Vegetable Crop In May Grosses $3 Million

In spite of old Jack Frost, Seminole County is experiencing one of its biggest spring vegetable shipments since 1957, according to County Agricultural Agent, Cecil Tucker.

During the month of May Seminole County growers in the San-O-Zell area (Sanford-Oviedo-Zellwood) shipped more than a million and a half crates grossing over $3 million.

This staggering figure, says County Agent Tucker, should give some idea as to the extent to which we are in the vegetable business here.

To the average person this volume of vegetables for one month is probably hard to visualize, but when it's loaded into trucks it would make a convoy of 2,358 trucks some 45 miles long, reaching from Sanford to Wildwood. Bumper to bumper they would reach to Mt. Dora and beyond.

In light of our citrus losses, although they were greatly offset by higher prices, this bumper crop of vegetables couldn't come at a better time.

It is times like these that we see how much more fortunate we are in Seminole County with our diversified production than are some of our neighboring counties without it.

Tucker pointed out that, unlike many industries which buy raw materials outside of the area and thereby send dollars out of the county, Seminole County farmers not only bring money into the area for their product, but also spend the majority, probably more than two thirds of this gross income, with businesses and employes within the county.

VAH-5 Physical Fitness Champs

ANDREW NEWBILL

DAN BROWN

Heavy Attack Squadron Five (VAH-5) stopped VAH-3's domination of the quarterly Heavy Attack Wing One physical fitness field meet by edging the "Dragons," 219-188, the Navy announced today.

The three previous meets, which matched entries from each Sanford squadron in the six events prescribed by the President's physical fitness program, all went to VAH-3.

However, VAH-5 snapped the string by winning two first places, three seconds and a third in the recent competition.

Seaman Dan Brown ran the 300-yard shuttle run in 45.7 seconds for a victory in that event and Andrew Newbill, a third class aviation electronics technician, took first with 71 push-ups.

The runners-up, VAH-3, also won two events: Donald Horton, an aviation electrician's mate second class (AE2), recorded a nine-foot, 5/4-inch standing broad jump, and Perry Elliott, AE1, made a 30 1/2-inch jump-reach.

The other events were won by VAH-1's Donald Strong, a second class aviation metal-smith, 119 sit-ups; and third class jet mechanic Errol Harrison, of VAH-11, Detachment Eight, with 21 pull-ups.

Third place in squadron standings went to VAH-11 (144 points), followed by VAH-1 (108 points) and VAH-11, Det. 8 (103 points).

Reservations for the testimonial luncheon for Captain Joseph M. Tully Jr. must be received not later than Tuesday at the Chamber of Commerce office. The Hatwing One commander, who is leaving next month, will be honored for his services to Seminole County and Sanford at the luncheon Thursday noon at the Mayfair Inn.

Harold Jenkins stopped by and gave us the "straight" on that square dance mix-up last week. Seems 20 couples came over from the West Coast and found no dance here, as had been expected. Also it seems square dancers who travel 100 or more miles to square dance become "knotheads" . . . considered something special in their organization. When they found no scheduled dance here, they contacted Harold who set them up at the Fleet Reserve Bq. on Seminole Boulevard and they all became "knotheads."

That feasibility study for Seminole County in its bid to have the new state universities located here is being "kept under wraps" until presented to the State Board of Control. Those guiding the drive don't care to have other counties know what all Seminole has to offer.

Sunday driving: Of course, it is against a city ordinance, but there is a horse paddock at 308 West 15th Street . . . Next door in City Commissioner Sonny Raborn . . . But Sonny, evidently trying to be neighborly, hasn't mentioned it . . . Probably feels—and rightly so—that it's the police dept.'s job to enforce the law . . . And now that fly season is definitely with us!

Oh yes—and on that same drive there were those three ducks that are said to "roost" (is that what ducks do at night?) at 205 West 17th Street . . . But during the day wander around the neighborhood in single file formation.

Seems that there was a rooster crowing, too, but the scouts couldn't locate him—or his flock! . . . No cows or sheep either, according to the advance reconnoiter party . . . But definitely some pigs—at the locker plant!

Our city operative also tells of the strong-smelled Lantana's after-dinner tests of hardness . . . One week it was a color movie of all the fine details of the surgical skill in removing a human lung . . . And right after a dinner—let's see now—was the main dish goulash? . . . Then came another test of gastronomic fortitude when a tiger hunt was shown . . . Water buffalo for bait . . . Tiger shot . . . Skinned . . . Wheel-Gung-ho on the Ganges—of some place!

Installation of officers today was a relief from the carnage to the civic club that took up its chores locally in 1931 . . . Bill Hemphill took over the gavel from Ben Wiggins . . . Past District Governor Mort McDonald, of DeLand, did the honors of installing . . . That's Mayor Tom McDonald's papa—not his brother of similar nomenclature.

$500,000 Suits Against City Dismissed

Included In Budget Supplement

Court Rules Plaintiff In Error

City of Sanford has been dismissed as a defendant in two suits seeking damages totaling $500,000 for alleged libel. The dismissal by Circuit Judge Vassar Carlton was made public today.

The two suits, each for $250,000, were brought by M. L. Saxon, doing business as Saxon Termite Control, Holly Hill.

