Guilty

Ex-Police Lt. Higginbotham Faces Prison Term After Plea In Gun Theft

By TENI YARBOROUGH
Herald Staff Writer

A former Lake Mary police lieutenant could face up to five years in prison following his plea of guilty Wednesday to one of seven criminal charges brought against him.

The Seminole state attorney's office agreed to drop two counts of grand theft, three charges of trafficking in stolen property and two allegations of official misconduct against David E. Higginbotham, 34, of 205 Hays Drive, Sanford, in exchange for the plea of guilty for stealing a handgun from a department evidence locker.

Higginbotham is free without bail pending sentencing before Circuit Judge Robert B. MacGregor July 1.

The plea-bargaining deal was approved by Seminole-Brevard State Attorney Douglas Cheshire in a hearing Wednesday after a meeting with defense lawyer Donald Lykkebak. Officials say the deal does not thwart Cheshire's "no plea bargaining" program of Jan. 4 because Higginbotham's charges were filed in October, prior to the program's inception.

Prosecutors cited three reasons for accepting the single-count plea, including the cost of the trial, which could have lasted a week, the state's charging of eight criminal acts in the dual-transaction crime, and the fact that Higginbotham could not be convicted of grand theft and trafficking under state law.

The former officer was arrested Jan. 8, following his indictment on 10 criminal charges by a Seminole County grand jury Oct. 7. His arrest was delayed because he was undergoing treatment for a gunshot wound to his left leg following an incident Aug. 28 in which he reportedly was shot in the leg with his own gun.

Higginbotham had reported he was involved in a scuffle with suspects he encountered while on routine patrol at the Southward Orange Groves off County Road 46A. During the scuffle his gun discharged, wounding him in the leg. The shooting occurred a few days prior to his resignation from the Police Department.

The state's charges against Higginbotham stem from an internal investigation of missing pistols from the Lake Mary Police Department. The probe began after several handguns, seized as evidence by police, were missing from evidence lockers and sold to area gun shops or auctions. Higginbotham had been custodian of the locker.

By Price Tag, DER Permit Delay

County's Utility Purchase Blocked

A high price tag and some bad news from the state Department of Environmental Regulation (DER) apparently has put a damper on Seminole County's efforts to purchase Lake Monroe Utilities and its 100,000-gallon-per-day sewage-treatment plant.

In addition, efforts to lure a major firm to the Sanford area, one that would employ upwards of 300 people, may be hampered because the new firm's chances of getting sewage treatment facilities from Lake Monroe Utilities look slim.

Plant owner James W. Hickman, a dentist and developer, has been asking the DER for a permit to expand his 1-4 Industrial Park, at the northeast corner of Interstate 4 and State Road 46 west of Sanford, to its full 100,000-gallon-per-day capacity. Currently the plant is handling only 45,000 gallons a day of treated effluent.

But due to poor soil conditions and drainage problems in the area, Hickman's efforts to expand the plant have been delayed.

Lake Monroe Utilities engineers have been working on plans to develop on-site retention ponds at the industrial park, but on Wednesday a report on soil quality at the site revealed that a county-owned 22-acre parcel adjacent to the utility on Elder Road is not suitable for use as a dry-pounding area for sewage treatment.

Pressed by needs for expanded sewage-treatment capacity, the county had hoped to purchase the utility and kill two birds with one stone.

Residents in the neighborhood of the utility have expressed concern about sewage effluent being dumped into nearby drainage ditches and eventually running into Lake Monroe and the St. Johns River.

The DER has told all sewage-treatment plant owners whose effluent travels into Lake Monroe that they will eventually have to completely stop dumping effluent into the lake.

The county originally had offered Hickman $186,000 for the plant. However, Hickman has said it is worth more than $1 million.

According to County Commission Chairman Robert Sturm, the "mystery firm," whose identity has yet to be revealed, has not canceled plans to move to the area based solely on the ability to gain water and sewage-treatment access at the industrial park.

But without approval for expansion, Hickman's plant won't be able to provide the new industry with central water and sewage services.

When word about the new industry first surfaced, Lake Monroe Utilities spokesman Greg Drummond said that unless the utilities' engineers could satisfy the DER with acceptable on-site retention solutions, landing the industrial firm did not look good for the county.

According to Drummond, Lake Monroe Utilities currently has the lowest rates of any private, unsubsidized utility in the county.

"There hasn't been an increase in the rates since the plant opened in the 1970s," he said.

The state Public Service Commission is currently considering a rate hike for Lake Monroe Utilities. Drummond said that if the utility can come up with some kind of on-site retention solution, the cost of effluent treatment eventually would be passed on to users of the utility system through increased rates.

"If an on-site, no-runoff solution does not appear financially feasible, then we'll have to back off expansion," he said.

"But we are looking at all possible solutions," he added.

At a price of $1.01.9 for regular gasoline, this service station at 18th Street and U.S. Highway 17-92, Sanford, has one of the best bargains for motorists in Seminole County.

Gasoline Prices Seen Bottoming Out Soon

By JANE CASSELBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

Local motorists better enjoy lower gasoline prices while they can because the consensus from area service station operators contacted is that prices are about to bottom out and will be going up again by mid-summer.

Bob Cowan of the 17-92 Shell Service Station in Casselberry, where self-service prices are down to 99.9 cents a gallon for regular gasoline and $1.11.6 for unleaded, believes prices have bottomed out. "A couple of companies have already gone up a penny," he said.

At Mel Dekle's Gulf, at 101 S. French Ave., Sanford, lists self-service regular gas at $1.02.9, but Dekle declined to reveal the price for unleaded. "My company has indicated that prices are on the way to stabilizing and may go up a little bit by midsummer," Dekle said. He said he thinks the so-called "oil glut" is about over.

Norman Hanson, owner of Hanson's Fina service station, 2500 S. French Ave., Sanford, said self-service prices at his station are $1.09.9 for regular and $1.17.9 for unleaded gasoline. He said he thinks prices will bottom out at around a dollar for regular. "They're talking on the news that prices might go up again, but it depends on the flow. When more gas starts flowing at the pumps, prices will go back up," said Hanson.

Gas prices posted at the Tenneco station at 1800 S. French Ave. are $1.01.9 for regular and $1.09.9 for unleaded.

At Tibbets Amoco, 1407 S. French Ave., Sanford, the self-service price for regular is $1.07.9, and for unleaded $1.28.9. Greg Jennings of Tibbets predicts prices will come down a little more before bottoming out at midsummer and that by fall they will be back up again.

Jay Burns of Burns Texaco, 2493 S. French Ave., Sanford, said he thinks prices will drop even farther and couldn't predict when they will bottom out because of the unstable market. Burns Texaco is a full-service station and prices are $1.28.9 for regular and $1.32.9 for unleaded.

At Sanford Exxon, 2990 S. Sanford Ave., self-service prices are $1.08.9 for regular and $1.20.9 for unleaded.

Larry's Mobil, 900 S. French Ave., Sanford, is a full-service station where prices are $1.14 for regular and $1.23 for unleaded. Owner Larry Berry would not speculate on the direction of future gasoline prices. "The left hand doesn't know what the right hand is doing, and they don't tell us dealers what they're going to do," he said.

Growth, Map Of Land Uses On Longwood Agenda Today

By JOE DeSANTIS
Herald Staff Writer

The Longwood City Commission finds itself caught between the proverbial rock and a hard place when it sits down to discuss the city's long-range land-use map at a workshop session today.

At issue is the prospect for continued growth in the city and the desire of some residents to put a limit on that growth.

Longwood's land-use map, which will govern what the city will look like for the next five years, had reached the third public hearing stage at last week's regular commission meeting. But a packed house of residents came to express both confusion and concern over certain proposed zoning aspects of the map.

The commission last week heard nearly 3 1/2 hours of pro-and-con arguments from residents concerning the map, one of which led to a bitter verbal exchange between Commissioner Russell Grant and resident Robert Daves over a parcel west of Grant Street owned by the commissioner. Grant wants zoning for multi-family use on the triangular strip, while Daves, a three-time political contender for Grant's district commission seat, was one of several residents to strongly object to a change from single-family zoning.

Several other residents were on hand to express confusion over some of the color-coding of the proposed map, reflecting specific zoning. In order to address other items on the agenda last week, the commission moved to table any action on the land-use map until today's workshop session.

A final vote on the map is expected to come at Monday's regular commission meeting.

The parcels to be discussed at today's workshop are:

- An undeveloped commercial lot at the corner of Longwood Hills Road and Lake Emma Road that the commission wants used for single-family homes.
- Residential lots on the east side of Second Place for which a property owner wants duplex zoning.

— A parcel west of Grant Street belonging to Grant. The commissioner has proposed the parcel for multi-family use, but area residents have objected strongly.

— A commercial parcel adjacent to Longwood Green subdivision, proposed for office commercial use.

— A parcel adjacent to County Road 427 and the railroad tracks at State Road 434, proposed for general commercial use, that developer Tom Binford wants kept industrial.

— A residential parcel on East Street north of Wildmere Avenue, proposed for general commercial zoning. Area residents want remain in effect to keep a buffer between their homes and U.S. Highway 17-92.

— A nine-acre parcel west of 14th Street, proposed for duplexes or townhouses, or both, instead of single-family homes.

— A residential strip, 100 feet wide, that runs along the south side of Warren Avenue, proposed for general commercial office use. Area residents want offices or multi-family homes.

Do you like things small? REAL small? Like two-inch people, or cars that weigh a couple of ounces and buildings no bigger than a breadbox? Well, if you do, you're just the kind of person Cathie Ruth and Carol Light are looking for. They're forming a Munchkin Society. Find out all about it by reading staff writer Jane Casselberry's story in Friday's Leisure magazine.

The Revenge Of The Curfew People

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (UPI) — Some people forced to cut short their partying because of a new 2 a.m. curfew on private clubs let the city fathers know they had gotten home safely — by calling them at 2 a.m. All seven of Fayetteville's city directors said they received telephone calls about 2 a.m. Sunday, just after the curfew forced the private clubs to close. The board of directors passed the curfew two weeks ago to curb early-morning violence and other problems it believed were caused partly by the private clubs being open so late. The directors said most callers were courteous, and one director said, "They just wanted us to know they were home safe."

State Eyes Closing Down Commercial Bail Bondsmen

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

Gov. Bob Graham has signed into law a bill establishing a two-year deadline for the Legislature to decide whether commercial bail bondsmen should still be allowed to operate in Florida.

The proposal calls for the commercial bonding system in the state to "sunset" (end) in 1984 and be replaced by a public bail-bonding arrangement.

The bill was a compromise between State Rep. Dexter Lehtinen, D-Perrine, who wanted to put bondsmen out of business, and the bonding industry.

All of Seminole County's four legislators — State Reps. Bobby Brantley, R-Longwood, and Robert Hattaway, D-Altamonte Springs, and State Sens. John Vogt, D-Cocoa Beach, and Clark Maxwell, R-Melbourne, voted for the compromise proposal. Hattaway explained that support for the legislation was unanimous in the House. The state law authorizing bail bondsmen had been set to expire Oct. 1 as part of the sunset of the state insurance code.

Hattaway said the original impetus for the new law sunsetting commercial bail bonding in 1984 came from a task force on criminal justice created by the governor with input from Attorney General Jim Smith and the Supreme Court. Major changes were made in the law to give the public more access to the bail-bonding system and to make sure bondsmen were acting as they should and charging what they should for services, Hattaway said.

"We have given the industry time to come up with some changes," he said, adding that he has discussed the legislation with some people in the bail-bond business in the area. "This law gives them time to straighten out their problems," he said.

Meanwhile, Vogt noted that the measure passed the Senate with only a few dissenting votes. "It was a compromise to Lehtinen's proposal to do away with the commercial bail-bonding system," he said.

"In essence with the law bringing that industry into focus for two years, the Legislature will have time to give it a hard look," he added.

"Basically, the legislators didn't have enough time to investigate the matter. This puts some pressure on the industry and gives time for a more in-depth look by legislators at what is going on and to give thought to whether the current system is good or bad," he said.

Vogt said he was not contacted by anyone, pro or con, about the proposal.

The bill was so low profile that Sen. Dick Langley, R-North

Lake Minneola, and whose new district is to comprise part of Seminole, complained about the legislation, Vogt said.

Vogt noted that Langley complained that he didn't know what the bill did when it came up for final passage.

The Cocoa Beach senator said the bill was sponsored by Sen. Mattie Hair, D-Jacksonville, in the Senate. "All the Senate respects Hair as a responsible legislator and thus had confidence in the legislation," Vogt said.

"By calling for two years' sunset of the Senate was saying it was not ready to make drastic changes," Vogt said.

Brantley said Lehtinen told the House about some bad experiences that areas in South Florida had with bail bondsmen. "He relayed some war stories about some of the bad things that have happened," he said.

The legislation, Brantley said, gives the industry time to clean up its act.

Marie Osmond Plays Her Mom In TV Movie

By PETER MEADE
On Monday, April 26, NBC will air a movie about a 25-year old ex-Army sergeant who met and married a shy 18-year old girl from Utah shortly after World War II.

It is called "Side by Side: The True Story of the Osmond Family." The idea for the movie has been bouncing around at least six years. And who will play the starring roles of George and Olive Osmond, the parents of the eight famous offspring?

"I wondered who would play my mother," says Marie Osmond, "and eventually it came up, 'What about Marie?'"

"I decided to come to New York City two and a half months ago to study acting with Lee Strasberg. I'd done two movies before this one, but this was the first time I really got into it."

"Most actors or actresses, when they play a character, try to develop some background on that person. For me, it was a blast because I could go home and ask, 'Hey, Mother, come here, I'm reading this part where you...'"

Joseph Bottoms plays the patriarch Osmond. "He looks so much like my father," says Miss Osmond, who ages from 18 to 45 in the movie. "It is incredible. I compared the wedding picture from the movie and my parents' and it was so similar it was freaky."

The story also centers on the first two Osmond offspring, sons Viri and Tom, who were both born with impaired hearing. Rather than accept a doctor's advice to have the boys institutionalized, Olive and George Osmond decided to care for the boys themselves and to have more children despite the genetic risk of deafness.

Mr. Osmond originally formed The Osmond Brothers Quartet — of sons Alan, Wayne, Merrill and Jay — to raise money for Viri and Tom so they could fulfill their desire to become the Mormon Church's first deaf missionaries. The rest is history as Donny, Marie and Jimmy — who is now 19 — were born.

The quartet's performances eventually led to national recognition on the "Andy Williams Show," where Marie made her television debut at age 3.

"A lot of things are said about our family," she says, "goody-goody, lots of teeth, etc., and there is a lot more to us than that. People think we're clonish because we come from a large family. If anything, it's just the opposite. My mother said to me, 'Marie, if I teach you only one thing, I hope it is how to make your own decisions.'"

"I honestly feel my two oldest brothers are the most successful of the Osmonds. I respect them so much for what they have had to overcome. It's very difficult to stand on the sidelines and see your seven other younger brothers and sister take the bows and do the things they could've done if it wasn't for their handicap."

