to be online

Gentlemen, prepare your laptops. The Seminole County Commission is on the edge of the computer revolution. No more bulky agenda packages. No more recycling. The politically correct kids are going online.

"When I got elected four years ago they thought I was crazy suggesting this," Commissioner Win Adams said Friday. "No one wanted any part of it."

Defeated in his bid for reelection, Adams leaves office next month. He was around to see the end of the lap dance era in the county and the start of the laptop. Adams will be using one of the laptops at Tuesday's commission meeting. Commissioner Dick Van Der Weide has one, also. The others will be aboard soon.

Randy Morris, the chairman of the laptop kids, won't have his laptop this time. He's waiting until the bugs are out. "It's more difficult for the chairman to work off a laptop," he said. "But being the crafty person that I am, I'll observe how the others work out the bugs," he said.

Ultimately, Morris said the county will be more productive, the commission will operate with greater efficiency and the public will have a better idea of what's happening. Never mind that he may not be the chairman much longer. This will give him some breathing room on his laptop.

It is apropos that the first item on the commission agenda for Tuesday is a Web presentation by Kelly Loll the purchasing manager for the county. Calling up Loll's documents will be good laptop practice for the commissioners.

Right after this, they'll be back to the nasty Battle Ridge comprehensive plan amendment challenge that is needed to make Oviedo and Winter Springs computer and community-friendly.

Another item suited for online purposes is the county's contract with its firefighters. Now, the deal is fireproof.

Wouldn't it have been nice if the nation's founding fathers had laptops and were into sending colonial e-mail messages. Ben Franklin may have wanted Thomas Jefferson to go fly a kite. George Washington could have told the first online lie.

No telling how the county's laptop lads will engage their computers. Hooked-on politics may become popular. If not, Win Adams will be far offline. No one will be able to impeach father laptop.

Win some, lose some Adams.

County expected to Ok firefighters' pay proposal

By Russ White
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - The county's firefighters are optimistic enough about their pending new contract with the county to label the deal as fireproof.

After more than nine years of bargaining, Fire Fighters Local 3254 and Seminole County have struck a two-year agreement that assures each firefighter a minimum of $2,000 adjustment or the sliding scale, whichever is greater. Pay is retroactive from Jan. 1, 1998.

Pay for the firefighters ranges from $20,000 to $40,965. Six of the local's 200 members will be getting a 20 percent raise, said union president Richard E. Criswell. Not all of the top of the ladder firefighters received these raises but Criswell said he was "optimistic" this matter also will be resolved.

The contract will be valid through September 30, 1999 with automatic renewal unless either party notifies the other it desires to modify the contract.

The Board of County Commissioners is expected to authorize the contract when he meets Tuesday. Chairman Randy Morris said he was greatly relieved each side was satisfied.

"We've gone nine years, we've had three dif-

SANFORD - Ellen Schirmer is wearing a new dirndl dress and so do her waitresses at the Willow Tree Restaurant.

Tracy Cole and Christine Dorfmeister seem to enjoy wearing the new outfits, and the compliments they received the first few days from the patrons.

"I might have to let mine out a bit," Cole said.

Don Knight, the owner of Knight's shoes, was one of those enjoying the food and the decor of the restaurant on Wednesday. He was surrounded by other patrons.

To be sure, it's October, and the Willow Tree is looking Bavarian.

Schirmer, the owner, has tripled the size of her restaurant in the last couple of years and tried to set a good example for the others shops and eating

Bobbie Hanson encourages breast exams for early cancer detection.

Early detection can prevent cancer deaths

By Jeana Hughes
HERALD STAFF WRITER

SEMINOLE COUNTY - If knowledge is half of the battle, then American women should be winning the fight against breast cancer. But the American Cancer Society estimates that 43,500 women in America will die from breast cancer this year.

During October, National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, information about detection and treatment seems to be everywhere, but there is still a prevailing 'they don't mean me' attitude.

"Breast cancer is a killer, but it doesn't have to be," said Bobbie Hanson, Certified Nurse Midwife. "If found early it is so treatable." Fear and misconceptions are often the culprits when breast cancer goes undetected.

Hanson, who has worked with Dr. Clyde Climer, with offices in Seminole County, since 1983, said she is seeing an increase in breast cancer among women in their early to mid thirties. Many of these younger women, she said, eat healthy diets and are nonsmokers.

"Breast cancer in young women can be more aggressive and should be aggressively treated," Hanson said.

Risk factors can be controlled to some degree, but early detection is still the best advantage a woman has for ongoing quality of life and survival. Early detection begins with the individual. Women have historically been the caretakers, but they often do not take the same care with themselves, she said.

Breast examination is based on detecting changes for the individual through self-examination and regular check-ups. Women who perform regular monthly self-exams will be familiar with their bodies and be able to pick up something new. Though breast cancer is rare in men similar changes should also be reported to their health care provider.

There is more to self-examination than feeling for lumps, Hanson said. Woman places along First Street. The dimid dresses are her idea. "Dimid means girl," she said.

"I'm excited about what's happening in Sanford," Schirmer said. "We have a chance to make many improvements. It's important that we stick together. I'm disappointed some people are against moving forward. They want to fight the new conference center and waterfront hotel. The merchants are for it. We want Sanford to be the best it can be."

Sometimes it's the little things that count the most. Schirmer expanded the Willow Tree's capacity from three dozen seats to 96 - 60 inside and 36 outside. The enlarged kitchen is neat and clean.

The busiest hours at the Willow Tree begin at 11 a.m. and carry through to 3 in the afternoon. Schirmer prepares a homemade soup each day. On Wednesday it was a tomato bisque. She had a warm Bavarian-style potato salad and a menu that called for a try.

For while the Willow Tree was open on Friday evenings, but downtown Sanford is going to have to be busier for her to continue. As of now Schirmer said the restaurant will be open for Friday Fests, which are part of the Mainstreet program.

"Linda Kuhn is trying to make Friday nights a work in Sanford," Schirmer said. "I hope her Mainstreet promotions go over."

BOYS TOWN USA®

Caring for America's Girls and Boys

In spite of numerous requests over the last two months, a major local daily newspaper declined to print this letter. Boys Town wanted you to know

August 14, 1998

Dear Editor,

I am writing regarding the recent trial of a former Boys Town employee who was acquitted of charges of having sex with a 15-year-old girl.

I feel like a betrayed parent, who has experienced a tragedy in spite of our best efforts. Everything (I mean everything) about Boys Town's work is designed to protect our children. Father Flanagan set that high standard. Actually, the good Lord did. And it will not be compromised. If you hit a child at Boys Town, you will be fired. If you deprive a child of a meal as a punishment, you will be fired. If you fail to immediately investigate a child showing signs of a suicide attempt, you will be fired. That is why my staff also feels like betrayed parents.

Many people today assume that when bad things happen, institutions will simply cover up and make excuses. Boys Town is different. We don't do that. Our tolerance for harming a child is zero. In all the years girls have been at Boys Town, we have never had one girl treated this way! Never! Not even once!

It is awful when people defend themselves by placing the blame on the child involved. That is the easy way out. We don't take it. That would be inconsistent with our mission to provide treatment, safety and care for our children.

Courts have lower standards than we do. For whatever reasons, sometimes a "not guilty" verdict ensues. How sad.

Some people jump to the conclusion: "If there is one bad apple, they are all bad apples." They don't take into account this has never happened before at Boys Town. Our protective systems are sound. Someone broke through.

So please don't become cynical. One bad doctor does not mean you should never see an M.D.

Thank God we caught this early. Thank God those two are gone - drummed out of the corps. The price of helping troubled children is eternal vigilance. Please give us your support.

Sincerely yours,

POLICE LOG

The following reports were compiled from the Seminole County Sheriff's Office for incidents recorded Oct. 8 and 9:

Aggravated battery/attempted murder:

SANFORD, Hartwell Avenue, 2100 block. Oct. 5, 7:11 a.m. A 28-year-old man and a 26-year-old man were arrested for aggravated battery and attempted murder by Sanford police. Police said the arrests were made in relation to a shooting the last Sunday at the Ideas Grocery store on 13th Street in Sanford. A man who had been shot in the stomach arrived at Central Florida Regional Hospital. He told hospital personnel he had been shot by two men he knew, who had driven up to the store in a car. He told police he and the men had been involved in a verbal fight, in a nearby bar, which turned physical. He said he left the bar, and was standing outside the grocery store, when the incident occurred. He told police that the 26-year-old man had shot him from the passenger side of the car while the other man drove.

Criminal mischief:

SANFORD, Southwest Road, 1900 block. Oct. 7. A 19-year-old woman was arrested for criminal mischief in relation to an incident that happened on Sept. 11. Seminole County sheriff's deputies said the defendant and the victim had had an argument. During the argument, the woman reportedly hit the windshield of the victim's car with her hand and broke the glass.

Domestic violence:

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS, Palm Springs Drive, 300 block. Oct. 8, 12:21 p.m. A 23-year-old man was arrested for domestic violence by Altamonte Springs police after he allegedly got into an argument with his wife and he hit her with his fist on the face.

CASSELBERRY, Idlebrook Court, 3700 block. Oct. 7, 12:08 a.m. A 32-year-old man and a 24-year-old woman were arrested for domestic violence by Seminole County sheriff's deputies. The deputies said they had to stop the two from arguing on arrival. According to the arrest report, the two were arguing when the woman hit the man with her fists. He returned with several hits, with his fists. Reportedly, she threw several household objects at him and he tried to restrain her.

FERN PARK, U.S. Highway 17-92, 8300 block. Oct. 7, 8:39 p.m. A 39-year-old man was arrested for domestic violence by Seminole County sheriff's deputies after he allegedly hit his wife in the face with his fists during an argument.

SANFORD, South Park Avenue, 900 block. Oct. 7, 5:27 p.m. A 26-year-old man was arrested for domestic violence by Sanford police after he and his girlfriend got into an argument about turning a light on in their home. Reportedly, the man pushed her in the chest during the argument.

Drugs:

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS, Cypress at Beechwood. Oct. 8, 3:33 a.m. An 18-year-old man was arrested by Altamonte Springs Police for possession of marijuana. Police said they had stopped to question three men in a van parked on the side of the road. The rear-seat passenger was reportedly acting suspiciously. Police said they asked the man to step out of the van and when he did, they found a baggie of marijuana on the floor near where he had been sitting.

ALTAMONTE SPRINGS, Bozelder, 500 block. Oct. 7. A 39-year-old man and a 42-year-old man were arrested for possession of less than 20 grams of marijuana and for possession of paraphernalia. Altamonte Springs police said they executed a search warrant at the house and found three grams of marijuana in the 42-year-old man's room. Police reported a bong in the living room. The 39-year-old man knocked on the door while the search was in progress, and police searched him. In his pocket, they reportedly found some marijuana and a small pipe with marijuana residue.

ferent commissions and finally we're here," Morris said.

"Saying that both sides worked hard for this agreement is an understatement," Criswell said. "We knew what we deserved, and we battled for it. Out of 134 fire/rescue companies in the state we were 82nd in pay. That's what we tried to right. We've succeeded in improving that ranking. And we believe we earned it."

The membership of the union ratified the county's last offer on Sept. 14. There were some changes, Criswell said, and there probably will be more when the two sides negotiate further next month.

On Nov. 18, the union is entitled to reopen the collective bargaining agreement for negotiation of wages only for fiscal year 1998/99.

The budgetary impact for the county varies from $544,744 for 1997/98 to $776,821 for 1998/99 to $988,397 for 1999/2000.

Recommended funding source is EMS Transport Revenue, of which $1,090,894 has been thus far collected in fiscal year 1997/98.

The Seminole County firefighters have had an extremely busy year, on call after the tornadoes and wildfires. Gov. Lawton Chiles made a couple of trips to the county to applaud their efforts. President Clinton did a flyover of the area after the spring tornadoes.

Each of the county commissioners has expressed his appreciation of the firefighters but as a group there wasn't an agreement until the one in the last few weeks.

"We're just about there now," Criswell said. "Tuesday's the day for the commission to close it."

The BCC vote will take place at a public hearing beginning at 1:30 p.m. at the County Services Building, 1101 East First Street in Sanford.

Crash!

Traffic accidents continue to be a concern in Seminole County. On Thursday, a vehicle overturned on Lake Emma Road in Lake Mary near the Longhorn Steak House. On Friday, rescue teams from the Sanford police and fire departments assisted after a three-car collision in on U.S. Highway 17-92 in Sanford.

