St. Johns Has Dedication Of New Carillon

Dedication ceremonies were held Sunday for the Magna-Bell Carillon which was recently installed at the St. John Chrysostom Eastern Orthodox Church in Fern Park.

This MagnaBell instrument is an exclusive development of Schulmerich Carillons, the world's largest producer of carillons and bells. The Eastern Orthodox Carillons are set to play at 9 a.m., noon, 3 p.m., and 5, 6 and 7 p.m.

Also a part of this instrument is one of the famous miniature Schulmerich bells. This bell will be used as a Call-to-Service bell to summon the people to worship and during the Divine Liturgy to signify the times of the Institution and the Consecration. It also will be used in conjunction with the new Three Hierarchs Seminary that is presently being prepared for opening this fall. It is the only Eastern Orthodox Seminary for the training of Priests in the English language in North America.

One may hear all of the favorite hymns played over this Eastern Orthodox Carillon. Presently the famous Orthodox Hymns are being featured. Visitors to such places as Bok Tower in Lake Wales can hear these same beautiful hymns and the music of the Schulmerich bells.

ing within its budget during 1964.

Actual revenues of the fiscal year 1964, the period on which the audit was made, reveals that the amount of money coming in exceeded estimated revenue by more than $7,000.

On the general fund budget, of 1964, a total of $80,174 was budgeted but actually $80,411.70 was spent.

The audit shows that only

$30 in real estate taxes was uncollectible.

The city collected $33,726 in real estate taxes — exceeding the expected collection by $5,351.

The balance sheet of the general fund revealed total assets of $55,598. Assets of the previous year were listed as $48,871.

The audit, made by James W. Jones by executive order of the governor, said:

"Our examination disclosed nothing that would cause us to question in any material respect the data presented herein."

"The financial condition of the general fund was good at Dec. 31, 1963, and Dec. 31, 1964, as shown in exhibits."

The waterworks system fund balance sheet revealed total cash of $69,444 on Dec. 31, 1964, and total assets of $413,056. Total liabilities were listed as $360,875.

The auditor called the town's system of internal control weak but said his examination did not and could not within reasonable economic limits, provide an adequate substitute for such control.

The auditor contended the "tax rolls were poorly prepared." It did not review the assessed valuations but the town has entered into a contract with a firm to complete revaluation of all taxable property in Altamonte Springs.

The audit said minutes of proceedings did not appear to include all official actions of the Town council.

The audit also criticized the city for not purchasing any investments during the audit period and commented that all bank accounts of the Waterworks System Fund were maintained with the Commercial Bank of Winter Park. It noted that one of the Town's councilmen is an officer in the same bank.

However, the audit could find no misuse of funds and leveled its criticism mainly at book-keeping methods. All funds were accounted for, according to the audit.

Waterway Guide for 1965 (Southern Edition) includes a picture-story of a Jacksonville-to-Sanford cruise on the St. Johns River.

"I really believe it was the most beautiful trip I ever made," writes Elgin White of the Florida News Bureau. White also refers to the trip as a "magnificent boating adventure" and one of the most enjoyable he had ever made.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers says it knows of no plans to enlarge bridge clearances under I-4 or U.S. 17-92 near Sanford. There has been some talk the clearances would be widened.

A movie you will want to miss: "Examination of the Esophagus with a Fibroptic Esophagoscope." To be shown at the American Medical Association's convention in New York June 20-24.

Baby turtles, favored as house pets, can be dangerous. The Minnesota Department of Health has discovered. It seems turtles can be the source of a serious intestinal disease, salmonellosis. Be sure to wash your hands carefully after handling the creatures or their bowls, turtle fanciers. Also do not dump water in which turtles live in the kitchen sink. It could contaminate food.

Jaycees kicked off their membership drive Monday with the "American" and "National" League teams coached by Garnett White and Glenn McCall. Contest runs to July 3, with winners eating steak and the losers the usual beans. To add insult to injury, the losers have to pay for the steaks.

Watch for the "Banda-balo" coming June 25. It promises an exciting evening, especially for teenagers. Also watch The Sanford Herald for further information.

Pinecrest School summer recreation program will begin Friday for children who attended grades one through six there this year. Hours are 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. with seven weeks of fun and games.

State Jaycee president Donald Asher, of Orlando, will visit the Sanford-Seminole Jaycees at their noon luncheon-meeting Thursday at the Civic Center.

Robert Eugene Park, son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles L. Park Sr., 109 West 17th Street, will receive his master of law degree from Yale University during commencement exercises June 14. Park will not be present, however, for he has just begun as an associate professor at George Washington University in Washington, D. C.

John Krider, Seminole County Chamber of Commerce manager, is in Washington this week to attend the National Rivers and Harbors Conference as a delegate appointed by Gov. Haydon Burns.

The latest teen-age fad while jayriding, according to numerous police reports, appears to be tossing eggs at people and objects, particularly parked cars. Several complaints have been registered by citizens who have found the interiors of their autos smeared with broken eggs. The eggs have not replaced the old standby of water-filled balloons, however. Several cases of this type "bombing" also have been reported.

Vacation Ends
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson was back in the White House today after a five-day rest in the Virgin Islands. The President's wife said the "most fun" of her vacation was swimming underwater and discovering the mysteries of the Caribbean Sea.

Spacemen Physically Fine

'Y' All Come,' President Bids Heroes

ABOARD USS WASP, At Sea — (UPI) — Medical tests on American space twins James McDivitt and Edward White today showed less apparent physical effects than astronauts experienced in earlier, far shorter flights.

Dr. Charles Berry, chief astronaut physician aboard the Wasp, said nevertheless he probably would keep the two astronauts on board the Wasp until Thursday morning before sending them home by plane.

The ship circled 60 miles off Jacksonville, Fla., while the happy space explorers rested and the nation prepared a heroes' welcome.

White and McDivitt soared from the heavens and splashed into the Atlantic Ocean aboard the tiny capsule Monday after 37 hours, 38 minutes and 62 orbits in space.

They were picked up by helicopters — bewildered and weary, but otherwise safe, as co-owners of every U. S. space record in the books. They were short only the 119-hour Russian space endurance record.

FILM 'OUT OF THIS WORLD'
SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — Color film of astronaut Edward White's space walk showed today a fantastic glimpse of man maneuvering with so much ease in space that he saluted his Gemini-4 spaceship as he floated freely in the cosmic void.

