SAM SMALL TO LECTURE HERE TUESDAY, JAN. 17

NATIONAL REFORM ASSOCIATION
CO-OPERATING WITH LOCAL CHURCHES

Arrangements have been completed for the patriotic meeting to be addressed by Sam Small, the famous Georgia orator, who speaks on "America: For Caesar or Christ?" in the Princess Theatre, Tuesday evening, January 17th (tomorrow) at 7:30 o'clock.

Sam Small is known the country over for his clever and unique humor and for the power of his utterances. He and Sam Jones traveled together, before the death of the latter, and to their efforts is largely credited the fact that the South went dry before the prohibition waves made much impression on the East.

The local ministers and protestant churches are co-operating in this meeting which is held under the national auspices of the National Reform Association, a powerful organization working to bring all our laws into conformity to Christian standards.

Owing to the prominence of the speaker and the timeliness of the theme, it is expected by those in charge that a large audience will be present.

Rev. S. W. Walker, D. D., will preside. The publicity is in charge of Rev. P. C. Burhans. Admission is free to all.

BAND CONCERT AT ORLANDO DREW BIG CROWD YESTERDAY FROM MANY FLORIDA CITIES

The Sanford Band gave a concert at Orlando yesterday that drew a mammoth crowd from Sanford and Orlando and surrounding cities. The band also gave a concert at Winter Park enroute and advertised Sanford as nothing else could do. Orlando wants a municipal band and they wanted Sanford to show it would cost hence the trip of the Sanford Band to Orlando and the concert under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce of the two cities. The band concert was not a specially arranged program but was just one that the Sanford band usually plays at the regular weekly concerts here. Charles Brady sang several solos with his usual fine form but the wind blowing into the band stand from the west made it difficult for him to sing with his usual excellent style. However his singing seemed to take the crowd and they tried to work him to death. The entire concert was enjoyed by the big crowd and the expressed themselves accordingly. The Sanford band has only been organized about four weeks and is not the best band in the world—but it is the best band in the United States composed of local musicians and have one of the best band leaders in the country but none.

It is hoped that the Sanford band can make a trip to surrounding cities all through the season on Sunday as it keeps Sanford before the people of this state and also gives our sister cities the benefit of some real band music.

Excellent Record Made By Various Cities During 1921

ONLY 50 PER CENT

OF ACTUAL FIGURES WERE GIVEN IN OFFICIAL BUILDING PERMITS

(By The Associated Press)
JACKSONVILLE, Jan. 16.—Construction in Florida during 1921 easily exceeded the $40,000,000 mark according to building material men and financial interests here, reports from ten cities of the state alone showing building permits issued to the value of $22,015,836, a figure that is regarded as far below the actual cost of the projects authorized inasmuch as the proposed cost given when a building permit is obtained in Florida usually is from twenty-five to seventy-five per cent less than the actual outlay.

Financial circles here hold that the eleven cities reporting could not possibly represent fifty per cent of the new construction throughout the state during the year, for statistics were obtained only from a few points on the peninsula, no place west of Jacksonville being included. In the peninsula no reports were obtained from St. Petersburg, Daytona, Daytona Beach, Seabreeze, Fort Myers, Kissimmee, Leesburg, the Everglades section, Clearwater, Ocala, Tarpon Springs and other points where construction throughout the year has been brisk, in most instances the lack of information being due to the fact that the smaller cities thus far have not organized municipal building departments through which accurate information may be obtained. In the case of the triple cities of Daytona, Daytona Beach and Seabreeze, however, the total for the year had exceeded the $2,500,000 mark by December 1, while permits issued in St. Petersburg amounted to nearly $5,000,000, the $4,000,000 mark having been exceeded before November 30.

Of the cities reporting, Miami led with $5,410,300, Jacksonville was second with $5,087,337 and Tampa third with $4,048,677. Others reporting were DeLand with $2,010,000; Orlando $1,868,812, West Palm Beach $1,353,355, Lakeland $1,174,800, Palm Beach $967,680; St. Augustine $385,050; Sanford $325,865 and Gainesville $278,100. The figure for DeLand is an estimate made after a careful check of new construction completed or in progress during the year while those of the other cities are the values stated in the building permits.