Cancer

should look for changes in the appearance of the breast. Dimpling or an orange peel look to the skin, skin irritation, redness or discharge are other warning signs according to the American Cancer Society.

"By feeling it you don't have to diagnose it, only know that it's different," Hanson said. "Diagnosis, with the aid of specific tests, is the job of health care providers."

This is where fear often enters the picture. Women delay seeing their health care provider because they are afraid to know. According to the Cancer Society, most breast changes are not cancer. Ignoring the signs will not make it go away.

Modern mammography provides doctors with high quality x-ray images with a negligible risk to the patient. Women still tend to avoid mammograms like a dreaded trip to the dentist, she said.

Hanson strongly encourages women to have a base-line mammogram before age 40 and on the advice of their health care provider when it is warranted.

"Yes, there is some squeeze, but the information could be lifesaving," Hanson said. "And women shouldn't be afraid of a biopsy either," continues Hanson. "If a biopsy is suggested do it."

A biopsy is taking a small amount of tissue and examining it under a microscope to determine if the cells are cancerous or not.

With so many advances in the technology needed for the detection and treatment of breast cancer it is frustrating for health care providers when women allow fear to keep them from the help that is available today.

The future will bring more technological advances in the fight against cancers of all types. A test that identifies a gene associated with breast cancer is being developed, but, because there is no sure method of prevention, it raises ethical questions about what to do with the information.

NASA continues research that improves cancer diagnosis, surgical procedures and drug therapies. Five cancer experiments are scheduled to be conducted during the upcoming space shuttle mission expected to launch Oct. 29.

EDITORIAL

In support of the hotel/conference complex

Since the concept of a hotel/conference on the lakefront was first introduced last year, Sanford has broached the subject from distinctly different views. While the city council embraced the idea unanimously, some city residents had their doubts about whether Ft. Mellon Park was the appropriate site for such a project.

As proposed by the city, more than half of the park would be incorporated into the hotel/conference center and about six acres would remain as a park. The city has earmarked about $2 million for park improvements, which include a boardwalk and pier.

The proposed hotel/conference center created much controversy. So much controversy, in fact, that the city decided to leave it up to the voters on Nov. 3 when a park referendum will be on the ballot.

With careful planning and continued communication with the public by the city, we believe the proposed complex will benefit Sanford in the long run, both economically and aesthetically.

For the past decade, Sanford has worked diligently toward its goal of establishing a historic district, including a number of businesses in the downtown area. Changes had also been in the works for Ft. Mellon Park, which is located off First Street and facing Lake Monroe. Some of the ballfields were to be moved and the park was destined for improvements.

The concept has been approved by several city committees, businesses, and the Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce.

Both, opponents and proponents to the project have been vocal in their views through signs, letters to this newspaper, and the distribution of literature. On Nov. 3, city residents will have the final say.

We believe developing the park as part of the proposed complex is the next logical step for the city. Though other sites have been suggested by opponents of the project, Ft. Mellon Park is the natural choice.

LETTERS

Vote yes to improve park

After learning more about the referendum regarding building a hotel and conference center on a portion of Ft. Mellon Park, I realized that a "Yes" vote means everyone wins—the park is saved, the economy is boosted and Sanford's future improves.

The referendum has allocated $2 million specifically to enhance the park, add a fishing pier and a boardwalk along the lake. Therefore, you don't have to be either "for the park" or "for the conference center." You can be for both.

Many people have the misconception that the hotel and conference center are going to replace the park. That is simply not true. These proposed buildings will be next to the park, which I might add is going to be even bigger than it is today...over 8 acres. (Compare that with the 1.5 acre "Park on Park" and you have a good idea of how big Fort Mellon Park will be.)

Voting "yes" for this referendum gives our community an opportunity to improve its lakefront park. Sincerely, Robert Kuhn Sanford

Boundaries proposed for Ft. Mellon Park

Your lack of action on the proposed stated in my letter to you dated, 5-26-98, has puzzled me. In this letter I suggested that you overlay the boundaries of the proposed Fort Mellon Park Hotel and Convention Center on a map of the existing waterfront area and publish the completed graphic in the Seminole Herald. As the controversy heads ever closer to a referendum, it will be a tremendous help for the citizens of Sanford in assessing the pros and cons of this development before voting.

I again request that this suggestion be implemented. Sincerely, Mack Holcomb Sanford

Just what are we preserving?

This letter is in response to Mr. Bob Kuhn's article entitled, "Just what are we preserving?" In this article, he makes several personal attacks on some of the people who are trying to prevent the destruction of Sanford's Fort Mellon Park. He also makes several ridiculous assertions pertaining to the value of Fort Mellon Park. Mr. Kuhn clearly does not have an objective and disinterested viewpoint concerning this matter. This Sanford business owner evidently believes that the destruction of Fort Mellon Park (for the benefit of outside commercial interests) will provide "economic growth" to Sanford. However, to whose economic growth is he referring? Is he referring to the economic self interests of the tiny number of business owners who own property in the immediate vicinity of the proposed hotel and conference center, and who might conceivably profit from this government giveaway of public land?

Shouldn't our local government work in the best interest

Stick to the facts on the park please

Please, Mr. Groseclose, stick to the facts. It is sad indeed that you attempt to disguise your underhanded tactics by accusing those on the other side of the very things you are doing. That, Mr. Groseclose, is the oldest of political dirty tricks. That said, let's try to confine this debate to absolute facts, which are easily verified, rather than overly emotional pleas and scare tactics. Let's do examine in the light of truth the facts and myths about this important issue.

Fort Mellon Park is Not A Historic Site.

First of all, there is nothing historic about Fort Mellon Park. It was not the site of Fort Mellon. In fact, it was nothing more than a swamp when Camp Mellon existed. The land that comprises the site of Fort Mellon Park did not even exist when Captain Mellon was slain at what was then called Camp Monroe. Ft. Mellon Park was not created until 1935. Prior to that, Fort Mellon Park consisted of approximately 117 platted subdivision lots. Our plans are to upgrade and enhance the park, and anyone with an honest love for this City asset should appreciate that.

It's a Matter of Public Record. How was 6 acres on the east end of the Park set aside? The City Commission from the very beginning was determined to keep a large park element in the development proposal. The City Manager (at the direction of the Commission) was meeting with Joe Pacitti to ascertain the portion of Fort Mellon Park to be leased as the site of the Seminole County Conference Center and Hotel. Mr. Pacitti had proposed a larger portion of the Park to build a long-stay hotel or condominiums, a proposal that was rejected by the City. It was Mr. Pacitti, not Mr. Groseclose or Henry Sweet or any other member of the Society to Preserve Fort Mellon Park, who proposed setting aside the easterly 700 feet for Park enhancements. He did not do this in response to pressure from the Society, but in response to the City's insistence that a large park element be included in the proposal.

Mr. Groseclose, when you and Henry Sweet met with me and City Manager(s) Bill Simmons and Tony VanDerworp, Mr. Simmons was still working on the legal description. He was, in fact, asking me at the time if we wanted to set aside the easterly 700 feet. A legal description doing just that was already in writing before you and Mr. Sweet came to City Hall. When you asked the question (there was no insistence necessary). I immediately agreed that we would use this legal description. So, the facts are that the City Commission from the beginning had insisted on a large park element and there was never a plan to "develop and do away with the entire Park." The "constant and vigilant efforts of the Society" had nothing whatsoever to do with it.

WHAT DOES "YES" VOTE AND WHAT DOES A "NO" VOTE MEAN ON THIS REFERENDUM ISSUE? This is simple. Mr. Groseclose:

* A "YES" vote means that you want Sanford, the County Seat, chosen as the site for Seminole County's Conference Center.

* A "YES" vote means we could have our high school graduations here at home and not have to travel to Orange County.

* A "YES" vote means you want to revitalize our beautiful historic downtown by bringing business conferences and the associated spending to downtown Sanford.

* A "YES" vote means you want to see Sanford restored to its splendor with a historic Hotel as the grand centerpiece.

* A "YES" vote means you want to see Fort Mellon Park enhanced with a fishing pier and marina, a beautiful landscaped boardwalk, gazebos, pavilions, and added playground equipment for our children. And yes, Mr. Groseclose, an improved basketball court and tennis courts for the enjoyment of our citizens.

* A "NO" vote means you are running the risk of not bringing prosperity and revitalization to our historic downtown.

* A "NO" vote would send a signal all over Central Florida that Sanford is not ready to take the lead in our Central Florida Region.

* A "NO" vote would limit the future viability of Sanford's waterfront.

* A "NO" vote will continue the mediocrity of a public asset that has so much poten-

11a). EITHER WAY, THE BALLFIELDS ARE BEING RELOCATED.

The intentional attempts to confuse the citizenry, sir, seem to emanate from the Society. As you know, the ballfields are being relocated to a terrific Sports Complex associated with the Historic Sanford Memorial Stadium—a complex which will house six lighted ballfields and tennis courts. This was planned before there was a conference center idea, and it will be accomplished regardless of the outcome of the November 3 Referendum. You know this well, Mr. Groseclose, because I have personally shown you the plans and briefed you on the development of the Sports Complex. Why do you continue to slant the facts and attempt to mislead the citizenry by telling them the ballfields and tennis courts will be bulldozed? You certainly know better!!

THERE IS NO CHILDREN'S FISHING LAKE!

You know there is no "children's fishing lake", there is only a borrow pit pond dug in the 1950's to fill in the Pump Branch ditch. Yes, there were attempts many years ago to have children's fishing rodeos. This failed in the long run because the lake was too shallow and dirty for fish to survive, and the Fish and Game Commission gave up their attempts to stock this drainage pond. You also know that for years this pond has been posted "No Fishing."

NO MORE SCARE TACTICS, PLEASE! The Marriott Hotel next to the Orlando Expo Center is certainly not a huge building. At 240 rooms, it is not much larger than the Sanford House (200 rooms) built by Sanford's founder, or the Mayfair Hotel at 178 rooms. What this proposal does, Mr. Groseclose, is restore the community social setting and grandeur of a full-service hotel. It is sad indeed that Sanford had more hotel rooms during World War II than we have now.

You state that you firmly believe the conference center represents neither progress nor development. You say it will destroy a generations-old landmark. What landmark? There is no landmark, and we all know the history of this land. It was lake bottom and marsh prior to the seawall construction, and then it was a platted subdivision. How is this a birthright? You talk about the jobs being at minimum wage. Where do you get this from? While there of course will be some entry level jobs, the total payroll and opportunities will surpass $20 million annually. All spent in Sanford! You do not of course mention the jobs that are above average. Why? Nor do you mention the synergy and spin-off benefits that an enhanced park and revitalized downtown area will bring. Why do you think the competition is so keen for the conference center? You know very well it is due to the enormous economic benefits this conference center will bring.

Your comment about corporate welfare is particularly misleading. The developer has not asked for any economic incentives. In fact, he will be investing more than $40 million in downtown Sanford.

How can you say the drainage problems of Goldboro and North Mellonville Avenue have been ignored? Using the Stormwater Utility Fee, the City recently spent $160,000 on North Willow Avenue in the Mellonville area to solve a long-standing drainage problem. We are spending $335,000 on First Street drainage problems that affect the North Mellonville Avenue area. In Goldboro, we have spent $1,700,000 on Mill Creek drainage improvements and are currently planning and financing the Mill Creek Phase 3B improvements in the amount of $2,000,000. Are you desperate enough to spread this kind of misinformation? This is information that you must know the public record ### of all of the people of Sanford?

The vast majority of the residents of Sanford would receive little or not economic benefit from this project. However, this project would certainly be a detriment to the quality of life of Sanford residents. The idea of the plopping down of a huge hotel complex in this small residential community is absurd. Costs resulting from the increased burden on public services and the problems of dealing with increased traffic and crime would more than offset the money derived from increased taxes.

Despite Kuhn's assertions, Fort Mellon Park is a valuable asset to this community. Why should the ballparks, tennis courts, pavilion, trees, etc. be moved to other locations? Why should the citizens of Sanford be required to look elsewhere for a place to walk, fish, and relax? If the construction of a huge hotel complex in this small city is a viable business project, let it be undertaken by private enterprise. Let outside developers look elsewhere for free land.

