Hitler, Mussolini Inspect Defenses Bordering France

II Duce Charges Democracies Are Staging Economic War On Totalitarians

Says Problems Can Be Solved

Warsaw Fears Sudden Attempt To Attach Danzig To Germany

Reichsfuehrer Hitler and Premier Mussolini toured their frontier districts bordering France today as the Polish and French general staff officers met in Paris for consultations.

Mussolini dedicated the new plant of the vast Fiat works, makers of Italian automobiles, tanks, airplane motors, machine guns and other war equipment, at Turin, Italy.

Signaling the start of his tour yesterday, II Duce told 50,000 spectators, who witnessed the ceremony for him with jeers for France, that "the great democracies" were warring against Italy and Germany on economic grounds.

He declared there are no "problems" as such, but "problems" are created by the "democracies" but urged that if the "knots in politics" did not call for the sword they should be "untied" once and for all because sometimes a hand really is preferable to a long uncertainty. His speech was generally regarded as moderate and pacific.

Hitler and his staff, starting their tour near Assisi, on the Italian frontier, and some quarters to believe, there was more than mere coincidence that he and his Axis partner should make such trips at the same time.

Premier Mussolini declared yesterday that he and Chamberlain Hitler believed Europe's problems could be solved without war but accused "the great democracies" of already having begun a "white war" against Germany and Italy, "a war on economic ground."

Mussolini warned that the Rome-Berlin axis now was joined in a military alliance, that its partners would not allow themselves to be overpowered and would repulse any attack made upon them.

He spoke to a cheering crowd of 50,000 in the big Piazza Vittorio Veneto in Turin as he opened a week's swing around the Piedmont region which will take him close to the French frontier on an inspection tour of military establishments, troop concentrations and public works.

There was no specific mention of Fascist demands on Paris in his address but it was full of veiled allusions to the French-Fascist struggle in the past.

The crowd's applause for the speaker was equaled by its boos and jeers for his references to "the democracies," especially for France.

Several lines of "Tunisian" and "Savoy" axes, both have been mentioned in Fascist elation since last November for fulfillment of Italian colonial aspirations at France's expense. Tunisia is in French hands, Africa and Savoy, once Italian, is in France but over the frontier lies Piedmont.

Addressing the throng, Mussolini said: "Perhaps hundreds of millions of men" were asking whether there will be a treaty in 1939. He stressed the answer: "According to a cold objective examination of the situation there are no such prospects in Europe."

He said that the "democracies" were "staging" an economic war on totalitarians and that the "democracies" were "staging" an economic war on totalitarians.

Law Provides For Flat Rate In Court Cases

Herndon Takes Revenue Reduction To Eliminate Detailed Small Fee Accounts

A law which abolishes the fee system for the County Clerk in connection with criminal and civil suits in both the County and Circuit Courts and sets in place a flat rate for handling all cases went into effect today after being signed by Gov. Cone Saturday.

The new statute provides that the County Clerk shall make a flat charge of $5 for all civil and criminal cases which are not appealed or in which civil penalties are entered and that a charge of $7.50 will be made for cases which are tried by jury.

Although these rates will result in a reduction of revenue for the clerk's office, County Clerk O. P. Herndon said that it would eliminate a great deal of detail in his office as well as result in a distinct advantage for attorneys in that they will know definitely the cost of a case regardless of the number of papers filed or its length.

Herndon said the clerk received fees ranging from five cents to $1 for filing papers and in many cases a hundred or more of these small entries were made.

The measure which was prepared by Mr. Herndon was given the approval of the Board of County Commissioners and the Seminole County Bar Association before it was subsequently introduced into the Legislature by Representatives John G. Leonard and H. J. Lehman and signed by the Governor.

The measure applies to all counties with a population of 22,000 to 27,000 but Mr. Herndon said that at the present time this county is the only one affected by the measure.

Under the provisions of the statute the party instituting the suit is required to advance the costs while the defendant pays nothing for the papers he is required to file.

Signatures by the Governor together with the bill relating to clerk's fees, was the bill which authorizes the County to pay the cost of maintaining deputies at the polls in Seminole County.

Although the County customarily pays these deputies, the general law on this point was said to be somewhat vague and the Board of County Commissioners was sought to avoid any controversy by having full authority under a local law.

