The purpose of this meeting is to honor all the new members of the department for the year. They are: Mrs. George Dabba, Mrs. Alfred Chiles, Mrs. Kenneth Reiman, Mrs. D. S. Talley, Mrs. Bill Lockard, Mrs. Ivin Fryor, Mrs. A. W. Woodall, Mrs. H. D. Stanley, Mrs. Donald Flem, and Mrs. H. B. Nelson.

Baptist Woman's Missionary Society Meet Held Monday

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church held its program meeting Monday afternoon in the church auditorium.

Mrs. M. N. Cleveland gave the devotional take from John 4:14 and Jeremiah 2:13. Mrs. J. B. Cleveland sang two solos, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say" and "God Give Us Christian Homes."

"Voices from Christian Homes" were given by Mrs. Rucker and Mrs. S. J. Nix. Mrs. Clyde Humphrey spoke on America's Broken Castles; materialism, worldliness and secularism. The meeting was closed with an impressive meditation and prayer by Mrs. M. N. Cleveland.

Mrs. T. Brooks Fetes Mrs. Hunt With Stork Shower

Mrs. Waka (Curly) Hunt was honored recently with a stork shower given by Mrs. Thomas Brooks at her home, 118 Avocado Ave.

Mrs. A. J. Peterson arranged two beautiful bouquets of gardenias mingled with fern which were centered on the dining room table.

After guests enjoyed playing several games Mrs. Hunt was presented with a beautifully decorated bassinet filled with gifts, refreshments of candy, nuts, punch and cupcakes, topped with pink and blue balloons. Mrs. A. J. Peterson, Mrs. Beatty Austin, Mrs. Dual Chinn, Mrs. Roger Schmidt, Mrs. Alfred Charles Chiles, Mrs. W. P. Brooks Sr., Mrs. Cleo Carter, Mrs. Barbara Swagerty, and Mrs. Margie Budd.

Local Businessmen Return From Cruise

Three local representatives of Gulf Life Insurance Company Superintendent P. H. Colbat, H. E. Patton, and P. L. Rudd, have returned home following a cruise to Nassau, Bahamas, with members of the company's President's Club. They were accompanied by their wives on the trip which they enjoyed with outstanding sales and service records during 1956.

Nassau was the site of the annual convention of Gulf Life's President's Club which is made up of leading members of the sales organization. A total of 250 men and their wives were delegates to the convention.

Upsala Church Mortgage Burned In Ceremonies

The mortgage on the Upsala Presbyterian Church on the Country Club Road was burned yesterday in ceremonies following the morning worship service at 12 noon.

Participating in the ceremony were: James A. Grubb, P. H. Stallings, R. J. Carroll, the Rev. C. C. White, Hubie E. Summerlin, and George Fessold Jr.

The Upsala Presbyterian Church was built in 1892 with the Rev. J. F. Sundell serving as its pastor.

The Rev. C. C. White was appointed as Moderator of the Church in 1949 by the North Florida Presbyterian and later became acting pastor of the church.

New Sunday school rooms have been built, new pews installed in the church, with other improvements in progress.

The church has both morning and evening worship services and Sunday School. The young people meet each Sunday and three organized groups meet once each month.

The church, said the Rev. White, has five Elders and Trustees and three Deacons.

City

The parade, with Joel Field, Sanford Postmaster serving as General Chairman, moved through downtown Sanford Saturday morning with hundreds turning out to view the mammoth show of strength.

Heading the marching units of the parade was the Seminole Band and the Corps of Majorettes.

Taking part in the parade were the units from the Sanford Naval Air Station, along with equipment; the Sanford National Guard; the Salvation Army, U. S. Mail trucks; the Lyman High School band; Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, Southside School, Girl Scouts; United Daughters of the Confederacy; the Gold Star Mothers; Disabled American Veterans; Veterans of Foreign Wars; also the 40 & 8 organization.

Others participating were: U. S. Navy, retired; Seminole Memorial Hospital Auxiliary; Business and Professional Women Club; Junior High School band; Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks; Sanford Lions Club; State Department of Public Health; the Sanford Pilot Club; Sanford Kiwanis Club; Sanford Boat and Ski Club; Crooms Academy Band; and the Dusty Boots Riding Club.

Taking part in the parade were members of the Sanford Police Department; the Seminole County Sheriff's office; the Florida Highway Patrol; and the Sanford Fire Department.

Even though the bill was burned Friday when a motion to reconsider the vote by which it failed was tabled, the House voted today to suspend its own rules and go back to the measure.

The move came when the seven members of a special committee investigating the conduct of Dade Circuit Judge George Holt objected violently to the fact that they were forced to be out of the chamber when the bill came up.

All but two members of the committee took the floor to charge the House was being "highly unfair and improper" in denying them the right to vote even though their votes probably would pass the bill.

Rep. William Chappell of Marion, one of the chief opponents of the bill, agreed to withdraw his objections but managed to open the bill up for new amendments cutting down the amount involved.

New Tax Program

The Senate, awaiting House action on teacher salaries, prepared for a 100 million dollar tax package to finance records appropriations.

Sen. E. C. Pearce of Palatka, Senate finance chairman, said the tax proposals will be discussed for the first time at Tuesday's 3 p.m. meeting of the full Finance and Taxation Committee.

He declined to disclose details of the program but authoritative sources said most of the new money would come from a broadening of the 3 per cent sales tax to take in low-cost clothing, alcoholic beverages and heavy machinery up to $100.

Under the entrepreneur's estimate, however, this production only 70 million new dollars in the coming biennium. That means the committee will have to come up with an additional tax, perhaps on gasoline, to foot the big spending bill. There are reports the committee might consider removal of the tax assumption on groceries which by itself would raise nearly $1 million.

Convincing The News

BY VIRGINIA COHEN

More info on the MATU meeting at Jim Spencer's Thursday afternoon. Each person ordered what she wanted for lunch and paid for it herself, which is a nice way to get together. This way the dieters and the heavy eaters are both happy.

Attending the meeting and eating lunch were Ruth Norvell, Treia Michel, Dottie Kinar, Jean Dooley, Anita Hadden, Marty Millsaps, Rosemary Duncan, Mike Stone, Virginia Shaffer, Amy Baber, Marva Wood, Ida Radtke, Helen Griffin, Lib Cleveland, Mildred Loper, and her guest, Diane Sangster, Jean Tarfeldt, Mollie Barlow, and her guest Mrs. F. G. Barlow, Mac Edwards and Betty McLane.

A swimming party at Sanlando was the occasion for saying farewell to Mary Libbey by the wives of VAFB. This took place Thursday morning. Everyone brought their own sandwiches and the hostesses provided coffee, olives, etc., and a big cake that said "Bon Voyage, Mary" Doris Francisco and Thelma McMurray were the clever hostesses. A song had been composed called "Our Feelings for Mary Libbey" which was sung to the tune of the squadron song "Cest La Oton Pliekin Vie." Mary was also presented with the traditional VAFB engraved silver car tray.

Pictures were taken before the record the fun, and all the girls went swimming before lunch. This kind of a luncheon sounds like a terrific idea—although I understand the honor guest was unmercifully dunked.

Having such a wonderful time were Gene Fritz, Betty Weigle, Not Mann, Kay Dwyer, Gretchen, Hilly, Lou Johnson, Doris Francisco, Jean Stetson, Betty Guy, Katie Cummins, Rusty Lillobe, Jane Milner, Rita Bauer, Claire Lynch.

Jane Miller and I gave a bridge luncheon for Dottie King on Friday at Jane's house. This was a "we are glad you are staying party," and probably the last we will ever have for Dottie since she plans to use this leaving routine every few months from now on. Jane had beautiful gardens through out the house and a brilliant display of zinnias grown in her own yard. Of course I poured cats and dogs, so the afternoon was perfect to play bridge. Shrimp salad rolls and sherbert were on the menu. Attending were Lou Johnson, Ruth Norvell, Louise Parker, Jean Dooley, Treia Michel, Anita Hadden, Ruth Barron, Harriet Williams and Margaret Hamilton, who is my house guest from Jacksonville. (Her husband is in VAFB.) Margaret won first prize, Ruth Barron second and Anita carried off the trophy.

Saturday morning I dragged Margaret and all the children to the parade—maybe dragged is the wrong word, because they were just as eager as I. As usual it was thrilling, especially when the ADBs flew over to start it. I used to hate parades, but in a big city you never know anyone in them, and perhaps that is the reason they are such a pleasure now. We even went out to N.A.S. to see the planes. The heat was terrific but did not seem to discourage the crowd.

Saturday night the Driftwood Circle of the Sanford Garden Club held a "bring your own chicken" party at the Mayfair Country Club, which is becoming a very popular place for group parties. Margaret and I were guests for which we are most grateful—the chicken was delicious as cooked by Bob Stone and Wally Phillips.

A get acquainted game was played—I don't know what it is called, but a picture of a flower was pinned to your back and you had to guess the name of it, by asking questions. The hostesses used great tact, however, in not matching the flowers to the personalities as most people do when they play it with comic strip characters. It took me hours one night to discover that I was Olive Oil. Mike Stone was given a pair of bejeweled garden gloves for her job as circle chairman during this year. Jean Tegfeldt is the chairman for next year. Jean Stetson made a moving speech. Attending were Jean and Carl Tegfeldt, Mike and Bob Stone, Betty and Jim Guy, Virginia and Dom Doremigo, Marge and Bill Hill, Alice and Earl Mills, Spook and John Hook, Carlie and Jack Stirling, Jean Stetson, Wally and Jane Phillips. Jane still sore from standing on her head, Jean and Dick Fowler, and Lois and Art Elder.

