Hiram Johnson Says He Isn't Discouraged

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Apr. 11.—
Declaring his purpose to rid the Republican party of "corrupt and reactionary control" Senator
Hiram Johnson, a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, says in a statement published today that he is
"neither discouraged nor dis-pairing." He makes no specific

PRELIMINARY STEPS IN INVESTIGATION OF DAUGHERTY Brought Senator Wheeler Are Taken By Burns

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Apr. 11.—Preliminary steps in the inquiry into the indictment in Montana of Senator Wheeler, prosecutor of the Daugherty investigation, were taken Thursday by a newly created senate committee while the Daugherty committee itself was touching briefly upon subject.
Senator Burns, Republican, Idaho, chairman of the new investigating committee was directed to telegraph to Federal Judge Pray at Great Falls, where the indictment was returned Tuesday, requesting him to forward certified copies of the indictment, the minutes of the grand jury and the documentary evidence as well as a list of the witnesses.
To Await Information.
Until this information is received the committee probably will mark the time and limit its examination to these documents and witnesses, however, but will call present and former officials of the department of the interior as well as a number of witnesses who will be subpoenaed at the request of Senator Wheeler.
The dip of the Daugherty committee into the subject of the indictment Thursday was an sudden one. It was a result of a letter from Oklahoma Senator Wheeler called to the attention of the director of the Justice department's bureau of investigation and questioned him about the activities of the Daugherty committee in Montana on the Wheeler case. Burns' testimony was that the men were sent to Montana three or four weeks ago at the request of the postoffice department. The witness said he and former Attorney General Daugherty had talked about the Daugherty investigation on a number of occasions, but he would not say that Mr. Daugherty had sought his help in the matter.

Declaring he had reported to Daugherty that Senator Wheeler was attorney for Gordon Campbell in Montana. Burns said the conversation took place at Mr. Daugherty's apartment but he would not say whether before or after Daugherty left office.

Arthur Lambdin, an official of the telephone company here, testified to a former protest that George B. Lockwood of the Republican national committee had telephoned a conversation with Blair Cohen at the Rainbow hotel at Great Falls.

Blair Cohen, a former national committee member, said he did not know that Lockwood and Daugherty were "close friends," but had seen the two together in Daugherty's apartment here.

Investigate the Wheeler indictment was named Thursday by President Cummings of the senate pursuant to a resolution adopted by the senate after Wheeler had denounced as false the charges in the indictment that he had accepted a fee from Gordon Campbell, a Montana geologist, to represent him in the matter of oil claims before the interior department.

Under cross-examination by Attorney General Daugherty he expressed the opinion that five years delay in the institution of government proceedings was probably due to the fact that the justice department had been slow to act. He said he had corroborated testimony previously given by George W. Brock, department of justice fact-finder, that the preliminary report of government's inquiry into the matter had been turned over to counsel for the Department of Justice.

George Miller, one of the owners of the Miller Brothers, owners of a ranch in Oklahoma, had a similar opinion. He said he had been asked to testify in the case by the justice department and he had refused to do so. He said he had been asked to testify in the case by the justice department and he had refused to do so.

HUGO STINNES INDUSTRY KING DIES IN BERLIN

(By The Associated Press)
BERLIN, Apr. 11.—Germany's strong man of industry is gone with the passing of Hugo Stinnes and speculation is rife today concerning the ultimate effect of his death upon the internal situation and the reparations settlement. Weakened by three major operations during the past four weeks, the German industrial life gives up at last and succumbs to ravages of disease. Much speculation on effect.

Hugo Stinnes, more closely identified with German industrial life than any other man, died Thursday evening at 8:30. Indefatigable in his labors, he struggled against the impending end, and was conscious to the last.

Berlin, Apr. 11.—Hugo Stinnes more closely identified with German industrial life than any other man, died Thursday evening at 8:30. Indefatigable in his labors, he struggled against the impending end, and was conscious to the last.

Around him were gathered his wife and children. To them he had devoted his later years all the time he could spare from his vast business interests. There had been no hope for his recovery for many hours and the foremost medical skill could do nothing against the ravages of disease.

Three major operations had been performed, the first about four weeks ago, for gall stones, and it was because of the impossibility of keeping the patient quiet, according to surgeons, that complications developed necessitating further operations, the last one on Sunday. It was also reported that pneumonia developed.

Since the grave nature of Herr Stinnes' illness became known to the public, it has been almost the sole topic of discussion. It far outstripped in popular interest the project of the maximum surtax rate proposed by the senate for the settlement of the reparations problem. The far-reaching business enterprises of the man, his great influence among the present leaders, his very eccentricity had since the war taken a strong hold upon German people, and his death though expected has caused anxious speculation as to who may rise to take his place.

The death of Hugo Stinnes at the very moment the process of disentangling the reparations knot seems about to enter upon its final stage, is felt in official quarters and industrial circles as a distinct loss to Germany. He ever the popular or official attitude toward his political orientation or his far flung economic program may have been, there was a widespread impression that Stinnes was a man of great vision and initiative, and that he would take an active part in the final adjustment of the problems on which the experts' committees have rendered an exhaustive verdict.

President Speaks From White House On Enforcing Law

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Apr. 11.—President Coolidge addressing members of the women's national committee for law enforcement from the south portico of the White House today, told them the popular or official attitude toward his political orientation or his far flung economic program may have been, there was a widespread impression that Stinnes was a man of great vision and initiative, and that he would take an active part in the final adjustment of the problems on which the experts' committees have rendered an exhaustive verdict.

"I sometimes wish," the president said, "that people would put a little more emphasis upon the observance of law than they do upon its enforcement. It is a maxim of our institutions that the government does not make the people, but the people make the government. That is why a gathering of this kind is so encouraging to me." The president, who received the committee after they had heard the addresses upon the subject by the two new members of his cabinet, Attorney General Stone and Secretary Wilbur, and other speakers, that the only practical course for stimulating respect for law was a ceaseless awakening of the conscience through movements such as come from our activities, and through a determination that there shall be a new order of things.

Attorney General Stone declared the vital principles of respect for the enforcement of law must be held by apply equally to the "enemies of society" and to all the "enforcement agencies of the government."

World Fliers Delay Flight For Weather

(By The Associated Press)
SITKA, Alaska, Apr. 11.—Warned of an approaching storm off the Gulf of Alaska, the four United States army aviators, flying around the globe are resting here today after a 800 mile flight from Prince Rupert. The aviators were scheduled to leave today for a 475 mile flight to Cordova, Alaska, but Major Martin, commanding, who received the weather reports asserted there would be no flight until conditions were favorable.

