Lake Mary Voters Meet Candidates

By Richard Whittaker
Herald Staff Writer

The subject of growth and development was the focal point of many of the questions posed to the 10 Lake Mary City Commission hopefuls at a "Meet the Candidates Night" at the Civic Improvement Association building Tuesday night.

An estimated 110 city residents attended the forum, which was sponsored by the CIA and the Lake Mary Chamber of Commerce. Susan Warren, of the League of Women Voters of Seminole County, moderated the event. Ginger Bowman, Susan Machalek, and president Alda Rowe also represented the league.

The candidates were given one minute to make their opening remarks to the audience. They then answered questions on local issues that were submitted in writing by the audience at the beginning of the evening. They were limited to one minute for their responses.

There are three open commission seats in the Sept. 1 election. Candidates for each seat were asked the same five questions. Candidates from one seat did not have to field questions asked of another.

Of the 15 questions asked during the meeting, seven of them dealt with how the candidate proposed to handle the city's growth. These questions included such areas as development, traffic, annexation, parks, city boundaries, protecting lakes and working with other governmental agencies to plan the area's growth.

Other questions asked by the audience concerned city management, the city charter, the police and fire departments, the cost the city is paying for services and the location of the proposed city hall complex.

All of the candidates said they were impressed by the turnout of voters and other residents for the event. "I think it went very well," said seat one candidate Raymond Fox. "I was pleased by the turnout of the city of Lake Mary."

Frances Pratt, a member of the CIA board of directors said the forum was one of the most attended in her 22 years in Lake Mary.

Pratt said one of the big reasons for the high turnout was the number of candidates in this year's commission races. "We're all very excited to have so many qualified candidates to come out and run," Pratt said. "We (the CIA) feel that shows people are really interested in the future of Lake Mary."

Several of the commission hopefuls said the only major problem with the forum was the limited time they were given to answer questions. "I think all the candidates would agree it would have been nice to have five minutes for an opening statement," said seat four candidate

Commissioners Reaffirm Land Pay Policy

Seminole County commissioners Tuesday night upheld their previous authorization to pay up to 20 percent more than the appraised value for property needed for the Lake Mary Boulevard extension project. However, they agreed with County Administrator Ken Hooper that more guidelines need to be drawn up about when paying that much above appraised value is justified.

Larry Sellers, public works director, said property along Lake Mary Boulevard just east of property owned by the school district has been appraised at $268,000 and a selling price of $305,000, 13.8 percent higher than the appraised value, has been negotiated with the owner. He said although the commission previously authorized payment of up to 20 percent above the appraised value, he was bringing this to the commission because of the amount involved.

Nikki Clayton, county attorney, said the previous authority for paying 20 percent above appraised value was not across-the-board, but would be if warranted by circumstances such as engineering problems or if the property owner had another appraisal for a higher amount. Sellers said purchase of the parcel would damage the rest of the property owned by the same person.

Sellers said the county is winding up its property purchases for the road project, but some purchases yet to be made may be in the $1 million range. He said when large sale prices are involved he will bring those cases to the commissioners before closing the sales. This will be done, he said, to make sure the commissioners approve of the amount above appraised value agreed on between his department and the seller.

'Property Reserve Unlawful'

Citizens Plan Challenge To Expressway Land Law

By Diane Petryk
Herald News Editor

The state statute that allows an expressway authority to reserve property for up to 10 years without compensation to the property owner is "patently unconstitutional" in the opinion of Sanford attorney Bill Hutchison, but it could cost $20,000 to $50,000 to challenge it, he said.

Speaking to about 250 persons gathered for the first Citizens Against the Expressway meeting Tuesday evening, Hutchison said if the citizens want to fight the law he would seek one or two property owners who stand to lose a great deal from the tie-up of their land and make their situations test cases.

Gerri Small, chairman of the citizens group, said today about $1,000 was donated at the meeting to be used in the legal challenge.

The Seminole County Expressway Authority selected a route for the county's approximate 17-mile portion of a beltway around the Orlando metropolitan area July 22. Dropping the consultant-favored Route 53, the authority, on a 5-2 vote, later 4-3 when Sanford Mayor Bettye Smith corrected her vote, chose Route 68, more expensive but preferred by environmentalists. The route is being refined, according to Expressway Authority Director Gerald Brinton, but at the time it was expected to claim 50 single-family homes, 158 multi-family homes, six community facilities and about 15 businesses.

In October the authority will hold a public hearing before placing the final alignment on property ownership maps which will become property reservation maps, Brinton told Tuesday's gathering. He said anyone with a home on land being reserved can continue to live on that property, may sell it or make improvements to it and will be paid its fair market value at the time it is purchased. Raw land and commercial land in the reservation area will be more restricted. Raw land may not be built upon and commercial improvements will be limited to 20 percent of the appraised value of the property.

The land may be reserved for five years with a possible five year extension, he said.

"People have come to my office and said to me 'I've heard you can take my house and not pay me for five years.' That's not true," Brinton said.

But Hutchison had a different view.

"So you can sell your house," he said. "Who's going to buy it knowing the restrictions it's under?" As for being paid the fair market value at the time of purchase, he said the value would have to be determined by comparing the property with comparable property under similar restriction.

"I don't think this will be fair to the property owner."

"Historically and constitutionally our private right to property must give way to the public good, but we must be fairly compensated, right then."

Hutchison spoke of a change in state law in 1984 that permits reservation maps of land where roads are planned.

