Car Tags On Sale July 1-August 20

By HERKY CUSH
Pre-written registration forms will be mailed to Seminole County automobile owners on June 25, according to County Tax Collector Troy Ray. License tags will go on sale July 1 and Seminole car owners can purchase their 1971-72 tags at either the court house in Sanford or the branch office in Seminole Plaza in Casselberry.

The renewal period ends Friday, Aug. 20. Should the need arise the two locations may extend their current hours of business, Ray stated the main office, because of the parking problems, may be forced to open its doors the Saturday before the final parking date.

"There is plenty of parking at Seminole Plaza," said Ray. "But the construction of the new court house here in Sanford along with all the other activity may keep people away."

If that occurs the main office will open its doors for business on Saturday, Aug. 14, to help Seminole residents get their auto tags before the Aug. 20 deadline.

R. E. Porter says it's a fairly safe wager that Andrew Carraway, erstwhile chairman of the Seminole Memorial Hospital board of trustees, will be named by Governor Reubin Askew as a member of that board again, succeeding Dr. Thomas Largent, resigned.

Our nomination for "Mister Nice Guy" goes to Bill Baker Volkswagen. When the local fellows were looking for a means to attend the Fellowship of Christian Athletes conference in Black Mt., N.C. . . they had no transportation — and to rent some would have cost $200 (which they didn't have in the first place).

So, Mr. Baker provided them with an air-conditioned bus . . . FREE OF CHARGE.

A very kind gesture. . .

At 20, you'd walk four miles through nettles to picnic with your girl; at 40, you'd have the sandwiches catered in the back yard.

Untold wealth is wonderful — unless the IRS gets wind of it.

Get the right girl on the string, boy and you'll wind up on a leash.

From the way some of the gals are shouting about the cause, they should change the name to the "Women's Lip Movement."

Tell to the guy on the street about where all of the profits go and he'll tell you that 75 percent goes to the owners and 25 to the employees.

Just for the records . . . employees of U. S. corporations in the first three quarters of 1970 received 96.2 percent; owners received 9.8 percent. Of that 9.8 percent, a trifle more than half was paid out in dividends; the rest was used to finance improvements.

With that kind of economic ignorance revealed by a nationwide poll, no wonder we have a labor problem!

Just have to share this one with you . . . from one of the better cartoons; boy, saying prayers, as father listens — "And please send some clothes to those poor ladies in my daddy's magazines."

Cute . . . about the guy who said that he was glad his wife joined the women's lib. "Now she complains about all men — not just me!"

Ask any decent person what he thinks matters most in human conduct: five to one his answer will be honesty.

College Gets $10 Million Windfall

ST. PETERSBURG (AP) — Florida Presbyterian College received a windfall of $10 million from the weekend. It came from millionaire Jack Eckerd, owner of a chain of drug stores and a former candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

The money will go for scholarships and payment of a $1.5 million debt, said the chairman of the board of trustees, Charles McArthur.

Speaking for the board of trustees, McArthur said, "I want to express my deep appreciation to Jack Eckerd for this magnificent show of confidence. This additional investment will bring the total financial support the college to approximately $12.5 million."

McArthur continued, "Mr. Eckerd is today absorbing a $1.5 million short-term debt which has been accumulated over the years by the college. The balance of the $10 million will be placed in endowment as received to be used principally for scholarships."

Addressing faculty, staff and student leaders, Eckerd acknowledged the group's appreciation and discussed a seeming crisis in education and the democratic way of life.

The 58-year-old retail chain store executive emphasized that he refused to "go along with the forces who feel that education and democracy are living on borrowed time; however, it does seem that education, especially higher education, has been price-tagged as a business product often are in business."

"I think we have two questions that must be answered," said Eckerd. "First is the country getting the education it already is paying for? In my opinion, it is not. Our entire educational process is in need of major overhaul. Instead of trying to reform our entire society, educators should concentrate on turning out effective leaders."

"Secondly, in our free enterprise system, is the taxpayer and businessman really willing to pay for quality education? I believe he is if the educators, politicians and parents will allow the same yardstick of performance to be applied to any successful business case."

"Admittedly this is hard to do in some areas. In others, however, there is no way to justify a continued use of methods and educational processes that have long outlived their usefulness."

Clyde Lee 'Serious' 3 Gunmen Sought

By LARRY NEELY
Seminole County Sheriff's Department issued a statewide alert for the 1969 light green, four-door, Ford sedan bearing a Hillsborough County license tag. The getaway car contained two and possibly three males. The man who fired the gun at Lee was described as dark complexioned about six feet in height.

Lee was struck by four bullets in his arm, one through his cheek and one in the back, from a blue steel revolver believed to be a 9 mm foreign handgun. A cross piece in the gun booth stopped two of the six shots fired from the gun which would have struck Lee in the chest.

There were three witnesses to the Lee shooting at the South Seminole service station, including Evans and two of his employees. One of the attendants at the station, Frank Sivak, told sheriff's deputies that he saw what appeared to be a rifle being pointed at Lee from the assailant's car which was drawn back inside and one man then jumped out and fired at Lee, while Lee screamed, "No, no, help me!"

Evans said that after the shooting the man who fired the shots jumped back into the car which then sped away and entered the southwestbound lane of Interstate 4.

Lee is currently out on $25,000 bail after his arrest on two accounts of conducting a lottery last January, according to Sheriff John Polk. Federal officials said that Lee has a history of arrests and convictions dating back to 1959.

Housing Topic For Debate

Future housing development in South Seminole County will hinge on a decision at tomorrow's Seminole County Commissioners meeting.

That decision will be made on the request by builder Charles Clayton to have his Maitland Utilities Package Plant approved until Maitland gets its sewage treatment plant capacity increased.

Clayton was to have drawn up an agreement between Seminole County and Maitland which had to be approved by Seminole County Board of Commissioners before he could continue construction in South Seminole County.

At last week's Maitland City Council meeting Maitland officials stated it was the Seminole commissioners that Clayton had to get approval from before he could resume construction. Clayton proposed that he be permitted to operate a temporary sewage treatment plant to accommodate the houses he would construct.

In other items on the agenda tomorrow the Commission is expected to make a decision on the small claims court law.

Future housing development in South Seminole County will hinge on a decision at tomorrow's Seminole County Commissioners meeting.

Among the reports on the agenda are that of the County Sanitarian on the Lake Jessup Hill Sanitary Landfill, John Kinshrough's report on the County Personnel Policy Manual; and the County Planner's report on Winter Springs, Units two and three, development plans.

Four items are slated for discussion at the 11 a.m. public hearing:

First is the proposal of continued-vacating and abandonment of Northgate. Also there is an amendment to Seminole County Subdivision regulations up for hearing.

Third on the public hearing agenda is a special exception — appeal board of adjustment in multiple family use to construct a two-story and a two-story, east of SR 436, bordered on the north by Casselberry city limits on Lake Howell. This was made by Lake Howell Investment, Inc.

Final topic for public hearings is that of vacating and abandoning of Walnut Street in Goldenrod Manor.

Orlando Boy Lost In Hills

MOUNT AIRY, N.C. (AP) — A party of about 150 searched through the night for a missing six-year-old Orlando (Fla.) boy, lost since Sunday afternoon in the wooded area around Mountain Park, some 23 miles west of Mount Airy.

Billy Kite had been visiting his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Carlan, when he disappeared.

Rescue squad members, volunteer firemen and the Surry County Sheriff's Department joined in the search for the boy.

Weekend Toll

Highway traffic accidents killed 14 people in Florida over the weekend.