Bonnie Grandy is home from the hospital for good now, and will soon be able to take on her former activities.

Have lots more news to run down, but today is the day of the Husband and Wife tournament at the Mayfair Country Club. My husband is on equal-qual, so I have snagged Whitley McMullen for the occasion. Will report on every aspect when through.

Hope lots of you made it out to the base on Saturday for "Armed Forces Day." We did, and I think I enjoyed it as much as the "did" did! Was interested in getting a close up look at the ADB that my husband will be flying in shortly. They're just as sleek and beautiful at close range as they are over head in the sky, and I've decided it's a small world after all! Talked with the pilot that brought the F4D "Skyraider" down from Cecil Field, Jacksonville, and he's a good friend of former neighbors of ours, in Jay, and they are still attached to that squadron! I was amazed at the maneuverability of the helicopter that demonstrated the air-sea rescue, and nothing would do for my boys but that we all there in that hot sun and see the fire-fighting demonstration! At least the rain held off, so everyone was able to take their time about looking things over. Don't have any idea as to what size crowd attended, but big it was!!! Guess all the "hullabaloo" is over for another year, and I can't help wondering what will be seeing in the years to come. You sometimes wonder where they can go!

The Chief's Wives Club met last Thursday night at the Chief's Club. Elections were held to select a permanent president and vice-president for a six-month term. Virginia Meads and Edith Ross, who have served on a temporary basis, were honored at this meeting. Newly elected to these offices were Mrs. Marie Sundvall as president, and Mrs. W. T. Cotter, as vice-president. The present secretary and treasurer will remain in office. Following the meeting, there was a plastics party, the proceeds of which went to the club treasury.

Want to give you the movies for the coming week. Tonight they will show a good musical comedy, "The Girl Can't Help It", starring Tom Ewell and Jayne Mansfield. Tuesday will have "Hollywood or Bust" with Martin and Lewis. Wednesday, there will be an older Western, but still a good one. "Texas", with Claire Trevor and Glenn Ford. "No Place to Hide" shows on Thursday, with David Brian and Marcia Hunt. I think Friday's is a new one, but it should be good regardless. "Great American Pastime", starring Anne Francis and Tom Ewell. And for Saturday, its "Buckskin Lady", starring Patricia Medina and Richard Denning. Good fare all week.

Rev. Mrs. Spear Attending Confab

Pastors and delegates from 85 churches of the Nazarene congregation will meet in Bradenton, beginning Monday for a four-day convention of the 18th annual assembly of the Florida district of the Church of the Nazarene.

General Superintendent Hugh C. Benner will preside at the meeting at the Church of the Nazarene in Bradenton at 16th Ave. and 13th St. West.

Dr. John L. Knight, district superintendent, will be in charge of the services. Scheduled for the sessions will be Sunday School, missionary and young people's conventions.

The Rev. Don Newell, district church school chairman and pastor at Winter Haven, will be in charge of the Sunday school convention. Featured speaker for the Monday session will be The Rev. D. W. Thaxton, district superintendent of South Carolina.

The Nazarene Foreign Missionary Society convention will open Tuesday and Mrs. Julia Eby, district president from Clearwater, will preside.

Lake Worth pastor, the Rev. C. R. Moore, district president of the Nazarene Young People's Society, will preside over that group's meeting on Tuesday.

The district assembly itself will open its first session Wednesday and will conclude Thursday with an ordination service.

The Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Spear Jr., pastor and wife of the First Church of the Nazarene in Sanford will be in attendance for the entire convention, returning to their home at 1001 W. First St. on Friday.

By JAMES W. DOUTHAT

WASHINGTON—The Congressional economy bloc has issued a new appeal for help from the voters in the crucial battle to slash the $71.8 billion budget.

The bloc is fearful that a let-down in demands from the people for economy will weaken the economy sentiment now prevailing in Congress.

The big spenders are using all of the tricks of the legislative trade to defeat the campaign — on the verge of success — to make substantial cuts in the budget.

They claim that government services will be crippled. But economy bloc leaders say all budget proposals are padded.

Another trick of the big spenders is to promote defection — they say any cuts in appropriation bills will be "phony" — more paper savings — which must be made up later.

But leaders in the economy fight reject such a defeatist attitude. They insist that while some savings now claimed may be wiped out later, real cuts in the budget are being made — and will continue to be made in the future.

HOW BIG WILL CUTS BE? — As the Senate began a crucial period of action on appropriation bills, these predictions were made:

1. Sen. Bridges (R-N.H.), Senate Appropriations Committee leader, foresees a cut of more than $3 billion under budget recommendations.
2. Speaker Rayburn thinks the House will cut $5 to $5 billion under the budget.
3. Reductions voted by the House at that time amounted to $1.1 billion, or 7.6 per cent of the total considered.
4. Some House Appropriation Committee leaders said the House will cut the Department of Defense budget $1.5 billion and will trim $70 million from the Department of Agriculture budget.

This was evidenced by the meeting of National Democratic leaders over the last weekend.

The Democrats united in assisting Mr. Eisenhower—but the New Fair Dealers such as former President Truman and Adlai Stevenson called for huge spending. The conservative Democrats back the economy move.

Sen. Harry Byrd (D-Va.) says "our goal now should be to return our expenditures to the Eisenhower level of $54 billion for the fiscal year 1957."

Life might come nearer being a bed of roses if it wasn't for all the blooming idiots who drive.

Public Sale Of 11 Lots Held Up Pending Legal Opinion On Questions

Top News In Brief

PARIS — A new atomic warning from Moscow gave Premier Guy Mollet an unexpected and unintended assist today in his battle to remain in office. The Socialist premier now is expected to win his 34th vote of confidence from the National Assembly by a narrow margin in a showdown on Mollet's highly controversial tax increase measure.

WASHINGTON — French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said today that he and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles are in "complete agreement" on methods to deal with the Suez Canal problem.

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower today asked Congress to appropriate $3,865,000,000 for foreign aid. He warned that any substantial reduction in his request in view of present world conditions would be "foolhardy." The chief executive's request was about $33 million dollars less than he estimated in his January budget message would be needed for the program. He said the saving was possible because of a reduction in spare parts requirements for military aid, based on experience in actual use of equipment overseas.

Tornado Roars Across Kansas; Takes 35 Lives

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — A killer tornado took at least 35 lives Monday night when it roared with gathering fury across several eastern Kansas towns and burst upon a crowded new suburb of Kansas City.

The tornado, by far the worst of a deadly series that has plagued the Midwest and Southwest this spring, injured at least 219 persons seriously enough that they required medical attention.

Authorities declared martial law in the stricken Kansas City suburb of Ruskin Heights where the twister laid waste to an area three blocks wide and five blocks long in killing 25 persons.

Several hundred homes in the area of destruction in Ruskin Heights, in the southern portion of Kansas City, included several hundred new homes, a church and a shopping center where 100 cars were parked. A four-story school was leveled and large quantities of stores were shredded to skeletons.

Sale of 11 lots north of the Seminole County Court House has been held up pending a legal opinion on 11 questions requested of County Attorney Mack N. Cleveland Jr. at a regular adjourned meeting of the Board of Seminole County Commissioners held last Saturday morning.

All action on the proposed public sale of the lots was held up on a motion by Commissioner Lawrence Swafford and seconded by Commissioner John Krider at the unannounced meeting of the Board of Commissioners called to discuss the action taken by the Board.

The meeting was made public when minutes of the session were read at this morning's regular meeting at the Seminole County Court House.

Questions posed to County Attorney Cleveland were as follows:

- (1) Is it necessary that documentary evidence of proof be presented and filed on which the Board "determine" that it is to the best interest of the county to sell and convey the said real property?
- (2) How can the Board establish that it is not needed for county purposes?
- (3) Does the above "determination" imply that a valid reason for selling must be given?
- (4) Is the published notice of sale a part of the contract?
- (5) Does the discussions with the Florida State Bank of Sanford, Fla. imply that it may be a negotiated sale?
- (6) Does the phrase "terms and conditions" mean the manner in which and time when bid and purchase price may be paid only?
- (7) Does the County commission have authority to enter stipulations not authorized by the statutes?
- (8) Would stipulations limit bidders to a certain class?
- (9) Should the stipulations become a part of the deed under reversionary clause?
- (10) Should bids be open, and competitive or limited to sealed bids?
- (11) After the Board has fixed a minimum price and all bids above this amount does the board have authority to "reject" all bids because same are too low?

County Attorney Mack N. Cleveland Jr. advised the board at the regular adjourned meeting that he "would have to have time to examine the statutes and the laws before" he could answer the questions.

Cleveland requested that "the whole matter be held up until he could render a legal opinion relative to the questions."

Evangelist Graham
Says U. S. 'Nation
Of Moral Cripples'

NEW YORK — Revivalist Billy Graham Monday night depicted modern Americans as slaves to "materialism, worldliness, greed and lust" and the United States as a "nation of moral cripples."

"We don't live by the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Sermon on the Mount," Graham said, "and as a result we have no moral strength, we are helpless."

