Concrete Bear Cage Nearing Completion; Other Plans Revealed

Workmen neared completion of a new concrete-block bear cage at the Sanford Zoo today as zoo superintendent Sidney RICHARD announced plans for a long-range improvement program for the popular tourist attraction.

RICHARD said the new cage, measuring 12 by 32 feet, is the type which will eventually replace the old wooden cages which are "impossible to keep clean." He said the wooden cages have been there since the mid-1920s.

Another feature of the new cage, other than an overhead sprinkler system designed to maintain cleanliness, is the fact that heavy wire instead of bars will be used to retain the animals.

"I don't like bars," RICHARD said, "and the wire will provide a better view of the animals." He said the No. 6 wire used on the cage is sufficient to hold a lion. The wire is used at the Jacksonville zoo, he pointed out.

"We are going to try to move in a cub tomorrow and the rest of the bears Monday," RICHARD added.

The zoo was painted not long ago, but RICHARD said there are a lot of other things that must be done before the tourists season begins.

RICHARD said he was still hoping that the Bengal Tiger captured by Gen. James Van Fleet could be transported from Pakistan to the zoo. Gen. Van Fleet presented the tiger to the Pakistan government which in turn presented it to Gov. Collins. The zoo was informed by Collins that it could have the tiger if some means could be found to transport the animal here. The Chamber of Commerce has been active in negotiations to arrange this.

RICHARD said the tiger would be a big asset to the zoo because Bengal tigers are found mainly in the larger cities.

Expansion of the zoo, RICHARD said, is limited for all the available space in use. If the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad would let the zoo have a little land, it could be expanded in the direction of the track he said.

RICHARD ruled out the possibility of placing part of the zoo in the area below the Court House. He said this would be a hazard to children who would be forced to cross the street to see some of the animals.

RICHARD said he planned to "lighten up" the zoo in order to make the fullest possible use of the available land. He added, however, that this does not mean the most will be eliminated.

Uncanny Luck Ends For Jailbreak Artist

MIAMI (AP)—Joseph Albert, cocky 25-year-old jailbreak artist, was shot and fatally wounded today by a jealous husband who told police he found Albert and his wife locked in a lover's embrace.

The husband, Richard J. Svoboda, 29, called police and reported: "I've just shot a man. I warned him to stay away from my wife."

Thus the fantastic luck of Albert, who recently won back his freedom after he had been convicted of murder and who twice broke out of Miami's skyscraper jail, played out in a speeding ambulance.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital.

Sgt. Stanley Hartles of the county police said Svoboda told officers he returned to Miami this morning from a trip to Nebraska to find his wife, Ruth, 26, and Albert on a couch in the living room of an apartment.

Svoboda fired a single shot from a .32 caliber pistol. The bullet struck Albert in the mouth.

Hartles said Mrs. Svoboda, a slender brunette, readily admitted she had been having an affair with Albert.

Svoboda was held for investigation. Albert and William F. Chapman were convicted in 1953 of slaying Dr. Clifton Springmyer, a Miami naturopath during an attempted holdup.

Dead is Ronnie Larson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marlow Larson. He was slung 300 feet.

He was inside the farmhouse of Mr. and Mrs. August Wabena when the twister hit. Mrs. Wabena said eight persons were in the house. They tried to get into the cellar, but were unable to make it before the tornado tore the dwelling apart. All were injured.

Bank Robbery Gets New Lead

Two men brightening the dice tables with new $100 bills touched off a transcendent, all-poly investigation of their possible connection with the biggest cash bank robbery on record.

New York police summoned victims of the bank robbery to view photographs of the two today. And experts are checking their fingerprints in search of a link with gamblers who took $305,000 from a Chase Manhattan Bank in Queens, N. Y., last April 6.

Police here arrested Frank Ellsworth, 36, and Ray Wilson, 33, after casino cashiers told Law they moved from one gaming table to another, buying chips with crisp $100 bills.

Detective L. R. J. Hamilton said Ellsworth had 61 hundred-dollar bills and Wilson 21 when they were picked up here yesterday.

Ellsworth said he sold magazine subscriptions, Wilson said he was a clothier. Police searched their room in a luxury hotel. All told they found more than $87,000.

Ellsworth was freed last night on a writ of habeas corpus. Wilson remained in jail on an investigation of robbery looking.

Ellsworth's attorney posted $1,000 bond with the writ, which is returnable Monday.

While Las Vegas officers checked the bills serial numbers, New York authorities checked photos and fingerprints of the pair. Both have records.

The prime minister assured Russia the West stood ready to guarantee her against any threat from a free, united Germany. But he said Britain stood firmly behind three principles:

1. "We are not prepared to break up NATO."

2. "We will not be parted from the United States."

3. "We will work for the unification of Germany."

"I can quite understand that the Russians feel that a free Germany would probably unite with the West," Eden said. "I think that is wrong."

Kiwanis President Told At Convention Held In Cleveland

Jackson A. Raney, Indianapolis school executive, has been named president of Kiwanis International. He was elected at the 10th annual convention of the Kiwanis Club of Cleveland, Ohio, held in Cleveland, Ohio, last week.

Raney has devoted most of his professional life to the education of the physically handicapped. He has been superintendent of the Indiana State School for the Deaf at Indianapolis for 20 years. He is a graduate of Franklin College and a member of the American Bar Association. He received the degree of Doctor of Laws from that institution.

Strolling In Sanford

The Stroller stopped by Mrs. Appleby's "Little" restaurant in the Florida State Bank building this morning to take note of the decoration that's been going on there during the past week. She will re-open the "Little" eating place bright and early Monday morning. What do we mean by bright and early? We mean at 6:45 P.M. (Before Sun-up.)

The Epistole Knight Circle of the First Baptist Church will meet Monday at 8 p. m. in the Educational Building with Mrs. Roy (Irene) on hostess. Guest speaker will be Mrs. W. A. Hickman Jr., a missionary.

One of our local dry cleaners claims this actually happened. The Stroller was there to see it, but passed it on to you. A dignified woman took a jacket and sweater to the cleaners. Noticing a sign offering free garments cleaned for the price of one, she promptly slipped off her skirt, handed it to the startled man, wrapped her coat tightly around her and marched out. The Stroller thinks it must have been in cooler weather than we're having now.

Rescue Ships Make Criss-Cross Design Searching For Boat

NEW YORK (AP)—Coast Guard rescue vessels criss-crossed the Atlantic off New Jersey today in a search for a fishing boat reported sinking yesterday. Its existence has never been confirmed.

The search began yesterday when a distress call, reportedly coming from a boat which identified itself as the "Blue Star," said the craft was going down after striking a "strange object" in the water.

A boiler room explosion reportedly set the craft adrift, blocking access to rafts and lifeboats.

The last report from the mystery-shrouded craft was relayed to the Coast Guard by a commercial vessel at 9:30 a. m.

It said a foreign submarine was surfacing alongside and was taking aboard 10 survivors of the 40-foot boat.

Coast Guard vessels reaching the scene, pinpointed in the distress message as 30 miles off Barnegat, N. J., found no trace of any boat or survivors. But the search continued.

Washington Mates Gel Stars For Bars During Cell Check

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—The milk of 1,000 inmates at Washington State Prison traded bars for stars last night—and didn't like it—as they resped the first fruits of their two-day revolt.

Meanwhile, penitentiary officials harvested another crop—of weapons, broken glass and damaged fixtures, taking up a hill that may run into six figures.

Jammed cell locks and other damage plus the slow job of shuffling down the whole prison for hidden weapons led the prisoners' outdoor last night, milling about on an athletic field within the walls.

Around them stood guards and state policemen carrying guns and clubs, alert against any revival of the revolt which started Tuesday with the seizure of some hostages and control of most of the prison.

Traffic Accident Statistics Issued

One person was killed and 20 others injured in 197 traffic accidents in Seminole County in the period from January through March, the State Department of Public Safety reported today.

The fatal accident occurred in road section 775-1000, other than road section 775-1000.

Republican Leaders Still See Chances To Salvage Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republican leaders said today they still have a good chance to salvage President Eisenhower's proposal for a 60-cent-an-hour minimum wage.

The House Education and Labor Committee yesterday defeated the Eisenhower plan on a 15-18 tie vote and approved instead, 21-9, a Democratic bill to increase the minimum to $1 from the present 75 cents.

Key Republicans predicted a lively House floor scrap next week. They said they expect strong support from their southern Democratic for the 60-cent figure.

If administration officials put up a vigorous fight, these Republicans said, they probably will be able to pass the figure, the White House requested.

Sanford Guard Unit Will Be Affected

The 4th Infantry Division composed of National Guard units in Florida and Georgia will be converted to an armored division beginning Nov. 1. It was announced this week by Col. E. F. Merritt Jr., chief of staff, at the division's headquarters.

Sanford's National Guard unit, Co. 1, 194th Inf., as a unit in this division, will be affected by this change over but Capt. Joseph D. Bryant, CO of the local company has not as yet received official word as to what this unit's new status will be.

MOLDAE, Ill. (AP)—Ole DeBord was swimming Sunday when a diamond ring valued at $800 slipped off his finger. Skin divers had no luck searching for it. But Wednesday night Mrs. DeBord was wading in the same lake when the lost something against her foot. She lifted it there on her big toe was the ring.

USE OWN EQUIPMENT IN SUB OF WIN

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—While being arraigned on narcotics charges yesterday, James Curtis, 28, said something else to his main job. "I don't get in any game unless I know I'll win," added Curtis.

U. S. Commissioner W. M. Hill asked: "How can you be sure?" The answer: "Because I only play with my own."

Joint Declaration Published Today By Tito, Nehru

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Yugoslav President Tito and Indian Prime Minister Nehru published a joint declaration today again advocating world disarmament, use of atomic energy for peaceful purposes only and peaceful coexistence of all nations.

They also called for peaceful solution of "the questions relating to Germany and Taiwan" (Formosa) and a U.N. seat for Communist China.

The two worked out the statement during Nehru's week-long state visit to Yugoslavia. The Indian flew to Rome yesterday.

The Tito-Nehru declaration in general followed the lines of statements each made earlier this year jointly with Soviet Premier Niko-lai Bulganin.