"Prior to 1984 government determined where to build roads. It could do nothing until it filed suit (for condemnation) and then they did they had to pay you," he said. "With the reservation maps the corridor becomes a 'set-back' area and governmental bodies are pro-

Sanford Bidder Loses Out By $200 Commissioners: Sorry, But Business Is Business

"Business is Business" Sanford Commissioners John Mercer and Bob Thomas told colleague Whitey Eckstein, so Eckstein withdrew his questioning of why a Sanford firm wasn't given a contract to provide street lights when the bid was "just" a little over $200 more than the lowest bidder — an out-of-towner.

Commissioners agreed 3-0 Monday, with Mayor Bettye Smith and Commissioner A.A. "Mac" McClanahan absent, to buy 38 light poles from Graybar Electric Company, Inc., Orlando, for $8,450 and street light accessories from Hughes Supply Inc., Orlando, for $16,600. The poles are to be installed along both sides of U.S. Highway 17-92 from Airport Boulevard to Lake Mary Boulevard.

Eckstein pointed out that the bid for providing the poles from a Sanford firm,

Jones Electric, 3501 Sanford Ave., came in at $8,674, a little over $200 more. He wondered why the company's bid should not be considered in the interest of doing business in Sanford. But both Mercer and Thomas disagreed, saying "business is business."

"It's nice doing business with people in your city," Thomas said, "but if you can save some money, I think the people of Sanford would appreciate that."

City Manager Frank Faison added: "Unless there's a cogent reason to do otherwise, I usually recommend the low bid."

Mercer warned that making exception to the low-bidder-wins policy could set a dangerous precedent. Eckstein conceded that Mercer and Thomas probably had more experience in such matters than he did. He voted to accept the low bids, approved unanimously.

In other business Monday, Thomas, acknowledging it was the request of Mayor Smith at the last work session that the topic be discussed, read a proposal from Eagle Scout candidate Greg Ferguson, Troop 34, Sanford, to build a welcome sign for the city.

Ferguson said the sign would be about 6-foot by 8-foot, constructed of cedar and other long-lasting materials, and on the front would be the words "Welcome to Sanford, the Friendly City" and a facsimile of the city seal. He said the sign would be an uneven hexagon about five feet high and set on posts about one foot from the ground.

Seminole County Growth Hits 40 Percent

By Brad Church
Herald Staff Writer

Seminole County experienced more than a 40 percent growth in population since 1980, a University of Florida study showed Tuesday.

Don Hastings of the county planning department said the study estimates that Seminole County's population increased from 179,752 in 1980 to 254,837 by April 1 of this year — a 41.77 percent increase.

"This is a bigger increase than we were predicting," Hastings said. He noted that the county grew by an average of 10,257 residents per year, but during the last year of the study, April 1, 1986 to April 1, 1987, the county gained 13,544 new residents, which Hastings said may indicate the rate of growth is picking up.

Hastings said part of the faster growth rate in the last year of the study could be due to developers obtaining building permits before county impact fees went into effect, since the statistics are partially based on the number of building permits issued.

The university's Bureau of Economic and Business Research, a part of the College of Business Administration, based the estimates on new electric service customers, the number of building permits issued and the average household size.

The statistics are preliminary statewide estimates that will be used as the basis for various government financing, including tax collection and revenue distribution, and for planning school enrollment, prison population and other purposes, officials said. Local government officials will be able to challenge the estimates.

Florida's growth continued at a phenomenal rate in the 1980s, the study reported. Stanley Smith, associate director of the Bureau of Economic and Business Research, said the state grew by 2,289,845 residents since 1980, or an average 327,000 people a year. That's 895 residents a day.

"In terms of sheer numbers, the growth in Florida's population during the 1980s is outpaced only by California and Texas," Smith said. "The percentage gain during that same period is the fourth-largest increase in the nation after Alaska, Arizona and Nevada."

He added, "Florida still has the highest percentage growth rate of any large state."

Orange County gained 132,209 residents since 1980 and was one of the fastest growing counties in the state.

Smith said that approximately 89 percent of Florida's growth is caused by migration, with only about 11 percent caused by births and deaths.

According to the current estimates, Hernando, Osceola and Flagler counties are the fastest-growing counties in terms of percentages, while Ferguson said the sign would be unique and enhance Sanford's image. He said he could complete it in 45 days and would seek donations to pay for the materials.

But Faison warned three questions must be answered before entertaining such a proposal:

- Does it require a state Department of Transportation permit?
- Does it fit in with the city Scenic Improvement Board's plans?
- Should it be farther south at the city limits?

Colbert also pointed out that there are city sign rules, such as those that set standards for withstanding wind, etc. And Mercer gave the opinion the sign should be professional in appearance.

Commissioners voted to have Faison and staff get answers to the questions raised first, but indicated they did not want to dampen the youth's enthusiasm.

"I feel proud of this young man," Thomas said. Ferguson is an example of the quality youth in the city, he added.

The commission started its 7 p.m. meeting by accepting a $1,333 check from the Seminole County chapter of Mothers Against Drunk Drivers. The money is to provide a cellular phone for the Sanford Police Department's BATmobile, a breath testing vehicle. Police Chief Steve Harriett was on hand to accept the check from MADD President Beth Bridges and Treasurer Pam Tucker. Harriett said earlier the cellular phone would be a boon for the BATmobile, which is often used as a police command post.

Trial Near On Rape, Attempted Murder Of Altamonte Woman

By Deane Jordan
Staff Writer

Trial is scheduled to begin Thursday for two men accused of raping, kidnapping, robbing and trying to kill an Altamonte Springs woman.