Hotel and apartment house construction throughout the state totaled $4,798,000 during the year according to the supervising architect of the State Hotel Commission but the structures in his report are included in the permit figures of various cities, Miami, Jacksonville, St. Petersburg, Tampa and Orlando accounting for the greater number.

The figures given for Tampa are for the city only, and do not embrace the more than a million dollars invested in new buildings in the immediate suburbs, including West Tampa, the area served by the Tampa public service corporations and spoken of as "Greater Tampa". There has been no extension of the city limits in 12 years, and there is today an area with a population of 30,000 not included in Tampa's census figures but being in reality integral part of the city and supported by the city's industries, which afford employment to the population of these large suburbs.

Actual construction in Orlando is placed by local building and financial interests at $5,000,000, although the permits issued were slightly below the $2,000,000 mark.

Indications are that the building boom which was launched throughout the state early in 1921 and which increased in volume as the year passed will continue through 1922, numerous projects being contemplated in several cities during the early part of this year. Buildings for Southern College at Lakeland, to cost $750,000 and a hotel at Orlando to cost more than $1,000,000 are among the projects to be carried out before next fall.

WHY CHILDREN

LIKE CAMTHOL

There is little excuse for repulsive medicines in healing a child's cold. Neither is a disagreeable internal medicine necessary. Most of them tend to upset the stomach and do more harm than good.

Most children prefer their mothers to use Camthol in treating their coughs and colds because it is pleasant; it is applied externally being rubbed into the chest, throat and temples and spread in the throat and nostrils. They like it also because it soothes and stops the irritation and tickling in the throat. As it contains no capsicum it does not burn or blister the skin. It is an ideal croup and pneumonia salve for the kiddies.

It breaks up the phlegm, clears the air passages and stops a cold without the need of other medicines. 30c at all drug stores. Southern Drug Manufacturing Co., Jacksonville, Fla., Wholesale Distributors.—Adv.

BUT LITTLE HOPE FOR BONUS LEGISLATION

The Jacksonville Metropolis, whose editor, Maj. Quimby Melton, saw service overseas, is evidently impressed that the republican administration and the republican majority in congress have no serious purpose to pass the pending soldier bonus legislation, and the paper cites facts which seem to amply justify this conclusion.

Says the Metropolis on this subject of grave interest and importance to the men responded to the country's call when civilization was endangered:

The administration is playing politics to the ninth degree in keeping soldier bonus legislation always ahead for consideration. The American Legion and other organizations representing ex-service men should not be deceived by the scheme, because it is a scheme to win party favors, nothing more and if the ex-service men do not abandon the effort to secure a bonus for themselves the politicians will continue to flirt with this piece of legislation for many years to come.

A dinner was given at the white house Saturday night at which various issues confronting the administration were discussed, and a soldier bonus plan was one of these. According to reports from the dinner, it is now planned to make the bonus dependable upon the payment of allied debts to the United States. Also, reports state, the bonus may be joined to the sales tax movement.

So it goes. Bonus legislation will be, or is, so deep in politics that it can never be rescued.

Early in the administration the legislation actually was submitted for passage. But at the crucial moment President Harding stepped in and informed the members of the senate a bonus would play havoc with the national treasury. The senate therefore rejected the bonus bill. Then, in an effort to humiliate the administration, the democratic minority set out to force the bonus issue, and by so doing shifted the scenes entirely.

And yet ex-service men hold to the belief they are going to get a bonus eventually. The politicians like for them to believe this, for it is a convenient bumper for other legislation. It is lamentable indeed that the young men of this nation who wore the uniform so admirably should have returned to civilized life to become the plaything of every political clique in the country. Whether they deserve it or not, ex-service men are not going to get a bonus. They should realize this and be guided by it.

A CITY'S OPPORTUNITIES

Frank Mulholland, a prominent business man of Toledo, Ohio, former president of the International Rotary Club and winter citizen of Lake County and one of Florida's greatest boosters addressed the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce last week. He said in part:

To become a worth-while citizen, Mr. Mulholland pointed out, the individual must first sink selfish interests. This, is the real test of citizenship, and Jacksonville will become a great city only in the ratio that its citizens bury their personal, selfish ideals and work harmoniously for the advancement of the public cause.