The statement said Tito and Nehru agreed to exchange missions to foster trade between their countries.

Minnesota Tornado Fatal To Infant; Crops Flattened

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A tornado which cut a five-mile swath through a section of western Minnesota late yesterday killed a 20-month-old boy, injured at least 18 others and cut a path of destruction as far east as Twin Cities.

Hardest hit was a 30-mile stretch west of Marshall, Minn., where the fury of the winds tore down farm buildings, flattened crops and ripped power and telephone lines.

Little Crater Inside Big One Getting Active

IN A NAVY PLANE OVER MT. Elba, Kelly... A little crater inside the big one... Chunks of molten rock spout up 100 feet or more.

These are the fireworks from Mt. Elba, which for five nights have been visible for 50 miles or more along the tourist-crowded east coast of Italy.

It is the most activity Europe's highest volcano has shown for four years. But looking into the crater from only 400 feet away, there is no sign that a major eruption has begun.

A U. S. Navy F4D two-engine plane was plotted for this flight over the crater by John Rignall, of 425 Haprock St. Elizabeth, W. Va., an aviation chief mechanic.

The new activity is inside a crater 200 feet by 500 feet formed 44 years ago. It is on the north-east side of the mountain. Three hundred feet above it, the huge main crater now is quiet.

Inside the northeast crater is a bed of black lava. The new volcanic mouth is a red pipe in the crater, about 50 feet wide.

Smoke boils out in puffs and is whipped away by a 30-mile-an-hour wind. A dark red glow brightens to cherry red every 4 or 10 minutes. That is when the flames lash up and the chunks of molten rock are hurled into the air, to fall back into the crater.

Dr. Salvatore Greco, of the Institute of Volcanology of the University of Catania reported the activity "considerably increased" in the past 24 hours.

If the spouts continue to go higher, some lava will begin spilling over the rim of the crater. But authorities reported volcanic living in the possible path of a lava flow were showing no signs of flight.

Longwood Author, Verne A. Wheeler, Publication Told

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The adventures and countless escapades of pure mischief that made up the life of a country boy around the turn of the century are recreated in Pleasant Press's new publication "White the Meadowlark Calls," written by Verne A. Wheeler.

Literally hundreds of thousands of readers who have visited Florida know the author as the man who took a picture at the Big Tree, the oldest and largest cypress tree in the world.

Wheeler's love of nature comes from the happy days of his boyhood on the Iowa farm where he was born. He now lives in Longwood, with his wife and daughter. Mrs. Wheeler teaches first grade at Lyman School.

SECOND-GRADE PUPIL GOES MIA SUICIDE

ROBE, Miss J. — An 8-year-old second-grade pupil committed suicide Tuesday by refusing to get out of the way of a freight train.

A classmate who was walking the tracks with him said the boy screamed, "I want to die! I want to die!"

The reason, Asahi said, was that the boy, together with a dozen others, was scolded by his teacher for playing practical jokes.

CYCLER HIS ROCK MAN'S CONDITION CRITICAL

CRESCENT CITY, Calif. — Tom Mount, doubly careful, put his 22 revolver in the glove compartment of his car and the cylinder in his shirt pocket.

Driving home with his family, he stopped to pick a wild flower. As he stooped, the cylinder fell out to a rock. A bullet fired into his chest.

He was reported in critical condition at Staside Hospital.

CHAPTER FIFTEEN

THE LONGHORN saloon in Dodge City was bright and noisy and crowded with humanity intent on having themselves a time. For those whose throats were dry with thirst, there was liquor, and for those with a different kind of thirst, there were bright, dressed, bare-armed women whose painted lips were generous with smiles and unspoken promises.

There were cards and dice to make in wagers that were burning holes in pockets, or—who knew?—maybe to double them.

Kerry leaned an elbow on the bar, savoring a drink paid for with one of the few coins left in his pocket. He'd been "riding the grub line," drifting from ranch to ranch, working a week or two here and there where an extra hand was needed, at other places just claiming the hospitality of the bunkhouse for a few nights and moving on. Now here he was in Dodge.

God knew why, except that he'd always had a curiosity to see the famous trail town and it had seemed as good a place to drift to as any. And the wages of his drifting were making a lonesome rattle in his pants pocket—the first money he'd ever earned. He supposed he ought to feel proud of it. But he only remembered the monotony of lye-washing in the back-trail sun, the dust and stench of branding, and thought again that there was no way for man to bargain away his life at thirty a month and keep.

There was a sudden stopping of talk all over the room, and a turning of heads toward the little stage where the curtains were parting. The lanky piano player trilled out something soft and sentimental as a girl in a red dress walked onto the stage. She was small and very pretty, with a head full of black curls, and big dark eyes that seemed to invite them all to join her in enjoying "Joke. Her smile gave every man in the Longhorn the feeling that she was smiling at him, yet it seemed to Kerry she was looking for something. When the black eyes had gone all round the saloon, he thought he saw her lip droop as if her search had been disappointing.

Next minute, smiling again, she began to sing, her voice warm and sweet. Each time she stopped, there were claps and shouts for more, but the third time she laughed and shook her head and came down off the stage. Smiling, she refused invitations to sit down and have a drink, dodged hands that reached out to catch at her arm or wrist—and kept seeking the door with her eyes.

"Like her, stranger?" Kerry turned at the sound of a voice near his elbow, and looked into the thin, olive-colored, smooth-shaven face and two bright slits of eyes that should have been dark, in that face, and instead, startlingly, were almost green, like glittering slivers of glass, except that you couldn't see into them.

Kerry's swift observation added that the speaker's black suit and white shirt looked expensive, and fitted him snugly, that he was tall, thin and graceful as a dancer, and would have been handsome, except for a scar that ran in a jagged purple line, from his right eye to the corner of his mouth.

"She's pretty," Kerry replied neutrally.

"Pretty, but not smart." "I wouldn't know about that. I never saw her before. I was just looking."

"Sure," the stranger agreed. "She's here to be looked at. But you'll have to take out your money's worth in looking."

"I didn't have any other ideas—" The green-eyed man gave him a small, tight smile. "Every man in Dodge has had ideas about Maggie one time or other. They've all been waiting their time, except one—a crazy, fiddle-footed cow-puncher. That's why I said she's not smart. But that's women for you. None of my business. Just thought I'd warn you," he added, and held up a hand to the bartender. "Have one with me?"

"Thanks," Kerry noted the softness and whiteness of the hand, put them together with the expensive clothes, the schooled way of speaking—and the poker face. A gambler. That scar was probably a souvenir of some hot-headed card-player who didn't like losing.

Kerry murmured his own name, and fancied he saw a flicker of some kind of reaction in the green eyes, but put it down to imagination. It wasn't possible the gambler had heard of him.

"Just in off the trail? Thought I hadn't seen you around town before. Texas?"

Kerry grinned. "Yes, I'm from Texas—and no reward out for me." "You never know, do you? Reason I asked—I've got a friend down there, Mesquite County—you ever been around that way?"

Things Are Now Quite Different At Angel Household In Santa Fe

SANTA FE, N. M. — Things will never be quite the same again for the Ramon Angel family.

In the three weeks since Ramon, a Santa Fe street cleaner, won $25,000 in a national contest the fortunes of the family have changed radically and although the cash remainder has dwindled to around $3,000, a new home and new car account for a good part of the difference.

Ramon's wife, Guadalupe, was stricken with a stomach ailment and operated on five days after a rubber company (R. F. Goodrich) executive presented the family with $5,000 from the hospital.

Salesmen every day have offered everything from insurance to ranches to automobiles.

On the brighter side, Ramon was promoted by the city and now drives a steamroller. The family will soon move into a three-bedroom home near their adobe place. And there is a slick-looking new car.

The home, with five adjoining lots, took $8,000. Another $2,000 went for the car. Federal income tax took more than $4,500.

"We're not going to touch the rest," said Guadalupe. She said the only future she was going to buy is a living room suite.

Years of frugality can't be discarded overnight. Ramon figures the home is an investment, a saving on rent money, and, with the five adjoining lots, working out nicely for his five children. The car — well, it's a necessity as well as a little touch of luxury. The old 1922 model was always giving trouble anyway.

Most salesmen have gotten a cold shoulder.

Sherlock Holmes Creator Reburied

MINSTED, England (AP) — Arthur Conan Doyle, creator of Sherlock Holmes, was reburied Tuesday in Britain's New Forest, an ancient hunting ground that was the scene of his story, "The White Company."

Lady Conan Doyle, the writer's second wife, was reburied also in a churchyard in the wooded region in southwest Hampshire named in 1924 and converted to a hunting preserve by William I.

Both bodies were exhumed last week from a grave at Crowborough the family home.

After the exhumation, the first news of which created a mild sensation in this country, the bodies in their lead coffins were taken to a London undertaker.

The lead coffins were placed in two huge oak coffins, moved to Minstead and buried beneath an English oak in a secluded corner of the churchyard of centuries-old Minstead church.

Atomic Scientist Calls On Teachers To Inspire Youths

CHICAGO (AP) — A top atomic scientist today called on teachers for the sake of the nation, to inspire exceptional students to go into scientific research.

Dr. Willard F. Libby of the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission said the shortage of scientists and engineers "is a matter of serious concern."

In a speech prepared for delivery to the National Education Assn. he said "only about 2 per cent of those judged mentally capable of obtaining Ph. D. degrees do so."

Libby blamed the shortages on "inadequate" instruction in the colleges and secondary schools, a mistaken belief that the fields of discovery are narrowing, and lack of financial reward.

Libby, on leave himself from the University of Chicago faculty, called on the teachers to "inspire" the "superior" student to go on to greater things.

He said "It is very important that adequate attention always be paid to this small but important fraction of the classes in mathematics and the sciences in high school. In many instances, the inspirational teaching will suffice. Nothing short of an attitude of this sort will excite and maintain their interest."

Written Inquiry Is Just Too Tough

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — That written test was just too tough for the boys seeking journeymen plumbers' licenses.

"It tended to confuse the candidates rather than measure their ability," the Texas State Board of Plumbing Examiners reported.

Worried because only 31 per cent passed the test, the board examined the examinations and reprinted the written questions were aimed at people with an 11th-grade reading level. The average test-taker, the board said, has a 9th-grade reading level.

