just that without sitting in judgment on his personal affairs. If you can't fulfill your secretarial duties without feeling that you are a "party" to something which robs you the wrong way, the only alternative is to quit. You certainly can't tell your boss to choose between you and HER!

DEAR ABBY: May I add my two cents to the hassle about doctors and nurses calling their elderly patients by their first names?

You will notice that a nurse's badge reads, "Miss Jones or Mrs. Smith"-never "Mary" or "Anne." And a doctor expects to be addressed as "DOCTOR"-never by his first name; therefore an adult patient should be given the same

I solved that problem recently when I went to see a doctor I had not seen before. He came bouncing into the examination room all pep and vinegar, and after glancing at my card, he said, "And what is bothering FRANCES this morning?" I replied, "Nothing very serious, JIMMY!" After that, I was "MRS." to him and his staff.

GRANDMA [VAN BUREN] DEAR GRANDMA: That's what I call giving a doctor a taste of his own medicine. Hooray for you!

DEAR ABBY: Someone wrote to you saying she needed a false fanny, and your answer interested me. Is there really such a thing on the market? If so, I certainly could use one. I weigh about eighty pounds and can't seem to gain I'd look a lot better in clothes if I had a little something in the back. I don't have any trouble with my from view because I wear a padded bra, so please let me know where I can buy one of those false fannies and I will be forever grateful. SHAPELESS IN HOPE, ARKANSAS

DEAR SHAPELESS: There are indeed such things advertised in catalogs. Send me a stamped addressed envelope and I'll track down the address.

FORECAST FOR FRIDAY, MARCH 9 1973

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You now have a considerable amount of energy as well as clever thoughts that can bring you closer to the things that mean the most to you. There's a spirit of organizational ability in the air so approach vital issues in this manner. ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Look over your possessions and see what can be done with them so that you become more successful in the future. Strive for efficiency and please higher-ups. More benefits can be yours. TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Plan how to advance in both business and personal lines, and then put your ideas in operation. Contact experts who can be helpful to you. Meet the right people and be happy. GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Try to organize your life so that you can have more success and happiness in the days ahead. Contact an expert who can be most helpful to you. Follow your good hunches for best results.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) An ideal day for sociability, so plan your time and activities wisely. A cherished aim is closer than you realize and is yours for the taking. Show that you have wisdom.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You are able to make real progress toward your finest ambitions with few stumbling blocks in the path of your progress. Bring your talents to the attention of higher-ups. Be poised.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't spend all day mulling over those new ideas but put the best in operation as quickly as possible. An expert can give ideas and information you need for success. Think logically. LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Making new contacts with those whose views differ from yours can help you become more successful. Keep active and get the data you need. Take a sudden emergency in your stride. SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) An ideal day to come to a perfect understanding with an associate who has been stubborn in the past. Make hay while the sun shines. Show your finest ability. Express happiness. SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Keep busy and finish those duties that are yours so you can have a carefree weekend. Take time to come to a fine understanding with associates. Shop for clothing articles you need. CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You can have a wonderful day at fascinating outlets that strengthen your ego, so get involved in such. Engage in amusements you enjoy. Maintain a good reputation. AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Establish more harmony at home and compromise where you feel it is necessary to do so. Straighten out disputed points in an intelligent fashion. Do some entertaining at home tonight.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) A new attitude toward problems will see them solved ideally in a short time. Make the changes required. One who has been stubborn in the past will listen now and do what is right.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY ... he or she will have a fixed nature and should be taught the finest principles at an early age so that the best side of the nature will assert itself and life can then be successful. There will be much ability at taking imaginative ideas and reducing them to a practical function, as well as at comprehending the spiritual theories. There could be real fame here. "The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

POLLY'S POINTERS Miffed by Lack of

Extra Coat Buttons

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY-I have had coats that came with two extra buttons fastened on the inside but recently have had two that did not have even one extra. Why can't all the manufacturers include at least one extra button. Ofter a garment is ruined by the loss of one button and much time and money are spent trying to find a set of substitutes that may not be nearly as attractive looking-GENEVA.

DEAR GENEVA-I asked that question of a saleslady in a dress shop who told me that fewer and lewer garments, regardless of price, are being delivered to them with extra buttons. Perhaps if we all stopped buying coats and suits that did not have extra battons something would be done.-POLLY

Must-See Abby Mann Top Film

By JAY SHARBUTT AP Television Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - A film in the "must-see" category is on the CBS Television network onight. It's called "The Marcus-Nelson Murders," written by Academy Award winner Abby Mann.