"Whenever you find a leader you will find an optimist," he declared. "The optimist is a person who is leading a crowd. And when you find a knocker you will find a person who is being chased by a crowd. No community is large enough to harbor a knocker. They have no place in civic life, and their presence is always detrimental. Get rid of them. Convert them, if possible, but get rid of them by all means."

Life is simply a problem in banking. "You can receive just in the ratio that you give," he said. "You must put your best into life in order to take the best out of life. You must do your best for your community in order that it may become and remain the kind of community you want it to be."

"Jacksonville's opportunities are myriad. But they must be capitalized through faith and hard work. Your city can never be greater than your men and women. It can never grow greater than you individually are great in your community. The building of a city is not a work of nature, but is a task delegated to men and women, and it is a task of gigantic proportions."

"Service is the keynote," he continued, "of every success. The axiom applies to the development of cities as well as to the growth of individuals. You must serve your city faithfully and well, and it will reward you. Become lagged in your duty, and your city reflects your condition of enthusiasm. Be active, be enthusiastic and be constantly on the alert to advance your city's interests, and it will be the kind of place it should be. Your opportunities are here, but you must make the most of them through personal effort, through hard work and thru whatever sacrifice may be necessary for the common good. When you resolve to do that and when you do it, you will build and will maintain a great city."

THE BENEFIT OF ROTARY, KIWANNIS AND THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

We do not know who Lena Satterfield of Opelika, Alabama is but we do know that he is a town booster and we copy the following article in the Opelika Daily News signed with his name, because it has so much in it that is good and to the point:

About 30 months ago 13 men met at a luncheon in the Elks hall in Opelika to discuss the organization of some kind of club, tending towards a closer relationship of the business men of the city. No one present seemed to know just what we wanted, but all agreed just what we needed. Two or three present had heard of Rotary and one mentioned Kiwanis, or tried to; he couldn't pronounce it. Previous to this there had been several attempts to keep alive a chamber of commerce, but for one reason or another the organization gradually died out. Such letters of inquiry for homes, business sites, factory locations, etc., as came from different sections of the U. S., found their way to the mayor's office, the dead letter office or were returned to the writers. If a man in Ohio wanted any information about Opelika and Lee county he had to either come here and search it out for himself or take it out in waiting. Then came the Rotary club and soon the Kiwanis, the former with 35 members and the latter I think with 55, the men banded together—for the difference in the clubs is in name only—all pledged to one purpose, viz: To make their town and county a better place to live. Will it last? Do they stick? Ask one of them (a member) to go some where on his club day and see. Almost every week some one of these 100 business men is forced for business reasons to be out of the city on meeting day. Does he skip a meeting and lose his attendance record? Not on your life. He drives to Columbus or West Point or some other city that holds their meeting on a different day to his. And this is not the younger business alone who do these things, but our older, substantial, conservative fellows, who three or four years ago would hardly spare the time to go home to dinner.

Let no man ever again say Opelika is divided into factions that will never get together. The citizens of Opelika are absolutely unanimous on everything that wears the brand of merit. Sure a faker has a hard time. You can't organize any enthusiasm over a nine way stook company. They do not eat up profit sharing grocery schemes and such like. Did they contribute in an awful hard year ten thousand dollars for a fair? Did they build a $40,000 church? Did they raise $10,000 in fifteen minutes for Auburn and will raise $0,000 more? Did we go over the top in record time on every drive ever put before us? I say we did. These are just a few of the things I happen to think of. Find a case of genuine distress and you can fill a two-horse wagon with supplies on one street. And what is true of Opelika is equally true of Lee county.

But whither have I strayed. The call will go out in a day or two for a mass meeting of all the citizens to organize a chamber of commerce for Opelika. This move has been unanimously adopted by both Rotary and Kiwanis and approved by other business men who are not yet members of either club. This new chamber of commerce will be headed and officered and backed by the older and more conservative business men of the town, while we younger fellows will do the work. With two good civic clubs to weigh and consider propositions and a good live commercial organization to pass them onto for action, we can do anything! And we will.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Under This Head, Articles Pro and Con Regarding Municipal Ownership Will Be Published in the Herald.

MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP OF WATER WORKS

In a paper read before the Public Ownership League of America by R. E. McDonnell, of the firm of Burns & McDonnell, the author states that municipal ownership of water works is rapidly becoming almost universal, giving as the chief cause of the change from private to municipal ownership the desire of cities to "improve the service and to secure good, pure, soft water at a reasonable cost. This American cities are doing. There are now about 5,000 municipally owned water plants in the United States or about five-sixths of all the water supplies are owned by cities. In comparing the people served, it is safe to say that 90 per cent of the nation's urban population gets its drinking water from municipal works. The proportion of municipal water plants throughout the country is shown by the statistics of a few of the states. South Dakota has 100 per cent of its water plants municipally owned; Nebraska has 99 per cent; Kansas has 96.3 per cent; Minnesota has 96.1 per cent; Oklahoma has 93.1 per cent; and Iowa has 91.2 per cent."

Among the advantages of municipal ownership Mr. McDonnell refers to the lower interest paid on loans by municipalities, the reduction of incentive to corruption and graft, and the lower rates possible. Concerning the second, he quotes Francis J. Henry as saying: "After five years of investigating the causes and cure for graft, I bring this one message; I am driven to believe that the public ownership of public utilities is the only cure for graft." Municipal ownership as a rule provides better working conditions, shorter hours and better wages, and consequently fewer labor troubles, strikes in municipal plants being practically unheard of.

"We would not think of placing our fire and police departments under private ownership for profit. These are for the protection of property. Then why have our water departments operated under such conditions?" "Under war conditions, while nearly all privately owned utilities were clamoring for increased rates, 85 per cent of the municipal plants maintained their rates and a few actually reduced them. The municipally owned water plant usually gives rates encouraging industries and promotes expansion of all activities. The records of water rates in the cities that have changed ownership show that within two years after changing an average reduction of 27 per cent has occurred." "If the municipal authorities are to be held responsible for the health conditions, they should have complete ownership and control of the water supply, which is the most important factor in the health, growth and prosperity of any city."

TRUCK By Sanford Celery-fed Man

Oh, You Yeastcake! Why shouldn't every man Try putting a cake of yeast Into his ambition every day Before he goes to work? Yeast is a great upbuilder— Everybody realizes that point. No matter how carefully A baker mixes his materials— Nor how well and thoroughly He kneads his dough— Nor at what temperature He holds his whole workshop— Nor how carefully he adjusts The heat of his ovens— If he forgot to add yeast At the proper time And in the right proportion He's not going to get bread That will please himself, Nor satisfy his customers. Consequently and naturally, then, If a little leaven Will leaven the whole mass, Just think what a fair dose Of the yeast of Optimism Will do for an individual— Or a city—or for a county! Yassum! Just think of it! Then the Yeast of Fairplay! Think a bit about that. A good dose of that yeast, Taken daily before breakfast Will live the torpid conscience And will last the whole day— No matter how much used. If a man decides He'll play the game square— Will use his neighbor As he would like to be used, If all conditions were reversed— He'll live more enjoyably And die much more happily. And "neighbor" doesn't mean Merely those living next door Or just across the street; "Neighbor" means everybody You meet every day— And sometimes at night. Therefore I would suggest That a fair and good quota Of the Yeast of Optimism And the Yeast of Fairplay Be taken into the system At a convenient early hour Each day in the week. After giving it fair tryout For about six months If it isn't a big success And you feel wholly unsatisfied Come to me, right pronto, And I'll give your money back. Yassum. I thank you. —Thorn in Kiss-met.

No, Pauline, Charles Brady is not working on the streets—in the sense that you mean. He is painting the white strips for autos and is doing it by contract. As long as he sings those nice songs for us at the band concerts he will never be pinched.

Sanford went down to cheer up Orlando yesterday. There were one million people at the band concert more or less—and you could not get your car within a block of the band stand.

This column of fun and nonsense wants to commend the business men and the buyers here on the cash basis plan of buying and selling. It keeps all of us busy getting up the mazzuma but we will also miss the collectors every month and also that heavy mail in the P. O. box.