Church Youth 'Jailed'

The summer youth program of First Baptist Church received a routing send off the group gathered for a party at the Civic Center Friday evening.

This party was promoted as the general apparatus caused law enforcement officers to be suspicious of the group as "turned on" on drugs. After marching the group to city jail and after the pastor was called the group was released.

It became evident that the "raid" was a planned climax to the party and that this group was not "turned on" on drugs. They were actually having a good time as Christian young people. They said that they were "turned on" on Jesus Christ. While waiting for release they sang hymns and choruses and sensed something of what it means to be in jail.

This unusual beginning actually unveils the summer youth program at First Baptist Church of Sanford. The program is as follows:

June 14-15 — Assisting in vacation Bible school for children at First Baptist Church.

June 18 — 7:30 p.m. — Youth Choir of Myrtle Grove Baptist Church of Pensacola presents sacred concert.

June 20-27 — TEEN TURN ON Week — Special programs are planned for each evening, culminating with a camp-out Friday and Saturday.

June and July — Youth Witnessing groups visit churches in Deland and Mt. Dora. Special recreation emphasis on Aug. 9-14 — Youth camp at Lake Yale.

Aug. 16-22 — Youth led revival, Radiant Tidings Evangelistic team from Carson Newman College, Jefferson City, Tenn.

SEVERAL YOUTHS from First Baptist Church are shown putting on a skit as the church kicked off its summer youth program at the Civic Center. The program will continue all summer. The next activity will be assisting in Vacation Bible School. (Don Vincent Photo)

City Commissioners Talk Police Complex

A discussion of several aspects of the proposed police station and jail complex for the city of Sanford is expected to highlight tonight's meeting of the City Commission. The commissioners are expected to discuss the selection of a site and architect for the project as well as a tentative construction budget and space needs at the facility.

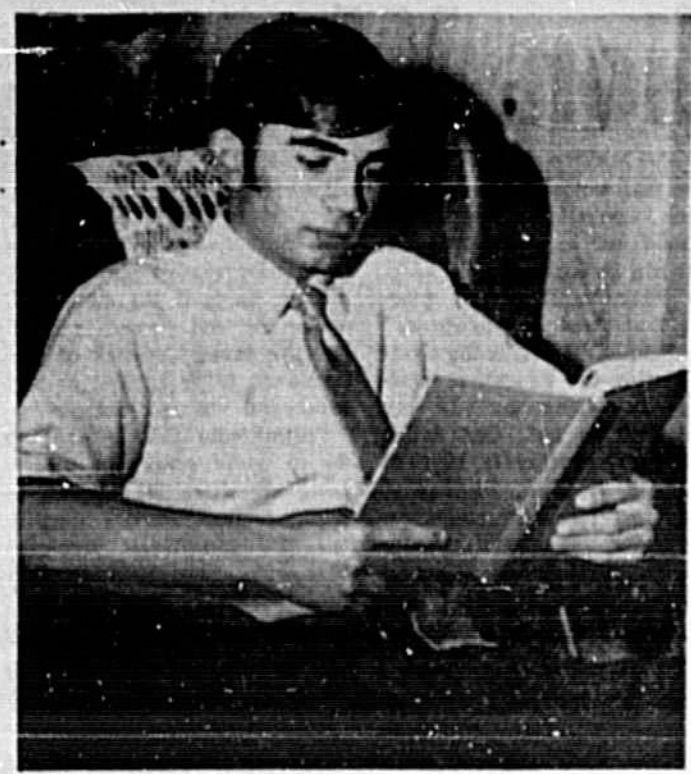

City Manager Warren E. (Pat) Knowles has proposed that the $23,000 security complex be financed by a parity issue to be attached to the lakefront improvement bond issue that paid for the marina complex. Knowles said that the bonds are being retired by the city's franchise money collected from Florida Power and Light. He added that the franchise revenues exceed the need amount exceed this fiscal year and an increase is expected annually. He said that the excess funds cannot be used for anything else but retiring the bond issue and the addition of a parity issue to the bond issue to pay for the security complex would allow the city to construct the security complex without seeking revenues from other sources such as increased taxes.

The City Commissioners are expected to accept a grant of amounting to $20,000 for work on the city's sewer plant. The federal grant is based on the projected total cost of the project which was estimated by federal authorities to cost the city approximately $2.5 million. The actual cost of the project will not be known until the bids have been let.

Also tonight the City Commissioners will consider a uniform utility tax rate instead of the present graduated rate. State Attorney General Robert Steig handied down an opinion that utility taxes must be levied on a uniform rate. It was Stevin's decision that prompted consideration of a flat rate to replace the present rate of 18 per cent on the first $25 of utility bills, five per cent on the next $50 of utility bills and one per cent on any excess over $75 in utility charges.

Knowles has also requested that the City Commission tonight consider authorizing the payment of $15,000 for engineering and preliminary plans for a street paving in Georgetown which was stopped by a federal injunction. The city has to pay the cost of the preliminaries which would have been paid for by a special assessment on Georgetown property owners upon completion of the project.

Seven Killed In Detroit Riots

Weekend disturbances led to seven persons killed in Detroit and 13 wounded in Albuquerque, according to Associated Press.

DETROIT (AP) — Seven persons were shot to death and eight were wounded critically today in what homicide officers called execution-type slayings in a suspected dope pad.

Four women who were slain were found with their arms tied behind their heads. All eight of the victims were found in the first-floor living room of the two-story dwelling.

District Inspector James Barton, who headed the police team at the slaying site, said a quantity of suspected narcotics—believed to be heroin—was found in the house along with a dozen handguns and long guns, none of which appeared to have been fired recently.

None of the victims was identified immediately.

Off-duty homicide detectives were called in to aid in the investigation of the multiple slayings which occurred on Hazelwood Street, just off predominantly black 12th Street—

the focal point of the 1967 Detroit riots.

Homicide officers expressed belief the mass killings were the latest in a string of about 25 narcotics-connected homicides since the first of the year.

They had said previously a power struggle is under way in the Detroit narcotics underworld.

The slayings were discovered when the wife of the wounded man returned home at 4:30 a.m.

"The house looked like a blood bath," she told police. Dan Smith, a next-door neighbor, said he heard what sounded "like small firecrackers" during the night but that he did not realize anything was wrong until he heard police sirens approaching.

The wounded man was listed in critical condition at Henry Ford Hospital with a gunshot wound in the chest.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Police armed with automatic weapons and shotguns moved into a city park this morning and arrested the last holdout of an estimated 300 young people who clashed with officers during a night of disorder in which at least 13 persons were wounded by gunfire.

The trouble flared Sunday afternoon after police apparently tried to make arrests for public drinking at the crowded park.

A state of civil emergency was imposed early today after businesses were burned or looted and police headquarters was stoned by the crowd of young people.

Under the emergency order, a curfew was in effect from 1 a.m. until 6 a.m., with all persons on the streets subject to arrest or questioning.

The latest violence came between 3 a.m. and 4 a.m., when two persons were hit by shotgun pellets after police drew a

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The guest list for the White House wedding—so limited that no one from Congress was invited—included a number of rich campaign donors for President Nixon.

Among them: An oilman seeking a duty-free port, another oilman with a monopoly in Greece, a Los Angeles millionaire involved in past political controversy, and a donor so elusive his identity couldn't be traced.

They and six others put more than half-million dollars into Nixon's presidential race and key Republican campaigns last fall.

The donors who got one of the cherished 400 invitations to the Saturday wedding of Tricia

Nixon to Edward F. Cox included such names as Elmer H. Bobst, New York drug executive; Thomas A. Pappas, Boston industrialist and Patrick J. Frawley, conservative Los Angeles tycoon.