What are the opponents of this government giveaway trying to preserve? They are trying to preserve a park that belongs to them. They are also trying to preserve the right to control their own city government. Robert McKinnis

Quaint atmosphere

The history and quaint atmosphere of downtown Sanford has always been important to me and my family. When I first heard about the Fort Mellon Park/Conference Center referendum, I was immediately concerned that commercial development of our precious lakefront would ruin what I've loved most about our city. I am relieved to learn that the city had already thought through my concerns. The developer in line for the job (assuming the referendum passes, and from what I've heard it will) has plans to maintain our small-town quaintness in his design of the building. He knows the appeal of Sanford is in its charming locals, long history, and old buildings.

I've seen the sketches of the proposed hotel, conference center and enhanced park and I'm excited to see how beautiful it is. I am voting YES! Sincerely, Lem Howell Sanford

Such sweet sounds

Russ White's column on October 1 entitled "Such Sweet Sounds That Chris Has Found" explained so simply yet so forcefully why Ft. Mellon Park must be preserved. In case some of the Herald readers missed Russ's story, it told of a young family; mother Betty Moore, son Chris, daughter Darrrell and grandmother Mary; and their love for Ft. Mellon Park.

In the article Betty recalled many fond and happy memories of coming to the park in her youth and now bringing her two children to the park.

This letter is really addressed to Betty and her family.

Dear Betty, Please don't despair about the future of Ft. Mellon Park. Be happy and take heart that we live in a country where, we the People, have the power over government to make decisions affecting our lives. We, the voters of Sanford, can and will prove that development has no place in our Ft. Mellon Park!

On Tuesday, November 3, the voters of Sanford will vote for or against development of Ft. Mellon Park for a hotel and conference center. Oh yes, they will leave us a small part on the east end if they prevail at the polls.

If you are qualified to vote in Sanford but are not registered, register to vote. And then on Nov. 3, rain or shine, vote NO on the question of developing our park.

If those of you who may not have decided how you will vote on Nov. 3 need a reason to keep the developers out of our park; remember Betty and her family and the many, many more families and individuals who use the park and the many, many more yet to come who will also continue to enjoy what is rightfully theirs. M.L. "Sonny" Raborn Sanford

Park cannot be sold

Fort Mellon Park cannot be sold or used for other than recreation because he put the park in a trust fund. He died in 1936 or early 1937. The trust was not to be opened until 2004. The City does not own Fort Mellon Park. You cannot build on Fort Mellon Park against the trust fund. Ellen Luder Sanford

Preserving historic sites

Several years ago citizens of Virginia defied the big Mouse from Orlando, AKA Michael Eisner, when he tried to create a historic theme park near Manassas. Why should they allow destruction of their real historic park on such hallowed ground for an outsider to erect an artificial theme park? Logic and indignation prevailed. The Mouse went slinking back to Orlando, incredulous that those Virginians would spurn

Florida business activity is on the rise

TALLAHASSEE - Business activity in Florida was up 1.3 percent, or 5.2 percent on an annualized basis during the second quarter, according to the Wachovia Florida Business Index. In the last 12 months, the index has risen 4.8 percent. By comparison, the nation's real gross domestic product increased 0.35 percent in the second quarter, an annualized growth rate of 1.4 percent.

Of the four major indicators tracked by the state index, three improved during the quarter. Total nonagricultural employment rose 1.4 percent. Residential building permits, which reflect plans for future construction, gained 1.5 percent, and initial claims for unemployment insurance slipped 0.2 percent. The only major indicator to worsen was the average manufacturing workweek, which slipped to 41.8 hours.

The 1.4 percent gain in state nonagricultural employment compared to a 0.6 percent increase nationally. In the last 12 months, employment in the state has risen 4.8 percent, while employment in the nation increased 3 percent.

Florida manufacturing employment declined 0.4 percent during the second quarter, while manufacturing employment nationally was off 0.1 percent. In the state, employment was higher in transportation equipment and electrical machinery. Employment was lower in the non-electrical machinery, lumber, textile, apparel, food processing, paper and printing industries.

Nonmanufacturing employment rose 1.5 percent during the quarter. Employment gains were recorded in wholesale and retail trade, services and construction. Government employment was lower.

The seasonally adjusted unemployment rate for Florida was 4.6 percent in the second quarter, unchanged from the revised figure for the first quarter. The national rate averaged 4.4 percent, down 0.3 percent points from the previous quarter.

The Wachovia Florida Business Index measures the state's economic activity quarterly. Using 1987 as a base of 100, it reflects changes in the real value of goods and services produced in the state. Data are adjusted to smooth can refute. Why do you expose yourself in this manner and then claim that those who support the conference center are guilty of purposeful deceit? The facts, sir, prove unequivocally who is the deceiver.

PLEASE STICK TO WHAT YOU KNOW IS TRUE, MR. GROSE-CLOSE! You also keep trying to scare our citizens by referring to "huge amounts of tax debt to each taxpayer." You know that there are no general tax obligations being used here. That is the real beauty of gaining this economic plum by using Tourist Development Taxes and Tax Incremental Financing for the public portion of this center. It is the tax increment only on the hotel and other private portions, and tourist tax dollars that are used here. That means, Mr. Groseclose, that our citizens have no fear of high tax debts. What a great way to fund a major asset!

You say that the City's promise of $2-3 million in park enhancements is a "distortion of the truth." Who is distorting the truth here, Mr. Groseclose? You try to infer that the piers will be built at each end of the hotel. You know that is not true. The fishing pier will be constructed on the existing breakwater of the Monroe Harbor Marina, west of the hotel. The marina dock will be constructed well east of the hotel in the citizens' park. You have known that since we began discussing this proposal, so why do you insist on distorting the facts? You also know that the boardwalk will be built the entire length of the area from Sanford Avenue in front of the Civic Center all the way to the New Tribes Mission. Why then, would you state that the boardwalk will only be in front of the hotel/conference center? You know that is a deliberate falsehood. The boardwalk, the fishing pier, the marina dock, and the enhanced park amenities will all be Public Park! These are not things the developer needs, these are public improvements, paid for out of the benefits of us being the conference center site. This is not corporate welfare to the developer, and you know that very well.

Your rash comment about purposeful deceit by those in favor of the conference center is pitiful. This letter certainly proves where the purposeful deceit is coming from, and it comes from your article. The facts as presented here are a matter of public record. You know that and yet you expose yourself to it. I must ask why you would do that, when the truth is in the record for everyone to see. I guess you are right-Desperate people do desperate things, dishonest people do dishonest things.

I encourage the residents of Sanford to look closely at all the issues regarding this vote. Talk to the people involved. Call my office with your questions and concerns. I feel confident that voters who know the facts will support the referendum and vote "YES" on November 3.

his overtures. Now in Sanford we have a developer masquerading as a mayor who is not just endorsing but aggressively pushing the development of a hotel/conference center on OUR historic park which the citizens of Sanford have enjoyed for over 60 years.

Does this remind you, less than two years ago this same mayor immediately upon assuming office pushed for approval of an apartment development in the midst of private homes.

Last year the Commission declined to spend about $50,000 to restore the eroded beachhead at the marina so the annual sailing regatta could continue. The regatta moved on elsewhere. This type of event did no harm to the ecology of Lake Monroe. Recently a Commissioner balked at spending about $45,000 for restoration of the gazebo and custodian house at the cemetery and plans were to demolish both. The Sanford Historical Society (not the Sanford Historic Trust) and individual citizens are raising money for gazebo restoration. The city agreed to supply matching funds. Yet at the same time Commissioners are rushing (while being egged on by some members of the County Commission) to approve a hotel/conference center, obligating the citizens for millions of dollars of debt. Where is the logic?

Several weeks ago representatives of the Society for the Preservation of Fort Mellon Park with their attorney arrived at 9:55 a.m. for a 10:00 scheduled hearing before Judge Freeman to file an emergency injunction to stop Ordinance 3430. When they arrived the mayor and city attorney had already left. They had already met with the judge. The judge threw out the emergency classification. The meeting was rescheduled and a hearing was held. The Society's attorney presented extremely convincing arguments; the city attorney, Katherine Reichman, barely spoke, yet Judge Freeman ruled in the city's favor. It was felt a determination had already been made before the society's group stepped into the court room. (It was claimed by the city that 3430 was merely to clear title to the land. It really gave the city the same power as the referendum to be voted on in November.) Was this ethical? Could it be that the judge is a friend of the mayor?

At the 8/10/98 work session the developer/mayor very pompously remarked that he felt when he was elected mayor he had been given a mandate by the people. At the 12/3/98 election, of 17,468 registered voters only 3,653 bothered to vote. Mr. Dale received 876 votes, Mr. Thomas with 1,045 would have needed 1,827 to win. At the following run-off between the two, Mr. Dale received 2,149 and Mr. Thomas 1,543. This is a mandate? What an ego trip.

You've seen the blue and white signs stuck on vacant or boarded up lots by Lon Howell. Don't be fooled by their obfuscation: "Save the park, the fishing pier, the boardwalk, the conference center. What happened to the hotel? The PARK mentioned here is little silver of six acres Mr. Dale would so generously let us keep (until they realize 'Oops, we need that for a parking garage or a fast food shop.'). They'll think of something. It all depends on what the definition of IS is."

Mr. Dale's philosophy as quoted in a recent newspaper is "you should work with the system." Translation: My way or no way.

A hotel/conference center would be fine for Sanford, if built closer to 17-92 or 1-4. NOT IN OUR HISTORIC PARK. There are available sites other than this tranquil setting.

Citizens, will you be like your Virginia neighbors and have the guts to stop this exploitation?

Nell Snow

Clarifying master plan

I write to clarify certain misunderstandings. The mast plan that Duany Plater-Zyberk prepared for Sanford was not approved by the City Council. I therefore have no professional role to play in the current debate on the hotel conference center. However, as I am being quoted anyway by both sides, I must weight in as a disinterested observer. This is what I think:

Although the drawings sent to me are inadequate to make a complete assessment, some initial conclusions can be drawn. The current baseball fields are a utilitarian use that could be served elsewhere. The loss of a portion of the park is tolerable, as some of the world's best parks are small. What matters most is the quality of the buildings that define the parks edge.

In this regard, there are several aspects of the current design that seem negative. First is the removal of waterfront road and its replacement by a boardwalk. The best waterfronts have slow-moving traffic on streets ("Lakefront Drive") that give vitality for the place. Second, all the shops of the current design face the waterfront, therefore presumably giving the parking and service areas towards First Street. With a layout like this one, the retail in the existing downtown will surely wither and die.

Generally, I am worried about his design, although I think that a convention center and a hotel, skillfully and seamlessly woven into the urban fabric, can add vitality to downtown Sanford.

To properly judge, the drawings that I am provided with must show the downtown as a whole, as well as what goes on inside the building.

Sincerely,

We're Voting YES!

On November 3, you will have the opportunity to vote "yes" in the first step of a project that is certain to revitalize downtown Sanford, while also providing residents and business people alike with substantial amenities including:

- ☑ an enhanced, improved and larger park (over 8 acres total), including a public boardwalk along the waterfront, which will connect to a 4.5 mile boardwalk and bike path (from Mellonville Avenue to Wayside Park west of Interstate 4) already funded by the Florida Department of Transportation and scheduled for completion in 2002.
- ☑ a free, public fishing pier.
- ☑ improved basketball facilities open to all city residents, and
- ☑ a conference center and 300-room hotel. The conference center will provide meeting space for business meetings, community functions (such as high school graduations) and private events, such as receptions and family reunions.

How will the project impact existing facilities?

- ☑ The Sanford Museum will remain, with increased exposure and opportunity for expansion.
- ☑ The Civic Center, Senior Center, and Chamber of Commerce will not be directly impacted by any changes, other than to benefit from the enhancements of the park and neighboring areas.
- ☑ Seminole Boulevard will be closed to allow for park expansion and the lakefront boardwalk.
- ☑ Relocation of the baseball fields, which was decided by a Sanford City Commission vote three years ago, will happen regardless of the outcome of this referendum. The City's FY 99 budget includes funds to construct a four-field complex at Chase Park, resulting in improved baseball facilities for our youth.

Longtime Sanford residents and referendum supporters Kay Bartholomew and Loraine Messenger, pictured here in downtown Sanford's Magnolia Square, outside the former office of the Sanford Herald (now the Times Square Cafe), where Mrs. Messenger worked in 1939.

Referendum supporters, from left to right, Rev. Ricky Scott, New Mount Calvary Baptist Church; Rev. Timothy D. Hudson, (Director, Sanford Housing Authority), Shower Down of Blessings; and Pastor Benjamin Adams, Jr., Rejected Stone Full Mission Non-Denominational Christian Church. "A 'Yes' vote means jobs, economic opportunities and a wonderful community gathering place in Sanford's future!"