The questions were simplified and emphasis put on practical plumbing demonstrations.

Clements Is Acting As Senate Leader

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Clements of Kentucky took over as acting Senate Democratic leader Tuesday with expressed determination to carry on the program of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas.

Johnson suffered last Saturday what was described as a moderately severe heart attack which will keep him away from the Senate for the remainder of this session.

Expansion Program Involving Aircraft Is Told By Airlines

MIAMI (AP) — An expansion program involving the expenditure of $5 million dollars and featuring the purchase of both turbo-prop and jet aircraft was announced Tuesday by National Airlines.

It is the first step in a four-year plan for system wide development. G. T. Baker, president, said, Baker said the program calls for construction of new office building and maintenance facilities as well as purchase of the latest in airline equipment and is the largest in National's 21-year history.

First phases of the project include new general administrative offices at Miami International Airport and new hangar facilities for the maintenance of jet aircraft.

Corporate earnings will cover most of the cost, Baker added, with bank loans not to exceed $5 million dollars.

Enthusiastic Recruit Richmond, Va. (AP) — The Air Force will have a hard time finding a more enthusiastic recruit than Norman Sutherland, 18, a Scot.

Sutherland has wanted to join the U. S. Air Force since he was 10. When he reached 16 he wrote the mayor of Richmond, then Dr. E. E. Hasdick, about it. He was advised of the requirements and the necessity for a sponsor. Parents prevailed on him to wait until he was 18. He did and he still wanted to join. He wrote Mayor Thomas P. Bryan. Bryan turned the letter over to Maj. William E. Morgan of the recruiting service. Maj Morgan became sponsor.

Sutherland said he held two jobs and worked 85 hours a week to get the money for his passage from Scotland.

Concrete Bear Cage Nearing Completion; Other Plans Revealed

Workmen neared completion of a new concrete-block bear cage at the Sanford Zoo today as zoo superintendent Sidney Richard announced plans for a long-range improvement program for the popular tourist attraction.

Richard said the new cage, measuring 12 by 32 feet, is the type which will eventually replace the old wooden cages which are "impossible to keep clean."

Another feature of the new cage, other than an overhead sprinkler system designed to maintain cleanliness, is the fact that heavy wire instead of bars will be used to retain the animals.

"I don't like bars," Richard said, "and the wire will provide a better view of the animals." He said the No. 6 wire used on the cage is sufficient to hold a lion. The wire is used at the Jacksonville zoo, he pointed out.

"We are going to try to move in a cub tomorrow and the rest of the bears Monday," Richard added.

The zoo was painted not long ago, but Richard said there are a lot of other things that must be done before the tourist season begins.

Richard said he was still hoping that the Bengal Tiger captured by Gen. James Van Fleet could be transported from Pakistan to the zoo. Gen. Van Fleet presented the tiger to the Pakistan government which in turn presented it to Gov. Collins. It was informed by Collins that it could have the tiger if some means could be found to transport the animal here.

The Chamber of Commerce has been active in negotiations to arrange this.

Richard said the tiger would be a big asset to the zoo because Bengal tigers are found mainly in the larger cities.

Expansion of the zoo, Richard said, is pretty limited for all the available space in use. If the hazard to children who would be forced to cross the street to see some of the animals.

Richard said he planned to "tighten up" the zoo in order to make the fullest possible use of the available land. He added, however, that this does not mean the most will be eliminated.

Strolling In Sanford

The Stroller stopped by Mrs. Appleby's "Little" restaurant in the Florida State Bank building this morning to take note of the renovation that's been going on there during the past week. She will re-open the "Little" eating place bright and early Monday morning. What do we mean by bright and early? We mean at 4:45 P.M. (Before Sun-up).

The Elsie Knight Circle of the First Baptist Church will meet Monday at 8 p. m. in the Educational Building with Mrs. Roy will be Mrs. W. A. Hickman Jr. a missionary.

One of our local dry cleaners claims this actually happened. The Stroller wasn't there to see it, but passes it on to you. A dignified woman took an interest and sweater to the cleaners. Noticing a sign offering three garments cleaned for the price of one, she promptly slipped off her skirt, handed it to the startled man, wrapped her coat tightly around her and marched out. The Stroller thinks it must have been cooler weather than we're having now.

Rescue Ships Make Criss-Cross Design Searching For Boat

NEW YORK (AP)—Coast Guard rescue vessels criss-crossed the Atlantic off New Jersey today in a search for a fishing boat reported sinking yesterday. Its existence has never been confirmed.

The search began yesterday when a distress call, purportedly coming from a boat which identified itself as the "Blue Star," said the craft was going down after striking a "strange object" in the water.

A boiler room explosion reportedly set the craft ablaze, blocking access to radio and lifeboats.

The last report from the mystery-dreaded craft was relayed to the Coast Guard by a commercial vessel at 2:30 a. m.

It said a foreign submarine was surfacing alongside and was taking aboard 25 survivors of the 40-foot boat.

Coast Guard vessels reaching the scene, pinpointed in the distress message as 20 miles off Barnegat, N. J., found no trace of any boat or survivors. But the search continued.

Washington Mates Get Stars For Bars During Cell Check

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—The bulk of 1,700 inmates at Washington State Prison traded bars for stars last night—and didn't like it—as they topped the first 24 hours of their two-day revolt.

Meanwhile, penitentiary officials harvested another crop of weapons, broken glass and damaged furniture, listing up a bill that may run into six figures.

Damaged cell locks and other damage plus the slow job of shutting down the whole prison for hidden weapons kept the prisoners outdoors last night, milling about on an athletic field within the walls.

Around them stood guards and plain policemen carrying guns and clubs, alert against any revival of the revolt which started Tuesday with the seizure of nine hostages and control of most of the prison.

Traffic Accident Statistics Issued

One person was killed and 29 others injured in 197 traffic accidents in Sanborn County in the first six months of 1955.

The State Department of Public Safety reported today. The total number of accidents in the state was 1,719.

Joint Declaration Published Today By Tito, Nehru

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—Yugoslav President Tito and Indian Prime Minister Nehru published a joint declaration today again advocating world disarmament, use of atomic energy for peaceful purposes only and peaceful coexistence of all nations.

They also called for peaceful solution of "the questions relating to Germany and Taiwan" (Formosa) and a U.N. seat for Communist China.

The two worked out the statement during Nehru's week-long state visit to Yugoslavia. The Indian New to Rome yesterday.

The Tito-Nehru declaration in general followed the lines of statements each made earlier this year jointly with Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin.

The statement said Tito and Nehru agreed to exchange missions to foster trade between their countries.

Hardest hit was a 30-mile stretch west of Marshall, Minn., where the fury of the winds tore down farm buildings, flattened crops and ripped power and telephone lines.

Hall, then a heavy rain fell over most of the southern half of the state.

Dead is Ronnie Larson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marlow Larson. He was living on the farmhouse of Mr. and Mrs. August Wabena when the twister hit. Mrs. Wabena said eight persons were in the house. They tried to get into the cellar, but were unable to make it before the tornado tore the dwelling apart. All were injured.

At their urging, the corrections commission last March ordered Duley's case processed for possible parole. But while Duley walked, death intervened.

Portland, Ore. (AP)—Frank Lechleider, World War I infantryman who saw action in France in 1917, has a couple of new medals from the Department of the Army.

Proudly displaying a Silver Star and Purple Heart, he said they arrived only this week, more than 32 years after they were awarded.

The 73-year-old Portlander says he was told of the decoration upon his discharge from the Army in 1920. But it took all these years and three letters to Washington, he said, before he got action. Lechleider said the latest query was mailed two weeks ago.

ICE COVERS STREET ENID, Okla. (AP)—The thermometer registered 87 yesterday when police clerk Paul Hickman answered the phone. The caller said: "intercession at Willow and Grand is covered with ice." It was. Patrolmen found ice all over the place. An ice truck had lost nearly a ton of ice as it pulled away from the intersection.

USES OWN EQUIPMENT; IS SURE OF WIN DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—While being arraigned on narcotics charges yesterday, James Curtis, 24, said shooting dice is his main job.

"I don't get in any game unless I know I'll win," added Curtis.

U. S. Commissioner W. M. Hill asked: "How can you be sure?" The answer: "Because I only play with my own."

RECEPTION SLATED FOR 3 TURNOVERS HONG KONG (AP)—U. S. and British authorities today announced their plans to receive three turncoat American spies expected to come out of Red China tomorrow.

British immigration authorities will meet them when they cross the bridge over the Shumchun River, 22 miles north of Hong Kong, and take them to the colony immigration office.

The three men are Lewis W. Griggs of Jacksonville, Tex.; Otto G. Bell of Olympia, Wash.; and William A. Covart of Dallas, Ga.

Sanford Guard Unit Will Be Affected The 4th Infantry Division composed of National Guard units in Florida and Georgia will be converted to an armored division beginning Nov. 1. It was announced this week by Col. E. F. Merritt Jr., chief of staff, at the division's base in G.A. headquarters.

Sanford's National Guard unit, Co. 1, 194th Inf., as a unit in this division, will be affected by this change over but Capt. Joseph D. Bryant, CO of the local company has not as yet received official word as to what this unit's new status will be.

Sanford Woman Plans For Confab Mrs. Sue S. Stevenson, second vice-president of the Pilot Club of Sanford will join with over 700 members of Pilot Club International attending the 84th Annual Convention in Los Angeles, Calif., on July 27-30, with the Statler Hotel as headquarters.

Pilot Club International, a Classified Service Club for executive business and professional women, will be represented by delegates from Canada, Bermuda, and other countries where Pilot is organized.

The convention will officially open July 27, with Miss Winifred H. Newman, of Charleston, W. Va. president, presiding. Wednesday evening the Pilots of California will entertain at a welcome dinner with musical entertainment from Hollywood.

Miss Newman will give an address entitled "Fruits of Our Endeavor" at the Presidents' Luncheon on Thursday.

The projection of committee plans will be featured Friday morning. A play will highlight the program which will be followed by workshops for each of the Pilot International standing committees.

The play was written by Miss Ruth Dickens, of Tulsa, Okla., vice chairman of the Pilot International Convention.

