Southern Bell Tells Of 'Freebies' For Employees

By ED PRICKEIT Herald Staff Writer Southern Bell Telephone Co., the firm that was granted an $85.9 million rate increase, provides free or discounted telephone service to employees, retirees and its board of directors, an official has confirmed.

County Car Dealers Halt Title 'Misuse'

By Herald Staff Writer Car dealers in Seminole County no longer use illegal title practices similar to those uncovered in an examination of two politically powerful dealers in Panama City, a spokesman said today.

preliminary investigation has found that most if not all auto dealers in his circuit operate illegally, and he has requested an investigation of all dealers in his six county Panhandle circuit.

Judge Johnson Identified Erroneously

A news story in yesterday's Herald erroneously identified the judge who released an Orlando man accused of arson of a fire department rescue van from jail as County Court Judge Harold Johnson.

State Atty. Abbott Herring's office had opposed a bond reduction for Falter or his release on recognizance pending a background investigation by probation and parole authorities.

2nd Arrest Follows Acquittal

By Herald Staff Writer A circuit court jury returned verdicts of innocent yesterday for Charles Ricky Hampton, 21, of 310 Third St., Sanford after a two-day trial on charges of breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny.

Hampton was in county jail today, however, on $5,000 bond on a charge of possession of a stolen motor vehicle. Police arrested Hampton on the new charge a short time after he was acquitted by the jury in the burglary case.

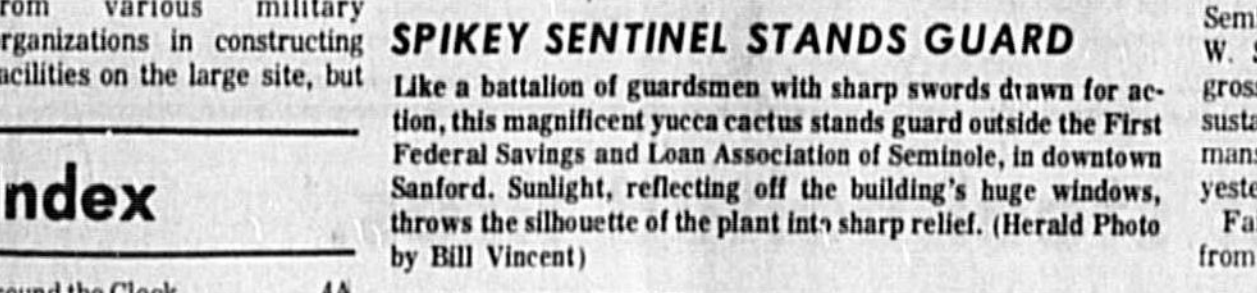

Police testified tennis shoe tracks were followed from the burglarized building to the nearby Hampton residence and that the tools were found in a garage where Hampton had been working on an auto.

22-Year-Old Minister Freed In Slaying Trial

By BOB LLOYD Herald Staff Writer Circuit Court Judge Robert B. McGregor ordered a direct verdict of acquittal today for a 22-year-old Sanford minister in the Dec. 22 shooting death of John Lilly, 14, of Sanford.

The court ruled that prosecution witnesses' testimony failed to show that several acts of simple negligence by Quinton Cornelius Faison, 22, of Apt. 88, Seminole Gardens Apartments, W. Sixth St., amount to the gross negligence needed to sustain a guilty verdict in the manslaughter trial that began yesterday.

Assistant State Atty. Tad Figgat told the jury of the shooting death of Lilly, who Faison told them the boy was shot while they were playing games with a pistol that the boy's mother, Ruth Payne, had given Faison to get fixed "because it misfired."

Like a battalion of gardenmen with sharp swords drawn for action, this magnificent yucca cactus stands guard outside the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Seminole, in downtown Sanford. NATION IN BRIEF

FBI Continues Fulltime Search For Patty Hearst

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (AP) — On the first anniversary of the kidnapping of Patricia Hearst, FBI agent Charles Bates said special agents continue fulltime pursuit of the fugitive newspaper heiress.

"Every day brings us closer to finding them," Bates said Tuesday, referring also to William and Emily Harris. "I just can't tell you exactly when. We're not standing by waiting for things to happen."

Bates said there is no reason to believe that Miss Hearst, 20, has left the country. He said it is likely that someone "willingly... or unwittingly" has helped the fugitives or they would have been captured by now.

Randolph A. Hearst, Patricia's father, said simply of the family's year of torment, "There is no anniversary in our minds."

Economy To Improve

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford says the economy will improve faster than some experts predict and that it will be in good enough shape to justify his seeking election in 1976 for a full four-year term.

Before returning to Washington from a 28-hour visit to Atlanta to promote his economic energy program, Ford said Tuesday that he believes the economy "will do better by the end of this year than the experts think."

Ford was expected to continue plugging for his programs in a breakfast meeting today with 100 Democratic members of Congress, including chairmen of 13 major committees.

He voiced his optimism at an Atlanta news conference shortly after the White House sent a gloomy economic message to Congress predicting higher unemployment, permanently higher energy prices and a less bountiful standard of living for Americans.

Astronauts Aware Of Need For Peace

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The first Russian cosmonaut to visit an American spaceport, says Soviet and American astronauts have at least one thing in common — a philosophical awareness of the need for peace.

"I am convinced that there is one thought that always comes to the mind of astronauts and cosmonauts in space," Dr. Aleksey Yeliseyev, veteran of three space flights, said Tuesday.

"But that doesn't mean we don't argue," he said. "In technical matters, we sometimes have strong arguments. But I'd like to point out we never take the advantage of pushing each other into a corner. On the contrary, we seek a wise technical compromise."

Asked which experts were more qualified, Bushyev said it was difficult to say.

"I think both are qualified in finding solutions to problems, and I hope that in the future work there will be the friendly manner as of now."

The Soyuz space craft will lift off from a Soviet launching site seven hours before the Apollo blasts off from Cape Canaveral on July 15. Two days later, the ships will rendezvous in space and dock for about two days while the crews conduct joint experiments.

Yeliseyev first flew in space in January 1969 aboard Soyuz 8, the mission in which crews were exchanged with Soyuz 9.

In October of the same year, he flew on Soyuz 8 and in 1971 was aboard Soyuz 10 when it docked with the Salyut orbital space station.

The prime crewmen for the Russian part of the mission, cosmonauts Alexei Leonov and Valeri Kobasov, will arrive here Saturday with six other cosmonauts for a three-day visit.

They will be joined by the American crew of the Apollo 17 mission, Gen. Thomas Stafford, Donald Slayton and Vance Brand and several other astronauts working on the mission.

National Sales At 14-Year Low

DETROIT (AP) — Cash rebates pushed late January car sales dramatically above improved mid-month levels, but deliveries for the entire month are still expected to hit a 14-year low.

Sales from Jan. 21 through Jan. 31, the first period measuring the full effect of $200 to $600 rebates the auto makers are offering on some new models, were estimated at 222,000.

They were up 42 per cent from mid-January, but down 10 per cent from the same period in 1974.

The total includes figures reported Tuesday by three of the four major car companies and an estimate for Ford Motor Co., which was to release its results today.

Financial analysts said the auto makers are taking a loss on every car covered by the rebate program in order to clear out record inventories of unsold cars.

"This whole thing is a life-jacket type of operation," said Arvid Jeppu, a financial analyst in Detroit. "Had there been no rebates, sales would have been even more disastrous in January."

The latest figures marked the second straight gain in 10-day sales. Deliveries in mid-January, when the rebates started, were up 41 per cent from early January, when sales were the lowest for the period on record.

While auto executives attributed the sharp sales gains in the last two January periods to the rebate plans, they conceded the industry had not snapped out of its worst slump since World War II.

Total January sales were estimated at 457,000 cars, or 17 per cent from a low $50,907 in January 1974, when fuel shortages sent sales tumbling.

The January estimate would put sales of U.S. cars at their lowest level for a January since 1961 and mark the 18th consecutive month that deliveries have lagged behind yearearlier totals.