DEMOCRATS HAVE NEW SUBSTITUTE FOR MELLON TAX

Chairman Smoot Introduced Bill As Framed by Senate Finance Committee. Awaiting Senate Consideration

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Apr. 11.—Lines for the major contest on the revenue bill in the senate were definitely drawn Thursday by announcement of Democrats of the income tax plan they will propose as substitute for the Mellon rates placed in circulation both of which tend to substantiate their claims that Sanford is easily one of the most progressive cities in the state.

According to the figures, the Peoples Bank enjoyed the largest percentage of increase in deposits having a gain of 61 per cent while the Seminoles County Bank had the largest increase in resources having a 49 per cent gain.

The Democratic income tax schedule, introduced by Senator Simmons, North Carolina, is a radical departure from the plan of Representative Garner, Democrat, Texas, who was supported by house Democrats, and approved very closely the Longworth compromise rates adopted by the house.

It provides for a maximum surtax rate of 40 per cent applicable on incomes of more than $500,000. The house maximum rate was 57 1/2 per cent on incomes of more than $2,000,000. The rate of $300,000 in the Simmons proposal is 55 1/2 per cent.

The Garner plan was 44 per cent on all incomes exceeding $92,000. The committee would make the maximum surtax rate 20 per cent on all incomes of more than $100,000. Mr. Longworth, of Ohio, the Republican leader, predicted Thursday that "although there is no great difference in the tax reductions in the house and those proposed by the senate Democrats the house would stand firm for its rates in conference even if the senate adopted the Democratic plan."

Representative Garner on the other hand predicted that the house Democrats with one exception supported his plan, would give approval to the program advanced Thursday by Senator Simmons, declaring it followed "in principle" the house Democratic scheme of larger reductions in the smaller incomes and lesser reductions in the large incomes than proposed by Secretary Mellon.

Senator Simmons announced that the plan he proposed would raise $3,000,000 more revenue annually than the Mellon bill, and would surtax rates, on the basis of estimates by Joseph McCoy, treasury actuary.

Jap Envoy Fears More
Drastic Exclusion

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Apr. 11.—The famous "gentlemen's agreement," under which the Japanese immigration to the United States is curtailed, was reported in concrete form for the first time in an exchange of correspondence between Secretary Hughes and Ambassador Hanabusa. It was asserted that Japan is willing to continue the arrangement, but view with serious doubt the proposals of more drastic exclusion.

Chairman Watson of the senate committee investigating the internal revenue bureau, introduced a resolution for discharge of the committee.

The committee to investigate the indictment of Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, was appointed by Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, as chairman.

The tax bill was reported by the senate finance committee and Senator Simmons, North Carolina, introduced a substitute for the Democrats.

Daniel E. Willard, of the Baltimore and Ohio, urged a more complete trial of the transportation act before the senate interstate commerce committee.

President Coolidge, Secretary Wilbur, Attorney General Stone, and other officials were present at the hearing of the reparations committee for law enforcement.

WASHINGTON, Apr. 11.—The reparations commission today officially approved the report submitted by the experts' committee Wednesday on the German reparations question. The recommendation to the commission is that the reparations be approved upon condition of a loan to Germany.

BANK DEPOSITS SHOW INCREASE OF 48 PER CENT

Sanford's Banking Institutions Enjoy Greatest Gain In Business in History of Financial Strongholds—Growth of City Reflected in Statement Recently Issued Showing Standing of Banks

According to figures made available by the quarterly statements given by the local banks showing the standing of the three institutions at the end of business Mar. 31, Sanford banks have made the tremendous gain of 48.3 per cent in the amount of deposits in comparison with that of last year at the same time.

Not only have the institutions had a larger increase in the amount of deposits, but they have increased their resources 44.2 per cent. This city is now in the midst of the most prosperous era of its history is the firm belief of the heads of the three banks. These figures, they point out, show that much business is being transacted and that a large amount of money is in circulation, both of which tend to substantiate their claims that Sanford is easily one of the most progressive cities in the state.

According to the figures, the Peoples Bank enjoyed the largest percentage of increase in deposits having a gain of 61 per cent while the Seminoles County Bank had the largest increase in resources having a 49 per cent gain.

The First National Bank had an increase in deposits of 37.5 per cent and 31 per cent in resources. The Seminoles County Bank increased its deposits 67 per cent and its resources 57 per cent. The Peoples Bank had the increase of 61 per cent in deposits and 11 per cent in resources.

The statements showed that at the end of March there was on deposit in Sanford banks $4,028,012.49 while at the end of the same period last year they totaled $2,716,001.72. A year ago the combined resources of the banks totaled $2,102,000.62 while at the present time they have reached $3,074,316.42.

It is said that never before in the history of this city has the increase in business of the banking institutions been so great. The annual good fortune that has fallen to the bankers and growers of this section in the way of receiving handsome prices for their products is one of the reasons for the healthy condition of the banks, it is declared.

The Peoples Bank with $1,337,768.69 in deposits leads the other banks as it also does in resources with $2,030,353.23. The First National Bank gained $602,368.16 in deposits and $484,444.92 in resources. The Seminoles County Bank increased its deposits $595,824.52 and resources $712,782.00. The Peoples Bank had an increase in deposits of $213,193.98 and $62,126.82 in resources.

JENNINGS GIVES HIS PLATFORM IN SPEECH HERE

Speaks Here Last Night Outlining Issues of National Campaign Declaring That He Is For Law Enforcement, Efficient Handling of State Affairs and All Constructive Measures.

Declaring that he is making only a few promises and those only which he could absolutely assure with confidence, Frank E. Jennings, candidate for governor of Florida, spoke for over an hour Thursday night to an attentive audience at the Seminole County Bank corner.

Mr. Jennings particularly stressed the outstanding planks in his platform, those of putting the different state departments on a business-like basis, strict enforcement of law and order, more efficient and far-reaching road building program and for furnishing more educational advantages to the school children. He also touched upon the subject of reappointment.

Major Jennings was introduced by Mayor Forrest Lake. Following a few opening remarks, Mr. Jennings launched into the subject of what should be the requirements of a man seeking the office of governor. He declared that his candidacy was not taken seriously at first, but that he now became a public question and because he has served with a fearless determination, being controlled by no faction, he has gained steadily in strength until he is now confident that he will be selected as the state's next executive.

He scored the "peanut" politicians and declared that he neither officer nor ever will be controlled by any of them. He stated that if elected to the office of governor, he would have it always void of even the slightest evidence of activities of the small politicians.

The speaker declared that if elected to the office of governor, every department of the state government is organized so that for every dollar expended full value would be received in return. He said that he would stand for no laxity in the performance of duty by any state official. He further said that he would be a representative of the people as such he would see to it that the people's business would be carried on in an efficient, business-like manner.

Mr. Jennings next touched on the enforcement of law question. Continued on page eight.