Like a stricken modern Moses, Graham warned an audience of 16,000 in Madison Square Garden that man is destined for doom, and destruction unless he is "willing to receive Jesus Christ and let him make man whole again."

Following Graham's sixth sermon in his New York Crusade, an estimated 370 of his listeners came forward to make "decisions for Christ." So far, nearly 4,000 persons have made decisions and 100,000 have attended Graham's Madison Square Garden sermons.

Beginning June 1, Graham's Saturday night sermons in the Garden will be televised nationally in competition with Perry Como and Jackie Gleason on other channels.

Federation Will Install Officers
At Thursday Meet

The Seminole County Federation of Women's Clubs will hold its Spring meeting Thursday at 10:30 a. m. at the Casseberry Woman's Club.

Following the regular business meeting there will be an installation of officers for the coming two years.

A covered dish luncheon will be served at noon and the "Triple Trip" of Lyman High School will provide the entertainment.

The installing officer will be Mrs. Joseph Warren Sr., of Orlando, Director of District 7 of the State Federation.

Rotarians Looking Forward To Annual Trip On 'Skylark'

Sanford Rotarians are eagerly awaiting the hour of 2:00 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, according to Dr. Charles Persons, club president, when a large group of local business and professional men will embark on Skipper George Romillat's "Skylark" from the Sanford Boat Works for Mullet Lake Park. The occasion is the usually reserved and conservative men "let down their hair" and enjoy an excellent repast prepared by Francis Romillat and his committee consisting of Tom Brown, Tom Jones, Jimmy Holzeclaw, Earle Turner, Bill Leffer and Al Lee.

"Of course, we won't have the beautiful menu that we had last Wednesday when Capt. Jackson had us all out to the Air Base," said a member of the food committee for tomorrow's event, "but we'll have tender, juicy steak sandwiches, corn-on-the-cob and Tom Jones' tossed salad, broiled as only Tom can toss 'em." Broiling the steaks will be under the watchful eye of Earl Turner and Jimmy Holzeclaw. Al Lee and Billie Leffer will handle the rolls, onions, napkins and paper plates. The rest of the gang will take care of their appetites with the cry, "Just one more for me" being heard on all sides.

For the benefit of club members and guests unable to make the boat trip, President Persons announced that the meal will be served between 5:00 and 5:30 p. m. Motorists are advised to drive on Geneva Ave., taking the left fork on the highway, just before reaching the bridge.

Food Service Assn.
Names Officers

The Seminole County Food Service Association met recently at Lyman High School.

Officers for the coming year were installed by Superintendent of Public Instruction R. T. Miller.

New officers are: Mrs. Lucille Feiler, president; Mrs. Freda Muir, vice president; and Mrs. Marjorie Bryant, secretary-treasurer.

Attending the meeting were 25 members of the association.

A covered dish dinner was served following an inspection tour of the new cafeteria at Lyman School.

Mrs. Charlotte Whitmore is the County School Supervisor of lunch rooms.

Men, Youths Cling
To Craft For 20
Hours In Gulf

ST. MARKS — Three men and two young boys told today how they spent a terrifying 20 hours clinging to a crude raft and dogging sharks after their fishing boat capsized in the Gulf of Mexico.

All five were reported in good condition as a Tallahassee hospital where they were under treatment for burns and exposure. One of the group, Otto Clark, a state conservation agent, also was treated for a foot laceration, believed to have been inflicted by a shark.

The party was about eight miles offshore in a 20-foot boat belonging to the State Conservation Department when the proppeller apparently became entangled in seaweed or grass, upending the craft. Overflowing gasoline then ignited on the water, forcing all five away from the craft.

Clark and the other two men placed life jackets on the boys. They then tied the group together with a rope, to which they attached a third life jacket and an inner tube.

Bucking rain and rough surf, the men began to swim toward shore, hoping to attract rescue craft.

The three men, near exhaustion, swam throughout the night, prodding the boys to stay awake.

Finally they reached a sand bar, about three miles from shore, where they were picked up by a search craft.

New Industry In County Told

Department of Agriculture economist, recently wrote "Much credit for the rapid development of this industry (Chrysanthemum) can be attributed to the degree of insect and disease control brought about by various new insecticides and fungicides. The application of research results on day-length and lighting practices has also contributed to the rapid development." Labor is no small item. Smith estimates that 1,000 hours of labor go into the production of one acre of Poms.

Peak production months are January and February, with lesser peak at Easter, May and June. Growers are finding ways to lengthen the season, and some Poms are being produced every month of the year.

The Pompon, despite spectacular growth, has not seriously challenged the Gladiolus as Florida's top flower. More than 10,000 acres were planted in Gladiolus last year, the industry doing some $29,000,000 in business. In fact, a great many Pompon growers are veterans as Gladiolus growers, who have cleared additional land for Pom production.

Most commercial flower growers are members of the Florida Flower Association, a non-profit organization which coordinates member programs in transportation, research, credit reporting, legislation, market data information and education.

cover their Pompon fields with a plastic cloth to protect the flowers from the heat of the sun, then turn on hundreds of lights per acre at night, to increase and control growth of the beautiful and highly versatile Poms. The electric lights blaze all night, until the plant stems have reached a certain maximum length. Then, out go the lights, and the flowers begin to bloom.

Light control is very important. There are certain times of year when the Pompon plants must be covered with black cloth. This black covering comes to use when a day produces more than nine hours of daylight sun.

The electric bills are terrific. So is the cost of launching a commercial Pompon spread. Exact figures are difficult to nail down, however, it is rare for a grower to have less than $10,000 an acre, in land, buildings, drainage, irrigation facilities, plastic coverings, lights and other essential items.

All flower growers wage a constant fight against disease and insects, but Pompon growers have a most bitter war. First, the land is cleared, then completely sterilized by chemicals or steam. All weeds and nematodes are killed. The Poms are planted, an intensive program of disease and insect control must be followed.

In fact, Carl H. Smith, Florida

Difference Creates Hassle

The wide difference in bids for radio equipment that would tie Seminole County in with a radio hookup linking 18 counties into one system under the Civil Defense requirements, caused a hassle over the type of equipment listed in two bids opened this morning before the Board of Seminole County Commissioners.

Bids were opened on a complete radio system that would include a 250 watt base system, mobile units, three hand sets and transmitter, antenna, 150 foot tower, transmission line, remote control units, and other necessary items.

Clerk of the Board O. P. Herndon told the Board of Commissioners prior to opening the sealed envelopes that "there is no money in the budget to pay for this."

The Civil Defense Administration assumed half of the cost of the system when the low bids are accepted.

Miller Radio and Appliance through the Radio Corporation of America, represented at the bid opening by D. O. Cox, submitted a total bid of $12,982.80.

Motorola Communications and Electronics Corporation represented by William F. Kerns, submitted a bid for $8,364.75.

The wide difference in bids caused comments from commissioners.

Commissioner John Krider stated "I suggest we turn these bids over to the Civil Defense and let them come back with written recommendations."

Civil Defense Director A. B. Peterson, for Seminole County in the audience listening to the exchange, stated "All of the facts of this equipment we don't know—we turn them over to those who are in charge of our equipment."

However, Peterson revealed that the specifications were prepared in the Jacksonville office of the Civil Defense Administration after a representative had determined the needs of Seminole County.

Peterson told the commissioners "we want perfect and legitimate equipment."

Commissioner Krider, refusing to approve either one of the bids, said that "if I feel somebody should justify the bid."

Civil Defense Director A. B. Peterson accepted the bids to forward to the Jacksonville office of the Civil Defense Administration relative to a recommendation as to whether the RCA or the Motorola equipment bid should be accepted.

1,149 To Graduate
June 3 From Uoff

One thousand one hundred and forty nine candidates have applied for degrees from the University of Florida during commencement ceremonies June 3.

Commencement speaker for the exercises, scheduled for Florida Gymnasium at 8:40 a. m., will be Justice Campbell Thorne of the Florida Supreme Court. Presiding will be Dr. J. Wayne Reitz, president of the University.

The President's Reception for graduates, friends and parents, will be held in the Student Service Center from 4 until 6 p. m. June 2. Following will be baccalaureate services with the professional scheduled to begin at 7:40 p. m. also in the Florida Gym.

The Rev. C. Roy Angell, pastor of Central Baptist Church of Miami, will deliver the baccalaureate address.

Degrees applied for include 118 master's degrees, 25 doctorates, and 41 law degrees.

Candidates and their respective degrees from Sanford are: Lloyd Alden Knight, BEE; Robert Martin Morris, BSA; and Thomas Algernon Speer, BSBA.

Walk Off
Jobs

COCOA — A Teamsters' Union strike threatened to halt construction work today at the nation's biggest guided missile center where the earth satellite will be launched.

Approximately 500 members of the union walked off their jobs and picket lines were thrown up at the main gates of huge Palitka Air Force Base.

Air Force officials emphasized the walkout would not immediately interfere with the testing of top secret guided missiles at the base.

One official said shortly before noon that he still had not determined how many men are involved in the walkout.

"So far," he said, "the strike hasn't affected our testing at all and as far as I know it won't affect the launching of the earth satellite. We're continuing operations as usual."

The satellite is expected to be launched sometime within the next year.

"Civilians doing the actual missile firing are not involved," he said.

There are some 12,000 civilian workers at the base. Most work for private contractors who have sub-contracts with Pan American Airways.