Analysts say sales will improve gradually during the remainder of the year, even after the rebate plans end March 1. The companies are expected to replace the rebates with a boost of dealer contests to boost sales this spring.

Despite the sales promotions, analysts say the traditional spring upturn will bypass Detroit this year and the auto makers will wind up with either sharp profit drops or losses in the first quarter.

Meanwhile, tentative production schedules indicate auto output this month will be the lowest in 14 years. Some 254,000 of the industry's 684,000 blue collar workers are on layoff this week.

GM showed the strongest performance in late January, with sales of 123,900, a 51 per cent gain over midmonth and a 6 per cent increase over the same period in 1974. It was the first time GM sales were ahead of the year-before period since last September.

The Greek national radio said he had been in bed at his villa in Giythada, a seaside suburb of Athens, since last Friday.

Friends in New York said Onassis telephoned his 45-year-old wife, the former Jacqueline Kennedy, on Sunday and complained of being lonely and depressed. They said she flew to Athens on Monday, telling friends she would be back in New York on Friday.

An aide said the heart specialist was sent for because the combination of myasthenia and influenza could endanger Onassis' heart.

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the Ford administration raised its estimate of the federal funds needed to salvage several floundering railroads, a Penn Central Railroad official today renewed the company's threat to begin closing down next week unless more aid is granted.

Robert W. Blanchette, a trustee of the Penn Central, told the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee that the bankrupt carrier was sticking to its plan to embargo cargo beginning Feb. 14 and cease operations completely around Feb. 25.

John W. Barnum, acting transportation secretary, told the committee Tuesday that the $275 million voted last month by the Senate now should be increased to $365 million because the Interstate Commerce Commission suspended a 7 per cent freight rate hike that was to have gone into effect Wednesday. The funds were for 30 railroads, with the Penn Central the biggest beneficiary.

LONDON (AP) — William Whitelaw, Britain's former, victory of Northern Ireland, has entered the race for leader of the Conservative party and is given a slight edge over Margaret Thatcher, who ousted Edward Heath from the post.

Heath, 58, quit Tuesday after trailing Mrs. Thatcher, a 49-year-old former education minister, on the first ballot by the 276 Conservative members of the House of Commons. As prime minister from 1970 to 1974, Heath's major achievement was to take Britain into the European Common Market.

Mrs. Thatcher, a member of the party's right wing, received 130 votes to 119 for Heath, with 16 votes going to a minor candidate and 11 members not voting. She needed a majority — 139 votes — and a margin of 15 per cent — or 42 votes — more than her nearest rival.

On the second ballot next Tuesday, 128 votes will be sufficient regardless of the margin.

Whitelaw, the party chairman and a close associate of Heath, noted that Heath had the backing of the majority of the party's workers and called his defeat "a traumatic experience."

"It is, in all the circumstances, my duty to stand," he said. "I believe the unity of our party in Parliament and the country is of prime importance. If I can make a contribution, I will do so."

Other possible candidates also were mentioned, but most commentators anticipated a fight between Whitelaw and

Workers To Voice Their Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly 10,000 auto workers, most of them unemployed, are rallying here to tell the government they have a better idea than President Ford's for getting their industry and others back to work.

Stung by the layoffs of nearly 300,000 members, leaders of the United Auto Workers union are busily in workers from as far away as Michigan and flying in others from Texas and California for today's rally.

The UAW will offer its own anti-recession program calling for big tax cuts for low and middle-income workers and a massive public service jobs program, among other things.

"We must have immediate responses to the people's needs from the incoming Congress and the administration," UAW President Leonard Woodcock said in calling the rally.

"There is vast human suffering and frightening insecurity behind the cold statistics of massive, still rising layoffs," he declared.

The auto workers were to hear from a host of congressional leaders, mostly Democrats, who were invited to the rally at the Washington Armory. Ford administration officials also were invited but a UAW spokesman said it was uncertain if any would attend.

Woodcock has said if the protest fails to produce "positive action out of the government" he would be back in the spring to march in the streets with 200,000 to 300,000 workers from his union and others.

The rally is the latest sign of unrest in the ranks of organized labor over the nation's ailing economy. Two weeks ago the AFL-CIO called its general board into emergency session here to publicize the plight of the unemployed and offer its plan for turning the economy around.

Leaders of the electrical, tobacco and textile unions also have called for mass demonstrations.

In a speech Tuesday to the National Press Club, Woodcock called Ford's new budget with its forecast of 8 per cent unemployment for the next two years a prescription for "planned recession."

He said the President's plan for dealing with the energy problem by raising taxes and prices to reduce consumption would add to the economic problems and "bring us to a disastrous social situation."

Demo Economy Plan In Legislative Form

WASHINGTON (AP) — As confrontations between President Ford and the Democratic leaders of Congress move closer, the long-promised Democratic economic program is beginning to take legislative form.

President Ford has challenged congressional Democrats to match their criticism of the administration's economic initiatives with specific programs of their own.

In response, House Speaker Carl Albert last week called in committee chairman and asked for pledges that economic and energy legislation would be reported out by specified dates.

Among the first to respond was the Banking Committee, which threw the assignment of shaping legislation to nudge interest rates downward. It is now near the end of hearings on bills to force banks to extend loans for low and middle income housing and certain other purposes.

The panel has set a target for a House vote before the end of February on the bill, which is strongly opposed by the Treasury Department and the Federal Reserve Board.

The committee also has scheduled subcommittee hearings to begin Thursday on various proposals to aid the depressed housing industry.

Among the proposals are ones to inject federal money into the mortgage market and to lower interest rates.

The committee has a goal of reporting to the House by early March some form of legislation to make it easier for a prospective home-buyer to obtain a mortgage.

Some Democratic-directed committee activity has been reported to Ford proposals rather than affirmative movement along alternate lines.

The Ways and Means Committee, for example, is bringing to the floor a bill to suspend for 90 days the authority that Ford used to raise the tariff on imported oil.

Chairman Al Ullman, D-Ore., contends passage of this bill is a necessary prelude to any Democratic legislation to reduce demand for imported petroleum. If the presidential plan for control by price raising gets well under way, it will preempt the field, Ullman said.

Ways and Means also is finishing its version of a tax-cut bill designed, like Ford's, to stimulate buying and thereby the economy. However, the developing Democratic version is directed more toward the lower end of the income scale.

Ullman's proposal would include no tax rebate for individuals with over $30,000 income.

Insurgents Seize Road To Ethiopian Airport

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia (AP) — The evacuation of more foreigners from embattled Asmara was jeopardized today because the insurgents had seized the road to the airport, diplomatic sources said.

The Ethiopian airline flew some 200 foreigners, including 100 American women and children, from the capital of Eritrea province to Addis Ababa on Tuesday. But at dusk guerrillas of the Eritrean Liberation Front (ELF) attacked and took control of the road to the airport, sources said.

About 200 Americans, most of them employees of a U.S. communications station near Asmara, are still there. U.S. officials said they had sufficient food, but there was no electricity in the city and drinking water was getting scarce.

The rebels blew up a bridge in adjacent Tigre province and cut off relief supplies headed for Asmara and its 200,000 residents, sources said.

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — An aide says the life of ailing Aristotle Onassis is not in danger, but his wife, Jacqueline, and a heart specialist were flown from New York to be with him.

The 69-year-old shipping magnate is reported suffering from a potentially dangerous combination of myasthenia, or muscular debility, and influenza.

The Greek national radio said he had been in bed at his villa in Giythada, a seaside suburb of Athens, since last Friday.

Friends in New York said Onassis telephoned his 45-year-old wife, the former Jacqueline Kennedy, on Sunday and complained of being lonely and depressed. They said she flew to Athens on Monday, telling friends she would be back in New York on Friday.

Ford Ends His Dawdling

"We've diddled and dawdled long enough. We have to have an energy program in this country." President Ford could not have put it in plainer terms as he announced a first, positive step toward the kind of energy program which the nation should have embarked upon a year ago. The attempt in Congress to delay his imposition of an increased tariff on imported oil for 90 days promises nothing but three more months of dithering and dawdling.