"The hardest part about the movie was fitting the story into two hours," says Miss Osmond. "We took out some of the sad parts, but that's OK."

CBS Edges ABC In Nielsens

NEW YORK (UPI) — What passed for the 1981-1982 television season officially ended last week with CBS in control of ratings both for news and the prime-time schedule, and with two-dozen new shows casualties of the Nielsen wars.

The scoreboard for the 28-week prime-time season that began last Oct. 5 with pilots and limited series staggering onto the tube right up to the close, shows CBS a narrow winner over ABC, with everhapless NBC far in the rear.

CBS finished with a season rating of 19.0 and an audience share of 30. ABC posted 18.1 and 29 and NBC was 15.2 and 24.

There were no surprises and just one newcomer in the Top 10 for the season. ABC's "Happy Days" spinoff, "Joanie Loves Chachi," hit the elite list in its premiere and stayed there. The rest of the lineup:

1. Dallas (CBS).

2. 60 Minutes (CBS).
3. The Jeffersons (CBS).
4. Joanie Loves Chachi (ABC).
5. Three's Company (ABC).
6. Alice (CBS).
7. Dukes of Hazzard (CBS).
8. Too Close for Comfort (ABC).
9. ABC Monday Night Movie (ABC).
10. M-A-S-H (CBS).

Real-Life Bruise For 'GL's Shipp

By NANCY M. REICHARDT
NEW YORK — The bandage that John Wesley Shipp (Kelly Nelson) of "Guiding Light" has been sporting on the show is for real. Doctors had to perform delicate reconstructive surgery on John when a glass door that he was closing shattered, nearly severing his thumb and cutting through the tendons of his hand.

True to the theatrical adage that "the show must go on," John was back working on the "GL" set a mere two days after the surgery.

Laura Malone (Blaine

Ewing on "Another World") may be having a hard time capturing and holding a man on the soap, but in real life Laura will be taking that blissful walk down the marital aisle with her long-time steady beau, Val Avery. The nuptials are set to take place in August at Laura's parents home in the state of Washington.

Spirits were high recently on the set of "Edge of Night" where the show's cast and crew threw a party for the lovely Ann Flood (Nancy Kerr) to celebrate the beginning of her 20th year with the show.

"I wanted to try something new," said Cleavon Little as his reason for joining "Another World." Little, who starred for two years in his own TV series, "Temperatures Rising," is partial to the theater where he has garnered such honors as a Tony award as best actor in a musical and a Drama Desk award for his performance in the title role of "Purlie" on Broadway.

After gaining national prominence for his portrayal of Black Bart in the Mel Brooks film "Blazing Saddles," Little went on to star in many other films including "Greased Lightning," "Vanishing Point" and "Scavenger Hunt."

USA Cable, CBS Join Forces

By ANN FEHRAR
Cable TV and the broadcast networks are usually seen as strict competitors for sporting events. USA Cable Network and CBS Sports, however, have replaced competition with collaboration.

They have arranged for the second round of nine PGA Tour events to be shown live on the USA Network. The first event, the Colonial National Invitation from Fort Worth, Texas, takes place on May 14; the last event, the World Series of Golf from Akron, Ohio, concludes the series on Aug. 27.

USA Cable and CBS Sports previously collaborated to bring cable viewers portions of the Masters Golf Tournament, as well as World Cup Skiing and other skating and race car tournaments.

And with the baseball season just getting underway, USA subscribers can count on seeing regular "Thursday Night Baseball" games, too.

thief so the police can come in for the catch.

You don't have to love horses to love "The Adventures of Black Beauty," a British TV series based on the Anna Sewell classic, currently airing on Nickelodeon.

England's lush countryside is the exquisite backdrop for the series, which consists of 52 half-hour episodes. The stallion is the prized possession of Dr. Gordon and his two children, who treat him like another sibling.

Indeed, this horse can do a lot more than gallop on his hooves. Much like other star animals we've known — from Flicka to Rin Tin Tin — Black Beauty has the smarts to "communicate" with his owners. In April 28th's episode, he chases and corners an art

White House Concert

A rousing finale to the series of four concerts entitled "In Performance At The White House" will be broadcast at 7 p.m. May 2 on PBS' WMFE-TV Channel 24.

Taped at a ranch adjoining President Reagan's own California spread, the musical program features country music star Verle Haggard and 20-year-old fiddle champion Mark O'Connor.

The concert is hosted by Beverly Sills and performed for the Reagans and their guests, appropriately dressed in western clothes and seated on bales of hay.

The J.C. Penney Co. is a major underwriter of the concert series, according to Ed Hemann, manager of the local Penney's store located in the Sanford Plaza.

Rustling Leaves, Dark Secrets, Creepy Music

By DAVID HANDLER
ABC's "King's Crossing" is something of a breakthrough in prime time soapdom. Unlike "Dallas," unlike "Dynasty," unlike "Flamingo Road," "King's Crossing" isn't steamy, adult trash. Rather, it is blushing, romantic trash, the dreamy schoolgirl sort of thing you'd associate with a Harlequin paperback.

The look and sound of "King's Crossing" are different, too. The other soaps are sunny and bright. They have jazzy, upbeat scores. "King's Crossing" is dark and sinister. Leaves rustle against the windows. The music is creepy, reminiscent of "Dark Shadows." This is as it should be, since "King's Crossing" practically gorges itself on mystery. Everyone has a deep, dark secret.

Yes, "King's Crossing" is something new. It's also something of a hoot.

Meet the Hollisters, Paul (Bradford Dillman) and Nan (Mary Frann). They've just fled Chicago for King's Crossing, the small California ranching town where Nan grew up. Paul just yet another teaching job. He drinks, you see. Beaucoup. Paul is what is known in the trade as a failed playwright.

So the Hollisters are broke and must fall back on Nan's inheritance. Her pop left her no money but he did leave a drafty, old house. He was a distinguished town pastor and big-time crud, or so Nan thinks. She didn't even go to his funeral. She hates being back in his house. The place gives her a severe case of the heebie-jeebies.

She especially doesn't like her father's sister, the sinister Aunt Louisa (Beatrice Straight), who lives on a sinister ranch in a sinister house that's a dead ringer for the Bates manse in "Psycho."

The Hollisters have two daughters — and here is where the Harlequin stuff comes in. Carey (Marilyn Jones) is a tomboyish high schooler. She just loves horses — talks to them and stuff — and thus meets and gets her very first ever kiss from Billy (Daniel Zippi), her aunt's muscular, impertinent stable boy.

Meanwhile, Lauren (Linda Hamilton), Carey's older sister, goes to college and longs to be a concert pianist. She is a snob. She also has full lips, bedroom eyes and wears tight sweaters. For pocket cash, Lauren gives piano lessons to the daughter of world famous conductor, Jonathan Hadary (Michael Zaslow), who is tall, dark, handsome, married and wears open shirts. He listens to Lauren play, helps her to gain entry to a regional piano competition. "Now you can stop pretending to find me irresistible," he says. "That part wasn't pretending," she breathes, heart aflutter.

In order to get by, Nan takes a job in a shoe store. Paul teaches English in Carey's high school — in fact, in her very class. This gets to be a problem when he shows up drunk one morning and begins to sob in front of her new friends. The principal happens to be there, too.

Fortunately, Paul doesn't seem to lose his job, though this is never explained. Little in "King's Crossing" is explained. This is part of the fun.

Another week, we finally do learn why Nan hates her father's memory so — he wouldn't let her keep the illegitimate child she bore as a teen. You might be asking yourself why we couldn't have just been told this tidbit from peg one, since it accounts for why she behaves like she does, but believe me — you wouldn't want it any other way.

If the writing made any sense, "King's Crossing" would be just another bad show, instead of a deliciously silly one.

'Baker's Dozen' Is Like A 1964 Doris Day Plot

By David Handler

CBS has been giving a close look to "Baker's Dozen," a limited-run New York-based sit-com, as possible fall material. It used to be that fall material meant better than winter, spring or summer material, and all three networks like to believe that is still so today.

You will only need to give "Baker's Dozen" a quick look to recognize it as yet another show that was sold on the basis of a hip, smart-sounding one-line idea: Serpico's love life. And you already know that a one-line idea is salesmanship, not television.

This is not to say that "Baker's Dozen" is a bad show. On the contrary — it's the freshest, cutest, perkliest sit-com of 1981. If this were 1964, I'd advise the network to go with it. But we've covered a lot of ground in battle-of-the-sexes comedy in 18 years, and "Baker's Dozen" hasn't kept up. It's yesterday's bread. Doris Day's fingerprints are all over it.

Our hero is Mike Locasale (Ron Silver), a pushy undercover New York street cop who looks like, acts like, is Al Pacino's Frank Serpico. He wears crummy clothes, a stocking cap and beard. He is hyperactive, impetuous, spits when he talks and has an all-consuming passion for justice. He is also supposed to be lovable and funny.

Our hook is that Locasale is having a wholesome, 1964 office romance with a fellow member of his undercover squad team, Terry Munson (Cindy Weintraub), a bland woman cop who bears a startling facial resemblance to 49er Joe Montana.

Our dilemma is that Locasale knows Munson is a tough, capable officer, but he still feels those cute, protective male urges and gets upset when she gets dangerous assignments. Just to keep the pressure on him (and just to keep the audience from thinking this is "That Girl" with guns), their commanding officer, Capt. Baker, is a woman (Doris Belack).

Capt. Baker bristles whenever Locasale refers to Munson as a woman. "She's an officer," she corrects.

Locasale and Munson's romance is of the typical Neil Simon New York ethnic variety. The smartly boy-girl dialogue is an incessant, rhythmic, rat-tat-tat. It makes you feel like someone's tap dancing on your forehead, someone other than Fred Astaire. He wants to watch the Yankee game on TV. She wants to make tea and talk. She's neat. He's not.

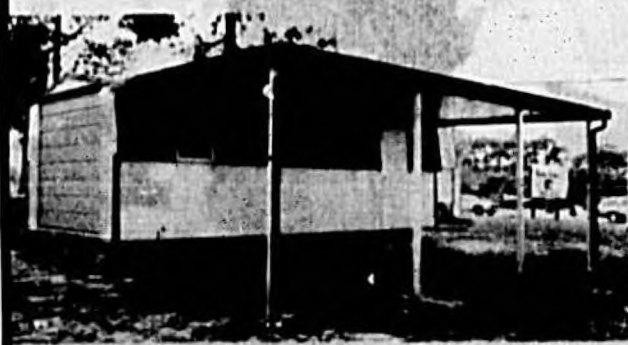

"I think I'll give this jacket to the Salvation Army," she huffs as she picks it up from the floor, where he dumped it. "That's where I got it," he snaps back.

Mostly they quarrel over where she's going to spend the night — he wants her to stay, she always leaves. "That apartment is my lifeboat," she explains. They fight over it constantly. As in any good 1964 sit-com, the more naive members of the audience can take this to mean she refuses to part with her virginity until they exchange wedding vows. I think he probably snores.

Our plots force Locasale to practice what he preaches. In one episode Munson becomes the decoy for a singles' bar slasher. "This guy is dangerous," Locasale complains. "He sticks knives into people."

In another episode Locasale and Munson attend a class on how to settle marital disputes through assertiveness training. He stumbles onto a squabbling couple, talks the husband into asserting himself, which causes the wife to throw him out, which causes him to move in with Locasale, which causes Locasale to admit he himself hasn't got the assertiveness to throw the guy out.

Eddie Haskell Didn't Become Alice Cooper

DEAR DICK: I've heard that Ken Osmond, who played Eddie Haskell on "Leave It to Beaver," grew up to become Alice Cooper, the rock star. Is this true? LAURIE RAINEY, Sharon, Penn.

No. It's a very widespread rumor, but totally false. Actually, Osmond is the antithesis of a rock star — he's a Los Angeles policeman.

DEAR DICK: Me and my mom were wondering if Cindy Williams and Penny Marshall really lived together in real life like they do on "Laverne and Shirley." GLENDA BAYS, Piercetown, Inc.

You people will have to learn not to take these TV shows so seriously. Cindy and Penny are actresses, paid good money to enact the roles of Laverne and Shirley, and they go to work in the morning and they come home at night and that's their job. They certainly don't do the things in real life that they do on the show. No, they don't live together.

DEAR DICK: Would you please settle a small dispute. I maintain that Neil Diamond once sang in a vocal group with three of his brothers, and the group was called The Diamonds. Am I correct? CHARLES WINGARD, St. Clair Shores, Mich.

Sorry, you are incorrect. There was a group called The Diamonds, but Neil was never part of it. He started as a songwriter and sang his own songs on demos and in New York coffeehouses. He was never part of any group.

DEAR DICK: Why must we be blessed with "Laverne and Shirley" and "Barney Miller" twice each night during the week? None are in sequence and some are very old. Actors appear who have long been off the series. C.B., Marshfield, Wis.

Never underestimate the greed of station owners. If a show gets good ratings, they figure they'll put it on twice. The original show is still being run by the network. But local stations buy a package of old reruns from a syndicator and they can put that package on as often as they want. So, sometimes a show will be on a lot.

'Miniaturists' Think Small, Real Small

By JANE CASSELBERRY
Herald Staff Writer

Some folks like to think big, but when it comes to miniatures hobbyists, the smaller the better. Cathie Ruth of Osteen and Carol Light of Deltona have a passion for miniatures and are organizing a club for other collectors from Sanford to Deland.

The club will be known as the Munchkin Society named after those adorable little creatures who greeted Dorothy when she landed somewhere over the rainbow in "The Wizard of Oz."

"It will be a broad-spectrum group open to anyone interested in collecting and making miniatures," says Mrs. Light, "whether they are just getting started or are serious collectors."

"They don't have to have a doll house, they can have toy trains, figurines, horses, or any kind of scaled-down miniatures," she says.

The Munchkin Society will meet at 7 p.m. on the first Tuesday of the month at the Deltona Public Library, at 1691 Providence Blvd., Deltona. There will be club discounts and trips for buying and viewing collections.

It was while some of Mrs. Light's vignettes of various "mouse shops" were on display recently at the Deltona Library that the idea of a club for miniature enthusiasts was born. Visitors to the library expressed a lot of interest in her creations and asked how they could start their own collections.

Among her mouse-operated shops are a book store, a bakery, an outdoor art show, a seamstress shop, a plant shop, and a Chinese art gallery. She makes the tiny details herself such as the doughnuts in her bakery, miniature colorful macrame plant hangers and a box full of chocolate covered cherries and a box of long-stem roses. She can change her living room setting from Valentine's day to Easter with the substitution of an Easter basket, lace hat and Easter lilies. Or to Christmas with the addition of a tiny decorated tree, toys and gift packages.

Mrs. Light says her long-range project is building a "Jordon Mouse" department store.

"The trick is trying to think of something no one else has miniaturized yet, or to make it cheaper than the others," she says.