From left to right: W. Larry Campbell, Branch Manager, Huntington Bank; John Y. Mercer, Huntington Bank Director and Chairman, Community Redevelopment Agency; Amelia and Bill Royster, former Chairman, CRA, and CPA with Greene, Dycus & Company, P.A. "The enhancement of the park is a big plus for downtown Sanford's economic future!"

Paul and Jone Porter (standing and seated on the left) and Cal and Phyllis Conklin (on the right) speak out in support of the referendum, and urge you to vote "yes." The hotel, conference center and enhanced park will be a significant catalyst for community development.

Referendum wording as it will appear on your ballot:

Should the City allow a City park and hotel/conference center on Ft. Mellon Park? To enhance economic development, job opportunities and part amenities for City residents, the City Commission of the City of Sanford is authorized to lease a portion of Fort Mellon Park, to enter into contracts and to authorize development of the Park for a hotel/conference center and City Park complex.

Tribe back on track

Converted defensive back leads Seminole to rout of Oak Ridge

By Kellie Werner
HERALD STAFF WRITER

ORLANDO - Coming off a two-game losing streak, Seminole was looking for some offensive answers and found them in the defensive backfield.

Friday night, the Seminoles traveled to Oak Ridge High School in Orlando, for a Class 5A-District 5 matchup that they had to win in order to keep their playoff hopes alive.

The Tribe (4-2 overall, 2-1 district, 2-1 conference) didn't just win, they came up a blow out with a 42-18 victory over the Pioneers on the strength of sophomore defensive back turned runner Willie Bennett and a potent offense.

After dropping a district game to Spruce Creek and a Seminole Athletic Conference match-up to Lake Brantley in its past two games, Seminole was in need of a win if for nothing other than a boost in confidence.

"We came out prepared tonight," All-America offensive lineman Jeff Faine said. "We had really good practices this week and Coach (Joe) Rago had us in great condition."

"We wore them down. Even though the first half was close, coach told us at halftime that if we stuck with them, we would eventu-

Two of Seminole's brightest stars this year, lineman Jeff Faine (right) and running back Clarence Lattimer (#25, above) had their usual big games, but it was sophomore defensive back turned running back Willie Bennett (#31, above) who led the Tribe to a 42-18 rout of district foe Oak Ridge Friday night.

Faine, a pre-season All-America, opened the running lanes on offense and had a huge sack on defense, while Lattimer rushed for 118 yards and a touchdown to combine with Lattimer, who scored three touchdowns, two in the fourth quarter to put the game away, and a game-high 184 yards rushing in his first game in the Seminole backfield to put the Tribe back into the thick of the Class 5A-District 5 race.

DeLand blanks Lake Howell

By Jeff Berlinicke
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

DeLAND - If the Lake Howell football team has the same song ringing in its ears for the next week, there's a large reason for it.

The DeLand marching band plays its fight song after every touchdown and extra point and, by the fourth quarter, the woodwind section probably needed a few new reeds.

The Bulldogs routed Lake Howell, 51-0 at Spec Martin Stadium.

Lake Howell's only consolation is that it could, and should, have been worse.

DeLand raced out to a commanding 31-0 lead with plenty of time remaining in the first half and had two second half touchdowns called back for penalties.

Lake Howell coach Mike Bisceglia said his team played with heart and never quit, but were simply outmanned by the much larger Bulldogs.

"We were just completely outnumbered and out-manned," Bisceglia said. "Physically we can't match up with DeLand and I don't know if we can get any better."

Bisceglia did praise his team for not quitting despite the huge deficit at the half.

"They're all giving an effort," Bisceglia said.

"We just keep making mistakes. We're going through a down cycle."

It was an especially difficult night for the Lake Howell defense which was overpowered all night. End Curtis Huselman was one of the few bright spots for the Hawks.

The loss marked the third blowout loss this season for the Hawks. Seminole and West Orange have also put up big numbers on them, but nothing like the Bulldogs effort.

By the fourth quarter, starting Hawk quarterback Jesse Hannon was on the bench, replaced by junior Scott Napierata who got pummeled during his two sets of downs. DeLand emptied its bench up 44-0 in the third quarter and sat on the ball the remainder of the game, scoring a late touchdown on a fumble recovery.

The night started well for Lake Howell. The Hawks took the opening kickoff and drove to the DeLand 39 before Hannon was stuffed on a fourth-and-one.

DeLand took over and Kenon Akins, possibly the best running back in Volusia County, ran 54 yards for a touchdown and the rout was on.

Another Lake Howell drive stalled and Dustin

What happened to the promise of a great 1998 season for SAC football teams?

SANFORD - What in the world is wrong with football in Seminole County?

By the way, if you're a Brantley Booster in Altamonte Springs, you can ignore this column. Same thing for Lake Mary fans.

Everyone else, hey, what's up?

What's going on at Oviedo and Lake Howell, two schools who should be fighting for the district title. Seminole should be in the running for the conference title and certainly not a team in the midst of a two-game losing streak before righting the course with a 42-18 rout of Oak Ridge.

Lyman was supposed to be much improved and Winter Springs should at least be a district playoff team in Class 3A.

What happened?

Start off at the county's biggest disappointment, Lake Howell. The Hawks are a small team, but talented in the so-called skilled positions. Lake Howell has a winning tradition and suffered through a 3-7 year last year.

No way that's going to happen twice in a row, right?

Well, 3-7 might not be looking so bad right now. The Hawks don't have any gimmies on the schedule the rest of the way although, if things improve quickly, starting with a win over Lake Mary next Friday, the Hawks can conceivably fight their way back into the playoff picture with a little help.

Oviedo should never be 1-5 at this point in the season. The offense has sputtered and turnovers have caused the Lions constant headaches. Things looked to be turning around after a win over Lyman last week, but the Lions resorted to their previous ways in a 24-14 loss to Gulf Breeze from the Panhandle Thursday.

The Lions are also clinging to slim hopes for a playoff, but both they and the Hawks have lost to DeLand which sits second in the district behind undefeated Lake Brantley who remains on both teams' schedules.

Winter Springs and Lyman were both expected to struggle, but hopes were higher than usual for the Greyhounds. Spring practice was one of the best in years, and a win in Week 2 over Lake Mary provided some promise.

But, as usual, the Greyhounds haven't been able to close the deal when they stay with a team late in the game. Lyman has fought every game to the final buzzer but has only closed the deal over Lake Mary and Winter Springs.

Lyman could easily be undefeated right now.

At the same time, they could be without a win.

The Greyhounds can be an upper-echelon team if they can just learn how to slam the door.

Winter Springs could have clinched a playoff spot in Class 3A two weeks ago with a win over Melbourne Central Catholic. Instead, the young Bears blew a golden opportunity and now face a must-win at Cocoa Beach in two weeks.

Still, give the Bears credit. There aren't any seniors on the team, so mistakes have to be expected.

As for Seminole, okay a 4-2 record isn't so bad, but the 'Noles could be doing much better. The recent two-game losing streak featured sloppy defense and an offense that couldn't score. The 'Noles also lost a chance to take Seminole Athletic Conference supremacy when they were run over by Lake Brantley.

Seminole can still be a threat in Class 5A, but the 'Noles can't afford another slip in district play.

Lake Mary and Lake Brantley have been the surprises. The Patriots are ranked 10th in the state with a bullet and feature the county's most potent offense. Lake Brantley is almost a lock for a district berth.

Then, there are the Rams who, despite a 3-2 record and virtually no chance at a playoff and possibly even another win this year, have already far exceeded expectations with ally wear them down."

That's exactly what happened. Both teams' ended their first drives early when Oak Ridge was forced to punt and then Seminole turned the ball over on a fumble. The Pioneers capitalized on the turnover with a three-yard touchdown run by running back Eric Flowers. A failed two-point conversion kept the score at 6-0 for Oak Ridge.

Seminole then put together a 70-yard drive that was capped with a one-yard keeper by quarterback Garrett Goldsmith on the first play of the second quarter. Matt Nixon kicked the PAT to give the 'Noles a 7-6 lead.

After a huge sack by Faine caused Oak Ridge to punt, Seminole again drove down the field, this time starting at the 15 and Bennett ran in for the 13-yard score. Another PAT made it a 14-6 Seminole lead with 1:15 left in the half.

Oak Ridge switched quarterbacks and on three plays got a 25-yard pass, a 30-yard run, a 10-yard touchdown run by Flowers to bring the Pioneers within two at the half with the score 14-12, Seminole.

On its first possession of the third quarter, Seminole was forced to punt, but a bad snap gave Oak Ridge the ball on the 14-yard line.

On the first play following the miscue, Flowers again entered the end zone for the Pioneers' final score of the night.

Down 18-14, Seminole and Bennett went berserk. But it was Goldsmith that got things started.

On top of completing 5-of-9 passes for 37 yards, all to his favorite receiver Julius Francis, the quarterback scored for the second time on the next Tribe drive with a 24-yard run.

"I had very poor performances the last two weeks," Goldsmith said. "I knew I had to do something. I give the line a lot of the credit. I started out slow tonight and had to make calls from the line, but everything came together in the second half.

"We had great practices this week and the passing game really came together so we used it a little more tonight."

After Goldsmith's score, Seminole was again on top, 21-18 and never looked back.

Bennett rushed for 184 yards and scored two of his three touchdowns in the fourth quarter. The scoring runs of three- and six-yards told only half of the former defensive back's story.

He and Clarence Lattimer, who also scored in the fourth quarter on a three-yard run and racked up 118 yards of his own, split the running duties all night.

Bennett, however, played his first game at the tailback position and may have found his calling. "Our offensive line dominated tonight," coach Seminole coach Jim Worthington said. "But Willie Bennett was the difference for us. He had a cloud over his head all night."

At the end of the game, Seminole had renewed playoff possibilities and a new star.

Seminole will have a much-deserved rest next week before traveling to Deltona for another crucial 5A-5 contest on October 23rd at 7:30 p.m.

It's probable that injured running back Mario Frederick will return to the line up in time for that game. If Frederick, Lattimer and Bennett are all healthy and ready to play, look out Wolves.

Modest Bennett rises to the occasion

By Amy Quentner
HERALD CORRESPONDENT

ORLANDO - Seminole's post-game applause focused on one person Friday night, not a coach or a senior hero, but a sophomore.

After Seminole's victory over Oak Ridge, the team gathered on the field and cheered for sophomore Willie Bennett.

"It was a wonderful feeling, but we all played hard," Bennett said.

The final score was 42-18.

Bennett ran for 184 yards and scored three touchdowns, starting at tailback for the first time.

Bennett started the season in the defensive backfield, but was forced to move to the tailback position after an injury to starter Mario Frederick and a lack of depth in the backfield.

It didn't take long for Bennett to make his presence felt.

In the second quarter he ran for 14-yards to score the team's second touchdown to put the 'Noles ahead 14-6.

In the fourth quarter Bennett scored twice with a six-yard run and a three-yard plunge.

"Bennett had a tremendous game. He has great instincts as a tailback," Seminole coach Jim Worthington said.

Even with 184 yards, Bennett remained modest.

"It is great, but it doesn't mean anything," Bennett said. "It is all for the win."

The team was inspired by a hard week of practice, and a chance at the district playoffs. A loss to Spruce Creek also pushed the team into a focused state.

"We knew that we had to bounce back and play our hardest," Bennett said.

This game held significant meaning for the team, because it put the 'Noles back into the district playoff race.

"We came off of two losses, and we had to win to get back into rank," Bennett said.

Silver Hawks

Ferrell nailed a 23-yard field goal to make it 10-0.

After Lake Howell mounted another drive and moved into DeLand territory, the Hawks turned it over and it took two plays before quarterback Craig Candeto hit Nick Eldridge on an 11-yard crossing pattern to make it 17-0 with two minutes still remaining in the first quarter.

DeLand scored on its first possession of the second quarter when Candeto hooked up with Travis Padgett on a 78-yard touchdown pass. Padgett leaped and put a move on the Lake Howell secondary before running most of the way with the score.

The Hawks tried to come back before it got ugly. They moved to the DeLand 27 before Hannon was picked off and it only took the Bulldogs three plays to score on a Candeto run from the 2. The drive was set up on a 27-yard reverse by Wes Timko.

It was 31-0 before Lake Howell trudged off the field at the half.