The 11-minute, 48-second silent film of the spectacle taken by a camera that White, himself, mounted on the outside of his spacecraft showed a brilliant spectacle of green, blue, white and black with flashes of gold in slow motion.

The white-clad space pilot zipped over the blues and whites of earth at an altitude of 103 miles, crossing the United States from west to east on the third orbit last Thursday.

As White emerged from the shadow of the bell-shaped Gemini-4 spaceship, the bright sun caught his white spacesuit, illuminating it brilliantly.

A small American flag patched on his shoulder was easily seen as the astronaut climbed from the ship.

North Orlando Ponders New Village Hall

By Donna Estes
Plans were discussed for financing of a proposed North Orlando Village Hall at regular meeting of council Monday evening.

The 60-foot by 40-foot facility would be constructed on the 12½ acres acquired recently from the North Orlando Company.

Mayor David G. Tilson reported that two banks and two insurance companies had been contacted about financing the project.

Council agreed to instruct village attorney Orville Johnson to write the Community Facilities Administration, of the U. S. Housing and Home Finance Agency, Atlanta, Ga., as suggested in a letter from U. S. Rep. A. S. Herlong Jr., to ascertain if a federal loan is available for the building.

In other business, a resident appeared to complain about refrigeration trucks parked and left running all night on property adjacent to his home.

Details of the amended occupational license ordinance were worked out after lengthy discussion and consideration. The amended ordinance will be sent to Johnson for preparation and passed at another meeting.

Problems and dangers involved by "population explosion" among dogs in the village were discussed. Council decided to set up a dog clinic where residents may have their animals inoculated.

Land Proposal

Less Work
WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House passed legislation that would reduce the work week of postmasters from six hours in six days to four hours in five days. The bill now goes to the Senate.

SUSAN MAUSCHI joined the throngs who were "Singing in the Rain" in Sanford this morning. The entire area has been joyful these last few days since "Jupiter Pluvius" began looking down kindly once again. ## Walk Slowly On Water Act, County Told Seminole County Commissioners today were warned to use "great caution" in proceeding with any negotiations with Orange County in the water control program.

"Orange County is not spending money to improve Seminole County. Nothing has been done to assure us that all that water won't be turned loose on us," declared George A. Speer Jr., who said he was speaking for taxpayers and property owners.

Speer also charged that the U. S. Corps of Engineers "has made one mistake after another in the Central and South Florida Flood Control District."

The spokesman also asked County Commissioners to request the Legislature to release Seminole County from participation in the Central and South Florida Flood Control District taxation.

"For 18 years they have been taking our money and they have not done a thing for Seminole County," Speer charged.

"Now all these dikes and canals planned by Orange County are designed to dump more water on us. When a hurricane comes, where will the water go? People around the lakes will be crying for the water to be released and the people down below will be begging that the water not be released," Speer predicted.

He asked that the people in the area be permitted to express their feelings on the matter. And that consulting, disinterested engineers be called in to review Orange County's plans in the interest of Seminole County's protection.

Commission Chairman John Alexander assured Speer that public hearings would be held and that the board was aware of all these problems.

"We want, and need, to cooperate with Orange County in their water control problems, but we must protect the interests of this county," Alexander said.

It is anticipated the port authority committee of the Chamber of Commerce will disband once the Authority comes into being.

Navy Urges Military Pay Hike

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Navy today urged Congress to approve President Johnson's $402 million military pay raise proposal. Top Navy officials said it and a provision for subsequent semi-automatic pay hikes would be a boon to the sea service.

Navy Secretary Paul Nitze and Adm. David L. McDonald, chief of naval operations, testified at a House armed services committee hearing. They said the administration proposals would enable the Navy to retain many crucially needed specialists it is now losing.

The Navy officials echoed Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's endorsement of the pay bill, which would cost less than half of the raise proposed by Chairman L. Mendel Rivers (D-S. C.) of the armed services committee.

McNamara testified Monday and had a rather mild time with Rivers' committee, many of whom favor the chairman's bill. Rivers said later that he and McNamara actually were "philosophical" pretty close to agreement on the question in general, although they are far apart on the dollars and cents.

Johnson's proposal, backed by McNamara, would provide all officers and enlisted men with more than two years' service an average raise of 4.8 per cent.

This would be followed by a major overhaul of military and government civilian pay under a provision for possible regular increases unless Congress vetoes them.

Steady Rain Hits Parched 'Glades

MIAMI (UPI) — Nearly three inches of steady rain fell on the parched Everglades National Park today and weathermen and park officials called it a life-giving break for the dwindling animal population.

Black clouds and thunder rolled over most of South Florida and dumped water up to four inches deep in some areas. Miami had its first general rain in two months.

"It's the first big break we've had," said one forecaster, "and it sure did the Everglades some good. It probably fell up to four inches in some scattered areas."

Black clouds and thunder rolled over most of South Florida and dumped water up to four inches deep in some areas. Miami had its first general rain in two months.

It is agreed that the county may need to retain a consulting engineer to "analyze the picture."

12 'Savage Sons' Due Honors

Head Adm. Robert Goldthwaite, commander of Fleet Air, Jacksonville, will accompany Admiral Stroop on his visit to NAS Sanford. The ceremonies are scheduled for 9 a.m. on the east side of Hangar 4.

Legislature OKs Body

By Paul Brookshire
Seven-member board which will govern the Seminole County Port Authority is expected to be appointed by Aug. 1. The act creating the Authority, whose purpose will be to operate the "Port of Sanford," passed the Florida Legislature and is expected to be signed into law soon by Gov. Haydon Burns. The act becomes effective July 1.

First activity under the new measure will be the naming of a governing body. Governor Burns will select six members from a list supplied by the Seminole County Board of Commissioners.

None of the men on the list may be elected public officials.

However, the seventh member will be a county commissioner, to be selected annually by that board.

Expected names to appear on the list submitted to Governor Burns include men who served on the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce's port authority committee.

Francis E. Roumillat Jr. served as chairman of the Chamber committee and is expected to be high on the list of names submitted to the Governor.

Other members of the committee, and possible candidates for seats on the Authority, are Gordon Frederick, John R. Alexander, James P. Avery Jr., Andrew Carraway, A. L. Wilson, Carl Schilke, Scott Burns and Jack Holt.

Wilson, a city commissioner in Sanford, would not be eligible. Neither would Alexander, County Commission chairman, unless he is named as the board's representative on the Authority.

It is anticipated the port authority committee of the Chamber of Commerce will disband once the Authority comes into being.

Authority members appointed by the Governor will serve for a term of four years except for the initial board, whose members will serve terms from one to four years.