"The supreme compliment is for someone to look at a photo of your miniatures and not be able to tell it from the real thing."

Miniature enthusiasts can spend as much or as little money as they want in pursuit of their hobby, Mrs. Light and Mrs. Ruth agree. There are a lot of things you can make yourself from odds and ends around the house, such as old jewelry and the caps of toothpaste tubes.

"The serious collector spends an average of $30 a month on this hobby," Mrs. Ruth says. "I have about $130 and 140 hours invested in my three-story Victorian mansion and carriage house. I got the basic shell kit and punched out the balsa wood, finished and decorated it."

Mrs. Ruth has papered the walls of her doll house with a delicately patterned contact paper until she can send away for the specially made miniature wallpaper.

When she completed construction of her dollhouse, she received a tiny bouquet of flowers in a florist box and green paper as a housewarming gift from Mrs. Light.

She has decided to furnish and decorate the mansion in a 1920s motif. Now that she has chosen the Depression Era rather than Victorian, she is planning on wiring the house for electricity.

Mrs. Ruth was working on a college degree at the Cathie Ruth (left) of Osteen, and Carol Light of Deltona like things small. They're called miniaturists. They're getting together with

University of Central Florida when she was injured in an auto accident. "I was always interested in miniatures, but the long recuperation from the accident has given me more free time to pursue the fascinating hobby," Mrs. Ruth says.

She has a seven-year-old daughter with whom to share her hobby. "She has started a collection of glass animal figurines and my husband is into scale trains," says Mrs. Ruth.

other folks who like to make tiny buildings, cars, people, etc. to form a Munchkin Society.

A visit to a miniature shop such as Gepetto's in Casselberry can blow the mind (and pocketbook) of the collector or make a believer out of the neophyte.

"You can really get involved," Mrs. Ruth says. "It can easily become an obsession. To support their hobby many miniaturists find one thing they are good at making and sell them to others."

"Once you get started, it's contagious."

Knoxville's World's Fair—Biggest Thing Here Since The Civil War

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UPI) — There is a tiny slab of the Great Wall of China, a glimpse of Egypt's King Tut, 23 nations but no Russian exhibit. It is Knoxville, not Paris or New York, and it's called a World's Fair even though some say that may be stretching it.

"You've got to be there" is the advertising theme, and 11 million will do just that to see the most cursed and discussed project in East Tennessee since citizens had to choose which side they would be on in the Civil War.

The 1982 World's Fair opens May 1 in Knoxville — a monument to a group of local shakers and movers, their high-powered political friends and the generosity of the federal government at a time when belt-tightening is the latest Washington fad.

President Reagan has agreed to kick off the fair's grand opening — a gesture seen by some as intended just as much to placate Senate Majority Leader Howard Baker, a Tennessean, as it is to honor the six-month exposition.

In China the sacred Great Wall is 1,500 miles long, but the Chinese brought only a 15-inch by 15-inch slab of it, and perhaps that is an example of the smallness of this World's Fair, the first ever in the Southeastern United States.

Nonetheless, fair promoters have lined up exhibits from 23 countries, 22 companies and an entertainment package ranging from a Dolly Parton concert to a pro football game between the Pittsburgh Steelers and New England Patriots.

This World's Fair, the first since the 1974 Spokane exposition, is the brainchild of millionaire Tennessee banker Jake Butcher, who has concentrated on the fair and increasing his bank holdings since he lost the governor's race to Lamar Alexander in 1978.

Butcher enlisted S.H. "Bo" Roberts as president of the corporation promoting the fair, the Knoxville International Energy Exposition, and for six years Roberts spoke to sometimes hostile audiences trying to get people to jump on the World's Fair bandwagon.

Some Knoxvilleians didn't want a fair endangering the calm of this city tucked in the foothills of the Great Smoky Mountains. And they didn't like the city's plans to help pay for the fair with an $11.6 million bond issue.

No referendum was held on the question and fair promoters were off and running. Now, it appears Knoxvilleians have gotten comfortable with the idea. Some have created ways to make a buck off the tourists.

Dollar-happy landlords began turning out tenants in January to open housing for World's Fair tourists and the evictions continued in April. One court had 1,500 tenants told to leave.

"I was a World's Fair victim," read the sign of a hitchhiker headed out of town.

When the evictions problem reached epidemic proportions the City Council passed an anti-eviction ordinance. But there was some question as to whether it violated the Tennessee constitution.

"I think the overall goodwill and hospitality of the region will overcome this," said Roberts, a former journalist who has a telescope trained on the 70-acre fair site from his 28th floor office in Butcher's United American Bank building.

"Hopefully, the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce and the city will be able to stop flagrant violations that occur," he said.

All World's Fairs have some type of theme, and this one's is energy. Knoxville is the home of the nation's largest utility, the Tennessee Valley Authority, and 20 miles away at Oak Ridge the fuel for atomic bombs dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki was developed.

Towering above the World's Fair site is the centerpiece of the exposition, the $5 million Sunspire, which looks like an elongated golf tee with a gawdy, gilded golf ball on top. It is 266 feet high and its 81,000 panes are painted with 24-karat gold dust, which fair officials say is the most energy-efficient glass ever made.

It will have a hamburger parlor at the bottom and for $2 an elevator will take you to the top at 330 feet per minute. A show on board by an oil company called "Journey to the Sun" will give riders hot and cold and light and dark sensations.

The structure is divided into five floors. The first is an observation deck, the second has a kitchen and a private VIP lounge with maximum security. On the third and fourth floors is a "very fine" restaurant and the fifth floor has another observation deck.

Here is a rundown on some of the Fair highlights:

Exhibits

National exhibits at the fair will represent each country's contribution to the world of energy and examples of their past.

At Peru's exhibit, scientists will unwrap a 3,000-year-old mummy and fair visitors will watch as the mummy's secrets are revealed for the first time. Peru also will have a mummy previously unwrapped, along with 250 golden treasures from six pre-Incan civilizations and a series of large murals about the South American nation.

Some Egyptologists have said Egypt's exhibit of famous artifacts from King Tutankhamen's tomb will be even better than the Tut exhibit shown in six United States cities in 1977.

A chariot of Ramesses II, the pharaoh generally believed to have freed Moses and the Israelites, is expected to be part of Egypt's exhibit. Parts of the display also may focus on Egyptian progress during the presidency of Anwar Sadat.

The Chinese will display, among other artifacts, that 15-inch by 15-inch piece of the Great Wall, built in the 3rd century B.C. to fight off hordes of invaders from the north and often hailed as the greatest building enterprise known to man. The Chinese will also have a mandarin chef and two "authentic" Chinese restaurants.

Four terra cotta warriors and a 20-foot solar-powered dragon boat will also be on display. Exhibits from China, Egypt and Peru will be in the same pavilion at the south end of the fair site near the Tennessee River.

The United States pavilion is the largest on site, a six-story, $20.8 million structure funded by American taxpayers. It will be solar-powered. Video terminals and talk-back computers will be interspersed with other exhibits. An adjoining theater with a film produced for the fair will be projected onto a screen seven stories high.

The General Accounting Office blasted the design of the U.S. pavilion as a potential embarrassment to the country and an energy-waster. The building is a permanent structure but exactly how it will be utilized once the fair is over has not been determined.

The Japanese will show a film about their success in harnessing ocean waves for energy and seats in the auditorium are built to give viewers a floating sensation. They will also have a robot that speaks Japanese and gives tourists a guided tour of their pavilion.

The Russians at one time promised to take up the second largest pavilion on site. But their interest waned after the U.S. government's unfavorable reaction to their invasion of Afghanistan.

Other countries with exhibits at the fair include Hungary, Panama, Korea, West Germany, France, Mexico, the 10-member European Community, Saudi Arabia, the United Kingdom, Canada, Australia and the Philippines.

One brewery will have a German beer garden with German food costumes and an "oom-pah" band. Another brewer will feature a "Barbeque-Bluegrass" entertainment area, plus it will also stable eight Clydesdale horses on the fair site the full six months.

Everything's Official

Corporations like to show off their products at World's Fairs, and the 1982 exposition is no exception. It has an official car rental company, an official bus, an official coffee filter, an official bread, an official baby food, an official beer, and an official popcorn, to name only a few.

Entertainment

Comedian Bob Hope is the biggest name among stars who will be in Knoxville during the fair. He and country music star Lynn Anderson will perform May 29-30. Red Skelton, Johnny Cash, Conway Twitty, Loretta Lynn, Victor Borge, Rudolf Nureyev with the Boston Ballet, and the Grand Kabuki Theatre of Japan will all perform.

The Ink Spots will be on hand and so will Dave Loggins, Riders in the Sky, the Warsaw Philharmonic, Leon Redbone, Mary Travers, Papa John Creach, the Ventures, Richie Havens, McClain Family Band, Jasmine and many others.

The Boston Celtics and Philadelphia 76ers, two pro basketball powerhouses, will play an exhibition game. In August football's Pittsburgh Steelers will take on the New England Patriots. There'll be a PGA golf match at Holston Hills Country Club.

How To Get To Knoxville

World's Fair promoters expect the majority of visitors to come from the nine states surrounding Tennessee that are within a day's driving distance of Knoxville. The city is 220 miles north of Atlanta, 150 miles east of Nashville, 265 miles southeast of Cincinnati, 128 miles west of Asheville, N.C., and 250 miles southwest of Roanoke, Va.

Interstates 75 and 40 pass through Knoxville while Interstate 81 is nearby to the north. Some $25 million has been spent on Knoxville interstate improvements to iron out problems that for years have created traffic jams.

When To Come

Fair spokesman Bob Shelley has these ideas on when to visit the fair:

"I always suggest out-of-towners come down in May to enjoy the dogwoods, just because the weather is nice, or in September or October because of the leaves turning in the Smokies.

"If you can combine a visit to the World's Fair and enjoy the Smokies at their height, that's like a little something added in the bargain. The busiest days will be Tuesdays throughout the World's Fair. If you're allergic to big crowds, I would stay away during holiday weekends. We know Memorial Day, July 4 and Labor Day weekends are going to bring humongous crowds," Shelley said.

The fair opens at 10 a.m. and closes at midnight. "If you came at 11 and left about 11 you'd probably be missing the greater amount of traffic. My recommendation is park your car in a parking lot and take a shuttle bus in," Shelley said.

Where To Stay

Several new motels were built especially for the World's Fair near the site. For the most part they are already booked up. As a general rule, you will find higher room prices the closer you get to the fair.

Some prices for a motel room with two beds are $130 a night.

HOROSCOPE

By BERNICE BEDE OSOL

For Saturday, April 24, 1982

YOUR BIRTHDAY

April 24, 1982

The coming year should be a favorable one where love and romance are concerned. If you are unattached, your prospects look encouraging. If you are married, bonds will be strengthened.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Wit and charm are your two greatest assets today. You'll be able to impress others without putting on airs. Be yourself. Predictions of what's in store for you in each season following your birth date and where your luck and opportunities lie are in your Astro-Graph, Mail #1 for each to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y., 10019. Be sure to specify birth date.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Compassionate instincts will be easily aroused in you today. You'll anticipate the needs of others and help without being asked, sending you "good guy" rating soaring.

CANCER (June 21-July 23) Take advantage of any opportunities you get today to boost a friend's sagging spirits. You'll know what to say to re-arouse his or her enthusiasm.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 23) In areas where you may have met resistance previously, all should go smoothly today. Backtrack a bit and retrace your steps for success.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 23) Dealing with others on a one-to-one basis will prove easier to you today than having to cope with groups or cliques. Be selective of companions. LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Something unusual, but beneficial, could develop today in your work or career. What occurs may have to be kept confidential.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Involvements today with the one you love should turn out happily for both of you. Each will make the other's lot easier.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Much pleasure can be derived today if you work on little tasks that you deem to be labors of love. It's an excellent day to pursue your favorite hobby.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) This is a good day to get in touch with people you're fond of and promote some unprompted fun. You're the catalyst for joyful happenings.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Pay particular heed to any information that comes your way from relative or neighbors on how to make or save money. Their tips could prove profitable.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Don't make this a day where you'll just lie around and take things easy. The more active you are, the more you'll enjoy yourself. Keep busy.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your material prospects look extremely encouraging today, so keep all channels open that might offer you possible gains. You could benefit through a loved one.

Protect Your Eyes From Glaring Sun

DEAR DR. LAMB — Recently I read an article that claimed there is strong evidence that exposing the eyes to ultraviolet light may cause cataracts. The writer claimed that sunglasses may actually be dangerous because they "trick the eye into staying wide open" while without sunglasses a person will squint. The squinting causes the pupils to contract, "thus protecting the delicate visual receptors inside."

I have a damaged optic nerve of the right eye and my prescription sunglasses give much relief from the glare. Is it safe to wear them? Certainly do not need the added problem of cataracts. I am worried.

DEAR READER — The article as you have quoted it is similar to much medical misinformation — a mixture of truth and misinformation. It is true that ultraviolet light can be harmful to eyesight. The rays are absorbed by lens, which protects the rest of the eye, and may cause changes in the lens leading to cataracts. That is believed to be one reason cataracts develop at an earlier age in sunny climates such as India and Egypt or in field workers compared to city dwellers.

The error is the assumption that sunglasses will make matters worse. Most sunglasses filter out some ultraviolet light as well as some infrared light. Sunglasses are often the best answer to protect your eyes from harmful ultraviolet light.

Some eyeglasses are better in filtering out ultraviolet light than others. Gray-lensed lenses in either glass or plastic are usually the best, but you should check with your doctor to be sure your prescription glasses provide the best protection for you. I would not advise you to go without protection as the light is harmful to the delicate mechanism at the back of the eye, too.

There are many causes for cataracts. Just getting older is the most common cause. I am sending you The Health Letter number 13-6, Your Cataracts Are Coming, to give you a complete picture. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1581, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My husband developed a bad pain on the left side from the kidney area around to the belly button in a 4-inch wide area 10 days ago. He was in unbearable pain and it turns out he has shingles, herpes zoster. He was in the hospital three days and is home taking medicine for pain. Now he has a few lumps about the size of the thumb. He is broken out in about five small places.

He has been off work several days and plans to go back in three days. Should he? Can you give us any information about this miserable disease?

DEAR READER — It is caused by the chicken pox virus and the virus can be in the roots of sensory nerves from an attack of chicken pox 60 years ago. The pain may precede the rash by a few days, and some few people have pain and no rash. The rash is uncomplicated cases may last about two weeks.

In people under 60 years of age, most cases run this course without complications. In older people there is a greater danger of persistent severe neuralgia. The early treatment with adequate amounts of corticosteroids is believed to help prevent such a complication. If your husband is less than 60, perhaps a couple or three weeks will see the end of the disease.

WIN AT BRIDGE

J. Jacoby is not Jim, it is his younger brother Jon. At that time Jon's wife Caroline wanted to play some bridge and Jon got to playing some with her. Oswald was going to be in Hot Springs for the Mid-South regional and Jon drove over from Little Rock to play in the team. It was his first and only tournament since raising three daughters. Many business affairs have taken up all the time of that branch of the Jacoby family.