J. W. Hughes, president and manager of Teamsters Local 79, said the strike was called after contractors at the base refused to give recognition to the union. He said the Teamsters Union was the only one not working under contract.

Picket lines were thrown up at the main north and south gates at 5:30 a. m. and union officials said a bad traffic tangle occurred when several hundred civilian workers from other unions honored the lines and turned away from the base.

Hughes said the strike probably will cause a shutdown of all construction, including work on a large technical laboratory, a new administration building and other facilities. He said it is likely that some or all of 10 other unions will walk out as a "sympathy gesture."

"We want the government to know we are ready to begin conciliatory action at a moment's notice," he said.

CROP FAILURE
SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. — Superior Court Judge Archie D. Mitchell turned down the leniency plea of Reuben N. Avila, 23, whose lawyer said Avila was simply "growing a few little plants in his back yard for his own use." Mitchell was unimpressed. "He wasn't just growing daisies," he said. Avila was convicted on charges of growing marijuana.

FIRM WILL
NEW YORK — The Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York today reported a policyholder had named what the company considered a unique beneficiary in his will. The policyholder wrote that he was in pleased with the company's service that his beneficiary would be the Mutual Life Insurance Co. of New York.

Farmers' Market
Manager
Resigns

The resignation of Sandy Anderson as manager of the Sanford State Farmers' Market was revealed this morning.

In a letter to L. H. Lewis, Director of the State Farmers' Market System, Sandy Anderson resigned as head of the local market effective May 1.

Sandy Anderson announced his resignation this morning.

However, in resigning, Lewis reappointed him as Assistant Manager of the Market with Leo Butler being appointed as Manager.

Reasons given for the move by Sandy Anderson, it was explained, is due to conditions of his health which prevents the extremely heavy duties which fall upon the head of a Farmers' Market.

Sandy Anderson has been with the local market as manager for nine years.

Mrs. E. Cushing
Represents Herald
At FNAE Session

Members of the Florida Newspaper Advertising Executives heard of the nation's future economy outlook and of one of America's largest company advertising program at the group concluded its annual spring meeting at the Hotel Thomas in Gainesville Friday through Saturday.

Prior to talks by Dr. Arno H. Thompson, vice president and senior economist of the J. Walter Thompson Co., New York City; and Jack L. Stuart, Sears Roebuck advertising manager at the Atlanta, Ga., zone—which includes the Southeastern states, the FNAE members elected Solon Southland, Lakeland as the president for next year.

Representing The Sanford Herald at the spring parley was Mrs. Evelyn J. Cushing, advertising manager and Mr. Cushing.

Friday afternoon group sessions were held with guest speakers Pete McCormick advertising manager of Winn-Dixie speaking, after which a question and answer session was held.

The Saturday morning session was presided over by newspaper representative Charles E. Brennan, Atlanta, Ga. Forbes McKay Jr., Atlanta; Henry A. McClellan, Jacksonville; and Tom Hurley, Atlanta explaining to the executives ways newspapers could help them in representing their newspapers.

The meeting was called to order on the rampus at the School of Journalism by Rae O. Welmer, Director of Communications and the School of Journalism and the group session continued.

Entertainment for the FNAE banquet Saturday night was furnished by Russel L. Danburg, Associate Professor of Music, University of Florida.

I can always tell when I'll have a bad day... not too much to write about! Jack Willard, formerly attached to the Station Dispensary here at S.N.A.S., has been transferred to the U.S.S. Roosevelt. He and his wife have moved to Mayport, Florida, which I guess must be the home-port of the ship. The... Jimi... took them up to... and spent a couple of days there while the Willards were getting settled. (Might be confusing to some of you, since Mayport ISN'T Jacksonville, but having spent quite a bit of time there, and having lived at Neptune Beach, I do as the "natives" do, lump the Beaches, including Mayport, all together with greater Jacksonville.) Bonnie and Mike M. Farland had several guests for a few days last week. Bonnie's mother, Mrs. Emerson Rabeau, and her two sisters, Miss Betty Rabeau and Mrs. Brenda Van Dyne, all from Miami, stopped in to visit Bonnie and Mike on their way to California to visit another sister. Really too bad Bonnie couldn't go along with them. Dick and Ellie Ballard just got back from a few days in Palm Beach where they visited some relatives. These lucky people who have relatives in all these nice vacation spots! Belated congratulations to Rhoda and Edward Andino. They had a baby boy on April 28, but I just heard about it! One of my sons asked me this morning just how much longer they had to go to school. When I checked it on the calendar, the "horrible" fact hit me right between the eyes! They'll be through just two weeks from tomorrow! The only consolation I can think of that helps me bear the whole thing, is that I won't have to go up at 7:30 A.M. I'm one of the lucky ones whose husband let's her sleep! Sitting here sipping lemonade while I'm trying to think of something to say, and thinking serious thoughts about making a trip home this summer in search of a little cooler weather! I don't know why it is that in a conversation with someone, I NEVER run out of things to say, but I'm speechless when it comes to filling up space in this column! Jimi and Ed Gold also had weekend guests. Jimi is an Orlando girl, and real lucky to be stationed so close to home. Luckier still is her sister Marge who is married to an Air Force man, stationed right in Orlando! So Marge, Joe, and little Riccy Bellencourt spent the weekend with the Golds since there won't be too many more chances for them to do so. Joe is being transferred to England, and Marge will follow soon after. While talking to Jimi, I heard another example of the devious ways of the Navy! While Jimi and Ed were stationed in Jacksonville, where we first knew each other, they had as next door neighbors, Bill and Quirida Vaughan. Well, the Golds transferred to Sanford, and the Vaughans went to Hutchinson, Kansas. Time passed, and one day, while Jimi was reading the list of names of those men who had made L.D.O., she came across Bill's name. Wondering if this was the Bill Vaughan they knew, she wrote to Quirida and asked her. The letter followed the Vaughans to Niles, California, and was a complete surprise to them, as they didn't know anything about it! When Bill checked at the base the next day, he found out that he HAD made L.D.O. but you've got to admit that that's a awfully roundabout way to find out!! (The Navy is full of surprises for everyone, but somehow, you learn to get used to it!)

LIFE IN AMERICA begins with a happy reunion in New York for Erika Toth, 50, as her parents and sister, Mary Anne, 17, welcome her after a nightmare in Hungary. The father escaped in 1948, but his family was captured by the Communists and not until this year were Mrs. Toth and Mary Anne given exit visas. Erika was still held, perhaps because she was Hungarian national junior 100-meter swimming champion, but she finally escaped through Yugoslavia.

HATU enjoyed a bring your own steak party at the Mayfair Country Club Friday night. Attending were Jeanne and Wendall McGuire, Charlie and Amy Baber, Mike and Bob Stone, Marva and Bob Wood, Diane Sargster and husband (name unknown) would appreciate advice same for Sally Warwick and her husband, Butch and Ilene O'Hara, Bob and Phyllis Osterholm, Tim and Buffy Cooley, Red and Lib Cleveland, Paul and Pankin O'Dea, John and Jean Dooley, Pappy and Lucy Gay, Helen and Harry Griffin, Ray Kennedy, Mike and Treta Michel, Mart and Lew Millsaps, Betty and Verne Mountcastle, John and Billy Norden, Forrest and Ruth Norvell, Ida and Bob Radtke, Polly and Red Savage, Virginia and Jim Shaffer, and Chester and Sue Gueary. Mike and Treta Michel invited a number of couples for cocktails Friday night before the party. Included in this were the Cleavelands, Kings, Dooleys, Gays, Mountcastles, Norvels, Radlites, Savages, Osterholms, O'Haras, and Tom Blackburn and Gretchen Hall. Paul and Pankin O'Dea had open house Monday afternoon to a select group. This was accomplished by calling to everyone who drove by to come on in. The O'Deas have just been presented with a (certain), and this seemed the opportune moment for all to admire it. The Husband and WIFE tournament Sunday put on by the Women's Golf Association was a complete success. I was so worn out today that I have been unable to find out who won all the prizes, since this writer went completely to pieces upon winning low net runner up with Whitney McJullen. We played in a foursome with John and Harriet Williams, and had a perfect, marvelous time. The Mayfair Inn very generously gave us a steak dinner that was delicious after the tournament. Frank Mebane led us all in some old songs, and then made us get up and attempt to square dance. Needless to say the results were hysterical much to Paul and Frank's chagrin. We were dissolved in laughter most of the time. Seen in the crowd were Helen and Andy Carraway, Cecile Heard Price and Lucille Heard, Joe and Roy Symes, Fanchon and W. K. McRoberts, Father Ridge, Louise and Jim Parker, Lee and Dave Cuning, Harriet and John Williams, Harold and Frenchie Ring, Ellen Betts, Dot Powell, Crella and Earl Higginbotham, John and Ken Ivey, Mary and Hugh Whitchel, Jackie and John Crawford, Mildred and Bill Smith, Betty and Jim Guy, Fred and Shirley Perkins, Alice and Era Mills, Jack and Barbie Morrison, Ruth and Ray Herron, Jeanne and Bill Fouk, Jack Allen, Tom Blackburn, Jean Fitten, John and Jean Dooley, Raymond and Aria Jane Lundquist, Carlisle and Jack Scrimling, Red and Lib Cleveland, Roy Holm and, Filibeth Mebane. There were of course many more, but it is now time to take Dorothy home.