Watson Introduces Measure Dismissing Inquiry Committee

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Apr. 11.—A resolution proposing the discharge of the special senate committee investigating the internal revenue bureau from that work immediately was introduced in the senate late Thursday by Chairman Watson, Indiana, of the investigating committee.

The resolution merely directed that the committee "be and it hereby is discharged from the investigation it has been conducting under a resolution introduced by Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan. Under the rules the resolution will not come up for senate action until tomorrow.

While the resolution made no statement as to the reason for quashing the investigation, it was an open secret that Senators Watson and Ernst, of Kentucky, the two Republican members of the investigating committee, decided upon that course in conference with Republican leaders as a consequence of Senator Couzens' determination to employ Francis J. Heney of California as a special counsel for the investigating committee, paying Heney's expenses in that connection out of his own pocket.

No Debate.
There was no debate when the resolution was introduced in the senate. The Indiana senator made no statement in connection with its introduction and Senator Couzens was not in the chamber.

William J. Bryan To Be Church Delegate

While William Jennings Bryan was in the city yesterday, it was learned that the Great Commoner, has been selected by the Presbytery of Southeast Florida to represent it as the layman delegate to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, which will be held in Mississippi on May 18. Rev. M. E. Gabard of Geneva, Presbyterian minister of the place, met Mr. Bryan in Titusville yesterday and accompanied the latter to Sanford. It was Rev. Gabard who informed Mr. Bryan of his appointment. Dr. J. P. Calhoun has been selected as the representative of the clergy to attend the assembly.

WILLIAM J. BRYAN SPEAKS TO LARGE GATHERING HERE

Discusses Issues of Coming Presidential Campaign and Says Democrats and Progressive Republicans Will Elect President.

With a vigor and eloquence that has been characteristic of his speeches for more than three decades, William Jennings Bryan, thrice a candidate for the presidency of the United States and now a candidate for delegate to the National Democratic Convention from Florida, spoke for an hour on a half to an audience of between 400 and 500 people at the Seminoles County Bank corner.

With a great deal of emphasis the Great Commoner, told his hearers that he would support the choice of the people of this state as expressed by them in the preferential primary. He declared that even though he is a dry voter, if the voters choose a wet candidate, he will support him as long as his name is on the ballot, even though he will do it by proxy.

Mr. Bryan further stated that if elected as a delegate, he will endeavor to have a plank inserted in the Democratic platform which would forever eliminate the possibility of a recurrence of what has happened in previous elections as has been shown in the oil investigation at Washington.

The plank that Mr. Bryan proposes to introduce and have accepted if possible, would call for an appropriation which would pay for the ordinary expenses of a presidential campaign and which would call for the issuance of a bulletin in which would be published the statements of each candidate seeking the office of president. It would further make it a crime for any donation to a campaign fund to be made by individuals.

Mr. Bryan scored the practice of rich and powerful influence purchasing immunity from prosecution of public favors. He classed Coolidge as the most reactionary president for the last 25 years and termed him as the Wall Street candidate. The president, he declared, only sees the country through Wall Street.

He proved his contention that Coolidge is Well Street's candidate by showing that the president failed to appoint the most progressive Republican for the high office of attorney-general, Judge Kenyon. Instead, Mr. Coolidge selected a New York lawyer a lawyer employed by Wall Street corporations.

Rushing To Operation Killed in Auto Crash

(By The Associated Press)
ATHENS, Ga., Apr. 11.—Miss Irene Day, student nurse in St. Mary's hospital here was killed and Dr. J. P. Proctor, one of the best known physicians in this section and another nurse, Miss Nellie Eberhardt, was dangerously hurt when an automobile crashed through the railing of a bridge over Seaboard Railroad plunging 30 feet to the tracks below. Fearful complications to the two injured may set in due to lying in a heavy rain several hours. The trio were speeding to Jefferson where they were to perform an emergency operation in the hospital. When Jefferson called Athens to find out why they had not arrived, another physician left to investigate and found the wreck, bringing the bodies back to Athens.

Within a short time the building will undergo extensive improvements such that when finished, the property will be as attractive in appearance and as well fitted to handle as any other building of the kind in the city. At the present time most of the buildings are occupied, the following firms being located on First Street: Blokes Cash Market, Princess Dressing, Quick Service, Shoe Shop, Quick Lunch, Standard Barber Shop, Seminoles Laundry, George's Fruit Stand and Thompson's Billiard Parlor. Smith Brothers Garage, until recently occupied one of the buildings.

Negotiations for the purchase of the Bryan Block have been in process for some time. The deal was not until Thursday that final papers were signed. New owners indicated that they would be ready to take possession of the block on Saturday.

Company Prominent Sanford Business Men Close Big Deal Property Bought On 99-Year Lease

Deal Is Said To Be Largest Transacted In Sanford For Some Time — Includes 200 Feet On First Street and 117 Feet On Oak Avenue — Extensive Improvements Contemplated At Once.

One of the most important real estate transactions that has been consummated in Sanford for some time, was closed Thursday when the Hynes property on First Street and Oak Avenue was sold to a recently formed corporation composed of C. Schultz, Charles L. Britt, R. J. Holly and J. D. Wilson. This valuable property was purchased on a 99-year lease basis upon a valuation of $120,000.

The property includes all buildings facing First Street between Park and Oak Avenues with the exception of the one at First and Park Avenue, which Seminoles Securities Company from the First National Bank. The former Hynes property has a frontage of 200 feet on First Street and 117 feet on Oak Avenue. Included in the purchase are two two-story and two one-story buildings. All are of brick construction.

Following the announcement that the transaction had been closed, it was further learned that the new owner are planning to make extensive improvements on the property. All improvements will undergo a thorough reworking. Extensive repairs and alterations, all of which will be made to the property, will be made. It is declared. The most important work will begin within a short time.

The acquisition of this First Street block by some of the most prominent business men of the city, is but another indication of the growth and prosperity of Sanford, according to Mr. Britt, one of the new owners, and through whose firm, the Britt Realty Company, the deal was negotiated. The new owners, he declared, are fully aware of the bright future that Sanford has and because they are, they have seen fit to express their confidence in the city by heavy investment in some of its most valuable real estate.

It was further learned that the present deal is by no means the extent of the company's activities. Negotiations are now in progress which will increase its holdings considerably. It is planned to acquire property to the value of approximately $250,000, it was stated, and within a few days the announcement of additional purchases may be expected.

Speaking for the new owners about the transaction, Mr. Britt said: "All of the members of this company are old citizens of Sanford and Seminoles county and they believe in the city's future development. They believe it holds for Sanford as bright if not brighter prospects than any other place in the state. They have watched this city grow steadily until it has become one of the most flourishing cities in the state."