Here is a hand with Jon sitting South. After Jon opened one spade, his father could find no good way to get to be declarer and Jon played in four spades.

East won the club and led back the six of diamonds. Jon studied a while and finally played his queen. After that start it was routine to come out with an overtrick for a surely won board.

That night Jon called Jim long distance and asked, "Bubba, how long did it take you to win your first regional?"

Jim had a ready reply: "Almost two years, but Daddy was in Korea."

4-H'ers Bring Home Blue Ribbons From Events Day

Congratulations are in order for all five of the Geneva 4-H'ers who participated in the County Events Day at the Ag Center last Saturday. Each one brought home a blue ribbon.

In the senior division, Carol Sini's talk on "Childhood Development of Latch-Key Children" and Debbie Hon's talk on "Different Cuts of Pork" received top honors. Jennifer Lawson's talk on "Baby Sitting Hints," Tony Sini's demonstration "How to Mount Butterflies," and Cindy Hon's demonstration of "Food Dehydration," all entered in the junior 4-H division won top honors, too.

When the elections for County 4-H Council were held Saturday two Geneva teenagers became officers. Carol Sini was elected vice president and Terri Bodnar secretary.

Speaking of ribbons and winners, members of the Geneva Elementary School track team did very well ac-ording to P.E. coach, Thomas Leonard, when they participated in the 1982 Seminole County Elementary School Track Meet.

The following students will receive their ribbons at the school's annual May Day Play Day: fifth place soft ball throw, Stacy Williams; sixth place 440 relay, Chuck Evans, Lisa Hofmann, Janese Garland, Sara Lynn Jackson, Donna Hill, David Cole, Shawn McGregor and Antonio Jackson; sixth place in the 100-yard dash, Lisa Hofmann, Sheila Gelger and Lasandra Smith; sixth place in the 1-mile run, David Love; fourth place in the 1-mile run, Rex Douma; fifth place in the 50-yard dash, Lasandra Smith; fifth place in soft ball throw, Jackie Stile; third place in the 440 relay, Ellen Thomas, Sara Lynn Jackson, Jackie Stile and Lasandra Smith; and first place in the soft ball throw, Donna Hill.

Mr. Leonard says, "This is the first time our school entered the county track meet and we are extremely proud of their placings."

Approximately 50 fourth and fifth graders in the recorder band and chorus group at the elementary school will be boarding a school bus shortly after noon Saturday to participate in the District Four Elementary Music Festival. The event will be held at Lake Mary High School. The Geneva students will be under the direction of Mrs. Charlotte Brown and will perform at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Lois Brown, secretary of the Women's Ministries of the Chuluota Assembly of God church is excited about monies the group recently raised by making and selling hand-rolled silk flower corsages. More of the groups hand made craft items will be displayed Saturday at the Oviedo Women's Club annual Great Day In The Country.

The arts and crafts festival will feature local artists' exhibits, and will feature items for sale in categories ranging from refrigerator magnets (hand painted on tiles) to macrame items, spaghetti bibs, and many other unusual items too numerous to list.

This is truly one of the most unique crafts gatherings in the area. Don't miss it and don't go late. It starts at 9 a.m. and won't be over until 4 p.m.

The Cub Scouts of Pack 837 and the Boy Scouts of Troop 837 will meet next Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the Geneva United Methodist Church.

Several Cubs will be receiving activity badges. Young men in the community of scouting age are invited to attend the Monday evening meetings to become involved.

Gardening

Marigolds Get Better Every Year

By Dr. ROBERT J. BLACK
IFAS Extension Horticulturist

Marigolds outrank any other flower in numbers of seeds and transplants purchased for our gardens, says Dr. Benny Tjia, Floriculture Specialist with the Florida Cooperative Extension Service. They are easy to start, easy to care for and never cease to bloom. There are tall marigolds for bouquets as well as short marigolds for border plantings. Medium-sized marigolds fill in the gap.

There are marigolds ideal for garden containers and some which can be stunning hanging baskets. There are single-flowered marigolds, orange marigolds and bicolored bloomers. The most popular are the gold and yellow varieties.

Marigolds are big business for seedsmen, and many dollars of research have gone into producing exciting new varieties to tempt the horticultural palette of marigold enthusiasts. As a result, the marigold gets better every year.

Yellow and bicolors are now contending for first place in marigold sales. Tiny 8 to 10 inch varieties have been updated to produce larger blooms, with the same tiny habit. When the television program, Victory Garden, looked at marigolds, they focused on the recent "Boy" series, bred for dwarf heights with blooms reaching up to 2 inches in diameter.

Large 3-inch blooms can be found in varieties scarcely over a foot in height. The semi-dwarf marigold of this group now has earlier blooms, and very compact petals for a bouquet of exciting yellow color. "Sunshot," available for 1981 as a started plant, far out-performs its predecessors, says Tjia.

Bicolor single marigolds are particularly attractive in containers. The most outstanding bicolors offer two-toned intense contrasts of red and yellow or red and gold on each petal. "Spinwheel," new for 1981 from started plants, vividly contrasts bright red with clear yellow stripes.

Marigold breeder achievements have not been overlooked by awards. In the past three years new marigolds, "Queen Bee," "Queen Sophia" and "Janie" have picked up medals from America and Europe. Merits which prompted recognition for these beauties include early flowering, resistance to heat stress and uniqueness of form and color.

If the range of marigolds is not dizzying enough in its continuous change and variation, there are even selections of unique color and shape within the popular double category. Created marigolds have two distinct types of petals. Center petals of created types, such as the 1981 introduction, "Glowing Embers," are tightly compacted. They form the raised crown of this bicolor, which is then surrounded by flattened guard petals with identical color conformation.

True marigold fanciers find a myriad of uses for these garden stalwarts. The debate still rages about the use of marigolds to repel garden insects. While that issue is an open question, there is no mistaking the fact that insects do not seem to be attracted to the flowers and leaves of members of the marigold family. Fewer diseases likewise trouble a marigold, says Tjia.

Genetic attention to this durable flower has yet to give us a sweetly-scented variety. Over the years the pungent aroma of marigolds has been reduced to a pleasant minimum. While scentless marigolds satisfy many, other gardeners enjoy the strong aroma of certain species.

According to Tjia, the marigold is an emigrant, transported to seedsmen around the world from its native Mexico and South America. With true New World Stamina, it persists and blooms where it is planted, wherever that may be.

Search Is On For Outstanding Mom

May 9 is Mother's Day. The Herald is searching for the annual "Outstanding Mom," but we need the help of readers. Who is your favorite mom and why? What has she done that makes her so special?

Tell us in your own words why you think a certain mom is outstanding. First, write your name, full address and telephone number at the top of a page. Then add the mom's full name, address and telephone number. About a page and one-half of information on standard size paper is sufficient.

The deadline is noon on April 23. Mail entries to OURSELVES EDITOR Doris Dietrich, 300 N. French Ave., Sanford 32771.

The Education Department of the Junior Woman's Club of Sanford, Inc., has made its annual donation of three books to the Sanford Library in honor of babies born to club members during the past year. Sandy Oakley, left, children's specialist receives the books from mothers holding their babies born from February, 1981 through January, 1982, from left, Martin Phillip Greenberg, son of Dr. and Mrs. Andrew Greenberg; Eric John Larson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Larson; and Stephen Richard Dunn, son of Dr. and Mrs. Richard Dunn.

Beta Sigma Phi Marks 51st Anniversary

Government officials across the world are signing proclamations recognizing April 30, 1982 as the start of "Beta Sigma Phi Year" in their cities, state and provinces.

This women's social, service and cultural organization celebrates its anniversary on this date with "Founder's Day" activities ranging from small gatherings to huge banquets for its many members.

Beta Sigma Phi is the largest Greek letter sorority in the world and has grown in its 51-year history from one chapter of seven women to a sorority of 250,000 members active in 12,500 chapters in countries throughout the world.

Beta Sigma Phi members have this year formed new chapters in such faraway places as Korea, Indonesia, Turkey, Bahrain and the Netherlands. More chapters will soon be formed in the West Indies and American and Western Samoa.

This effort to spread Beta Sigma Phi and form new chapters is symbolic to two goals shared by all members of the organization; that is, to extend the hand of friendship to community women; and to enjoy to the fullest extent the opportunities for personal growth that Beta Sigma Phi offers every member.

Life, learning and friendship are the bywords of Beta Sigma Phi. Begun in the midst of the Depression by Walter W. Ross, Beta Sigma Phi was originally designed to provide an outlet for women who, in those hard financial times, could not attend college and were obliged to remain home and support their families. Walter Ross provided these women with a program of cultural study so they could have a chance at intellectual and social growth.

From the first chapter formed in Abilene,

Kan., Beta Sigma Phi has grown from a small social and cultural group into an international sorority that devotes much time to service efforts as well. Hardly a charitable, health or cultural group exists today that has not been helped in some way by Beta Sigma Phi.

Internationally, the chapters have created several special funds to which they contribute: the International Loan Fund, through which members help each other; the International Endowment Fund, which has donated over a million dollars to health research groups, homes for underprivileged children and many other causes; the Exemplar Fund, which helps support Literacy Village in India; and a college scholarship fund for members or their sons or daughters.

Cultural and social activities still continue among the chapters. Each year, members are provided with a different outline of study in the liberal arts. Members also plan socials throughout the year, including traditional events under's Day.

The Founder's Day celebration in Sanford will be held Saturday at Lake Monroe Inn. The anniversary will be observed by eight chapters in Sanford and by all other chapters around the world. Xi Theta Epailon is hostess chapter with Linda Morris serving as chairman of the Founder's Day activities.

Donna Frank, City Council president, has been selected for the honor of presenting a special message from the International Executive Council of Beta Sigma Phi. Awards will be presented to local members and outstanding members will be recognized for their work for sorority and the community this year.

Never Presume Or Label Anyone In Introductions

DEAR ABBY: We have recently moved from a rather conservative Midwestern town to Portland, Ore., where attitudes are much more open and liberal. We now find ourselves socializing with a very interesting and delightful group of friends that includes several gay couples among the straights. We have questions regarding etiquette involving gays:

How does one address a written invitation to a gay couple who are living together if one doesn't know the name of the "spouse"? Would it be proper to address it to "Mr. John Doe and Friend?"

When introducing a gay couple to a stranger, it is proper to say, "This is Co-and-so and his lover?" (I have heard some gays refer to their partners as "my lover.")

Would it be proper to introduce a gay couple as "Mr. Jones and his live-in friend, companion or partner?" Or does one just leave the relationship unexplained?

Dear Abby

Thanks for any help you can give me. FROM THE CITY OF ROSES

DEAR FROM: When addressing two people who live together, if you don't know the name of both parties, find out and use both names on the envelope: "Mr. John Doe and Mr. Paul Friendly."

When introducing a gay couple to a stranger, it is not necessary to explain the relationship. Never presume or label anyone as "lover, partner" or anything else. Use the person's name.

DEAR ABBY: How do you tell a middle-aged woman to change her clothes and use some kind of deodorant? For the last six months this woman has worn the same soiled pantsuit to work every day. This is a business office, and she not only looks terrible, she smells bad.

She is a good worker and good-natured, and we hate to hurt her feelings, but something has to be done. She also wears a dirty wig to work nearly every day. I wonder if she knows it can be shampooed.

Please help us. HOLDING OUR NOSES

DEAR HOLDING: If this woman has one friend in the office, ask that friend to have a heart-to-heart talk with her. If no one wants to confront her, it is the responsibility of the office manager or head of personnel to do so. It would be a kindness.

Silver Hawks Battle Bucs For District Tonight

Chiodini Checks Pats On 4 Hits

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

Lake Howell's Doug Chiodini couldn't be blamed for a little eavesdropping he did in the fourth inning of Thursday's District 4A-9 semifinal game against Lake Brantley.

"After all, it paid off with the game-winning RBI in Howell's 4-1 victory over the Patriots and propelled them into the title game tonight at 8 against Mainland.

"I heard (Lake Brantley) coach (Gary) Smith tell their pitcher, 'he's swinging too hard and pulling his head out,'" said Chiodini about his two-strike dilemma. "So I just relaxed and smacked it."

The "smack" went on the line to deep right center and chased home teammates Keith Wallace and Bill Lang to give the Hawks a 3-1 lead.

As impressive as the stylish senior was with the aluminum, it was a superb pitching performance that was the difference in the ballgame.

Chiodini scattered four hits, struck out five and walked just two in picking up his fourth victory in six decisions.

Tronically, it was a walk to leadoff batter Brian Wright which led to the Patriots only run. After Wright walked to open the game, Jimmy Robbins dropped a nice bunt to move him to second.

Senior John Simas followed with a solid shot up the middle to score Wright for a 1-0 lead. Chiodini escaped further trouble, however, when Scott Killam popped out and first baseman David Martinez alertly gunned down Simas when he strayed too far from the bag.

Brantley starter Billy Green stifled the Hawks until the fourth. Frank Zubor and Steve Wallace drew walks around a fly out by Van Goltmont. Lang then ripped a single to left center for one run and Chiodini followed with his clutch hit for the next two.

Chiodini, meanwhile, was mixing his curve and fastball to befuddle the Patriots. He retired seven in a row at one stretch, encountered a little trouble in the fourth, and then set down eight more until the seventh. Mincey rapped his second hit to open Brantley's last frame, but Tommy Novak popped up to second. Billy Powers walked to bring the tying run to the plate. Chiodini bore down, however, and induced Bob Lynch to tap back to the mound from where Chiodini forced Mincey at third. Pinch-hitter Gene Devita rapped a ground ball to Tony Mimauro who flipped to second for a force out to end the game.

"All year we had been making the mistake when it hurt us the worst," said Howell coach Berto Benjamin, who will start untried Goltmont on the mound tonight. "After the season, we worked 45 minutes a day on our infield defense. We eliminated those mistakes in our last two games."

While Preis ended up saving the day in the seventh, the Blue Darters dug themselves quite a hole in the first inning with an uncharacteristic four errors which led to three runs off starter Brewer.

"We couldn't catch the ball," said a disconsolate Darter coach Sonny Wise. "We got ourselves beat in the first inning, but we battled back and almost got them."

Third baseman Wambles set the tone for the inning with an overthrow to first base on Bill Hilderbrand's ground ball which allowed him to go to second.

Doug Marlett then rapped a ground ball at shortstop Billy Johnson, who looked back the runner, then pulled first baseman Holt off the bag with a high throw.

Brewer, unnerved by the goings-on, walked Todd Phillips to load the bases. Garris then slapped another ground ball at Wambles who misplayed it into left field.

Hildebrand scored easily, but a strong throw by left fielder Clayton Morris cut down Marlett

Preis Bails Out Bucs In Seventh

By SAM COOK
Herald Sports Editor

Mainland baseball coach Ron Pagano knew what to do with the ball when it became "goosebump time" in Thursday's District 4A-9 semifinal matchup with Apopka at Sanford Memorial Stadium.