The trial is set before Circuit Judge O.H. Eaton Jr. in Sanford for Randal Lavaughn Cole, 27, of Orlando, and Phillip James Savino, 22, of 107 Pine St., Longwood. They are charged with attempted first-degree murder, armed robbery, sexual battery and kidnapping.

The charges stem from an incident May 4 in which a 26-year-old Altamonte Springs woman was found near death in an abandoned orange grove not far from where police stopped the two men in a car in Winter Springs belonging to one of the men.

The men could receive up to life in prison if convicted.

The car was stopped for having an improper license plate by Winter Springs police. The officers noticed the men were blood-spattered. They also didn't believe the men when they said they had been fighting with each other. The officers also saw a woman's purse in the car and confiscated it. A subsequent search revealed $850 in cash on the floor of the car.

A sheriff's deputy and his police dog were called to the scene and the barely alive woman found. She was so severely beaten she could not be readily identified, according to police. Besides the beating, her larynx or esophagus was fractured or ruptured and she nearly bled to death. Barely conscious, she told a sheriff's investigator that two men beat her with a tire iron and intended to kill her.

According to law enforcement reports, the beating followed an argument between the woman and the two men after they got $1,000 from her home and went looking for cocaine to buy.

After the beating, she was "discarded" in the grove, reports said.

In other business, commissioners authorized charging up to 50 cents per telephone line, up to a maximum of 25 lines, for operation and maintenance of the 911 emergency service.

The commission then voted to charge 27 cents per line for those costs for the year beginning Oct. 1. The amount of the surcharge on telephone bills will be reviewed each year and adjusted according to what maintenance and operation costs are involved. The tax is collected by the telephone companies and is applied as a surcharge on monthly telephone bills.

The two measures were unanimously passed after a public hearing at which no one commented on the proposals.

Seminole County telephone customers have been charged 50 cents per line since April, 1986 for the initial set-up costs of the emergency call system. The half-dollar assessment expires Oct. 1, according to state law. The legislatures earlier this year authorized operators of such systems to levy a tax of up to 50 cents for the ongoing operation and maintenance of the systems.

The 911 system allows people to reach a central emergency dispatch system by dialing just those three numbers. The dispatch center then directs the calls to the appropriate agency, whether it be fire department, local police department or sheriff's department, and the system automatically notifies the agency of the caller's name and address.

The commissioners also approved some variations in the site plan for a proposed Sports Unlimited store on the west side of State Road 436 400 ft. south of Casa Aloma Way.

Robert Sabo, appearing on behalf of the store owner, asked the board to change some restrictions imposed when the property was rezoned, mainly that an eight-foot block wall be constructed on the east side of the property, and that camphor trees be planted within a 50-foot buffer area between the business and a residential area.

The property owner requested that a six-foot-high chain link fence, topped by barbed wire, be installed enclosing the 50-foot buffer on the north, south and east. Instead of building a block wall on the east. Sabo said property owners on the other side of the buffer area agreed to this type of fence because it provides security yet doesn't block observation by patrolling law officers.

The commissioners allowed the change, as well as substituting Laurel oak trees for camphor trees in the buffer area.

Iran Under Increasing Criticism From Moslem World Over Riots

JEDDAH, Saudi Arabia (UPI) — Saudi Arabia, with strong backing from the Arab League, says the world's 1 billion Moslems are united in condemning Iran for last month's riots in the holy city of Mecca that left more than 400 pilgrims dead.

But Iranian Prime Minister Hossein Musavi, speaking to foreign journalists Tuesday in Tehran, said international attempts to isolate the regime of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini are doomed to failure.

Musavi's comments coincided with a statement from the 22-member Arab League in Tunis, Tunisia, condemning the "acts of destruction and disorder provoked by the Iranians" in the Mecca riots. Some 275 Iranian pilgrims were among 401 people killed during clashes that Saudi Arabia said were started by Iranian Revolutionary Guards.

Bad Weather Stalls Convoy

MANAMA, Bahrain (UPI) — A northbound convoy of re-flagged Kuwaiti tankers was bogged down in bad weather near the volatile Strait of Hormuz as the Western naval presence in the Persian Gulf region escalated with the approach of more British and French warships.

A heavy haze and Arabian desert sand storms driven by 25-knot winds reduced visibility to several hundred yards Tuesday in the southern gulf and Strait of Hormuz, holding up the tankers and their U.S. Navy escorts, shipping sources said.

Two re-flagged Kuwaiti tankers, the 81,283-ton Surf City and the 79,999-ton Chesapeake City have been anchored in the Gulf of Oman since Sunday, waiting to make the 550-mile journey to Kuwait.

A southbound convoy, which included the mine-damaged supertanker Bridgeton, passed through the Strait of Hormuz Monday after a voyage that included a 10-minute standoff with an Iranian warship.

Owners Extend Strike Deadline

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (UPI) — Hundreds of thousands of black workers today considered new proposals from white-owned mining firms aimed at ending South Africa's mutually destructive 16-day-old mine strike.

The mine owners set a deadline of 9 p.m. today for the National Union of Mineworkers, or NUM, to respond to the offers.

NUM officials said the 330,000 striking black miners represented by the union would be polled today to determine if the terms are acceptable. The strike has affected operations at 56 gold and coal mines.

The Anglo American Corp., worst hit of the six mining houses, said it had extended today's work-or-be-fired ultimatum facing 31,000 workers until after the union has announced its decision. The company had imposed the deadline minutes before negotiations with the union resumed Tuesday.

2 Aquino Protesters Wounded

MANILA, Philippines (UPI) — Security forces today opened fire and wounded two protesters barricading a highway outside Manila as President Corazon Aquino failed to head off the first general strike of her 18-month-old presidency.

