Heavy Attack Squadron 11's Detachment Eight maintained its leadership among Heavy Attack Wing One squadrons Tuesday by flying to first place in the May bomber stream competition at the Sanford Naval Air Station. However, results released today showed that the top individual honor went to Heavy Attack Squadron Three (VAH-3) and an A3B Skywarrior flight crew of Cdr. Henry Dement and his bombardier-navigator, Lt. Bill Malicowski. Another VAH-3 flight crew, composed of Lt. Jim Pirrotte, pilot, and Aviation Electronics Technician First Class Gerald Smith, bombardier-navigator, earned third place, also flying an A3B. The rest of the laurels belonged to Detachment Eight (Det. 8), which also won inter-squadron bombing competitions for March and April. All four of skipper Cdr. Bob de Lorenzi's entries finished among the first seven in the 15-plane event. All were flying A3B's. This consistency was good for a 245-point lead over second place VAH-3. Third place went to VAH-5, followed by VAH-1 and VAH-11. Points were awarded on the basis of bombing scores on three local area training targets and ability of crews to adhere to a prescribed course and time schedule. Det. Eight's top crew was Lt. Nick Nichols, pilot, and bombardier Clerk D. Arrington, a first class aviation machinist mate. Nichols and Arrington placed second and last month's top Wing flight crew, Bill Winberg and James Allyn, aviation ordnance man first class, fourth. De Lorenzi and his bombardier, Lt. Cdr. Ernie Carson, earned fifth place. The other Detachment Eight crew, Lt. Cdr. Ken Cosky, pilot, and bombardier, Lt. (jg) Tom Treanor, finished seventh. The victory for Detachment Eight was especially gratifying since it capped off two months of "bridesmaid" finishes. The Detachment narrowly missed winning both the March and April Bomber Streams.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (UPI) — The Justice Department today asked a federal court to keep Gov. George C. Wallace from carrying out his vow to personally block integration at the University of Alabama next week.

Wallace himself was not on hand for the hearing which began shortly after noon. The governor was in Montgomery, Ala., and sent attorneys to represent him.

The fiery little segregationist said Sunday in New York that he would not attend the hearing before U. S. District Judge Seybourn Lynne but his attorneys would be there.

Sources close to the governor said his attorneys were to argue that Wallace's presence at the university when two Negroes are scheduled to enroll June 10 would be necessary to forestall violence.

The Justice Department asked for an injunction shortly after Wallace said he would stand in the doorway and personally block the students' admission. The government apparently sought to avoid a campus showdown like that with Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett in the integration of the University of Mississippi last fall.

The defiant governor, who had played a cat-and-mouse game with federal marshals for more than a week behind a highway patrol guard, was served with a summons and complaint by a marshal here Sunday.

Death Claims Pope John

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII, one of the greatest Popes in the history of the Roman Catholic Church, died today in the fifth year of his reign.

The 81-year-old Pope went to his death slowly, in prayer and suffering, his stout peasant's heart carrying him through more than three days of final agony that was relieved only by lapses into comas.

Vatican radio said the pontiff died at 7:49 p.m. (2:49 p.m. EDT).

The spiritual leader of the world's half billion Roman Catholics died without seeing the end of his great project, the Ecumenical Council, which was suspended with his death.

For nearly four days the heart of the pontiff continued beating after doctors had given up hope of saving him from the stomach tumor that was believed to be cancerous.

Accidents killed at least 17 persons in Florida during the long Memorial Day weekend.

Deaths shot past 500 and toward the National Safety Council's high estimate of 550.

"We believe there was more traffic than we had anticipated," a council spokesman said. "A lot of those men who had to work Friday took off Wednesday, went to the country for a one-day holiday, and then drove out again for the weekend."

"This is something a little unusual," he said.

A United Press International count at 5:30 a.m. showed at least 500 persons had died in traffic accidents since Wednesday at 6 p.m., local time.

The breakdown:
Traffic 500
Drowning 116
Boating 11
Plane 20
Miscellaneous 100
Total 758.

Open Firm
NEW YORK (UPI)—Stocks opened firm in moderate trading today.

The President returned to the White House this morning from a weekend at Camp David, Md., and immediately announced hearing top Democratic House and Senate leaders began streaming to the executive mansion. Atty Gen Robert F. Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson also joined the talks.

The President prepared his civil rights recommendations under pressure of intensifying racial strife in both the north and south and under increasing Republican criticism.

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating (R-N.Y.) called on Johnson today to "reverse his pro-filibuster rulings" and help push new legislation through Congress.

The charges stem from a deal made last fall by the now defunct Nova Builders, of Sanford, It will be the first trial to grow from a statewide investigation of home repair fraud.

The trial will be William C. Braden, Glynn Jones Jr. and William DeMoss, officers of the Nova firm, and Honore H. Harman, a salesman. All are free on bond except Braden.

Justice Arthur J. Goldberg did not participate in today's rulings. The Taft-Hartley labor law permits employers and unions to negotiate contracts which require union membership "as a condition of employment." This means workers have to join up within a specified period of time or lose their jobs.

The woman, Celina Salvana, was one of six persons killed at the farming cooperative of Yarla Buena. The others were the brothers, Cayapano and Santos Hernandez, who set up the religious sect, two farmers and a policeman.

Justice Byron R. White ruled the two opinions for a unanimous court.

Both committees have agreed to increase the state sales tax from three to four per cent, but the governor and many senators have balked at the proposal.

Other proposals would extend the three per cent sales tax to nearly everything, but food and drugs, and still another plan would increase the tax on a pack of cigarettes from five to eight cents and double the capital stock levy.

The proposal by the Senate committee would balance the budget with taxes alone. The House version, however, would include the governor's proposal on bond $125 million for university construction.

The extended session could run as long as 30 days, but veteran lawmakers are predicting the Legislature will wind up its business in a week or 10 days. This will only be the second time in Florida's history that the regular 60 day session has been extended.

Also hanging fire before the House is the consideration of articles of impeachment against Pasco County Circuit Judge Richard Kelly. If the lower chamber votes to impeach the Republican judge, the Senate will have to meet as an impeachment court to hear the case.

The Finance and Taxation committees of both houses have come up with tax proposals to balance the budget, but the two groups disagreed on specific sources to tap for the additional income.

The court left undetermined the question of whether Florida courts, rather than the National Labor Relations Board, have jurisdiction to enforce the state ban against agency shop arrangements. This will be decided next term.

In general, the agency shop does not require a worker to join a union but does require him to pay union dues.