Some of our people coming back from the band concert saw a funny occurrence on the road in which a young lady—strange lady at that—figured. Can't find out anything about it. Watching the other papers for elopement, etc.

Ed. Lane received a present from Frank Miller the other day. It was a nice derby hat. Wonder why Ed. don't wear it? Ask him.

Don't worry about the circulation of the Daily Herald, Pauline. No other daily paper in the state of Florida will ever take the place of the Daily Herald in Sanford.

Now directory gives St. Petersburg to have 21,000 people. New directory of Sanford along these lines would give this city at least 12,000 people. Especially when the band concerts are being held.

TAMPA'S POLICE MEDALS

(By The Associated Press) TAMPA, Jan. 14.—A plan of awarding badges, medals and honor certificates to members of Tampa's police department, has been announced by Chief of Police F. M. Williams.

Each award will be accomplished by a citation reciting the conduct for which it was given. The honors will be bestowed Chief Williams says on those members of the department "who during the preceding calendar year, have rendered that single act of service of the greatest in the line of duty calculated to increase the efficiency of the members of the force."

The decorations will consist of a badge and a medal, the former to be worn by the officer on duty and the medal only on special or formal occasions. A bronze star will be added to the ribbon for each year the holder is again cited for meritorious conduct.

In addition to these, certificates of noteworthy conduct will be given to the officers rendering such service.

Citizens of the United States may rejoice that Ireland has won freedom, but their rejoicing is not unmixed with envy.

THE VEGETABLE GARDEN

No vegetables are as good as those grown in one's own garden, and there is no reason why fresh vegetables should not be a part of the daily diet of every family. At the beginning of the new year, attention should be devoted to the home garden, advise workers of the Agricultural Extension Division, University of Florida.

Now is the time to prepare seed-beds and the soil for the garden. Frosts in Florida are usually light enough not to kill most vegetables, if given the protection of a hot bed or cold frame. This fact makes it possible to produce early vegetables.

It is a good practice to test seed for germination before planting in order to insure a good stand. Small seed, like cabbage and turnip, can be tested on a hot stove. Those that pop have vitality. The dead ones burn. Large seed, like beets, carrots and sugar corn, can be tested by means of the ray doll tester. This consists in rolling the seeds in a wet cloth and placing the roll in a warm location. In about ten days open it and calculate the percentage of sprouted seed.

Another point to consider is that of having a fertile soil. Stable manure is one of the best fertilizers known. It should be well rotted and should have a small percentage of straw to manure. This should be applied broadcast at the rate of ten tons to the acre and thoroughly mixed into the soil. Stable manure raises the temperature of the soil and thus hastens plant growth. Commercial fertilizers should be used at intervals during the growing period as a top dresser to stimulate rapid growth.

Cabbage, cauliflower, collard, eggplant, lettuce, tomato and onion seed can be sowed in the seedbed in January. Do not cover more than three-quarters of an inch deep. Turnips, beets and carrots should be planted in the field as early as possible, if not already planted. Brussel sprout plants should be set also in January. Corn can be planted as soon as danger of frost is over.

An effort should be made to have new vegetables every few days. This can be done by planting new ones between the rows every week or two. Remember that a fertile soil is necessary to keep plants growing rapidly.

DEMAND FOR PRESERVED CITRUS BY-PRODUCTS

The demand is growing for the by-products of the citrus industry, referring especially to those prepared and preserved by housewives and girls.

We have just been informed that one of the biggest hotels in Florida is making special efforts to buy citrus marmalades and other preserved materials of the orange, grapefruit and kumquat. This particular hotel has just placed a large order for marmalade with Miss Estelle Bozeman, conservation specialist of the Home Demonstration Department of the Agricultural Extension Division. This order was filled by Miss Winifred Cannon, of Welaka, a former Putman County club girl and who still works under the direction of the home demonstration agents.

The fact that well-established, experienced business enterprises of the state are calling upon these leaders in home demonstration to locate goods prepared by the club girls and women of the state, that fact proclaims the success and the value of home demonstration work. It means that this work will go on; that the surface which has been merely scratched will be more thoroughly stirred and cultivated; that when the demand by Florida enterprises for home-preserved Florida fruits and vegetables becomes universal, our women and girls will be ready to supply it.

