Fight Breaks Out In North Part Of Greece

U. S. Warships Said Leaving For Greece; Iranian Groups Are Reported Fighting

By Associated Press
Dispatches filtering into Athens today told of outbreaks of fighting in the Peloponnese and the interior of Greece. Responsible spokesmen said that the battling was started by the Communists to divert attention from the northern border violence on which Greece is protesting to the United Nations.

Meanwhile, Greek Premier Constantine Tsaldaris left Paris on another leg of his trip to New York where he will register his protest with the UN.

A dispatch published in Moscow newspapers said that the British are trying to get the Americans to send at least a small contingent of United States troops to Greece.

According to this Russian dispatch filed from the Turkish capital at Ankara, American troops in Greece would ease the British position in that southernmost Balkan nation.

A flotilla of nine United States warships called today from the Lebanese capital of Beyrouth for the Greek port of Piraeus. The goodwill visit in Beyrouth lasted three days.

The British radio announced that fighting is said to have broken out between Iranian government troops and so-called home rule forces in Azerbaijan province.

The British broadcast quoted the Tabriz radio in Azerbaijan as saying that government troops attacked and that the fighting has been going on since this morning.

Later the Tabriz radio is said to have issued an appeal to what it called all freedom loving people in Iran to take up arms. But there has been nothing from the Iranian government, said the BBC, to confirm these rumors.

Christmas Party Is Discussed By American Legion

Membership in the American Legion of five veterans, one of them an Army nurse, was approved at the meeting of Camp 1083 on Monday evening. Those approved were Miss Grace Harris-Cole, who served as a nurse in World War I, James Charles Peacock, James A. Wright, Carlton A. Noyes and James W. Johnson according to Joel S. Field, post adjutant.

Plans for a Christmas gift party in connection with the meeting of Dec. 16, were discussed, and it was requested that each member bring a toy which is to be given by Santa Claus to underprivileged children at the Elks Christmas Tree party.

The matter of securing gifts for veterans in hospitals was referred to the Legion Auxiliary. John Sauls reported that most of the money expended by the local chapter of the Red Cross had been to assist veterans during the week. The post agreed to all possible assistance to the chapter during its drive for funds next Spring.

The post agreed to attend Salvation Army rallies in front of the Post Office on Tuesday, Dec. 24. Members advised to contact Chester Miller for details. Attendance at the meeting was reported to have been small due to the windy, rainy weather.

Refugees Resist Haifa Transfer

SCENES OF RIOTING and disorder were staged in Haifa Harbor, when 3500 Jewish immigrants resisted British transfer from the steamer Lochita to troopships that had been sent to take them to the Island of Cyprus. At top, a British soldier carries a young refugee from the ship as others glare at him. Below, stretcher cases are removed from the Lochita as an angry crowd mills around. Immigrants hurled cans of food at British officials who, after their landing and tear gas grenades were tossed aboard the refugee vessel. (Illustration by...)

Strike Effects Paralyze Nation; U.M.W. Fined $3,500,000; Lewis $10,000

Unemployment Growing Toward 2,000,000 Freight Embargo Is In Effect Friday

By ASSOCIATED PRESS
The coal strike is tightening its stranglehold on the economic life of the nation, and its grip is being felt in vital industries—automobiles, railroads, construction and steel. In addition to the 400,000 soft coal miners, more than 165,000 persons are idle, and by Friday the number may be over 2,000,000.

A freight embargo will go into effect at 12:01 A. M. Friday, and at the same time the automobile industry will come to a virtual halt. The Ford Motor Company predicted a complete shutdown within a few days after the freight embargo is imposed, and General Motors' L. C. Gray said that there was no use operating without ship port facilities for materials and finished products. The Chicago Association of Commerce claimed that the freight embargo would result in the gradual closing of more than 10,000 industrial plants in the Chicago area.

The city of Hamilton, Ohio, is the first "stranded" community in that state to scrape the bottom of its coal pile. As a result, Hamilton faces a blackout of its street lights at midnight tonight. Governor Frank Lausche stated that the emergency of similar action in other Ohio communities. Lausche promised Hamilton officials the help of a State Guard company to protect the 70,000 residents of the city and their property.