Duxbury Dance Recital June 1 At Pinecrest

The Duxbury School of dancing will hold its ninth annual recital Saturday, June 1, at 7:30 p.m. in the Pinecrest Auditorium.

Mrs. Christine Blankenship will play the accompaniment for the recital. Costumes, under the direction of Mrs. W. R. Jennings, are being made by Mrs. H. S. Dugas, Mrs. R. A. Frank Jr., Mrs. O. R. Smith and the mothers.

Miss Joni Saunders, teacher for the school, has created many "stage and costume" numbers for solos and groups in ballet, for tap, modern jazz, acrobatic and baton. One "outstanding" number, "Slaughter on Tenth Avenue" will feature Carol Nutt and guest star, Kip Watson of the Royal School of dance in Winter Park. Also featured in this number will be Mary Jane Flynn with June Jennings, Nancy Richards, Dottie Williams, Shirley Morgan, Michael Pope and Deanna Nichols.

The recital is free of charge and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Thrasher Home Scene Of Church Circle Meeting

On Monday afternoon, Mrs. D. L. Thrasher was hostess to Circle Number Two of the Women of the First Presbyterian Church at their regular monthly meeting.

Mrs. R. C. Maxwell, chairman, presided with Miss Alberta Boyer as secretary. Mrs. Jay Beck gave a brief outline of the objectives of the Birthday offering for 1957. This project is a missionary movement, originated in 1912 and is celebrated each year in May by the women of the United States. The funds raised this year will go partly for medical work in Korea and partly for student training in Christian schools in Mexico.

Mrs. W. P. Brooks gave the Bible Study Lesson as her topic "Peace and War." Mrs. Thrasher served a refreshing iced fruit punch with cake and cookies during the social hour.

Her home on Grandview Drive was most attractive with decorations of Spring flowers and potted plants.

The June meeting will be in the Educational building of the First Presbyterian Church.

South Destined To Become Most Prosperous Region Of Nation

Less than three decades ago, the South was pointed out as an impoverished region of the land and its people were described as "ill-clothed, ill-housed, and ill-fed."

Actually neither those who made such comments nor the people of the South themselves at the time knew the meaning of real poverty.

It was during the days following the Civil War that the South knew real poverty. At that time the people of the South were left as impoverished and as destitute as perhaps any people anywhere after any war. The institutions of the South were in large part wiped away, the property was destroyed and the land was laid waste. "Cash money" was hard to come by, and the people had to scabble hard for the bare necessities of life, to say nothing of the luxuries.

Henry W. Grady, of Georgia, dramatically illustrated the situation in the South at the time in the most famous of his lectures, "The New South." Grady did not make his fame as a humorist, but as a newspaper man and lecturer. However, he used humor to good advantage, and if he mixed it with seriousness, perhaps it was all the more effective.

Grady's famous lecture was delivered in New York City not too long after General Sherman's devastating "March through Georgia," yet he paid his respects to Sherman in the lecture by saying that the Georgia people had a pretty good opinion of him as a general but they did think he was sort of careless with fire!

This lecture is quite often referred to as the first rumbling of the South which was to follow and which has been steadily advancing ever since. But the present generation in the South would do well to remind themselves once in a while of what their forefathers endured during those days, and would do well to be familiar with the well-known quote from this lecture whereby Grady attempted to call attention to the desperate need that the South manufacture some of its own raw materials into finished goods:

"I attended a funeral once in Pickens County in my state. A funeral is not usually a cheerful object to me unless I could select my subject. I think I could without going a hundred miles from here, find the materials for one or two cheerful funerals. Still, this funeral was peculiarly sad. It was a poor 'one-gallus' fellow, whose breeches struck him under the armpits and hit him at the other end about the knee—he didn't believe in décolleté clothes. They buried him in the midst of a marble quarry—they cut through solid marble to make his grave—and yet the little tombstone he put above him was from Vermont. They buried him in the heart of a pine forest, and yet the pine coffin was imported from Cincinnati. They buried him within touch of an iron mine, and yet the nails in his coffin and the iron in the shovel that dug his grave were imported from Pittsburgh. They buried him by the side of the best sheep-grazing country on the earth and yet the wool in the coffin bands and the coffin bands themselves were brought from the North.

"The South didn't furnish a thing on earth for that funeral but the corpse and the hole in the ground. There they put him away and the clouds rattled down on the coffin, and they buried him in a New York coat and a Boston pair of shoes, and a pair of breeches from Chicago and a shirt from Cincinnati, leaving him nothing to carry into the next world with him to remind him of the country in which he lived and for which he fought for four years, but the chilled blood in his veins and the marrow in his bones."

Read these lines—and then look at the South now, which for many years has been advancing at a more rapid rate than the country as a whole. "The New South" of which Henry Grady dreamed is now here, containing all the necessary elements for sound and enduring prosperity and beginning to utilize them to the fullest. The South is inevitable destined to become the most prosperous region of the nation.

As we approach the 107 anniversary of his birth on May 21st, we should and pay tribute to Henry W. Grady!

Meat Is Essential

Do you think that a fat child is necessarily a well-nourished child? If so, you are wrong.

The authorities on nutrition have learned that a plump youngster can actually be suffering from malnutrition. That is because useless weight is gained if the child's excessive calories come mainly from foods low in protein and vitamins.

Sound nutrition can come only from a well-rounded diet, containing the proper share of proteins, vitamins and minerals, along with an adequate but not excessive amount of fat.

Here is one reason why the scientific attitude toward meat has undergone an important change in comparatively recent years. It is now known that meat is essential to the mental and physical health and well-being of people in all the age groups, from the very young to the very old. It is also of great value in many illnesses and post-operative situations. Meat is one of the most valuable of all the sources of high quality protein, the B vitamins, and various beneficial minerals. It is an interesting fact that the superior endurance of American soldiers in World War II is believed to have largely resulted from a diet high in meat content.

Last, but not least, most people find meat one of the most satisfying and attractive of foods. We can eat it with relish every day. There is no adequate substitute for it.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERR

AN ABSENT-MINDED PROFESSOR was attending a convention in San Francisco, and became so engrossed in a discussion he failed to notice that the hat-check girl had given him an overcoat about five sizes too large for him. He even continued talking when the coat trailed three feet behind him on the floor, and only returned to the world of reality when he tripped on it and fell flat on his face. Back he marched to the hat-check girl and complained. "There's a pair of gloves in the pocket of this coat that don't belong to me. You must have put them there by mistake!"

Inspirational message in the office of a Hollywood casting director: "Do it Tomorrow! You've Made Enough Mistakes Today!"

"My secretary," grumbled Publisher Donald Klopfer, "has a one-track mind. I think it's called Monmouth Park."

Ike's Second Term Honeymoon

By LYLE C. WILSON

WASHINGTON — There's a Tommy Manville touch to President Eisenhower's second term honeymoon with big business. Perhaps it never really was true love.

Big business, maneuvered by some smart politicians such as Thomas E. Dewey of New York, put up the brains, the money and the arguments to nominate and elect Eisenhower in 1952.

They yearned for a friend in the White House after long years of Franklin D. Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman. They got their friend in. Now many of the President's former supporters believe he has stabbed them in the back with big spending and high tax policies.

Congress Also Responsible
Anyone who knows a lick about government is aware that Congress, equally with the President, is responsible for the high rate of government expenditures now proposed, and for high taxes. Businessmen do not know much about government, however, nor do most voters. So Eisenhower is getting all the discredit for the proposed budget for fiscal 1958. It isn't fair, but it is a political fact with which the administration must reckon.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:
Please accept our belated acknowledgement of the support on your part and that of the Sanford Herald, rendered during the organization and execution of the Lake Mary Volunteer Fire Department's recent benefit supper. Certainly without your excellent cooperation and coverage the event would not have been a complete success. For your help in this matter we are deeply grateful.

Most sincerely yours,
Edward I. Zimmerman,
President.

FORT GORDON, Ga. (AHTNC)—Army Pvt. Johnny Glenn, son of Mrs. Lelia M. Glenn, Oriedo, was graduated May 17 from the lineman's course at the Army's Southeastern Signal School, Fort Gordon, Ga.

The symptoms of business disenchantment with Eisenhower were evident recently at the Hot Springs, Va., meeting of the Commerce Department's Business Advisory Council. More graphically, a top drawer General Motors official recently publicly rebuffed Eisenhower.

Chamber Also Miffed
WPA means Works Progress Administration, one of the multi-billion dollar relief and pump-priming projects associated with FDR's New Deal.

The United States Chamber of Commerce, which loved Eisenhower in 1952 and in 1956, doesn't love him any more. The chamber tagged the President the other day as the biggest tax collector of all time, so far.

Eisenhower's is an eye-popping record for an administra-

Life's Too Easy Now

By HERMAN H. BUNDESEN, M.D.

GETTING fat? Then you're probably taking things too easy. Mechanization, automation and modernization troubles. He used to walk behind a plow for many hours a day and use 400 calories per hour, but now he rides a tractor and uses only 130 calories per hour.

Most of you housewives, for example, used to use up something like 250 calories every hour by scrubbing floors, washing clothes and doing other manual household chores.

Now you perform the same tasks with the aid of washing machines and dryers, vacuum cleaners and floor polishers. And you use up less than half as many calories each hour.

Yet your eating habits probably haven't changed. You eat just as much as you did when you worked off twice as many calories.

The same thing applies to you men, too.

