One thing about the European situation which looks good: there aren't as many archdukes to get killed as there were in 1914.

A paragrapher wants to know what we are going to call newly formed government boards when all the letters of the alphabet have been used up. That's easy. Square 'em.

One platform which all candidates can safely be depended to run well on this Spring is: (In a loud tone of voice) "I will support the Roosevelt program 100 per cent."

According to American Legion figures, fifteen years after the World War, more than one thousand American veterans are still in France. Most of them married Mariannes, settled down in French towns and are rearing Franco-American children. It just goes to show what that French accent will do for a fellow.

One-seventh of Vienna's two million population is Jewish. They will hope that Chancellor Dollfus' efforts to defeat the Nazis and prevent Hitler from gaining control of Austria will prove successful. Hitler, should he become Austria's chief, might run Jews out of Vienna as he did out of Berlin.

According to the Literary Digest's chart of the course of business, the trend during the month of January was not good. After steady improvement during the entire month of December, the curve leveled off at the beginning of January and barely held its own during the first three weeks; then there was a perceptible drop. Business now, as measured by the Digest's curve is on a par with that of last May.

A news story tells of trouble in Vienna as follows: "Women in that teeming area fought with their husbands, brothers and fathers throughout the night—loading guns, carrying ammunition, and firing from windows while around them bullets whizzed and walls crumbled under shrieking shells." Women in this country can be thankful their government is furnishing them food instead of bullets.

New railroad trains are as far a departure from old styles as the new models in automobiles. The new Union Pacific stream lined, light weight, three car, aluminum train looks like an airliner automobile. It travels at a speed of 110 miles an hour and is said to be extremely economical in operation. First thing you know the railroads will be getting on their feet again and carrying passengers instead of just running for the exercise.

The French government has recently concluded an arrangement with the South Manchurian railway, which is owned by the Japanese government, for the extension of credits in Manchukuo to facilitate purchase of supplies and materials made in France. This while we make loans to Russia, France makes loans to Japan and in the event of war between Russian and Japan, France's interests would be opposed to those of the United States.

The NRA seems to be in the process of gradual modification until the burdens and hardships which it formerly worked upon the small town independent proprietor have been eliminated. Some months ago it was recognized that business men in towns of 2,500 and less could not be expected to meet the requirements placed upon metropolitan enterprises and the NRA was withdrawn from these small communities. Now General Johnson admits that it may be advantageous to recognize certain differentials in code regulations as they apply to various sections of the country and to allow locally local concerns to adopt some of their own without regard to the national codes applying to other concerns.

It Is To Laugh

The futility of the reformer's efforts to make over the movies into something which is good for the soul was well illustrated last night when crowds stood for hours in front of the local theater. We have no idea how many were on the inside but for not less than two hours there were crowds standing around outside trying to get in. They came from all over Seminole County. They came from neighboring cities, twenty and thirty miles away. And the answer was, of course, a fan dancer!

Night after night good shows have been presented in town and have played to an empty house. George Arliss, one of the cleverest actors of modern times, can come to town and scarcely a score of people will turn out to see him. Will Rogers draws better but when "Mr. Skitch" was shown here the theater was not more than half full. "Alice In Wonderland" was a complete flop. And the handful which saw "Little Women" were all that would take a chance on it!

But this little fan dancer, how she packed them in! Give the public a little sex, and they will come from miles around. A hurricane or a blizzard will not keep them at home when Jean Harlow or Mae West are doing their stuff, but just let Ann Harding or Helen Hayes come to town in something really good and the theater looks like a deserted village. It's the red hot mamas the public wants! It's the Gangster's Moll, the Siren From Singapore, and the Lust for Ladies!

What can the reformer do about it? Certainly he will make no progress by criticizing the theater. The producers are simply giving the public what it wants. The box office is the judge of this. If the entertainment provided by the theater is not the type the public wants, it will find its entertainment elsewhere. Perhaps it is better for the public to see its fan dancers at the Milano than somewhere else.

However that may be, the fact remains that the crusading movement should begin with the public.

Worry

A surprising number of people harbor the conviction that they have some mortal malady that blights their present and shrouds tomorrow in uncertainty, writes Dr. Emlyn Jones of the Pennsylvania Department of Health in the United States News. And they studiously avoid the doctor, for fear that he may find something wrong which they would rather not know.

"From this class are recruited many of the cases of cancer that are too late for operation, as well as many cases of weak heart that are but a reflection of the influence of worry and concealment," Dr. Jones explains. "People, who whirl along in the accustomed affairs of their routine days have little appreciation of the heart and circulatory derangements that often attend the homesickness and distressing loneliness which ensue from a complete upheaval in an accustomed manner of living."