He handed it to Rich Preis. The little lefthander responded with two strikeouts with the tying runs on base to lift the Buccaneers past top-seeded Apopka, 7-5, into tonight's championship game against Lake Howell at 8.

"I had some goosebumps out there, that's for sure," said Preis about his superb mopup effort. "I didn't do nothing special. I just tried to get them out."

Which he did very well. Rodney Brewer opened the inning with a single, but Russ Wambles grounded out to third base. Randy Holt singled to right center, moving Brewer to third.

At that point, Pagano made his move, bringing in Preis for starter Henry Garris. The smooth senior jumped ahead of Mark Riniger and then fanned him with a curve. Clayton Morris was up next and Preis used the same method to end the ball game.

While Preis ended up saving the day in the seventh, the Blue Darters dug themselves quite a hole in the first inning with an uncharacteristic four errors which led to three runs off starter Brewer.

at the plate. Phillips went to third and Garris stayed at first.

Garris, nevertheless, stole second on the next pitch to set the stage for Tim Phillips, who rapped the only hit of the inning between shortstop and third to drive in his brother Todd.

With runners at the corners, Tim Phillips broke for second. Catcher Darrin Brehl's throw was right on the money, but a jarring slide by Phillips separated Mike Justice from the ball, allow Garris to romp home for a 3-1 lead.

Apopka had picked up a run in the first of a walk to Gary Sackett, a single to left by Johnson and an RBI base hit inside the third base bag by Brewer.

After Brewer's trouble, not of his making, the young lefty took the ping out of the Bucs' bats. He retired 10 in a row, including five consecutive strikeouts.

The Darters by this time had assumed a 4-3 lead with three runs in the second. The big hit of the inning was a two-run double to left center by senior Gary Sackett, who later scored the go-ahead run when Brewer reached on an error by the third baseman.

Metz' Defense Lifts Rams, 3-2

Lake Mary's Paul Alegre shut down Mount Dora on three hits Thursday, but all Ram coach Don Smith could talk about was catcher Rod Metz.

"Metz just had another fantastic day," said Smith following the 3-2 District 2A-10 victory which pushed the Rams into tonight's 7:30 championship game against host Umatilla, a 6-2 winner over Tavares.

The talented freshman receiver cut down three potential big innings for Mount Dora. "The first kid he must have thrown out by 15 feet," pointed out Smith. "Then he gunned a guy down with a first and third situation."

Prep Baseball

Metz' third gem came when he ran down a foul pop fly 45 feet behind the plate, then turned and cut down an opposing runner trying to move up. "The past five games he's been outstanding," continued Smith, who also had some words for Alegre. "He was a little wild (nine walks), but he really threw the ball hard."

Offensively, Kevin Hill plated the two big runs. Barry Hysell started the rally in the third by reaching on an error as did Keith Wallace. Alegre then was hit by a pitch, setting the table for Hill's clutch single up the middle for a 3-1 lead.

The Rams scored in the first inning on a Wallace double and an overthrow by the third baseman on Alegre's ground ball.

Tonight, Smith will send ace righthander Terry Boatright after the 2A-10 District championship. Coach Cindy Henry's girls' softball team will go after a similar title at 4 p.m., also at Umatilla.

Helms' Big Bat Knocks Out Precision

Coach Jim Lewis' Precision Grafix softball team has had things pretty much its way this season, running off 11 straight victories to the first-half championship in Mustang play.

And the other night at Five Points, it didn't look like much had changed against Roger Richardson's H.D. Realty club.

For five innings, Lewis' ace, Susan Rogers, held H.D. scoreless as Precision built a 4-0 lead. In the bottom of the sixth, however, Grafia lost its precision.

H.D. Really broke loose for six big runs and went on to post a 6-4 verdict over Grafia. Lori Helms had the key hit, a single down the left field line which drove in the deciding runs.

Winning pitcher Marci Dalziel accounted for the tying runs a little earlier with a single. Karen DeShetler, Lisa Santulli and Chris Mollberg each collected two base hits.

In an earlier game, Helms and Dalziel combined their talents again as H.D. blanked Lake Howell Amoco, 6-0.

Dalziel fashioned a five hitter with three strikeouts and three walks. She allowed just one runner past second base.

Helms crashed two singles and two doubles good for two runs batted in. DeShetler and Santulli ripped two hits, while Angie Huff smacked three singles.

Mollberg was the defensive whiz, accounting for seven assists or putouts. Christy Tibbitts was the losing hurler.

In the wildest game of the week, Rax scored three runs in the last inning to outlast General Elevator, 17-16. Betty Hill paced Rax with a double and two singles and a home run. She also picked up the mound decision.

Rax wasn't so fortunate in another encounter. Allamonte Billiards came up with six runs in the sixth inning for an 11-7 win.

The victory knocked Rax from the unbeaten, although Hill clubbed another home run. Denise Burke led Rax with a double and single. Danielle Maxwell had two doubles. Kim Robinson struck out four while picking up the win.

Allamonte picked up another victory against Barnett Bank of Winter Park as Maxwell homered and Robinson ripped two singles. Mirnie Reinsel had a triple and a single.

Rachel Rhoads led the losers with four singles. Lari Bird had a double.

Keith Cola dropped a pair of games to Newhan Plastering of Casselberry and General Elevator. Against Newham, the winners came up with six runs in the fourth inning to put Chek away, 9-7. Jedon Jonas led Newham with two home runs and double. T. Lewis also hit a homer and a double. J. Thomas smacked two singles for coach Tom Thiebauth's club.

Monica Frakes had a triple for Chek Cola and Kristen Bates had a double.

Elevator nipped Chek, 7-6, as Didi collected two singles for Elevator and picked up the victory despite giving up 11 walks. Bates was the losing pitcher.

Rinker Materials received four-hit hurrying from Kim Minter to whip Barnett Bank of Winter Springs, 8-0.

Susan Harris led the hitters with a triple. Lake Mary Pharmacy also dropped two decisions this past week, a 10-1 whipping from

Twiggs Blasts 5th Homer

Kevin Twiggs blasted his fifth home run of the year to lead Winter Springs I past Forest City II, 17-5, in Pinto Baseball action at Five Points.

Twiggs also added two singles to this total. Ryan Rector ripped a triple and a single, while Billy Reichert had two singles and a double. Jeff Odum rifled three base hits for coach Daryl Will's club.

T.J. Hamilton struck out nine hitters as Forest City I rolled to a 14-1 victory over Longwood I for its 11th straight victory.

Chris Barfield led the hitters with a double, while Hamilton, Chad Ebbert, Cary Czachowski and Chris Lubinakas stroked singles.

In Bronco action, J.W. Waring tossed a one-hitter as Forest City bombed Winter Springs I, 11-0.

Greg Ebbert supplied the bat work with three singles and two RBIs.

Waring fanned 12 hitters and walked two. Forest City now has a team earned run average of 0.65 through nine games.

Dale Stevens rapped two singles, driving in three runs as Longwood whipped Forest City, 6-0. Eric Swannie picked up the victory with a two-hitter and 13 strikeouts.

In other games, Lake Mary turned a snappy double play for the final two outs to upend Winter Springs I, 4-1.

T.J. Sutton tossed the ball to shortstop Chris

Salvaggio's Girls and a close 6-5 setback to Newham Plastering of C-Berry.

Terry Bledsoe picked up the victory for Salvaggio's by hurling a nine-hitter and striking out three. Lisa Frangipane drilled a triple and Caroline Chavis had two singles. Jackie Suggs led Lake Mary with three hits.

In the Newham-Pharmacy game, Jonas picked up the mound decision. Hollis and Munger each rapped two hits. Gorman and Suggs did the same for Lake Mary. Ginger Collins was the loser.

In other action, Tropic Bank clubbed Casselberry, 8-1 as Deana Boggs fired a seven-hitter and struck out nine batters.

Kristen Bicknell slammed a two-run round-tripper. April Manning had two doubles and a single, while Boggs helped herself with a pair of two-baggers.

Dapore who relayed it to first baseman Donny Gorman to complete the twin killing.

Lake Mary also knocked off Winter Springs I, 5-1, in a makeup game as Tracy Turner picked up the mound decision. Mason was the loser.

In Mustang action, Wiginton Fire Sprinklers routed Lake Mary Fire Department, 15-4.

Matt Tickle had two singles and a three-bagger for Wiginton. Jeff Livernois walloped two base hits and a double, while Lance Reyes tripled and singled. Brian Cole had two singles and Kris Kristeff a triple.

The victory was the 10th straight for Wiginton who received fielding gems from Andy Donlon and Doug Sheridan. Chuck Lamb picked up the win.

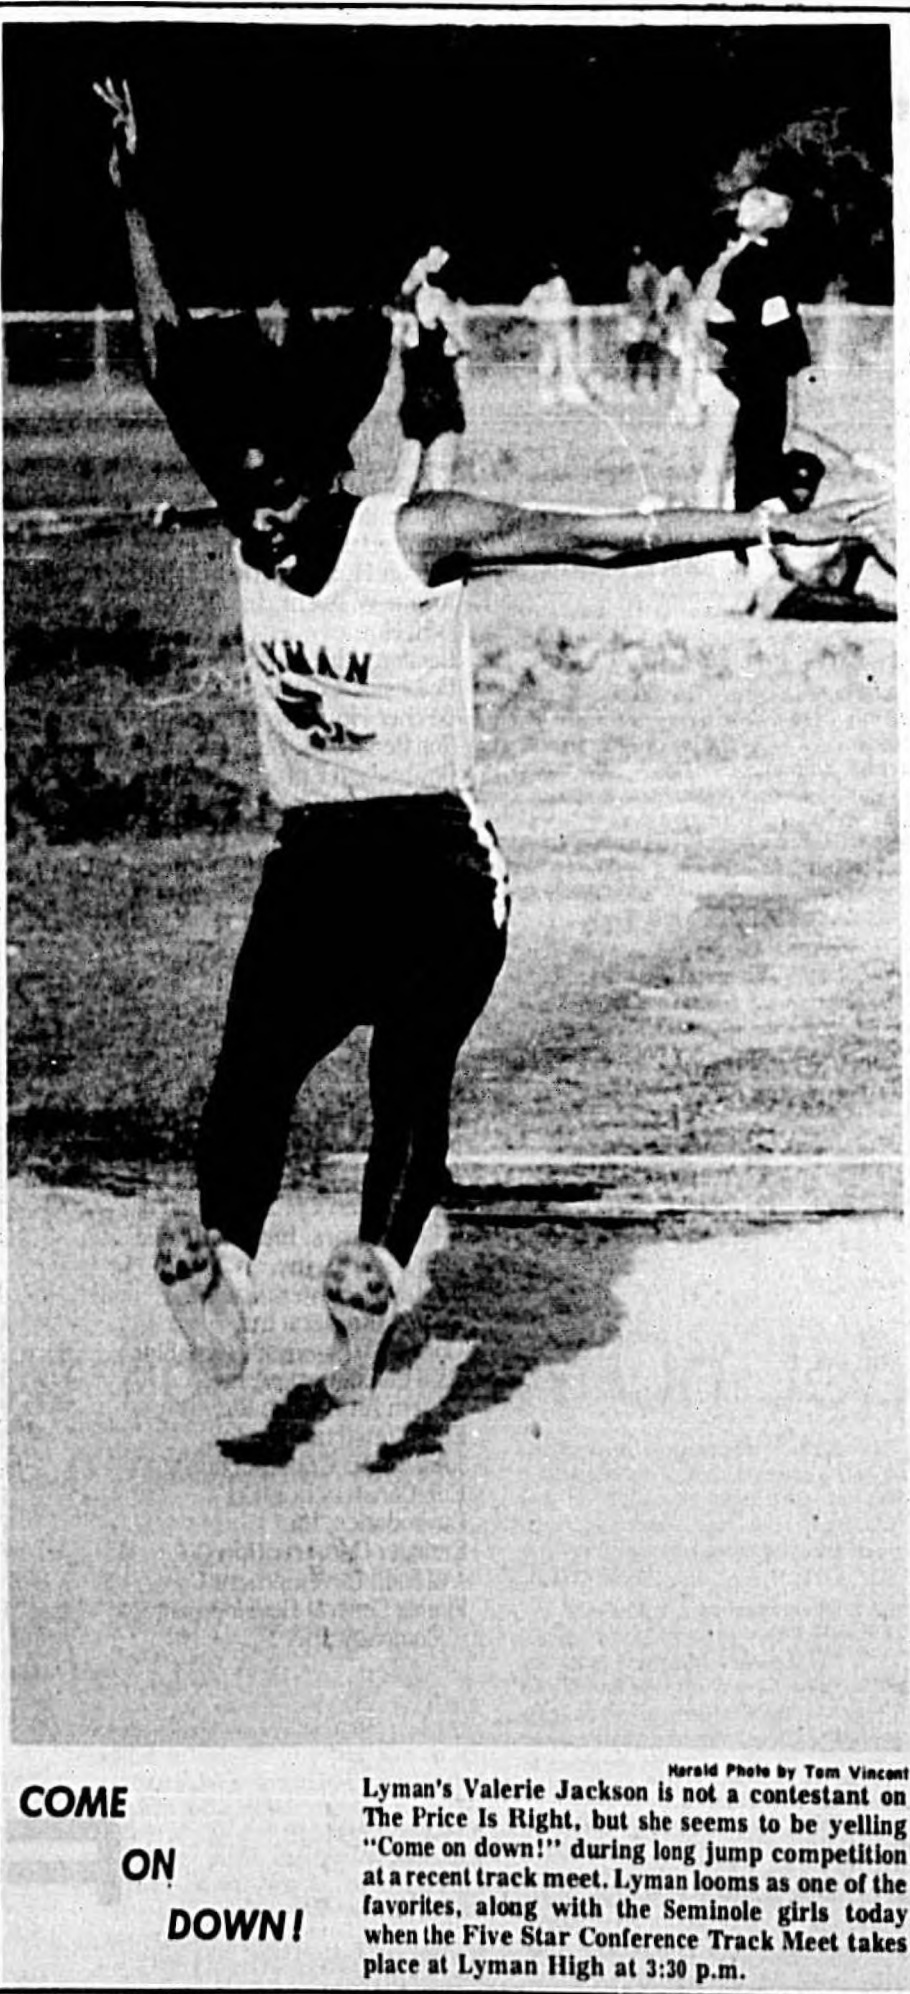

In another game, Waring bailed out starter Johnny Luce with the bases loaded in the first inning as Forest City II subdued Longwood, 5-3.

Waring came on to pitch four shutout innings, allowing just one hit and striking out six.

Dale Steven led the Longwood hitters with two singles, while Luce slapped a pair of base hits for the winners.

Casselberry II is coming back. At least that's what coach John Allen claims. Darrel Turnage ripped a homer and a single as C-berry ripped Winter Springs III, 19-4.

Billy Miller doubles in two runs and Alan Migliorato doubled and tripled. Robbie Stock did an excellent job behind the plate defensively.