Police said several hundred demonstrators refused appeals to allow traffic to move in Bacoor town in nearby Cavite province, prompting soldiers to open fire. Two protesters were hospitalized.

In the Philippine capital, some 6,000 protesters carrying signs denouncing Aquino as an "American puppet" rallied two blocks from Malacanang Palace, the presidential residence, to demand a complete rollback of a 15 percent increase in gasoline prices imposed less than two weeks ago.

The protesters were blocked by barbed wire fences and about 70 policewomen who had been ordered "to smile even if demonstrators throw curses and slogans." Hidden from view were about 1,200 riot police and soldiers, some armed with assault rifles.

School Cafeterias 'Have It Their Way'

Seminole County students will be getting more variety in their school lunches this year because the school district is moving away from county-wide menu planning to allow for more flexibility in the meals it offers.

Eldon Chambers, director of food service for Seminole County schools, said menu planning for the district's 43 schools will now be done on a more regional basis. Chambers said this will allow food service personnel a greater freedom to select planned and a la carte meals with emphasis on the region of the county a school is located. "The south end of the county is growing very rapidly," Chambers said. "A number of our students are not typically from Florida."

Chambers said the region a student is from is an important part of menu selection.

The age and tastes of students of the different categories of schools are also a variable in the new system of menu planning, according to Chambers. Seminole schools are divided into elementary (kindergarten - fifth grades), middle (sixth - eighth grades) and high school (ninth - 12th grades) categories.

Chambers said the food service department ended last year serving an average of 27,000 meals per day. The student population at the end of last year was 42,968. School employees also figure into the number of meals the district is serving.

Chambers said schools are already saying the first day of school this year was their busiest day ever. School administrators reported 40,839 students attended classes Monday.

Lake Mary OKs Bond Issue

The Lake Mary City Commission has approved the negotiated sale of $3.2 million in public improvement bonds by Southeastern Municipal Bonds Inc. at an interest rate of 7.273 percent over 20 years. The bonds are to help pay for a new city hall.

The commission rejected two other bank loans for the money as being too risky.

A projected $6.1 million will have to be spent during the 20 year period in buying back the bonds. This includes interest money to bond investors.

The funds generated by the sale will be used exclusively for the acquisition, construction and equipping of the city's proposed city hall.

According to the bond agreement, construction on the project is estimated to begin this November. The city hall complex will also house the city's police and fire departments.

The city is still in the process of purchasing the land on which the city hall complex will be located. The commission voted in July to buy a seven and a half acre site on the northwest corner of Old Lake Mary and Country Club roads for $620,000.

Barnett and Sun Banks both made presentations of loans they were prepared to offer the city at the commission's meeting last week. Although the commission regarded the interest rates of the loans being offered by the banks as low, it was leary of the "put" clause both included in the loan contracts.

Barnett Banks guaranteed its rate for the first 10 years, then the rate would be subject to renegotiation. Sun Banks made two offers. One guaranteed the rate for three years and one for five years.

Lake Mary City Treasurer Madeleine Minns said the "puts" would mean the city would have been under obligation to make balloon payments on a loan from either bank. "With a balloon payment you either renegotiate the loan when the bank wants to or you pay it off," she said.

The commission decided against the bank offers because full-payment of the loan could have been required after ten years.

Governor Dubious Of FHP Allegations

TALLHASSEE (UPI) — Gov. Bob Martinez disclosed Tuesday he may not back Secretary of State Jim Smith if Smith tries to fire high-level Florida Highway Patrol officials.

The governor's comments were a further sign that Leonard Melton, director of the Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles, and Col. Bobby Burkett, FHP director, may be about to ride out a campaign for their ouster being fomented by a labor union.

Martinez said he has heard nothing but "innuendos and rumors" about management problems at the highway safety department and the FHP, housed within it. He will have to be presented with concrete facts before he would conclude "a good job by management is not being done."

The governor, during a brief news conference, also discounted reports that trooper morale is poor. He noted he reports have come mainly from the union representing troopers, the Police Benevolent Association, and he said "morale" is an over-used term in labor relations.

Smith, who has close ties with the PBA and is a long-standing critic of Melton and Burkett, said Monday he will put off any formal move to oust Melton until he sees the results of a survey of FHP trooper morale being done by the PBA.

Melton serves at the pleasure of the governor and six Cabinet members. Smith, who was appointed secretary of state less than a month ago, needs three votes plus his own to make a change in directors.

He tried while a high-level aide to Martinez earlier this year to oust Melton, but Attorney General Bob Butterworth and other Cabinet members who support the highway safety and FHP leadership prevailed.

"I have indicated we should hear about morale, but nothing has been shown to me, other than information dealing with issues between the PBA and management of the highway patrol," Martinez said. "And unless something specific is shown, I'm still not in any position to make a judgement that a good job is by management is not being done. I want to wait for some real evidence instead of the innuendos and rumors I normally hear about."

He will not necessarily be swayed by the PBA report if it concludes trooper morale is dismal and blames Melton and Burkett, the governor said.

"I don't know. I haven't seen the questions (in the PBA survey). But, generally speaking, morale is a very heavily-used word in the field of collective bargaining. It tends to be used constantly by unions, and I can understand it. I used it myself a few times. Therefore, I'm always dubious when the word morale is used in terms of arguing with the administration."

Martinez was leader of a Hillsborough teacher's union in the 1970s.

Smith said Monday he will review the results of the trooper survey before deciding whether to push for Melton's dismissal.