Left off the list were Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott, House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford, and the man who swore in Nixon as President, former Chief Justice Earl Warren.

The guest list's guide to who ranks as a personal friend of Richard Nixon:

—Bobst is honorary chairman of Warner-Lambert Co., and Nixon has referred to him as his own "honorary father." Bobst was one of the 15 largest donors to the 1968 Nixon campaign at $63,000. Recently, the Justice Department declined to block a Warner-Lambert merger that would form the nation's third biggest drug company.

Nixon and Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell were once the firm's lawyers. The Federal Trade Commission has since started an antitrust case.

—Pappas, 71, is a Greek-born millionaire with friends in government on two sides of the Atlantic. His oil refinery has a monopoly in Northern Greece and he holds the Greek concession for another precious liquid, Coca-Cola. Last fall Pappas pumped at least $20,000 to GOP congressional candidates in eight states. He is now serving on Nixon's re-election committee.

Want maximum comfort at minimum cost from your electric air conditioner?

Try these hints.

It's summertime. And you'll enjoy your air conditioner even more if you follow these hints. They'll help keep the price of summer comfort at a cool minimum.

Give your air conditioning unit (or system) an annual check-up. Like a person, an air conditioner needs a periodic "physical." And the best time to call your serviceman is early, before his "trick" season.

Keep the filter clean. The more dirt a filter accumulates, the less efficient your unit becomes and the higher your operating costs.

Shrubby helps shade the home, but should be kept away from the intake grill. Branching air sucks leaves against the grill, choking off the air and decreasing the efficiency of your air conditioner.

Use outside shading or inside drapes to shut out sun heat. An insulated ceiling also helps keep heat from getting in. So does a properly ventilated attic. White roof tile and pastel masonry wall-paints reflect the sun's heat and reduce the cost of operation.

Exhaust fans in the bathroom and kitchen will push heat and humidity outside and help keep you cooler inside. Cook the fanless electric way. An electric range is a cool appliance. It heats your food, not your home.

Set your thermostat for the highest comfortable temperature. If your family is away from home for most of the day, it's more economical to turn off your air conditioner during that time.

Teacher Is Retired; Succumbs Next Day

Funeral services for Mrs. Julia B. Merritt, retired Seminole County teacher and librarian, will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at St. Paul Missionary Baptist Church.

Mrs. Merritt, of 703 Sanford Avenue, died Friday afternoon from injuries suffered when the car she was driving collided with a train on SR 419.

Mrs. Merritt was pinned in the car for over an hour before being removed to Florida Hospital by Hiedon Bell ambulance.

Mrs. Merritt was graduated from Bethune-Cookman College in 1933. She was affiliated with various organizations, including Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority.

Mrs. Merritt began teaching in Lake County in 1933. She joined the Seminole County school system in 1935. She was at Midway Elementary for 10 years, Goldboro Elementary for six years and Hopper Elementary for 17 years as a teacher.

In 1963 Mrs. Merritt became a traveling librarian serving several schools. In 1968 she

Jet Lost; 24 Aboard

By BRUCE DUNFORD
HONOLULU (AP) — Military aircraft searched the Pacific Ocean 700 miles southeast of here early today for a missing Air Force transport jet carrying 24 persons believed to be military personnel.

The four-engine C-135 military version of the Boeing 707, disappeared Sunday on a 2,227-mile flight from Pago Pago, American Samoa, to Hawaii.

An area 700 miles north of Palmyra Island became the center of search operations after rescue plans picked up the signal of a crash position indicator, said Capt. Bill Ballew, an Air Force information officer.

"We can't be positive that the device is from the missing plane," Ballew said. "We'll only know for sure after we have it picked up after daylight."

He said no debris had been spotted.

Ballew said the crash position indicator is ejected from a plane when the crew knows it is going down. It sends a constant radio signal to guide searching aircraft to the site.

Ballew said the device was spotted by a search plane that followed the beacon's signal.

An Air Force-Navy air search was launched after the transport was reported missing from Pago Pago at 10:10 a.m. and carried fuel for nine hours.

Fly The Flag: Honor The Colors: It Is Your Day

This is FLAG DAY. It was on June 14, 1777 that an entry was made in the Journal of the Continental Congress: "Resolved: that the flag of the United States be thirteen stripes, alternate red and white; that the union be thirteen stars, white in a blue field representing a new constellation."

In 1818 Congressman Peter H. Wendover of New York introduced the Flag Act of April 14, 1818 which defined the flag as it is today. Thirteen stripes remain. The constellation of stars now is made up with a star for each state, 50 on the blue field.

The "Stars and Stripes" is a symbol of much more than simple patriotism. It has flown over embattled fighting men and won its high place of honor as soldiers, sailors, marines and airmen shed their blood for the principles the colors embodied.

It has been seized upon by jingoists and super-patriots and by the very ostentation such uses engender, lost some of its dignity.

Those who would destroy this nation and weaken its character have found in the "Red, White and Blue" a means to show their contempt for the principles which have made the United States great by defacing and missing the flag.

For such there is no excuse. For such the penalties demanded by law must be enforced. No turning the head at these can be allowed.

On this Day, however, it is pertinent to point out that some who display the national colors (and more and more do so) are not aware that Congress in 1942 (WW II) amended Public Law 829 and established rules for its display.

Raising and lowering: The flag should be hoisted briskly and lowered ceremoniously.

When to display: The flag should be displayed on all days when the weather permits (not when it is inclement) especially on national holidays.

Hours of display: From sunrise to sunset on buildings and on stationary flagstaffs in the open.

On a vehicle: The flag should not be draped on or over any part of a vehicle. When displayed on an automobile, the staff should be firmly fixed to the chassis.

Not on a staff: When the flag is being displayed otherwise than being flown from a staff, whether indoors or out, it should either be displayed flat or suspended so that its folds fall freely as though it were staffed.

Perhaps the one instance in which disrespect (usually unwittingly) is shown is when the colors are carried in a parade and the procession passes by with bystanders not saluting.

Here the code calls for a military salute by those in uniform and for men to bare their heads and render a salute with hat in hand over the heart and women to place their right hand on heart. All facing the flag at attention.

In paying honor to the flag, citizens pay honor to all the heroes of the past and present, military or civilian, noted in song or legend or unknown to the world, and by such tribute help to build that strong American character which is now very much in the process of reforming.

Flag Day 1971 is a splendid time and a most important day in which all can refurbish their patriotism in a manner which avoids exalting any personality but allows the display of commitment and involvement a very present need!

Engineers Create Scholarship

The Central Florida chapter of the Florida Engineering Society has awarded $400 to Florida Technological University for creation of an engineering scholarship, and a special award of $100 to the "outstanding junior engineering student" on campus during the coming year.

The society has indicated that the larger sum is the first annual scholarship awards for FTU engineering students.

The close affiliation between FTU and the society has become evident with other awards. Just recently, for example, Dr. Robert D. Kersten, FTU's dean of engineering, was named "Engineer of the Year" by the Central Florida group. Other engineering faculty likewise have been honored for their contributions.

FTU's college of engineering in only a few years has gained recognition for a host of innovative programs. Foremost, perhaps, is involvement in the nationally known RETRO plan to retain former aerospace engineers and scientists in entrepreneurial engineering and management fields.

The college also had approved recently programs leading to degrees as master of science in engineering, and master of science in environmental systems management to upgrade even further the professional training offered FTU students.

Current president of the Central Florida chapter of FES is Dr. M. E. Ardman, of Ardman and Associates, Orlando engineering firm.

On Towards Mars

The concurrent American and Russian missions to explore the planet Mars finds this country momentarily in second place, as was the case 10 years ago when manned exploration of space began.