Judge Carlton upheld a motion for dismissal by City Attorney William C. Hutchison Jr., who contended the plaintiff failed to follow the City's charter in that he did not notify the City of the pending suit 30 days before the actual filing.

The court dismissed the City as a defendant without prejudice, allowing plaintiff's attorneys, Harold F. Johnson, Sanford and Maurice Wagner, Holly Hill, 20 days in which to file an amended petition.

The court, in its dismissal order, also held that the City is no more responsible for the actions of its employees than is a private enterprise.

The two suits also named City Manager W. E. Knowles as a defendant, each suit seeking $150,000 for a total of $300,000 from him. Hutchison's motion for dismissal pertained only to the City as a defendant.

Both actions stemmed from a meeting of the City Commission last Dec. 21 when Knowles allegedly made slanderous remarks against the Saxon firm, which subsequently were published in two newspapers.

Thresher Dive Set For Today

ABOARD THE USS FORT SNELLING AT SEA (UPI)—The Navy bathyscaphe Trieste was expected to dive to the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean today in search of the sunken nuclear submarine Thresher.

Trieste, towed by the salvage vessel USS Preserver, arrived Sunday in the area 200 miles off Cape Cod where the ill-fated submarine disappeared April 10 with 129 men aboard.

Naval experts hope the deep-diving Trieste can locate Thresher's hull and photograph it to provide additional evidence as to what caused history's worst submarine disaster.

'Great International Effort' Urged

BONN, Germany (UPI)—President Kennedy appealed today to "dozens" of other free nations to join the United States in organizing peace corps "in a great international effort in the 1960's for peace."

Kennedy made the appeal after a two-hour talk on cold war problems with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in what was termed officially "a very cordial atmosphere." The two leaders conferred against the background of a renewed U. S. pledge to defend Europe at all costs.

The U. S. President said the world faces a "moral crisis" with the United States and Western Europe "islands of prosperity in a sea of poverty."

Anti-Red Jagan Foes Mobilize Resistance

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (UPI)—Anti-Communist foes of Premier Cheddi Jagan followed up a dynamite attack on his wife's office with a call today for week-long "passive resistance" demonstrations throughout this South American colony.

The demonstrations were expected to affect most government offices, as well as private enterprises which are not taking part in the "general strike" which has crippled British Guiana for more than two months.

If they follow the pattern of such displays in the past, the demonstrators will march through Georgetown and outlying communities, singing anti-Jagan and anti-Communist songs and occasionally dancing.

Some concern was expressed over the possibility that police might fire on demonstrators, as they did two weeks ago, but anti-Jagan leaders said they would go ahead with the demonstrations despite the risk.

The dynamiters who have been staging a "bomb-a-day" campaign against the government set off a token explosion Sunday night at the heavily-guarded Home Affairs police Ministry headquarters of Jagan's wife, the former Janet Rosenberg of Chicago.

Three Sanford Jaycees At Convention

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI)—The 43rd Annual Convention of the National Junior Chamber of Commerce hit Louisville today with a burst of noise and color that threatened to pale even the annual Kentucky Derby Week of whomps.

The convention, which more than 10,000 Jaycees and wives including two Sanford couples, are expected to attend, opened officially at 9 a. m. with a ribbon-cutting ceremony at the booth and exhibit display at the Kentucky Fair and Exposition Center.

A "key man" lunch for certain Jaycee leaders was scheduled at noon, but the big event of opening day was a mint julep get-acquainted party at Churchill Downs this afternoon. There won't be any horses running on the derby track, but Jaycee officials said they doubted if anyone would notice that.

Highlights of the convention will be the keynote address Tuesday by Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee, and the election of national officers Thursday.

Candidates for national president included Johnston Davis III, Miami.

President Jim Smith and Mrs. Smith, Dave Klingensmith and Mr. and Mrs. J. Andrew Speer are representing the Sanford Jaycees at the national convention in Louisville.

The girls, all juniors in high school representing every part of the state, were also scheduled to elect their governor and other state officers during the opening of their legislature of the mythical "State of Seminole" in the legislative chambers Wednesday.

Those elected to the legislature will practice through introduction, debate and passage of bills of their own.

Area Warned Of Bogus $5 Bills

ORLANDO (UPI)—Police in Central Florida and along the Gulf Coast have been alerted to be on the lookout for counterfeit $5 bills.

Merchants in the area reported spotting several of the bills last week and one banking official said they were of such quality to defy detection by average persons.

The focus bills have a large "G" in a seal to the left of Lincoln's face, the number 8326 in the lower right hand corner of the face of the bill, and the number 2863 in the lower right hand corner of the back of the bill.

It Could Be A Thirsty Session

President Asks Free Nations Peace Corps

BONN, Germany (UPI)—President Kennedy appealed today to "dozens" of other free nations to join the United States in organizing peace corps "in a great international effort in the 1960's for peace."

Kennedy made the appeal after a two-hour talk on cold war problems with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in what was termed officially "a very cordial atmosphere." The two leaders conferred against the background of a renewed U. S. pledge to defend Europe at all costs.

The U. S. President said the world faces a "moral crisis" with the United States and Western Europe "islands of prosperity in a sea of poverty."