It's a powerful, three-hour dramatization of a controversial double murder case that shocked New York nearly a decade ago-the fatal stabbings of Janice Wylie and Emily Hoffert in August 1963. The young career women were killed by a prowler at their East Side apartment. Eight months later, a 19-yearold black drifted arrested in Brooklyn on other charges was charged with their deaths. Police at the time said the youth, George Whitmore Jr. confessed not only the Wylie-Hoffert murders, but also the later slaying of a woman in Brooklyn and the attempted rape of a nurse there. Miss Wylie's uncle, the late author Philip Wylie, said at the time of Whitmore's arrest that "it sounds to me like a guy who got scared into a confession, or who wanted to make a name for himself."

Whitmore later repudiated the confession, contending police had beaten it out of him. Another man, Richard Robles. subsequently was arrested and convicted of the Wylie-Hoffert murders.

Whitmore was cleared of those slayings. The charge of killing the Brooklyn woman also was dropped. But in 1967, a jury convicted him-after three trials-of attempted rape. He's still in prison. How he wound up there-and

Insurance Sets New

State High

1972. Families in the state bought more life insurance, received a larger amount of life insurance benefit payments and ended the year with more protection then ever before. Purchases of "ordinary" life insurance amounted to $5,238,000,000 in the state during 1972, according to estimates by the Institute of Life Insurance, the central source of information about the life insurance business. This was an increase of $145,000,000 over the amount purchased the year

Florida chalked up several life insurance records during

Some $48,450,000,000 of life insurance is now in force here. This works out to $19,000 of life insurance in force for the average family in the state. However, this is still below the level recommended by many financial counselors, who advise that a family's life insurance generally should cover at least four or five years of Benefit payments throughout the state set new records as life insurance companies paid out $637,900,000.

In the nation as a whole, benefits amounted to over $18.2 Some 43 per cent of the national total went to beneficiaries of deceased policyholders, while the remainder was paid to living policyholders in the form of matured endowments, surrender values, policy dividends, disability payments and annuity payments.

Martin Marietta Expands

Martin Marietta Cement, Southern Division, I:as announced an extensive modernization and capacity addition to its portland cement and lime plant located at a station called Roberta, which is near Calera, Alabama.

The multimillion-dollar program will involve an 800,000barrel increase in annual portland cement production and installation of the most advanced dust collection equipment available. Construction will be planned in stages so as to avoid any appreciable interruption of operations, with the program to be completed the middle of 1975. The Southern Division of Martin Marietta Cement, formerly Southern Cement Company, is headquartered in Birmingham, Alabama. Its other facilities are a portland cement plant in Atlanta, Georgia, a masonry cement plant in North Birmingham and six distribution terminals located at Meridian, Mississippi; New Orleans, Louisiana; Augusta, Georgia; Charlotte, North Carolina; Jacksonville, Tampa,

More Honey Eating

JACKSONVILLE - Busy Florida beekeepers, riding a wave of increased consumer demand for health foods, produced more than 13,000 tons of honey last year, valued at $7.7 million, nearly double the value of the previous year, the Florida State Chamber of Commerce reported yesterday. Quoting state and federal agricultural reports, the State Chamber said in its Weekly Business Review that Florida honey producers averaged 76 pounds per colony of bees and sold it at 29.1 cents per pound in 1972. This was about 11 more pounds per colony and an increase in value of 87 per cent over the previous years production.

The Review said Florida beekeepers were the top honey producers in the nation, maintaining 350,000 colonies last year. While this was 150,000 colonies less than the number reported for California, Florida still outproduced that state by 1,050 tons of honey.

"Many Florida beekeepers place their bee colonies in citrus groves during the blooming season to produce orange blossom honey. When the season is over, they transport whole colonies to the northern part of the country for the spring blooming season there", said Ronald S. Spencer, Jr., Executive Vice President of the State Chamber.

Dr. Pepper Sales Soar

Dr. Pepper national gallonage sales climbed to an unprecedented January high with a gain of nearly 30 per cent over the same month last year - about double the percentage monthly gains for the first four months in 1972.

"We regard this remarkable and considerably ahead of our earlier estimate," commented W. W. Clements, president and chief executive officer. "It certainly justifies our optimism that 1973 promises to be another record year for Dr Pepper.'

January became the company's 141st consecutive monthly increase over comparable months the previous Contributing factors to Dr Pepper's accelerated growth. according to Clements, are: increased availability of Dr Pepper in all sizes of packaging, excellent progress of Sugar Free Dr Pepper which has become the leading low calorie soft drink in many markets, and aggressive marketing by the more than 500 bottlers. New franchise alignments last year greatly strengthened Dr Pepper's market position, particularly in the area of distribution.