COME ON DOWN!

Lyman's Valerie Jackson is not a contestant on The Price Is Right, but she seems to be yelling "Come on down!" during long jump competition at a recent track meet. Lyman looms as one of the favorites, along with the Seminole girls today when the Five Star Conference Track Meet takes place at Lyman High at 3:30 p.m.

SPORTS IN BRIEF

SYSA Signs Footballers, Cheerleaders On Saturday

The call is out for football players and cheerleaders. The Seminole Youth Sports Association will hold its annual registration Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon at several sites throughout the county.

Locally, Sanford Middle School will hold the registration for boys age eight to 14.

County-wide, sign up sites are at the Eastmonte Recreation Baseball Field, Jackson Heights Middle School in Oviedo, Milwee Middle School in Longwood, Rock Lake Middle School in Longwood, South Seminole Middle School in Casselberry, Teague Middle School in Altamonte Springs and Eastbrook Elementary School in Orlando.

All applicants should bring a $30 entry fee or pay the fee before June 1. After June 1 it will cost $35. The $30 covers a physical examination, a football jersey, one mouthpiece and insurance coverage.

Polgar Paces Swim Win

Seminole's Lisa Polgar swam away with two events and anchored the 400 free relay team to a victory as the 'Nokes swimmers dunked DeLand, 80-61, at the DeLand YMCA Thursday.

Polgar, a junior, won the 100 fly in 1:15.7 and the 100 free in 1:11.1. The relay team of Beth Porter, Vicki Gainer, Suzy Porter and Polgar swam a 4:40.8.

Beth Porter also won the 200 free (2:27.7) and was second in the 500 free (6:41.8). Other second place spots were turned in by Jill Jernigan (200 individual medley, 2:22.8), Gainer (50 free, 31.2 and 100 free, 1:14.3), Suzy Porter (100 back, 1:33.4) and Allison McCall (100 breast, 1:33.9).

The 200 medley relay team of Suzy Porter, Liz Prior, McCall and Carol Picotte finished second with a 2:43.4 clocking.

Jill Janak (200 free, 2:43.3), Picotte (50 free, 33.6), McCall (100 fly, 1:38.6), Janak (500 free, 7:31.5), Picotte (100 back, 1:39.5) and Lori Eckler (100 breast, 1:35.8) are turned in third place finishes.

The 400 free relay team of Jernigan, Jennifer Brewer, Eckler and Janak cruised to a 5:54.2 clocking for third place.

Seminole's boys team lost to DeLand, 100-15. Bruce Nelson had a second in the 100 back in 1:11.3 and a third in the 200 free in 2:21.8. Gary Anderson took third in the 100 breast in 1:41.6.

The Seminoles travel to New Smyrna Beach for a 4 p.m. meet on Wednesday.

All-Stars Host Eau Gallie

The Sanford All-Stars will play their first home game of the season against Eau Gallie Saturday at Sanford Memorial Stadium at 2:30 p.m.

Another game is slated for Sunday at 2:30 p.m. The All-Stars whipped Eau Gallie last weekend, 15-8 and 7-4, to remain undefeated for the year at 7-0. In league play, Sanford is 4-0.

Lions Claim Orange Belt; NSB Tops Rams

No contest. Those two words best describe the superiority of Oviedo at the Orange Belt Conference boys' track meet at St. Cloud Thursday.

Coach Ken Kroog's talented sprinters dominated the relays to win going away with 113 1/2 points. St. Cloud (74), Leesburg (65 1/2), Bishop Moore (60 1/2) and Osceola (60 1/2) completed the field.

Highlight of the meet was a record run by Oviedo's crack relay team of J.W. Yarborough, Andrew Turner, Darren Jefferson and Leonard Hadden, who streaked to a 43.39 to just nip the existing mark in the 440 relay by one-hundredths of a second.

Elsewhere in the county, Lake Mary's Kim Averill set a school record in the 800 run with a time of 2:40.9 as the Rams girls were nipped by New Smyrna Beach, 54-53. Trinity Prep was third with 48 points.

For the boys, Jeff Hopkins set a new record in the discus with a heave of 127-feet-10 and Pat Murray tied the 220 mark by running a 23.2 for first place.

Murray also won the 100 (10.4) as the Rams were again second to NSB, 78-70, with Trinity (30) third.

It's Over...Hume Snaps Streak

United Press International

The pressure is off and now the challenge of making sure their spectacular start leads to a successful season for the Atlanta Braves.

"If you can find anything good about losing it's the thought that maybe we'll be more relaxed now that our record streak is over," Braves' Manager Joe Torre said Thursday night, after the Cincinnati Reds ended Atlanta's 13-game winning streak with a 2-1 victory.

"We had a lot of chances to keep it going, but maybe everyone was trying too hard," he added.

Atlanta set a modern major-league record by winning its first 13 games of the season. But right-hander Bruce Berenyi allowed five hits over 6 2-3 innings and drove in the winning run with a fifth-inning single to leave the Braves seven victories shy of the all-time record set by St. Louis in 1884.

"After I came out, I couldn't even watch," said Berenyi. "The way they had been going, anything could have happened. It was an incredible streak."

The incredible is scheduled to continue tonight. The San Diego Padres are in town, bringing with them an eight-game winning streak. Virtually no one would have guessed before the season that those two clubs would own a combined 22-5 record by this stage.

"It's an important series," said Torre. "Stopping Atlanta's streak didn't mean as much to me as the feeling that perhaps we may have turned things around for ourselves," said reliever Tom Hume. "We needed the win more than Atlanta did."

In American League games, Milwaukee blanked Toronto, 7-0, Detroit topped New York, 3-1, Cleveland edged Texas, 4-3, and Seattle defeated Minnesota, 8-4.

Brewers 7, Blue Jays 0
At Milwaukee, Cecil Cooper and Ben Oglivie hit home runs to support the four-hit pitching of Mike Caldwell and lift the Brewers. Caldwell's complete game was the first for the Milwaukee pitching staff this season.

Tigers 3, Yankees 1
At New York, Chet Lemon hit a two-run homer in the third and Jack Morris, 3-1, pitched a six-hitter to spark Detroit to its sixth straight triumph. Lemon reached Tommy John, 0-3, for his first homer of the season — a shot into the upper deck in left field.

Indians 4, Rangers 3
At Arlington, Texas, Rick Manning's two-run triple highlighted a three-run third inning and Len Barker and Dan Spillner combined on a five-hitter for the Indians.

Mariners 8, Twins 4
At Seattle, Jim Essian had two hits and two RBI and Richie Zisk doubled in two runs to highlight a seven-run third. Rookie Mike Moore, 1-2, picked up his first major-league victory and Mike Stanton got his third save.

Williams Credits Teammates For Win

United Press International

After Game 1 of a Western Conference mini-series Wednesday night, Seattle guard Gus Williams credited his teammates with assists that didn't show up in the boxscore.

"With Fred (Brown) and J.J. (John Johnson) in there, they can't play me as tight," Williams said after missing 7 of his first 8 shots before rolling for 23 second-half points in the SuperSonics' 102-87 victory over the Houston Rockets. The second game is tonight at the Summit in Houston.

"When J.J. has the ball, I'm free to roam around screens and take the shots. And with Fred out there, they can't double-team me."

Houston led, 44-41, at halftime but Seattle got its fast-break game going in the third quarter and ran away from the Rockets.

"We're down to our last game of the year now," Houston Coach Del Harris said. "We just have to work to get a better shot and show more patience."

Poppa Jay's Avoids Upset

Poppa Jay's rallied for eight runs in the bottom of the fifth inning Thursday to nip Cardinal Industries 11-9 and avoid what was almost the biggest upset of the season in the Sanford Little National League.

Little National

Jeff Blake and Ronald Blake and a single by Nathan Cardinal Industries had four hits, Lee's homer and singles by Andy Downing, Green and Ronald Allen.

Sunniland Corporation scored five runs in the top of the fifth inning to take a 10-1 lead, and then had to weather a seven-run rally by D.A.V. in the bottom of the fifth.

Robert Milligan stroked a triple and two singles to pace Sunniland at the plate, while Todd Revels, the league's leading hitter, smashed two hits, including his sixth home run of the season. Tim Graham also had a home run for the winners, while Dwight Hrinan added a triple.

Shelton Slater homered for D.A.V. and Bobby Coffield added a triple.

Kalvin Davis belted a three-run homer in the top of the first inning and then retired the first nine batters he faced enroute to a complete game victory for First Federal.

Rinker loaded the bases with one out in the fourth, but couldn't score and First Federal pushed three runs across the plate in the top of the fifth to increase its lead to 6-0.

Rinker tied the score with six runs in the bottom of the fifth. After walking three of the first four batters he faced, Davis was touched for home by back-singles by Jun Schaffer and George Irwin and a triple by Leonard Lucas. The next two batters were safe on errors.

First Federal roared right back with four unearned runs in the top of the sixth.

Rinker scored its final run in the bottom of the sixth, but fell three runs short.

First Federal had only three hits, including a home run and single by Davis. Mike Bunder had a single for the other hit.

George Irwin had two singles for Rinker and Lucas added a triple.

Falklanders Must Not Disappear

When dictators founder at home, they export tyranny abroad. Napoleon beat the guillotines of the French Revolution into swords of conquest, Castro sent Cuban guerrillas to police Angola, and now the Argentine generals are exporting their particular form of dictatorship-by-disappearance to the Falkland Islands.

Consider the record of the military government, now led by Gen. Leopoldo Galtieri. When the junta took power from the corrupt regime of Isabel Peron in 1976, it simply made its opponents disappear.

Dissenting students were hurled from airplanes into the Antarctic, liberal newspaper editors were confined to cells without a number, Jews, labor leaders, mothers simply became missing, their names erased from the books.

The policy of murder-by-disappearance allowed the military government to enact its tough economic policy, called "The Process," which was intended to revive the Argentine economy. But "The Process" merely catalyzed 120 percent inflation and 13 percent unemployment.

When a pregnant woman was killed by security forces this year, Buenos Aires erupted with thousands of marchers protesting the government's bloody human rights policy.

With an amazing sleight of hand, Gen. Galtieri intimated that the disappearances of people would stop, and ordered his army to make the Falkland Islands vanish. They are now named the Malvinas. The rights of the 1,800 British islanders, who call themselves "kelpers," have been declared missing.

But Britain was not amused by the disappearing act. It saw through Argentina's anti-imperialist rhetoric. The invasion was a ruthless attack on the rights of man and international law. The British will fight for the kelpers' right to exist.

Where was America during this course of events? Our ambassador to the United Nations, Jeane Kirkpatrick, who has distinguished between totalitarian and authoritarian regimes and believes America should tolerate the latter, was being feted at the Argentine Embassy while the State Department condemned the invasion.

President Reagan said both countries are our friends, but has privately sided with the British. Secretary of State Haig has flown between London and Buenos Aires to avert war.

We are glad America has acted as broker to resolve the dispute peacefully.

But warm relations with Argentina's dictator put the United States in a delicate position with our closest ally, Britain.

Authoritarian regimes should not receive the favored status of friendly democracies. The clock is ticking toward armed confrontation. War will hurt all sides. But the Falkland Islands, the kelpers and the rule of law must not be allowed to disappear.

Let's Control Herpes

The nation faces a most serious problem with the uncontrolled spread of genital herpes, a disease for which there is no cure and which is suffered by some 20 million persons.

The federal Centers for Disease Control say the disease has reached epidemic proportions. Of the babies who contract the disease during birth, half die and a quarter suffer mental retardation. Babies can be delivered safely by Caesarian section to mothers with herpes.

Rep. Henry Waxman, chairman of the House Commerce subcommittee on health, has criticized the government for inaction. "It has taken the government 16 years to document the epidemic officially," he said. "How long must we wait before we begin real research and control?"

A stepped-up research program is needed but so are clinics and public awareness programs. Medical science must be granted every assistance in finding a cure for this disease.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Wow! If Sheila Dena al Fassi gets the $3 billion she's seeking in divorce judgment, she COULD be set for life!"

By JOE DeSANTIS

Space. How to best utilize it. How to service it once it's in use, and how to zone and regulate it, are continued growing concerns for both Seminole County as a whole, and each of the individual entities within the county.

While light industry and tourism continue to be mainstays of Florida's economy, Florida's agricultural industry continues to flex a strong muscle.

An expert on Florida agriculture, W. Arthur Darling is the scheduled guest speaker at the April 28 Longwood-Winter Springs Chamber of Commerce business luncheon at the Quality Inn North.

Darling is the President of the Agri Business Institute of Florida, Inc., whose headquarters are in Lakeland.

Darling, who grew up in DeLand, spends his time making public presentations throughout the state to further the agriculture industry. He often conducts seminars for school teachers, clergy, realtors, county planners and business groups of every description.

Included in Darling's presentations are some surprising figures for those county residents not that familiar with the state's agricultural output.

Physically, Florida encompasses some 37.6 million acres. Of that, one-third is devoted to farming and food production. Specifically, Florida's farming community is broken down into 35,000 separate farm units and leads the nation with over 15 different agricultural commodities and some 240 commercial agricultural products.

The agriculture industry has a strong impact on the state economy also, totaling some $12 billion per year.

On a nation-wide basis, United States Agricultural exports set a record in 1981 of $43.8 billion.

Interestingly, in 1981, the petroleum industry imported $76.7 million worth of petroleum. To put it another way, the nation-wide agricultural exports surplus paid for 26 percent of all petroleum imports and at the same time still managed to feed millions of people overseas.

The next time you step on the bathroom scales to check your diet, take into consideration the average American consumes 1,400 pounds of food per year.

More Revenues Needed

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Clearly the most contentious item on the congressional calendar is the fiscal 1983 budget.

One recent incident showed the disorganization of both parties on this issue. A number of freshman Republicans loudly criticized House Budget Chairman Jim Jones, D-Ola., for what they claimed was Democratic foot-dragging on President Reagan's proposed 1983 budget.

Jones was more than a little annoyed at the criticism. So, he offered a quick answer: If the Republicans thought he was stalling, he would immediately report the president's budget — exactly as submitted — out of his committee and bring it to the House floor for a vote.

The next sound that was heard was the thundering of footsteps as House Republican leaders beat a path to Jones' door to apologize for the comments of their brethren.

The truth of the matter is that the last thing either party wants right now is a confrontation over the budget. Neither side is anywhere near ready for that battle.

GOP congressional leaders have been unable to budge Reagan on two main elements of the budget: defense spending and revenue. The White House says that Congress is more than welcome to reduce the projected deficit of $100 billion or so — but not by cutting defense spending or raising taxes.

Even some of the staunchest Republicans on Capitol Hill find this position untenable. In principle, they agree that defense spending must be increased substantially. But they feel that the deficit is unacceptably large and that cutting domestic programs any further would amount to political suicide in an election year.

To these Republicans, the only short-term solution seems to lie in raising revenues either by postponing or reducing the tax cuts voted last year or by imposing new taxes or tax increases elsewhere.