Sanford's entries in the Miss Seaside Fiesta Contest at New Smyrna Beach this past week wound up in the top 15 finalists, and Candi Cudor, Miss Seminole County was among the top five. Miss Sharon Williams and Miss Ann Mahan were the other two contestants.

Sanford Girl 'Found' By Hollywood

Linda Scott is the stage name of a lovely new screen actress from Sanford.

Twenty-five-year-old Linda attended Seminole High School in Sanford and proudly claims Sanford as her home town. Her name wasn't Linda when she was "discovered" to play the female lead in the newly completed, wide screen movie "The Man In The Water" starring Mark Stevens.

Ann Ballinger left Sanford in 1959 and married Harry Rouser, a handsome young Navy man stationed in one of the hot spots of the current Cuban crisis, Key West. She and Harry and their two children, Debbie (a carbon copy of her mother) and Scotty (the image of papa) were living happily on their 43 foot boat "Stranger" at the Key West Yacht Club when, one day in February 1963 a friend told them about a search being conducted by a Hollywood film company for a Florida girl to play the feature female role in their latest production.

Only after much urging by Harry and their many friends Ann jokingly submitted some snap shots taken by her husband, and as fate would have it the joke was on her. She was informed by the producers that she was one of six finalists out of some 320 aspirants (including some Hollywood professionals). She then read for the part with Director-Star Mark Stevens (famed for his portrayal of Steve Wilson of the Illustrated Press in the "Big Town" radio and TV series and as Martin Kane, Private Eye).

Needless to say, the petite brunette with flashing brown eyes from Sanford won in a walk... Then came weeks of preparation. Studying lines, learning to walk, talk, smile and cry for the benefit of the very cold and discerning eye of the movie camera.

The results are most gratifying. According to the producers Ann turned in a fine performance and is a credit to Sanford as well as a fine example of the kind of beauty and talent in Florida.

Editing of the film is currently near completion in Hollywood... Based on a novel by Robert Schekley, "The Man In The Water" is compared by many to Ernest Hemingway's Pulitzer prize winning "The Old Man and the Sea" and is the story of a Key West charter boat captain's attempt to rescue Cuban refugees from Castro's Communist control — with a real "Hitchcock" ending. There is a special "sneak preview" of the picture in Key West (where picture was filmed in its entirety) on June 19.

Sanford's contribution to the movie world is the daughter of Frances and Dan Ballinger of Perfection Cooperative Dairies.

By the way, Ann's husband Harry was loaned to the film company by the Navy and because of a remarkable physical resemblance to Mark Stevens he was Mark's double in the picture and performed many of the dangerous stunts (such as swimming through flaming water) necessary in an action picture of this type. Rouser did so well he was given a speaking part in the picture.

Four Hours Of Violence

Gainesville Flare - Up

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI) — A Negro man was shot, a white man was beaten, bottles were thrown and a car was smashed Sunday night in a four-hour eruption of racial violence in this north Florida city, the home of the University of Florida.

Large bands of whites and Negroes formed and nearly clashed in the downtown section during the trouble, which started when Negroes attempted to buy tickets to a segregated theater.

City officials promised strict control over more theater demonstrations expected today.

In the midst of the trouble, the city commission held an emergency meeting and set up a biracial committee of eight whites and four Negroes to work toward a peaceful solution to racial problems.

"The law will be enforced," vowed Mayor-Commissioner Byron Winn.

Officials in Tallahassee and Daytona Beach, where theater picketing already is underway, also looked to police control and cooperation by officials of both races to keep down trouble. There was near violence last week in Tallahassee.

In the Negro section of Gainesville, a crowd of close to 1,000 Negroes gathered as word of the downtown trouble spread. The Negroes pounced on a stalled car carrying three white men, wrecked the car and beat one of the men.

It was here, witnesses said, that a Negro pulled out a pistol and shot another Negro, Joseph Simmons, either accidentally while aiming at the car or because Simmons was trying to help the white men. Police said they were investigating.

Simmons was treated for a wound in the forearm and released from a hospital.

Hunt Yacht

MIAMI (UPI) — Five boats and seven airplanes combed a 20,000 square mile area in the Bahama Islands today for the yacht Morning Star which radioed it was sinking in rough seas with five persons aboard.

Planes from Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba and the St. Petersburg Coast Guard station joined Miami Coast Guard planes in the search.

The search area stretched from Great Inagua Island off the southern tip of Cuba northwest to San Salvador.

Kennedy 'Summons' Leaders On Rights

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy summoned Democratic Congressional Leaders to the White House today to discuss new, strong civil rights legislation expected to be submitted to Congress tomorrow.

The administration civil rights proposals will be accompanied by a written presidential message to the House and Senate.

The President returned to the White House this morning from a weekend at Camp David, Md., and immediately announced hearing top Democratic House and Senate leaders began streaming to the executive mansion. Atty Gen Robert F. Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson also joined the talks.

Home Repair Trial Set

(Special To The Herald)
GAINESVILLE—Four Sanford home repairmen will go to trial in circuit court here Tuesday for "stealing a mortgage."

The charges stem from a deal made last fall by the now defunct Nova Builders, of Sanford, It will be the first trial to grow from a statewide investigation of home repair fraud.

Lawmakers Meet To Spend Or Not.....

TALLAHASSEE (UPI) — The State Legislature, which ended its regular session Friday, began its extended session today to fill the $187 million gap between authorized spending and expected income.

Both houses were scheduled to convene at 4 p.m. for a token meeting to fill the constitutional requirement that the recess between the regular and extended sessions be less than 72 hours.

Facing the lawmakers was a huge stack of taxation bills introduced in the last few hours of the regular session and designed to bring anticipated revenue in line with the $687 million general spending bill approved by the Legislature.

The Finance and Taxation committees of both houses have come up with tax proposals to balance the budget, but the two groups disagreed on specific sources to tap for the additional income.

Farmers Burn Woman At Stake

VILLA GRAN, Mexico (UPI) — Farmers, rebelling against two brothers who established a strange religious sect with the help of a woman "witch doctor," stoned the woman and burned her at the stake, according to reports reaching Villa Gran today.

The woman, Celina Salvana, was one of six persons killed at the farming cooperative of Yarla Buena. The others were the brothers, Cayapano and Santos Hernandez, who set up the religious sect, two farmers and a policeman.

Justice Arthur J. Goldberg did not participate in today's rulings. The Taft-Hartley labor law permits employers and unions to negotiate contracts which require union membership "as a condition of employment." This means workers have to join up within a specified period of time or lose their jobs.