The Bulldogs added to the margin on a 24-yard counter run for a touchdown from Eldridge.

and Candeto finished his night with a 70-yard run on the first play from scrimmage after a Lake Howell punt.

Lake Howell tried to run out the clock, but a late fumble was returned 40-yard fumble recovery from Rod Thomas.

The loss doesn't necessarily knock the Hawks out of district playoff competition. Most of the upcoming schedule is loaded with district teams and the loss evened their district record at 1-1 (1-4 overall).

Lake Howell faces Lake Mary at home next Friday at 7:30 p.m. in a make-up of the Sept. 25 game canceled by Hurricane Georges. After that, the Hawks host undefeated Lake Brantley and travel to Lyman for district games.

DeLand has just one district loss (to Lake Brantley) and is 4-2 overall, holding a grip on the second spot in the district playoff race.

Lake Howell quarterback Jesse Hannon (No. 12) was harassed by the DeLand defense all night.

What's Up In The NFL..... Week No. 6

SANFORD Week Six has arrived, and most of us haven't had a chance to catch our breath!

This has been the most exciting start to a season in recent memory. Teams like New Orleans and Atlanta are in the chase to win their Divisions, while the Cowboys and Bills are just staying alive. This week adds to the drama with a number of very good games on the slate.

This may sound familiar, but my patented LOCK OF THE WEEK came in last week...again! I have moved my LOCK record to an unbelievable 5-0 and counting last week's BAND-AID SELECTION for Tony Guru. I stand at a perfect 6-0.

How does that exactly translate into dollars? Assuming you were to have started the season in Las Vegas and wagered $100 on my LOCK OF THE WEEK pick. You took your winnings ($200), went back to Vegas and did the same thing with my LOCK selection in Week Two. You would have then had $400 dollars to sting the bookmakers within Week Three, and you would have been successful.

To make a wonderful story far too short, in five weeks I have turned a reader's $100 investment into a whopping $6,400. That's right folks, six thousand four hundred American dollars.

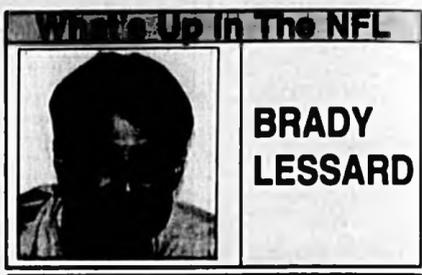

Not a bad return on your money considering the rocky world of Wall Street during the same period of time. Yes, I could rest on my laurels for the rest of the season, but I have an obligation to each of you as a loyal reader.

It is on this crest of amazing success that I will officially withdraw my demand that The Herald reimburse me for the satellite dish and NFL package I purchased during the off-season.

Many of you know that I have been in negotiations for my rightful reimbursement for weeks, today I move on. It seems foolish to argue with management over $150, when THE CRYSTAL BALL OF FOOTBALL has displayed the power to multiply money here in this column.

Enough discussion of economics, let's get back to football.

As anticipated by this reader, the Dolphins folded under the pressure last week, and again proved they will be a mediocre team this season.

son. I warned you all not to get too excited...

Tampa Bay put on their game face to dispense of the offense-free Giants and take a win into their bye-week. The Bucs get a much needed break and I hope they will spend the time finding an offense of their own, besides their defense!

The Jaguars come off their own break for a Monday Night game at home against Miami. They have gotten most of their injured players back, so I look for them to put up a solid effort on national television.

Let's take a look into THE CRYSTAL BALL OF FOOTBALL and find some winners.

DALLAS (-7) VS. CAROLINA
The Panthers quarterback quit this week. That's right, Kerry Collins was too much of a wimp to lead the team to it's fifth loss of the season. Cowgirls 23, Panthers 6.

NEW ENGLAND (-3) VS. KANSAS CITY
I was nearly run off the road the other day by an angry Chiefs fan. I politely explained that I think their coach, Smarty Marty, stinks! Patriots 24, Chiefs 16.

SAN FRANCISCO (-10) AT NEW ORLEANS

This game is a battle of the leaders in the NFC West.

How in the world the Niners can give 10 points to anyone after their debacle in Buffalo last week is beyond me. I know the 'Aints ain't got the talent, but I'm taking them baby! Saints 17, Niners 14.

PITTSBURGH (-3) AT CINCINNATI
In years past this game would have been a no-brainer, however the Bengals have proven they can score points while the Steelers have not. Get in your foxhole...this is a war. TOO CLOSE TO CALL.

WASHINGTON (-3) AT PHILADELPHIA
These teams should be banned from the League. The Eagles would maybe rank just below UCF in the college rankings. Wake me up after this one. Eagles 15, Redskins 1.

BUFFALO (-3) AT INDIANAPOLIS
The Bills tasted blood for the first time last week, but so did the Colts.

I like the fact that the fans are standing behind Manning as he learns, but with Jim "Never Win" Mora as a coach, they may not win no "mora" games this season. Bills 23, Colts 17.

BALTIMORE (-3) VS. TENNESSEE
Game of the week for spectators as the loser becomes irrelevant for the rest of the season. I love both of these teams to continue improving, but there isn't enough room for both this year. Ravens 24, Oilers 14.

ARIZONA (-3) VS. CHICAGO
I'm surprised the Cardinals are giving a field goal in this one with the Bears coming off a solid win against Detroit last week. Once a young team gets out of the box it's tough to stuff them back in. I'm going with Jake the Snake Plummer anyway! Cardinals 20, Bears 17.

OAKLAND (-2) VS. SAN DIEGO
Ryan "Cry-baby" Leaf takes another beating in this one as the Cheaters come home from their road trip.

The Raiders are, without question, the coolest team in the League.

Jeff George is hurt and I'm glad! His heart was never in the game, he needs to take a few weeks to think about that.

"Who's Hollas" Hollas gets the start in this one, the defense will cover for him. Cheaters

23. Chargers 12.
NEW YORK GIANTS (-3) VS. ATLANTA
Wake up!!! Hello!!! The Falcons are no longer the League's doormat, and they will prove it in the Sunday Night game. Week to week, the Giants are WEAK. Falcons 33, Giants 10.

JACKSONVILLE (-6) VS. MIAMI
Mario is tough on Monday Night, but I'm not sure he has the tools to stay in this game for a miracle comeback in the fourth quarter. The Jaguars have the talent to blow this one out early, and I think they will, besides I can't stand Jimmy Johnson. Jaguars 24, Dolphins 13.

Folks this is a VERY tough week, the toughest so far this year. Pick a key game or two and focus! This is no week to be looking all over the schedule for games to play.

I find myself a bit nervous as I put my perfect LOCK record on the line. You as the reader can't begin to understand the pressure I feel on my shoulders as I work diligently each week to give you an "easy win," "money in the bank," "slam dunk," "loot cake" game to play.

With that said, I readily accept the challenge and go with the ATLANTA FALCONS (+3) OVER THE NEW YORK GIANTS as my patented LOCK OF THE WEEK.

The Giants just don't have the offense to keep up with a team that lives by tallying more points than their opponents, rather than keeping them from scoring.

Another comforting fact? If anything happens to Falcon's starting Q.B. Chris Chandler, he is backed up by Steve DeBerg, the crafty fifty year veteran.

I remember seeing him come out of the locker room during half-time with a pin in his throwing hand and nearly lead his team to a playoff victory. He would have if it weren't for Coach Smarty Marty Schottenheimer wasting precious clock in the final seconds. Sweet memories, from a great game!

Enjoy watching your football, and remember, everything else can wait!

FASCAR

Lap race* (Florida Pro Type rules) that pays $2,500 to win.

Also on the schedule will be regular division racing, features only, in the Limited Late Models, Open Wheel Modifieds, Sportsman, Mini-Stocks, Bombers and Run-A-Bouts.

Pit gates open at 2 p.m. with front gate ticket windows opening at 7 p.m. Tickets will be $15 for adults (show your Pepal 400 ticket at the Front Ticket Window for a $5 discount) with kids 11-and-under admitted free.

On Saturday their will be a special ENDURO 125 daytime race that will begin at 1 p.m. and end at 3 p.m. so fans can get to the Pepal 400.

The Enduro will pay $5,000 to win (based on 100 paid entries) and will consist of 125 laps of green flag racing, no yellows and red flags only if a driver is in danger or a car is blocking the track.

Tickets will be $10 for adults (show your Pepal 400 ticket at the Front Ticket Window for a $5 discount) with kids 11-and-under admitted free.

For more information call (407) 427-4129.

ORLANDO SPEEDWORLD
BITHLO in a 25-lap race that took an hour to run, Pinellas Park driver Wayne Jefferson finally broke into the winners circle in Friday night's Late Model Feature at Orlando Speedworld on Oct. 2.

Jefferson took over when pole sitter Debbie Santo spun out on Lap 4 and was never seriously challenged as many of the top competitors, including point leader B.J. McLeod, were involved in either crashes or suffered mechanical failures.

In fact only seven of the 17 starters were around at the finish. Following Jefferson to his first career Speedworld win were Ronnie Roach, Santo, Jared Allison and Jamie King.

Earl Beckner dominated the Limited Late Model run leading all the way to post his first win of the season.

Local driver "wild" Bill Gunn surprised the SARA touring Modified series by posting a convincing 50-lap win.

The victory, however, went to second generation racer Barry Willoughby, who ran a tight race never letting up on Gunn, when Gunn's car was found to have too much left-side weight.

When the checker flew in the Bomber feature, it was again Rich Clouser in victory lane for the 18th time this season. A late race charge netted Charles Fry the second spot ahead of Mike Carr.

Bill Loomis put his new mount into victory lane for the first time in the sportsman class.

Kelly Jarrett put his controversial Toyota into victory lane again in the Mini-Stock Feature with hard charging J.D. Gerard close behind.

Run-A-Bout honors went to Joe Brogan and the 4-Cylinder Bomber feature winner was John Cook.

NEW SMYRNA SPEEDWAY
SAMSULA - The rain was close but not close enough to do more than slow the show in the beginning and wet everything down after the last checker on Oct. 31.

Jack Cook, in the sharp black Bob's Space Racers #96, was back in town and made a grand return, starting sixth and finishing first!!!

What an impressive group of Limited 17 Limited Late Models took the green...sometimes it's hard to tell Late Models and Limiteds apart and to watch them race you have to wonder why they don't just run them together.

But there are major differences between the two...an internal thing!

Mike Murphy ran his Limited Friday and told Rusty Ebersole if he wanted to he could run it Saturday night...if he wanted to...was that a question to ask a racer who hasn't raced in a while!!! Well Rusty did his job well...he came...he raced...he conquered!!! Sometimes relief drivers hold their own!

SARA Modifieds were on the 1/2 mile asphalt oval and when these guys are running no one is talking, they're watching every move!

It was a straight-up win for the second night in a row for Barry Willoughby in the black American Auto #74, who led all 50 laps.

Local driver, Jerry Symons, in the Gene Kelly Roofing black #66 was a close second. The race was light on the cautions and heavy on the racing, these driver's raced tire to tire the entire race...they are scheduled to return to New Smyrna on November 14th.

Rich Clouser had both cars out and took the feature win in the Sportsman after a hard battle with Chuck Vola.

Clouser could not 'double' however as he was unable to hold off Greg Saylor in the Ace Automotive #99 for a win in the Bomber division.

Saylor started outside second row, with Clouser on the inside and Saylor took his car to the front and took the win when Clouser couldn't get close enough to take the lead...hands down a great race!

Bob Doxie was in the winners circle again in his Graham Fabrication Independent Printing black #2 Mini-Stock.

Joe Brogan was back in the winners circle in his #63 Run-A-Bout.

their three wins, and an excellent defensive effort in a 14-7 loss to Lake Brantley Thursday.

Greg Stanton has done a great job turning the program around despite limited numbers on the roster.

Still, the Seminole County schools are getting pummeled outside the county and there has to be a reason why.

Last Second Shot: If the Jacksonville Jaguars knock off the Miami Dolphins Monday night, will Central Florida finally realize that the Jaguars are Central Florida's team? Probably not.