Summer Snapshot Contest Announced By Power Company

A camera contest, opening today and extending through May 27, will introduce the third annual summer-gram program, a campaign to increase tourist interest in summer vacations in Florida.

Mr. Coleman said, adding that the winning photos will be used as scenes on the summer-gram postcards which will be mailed free of charge if left at the power company office.

Prizes of $5, $3, and $2 will be given to those submitting the best entries and $1 will be awarded for each additional picture accepted for use on the summer-gram postcard.

All pictures become the property of the company after being submitted to Mr. Coleman and the company's advertising department will select the winners.

The winning pictures, on attractive summergram post cards, will be made available to the public without charge and a space will be provided on the back of each card for a personal message or greeting.

The purpose of the Summergram, Mr. Coleman said, is to tell the world about the advantages of Florida as an unexcelled summer vacationland.

Farley Sniffing?

Does Jim Farley scent 1940 presidential prospects or is this simply an expression of disapproval?

Lehmann Hits Diversion Of Gas Tax Funds

Rotarians Told Florida Risks Loss Of Federal Assistance By Changing Laws

If the present State gas tax laws are left exactly as they are, more than $140,000,000 worth of new State highways can be built within the next 10 years, without levying a single cent of additional taxation, said Karl Lehmann, secretary of the Lake County Chamber of Commerce, in an address on Florida Highways at the Sanford Rotary Club's luncheon today.

W. B. Ballard of Adamant-South, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, was welcomed into the club as a new member by President George Rodlin, who presided over the meeting. Mr. E. Lloyd's classification is that of associate firm member.

At the present time, Mr. Lehmann said, the law provides that 1.2 cent of the 7 cent gas tax shall go to the schools, 1.2 cent to the State's general revenue fund, 3 cents to the State Road Department for highways, and 3 cents to the counties for the maintenance of road bonds on rural roads now a part of the State highway system. The law provides that as these bonds are retired the 3 cents now used for that purpose shall be diverted to the construction of new highways.

Explaining the risk that Florida now encounters of losing Federal aid for highways if the present gas tax laws are not left as they are, Mr. Lehmann recalled that Florida levies one of the highest gasoline taxes in the nation, but that it has not used that money in this manner, but devoting only $10,575,000 of it to the construction of highways.

By way of comparison, he said that Louisiana levies $27,000,000 in gasoline taxes and devotes $12,000,000 of it to the highway department, while Alabama collects $20,000,000 in gasoline taxes and devotes $12,000,000 of it to the highway department.

Indicating the need for new highways in Florida, Mr. Lehmann said that Florida has 1,188 miles of main roads.

Thermal Current Gets Miniature Ship

Wade Fingler's model airplane, which was carried aloft by thermal air currents, was found at noon today in good condition some seven miles northwest of Sanford, its owner reported to The Herald this afternoon.

Caught in the unrelenting pressure of a hot air thermal current, which carried it skyward, the red and blue model airplane, built by Wade Fingler, a young Sanford model airplane enthusiast, sailed off to an unknown destination shortly after 12 o'clock today.

The model craft, which was called the Comet Clipper and had a wing-spread of six feet, took off at the Municipal Airport under its own power from a 15th horsepower motor. After 55 seconds in operation, the motor cut off and the plane was seen to start its upward journey to an altitude estimated by several witnesses to be 5000 feet.

As the plane soared higher and higher it passed through several clouds and began a westward course which eventually shifted to southwest. The craft remained in sight for fully 45 minutes. Its owner expressed the opinion that it may have traveled 20 to 150 miles before coming down but he hazarded the guess that it descended somewhere between Apopka and Eustis.

Mr. Singletary requested that anyone who finds the plane or knows anything of its whereabouts, communicate with him at his home at 768 Palmetta Avenue. The Comet Clipper, which the owner built in one week at an cost of $18 is the first Sanford model airplane to become lost after getting into a thermal current.

Senate Holds Long Delayed Slot Bill Vote

Measure Offered By Mapoles Would Permit Operation Of Devices By State

Gibbs Won't Rule On Bond Refund

Bill To Prevent Past Due Chain Tax Collection Is Vetoed

TALLAHASSEE, May 15.—(AP)—The Senate held a long-delayed vote today on legislation of slot machines in Florida under state monopoly. The machines were permitted to operate with private ownership under the 1935 law that was repealed after two years.