He promised to end his attack on Melton if the study finds that troopers are not demoralized as PBA officials have contended.

"I'm not going to mount a suicide mission," Smith said. "People know how I feel. If the poll comes back and shows otherwise, I would be delighted — and I would shut up."

Melton and his supporters have said that if there is any morale problem in the patrol, it is only among "good old boy" troopers unhappy with efforts to increase the number of minority and female officers.

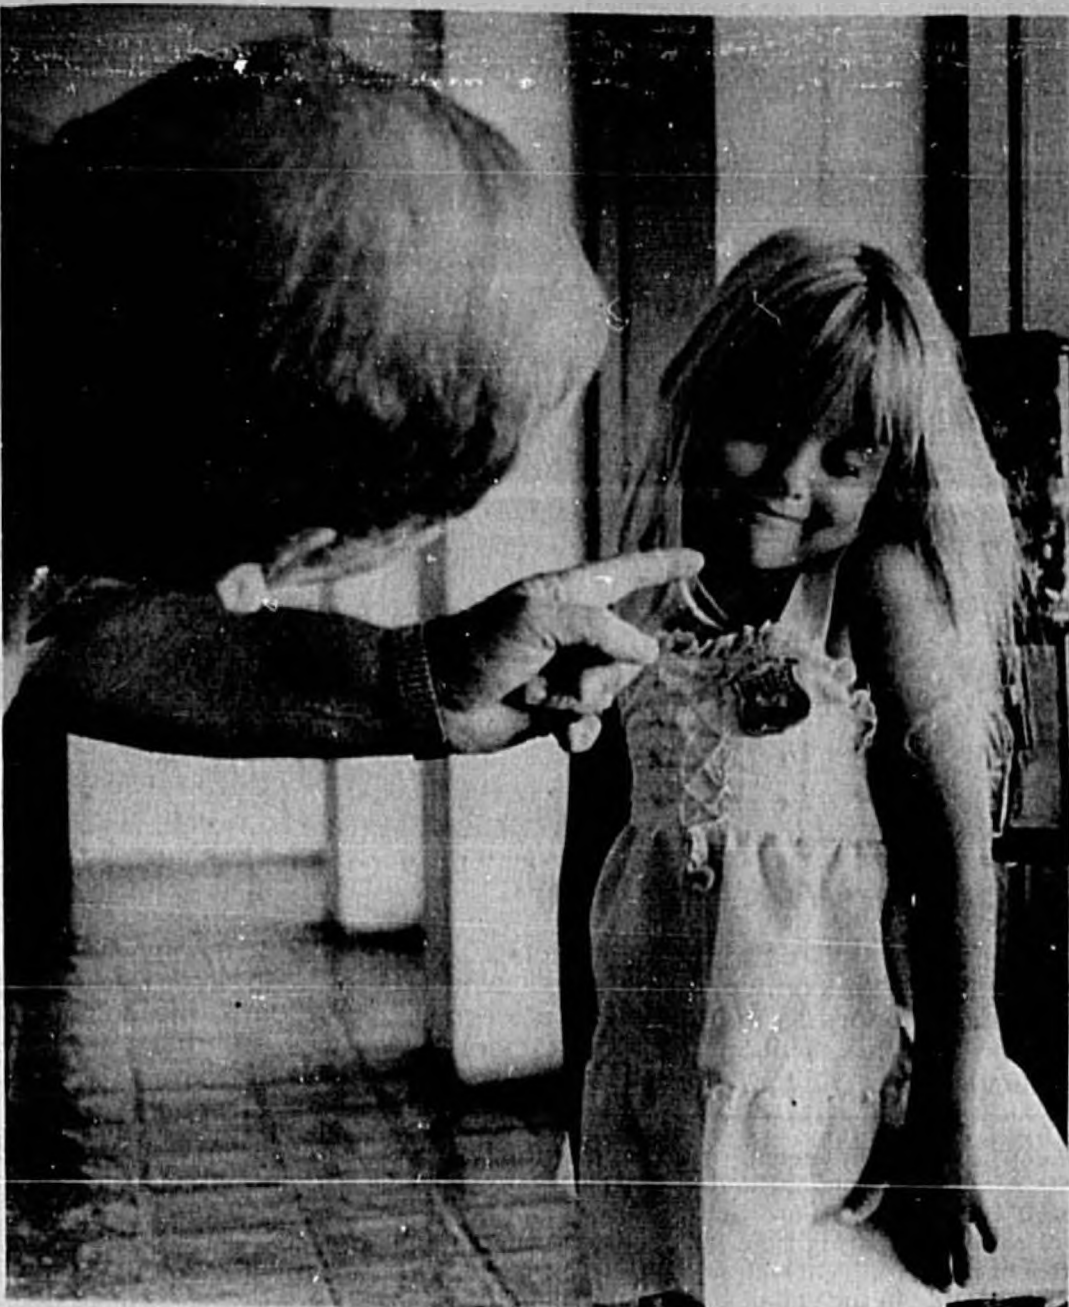

Panhandle Fish Kill Persists

PENSACOLA (UPI) — Nearly two tons of dead fish are scooped from a bayou each day, and public works officials said Tuesday that the latest fish kill, with a pungent odor, could last another two weeks.

Fish kills occur in Pensacola area bayous nearly every year and primarily in late summer. Usually the first fish kill of the season is in Bayou Chico, which last year had its worst kill in a decade.

But this year the problem hit Bayou Texar first. Residents said they began noticing the tiny menhaden fish floating in the water late last week. Officials said it could last at least two more weeks.