Denver, Colo., also is feeling the pinch of the coal shortage, and only the mild weather has prevented coal shuffling. Denver's retail yards are bare, many business buildings and apartment buildings, and hospitals and other institutions are virtually out of fuel. To meet the crisis, Governor John Vivian has empowered an emergency committee to set 50,000 tons of coal to Denver from a mine in northern Colorado. The committee already has set up a rationing plan, but it also depends on whether the coal can be secured. Vivian declared that he was considering drafting the militia into the state militia to dig for the coal, but that he has the power to do so. The governor called upon community officials to make plans to feed and house citizens in public buildings should a coal wave drive them from their homes.

A nation-wide embargo on railroad freight shipments, except for vital needs, has been proclaimed by the government in Washington. Parcel post packages are to be limited to five pounds at the height of the Christmas mailing season. In addition, passenger mileage on coal burning trains has been slashed 25 percent more.

The freight embargo and curbs on Parcel Post become effective at one minute after midnight on Friday morning. The cut in railroad mileage takes effect at 11:59 P. M. on Sunday and brings the mileage down to 50 percent of the pre-strike level. A 25 percent reduction already is in effect. These drastic measures were taken to conserve fuel in view of the coal strike. Apparently, the government has little hope of a solution in the near future.

ROUGH VOYAGE

SOUTHAMPTON, England, Dec. 4. (AP)—The latest crossing of the Atlantic by the British luxury liner Queen Elizabeth was anything but luxurious for its passengers. The big liner docked 45 minutes late in Southampton today with 22 injured passengers. The captain, Sir James Bisset, said the Elizabeth ran into a westerly gale on Monday that kept up for two days. At times, he said, the waves ran 40 feet high. Four of the injured passengers sustained broken bones when they fell on the slaking decks. Other injured passengers were cut and bruised by the rough voyage.

The Courtesy Committee recently named by Vernon I. Gizzard (center), business executive and public relations teacher, who will conduct a courtesy instruction course here next week, is shown as it met last Friday morning on the steps of the Tourist Center and Chamber of Commerce Building prior to meeting to plan the program. Europe Suffers From Effects Of U. S. Coal Strike

LONDON, Dec. 4. (AP)—The soft coal strike has spread industrial crisis to half a dozen countries in Europe. France, Belgium, Italy, Switzerland and Denmark are suffering most. Sweden, Norway and Germany are less dependent on American coal, but they also see dark days ahead if the soft coal strike doesn't end soon.

The one country that really on the spot is Britain. British coal can't entirely take care of Britain's own needs. Now that American coal isn't going to Europe, Britain expects other countries there to start turning to her for help. With her coal supply already precarious, Britain anticipates an appeal for coal from Denmark.

Denmark's capital city, Copenhagen, is already operating under wartime restrictions to save coal. Only half the city's street lights are burning. Public transport has been reduced to a third of the pre-war level. Even gas consumption has been cut in half.

France is in bad shape, too. France gets more than half her coal from the United States. The American soft coal strike spells only one thing for France—serious setbacks in industry. But even so, officials of the French Miners Union are expected to vote a resolution of solidarity with the American miners on Friday.

Italy is hard hit by the American soft coal strike. But mild weather is helping out the Italians. Even so, the Italian government has appointed the minister of the treasury and the administrator of the railroads to direct a new agency for the acquisition of coal and coke.

Switzerland will have to ration even poor grades of coal if the American coal strike lasts much longer.

Belgium has ordered severe restrictions to save coal, and the Belgian government is trying to get coal from Poland.

The Netherlands thinks Dutch gas and electric service will be badly off if the American coal strike lasts another month.

Sweden alone is doing all right so far in spite of the strike. That country depends mostly on water power and wood fuel instead of coal.

Reds Make Gesture Of Conciliation At UN Meeting

RUSSIA made a gesture of conciliation today by agreeing to accept American proposals for world disarmament as a basis of discussion. The United States has asked for a meeting of the Security Council to discuss the Soviet proposal. Soviet foreign minister Molotov said a United Nations committee that the veto question has been understood at it would apply to arms controls. He said that Russia favors organization of the Security Council by the UN Security Council, with the veto power. But he said that the principle of unanimity in the council would not relate to the actual work of control by various commissions.