The bill to create a slot machine monopoly came from Senator Mapoles of Crestview. It was rejected unanimously by a committee but won a place on the calendar at Mapoles' request.

Attorney George Couper Gibbs informed the Senate Finance and Taxation Committee he could not give an opinion on the plan to refund the $127,000,000 road bond debt of counties because the bond dealers suggesting the proposal were keeping many of the details secret.

The Senate committee which held one executive session with the bond dealers before voting to hold only open meetings in the future, discussed the plan but took no further action.

Rep. Outman of Pinellas county estimated the public debt at $400,000,000 and introduced a bill for a detailed survey on the Legislature may have facts and figures about the fiscal condition of counties, cities and districts.

Gov. Cone vetoed a legislative bill (Senate bill 318) which would have prohibited the collection of chain store taxes two years in arrears if the comptroller issued licenses on payment of lesser sums. Opponents of the bill in the Legislature said it would cancel about $100,000 in delinquent taxes.

MOTHER

When mother comes each morning
She wears her oldest things,
She doesn't make a rustle,
She hasn't any rings,
She says, "Good morning, children,
It's such a lovely day,
Let's go into the garden
And have a game of play."

When mother comes at bedtime
Her dress goes somewhere else,
She always has a little bag,
Sometime a sandwich, too,
She says, "I am so hoping
Please hurry up, don't tarry,
I'm dying for my tea."

When mother comes at bedtime
Her evening dress she wears,
She tells us each a story,
When we have had our prayers,
And if there is a party,
She looks so shiny bright,
It's like a lovely fairy
Dropped in to say goodnight.

Not Much Of An Issue

If there is anything at which Adolf Hitler is particularly clever, it is in raising issues over which there is no sense in going to war. Ever since he has been chancellor of the German Reich, he has kept Europe in a constant state of jitters, fearful from one moment to the next that war was about to begin, as he violated one international obligation after another, destroyed first one country, then seized another.

As we look back over the last six years and recall what Hitler has done, we marvel that he could accomplish all he has, so utterly heedless of the rights of others, without starting a first class fight, and yet it is difficult to point to any one single thing that, taken alone without respect to other things, would have been worth fighting about.

Take the present crisis over the Danzig problem, for instance. It is perfectly clear that Germany is going to take over this so-called Free City. The Poles have also made it as plain as possible that they will fight if Germany tries to accomplish this objective by force. Whether or they will is another question, but they have said they would.

And yet, the freedom of the city of Danzig is a dreadfully inconsequential matter, either to the Poles or to the world at large, over which to launch a world war. What American, what Englishman, what Frenchman, even what Pole, wants to fight to keep the inhabitants of the Free City of Danzig free? Who cares?

And yet that is the immediate issue. If there is to be another world war, that, in the opinion of Hitler and Mussolini, will be what the world will be fighting about. The great majority of the people of Danzig are Germans anyway. Most of them are Nazis and want to belong to the German Reich. Danzig belonged to Germany before the war, and before that to Prussia.

Hitler has a good argument for taking possession of Danzig. Just as he had a good argument for seizing Austria, where most of the people were also Germans and wanted to come into the German Reich. He had a good argument for wanting the Sudetenland, where most of the people again were Germans and wanted to belong to Germany.

The world would have been foolish to have gone to war to protect either Austria or the Sudetenland. And after he had taken over the Sudeten, he had a good argument for finishing off the rest of Czechoslovakia. A country so small and so dismembered was economically impotent. It could not exist alone. It had to be taken over by Germany.

And so, as Mussolini said yesterday, the Danzig problem certainly is not worth fighting a world war about. Just let Hitler have Danzig, and there need be no world war. Of course, if Poland won't let Danzig go, then that is another matter. Then it would be worth fighting about. For Hitler has got to be appeased, or else.

Just Cleaning Up!

Some local residents may be surprised to learn that this depression talk is a lot of bunk. In reality these times are not hard at all. Business is good and everyone is making money. Wages are high and profits good. The farmers, who have been complaining a lot recently, really have nothing to complain about at all. They are all making money.