"In purchasing the Hynes property, the largest single real estate transaction that has been made in this city for some time and in negotiating for further properties, the members of the company are but expressing further confidence in the solidity of the 'City Sober'." The new owners have put a large amount of money into the deal and expect to put more in other properties, but they fully believe that it will be well worth their investment.

"Within a short time the building will undergo extensive improvements such that when finished, the property will be as attractive in appearance and as well fitted to handle as any other building of the kind in the city. At the present time most of the buildings are occupied, the following firms being located on First Street: Blokes Cash Market, Princess Dressing, Quick Service, Shoe Shop, Quick Lunch, Standard Barber Shop, Seminoles Laundry, George's Fruit Stand and Thompson's Billiard Parlor. LOCAL MEN TO BE PRESENT AT PALATAKA MEET

(Continued from page 1.) Miami together with an inland waterway of such magnitude, beauty and size as to be the admiration of the entire United States.

The several hearings held in the past, while futile in results, have not discouraged those of vision who have been actively interested in endeavoring to secure this improvement. The Sanford Chamber of Commerce has spent a great deal of effort in this direction and was instrumental in the organization of the Florida Waterways Traffic League, which in turn has prepared the data in the brief submitted at the hearing before the Engineers. Vans Agnew is now advocating a new plan of procedure to interest the government in the completion of the canal. Under the plan as outlined, the support of the entire East Coast of Florida and the southern portion of the state will be secured for the project. The plan really consolidates several plans for navigation improvement in such a way as to work them out as a whole. It contemplates the formation of a district to be assessed for the work. Once this assessment district is formed, Vans Agnew feels that Federal support can be obtained as Jacksonville obtained federal support for harbor improvement after talking the initial and paying for early work itself.

The St. Johns River and the Indian River are the two principle units of the waterway. The project, in a general way, calls for the deepening of these two waterways and joining them together through a canal from Sanford to Lake Harney and thence across to the Indian River near Titusville.

Vans Agnew has prepared a bill covering the project for introduction in the Florida legislature. In this bill the district is termed "The Florida Inland Atlantic and Gulf Navigation District." The following named counties would be included in the district: Duval, St. Johns, Flagler, Clay, Putnam, Marion, Volusia, Lake, Seminole, Orange, Brevard, St. Lucie, Palm Beach, Broward, Dade, Okeechobee, Ocala, Glades, Highlands, Polk, Lee.

In the language of the proposed bill the purposes of the district are:

To provide for, acquire or construct and maintain a navigable canal or waterway along the East coast of Florida between the cities of Jacksonville and Miami.

To improve and maintain for navigation the St. Johns River, the Ocklawaha, the Kissimmee River, and the Caloosahatchie River.

To connect the upper St. Johns River and the Kissimmee River with the Indian River by a navigable canal or waterway.

To connect the east coast of Florida and Lake Okeechobee by a navigable canal or waterway.

Each of said projects is hereby declared to be of equal dignity, but they may be carried out either in whole or in part at one and the same time.

In a recent discussion of the situation, Mr. Vans Agnew pointed out that his bill calls for the consolidation of several individual projects in one big, comprehensive project. He urged that this is good policy for it opens the way for cooperation for the entire East Coast. Where projects are taken up individually they have made little headway because of sectional desires. In the project he states that the population center of the East Coast is all working together with the full assurance that all can be benefited. Thus presenting a solid front there is more likelihood of obtaining federal aid, once the project has been started, than when the sectional projects are urged.

It is proposed to have the Palatka meeting endorse the suggestion of Vans Agnew, which to those who are familiar with the matter, believe is the most practical one.

HEYNEY SPECIAL COUNCIL CASE REVENUE PROBE

(Continued from page 1.) He bluntly declared that he knew Heyney "well enough" to know that the hearing would be turned into a "munch raking," if Heyney was "given a chance." Senator Watson asked Senator Cousens why he had consulted with Democratic committee members on this plan and not with his "Republican colleagues."

Senator Cousens replied that he recognized no "public or other colleagues" when he was "going after government business."

"They all look alike to me," he said. Senator Cousens admitted that he had "resented" from the first the appointment of four members of the busy finance committee to compose the investigating committee with himself. He left the inference that he considered this an attempt to hamper the investigation and charged specifically that Senator Ernst had tried to "block" his efforts in the committee. The Michigan Senator conceded, however, that Chairman Watson had not sought to curb the hearing thus far held.

This work is not going to be stopped," Senator Cousens declared heatedly. "I do not propose to be blocked or diverted by any senator or group of senators."

Dr. W. A. MacKenzie, mayor of Leesburg, and chairman of the Lake Wales Drive, in an inspiring address, following the remarks of Messrs. Lee, Taylor and Adams, said in part: "Yesterday the greatest, the finest and the most interesting industry in all the state of Florida was trembling in the balance. When this morning such gentlemen, independents, as Mr. Taylor, Mr. Lee and Dr. Adams threw themselves in the balance, the balance trembled no longer."

"I want to say to you here today that even after traveling in the dust of the valley of Jepp in co-operative marketing will reach downward take hold of your hand and lead you into success and prosperity for the citrus industry."

"You asked the citrus industry for a plan and it has given you the old plan, the only plan that will lead you to success. Yesterday Prominent Independents."

"Today Mr. Taylor and Mr. Lee saw the light and they got into the balance of the Florida Citrus Exchange. If these men with their vast industries and their vast wealth, their vast fruit, can come in and say we are a part of you, we are going to work with you, and not against you, then certainly many, many one grove or five or ten thousand boxes can come and follow the same plan to your success and your own prosperity."

President J. H. Ross, of the Florida Citrus Exchange, made an eloquent address, in which he predicted that the movement started at the convention towards the exchange would increase rapidly and result in the great strengthening of the co-operative organization. Business Manager C. E. Stewart and Vice-President D. C. Gillett also talked on the work and plans of the exchange.

JUSTICE PROBE CAUSES SOME HOT PASSAGES

(Continued from page 1.) transactions was derived, he said, from audits he made in investigation for the department of justice.

Kern, the witness declared "got A. T. Murray, his man Friday," appointed one of the trustees and general manager of the Magneto plant. The trustees after operating the plant a few months sold it at auction in January, 1919, to a bidder representing Kern for $4,150,000. The latter, through Hornblower and Weeks, a Boston investment firm in which he said "Secretary of War Weeks had not been a member for 15 years," reorganized the property as the American Magneto Company. Of the $4,150,000, $2,000,000 was paid to Kern at $60 per share and 15,000 divided as "bonus" among the parties to the transaction.

Summing up, Stork said, Kern made $32,346 in the operation; Hornblower and Weeks, $351,946; A. T. Murray $275,000 and others lesser amounts. J. Harry Covington, whom Stork named as "campaign manager for Mr. Palmer in 1920" received $25,000 in legal fees.