He warned there can be no neutrals in the struggle against poverty and hunger.

Kennedy, on the second day of a visit to West Germany, delivered this warning as he watched the birth of a West German peace corps modeled on that in the United States.

Earlier, Kennedy and Adenauer, 87, sat down in the chancellor's office, alone except for interpreter, and discussed efforts to reach a nuclear test ban accord with the Soviets, trade relations between member nations of the Atlantic community and the Kennedy-sponsored project for a multi-lateral nuclear force inside NATO.

At the same time their foreign ministers and other officials met in another room to discuss German reunification, the Berlin problem and international conditions in Communist East Germany, including the latest West border restrictions. The officials, including U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, also discussed the multi-lateral force project.

Kennedy then drove to the nearby Villa Hammerstein, the West German presidential residence, to call on President Heinrich Lübke. It was there that Kennedy attended the peace corps ceremony.

The U. S. President had a private talk with Lübke and stayed on for lunch at the villa before returning to the chancellery for further talks with Adenauer in the afternoon.

Demos In '64 Site Session

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Democratic national committeemen gathered today to select a site for the party's 1964 convention, with Atlantic City the most likely choice.

Chicago and San Francisco still were in the running, however.

San Francisco already has won the Republican convention. The GOP National Committee announced Saturday the nominating convales would open in the Cow Palace in San Francisco on July 15, 1964.

The Democrats are expected to convene their convention much later, probably in mid-August, because President Kennedy is assured of renomination and they don't face the GOP problem of having to build up a candidate.

The Democratic site committee was scheduled to meet in closed session today to prepare its recommendation for the national committee's open meeting Tuesday. Another group working on a formula for allocation of delegates also called a closed meeting today.

Chicago and San Francisco each has offered the Democrats a reported $450,000 for the convention.

But Atlantic City, the state of New Jersey and private citizens have bid $625,000 to defray convention expenses, plus free use of the ocean resort's Convention Hall and free hotel and motel space for party operations.

Colorado is the only state of the Union bounded by four straight lines.

Senate To Complete Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate was expected to approve today and send to the White House a bill to extend for another year federal corporation and consumer excise taxes.

Approval of the House-passed measure is necessary to prevent expiration of the taxes and loss of $4.2 billion in annual revenues at midnight Sunday.

Under the bill, taxes on corporations, and excise taxes on such items as liquor, beer, new cars and auto parts, and cigarettes would be extended until June 30, 1964.

There were first imposed in 1951 as "emergency" Korean War taxes and have been extended by Congress each year since.

The bill also extends the 10 per cent tax on general telephone service and the 5 per cent tax on airline tickets, both imposed in 1960.

Unless extended, the present corporate tax of 52 per cent would drop to 47 per cent. This is by far the largest revenue-producer in the bill, bringing in an estimated $2.5 billion a year.

Present federal taxes on a pack of cigarettes would fall from eight to seven cents, wine taxes an average of 11 per cent, and taxes on whiskey and other distilled "hard" spirits from $10.50 to $9 per gallon.

Most European Papers See Good In JFK's Visit

LONDON (UPI) — Many European newspapers agreed editorially today that President Kennedy's European tour, which appeared to be ill-starred, may accomplish something worthwhile after all.

The press in most West European capitals extended a welcome to the President, who arrived Sunday in West Germany on the first leg of a four-nation trip.

Prior to Kennedy's departure from Washington, many European newspapers felt the trip was ill-timed because of the Profumo scandal in Britain, the political crisis in Italy, the go-it-alone policies of French President Charles de Gaulle and the short period which West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has remaining in office.

"Hi, Jack!" headlined the London Daily Mail, adding in an editorial, "He was right to come." Other newspapers, with more reservation, echoed this sentiment.

The Communist newspapers and radio stations in Western Europe attacked the visit, but London's Communist Daily Worker praised Kennedy's "anti-cold war" speech of June 10 and reserved its criticism for Adenauer.

In West Germany, the Frankfurter Allgemeine said Kennedy "struck right to the middle of the Rhenish heart."

In France, Le Figaro noted that Kennedy was skipping Paris on his tour.

"This," it said, "is a sad and disquieting spectacle for those who obstinately believe that the security of the West can be guaranteed only by the cooperation of the United States and the increasing solidarity of the free world."

The London Daily Mail said Kennedy's tumultuous reception in Germany "is the first answer to those who complained that he ought to have stayed at home."

CONGRESSMAN A. SYDNEY HERLONG JR. has all the answers. Here he is in his office in Washington surrounded by the replies to his questionnaire sent out to every registered voter in Florida's Fifth Congressional District. Some 30,000 of them were returned. The questionnaire covered the principal issues before the Congress and the nation and the replies provided a valuable store of information as to how a substantial number of the voters of the District feel on these issues.

Hoffa Eyes Taxes In Studying Wage Plans

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Teamsters' president James R. Hoffa said today he would weigh tax angles carefully before presenting wage demands to trucking firms this fall because union drivers are moving into higher tax brackets.

Hoffa said in an interview that he might await congressional action on President Kennedy's tax cut proposals before deciding how much of a pay increase to seek at the opening of negotiations in October.