Men Walk Less
In a recent issue of the American Heart Association publication, Dr. Herbert Pollock points out that the average man expends about 100 calories in walking a mile. But how many men walk much with automobiles, trains, buses and other forms of transportation so accessible?

INSOMNIA — THE NATIONAL ROGETMAN

"A bowl of rice, and the bend of arm for a pillow—a man can be happy with these," said Confucius. But today the majority of our citizens need more than the arm for a pillow for to induce sleep, a Niagara of sleeping pills and aids pour into drug stores. In New York a shop is devoted entirely to sleep aids: pills, ear-plugs, eye shades—even special records to play. All this for what should be the normal process of restful sleep.

The first sleep aid is a simple philosophy which impresses that most worry is useless. This, plus a quiet, relaxing atmosphere before bedtime, with a warm, non-stimulating drink, will help, especially if the bedroom is well ventilated and not too warm. Fatigue of heavy, indigestible foods before bedtime is a major cause of sleeplessness.

A modern sleep-killer is the horrible and terrifying motion picture shown as a night-cap by television. This is the stuff of which nightmares are made, as is fast, jerky, dance music, written to spur physical action. However, ballads and symphonies are restful and conducive of relaxation.

A firm mattress and art of "thinking of nothing at all," with a neutral mind, and an absence of worry about whether or not sleep will come, will help to achieve restful sleep. Your doctor, with his soothing treatment, can do much to relieve the tension which often causes sleeplessness.

"Before we were married you said you worshipped the ground I walk on . . . now you complain if I bring a little of it into the house!"

"THE CHEAP BUYER TAKES BAD MEAT"
Over two hundred years ago this warning written, and it is as true today as it was then.

There are no secrets about how to be successful in business. A fair profit must be made, or one does not last long. To sell cheap means that either quality or service must be cut—usually both. Medicines or health-aids must always be of the best quality, and prescription service should be the best possible.

We wouldn't like to be called the cheapest or dearest pharmacist. We just want folks to always say that our prices are fair, and our service is good.

Casselberry Club Holds Annual Dinner Meeting

MRS. RAYMOND MORRIS CASSEBERRY — Members of the Casselberry Woman's Club continuing an annual custom, held its year-end meeting Wed. night, with a dinner at Spencer's dining room at Sanford.

The arrangements for the annual affair were in charge of Mrs. I. E. Swope, who gave a short address at welcome to members and guests. Mrs. Swope then called upon Mrs. Ben R. Evans, Vice-Pres. to read the Collect.

Mrs. C. K. Fisher, outgoing Pres. of the County Federation of Women's Clubs and a member of the Casselberry club, presented a gift from the members to Mrs. Joseph I. Laird, Pres. Mrs. Burnham Stotts, retiring after many years of service as Treas., also received a gift from the club, from Mrs. Fisher.

During a social hour following the dinner, a panel show, similar to TV's "I've Got a Secret" was conducted by Mrs. Charles Pace. The panel, composed of Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. Warren Stevenson and Mrs. Roy Pope, solved Mrs. John Gilpin's secret, but were stumped by Mrs. Laird and Mrs. G. R. Dillon.

Mrs. Gilpin will complete her university educational course this summer, at Stetson, making her eligible to teach in Florida schools this fall. Mrs. Dillon's "a fool, a sucker and left handed secret," refers to her April first birthday, a native of Illinois, and a natural southpaw. Mrs. Laird stumped the panel concerning a trip this summer, to Mexico.

SHS Spring Training Shows Outstanding Play On Line

SHOULD DO BETTER . . . By Alan Maver
WILLIE MAYS,
OF THE NEW YORK GIANTS.

AT THE AGE OF 35 (36 IN MAY) HE'S EXPECTED TO BE ONE OF THE SEASON'S COMEBACK KIDS, SINCE 1956, BY WILLIE'S STANDARDS, THIS IS A POOR YEAR.

HIS BATTING AVERAGE AND R.B.I. MARKS WERE HIS LOWEST SINCE HE RETURNED FROM SERVICE, BUT HIS 40 STOLEN BASES WAS THE HIGHEST SINCE 1929.

Letterman Tommy Brown, transfer Kelly Lake, and sophomore David Stanley so far have shaped into the three most consistent members of next year's edition of the Sanford Seminoles football squad.

The heavy contact and offensive scrimmages apparently thinned the ranks of the first week of spring training, yesterday, as only a skeleton of next year's team dressed out for the part of the training session that is reputed to separate the men from the boys.

In general yesterday's showing was poor from the lack of depth, but coach Dave Laude said that the more than half the members of the team would get the inside rail if they showed consistency for the rest of the spring training season.

"Coach Pigot has sent some of the basic play patterns for us to adapt," Laude said, "and it is up to the boys to show up for these basic drills and get all the wrinkles worked out before he gets here." Laude said that although past experience would be of immense aid to candidates for the team, none of the boys have their positions "sewed up."

"It's quite possible that coach Pigot will have entirely different concepts of the boys when he sees them in action," Laude said, "He will be new and unflinched by prior experience with the boys and will hand out positions on merit and consistency."

Pigot will come to Sanford with a dazzling 18-2 record behind him.

The outstanding play so far in the spring training has been in the line, which shows indication of being light but solid. Spring training will conclude next Tuesday.

Taylor Pitches Dodgers To 13-5 Win Over Yankees

Little John Taylor kept his perfect pitching record alive yesterday as he pitched the League leading Dodgers to a 13-5 win over the Yankees in Pinarrec Recreation Baseball League action.

Johnny's win yesterday gave him the undisputed lead in the Pinarrec League pitching bracket with six consecutive wins against no defeats. Allowing only two walks, he whiffed 10 of the Yankee batters.

The win moved the Dodgers two full games ahead in the League competition and gave little indication that they would relax that lead.

Griffin fired his fast ball to Jerry Dillard in the first inning and Jerry tapped out a triple that scored two runs and rattled the Yankee hurler for the rest of the game. Although Griffin was successful as he pitched cautious outside balls and struck out 10 batters, he allowed 10 walks that turned on the rout again.

Today the Pirates play the Rebels, tomorrow the Rebels square off against the league leading Dodgers, and Thursday the Pirates tackle the Yankees.

Class D of FSL Reaches Halfway Mark Of Season

When the Class D Florida League reached the half way mark of its first half at midnight Thursday, the cold records indicated that based on past league performance since the war, this can be expected:

1. Ned Wilson will win the 1957 batting crown by a wide margin over what may be the smallest number of .300 or better "regulars" in years.
2. His St. Petersburg Saints may well be crowded out of first place in both halves of the season.
3. Not more than two pitchers will win 20 or more games, and every league individual pitching record likely will withstand all assaults.
4. The tallender in each half will be closer to the top than any team in league history.

At midnight Thursday, Wilson was leading the sluggers with a .450 mark, and was boasting a 21 game hitting streak. He also had just become the first player or manager to be slapped with a fine that was collected—a $25 jolt for his actions at home Sunday May 12.

Wilson, naturally as leading in hits with 81, in doubles with 17, in runs scored with 37, in total bases with 89, and in runs batted in with 35.

Skewlers of Palatka was leading in stolen bases with 14; Pizarro of Gainesville, Fields of Tampa, Bance and Ritter of Cocoa, in honors with four.

Only eight hurlers were undefeated, with Orlando's Nestor Olano on top with six straight wins without a loss. Jose Guerra was leading in men fanned with 83 in 86 innings, while his left-handed teammate, Julius Grant, was leading in men walked with 30 in 37 innings.

Gainesville had the best week of them all, winning five of seven; St. Pete won four of seven; Palatka, three of five; Leesburg and Orlando split six each; Daytona won three of eight; Tampa two of five, and Cocoa, the defending champions, one of four.

500 Swimmers Invade Pool Over Weekend

Some 500 swimmers invaded the Municipal Swimming Pool over this past weekend for a pleasurable swim for the early summer.

During its second weekend of operation the swimming pool, under the direction of E. W. Christensen, had a total of nearly 500 attending on Friday afternoon and evening, Saturday, and Sunday afternoon.

According to Christensen, the swimming pool will continue the three day weekend until June 13, at which time it will be open full time.

On an experimental basis the swimming pool has remained open until 9 p.m. on Friday evenings since its opening of the season two weeks ago. Christensen says the Friday evening opening is "hectic but highly successful."

The Municipal Swimming Pool is located on East Street approaching the Mayfair Inn.

Miami Marlins Get Sullivan From Red Sox

The Miami Marlins announced that catcher Haywood Sullivan, former star quarterback at the University of Florida, has been obtained on option from Boston Red Sox of the American League.

Sullivan, a 26-year-old resident of West Palm Beach, was assigned by the Red Sox after a brilliant baseball and football career with the Gators for a bonus reported to be in the neighborhood of $50,000. In signing with the Red Sox, "Sully" turned down numerous pro football offers, and cast his lot in pro baseball.

He is regarded as an outstanding prospect by the Red Sox, and is being sent down only so that he may be able to see regular service behind the plate.

The six foot four inch back stop joined the Albany club of the Class A Eastern League following his signing in 1952 and hit .295 in 91 games, including six home runs. After the '52 campaign, Sullivan was inducted into the Army.

Upon his return to civilian life in 1953, Sullivan was assigned to Louisville of the American Association and hit .271 last year with 134 games, rapping out 141 hits, of which 41 were for extra bases. He also drove in 77 runs.