We have known ever since the Arab oil embargo and the quadrupling of world oil prices that the United States of America, one way or another, had to make drastic changes both in its rate of energy consumption and the degree to which it depends on the Arab-dominated oil cartel for fuel. Congress cannot accuse the President of acting in haste.

Congress could only justify its challenge of Mr. Ford's move if it were prepared to take as positive a step toward giving the country a coherent energy policy. However, the Democrat leadership is still occupied with putting forth nebulous proposals for a program of its own.

The Democrats are not enthusiastic about the higher prices for fuel and petroleum products that are in prospect under Mr. Ford's program. However, it is also obvious they are not enthusiastic about assuming the onus of imposing gasoline rationing as an alternative, and the President has made it clear that a rationing program can only be enacted over his veto.

The House Ways and Means Committee resorted to an old political trick to try to head off Mr. Ford's initiative. It attached a mandated delay of the new oil tariff to a bill increasing the federal debt ceiling. If the President chooses to veto the measure he can only do so by denying his own administration the increase in borrowing power it has requested.

The Democrats cannot expect much mileage from a political confrontation with the President on this issue. In the end they will have to accept a fact that Mr. Ford has already accepted: that there is not going to be an easy and popular solution to our energy problems. Mr. Ford has chosen a higher fuel price over rationing as a means of inducing energy conservation because it represents the lesser of two evils, and because it carries with it a means of stimulating domestic oil production and the development of alternate energy sources.

No one is going to enjoy paying more for oil and gasoline, and the President knows it. It is equally true, however, that no American would enjoy the consequences of not doing what has to be done. Our country's strength is being drained away each day that we prolong our dependence on foreign petroleum. Mr. Ford has faced that issue squarely and acted decisively. Congress should be trying to catch up with the President — not trying to hold him back.

Criminal Case

Egypt, Kuwait and Saudi Arabia deserve some credit for refusing to let three Arab terrorists land in their countries aboard a plane that had commandeered in Iraq. Iraq did not want them either, but agreed to take them into custody for the sake of the safety of the airline crew they were holding hostage.

The Arab world seems united in denouncing this latest act of anti-Israel terrorism, but it now falls to the Iraqis to follow through by bringing these prisoners to trial like they would any other criminals. If they are released to the Palestine Liberation Organization for "punishment" — as most other captured Arab terrorists have been — then no one should be surprised if they or others like them turn up again in a repeat of this nightmare at Orly Field.

BERRY'S WORLD

WASHINGTON — For years, the Central Intelligence Agency operated love traps in New York City and San Francisco, where foreign diplomats were lured by prostitutes in the pay of the CIA.

Through hidden one-way mirrors, CIA agents filmed the sexual adventures and later tried to blackmail the victims into becoming informants. The stranger-than-fiction story of the blackmail operation is one of the secrets which the CIA is frantically trying to hide from congressional investigators. But we have uncovered the details and will be happy to furnish Congress with the evidence.

Significantly, the CIA used the old Bureau of Narcotics as a cover for the bizarre sex set-up. In both cities, narcotics agents rented and maintained adjoining apartments. It was their responsibility to make sure the blackmail apartment had a live-in look and was kept stocked with food and liquor, so the victims wouldn't become suspicious.

In San Francisco, the blackmail apartment was opened in the late 1950s and closed about 1965. It was equipped only with bugging devices, observation mirrors. The New York operation lasted from about 1960 to 1966.

On the East Coast the dual efficiency apartments were located on the sixth floor of a high-rise apartment building in Greenwich Village.

"LOOK, MOM — MALCOLM FORBES"

Around The Clock

I'm certain that all who attended the annual awards presentation of the Greater Sanford C of C at the Forest in Lake Mary did enjoy themselves. I'm equally certain that practically all of 'em were wishing that someone had given the speaker a KISS (much the same as my wife does to me whenever I'm addressing a group).

She'll slip this little piece of paper into my coat pocket and sometime during my fidgety presentation I'll shove my hand into that pocket and remember to KISS — Keep It Short Stupid!

It's the truth there are very few among us who are gifted to keep an audience's attention much beyond 15 to 20 minutes. . . and whenever someone insists on stretching it to nearly an hour, the only thing you have a tendency of remembering him for is his length and not his subject.

Capitol Prophets, Losses

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of an irregular series of columns containing fascinating items which aren't important enough to demand full-column treatment.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Nothing stirs the Pentagon juices so much as rumors of war. An intelligence officer whispers that the U.S. military strategic reserve — three divisions — is more than enough to assure a quick takeover of critical Middle East oilfields, should the necessity arise. The 60,000 troops could be airlifted into Saudi Arabia, Kuwait and Persian Gulf Emirates in a matter of hours. "Success could be achieved in a day or two."

Livingston's Pawn Shop, three blocks from the White House, reports a brisk recession business: "We've gotten some government officers in here recently, you'd be surprised!"

Interpol, the private organization of international cops, has its U.S. office in the Treasury Department; some gripes it's not proper. . . The current Social Security deduction for a $14,000 wage earner is $1,410 annually. In 25 years, at present rates of increase, it will be at least $7.2 million.

Col. Oran Henderson, highest ranking officer connected with the My Lai massacre in Vietnam, has been hired by the Pennsylvania Bicentennial Commission. His job is to coordinate discussions involved with the formation of a worldwide "Declaration of Human Rights".

A South Vietnam embassy official worries that the Viet Cong may be ready to bring air operations into the country. "We know operations into the country are being planned, we know they can get the planes," John Jerome, in his book "The Death of the Automobile," writes that one car motorist from Santa Monica to Pasadena burns up more oxygen in the 45-minute trip than the total population of Los Angeles is breathing at the same time. . .

CIA Used Sex Set-Up For Information

On the wall of the blackmail apartment was hung a large painting of two ships. But the painting was actually a Mission Impossible-style one-way mirror.

On the other side of the wall, CIA agents could watch the action through the see-through painting and film the most intimate moments. The painting was strategically placed so that it gave the CIA observers a full view of the sofa, which opened into a bed. A Japanese screen, implanted with microphones, provided the sound for the CIA's blackmail movies.

On the CIA side of the wall, the one-way mirror was hidden behind a painting with hinges. The agents would merely swing back the painting like a cabinet door for the peep shows on the adjoining apartment.

I'm referring to those stalwart Republicans who are now being carried on the voter registration rolls as Democrats. (Even some who ran on the GOP ticket are listed as Democrats now.)

If there's a favorite golfer in my book it would have to be the personable Arnold Palmer. The times when I had occasion of talking with him at the Citrus Open, he was a perfect gentleman and couldn't have been more cooperative.

So, there's not an ounce of sour grapes in what I'm about to write of the way the Associated Press handled the recent Hawaiian Open.

DON OAKLEY

Vietnam Like Long, Long Trip

It is like the replay of a bad dream. . . South Vietnam is reeling under widespread and sustained North Vietnamese offensives. President Ford has called for a $300-million step-up in arms aid in addition to $700 million already authorized for this year, and he and his secretary of defense have warned Hanoi that the United States will not stand idly by and see South Vietnam go under.

The antiwar demonstrators are back in the streets of Washington and the voice of the extremist is once again heard in the land.

"American opinion historically has reacted in anger to outright aggression, unprovoked massive attacks," said Defense Secretary James R. Schlesinger the other day. . . "Congress under these circumstances might well authorize the use of American force."

From the other side: "Quite clearly, the United States is the reason for the bloody deaths of thousands of American soldiers who struggle that goes on," said Bishop John Burt of the Ohio Episcopal Diocese and participant in something called the Assembly to Save the Peace Agreement, conveniently ignoring the fact that South Vietnamese soldiers have ever invaded North Vietnam.

Quite as clearly, the American people are not buying either viewpoint. They know who was and is the instigator of war in Vietnam, but they also know in their guts that 55,000 American lives and who can count how many billions of dollars are enough. If South Vietnam cannot defend itself after all that America has done for it, then it never will be able to.