As to the Guffey matter, Stork said the director of sales received more than $55,000,000 during 1918 and 1919 from sales of seized alien property and used specially for his own purposes $2,000,000, which was part of interest due from bank deposits. Guffey "made up the shortage," he said, by payments to the alien property custodian in March, 1921.

Bible Thought for Today: A Love Feast.—Better is a dinner of herbs where love is, than a stalled ox and hatred therewith. Proverbs 15:17.

The Turn of the Road: Ah, here is another turn of the road, Another league is gone; Take a long grip and grasp of your load, And then—Go on! Go on!

There are blasted cliffs and chasms of dread In the journey we have gone; There are stony hills on the road ahead; But the voice says: "On! Go on!"

There are gardens above on the way we have come, And fountains, and arbors of shade; There are bleak, dark pines in the cold snow-dumb, And the thunder-smitten gale;

On the journey we have gone; There are bloom, and gloom on the way ahead; But the voice says: "On! Go on!"

We are glad for the voice at the turn of the road, 'Tis tuned to the heart of man; It has cheered his way, and lightened his load, From the day when the world began.

J. P. Morgan is visiting various points of Southern Europe in his yacht Corair. The corair is said to be a very familiar figure in Mediterranean waters.

Those attending the Jennings meeting on Magnolia Avenue last night now realize what heavy traffic there is on this popular street. A steady line of cars continued to pass during the entire time Mr. Jennings was speaking.

Bryan's Opponents.

"I believe in the Primary and shall obey any instructions that may be given at the Primary in regard to candidates, party principles and public policies. If elected a delegate, my vote will be cast for the State's choice, if that choice is expressed at the Primary."

Thus did William Jennings Bryan definitely and unequivocally refute the only argument which the opposition interests—a synonym, in this case, for corporation interests—have been able to raise against his election as delegate to the National Democratic Convention.

Through hearsay evidence, alone there have doubtless congregated in your minds many erroneous and fanciful ideas as to just what Bryan would, or would not do if elected as your delegate. You have read that he intended to propose the name of Dr. Murphree, regardless of the State's choice. You have heard that he was supporting for the presidency Pat Neff of Texas; Musgrove of Alabama and perhaps others. So numerous and so varied have been the accounts in certain of the press as to where Bryan stood, that it has been impossible to form any definite and concrete idea of even the approximate position of the man.

But yesterday not an ear within the radius of a block missed those words, "If elected, my vote will be cast for the State's choice." There you have it in a nut-shell. No hemming, nor hawing! No beating around the bush as the opposition has accused. Just a distinct and concise statement that he believes in the preferential primary. And there are none, even his worst enemies, who accuse Bryan of insincerity or untruthfulness.

Since this is so, why has so much been said and printed in regard to Bryan's "choice"? Why have long articles been written declaring that Bryan set himself ahead of his State and his party? That he would ignore Florida's choice in the primary and follow his own selfish inclinations in the convention? That he would propose the name of Missouri's "favorite son" or "Mississippi's 'favorite son'" or some other "favorite son"? To answer this question all you have to do is to consider the source.

Who is it that is trying to defeat Bryan's election? Who is it that is trying to keep him from the National Democratic Convention? There is first the Jacksonville Times-Union, strong in its attacks on Bryan, which, according to its statement of April 1 made to the government in accordance with law, is owned in large part by the estate of Henry M. Flagler, former oil king and railroad magnate. There is the Miami Herald, once owned outright by The Florida East Coast Railroad and controlled from 26 Broadway, now supposedly owned by Frank B. Shutts, railroad attorney and catspaw of corporation interests. There is also the Tampa Tribune, a splendid newspaper, but one whose editorial page has become sullied with prosperity and tarnished by constant association with wealth and capital. There are also one or two of the smaller papers, like the Ocala Star, which are towed blindly in the wake of their more opulent coryphaei.

There is the line-up. What does it mean to you? After hearing Bryan say yesterday afternoon that any man who had to look through Wall Street saw only with a clouded vision, that income tax reductions should give as much relief to those with small incomes as to those with large incomes, that the profiteer should be restrained, that the farmer should be aided by legislation as much as industry, and that the interests of labor must be guarded, it should mean only one thing. It should mean that Wall Street has set for itself the task of defeating Bryan and keeping him off the floor of the convention.

It fears his power, it fears his knowledge of corruption in Washington and political manipulations at convention, the expose of which in the senate today is a disgrace to the nation. It knows that with Bryan in the convention, such "shady deals" will be the more abundant. It knows that Bryan's honesty and purity in Madison Square Garden will keep Wall Street where it belongs, away down town, and will open the doors of the White House to only a dry progressive, a champion of the interests of the masses, and one of unquestionable integrity.

Our Neighbors' Weeds.

Chick weeds, sand-spurs, Spanish needles, where do they come from? From the yards of your neighbors, of course. You don't sow weeds in your yard. You don't permit the weeds that chance to grow there, to go to seed. It is the careless neighbor who makes all your difficulties with your lawn and your garden.

When you come to think about it, it is the careless neighbor who is responsible for most of your troubles. You, yourself, never do anything wrong. Your children, too, were models of good behaviour until they played with the neighbor children. Your blessed little son never set a bad example, never led another child into mischief. It is always the rascally offspring of the neighbors, near and far, who are to blame for your child's failure to be the perfect human being your example and training were making him.

In your home is harmony and gentleness. It is the neighbors that give room to strife and coarseness. Consideration of each other, loving service, kindness and good cheer, those are the attributes of your home circle. But, Oh the neighbors! How selfish they are, how chary they are of acts of kindness, how sour they talk and how doleful they look!

Chick weeds, sand-spurs, Spanish needles, all growing in the neighbors' yards, while we keep our own dooryards and our own vacant lots so neat and clean! The winds bring the seeds from chick weeds and crab-grass, growing in our neighbors' yards to spoil our pretty lawns. But how fine it is to know that none of us furnish pest-producing seeds to be wafted into our neighbors' gardens—or into their lives.

Living blameless, helpful, happy lives, there is nothing in the world for you to worry about except the weeds, of one kind and another, that are disseminated by careless neighbors. It is beautiful to know that your life is a model of everything good and true.

"IN THE LIFE OF 'Aemilius Paulus,' Plutarch relates the story of a Roman being divorced from his wife. This person being highly blamed by his friends, who demanded, 'was she not chaste? was she not fair? holding out his shoe asked them whether it was not new? and well made? Yet, added he, none of you can tell where it pinches me.'"

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE, according to news agencies, defeated Hiram Johnson, two to one, in Michigan's primaries. It is impossible to say just to what extent Coolidge beat Johnson, and to what extent Henry Ford beat Johnson by his recent endorsement of Coolidge. Ford is the most influential man in Michigan, and without taking him into account, you can't judge the result of the Michigan primaries.