The man who has devoted himself so closely to business that he has gone stale on the job can find relief in a vacation which is free from responsibilities. Emotional stress does not affect alone the heart of those unaccustomed to the battles of life. It is related that the warrior, General Grant, admitted to a "stopping of his heart" and a feeling of faintness when the news of Lee's surrender was handed to him.

It takes the courage of a soldier to overcome the emotional strains that may grip upon the heart strings; and it requires the cultivation of a bright and sunny disposition to repel fresh discords that eternally threaten the harmony of life.

Too few of us take the time for complete relaxation. A midday nap of one hour in a quiet rest-room is unknown to the modern man of affairs or to the housekeeper. At the other end of the social scale, the laborer is on his feet all day; the scrub-woman is on her knees; and the strain of posture is thrown on blood vessels from morning to night. "Most of us cannot take our responsibilities to bed with us," Dr. Jones concludes. "To do so is to burn a hole into the comforting blanket of night; and through that hole, the cares of today creep into tomorrow."

SANFORD, TWENTY YEARS AGO

Today E. H. Kilbee announced his candidacy for the office of county treasurer and C. L. Polk for the office of superintendent of public instruction. Mr. Kilbee is a resident of the Geneva section and is well known in Seminole County where he has resided for many years. Mr. Polk is a resident of Sanford and was for some time a grower on the East Side afterward moving to Sanford and embarking in the insurance business. He is a college graduate and understands the needs of the city and county, both he and his wife being familiar with school life. Mrs. Polk being at this time one of the teachers in the Sanford schools. Mrs. M. E. Gerrer has returned from Gainesville where she represented the Sanford Woman's Club at the State Charities and Correction meeting. Many people noted for their attention to this line of work were present. The opening address was given by Hon. Park M. Trammell, governor of Florida.

Senator Fletcher of Florida today appeared before the joint congressional committee on rural credits and spoke in favor of the pending measure. He said the long term credit, based on mortgages, is a vital feature of the scheme. He said he did not believe government aid would be needed by the proposed Farmers' Banks. Thomas Crigall died very suddenly at his home on the West Side Sunday morning of apoplexy. Mr. Crigall had been a resident of Sanford for many years. Several years ago he secured the position of janitor of the Sanford school system and was loved by all the children old and young for his tender care and solicitude for their welfare. Greater New York and its environs are struggling under a layer of snow augmented today by a constant fall. More than 10 inches have fallen since the storm began Sunday morning.

State Cabinet Rebukes Printing Contractors

TALLAHASSEE, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Request for an upward revision on printing contracts drawn before the NRA codes went into effect met its doom—perhaps temporarily—Wednesday in the state cabinet meeting. Attorney General Cary D. Landis presented the requests of two printing companies—E. O. Painter Co. of DeLand and Ross Printing Company of Tallahassee—for higher prices, because they claimed production costs had increased under the code. Landis said the companies wanted about 25 percent more, but he favored allowing only 15-18 percent. After Governor Shatts and Commissioner of Agriculture Nathan Mayo said they were "not sold on the idea," the cabinet finally de-

Questionnaire Reveals Trend Of Thought As Doubting Traditions

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—Additional facts derived from the questionnaire circulated recently among Protestant clergy of Chicago by Professor George H. Bettis of Northwestern University reveal advances made by Modernists in various denominations. Dr. Bettis's new figures show that Congregationalists and Episcopalians lead in the advance, with Baptists and Lutherans holding most rigidly to traditional forms of belief as stated in "historic creeds." The questionnaire was designed to show what beliefs pastors wish to have taught to older than day school pupils. For the most part the questions were asked in plain terms, avoiding words and in theological controversies of the past. One of the questions, "Did Jesus make the world?" rocked the early Christian Church for generations. Sixty percent of the Episcopalians answering said Jesus did not, while 84 percent of Chicago's Lutheran pastors affirmed that He did. Concerning the existence of the devil, all of the Lutheran pastors replying to the question asserted that such a creature did exist. But 44 percent of the Congregationalists, 45 percent of the Episcopalians, 70 percent of the Methodists, 59 percent of the Presbyterians and 24 percent of the Baptists declared the devil non-existent. The Lutheran pastors indicated by their answers that they were certain of the existence of heaven. The greatest doubt was expressed by the Congregationalists, 44 percent saying heaven as a place did not exist. Twenty-six percent of the Episcopalians, 35 percent of the Methodists, 28 percent of the Presbyterians and 22 percent of the Baptists agreed with the Congregationalists. As to belief in a burning hell, the Congregationalists virtually unanimously disbelieved as matched by 96 percent of the Episcopalians, Lutherans, on the other hand, accept the existence of a burning hell by a majority of more than two to one. The Baptist vote was nearly 50-50, while Presbyterian pastors voted 15 to 15 and Methodist ministers 92 to 8 against belief in a fiery hell. The Congregationalist pastors were 99 to 1 in the belief that keeping away from amusement on Sunday was unimportant. They denied belief in a day of judgment by 94 percent. Lutheran pastors affirmed their belief in that day with 99 percent of unanimity. Other denominational leaders showed substantial divisions of opinion. Episcopal clergymen, by a ratio of 84 to 16, denied that "everything the Bible tells about reality happened just the way it was told." Eighty percent of the Lutherans, 63 percent of the Baptists, 20 percent of the Presbyterians and 9 percent of the Congregationalists answered this query in the affirmative. Congregationalists, Episcopalians, Methodists and Presbyterians almost unanimously agreed that prayers did not affect the weather; but the Baptists and Lutherans, by substantial majorities, expressed belief in the efficacy of prayer in influencing the weather. Lutherans and Baptists came closest to substantial agreement that storms, earthquakes and sickness were punishments for sin. The Episcopalians opposed this idea by a ratio of 89 to 1. Congregationalists, Presbyterians and Methodist pastors were almost as nearly unanimous in the belief that God did not punish mankind that way.