If taxes are lowered, he indicated he might seek more pay and fewer fringe benefits in forthcoming bargaining.

Fringe benefits—pensions, medical care and similar contract provisions — often represent a better deal for a worker who pays a high percentage of income in taxes.

Hoffa said, "Our guys are going home with $200 a week in their pockets," Hoffa said. "It may be better to put most of any increase we negotiate into fringes instead of wages."

The head of the nation's largest union said a nationwide minimum for truck drivers of $3.00 an hour has now been established. Many road drivers could earn $200 by working longer than 40 hours. Overtime is common in the trucking industry.

Hoffa showed no concern over his recent indictment on fraud and conspiracy charges in connection with loans made by the Teamsters' Central States Pension Fund.

Business Briefs

Woodrow Cash of Downtown Cleaners, was honored this week for his professional drycleaning skill. Cash accepted the challenge of Drycleaning World magazine and successfully removed a difficult "mystery spot" on a swatch of material affixed to the magazine's cover. Drycleaning World dared its 32,000 readers to clean the spot without damaging the material. Cash was one of the drycleaners in this area who did a perfect job.

The "Spotsmanship Award" which is now prominently displayed in his store, reads: "To Woodrow Cash, Downtown Cleaners, in recognition of professional drycleaning skill as demonstrated in the successful removal of problem spots."

In another spot in today's paper, you will read a news item from the National Institute of Cleaning pertaining to certificates of merit being won by dry cleaners participating in their special program all over the country. A swatch of material was sent out from their laboratory badly soiled with stains of unknown content. We were asked to diagnose the spots, clean the swatch, press and return to them. Upon successful completion awards were presented in winners. We are proud to announce that we met this challenge and won one of the awards, thus substantiating our claim to be a trained dry-cleaner from NID in the most progressive up to date methods available. We do not rely on our knowledge, or experience alone, but have NID to help us by their brochures and bulletins. Business today can not stand still, nor profit by the past alone, but must progress and keep abreast of improvements, new materials being produced, and the best of cleaning. We honestly believe we have all this to offer our customers at the Downtown Cleaners. Our Cotton Clinic now in operation is utilizing the best of materials, the best of our knowledge and experience, and the aid of the NID in keeping your summer clothes fresh and new looking. ## Disruptive Question

It is wholly natural and understandable that the response to so profound a ruling as the Supreme Court's decision in the school prayer cases should reflect deep visions within the country.

Many legal scholars say that the high court's prime function is to try to settle the great divisive issues that otherwise might tear our society apart. The court does not create these divisions. It simply attempts to deal with them when they appear.

On its face, the relation between church and government is now and always has been a potentially disruptive question. Human feelings on the subject of religion are strong. No less strong are the words of the U. S. Constitution declaring that church and state shall be kept separate, and religious freedom shall be assured to all persons.

In the current controversy, complaint comes from citizens who say that freedom has been abridged by state or city laws which require the reading of the Bible and the Lord's Prayer by school pupils.

One of the complainants has no religion, the other is a Unitarian and does not accept all parts of the Bible.

The Supreme Court's decision that such religious practices do violate the Constitution has the endorsement of many, though far from all religious organizations and leaders.

It should be noted also that the U. S. court is not a pioneer in this field. Several state supreme courts, interpreting their own state constitutions on the subject of religious freedom, have handed down similar rulings.

Many devoutly religious persons are quite reasonably concerned over the impact these rulings may have on the religious life of the country. In its newest decision the U. S. court has tried—evidently with only partial success—to convince the nation that it is not assailing religion, but simply what it deems an improper link between religion and government.

A striking dissent comes from Dean Erwin N. Griswold of the Harvard Law School. Anticipating the court's latest ruling, and commenting on its 1962 decision in the celebrated New York case, he says the court is construing the Constitution's language in far too rigid "absolutist" terms.

He argues that the founding fathers meant to bar establishment of a state-supported church, but not to expunge from the nation's life all signs and ceremonies of religious nature.

Griswold contends further that anyone who objects to school prayers, Bible reading or other such practices can preserve his freedom simply by declining to take part. He says the person who does this must accept the minority status this places him in—and yet has a right to expect the tolerance of others.

The high court says in reply that even when a law excuses those who do not wish to participate, it is still coercive and puts a stigma on the objectors.

In the cases just decided, it is also a fact that tolerance by the majority was sadly breached. The complainant in Baltimore has seen her son abused physically many times, her home and car often attacked, herself refused work. The Unitarian in Pennsylvania has been subject to violent, sometimes obscene written abuse.

That these things were done in the very name of religious faith perhaps illustrates perfectly the gravity of the problem the court has tried to solve.

The court cannot and should not attempt to reconcile religious differences. It does have a responsibility for keeping government neutral in the matter. Many religious leaders agree that fostering of faith is the business of church and family—without help from the schools or any other government source.

Dr. Crane's Worry Clinic

CASE P-413: Hilda B., aged 18, is a high school graduate. "Dr. Crane," she began, "what courses should I study in college?"

"I can afford only a couple of years so what could I take that would guarantee me a good position?"

There are two splendid choices open to men and women who can afford only a couple of years at college. First, enroll in any leading business college for its two-year diploma course.