Then the delegates agreed unanimously to create a 20-member sub-committee to attempt to iron out the various proposals before them.

Meanwhile, Greece has complained to the UN that Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania have violated the Greek border. Greece asks the UN commission to go to Greece to study matters for it.

Senator Tom Connally of Texas says the American delegation to the United Nations welcomes the Soviet decision regarding disarmament.

Emergency State Is Declared In Oakland Strike

OAKLAND, Dec. 4. (AP)—A state of emergency was declared today in Oakland, Calif., which is tied up by a general AP of I. Workers strike. Mayor Herbert Beach has received full authority over police and fire power. The mayor had asked the emergency authority on grounds as he felt that "no community can exist in an anarchy."

A general walkout of organized labor has kept the Oakland metropolitan area tied up since early yesterday. The general strike was called in protest against police protection given for the delivery of merchandise through AP of I. pocket lines at two strike-bound department stores.

Mayor Herbert Beach denounced the emergency powers this morning to cope with the crisis. He declared that Oakland is not going back to the jungle and he called for action by the city council. In the meantime, AP of I. unions have appealed for a greater show of strength in the demonstration which has affected the lives of 1,000,000 persons. All public transportation has come to a halt, many industries are shut down, and the publication of newspapers has been suspended.

Lingo Is Appointed Oviedo City Clerk

T. L. Lingo of Nelson & Company has been appointed as city clerk of Oviedo to succeed Ben Jones who resigned from this office last Monday night. It was reported this morning by Judge Theodore Aulin, Oviedo resident to O. P. Herndon, county clerk.

Judge Aulin said that a meeting was slated to take place tonight to confer with officials of Oviedo in regard to making a survey in order to plan a water system for the city.

DENIAL DISCOUNTED

LONDON, Dec. 4. (AP)—The Moscow radio today quotes a Russian news agency dispatch from Ankara to the effect that the possibility that Greece is not discounted despite recent denials. Said the broadcast: "Well informed Greek circles assert that at the present time the British are negotiating with the Americans in order to obtain the latter's consent for the dispatch of at least a small American force to northern Greece." The northern area of Greece is the battleground for current clashes between Greek government forces and leftist guerrillas.

Mine Chief Escapes Jail Sentence Tho Attorney Declares Fine Alone Is Cruel

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4. (AP)—The United Mine Workers Union was fined $3,500,000 today, and John L. Lewis was fined $10,000 personally for contempt of court. However, Lewis escaped a jail sentence.

Counsel Joseph Padway protested the government-proposed $3,500,000 fine against the union as "a cruel and unusual punishment." Said Padway:

"If it is the government's intent to put the UMW out of business, the government may as well realize now that the UMW will remain an organization as strong in the future as it is today."

The government had asked for a fine of $3,500,000 against the United Mine Workers for contempt of court. Federal Attorney John Padway made the request to Judge T. Alan Goldsborough as Washington federal court convened at 3:00 P. M.

The judge has asked both sides in the contempt trial for their views as to sentence against John L. Lewis and the Union. The judge made no recommendation for a jail sentence for Lewis. But he expressed the government's opinion that the union had substantial financial resources and that therefore the $3,500,000 would be appropriate punishment.

At the recent Mine Workers convention it was stated that the union treasury consisted of $13,500,000.

Federal Attorney Sommet also renewed the government's plea for a temporary injunction to replace the restraining order which led to the contempt charges.

The original order was designed to head off the soft coal strike, but was ignored by Lewis.

Goldsborough asked Sommet whether the government did not want a permanent injunction. The government attorney answered that although such a request might be made later, a temporary injunction, he believed would suffice for the present.

Paper Mills May Be Forced To Shut Down

MOBILE, Dec. 4. (AP)—An official of the International Paper Company said today some of the company's eight southern kraft mills probably will be forced to shut down within two days after the nationwide railway freight embargo becomes effective Friday.