The Port Authority Act states that selection and appointment of the initial board shall be made within 30 days after the act becomes law.

The Authority will select one of its members as chairman and a second member as vice chairman. Each member of the Authority will have one vote.

A port director will be named by the Authority.

Mine Disaster

Pay Hike Asked For Legislators

A request to supplement the salaries of Seminole County legislators by $200 a month was received by Seminole County commissioners today.

The request was made by Gordon Frederick, representing the legislative affairs committee of the Seminole County Chamber of Commerce.

Frederick noted that permissive legislation would be required to permit the supplement to be paid out of county moneys. It is doubtful that any such legislation could be introduced in the remaining legislative sessions which have been called for the express purpose of re-appointment. A two-thirds vote would have to be obtained to present such a request.

Seminole County legislators, Sen. Mack N. Cleveland Jr. and Rep. S. J. Davis Jr., now draw $1,200 a year salary plus $25 a day per diem while the Legislature is in session.

Frederick, speaking in behalf of the Chamber of Commerce contended that this amount "works a hardship on men who must continue to preserve their personal business interests while serving the county and public interest."

Commissioners took the matter "under advisement."

Work Procedure Saves $30,000

Various changes in work procedures during the installation of Sanford's $800,000 water improvement program have resulted in a savings of $30,000 to the city.

W. E. Knowles, city manager, reported to city commissioners at their adjourned meeting Thursday that he had been able to effect certain changes to cut costs. The program is nearing completion and only $10,000 will be needed for "mop-up" expenses, leaving a substantial surplus of the budgeted $40,000.

SEABROOK, Tex. (UPI) — The safe return from space Monday of astronauts Jim McDivitt and Ed White caused their families to break out the bubbly, sing songs and shed some tears.

U. S. Ready Next Flight

SPACE CENTER, Houston (UPI) — The United States is expected to try on Aug. 9 to erase Russia's No. 1 remaining cosmic record-cosmonaut Valery Bykovsky's orbital endurance mark of 119 hours 6 minutes.

The flight is that of Gemini-5 — and for sheer spectacle it may even surpass the four-day orbital voyage of Gemini-4 astronaut James McDivitt and Edward White.

Even as Gemini-4 zipped around earth toward its planned landing in the Atlantic Ocean, the machinery for the daring flight that is expected to keep pilot Cooper and co-pilot Conrad in space for seven full days was being pulled together.

will be attached to the booster rocket in "three or four weeks."

Aside from shooting Cooper and Conrad into orbit for a week, scientists planned to conduct a "simulated rendezvous and docking" attempt by counting down an Atlas Agena rocket on a nearby firing pad.

The Agena was the rocket that, according to present plans, would be launched into orbit about 90 minutes before the planned blast-off of Gemini-6 astronaut Walter M. Schirra and Thomas P. Stafford in October.

"simulated launching" in August the real thing. Should the attempt be made successfully by Cooper and Conrad, it would put the United States clearly ahead of the Soviet Union in manned conquest of space, and about two months ahead of its own schedule.

Give Her Credit - -

A young lady in San Francisco is trying to prove it is possible to live for a full month on a credit card without spending a cent of cash.

Her name is Ann Ayleen Foley. Her sponsor is a big bank which by sheer coincidence happens to issue the particular brand of credit card she is using.

Without taking anything away from Miss Foley, it is only stating a fact to say that even if she achieves her goal, she actually hasn't done such a much.

Many resourceful Americans are demonstrating that it is possible to go through life these days with practically no cash.

They live in mortgaged homes, drive friendly financed cars, buy gas, oil, tires, parts and fool on tick, and dress in high fashion on convenient charge accounts.

But they do, alas, need just a little cash now and then.

So all America is waiting to learn if Miss Foley can find a way to use her credit card on vending machines, parking meters, public pay phones and other public facilities where up to now a coin in the slot is worth a million credit cards in the hand.

The luck of the Irish to you, Miss Ann Ayleen Foley. We hope it's in the credit cards for you to come in a winner.

Think what it will mean to the rest of us!

Smear Story

Even in a year filled with anniversaries, there should be space to note still another—the 75th anniversary of something dear to the hearts of countless children and adults: peanut butter.

Though the Incas knew of it, the art of making it was lost until 1890, reports the National Geographic Society. In that year, a St. Louis doctor ground up some nuts, added salt and gave the paste to his patients as a high-protein, easily digested food.

The rest is history. Today, kids and other people consume more than 200,000 tons of peanut butter every year.

Outside the United States, however, it is still usually considered a health food, sold in drug rather than grocery stores.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture hopes to change that. Peanut butter introduced at a food fair in Europe in 1963 was a great hit. The recent development of a peanut butter and jelly mixture in a spray can may make the international situation even stickier—in a pleasant way.

Who Pays What?

By William Anderson

BRUSSELS (UPI)—Deciding who pays for the Common Market's agricultural policy is the biggest single question facing the six-nation community between now and mid-year.

It is a $2.5 billion a year question—by far the most expensive bill ever to be presented by the community's executive commission to the member governments of West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg.

Deciding who pays what and who gets what is going to strain the relations between "the six" and notably between France and the others in the coming weeks.

Subsidies and other artificial aids to farmers in the member countries must be leveled out if they are to be free to compete with each other in a single market. At present West Germany's food producers are the most heavily subsidized. French farmers get the least state aid.

The community's nine-man executive commission has moved that subsidies be taken out of the hands of individual governments and run by it. To

Worry Clinic

Cherry nurses who greet patients with a smile, are often more productive of cures than are the drugs which they administer. Since 85 per cent of all medical patients will get well, anyway, the nurses can claim most of these recoveries if they use the positive therapy outlined below.

CASE W-44: Publisher Wilton E. Hall invited me to address the Student Nurses' Association of South Carolina.

He introduced me to an audience of 500 dedicated girls, who had asked me to speak on the topic "Women With A Purpose."

That was an especially fitting topic for nurses, don't you agree?

So I reminded these girls that Christ had urged us to "Heal the Sick."

Their profession thus fulfills that Biblical advice.

"But you girls," I added, "must be bi-linguals. And I refer not to German and English or French and English."

"No, the two languages you need to know quite well are both English."

"One of them is the technical vocabulary of medicine."

"The other is the everyday language of the patients!"

Then I explained that the usual physician is not very gifted with words.

He doesn't talk enough! And when he does speak to the patient, he often leaves the latter anxious and almost terrified because the doctor's words are too technical.