A DAIRY FACT WORTH CONSIDERING

During the last ten years butter has brought the following wholesale prices in the Chicago markets:

In 1911.....	26.2 cents.
In 1912.....	29.9 cents.
In 1913.....	31.1 cents.
In 1914.....	28.6 cents.
In 1915.....	28.2 cents.
In 1916.....	32.5 cents.
In 1917.....	41.1 cents.
In 1918.....	49.5 cents.
In 1919.....	58.3 cents.
In 1920.....	48.4 cents.
In 1921.....	41.0 cents.

The average wholesale price of butter is approximately the average price received by the farmer, if you consider the butter the producer sells directly to the consumer. Therefore the producers of butter are today receiving about two-thirds more for their wares than they received in 1911. Can this be said of the producers of corn, wheat, pork or fruits? We haven't the official figures, but are confident that no such increase in the prices of these commodities has been the farmers'.

We are often given facts which inform us that the normal demands for butter and other milk products are far greater than the supply. Therefore, there is little danger of a big proportionate slump in the prices of these products.

While this prospect coupled with the fact that our state offers unparalleled advantages for dairying, there is every encouragement for the dairyman of Florida to increase his business and for others to go into the business.

Federal reserve notes would strike a more popular chord if they were a little less reserved.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, Our Heavenly Father in His great wisdom has called unto Himself our dear friend and fellow-worker, Mrs. Lulu Harris Bowler,

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Sanford M. E. Church, South, do hereby extend our loving sympathy to her beloved family and we wish to express to them and to her friends, how much we loved her and how sadly we shall miss her. She was such a faithful, earnest worker among us, and had been for so many years. Her life was always an inspiration towards that which is highest and best. A true and faithful follower of Christ, she was ever true and faithful to whatever he called her to do. In losing her we feel that we have lost one of our most faithful members and one of our dearest and truest friends. We shall miss her everywhere, in the choir, in our Mission Study Class, in all our meetings, but—

"Help us dear Lord to know—it is not far To that dear home where our beloved. Dear Savior, take the burden off we pray And show us heaven is but a little way. Altho' it seems so very, very far To that dear home where our beloved are We know, we know It is not so; Oh, grant our faith may hold fast when we say That she is gone—gone but a little way."

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the records of this society, a copy be published in the Sanford Herald, and a copy be sent to her family.

(Signed) Mrs. L. R. Phillips, Mrs. J. K. Mettinger, Mrs. Sallie Lu Griffith, Committee.

Income Tax Returns Have Many Changes Making 'Em Easier

Rules and Changes That are Important to Public in General

The following statement is issued by Collector of Internal Revenue D. T. Gerow, District of Florida:

Forms 104A, revised and simplified, for filing individual returns of income for the calendar year 1921 of $5,000 and less will be available Wednesday, January 18th, at the office of Collector of Internal Revenue Jacksonville, and the following branch offices: Miami, Tampa, Pensacola, Key West.

A copy will be mailed to taxpayers who last year filed a return, but failure to receive the form does not relieve a taxpayer of his obligation to file a return on time—on or before March 15, 1922. The form has been reduced from six to four pages, two of which are devoted to instructions which should be carefully read by the taxpayer before filling in the blanks. A study of these instructions will greatly lessen difficulties heretofore encountered in correctly making out the returns.

On page 1, under the head of "Income" are spaces for reporting the following items: Salaries, wages, commissions, etc., income from partnerships, fiduciaries, etc., rents and royalties; profit (or loss) from business or profession; profit (or loss) from sale of real estate, profit (or loss) from sale of stocks, bonds, etc., and other income. Beneath are spaces for entering deductions, such as interest and taxes paid during the year; losses by fire, storm, shipwreck, or other casualty or by theft, contributions, bad debts, etc.

On page 2 are spaces for entering explanations of the various items, i. e. the total amount of income from business or profession, with description ("grocery", "retail clothing", "drug store", "laundry", "doctor", "lawyer", "farmer") from rents, and royalties, sale of property, etc.