Special entertainment has been planned, including a light-seeing show of places of interest nearby.

Uncanny Luck Ends For Jailbreak Artist

MIAMI (AP)—Joseph Albert, cocky 25-year-old jailbreak artist, was shot and fatally wounded today by a jealous husband who told police he found Albert and his wife locked in a lover's embrace.

The husband, Richard J. Svoboda, 29, called police and reported: "I've just shot a man. I warned him to stay away from my wife."

Thus the fantastic luck of Albert, who recently won back his freedom after he had been convicted of murder and who twice broke out of Miami's skyscraper jail, played out in a speeding ambulance.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at a hospital.

Sgt. Stanley Hartles, of the county police said Svoboda told officers he returned to Miami this morning from a trip to Nebraska to find his wife, Ruth, 26, and Albert on a couch in the living room of an apartment.

Svoboda fired a single shot from a .32 caliber pistol. The bullet struck Albert in the mouth.

Hartles said Mrs. Svoboda, a slender brunette, readily admitted she had been having an affair with Albert.

Svoboda was held for investigation.

Albert and William F. Chapman were convicted in 1953 of slaying Dr. Clifton Springmyer, a Miami naturopath during an attempted holdup.

Elderly Woman Is Determined To Win BOONSBORO, Md. (AP)—After 63 days and nearly 1,000 miles, Mrs. Emma Gatewood is still determined to become the first woman ever to hike the 2,050-mile Appalachian Trail alone—even if she is 67.

The Gallipolis, Ohio, grandmother emphasized this yesterday as she paused at Washington Monument State Park.

At the rate she's going, Grandmother Emma should make it to Mt. Katahdin, Me., about mid-September. She left the Mt. Oglethorpe, Ga., starting point May 3.

Lugging a pack of about 25 pounds and spending the nights in her sleeping bag or lean-to shelter along the way, she has worn out two pairs of shoes but none of her enthusiasm.

"I'm a great lover of the outdoors," she explained.

OWNER IS ORDERED TO ATTEND CHURCH WALDO, Wis. (AP)—Because of liquor law convictions, tavern operator Sam Zolp will have to go to church every Sunday for 2 years.

In Circuit Judge F. H. Schlichter will continue Sam was charged with letting a minor enter in his tavern selling liquor to two minors and selling beer to a minor.

Schlichter placed Zolp on probation, ordered his license revoked and said if he fails to attend church as prescribed he will have to spend his probationary period in jail.

Pine Key Islands To Be Developed ST. PETERSBURG (AP)—Developers who recently bought the Pine Key Islands in the mouth of Tampa Bay are planning for a fully rounded beach community of 40,000 persons, the city council was told yesterday.

Hyman Green of Miami, a member of the development syndicate, said the plans call for three complete residential, recreational and shopping areas.

Sanford Woman Plans For Confab A special guest at the convention will be Miss Toshiko Morikawa, Tokyo, Japan, recipient of the 1955 Ruby Newhall Scholarship grant. Miss Morikawa, an outstanding student at Lindenwood College, Saint Louis, Mo. this year, will continue her studies at Washington University, Saint Louis at letting a minor enter in his tavern selling liquor to two minors and selling beer to a minor.

Bank Robbery Gets New Lead

Baseball Campaign For Fans' Support Is Backed By CoFC

The Seminole County Chamber of Commerce and its Baseball Committee are 100 per cent behind the effort to revitalize the baseball program in Sanford, it was announced today by President Earl Higginbotham.

"We have the best working agreement now that we have had in years. Baseball is costing us less this year and Sanford has the best club that he has had in several seasons. In view of those facts we urge the public to support the effort of the local baseball officials by purchasing the $2 and $4 books of tickets that will be mailed the first of next week," Higginbotham reiterated.

He continued, "Baseball is an integral part of the overall recreation program and the only way that we can hope to have baseball is to support it by buying tickets and attending the games. The boys are playing hard and giving the fans everything they have by playing hard right down to the last minute of every game."

J. C. Davis, chairman of the CoFC committee, also urged the support of the public in this renewed effort to back our team for the remainder of the season.

The Chamber is assisting materially in the program by stuffing the envelopes and mailing them to the public.

Chamber officials have urged that everyone mail his remittance as soon as possible.

Minneapolis Tornado Fatal To Infant; Crops Flattened MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A tornado which cut a five-mile swath through a section of western Minnesota late yesterday killed a 20-month-old boy, injured at least 18 others and cut a path of destruction as far east as Twin Cities.

Suspects Flashing Currency Police Summon Victims Of Theft

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Two men brightening the dice tables with new $100 bills touched off a transcendent police investigation of their possible connection with the biggest cash bank robbery on record.

New York police summoned victims of the bank robbery to view photographs of the two today. And experts are checking their fingerprints in search of a link with gamblers who took $205,000 from a Chase Manhattan Bank in Queens, N. Y., last April 6.

Police here arrested Frank Ellsworth, 26, and Ray Wilson, 32, after casino cashiers told how they moved from one gaming table to another, buying chips with $100 bills.

Detective Lt. R. J. Handlon said Ellsworth had 61 hundred-dollar bills and Wilson 91 when they were picked up here yesterday.

Ellsworth said he sold magazine subscriptions. Wilson said he was a clothes. Police searched their room in a luxury hotel. All told they found more than $87,000.

Ellsworth was freed last night on a writ of habeas corpus. Wilson remained in jail on an investigation of robbery looking.

Ellsworth's attorney posted $1,000 bond with the writ, which is returnable Monday.

While Las Vegas officers checked the bills serial numbers, New York authorities checked photos and fingerprints of the pair. Both have records.

Minneapolis Tornado Fatal To Infant; Crops Flattened MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A tornado which cut a five-mile swath through a section of western Minnesota late yesterday killed a 20-month-old boy, injured at least 18 others and cut a path of destruction as far east as Twin Cities.

Hardest hit was a 30-mile stretch west of Marshall, Minn., where the fury of the winds tore down farm buildings, flattened crops and ripped power and telephone lines.

Hall, then a heavy rain fell over most of the southern half of the state.

Dead is Ronnie Larson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marlow Larson. He was living on the farmhouse of Mr. and Mrs. August Wabena when the twister hit. Mrs. Wabena said eight persons were in the house. They tried to get into the cellar, but were unable to make it before the tornado tore the dwelling apart. All were injured.

At their urging, the corrections commission last March ordered Duley's case processed for possible parole. But while Duley walked, death intervened.

Portland, Ore. (AP)—Frank Lechleider, World War I infantryman who saw action in France in 1917, has a couple of new medals from the Department of the Army.

Proudly displaying a Silver Star and Purple Heart, he said they arrived only this week, more than 32 years after they were awarded.

ICE COVERS STREET ENID, Okla. (AP)—The thermometer registered 87 yesterday when police clerk Paul Hickman answered the phone. The caller said: "intercession at Willow and Grand is covered with ice." It was. Patrolmen found ice all over the place. An ice truck had lost nearly a ton of ice as it pulled away from the intersection.

USES OWN EQUIPMENT; IS SURE OF WIN DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—While being arraigned on narcotics charges yesterday, James Curtis, 24, said shooting dice is his main job.

"I don't get in any game unless I know I'll win," added Curtis.

U. S. Commissioner W. M. Hill asked: "How can you be sure?" The answer: "Because I only play with my own."

RECEPTION SLATED FOR 3 TURNOVERS HONG KONG (AP)—U. S. and British authorities today announced their plans to receive three turncoat American spies expected to come out of Red China tomorrow.

British immigration authorities will meet them when they cross the bridge over the Shumchun River, 22 miles north of Hong Kong, and take them to the colony immigration office.

The three men are Lewis W. Griggs of Jacksonville, Tex.; Otto G. Bell of Olympia, Wash.; and William A. Covart of Dallas, Ga.

Sanford Guard Unit Will Be Affected The 4th Infantry Division composed of National Guard units in Florida and Georgia will be converted to an armored division beginning Nov. 1. It was announced this week by Col. E. F. Merritt Jr., chief of staff, at the division's base in G.A. headquarters.

Sanford's National Guard unit, Co. 1, 194th Inf., as a unit in this division, will be affected by this change over but Capt. Joseph D. Bryant, CO of the local company has not as yet received official word as to what this unit's new status will be.

Kiwanis President Told At Convention Held In Cleveland

Jackson A. Raney, Indianapolis school executive, has been named president of Kiwanis International. He was elected to the number-one Kiwanis post last week by delegates attending the 40th annual Convention of Kiwanis International at Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 10-12. He was elected to the position of president of the Kiwanis Club of Sanford.

As head of Kiwanis International, Raney will be official spokesman for almost a quarter million Kiwanis in 48 states located throughout the United States and Canada, and in Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands. He succeeds Don F. Engdahl, Spokane, Washington lumberman who has held the post since August of 1954.

Raney has devoted most of his professional life to the education of the physically handicapped. He has been superintendent of the Indiana State School for the Deaf at Indianapolis for 20 years. He is a graduate of Franklin College and a member of its council. Recently, he received the honorary degree of the Doctor of Laws from that institution.

Campbell Called For Questioning WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Banking Committee summoned Joseph Campbell for closed-door questioning this afternoon on a report of "leakage" in connection with the contacts in which a government "dollar-a-year" man allegedly figured.

Campbell's report, in a letter received yesterday by Chairman Fulbright (D-Ark.) of the committee, caused the Senate to delay further consideration of a bill to extend for two years the defense production act. That law gives the government authority to mobilize the nation's economy for defense.

Without naming the dollar-a-year man, Campbell identified himself as deputy administrator of the Defense Material Procurement Agency in 1951-1952, "who at the same time was head of the American Zinc, Lead and Smelting Co."

Sergeant Says Trouble Was Worth Getting Back Into Marine Corps
QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — "Well, it was worth the trouble to get back in the Marines. If it turns out I didn't have to do it," says the sergeant who got a very temporary divorce in the belief he needed it to re-enlist.

Walter Sheets, 24 and former sergeant, was working for the Portsmouth, Ohio, Times when the idea of going back in the service struck him. Some place — he was not sure today just where — he got the notion that his four dependents were on too many under-reimbursement rules.