The Finance and Taxation committees of both houses have come up with tax proposals to balance the budget, but the two groups disagreed on specific sources to tap for the additional income.

The court left undetermined the question of whether Florida courts, rather than the National Labor Relations Board, have jurisdiction to enforce the state ban against agency shop arrangements. This will be decided next term.

In general, the agency shop does not require a worker to join a union but does require him to pay union dues.

Justice Byron R. White ruled the two opinions for a unanimous court.

Both committees have agreed to increase the state sales tax from three to four per cent, but the governor and many senators have balked at the proposal.

Other proposals would extend the three per cent sales tax to nearly everything, but food and drugs, and still another plan would increase the tax on a pack of cigarettes from five to eight cents and double the capital stock levy.

The proposal by the Senate committee would balance the budget with taxes alone. The House version, however, would include the governor's proposal on bond $125 million for university construction.

The extended session could run as long as 30 days, but veteran lawmakers are predicting the Legislature will wind up its business in a week or 10 days. This will only be the second time in Florida's history that the regular 60 day session has been extended.

"How long Orange County will keep on the job of educating Seminole County's handicapped children is anybody's guess," said Mrs. Jerry Keeth, teacher of the small class of mentally retarded children at the Little Red Schoolhouse, speaking to the Civilians, Thursday.

"Buses daily are traveling to the Gateway, Primrose and Forest Park Schools. If we are satisfied to go along and take care of the seven or eight we can help at the rate we are going, we don't need much," she said.

"They used to hide retarded and handicapped children in closets, but they don't make closets big enough for that anymore," she noted.

"If we are going to take care of our own, we need a lot of things."

"We will need land, and it ought to be in the center of the county. We will need at least two classrooms, a sheltered workshop, teachers, workers . . . and money," she said.

"We have already had offers of free labor when and if we start building. And if we get the building, one company in town has already promised duct work for heating, maybe gutters, too," Mrs. Keeth advised.

She noted that a committee has been formed to start studying the feasibility of building, and they should have some information on this project soon.

"Why do we care about these children?" she asked and then answered the question with,

"First, for the child's sake. We have to try to bring the child up to his highest capabilities."

"Second, for the parents sake. The parents need outside help to train these children . . . they haven't the facilities, the know-how and some not even the right attitude.

"Third, it is economically sound to educate the child to his fullest capabilities locally. They can be taught to do simple tasks and possibly to support themselves in adulthood. The cost of putting a child in an institution is far greater than keeping him in his home."

POWERFULLY IMPORTANT!

Are we letting it fade away?

In America, young people can decide to be whatever suits their desires and talents. But unless we face all threats to freedom with resolute determination and superior strength, that freedom of choice could fade away!

Freedom of the individual and freedom of enterprise inspires progress and production that assures the strength of America. The free enterprise system has made us the most prosperous and progressive country on earth. It has also made us the world's most powerful electric nation.

Investor-owned, tax-paying power companies—working under the free enterprise system—have accomplished this feat without governmental pressure, coercion or interference. Florida Power & Light Company, along with other Florida power companies is proud to be part of the nation's power team. Together with our Florida counterparts, we are working to improve, strengthen and expand an interconnecting network of transmission lines so that Florida will have ample, dependable power to meet future needs.

This powerfully important job calls for the greatest expansion program in Florida Power & Light Company's history. Projects now under construction will add 1,575,000 kilowatts of generation by 1965—a 65% increase—in an all-out effort to help make Florida . . . and America . . . more and more powerful!

Together with other Florida power companies, we are expanding and strengthening our interconnecting network of transmission lines to assure plenty of dependable power for Florida's growth and expansion.

Girls Reminded Of Deadline For Contest

By Donna Estes
All high school girls who are interested in entering the "Miss Flame of Seminole County" beauty contest were asked today by Carl Lommler, contest chairman, to make arrangements with their local fire departments before the June 8 deadline.

The contest, which is being sponsored by the Longwood Volunteer Fire Dept. as an attraction of the annual Fourth of July Fiesta, will be judged with the girls in bathing suits and again while they are wearing formal gowns.

Each fire department in the county, plus those who serve the county, have been invited to enter two contestants. Entry forms and information are available at all fire stations or from Lommler.

Serenade A Success

The audience joined the Sanford Male Chorus in the commemoration of Memorial Day, Thursday in the singing of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," the next to the last number on the program of the Spring Serenade.

The unannounced finale was a surprise song, "Sanford On the Lake," an original composition with words and music written by the director of the Male Chorus, Robert Carnie.

Highlights of the concert included the masterful trumpet solos by Sid Villen Jr., and the special arrangement of the Moonlight Sonata by Beethoven, featuring piano accompanist, Mrs. Betty Smith.

The Chorus combined a selection of old favorites, with folk tunes, Broadway show hits and spiritual songs to make an enjoyable evening for the "almost capacity" audience at the Seminole High School auditorium.

Director Carnie, who has guided the Sanford Male Chorus songsters from the inception of the group three years ago has an extensive musical background and has written a number of other songs.

He was formerly with the Montgomery County Symphony Orchestra and directed a 50 voice choir in Detroit, where he was organist and conductor as well as director.

Voodoo Of Misery

Some 10,700 square miles of misery is the dubious prize at stake under the despotic tyranny of Haiti's president, Francois Duvalier.

Haiti occupies the western third of Hispaniola, the Caribbean island it shares with the Dominican Republic.

Famine—bare subsistence farming—occupies over 90 per cent of an estimated 4.8 million Haitians. They scrape out an existence on land depleted by overcultivation. Where new lands have been cleared in the mountainous territory, tropical rains have largely washed away the thin cover of fertile topsoil.

Great national product in 1961 averaged $68 gourdes—about $75 per person. This is the lowest in the Americas, according to the National Geographic Society. Wealth is concentrated in an elite minority. Poverty is the way of life for most Haitians. About 90 per cent of the population is illiterate.

Duvalier, latest in a long line of dictators, ended a constitutional six-year term May 15. Through legislative voodoo of his own devising, Duvalier proclaimed a second term for himself following primary elections in 1961.

The Haitian dictator counts on his army of thugs and undervermen to keep him in power.

Whether Duvalier or a successor takes control, or whether the Dominican Republic moves in, things can only go from worse to bad. A social and political mess such as exists in Haiti cannot be cleaned up overnight.