Silver Suggested In International Tilt To Devalue Dollar

BY CLAUD A. JAGGER Associated Press Financial Editor NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—If the international struggle to devalue the dollar cannot be won with gold, there is still silver. Foreign exchange experts foresee that it may be possible to sell enough dollars in the world market to buy gold—to keep the dollar from rising. Such a situation might be precipitated particularly if France and the other gold bloc countries should quit the free gold standard and refuse to sell the metal. Open market supplies of gold appear limited chiefly to new production from South America, and to the willingness of the Bank of France to sell. Should the free gold market suddenly lighten, the two billion dollar American stabilization fund might then sell dollars to buy paper currencies. In so doing, however, it would run the risk of incurring large losses. Another course would be for it to sell dollars to buy silver which it might use along with the gold the treasury has purchased as part reserve against currency. Wall Street has no knowledge of any such plan in Washington, but indications of renewed consideration of silver appeared 10 days ago, when the treasury began an investigation of the speculative position of silver in New York. Aside from the purchases of domestic silver at 64 1-2 cents an ounce, the official position of the monetary aspect of silver in Washington is that it is still being studied.

MADE GAINS IN MANY RELIGIONS

(Continued From Page One) The wages should be for the future. The present wage agreement expires on July 1. Yesterday was the last hour under the agreement, when notice for a change could be served. The President's proposal was contained in a letter dated Feb. 14, addressed to the conference committee of managers and the railway labor executives association. "Marked progress for national recovery has been made since last June," he said, "and I am sure that the goal will be reached. Nevertheless much remains to be accomplished, the emergency still exists, and the country has not yet attained conditions of stability. There has been comparatively little change in the cost of living, but prices are uncontrolled and I am hopeful that they will in general rise to higher levels. The traffic of the railroads is improving, but their financial condition is still impaired and their credit has not yet been restored so far as private capital is concerned. "In the circumstances I venture to express the hope that the railroads and their employes may be able to agree upon an extension of the present agreement for at least six months. Roosevelt motored yesterday to the station here to inspect the new streamlined train of the Union Pacific railroad on exhibition. Carl Gray, president of the Union Pacific Company, escorted the President through the train. There is no indication that Roosevelt is calling in the railroad managers for a conference but he is watching closely the reaction to his proposal.

Employment On State CWA Roll Has Fallen Off

(Continued From Page One) 626 were engaged for the week ending Feb. 8. Florida's original quota was 48,000 under the national CWA program of 4,000,000 jobs. Reduction in the number of persons employed was attributed to improved business conditions in the state incident to the record tourist season, and also to decreased working hours under the CWA program, making these jobs less profitable than those in private business. The CWA payroll for the week ending Feb. 8, was $147,000, against the high mark of approximately $1,100,000 in late December and early January. The Civil Works service payroll for some week was $77,839.58. Suspensions of federal projects effective last night with the result that about 9,500 workers were laid off, will further reduce the payroll. Others in the CWA program will be continued in their jobs. But another 10 percent will be laid off at the end of the week, beginning today, and thereafter 10 percent of the total number will be dropped each week in order to bring the program to an end by May 1.

If we are able to secure CWA funds for this purpose, we shall need local subscriptions to aid in purchasing material, for under the CWA only 30 percent of the total construction cost may be spent for material. U. S. Blondes Quit Platinum Standard To Return To Gold

So said the American beauticians and hair stylists Wednesday at their annual convention. It's more desirable now to be gold-blonde, said they, than to have hair like Jean Harlow's.