So Sheets and his wife, Nancy Ann, 22, mother of his three children, cooked up a solution: Get a divorce and remarry after Walter was back in uniform.

Up to a certain point it all went as planned. A divorce decree was granted to Nancy Ann June 24 on cruelty grounds and Walter re-enlisted July 1.

He was sent to the Marine base here for assignment and examinations and Nancy Ann followed right along to stay temporarily with friends nearby.

"We were planning to be re-married next weekend," Sheets told a reporter who reached him by telephone at the base today, "but the publicity over their stratagem brought two unexpected developments:

1. Judge J. E. Kinniston of Jackson County, Ohio, vacated the divorce decree Tuesday, on the ground that it was obtained by fraud; and

2. Marine Corps officials, told of what the couple had done, said it was all unnecessary for the four dependents rule doesn't apply to sergeants and higher grades.

Sheets was on duty at the Marine Corps base yesterday but said he missed getting news of the court action. He got liberty over-

Better TV Predicted Next Fall
NEW YORK (AP) — You're due to view some bigger and better television shows come fall. This, think many observers, is partly due to the idea of pay-TV.

Every executive of every network would stoutly deny that his outfit is running scared because of the potential threat of coin-in-the-slot T-viewing. They prefer to say they're planning bigger and better shows because — well, just because television is naturally getting bigger and better all the time.

It's generally believed that the Federal Communications Commission will not render a decision on pay-TV for another year. And if program promises hold true, the networks hope an increasing number of viewers will be asking each other as the year wears on: "Just what better things would we see on pay TV?"

First in the field of summer announcements a couple of days ago came NBC-TV with an exciting splat: "More than 75 mammoth one-shot productions and spectacles, featuring the most celebrated stars in show business and embracing the entire field of entertainment, will spark the 1955-56 schedule."

Probing deeper into the announcement, you find this isn't empty rhetoric. First, include Big names — Mary Martin, Frank Sinatra, Helen Hayes, Maurice Chevalier, Maurice Evans, the Sadler's Wells Ballet, George Abbott, Patrice Munnell, Rex Harrison, Eva LaGallienne.

Big Shows — "Our Town," "The Skin of Our Teeth," "Alice in Wonderland," "The Devil's Disciple," the world premieres of two new American operas.

Big telemanagers (it's elementary that a telemanagers is a televised documentary); a history of Adolf Hitler as depicted on insouped German film; "Nightmare in Red," an hour-long history of the rise of communism in Russia.

Enough information has leaked to indicate that CBS-TV, too, will dedicate itself to the big show, the big name, the big chunk of time. ABC-TV has some unusual plans in the way of feature-length films. It, too, will have a complete announcement before long.

The television mills grind out much publicity, but this week's announcement from NBC promises some real sustenance for viewers in the coming season.

Why this has come about is far less important than the fact that it has.

Police Puzzled By Money Pawner

CHICAGO (AP) — A butcher who says for about three years he has been pawning money — and getting cash and pawn tickets — was seized by police yesterday.

But police say they don't know what to do about it. Sgt. John Doyle of the Police pawn shop detail says that pawning money didn't seem to make sense. But, he added, there is no law against it.

The man Doyle arrested in a pawn shop, Joseph K. Johnson, 43, admitted pawning between $750 and $1,000 in the last three years, mostly in small amounts.

Doyle said Johnson told him he would pawn $30 for example, and receive $27.30 and a pawn ticket. He never went back to redeem the money.

"What's the idea," asked Doyle, who has been looking for the man who's been pawning money. "What do you think?" Johnson asked in reply. "There's nothing illegal about it."

Doyle said he found seven serial numbers, clipped from currency, in Johnson's possession and decided he would turn him over to the Secret Service and have Johnson investigated for mutilation of currency.

The Secret Service said it wasn't interested after police said the currency from which the numbers presumably were cut was not found on Johnson.

Johnson declined to offer any explanation for pawning money or for cutting serial numbers. Asked about the serial numbers, he replied only, "so what?"

Doyle said Johnson told him he was a butcher and said he had served a prison sentence in Minnesota for forgery. He was held overnight without charge.

CPL HAROLD M. DUNN, 26, is comforted by his mother at Governors Island, N. Y., after he was formally pronounced guilty of collaborating with Korean and Chinese Communists. He was sentenced to eight years in hard labor, a dishonorable discharge and forfeiture of all pay and allowances. The Brooklyn, N. Y., coroner, wearing a string of decorations, heard the sentence of the seven-officer courtmartial without emotion. (International)

Conference Deadline

The Soviet Union, in accepting the July 18 date and the Geneva site of the scheduled top-level Big Four discussions, indicated that it wants the conference to last longer than three or four days. From the first the United States has favored keeping this initial conference brief and following it with lengthier, more intensive conferences if that is found desirable.

The Communists, since they first came to power, have used extended conferences effectively. At such conferences they haggle, threaten, propagandize and frequently wear down the other parties to the conference with what amounts to filibustering.

President Eisenhower has indicated that he would not let a matter of a few days stand in the way of achieving a lessening of world tensions. He has made it plain, however, that there must be some definite date for the conference to end. He cannot be placed in a position where, if the conference should drag out and his presence in Washington should become essential, it would appear that he was walking out on the parley.

If the top-level discussion succeeds in laying the groundwork for other talks that can lead to good results it will have accomplished its purpose. To allow the initial discussions to drag on and on might do harm rather than good. The knowledge that there is a definite deadline may stimulate frankness and discourage delaying strategy maneuvers.

Americans Predicted To Buy Cars

NEW YORK (AP)—Americans will buy more cars this year than ever before. But driving on the nation's highways is becoming more hazardous and more costly. The U. S. Bureau of Public Roads reports there are 2,300,000 miles of roads in the country but that only 919,000 miles paved. The American Automobile Assn. claims

Gutter Politics

Next year a Republican and a Democrat will seek the presidency. Wouldn't it be wonderful if the campaign could be conducted with a minimum of personal attacks, with an emphasis on the issues rather than on personalities?

Those who deplore mud-slinging politics too often put the blame on professional politicians. It is true that some politicians resort to this kind of electioneering—but if they do it is because they have found it to be politically profitable. If there were not weak, mentally-sick people ready to buy dope there would be no dope peddlers; if there were not a sizable body of voters willing to listen to the vilifier and the slanderer these unwholesome types would vanish from the political scene.

Candidates for the presidency are sometimes goaded into intemperate remarks and sometimes even fall from the high plane of their own accord. But for the most part they view gutter politics with the distaste that might be expected from men who seek such a responsible position. It is the underlings who most frequently engage in name-calling—"The Democrats favor the Communists"; "The Republicans are responsible for polio." What nonsense!

Cool citizens can raise the level of campaigns by letting political leaders, even those they favor, know that any appeal aimed at arousing the worst instincts of voters will be rejected.

Civil Defense Drill

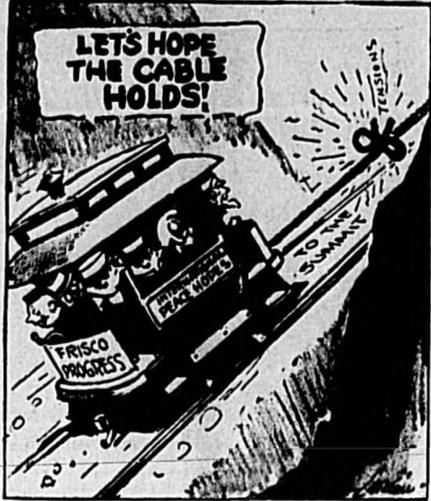

It is hard to tell just how much good was accomplished by the civil defense drill which saw the President and thousands of government workers evacuated from Washington to a temporary government site.

The drill was conducted under ideal conditions and it would be foolish to hope that such conditions would be duplicated under actual attack. Everyone knew what to do, what was expected of him, and yet there was confusion. Chaos would be compounded if a real attack should come.

Nevertheless, it is a good thing to have every arrangement made to get the important government agencies to a safe place where they can carry out their function of directing the effort of the nation to recover and strike back.

The United States wants to avoid war. If it should come despite our efforts it is likely that the enemy will strike the first blow. It is well to know that the first blow need not be the end of it all, that the country would not be left without leadership, without a center around which to rally.

STREET CAR NAMED DESIRE

HAL BOYLE

Woman Comes To Sam Houston Aid

MARYVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Davy Crockett, king of the wild frontier? Why, man, there are people here in Davy's old home state who'll tell you he was nothing but a well-to-do boy in an oversized conk-slicker cap compared to Sam Houston.

Davy died in the Alamo, but Big Sam, who spent his youth here, was an even greater soldier and statesman and led Texas into the Union. It is hard today to imagine what Texas would be like if it hadn't been for Sam Houston—and all wells of course.

Young Sam might have been judged a juvenile delinquent by modern standards, but he outgrew it. And to Mrs. Boyd McKenzie, one of a group trying to preserve as a historic shrine the old one-room log cabin in which Houston once taught school, Davy isn't in the same class with Sam as a frontier hero.

"We'd never even heard much of Davy Crockett until six months ago," she said firmly. Mrs. McKenzie is the descendant of a family which owned land next to the farm on which Sam Houston's widowed mother settled in Tennessee. She made the trek here from Virginia with her nine children.

Young Sam was an avid reader and avid to farm work. He used to run away and live with the Cherokee Indians who named him "The Raven."

"His first mention here was for public drunkenness at the age of 15," said Mrs. McKenzie. "He was washed up and down the streets beating a drum and was charged with disturbing the peace."

During the next year he opened a school here to pay off debts of $100—a big amount in those days. He had run up the bill buying presents for his mother and some Indian maidens.

The previous teachers had charged $6 a semester tuition," said Mrs. McKenzie, "but Sam raised it to $8 and insisted that a third be paid in cash."

"His pupils ranged in age from 4 to 80 years, and so many came that he had to turn some away."

Houston's teaching career was brief. He ran up more bills, as he himself later admitted, in "riotous living." In March, 1813, a recruit ing officer came to town, beat on a drum and called aloud: "Hear ye; hear; if ye want to join Gen. Jackson's army to fight the savage Indian, come and take a dollar from the drumhead, and this will regularly enroll ye."

Young Sam, egged on by a friend, stepped up and took his dollar and became a soldier.