When the usual patient enters the hospital, the major thought in his mind is this: "Will I live or die?"

So he watches the doctor's face with apprehension, trying to get a clue.

"Um-m," says the doctor, as he looks at the patient's chart.

Well, smiling nurses can "cure" those 85 per cent for they will recover with or without Medicare or doctors. Also, the patients don't know that so they are often half scared to death.

Doctors of all sorts (medical, dental, etc.) can zoom their effectiveness by joining the "Compliment Club." They would also profit greatly from courses in public speaking and also advertising.

Then they would learn how to talk the patient's language instead of mystifying him with polysyllables and technical "jargon" words!

Send for the "Compliment Club" booklet, enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents and learn how to humanize yourself!

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

pelts, his hopes and even his sound slumber!

Nurses can tactfully inform the patient in simple language about his ailment, for the average doctor is not a good salesman.

One of our famous professors at Northwestern University Medical School greeted our class one morning with this shocking truism:

"Gentlemen, 85 per cent of your patients will get well in spite of what you doctors do for them."

Well, smiling nurses can "cure" those 85 per cent for they will recover with or without Medicare or doctors. Also, the patients don't know that so they are often half scared to death.

Only $5.3 Billion

President Johnson is doing the gullible citizens with soothing syrup about his triumphs as a careful custodian of the public funds. LBJ ves the citizens' tax dollars like a sailor saves his month's pay on a Saturday night shore leave.

It is now a matter of just about six weeks before the government racks up another disgraceful fiscal year deficit. LBJ proudly announced last month that the prospective deficit for this fiscal year had been reduced by $1 billion. The new estimate was for a 1965 fiscal year deficit of only $5.3 billion.

Only $5.3 billion! The grasshopper economists who have been guiding the politicians and gulling the public over the past 30 years may destroy the American way of life before they are chased out of Washington and into hiding in some dark ravine. Franklin D. Roosevelt was the first president to fall for the buncombe peddled by the big spender economists.

FDR went through a period of budget balancing whimsy, but finally abandoned budget balancing altogether in favor of the spenderama policies that continue to the present day. In press conferences, FDR would brandish that long cigarette holder, smile his most charming smile and respond to questions about deficits and the public debt by explaining:

"Don't worry. We owe it to ourselves."

By that, FDR meant that most of the government bonds floated to pay the deficit spending bill were held by American citizens. So we owe it to ourselves. The sordid implication of FDR's airy complacency was that maybe we wouldn't need to worry about paying the debt. If that wasn't the implication, then the remark had no meaning at all.

The facts, are, of course, that the United States steadily is approaching the moment of truth with respect to the vast public debt which continues to accumulate on the treasury books. The time will come for an unquashed decision. Shall the United States retire or repudiate its public debt? That will be the choice.

Events will compel a decision by reason of the bare facts of the case. For example: The annual interest on the public debt is now the second largest single item of budgeted expenditure. National defense, at more than $50 billion, is first. The interest charge estimated for this fiscal year is $11.3 billion. Third highest is combined Health, Labor and Welfare spending $8.2 billion.

The interest burden must ultimately become too heavy to bear. The wretched choice will be retire or repudiate. The big-spending politicians have created most of this enormous debt. They buy votes with promises of benefits and services for which they are afraid to tax the voters. They pay the resultant deficits by floating bonds, passing on the cost of government services rendered to us. That is the way the politicians get themselves elected and re-elected. The fat-headed voters are too willing to realize that they are being filched.

Ten years ago, in fiscal year 1955, the government spent $64 billion and ran up a $4.1 billion deficit. Under the 1965 Johnson-Humphrey administration economy program, spending in this fiscal year will be $97 billion for a $5.3 billion deficit.

This is economy?

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Reaction in the U. S. capital to the ominous news of Russia's latest scientific breakthrough has, on the whole, been remarkably restrained.

I am referring, of course, to the claim by Soviet scientists that they have discovered a way to make synthetic caviar that tastes and smells like the real thing.

Obviously, the prospect that the Soviet Union may one day be able to blanket the world with mass-produced ersatz fish eggs has far-reaching implications for this country.

Thus far, however, the federal government has made no move to seize the railroads, which is usually the first step after an emergency arises. Nor has President Johnson asked for television time to explain the crisis.

Even Congress has remained calm. Which is generally a bad sign. Anytime Congress remains calm it usually means nobody sees anything to get excited about.

Fearful that such might be the case in this instance, I resolved to call up a couple of lawgivers for comment.

For reasons too subtle to explain, I decided that Sen. Ross

Bass, D-Tenn., and Rep. Otis G. Pike, D-N.Y., would be the most appropriate sources.

There is no congressman named Sturgeon.

I was unable to reach Bass, but Pike quickly set my mind at rest. He made it clear that some congressmen do indeed cramp the significance of the fish egg breakthrough.

"I have given this matter very serious consideration and I am concerned about what it will lead to," Pike reported.

"My concern, however, is not based on the possibility that Russia will sell synthetic caviar to the masses, and thus win over the undeveloped countries to their side.

"It is my belief that people who eat caviar do so, not because they like it, but because they derive a masochistic pleasure from chomping on little fish eggs.

"But if the Soviets can imitate the eggs of the sturgeon, it is only a question of time until they will be able to produce synthetic pigeon eggs.

"And if they can do that with pigeons, they can do it with chickens. So what we will actually be facing in the long run are synthetic hen eggs.

"Something like that could upset our entire economy. It's one more weapon that the Communists are using against us in the cold war."

As they say at the Pentagon, understanding the problem is half the battle.

Move Underway To End Glades Drought

MIAMI (UPI)—Nature and man are beginning the end of a four-year drought which is literally killing the Everglades National Park. It rained some in the big park Monday and it may rain some more today.

The Department of Interior in Washington also today began pushing through a budget request so engineers can sap water from a nearby conservation area to help make the glades a swamp again.

Park rangers say they hope fish will come with the water, otherwise angling in the 1.5 million acre reservation "will not be too good the next two years."

Park Supt. Carroll Burroughs said the four-year drought that nearly dried up the nation's biggest swamp "has most certainly taken its toll of aquatic life."

"Seed fish" — the next generations of everything from the barely-see-it mosquito fish to the brawny bass have died by the thousands because of the water shortage.

A meeting called in Washington Monday began solving the water problem. Sitting in were George B. Hartzog, Jr., National Park Service director; Florida congressmen and senators and engineers from the Florida Southern and Central Flood Control District.