Returns are required of every single person and every married person not living with husband or wife, whose net income for 1921 was $1,000 or more, and of every married person living with husband or wife whose net income was $2,000 or more. If the combined net income of husband, wife and dependent minor children equalled or exceeded $2,000, or if the combined gross income of husband, wife and dependent minor children equalled or exceeded $5,000, all such income must be reported on a joint return or in separate returns of husband and wife.

Miss Nell Walker Mrs. M. Martin

If single and the net income including that of dependent minors, if any, equalled or exceeded $1,000, or if the gross income equalled or exceeded $5,000 a return must be filed. A minor, however, having a net income of $1,000 or $2,000, according to marital status or a gross income of $5,000, must file a return. The requirement to file a return of gross income, regardless of the amount of net income, upon which the tax is assessed is a new provision.

HOW TO KEEP YOUR HAT

No more lost hats. A bright young man in the Wall street section of New York, who had lost several hats, conceived the idea of sticking his girl's photo in the crown of his latest purchase. So far, although he has invited the gentlemen who take "better hats for bad ones" to get his, they have left it strictly alone.

Man. "Man is hard to understand." "What's the matter now?" "He'll go out in the woods for two weeks and let the mosquitoes have a million free shots at him, and never once complain; then he'll come home and kick like a steer if one mosquito happens to find his way into the house."

"THE BIRTH OF A NATION" AT THE STAR THIS WEEK

One of the contributory forces to the great success of D. W. Griffith's screen classic, "The Birth of a Nation" which is underlined the Star Theatre Friday and Saturday of this week, is the great cast which America's foremost screen producer gathered for that spectacle. Gauged by their present earning capacities the price of assembling such a cast would be positively prohibitive. While there are thousands of others in "The Birth of a Nation" the leading roles were created by Henry B. Walthall, Mae Marsh, Lillian Gish, Miriam Cooper, Mary Alden, Josephine Crowell, Spottiswoode Aiken, Ralph Lewis, Joseph Henabery, Raoul Walsh, Donald Crisp, Howard Gaye, George Siegman, Walter Long and Elmer Clifton. After a lapse of a few years, during which time it has been held as the comparative model for every big picture which has followed it "The Birth of a Nation" stands out as the greatest screen achievement of the American picture world. Its recent revival at the Capitol Theatre where it broke all records again demonstrated its powerful appeal to the public. It will be presented here exactly as given recently on Broadway and is still under the personal direction of the great Griffith whose other works have attracted a deal of his time but which have never diminished his interest in this first venture that so thoroughly established his fame.

SANFORD'S TEMPERATURE

The weather is just right if it could be held there for a few minutes. Sun was out bright and pretty this morning and if one of our local groundhogs sees his shadow this morning there will be trouble and clouds and bad times and everything for six months at least. Everything is looking the best, the band played sweetly at Orlando yesterday, we all went down and viewed the tall buildings and the City Beautiful and all of our Orlando friends were glad to see us, especially the ice cream establishments. Have you a little Daily in your home? 5:40 A. M. JAN. 16, 1922

PERSONALS

No advertisements for the Classified or Want Columns of the Herald are taken without cash in advance and none are taken over the telephone. This is made necessary by the mistakes in phone messages and by the extra bookkeeping entailed on the small accounts that take the profits out of this form of advertising.

R. S. Fields, of Orlando, was in the city Wednesday and was registered at the Montezuma.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Stiles of Jacksonville are spending a few days here at the Montezuma.

Mrs. Louise D. Press and Mrs. Alma Heide of Chicago are guests of the H. J. Lehmanns of Palmetto ave.

Mr. J. Heyward Funnin, Jr., of Charleston S. C. is visiting his aunt Mrs. J. St. Clair White, Jr.

Willie Stringfellow and his grandmother Mrs. Alexander of DeLand were in the city a short time yesterday enroute home from Orlando.

Mack Butts of the Nixon Butt Co., of Orlando was in the city Saturday looking after the Essex and Hudson car sales in this part of their territory.

Charles Brady is painting the white strips on the streets for the better parking of the thousand of cars that now stand on the streets ever day and night.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Walker of near Charleston, South Carolina are the guests of their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. St. Clair White, Jr., on West First street.