MARY GARDEN, once a Scotch immigrant girl, decides to become an American citizen. She says she is forty-seven years old and proud of it. That's the right spirit. No matter how many years you have gone through, how many good years have you ahead; what do you amount to now?

NINON DEL ENCLOS, who made a specialty of being charming, maintained her specialty until she died. Young men fell in love with her when she was past seventy. She left her best books to Voltaire who was brought to see her when he was a little boy, thus proving her intelligence.

FENELOPE COULDN'T have been very young when Ulysses came back from all his travels, yet he found his house crowded with suitors that wanted to marry her. Trees die at the top. While the top is all right, the rest is all right. Let women remember that and worry more about the INSIDE of the head, less about the hat on the outside of it.

RELIGIOUS GENTLEMEN, gathered at Troy, praise Mr. Coolidge as "our Puritan President," calling on him to cleanse our internal affairs. Those gentlemen mean well, but they ought to look up the name Burchard.

The United States doesn't want a Puritan President or a free and easy one. The President, Catholic or Christian Scientist President. It wants a good, average American, that will attend to national affairs and let American settle their religious and other ideas, from Puritanism to bobbed hair, for themselves.

THE STATE OF New York struggles to secure a bill forbidding employment of children, and hours a week. Two disgraceful women more than forty-eight facts are there. First that women and children are allowed and compelled to work more than forty-eight hours a week.

CHILDREN SHOULD be kept out of the streets and away from any other work than playing and caring for children. Labor that uses its political influence to shut out ambitious immigrants from Europe that this country needs, could protect itself by doing only the most menial and to do away with the competition of women and children that reduces wages—at the same time encouraging the coming of needed immigrants of the right class.

THE RUSSIAN budget is in good shape, taxes coming in regularly, more money taken in than Russia needs—real money at that. Russians intend to show their world activity by planting the Red flag at the North Pole by the first of September. Ten scientists will go along with the flyers.

THE WORLD may yet see in Russia and the United States the two chief competing nations of the world. There is nothing like revolution to stir up energy and ability, as you learn from the history of France.

THE METHODISTS propose to publish a daily newspaper. Catholics not long since had a similar idea. It would be an interesting experiment, welcomed and watched by all editors. A religious newspaper might develop ideas of the church, of which the great problem is to make church services INTERESTING. Henry Ward Beecher knew it when he sold a slave girl at auction from his pulpit.

YOUNG GIRLS in a public high school were branded and painfully disgraced in a stupid dancing performance connected with a secret school society, called the Welta Kappa Gamma Sorority from public schools at least. A Such nonsense should be barred secret society, whatever its nature, has no place in the public school, which is intended to make the children members of the one great fraternal society known as the United States of America.

HENRY FORD will by a trolley line connecting Muscle Shoals with the Gulf at Mobile, according to report, he might utilize the gas engine trolley car that he once showed this writer in his Dearborn laboratory. Light in the world, his car could cross the continent at the rate of 60 miles an hour without taking on fuel and at less than half the present cost of transportation. That ought to interest railroad men now. If it doesn't, the kind of competition it will give them will interest them later—and too late.

FORTY THOUSAND bottles of bootleg whiskey dumped into the river off the docks of an army base brought forty thousand dead fish floating to the surface of the water. That ought to interest bootleggers that drink such stuff.

We May Not Be Shapely But We're Comfortable

AN "IMPETUS" TO AMERICAN OPERA

American operatic art has from time to time in the past received new impetus in various ways. Sometimes it has been found to be protected from the utterances of passionate press agents and excited reporters or the impressive combination which these agencies of modern life can make. Three have sometimes been found in the rear of such an impetus the ardent beliefs and optimistic expectations of some group of a peculiarly un-American name. They are working harder in these days than ever before.

Up to the present time American operatic art has made progress undeniably slow. Of course, the first operatic art in America was imported. Cloistered students find traces of a weak and uncertain impetus to it well back in the eighteenth century. The first authenticated operatic performance that can be traced in America took place in Charleston, S. C., in 1735.

There was almost an American opera in 1767, when Andrew Barton's "The Disappointment; or the Force of Credulity, an American comic opera in two acts," was announced in Philadelphia, but suddenly withdrawn as unfit for the stage because it contained "personal reflections" and worse; though the libretto was published and is extant. It is difficult to trace the appearance of the first real American opera; the line shades imperceptibly into opera from plays, with incidental music. There was "The Fourth of July; or Temple of American Independence," announced in 1799 in New York, in which the Battery was shown and "a militia procession in perspective"; there was "Nedra Must; or the Balled Singers," written to allow one of the actresses who had broken her leg to sing without action. There was Mrs. Anne Julia Hutton's "Tammany; or the Indian Chief," said to have been taken seriously in New York only by Anti-Federalists and stage because "the powerful Tammany Society wished it." There was "Archers; or the Mountain Serpent of Switzerland," of which William Tell was the hero; one of Rossini's precursors.

French opera appeared in America before Italian; for a company made up of refugees from the French Revolution gave performances in Baltimore in 1790, and French opera was heard in New York in the Autumn of that year when Jean Jacques Rousseau's "Le Devin du Village"—an opera that had a popularity in Europe scarcely less, though less enduring, than "The Beggar's Opera"—was given. Italian opera, with what D'Urfey called its "buzzing and squeaking Trillades," did not arrive till Manuel Garcia gave his famous performances at the Park Theatre in 1825.

In the mid-nineteenth century there were valiant attempts at American opera. They had been made even before Ole Bull, in 1855; then manager of the Academy of Music, offered a prize of $1,000 for "the best original grand opera by an American composer on a strictly American subject." The prize was won by George F. Root, though his "The Village Blacksmith" determined and visible advocate of "the American school" was at a time when it was a little difficult to discern an American school. His torch has been handed on to a line of successors who brandish it nowadays with beneficent and encouraging vigor. His immediate successor was William H. Fry, equally an advocate of an American music; a musical critic as well as a composer, who supported his advocacy by the production at the Academy of his "Leonore," which, according to Richard Grant White, was much admired and some of whose airs became popular. Then there seems to have been a regrettable void of some half century in American operatic production, till the several American operas of recent memory were made known in New York, Chicago, and Boston. Americans may well hope that the torch that burned low will blaze into a higher flame. At all events, the attempt at Stony Point, by Max Rabinoff, recently described in The Times, to focus all the resources for operatic instruction, to gather all sorts of experts in the various complications of operatic composition, to provide all the means of operatic production for American aspirants, and to explore and collect all the different manifestations of folk music that can be found in America, to base thereon an American school of operatic composition, times high. It may be that Mr. Rabinoff has overlooked some of the extensive results of his predecessors in the latter field; and it may be that he speaks rather vaguely and summarily of the difficult and laborious task. Perhaps he has the excessive confidence of a new recruit and expects much in a comparatively short time. Everything is so perfectly arranged and so perfectly co-ordinated in the scheme he has announced at such length and in such detail that it would be cruelty to human hopes and disloyalty to art even to fear a hitch in the arrangements. A high aim and high hopes are not to be discouraged—especially as Mr. Rabinoff is not asking for funds. Let him spend their perfect flowering.