Hartzog said three things could be done: Dig a sump below the flood control project that acts like a dike between the Glades and its natural water supply at Lake Okechobee, dig a few small wells, and put a pipe through the flood control levee so water could flow into the park.

The Army Corps of Engineers approved of the suggestions and said it would not interfere with its long range study on ways to alleviate the chronic water problem.

It said its study would not be ready for another year. Hartzog said each of the solutions would cost about $100,000, with pumping another $100 a day.

GRIMSBY, England (UPI) — Young John Stevenson, 10, lost his nerve while waiting in the dentist's office to have a tooth pulled. He fled through a window. Police and neighbors found the lad 28 hours later hiding in the garage of his home, cold, hungry, dirty — but with no toothache.

Noted Author To Give Program In DeBary

By Mrs. John Leone
Rudi Thureau, globe trotter, lecturer, folk singer and author of "Three Men on a Raft," will present a program of pictures and tell of his action packed career at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the DeBary Community Center.

Thureau was born in Hamburg, Germany, and spent his early life there. He toured many countries on bicycle, crossed the Sahara Desert on a motor scooter, sailed down Africa's wild Niger River, and covered a large part of Africa before coming to the United States.

While in Washington, D. C., he was contacted by the Speakers Committee for Dwight D. Eisenhower's People to People Foundation to give lectures at libraries, universities, museums, schools and for various social groups about his travels. His knowledge of music and his singing ability in so many languages helped him create good will among those with whom he came in contact.

Critics agree that "Three Men on a Raft" sparkles with awesome adventure and it was selected by the Adventurer's Club in 1962 as the most outstanding program of the year.

Wednesday night's program is open to the public and offers a rare opportunity in this area to hear an outstanding program.

$500 Million Savings Seen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert R. McNamara plans to strip $500 million worth of so-called "gold plating" from defense items.

The secretary, in announcing the plans, said millions of items bought by the Defense Department are of higher quality than necessary.

Among examples of such cost reductions in the past are the saving of $108,000 by using thinner paper for marksmanship targets, $100,000 by changing the type of metal used for dogtags and $50,000 by changing green and yellow tripwires to green only.

Still In Coma

Gary Massey, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. He has undergone two operations to remove blood clots from his brain and is receiving transfusions.

Legislators Ponder Reapportionment

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — A reapportionment session of the Florida Legislature met amidst echoes today from two legislative leaders, including the governor, that apportionment can be done "by districts."

The special session of the Legislature to reapportion itself convened after a long weekend.

The Capital was not quite deserted Monday. House Speaker E. C. Rowell and Gov. Haydon Burns were in town and they seemed in agreement.

Rowell predicted there would be provisions in the finally adopted plan for election of the next Legislature by districts.

"If the one-man, one-vote philosophy of the Supreme Court is carried out," Governor Burns said, "the very mechanics of electing such large numbers of legislators will require legislators to run in districts within a county."

"Otherwise the ballot would be so voluminous the voters would be overwhelmed by trying to decide on so many candidates," Burns said.

Rowell pointed out "it would not be fair for the voters of three small counties to get to vote for only one legislator while each voter of a big county like Dade gets to vote for dozens."

Several plans have been filed for introduction, including one that would create a one-House 100-member Legislature.

... do it in the daily newspaper. As an advertiser you want to tell your story to a receptive audience. People have confidence in what they read in the newspaper. They feel: "I saw it in the newspaper; it must be so."

According to an actual survey, eight out of 10 people felt that newspapers are "reliable" and "dependable," and more than seven out

NEWSPAPER INTERPRETS ANSWERS

'Poor' Rich Boy Found Guilty In Twin's Slaying

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Timothy Nicholson, the "poor" rich boy convicted of manslaughter in the fatal shooting of his twin brother, Todd, will be sentenced July 9.

A jury of seven men and five women deliberated two days and considered three weeks of testimony before convicting the 22-year-old defendant Monday.

Superior Judge H. Burton Noble set the date for sentencing and a probation hearing. He said he would consider at the same time a defense motion for a new trial.

The defendant heard the verdict without betraying any emotion. He sat rigidly in the courtroom as the five-week-old trial ended. His mother, Roberta, however was visibly shaken as the verdict was read by jury foreman Royal R. Higginson.

Manslaughter is punishable by 1-10 years in prison. Todd was shot with a 22-caliber rifle last Dec. 7 in the twins' $400,000 apartment building.

The prosecution claimed the shooting was deliberate, but Timothy maintained Todd was shot accidentally during an argument.

Besides the apartment building, the brothers had business interests in Phoenix, Ariz., and South America. They shared a $1 million inheritance from their father in 1958.

At the time of Todd's death, it was estimated that he was worth $1 million.

The twins were related distantly to the Pullman railroad and Cudahy meat packing families.

In his closing arguments, defense attorney Max Fink said that despite the twins' inheritance, "I consider them to have been very poor. They grew on a bed of quicksand. In their early life, their father disappeared and they were shuffled from one location to another."

"Although they were emotionally deprived, this attachment still grew between them."

Victor Herbert produced two grand operas: "Natomia" and "Madeleine."

MIDSHIPMAN CHRISTOPHER WILSON, son of Cdr. (USN, ret.) and Mrs. J. R. Wilson was presented the Sanford Naval Academy leadership trophy along with half a dozen other academic and athletic honors, including the Headmaster's List award for an "all A" record. Capt. John Williams, commandant, made the presentation at graduation and dedication ceremonies at Commodore Barry Hall (formerly Mayfair Inn) Friday. (Herald Photo)

Tranquil Term Ends For Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Supreme Court has closed a relatively tranquil 1964-65 term, marked chiefly by the upholding of that part of the new civil rights law relating to public accommodations.

The justices exploded no legal bombshells on matters such as school prayers or legislative reapportionment as have marked other recent terms.

The civil rights ruling was a not unexpected climax to that hotly debated congressional measure. In a more surprising decision the court found the new law wiped out all "sit-in" convictions if the demonstrations occurred in establishments covered by the new law.

The term saw civil rights issues crack the bloc which usually votes for the individual as opposed to governmental power.

Justice Hugo L. Black, 79, a soft-spoken Alabamian who has championed free speech and other individual liberties for years, separated from his brethren in two important cases.

One was the sit-in decision; the other the reversal of the conviction of an integrationist demonstrator in Baton Rouge, La.

The court had only five other cases to decide, but it took 10 opinions to do the job, for a total of 22 opinions in seven cases.