After the disheartening failure during launch of Mariner 8, the first of most recent efforts by the United States of America to explore Mars by instruments, Mariner 9 was dispatched successfully and now is on a 247 million-mile journey toward a mid-November orbit.

Meanwhile, Russia's huge five-ton interplanetary ship, Mars 2 and 3, have a head start. Hints from Moscow suggest they may land robots to analyze Martian soil for signs of life.

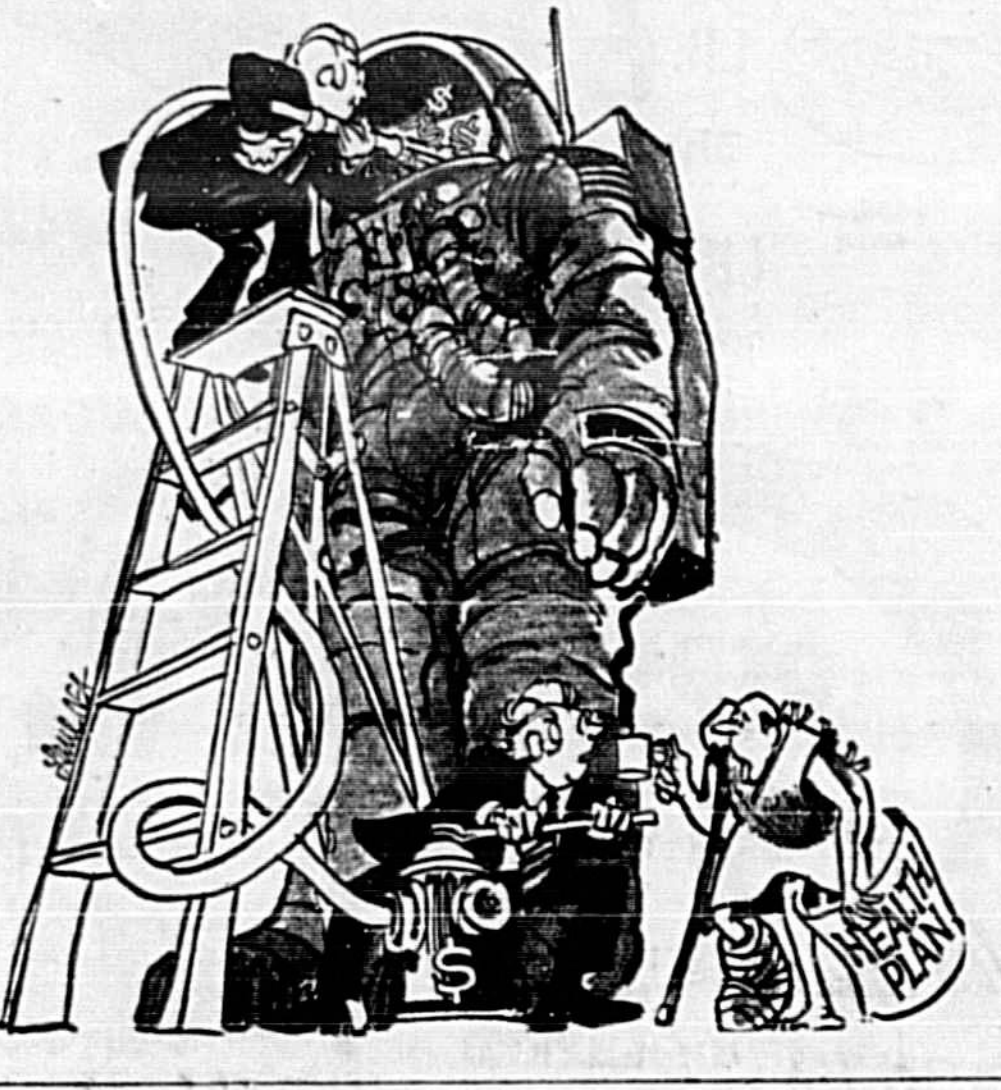

An instrument landing on Mars could give the Soviets a four-year advantage over the United States exploration of the red planet.

Ideally, pioneering into the far reaches of space should be a cooperative venture among earthlings.

But given the Communist's predisposition toward secrecy, there seems to be less likelihood of cooperation between ourselves and the Russians than there was among European nations during the maritime voyages of discovery four centuries ago.

Therefore, it behooves the United States to make certain that it assumes and retains a clear first place as we reach for the secrets of space that will have such an important effect on our future security and well being.

Political Notebook: Great Awakening For U. S.

By BRUCE BROSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The day it becomes clear that the United States is largely out of Vietnam will be the dawning of a new age of self-discovery for Americans.

Vietnam has been the great alibi. For years now, it has been argued by diverse groups in different ways, that so long as we were there, we would have neither the will nor the capacity to fix up our crumbling cities, get people out of poverty, improve health care, attend to the racial struggle, and so on. Peace in Vietnam, we'll begin to find out just how authentic that alibi has been.

Some recent travelers abroad tell me that influential Europeans think Americans today are, on the whole, a pretty unstable people. You can't translate that into pro-war attitudes on the part of these Europeans. But they believe the war has destroyed our balance and perspective.

If they are wrong, if we still are stable, we really won't start to learn for sure until we're out. A key thing to watch will be whether we quickly grab for new alibis in the event our present chaos and confusion continue.

Money will be a great focus. For two or three years we've been getting warnings very soundly based, that there will be no whopping peace dividend after Vietnam. Yet the country is full of disbelievers on this score. Those who have disbelieved, or what attitudes and actions will they spawn? From President Nixon to Sen. George McGovern, it is taken for granted that "there will be no more Vietnam." The feeling everywhere is that, after six years or more in Southeast Asia, the American people just won't lend any kind of support to limited wars.

Still, there obviously is no guarantee that in the decades immediately ahead the world is suddenly going to become placid. Or that the Soviet Union, Red China and perhaps

Global Comment: Sex And Single Proletarian

By LEON DENNEN
NEW YORK (NEA) — Put the Russian bachelor, the Kremlin ruler, alarmed by the declining birth rate, have now decreed that he is an "anti-social element" and possibly a traitor to the Communist cause.

The single man, to be sure, is not yet an outcast in all Marxist-Leninist dictatorships.

For instance, the Red Chinese, Russia's neighbors and enemies, are currently cautioning their young against rushing into marriage until they are 25 or 30.

But China already has a population of 700 to 800 million and Peking's problem is to control the birth rate. The Russians, who fear Mao's "one-child" "clique of expansionists," have not yet reached the 250 million mark.

Young Soviet males are now urged by the Kremlin to marry at an earlier age and produce more children.

In addition to the anti-bachelor campaign, there has been a marked increase in Russia in studies and articles on sex, love and marriage. "Sex hygiene" is now the party line.

The scientist Igor Zabelin even warned that "love as an emotion will play a very important role in the future in the populating of outer space."

Writing in the magazine Moskva, Zabelin predicted that "when mankind fulfills its mission of populating outer space, men and women will be sent in spacecraft somewhere for many years."

Therefore, he added, Soviet scientists "must not only deeply analyze love as an emotion but also try to regulate it properly."

Meanwhile, the Kremlin's educationists have embarked on an experimental sex program for schoolchildren on earth.

The program appears to follow the general lines of similar programs instituted years ago in the United States and many Western school systems.

Domestic Commentary: Behind The Kremlin Facade

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The administration's detailed analyses of recent Kremlin infighting indicate Leonid Brezhnev has outmaneuvered his rivals and gained control of the powers in both the Communist party and Soviet government.