Therein you will study business law, applied psychology, business English, accounting, stenography, public speaking and other very practical subjects.

And when you graduate, you are placed in a position at about $100 per week salary!

For the leading business colleges offer this splendid placement service to their graduates.

Even if you later wish to take some liberal arts courses, you can then do so in the evening division of your state university.

Meanwhile, you will have professional status and be earning a good salary.

A second excellent choice, especially for girls like Hilda, is to enroll in a dental college where talented young women can take the two-year dental hygiene course.

Then they are employed as an ally of the usual busy dental surgeon.

Last winter, while I was visiting the New Orleans Dental Association, I was also invited to Loyola University dental college for an afternoon lecture.

The auditorium was packed with dental students and half a hundred beautiful girls who were taking the dental hygiene course.

Incidentally, you will never find more beautiful women than the wives and assistants of modern dental surgeons.

Perhaps those doctors are so acutely aware of the value of pretty teeth that they subconsciously pick their wives and office assistants with that in mind.

Anyway, I have addressed all sorts of professional conventions for more than a quarter of a century and I would rate the dental wives and assistants at the top.

Another choice for high school graduates is to study to become medical technicians as well as nurses.

And in addition to dental hygienists, the dental profession also is badly in need of more dental assistants.

Some of our more progressive business colleges now offer special courses for training secretaries who will work for engineers, dentists, physicians, personnel and other business executives.

Remember, liberal arts courses are of a general cultural nature so they don't offer much leverage for prying loose a quick job as soon as you graduate.

So, if you can afford only one or two years at a college, it is wiser to select practical courses as mentioned above.

Then later shop around for interesting liberal arts courses in the evening extension department of your state university.

Send for my "Vocational Guidance Kit," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. It will help familiarize you with college entrance testing forms.

Political Notebook

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Plans to make former President Harry S. Truman's 80th birthday, May 8, 1964, a real wingding are already under way. This came out, along with a lot of inside political stories, at the 22nd anniversary reunion of the Senate's World War Investigating Committee on National Defense. Truman was in Washington for the affair as guest of honor since he was the committee's first chairman. He made the committee famous, and it made him vice president.

Charles Patrick Clark, associate counsel on the original committee staff, hosted this year's black-tie dinner for 40 old Truman cronies, and was its master of ceremonies. It was Clark who announced that the committee's 23rd anniversary dinner next year will celebrate Truman's 80th.

Vice President Lyndon Johnson, at this year's dinner, gave Truman a large measure of credit for the Democratic victory in 1960. After the Los Angeles nomination convention, Johnson revealed, Sen. Kennedy told his running mate, "Go see Harry Truman and ask him how to run for vice president."

"Get as far away from home as you can," Truman advised Johnson. "Go to Boston. That's where I opened my campaign. The Irish will receive you with open arms. Then get Jack to go to Texas. They won't be as afraid of a Catholic if they see one."

"John McCormack (Speaker of the House) got some fellows out," Johnson told the Truman guests. "He hired enough to fill the hall and he even had a horse out in front."

Johnson riding a horse in Texas wouldn't be news. But Johnson doing a Paul Revere in Boston was news. Every paper in Texas carried the pictures. And that helped Kennedy and Johnson carry Texas as well as nine other states, where Johnson made 108 speeches on his way back home.

Former Sen. Burton K. Wheeler of Montana, Truman's first Senate boss as chairman of the Commerce Committee, paid tribute to the ex-President because "he had guts. The more I live in Washington," said Wheeler, "the more I think it's more important to have guts than to have brains."

Responding to all these and a lot more tributes, Truman, pink-cheeked and in his rare, old form, said in reply, "What in hell can a man say or do after all that? But one of these days," he continued, "I'll be in a position where I can't hear what you say. I hope you'll go on saying it anyway."

"When a man has a responsibility to 100 million people he can't please them all," Truman reminisced, in a mellow mood. "He has to make decisions. A third to half of the people always have to raise hell about it."

"Now they're being very kind to an old man. I wish they had been more so then." Truman paid some beautiful tributes to former President Herbert Hoover, who had responded to his call for help.

"I asked him to do for me what he did for Woodrow Wilson—feed the people of Bulgaria and Romania and Iran and Syria and Azerbaijan. And then I asked him to plan the reorganization of the federal government. And we put three-fourths of his recommendations into effect."

"I got President Hoover to come down to Independence and dedicate the Truman Memorial Library. While he was there he came to the house where Mrs. Truman was entertaining her bridge club. And one old gal there asked him what an ex-president did. Hoover's reply was: "He takes pills and dedicates libraries."

Dear Editor,

The passing of Pope John XXIII has touched the world and stirred a common dirge which encircles our divided world binding man closer, much closer, together. His ardent heart was great enough to infold every race and every creed, yet sensitive enough to feel the smallest wail's inmost need. His worth to the world may only be measured by the advancement of the ages.

The Invisible CIA

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Central Intelligence Agency maintains a security system that is so tight it would appear at times to be self-defeating.

The purpose of the system is to keep the CIA out of the public eye, and vice versa. The need for that is understandable.

But in its quest for anonymity the agency on occasions has gone to such extremes that the effect has been to call attention to itself.