They talked, too, about a haircut that matches the new color. It's streamlined; and these experts said it will be "the coiffure."

The way of it is this: straight back from the forehead to the earline, with no waves. But at the back, a riot of small curls.

"We're getting back to femininity after two years," said the hairdressers. But women's tresses will go right on being bobbed, they added.

A medium-length bob is preferred; and when a woman wants to look regal, for evening, she will add to her bob an artificial band.

A trend away from the highly rouged cheek also was seen. But color is leaving the cheeks. It seems, only to glaze most brightly on eyelids.

Eye-lashes will be more lustrous than ever before, the beauty experts said, and eye shadow of more positive shades.

Fingernail note: They will be brilliant. Quiet women will cling to red; but ladies of the society type will tint their nails to match their costumes. And will flash purple and green.

"Sitting Pretty" Film Filled With New Tunes

Not an expose of Hollywood or New York's "Tin-Pan Alley," but a music-sprinkled story of a couple of lovable muggs from Broadway who can write swell tunes, but who have a hard time putting it because of girl trouble.

That's the story substance of Paramount's "Sitting Pretty," the screen musical featuring Jack Oakie, Jack Haley, Ginger Rogers, Thelma Todd, Gregory Ratoff and Lew Cody, which is now playing at the Milane Theatre.

The music, songs and the production numbers, backed by hundreds of Hollywood's beautiful girls written by Mack Gordon and Harry Revel. These two boys are responsible for such hits as "The Death of a Harlem Moon," "An Ounce to You" and "A Boy and a Girl Were Dancing."

The two Jacks play the song writers, Thelma Todd is a vampy screen siren, Ginger Rogers is the simple country maiden, sweetheart of Oakie, and Gregory Ratoff is the exorbitant artist agent. Lew Cody plays a motion picture producer, and together with their songs and dances and comedy, the entire cast turns in a most entertaining picture.

BROWN DENIES COLLUSION IN MAIL AWARDS

suggestion with respect to bidding on mail contracts or refraining to bid on airmail contracts was made at either of those meetings or at any other time.

The only annual operation of major importance, the central and southern transcontinental operations, were awarded under the provisions of the law relating to competitive bidding to the lowest responsible bidder.

Brown said the May 19 meeting was called to discuss the postoffice department's effort to obtain passage of the M. Nary-Water bill in its original form, which would have permitted the postmaster general to award contracts by negotiation "and further to see if under the law as it was enacted any relief could be afforded to the passenger carriers, who had no airmail contracts, through the cooperation of the airmail contractors and the postoffice department.

In opening the meeting, Brown said he stressed the department's efforts to "preserve the provisions of the law to prevent the abandonment of air passenger operations," explained the situation as it stood and then turned the meeting over to the operators.

On June 1 he said, the operators presented and submitted a list of recommendations for the extension of the airmail service "with a view to the participation in the operation of air transport operations now conducted exclusively by passenger and express carriers."

The recommendations were referred to the committee and, Brown said, to determine how far the department could go in granting extensions to existing routes.

"In a short while," Brown said, "I will be presenting a report on the operations of the airmail service, outlining from a management point of view the procedure and informing them that the department was somewhat disappointed in their report inasmuch as they had in effect taken off the meat and left the bones." They were told, however, that the report would be carefully studied and any decision reached would be indicated to them.

Subsequently the committee submitted a supplemental report, which Brown said was placed on file and no further consideration was given to it.

Brown's statement followed a letter by Postmaster General Farley, Wednesday night, in which Farley charged competitive bidding was abandoned and that representatives of 13 of the 14 aviation companies who attended the 1929 meeting came out with lucrative awards.

A Valentine's day party was held at the party department and arrangements at the Lincoln on 14th street, Monday afternoon by Mrs. Walter I. Morgan at her home, 226 West Eighteenth Street for the benefit of the Post-Graduate Club. Mrs. F. A. Douglas presided over the short business session when plans were made for future activities.

Luncheon was served at 1:30 immediately after the arrival of the guests. The table was centered with a bowl of red roses and ferns while the place cards were novelty Valentines. Quantities of red sweet peas and red gladioli were arranged about the living room.

Those present were Mrs. F. A. Douglas, Mrs. F. M. Gullaway, Mrs. G. E. McKay, Mrs. John C. Leonard, Mrs. Henry Wright, and Mrs. W. T. Langley.

Friends Expect Noted Couple To End Dispute

LONDON, Feb. 16.—(AP)—Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., and Mary Pickford had effected a compromise to end their divorce action, and a reconciliation of the screen's most famous sweethearts was expected by their friends, it was learned yesterday, when Lord Ashley recently instituted proceedings against Lady Ashley and named Fairbanks the co-defendant.