Hurdle For Goldwater

As time passes more and more talk is heard among Republican leaders that Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona might have a better chance to win the presidency in 1964 than any other GOP prospect.

The argument ardently circulated for a long time by some of the senator's staunch supporters, is simply that he could put together a victory from a combination of southern, western and midwestern states.

This assumes Goldwater could virtually sweep the 11-state Old South. Some observers of southern politics, while conceding likely further gains to the Republicans next time out, question whether southerners generally are quite ready to abandon traditional Democratic loyalties.

Georgia and North Carolina are sometimes mentioned as states which might cling to the Democratic banner in 1964.

It also is contended in some quarters that Alabama and Mississippi, rather than give their electoral votes to either President Kennedy or Goldwater, might toss them to a third-party candidate or a particular choice of their own. All of Mississippi and part of Alabama's vote went that way in 1960.

These doubts are not, however, the chief hurdle that pro-Goldwater strategists have to surmount in making their case.

By their reasoning, they say the senator could win the necessary 270 electoral votes with help from two big industrial states—Ohio and Illinois. They practically give Kennedy New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and California.

Veterans of many political wars see this as a major flaw in argument.

The GOP leaders in New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan and California are not interested in electing a president. They are hard bent to put across their full state and local tickets.

Thus they find scant comfort in a contention that Goldwater might be a loser in his states but no matter, he will win elsewhere and take the big prize. They fear that a loser at the head of their ticket may spell defeat all down the line.

They are not interested in nominating somebody who might run first only in areas beyond their immediate and direct concern.

Phil Newsom Says . . .

Nice Time For Vacation?

In Jakarta, Indonesian President Sukarno accepted an offer from his hand-picked congress that he keep his job for life, and then, leaving his country in typical chaos, took off for a month-long vacation among the brighter lights of Tokyo, Rome, Vienna and Paris.

If this would seem to be fiddling while Rome burns, it was nothing new for Sukarno whom crisis never has been known to keep at home and who as a ruler has demonstrated both durability and agility.

Five assassination attempts have been made against him but as he himself remarked in accepting his life-long post, "Sukarno cannot be toppled."

Behind him he left a month of anti-Chinese riots and anti-government posters proclaiming: "We do not want speeches. We want food and clothing."

The rioting he blamed on foreign subversives.

As for food shortages and the economic chaos brought on in part at least by general mismanagement, these he heaped aside as part of the price of achieving Indonesian-style socialism.

"Do not expect the government and me to become Santa Claus," he told his people. "You must work hard."

As a revolutionary, Sukarno has found the going comparatively easy since the end of World War II.

The United States helped him achieve independence from the Netherlands.

At home, the emotional appeal has taken the place of a sound economic policy and so far as Sukarno is concerned, has been successful.

Successful also has been his policy of balancing the United States against the appeal of communism originating in Moscow and Peking.

From the United States he has received more than $700 million in economic aid.

Military aid from the Soviet Union is estimated at around $1 billion and his MIG jets, frigates and well-equipped army of around 300,000 enabled him to take West New Guinea from the Dutch almost without firing a shot.

But there is a possibility that Sukarno's luck may be running out.

The Communists are showing increasing impatience with Sukarno's policies.

U. S. envoys would like to talk to him about U. S. and British oil interests in Indonesia, now under threat of virtual confiscation.

Such an action would signal a major victory for Communist efforts to eliminate Western interests in Indonesia. But it also would cut off a major source of foreign income and it almost certainly would mean the end of U. S. economic aid.

Membership in the Electoral College is determined by each state choosing as many electors as the total number of its senators and representatives.

"Just in Case You Hot Shots Get Any Ideas—"

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

Clark wants to be a writer or so he wishes to learn the secrets of human interest. One of these involves the difference between a "romantic" and "sympathy" as he explains in this case. Few it is just as vital to teachers, public speakers and salesmen as to writers. Use it in your high school composition classes, too.

CASE P-456: Clark G., aged 20, is a journalism student. "Dr. Crane," he began, "I aspire to become a writer, preferably a novelist, though I may work as a newspaper reporter at first.

"So what are the main secrets of a human interest? What attracts people most?"

"The secret of human interest is wrapped up in your own epidemics—NOW!

In brief, people are most interested in what is inside their own skin and the present moment of time.

So aim at the focal point of your customer's main interest, namely, at his inner appetite at the present moment.

As an example of the very opposite, I recently heard a clergyman spend 35 minutes expounding on the Bible but he never got within 2,000 yards of the present moment. Thus, he ignored his audience, for he neither mentioned a one of them by name. Nor did he refer to any current item from the newspaper or magazines, radio or TV.

So can't you guess what happened? I furtively looked around the church and saw almost half the men with their eyes shut.

Maybe they weren't sound asleep, but they certainly weren't vitally enthused.

"But, Dr. Crane," Clark protested, "I can't name everybody who may be reading my stories.

"So how can I focus within their skin?"

A writer, speaker or actor must depend upon empathy. Empathy differs from sympathy, though both are first cousins.

When you sympathize with another person, that means you are maybe 50% to 75% identified with him and his current problem.

So, by analogy, you can partially understand his difficulty and feel sorry for him.

But in empathy, you identify yourself 100% with him, so you don't feel sorry for him, but really feel sorry for yourself.

When you have empathy, you are thus an identical twin, not just a cousin, so to speak.

If you want your audience or readers to identify themselves with your hero, then you must let that hero become a mirror image of the reader. To do this, employ what we call empathy words, and modifying phrases, instead of purely factual nouns and verbs.

Add enough adjectives to conjure up vivid color images and other sensory qualities that permit empathy.

For example, look at the bare sentence: "The boy is walking."

That is a factual statement, devoid of descriptive adjectives.

We need greater use of adjectives to produce empathy, for logic is cold, unfeeling and thus without human attributes.

So notice the progressive degrees of empathy generated by these:

"The boy is walking."
"The little boy is walking."
"The little immigrant boy is walking."
"The little immigrant boy is walking, with tears in his eyes."
"The little immigrant boy is walking with tears in his eyes, carrying his dead puppy."

So send for my booklet "How to Write Salable Copy," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. (Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

WASHINGTON — (NRA) — Efforts to smother out Michigan Gov. George Romney as a Republican presidential candidate, when he appeared before the National Press Club in Washington, were kinda cute.

"The governor has said he was not a candidate so many times," observed Bryson Nash, club president, by way of introduction, "that he's thinking of having it tattooed—in fading ink, of course."