HOROSCOPE

BERNICE BEBE OSOL

Your Birthday

Sunday, Oct. 11, 1998

There could be a number of outstanding opportunities that may come your way in the following year. It will concern things that will make your basic lifestyle more comfortable. Don't let them slip by.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't let your guard down today when dealing with people, especially when courtesy and tact are a must. Lack of forethought could cause you to make impolite remarks. Libra, treat yourself to a birthday gift. Send the required refund form and the required refund form and for your Astro-Graph predictions for the year ahead by mailing $2 and self-addressed stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1758, Murray Hill Station, New York, NY 10158. Be sure to state your Zodiac sign.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be especially careful today about flirting with someone you shouldn't be talking to. Your behavior will be exposed and brought to the attention of others.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Keep your priorities in order today. Devoting too much attention to frivolous pursuits will cut down the momentum to do important things.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) This is an excellent day to take the time to think about what is valuable to you. This will move you away from empty promises and unhappiness.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) If you are suspicious of a social matter today, examine the base cause. Chances are the source comes from an unwarranted assumption about a person involved.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You may experience some confusion today regarding a shared interest you have with a partner. It'll stem from each person possessing unrealistic expectations of the other.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You'll discover today that an alliance you're presently involved with was built on a weak premise. Dump whatever lacks harmony.

A Western cue-bid reprise

By Phillip Alder

In my experience, nontournament players find the Western cue-bid confusing. Yet I hope it isn't as bad as W.S. Gilbert's, "On a cloth untrue, with a twisted cue, and elliptical billiard balls."

To refresh your memory, you know your side has game-going values, but you haven't found a major suit fit. You would like to get into three no-trump, yet you don't have a stopper in the suit an opponent has bid. How do you ask partner if he has a stopper? By cue-bidding the opponent's suit.

Yet what happens if partner doesn't have a stopper? Well, he tries to do something intelligent. (No laughing, now!) Here, North cue-bids three spades to try to get into three no-trump if South has a spade stopper. Without the desired stopper, though, South bids his diamond suit for the third time. Endplayed, North grudgingly takes a shot at game in that suit.

West leads the spade two. Let's assume East takes two tricks there before switching to a heart. How would you continue if in the Southerly seat?

South has to play the trump suit for no losers. The percentage play is to start with low to the queen. When West drops the jack, declarer overtakes his club queen with dummy's king, plays a diamond to his 10, cashes the diamond ace and claims.

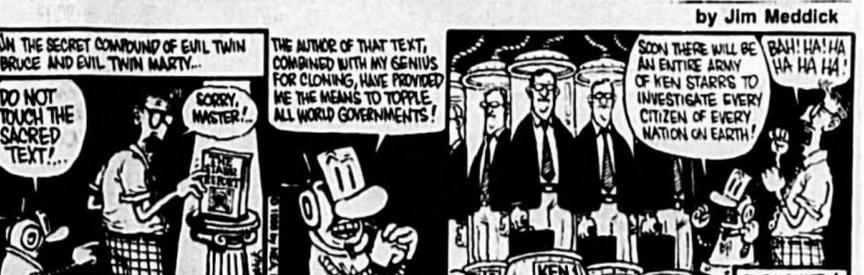

The logic of this cue-bid is as follows: If I have a stopper in the opponent's suit, I can bid no-trump. But if I don't have a stopper, I must have some way to ask my partner for a

Club has history all bottled up

By Shari Brodie
HERALD FEATURE EDITOR

SANFORD - George Scott and Whitey McMillan dig history... really.

Scott and McMillan are members of the M-T Bottle Collectors Assoc., Inc. and between them, have spent a lifetime digging up old bottles.

"I've collected and sold three collections," said Scott, who helped found a club in Sanford in 1961. (Scott and McMillan also helped found M-T in DeLand in 1982.)

Intrigued with bottles since boyhood, Scott remembers the cone-shaped inkwells his grandfather had. Instead of using cork stoppers, his grandfather placed glass marbles on top of the bottles to keep the ink from drying up.

"We'd go over there and take the marbles and play with them," said Scott. "Of course, he'd come in, and give us a rap or two and tell us to put the marbles back."

"This is how you become a bottle collector. You get a pocket full of marbles, and every time you find a good bottle, you throw a marble away. When you lose all your marbles, you're a bottle collector." Scott still has one marble.

McMillan said he started collecting soda bottles.

"The first thing I had, I think, was Nehi's. And then I think I got a hold of a Tri Me or two. See, RC Cola today, originally started as Tri Me, then Nehi got them, and then RC got Nehi."

He also collected Celo cola bottles, a soda bottler located on Elder Springs Road, in Sanford. "I've got one of their trays and one of their bottles."

McMillan at one time had up to 6,000 bottles in his collection.

Bottle collecting encompasses just about any container made of glass. Early collectors started with bitters, McMillan said. Also popular were remedies, balms, currs, milks, perfume bottles, and fruit and canning jars.

Shape factors into the collectibility of a bottle, as does color.

"Color is very important in collecting," said Scott. Some manufacturers used surplus glass to make bottles, so colors varied from time to time. A rare color, such as teal blue or honey amber, can command a higher price on a bottle that is otherwise considered common.

"I did stand at a table one time," said McMillan, "and a guy come up and said, 'how much you want for that fruit jar?' The (other) guy said $3,000. But the guy was a big collector, he wanted that bottle. It was an oddball color and he didn't have it."

Some of the largest collections in the United States are valued in the millions of dollars.

Most of these collectors are "billfold diggers." They don't get their hands dirty.

Whitey McMillan (upper photo) and George Scott (lower photo) participated recently in the M-T Bottle Assoc., Inc.'s annual Tailgate Swap Meet and Picnic held at Cave Lake in west Volusia County. The club meets monthly, except for September, at the Woman's Club of DeLand, 126 Michigan St. The meetings consist of a potluck dinner, a 7:30 p.m. business meeting and a show and tell session. Prospective members are always welcome. Scott and McMillan are old-timers, but they would like to see more young people take up the hobby of bottle collecting. For more information, call Scott at 322-3061.

Herald Photos by Shari Brodie

For Scott and McMillan, half the fun is the digging.

"Research is one of the most important things that a bottle collector can do," said Scott. "If he's got good information about where a homesite is, or a sinkhole. There have been several places around Sanford that have been very productive over the years."

(The property on the corner of French Avenue and Fulton Street, now the site of the Seminole Herald, was once a city dump. Scott and McMillan said a lot of bottles came out of the ground before the property was developed.)

"New Smyrna was good place," said McMillan. "At the Martin house in New Smyrna was a good place."

A trained digger looks for depressions in the ground, behind older homes. "The family history is in every dump," said Scott. "You can tell how many people were in the family and what their ailments were."

Keeping the location of a particularly lucrative sight a secret is one of the trepidations faced by diggers. Rivalries between clubs can start. Scott said the M-T Bottle Club had been digging on a sight in St. Augustine for about six months before a member of an Orlando bottle club discovered the location.

"What had happened. One of the fellows I know from the Orlando club called my house to find out where I was," said Scott. His wife told the man Scott had gone to St. Augustine. The man tricked Scott's wife into telling him exactly where he was digging.

"Well, that was it. That was my secret place." That afternoon, the man found Scott digging near the old water tower. "What we were finding was quite valuable bottles. It's not wise to tell your locations."

While Central Florida is quickly being paved over, Scott and McMillan say there are still plenty of good places to dig.

"There's places to dig, it's getting to them," said Scott. "We had a real fine place in old Seville (circa 1870-1880). There was an old hotel there next to a railroad."

The owner got upset when the children of a couple of diggers ransacked his orange grove. "Nobody has went back to dig there. It's posted from one end to the other."

The club carries liability inurance of $100,000, but it has never been used.

The club holds monthly meetings, an annual swap meet and a show in the spring. "Last year was our 28th year," said McMillan, "which is an accomplishment for any club to stay together."

There are 50 active members, another 150 receive newsletters.

"Most of our members are getting age on them," he said. "There are younger members, but not many."

At the age of 80, one member still digs two to three times a week.

"It's a fascinating hobby," said Scott. "Yes, it is," agrees McMillan.

"It's too bad we can't get more young people interested," said Scott, "cause there's plenty of bottles coming into existence now." New history to dig up.

Vibrant 111-year-old recalls ill-fated Titanic

By Debra Wood
HERALD CORRESPONDENT

Citrus was thriving at Henry Sanford's Belair grove. Peter Demens' sash, door and blind factory was a leading Longwood enterprise and Lake Mary founder Axel Sjoblom had recently staked his claim in the Sunshine State when Sammie Howe entered the world.

In the ensuing 111 years, she married twice, traveled abroad and helped rescue Titanic survivors.

"I was born in Greenville, Ala.," Howe said. "I'm just a tacky Southerner who was fortunate to be in the right place at the right time."

Howe was a young woman of 24 when the ship she was sailing on, Carpathia, made a detour and steamed full speed ahead toward the ill-fated Titanic.

"I was on the rescue ship," she said. "I remember it distinctly--a tragedy, no question about that."

Howe personally cared for a small child, who had spent the night on a lifeboat after Titanic sank, until the youngster could be turned over to family members on shore.

"I remember this woman had a baby and holding the child," Howe said. "I remember it, very sad, very sad. You don't forget things like that."

Howe may not have forgotten the 1912 event, but she enjoys talking about her days as a first lieutenant in the army, living in Europe and her early life in Alabama.

Sammie Earl Angle was born on March 7, 1887. Her dad was a cotton planter and her mom bore 10 children. A favorite uncle desiring a namesake led to Sammie's moniker.

"She was carrying a child, and he asked her to name the baby for him" she said. "She got a girl, but she kept her promise."

The farm family arranged for their daughter to marry Percy Stickney.

"I was married too young," she said.

Howe had one daughter, who died at a young age. After her first husband died, she married for love. Howe lived most of her life in New York City, but resided for a time in Spain and France, where she learned to ride a bicycle.

Although Howe no longer rides, she maintains some command of the two foreign languages. The feisty elder remains alert, continues her lifelong passion for reading. A proclamation from the Social Security Administration attests to her age, but Howe doubts she could possibly have lived to be 111.

"I cannot believe it. I didn't think anybody lived that long," she said. "I can see. I can hear, and I can read the newspaper."

Howe attributes her longevity to following a vegetarian diet. She recalls being quite ill while young and traveling out of state for treatment with a physician who prescribed the meal plan.

It's time for a cool change, Geneva Autumn Festival to be held next weekend

By Shari Brodie
HERALD FEATURE EDITOR

GENEVA - It's fall and time for a weather change, but members of the Geneva Historical Society are thinking hot, hot, hot.

That's what the museum is in the summer, and the society wants to buy a new air conditioning unit, so the group is sponsoring an Autumn Festival to help raise money.

"New date, new time, new format," said Margie Burke, spokesperson for the group. The community has enjoyed an annual Halloween celebration in the past, but the festival scheduled for Oct. 17, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., should be a fun day for the whole family.

Besides the chance to shop for holidays gifts at booths of more than 20 crafters and woodworkers, there will be games with prizes for kids, a moonwalk, a cake walk, pumpkins for sale, a drawing for prizes, food, and a horse and buggy ride.

The games will include a fish pond and a duck pond, a dart throw and a long-time favorite, "The Green Door."

Burke said the full-sized door has smaller doors cut into it. Children may open a door, much like an Advent calendar, to find a prize. But, behind one door is someone with a squirt gun. "The kids just love it," said Burke, "because they want to get squirted."

The moonwalk is a new addition to the usual fun.

The prizes, for the $1 donation drawing, include a color TV, a CD player, an oil painting, a gift basket and a gift certificate from Publix.

Speaking of food, mouth-watering barbecue sandwiches, hot dogs and beverages will be served.

The highlight of the day will surely be the miniature, authentic Timucua Indian village, presented by Andrea Kerlinger, a Geneva resident and living history educator.

Kerlinger travels to local schools, museums and parties with her authentic display. She has made it her life's work to tell the story of the little-known culture of the tribe that predated the Seminoles. Kerlinger will also have a wildlife exhibit with animals native to the area.

The perfect way to wind up the day is with a buggy ride, on Cemetery Road. "It's a nice ride," said Burke.

The event will be held in the Community Hall, First Street, Geneva.

Living history educator and Geneva resident Andrea Kerlinger will set up her miniature, authentic Timucua village at the Geneva Autumn Festival Saturday.

RMH director named

Special to the Herald
ORLANDO (10/11) Lou Ann DeVoogd, veteran advertising and marketing professional, has been named the first executive director of the Ronald McDonald House Charities of Central Florida, Inc.

The announcement was made recently by J. Thomas Chandler, president of the nonprofit organization, which oversees the charity and the operation of the Ronald McDonald House of Orlando.