Major J. H. Friend, company vice president and general manager of the southern division, reports all the mills have a low reserve supply of basic raw materials. He adds a curtailment of raw transportation eventually will force all eight plants to shut down. Full plants have been operating full blast to meet the paper shortage. However, the company has been handicapped by the shortage of certain chemicals and the lack of a shortage.

International's southern mills are located at Camden, Ark.; Mobile, Ala.; Georgetown, S. C.; Panama City, Fla.; and two are at Spring Hill, La., and two are at Spring Lake, La.

Bonds were approved of Commissioners H. B. Pope, J. E. McClelland and B. C. Dodi; of W. M. Haynes and L. E. Jordan of the county school board, and of Ralph A. Goodspeed as deputy sheriff.

Senator Lloyd F. Boyle, county attorney, was directed to draw up a request to be sent to the State Road Department asking that French Avenue be repaved and widened as a farm to market road. This action was at the request of the City, whose road in this direction had been turned down by the State.

The sum of $50 was appropriated to the Charles Young (negro) Post of the American Legion.

It was agreed to put in some big filling in the ditch in front of the Beardsall Avenue Chapel. A liquor selling license was approved for the Sanford Aviation Country Club.

The program opened with the group singing Thanksgiving songs and Psalm 147 was used as the scripture. The morning prayer was the Duxology. Two plays were presented the first being the "Story of the First Thanksgiving in America."

The first scene was laid on the ship "Mayflower" and the scene following was the landing in America and the last was the governor signing the proclamation of Thanksgiving. The second was a modern play with the subject being what a rich boy has to be thankful for.

Davis, Blanchard On AP All-America For Third Season

Army, Notre Dame Place Two Men On Mythical Eleven

Tech's Duke, Georgia's Trippi Are Selected On No. One Team

By TED SMITS
AP General Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Dec. 4, (AP)—Glenn

Davis and Felix Blanchard, Army's irresistible backs, became today the first pair of teammates ever to achieve the All-America football team for three consecutive years. This gave Army two places on the 1946 Associated Press team, a distinction also won by Notre Dame.

Starting with Walter Camp's first All-America selection in 1889, and continuing through the AP team only 15 men previous to Davis and Blanchard won first team honors for three or more consecutive years. The last was Red Grange, Illinois halfback of 1923, 1924, and 1925. Never before have teammates accomplished this feat. Notre Dame's finest were John Lujack, crafty quarterback, and George Connor, towering tackle. Whereas in 1945 Army so completely overpowered all collegiate competition as to place five men on the first team, this year found the Cadets much closer pressed.

Geographical distribution of men on the first three teams reflects a swing of football's wartime center of gravity in the east towards the west and south.

The east placed two men on the first team—Blanchard and Davis; the south three, the midwest four, the southwest one, and the far west one. Taking into account the all squad of the teams, the east had six, the south nine, the southwest three, the midwest 10, and the far west five.

Standing in the front rank in the midwest with Notre Dame's Lujack and Connor are Elmer Madar, Michigan's powerful defensive end, and Alex Agase, guard on a strong Illinois team.

The south's contributions to the first team are Dick Huffman, 230-pound Tennessee tackle, Paul Duke, Georgia Tech center, and George Tech center, all claimed by many as the greatest collegiate center of recent years, and Charles Trippi, the Georgia back who is a worthy running mate to Blanchard and Davis.

From the southwest came Weldon Humble, mighty Rice guard, and from the far west Horro Baldwin, UCLA end who was such a great factor in his team's victories.

It was fitting that the 1946 season, which broke all collegiate attendance records and sent football surging back into the sunlight after being shadowed by war for five long years, should find a field competition of the highest order.

The 1946 second team backfield was almost on a par with the first, and one in particular—Bobby Layne of Texas—stands out as among the finest of recent years.

If it were possible to expand the first team to include five backfield men, Layne would be on it, and almost as much could be said of the others who were placed on the second team—Herman Wedemeyer of St. Mary's, a 1945 first-teamer whose demolition was due to the higher level of play; Ernie Case, 26-year-old UCLA quarterback who was equally good on offense and defense; and Ben Naimoudi, Indiana's phenomenal passer.