The popular mood is reflected in Congress, where it is not just the traditional doves who oppose an increase in military aid and who, in the contrary, support the return of American personnel. They have the lessons of the past 10 years to support them.

Yet the South Vietnamese are fighting well, are told. It is not lack of will but lack of means. They did not surrender at Phouc Binh, the provincial capital to fall in 1972, but were overwhelmed. Their air force is virtually grounded because of a shortage of fuel and spare parts. Their artillery has but a handful of rounds. They sustained 130,000 casualties last year.

Not so the North Vietnamese. They have been extensively retrained by Russia and China. Ho Chi Minh Trail, safe from American bombers, is now a four-lane highway down which flows the wherewithal of war in an unceasing stream.

We have heard it all before: Just a few more planes, tanks, guns. Just a little more effort. The light at the end of the tunnel.

And again from the other side: The Thieu regime is corrupt, ineffectual, not worthy of being aided. It is Saigon that violated the peace agreement.

Yet the refugees continue to flee — southward, not northward.

impeachment in the Florida House of Representatives," said James M. Talley of Brooksville, a member of the Judicial Qualifications Commission that brought charges against Dekle and Boyd.

The majority on Dekle: He was lax, obtuse and insensitive in either recognizing the memo was improper when Mason gave it to him or was not intuitive or anticipatory enough then or later on to have had the memo checked out to determine if it was proper for him to use it.

Despite his protestations, the very nature of the affair smacks of the appearance of willful violation of the law sufficient to warrant discipline.

The seven-member panel of judges was named by four Supreme Court justices, including Adkins, after all the present justices excused themselves. Boyd testified that he did not know where it came from and that he destroyed it after finding it on his desk. Mason testified that he gave the memorandum to Boyd after the justice requested it during a golf game.

The panel called Boyd's handling of the memo "bizarre" and Dekle "lax, obtuse and insensitive."

Boyd said later that he had worse things said about him every day when he was a Marine private.

The panel indicated it believed Boyd.

The court said removal would be too severe since neither Boyd nor Dekle profited from the case, neither accepted a bribe, neither was influenced by the Mason memorandum and neither was shown to have had a corrupt motive.

However, neither escaped words of criticism. The panel called Boyd's handling of the memo "bizarre" and Dekle "lax, obtuse and insensitive."

Boyd said later that he had worse things said about him every day when he was a Marine private.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, The Herald: We should be tough bargainers and for human rights. Thank God we have many senators in Congress who uphold this right to human dignity above politics. The recent refusal by the Soviet Union on the trade bill passed by Congress, proves that the Soviet Union cannot be trusted.

The name of the game in the Kremlin is, get something for nothing. The Congress of the United States has all the right in insisting on certain conditions on trade concessions to the Soviet Union. Their refusal to live up to the U.N. charter justifies this. Their constant repression and harassment of people who wish to leave for another land is a fundamental right and as affirmed in the universal declaration of human rights, which the Soviet Union is part of.

The excuse, that we are interfering in their internal affairs is pure fabrication. To the contrary, they are the ones whose noses are in every nation's internal affairs throughout the world. Their main and only objective disrupt and take over if possible. Have they forgotten Poland, East Germany and the Cuban situation lack in liberties. Why should the United States be bulldozed into accommodating his brother? Why should the Soviets reap the harvest of WATCH ON WASTE: Deep in the rugged Canadian backcountry of Labrador, the U.S. Strategic Air Command has maintained three rustic fishing lodges for vacationing military brass.

Through last August, the favored officers were served by guides who helped them choose lures and clean their fish, while cooks and other helpers catered to their slightest whims. The tab, of course, was picked up by the taxpayers. Originally established as survival training camps, the lodges were used for several years as vacation spots. Among the guests has been Joint Chiefs of Staff Gen. George Brown.

Vandals' Parents 'To Pay'

By ED PRICKETT
Herald Staff Writer

If you live in Seminole County and your children are caught vandalizing schools, chances are you'll be paying for the damages.

School Board Sup't. William Layer said parents of juveniles caught vandalizing schools are "asked" to pay for the damages.

In Jacksonville, it's even more strict. The School Board there has gone to court in an effort to collect damages from parents of juveniles accused of school vandalism.

A suit filed Tuesday in Duval Circuit Court seeks to recover $2,618 for 156 windows that the Duval County School Board says were broken at a junior high school in Jan. 1974.

Security officer J.W. Hears said efforts to arrange restitution from the parents were unsuccessful after three children were nabbed by the police.

Court action in such cases, not customary in the past, will be in the future as parents are required to pay for any damages caused by juveniles.

Layer said vandalism from July through November 1974 cost the county $21,547. And officials have launched an effort to stop it.

Layer said burglar systems are being installed at some schools, nighttime patrols by school personnel have been instituted and local lawmen have increased their vigilance at school sites.

A recent investigation at Lyman High School turned up a bell ring, some of whom were juveniles.

In that case, Layer said the parents agreed to pay for the damages.

All in all, school officials hope the combination of increased vigilance and holding parents responsible for actions of their children will act as a deterrent to vandalism which, Layer says, is becoming a "major problem in Seminole."

Hitchhikers Report Robbery, Rape

By BOB LLOYD
Herald Staff Writer

Sheriff's detectives today are investigating the reported robbery yesterday of two hitchhikers by three men armed with knives and a sub-machine gun and the reported sexual assault last night of a hitchhiking go-go dancer.

Michael J. LeFever, 22, and James R. Christopher, 27, both of Orlando, told deputies that three men in a station wagon gave them a ride on Interstate 4 at SR 46 yesterday and then robbed them of two checks and $6 cash. LeFever told deputy J. F. Bennett that one of the men was armed with a sub-machine gun and the others with knives.

Investigators said the two hitchhikers said the man in the station wagon let them out in the Woodlands subdivision off SR 44 at I-4, Longwood, following the robbery.

Deputies said the Orange County Sheriff's Department Chase I helicopter joined an unsuccessful search for the white station wagon that is believed to have continued traveling south on I-4.

Deputy Bennett reported that LeFever said the man with the gun told him that he had just been released from an out-of-state mental hospital and that he was going to pay Florida back because his wife had been killed in this state.

Sheriff's Sgt. Jay Leman reported an Orlando go-go dancer said she was hitchhiking on I-4 near the South Orange Blossom Trail exit, Orlando, about midnight when she accepted a ride with a man driving a tractor-trailer rig.

The woman told detectives the man pulled a small pistol, beat her and tied her up in the back of the tractor-trailer rig. She said the man then drove to the Longwood-Markham Woods Road and Lake Mary Boulevard area where he forced her into the cargo trailer and sexually assaulted her, forcing her to commit sex acts.

The woman told officers the man drove her back to Orlando

Council Has Request From Junior Police

WINTER SPRINGS — City Council heard a request Monday night from Mrs. Nancy Booth on behalf of the Winter Springs Junior Police.

Her request that the organization be officially recognized as an educational extension of the police department and be allowed use of city hall twice a month brought mixed response.

Organized six months ago by an adult advisory board, the Junior Police group has two units — one for boys and girls, 10-13 years and an Explorer Scout Post for those 14-20 interested in a law enforcement career.

A motion to recognize Junior Police as a "youth organization in the city" and allow the group to use city hall when available was tabled and the city attorney was instructed to look into the city's liability if it assumes sponsorship. A workshop was scheduled to set guidelines.

Charles Jones of the Winter Springs United Homeowners association requested use of the city hall by his group for monthly meetings.

Council instructed the city attorney to set a public hearing on the ordinance creating a Planning Commission as soon as possible.

Kelly Votes Against Demo Food Stamp Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Rep. Richard Kelly (R-Fla., 5th Dist.) was one of 39 members of the House of Representatives who today voted against the Democrat-created bill (H.R. 1539) to prohibit President Ford's effort to increase food stamp prices.