Sullivan has appeared in spring exhibition games with the Red Sox at Miami Stadium, and has always hit the ball well, looking very impressive to all onlookers.

General Manager Joe Ryan of the Marlins stated, "Sullivan is with the Marlins on 24-hour recall by the Red Sox, and Boston General Manager Joe Cronin assured me that he would not recall Sullivan unless there is an extreme emergency."

Yesterday at the Triangle east of Memorial Stadium the clubs took the measure of the Pirates 2-1 while the Rotary League Tigers cut down the Giants, 7-0. The Tigers continue to hold top spot in the league standings with the close of the season set for Friday.

The victors went right to work in their opening swing at bat when the lead-off man, Ray Lundquist, blooped a single into short center field and later beat the throw to home when C. Kirk rapped one to short.

Two more runs went into the books in the third inning after Harbour went down swinging and Lundquist punched a single into left field, later stealing home. Marsh was out when he hit to Koke who made the play to Rowles at second to catch Lundquist, missed that out, but caught the second half of the double play effort at first. Charlie Kirk was passed, stole second, and when Wheeler's throw to third in an attempt to catch him there went wild, he trotted in for the tally.

Ten men went to bat against Jim Gracey and to his relief, Alex McKibbin, in the fourth. Steve Powell led off with a single and the sacks loaded up when Hodges and Threatt were walked. Harbour was safe at first on a fielder's choice that scored Powell.

The first out of the frame occurred when Lundquist skied to Gracey at first. The fielding gem of the game came on Marsh's blooper back of third that Charlie Koke raced back to grab what looked to be a safety—and the base runners barely skidded back to their bases to forestall a double play. Kirk walked to bring up Summerall, who rifled a single to left field to score Threatt. Harbour marked when he was walked home by Adams' pass.

In Powell's second time at bat he took three strikes—retire the side.

Winning pitcher Summerall struck out five, walked four. Gracey passed five, set down two, while McKibbin walked one and passed two.

Challenge For Dr. Mays

CHAPTER 21
FIVE YEARS earlier, Lacey had waited for the sound of Brit's step in the hall and on the stairs—familiar sounds which that night never came to break the mounting stillness in the house. She exactly remembered the growing fear she felt as she found her slippers, put on a robe, and went downstairs and out into the garage—to stand frozen beside the car, physically unable to open the door or touch the man slumped across the wheel. She had, finally, managed to creep back into the house, pick up the phone and summon John Blandin.

From then on, Lacey had been shielded and protected; the rest of the nightmare went on without her. That same night she had been taken to the hospital, where she stayed until Johnny was safely born. She had left the hospital for her mother's home, and had lived in it ever since.

John and the Coroner had said that Brit's death was obviously sudden, of course, the result of a severe heart attack, to which Dr. Van Horn was subject.

No one, to Lacey's knowledge, had questioned that finding. And yet—

Had his death really been simply from a heart attack, wouldn't people have talked to Lacey about it? About Britton? No one ever did.

Lacey knew that he was talked about, that stories were told. They could be told to Chad in a way to . . . There even might be those who wondered if Lacey had not induced the fatal attack . . .

Once, because no one ever mentioned the matter of Britton's death, or its manner, she went to the Central library, and read the newspaper accounts, which had carefully been kept from her at the time.

"Dr. John Blandin, the family physician called by the widow . . ." But she hadn't known she was a widow, when she'd made that frenzied phone call . . . "verified that Dr. Van Horn had been dead for as long as two hours when found . . ."

And that wasn't right! That couldn't be right! Lacey had heard the car come in—she'd waited a little, she'd moved slowly, fearfully—but it couldn't have been more than fifteen minutes—thirty at the most—before she reached him. It had taken John another ten to get to her. But— Lacey's testimony had been taken and accepted, without her leaving the hospital. Wasn't she believed? Or did they believe she had drifted back to sleep and was too shocked to remember it?

Or had allowances been made for her youth, her approaching motherhood—and her family's wealth?

She knew that she had told the truth! As for the explanation of that two-hour lapse of time, if others knew about those things, or guessed, she had not been told.

Lacey herself never mentioned the tragedy, nor gave even her mother an opening to speak of it. At first John Blandin had ordered this protection of her. Later, the door of silence remained closed.

Friends and acquaintances might have been less considerate, but Lacey didn't have many "friends and acquaintances" since the tragedy; she had kept very much to herself, getting over the shock and grief of it, devoting her full time to Johnny.

Part of that sweet air of innocence which had charmed Chad was timeliness, and inexperience in dealing with people, except on purely superficial social occasions, like her mother's parties. She had lost intimate touch with the world of human beings . . .

Perhaps even as a child, but certainly as an adolescent, she had gradually learned to suspect kindness, never sure whether people liked her for herself, or for the money she had. Even Britton, and suddenly the tragic climax of her marriage plunged her still more deeply into doubt and uncertainty.

Then Chad happened. Not knowing who she was, Chad had seen her, talked to her, asked her to marry him. For herself alone! Lacey took a deep breath. She had to talk to him frankly and openly. If only she could bring herself to do it, to put her heart and doubt behind her and tell Chad everything she should know, must know if ever she loved him. She had to talk to him frankly and openly. If only she could bring herself to do it, to put her heart and doubt behind her and tell Chad everything she should know, must know if ever she loved him. She had to talk to him frankly and openly. If only she could bring herself to do it, to put her heart and doubt behind her and tell Chad everything she should know, must know if ever she loved him.

Agriculture News

According to information received from Curtis J. Green, eligible farm owners in Seminole County may borrow from the Farmers Home Administration to build or repair farm houses and other essential farm buildings. Curtis Green is Farm and Home Administration County Supervisor, serving local farm families.

He said the farm housing loans were made available under recent legislation. A total of $50,000,000 has been provided for these loans. Interest on the loans will be four per cent per year on the unpaid principal. Repayments will be scheduled over periods up to 33 years. A housing loan will be secured by a mortgage on the borrower's farm.

The local Farmers Home Administration County Committee will determine whether or not an applicant is eligible for a housing loan. To be eligible, an applicant must be the owner of the farm, be unable to obtain suitable credit for dwellings and other buildings from other lenders, and have enough income from the farm or from the farm and other sources to meet family living and farm operating expenses and repay his debts.

Further information on the loans may be obtained at the County Office of the Farmers Home Administration located at Room 418, Sanford Atlantic National Bank Building, Sanford.

The program at the Seminole County Farm Bureau meeting will be a public speaking contest on the subject of What Conservation Means to You. Charles T. H. Clark, Farm Bureau Junior High and Jimmie Williams, FFA, from Seminole High will compete for the $25, first prize, provided by the Seminole Soil Conservation District. Second and third prizes are $15 and $10, respectively.

The meeting starts at 7:30 at the Seminole High School Vocational-Agricultural Building. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

Too Late To Classify

By Russell Kay

The old and the new have long been in conflict. Points of deep historical interest and values are constantly challenged by those who march under the banner of "Today and Progress."

Why let the old stand in the way of the new? Progress means change. We cannot live in the past. We must consider the present and its demands.

It is an old, old story and will probably continue as a conflict until the end of time. America, because of its youth, cannot compete with Europe, Asia and other sections from the standpoint of historical interest.

This is all the more reason why we should preserve the historical interests we do possess, guarding them zealously against those who would destroy them in the name of "progress."

Florida is fortunate in that we possess historical points of interest that go back farther than those of any other state or area. So old are they in fact that our cities of St. Augustine and Pensacola clasp each other and tear their hair over the question of which is the older.

In any event we can trace our history back 400 years or more and countless millions of tourists and visitors have been thrilled to visit the ancient landmarks and vision their relationship to America's present day achievement.

The St. Augustine Historical Society is up in arms, and justly so, over a proposal to destroy the old water front to make way for a highway. Perhaps a bottleneck does exist from the Old Fort to the Bridge of Lions but let's not lose sight of the fact that this is ST. AUGUSTINE. It is fitting that traffic slow down and motorists dodge surreys with fringe on top.

Four-lane highways are splendid, but there is a place for them. Move fast traffic around the city if we must but let's do nothing that will change the ancient setting of the Old Fort, the City Gates, the seawall. These are St. Augustine.

The Ancient City is planning to celebrate its 400th anniversary in 1963. Let's hope that when this date arrives it will still retain its historical character unspoiled by four-lane highways.

All St. Augustine needs today is a STOP sign that will prevent any move that would further destroy its ancient historical heritage.

Early Treatment Cures Many Breast Cancers

By HERMAN M. BUNDISIN, M.D.

SEVENTY-FIVE per cent of breast cancers can be cured if treated early.

Since breast cancer is one of the most common forms of this dread disease—it is responsible for 3.2 per cent of the reported cancer deaths—we can deal a heavy blow to the rising cancer toll by detecting it early.

By early, I mean that it should be reported to your physician within a few days or few weeks at the most after the appearance of the first lump.

Don't Delay

A wait of two or three months before you seek medical treatment may be too long.

It's easy for you women to examine your breasts. In fact, at least 94 per cent of the women who develop a breast tumor find it themselves.

You should watch for any dimpling of the skin or retraction of the nipple. You should also be on the lookout for a discharge from the nipple or a weeping reaction around the nipple or central portion of the breast.

Unusual Lumps

Feel the breasts with the fingers and hands while sitting and then while lying down. If you notice any lumps, report them to your physician.