The Ashley case, meanwhile, proceeded another step with the filing of applications by lawyers for the American film actor and the well-known Lady Ashley, the former by a British divorce court.

On Thursday, Lord Pickford said he had "no comment" whatever to make when told of reports that Fairbanks' friends had expected of their reconciliation.

ATTEMPT SAID MADE ON LIFE OF DOLLFUSS

The homeguard leader, Prince von Starhemberg, declared in a funeral oration for a fallen comrade that "the blame that so much blood had to be spilled rests with Democratic corruptionist politicians... who betrayed the native population of this country with their shameless bickering with the reds."

Never since the fascist Heimwehr entered the Dollfuss cabinet has the tension between the homeguard and the Christian Social wings of the government come to such a critical stage.

"Back to the parliament," was the cry of deputies of Dollfuss' party. It was a flat negation of everything the Heimwehr has been fighting for.

Two in Cities Labeled Needing Cleaning Up

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—(AP)—St. Paul and Minneapolis were labeled last night by Attorney General Cummings as two cities that needed "cleaning up."

The attorney general directed his castigation principally at St. Paul. Discussing the Bremer kidnaping case with reporters, he expressed disappointment that the family of the victim—Edward G. Bremer—"had not given us better cooperation."

Asked if the police were fully cooperative with federal investigators, Cummings replied: "There are segments of the police which have our confidence and segments which do not."

"I will say this; if there are any two cities which need cleaning up they are St. Paul and Minneapolis."

FASCISTS IN AUSTRIA GAIN NEW POWERS

Faction Puts Member In Cabinet, Wins As Dollfuss Fails To Heed Party Advice

VIENNA, Feb. 17.—(A.P.)—Austrian fascists scored a big gain in their drive to dominate the government today with the elevation of another leader to a cabinet post, and the ousting of thousands of socialists from public office.

They won too in Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss' failure to heed a demand of his own Christian social party that parliament be reconvened at once.

Emphasizing the ascendancy of fascist influence, under-secretary Neustadter-Stuemer, a member of the fascist Heimwehr, or home guard, has been appointed Minister of Social Welfare.

The cabinet accelerated its general anti-socialist campaign by declaring null and void the position and prerogatives of every official elected on that party's ticket.

Kaiser Is Charged With High Treason Against Germany

BERLIN, Feb. 17.—(A.P.)—The charge that the former kaiser in a recent letter urged in intent that one-time German officers "go forward with God for high treason" was made yesterday by Count Ernst zu Reventlow, a leading lieutenant of Chancellor Hitler.

The communication, the count said in his weekly newspaper, was sent to the "Avarian section of the national federation of German officers in Nov. 22, 1933, in response to a message of fidelity from the organization.

As quoted in the newspaper, the letter said in part:

"I have gladly taken cognizance of your message and I am convinced that every old officer will do everything within his power to give evidence of his loyalty by main de force.

"Only under its kaiser and the German federated princes can the reich permanently be established and restored to its former power and glory.

"Therefore, forward with God for king and fatherland, for the kaiser and the reich."

"That means, Reventlow, declared, 'forward with God for high treason.'

His newspaper, the Reichswart is devoted to Hitlerism, and the new Germanic cult.

Court Of Honor Put Off Until Feb. 26

A scheduled Boy Scout court of honor, to have been held next Monday night, has been postponed until Monday night, Feb. 26, it was announced by Arthur Brannan, chairman of the Seminole County Boy Scout Council this morning.

The council will, however, meet at the City Hall on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of discussing a proposed Boy Scout campaign for clothing and furniture which might be given to the boys of the county as requested by President Roosevelt last week.

Army Air Corps Is Ready For Action

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(AP)—The House postoffice committee, in approving the emergency airmail bill today, eliminated sections which would have let the postmaster general negotiate contracts with private carriers. After the Army air corps takes charge of flying the airmail Monday at midnight, 148 pilots and planes will make 68 trips, each day and cover 40,830 miles.

SOCIALIST HEAD BLAMES AUSTRIA FOR LATE RIOTS

Deutsch Says He Once Appealed For Disarming Of Parties

BRATISLAVA, Czechoslovakia, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Blame for hundreds of Austrian deaths in machine gun and artillery fire was placed at the door of the Austrian government by Dr. Julius Deutsch, commander-in-chief of the socialist forces and general secretary of the Austrian socialist party, last night in an interview.

"For years I have offered to disarm the republican guards if others would do likewise and prohibit weapons for any other than regular branches of the government's armed forces," the exiled and wounded leader asserted.

"This demand I also made in parliament, but nothing came of it. They went even farther and called me a coward."