Black again figured prominently in the day's output. With considerable emotion he declared that the Connecticut birth control ruling was "no ordinary decision."

"There is no provision in the Constitution which either expressly or impliedly vests power in this court to sit as a supervisory agency over acts of a duly constituted legislative body and set aside their laws because of the court's belief that the legislative policies adopted are unreasonable, unwise, arbitrary, capricious or irrational," he said.

In other actions this term the court:

—Held that a draftee may qualify as a conscientious objector even if he does not assert a belief in the orthodox concept of God.

—Ruled that an employer may close his business entirely for whatever reason suits him; but he may not close part of the business as a threat to the remainder of his workers.

—Upheld the Justice Department's authority to sue a state in Negro voting rights cases.

—Struck down Florida's law barring cohabitation between persons of different races.

—Denied most of California's claims to the valuable offshore oil land also claimed by the federal government.

U. S. Proposal Would Boost OAS Controls

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate was expected to vote today on a foreign aid proposal that would give the Organization of American States (OAS) virtual control over a large portion of U.S. military aid to Latin America.

Senate foreign relations committee chairman J. William Fulbright offered the plan as an amendment to the $3.44 billion foreign aid bill now before the Senate. A vote was planned under an agreement limiting debate on the amendment.

Fulbright's proposal follows the Johnson administration's suggestion for a permanent inter-American peace force to head off trouble in areas such as the Dominican Republic. The amendment would give a boost to this plan.

It provides that $25 million of the $55 million in the bill for arms aid to Latin America would be permitted to go to an OAS peace force. It also specifies that the rest of the funds be used to the "maximum extent feasible" for OAS-directed peacekeeping efforts.

Other congressional news:

Excise Taxes: The Senate Finance committee, pushing ahead on President Johnson's $4.8 billion excise tax cut bill, called Treasury Secretary Henry H. Fowler for an abbreviated hearing. The House has passed the measure, and the Senate is expected to consider it as soon as it clears the committee.

Pay: Navy Secretary Paul H. Nitze was scheduled to appear before the House armed services committee on the administration's $369 million military pay raise bill. Chairman L. Mendel Rivers (D-S.C.) and most of the other committee members are backing a pay raise bill that would cost about $825 million.

Peace Corps: Peace Corps director R. Sargent Shriver was to appear before the House foreign affairs committee to testify in favor of legislation to extend the program.

The Senate version of the bill contains a proviso that would force Shriver to give up either his Peace Corps job or the directorship of the War on Poverty.

Guns: Philadelphia Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary said in testimony prepared for a Senate subcommittee considering gun control legislation that weapons are often passed "from hand to hand, city to city and state to state" by criminals. He said police investigations were hampered by the lack of controls over such weapons.

$1,500 Stolen

Nearly $1,500 in cash was stolen from a Lewis Candy and Tobacco truck while its driver, Robert E. Penton, Orlando, was servicing vending machines in Seminole Memorial Hospital. Police reports say the truck was broken into during the 8-12 minutes Penton was in the hospital. A tire iron, used to force entry, was found near the truck.

New Moon Shot Launched By Russians

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union today launched an unmanned Luna-6 rocket on a 3 1/2-day trip to the moon. The shot came less than 24 hours after the United States successfully completed its Gemini-4 space spectacular.

The official Tass news agency said the "multi-stage" rocket, weighing 3,172 pounds, was "close to the planned flight path." The announcement did not indicate the specific purpose of Luna-6.

Russia's Luna-5 space probe, launched on May 9, failed in an attempt to make an unprecedented soft-landing on the moon. Its retro-rockets apparently failed to fire properly and the rocket crashed onto the lunar surface. Tass referred to Luna-6 as an "automatic station" whose final stage was in a "parking orbit" on a course toward the moon.

Tass said the launch was part of the Soviet program of research into space and the planets. Like some previous Soviet moon shots, Luna-6 was launched from a satellite orbiting the earth. Tass reported. It explained that a multi-stage rocket was first fired from earth and that the final stage went into orbit, where it blasted Luna-6 toward the moon.

County Drought Woes End

Mrs. Herman J. Lehman writes that she is going to Crown Point, Ind., for the summer and would like to have The Sanford Herald mailed to her. She says, "I want to keep up with the Marina, the Navy, the Church News and other important news. Owing to circumstances of various kinds I live in Winter Park, but my heart belongs to Sanford. To digress a bit—when we moved to Sanford in October, 1920, Mr. Lehman said, 'The first thing to do is to subscribe for The Sanford Herald,' which he did, and we have never been without it. I read every bit of it and hope for the growth and progress of Sanford."

From the time they arrived in Sanford until Mr. Lehman's death both of these fine people were most active in civic and church work and helping the town to grow. Mrs. Lehman lives near her son, Rodman, and his family in Winter Park. She has a daughter, Mrs. Bill Brumley, in Sanford, and another daughter, Mrs. Herbert Russell, in Crown Point.

Harold correspondent Bob Thomas came up with this: He carried a 10-year-old boy to the doctor's office, when the boy complained of having been hit on the leg by lightning. Doctor: "How do you know you were hit by lightning? Did you see it?" Boy: "No, my cousin woke me up and told me." "Did the lightning strike him?" "No—he ducked!"