This is least, is what we gather from the U. S. Department of Commerce's current report which says that the people of Florida made more money in 1937 than they did during the boom year of 1929. Taking into consideration all the wages, salaries, rents, dividends, profits, and other sources of income which people have, Floridians had an aggregate income of $806,000,000 in 1937, but only $727,000,000 in 1929.

So it must be that our farmers are making more money now than they did in 1929. Our merchants must be doing more business and making more profit on it. Salaries, instead of having been cut since the boom, must have been raised, and wages too apparently have gone up. Rents, dividends, and other forms of income are evidently better too, if the Department of Commerce report is correct.

One thing that strikes us as somewhat incongruous about this prosperity report is, if everybody in Florida is making so much money, why are so many people unemployed? Why is it necessary for the government to spend so much money on relief? Why are the WPA, the CCC, the PWA, the RFC and the AAA and all the rest of the alphabetical agencies necessary? They weren't in 1929. Why are they now?

We wonder if the answer might lie in a state of affairs where people really are making more money now than they were in 1929, but they have to pay out so much larger a part of what they make in taxation nowadays that they have a great deal less to spend for themselves. We don't know, but there must be some such explanation as this for the Department of Commerce's report.

Workers Contribute To Ad Campaign To Spur Company Sales

ATLANTA, May 15.—(AP)—Approximately 800 union garment workers here are trying out a new approach to the problem of getting more pay.

Instead of striking, they are going into their purses and contributing 50 cents each in a sales promotion campaign for their employers.

"The ten Atlanta dressmaking plants are paying a union scale—all they can afford right now," explains John H. Martin, union spokesman. "Their business, however, affords less than 30 weeks employment annually. If we can sell a few thousand dozen dresses for them, we will have more work—and more pay. We should have at least 33 weeks work a year."

And so the union dress makers—most of them girls earning from $14 to $20 a week—voted to finance the advertising campaign. They raised $400 to mail an appeal to 2,800 buyers for southern stores to "buy Atlanta dresses and help southern industry."

A half dozen pieces of sales literature were sent out in an envelope under the name of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union, the organization of those participating in the promotion. An illustrated folder explained Atlanta dresses "are not made in sweatshops" and appealed to buyers to heed quality rather than "cheap bargains."

Martin said the response had been favorable and that the promotion would be followed with similarly financed sales campaigns in the advance of each dress season.

"Why shouldn't we help the manufacturers and help ourselves at the same time?" he said.

WORLD EXHIBITION

At the writing I have just received a copy of the report of the special board created by Congress to study the losses incurred in the operation of the Metropolitan Fair. I have just received a letter from the Secretary of Agriculture, and the report of the special board gives us a real basis for a fight for reimbursement. Congressman Peterson was out of the City when the report came and taking no action near the end of the fair. I believe that I should permit him to introduce the bill and cooperate with him in getting it passed.

FLORIDIAN EXHIBIT

WORLD'S FAIR One of the best showings in the world at Florida, the Honorable Earl W. Brown, former Mayor of my home town, the City of Deland, put on a great show at the Chicago World's Fair. The Florida Exhibit attracted some people and many other exhibits at the exposition. When it came time for the Cleveland Exposition, Mr. Brown repeated. On April 30th President Roosevelt opened the New York World's Fair with a bang. Many members of Congress got a glimpse of the Fair at that time, and there is a special trip planned for a three days' survey. I have discussed the Fair with many people who have seen it and invariably they tell me that Florida has a splendid exhibit. I am sure that great Florida will repeat in her popularity and that as a result of an exhibit at the World's Fair we will have many visitors in our State. More power to Mr. Brown.

IT CAME OUT OF HIDING

Some rather interesting figures on loans in Florida from the Federal Housing Administration have been released. These show that at the first of the year 33,831 Florida families had made use of FHA insured loans totaling $16,867,056. Under Title I loans to 24,850 Florida families were insured for the amount of $10,936,255. These funds were used to improve and repair properties, principally homes. The FHA has insured or is in the process of insuring loans totaling $35,330,801 for the financing of home ownership for 8,983 Florida families. These loans are insured by the Federal Housing Administration, but the money is advanced by private lenders to local people for construction and improvement of housing by local enterprises, employing local labor and using materials locally purchased. This is one of the programs for bringing private capital out of hiding which has been successful.