As in previous years, public works officials blame this year's kill on recent steady rainfall that dumped storm water runoff into the salty bayou, hot temperatures, spawning menhaden fish, and some pollution.

Rotundo and Chief Steve Harriett gave all the children badges that read "Junior Police, Sanford Police Department." Brandy is the daughter of Teresa and Mark Christensen, Deltona. Leach Lost? Jays Summon Seattle Police

United Press International Seattle police say Toronto outfielder Rick Leach, who failed to show up for the Blue Jays' Tuesday night game against the Mariners, did not board the team's charter flight from Seattle.

The police today sent an investigator to the Warwick Hotel, where Leach was staying. Leach's wife Angie and a team official remained in Seattle. The team left Seattle on a charter flight at 11:30 PDT and were scheduled to arrive in Toronto about 6:50 a.m. EDT.

Team spokesman Howie Starkman, contacted in Toronto, confirmed Leach failed to show up for the game. Starkman said Leach was scheduled to start, but never got on the team bus and was not seen by any of his teammates.

The last person apparently to have any contact with Leach was his wife, who called him from the lobby of the club's Seattle hotel at 4:20 p.m.. Leach, 30, played right field in Toronto's 7-3 victory over Seattle Monday night, going 2 for 4 with two RBI, including the game-winner.

Dunne Shuts Out Lackluster Reds

United Press International The Cincinnati Reds are showing none of the enthusiasm their manager did during his playing career. They lost again Tuesday night, falling four games behind first-place San Francisco in the NL West. Mike Dunne pitched a two-hitter and Johnny Ray drove in the game's only run, helping the Pittsburgh Pirates extend Cincinnati's losing streak to five games with a 1-0 decision.

Dunne, 8-5, recorded his first major-league shutout and the fourth complete game of his rookie season. The right-hander struck out seven and walked one and is now 5-1 in his last nine starts.

Cincinnati's slide appears doubly puzzling because as a player, Reds Manager Pete Rose always showed the ability to take control of a game. Now, despite leading the division for most of the summer, the Reds are fading from the race. Rose has criticized his players, but Tuesday night he praised the foe.

Nurses In Florida Form Commission

Nurses have formed the Commission on the Future of Nursing in Florida. The state has been divided into regions. The Central Florida has been designated Region III and includes the following counties: Orange, Volusia, Brevard, Seminole, Lake, Osceola, St. Lucie, Indian River, Okeechobee, Glades and Martin.

Each county group will be represented by nurses from the following functional areas: home health, long term care, education (school/hospital), acute care, licensed practical nurse, management, and public health.

Each region has formed a task force to handle activities for the following areas of responsibility: scope of practice, education resources, manpower needs, nursing care needs, education, and implementation.

The purpose and function of the commission has been established with five priorities. They are as follows:

- The first year will be primarily utilized for data gathering.
- The commission should be concerned with making a determination regarding what nursing should retain as "nursing functions." This should be addressed by the task force on scope of practice.

• The commission should be involved with public relations. The public needs to be educated and informed about nursing practice. Commission members must work to inform all the many different types of nurses about the commission so that they may be represented.

• Commission meetings must be open to all nurses and other interested parties where appropriate.

• The status of licensed practical nurses must be considered. Educational mobility and funding is an issue.

The first Region III meeting was held June 22 at Valencia Community College with 33 nurses attending representing our 11 counties.

The next meeting for Region III is set for Oct. 7 at the UCF Center at Brevard Community College Cocoa Campus. All commission meetings are open to all nurses. During business sessions, voting is restricted to commission members only.

Getting Married

Engagement and wedding forms are available at The Sanford Herald, 300 N. French Ave. The completed forms may be accompanied by a professional black and white photograph if a picture is desired with the announcement. For information, call 322-2611.

Cook Of The Week

When It Comes To Culinary Expertise, P.K. (Preacher's Kid) Is Chip Off The Old Blocks

By Dorothy Greene
Herald Correspondent

Our Cook of the Week, Valorie Floyd of Lake Mary, has the perfect blend of ingredients in her recipe for daily living and that usually results in close family ties that last a lifetime.

Mrs. Floyd, who readily refers to herself as a P.K. (preacher's kid), is the daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Darwin (Jeanne) Shea of the Upsala Community Presbyterian Church and says that her joy for cooking probably started because her parents and grandparents were so good at it.

"I think I came by it honestly," she says. "My folks have always enjoyed cooking, and as soon as us kids were old enough, and had the desire and the curiosity to learn, we were welcomed into the kitchen. It was always a very comfortable thing. It was an enjoyable thing, but doing the dishes wasn't, of course. That was a chore. It was never a fun part."

Mrs. Floyd recalls that many times some very important discussions took place over the kitchen sink while doing the dishes. "Mom remembers that as being fun because she says those were some of the times we would talk, even about some serious things because when you're doing the dishes you're not looking directly into the eye of the person you're talking to — you're drying the dish and putting it away and all. You're just kind of very relaxed. It was a time when you felt very close."