The opening sentences of the governor's speech was, "I came here today to tell Michigan, and I hope that while I succeed in that, I will succeed also in convincing you that it is my only purpose."

The 350 people in the audience responded unanimously with a hearty laugh of disbelief.

The real high light of the speech came while Romney was itemizing a census of all Michigan's industrial, human and natural resources.

"Michigan's No. 1 crop in value is corn," said the governor with deadpan pride. When the audience tittered, he added, "Real corn." Finally came the Q. and A., which in condensed form went something like this:

First Question—Would you ever consider living elsewhere?

Answer—I've lived in Mexico, Idaho, Washington and the District of Columbia. But Michigan is the place for me.

Q—Would you accept a favorite son nomination from District of Columbia Republicans?

A—I've invited Goldwater and Rockefeller to come to Michigan and see. If they want to become its favorite son.

Q—Are there any circumstances under which you would accept the Republican nomination for president?

A—There are no circumstances under which I will seek it.

When this evasion drew another guffaw the governor added: "I told the Republican National Committee that if they would bring the National Convention to Michigan, I'd take a Sherman."

Q—Do you consider that the Republican candidate for the presidency in 1964 will be a sacrificial lamb?

A—It's too early to tell what will happen in 1964.

Q—Are you a Republican?

That stopped him for a moment, then he replied: "I worked for the Democrats in Washington during the depression. The Republican Party was then controlled by big business. Labor moved into the Democratic Party and that brought on a stalemate. I resigned from the Republican Party and joined a citizens' committee. Then I again joined the Republican Party because I believed it impossible to form a citizens' party. But we can't deal with our problems till we do. I was a citizen who was also a Republican and proud to be one. But there is a need for a genuine citizens' political party. Parties don't exist to be big business or big labor. That is not government of, for or by the people.

Q—Why don't you admit you are interested in being a candidate?

A—This is not a pose on my part. In 1960 Nixon urged me to run for the Senate. But I was convinced that our direction can't be properly corrected except at the state and local government levels, not the national level.

Q—Would the fact that you were born in Mexico make it impossible for you to become a presidential candidate?

A—There ain't no candidate and I don't know.

Q—What do you think of coexistence, containment and liberation as national policies?

A—They're too big to comment on.

Q—Aside from all that, what do you think of Texas?

A—No one could feel kinder towards Texas. I also lived in Texas as a refugee after my family was driven out of Mexico by the revolution. The federal government housed and fed us in El Paso for a time. Salomon was unsurpassed then and we lived on canned salmon. My elder brother still can't eat salmon. But whatever they blow about in Texas, come on up to Michigan and we've got it.

That put him right back in Michigan where he started from.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My problem is a six-foot, 46-year-old baby. I can't get him out of bed in the morning. When the alarm rings, he shuts it off, puts his head under the covers, and goes back to sleep. Our arrangement is that when the alarm goes off he is supposed to shut it off, get up and put the coffee on, and then I get up and fix breakfast. Well, as I said, he shuts off the alarm and crawls back in bed again. If I try to get him up, he says, "Oh, my back," or "I didn't sleep a wink last night." What makes me angry is that, when he is going fishing, he can get up at 4:30 A.M. without any trouble, fix his own breakfast, and take off with no help from me. What do you think?

PLAIN MAD

DEAR PLAIN: Your husband is a healthy, normal, six-foot, 46-year-old creature. When the alarm rings, YOU shut it off and fix the coffee. And bring a nice steaming cup to his bedside. If the aroma doesn't arouse him, one teeny-weeny drop on his nose will.

DEAR ABBY: When I had my last baby, I swore off having any more children. I am 27 years old, Abby, and I have EIGHT boys (no twins). Is it possible that there is something about the combination of my husband and me that can't produce anything but boys? Whose fault is this, anyway? My husband says it must be me because his first wife had two girls. LONG ON BOYS

DEAR LONG: You're short on facts. The sex of the children is determined by the HUSBAND.

DEAR ABBY: You mentioned that some of the wires a father should pull to get his son into a good college were TV, hi-fi and telephone. I couldn't agree more heartily. I am 18 years old and have been glued to the "nutty box" almost since its invention. I don't know how I ever tore myself away to go to school. For some fantastic reason I got grades that were good enough to admit me to an Ivy League university. Considering the stiff competition, it was a miracle. I will never let the TV or any other distraction control the lives of any children I may have.

JUST LUCKY, I GUESS

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

One of the great weaknesses of bridge players is their unwillingness to pay attention to and remember the bidding.

North's two club responses was Stayman and East's double indicated club strength and asked for a club lead.

When South showed four or more spades by two spades bid North jumped right to the spade game.

West opened the nine of clubs. East gathered in the trick with his ace and led another club for his partner to ruff.

West shifted to a diamond and declarer drew trumps; winding up in dummy and led the ten of hearts. East played low and after mature deliberation, South went up with the king and proceeded to lose his contract.

"I never seem to guess them right," complained South.

"It wasn't exactly a guess," said North. "If you had just bothered to remember the bidding you would know that East had done and passed. Then he had shown up with six clubs to the ace-queen-jack. If he had also held the ace of hearts he would surely have opened the bidding so you made a bad play not a bad guess."

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

When does a girl arrive at that irrevocable point in time when she steps from girlhood into womanhood?

According to one of the major airlines, the fateful day—or, to put it in the language of the airways—the point of no return is her 32nd birthday.

The airline was tactful enough not to say that when she reaches 32, a young woman can be no stretch of the imagination be considered a girl.

Wins Mile

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (UPI)—Vern Morgan of the Delaware Valley Athletic Association won the annual Boardwalk mile Sunday for the third consecutive year and broke the record he set last year. His time of 4:03.5 broke his previous record of 4:04.8.

Pro Winner

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—Surprising Andres Gimeno of Spain was $1,000 richer today for his victories over Australians Ken Rosewell and Rod Laver in the first San Diego professional tennis tournament.

Nope, it merely said that by age 32 its stewardesses should find work on the ground. But it all amounts to the same thing.

Stewardesses are chosen not only for beauty of face and figure and for their radiant smiles—they are especially chosen for their ability, in a ladylike way, of course, to make young men feel older and older men, younger.

Saying that a girl belongs on the ground instead of in the air by age 32 is just the same as saying that by the ripe old age of 32 that unique ability starts to dwindle.

How long a girl is a girl is a subject that is hard to find agreement on. But the airline that has decreed that 32 is the absolute limit has pretty well settled the question.