Saying Standards Higher That Wedemeyer was put on the second team accents the remarkable improvement in play standards between 1945 and 1946. With veterans returning from the wars, virtually every college boasted squads 50 to 100 percent stronger in manpower than last season. Alumni and fans, their imaginations fired by the big, fast, experienced men that reported for training in September, dreamily foresaw undefeated teams shaping up to meet Saturday that the great improvement in power meant, instead more upsets and fewer clean records.

The 1946 team, fittingly enough, is the oldest since the AP began selecting All-Americans in 1923. Two of its men, Humble and Madar, are 25, and the average is 22.7 years, compared to 20.6 in 1945.

As might be expected, every member of the first team is either a discharged veteran, or in the case of Blanchard and Davis, a member of the armed forces. Blanchard and Davis, although listed as Juniors, finish at West Point in June because of the accelerated course of study imposed by war.

Lately have superlatives been bestowed as freely on two backs as they have on Davis and Blanchard. Some observers call Davis the greatest running back ever. Be that as it may, Army's opponent, from Notre Dame and Michigan back, found him a constant, nerve-wracking menace.

er Rice guard, Hamilton Nichols, Jr., who was on the All-America team in 1944.

Agase made the third team in 1945 while at Purdue, but after his war service he returned to Illinois. A durable player, he made an astonishing number of tackles every Saturday and in the critical game with Ohio State, he stopped Joe Whisler six-inches from the goal line on a play that helped turn the tide of victory.

Many Outstanding Centers Few years have seen as many outstanding centers as 1946—Bryant Meeks of South Carolina, George Strohmeier of Notre Dame, John Cannady of Indiana, Chuck Bednarik of Pennsylvania, Roland Nabors of Texas Tech. But towering over all was Duke of Georgia Tech, Coach Bernie Moore of Louisiana State calls him "terrific" and when Coach Henry Frka of Tulane made his Southeast Conference selection he cited Duke's name and wrote "great."

The season was unique in one respect. Never before have so many previous first team All-Americans fallen back to the second and third teams, or to the honorable mention list. In the case of Vaughn Mancha, 1945 first team center at Alabama, and Robert Fenimore, 1944 and 1945 first team back at Oklahoma A. & M., injuries exacted a heavy price. In other instances, however, such as Wade Meyer, Nichols and Timaley and freshman runner; Skippy Minial, Pennsylvania's elusive back; Bob Chappuis, the power of Michigan's offense; John Zeger, Washington guard; Neil Armstrong, Oklahoma A. & M. end; Travis Tidwell, Auburn back; Joe Golding, Oklahoma back; Barney Poole, Army end; Joe Steffy, Army guard; Charles Shorty, Mississippi back; and Sherry McWilliams, the Army back whose transfer to Mississippi State just before the season opened caused so much comment.

Trippi Stands Out Agass Florida, Trippi gained 93 yards in 20 rushes and completed seven out of seven passes for 126 yards. In the sensational game with Alabama he overshadowed the formidable Harry Gimer and gained 98 of his yards on punts and once kicking 34 yards from behind his goal line. In addition to all this, like Davis, Blanchard and Lujack, he is a deadly tackler.

On the other end was Baldwin, described by Coach Bert Brucherie of UCLA as "the best end I have ever seen." No less heartfelt was the compliment paid him by Phil Tinsley, his own Tech in playing at UCLA in 1946 as an understudy to Baldwin. Tinsley said "I didn't know they came that good." When his team defeated Stanford, 26-6, Baldwin's performance was typical—he caught six of Ennie Case's passes for 115 yards and handled the ball in two lateral, one of which resulted in a touchdown. In eight games Baldwin caught 13 passes for 310 yards, scoring three touchdowns on passes and two on blocked punts.

Madar, less sensational than Baldwin on offense, was the ideal blocker for Michigan's running attack. He had been away from football since 1942 when he was one of Michigan's "seven oak posts," and he started the season slowly but wound up in a blaze of glory. At 180 pounds he is the lightest man on an All-America line that averages 207.