The former war officer—who received many decorations from the crowned heads of the triple alliance—frequently paused during the interview, given exclusively to an Associated Press representative, because of fatigue and pain given him by wounds received in the shellfire.

With another leader, Dr. Otto Bauer, Dr. Deutsch escaped Thursday from Austria.

"How long do you think Chancellor Dollfuss' government will last?" he was asked.

"Who is to blame for the heavily armed political forces?"

"The governments which refused all efforts to get a general disarmament of these political groups."

"Were socialists preparing or prepared for Monday's civil war outbreak?"

"We were not prepared for what happened. The weapons with which (Continued on Page Two)

Oviedo Celery Growers Familiarized With Proposed Market Agreement

Approximately 25 celery growers of the Oviedo area, meeting in the High School in that town last night, heard F. F. Dorner and a group of Sanford growers explain the highlights of the proposed celery marketing agreement now being negotiated.

Commenting on last night's meeting, Mr. Dorner stated that "I was surprised to find out that the growers in the Oviedo area appeared deeply interested in the agreement. I had heard that there has been some agitation against the agreement, but last night I learned that if that agitation has been spread around, it was because of a misunderstanding over the agreement and what it would mean for the Oviedo growers."

"However," he said, "it still remains as a noticeable fact that we in Sanford are being given better co-operation from Sarasota-Manatee growers than we are from Oviedo growers. I regret this condition, particularly because we in Sanford, in putting this agreement over, will be giving Oviedo growers exactly the best they need in marketing their spring crop which comes off at about 125 cents time as does the Sarasota-Manatee crop. We are hopeful that last

FOREIGN AIR MAIL PACTS UNDER PROBE

Republicans Say That Pan-American Line Is Being Protected By Administration

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Postoffice department officials said last night that an inquiry had been under way for months into all foreign airmail contracts, including those held by the Pan-American Airways.

The contracts with that company were not cancelled last week when the domestic ones were. Failure to do so brought charges Thursday from Republicans that the directorate of Pan-American included "prominent Democrats."

Spokesman for the department said yesterday that when all the evidence had been studied by its own investigators and those of the Senate's airmail investigating committee, Postmaster General Farley would decide whether foreign airmail contracts should be cancelled.

An indication that the department was searching into the Pan-American case was given in the letter and evidence sent by Farley to Senator Black, Democrat, Alabama, chairman of the Senate committee. Two of the exhibits Farley sent to Black spoke of the Pan-American in connection with a fight with a domestic line, Eastern Air Transport, for territory.

A charge that Pan-American had received a $6,000,000 subsidy contract without bidding for it was made Thursday night by Republican. He said Farley cancelled all domestic contracts "mostly on the ground that there was no competitive bidding."

"Fish said that perhaps Farley was 'too busy mending the political fences of the Administration to realize that the Pan-American Airways, whose chairman of the board of directors is Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, a prominent Democrat, and has on his board David K. Central Florida Jews Will Meet On Sunday

Members of the Jewish race from all over Central Florida will gather at the Jewish Community Center here tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock to attend a neighborhood meeting over which Sol Wittenstein of Orlando will preside.

Principal discussion will center about religious education, and other problems of the race in small communities where there are no temples to meet requirements.

MASS MEETING OF SOCIALISTS ENDS IN RIOT

Madison Square Is Scene Of Disorders As Communists Try To Break Up Affair

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—(AP)—A mass meeting called as a huge trade union and socialist demonstration against the "slaughter of Austrian workers" turned into a bitter free-for-all fight between socialists and communists yesterday afternoon.

Boos and yells, thumping fists and flying chairs filled the vast confines of Madison Square Garden as groups of strategically placed communists tried to break up the meeting.

One man was stabbed in the back, and three women and nine other men were beaten or struck by chairs. Two newspaper photographers were among the injured and one had his camera smashed.

The general free-for-all threatened to become a riot of serious proportions when Clarence Hathaway, editor of the Communist "Daily Worker," leaped up on the speakers' platform. Socialists on the platform seized him, rushed him off, and beat him as he was pushed against a guard rail on one side of the platform.

At this signal the Garden, with its 23,000 excited inhabitants, became a bedlam. The platform itself, the huge arena, and the balconies rising to the dim ceiling became the scenes of innumerable fights. A man with a bloody face was pushed off the platform, over the press tables, with others flying after him. Boas, yells and tumult filled the vast building.

The Socialist and labor "pushers"—1000 of them in red armbands—got most of the crowd into their seats, with tremendous effort, but (Continued on Page Three)

Proposed Canal To East Of City Still Being Considered

The fact that the federal government has turned down a proposal that it construct a canal connecting the Gulf of Mexico with the Atlantic Ocean has nothing whatever to do with the proposed St. Johns-Indian River canal which is now occupying the attention of 14 federal engineers engaged in surveying a site for this canal.