After casting his vote, the Florida Republican issued the following statement:

"My vote against the bill to prohibit food stamp increases was not against the needy, it was for the proposition that our financial burden must be carried by all the people. Every time a program is helpful to one group, it must be paid for by another. The greatest share of the tax burden is being carried by the working people. They are entitled to know that everyone is going to share the load in this period of shortage."

"I will support legislation changing the food stamp program to give more to the needy and to eliminate the abuses."

"Consistent with this philosophy, I will oppose the President's request for a tax rebate of up to $1,000 per person, because this will give a greater benefit to those in the higher income brackets where it is needed the least. I do favor an immediate tax rebate which will return greater amounts to the low and middle income groups."

Barbecue Tickets Go Fast

LAKE MARY — The Lake Mary Volunteer Fireman's Association's annual barbecue tickets are selling like mad.

According to publicity man J. Richards, $400 in "donations" for the tickets were taken in on one Saturday alone.

The barbecue will be held from 2 to 7 p.m. Saturday at the Lake Mary Fire Hall at the corner of 1st Street and Crystal Lake Drive.

Tickets can be obtained from any Lake Mary business. Richards said. Donation is $2 per adult and $1 for children under 12.

Clinic Rezone Bid Given Thumbs Down

By BILL BELLEVILLE
Herald Staff Writer

In what had to be one of the shortest meetings of all time, county commissioners last night denied the rezoning request of Dr. David Ohlweiler to build a surgical clinic in a residential and agricultural area.

In denying Ohlweiler his requested change to Office District (OD) in a continued hearing last night, commissioners cited the inappropriateness of locating such a "surgical hospital" in a residential neighborhood on the northeast corner of Bear Gully Lake Road and SR 426.

Although plastic surgeon Ohlweiler told the Board that he had 14 letters from residents on the Lake who have no op-

Sewer Charge Hike Urged By Engineer

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

ALMAMONTE SPRINGS — Monthly sewer service charges to city residents will be raised 80 per cent, from $4.50 to $8.10, if the city commission heeds the advice of Consulting Engineer Bill Palm.

Palm said initially only one third of the (2.5 million gallons daily) of the plant's 7.5 million gallons capacity will be used.

The city's current Keller Road plant, to be expanded, has 1.2 million gallons daily capacity.

Under questioning from Commissioner Cal DeVone, Palm admitted connection fees of $250 per housing unit were not included in the revenues of the system when the new rate was computed, adding that these special fees have never been used for this purpose.

He also admitted that the city can expect $378,000 in excess revenues from service charges in 1977, the first year in the proposed new plant will be in operation. But, he said, this sum is needed to cover repayment costs of the sewer bond issue.

Under construction currently are installation of lines and lift stations in the northern section of the city and interceptor lines in the northwest section.

Included in the interceptor system are lines along Montgomery Road "to eventually permit connection of Longwood area privately owned and operated sewer systems to the regional plant."

The commission awarded a contract for the sewer plant to Tuttle-White of Altamonte Springs in a joint venture. The low bid totaled $5,775,000.

Dealers End Title 'Misuse' Three Held In Bar Fight

By GLORIA DROGOSZ
Herald Staff Writer

ALMAMONTE SPRINGS — Three men were arrested here after a fight at the Nighthawk Lounge in the Interstate Mall early today.

The arresting officer, Patrolman Norman Floyd Jr., was struck by a chair and received emergency treatment at Florida North Hospital, according to Lt. Steve Garver.

Nick de Felice, 38, North Bradford, Conn., and Mike Crell, 26, Winter Park, were arrested and charged with disorderly conduct and destruction of property. They were released from city jail on $179 bond each.

Crell's brother, Robert, 23, also of Winter Park, was charged with resisting arrest, as well as disorderly conduct and destruction of property. He was released on a $696 bond.

The FDLE investigation added Whitehead, who was a financial backer of Askew and U. S. Sen. Richard Stone, D-Fla., among others.

Askew sent the new results to Jones last month. And Jones says the FDLE, the State Revenue Department and the State Department of Highway Safety and Motor Vehicles had begun the investigation in his district.

Jones also said the illegal practices are carried on by dealers statewide, but he declined to comment on whether the investigation would be on a statewide basis.

Altamonte Mayor Slapped For Accepting Bank Loan

By DONNA ESTES
Herald Staff Writer

The loan, approved by the city commission, was from Southeast First National Bank of Maitland for 60 days.

Finally slapping the mayor on the wrist, Mrs. Keyser said quotations from other area banks were not sought prior to the Maitland Bank loan. Rather, she said, the city called banks Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning after already been approved.

Pointing to a report from Floyd on the matter and indicating she had personally checked out the matter, Mrs. Keyser said Barnett Bank in Altamonte Springs had offered an interest rate of 5.75 per cent while ComBank offered 5.5 per cent and the new Pan-American Bank in the city had not even been contacted.

"I think it is terrible and so do the banks," she said. "I think we should get the lowest interest rate every time."

"Let that be a lesson to you. Get bids first," she said. "You should have gotten quotes before giving this whole thing to the Maitland bank loan."

Twenty-month-old Anthony J. Italiano, son of Mrs. Marlene Italiano, 224 E. Warren Ave., Longwood, remains in critical condition and in intensive care, Florida North Hospital spokesman said today.

The infant was hospitalized after a near-fatal drowning in the family pool Friday.

Someone pried open a window at the home of Lewis B. Blood, 1461 Lake Drive, Casselberry, Tuesday and took a .22 calibre semi-automatic Mossberg rifle, according to police reports here. Residents are still taking inventory to see if anything else is missing.

Oviedo Police Nab Suspect In Break-In

OVIDO — Police here arrested James Larry Whipper, 22, E. Broadway, last night in connection with an attempted burglary on Franklin Street. He is being held in Seminole County jail in lieu of $8,000 bond.

He was arrested after Ellie Smith, Nursery Street, called police and reported that someone was trying to break into her bedroom through the window.

Assistant Chief Wesley Place and Patrolman R. J. Cramer picked Whipper up on Franklin Street, about two blocks away from the Smith home.

He also noted that a screw-type pin affecting the trigger mechanism was loose when he received the weapon for tests but didn't cause the weapon to misfire during tests.

Rathman said, however, that if the pin was looser it could affect the firing mechanism. Ironically, Ackert told the firms serve customers in Seminole County.

Forest McPherson, the executive vice president for Winter Park Telephone, said he couldn't release the exact details "out of courtesy to the commission."

He said he would be notified when the PSC had been notified of the request by his firm and would then release exact figures on the request for a rate hike.

He said reasons for the request are the same as quoted by other telephone companies across the state.

The high costs of inflation, the high costs of borrowed money and the increasingly high costs of employee salaries were reasons McPherson cited.

Edie Hall is delighted with her Decorators Bazaar.

Banking To Business For Edie

Inside the little blue-and-white building on the pine-shaded corner of French Avenue and Hiawatha in Sanford, all is in confusion this week.

A muddle of live plants, ceramic and wicker accessories, mirrors and furniture and gift items crowd several small showrooms.

But by Monday next week, all will be shipshape, says Edie Hall, manager of Sanford's new Decorators Bazaar. For Monday is Grand Opening Day.

New to the retail business, Edie is no stranger to interior decorating, however. Her mother, Berta Hall, started up her own interior design business in Sanford eight years ago, right across the street from Decorators Bazaar.

Interiors by Berta Hall has relocated to Winter Park, but the family still owns property in their former hometown — and Harold Hall, of course, has his real estate business located in the city.

Edie hadn't really planned a career in interior design. Banking is her field, and after graduating from Seminole Junior College and then from the University of Florida, she took a job as a marketing officer with a bank holding company in Pompano Beach.

But in December last year, Fate (in the guise of a flagging economy) stepped in, and 27 employees, including the entire marketing division, were laid off from the bank.

"I don't think I'll ever go back into banking now," commented Edie. "Marketing is a specialized field and only accepted by the most progressive banks."