"A member of the volunteer board when the House was only a dream," said Chandler, "her leadership helped us keep on track from our early years struggling to build the House to the groundbreaking and grand opening, as we welcomed our first guests."

A Michigan native, she began her career in Detroit with the advertising agency handling the McDonald's Restaurant account. Her experience in the advertising and fast food industry continued when she moved to Central Florida. DeVoogd opened and supervised the Orlando office for Louis Benito Advertising working with the McDonald's franchisee and corporate restaurants for more than 14 years.

The organization, which provides a home-away-from-home for parents and siblings of children being treated for life-threatening diseases at local hospitals, has grown and evolved from a six-room Ronald McDonald House opened in 1974 in Philadelphia, into a charity that works with over 200 Ronald McDonald Houses internationally, serving over 3,000 families nightly.

Lou Ann, husband, Richard, and their two children Michael 9 and Robert 7, live in Altamonte Springs.

Winter Springs resident Loretta Finn's ball went in the hole and she won the $1,000 grand prize. Other prizes were awarded for second closest, closest to the HOC flag, furthest from the hole, and for two colored balls. The fundraiser was held at Worldwide Golf Driving Range, Altamonte Springs. Whitehurst is assisted by Hospice volunteer Jim Sebert. For more information on the hospice, call 682-0808.

'Shoo the flu', get your shot this month

Special to the Herald

For most Americans, having influenza simply means a week of discomfort, but for some the flu can be deadly. Every winter, approximately 20,000 Americans die from complications resulting from influenza and/or pneumonia, ranking influenza as the fifth leading cause of death in the nation for people over 65. Sadly, many of those deaths could have been prevented with a simple flu vaccination.

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommends that those in the high risk group and their caretakers get a flu shot every year in October or November. Especially at risk are those over 65 and those with chronic medical conditions such as heart disease, diabetes, lung disease, kidney disease, severe anemia, and conditions which suppress the immune system. The vaccination is also recommended for anyone who wants to avoid the aches and pains of flu season. Flu season typically starts in November and lasts through April, with most cases occurring in early January.

You can reduce your chances of getting the flu by getting a flu vaccination in October or November, humidifying your home during the dry winter months, washing your hands often, avoiding exposure to those who have the flu, and keeping your resistance up by eating a well-balanced diet, getting plenty of rest, drinking plenty of fluids and not smoking. Flu vaccination is recommended every year since the predominant virus changes from season to season. The 1998 Influenza vaccine contains the A/Sydney, A/Beijing and B/Harbin virus strains. It generally takes two weeks to build up antibodies to the virus after receiving the vaccine. Side effects from the vaccine are rare, and might include tenderness at the injection site, or slight fever and achiness for 24 hours. You cannot get the flu from a flu vaccination since the vaccine is inactive.

Flu vaccine is available from various health-care providers and is covered by some insurance plans and Medicare part B. The non-profit Visiting Nurse Association will be holding flu immunization clinics at Publix Supermarkets and other community locations throughout Central Florida between Oct. 1 and Nov. 30. The flu shot costs $10 or Medicare Part B (you must show your Medicare card). Members of HMO plans should go to one of their participating providers. The VNA Immunization Program is for adults who are not allergic to eggs or any components of the vaccine, are not on an antibiotic, chemotherapy, or radiation therapy, and do not have Multiple Sclerosis or Guillain-Barre Syndrome. For more information, call the VNA Flu Hotline at 800-FLU-VNA (358-8621).

WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Todd Russell White

Bridal couple entertained at area reception

Laura Marie Atkinson of Windsor, Ontario, Canada and Todd Russell White of Lake Mary were married in Hawaii on May 4 and in September had their wedding reception at Chatham's Place Restaurant in Orlando.

The bride's father, Brian James Atkinson, and the bride's sister, Lana Atkinson, were among those who came from Windsor for the reception.

Laura met Todd when she was working in the Canadian pavilion at Walt Disney World four years ago. The two make their new home in West Palm Beach, where both are employed.

Todd is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Russell White of Lake Mary. Mrs. White (Dee Dee) is from British Columbia, Canada. Todd's brother, Jason and his wife, Angela, also live in Lake Mary. Todd graduated from Lake Brantley High School, Longwood, and Rollins College, Winter Park.

Jazz pianist Charlie Bateman played at the reception which was attended by 52 guests. Bateman has worked with many of the big names in jazz and played at Nat King Cole's wedding reception.

Oktoberfest coming up

Woman's club plans annual German dinner

October brings on many things including a variety of celebrations other than the night for ghouls and goblins to trick and treat. The holiday season is getting cranked up and organizations are planning numerous fall festivities.

The Sanford Woman's Club will sponsor its fourth annual Oktoberfest on Oct. 23, from 5 to 8 p.m., at the clubhouse, 309 S. Oak Ave. Members are busy decking the halls with authentic German decor complemented with lively German music.

When Oktoberfest was in its infancy, members gathered up their portable sewing machines and met at Buck's Restaurant to sew the colorful costumes the servers wear annually.

Overall chairman Vivian Buck and her husband Richard, are aficionados of German fare and always seek out German restaurants during their travels. This year, Vivian said, she is adding Sauerbraten, tender beef slices marinated in a spicy sweet and sour sauce, to the Oktoberfest menu.

Other items on the menu include: Knackwurst, Bratwurst, German Potato Salad, Sweet and Sour Red Cabbage, Sauerkraut, Green Beans with Spaetzle, Apple Strudel, coffee and marbled bread. Also wine and beer will be available. Admission is $10, adults, and $6, children under 9.

This annual event is designed as a fundraiser to benefit the club's charities. Last year, the club made donations to SafeHouse of Seminole, American Cancer Society, Multiple Sclerosis Foundation, Hospice, and Tornado Storm Relief, among other organizations.

PADGETT TO LEAD SANFORD KIWANIS

The Sanford Kiwanis Club installed officers Sept. 30 in ceremonies at the DeBary Country Club. The newly installed officers began their tenure Oct. 1. Kiwanians and their spouses began the evening with a dinner and social hour.

The Rev. David Liddell, outgoing club president and incoming lieutenant governor for Division 10 central Florida clubs, handed over the gavel to Walt Padgett, local owner of Higgins House Bed and Breakfast, who will lead the club this coming Kiwanis year.

Kiwanis Club of Sanford is one of the oldest clubs in the nation, according to Walt Smith. Founded in 1921, the club continues to support local community needs through 20 to 25 community projects and organizations, Walt said. Florida has more than 325 Kiwanis clubs with over 13,000 members.

Prayer breakfast benefits scholarship fund

"United Prayer Gets Results." They lifted up their voice to God with one accord and said...Lord, thou art God, which hast made heaven and earth. Acts 4.

St. Paul Missionary Baptist Church, and The Christian Education Committee on behalf of The Castle Brewer Scholarship Fund, held their annual Prayer Breakfast. Christians from across the area united in an early morning prayer session. God's people in prayer was presided over by Sister Sheralyn J. Polk. Prayer being the essential ingredient of the meal of the morning.

Musical prelude and solo were presented by Bro. John H. Liggins, entitled "I Am Not Ashamed of the Gospel of Christ." "Ye Have Not Because Ye Ask Not."

wood, after breakfast was served. The Perfecting Dancers of New Covenant Perfecting Ministries, Apopka, danced to the musical selection "He Will Never Put More On You Than You Can Stand."

Pastor DeBretta Taylor of New Covenant, rendered the stirring rendition of the "Lord's Prayer." Pastor Taylor presented her mother, speaker of the morning, Bishop Julia Eleta Whitehurst-Wade.

As the speaker rose to bring the message of the morning, praises were given our Lord and Savior. Words of gratitude were given to her mentor, mother, Christian friend, and to Sister Althease S. Bentley. To share her love for Sister Bentley, she presented a beautiful purple handkerchief, representing royalty to a lady who is a Christian trailblazer. The audience gave a standing ovation to a very special person and one whose idea of this Prayer Breakfast to raise money for the scholarship fund that is given to children and students of the various high schools of the country to further a higher education at the college of their choice.

Bishop Whitehurst-Wade gave power to the words of prayer as she assured the audience that united prayers gets results. God does answer prayers. She reminded us that God has not set anybody aside to be an island. Together we will stand for the Kingdom of God, but we will have to do it together. Bishop Whitehurst-Wade spoke of love. The church must love her Lord God and savior. We must pray and not faint. We must speak His word with boldness. Grace is the power of God working together.

Solist from the audience was asked to render the selection "Somebody Prayed For Me". Remarks of thanks and appreciation were given by Sister Barbara Kirby-Bentley. Thus the morning of prayers made for a Christian fellowship to feed the soul. The Rev. Albert Covington is Pastor. Committee Chairman is David Robinson. Earl E. Minott is scholarship fund administrator.

Historical commission sponsors Girl Scout Day

LAKE MARY

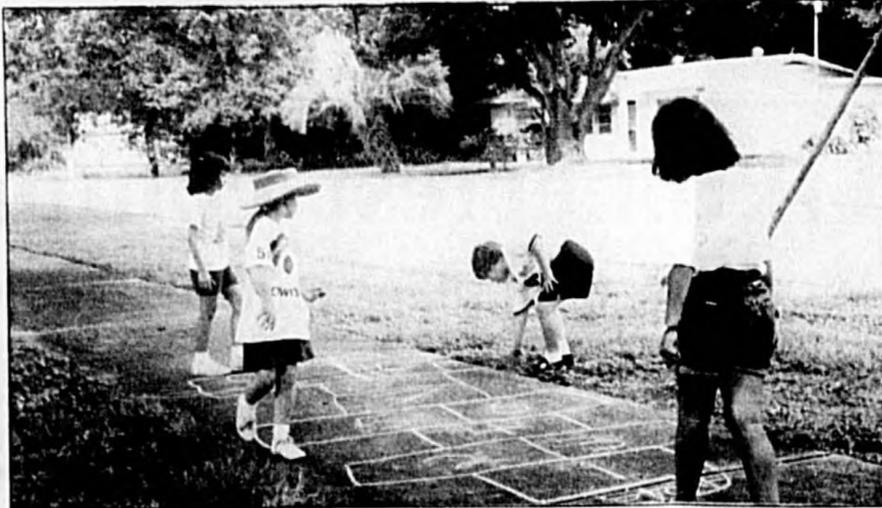

MARY ROWELL

When Lake Mary was first founded, there were no video games or electronic toys for children to play with, no TV to watch. That's what some Brownies from the Stardust Service Unit in Lake Mary learned on Saturday, Oct. 3 when they attended the third annual Girl Scout Day sponsored by the Lake Mary Historical Commission.

The girls had a great time playing old-fashioned games with the help of Historical Commission member Ellen Olaszewski and Girl Scout leader Debbie Swearingen. They played hopscotch, jacks, croquet and horseshoes. (The metal ones, not the plastic ones.)

Commission member and history teacher Jan Blackwelder took the girls on a tour of the cemetery. At the cemetery, the girls looked for the oldest dates, the most unusual names and the most common names. They also did crayon rubbings of some of the headstones. The girls had such a wonderful time at the cemetery that they didn't want to leave. Jan made sure she told the girls that you shouldn't do crayon rubbings everywhere. In some cities, such as Savannah, GA and Charleston, SC where there are a higher volume of tourists visiting grave sites, and where there are older graves, grave stone rubbings aren't allowed.

After the outdoor activities, the girls went into the museum. There, Claire O'Connor told the girls about what life was like when she was their age. She told them what it was like being in one of the first Girl Scout troops in Lake Mary. She also told them how lucky they were to live in a time when medical help is so easily available. When Claire was a little girl, she was bit by a rattlesnake. Fortunately, her father had learned enough from his father, a doctor, that he knew what to do. Claire's father took the fang that was lodged near her ankle out, sucked the venom out and rushed her home. At home, he immobilized the leg and put potash on it to draw at the venom. Claire had to keep her leg still for a while. She told the girls how fortunate she was to survive the bite with no damage. Some people who survived bites before medical care became readily available, ended up with serious damage to the affected area. Mary Jane Duryea also talked to the girls about Lake Mary's early days. Fran Bender took them on a tour of the museum and showed them the kind of toys children played with in the past. They got to look at the diorama of Lake Mary as it was in the early 1900's. The diorama was made by a 5th grade class from Lake Mary Elementary last year. They saw the buildings that were made for the 25th Anniversary. The girls also got to see the sign that for many years hung over the Girl Scout house that once stood in Lake Mary. As the girls were leaving, commission members presented the girls with pencils from the 25th Anniversary and commemorative book marks from the museum. And, of course, they each earned their Listening to the Past Try-It.