So watch it, girls. Perhaps you had better face up to the fact that the 32nd birthday is the really crucial one. It's the time to put girlhood behind. No matter how kind the mirror is, to say to yourself, "Look, honey, girlhood is behind me. I'm a woman now."

"The sooner I stop trying to talk like a girl, act like a girl, dress like a girl, think like a girl, and move on into the full and honorable estate

Sorority Chapter Honors Rushees

The Xi Beta Eta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi has been busy with rush season activities in an effort to start a new Ritual of Jewels Chapter in the Longwood-North Orlando area.

The latest session was a model meeting for the rushees, at the home of Mrs. Glenn McCall. Each rushee introduced herself and program chairman, Mrs. G. Andrew Speer, gave the rushees and other guests a brief outline of the program for the year and explained how, during the past year, the group made up its own program outline including participation by all members.

The service committee reported that a plastic covered mattress had been purchased for the Cancer Society and the social committee announced that the last social of the year will be a smorgasbord with husbands as guests. All annual reports were given by officers and chairmen and Mrs. Richard Walker gave an interesting report from the Beta Sigma Phi convention which was highlighted with a talk by Bill Ross, the son of the founder of the sorority.

At a previous meeting a friendship reception was given for the rushees. Upon arrival they were given name tags, outlined in gold with black lettering, and sorority members wore yellow tags in the form of a torch, symbol of the sorority.

During the evening aims and purposes of the sorority were explained and a question and answer period conducted for the benefit of the rushees.

Willie Blasts Three Giants Ready To Tear Loop Apart

By United Press International
Look for the San Francisco Giants to break the National League race wide open any day now.

Why?
Willie Mays, that's why. When Willie gets into one of his hitting streaks he literally carries the Giants, even with all those other muscular hitters, on his back. He gave evidence that he has shaken off his most recent slump Sunday by ramming three homers as the Giants defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-4.

They were homers No. 8, 9, and 10 for Mays, who hadn't hit one since May 17. During that period the Giants won seven games and lost six, and, even though they held onto first place in the NL race, it hardly was a pace befitting a contender, let alone the defending champion and favorite.

Throughout his major league career the 32-year-old Mays has been a streak hitter, and this year doesn't seem any different than the other 11. The thing about Mays' hitting streaks, though, is that they sometimes produce awesome results — such as Sunday's three homers.

This first homer came with Harvey Kuenn aboard in the first inning and was a typical four-base blow—not too long a drive but no cheapie by any means. The second hit the scoreboard at St. Louis' Busch Stadium in deep left-center, a drive of about 400 feet, and came with the bases empty in the eighth. The third reached to the foot of the scoreboard in the ninth and gave the Giants a 6-1 lead.

Willie showed signs of coming out of his hitting slump on Saturday when he got three hits in four at-bats. He finished the three-game set against the Cardinals and six hits in 11 at-bats and raised his average 18 points to .254 — far below his career average of .315.

The victory enabled the Giants to salvage one game against the Cardinals and widened their lead to two games over second-place St. Louis and 3½ over the Los Angeles Dodgers, who lost to the Cincinnati Reds, 5-2.

In the other NL games, the New York Mets swept a doubleheader from the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-1 and 4-3, the Houston Colts nipped the Milwaukee Braves, 5-1, in 17 innings, and Philadelphia and Chicago split, the Phils winning the opener, 5-2, and the Cubs taking the nightcap, 3-2.

Jim O'Toole picked up his ninth victory in beating the Dodgers, but it took some weird doings to achieve as the Reds scored three runs on a bunt during a five-run second inning. A double, infield hit and a walk loaded the bases after two out in the second. The Dodger infield then threw the ball around, two runs crossing on an error by Dick Traavoski and three on a wild throw by Don Zimmer.

The Mets gained their first-game victory when Bill Viron and Jerry Lynch collided chasing a fly ball in the 10th inning as pinch-runner Rod Kanehl scored from second, and they gained their second win on a 10th inning homer by Jim Hickman. Reliever Elroy Face was charged with both defeats.

Four consecutive singles in the top of the 17th produced the margin of victory for the Colts, who struggled four hours and 36 minutes before beating the Braves, Hal Woodeshick, who pitched six innings of shutout relief ball, was the winner, and Ron Piche, who worked the last two, took the loss. Between them, the Colts and Braves left 30 runners stranded.

Veteran Cal McLish, given a three-run lead at the start, coasted to his fifth straight victory as the Phils won their opener, but Cal Koonce and Barney Schultz combined on a five-hitter to gain the Cubs a split. Art Mahaffey, who won 19 games last year, suffered his seventh loss against only two victories.

Lefties Tough For Yankees

United Press International
Memo to American League managers:

If you want to beat the New York Yankees, save your left-handers for the world champions.

And if you need proof of that statement just take a look at what Jack Giralko and young Sam McDowell of the Cleveland Indians did to the Yankees on Sunday.

Kralick, who seems to have regained his 1962 form since being traded by the Minnesota Twins, stopped the Yankees on two hits in the opener as the Indians won, 5-0, and McDowell, the 20-year-old flame-thrower from Pittsburgh beat the champs in the nightcap, 7-2.

The Yankees have lost only 17 games thus far this season in 43 starts but eight of those setbacks have been to southpaws, including one to the departed Albin Kasky, what had just that one victory.

Lorenzen Cops Race Classic

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (UPI) — Fred Lorenzen nursed his out-of-gas Ford for three laps around the Charlotte Motor Speedway and glided across the finish line at 30 miles per hour Sunday to win the World 600 late model stock car race and $26,250.

The lead-footed North Carolina native, who now lives in Elmhurst, Ill., combined cagey strategy and a lot of luck to set a blistering mark of 132.417 miles an hour and boost his total earnings this season to well over $75,000.

He purposely relinquished the lead to Junior Johnson at the 320th lap and trailed the Chevrolet Jockey. By "dragging" behind Johnson he conserved fuel.

Pastrano Says He'll Defend Title In Europe

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Happy Willie Pastrano said today there was a "strong possibility" he might make the first defense of his newly won light heavyweight championship in Europe in about 90 days.

Swarthy, black-haired Willie, who wrestled the 175-pound crown from veteran Harold Johnson Saturday night on an upset split 15-round decision at the Las Vegas Convention Center, mentioned three possible European challengers:

—Chick Calderwood of Scotland, who outpointed Willie in Glasgow on Sept. 18, 1960.

—Lennart Risberg of Sweden, who held Willie to a draw at Stockholm Aug. 6, 1961.