STILL A COWARD

Only a coward always a coward. That seems to fit the case of G. C. Bergdoll, the American slacker, who fled to Germany for refuge the moment his country, America, declared war on Germany. It appears that all the fuss and feathers associated with the story of his contemplated return to the United States "to face the music," was pure fiction. Bergdoll neither has resolved to come back to take his medicine, nor announced officially that he intends so to do. The legend can not change his spots and the streak of cowardice which is so much a part of Bergdoll's greater instead of his diminishing. Any man who would be guilty of such an offense as to be expected to display anything in the way of courage and those who are reported to have believed that they had convinced him of the propriety of his return, were basing their hopes upon shifting sands. Among the latest credited remarks of his will be found this: "They've got to show me," meaning that he would not think of returning until he knows exactly what kind of a penalty the government will exact. Why pursue the subject further? Let him remain in Germany. America is spots and the streak of cowardice which is so much a part of Bergdoll's greater instead of his diminishing. Any man who would be guilty of such an offense as to

Dan Dobbs Says

When the political pot starts boiling it makes a lot of smoke. A rum ship caught fire off the coast of Florida, but not one of the boys stood on the burning deck. Fine thing about having a garden is you can pick what you want. The spring dresses look like a brass band going down the street. Perhaps this is because every man likes to follow a band. When you see a man sitting around looking worried it is a dealer wondering if winter really has gone.

Literary Department of the Woman's Club Holds Regular Meet

The Literature Department of the Woman's Club met in regular session, Wednesday afternoon, April 9, at the Woman's Club.

Mrs. D. A. Kelley, parliamentarian was called by request to advise as to the proper steps to be taken in regard to the re-election of the major officer, Mrs. C. E. Woodruff.

At the termination of the business session the program was presented by Mrs. M. M. Thigpen as leader, in the absence of Mrs. Brownlee, who was detained at home by illness in the family.

Mrs. Anne Van Ness Brown, city librarian, gave a review of Maeterlinck's "Blue Bird" to a most appreciative audience. Only one act of this play was read, in order that the Literature Department might adjourn for the opportunity of attending the recital of the Music Department.

LAWTON TALKS TO SOUTHSIDE P. T. A.

The Southside Primary Parent-Teacher Association met in their building on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Nickel, chairman presiding.

The feature of the day was a very instructive and entertaining address by Superintendent T. W. Lawton in regard to the coming election and the ten mill tax.

The first grade having earned the largest sum of money for the playground equipment, it was voted to give them a picnic as a reward for their efforts.

The treasurer reported $152 on hand for equipment and it was voted to leave the purchase and placing of same in the hands of the playground committee.

The May Day festival was discussed and plans made. Place and date will be announced later. A small dmittance will be charged and it is expected that all patrons and interested friends will attend as this money is to be used for the children's best interest and amusement.

This being the last meeting for the year, the following officers were elected to serve the coming year: Mr. Henry Nickel, chairman, Mrs. E. R. Deas, vice chairman, Mrs. Fred R. Wilson, secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Drummond Gives Luncheon Thursday

Mrs. D. P. Drummond entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon, Thursday honoring Mrs. C. P. Drummond of Chicago, Ill.

Covers were placed for six at a very prettily appointed luncheon table centered with a silver basket of pink roses and baby's breath, and lighted with pink candles in silver holders.

Marking the places were hand painted place cards in pink, and the favors were corsages of pink sweet peas. A delicious four-course luncheon was served.

Mrs. Drummond's guests included, Mrs. Henry Wight, Mrs. F. P. Dutton, Mrs. J. C. Gibbs, Mrs. Sam Yountz, and Mrs. C. P. Drummond.

SUNDAY SCHOOL WORKERS

Ralph DePalma Not to Compete In The Sweepstakes

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Apr. 10. Ralph DePalma will not drive in the Twelfth International 500-mile automobile race to be held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, May 30.

The definite announcement has been made from the speedway office. DePalma will not ride at Indianapolis, it was explained, because he is not now a member of the American Automobile Association, the governing body of the gasoline sport, under whose rulings and jurisdiction the International affair and all other championship events are held.

Ralph, a favorite with fans in victory and defeat, has not won a championship event in years. He wiped out the dollar deficits of years of racing losses, it is said, he accepted during the winter, a real Babe Ruth contract from the promoters of a dirt track in California, and was thus automatically disqualified from participating in recognized and organized speedway racing.

Also absent in 1916. It will be the second time DePalma has been absent from the International race. In 1916, the year after he won the classic, he failed to enter within the prescribed time. His post entry was refused a month before the race. Dario Resta won the event.

DePalma, always a contender in the older days of the speed sport, has not been much of a worry to the younger generation of drivers who have as much regard for tradition as a railroad train has for a Ford.

Regarded as a "hard luck" driver since his car broke down five miles from the finish of the race he was leading here in 1912, DePalma's persistent defeats were overlooked by fans who believe in a jinx.

Many other stars were tempted with gilded contracts by dirt track promoters, but turned their backs on flattering offers because they did not want to go "outlaw," as drivers without the A. A. A. jurisdiction are known.

SECOND ROUND OF GOLF SEES MANY UPSETS OF DOPE

Thursday's playing at Tampa Sees Rise and Fall of Golf Champions — Gibbons Plays Strong.

TAMPA, Fla., Apr. 11.—Thursday was a day for champions and champions' downfalls in the first round of the annual play of the Tampa Florida State Amateur Golf championship. Al Ulmer, Jacksonville, four times champion, defeated P. C. McCill, of Orlando, went down to an ignominious defeat at the hands of the one time champion, Gordon Gibbons, Palm Bay, Fla., by a score of 8 and 5. H. H. Drongberger, Indiana, amateur champion, and now of Palm Bay, won his first round match only to go under at the hands of Tommy Aycock Jr., of Jacksonville, in the second round by 4 and 3. Dick Pope, Winter Haven, last year's runner-up, lost his first round match to Lee Chase, Orlando, by 2 and 1. C. B. Murphy, Palma Ceia, regarded at the start of this year's tourney as a likely dark horse, won his first round match and then was eliminated by C. A. Roberts, Miami, by 2 up.