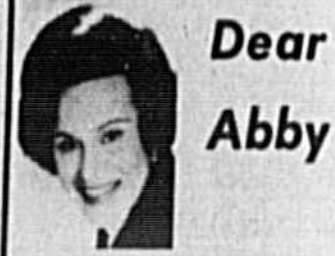

"I've decided to try a new kind of marketing — I'll market this decorating shop."

An attractive blonde with lively blue eyes, Edie's natural artistic flair and creative mind fit her well for her new venture.

Certainly it's a far cry from writing up banking reports and organizing consumer counseling programs, but Edie is game to give it a try.

Mom Shouldn't Run Interference

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am the mother of a very nice, but extremely shy 17-year-old son. He has never had a date in his life, and I'm sure it's because he's afraid he'll get turned down.

He is an A-B student, but doesn't do very well in sports, which could be the reason he isn't very popular with the "in" crowd at school.

He is slightly overweight, but there are fatter boys who seem to hit it off with girls, so that can't be the reason.

It breaks my heart to see him alone all the time.

A girls' club is having a dance, and the girls ask the boys. One of my best friends has a daughter in this club. Should I put a bug in my friend's ear and ask her to ask her daughter to ask my son? He wouldn't have to know I arranged it.

SORRY FOR SONNY DEAR ABBY: Don't put any bugs in anybody's ear. Your son may be a late bloomer. And another one of his problems could be a well-meaning mother who's inclined to run interference for him. Let him develop socially at his own pace.

DEAR ABBY: I read with interest the letter from the girl who lied. I wondered if sometime in her life she was forced to lie. Let me tell you my story.

When I was very young, I found that if I told the truth when my mother questioned me about a mischievous act, I would get a spanking, so naturally, to escape the spanking, I lied. She was a strict disciplinarian (she meant well, but her method was all wrong), so in order to get along with her I lied until I was 28 years old, when I married and had my own home.

When my father visited me for the first time, she asked me a question, and knowing that the truth would displease her, I lied. I felt like a child, and right then and there I made a vow that I would never lie to her again. Also I made a vow that I would never live with anyone I had to lie to in order to get along with. I'm 48 now, and I've kept both vows.

I know that some of my answers don't please the questioner, but I always tell the truth. I've often wondered who will account for the lying I did for the first 28 years of my life.

BEEN THERE DEAR ABBY: There is only one reason people lie. It's because they haven't the courage to tell the truth. More emphasis should be placed on truthfulness, and less on punishment.

DEAR ABBY: I was very angry after reading your reply to the woman who refused to use birth control because it goes against the teachings of the Catholic faith. There is no reason why people should question anyone having a large family. The number of children a couple should have should be left up to the individual couple. As this woman pointed out, she is asking no one's assistance in the upbringing of her children.

In my opinion, many people are limiting the size of their families not only because of their concern for the world, but because if Mom has too many children then she may not be able to work for some time, which may mean not having the latest car model, and the children won't be able to go to camp, and Mom won't be able to have new furniture for the house.

If people are happy living like this so be it. However, if they want a large family with a lot more responsibilities, which in their opinion means a lot more fulfillment, then it's their business.

Full Program Planned For Sanford Founders' Day

The many and varied interests of Gen. Henry Shelton Sanford will be on display at the General Sanford Memorial Library and Museum, 520 E. First St., when the board of trustees honors the memory of this city's founding father with a special open house on Founders Day, Saturday from 2-4 p.m.

Mrs. Mildred Caskey, librarian and curator of the museum, will assist the board and Daughters of the American Revolution (D.A.R.) as hostesses. The public is invited to participate in the afternoon program which will begin at 2 p.m. with the presentation of the colors by cadets of the Sanford Naval Academy.

From 3-4 p.m., the Seminole Junior College String Ensemble will present a program of chamber music featuring selections from the period of 1870.

This will be followed by the presentation of awards for prize winning essays on "The Revolutionary Era." The essay

Guest speaker at Monday night's meeting of the Seminole Mental Health Association (SMHA), Sherrill Casey (center) discusses problems of learning disabled children with SMHA president Harvey Walters and Association member Susan Higgs. Ms. Casey is a special education teacher at Idylwild Elementary School, Sanford.

Save Money; Learn To Sew

Beat the economy crunch and learn to sew. A basic sewing class will be offered by project OASIS in cooperation with Seminole Junior College and the Casselberry Recreation Department, located at 412 Mark David Blvd., off Red Bug Road.

The course is planned for both beginners and experienced sewers. New ideas, new fabrics, short cuts and fitting will be included in the course.

The class is open to any person 16 years of age and over, and starts today. Meeting time is 9 a.m. to 12 noon and the course runs for ten consecutive weeks.

Instruction is free, but each enrollee must furnish her (or his) materials. Machines are provided. And it's still not too late to enroll.

Senior Citizen Clubs Hold St. Valentine's Eve Dance

The Federation of Senior Citizen Clubs of Seminole County is sponsoring a benefit dinner dance on St. Valentine's Eve, Feb. 12, at 6 p.m. at the Altamonte Springs Civic Center.

Jack Drummond orchestra and tickets may be obtained until Feb. 10 by calling the Federation office. If groups wish to reserve tables for 10 persons, arrangements should be made by calling John Kurzer.

New in the neighborhood? It's not all bad.

Choose Amethyst For February

The softly brilliant amethyst, ranging in color from faintest violet to deep purple, is the February birthstone and has been a popular symbol of love since centuries before Christ, according to the American Gem Society.

Ladies of the ancient Roman Empire believed the stone could insure their husband's love. Through the centuries it also has stood for royal heritage.

According to Biblical lore, the amethyst means perfection. To the ancient Greeks, it stood for sobriety, the word being a combination of two Greek words meaning "not" and "to intoxicate."

The amethyst is important in fashion because it is becoming a women of every coloring — blonde, brunette, redhead and grey-haired alike.

2 lbs. top round steak
Garlic salt
10 slices Italian dry salami
1 1/2 cups shredded mozzarella
3 tablespoons cooking oil
2 (8-oz.) OR 1 (15-oz.) can tomato sauce
1/2 cup canned beef broth

1/2 cup Cheddar
1 teaspoon sugar
1 bay leaf
1/2 teaspoon oregano
1/4 teaspoon thyme
1 cup thinly sliced zucchini
1 (10-oz.) pkg. egg noodles, cooked and drained

Trim fat from beef, pound with meat mallet to 1/4-inch thickness. Sprinkle with garlic salt. Cut into 8 pieces. Top with salami and mozzarella. Roll up and secure with toothpicks. Brown in coating of oil in 10-inch skillet; drain fat. Combine remaining ingredients except zucchini and egg noodles; mix well. Pour over meat rolls. Cover; simmer 1 1/2 hours. Add zucchini. Cover; simmer 20 minutes longer. Arrange meat rolls and zucchini on bed of egg noodles. Drizzle with sauce and serve with meat rolls. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Largest Sundae Made At Festival

This will be the year of the world's largest sundae in Plant City, Florida. Constructing this sundae with 2,100 pounds of strawberry and vanilla ice cream and some 400 pounds of toppings and strawberries is one of the highlights of the Plant City 40th Annual Strawberry Festival and Hillsborough County Fair.

Mrs. Louise Gibbs, manager of the festival, said a full day of activities is planned for each day of the week, beginning on March 3.

The largest sundae will be built in a wading swimming pool. Fes Roller of the Main Street Ice Cream Parlor Franchise is designing the 10 to 11-foot high conical, pyramid ice cream on March 3 at 4 p.m. on the fairgrounds. Roller said officials expect to have a large crowd of school children to eat the free sundae after it has been authenticated for the Guinness Book of Records.

Both ice creams will be of the home made type and will be kept at Ice Cream Parlors at 48 below temperatures until March 3. To assist in getting the word out about the strawberry festival, the company is conducting a sweepstakes at its 11 stores. The winner will receive a trip to Disney World.

In addition to this record-breaking event, Mrs. Gibbs says activities, costumes and themes of various events will be centered around the theme, "I Remember When."