STUDENTS VISIT BETHUNE COOKMAN
The Bethune Cookman College 'Wildcat' booster club with John A. Knight as president, cooperated with area churches to transport over 60 Sanford area high school students to Daytona Beach to experience a guided tour of the historical campus sites. The big turn-out consisted of participants from Macedonia Primitive Baptist Church, New Life Word Center C.I.A., New Salem Primitive Baptist Church and Seminole County Crop Program. The great legacy of Dr. Bethune was observable in the continuous growth and development of this institution of higher education. A memorable phase of the tour was experienced as the students visited the home and actual grave site of Dr. Bethune. Other areas of the campus visited were the Male and Female Dormitories, Faith Hall, White Hall, Concert Hall, The New Business Administration Building along with other educational facilities. Bethune Cookman continues to grow rapidly in enrollment which promotes continuous expansion. Sites for additional facilities are already planned. The youth expressed an appreciation for the Christian tradition and African American heritage and culture exhibited at the school. After the tour the group was treated (free of charge) with seats at the B-CC/Virginia State football game. Perhaps it was their unrelenting cheers that finally brought B-CC to a 63-57 victory. Special thanks to Mr. Charles Jackson and Mrs. Catherine Kershaw of the B-CC staff, along with alumna Sheila Dixon who worked diligently to coordinate this successful event. Also thanks to the ministers, chaperons, and parents who encouraged their youth to participate. As a result of your expressed interest the 'Wildcat' booster club looks forward to making this a yearly event.

ANNIVERSARY
Sweet Harmony will celebrate its anniversary, Saturday, Oct. 17. Their fellowship banquet will be held at the Sanford Civic Center at 6:00 p.m. On Sunday, Oct. 18, 2:30 p.m. the anniversary worship service will be held at New Mt. Calvary Missionary Baptist Church, on West 12th Street. The guest speaker will be Sister Diana Perkins of the Fellowship Baptist Church.

FREE CLASSES
The Adult Learning Center at the Sanford Housing Authority, 94 Castle Brewer Court, invites adults to come and be a part of the learning process. ## Da' Bomb hears all...

Da Bomb sez there aren't many concert bands much better than the one Mr. Schwartz has put together at O-Vee-Doh. They sounded awesome in practice the other day.

Whassup with Halloween. Most schools are doin' something and English Estates Elementary was the first to call Da Bomb. They have a fall festival and pumpkin patch Oct. 24 with all kindsa neat things. Give us a call with any other school activities.

Hey some of you parents: Calm down, it's just volleyball. Da Bomb sez no need to berate the officials who work for less than nothing.

Are you signed up for SATs or ACTs yet? Da Bomb sez ya' better hurry it up.

Lyman chorus appears with Shania Twain

By Jeff Berlinicke
ASSISTANT SPORTS EDITOR

The Lyman High chorus is used to singing before big crowds of a couple hundred in the school auditorium. They sing songs they are familiar with before approving family members and friends.

Two weeks ago, about 15 members of the chorus as well as four drummers performed before over 18,000 people. They sang a country song while their tastes are geared towards tastes completely different.

The singers backed up Grammy Award winner Shania Twain during her concert at the Orlando Arena for one song and soloist Biren Gatlin sang with Twain on another song.

How did the whole thing come about? Why was Lyman picked out of dozens of schools in Central Florida?

Turns out that a friend knew an aunt who knew a cousin who knew a friend... something like that.

Anyway, Twain picks a chorus at each of her four stops to sing with her on "God Bless The Child," a gospel-type song, and selects a soloist to perform with her on "What Made You Say That?" from her first album.

Word got to Lyman chorus director Diane Campbell who told her students they had been selected.

Only Gatlin was really familiar with Twain. The rest said they weren't big country fans and described the concert as a fun experience but more "new genre" country than what they expected.

When they got to the arena on the night of the concert, they said they didn't know what to expect but the butterflies were definitely hovering in their stomachs.

They never got a chance to meet Twain. The chorus was gathered backstage before the show, but Twain just nodded and waved in passing before starting the show.

Lyman chorus members said other band members and Leah, the opening act, were a bit more personable.

"She may have just been having a bad day," said April Maldonado. "It happens. She has to do that every night."

Once Twain took the stage, Lyman sat in the seats reserved for them on the floor of the arena. A few of them had parents that had already purchased tickets to the sold-out show.

Then, came the wait. The chorus knew their number was supposed to take place about halfway through the show. But they didn't know when to leave for the stage.

"We didn't know what to do," Michelle Rodriguez said. "We were wondering if we should just go up ourselves."

"We all wondered where the stagehand or whoever was supposed to get us was," Erik Morris added.

Finally, someone got them and it was show time.

The singers said they expected to be shocked to sing in front of 18,000 people but, with all the stage lights blaring in their face, they couldn't see past the first two rows of the arena.

"I didn't get nervous until right before we went on," Nona Butler said. "Then, I realized we couldn't see anybody. We were all in a haze."

The song went quickly. Twain introduced them to the screaming audience as being from Longwood which got a loud ovation and then, the chorus came through.

"We were better on stage than we ever did it in rehearsal," Morris said.

They had one of the loudest fans right behind them, backstage.

"I had complete faith in them," Campbell said. "I stood and shouted the whole time and anyone who saw me knew I was with them."

After the chorus was finished, Gatlin sang a duet with Twain. She had only one hour to rehearse while everyone else went to dinner.

"I just stared at the audience the whole time," Gatlin said. "I just wanted to see my parents."

Four Lyman drummers then came out to perform with Twain on "If You're Not In It For Love (I'm Outta Here)."

Twain left before anyone could say good-bye, but it was a memorable experience anyway.

"It still gives us chills when we think about it," Morris said.

Be a Trailwalker in the Little Big Econ

By Shari Brodie
HERALD FEATURE EDITOR

OVIDO - There are more than 166 miles of hiking trails in 14 of Florida's state forests. With a new program recently introduced by the Division of Forestry, the ardent hiker can be rewarded for hiking all of those miles.

The Florida State Forests Trailwalker Program is the best way to learn about a state forest first hand, said Senior Forester Mike Martin. Martin is stationed at the Little Big Econ State Forest in Oviedo.

Martin introduced the program to a group from the Florida Trail Association at the dedication of a new two-mile trail and certification the trail as part of the Florida National Scenic Trail, on Oct. 3.

The new trail connects to the existing 4.5 mile trail that follows the Econlockhatchee River through the forest to old State Road 13.

In the Trailwalker program, hikers can participate at any of three levels: Beginner, Trailwalker and Trailblazer. On the first level, a total of 10 hikes, in a minimum of five state forests, earns the hiker a Trailwalker patch.

A full-color brochure and an addressed pre-paid post card are located in the kiosks at the trailheads. The hiker fills out the progress record/survey card and mails it to the DOF in Tallahassee. The DOF will send a sticker to affix to the brochure, which logs the hiker's trails and level. When the brochure is completed, it is mailed to Tallahassee and the hiker receives a patch, and a certificate commemorating the achievement, in return mail.

After 10 more hikes, the second patch is earned; the same for the third level.

The three patches together form an interlocking pattern, and can be worn on a vest, jacket or hat.

Other participating forest include Blackwater, in Santa Rosa/Okaloosa County; Cary, in Nassau/Duval County; Goethe, in Levy/Marion County; Jennings, in Clay County; Lake Talquin, in Gadsden/Leon/Liberty County; Lake Wales

Ridge, Polk County; Pine Log, in Bay/Washington County; Point Washington, in Walton County; Seminole, in Lake County; Tiger Bay, in Volusia County; Twin Rivers, Hamilton/Madison/Suwannee County; Welaka, in Putnam County; and the state's largest state forest, Withlacoochee, in Citrus/Hernando/Sumter/Pasco County.

The new trail is not listed on the DOF brochure, for Little Big Econ.

The FTA is a user group which has been involved in the development of the forest management plan from the beginning. Wiley Dykes Sr., the trail coordinator for the Central Florida Chapter, helped with the creation of the new trail. Volunteers who helped with the blazing of the trail included Joan Norris, John Phipps, Les Rhodes, Del Loyless, Lee Suberman, Troy Hager Joan Hobson and Wally Hill.

The trail includes a boardwalk over a marshy area, built entirely with volunteer manpower and with materials paid for by the DOF. The trail takes approximately one hour to hike.

Martin said all of the FTA members, who went on the inaugural hike, could claim the hike for the new Trailwalker Program.

The Little Big Econ is located in Oviedo, between State

Road 419, County Road 426 and Snowhill Road. For more information on the programs available in the forest, call Martin at 366-8063.

Octoberfest to help Trust project

From Staff Reports

SANFORD - The gardens of the Higgins House Victorian Bed & Breakfast will be transformed into a German Bier Garten on Oct. 18, for Octoberfest 98, to help raise money for the Sanford Historic Trust, Inc. Walking/Driving Tour Project.

The Walking/Driving Tour Project is a matching grant project between the State of Florida, Department of State, Division of Historical Resources and the Sanford Historic Trust, Inc. to promote public interest and awareness of Sanford's Historic Districts.

"Visit our German Bier Garten and celebrate the centuries old tradition of Oktoberfest," said Walt Padgett, proprietor of the Higgins House. "Enjoy German music and complimentary beer and wine. Dig into a full buffet of traditional German food including, Bratwurst, Pork and Sauerkraut, Red Cabbage, German potato salad, Fried Apples and much more!"

Tickets for the event are $20 per person, advance tickets only (limited availability). All proceeds go to the Sanford Historic Trust, Inc. Call 324-9238 to order tickets. Tickets may be purchased from any trust member or these Sanford locations: The Martin House B&B, Fences Gift Shop, The Higgins House B&B, Delilah's Antiques & Collectibles, Master Card, Visa, Discover and American Express accepted. The Higgins House is located at 420 Oak Ave., Sanford.

DAYTONA BEACH - The all-professional company of the Seaside Music Theater opens its winter season Oct. 16 with Oscar Wilde's comedy of manners, The Importance of Being Earnest which will run through Nov. 1.

Matrilineal honors fall to long-time SMT regular Lourelene Snedeker in The Importance of Being Earnest. Last seen at Seaside as "Maimie", Snedeker, who will be playing Lady Bracknell, brings back several best actress Carbonell awards from her native South Florida.

The performances are Thursdays through Saturdays at 8 p.m. and Sundays at 2 p.m. until Nov. 1. Tickets are $22 and $20 with youth, college and group discounts available.

The Glass Menagerie, Tennessee Williams' crystalline look at his own dysfunctional family, plays from Nov. 6 through Nov. 15. Barbara Bradshaw, 1994 Los Angeles Dramalogue Award winner for best actress, returns to Seaside to play Amanda, Williams' larger than life Southern mother.

Tickets can be purchased at the SMT box office, 454 S. Yonge St., Suite B, Ormond Beach, (904) 252-6200 or (800) 854-5592.

Craft show

WINTER SPRINGS - The Winter Springs VFW Auxiliary #5405 is sponsoring a craft show on Saturday, Oct. 17. Tables are available.

For more information call Marilyn Mayo at (407) 339-8384 or (407) 265-0213.

Hispanic Heritage celebration

ORLANDO - C Note will perform Oct. 17 at 7:30 p.m. at the Valeneta Community College Performing Arts Center in celebration of Hispanic Heritage Month.

The hometown quartet is a unique blend of English and Spanish that combines soulful acaPELLA harmonies, rich R & B sounds and explosive dance numbers.

Day hike

OVIDO - The Wilderness Trekkers will hold a leisurely six mile hike at the Little-Big Econ State Forest Saturday. Hikers will meet at 9 a.m. at 851 Barr St., Oviedo. Bring your own water and snack. Guests are welcome, no reservations are required.

For details and directions call the Wilderness Trekker InfoLine at (407) 351-9966 or visit its web page at <http://www.geocities.com/~wild-trek/>.

Jazzerthon

ORLANDO - A Jazzerthon presented by Jazzercise will be held Oct. 31 from 9 a.m. until noon in the University of Central Florida Arena to benefit Heart of Florida United Way.

A minimum pledge of $25 is required, but an extensive prize structure encourages high participation. Prizes will include vacation and entertainment packages. This event is sponsored by Florida Power, University of Central Florida, 9 Family Connection and SHE 100.3 FM. For more information call (407) 897-6677, ext. 218.