Many of these lumps which cannot be noticed when the patient is sitting can be felt when lying down. The reverse also is true.

The great majority of such lumps are not cancerous. I would like to emphasize that. But I also want to emphasize that any swelling in the breasts should be reported to your physician immediately.

These examinations should be carried out systematically once every month. If more women would follow this procedure, we could cure a lot more cases of breast cancer.

Surgery can cure most such cancer cases providing they are discovered early enough. When surgery is not possible, radiation treatment sometimes is very effective.

Breast cancer should be purely a problem of medical research. It will become just this when women finally learn techniques of self-examination and see their physicians at regular intervals.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Q: I have the feeling that there is something in my eye all of the time. I keep rubbing the eyeball constantly. Could this be a cataract?

A: The feeling that there is something in the eye does not occur in cataract.

This symptom is usually an indication that an infection of the lining of the membrane over the eyeball and eyelid is present. It is known as conjunctivitis. A careful examination by your physician will indicate the right treatment.

Commissioner Rejects Radio Equipment Bids After 3-Hour Hassle

Top News In Brief

PARIS 20 — Premier Guy Mollet refused "absolutely" today to remain in office following his loss of a vote of confidence, and President Rene Coty began the long and difficult search for France's 10th postwar government.

WASHINGTON 20 — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told Congress today it would be "folly" for the United States to cut foreign aid spending and weaken the free world's system of collective security. Dulles, formally launching the administration's bid for congressional approval of President Eisenhower's scaled-down $3,540,000,000 foreign aid program, warned Eisenhower in warning against any further cuts.

WASHINGTON 20 — Chief Justice Earl Warren urged today that the executive and legislative branches of government provide more judges for the growing work load of federal courts. Warren noted bills are pending in Congress providing creation of almost 60 additional judgeships. But he said if they are to pass this session the legislators "must work their way faster than up to date."

Cordell To Receive Top ROTC Award At The Citadel

The Citadel, at Charleston, S.C., today announced 12 top awards to cadets who are members of the Army ROTC, all of which will be presented at an Awards Review of the Corps at 3 p.m., Thursday May 20. Air Force, academic, sports and special awards will be announced later. Winners announced today include Cadet Captain T. D. Cordell, senior of Sanford. The awards will be presented by Gen. Mark W. Clark, president of The Citadel, or by designated representatives of those who have established the prizes. The Awards Review is a major feature of the Citadel's Commencement Week, which starts with a Baccalaureate Service Sunday, May 26, and ends with graduation exercises Saturday, June 1, at which the principal speaker will be Gen. Lucius Clay. Cadet Captain Cordell won an award from the Association of the U.S. Army as the outstanding senior in the Army ROTC. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Cordell of 2425 Elm Ave., Sanford. He is a Distinguished Military Student.

Graham Preaches Sermon On Ten Commandments

NEW YORK 20 — Billy Graham today night preached a fiery sermon on the Ten Commandments—emphasizing on adultery and murder—before an audience of 17,500 that included former racketeer Mickey Cohen and two bodyguards. Graham said before his sermon that although he knew Cohen was in the audience his words would not be directed specifically at the ex-convict of the West Coast underworld. After the sermon, Cohen and Graham had a brief private meeting in Billy's office and then Cohen and his two bodyguards dashed off to catch a plane for Chicago.

An estimated 600 persons came forward to make "confessions of sin" following what may have been the 28-year-old revivalist's most effective of seven Madison Square Garden sermons to date. A crusade official said Graham's exhortations on the Ten Commandments invariably "got a tremendous response."

In the first week of Graham's New York Crusade, 4,815 persons have come forward to "accept Jesus Christ." More than 117,000 had heard Graham in the first seven nights of his crusade.

All bids were rejected yesterday by the Board of Seminole County Commissioners following a three-hour hassle over the type, price, quality, and need for radio equipment designated for use by the office of the Seminole County Sheriff.

Magnesium Flares Rip From Jet Wing Over Local Area

The Navy mustered ground parties today to search for a pod of 52 "extremely dangerous" magnesium flares which ripped from the wing of a jet photo plane over central Florida.

"One of these flares would light up Times Square so bright you couldn't even see the lights of Broadway," chief journalist Bob Ohi said at the Jacksonville Naval Air Station.

The pod, wherever it lies, may be triggered by the slightest impact or even a hot sun, Ohi said. He said the 32 flares would have a total brilliance of more than 2,000,000 candle power.

The four-foot, streamlined pod dropped from the wing of an F9F-8P Cougar jet piloted by Lt. JG Edward Chorlton Tuesday night about seven miles southwest of Lake George, the Navy said.

Ohi said it was believed unlikely the pod fell near any developed property but said it was feared likely to touch off a fire in the Ocala National Forest if triggered by an animal or by the sun.

The pilot intended to release the flares one at a time while photographing the impact zone of a target area at Pinecastle Air Force Base, Ohi said. Each flare would light up a five-mile area, he said.

Senate Defeats $250,000 Market Guided Missile Appropriation Bill

The bill to appropriate $250,000 to aid in rebuilding the Sanford State Farmers Market apparently passed the Senate Appropriations committee vote 9-3 against the House approved bill Tuesday. Senator Douglas Stinson said this morning in Tallahassee: "The Senate Appropriations Committee yesterday defeated our appropriations bill for the Farmers' Market. The committee took this action after Lee Thompson, Administrative Assistant to Nathan Mayo stated that the Agriculture Department had sufficient funds to build the market from the $127,000 insurance proceeds and the $125,000 from department funds, totaling $252,000.

He said "Thompson told the committee that this amount would provide a concrete and steel structure of substantially the same size except wider as the former market and would provide modern accommodations.

"The committee did not feel," said Senator Stinson, "that funds should be appropriated from the general fund of the State for the first time to market facilities if the market could be built as before from department of Agriculture funds as stated by Mr. Thompson."

Said Stinson: "The committee also killed three other bills sponsored by Senators Johns, Edwards and Knight for market facilities out of state general funds."

The Seminole delegation will continue to work with the Department of Agriculture to get the market rebuilt with a modern structure, said Senator Stinson. "We will receive, in addition to the $252,000 appropriation, $100,000 in paving from the State Road Department," he said.

Spending Is Too High

WASHINGTON 20 — President Eisenhower said today he will never agree to a tax cut until the government has a much bigger budget surplus in sight than it has now.

Eisenhower told his news conference that the federal budget is now in what he called a precarious state of balance. He said vehemently that he is not yet at the point where we can even talk about tax reduction.

He said spending in some government departments is running seriously over budget estimates in spite of all the administration can do to hold down expenditures.

He said he will do his best to keep the current fiscal 1957 budget and the budget for fiscal 1958, which ends July 1, in the black. But he said he would never agree to tax reduction when the budget is in such a state.

Mis Defense Cut — He sharply criticized the $2,500,000,000 cut in defense appropriations voted by the House Appropriations Committee Tuesday. The President said about half of the reduction was nothing but a book-keeping operation that will not reduce fiscal 1958 spending by one cent. But he warned the other half of the cut would directly affect key defense programs.

He reported that White House mail, which was running heavily against his budget proposals early this year, has gradually swung around in sentiment and today is very much in favor of his stand against crippling economy cuts.

Wants GOP Congress — The President was asked whether he might show "more enthusiasm" in the 1958 congressional campaigns in backing GOP senators and congressmen who have supported his program than those who have fought him.

He said he hopes he is never accused of being so nabby-pabby that he does not have degrees of enthusiasm between those who stand with him and against him. He said he wants a Republican Congress because he believes in party responsibility. To that extent, he said, he is for whatever candidate Republicans of any district nominate.

He said the United States is trying to keep an open mind in the current big power disarmament talks in London and will try to be especially careful to get an adequate inspection system when we are dealing with a country which has a long record of broken agreements.

Bill To Permit Local Harness Racing OK'd

TALLAHASSEE 20 — The Senate Miscellaneous Legislation Committee today approved bills to permit harness racing in Seminole and Broward counties.

Bill To Permit Local Harness Racing OK'd

The Seminole track is under attack now in Leon Circuit Court and dog track owner Jerry Collins of Sarasota said the bill would amount to "legislating a matter that should be determined in court."

Teddy Walker, winner in the runoff election, thanked the student body this morning for their confidence and vote. He said that "you give your wholehearted support to your new president."

Among those honored was Mary Ross Anderson of Sanford and Etowah, Tenn. who received the Phi Beta national honorary fraternity award for the outstanding woman in the School of Music.

However, the bills still must go to the Finance and Taxation Committee. The Broward County measure, validating a harness track at Pompano Beach, has passed the House.

Only Sen. Joe Eaton of Miami voted against the Seminole harness track bill. However, other members of the committee, who also sit on Finance and Taxation, indicated their affirmative vote today was a "courtesy" and they might vote against both measures in the next committee.

Andrew Bracken, principal at Seminole High School, said this morning that the matter of having co-presidents will be placed before the student council today for a decision.

"It's the student's government," said Principal Bracken, "and if they want the two presidents their constitution and by-laws will have to be changed to allow it."

The principal of Seminole High School said that there were originally four candidates for president of the Student Council: "The corners were close ones," he said, "which meant that a runoff had to be conducted for the two winners."

Bracken said this morning that about the Student Council approve the dual presidents for the new school term the student body would vote on it as quickly as possible, possibly tomorrow, possibly Friday.