What his new strength means to the United States is not clear. But one thing is certain, Brezhnev sounds out loud power factions before he moves. Unlike Khrushchev, for example, he is not going to make a unilateral move without consulting the Soviet military.

While the military men will perhaps have no greater power in decision, they'll get more of a chance to express their thoughts and their concerns. So, presumably, will the top men in science, agriculture, industrial management and a wider range of party men.

Inside Russia, the Communist party, up and down the line, will be more firmly in control. Local party officials will have even more direct say within the ministries and agencies, schools, cultural bodies and research organizations.

This new authority has been legalized by the recent 24th party congress.

The power of the political police will be strengthened even more, but these will be brought tightly under the control of Brezhnev and his associates. Indications are the police will not again have the power at the top they had under Beria, although police representation has been increased slightly on the Central Committee.

This all adds up to more caution and less imagination perhaps, but also a greater toughness at home and abroad. At home and within the Soviet bloc controls will be tightened and greater reliance will be put on force. Centralized planning will be increased and local initiatives discouraged.

Don Oakley Says: Calmer Look At May Clash

By DON OAKLEY, NEA
Editorialist

Civil libertarians, including a U. S. senator, former attorney general and a mixed bag of columnists and commentators, continue to talk and write as if the May Day clash between police and protesters in Washington was a replay of the charge of the cockades against the people in front of the czar's palace.

Amid all the alarm expressed about constitutional rights ridden roughshod over by the police, one truth is ignored: This is everybody's constitutional rights.

To disagree with the hand-wringers is not necessarily to do the other extreme, however.

One need not subscribe to the charge made by Deputy Attorney General Richard G. Kleindienst that it was a "riotous and heinous mob attack on Washington" whose leaders were in cahoots with the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese. Indeed, much more distur-

'Ins, Outs' Of Communism

By LIZ MATHIEUX
GENEVA — Dr. Luis Perez, well known for his long time fight against communism, appeared before the officers of the Seminole County Visiting Nurse Association, and guests in Geneva Community Hall and spoke about the ins, outs and pitfalls of believing in communism.

Dr. Perez spoke for a period of 15 minutes, then, paused, looked at his watch and told the audience "that I have indoctrinated you with as much communism as I could with you to be exposed to." This time the burglars made off with radios, electric watches and shavers as well as prescription amphetamines and barbiturates and narcotic paraphernalia.

Entry was gained by cutting into the air conditioning system on the roof kicking out the ceiling tile adjacent to a vent opening. It was a similar modus operandi as was used in the May breaking and entering of the pharmacy. The burglars left the store through the rear entrance after tampering with the alarm on the door. The burglary was discovered when the store was opened Saturday morning.

The burglars did have a sense of humor. A sign had been affixed by the store owner, Jack Ploper, on the cabinet in which narcotics are kept during store hours which said "all narcotics and cash are kept in the safe" and which the burglar had added an exclamation note of "thanks."

No estimate had been set on the value of merchandise taken and an inventory is under way to determine the exact amount. The sheriff's department along with the Oviedo police are investigating the matter.

Polly's Pointers

By Polly Cramer

DEAR POLLY — So many of the pictures my parents have collected during the past 86 years have been pasted or glued on black photo album paper. Many of the album pages have yellowed and the pictures have faded. I have no idea for picking trash up off the ground without soiling the pictures. I would appreciate any suggestions.

DEAR POLLY — I do appreciate all the manufacturers have done and are doing to aid the housewife but my Pet Peeve is the changing of labels (colors and designs), making it more complicated to find out what is what.

DEAR POLLY — Mrs. W. N. wanted to know the difference between loose lining for a dress or skirt and a neck and armholes, and at the waist for a skirt. A lining saves inside wear to the garment, prevents stretching and keeps raw edges from showing. A sew-in lining is an underlining that is stitched to the outside fabric pieces and they are treated as one layer of fabric thereafter. An underlining adds body and prevents wrinkling. A garment could have both an underlining and a lining.

Cards Total Up

NEW YORK (AP) — It used to be that greeting cards contained a sweet verse and were used only for holidays, holy days and birthdays.

Now we have cards for expressing sympathy, anniversaries, cards for the ailing and for servicemen," says Irving Cohen, president of a firm that franchises stores throughout the country. He estimates 15 percent of the nation's mail involves the business of cards.

No Portable TVs?

VIENNA (AP) — Each day a two-and-a-half-ton truck makes the rounds to yards of the city-owned public transportation system to gather things which passengers leave on buses and streetcars.

Besides such run-of-the-mill items as umbrellas, the lost and found department also listed dozens of dental plates and glasses. One person even forgot a wrapped-up washing machine.

Scientists: Lake Apopka Is Dying

WINTER GARDEN, Fla. (AP) — Lake Apopka is dying, a team of scientists theorized Sunday, and is slowly strangling birds, fish and alligators in a year-long process.

In recent weeks, a wildlife die-off has littered the shores of Lake Apopka and other freshwater lakes in Central Florida prompting worried state officials to summon expert help to solve the plague's riddle.

"Our investigation not only pertains to dying fish or alligators, but to a dying lake," said Dr. Frank A. Hayes, director of the Southeastern Wildlife District Study at the University of Georgia.

"It sounds sad, but I can't think of any problem today that cannot be corrected if the American people want to correct it," he said.

Dr. Hayes said a combination of weather, rainfall and an as yet unnamed disease-carrying agent have teamed up to produce a wildlife plague.

Since its first victim—an alligator—was discovered early last month in the 22,000-acre Lake Apopka, 20 alligators, thousands of fish, and scores of birds, turtles and other species have washed up dead.

Slowly but surely, the killer has crept northward in the Central Florida chain of lakes connected by canals.

The mystery death-dealing agent is "not a drastic or rapid spread of epidemic proportions," said Dr. Hayes, who is leading a team of biologists in the study.

"The spread should be considered in terms of years instead of days or weeks," he said. "So we're not looking for any one agent, but a combination that clash in the environment."

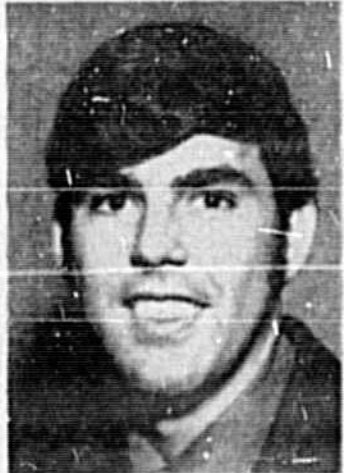

Dr. Hayes said a more specific cause will result from laboratory tests of tissue taken from dead wildlife and he expected to see "for sure what the killing agents were in the next few days."

For the second consecutive year the Atlanta Braves have a major write-in candidate in the running for a position on the 1971 National League all-star team.

The Braves' 400 Club is the main booster in the write-in candidacy of Ralph Garr, the rookie sensation of the Georgia baseball team. Many cars are displaying bumper stickers (see bottom of page).

Garr led the league for a long time with his near 400 average. Since then he has entered a mid slump and dipped several points.

Last year Rico Carty was left off the all-star ballot and backers were successful in getting him in as one of the three outfielders. Carty led the league in batting last season.

The Braves may not be so successful this season, with Garr just a rookie, but they'll sure try to get him in. Early balloting shows Hank Aaron as almost a "sure thing" one of the starting berths.

In 1966, after being left off the ballot last season and being named to the team by write-in votes, Carty is on the disabled list and will be unable to play this year. At least he got his name on the ballot. Garr, incidentally, is replacing Carty in the lineup.

I wonder how many votes Clete Boyer will get. The ex-brave, who just received his "walking papers" from the Braves is on the ballot. He could be the only player on the two squads playing as an independent.