Her interests in homemaking became more important during her early high school years in home economics classes. "I started to learn to sew at that point," she says, "and there again, I'd come home and Mom would reinforce what I'd learned at school and help me out there. My home ec teacher, Miss Moasholder, had a way about her that was neat, and she inspired us to do our best and I appreciated that a lot."

children, three girls and three boys, who made her way into the world in Chickasaw, Ala., then on to upstate New York with her family at an early age. "I have memories of going back to visit my grandparents and aunts and uncles, usually in the winter," she says. "We got to play outside and make angels in the snow. One of my best memories is of visiting my uncle's dairy farm toward the end of the summer. It had the silo, the hayloft, and everything, and I got to play with my cousins. Uncle Bud would be milking the cow and he'd squirt you! And he's squirt milk into the cat's mouth." To this day, Mrs. Floyd says, her family teases her about the feeling she gets when passing a cow pasture. "There is an odor in the air," she laughs, "and while everyone is holding their noses, I'm going, 'oh, that smells so good.' They laugh at me, but I tell them that the reason it smells so good to me is because there are so many good memories connected with that smell!"

Sunday afternoons were special at the Shea household, according to our cook, "because that was the one day of the week that Dad could relax," she says. "It was a family day. Sometimes Dad would make fudge from a recipe on the back of the Hershey's Cocoa container, and he has a cinnamon roll recipe that he would experiment with. He's one who likes to play with recipes and try to get them perfected. He would take a large stainless steel container and make several batches of his oatmeal cookies. He'd make big cookies, not little, dinky cookies. And they were great dunkers. I think one of his secrets is the molasses. Anyway, he's finally got it perfected, and we told him, 'you've got it, Dad, — don't mess with it any more!'"

Our cook is a graduate of Lyman High School and attended nursing school in New Orleans for a short time before becoming an aide in physical therapy at Winter Park Memorial Hospital. "I thoroughly enjoyed it," she says. "I think the part I enjoyed the most was working with people, being with people, helping people. It really seemed to satisfy something in me that was a need."

It was while working at the hospital that she met her husband, Randy. "It was my one and only blind date ever," she admits. "His cousin was dating a real good friend of mine, so it was a double date. He laughs about finding out that I was a P.K. as they were coming down our road to pick me up. He didn't know if he wanted to go out with a P.K., but when they pulled up in the driveway and saw a Harley Davidson in the garage, he thought 'Well, they can't be all that bad.'" After dinner in a German restaurant followed by a show, Mrs. Floyd sums up her blind date by saying, "It was really neat. It was a beautiful evening." That was in January of 1986, and Valorie and Randy were married on Oct. 27 that same year. "He was the right one," she says. "We had a sunset wedding. I even called the weather bureau to find out what time the sun would set on that day, and the invention was something like 5:17. During the

Serve Flavorful Potatoes In A Variety Of Ways

Probably the one vegetable that most people have tried microwaving is the potato. Baking a potato with the microwave oven is quick and easy. There are many other ways to prepare potatoes using the microwave, but for some reason many hesitate. In general there are two basic kinds of potatoes. The russets which produce a drier and fluffier baked potato, and the moist red or white potatoes that hold their shape and are best used for salads and stews. New potatoes have tender skins and are freshly dug of any variety. These usually have a higher water content and are good steamed and creamed.

you'll want to try some of these convenient and tasty recipes. The potato is a good source of nutrients. A baked potato yields 145 calories.

The flavor of this potato dish goes well when fish is the main course.

LEMON BUTTERED POTATOES

3 medium potatoes
3 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons grated lemon peel (fresh)
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Paprika
1/4 cup Parmesan cheese
Peel potatoes and cut into small uniform chunks. Place butter in small bowl and melt in M/W on 100% power 30-45 seconds. Add lemon juice and rind to the butter. Pour over potatoes and stir to coat. Cover and M/W on 100% power for 4-6 minutes. Stir. Sprinkle with paprika and Parmesan cheese. M/W on 100% power 6-8 minutes or until potatoes are tender.

Potatoes and onions are a good combination for flavor. The paprika gives the color needed. One would think the potatoes were pan-fried.

POTATO ONION BAKE

4 medium potatoes (peeled and sliced)
1 medium onion, sliced
1 teaspoon parsley
Dash of pepper
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
Dash paprika
Combine all but salt and paprika. Dot with butter. Cook covered 15-17 minutes on high. Stir 2 times, let set 5 minutes. Sprinkle with paprika before serving.

When preparing a ham or other meat loaf for dinner, serve these quick, delicious scalloped potatoes. No need to turn on that conventional oven and heat the kitchen ... use your microwave oven.

SCALLOPED POTATOES AU GRATIN

4 medium potatoes, peeled and thinly sliced
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup grated cheddar cheese
1 cup milk, scalded
2 tablespoons butter
Paprika
Arrange half of the potatoes in bottom of greased 8-inch casserole dish. Combine flour and salt; sprinkle one half of mixture over the potatoes. Spread one half of the cheese over flour. Repeat layers of potato, flour, and cheese. Pour hot milk over potatoes, dot with butter, and sprinkle with paprika.
Microwave on 100% power, uncovered, 12-14 minutes, or until potatoes are tender. Allow to stand 5 minutes before serving.

Left-over potatoes can be put to good use, such as with meat for hash, or other vegetables and eggs for a frittata or this simple breakfast or lunch special.

BACON-POTATO SCRAMBLE

2 slices bacon
1 medium cooked potato, diced
3 green onions, chopped
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, well beaten
Dash of pepper
M/W bacon on 100% power 2-3 minutes or until crisp. Drain bacon. Place onions and potatoes in a shallow 1 quart dish and M/W on 100% power 2-3 minutes. Add eggs, crumble bacon, salt and pepper. M/W on 85% power 2-3 minutes or until eggs are soft and moist.
1 tablespoon green pepper may be added, or 1 tablespoon pimiento.

A hash brown that can be served with a burger or roast beef, that's what this recipe using a frozen potato makes.