—Giulio Rinaldi of Italy, current champion of Europe.

Smiling Willie, 27, explained that, right now, a fight with any one of those three European boxers seemed a better money match than any that could be made in the United States.

All-Star Bid

CHICAGO (UPI) — Junior Buchanan of Grambling, a 6-foot, 7-inch, 290-pound tackle signed by the Dallas Texans (now the Kansas City Chiefs) of the American Football League, has been invited to play in the 30th annual All-Star football classic Aug. 2, in which college All-Stars will play the Green Bay Packers of the National Football League.

Veterans Hold Memorial Services

By Jess Caselberry
In spite of threatening skies a large group of grateful Americans gathered in Caselberry Thursday afternoon at the Memorial Park of American Legion Post 256 to pay tribute to those who had given their lives to this nation's defense. The Lyman High School Marching Greyhound Band played for a parade of veterans from the town's Municipal Building to the Park for the Memorial Day Services.

A Color Guard consisting of Clyde Kerce, William Elder, Frank Messick and Wilbur Morry, led the parade.

Wreaths were placed at the base of the flagpole by Commander George Howard of VFW Post 10066 and Commander Harold Kryder of the American Legion Post.

The band played the Star Spangled Banner. Rev. Delmas Copeland of the Caselberry Community Methodist Church gave the invocation. Larry Maplesden, Americanism Chairman of Post 256, acted as master of ceremonies. Rev. Darwin Shea, post chaplain, delivered the principal address and Rev. John N. Montgomery of Westminster Presbyterian Church and Rev. Ronald E. Miller of the Messiah Lutheran Church each gave a short inspirational talk.

The audience stood silently at attention in a light rain for the climax of the program which brought a lump to the throat of those present as Paul McGhee of the Lyman Band played Taps on his trumpet while Frank Evans echoed back each phrase from nearby Quail Pond.

Rev. C. R. Zehnder of the Ascension Lutheran Church read as his benediction a prayer written by George Washington.

Altamonte Scouts—Explorers Sponsor Successful Dinner

By Louise Simunek
A delicious chicken dinner was served to more than 200 persons by the Boy Scouts in Troop 38 and Explorers in Post 38 in Altamonte Springs. The boys were gratified by the turnout on this project as they had put in a lot of hard work.

Proceeds of this affair will be divided between the two groups and be used to purchase some badly needed camping equipment.

Following the dinner the boys built a large council fire in back of Altamonte School and presented a unique program to the public. Colonel James Bennett presented the charter of the National Rifle Association to the Explorers. A Court of Honor was held and Mickey Hawks was advanced to First Class which was the only advancement earned in the troop at this time. Personal Fitness merit badges were awarded to Raymond Gaines, Gary Garesche, Mickey Hawks, John Newell, Mike Rickett, Jack Simunek and Raymond Temple. Citizenship Merit Badges was awarded to Raymond Gaines and the Music Merit Badge to Mickey Hawks.

After the Court of Honor the boys enacted several skits and the evening was rounded off by an elaborate demonstration of Indian Snake Dances by the Tipis Lodge, Kaliga Chapter, Order of the Arrow. The boys danced to the haunting drum beat with live snakes entwined around their arms and, as the dance ended, the boys were holding the large snakes in their mouths.

A fitting ending to the program was the plays of taps by Jimmy Fuller.

By Shirley Westworth
The May meeting of the Bear Lake Home Demonstration Club was held last Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Richard Mathes on Lincoln Beach Dr. with 20 members in attendance.

Mrs. Raymond Jackson, president, opened the meeting and reports were given by Mrs. Russell Loomis, Mrs. James Wood and Mrs. Mathes on the recent craft day of the group spent as guests of the Geneva Home Demonstration Club.

Following the short business meeting the group adjourned to work on aluminum trays. Favorite recipes of the ladies also were exchanged. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Clayton Vormberg, 1411 Balmey Beach Dr. in Bear Lake with Mrs. Don Riley as co-hostess. A workshop on covering shoes and the design of greeting cards will be held at this meeting and members also will exchange casserole recipes.

The thought of a courthouse annex in South Seminole County is just that for the nonce . . . just a thought. That special committee will recommend no facility there at this time except it will recommend "tag relief" for South residents . . . that John Galloway establish an office there for the distribution of automobile license plates.

Oviedo Babe Ruth fans are bragging they have more spectators in the stands when their baseball team plays here than there are Sanford residents rooting for the home team.

Our genial senator, Mack Cleveland Jr., is up for election again today. City employees are voting this afternoon for a member of the City Civil Service Commission. Mack's two-year term expires June 30. Foregone conclusion Mack will be re-elected.

Oviedo's City Council meeting turns into a kaffeeklatch after the business session. Pie and cake served to those present. Nice gesture to the constituents.

We add our applause to that of others for Mrs. Betty Blackwelder, mother of nine and grandmother of five, who received her beginner's swimming certificate recently. It's never too late to learn, they say, and Mrs. Blackwelder has proved it.

American Produce Exchange, Inc., has purchased about 100 acres of the rich black hammock land from C. R. Cloutier over near Oviedo and plans to grow cabbage, escarole and endive.

A film on lung cancer shown at the Rotary Club Monday used a newspaper editor as a horrible example of what can happen to chain smokers. (Look out, Verahel!) Seriously, the film is grim and graphic and the Narcotics and Alcohol Education Association has it available for showing at other clubs and organizations, particularly to schools.

Class Day at Seminole High School is scheduled for Thursday at 1:15 p. m. The Herald's graduation edition of all the seniors in the county, Seminoles Lyman and Oviedo will be in your newspaper Friday. Baccalaureate services are set for Sunday at 8 p. m. and commencement exercises for 8 p. m. Monday.

Those pipeline workers are really moving fast. They are all the way out to 13th St. Now, not much further to the Naval Air Station.

Another organization that has made amazing progress is SHEBA, Inc., the Seminole Hospital Eye Bank Assn. In the short time it began its humanitarian activity here, nearly 200 people have signed up to donate their eyes. This means 400 people will be given the precious blessing of sight . . . a priceless gift.

The American Legion is to be commended for its fine practice of awarding medallions and certificates to outstanding students in all the schools. Other organizations who bestow well-deserved awards on students who have that quality of excellence and accomplishment are the DAR, the UDC, the Pilot Club, Jaycees, Kiwanis, Rotarians, Lions, FRA and Civitans.

"The Kid" of the silent movies of 40 years ago, Jackie Coogan, who, in recent times, has been a character actor in television, now is a resident of Orlando and a citrus grower, to boot. His Seminole County friends report he is sharing publicity about his current activities.