George Kellar, of Orlando, representing the Mergenthaler Linotype Co., was in the city a few moments this morning enroute to points in the northern part of the state.

Mrs. S. A. Gothe, of Palatka, and Mrs. J. E. Rollins, of Savannah, Ga., were the week end guests of Mrs. B. G. Methvin, leaving Sunday afternoon for Apopka, where they will be the guests of Mrs. Marshall.

Ed. Salter, Johnny J. Jones "Hired Man" was in the city today looking over the suburban lot proposition. Ed says that all of Florida is growing and the show folks can see it as quick as anyone. Ed is well known here and his many friends were giving him a warm welcome.

Miss Edith Stewart, who for the past several months has been instructor of nurses in the Methodist Hospital Philadelphia, has taken an additional work of instructor in Anatomy and Physiology in the Central School for Nurses at the University of Pennsylvania.

SIR EDWARD SALTER HERE

Sir Edward Salter, Director Generalissimo and Maximo and Ultissimo of the Johnny J. Jones Exposition Shows was in the city today and only left after the lights had been turned out and the traffic policeman warned him to stop riding his cane so fast on the city streets. Ed is one of the fattest, best natured richest and most handsome press agents in the business (he admits it) and that is going some. He calls Orlando his home but next to Orlando he likes Sanford and he came up to see how Lake Monroe was enjoying the catfish and the band stand was enjoying Lake Monroe. He sees many changes in Sanford and predicts that in a few years Sanford will be the port terminals for all of the water wagons in the state—also the ships that pass in the night. His millions of friends here were glad to have Ed for a few hours and hope that he will come again soon when he can stay longer.

SEMINOLE CO. FAIR THIS WEEK

Through the combined efforts of the Woman's Club and the Sanford Chamber of Commerce, Seminole county will again have a fair of its own, and the people of Seminole county will have the opportunity of seeing what their neighbors are doing and accomplishing from the fertile soil of the county.

This being the first attempt to revive the county fair and due to the short time the various committees had to complete arrangements, it will not be as elaborate as was originally contemplated. If the event should prove a success, as it no doubt will, the fair will be a fixed annual event in Seminole county and should eventually assume large proportions. However, the various committees promise a very creditable collection of exhibits and Frank Miller, who has handled Seminole County exhibits in the past at all fairs, is very much gratified at his success todate.

Inasmuch as a number of nationally prominent manufacturers have contracted for space and will provide demonstrators to preside at their booths, the fair will include industrial as well as agricultural features. It was for this reason that this as well as subsequent events of the kind will be known as the Seminole County Agricultural and Industrial Exhibit. The industrial display will be an innovation insofar as previous fairs in this county have been concerned, and the Woman's Club, which has had charge of this feature of the fair, have been very successful in the negotiations they have had with outside concerns.

No fair would be complete without a carnival, and the responsibility for the success of this feature has been left to the versatile Charles L. Britt, who has a reputation for originality in this particular line. In addition to the carnival, other forms of amusement will be provided, such as dancing and Captain Atkinson, owner of the good yacht Sanford will be on the job to take out any one who wants a boat ride.

A large number of visitors are expected from all sections of the county, and the Seminole County Agricultural and Industrial Exhibit will attract a great many from nearby counties. A great amount of publicity will be put out this week, and those desiring information as to prizes and exhibits are requested to communicate with Frank T. Miller, who has this matter in charge. The big doings start Friday, January 20th, and wind up the evening of Tuesday, January 24th.

Let everybody in Seminole county assist in making this a real big success thereby assuring future occasions of the kind. Don't forget the dates, January 20, 21, 22 and 24, 1922.

"THE BIRTH OF A NATION" FRIDAY AND SATURDAY OF THIS WEEK AT THE STAR

"The Birth of a Nation" will be the feature attraction at the Star Theatre Friday and Saturday of this week when D. W. Griffith's mighty spectacle will be offered. This is the great attraction which has broken all records in New York City and has also to its credit record runs in Boston, Chicago and elsewhere. It takes four cars to transport the big organization. In the story proper 18,000 people and 3,000 horses are seen. The story tells in thrilling detail the relationship that the rise and fall of slavery in this country bore to the making of American history. It is the greatest achievement ever seen upon the American stage.