Woman Wants Pants To Fit Her Shape

DEAR ABBY: Have the people who make ladies' slacks lost their minds? My age is 62 and

I'm going into my "golden years" kicking and screaming. My weight stays between 115 and 118 pounds, but there's a world of difference between my shape and the shape of a young girl who weighs the same, so why don't the clothing manufacturers take this into consideration?

Why can't they allow for fallen fannies, and that little potbelly that we can never get rid of?

We don't want stretch polyester with the crease sewn in — we want cottons that fit! If there's an elastic at the waist, fine, but it shouldn't be so tight we can't breathe. Anything over a size 10 usually has legs so wide they flap. Why do these manufacturers think everyone has such wide ankles?

There really should be a size group somewhere between Junior Miss (too tight— and Ladies size 10 (too big).

Abby, maybe you can get this message across to the manufacturers so women my age can dress in comfort and style. Tell them we've got the money to spend on the right garment, but we don't want to throw it away on things that don't fit. Thanks for listening.

LITTLE OLD LADY IN TEXAS

DEAR LADY: You told'em. Let's hope they're listening. And to quote Dorothy Parker: "Women in slacks should not turn their backs."

DEAR ABBY: "Falling Short in Cleveland" might enjoy the comment of Carlos Romulo. He was a newspaper editor, aide to Gen. MacArthur during World War II, Pulitzer Prize winner, Philippine ambassador to the United States, president of the General Assembly of the United Nations — and short.

Once, before speaking to a large audience in Dallas, everyone stood to sing the national anthem. The insensitive chairman who introduced Gen. Romulo looked down on him and asked, "How does a little fellow like you feel in this bunch of tall Texans?"

Dear Abby

The general smiled graciously and replied, "I feel like a dime surrounded by pennies."

J.E.B., LA JOLLA

DEAR J.E.B.: Beautiful. Thanks for an item that will be appreciated (and probably quoted) by people of all sizes. Read on:

DEAR ABBY: What's all this lately about short people and how they are made to feel inferior and shortchanged?

I am here to tell you that nature dealt this girl a lousy hand for the opposite reason. At 15, I was 5 foot 11 inches tall — and I had not yet reached my full height.

You don't know what misery is until you stand a head taller than every boy in your class, wearing nothing but flats, and walking stoop-shouldered hoping you won't be conspicuous. Forget going to a school dance.

Never mind all those insults from people who ask, "How tall are you anyway?" and "How's the weather up there?" And just try to buy clothes and shoes.

Short girls don't know how lucky they are. Thanks for letting me get this off my chest. I feel better now.

Get Doctor's Advice In Avoiding Infections

DEAR DR. GOTT — I've never had much resistance to colds or the flu. Within the past couple of years I've experienced several bouts of Klebsiella. What is this germ and what can I do to strengthen my resistance to it?

DEAR READER — Klebsiella are a type of bacteria that cause several respiratory diseases, including sinus infection, bronchitis and pneumonia. Klebsiella is a common germ that can invade the respiratory tract after a viral infection, when a patient's resistance is low. If you seem predisposed to these infections, you should be checked by a doctor to make sure that you have not developed a deficiency in your immunity.

Here are some things that you can do on your own: If you smoke, stop, since tobacco smoke reduces the respiratory system's ability to fight infection. Stay away from other people with respiratory infections; they may spread bacteria and viruses to you, especially during the respiratory-infection season in the winter. Consider obtaining yearly influenza immunizations, which may help your resistance.

In addition, your doctor may choose to perform tests to see if you have a chronic low-grade infection. For example, chronic sinusitis can periodically explode into a troublesome inflammation. Do you have asthma, chronic bronchitis or emphysema? These, too, will predispose you to repeated infections.

Finally, you may have acquired a smoldering Klebsiella infection that cannot be eradicated by a week or two of antibiotics. If you are "carrying" such an infection, long-term antibiotic treatment will help restore your respiratory system to its normal state.

Work closely with your family doctor — and with specialists, as needed — to discover the cause of your recurring infections.

DEAR DR. GOTT — A friend told me that sitting in a steamroom or sauna gives the same benefit as aerobic exercise because the heart rate increases. Is this true?

DEAR READER — No, it isn't. There is no way to enjoy the benefits of exercise without exercising. Saunas increase the heart rate because the body attempts to get rid of excess heat by circulating the blood more rapidly through capillary blood vessels in the skin. This blood is shunted away from muscles and internal organs. Quite the reverse occurs with exercise, during which the flow of blood is switched from the skin to muscles. Hence, the steamroom effects are quite different from those of physical activity.

WIN AT BRIDGE

By James Jacoby
Sometimes the bidding should give a defender a clue to the best defense. If the defender is oblivious to such a clue, he should then be guided by his partner's suggestions in the defensive carding.

Against South's four-spade contract West led the diamond king and East played the seven. West continued with the ace and queen. East following with the deuce and eight. Declarer ruffed and immediately played a low club. Without much consideration West played the nine, and dummy's queen won the trick. Declarer now cashed dummy's A-Q-J of spades, came to his hand with the 10 of hearts and cashed the spade king, picking up East's remaining spade. Three more rounds of hearts gave South 10 tricks and his game contract.

West should hope that his partner has as much as four spades to the 10. If that is the case, the contract can be defeated if West simply takes the ace of clubs right away and plays another diamond. If dummy ruffs with a spade honor, East's 10 is promoted to a winner. If declarer pitches from dummy in order to ruff in his hand, East discards a heart and later makes a long trump trick. If West can't figure all this out, he should be guided by the fact that his partner was encouraging diamond continuations by his high-low with the 8-7-2 in the suit.