Local Eye Bank Is Incorporated As SHEBA, Inc.

The executive board of the Seminole Hospital Eye Bank Association signed incorporation papers Monday and now will be known officially as SHEBA, Inc., Mrs. Frank Woodruff, board member said today.

Chairman of the organization is Lions Club member Dr. Richard H. Dougherty. Incorporation papers were drawn by Attorney Carroll Burke, also a member of the Lions Club.

The organization is affiliated with the North Florida Eye Bank for Restoring Sight, Inc., founded by the Lions Clubs of North Florida with headquarters at the J. Hillis Miller Medical Center, University of Florida, Gainesville.

The groups are both affiliated with the Eye Bank Assn. of America. Purpose of the local association is the securing of donors, persons who sign up to donate the use of their eyes after death, so that others may see, Mrs. Woodruff said. The corneas and the retinas of the eyes of the deceased can be used, through surgical and medical techniques, to replace the damaged corneas and retinas of living persons who have lost their sight, she noted.

There is no charge for the service of the Eye Bank. Eyes are furnished free to patients. There is no fee for the removal of donated eyes, and it is not possible to buy or sell an eye.

The question of age has no bearing and the cause of death has little significance, Mrs. Woodruff added. The Eye Banks are wholly dependent upon the support of the public and financial donations are always gratefully received, Mrs. Woodruff said.

Since the beginning of the organization in Seminole County, nearly 200 persons have signed up to donate their eyes that others might see. The most recent donation card was signed by Mrs. Cary Collins, of Paola.

Mrs. Woodruff asked that anyone wishing further information contact officials of SHEBA, Inc. at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

Airplane Debris Is Located

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UPI)—Debris found in the stormy seas in the Gulf of Alaska came from a missing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Pentagon today released a list of persons aboard a Military Air Transport Service plane missing in the Gulf of Alaska. The list included Airman 2-C, Robert F. Dutton, husband of Mrs. Victoria J. Dutton, Route 1, DeLand, Fla.

military charter plane with 101 men, women and children aboard, the Coast Guard said today.

The four-engine Northwest Orient Airlines DC7 disappeared Monday shortly after requesting a routine change in altitude while on a flight from McChord Air Force Base near Tacoma, Wash., to Elmendorf Air Force Base here.

A Royal Canadian Air Force plane later notified the U. S. Coast Guard that it had sighted debris 60 miles west of Graham Island. The plane last reported its position as 150 miles northwest of Ketchikan, Alaska.

The Coast Guard cutter Sorrell, skippered by Lt. Cdr. Claude W. Jenkins, arrived upon the scene shortly after daybreak and reported finding conclusive evidence that the debris had come from the plane, but the Coast Guard spokesman stressed that the plane did not necessarily crash in the ocean, but may have jettisoned cargo over the ocean.

A spokesman aboard the Sorrell said the first ship on the scene, the Japanese ship Hoshi Maru, had found a suitcase identified as being from one of the passengers.

The Sorrell then reported discovery of a life jacket and some women's wearing apparel also identified as having come from the missing plane.

World Is Paying Tribute To Pope

VATICAN CITY (UPI)—The body of Pope John XXIII, his face lined with the suffering of four days of agony, lay today in regal raiment in the Vatican Palace where cardinals and diplomats paid their last respects.

This evening the remains will be borne in procession to the Basilica of St. Peter's. Starting Wednesday, hundreds of thousands of the people of Rome and all others who wish, will begin filing by for a final salute to the late pontiff, who gave a new warmth to religious statesmanship.

Pope John died in his simple bed in the apostolic palace Monday night after almost 94 hours of suffering from a stomach tumor and peritonitis.

The suffering showed on his face as he lay richly-robed on a red-draped catafalque placed in a salon of the Vatican Palace. His gloved hands were clasped over a beloved crucifix.

A tall noble guard, wearing plumed helmet and holding his sword at salute position, stood on either side of the catafalque which was flanked by four giant candelas.

Pope John had on soft, richly-embroidered cloth slippers with soles that showed they had been worn.

Pope John's body was brought from his bedroom to the salon shortly after dawn, and at 9 a.m. (3 a.m. EST) there began a steady stream of visitors ranging from President Antonio Segni of Italy to members of the diplomatic corps accredited to the Holy See.

Pope John's face almost had the appearance of a lined statue.

As he lay in death, plans went ahead to choose his successor.

The first to visit the Pope in the spectacular chamber in which he lay was the camerlengo, or chamberlain, Benedetto Cardinal Aloisi Masella, who carried for the first time the staff symbolizing his primacy in the church. He holds this authority until the election of a new Pope.

The Pope, son of a northern Italian peasant, brought new ideas and new warmth to religious leadership during his four and one-half year reign, set an example even in death.

Despite four days of agony that touched a listening and watching world, his last prayers were for others. In the words of the Vatican Radio, he showed the world "simply and magnificently how to die."

The visitors filed into the salon to see the Pope's body throughout the morning. Each one, from diplomat and cardinal to Vatican employe, bowed to kiss the red-alpined feet of the Pope as he passed.

The Pope lay with the golden conical-shaped mitre on his head. It glinted in the candlelight.

Murder Case Hearing Set

OSTEN (UPI)—A preliminary hearing for two men charged with first degree murder in the slaying of a Seminole County barber at a St. Johns River fishing camp May 14 was scheduled for late today.

Peace Justice John S. Peterson will determine if there is sufficient evidence to hold Joseph M. Carey, 49, and Fred M. Gilbert, 45, both of Sanford, for grand jury action in the slaying of Floyd Dodson, 46, of Paola.

Authorities said Dodson was beaten to death. Statewide pickups were out for two other men, Walter William Payne and Herman Turner, who also were charged with murder.

World Food Meet Opens

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Delegates from more than 100 nations gathered today for a World Food Congress called to explore methods for lifting the shadow of hunger from half the people of the earth.

President Kennedy and United Nations Secretary-General Thant were scheduled to address the opening session of the two-week meeting sponsored by the UN Food and Agriculture Organization.

Solons Study Tax Program

TALLAHASSEE (UPI)—The Florida Legislature, off on an extended session that could last 30 days, went to work today on a tax program to finance the $387 million state budget which the governor allowed to become law Monday.

In an action unprecedented in modern history, Gov. Farris Bryant let the entire record budget go by without a single veto even though it falls $180 million short of anticipated revenue.