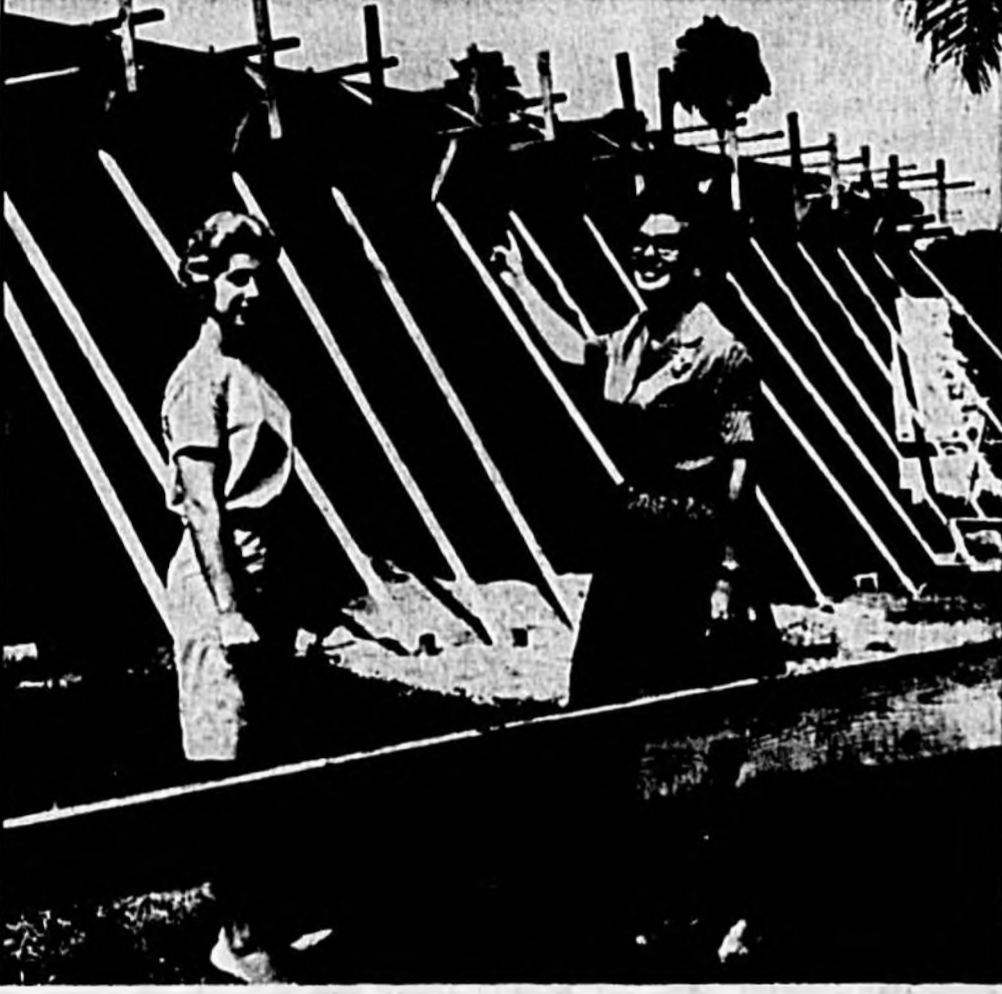

Sanford's Civil Service Board has gone on record as "wholeheartedly" concurring with the city commission's appointments of Reynolds T. Thomas and Arnold S. Williams as fire and police chiefs, respectively. The letters of concurrence cited the men's knowledge, experience and interest in their respective fields.

Headline writing is the art of condensing a news story into a very few words. Sometimes, even the best editor compresses the story too much, as happened in The Herald recently. The headline read: "Oviedo Athletes Barbecue Guests." As one was commented: "Hope they tasted good!" Oh, well, you can't win them all.

The Sanford Recreation Department will sponsor a vacation dance Friday evening. The dance will be open to all junior and senior high students with recreation cards. Music will be by the "Rocking Road Runners."

Five Persons Killed By Storms In North

Heavy rains sent streams pouring from their banks in central Kansas today. Lightning, wind and rain killed at least five persons in three states Tuesday.

The Fall River rose at the rate of a foot an hour at Eureka, but most of the town was safe on high ground.

The weather bureau at Wichita, Kan., said flash flooding could occur in three counties.

The rain was more welcome in parts of drought-stricken New England and the Florida Everglades. More than three inches of rain fell at Ortona Locks, Fla., Tuesday night.

Unseasonably chilly air tumbled early morning temperatures to the 50s and 60s in the desert Southwest. It was 59 at Phoenix, Ariz., and 80 at Flagstaff in the Arizona mountains.

Lightning struck and killed an 11-year-old girl as she stepped out of a car at her grandparents' home in Athens, W. Va., Tuesday.

A young truck driver was struck by lightning and killed as he took shelter beneath a tree on a Chicago beach.

Strong winds blew down a scaffold at a church construction site in South Bend, Ind., dropping a carpenter 40 feet to his death.

Two young women were killed when their convertible skidded sideways into the path of a truck during a heavy rainstorm near Carbondale, Ill.

Yank Fighters Facing Combat

WASHINGTON (UPI)—All visible signs indicated today that American infantrymen soon would be plunged into combat in South Vietnam.

It also was reported that there would be a continued buildup of American military men in Viet Nam. The total now is 63,500 from all the services.

The latest expansion of America's participation in the war would cast Army and Marine units in an offensive, direct combat role alongside the South Vietnamese forces.

This would be a major step beyond their continuing mission of defending key air bases—which involves "aggressive patrolling" to search out threatening and advising the South Vietnamese.

President Johnson has authorized the use of troops in "combat support" of South Vietnamese forces with certain qualifications which appeared to close all minor barriers.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, Ill., indicated he accepted the move.

Prowler Sought At Casselberry

By Jane Casselberry

A patio window was broken and a screen cut in an attempted break-in at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin R. Brown, 480 Lake Kathryn Circle, Casselberry, at 8:30 a.m. today.

Mrs. Brown called the Casselberry Police Department after hearing the shatter of glass. Patrolman M. Fisher and Sheriff Deputy R. Rice investigated but failed to find the prowler.

Evidence that someone had tried to break in another window was discovered by Mrs. Brown last week. The Julian Stenstroms, who live next door, also reported hearing a prowler last night and having their telephone wires cut recently.

Search To End For Lost Plane

MIAMI (UPI)—Military planes and ships looked for the fourth straight day today for 10 men missing on an Air Force cargo plane believed down somewhere in a 100,000-square-mile area of the tropical Atlantic.

Although hope of finding the 10 men—nine of them from the Milwaukee area and one from Miami—grew dimmer with each day of searching, Rear Adm. Louis M. Thayer, commander of the 7th Coast Guard district, ordered the search continued at least today.

'Most Wanted'

BIG SPRINGS, Neb. (UPI)—The FBI distributed 250,000 "most wanted criminal" posters today, hoping a turn up a trace of suspected killer Duane Pope, the young man who police alleged shot three persons to death during a Big Springs bank robbery.

Promoted

TAMPA (UPI)—Lt. Gen. Bruce K. Holloway, deputy commander of the U. S. Strike Command at MacDill AFB here, will become commander-in-chief of U. S. Air Forces in Europe July 31. President Johnson announced the assignment of Holloway and said he will nominate him for promotion to four-star general.

Welcome Rain In Time To Save Citrus

By Harry Lawes

And the rains came. That's the end to the tale Seminole County growers will tell of this year's drought situation which threatened to wipe out the county's citrus and remaining vegetable crops.

But come the rains did, just in the nick of time. Now the normal rainy season lies ahead, and from all indications the county will receive its usual average rainfall which will bring crop conditions back to normal.