TIDBITS

I am sure that friends of Congressman Peterson in the Capital and in Florida will regret to know that the Congressman is at home for a few days owing to a very serious accident which his brother had. We are glad to know that his brother is improving—Look out you Townspeople for a vote on the Townsend Bill within two weeks from this writing—Two or three hundred Congressmen are visiting the New York World's Fair today. No doubt they will be im-

Program Compliance Check-Up On Farms To Begin On June 1

GAINESVILLE, May 15.—(AP)—A check-up of 42,000 Florida farms to determine extent of compliance with provisions of the 1939 agricultural conservation program will get under way about June 1. R. S. Dennis, state AAA performance supervisor, said today.

Preparatory to the beginning of the check-up, a series of meetings was held recently in various sections of the state to instruct county supervisors on methods of checking compliance with the program provisions.

Approximately 95 percent of Florida's farm land is included in the program this year, Mr. Dennis explained.

Farms will be checked to determine acreage in soil-depleting crops, the acreage where soil-building practices have been carried out, the kinds of soil-building practices, and other details. Co-operating farmers are paid on the basis of compliance.

The major part of the check-up will be concluded by early August, but other work along this line will be done in the Fall to determine extent of late soil

Limitations against the collection of license taxes for the State of Florida.

Auditors reported to Florida legislative committee yesterday that a deficit of more than $2,000,000 is in prospect unless income and other taxes are further balanced during the final three weeks of the 1938 session.

The roughly estimated figure made its provision for proposed increases in the money and money to pay old age pensions. The fund now gets about $1,000,000 a year from liquor taxes. Some legislators have proposed increases of as much as $2,000,000.

The new financial report, which this session is making to show the approximate fiscal position of the State was presented by auditors to Finance and Appropriations Committee chairman at his home.

It made no reference to the deficit reported by the Governor. One that no new taxes are necessary. The Governor is backing a program to increase the taxes on income and on other things.

Commitment in both houses promised close study in remaining weeks of the session to balancing of the budget.

The audit estimate, predicted $2,000,000 of deficit unless new tax increases are made. The deficit is estimated to be $2,000,000.

The Sanford Lookouts continued their winning pace in the Florida State League over the weekend, tripping DeLand 3-1 Sunday night and then trouncing the Islanders 6-3 Monday afternoon to the members of the Daytona Beach team.

Saturday night session was jumped off to their old style of early-inning leads, picking up a two-run lead in the last of the first, and then letting the defense possibly nullify the lead of the eighth when DeLand came back to above scores only tally of the game.

The Lookouts nullified that advantage when they bounced back in the last of the eighth to add another run to their tally.

Sid Hudson Takes No. 1 Spot Among Hurlers In State Loop

Sanford Nine Leads In Club Fielding; Takes 2nd In Batting While Lane, Marion Show Most Improvement

By PETER SCHAAL
ORLANDO, May 13.—Although his consecutive game hitting streak was snapped at 17 straight, Dale Alexander, the 1933 American League batting champion, gave little indication that he is planning to relinquish his lead as the top-ranking Florida State League hurler.

Official averages, released Saturday and covering all games played through Thursday night, May 11, show the big fellow hitting at a .444 clip, with Gene Geary of DeLand in second place at .323 points behind.

Geary, with Al Smothers, a team-mate, continued their powerful hitting attack, and were largely responsible for the Red Hats' four victories in six starts during the week.

While Alexander was leading his mates to a clean sweep of five decisions, during the week, it remained for two catchers to steal most of the individual batting show, both turning in performance that found each crashing into the 300 or better circle from a 225 of a week ago to a 350 of Thursday night.

Alabama Smith, Jack-of-all-trades with John Gansz's Orlando Senators, also bettered a 300 clip for the week, producing a dozen blows in 24 trips. That set Smith's mark from 341 to 317.

Others improving their standings through the week were Rick Vickers, and Geigich of Leesburg; Livingston, Padgett, Wainwright, and Stoen of Sanford; and Stoen of Daytona; and Stoen of Daytona; and Stoen of Daytona.