Tennessee this year had possibly the strongest line it ever had, and Huffman at tackle was unquestionably the strongest on it. Coach Bob Neyland calls him the best tackle he ever coached. Huffman fought with the Marines at Saipan. He is unusually fast for a 230-pounder.

Best on a great line at Notre Dame was tackle Connor, only five pounds lighter than Huffman. Fast and aggressive he was equally good on offense and defense, and with John Mastrangelo, his teammate, was preeminently a team player.

At guard are two seniors, Illinois' Agase, and Rice's Humble. Coach Jess Neely of Rice rates Humble as "the best guard I have ever seen," and he played a tough, tough schedule without asking for mercy. He overshadowed the other in his specialized fields three times as often as the other backs. Lujack and the man who directed Davis and Blanchard, Arnold Tucker. When they opposed each other the honors were almost even, but over the season Lujack emerged with the better record.

As if Lujack's passing cut down on his rushing, he carried the ball but when it came his way he showed he could run with it. An accurate passer, a keen analyst of opposing defenses, an inspiring field leader, and—above all—a key secondary defender whose flying tackles cut down on the touch-down run, Lujack bids fair to go on to another sensational season in 1947. In seven games, Lujack threw 82 passes for 36 completions, with six interceptions, and a total yardage of 626.

As if Lujack's passing cut down on his rushing, he carried the ball but when it came his way he showed he could run with it. An accurate passer, a keen analyst of opposing defenses, an inspiring field leader, and—above all—a key secondary defender whose flying tackles cut down on the touch-down run, Lujack bids fair to go on to another sensational season in 1947. In seven games, Lujack threw 82 passes for 36 completions, with six interceptions, and a total yardage of 626.

President Truman To Address Nation On Coal Situation

Chief Executive Is Expected To Urge Miners To Go Back To Work In Talk

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(AP)—President Truman will address the nation by radio at 9:30 P. M. on Sunday night. The President will discuss the coal crisis in a speech lasting at least 20 minutes and possibly longer. Mr. Truman's address will be carried by all major networks.

Presidential Secretary Charles Ross said that exactly what the Chief Executive will say will depend on the state of affairs at the time he goes on the air. But Ross asserted that Mr. Truman will discuss the situation growing out of the coal strike. Although Ross did not say so, it is expected that the President will appeal to the soft coal miners to return to their jobs. He is believed to have withheld his decision to make the speech until after John L. Lewis' contempt of court trial was concluded.

Meanwhile, the government is looking over the so-called Toledo Plan as a possible solution to avert a labor-management problem. Stabilization Director John H. Rhee has passed the plan along to President Truman to see if it can be applied on a national scale to legislation proposed to the new Congress.

General Strike In Oakland Ends By Compromise

City Agrees Not To Use Police In Hitting Picket Lines

OAKLAND, Calif., Dec. 5.—(AP)—The general strike in Oakland ended today shortly before 11 A. M. Pacific Standard Time. The three-day strike, which resulted in an almost complete paralysis of business in the city.

OAKLAND, Calif., Dec. 5. (AP)—A F. of L. leaders agreed this morning to end the general strike in the city of Oakland. City Manager John Hassler disclosed a truce agreement with union chiefs. Hassler said a return to work order will be given to all union business agents at a meeting today at 10:00 A. M. Pacific Time.

The settlement has been confirmed by a union statement. It will end the general strike in Oakland which has strangled commerce in East Bay cities for two days.

A F. of L. statement says the agreement is based on the conditions that Oakland police will not be used in breaking up picket lines, and that city officials will remain neutral in labor disputes. Hassler said he agreed to the peace terms at an early morning conference.

The general strike is the fifth in the history of the American Labor movement. Its approaching end finds 1,000,000 East Bay residents without transportation, food and other necessities of life in short supply, and the city of Oakland under a state of emergency.

The new terms were agreed to shortly after an announcement that the A. F. of L. Teamsters Union and the Independent Machinists Union would return to work today.

The source of the original dispute, the Kahn and Hastings plant, still are on strike. The labor dissonance began last October when the Retail Merchants Association declined to negotiate a contract for the two stores alone. The association's refusal to negotiate for all members, stores when and if the union proved that a majority of the store employees were union members.