When Hank Aaron singled, driving in a run in the sixth inning of the Braves' 2-2 loss to the Cardinals on May 21, he brought his career hit total to 3,113 and moved past Hall of Famer Paul Waner into the seventh place on the all-time list.

Seven minutes late in arriving at Three Rivers Stadium because of traffic congestion, reliever Dave Giusti drew a $25 fine from the Pirates, then went out to get the last out, wrapping up Pittsburgh's 2-2 victory over the Houston Astros June 4.

The major league's first "Hot Pants Day" is scheduled Sunday, June 27, at the Oakland Coliseum. All women wearing pants will be admitted free to the Athletics-Royals doubleheader. It will also be camera day, which the A's management figures will present interesting possibilities.

What a laugh. I saw the other day where Edgewater High principal Norman Kent is up for a position with the Florida High School Activities Association.

Sure, why don't they give him the job of sweeping the floors or emptying the ash trays after games. I'm sure he could handle it.

Don't look now but popular Buddy Baker is right in the middle of the greatest season of his career... and a victory in the July Fourth Medal of Honor Firecracker 400 at Daytona International Speedway could snap his "second-career streak" and make his season even greater.

Baker, the popular Dodge driver from Charlotte, N.C., has finished second so many times over the 2.5-mile trioval layout that the other drivers on NASCAR's Grand National tour are beginning to expect him to come home right behind the winner.

"I was second to Dominic (Allison) last July Fourth and I was second to Richard (Petty) in the Daytona 500 in February and I was second in one of the 125-mile qualifying races," Baker said. "I was even second in the Firecracker year before last (1969) and in 1965. I think it's time for me to win at Daytona."

The 6-foot-5 Baker will be one of the favorites for the $80,205 Independence Day battle where the pole position qualifying dashes kick off the activities Thursday, July 1.

So far this season Baker has posted second-place finishes in the Daytona 500, Ontario 500 and the Carolina 500 and has added a victory in the Rebel 400 and a third-place finish in the Winston 500. The Grand National tour is nearing the middle of the season and he has already collected more money than he has in any other year. His career high came in 1969 when he won over $62,000 and his current winnings recently went over the $72,000 mark.

Qualifying for the 400-mile continues through Saturday, July 3, and a $7,000 road race for IMSA's Formula Super Vee - 100-kilometers over the 2.3-mile trioval - is set for a noon starting time Saturday.

The spectacular Paul Revere 250 for NASCAR's Grand American performers will take to the road course at midnight Saturday.

Sunday's 12th annual Firecracker 400 will start the 40 fastest qualifiers at the traditional 10 a.m. starting time.

Florida State swimming coach Tim Sultis has announced the signing of Jon Snyder, one of the top AAU Age Group swimmers in the Midwest.

Curtis Crider Victorious In Late Model Feature

By FRED COXON Herald Sports Staff

Deland - Curtis Crider won the late model feature race Saturday night at Deland Raceway Park. Bob Whitaker, driving No. 19 "The Bryant Special" lost his hard fought battle for the number one spot after he came from behind to challenge Crider's No. 16. He seemed happy with the second place money though. Larry Flynn, who is certainly no newcomer to the top three, lost the battle between himself and Whitaker for second place, and thus, finished in the third place position.

Carl Stairs in the West Weld Special No. 73, owned by Charlie Ham, came in first in the first late model heat race. Forrest Galabian in No. 37 was second and No. 14, Flynn was third.

Crider won the second late model heat race followed by No. 86, LeRoy Nels and No. 14, Mike Bush.

There were four red flag races during the Mini Stock feature race. Each time the red flag was thrown, the leader, Frank Ollis would pit his VW to take on all two quarters of it each time. As one might assume, Ollis had a bit of a problem with an oil leak. The other driver's misfortunes which caused the red flag enabled Ollis to win the Mini Stock feature race. Fred Cartwright in No. 23 was second and No. 56, Bruce Smith, was third. All three were VW's, as the little German cars continue to dominate the Mini Stock class.

Ollis won the first Mini Stock heat. He was followed by Bruce Smith in No. 56 and No. 8, Jimmy Heiner.

Cartwright, driving No. 22 won the second Mini Stock heat, followed by Duke Busley in No. 16 and Irene Medders, No. 77. The current point leader is Jimmy Yawn, won the Bomber feature race. Clark Arrington is

Ends Three-Year Drought Weiskopf Wins Kemper Open

By BOB GREEN Associated Press Writer CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) - Tom Weiskopf scored his 10th victory over Dale Douglas, Lee Trevino and South African Gary Player in the $150,000 Kemper Open Golf Tournament.

Weiskopf, who broke a three-year victory drought with his dramatic, come-from-behind triumph Sunday, was talking about the use of sudden-death to settle ties after 72 holes. "If you've got more than one player, then sudden death isn't really a major test. A lot of back enters into it."

"If you're playing head to head with just one man, it may be a little more fair, I don't really like it. I'd only played it two before, and lost in both of those."

"It's a joke," said Player, one of the world's foremost players, who now has a 10-3 record in playoffs. Trevino and Douglas tied the Quail Hollow Country Club course without comment.

All four had finished the regulation 72 holes at 277, 111 under par. Weiskopf was six strokes off the pace, being set up, stepped away once, then stroked it home for his fifth birdie in a row.

The $10,000 first prize pushed his earnings for the year to $60,367.

Trevino, Player and Douglas each picked up $11,600.

Two strokes back of them were Bob Lum, the second and third-round leader with a three-run drive off Harris in the seventh.

In between the Williams' power display, Hank Aaron finished home No. 19 and the 16th of his career. Pat Jarvis

Porsches Finished Racing At LeMans

By PAUL TRETUHARDT Associated Press Writer

LE MANS, France (AP) - West German Porsches brought their third straight world sports car championship to a triumphant end here with a convincing 12 victory in the Le Mans 24 hour auto endurance race.

Austrian lawyer Helmut Marko with Dutch shipping executive Gils Van Lempen took victory in a Porsche 917 Sunday with Richard Attwood of Britain and Herbert Muller of Switzerland second in another 917.

But the delay of the howling 800 HP 5 liter engines in European sports car racing is rapidly ending, and the Le Mans organizers - and apparently hundreds of thousands of fans - are delighted.

The new 3 liter limit promises a return to top sports car racing of a variety of firms producing battles which will end the one-make domination seen here in recent years.

Commentator Enzo Ferrari has said he will not be cold shouldering of Le Mans next year. Other names of likely contenders include Italian Alfa Romeo, Matra Simca from France, and the British Lola, Chevron, and BHM teams.

There is even talk of Japan's Toyota making a major entrance in the world competition next year.

The Porsche 917's were out of the lead for less than one hour of the 24 in the weekend's race. Mexico's Pedro Rodriguez, with Derek Bell of Britain, led from the start until the car broke down just after the midway point. A Ferrari took a brief lead, broke down, and then it was the Porsche of Marko and Van Lempen which led to the finish.

The Le Mans win bids fair to put Marko into the succession of late world driving champion Jochen Rindt, his former classmate, killed in the Italian Grand Prix last year. A group of Austrian sponsors is willing to finance a Formula 1 drive for an Austrian pilot.

The Le Mans win makes Marko the prime candidate and he said to the press that he would like to see the decision is expected by October.

The early pace of the Porsches led to a distance record for the event of 2,315 miles at a record average speed of 138 miles per hour.

Oviedo Stops Ranch

Oviedo Boys team emerged an easy 15-1 victor in their benefit baseball game with the Florida Sheriff's Boys Ranch Friday afternoon at John Courier Field.