His military and political rise after that was swift. He became a governor of Tennessee; he later commanded the army of Texas; led the Republic of Texas, served as a U. S. senator and governor of Texas. He was deposed as governor because he opposed the entrance of Texas into the Confederacy, and died in 1863 at the age of 70 with the fate of Union still unsettled.

During his last years someone once asked him which of all his posts of authority had given him the most pleasure. And rather wistfully the old frontier hero said he remembered best the task of being a schoolteacher in the foodline of his youth.

The simple old schoolhouse, weathered by the winds of 161 years, still stands. Wealthy Texans have tried to buy it and move it to the Lone Star state, but Tennessee isn't about to sell it. Or about to fix it up properly either, judging from its present look of disrepair.

MAN DUMPS CANTALOUPE
TYLER, Tex. (AP)—A farmer was arrested Tuesday for trying to dump a truckload of his cantaloupes on the downtown square.

W. Carl Wester, 58, claimed Tyler stores were selling Arizona melons and "I can't get 2 cents for mine." He began dumping his in protest.

Arresting officers bought two bushels at $1 a bushel. But Wester must appear in City Court on charges of disturbing the peace.

Dixon, Yates Become Well Known

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mr. Dixon and Mr. Yates were becoming as well known as Gilbert and Sullivan, Pat and Mike, and the Smith Brothers. They may not be heard of much any more.

They can truthfully say they were just minding their own business, which is selling electric power, when they decided to sell some to the government.

It took them a long time to get a contract with the government. Now it may be canceled.

The city of Memphis, Tenn., threw the switch on them. Memphis buys electric power at fairly cheap rates from the government's Tennessee Valley Authority. The Atomic Energy Commission takes one third of TVA's output.

Early in 1953 AEC and TVA decided a new plant, capable of producing 600,000 kilowatts, was needed. That power would be pumped into Memphis to make up for power drained off by AEC. What to do?

TVA wanted to build the plant. Three times the Republican-run

Congress said no. President Eisenhower was against it too. He wanted private power companies, or the people in the area, to meet future power needs. Then Dixon-Yates came into the picture.

Edgar H. Dixon is president of Middle South Utilities, Inc., operating in Arkansas, Louisiana and Mississippi. Eugene Yates is chairman of the board of the Southern Co., operating in Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida.

They formed the Mississippi Valley Generating Co., since known as Dixon-Yates. This was the idea: they'd take care of Memphis' power needs by building a 600,000-kilowatt plant just across the river in West Memphis, Ark.

They'd pump their power into the TVA system, which would then supply Memphis. And AEC, because its needs made all this necessary, would pay the bill for the power.

GIANT OMELET
BECKETT, Mass. (AP)—Although driver Wallace Dawson, 29, of Grand Rapids, Mich., knew his tractor trailer was loaded with 518 crates of eggs, he deliberately caused his truck to turn over on its side.

Police credited Dawson's move with saving life and limb—even if it did smash the eggs.

Dawson brought the truck over on its side when he discovered his brakes were out of order on a downgrade. The truck skidded 150 feet but Dawson was unhurt.

YOU'RE TELLING ME!

LOOKS like a placid summer. Senator McCarthy is quiet. Mauna Kea is quiet. The House voted to continue the $22 billion debt ceiling. That keeps it up where it's too high to worry about. An optimist is a man who shoots his normal golf score two or three times a year. Treasury Secretary Humphrey says taxes are too high, but he doesn't know when they can be reduced. Doesn't that sound like your boss saying you're worth more money, etc.?

Try and Stop Me

GROUCHO MARX met an honest-to-Hemingway bull fighter and asked him, "How many bulls do you figure you've met?" "Two hundred, Senator," smirked the matador. "You surely must be the envy of every cow in Mexico," marveled Marx.

Groucho had another experience, this time at the Louvre in Paris. His last cigar slipped out of his hands and was promptly mashed to a pulp by the crowd. "Hell," grumbled the Groucho—with which a French radio announcer stopped up and handed him a box of Havanna. "Congratulations, beamed the radioman. That was the necessary word for those weeks."

In Red Springs, N. C., Flora Perry, librarian of the exclusive Flora McDonald College for the cream of Southern womanhood, noticed that an old Negro in the beautiful gardens always was on the job a full hour before any of his fellows. It was no urge to better his position in life, he hastened to explain to Miss Perry. "No sir, it's a chance to be earlier 'er it."

Older Person Should Count His Vitamins

WHEN there is no special diet for the aged, it is important that you obtain all meals which are well-balanced and abundant in protective foods. Many of you don't do this for various reasons. As you grow older your sense of taste may decline. Very often this reduces appetite and you have little or no desire to eat a variety of foods. Thus, you stick to essentially the same menu day after day and week after week.

Then, too, digestion in the elderly person is not as efficient as it is in younger folk. Gastrointestinal function frequently is slowed. Absorption of vitamins is reduced and other aids to digestion are out.

Maybe your doctors don't do anything about it. Many elderly people do not know anything you have in your diet. You are satisfied with what you eat. But what you eat is not adequate for your body's needs. It's shorting the best vitamins and minerals which your body needs.

It's probably advisable to take vitamin supplements. However, be sure that it is also known that you get at least recommended amounts from your diet.

Generally, the elderly person needs calcium and iron more than any other minerals. Iron deficiency is the most common nutritional deficiency in the aged. Iron deficiency may result in weakness, lack of energy, and other symptoms.

With built-up stress you may improve. Get out, exercise and also hospital. Surgery may be required in severe cases.

Older Person Should Count His Vitamins

There are numerous other foods containing iron, of course, but those that I have listed are especially desirable because they also contain some cobalt, copper and manganese. And these minerals help development of hemoglobin, the oxygen-carrying pigment in red blood corpuscles.

It's important to maintain a normal calcium level in your blood to help keep your body's acid-base economy, regulate normal blood-clotting and to keep your muscular and nervous systems in good shape. Leafy green vegetables, therefore, are a "must" in your diet, as are plenty of cheese and at least one pint of milk every day.

I have a glass of milk in the morning, another in the evening and one or two during my working day. I strongly urge you to do the same.

Answer: Many children have what is known as presenile or senile cataracts. They are very common.

Special diets, which are prescribed on the basis of diet and food, should be given. The most type of diet to be given to the child will be prescribed by your physician after examination.

With built-up stress you may improve. Get out, exercise and also hospital. Surgery may be required in severe cases.

Universities Still Arguing About Football

UNIVERSITIES (SPTS) 24 3
GAINESVILLE, Fla.—The University of Florida and Florida State University are still arguing about terms for a football game but agreement has been reached on beginning relations in minor sports.

Competition in golf, tennis and swimming will begin in 1956 with dates and times to be made public when regular schedules are released.

This was announced by the University of Florida following a meeting on the campus yesterday between Coach Bob Woodruff, Dr. Howard G. Danford, FSU athletic director, and the faculty chairman of athletics of the two schools.

"No agreement was reached in football, basketball or baseball though there was considerable discussion of these sports," Woodruff said.

The announcement continued: "The reason no agreement was reached in football, basketball and baseball is that FSU does not wish to compete with Florida in those sports unless it is on a home and home basis, and 50-50 division of the gate receipts."

Woodruff said he had made five contract offers to FSU to play a football game in 1954. The latest offer, he said, provides for a game to be played on Florida Field here with FSU to receive a $20,000 guarantee as its share of the gate receipts and also 6,000 reserved seats for use by FSU students and faculty or as FSU sees fit.

"Since it is necessary for Florida to proceed with its scheduling of other opponents in 1954, it is desirable that FSU make an early decision," he added.

Dr. Danford said: "The position taken by Florida State University is that home and home games with equitable options regarding the disposition of gate receipts is based upon common practice and is in accord with agreements that have already been effected for games prior to 1954 with other Southeastern Conference teams, Auburn and Georgia, and also with the University of Miami."

Woodruff said that "Under Florida's well established policies and the interuniversity agreement reached on Feb. 3 this year" his latest offer is the best that Florida is in a position to make.

His earlier offers provided for three to five-year schedules, with all games to be played in Gainesville, FSU to accept the same guarantee it gets for playing other Southeastern Conference teams, and FSU to observe SEC eligibility requirements.

Rookie Has Carved Place For Himself In Baseball Circle

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Earl Averill, a Cleveland farmhand, is just a rookie in Southern Area baseball but the stocky Nashville catcher already has carved a niche for himself in the record books.

The 24-year-old slugger wiped out a record that had been standing for a quarter of a century when he blasted three home runs and two doubles for 18 total bases in the Vol's 13-0 rout of Chattanooga last night.

Averill, son of the former Cleveland outfield star, Earl Sr., surpassed by one the record for total bases in a single game set by another Vol, Jim Poole, in 1906.

The rookie's performance stole the league limelight from the Memphis Chicks, whose two victories over Little Rock pulled them into a tie for first place with rained-out Birmingham.

The Chicks defeated Little Rock 6-4 on a pair of fifty pitching jobs by Bob Cain and Paul Huffel. And New Orleans got a masterful mound performance out of Curt Hayden and edged Atlanta 2-0. Birmingham and Mobile were rained out for the third straight night.

A total of 2,740 calves and heifers were made last year on herds which ran at the three New Jersey race tracks.

Barber Starts In Lead

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—Keller golf course, which held up pretty well for the National PGA last year, was left a shambles yesterday by the nation's top golf professionals in the first round of the St. Paul Open.

Little Jerry Barber of Los Angeles knocked nine strokes off the par 72 with a 63 to take the lead. Barber teed off today only a stroke ahead of Fred Hawkins of St. Andrews, Ill., and Art Wall of J. Pococo Manor, Pa., who held out with 64.

Two strokes off the pace were Tommy Bolt, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Walker Inman, Augusta, Ga.; and Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa., the National Amateur king in 1954.

No less than 30 professionals in a field of 140 starters shattered Keller's par of 72 and 24 of the players broke 70 in the greatest opening day scoring burst in the 25 years tournaments have been played here.

Lloyd Mangrum's course record of 62 withstood the first withering assault. But the first nine record of under par 30, held jointly by Joe Coria of St. Paul and Mangrum, was equaled twice.