Themes by day beginning on March 3, are Turn of the Century, Roarin' Twenties, Dastardly Thirties, Frolicking Forties, Frivolous Fifties and Sobering Sixties.

To really emphasize the theme of the 1974 festival, a Mystery Person contest is being conducted. The Mystery Person replaces the Mr. and Mrs. Tourist plan of two or three years ago. The Mystery Person will receive the same prizes normally arranged for Mr. and Mrs. Tourist.

A committee was formed to find a person involved in strawberry farming as far back as 60 years ago. The person to be chosen had to have his or her name appear in an edition of a Tampa or Plant City newspaper. Mrs. Gibbs says the committee has found a candidate for the honor and clues identifying the person are being broadcast and published in Plant City.

The clues will get progressively warmer as the day for the revelation of the Mystery Person nears on March 3, Grand Opening day at 12:45 p.m.

On March 4, the Parade Grand Marshal will lead a long parade of floats depicting "I Remember When" events, activities or days of Plant City; and aggregation of antique vehicles occupied by officials, special guests and queens.

Try This Mexican Breakfast

The history of our Mexican neighbors south of the border has fascinated tourists and archeologists for years. The intermingling of Spanish culture with that of the Aztec and Mayan Indians is still apparent today in the red tiled roofs and white stucco of Spanish churches. . . the ancient Aztec pyramids used for sacrificing humans to the gods. . . and the steaming jungles of the Yucatan where the Mayans made their home.

The cuisine of Mexico varies widely from region to region because Mexico is not really a single country but a group of countries tied together in a loose package. These regional differences within the country occurred because there was little travel or commerce across Mexico's rugged mountains so that the Indian communities kept their identities and passed them along to the populations of mixed Spanish and Indian ancestry that developed locally.

For breakfast or brunch, huevos rancheros — country-style eggs — is a Mexican favorite. It is served with tortillas, a hot sauce of tomatoes and chilies, avocado slices and refried beans. Refried beans are very popular in Mexico. Called frijoles refritos, they are served in nearly every home and restaurant in Mexico.

Both Huevos Rancheros and Refried Beans are made with the Planters Peanut Oil. The lightest of the polysaturated cooking oils, peanut oil is the favorite among cooks of all countries because its light delicate flavor blends with all types of food.

HUEVOS RANCHEROS
9 tablespoons Planters Peanut Oil
1 egg finely chopped onion
1 large clove garlic, crushed
1 can (2 1/2-ounce) Italian plum tomatoes, sliced
1 can (4-ounce) green chilies, drained, seeded and finely chopped
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon ground coriander
Planters Peanut Oil
12 tortillas
12 eggs
1 ripe avocado, peeled and thinly sliced

Heat 3 tablespoons Planters Peanut Oil in large saucepan. Add onion and garlic; saute over low heat until transparent, about 5 minutes. Stir in tomatoes, chilies, salt, sugar and pepper. Bring to boil. Reduce heat to low and simmer uncovered for 1 hour. Stir occasionally. Stir in coriander. Keep hot.

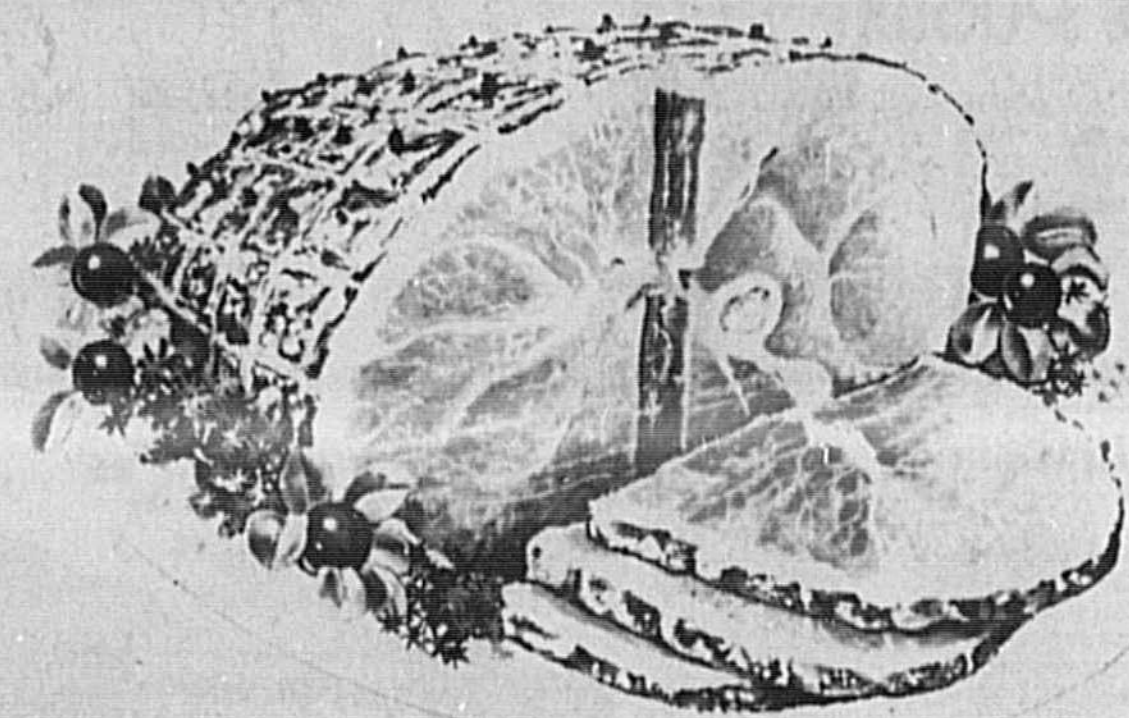

Heat a 1/2-inch depth Planters Peanut Oil in small heavy skillet over medium high heat. Fry the tortillas, one at a time, for about 1 minute on each side, or until lightly browned. Add more oil as needed. Place 2 tortillas side by side on each of six heated plates.

Heat 3 tablespoons Planters Peanut Oil in a 10 to 13-inch skillet. Add 6 eggs and cook over medium heat until whites are set and yolks still soft. Separate them with a spatula and place each egg in a tortilla. Repeat with remaining eggs and oil.

Spoon a ring of sauce around each egg and garnish with avocado slices. Serve extra sauce on the side. Makes 6 servings.

Everyone's Got An Answer To High Meat Prices

Editor's Note: This is the last of three articles on meat prices and how they are being affected by the farmer, packer and retailer.

By NICK DAGGER
The Herald Services

CHICAGO — If there is confusion and disagreement about what has caused the present meat price situation there is even more confusion and disagreement about how to correct it.

Farmers, always leery of government intervention in the free market, believe that the laws of supply and demand will eventually cause a leveling off in prices and urge the government to stay away.

Some meat packers, on the other hand, believe they are trapped in the middle between farmers and the retailers and believe that government assistance in the form of controls would help them.

For their part, retailers seem equally uncertain about the future of the meat market but they see their own profits dwindling which makes the prospects of some sort of government control a little brighter.

But as this debate goes on the main concern of many consumers is whether or not meat will continue to be available even at current prices.

There is disagreement on this point as well.

John Huston of the Livestock and Meat Board likes to play it down and he won't predict it, but he makes it plain that a meat shortage is possible.

Economists have already predicted a 10 per cent decline in pork production in 1973, said Huston.

This need not alarm anyone for the moment, he said, because the hog cycle — the time needed to fatten a newborn pig for market — is short.

The beef cycle is longer, however, and when asked about the future supply of beef Huston would say only that there is "a plentiful beef supply through 1973."

The problem isn't necessarily that too many farmers will stay out of beef production while their costs are high and prices are low. Rather the problem is that once conditions become favorable for beef production and a delay in meeting it.

That shortage and delay could raise beef prices once again and cause a situation similar to the current one.

Huston would say only that, things being what they are today, "Ultimately it will lead to a tightening of all supply."

However, said Huston, "hopefully, we will not get to this situation."

The one point that all members of the meat industry agree on is that if a stabilization of meat prices can be achieved plentiful supplies are assured.