Since many of them are reluctant to roll back last year's tax cuts, they are looking for other ways to increase revenues.

The Senate Finance Committee, under the leadership of Kansas Republican Robert Dole, has come up with what it calls a "menu" of possible revenue-raising measures. Among them are:

- Increasing the federal gasoline tax, possibly by as much as 5 cents a gallon.
- Eliminating some income-tax deductions. Among these might be deductions for state and local taxes as well as for interest paid on consumer credit (including interest on credit-card purchases but excluding interest on home mortgages and car purchases). Medical expenses could be deducted only after they reached 10 percent of income rather than the current 3 percent.
- Imposing an import fee on crude oil of perhaps $2 a barrel.
- Eliminating a whole range of corporate tax deduction and increasing certain business taxes (such as unemployment compensation taxes).

Dole is quick to say that these are mere suggestions of where additional income could be raised. Neither he nor the Senate's Republican leadership is ready to take a position on any particular item.

However, Dole has made clear his belief that additional revenues will have to be found somewhere.

Energy Department Falls Down On Job

WASHINGTON — The world wide oil glut, which has brought down prices for gasoline and home heating fuel, has lulled the American public into a false sense of well-being. And it has apparently put officials at the Energy Department to sleep.

The federal bureaucrats — who are paid to know better — apparently feel that the oil-producing countries will never get their cartel together and send Americans back to the gas lines of 1973 and 1979. They are behaving as if the Arab sheiks, whose wealth depends on high oil prices, will be unable to agree on joint action to ensure that they only sellable product commands the highest possible market price.

With incredible shortsightedness, the government energy agency has been systematically killing programs that would develop solar, geothermal and fossil-fuel alternatives to the country's dependence on oil. They have also taken a ho-hum attitude

ROBERT WALTERS

Fantasy Of True Democracy

LAKE BUENA VISTA, Fla. (NEA) — To the casual observer, this central Florida community is like thousands of others throughout the nation. It's shown on most maps, has its own post office and is governed by a city council.

But Lake Buena Vista is very different in one crucial respect: It was indirectly created by, subtly controlled by and operated for the exclusive benefit of a major corporation — Walt Disney Productions.

Indeed, the saga of Lake Buena Vista, the adjacent community of Bay Lake and a companion government entity known as the Reedy Creek Improvement District is probably unique in the annals of American municipal government.

The story dates back to the mid-1960s, when the Disney organization disclosed that it had purchased a 27,400-acre tract about 20 miles southwest of Orlando and announced ambitious plans to construct an amusement park of unprecedented size and scope on that site.

To protect the integrity of that property, lawyers retained by the Disney organization drafted almost 500 pages of proposed statutes for presentation in 1967 to Florida's legislature and its governor, Claude Kirk Jr., who says, "Disney wouldn't have come if the legislation had not passed."

Bedazzled by the prospect of the world's most popular tourist attraction, the thousands of jobs it would create and the millions of visitors it would attract, the legislature approved — with virtually no dissent — a package of special laws crafted to meet Disney's demands.

The boundaries of Bay Lake were fixed to encompass Walt Disney World, the sprawling "Magic Kingdom" whose annual visitors now consistently exceed 13 million.

Neighboring Lake Buena Vista houses an equally large complex of support facilities, including hotels, an office park, restaurants, stores and convention facilities.

The Reedy Creek Improvement District covers both communities as well as thousands of additional Disney-owned acres that are undeveloped but remain available for future expansion.

The Reedy Creek Act gives the Disney corporation these extraordinary powers, rights and privileges:

— A broad exemption from virtually all state and county zoning laws, land-use statutes and building regulations.

— The power of eminent domain — the right to condemn property owned by others — not only within the district's boundaries but outside its borders as well.

— The authority to issue tens of millions of dollars' worth of tax-exempt municipal bonds, ostensibly to finance public construction projects but actually to pay for improvements to Disney's property.

"The charter of the district," says journalist Becky O'Malley, "reads like it was written by someone who wanted to make absolutely sure that the people of the state of Florida and the taxpayers of Orange County had absolutely nothing to say about the way Walt Disney's world was run."

The Bay Lake City Council has passed a series of municipal ordinances that allow any Disney employee to detain any person "causing a public disturbance" and permit the Disney staff to use force to banish from the property anyone who refuses to leave.

The city councils of Lake Buena Vista and Bay Lake traditionally have been composed of Disney executives, lawyers and employees. The current mayor of Lake Buena Vista, for example, is a Disney World staff photographer.

Despite repeated claims of independence, those government "officials" must regularly deal with a blatant conflict of interest when asked to vote on proposals advanced by the corporation that employs them.

Simulated government is probably appropriate to a park whose Adventureland, Frontierland and Fantasyland are equally artificial — but it hardly befits an organization that ceaselessly extols the virtues of democracy.

Nowhere else in the country is there a more ostentatious display of patriotism and dedication to democratic principles — yet the corporation's privately operated municipal governments provide only the facade of democracy.

Vitamin A For Eye Disorders

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK
 UPI Health Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — A two-cent Vitamin A capsule, given twice yearly to children in developing countries, keeps "nutritional blindness" from striking 250,000 of them annually, a Johns Hopkins University scientist says.

Dr. Alfred Sommer reached that conclusion after three years work in Indonesia, where 1 percent of the population is blind — 1.4 million persons.

The disease causing the eye trouble is xerophthalmia — Greek for dry eye. It is the result of a Vitamin A deficiency.

Sommer said a 200,000-international unit capsule of vitamin A, given every six months to children in susceptible areas, will prevent the disease. If a child is stricken by xerophthalmia, he said a capsule given on each of two days in a row, will keep blindness away.

Sommer, discussing the condition in a report issued by the Oxford University Press, said the finding is important. Before 1978, it was thought patients required injections of vitamin A — a more expensive treatment and one less available and less easy to use in developing countries. The capsules, he said, work just as well.

Sommer, an ophthalmologist and epidemiologist, is medical adviser to Helen Keller International's blindness prevention program in developing countries. He also is director of the International Center for Epidemiologic and Preventive Ophthalmology at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore.

Funding for his work came from the government of Indonesia, the United States Agency for International Development, the World Health Organization, UNICEF and private sources.

In Indonesia, Bangladesh, India, and the Philippines, each year five million pre-school children get xerophthalmia. Sommer said the worldwide total may be twice that.

He said many children stricken by the disease die, due to their poor nutritional status. Among survivors, 10 percent develop corneal involvement and half of those go blind.

"Xerophthalmia presents an enormous public health problem," Sommer said. "But it is one that is amenable to solution. The vast majority of cases can be prevented with the administration of high-potency vitamin A capsules."

The eye expert said natural protection from the disorder is readily available in Indonesia and also other developing countries in Asia.

Breast milk offers protection against the disease. And, then, at weaning time, infants should be fed mangoes and papayas — in good supply in the countries studied.

During the third year of life, kids should be fed dark green leafy vegetables, he said.

Hold down electricity costs with a new Watt-Wise™ home.

If you're building or buying a new house, the wisest move you can make is into a Watt-Wise home. Because it's constructed with a combination of energy-saving features that meet FPL's standards, so you can save on the cost of electricity every month, every year. Just how much you save will depend on your lifestyle and conservation efforts.

Among the many cost-saving options of a Watt-Wise home are: extra ceiling and wall insulation, solar or heat-recovery units for water heating, and a high-efficiency air conditioner or heat pump. Other easily included power savers are fluorescent lighting, a microwave oven, and thermally efficient windows and doors to minimize heat build-up.

Your new Watt-Wise home will not only help you hold down the cost of electricity, but it will help reduce FPL's dependence on costly oil, which will benefit everyone.

Below is a list of builders who can tell you more comforting facts about Watt-Wise homes.

IN BRIEF

Budget Compromise Needed For Any Economic Recovery

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A budget compromise dealing with defense, Social Security and taxes is necessary for even a modest economic recovery to take place, the head of the Congressional Budget Office says.

In a speech to the National Conference of State Legislatures Thursday, Alice Rivlin said the failure of Congress and the administration to reach such a compromise would result in mounting federal deficits that would "choke off" recovery from the recession.

U.S. To Cuba: 'Let's Be Pals'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The State Department says it still stands by its offer to normalize relations with Cuba if President Fidel Castro agrees to stop intervening in other nation's affairs.

The repeated offer came Thursday in response to reports of remarks made by Secretary of State Alexander Haig to a group of Massachusetts business leaders meeting Wednesday in the office of Rep. Silvio Conte, R-Mass.

Girl, 4, Dies Of Swine Flu

ATLANTA (UPI) — A 4-year-old Nevada girl has died of a swine flu-like infection, the same strain of influenza that touched off a controversial $135 million national vaccination program six years ago, it was revealed Thursday.

The victim, who was not identified, died in a Los Angeles Hospital Feb. 11.

Strange Effects From Cloud

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (UPI) — A stratospheric cloud of ash from a volcano in Mexico is drifting over parts of the Northern Hemisphere, creating blue moons, purple twilights and green rings around the sun.

The monster cloud could cut the amount of sunlight reaching Earth, causing a drop in temperature and shortening the growing season, scientists at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Ames Research Center said Thursday.

Speed Reading At SCC

Seminole Community College will offer a speed reading course, beginning May 3. Classes will meet each Monday for 8 weeks from 7 to 10 p.m. on the Adult Education Campus, Building 38.

The course is designed to increase both the reading rate and comprehension of the average reader. Speed reading is especially helpful for persons who must cope with a massive flow of paper work.

Enrollment is limited to 20 people, with a $12 registration fee.

For more information, call SCC's Office of Community Services at 323-1450, ext. 304.

WEATHER

NATIONAL REPORT: Warm spring sunshine finally arrived to erase reminders of the long and bitter winter, pushing temperatures into the 60s and 70s in the North and melting snow from the latest April storm. Showers and thunderstorms doted the South from Texas to Florida, where a tornado and golfball-sized hail were reported at Melbourne today, and the Southwest. Strong northerly winds battered Florida, prompting officials to issue gale warnings for the central Gulf Coast. Rising temperatures and spring rains threatened flooding in some areas Thursday. Towns along the Aroostook River in northern Maine bailed out after ice jams and 34 inches of rain in 12 hours brought flooding and near-flooding conditions. Temperatures that had been in the 30s and 40s earlier this week soared into the 60s and 70s throughout the Northern states.

AREA READINGS (9 a.m.): temperature: 69; overnight low: 67; Thursday high: 90; barometric pressure: 30.25; relative humidity: 63 percent; wind: north at 16 mph; rain: .05. Sunrise 5:52 a.m., sunset 6:56 p.m.

Assaulted Three Young Boys

Child Molester, 46, Given Probation

A 46-year-old truck driver has been sentenced in Circuit Court, Sanford, to 45 years probation after pleading guilty to three counts of committing lewd and lascivious assaults on young boys.

Willis Carter, of First Street, Paola, could have received 45 years in state prison on the charges.

In addition to the probation, Judge Robert MacGregor ordered Carter not to have contact with any child under the age of 18 unless another adult is present, he must continue psychological counseling, and pay the professional counseling expenses of his victims.

Carter, a driver for the T.G. Lee dairy, was accused of fondling or committing homosexual acts with three boys ages 7, 8, and 9.

In other court action, Floyd T. Johnson, 22, of 1405 Bell Ave., Sanford, was sentenced to 30 years in prison and 15 years probation for the Sept. 17 strong-arm robbery and aggravated battery of 37-year-old Ronald Gillespie.

Johnson must also pay $9,317 in restitution to Gillespie for lost wages and medical expenses.

Gillespie was robbed of his wallet containing $40 and suffered a fractured skull when he was struck on the head with a rubber mallet or hammer.

Bruce McKnight, 18, Orlando, burglary, five years in prison. McKnight was charged with the May 21 burglary of the Sweetwater Boulevard home of Ray DeVender in which a television, jewelry, and firearms were stolen.

Arthur G. Tyson, 25, Sanford, grand theft, 360 days in the county jail and five years probation. Tyson was accused of stealing $1,100 worth of tools.

Mark G. Mulligan, 29, Lake Mary, burglary, three months in jail and five years probation. Mulligan was accused of burglarizing the Bayhead Pet Hospital, 900 Lake Mary Blvd., on Nov. 4.

William R. Callaghan, 22, Altamonte Springs, aggravated

VIDEO VILLAINS

Thieves broke into a Longwood man's home sometime between 10 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. Sunday, stealing a video disc recorder.

Gene J. Letterio, 43, of 108 Ichabod Trail, told deputies the bandits broke into his home by forcing open a sliding glass door in the den. Once inside, the thieves stole the recorder but took nothing else, deputies added.

TV CABLES VANDALIZED, AGAIN

Vandals disrupted service to Sweetwater Cove subscribers to Orange-Seminole Cablevision from 9 a.m. Sunday until 6 p.m. Wednesday after they cut off the cable signal at the company's Wild Oak Drive power box.

Deputies said the cable company has reported over 40 such incidents in recent months and that their investigation into what they believe is "intentional sabotage" by disgruntled or former company employees.

SANFORD SCHOOL BURGLARIZED

Burglars broke into Crooms High School, W. 13th Street, Sanford sometime between 10 p.m. Tuesday and 8 a.m. Wednesday and stole a drill, saws and other items.

Police said the thieves broke into the school through the Agriculture Department attic. Once inside, the culprits used keys to unlock the storage and tool rooms. They apparently used bolt cutters to remove the chain at the gate surrounding the school to make their escape police added.

SANFORD MAN SHOT

A Sanford Man, treated at Seminole Memorial Hospital for a gunshot wound to his right thigh, told police he was walking along W. 13th Street near Mulberry Avenue when he noticed two men talking loudly, heard a gunshot and felt a pain in his leg.

Larry Johnson, 34, of 1505 W. 18th Street, told police that he fell to the ground after the shooting, but managed to walk to a nearby home where the unidentified resident took him to the hospital.