This statement was made today by Harry M. Papworth, trade body head and chairman of the Waterways Committee of the trade body.

The engineers have been engaged on a survey of the proposed canal for the past two weeks, he pointed out. Wooden towers about 50 feet high have been built along Clegg Avenue, he stated, to be used as observation posts needed in making the survey.

The work will probably require six months time, he declared, and when it is completed, there is every reason to believe that a favorable consideration will be given, not only by war department engineers, but the federal government itself, he added.

It was recalled in trade body circles today that Mr. Papworth, a member of the St. Johns River Improvement Association since its organization, led a long fight against including the proposed St. Johns-Indian River canal in the project calling for the cross-state canal.

The Association, meeting in Palatka some time ago, was prepared to take such action, and Mr. Papworth, taking the floor, led such a vigorous fight that the Association decided to petition for the two canals as separate projects.

GETS JAIL SENTENCE

MIAMI, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Convicted of stealing—of all things—five pari-mutuel certificates, Edward Dyer, of Byrassus, N. Y., was sentenced to six months in the county jail yesterday.

Thomas J. Hogan, of Long Beach, L. I., told the court he discovered Dyer removing the tickets from his pocket, and was being held by him "as the race was being run."

Senate, House Are In Week-End Recess

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(A.P.)—Both the Senate and the House were in week-end recess today, but a few members attended a session of the House agricultural committee and learned of a letter the President has written endorsing in principle the Blankenship bill for compulsory control of cotton production. The President also sent legislative proposals for regulating commodity exchanges to Chairman Jones of the House agricultural committee.

TAX DODGING IS CHARGED AGAINST HENRY DOHERTY

Oil Magnate, Owner Of Florida Lands, Is Rapped In House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(AP)—An accusation that Henry L. Doherty of Cities Service is "one of the biggest tax evaders in the nation" and that the Administration is protecting him was made in the House yesterday by Representative McFadden, Republican, Pennsylvania, while Republican began an effort to include sales tax provisions in the pending revenue measure.

McFadden said Doherty was "one of the largest contributors to the campaign fund that elected Franklin D. Roosevelt," and that "his company's income taxes should be looked into."

Leading the fight for the sales tax, Representative McFadden, Republican, Kansas, said "until we are willing to turn to a manufacturer's sales levy, the budget will go unbalanced from year to year."

McFadden said Arthur Mullen, Democratic national committee man from Nebraska, was handling the question of Doherty's income taxes, adding that the present head of the treasury's tax division is a friend of Doherty's.

The Pennsylvania contended there are "certain lawyers" practicing before the income tax division of the treasury who are able to get facts and records that are not available to others, adding that if all taxes due were paid the treasury would collect $200,000,000.

Chairman, Doughton, Democrat, North Carolina, and other Democratic members of the ways and means committee conjectured over whether a motion to recommit the bill with instructions to levy a sales tax would be made by Representative Crowther of New York, Republican on the committee.

This action was taken at a special meeting of the Commission, held at the County House this week to consider the request upon motion of Commissioner C. B. Seary of Longwood, seconded by Commissioner Boston Steele of Sanford. CWA Forces In City, County Have Been Cut By Only 22 Men During Past Week

With the exception of 22 men who have been employed on a purely federal project, the Civil Works Administration payroll in Seminole County has so far not been effected by the general order sent out from Washington to reduce the number of workers, stated Mrs. Helen T. Morse this morning.

This week's payroll, totaling approximately $8400, was distributed as usual to over 770 men and women, she said, and pending further advice from Tallahassee or Washington the same number of persons will be paid off for their labors at the end of next week.

"All we know is what we've read in the newspapers," Mrs. Morse stated when asked whether the Washington order had been received here. "We have had no order to cut anyone off the CWA or FER roll although we are ex-

Hopkins Outlines Plan To Demobilize Army In Farm Districts As Soon As Possible

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—(AP)—Industrial cities will retain their full quota of Civil Works employees until late in March but elsewhere the disbanding will move forward with 400,000 workers to be dropped in rural areas next week.

In outlining this course of procedure yesterday, Harry L. Hopkins, the Civil Works administrator, said that while there might be variations to meet local conditions, the demobilization would "start" at the rate of about 10 percent a week.

He added that rural areas would be first disbanded because the great majority of such workers were farmers or farm laborers who would find work at their regular occupations as the weather improved.

Hopkins said the effect would be to make the heaviest demobilization in the South.

The new regulations for the first 10 weeks provide:

First, in dropping Civil Works employees all persons living in a household where another member is working, whether on public or private employment, will be dismissed first.