For farmers a partial solution to the problems they face is their part of the meat cycle would be a bumper grain crop in 1973. This would reduce the most tangible cost item in cattle raising.

Another proposed solution, one that is controversial in the meat industry, is a change in the way beef is graded.

Lowering the grades would scarcely be noticeable by consumers, especially cheaper cuts of beef, supporters of the change have argued.

And, they say, the change would enable farmers to grass feed cattle and thus ease their grain costs.

Farmers, however, would still face rising costs in other areas such as fuel, utilities, and taxes. Whether or not they continue to function without some sort of government subsidy remains to be seen.

In the middle of the meat industry are the meat packers who must purchase livestock from the farmers at a high enough price to keep farmers happy and then sell it to retailers at a low enough price to keep them happy.

Meanwhile the meat packer hopes to turn a profit.

It seems doubtful that there are any direct and concrete solutions to correct the meat packer's situation.

Government-imposed controls could ease the burden of the cost of wages in the wholesale industry but controls in America have invariably been only temporary and could cause more harm than good.

Retailers are looking to incentives for investors and, some have even suggested that government subsidy might be needed.

The meat industry is a microcosm of the present market situation in America and the rest of the world. As an integral part of that situation the problems of the meat industry cannot be really separated from the rest of the market and there are no isolated solutions.

Whenever and however the current economic crisis is resolved the problems in the meat business will be solved as well.

Watch Out For Food 'Quacks'

What is the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) doing to educate the public on nutritive food consumption and to protect them from quackery? The nutrient requirements of the American population can be met by the simple food supplies that are available. However, people must recognize the need to consume a varied diet, and also be confident that the foods they buy are safe, wholesome, and nutritious. Several FDA programs are underway to provide the consumers with more information on the nutritional content of food through improved labeling.

In addition, nutritional quality considerations are being included in some food standards. Nutritional guidelines are under development for certain major classes of food as a means of assuring that the consumer will receive the nutrient qualities expected in the products purchased in food markets. As modern technology leads to new or modified foods, FDA is making every effort to insure their nutritional quality.

What can you do to protect yourself and your family from nutritional quackery?

Don't buy a product or alter your eating habits on impulse or from fear. Take enough time to ask yourself the following questions:

Does the promoter belittle normal foods? This is the first sign of nutritional quackery.

Does the product, or the person, promise or imply a quick correction for a condition you think you may have?

Is the product sold in homes by people who tell you they are interested only in helping people in need. They will agree with any ailment you may say you have, and they have a product to test your condition. They are not doctors — they are not experts on nutrition — they are salesmen.

When you see a testimonial, remember that legitimate practitioners do not use them. Testimonials are commonly bought and sold; some are sincere — but essentially worthless, due to the individual's lack of nutritional and medical knowledge.

Ask known, competent authorities for all information concerning your health. You will receive honest, dependable facts.

AGUA Conference Features 10-Year Food Forecast

GAINESVILLE — A 10-year forecast of Florida food production and how the state's agriculture can cope with rapid urbanization will be revealed at a special statewide conference Feb. 11-12 which will include addresses from Florida Governor Reubin Askew and U.S. Senator Richard Stone.

The conference — called Agricultural Growth in an Urban Age (AGUA) — is being hosted by the Institute of Food and Agricultural Sciences (IFAS), University of Florida. The conference follows an intensive 18-month planning effort by hundreds of agricultural leaders and IFAS faculty from around Florida.

To help meet growing food demands, the IFAS-hosted conference is designed to help solve problems facing the state's agricultural industry and also offers 10-year projections for 28 agricultural commodities produced in Florida. Emphasis will center on increased technology to spur productivity and on how agriculture can realize successful interaction with the state's urban sector on such vital factors as land use control, taxation, water resource management, environmental considerations, manpower, urban waste disposal and energy allocations.

According to a conference report to be issued by IFAS,

Florida agricultural land will remain the same acreage or perhaps even decrease over the next 10 years. Production increases, therefore, will depend on such things as superior management techniques, more efficient plants and animals, more effective pest management, mechanization in crops not now mechanized, and more profitable marketing systems. An adequate food supply also will depend on preventing further serious land-use, environmental and energy problems stemming from rapid state urbanization. In addition to consuming over 57,000 acres of Florida land each year, the spread of urban areas also affects water supplies, air quality, transportation and other factors vital to agriculture.

"With sound, long-range planning, the problems associated with an expanding agriculture can be minimized and more than offset by the economic benefits to the state's economy," said Dr. Kenneth R. Teffertiller, vice president for Agricultural Affairs at the University of Florida.

Dr. Teffertiller said that agriculture is one industry that must continue to grow in Florida — not only to assure adequate food supplies but to continue to bolster the state's economy. Agriculture is the state's most stable growth industry directly employing some 140,000 workers and annually producing about $2.4 billion in commodities.

Dr. Teffertiller said the key to future success of Florida agriculture is increased productivity — and such increases rely on research, education, better management and striking a balance with growing urbanization.

Gov. Askew will make the keynote address of the conference at 3:30 p.m., Feb. 11.

Time To Feast On S'berries

STRAWBERRY NUT APPLAUD

1 recipe of sweet dough consisting of:
 1/4 tsp. dry yeast
 2 tbsps. warm water
 1/4 cup scalded milk
 1/4 tbsps. shortening
 1 1/2 tbsps. sugar
 1/2 tsp. salt
 1 1/4 cups flour (plain all-purpose)
 1 egg (beaten)
 1/4 tsp. vanilla

1 recipe of fruit filling consisting of:
 1 pint half crushed and half sliced strawberries sweetened with:
 1/4 cup sugar. Drain berries.
 To the juice add:
 3/4 tbsps. strawberry gelatin and
 2 tbsps. cornstarch (level).

Bring to a boil. Remove from heat and cool. Add berries. Dissolve yeast in warm water. Scald milk, add shortening sugar and salt. Cool to lukewarm, then add 1/2 cup flour and beat. Add yeast, egg, vanilla. Stir in remaining flour and beat well. Knead lightly on well floured board. Place in greased bowl. Cover and let rise until double (2 hrs.). Roll out to rectangle about 1/2 inch thick, spread with 2 tbsps. melted butter (reserve a little for top). Spread with fruit filling. Roll lengthwise and seal edges. Shape into circle on greased pizza pan or cookie pan. Cut 1 inch into dough, at 1 inch intervals. Give sections a little "twist" to show strawberries. Brush with remaining butter. Cover with damp cloth and let rise until double (about 45 minutes). Bake at 375 degrees F. about 30-35 minutes or until crust is golden brown. Transfer to serving dish immediately. Drizzle icing of 1/2 cup confectioners sugar and 1 tbsps. hot water over top, while still hot, garnish with English Walnuts.

STRAWBERRY HORNS D'OLIVE

1 1/2 pints (drained, rinsed, large) whole strawberries
 1 cup confectioners sugar
 1/4 cup Crisco cooking oil (or other brand)
 1 egg
 1 cup self-rising flour
 1/4 teaspoon mace
 One-third cup milk
 1 tablespoon sugar
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 2 teaspoons baking powder

Beat egg, add milk, sift flour, baking powder, sugar, salt and mace. Add to egg and milk mixture. Mix well with beater. Let stand 10 minutes, dip strawberries one at a time until fully covered.

Drop in heated oil (hot enough to brown piece of bread quickly). Turn 2 necessary — Sometimes they seem to flip over themselves. Remove, drain on paper towel, quickly toss in bag with sifted confectioners sugar. Delicious warm, but may be served cold.

Opening lead — 3♣

That play will show the ace but not the queen and might encourage a shift.

So South should play the king of spades at trick one and lead a trump. Clearly not the king. The king play will get the ace to come right up. How about the 10 or even the six? Too apparent an attempt at deception. West will know that South holds higher trumps.

So we find the right one to lead is the queen. West may think that South holds six trumps to the queen-jack-10 and is trying to bump the ace and king together. For this reason West may duck.

Not too likely against alert opponents, but the best try he can make.