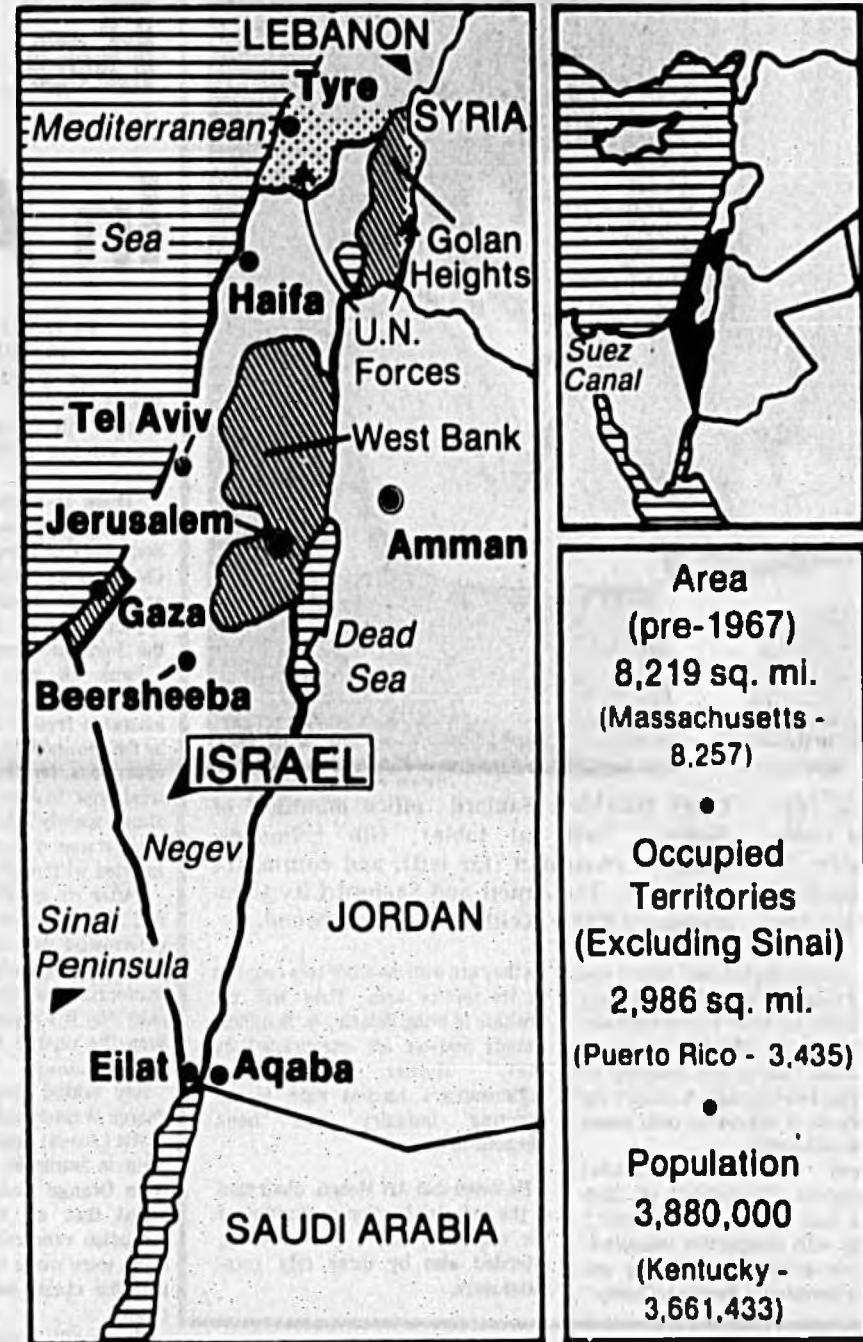

Police are continuing their investigation of the shooting.

NORTH SEMINOLE, SOUTH VOLUNIA BLACKOUT

Two power failures Thursday cut off electricity to about 20,000 Florida Power and Light Co. customers in parts of north Seminole and south Volusia counties.

Officials said the blackouts were caused when a cross arm broke on a transmission pole near to a utility substation near Mims.

The first blackout occurred about 10:40 a.m. and lasted above five minutes, officials reported. The second outage occurred at about 11:13 a.m. and lasted only a few minutes. Company work crews discovered the problem while patrolling a 25-to-30 mile stretch of lines from the Celery substation in west Sanford to its Norris substation near Mims.

Israeli-Occupied Yamit Vanishes

YAMIT, Israeli-occupied Sinai (UPI) — The town of Yamit gradually disappeared back into the desert today with Israeli troops evicting the last squatters and demolishing remaining buildings in preparation for Sunday's return of the Sinai to Egypt.

In Cairo, U.S. Deputy Secretary of State Walter Stoessel called talks today with Egyptian and Israeli officials in a final bid to resolve a border dispute threatening to mar — but no longer last — Israel's historic return of land captured in 1967.

Israeli troops, some weeping, swarmed onto roofs from ladders Thursday and evicted nearly 3,000 Jewish squatters from Yamit, the Sinai town built only seven years ago, which is being plowed into the ground before its return to Egypt.

Eleven protesters led by Tsahi Hanegbi, son of ultra nationalist lawmaker Geula Cohen, baricaded themselves atop an 83-foot war memorial. Another group, followers of Rabbi Meir Kahane, remained barricaded inside a nearby bunker.

Defense Minister Ariel Sharon, who supervised the eviction from a helicopter, said he expected the removals to be completed by the onset of the Jewish Sabbath in the afternoon.

Observers said the battle was the most violent between Israeli soldiers and civilians they could remember, possibly in the state's 34-year history. But the military said there were no casualties in the operation, code-named "Red Dove" and involving an estimated 20,000 troops.

Israel decided to destroy Yamit when negotiations with Egypt on a price for the structures fell through. The 5,000 settlers were paid $250 million in compensation.

'Brown Thumb' Gardeners At Apopka Foliage Festival

When you talk to your plants, do they plug their ears? Do they respond to your tender loving care by withering away? Then it is obvious that you have a "Brown Thumb."

At last, the uncommon garden variety of "Brown Thumb" gardener will find recognition and will be able to display their plants with pride. The Apopka Art and Foliage Festival to be held this Saturday and Sunday in the city park, will this year also hold a "Brown Thumb" contest.

Realizing that not everyone is able to keep their beautiful plants green, the Apopka Woman's Club (sponsor of the annual event) will hold a "Brown Thumb" contest where "non-growers" can present their withered plants for judging.

All sizes and shapes of dead plants are eligible to enter the "ugly" contest. Bring your entry, to the gazebo in Apopka City Park before 11 a.m. Saturday.

The event is free to the public and hours are 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturday and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Sunday. — JANE CASSELL-BERRY

Inflation Rate Shows No Gain

Consumer Prices Drop

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Consumer prices fell 0.3 percent in March, the most in nearly 30 years, the Labor Department announced today.

The spectacular turnaround meant there was no gain in the inflation rate for the month and slowed inflation for the year to date to only 1 percent.

The rate was especially important for Social Security recipients, because by applying a formula it translates into a 7.4 percent cost of living increase for this year. The hike will show up for the first time in July's benefit checks.

The moderation of the inflation rate to a climb of only 1 percent since the beginning of 1979 — the lowest three-month increase in 17 years — meant the automatic Social Security hike was less than last year's 11.2 percent, but would raise the average $379 monthly payment for a retired worker to about $408.

The welcome price categories came as prices declined for the major categories of fuel, food, transportation and housing costs, the department said.

The decrease in the rate arrived far sooner than inflation fighters at the Federal Reserve or in the administration had dreamed, presenting them with an embarrassment of riches and a new urgency to the question of why interest rates remain so high.

In the unlikely event the decrease could be sustained over an entire year, the March rate would mean prices would go down 3.3 percent, department analysts said.

The Consumer Price Index for March was 283.1, which meant that the government's sample "market basket" of goods and services that cost $100 in 1967 would have cost $283.1 last month.

The surprisingly steep fall for prices in March was the biggest drop since a 0.4 percent decline in November 1981, the department said. Since then a 0.3 percent drop has been matched only twice, both times in 1981.

The separate price index for transportation plunged a full 1 percent for the month, largely the result of falling gasoline prices. The index for food and beverages went down 0.3 percent, as did the index for housing.

The increases were greatest, a full 1 percent, for medical care and a miscellaneous category. Entertainment costs went up half a percent and clothing was 0.4 percent costlier for the month, the department said.

Economists generally say that although falling prices for consumers are an almost unqualified benefit except for smaller cost of living increases in wages, there may be some postponement of spending by would-be purchasers who would now decide to wait to see if prices get even cheaper. Any recovery from recession will depend initially on increased spending, economists believe.

The government's Producer Price Index, measuring wholesale prices, also declined in March and in February. The Social Security Administration uses the January, February and March price index, compared to the same period last year, to set the level of its cost of living increase that begin with July benefit checks.

Last year, the Consumer Price Index went up 8.9 percent, an improvement over the double digit levels of 1979 and 1980 when the annual inflation rate was 13.3 percent and 12.4 percent.

Social Security Checks To Get Moderate Boost

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Unless Congress votes otherwise, the nation's 36 million Social Security recipients will get at least a 7.4 percent cost-of-living hike this year — boosting the average $379 monthly check to $408 or more.

The March Consumer Price Index will determine the amount of the annual automatic cost-of-living increase, based on inflation in the first three months of the year. The rise is expected to range from 7.4 percent to 7.8 percent.

In addition to the 36 million retirees and disabled workers who collect Social Security, a benefit increase also will take effect in July for the 4.1 million recipients of Supplemental Security Income.

The increase, the 13th in the past 14 years, will cost the cash-short Social Security trust funds at least $11.1 billion over the next year, $1.5 billion for every percentage point increase. Last year's 11.2 percent rise cost $15.4 billion.

The cost-of-living adjustment, which takes effect automatically if inflation is more than 3 percent, is under scrutiny by congressional and White House budget negotiators looking for savings. But all concede it could be politically risky to trim benefits.

Rep. Claude Pepper, D-Fla., chairman of the House Aging Committee, said the impact of proposed reductions would be "devastating," and released a study saying the effects of three separate cost-cutting proposals would be to slash benefits at least 15 percent by 1990.

Aspirin May Prevent Cataracts

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Common aspirin can prevent the formation of cataracts for up to a decade if caught in the earliest stages, a Yale Medical School professor says.

Dr. Edward Cotlier, who prepared a detailed report for the Aspirin Foundation of America, said the thousands of elderly people who are robbed of their eyesight by cataracts may combat the condition with a regimen of four aspirin tablets a day.

He said the simple treatment could prevent cataracts, which are marked by a cloudiness over the transparent lens of the eye, for up to 10 years.

"What we found is that aspirin inhibits the formation of certain sugars that are toxic to the lenses and toxic to the nerve — fructose and sorbitol," Cotlier said in an interview Thursday.

FLORIDA IN BRIEF

The Keys Vow To Secede And Form 'Conch Republic'

KEY WEST (UPI) — Residents of the Florida Keys, upset about a roadblock on the only highway connecting them with the mainland, vowed today to secede from the Union, declare a one-shot war and seek $1 billion in U.S. foreign aid for their "Conch Republic." The final straw, officials said, was a federal judge's refusal Thursday to issue a temporary injunction against the Florida City roadblock, which created a 18-mile-long traffic jam last weekend.

No More Out-Of-State Banks

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham has allowed to become law a banking bill containing a provision to block out-of-state banks from moving into Florida despite his objections to its restrictions, a spokesman says. Deputy press secretary Bernadette Phillips said Graham decided late Thursday night not to veto the bill, which both assists Florida's troubled savings and loan associations and prevents the establishment of new industrial savings banks in the state for one year.

Graham Hunting Money

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Graham will be going out of state for some of his election campaign money, meeting with business leaders in New York, Washington and Los Angeles. Graham is ready to begin serious money-seeking, the St. Petersburg Times reported Thursday, even though the official line from his office is that a definite decision to seek reelection has not yet been made.

WORLD IN BRIEF

Fleet Nears Falklands As Peace Talks Continue

United Press International The British battle fleet steamed to within a day of South Georgia Island today, primed for war with Argentina if frantic and "very difficult" diplomatic efforts to settle the Falkland Islands crisis fail in Washington. U.S. intelligence sources predicted Thursday the fleet would attack the remote island of South Georgia, defended by a 140-man Argentine garrison, and use it as a base for further military operations.

El Salvador Turns Right

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (UPI) — Rightists controlling El Salvador's constituent assembly elected extreme right-winger Maj. Roberto d'Aubulson to head the new congress, excluding all U.S.-backed moderates from the leadership. Party officials said the assemblymen today or Monday would name an interim president to act as El Salvador's chief executive until formal presidential elections are held in 1983 or 1984.

Marriage Enrichment Course Set At SCC

Seminole Community College (SCC) will offer a "Marriage Enrichment" class beginning Wednesday. Classes will meet each Wednesday evening for 8 weeks from 7 to 10 p.m. in Room S-208. The cost is $12.

Marriage enrichment is designed to enrich communication between partners. It focuses on building positive skills which can enhance a relationship. Some of the topics to be covered include family, career, profession, children, finances, and companionship. For more information, call SCC's Office of Community Services, at 323-1450, ext. 304.

Matchbooks Strike His Fancy

WINTER PARK (UPI) — Bill Thomas smokes like a fiend but he wouldn't dream of striking a single match on one of his 80,000 exotic — and in some cases erotic — matchbook covers. The former Navy man has matchbooks of nude women, thousands of bars and grills, Camp David, Las Vegas nightclubs, apollo space launches, Olympics and presidential yachts. Thomas, a Winter Park accountant, said all of the matchbooks have a message. The covers include erotic sayings, innuendos, health warnings — both funny and factual — and proclamations for special occasions: "It's a boy," "VD is on the rise," "Dare to go Bare," "Inmates Commemorate State Prison," "Sex Rot's Your Teeth" and "I Love You."

Thomas said, "I wanted to go to get the matchbooks on that ship. So, I gathered up all I could." Thomas' most prized possession is a matchbook cover imprinted with the name Dwight Eisenhower called Air Force One when he was president — The Columbine. Each of his covers are categorized and indexed in special albums. For example, all his girly matchbook covers are found in an album titled "nice." His collections have won him 39 trophies and ribbons at national and state matchbook contests. All of his matchbooks are "virgins," meaning their matches are intact. "Once a cover has been struck, it's not good for collecting," Thomas said. "I don't know why. That's just the rule of the hobby."

Thomas has collected the matchbooks from all over the world for the last 15 years. His wife, a travel agent, is his best source. Even though he has collected 80,000 matchbooks, Thomas considers himself only a beginner. "I know some old collectors who sneer at my 80,000 matchbook covers," said Thomas. "They have 400,000 matchbooks and more." But in Thomas' case, the emphasis is on quality, not quantity. "It's easy to accumulate quantity — the ma and pa motels and Joe's bar and grill — but we all specialize in certain ones," he said. Thomas, one of 400 international members of the Rath Kamp Matchbook Society, specializes in the military, railroads and airlines. And he will do almost anything to get a matchbook. "Last year, my wife and I took a cruise on the Princess Patricia to Alaska that goes out of Vancouver to Glacier Bay,"

Thomas wouldn't think of paying for a cover. He said collectors trade back and forth through the mail and the rarer matchbook covers are found at auctions. "A number of years ago, a matchbook was auctioned for $175," he said. "That's the most I ever heard of." Thomas has reserved a special room for his collections in his home. Hanging on one wall is a picture frame filled with the 1980 Olympic matchbooks. "Those matchbooks were made in France for the Moscow Olympics," Thomas said. "When the boycott came, they weren't distributed. But a friend in Montreal had some and sent them to me." To Thomas, matchbooks represent a sense of nostalgia, history and better economic times. "Matchbook covers offer a historical clue," he said. "I have one from New York that advertised dinner and lodging for $2. "Another one advertises the 'painless dentist' and the old China clipper flight from San Francisco to Hawaii in 12 hours."