Second, all persons who have other resources will be dropped.

Third, the agency will be maintained at full strength in all industrial cities throughout the present winter.

"The rate of decrease will be adjusted to weather conditions," Hopkins said. "The decrease will be accelerated with the beginning of spring and the demobilization will be complete the week ending May 1."

County Commission Denies Request Of County School Body

The Board of County Commissioners has voted "No" to the request of the County Board of Public Instruction that a portion of the funds which will be received as the result of race track operations in Florida be turned over to the school board to help pay salaries of teachers this year.

This action was taken at a special meeting of the Commission, held at the County House this week to consider the request upon motion of Commissioner C. B. Seary of Longwood, seconded by Commissioner Boston Steele of Sanford. The clerk is instructed to notify the school board that the race track funds are already budgeted in the Fine and Perfection Fund, primarily to pay off judgments against the Upper St. John River Drainage District.

Italy, France And England Move To Protect Austria

EDUCATOR SEES EUROPEAN WAR AS YEARS AWAY

ORLANDO, Feb. 17.—Europe of the next 10 years will be similar to the Europe of 1904 to 1914, Professor Robert Howard, Rollins history department, declared Friday in addressing a luncheon meeting of Orlando Lions Club.

It is a Europe aligning itself for war, but proceeding cautiously and making the alliances that nations hope will bring victory in the struggle, which most historians and students of economics believe is inevitable.

Dr. Howard discounted the talk of war in Europe in the coming two years, and while he said he made no predictions, he expressed the opinion that Germany would not be in a position to fight successfully for eight or 10 years.

"Germany is morally and diplomatically isolated from the rest of the world," he said, "partly because of the Jew-baiting program, partly for her withdrawal from the League of Nations, and chiefly because of her attempts to enter direct negotiations with other nations rather than through the international machinery set up by the League for such negotiations."

Describing himself as a realist in international affairs, and inclined to a pessimistic viewpoint regarding the inevitability of war, Dr. Howard said the dark picture is partially relieved by hope that in eight or 10 years' time the world might have become more sane in dealing with international problems, some great event like the death of Hitler might occur to diminish the chances of war, or there might be a realignment of territory in Europe, which would heal some of the worst sores.

Dr. Howard said that German peace utterances as voiced recently by Hitler are, in his opinion, sincere because they are necessary. He pointed out that Germany is not yet ready to make war and therefore must seek successful alliances to make warfare effective.

"Russia and Italy distrust Germany's realignments of territory in and will not fight unless France and Belgium are invaded again, and Germany, knowing this, will not attempt such invasion. The French army is also a good preventative, as the world knows," he said.

"Therefore Germany's dreams of world power are somewhat altered from those of pre-war Germany does not vie with England today in colonization or naval supremacy. She looks to the East in the possible annexing of the Polish corridor, and alliances with such states as Czechoslovakia, where there are large German populations."

Dr. Howard discounted greatly scare talk about vast rearming and mobilization in Germany and said such talk was mostly mythical.

Powers Are To Warn Germany To Keep Hands Off Nation Torn By Rebellions

PARIS, Feb. 17.—(A.P.)—Three great powers of Europe, Great Britain, France, and Italy drafted today, reliable reports said, a warning to Germany to keep its hands off Austria.

The joint declaration will be addressed to the world at large, the understanding here is, and it is a movement on the part of the three powers intended to preserve Austria's independence. The manifesto is expected to be issued within the next 48 hours.

Premier Mussolini, espousing efforts to keep Nazi control away from Austria, proposed the three-power announcement.

In France, Premier Doumergue has the backing of both houses of parliament in any moves the government may see fit to take along the lines outlined by Mussolini. The Chamber of Deputies foreign affairs committee even went so far as to urge the Doumergue ministry to speed action toward assuring Austria's freedom.

This critical stage in European affairs, along with the disarmament crisis, kept worried diplomats working overtime.

Italy, France and Great Britain were reported on the threshold of warning Germany that it must stay clear of the government of Chancellor Dollfuss.

A public declaration forming a "moral bloc" of the powers would be signed under such a project in an effort to "frighten" Nazis from attempting to overpower the Austrian chancellor.

The pronouncement was proposed by Premier Mussolini of Italy, who is leaving no stone unturned to keep Austria a buffer state between fascism and nationalism.

The proposed Italo-Franco-British manifesto, it was understood, will say the powers believe in a free Austria as a keystone of peace in Central Europe, but will not contain threats of what will happen if Dollfuss should be forced to capitulate to the Nazis.

Great significance in both the Austrian and the arms problems was attached to the visit of Captain Anthony Eden, lord privy seal Great Britain, to the continent.