The upset of the day, however, Ulmer's gains through the fairways was nearly all that could be desired but once on the green, the former champion went to pieces and lost his grip when his putts refused to drop. T. W. Palmer, Miami, defending champion, went through his two rounds today with scarcely a hitch in his play. Playing E. B. Hagan, in the first round, the champion had little trouble in winning 5 and 4. His second round match with W. H. Warren, Palma Ceia, was a walk-away, the champion closing this match on the long end of an 8 and 7 score.

Baby Slept All Night and Woke With a Smile

That Teethina, the wonderful laxative and stomach corrective, is the safest medicine for keeping babies and children healthy is conclusively proved by the hundreds of letters constantly being received from happy and grateful mothers who have given it to their little ones. Among others praising it is Mrs. A. A. Barr, Route 3, Clayton, Ala., who writes: "I began giving Teethina to my baby at 8 months and kept it up all through teething time. He might be crying and fretting all day, and at bed time I'd give him a dose of Teethina and he would sleep fine and wake up in the morning with a smile."

Participants In Main Bout

Jack Middleton (left) and "Rough House" Ross (right) will be the participants of the main bout tonight at the armory. These two star light heavyweight battlers are scheduled to go 10 rounds but according to both boys, it will not go the limit. Which will be the winner of course remains to be seen.

STAGE ALL SET FOR RING EXHIBITION TO BE HELD HERE TONIGHT WITH MIDDLETON-ROSS BOUT BIG EVENT

Principals in Main Bout of 10th Contest of Winning Decision Tonight — Indications are That Large Crowd Will Witness Third Boxing Exhibition To Be Staged Here.

The stage is all set for the big boxing program to be offered tonight at the armory under the auspices of the Florida National Guard and under the direct supervision of Billy Dawson, the bustling little matchmaker of Jacksonville. Promptly at 8:30 o'clock the battle royal will begin, opening the evening's entertainment and thereafter, for two and a half to three hours, lovers of the ring sport will witness 26 rounds of boxing exhibition.

It is generally believed that a large crowd will witness the record-breaking event in its history. The very future of the sport itself so far as Sanford is concerned depends upon the size of the crowd tonight. As was pointed out at the last exhibition of the National Guard, if the attendance is not sufficient to warrant the holding of these periodic boxing cards then they will have to be discontinued. The two previous exhibitions that have been staged here within the past few weeks, have been put on at a loss of money. At the conclusion of Mr. DeCot's talk two weeks ago, however, the applause and the assurance of co-operation that greeted his remarks, indicated that the small attendance would not happen any more.

Following the battle royal the first four-round preliminary will be held. The participants in this bout will be Joe Bell and Ira Gunter, two local middleweights. Neither has appeared in the local ring before and little is known of the ability of each scrapper, however, friends of both boys declare that the fight should be a lively affair.

That date, The Gator sprinters won from the Tennesseans last year in a meet held on Fleming Field, here, and will go to Sewanee determined to repeat that performance. Among those who will make the trip are Marshall and Burwell, of Fort Lauderdale; Bun Monroe, former Hillborough star; Irwin "Ark" Newton, Case, Blitch, McGill, Gilroy and Dickey.

In the second match fans will have an opportunity to see Sisk and Williams settle a little dispute which began two weeks ago when the former decisively beat his rugged opponent, like "Rough House" Ross, Williams feels that he was not at his best at that time. He declares that he can beat Stark at his own game.

In the semi-final bout, which promises to be a fast mill, Battling Meyers will be seen in action against Mickey Dugan, that clever little featherweight of Bridgeport, Conn. Meyers, by his decisive win over Terry two weeks ago, has endeared himself to local ring followers. This led up to an exceptionally strong fight during his affair with Terry and won the popular verdict. Fans here have never seen Dugan in action, but reports from elsewhere indicate that Meyers will have to step lively if he expects to get the decision this time. In Dugan he will meet a clever artist, who possesses a hard punch in both hands and who isn't a bit bashful of whom he hands it out.

Then will come the big mill. Middleton holds the decision over his North Carolina opponent, "Rough House" Ross, but the latter declares that such will not be the case tonight. He asserts that when the smoke is cleared away from the ring tonight, local fans will see the referee raise his right hand as an indication of his success. Ross says he will beat Middleton in action, and he doesn't mean "maybe." On the other hand, Middleton is equally as confident that he will repeat his victory of two weeks ago. "I am Ross' superior in every way and I'll lick him tonight," was the bold statement given out by the latter as he declared that local fans need not worry as to the outcome of the scrap.

But supporters of Ross, and he had a large number, maintain otherwise. They point out the fact that Middleton is not Ross' superior. Ross sent the rugged boxer from Jacksonville to the canvas for a count of seven in the second round of their bout and when Middleton came up he was wobbly. The only thing that saved him was the bell. However, that may be though the outcome remains to be seen. There'll be plenty of enthusiasm tonight and every indication points toward a complete success for the exhibition from every

Don't Lose Sight OF YOUR BAKINGS

Plain flour has a large amount of food value but it must be combined with good baking powder in order to retain this value.

Most self rising flours are not successful because they do not raise the bakings to the proper lightness. This means a certain loss of nutrition because they are heavy and hard to digest.

Every time you eat food that does not properly digest you do not get the full nutritional value—you are over-taxing your stomach. Over-nourishing and perfect bakings are what good health demands. The one sure way is—use pure flour and good baking powder.

If you want to find what thousands of housewives have learned—make some biscuits with self-rising flour—then make some with good plain flour and Calumet Baking Powder—notice the great difference. One trial will satisfy you. Your health demands that you make the experiment.

Those who know—millions of housewives, domestic science teachers, big hotels, restaurants, bakeries and railroads will not use anything but Calumet, the Economy Baking Powder.

Play safe—use Calumet and plain flour. It is the most economical and satisfactory where light, wholesome and pure foods are desired.

LAKE MARY. The monthly meeting of the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce with President Frank Evans presiding. There was a very good attendance. Various committees reported on the electric light situation, and it is expected that the electric light is stands now, the people of Lake Mary may be assured there will be 24 hour electric light service sometime in the near future. The regular business meeting adjourned early and then there were speeches by several guests. First of these was Sheriff Charlie F. Hand, then Judge E. F. Housholder, Vance E. Douglass, Samuel A. B. Wilkinson, Judge J. G. Sharon, and Mr. Lloyd. They each gave a fine speech which was heartily enjoyed by everyone present. The next meeting will be held on May 5. Mr. and Mrs. Tucker had as their guests last week, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Thomas and party of Amesbury, Mass. On account of the rainy weather there was no dance at the Casino on Friday evening. Mrs. Richard Dillworth and Mrs. Jere Rows left on Monday for their homes in New Hampshire. Master Billy Evans is recovering from an attack of measles. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis of Miami and...