The first to do it was Barber and a few minutes later, Palmer also matched it. Coria missed the second nine record of 29 set by Herman Kohler, by a stroke.

Hawkins and Wall both shot 5-under-par 65 on the second nine. Coria, the tournament's early leader Thursday with a morning round of 66, had slipped back to seventh by nightfall. George Bigham of Kansas City, Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., and Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, Calif., were deadlocked with 68.

Fourteen players were tied at 69 among them such tournament favorites as Mike Souchak, the nation's leading money winner, Dow "Pinterwald," Bedford Heights, Ohio; Bo Wittinger, Oklahoma City; Bob Rosburg, San Francisco, and Frank Stranahan of Toledo.

Sammy Snead, who won at Keller in 1937 and captured the Western Open here in 1949, was in an eight-way tie at 70 as were Bud Holsinger and former No. 1 on a 1949 Open Champion Julius Borna.

The tournament's 13-hole record is a 22-under-par 264, shared by Mangrum and Cary Middlecoff.

Evans, Cooke Fight To Exciting Draw

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Billy Evans, 1954, of Pasadena, Calif., and Wayne Cooke, 1951, Los Angeles, battled to a sensational 10-round draw at the Olympic Auditorium last night. The bout was televised.

Evans lashed out in the tenth with two left hooks to the jaw that sent Cooke down for an eight count. With time running out, Cooke nailed Evans with a series of rights to the head and Referee Russ Bradford ruled that Evans was out on the ropes although he had not gone down. He gave him a six count before allowing the bout to continue. With only five seconds remaining, Cooke got in another right hand punch and Evans appeared on his way to the deck as the bell sounded.

While the crowd showered coins on the fighters, Referee Bradford's decision was announced as 66 to 54 for Evans. Judge Reggie Gilmore called it 54 to 54 for Cooke, and Judge John Thomas called it a 15-15 draw.

Alabama-Florida Man Has No-Hitter

CRESTVIEW, Fla. (AP)—Crestview's Jeff Walker turned in an Alabama-Florida League no-hitter last night, defeating DeKalb 3-0.

Keith Paces FSL With Robust .407 Batting Average

Dan Keith once more paces the Florida State League in batting, this week upping his average eighth point to a robust .407. Keith still nurses a substantial lead over his closest competitor for batting honors, the WPR first-sacker, Red Roberts, who registers a mark of .363 for his efforts with the wood.

Keith paces the circuit in base hits again with 112, and in two-base hits with 24.

Leading once more in r.h.s. is Leo Rodriguez of Cocoa who sports an accumulation of 77, while he again shows the way in homers with 13, no change from last week.

Roberts repeats as total base champ with 168, while Dike Wilson and Dave Drapp, both of Orlando, vie for runs-scored honors with 86 each. Bill Patino of Daytona has noticed the most triples, 12, while Orlando Gonzalez of Cocoa shows the way on the base paths with his 31 stolen bases.

On the hill, Al Gorey of Orlando can boast the most wins, 15, while John Emith of Daytona has racked up the most strikeouts, 156.

Dave Cortright singled in Stewart Cloos to break up the 14-inning game but was out at West Palm Beach. The fray became tied up in the seventh when Cocoa manager Doug Williams doubled. Each team picked up a run in the tenth, Cocoa's coming on Chester Dungan's double and an error and West Palm Beach's on a double by Cortright and a single by LeRoy Irbry.

Jowle Takes Lead In British Open Golf Championship

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—Stokey Frank Jowle, the low qualifier from Yorkshire, fired a 3-under-par 69 today for a third round 210 to take over the lead in the British Open golf championship.

Nia 69 gave him a 2-stroke lead over Eric Brown of Scotland who had taken an early lead at 212 with a 73.

Peter Thomson, of Australia, and P. F. Smalldon, a Welshman, who were tied with Brown at 180 starting today's final 36 holes, were not among the early third-round finishers.

Johnny Falson, a Scot, who started the third round only one stroke off the leaders, stayed on their heels with a 73 for a 213.

Prospect that Ed Furgol, the 1954 American Open champion from Clayton, Mo., would stage a comeback, became dimmer.

Starting the day's activities with a 107, Furgol took a disastrous 7 on the 16th hole in the morning. Until then he was 2 under par, but he finished with a 73 for a 213.

Byron Nelson, former American champion, from Rossmore, Tex., dropped further back with a 79 for a 222 total. Nelson also took a 7 on the 16th.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK (AP)—A man says he has seen it seriously suggested that the Brooklyn Dodgers can win the National League pennant merely by playing 500 ball the rest of the way, and he wants to know if this is true. The answer is that they might, provided the other clubs cooperate, but that they had better not try it.

In looking back over that fabled season of 1951, the one in which the Giants passed their "little miracle," it still comes as a mild surprise to realize that the Dodgers held a 13½-game lead in the middle of a doubleheader on August 11. Also that from that point on Charley Dressen's beset athletes played better than 500 ball—27.25 to be exact—and did not get into the World Series.

So, it all depends upon whether there is a team in the league which, starting within the next month, can put together a victory streak somewhere approximating the 39-8 drive that carried the Giants into a tie on the final day and set the stage for Bobby Thomson's dream home run in the last inning of a three-game playoff.

It is possible, of course, that even such a streak by, say, the Milwaukee Braves would not turn the trick this time, for it is generally acknowledged that today's Dodgers are a sounder outfit than the '51 club. There is more strength and in pitching. Hitting a series of crippling injuries to key men, it is difficult to imagine them settling for an even break the rest of the way.

Delving into how the '51 club contrived to dissipate its great lead—10-35 in the Giants' 53-51 on the day the world began to tilt—one is struck by luckless Ralph Branca's role in the skid to oblivion. Plainly, it was meant that the young right-hander should throw the ball that Thomson poked into the Polo Grounds balcony.

Through Aug. 11 Branca was sporting a gaudy 10-3 mark and appeared to be on the brink of a fine career. He was to win only three more games while losing nine, and was never to regain his skill and confidence after Thomson's climactic bid.

Branca had some help, of course. Don Newcombe, who was 13-5

Weather

Partly cloudy to cloudy through Tuesday with scattered showers and thunderstorms; high today 85-90, low tonight 73-76.

WALTER SREANI, 64, night auditor of the Metropolitan Club in New York, is attended for knife wound at Roosevelt Hospital. At right is an ambulance attendant. Kesaks charged that watchman Arturo Maldonado, who gave himself up, stabbed him when he refused to open the club's safe. Maldonado denied any robbery motive. He said he defended himself when Kesaks attacked him with a hammer after he refused to stay at desk while the auditor went out for awhile.

County Judge Tells Purpose For Juveniles

County Judge Ernest Housholder emphasized today that it is his purpose to "not only give Seminole County the outstanding juvenile court but to eliminate juvenile delinquency and create juvenile obedience."

He quoted from a letter he submitted earlier this month to the County Commission and expressed the opinion that the Commission will give the juvenile program "the most careful consideration."

In the letter, he asked the Commission for a $1,500 appropriation for detention home, parental and general care of juvenile delinquents and dependents. This is in addition to the court's $5,500 budget for the fiscal year.

The budget was broken down in this manner: compensation of the County Judge, $200 a month; compensation of juvenile counselor Larry Jones, $1,800 plus a $300 expense account; compensation of the secretary and office stenographer, $1,500; and miscellaneous expenses, $200.

Judge Housholder, who has been appointed to the State Juvenile Court committee by the president of the State Bar Association, told the Commissioners in his letter: "You doubtless know that this court has developed into the most active and exacting court in the county and it requires much of my time and consideration during active office hours and I am giving much of my out-of-office time to the study and work of juvenile problems, welfare and education."

"By the elimination and prevention of juvenile delinquency we will have saved many of our children from the usual pitfalls of youth and at the same time save the county the expenditures of thousands of dollars."

"It is my purpose beginning early this fall to carry a general welfare juvenile program throughout the entire county. This will involve innumerable meetings and speaking engagements with the children in every school, all PTAs, women's clubs, civic clubs and churches and church organizations, white and colored."

"During the short period of 10 months as juvenile judge, we have established a court that will stand most favorable comparison with any other juvenile court in the state."

"As a matter of fact, with any of the separate and independent juvenile courts, even though our facilities have been limited."

Judge Housholder said the office in the court house formerly occupied by the Farm Home Administration will be used by the court purposes as soon as work is completed on it. The office is directly across from the present County Judge's office.

Interested persons are invited to attend. The program is under the direction of Miss Dillon Baker, assisted by George Dabha.

Officials of the big resort city, working on the possibility of the two fires were deliberately set, questioned five Negroes yesterday, but later released them.

A $200,000 fire leveled the Negro Baptist temple late Saturday night and a second, smaller blaze damaged the interior of the Negro Second Baptist church eight hours later. Acting police chief, commenting on the church fires, said, "This looks like more than coincidence."

No one was in the churches when the fires broke out.

UNUSUAL BIRTHPLACE CHICAGO (AP)—Mrs. John Purvis and her two-day-old son, James William, are doing fine today, none-the-worse for James' birth on a sidewalk in front of their North Side home Saturday night.

The Purvis' timing was off, and they barely reached the street on the way to the hospital when Mrs. Purvis murmured, "This is it."

He reportedly served as a Ranger longer than any other man—about 25 years ago—before Hamer had lived here since retiring 10 years ago.

PA. TURNPIKE USED FOR LANDING FIELD BEDFORD, Pa. (AP)—Force Maj. Leo C. Bonneau, lost and out of fuel in his F4U jet plane, badly needed a place to land yesterday and picked the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Luckily he landed at a time when there was a lull in the usual heavy Sunday traffic. The major got his ship down in an eastbound lane near the Sideling Hill Tunnel in Fulton County about 30 miles east of here.

He was unhurt and the plane was only slightly damaged.

Manager Of Players Will Address Guild

Bill Fegan, assistant manager of the Vagabond Players, professional company of Flat Rock, N. C., will speak at a meeting of the Sanford Theatre Guild tomorrow night in the City Hall auditorium. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

Fegan, who has been associated with amateur and professional theatre for seven years, will lead a discussion on "Other Forms of Presenting Drama." He will discuss chiefly theatre-in-the-round and the growing favorite, the reading theatre.