Rotarians Inspect Celery Packaging Machine

Members of the Sanford Rotary Club are shown at the Stum Machine Shop where they recently inspected a celery wrapping machine which trims celery tops and wraps the lower portion of each stalk in cellophane at the same time inserting a trade label. The packaging machine is the invention of Louis Marks of Wolcott, N. Y. A grower under whose direction the machine was produced at the Shop M. Marks originated the first hand wrapping of celery in cellophane as a means of improving the shelf life. Standing in front of the machine are Mrs. William J. McMillen, machinist helper at the shop; Rotarians, from left to right, are H. L. Dean, G. W. Spencer, Andrew Scott, Roy Mark Carpenter, Jack Hagan, J. L. Ingley, H. L. Perkins, George Dandy and Robert Harris.

U. N. Committee Is Unanimous On Armaments Plan

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Dec. 5.—(AP)—The spirit of conciliation which pervaded today the United Nations front. A subcommittee agreed by a unanimous vote to accept the United States plan for a world-wide limitation of armaments as a basis for discussion.

This 20-member group will draft a disarmament resolution. The new note of harmony had been initiated yesterday by Russian Foreign Minister Molotov when he agreed that any agencies to enforce an arms reduction program must be free of the veto.

Senator Tom Connally of Texas and Molotov started the committee session today by proposing that Assembly President Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium be elected chairman of the group. This was agreed upon by a unanimous vote.

Spaak immediately announced that the committee would begin a sentence-by-sentence discussion of the American resolution.

The committee approved the first sentence without a dissenting vote. This merely declared that "The general assembly recognizes the necessity of an early regulation and reduction of armaments."

Harmony Prevails As Efforts Toward Disarmament Proceed

MIAMI, Dec. 5. (AP)—In the view of Senator Claude Pepper of Florida, blame for the coal strike should be placed on Republicans who, as Pepper put it, "scuttled price control in the 79th Congress."

The Florida Senator, long a champion of labor, said today that the lines placed on John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers' didn't dig coal. He admitted that he did not know just what would put the miners back in the pits. But, said Pepper, the people must have coal.

The Senator said the real issue in the coal crisis is whether the miners' case has merit.

Pepper also predicted a new wave of strikes.

Bill To Outlaw Closed Shop Is Urged By Senator

NEW YORK, Dec. 5. (AP)—Senator Joseph Ball of Minnesota said today he plans to urge legislation in the next Congress to outlaw the closed shop and to prohibit jurisdictional strikes.

However, Ball told the first annual Congress of American Industry today that there should be no haste in action. He asserted that the new Congress should make an objective study of the problem.

The senator said strikes in coal, oil, steel, transportation or communication were notifiable. He added that the problem of machinery to handle disputes, such as electric, gas and water utilities should be left to the states.

Senator Ball also said he thought the government's right to intervene in labor-management disputes. He added that he thought there should be better federal machinery to handle disputes, but that the Secretary of Labor shouldn't head it. Ball explained that the Labor secretary is by law a partisan of labor.

A government official told the businessmen that the United States will continue to enforce anti-trust laws vigorously as a protection to small business. Assistant United States Attorney General Douglas MacGregor declared that small business is the beginning and backbone of all business. He said that the anti-trust laws were enacted as a charter for business freedom.

MacGregor warned against concentration of too great power in business, saying: "Business can be too big for the good of the nation. It can stamp out competition with the ruthlessness of a dictator."

The government attorney said that mergers in this country had gobbled up half a million small business firms during the war, stating, "An atomic bomb could not have been more destructive."

70 Out Of Jobs As Miami Feels U. S. Coal Strike

Miami felt the first direct result of the soft coal strike today. While chambers of commerce officials and hotel men worried about the effect of travel curbs on the winter tourist crop, 70 members of a CIO union in Miami were out of work because of the freight embargo brought on by the strike.

The men, members of the CIO electrical and common laborers union, were the first to be laid off in Miami as a result of the soft coal walkout.

A prediction that the freight embargo would put approximately 5,000 Dade county carpenters out of work came from A. A. Wright, business agent of the carpenters' district. Wright said that Dade county carpenters would be without work if the strike situation did not clear up in the next month.