Mike Cox and Ricky England combined pitching talents to stop the Boys Ranch on only three hits. Cox gave up the one run in the third inning.

Oviedo jumped out to a 7-0 lead in the first two innings and were never in trouble. Ray Tye and Darrell Tambo had big hits in the three run first for Oviedo.

After being held scoreless in the third Oviedo broke out with two runs in the fourth and four more in the fifth. Scotty Biddle had a triple and home run to lead both of those rallies.

The Sheriff's Boys Ranch scored in the third. John Swan walked, moved to third on a single by Rasty Armstrong and scored on an infield out.

Willie Cox picked up the victory England sparked with three scoreless innings of pitching in which he permitted only one hit and three base runners. England got the final batter to hit into a double play.

England started it by grabbing a grounder up the middle and firing to Tye at second who gunned a perfect throw to Evans at first.

Proceeds from the game went to the Florida Sheriff's Boys Ranch.

$1 Million Police Academy Is Hanging In Limbo

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Back in 1966, the Florida Legislature authorized construction of a state academy. The first spadeful of dirt has yet to be turned, although $1 million is in the bank for it.

The problem, says State Law Enforcement Commission Director William L. Reed, is there is "no professional consensus" among law enforcement people on where to build it — if or whether to build it at all.

The final block was removed last Dec. 22, when the U.S. Supreme Court refused to bear a challenge of the $1 million that is to finance the academy.

Braden J. Miller, Philip Young contested the constitutionality of the 1969 law levying the $1 surcharge on traffic fines. He had to pay the extra back on a $30 speeding conviction fine in 1969.

The State Cabinet was expected to authorize a start to construction shortly after Gov. Reubin Askew took office, but the issue has repeatedly been put off.

One problem, said Reed, is that no less than 11 cities and counties are vying for the project. Tallahassee, Gainesville, Jacksonville, Sanford, Avon Park, Bartow, Brevard County, Deland, Highlands County, Sebring and Bay County.

Added to the controversy over the "little FBI academy" is the contention of people like Dade County Sheriff Ken Purdy that no academy should be built at all. Instead, Purdy suggests, the $500,000-a-year in revenue generated by the purchase should be distributed among the state's community colleges for use in police education programs.

An aide to Gov. Askew said he does not know the position the governor has taken on the issue, and is not aware that he favors one location over another. The aide, Press Secretary Don Prude, said Askew probably would rely on recommendations from his staff and Director Reed.

Reed strongly favors a Tallahassee location. He would be in charge of the program — designed to train 150 officers a year — and is quick to point out that his agency's key staff, its laboratory and crime information computer are located here.

VICTOR E. Gischler Jr., first vice president and director of the Seminole Junior Chamber of Commerce, holds the Key Award presented to him by President John Morris as the "man who contributed the most to club projects and aims."

Miss Sails Solo Over Atlantic

By ERI CHSHAR
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI (AP) — When Nicolette Milnes-Walker sails into Newport, R.I., she'll be the first woman to make a non-stop solo crossing of the Atlantic Ocean. But she won't be the first woman sailor to make the crossing alone.

The 28-year-old Miss Milnes-Walker left Dade, Fla., Saturday in a 30-foot sloop for the 3,500-mile crossing to the United States. She figures the trip will take about six weeks.

But in 1952, another English girl named Ann Davison left Great Britain on a similar voyage that ended in Miami — the difference being that it took Miss Davison 14 months and several stops to complete her single-handed crossing in a 23-foot sailboat.

Now a Miami housewife Mrs. Bert Bilheimer, the first woman solo sailor said Sunday, "I took all that time because I knew I'd never get a chance to make that trip again."

"My boat was named the Felicity Ann. I didn't call it after me — it already had that name when I bought it," she said.

Mrs. Bilheimer sailed from England to Morocco to the Canary Islands to Dominica and then up through the West Indies to Miami. The crossing from the Canaries to Dominica took 62 days because "it was calmed for three weeks," she said.

Askew Enters Stalemate House Yields $1.3 Billion Budget

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — The House surrendered this afternoon on a population equalization, budgeting bill, but the Senate held the line on education funding. Unable to bridge the Senate off its determined opposition to a $38 million increase in the House — originated equalization program, the House gave in.

TALLAHASSEE (AP) — Taking a personal hand in state spending deliberations, Gov. Reubin Askew conferred until midnight Monday with Senate and House budget negotiators. Askew's office announced the governor met from 9 p.m. to midnight with Senate ways and means committee Chairman Louis de la Parre (D-Tampa) and House Appropriations Committee Chairman Marshall Harris.

"There are no firm agreements yet," said Askew's press secretary, Don Prude. "The governor ran a couple proposals by them."

Prude said he did not know the nature of the proposals. Earlier in the evening, Askew met with Senate President Jerry Thomas, D-Dupler, and House Speaker Richard Pettigrew, D-Miami.

Pettigrew said he would arm House appropriations negotiators with "a dynamic charge" when they returned to the bargaining table sometime today. "I don't think I should get more specific than that," he added.

Meanwhile, Askew's office said the governor would sign some bills today, including a bill to freeze racetrack distributions to the 67 counties at 1970-71 fiscal year levels — about $140,000 each.

Hereafter, any tax revenues over and above that amount would be poured into the state's general revenue fund.

Legislative leaders have held a series of meetings since the "porkchop days." The funds were distributed without regard to the population of counties.

Other bills Askew said he would sign during the course of the day would create a statewide probation system for juvenile offenders, replacing county-operated systems and to provide for the state collection of intangible personal property taxes, also now done by the counties.

Another bill would standardize maximum penalties for all criminal law violations, laying down felony categories in the state's first degree, second degree and third degree, and misdemeanor categories of first, second and second degree.

Conferees, who admitted Monday they were stalemated on the crucial education issues snarling a compromise $1.3-billion-plus appropriations bill, were instructed to go back to work today.

The instructions came after Pettigrew and other legislative leaders emerged from a series of meetings with Gov. Reubin Askew.

"I'm going to do everything I can to get an agreement or force an agreement," Pettigrew said.

Lake Kathryn St. Topic Of Meeting

By KATHY NIBLACK
CASSELLBERRY — The old problem of Lake Kathryn Circle was up before the City Council again last night in a work session with homeowners in the area.

Residents of the area in dispute had become impatient with apparent inaction in correcting the location of Lake Kathryn Circle and their lawyer had notified, by letter, the mayor that the street would be blocked off where located on private property. Mayor Curtis Blaw requested that they postpone action until after Monday night's meeting in hopes that an agreement might be reached.

Blaw presented a status report on the problem — which has existed since it was found that the existing street is not laid out correctly according to a survey, and infringes on a great deal of property which does not belong to the city, but to citizens of Casselberry. These homeowners have been putting up with the problem for 10-15 years, and are now taking steps to have it corrected.

Mayor Blaw reported that several things need to be done in order for the problem to be worked out. The city needs to obtain deeds of easement from property owners of lots 14-18 on the street. It needs to have Mr. Doudney (A. C. Doudney, surveyor) there and we're all out there in the woods looking at the problem." The council is taking steps now to arrange a meeting with Doudney, and to procure documents needed to take care of the problem.

John Lenzen, one of the homeowners involved, said, "I know this council has inherited this problem, but I feel it is this administration's responsibility to see that it's solved." Council Chairman Edith Doney agreed to Lenzen and other citizens that the city is trying to solve the problem, and "to help people on both sides of the street."

My Mama told me there'd be days like this. And it all had its beginning innocently enough, too...