Some of these incidents have produced comic overtones, as in the old silent movies where the guy who is tip-toeing around steps on a piece of fly paper.

Most recently, the CIA made itself surreptitiously conspicuous by foiling a Senate page who was trying to deliver a letter from Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, to the agency director.

Although the Senator's office had apprised the agency of the page's mission, he was upon arrival interrogated at length and sent away with the letter undelivered.

I am not informed as to what the guards told the lad. "There ain't nobody here but us penguins and we're invisible" probably.

My hunch is that there's really no such thing as Abaca fiber and that the money actually is going to the CIA.

On page 822 of the budget, $408,000 is earmarked for payment of annuities to the widows of lighthouse keepers. That also looks fishy.

Are there really that many widows of lighthouse keepers still around? Or are some of the CIA agents in disguise?

A $680,000 item for the U. S. Naval Academy's laundry service likewise would be a logical place to conceal a CIA appropriation. You can conceal almost anything in a Navy laundry bag.

Other budgetary items that caught my eye ostensibly covered such activities as "brush disposal" and the preservation of ancient Nubian monuments.

Offhand, $9 million seems like an awful lot of money for the government to be spending to get rid of brushes. And, an ancient Nubian monument sounds to me like a perfect hangout for spies.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow, but am still young and, I am told, attractive. The man I want seems more interested in gin rummy than anything else. He plays for big stakes and I can't afford to play with him. He has invited me out many times. But it is always with other guests at his club or to his apartment, and it invariably ends up in a gin game. How can I get this man to put down the cards long enough to realize that one queen is enough?

SOPHIE

DEAR SOPHIE: You can't. If he gets stuck with one queen, it'll cost him ten points. He needs at least three. YOURS is not the hand he loves to hold. Look for another deal.

DEAR ABBY: Our 16-year-old daughter has been doing some baby-sitting. At a second sitting with some children, one of the children informed her that his mother said, "Joyce (not her real name) could at least have done the dishes." Just what is expected of a sitter? She is paid 50 cents an hour to sit, not to do housework. Joyce wouldn't have minded doing the dishes, but why should she be expected to do them without being told? Don't you think if sitters are expected to do more than sit they should be told in advance and paid accordingly?

N. C.

DEAR N. C.: Every "sitter" should have WRITTEN instructions so there will be no uncertainty about what she is expected to do, what she may NOT do, how long she is expected to sit, how much she shall be paid—and most important, WHERE to reach the parents in case of emergency.

DEAR ABBY: You say that free-flying birds are unsanitary in the home. If you want to get technical, what is sanitary about ANY house pet? (Unless it's a fish.) Just how sanitary are our habits? Ask any Japanese how sanitary it is to walk into the house in shoes that have been collecting dirt on the streets. Or ask a Hindu what he thinks of our practice of shaking hands. And how about kissing? Heaven forbid! The lady who lets her parakeet fly over the dining room table is quite right: A caged bird is neither a happy nor a healthy one. On the other hand if her husband's life is made miserable by this unsanitary practice, she has two choices: (1) Find a loving, but unsanitary home for her pet. (2) Get a less sanitary husband.

BIRD WOMAN

CONFIDENTIAL TO MIKE: Confess. You'll feel better. A clear conscience is a great tranquilizer.

Jacoby On Bridge

By Oswald Jacoby

My columns on the Blackwood convention have resulted in a great many requests to discuss it again.

In case any one does not know, the Blackwood convention provides, in its simplest form, that a bid of four no-trump is a demand for partner to tell how many aces he holds. He responds five clubs with no ace; five diamonds with one; five hearts with two; five spades with three and five no-trump with all four.

Most players who use Blackwood play that any four no-trump bid is a request for aces. This is simple indeed, but the experts have found many cases where they want to use four no-trump as a normal bid—not an artificial one.

For instance, here is a hand from the recent tournament at Columbia, S. C. South can make four no-trump and East will go down one at four spades.

The bidding at all tables started with one heart by South, two clubs by North and some number of spades by East.

When East chose to bid four spades South would double and North would have no choice, but to leave it in and the North-South score of plus 100 would turn out to be a poor one.

At a few tables the bidding went as shown in the box. On this sequence North could afford to bid four no-trump after his partner's double of four spades. There would be no way for South to read the four no-trump bid as anything but a desire to play that contract since North had previously been satisfied to bid only three no-trump after his partner bid two.

We The Women:

By Ruth Millett

Many women confuse "reading" the daily paper with extracting from it just the things that interest them. Then they wonder why their husbands know so much more.

The word "chantey" or "chanty," meaning "a song of labor," comes from the French "chanter" which means "to sing."

than they do about what's happening in the world.

No one has read the newspaper thoroughly if she has fleetingly glanced at the front-page headlines, read only a few details of any sensational murder that catches the eye, and then turned to the women's pages.

So far as enlightening herself enough to discuss the news with her husband, she might as well not have opened the paper.

If she hasn't read any political news, or any foreign news, or looked at the scores on the sports page, studied the financial page, turned to the comics, or read the editorials she doesn't know anything about the news—from a man's point of view.

"Don't you ever read the newspaper?" is a question men are always asking their wives.

And the answer is usually an indignant, "Of course I do."

"Then how could you have missed such-and-such?" the man wants to know.