County Agent Cecil Tucker this morning expressed amazement at the number of Seminole County groves that survived the drought.

"May was an unusually dry month," Tucker said, pointing out "we had a deficit of 4.08 inches of rain based on a 26-year average."

The Central Florida Experiment Station on Celery Avenue, local recorder for the U. S. Weather Bureau, measured only .21 inches of rain during May, compared to the 26-year average of 4.29 inches.

"Up until this recent rain," Tucker said, "the citrus was suffering quite badly. It had really reached the critical point, with some fruit drop reported. Some groves were close to the entire crop, but this was not widespread over the county."

Calling the rainfall a "multi-million dollar rain," Tucker said it was "just what we needed. We had almost reached the point of no return."

As to the vegetable crops, Tucker said they had not suffered too much, since they were close to the season's end. "But the rain always helps," Tucker said, "since it reduces the soluble salts that have built up. It's a big help."

If the average rainfall comes for June and July, Tucker feels there will be no further danger to crops, and the water table should build back to its normal level. Right now the levels are "way down" and Tucker says the St. Johns River is the lowest he has ever seen it. Many artesian wells have quit flowing because of the low water heads, and pumps are being used to keep them flowing.

Normal rainfall for June, based on the 26-year average, is 6.6 inches, and so far this month there has been a rainfall of 2.86 inches.

Elsewhere in the county, State Forestry Ranger Albert Harris, at Forest Service headquarters in Longwood, has breathed a sigh of relief because of the rains.

At his station Tuesday, Harris recorded 1.20 inches of rain, and this morning measured .90 inches. This, he said, greatly relieves the dangerous fire situation which had existed in the county. Several woods and muck fires occurred over the county during the dry spell.

Harris pointed out today that since the fire situation has eased, the rangers are once again available to aid with burning off land.

In commenting on the rains, Tucker spoke of the fear there would be a slowdown in the fire ant program underway. However, he said the program is 91 per cent complete in the county and that it should be ended by this weekend. "One full day of flying will end the program," Tucker said, "but it should definitely be over with by the end of this week."

SPACE WALKER—Astronaut Edward White floats in space, the gold-plated cord attaching him to the Gemini capsule unwinding from the black bag in front of him. More than a hundred miles below are the Gulf of Mexico and Texas Coast.

Double Space Walk Idea Told

ABOARD USS WASP AT SEA (UPI)—Astronauts James McDivitt and Edward White, just one day from a hero's welcome from their countrymen, might have become the first persons to stroll side by side in space if officials had not decided the venture was too dangerous.

According to three sailors who ate with America's newest spacemen, McDivitt said a plan to let both men walk in space was considered prior to the Gemini-4 flight, but later rejected.

White took the fantastic jet-propelled trip into the void alone and thus became the star in a fantastic space movie.

The sailors' report came as this aircraft carrier steamed toward Florida to deliver the astronauts home to the United States Thursday.

It took McDivitt and White only four days to travel nearly 1.7 million miles through space.

It is taking them another three days to cover the 1,400-mile stretch from their Atlantic Ocean landing spot to their homes in Houston, Tex., to begin a string of celebrations with the biggest one in McDivitt's home town of Chicago.

Marchinist's Mate I-G Robert F. Campbell of Brighton, Mass., one of the Wasp's three runners-up for "outstanding sailor of the month," lunched Tuesday with the space heroes and quoted McDivitt as saying a double "spacewalk" was considered but rejected as too dangerous.

A news report from the carrier that "it is quite likely that the two crew members will alternate walks in space" on the next Gemini flight was unsupported by space agency officials.

Dr. George Mueller, chief of the U.S. manned Spaceflight programs said earlier this week that no "extra-vehicular activity," spacewalks or otherwise, was planned for the seven-day voyage of Gemini-5 astronauts L. Gordon Cooper and Charles Pete Conrad. This flight is set for Aug. 9.

But Gemini-5 is an epic for the future.

Area Producers In Milk Puzzle

Central Florida milk producers are in a quandary as to what to do about state control.

The producers do not know whether to follow the lead put forth by Jacksonville, Pensacola, Miami and Tampa in voting themselves out from under the Florida Milk Commission.

An attempt to formulate some plan of action, several area producers are meeting today with members of the commission to discuss the commission's control in fixing minimum prices which distributors must pay producers.

Sanford dairyman Joe B. Baker this morning said the area producers are prepared to form a federal marketing area as Miami has done. Some distributors have been buying a great deal of milk from out-of-state producers since a U. S. Supreme Court ruling last year forbidding the Florida Commission to give preference to state producers over out-of-state producers. The court held this violated interstate commerce regulations.

The federal marketing order, if obtained, would help stabilize the market prices for Florida producers, and would set up proper class utilization of the milk.

"We don't really know what we are going to do," Baker said, "we've come to no conclusion. We're going to hold another meeting Thursday or Friday . . . but we are prepared to get a federal order."

When told the producers' situation was confusing to an outsider, Baker commented "It's just as confusing to us in the business."

Mississippi Elects GOP

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—Two of Mississippi's largest cities, including Gov. Paul Johnson's home town, elected Republican mayors Tuesday in the GOP's first grassroots test in this traditionally Democratic state.

Hattiesburg attorney Paul Grady and former city Councilman R. D. Harmon of Columbus were the first GOP candidates to win mayor's races in Mississippi since Reconstruction.

Six other Republicans captured aldermanic posts in four municipalities, while the GOP was defeated in 13 cities and towns in the statewide municipal general elections.

Apportionment Bills Continue

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—Another batch of reapportionment bills was tugged in the Legislature today, including one for a unicameral lawmaking body.

Sen. E. W. Gautier, of New Smyrna Beach, put in the proposal for a one-house legislature with 100 members of which big Dade would have 19. It is given virtually no chance of passage.

Sen. George Hollahan and Robert Haverfield, both of Miami, introduced the 80-senator, 100-representative proposal which is nearly identical to one being pushed by the League of Women Voters and big city mayors.

Lyndon Turns Yachtsman

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Johnson has returned yachting as a presidential pastime these balmy spring evenings on the Potomac.

On several recent evenings, the latest Tuesday night, the Chief Executive has slipped out of the White House at dusk to spend several hours cruising on the river.

His guests have included congressional leaders and prominent figures in the world of journalism, among others.

This is a new form of relaxation for Johnson, and he has gone about it as quietly as possible to avoid attracting an unwanted flotsilla of curious from among the craft which ply the Washington channel and the Potomac when the weather is good.