A couple of weeks ago, Tax Collector Troy Ray, who along with his staff do an outstanding job... and there's no ill intent intended regarding the following course of errors.

Remember when he and I posed for that picture... you know, the one about reserving a special license tag? Sorta gave us an opportunity of giving his office a plug, and you a reminder that it wouldn't be too very long before you'd be expected to shell out the loot again.

Well, on the spur of the moment, I told Troy that I'd take that picture which we used for picture-taking purposes.

Finally got around to getting in to the Court House to pay for same, and met a very obliging lady who gave me the first hint of what I was to expect.

Half-way thru my explanation of what I was after (I didn't even remember the number or the plate nor how much the darn thing was to cost me) she finished waiting on another customer, who was there before me.

"Obliging"... and I repeat my reason for being there. At that point, she cast an arched eye-brow and said something to the effect, "Oh, yes, Sally wanted to see you about that plate."

Please bear in mind that up to this time, I had never previously even thought about reserving a special license plate... just going along with the gag for good old Troy's sake.

Which brings us to Sally who says, "That number which you wanted, Well, a man who had that same number 29 years, re-changed his mind again and would like very much to have it back."

(You see how tough pull an editor has, don't you?)

"Go ahead, give it to him," says I, "after all, what's in a reserved tag number?"

At that point I tore up my lone blank check (already pre-addressed to cover this big transaction), and exuberantly told clerk number 4 that "I'd just soon come back when they're regularly put on sale, etc."

After all, how much of this special attention can I stand, eh?

Children Clear Field For Disabled Plane

The classic traveler's trouble is running out of gasoline and that is what happened to James Dubick, 30, of Altamonte Springs, yesterday afternoon. What complicated matters was the fact that he was at an altitude of several thousand feet when it happened.

According to Deputy Sheriff William Hogan Dubick was en route to Forest City from Tampa in a Cessna 150 belonging to the Forest Lake Academy yesterday when he ran out of fuel and was forced to make a landing in a vacant field near Weatherford subdivision on SR 436 between Interstate 4 and Forest City.

The forced landing was successful and there was no damage to the plane or injuries to Dubick or his passenger.

There were several children playing in the field at the time and all of them managed to get out of the way of the crippled plane as it landed.

Also yesterday sheriff's deputies investigated a breaking and entering of the Goldenrod home of E. H. Parker. A neighbor reported to sheriff's office that the Parker family had been on vacation and that someone had broken into their house. Sgt. William Robbins of the sheriff's office reported that someone had gained entry into the house by removing a pane of glass from one of the doors. Then cut the screen. He stated in his report that the house had been ransacked, but he was unable to determine what had been taken.

City Accepts $503,910 For Sewage Plant

A federal grant of $503,910 was accepted by the Sanford City Commission last night. The grant from the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency is for improvement and expansion of the city's waste treatment facilities.

A request by Modern Air, Inc., to lease terminal space and fueling facilities at the Sanford Airport was tabled by the Commission for two weeks to allow the charter plane service to negotiate with Page Airways, the fixed base operator at the airport.

Modern Air requested 8,000 square feet of terminal space and fuel storage facilities of 200,000 gallons. In a letter to City Manager Warren E. (Pete) Knowles, Modern Air said it wanted to use the Sanford Airport as a base of operations for a charter service to West Florida. World. They also said they wanted authority to fuel other charter plane services that they were able to lure to the airport.

Don Rathel, representative of Page Airways, objected to the proposed lease because it would take away from the business of Page and cut into its profits. Mayor Lee Moore objected to the lease.

The commissioners also approved two subleases at the airport which had been negotiated with the sublessees as a condition upon the awarding by City Attorney William Hutchison of portions of the subleases. Hutchison said he wanted sections of the subleases reworded to emphasize to the sublessees their responsibility to meet all the requirements of the subleases. He added that if it still had to be approved by the commissioners.

In the discussion that ensued concerning the airport Commissioner James Crapps said he was not sure of the cost of those sites can be brought down to the size of the bonds issued for them.

At today's County Commission meeting it was estimated that the cost of the four sites would be in the neighborhood of $1,328,750. Give or take a few thousand dollars.

At site 1, a tract of 500 acres near the Walvo River in the north section of the county, the land is selling for an estimated $1,000 per acre. Thus the cost of that "park" would be around a half million dollars.

Site 2 is 230 acres in Geneva and here the land is estimated at $1,000 per acre or $230,000 for this park site.

The other two sites are near Lake Monroe. One is on the west side of the lake and consists of 105 acres selling for an estimated $2,750 per acre and would cost in the neighborhood of $290,000 for the park site. The other is on the east side of the lake and there are 32 acres planned for park construction and the estimated cost of that property is $4,000 per acre or $128,000 for the site.

All told, the cost estimate, which was made according to land cost adjacent to the proposed park sites, would be near $1.5 million. And it was stressed at the meeting that this was a "conservative estimate."

At those prices it was consensus of the board that either the size of the parks would have to be cut or the number of the parks. Or possibly both.

Knowles Balking At Complex Space

Architects for Sanford's proposed police and security complex were selected by the Sanford City Commission last night. The Sanford firm of Gutman, Dragash and Matz was selected unanimously by the commission to handle the planning and design of the complex.

The selection was made after John Dragash of the selected firm presented a review of the November 1969 space needs study which was conducted by the firm. Dragash said that the study is based on the space requirements of the Florida Division of Corrections.

The study divides the complex into four areas which would be housed in two separate areas. They recommend that the administrative, law enforcement and public areas be separated from the detention area.

The study recommends 889 square feet for the administrative area, 6,128 square feet for the law enforcement area, 2,424 square feet for the public area and a detention area of 16,236 square feet. Dragash said that an additional 30 per cent of floor space should be added circulation and access which brings the total square foot recommendation to 40,219. The public area would include city court facilities and a communications room.

City Manager Warren E. (Pete) Knowles recommended to the commissioners that the space contemplated in the report be reduced to conform with the $350,000 construction figure he says can be financed with a party issue added to the lakefront improvement bond issue which is financed by an electrical utility franchise. The revenues from the franchise, according to Knowles, currently exceed the amount needed to restructure the bond issue and are expected to increase annually, which would allow the construction costs to be borne by the city without additional taxes or money from general revenues.

The facility, as proposed in the space study, has been estimated to cost in excess of $750,000. Dragash said that the Federal Bureau of Corrections has indicated that they will be willing to participate in the planning and funding of the security complex if the maximum security cells are made available to federal agencies. Dragash said the cost of the facility could be further reduced if the detention area is comprised mostly of minimum security cells.

The space study, based on a population figure of 39,000, recommends 194 one-man maximum security cells in addition to felon holding cells, juvenile cells and drunk tanks. Dragash said that it costs $2,900 per prisoner for maximum security cells and only $1,900 per prisoner for minimum security cells.

The commissioners set June 28 for a noon luncheon session to view and consider possible sites for the complex. Knowles has recommended three sites for the security complex. The sites, in order of the proposed priority, are the southeast corner of 25th Street and Melioma Avenue on the airport property, the old experiment station site on East Colery Avenue at Summerlin Street and the southeast corner of the intersection of Onora Road just before the main entrance gate. The Fourth Street and French Avenue and Ninth Street and French Avenue city owned sites have been suggested by several of the city commissioners for consideration. The space study report recommends the complex be located away from the core business area of the city because of lower land cost for future expansion, lower initial property costs and because it would allow emergency vehicles to avoid business traffic.

Park Sites Proving Expensive

By HENRY CUSH

Four proposed park sites in Seminole County may be in for drastic changes in size and number because of the cost of those sites can be brought down to the size of the bonds issued for them.