Well, a woman can read a newspaper and still miss most of what interests a man. And many women read a paper just that way.

Any woman who wants to be able to discuss the news band had better look to see what sections of the newspaper he reads, and then add those sections to the ones she turns to naturally.

One of the most popular plants at this time of the year is the gardenia with its sweet fragrance and white flowers. The plant is pretty even when not in bloom with its shiny green leaves.

Gardenias should be planted in acid soil and not any deeper in the ground than they grew in the nursery. They should be fertilized three or four times a year using the same fertilizer, used for azaleas and camellias.

To avoid root knot, it is wise to plant nematode resistant root stock varieties, such as mystery, dixie darling and the old cape jasmine varieties. It improves them to prune them back about one third of their size after the blooming season is finished. Now is a good time to do that.

Florida Fishing May Be Featured At World's Fair In New York

PALM BEACH — Plans for the construction of a Florida Fishing Centers building on Meadow Lake at the Florida site in the New York World's Fair in 1964-65 are under consideration.

W. L. Stensgaard, executive director of the Florida World's Fair Authority, said, "This new structure is being considered seriously because of the intense interest we have had expressed to us in such an exhibit."

"Spokesmen for fishing centers in various sections of the state have written us, asking how they may be represented and their story told at the World's Fair."

"Because our state is a fisherman's paradise that can suit any taste or budget, the authority feels it must do

'Kid' Comes Through For Roaring Yanks

United Press International
 Manager Ralph Houk of the New York Yankees should feel vindicated today.

It was just a little more than a year ago when Houk was forced to decide between a peewee rookie and the veteran Robin Roberts. He went for the "kid" and let Roberts go.

If your memory is as good as you think it is, you'll recall what a ruckus that move caused, especially after Roberts caught on with the Baltimore Orioles and proceeded to win 10 games.

Young Jim Bouton, the "kid" Houk kept instead, struggled to a not-too-impressive 7-7 season and was earmarked for the bullpen when the 1963 American League season began.

The 24-year-old right-hander did such a good job in some early-season relief roles that Houk promoted him to a starting berth. That was back on May 12 against the Orioles. Since then, Jim has won eight of nine decisions, including a sparkling four-hit Sunday that paced the Yankees to an 8-0 victory over the Boston Red Sox and increased their AL lead to two full games over the Chicago White Sox, who split a doubleheader with the Cleveland Indians, winning the opener, 3-1, and dropping the nightcap, 2-0.

In the other games, the Detroit Tigers buried the Kansas City A's, 11-2; the Baltimore Orioles downed the Minnesota Twins, 4-1; and the Washington Senators shut out the Los Angeles Angels, 4-0.

The Cincinnati Reds beat the Houston Colts twice, 4-0 and 8-1; the Pittsburgh Pirates nipped the Chicago Cubs, 7-6; the Milwaukee Braves routed the San Francisco Giants, 10-4; the Los Angeles Dodgers shaded the St. Louis Cardinals, 4-3; and the New York Mets downed the Philadelphia Phillies twice, 5-0 and 4-1, in National League action.

Cincy Back In Pennant Race By Winning 2

United Press International
 The Cincinnati Reds are back in the National League pennant picture because Bob Purkey and Johnny Edwards went to the movies last week.

Purkey, a 23-game winner last year who missed the first month of this season with a shoulder injury, became alarmed when he lost four straight games, so he and his batteymate decided to look at films of the big righthander's recent performances.

Edwards immediately spotted a change in Purkey's delivery.

The movies showed that Bob was unconsciously favoring his arm, the Reds' baby-faced catcher revealed. "He wasn't rearing back like he used to. He was kinda pushing his fast ball up there and as a result it lacked that little hop."

The lesson Purkey learned from that single movie session paid off handsomely Sunday. His Bob's fast ball had plenty of hop on it as he pitched his first complete game of the season—a four-hit, 4-0 victory over the Houston Colts in the opener of a doubleheader.

The Reds also won the nightcap, 8-1, behind ancient Joe Nuxhall to boost their latest winning streak to seven games and sneak into third place, only one game back of the pace-setting St. Louis Cardinals.

The Los Angeles Dodgers edged St. Louis, 4-3, but the Cardinals maintained their half-game lead over second-place San Francisco when the Milwaukee Braves walloped the Giants, 10-4. The Pittsburgh Pirates scored a comeback 7-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs and the New York Mets took a pair from the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-0 and 4-1.

Nancy Schneringer's SKI SCHOOL

TOW BOAT is running too slow, giving skier trouble.

Written for NEA
 While almost any modern power boat can pull a skier, some are better suited to the purpose than others.

Today's outboards have all the necessary speed and power and they usually throw out far less wake than an inboard, making for smoother skiing.

A boat should have a speed of from 18 to 25 miles an hour under a ski load. Below 18 miles an hour, a novice can have trouble getting on plane. A tow boat should be between 11 and 16 feet long for best results. On too small a boat, the stern will be pulled from side to side as the skier crosses back and forth behind it.

The amount of horsepower required varies with conditions. Engineers have worked out a table which tells us that

Boros Oldest To Win U. S. Open

BROOKLINE, Mass. (UPI) — Julius Boros, getting his second golfing wind at 43, thanks Arnold Palmer and Jacky Cupit today for his second U. S. Open victory.