Although the government order curtailing some coal-burning plants has had its effect on Florida's tourist industry, good news came today from the Florida East Coast Railway.

Additional winter trains, all diesel or electric powered, will begin running next week. The Florida Special will begin its first winter run from New York on Dec. 12. The vacationer, all-coach train, will also make its initial New York to Miami run on Dec. 12.

While Florida, with its mild climate and little heavy industry, has so far escaped the worst of the coal shortage, it is still being affected.

Growers Seeking Federal Action To Prevent Shortage

ORLANDO, Dec. 5. (AP)—In an effort to avert a critical shortage of fertilizer materials threatening state citrus and vegetable production, representatives of Florida agriculturists are today seeking immediate federal action.

With L. H. Kramer, Lake Wales citrus grower named as permanent chairman, more than 100 fruit and vegetable growers have drafted three resolutions asking that potash and nitrate supplies be made available quickly.

Representative J. Hardin Petrosch of Lakeland pledged that the Florida delegation in Washington would back any such federal action.

The conference said that with winter fruit and vegetable production in Florida imperiled by the diversion of fertilizer materials abroad, government consideration of the effect of fertilizer shortages on state crops is needed. The growers then asked the government to divert to Florida from northern states supplies of fertilizer not critically needed there during the winter.

The Florida growers also asked for a repetition of last year's special allocation of potash to the sugar cane industry in view of the increased acreage of sugar sown by the Department of Agriculture. The conference was not that such this year, with the heavy frost, that the sugar cane industry which normally would go to the citrus and vegetable growers.

Engine Derailed; Several Injured In Local Train Wreck

J. H. Smith, negro fireman of a northward advance perhably a freight train that crashed into a local train at Campbell four miles south of Kissimmee shortly after 9:00 o'clock last evening had the most serious injuries. He was killed when he jumped from the engine to the track.

Smith was reported to have a compound fracture of the ankle. He lives in Sanford. Engineer Joe Wells, resident of Lake Mary, had a sprained ankle and was shaken up and bruised as the result of his jump from the engine cab, according to W. E. Varn of Sanford, conductor on the train, who was not injured. Russell Walden, negro brakeman, also of Sanford, had a sprained ankle.

The collision occurred at a curve, and has been attributed by railroad men to improper flag protection. The engine of the oncoming train was derailed by the impact, also was derailed by the cars behind it. Three rear cars of the local freight were demolished. Carbons of grapefruit and citrus fruit were reported to have been scattered about. The injured men were treated at a hospital in Kissimmee.

Attorneys For Lewis And Miners File Appeal Notice From Contempt Decision

WASHINGTON, Dec. 5.—(AP)—A truce proposal in the soft coal strike was made today by the president of the American Federation of Labor, William Green. He urged the calling of a conference of soft coal mine operators and John L. Lewis in an effort to find a solution to the dispute.

Green issued his appeal as John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers filed formal notice of appeal from their conviction for contempt of court. Union attorneys said they planned to post bonds for the full amount of fines imposed yesterday against Lewis and the union.

The A. F. of L. president's statement said, in part: "Having tried force and coercion and having failed, would it not now be wise and advisable for the representatives of the government to make a new approach to a solution of the coal problem?"

Three Automobiles Involved In Crash At Intersection

George W. Jones, negro of Bradenton, was arrested yesterday afternoon for reckless driving which resulted in a collision involving two other automobiles when he failed to stop when proceeding north on Cypress Avenue at the Celery Avenue intersection, according to police.

Jones told Police Chief Roy G. Williams that he had stopped his Willys Sedan at the intersection, but under close questioning admitted that the stop was due to the collision of his Willys with a Plymouth Sedan driven by Mrs. M. O. L. Steiner, who at the time was driving west on Celery Avenue. After the collision, according to police, the Plymouth car careened out of control for a distance of 75 feet, striking a Ford Sedan owned by A. C. The small two year old son of Mrs. Steiner was taken to the Sanford Clinic for treatment for a cut lip. The left front and rear fender of the Plymouth was damaged. The Plymouth and Ford were taken away by wreckers.