"First I want to thank them for the way they played the 17th hole in the final round on Saturday," Boros said. "And then I want to thank them for taking a lot of strokes out there Sunday. They encouraged me a lot."

The oldest player ever to win America's premier golf tournament, Boros made a shambles of the playoff with Cupit and Palmer by shooting a one-under-par 33-37-79. That put him three strokes ahead of the 25-year-old Cupit, who had a 37-36-79, and six in front of Palmer, who, suffering from dysentery, carded a 39-40-76.

It wasn't the 17th hole that counted Sunday, though. For Palmer it was the 11th, where he blew any chance he had by coming up with a triple bogey. In Saturday's two final rounds he had triple-bogeyed 445-yard hole. For Cupit it was the third hole, where he double-bogeyed.

"That really hurt," said Cupit. "But I thought even on the 17th green that I still could tie Julius—until he knocked in his putt for a birdie. I knew I was gone then."

The victory climaxed six

Sarasota Captures Title In First Half

United Press International
 The first half of the Florida State League Baseball season ended last night with Sarasota well in front of the pack by a six game margin.

Two games — Miami at Sarasota and Fort Lauderdale at St. Petersburg—were rained out last night. In other action, Tampa took the opener of a doubleheader from Orlando and then bowed to the twing in the nightcap 6-0. Daytona Beach topped Lakeland 7-2.

All teams are idle tonight with the second half of the season opening tomorrow with a clean slate for all eight teams in the loop.

Andy Duxat twirled a five-hitter for Tampa in the opener last night, whiffed five and walked not a man. He was aided by a two-run homer from Steve Reeves in the fifth inning.

Curt Sauer struck out seven and allowed only four safeties in gaining revenge for Orlando in the nightcap. Tom Quick belted a two-run blast in the fifth.

Base-loaded singles by centerfielder Al Lewis and firstbaseman George Huetel paced landland's win. Her-

3 Gulf States Without Power For 90 Minutes

MOBILE, Ala. (UPI) — Portions of three Gulf states were without electric power for about 90 minutes Sunday. About 150,000 customers were affected but no major inconveniences were reported. Alabama, Mississippi, and Florida were without power at mid-day when plants were cut from the main power system, a spokesman said. He said it was not known what caused the power failures.

Points as far north as Meridian, Miss., and as far west as Pensacola, Fla. felt the effects.

Mobile, the largest city affected. The power plant at Chickasha, Ala., which supplies downtown Mobile's electricity, however, was cut off for less than a minute. Other areas in the city were also without power.

Emergency equipment was used to continue electrical service to hospitals. A "system separation" was at fault, power officials said. Power plants somehow became disconnected from the main system, they added.

Parts of Gulf Power, Mississippi Power and Alabama Power would be affected by a separation, since Gulf and Mississippi are connected with the Alabama system.

Aid Seen For Migrant Help

By Louis Cassels

This could be the year when church people finally succeed in doing something for migrant farm workers.

The migrants are America's poorest people. There are about one million of them—men, women and children—who eke out a living by "following the crops."

With everyone working, including very young children, a migrant family may earn about $1,000 a year. Many migrants live in squalid shack towns. They are subject to exploitation by "crew leaders" who serve as brokers of their labor. Their children get little schooling and grow up illiterate, unable to break out of the migrant way of life. They have very high disease and death rates.

They are not covered by any of the federal labor laws, they are not represented by a union, and their political influence is nil.

Relieving their desperate plight has been a concern of America's major religious bodies for 40 years. It is one of the few public issues on which Protestants, Catholics and Jews have consistently spoken with one voice.

In the conviction that the migrants' problems can be solved only by federal legislation, the major faiths have joined forces in what is referred to in Washington—usually with a patronizing smile—as "the church lobby."

Year after year, the church lobby has charged forth into legislative battle. Always, until now it has gone down to ignominious defeat at the hands of the large and powerful farm lobby.

A few weeks ago, the House of Representatives took up a bill, backed by the big farm interests, to extend for two years public law 78—the so-called "bracero law" under which Mexican farm workers are imported into this country for the same kind of jobs that domestic migrants seek.

The migrant ministry of the National Council of Churches and the National Catholic Rural Life Conference sent letter to all members of Congress urging that Public Law 78 be allowed to expire on schedule at the end of the present year. They said the importation of braceros deprived domestic migrants of jobs, and drove down their already pitiable wages.

Funeral services for Mr. Walter E. Kellogg, 69, of Lake Mary, will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday at Grankow Funeral Home with Rev. Ralph K. Taylor of the Lake Mary Baptist Church officiating. Burial will be in Oaklawn Cemetery.

Mr. Kellogg who came from Lake Mary died there Saturday evening at his home. He was a retired pressman for the Titusville, (Pa.) Herald; was a Mason and a member of the Methodist Church.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Emma Louise Kellogg of Lake Mary; a son, Theodore Kellogg of Jersey City, N. J.; two brothers, William Kellogg of Slippery Rock, Pa. and Harold Kellogg of Meadville, Pa. and a sister, Miss Laura Kellogg of Titusville, Pa.