Illustrations of techniques and scenes from plays will highlight his program.

A graduate of Juniata College in Pennsylvania, Fegan has worked as actor, director and producer in more than 100 productions. He is in charge of the school of the theatre associated with the Vagabond Players.

As a feature of the evening, Fegan will lead a reading of a contemporary play, using members of the audience in the cast.

This will be the second of a series of workshop meetings being held by the Sanford Theatre Guild throughout the summer months. The purpose is to foster interest in amateur theatre by providing entertainment and instruction in acting, makeup, lighting, directing, publicity, set construction, and other phases of work.

Interested persons are invited to attend. The program is under the direction of Miss Dillon Baker, assisted by George Dabha.

Mrs. Sybil Routh At Wisconsin Meet

Mrs. Sybil Routh of Sanford is one of a group of adults from all over the United States taking part in the pioneer session of the new midwest Audubon Camp in Wisconsin. The camp is similar in program to three others operated by the National Audubon Society in Maine, Connecticut, and California, but its central location has attracted a near-capacity group of teachers, other youth leaders and those with a professional or hobby interest in nature and conservation education.

The course of instruction emphasizes teaching and leadership techniques. It is designed to equip the student to plan and conduct programs furthering nature appreciation and conservation of natural resources. The camp is not limited to members of the National Audubon Society. Anyone eighteen years of age or over is eligible to attend.

Rev. Robert Spear Is Attending Camp

The Rev. Robert Spear Jr., pastor, and six members of the Church of the Nazarene left this morning to attend the Suwannee River Youth Camp at the Stephen Foster Memorial, near White Springs. The five-day camp opened today.

The Rev. Mr. Spear will be a teacher. Accompanying him were Betty and Helen Pittard, Alan, Kay and Betty Sandifer and Margaret Jones.

Singing Convict Greeted By FBI

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The brilliant member of an escaped Alabama prison quartet called his Birmingham wife from Memphis last night and stepped from the telephone booth into the arms of FBI agents.

He was Walter Tidwell, 30, described by Kirby prison officials as the "tough guy" of the hymn-singers and probably the leader of last Friday's escape.

Orrille Gray, 37, who had refused a parole year ago to stay with the quartet, visited a father and an uncle at their homes at Grifflingville, Ark.

A cafe operator reported Gray and his two companions, Bobby Tidwell, 22, and Bobby Cottrell, 22 of Roanoke, Va., had eaten breakfast at his cafe at Kennett, Ark.

Sheriff Jack Price said at Searcy that Gray's father, Jess Gray, and the uncle, Louis MacDonald, tried to talk the fleeing convict, who had only six months to serve on a 10-year robbery sentence, into surrendering. Both quoted him as answering, "I'll take care of that later."

The convicts overpowered a guard Friday night while en route to the prison at Montgomery, Ala., after a singing appearance at Linden, Ala.

Off-Street Parking Is Issue

Other Business To Be Discussed

The subdivision ordinance five specific requirements for subdivisions and of the type in use in other cities, City Clerk H. N. Saver said.

In other business, the Commission will discuss: 1. Vacating of the south end of Washington Court and the west end of Wynnewood Drive.

2. Regulation of the operation of the municipal cemetery.

3. Reorganization of the public works departments.

4. Hiring a sewer foreman.

Rodeo Performers Are Fatally Shot; Husband Queried

WACO, Tex. (AP)—Two rodeo performers were shot fatally yesterday in a Waco motel.

A few hours later the estranged husband of one of the victims came to the Dallas County Sheriff's office with his attorney and was questioned until the early morning hours.

Bobby Boyce Darby, 24, was killed instantly with two shots in the head from a small-caliber weapon. Mrs. Polly McGowan, 28, died several hours later from one gunshot wound in the head.

She recently had separated from her husband, Raymond F. McGowan, 49, and moved from Dallas to Waco.

Friends said Mrs. McGowan, a truck riding instructor, stopped at the motel about 10 a. m. to pick up Darby, one of her students.

Manager Admits He Escaped Gang; Is Back At Work

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Frank M. Beverly, who says he'll fight extradition to Alabama where he escaped from a prison road gang in 1947, has gone back to work as manager of a Sunset Strip restaurant.

He was working yesterday, two days after admitting to police that he was really Oscar Fred Tidwell and had served two years of a five-year sentence. He claimed he was convicted on a false charge of embezzlement $200.

Police said the Alabama State Board of Corrections has indicated it will move this week to extradite Beverly.

Meanwhile, Beverly is free on a bond returnable Thursday. He is staunchly supported by his wife, Eunice, 34, whom he married here, and his employer, Sam Spiegelman.

Old Texas Ranger Dies From Attack

AUSTIN (AP)—Frank Hamer, long time Texas Ranger captain who took part in the 1934 ambush that left outlaw Clyde Barrow and Bonnie Parker mangled with bullets on a lonely Louisiana road, died last night.

A heart attack killed the 71-year-old lawman described by friends as "blunt, stubborn and fearless." His 6-foot-4½ frame had been wounded 14 times.

He reportedly served as a Ranger longer than any other man—about 25 years ago—before Hamer had lived here since retiring 10 years ago.

PA. TURNPIKE USED FOR LANDING FIELD BEDFORD, Pa. (AP)—Force Maj. Leo C. Bonneau, lost and out of fuel in his F4U jet plane, badly needed a place to land yesterday and picked the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Luckily he landed at a time when there was a lull in the usual heavy Sunday traffic. The major got his ship down in an eastbound lane near the Sideling Hill Tunnel in Fulton County about 30 miles east of here.

He was unhurt and the plane was only slightly damaged.

Police Report Auto Is Out Of Control As It Crashes Tree

Damage estimated at $250 was reported to a 1947 Mercury sedan which police said went out of control at an intersection, jumped the curb and hit a tree early today.

The driver, Lois Katherine Johnson, 19, Welaka Apts., was charged with careless and negligent driving and driving without a license. Police said the owner of the car, Henry T. Johnson, 1319 Celery Ave., was charged with allowing an unauthorized person to drive his automobile.

The accident occurred at 12:30 a. m. at the intersection of First St. and Mellonville Ave.

Investigating officers were Patrolmen Joe Hickson and W. D. Cosgrava.

1st Degree Murder Charge Faces Wife

CEDAR CITY, Utah (AP)—A woman whose husband died of poisoning faced a charge of first degree murder today. Her sister is serving a life sentence after being convicted of poisoning her own husband.

The complaint was lodged against Mrs. Raymond Ashdown, 33, her sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Lacey Ashdown, was convicted of murder in 1948 after her husband, Vivian, died of poisoning.

Mrs. Ashdown is sister of Sheriff Arthur Nelson of Iron County said the Cedar City woman told of putting "five or six grains of strychnine in a glass of lemon juice."

Her husband, the father of seven, died Tuesday. His brother died after strychnine was put in his hamburger during a party at Home-dale.

Bush Takes Over As Rotary Leader

The weekly meeting of the Sanford Rotary Club held at the Yacht Club this noon was featured by several reports and the induction into the office of president for the year 1955-56 of William Bush, Jr. by outgoing president James F. Holtschaw.

After an interesting report on the activities of the Rotary Baseball League by Roy Heller, who expressed his appreciation to all who helped toward the successful operation of the league, treasurer Walter M. Haynes gave a financial report that proved satisfactory to his hearers.

At this part of the program, Holtschaw turned the gavel of authority over to the new president and presented Bush with the president's pin. After thanking his predecessor, he called on past president Brack Perkins Jr. for the presentation to Jim Hois-claw of the past president's pin.

The Rev. Louisa Scott, new president-at-arms, gave a short talk on the Rotarian magazine.

George Touhy offered the invocation at the beginning of the meeting; visitors were introduced by the Rev. Scott and the singing was led by Charlie Morrison with Harry Kotdal, at the piano.

War Is Declared On Short 'Fla.'

JACKSONVILLE (AP)—A committee to spell out Florida's declared war on "Fla."

It wants people to fence the abbreviation and spell in full the name of this state on letters, signs, or anywhere they write it.

Chairman Noble Cohen, Jacksonville department store executive, explained the idea: "Fla. just doesn't mean anything."

"But Florida means many things. It means the land of flowers; it means the land of oranges; it means the land of sunshine; it means the land of citrus fruit; it means the land of beauty."

Final plans for welcoming new Naval officials to Sanford will be discussed at the regular monthly meeting of Chamber of Commerce directors Tuesday night at City Hall. The meeting will begin at 8 o'clock.

Roy Heller vouches for the authenticity of this one—While out on the West Side he stopped to watch a farmer who was plowing with one mule. He heard the farmer yell, "Gik Pabal Gidday, Hanyol Gik Johnny! Got goin', Tom!" Roy asked the farmer, "How many names does that gule have? to which the farmer replied, "Only one. His name is Peta but he don't know his own strength, so I puts blinders on 'im, yell a lot of names at 'im and he thinks three other mules are helping him."

Assurance Sought For City To Build Own Power Plant

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration officials studying possible construction of the Dixon-Yates contract apparently sought financial assurance today that the city of Memphis will build its own power plant.

They arranged a conference with Memphis Mayor Frank Tobey and Maj. Thomas H. Allen, president of the city's light, gas and water division.

Tobey and Allen were called here to meet with Atty. Gen. Brownell, Budget Director Rowland R. Hughes and Chairman Vogel of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The three were designated by President Eisenhower to restudy the whole matter of the controversial private power contract after Memphis announced plans to build its own plant rather than buy Dixon-Yates power through the TVA.

Congressmen Told No Plans Slated To Scatter Posts

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army has told sharply critical congressmen it has no plans to scatter its posts more widely in this country as a precaution against atomic warfare.

Rep. Riley (D-SC) said this might invite a "major disaster."

This was disclosed today with the release of testimony given secretly June 20 before a House Appropriations subcommittee which is considering this year's two-billion-dollar military public works budget.

Under questioning, retiring Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens said the Army's "planning for the modern atomic age takes the form" of new dispersal tactics in combat, "rather than any major change in the installations themselves."

Convicts Charged With Suspicion

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Two convicts who struck and fatally injured two persons while driving a stolen prison station wagon in a futile escape attempt Saturday have been charged with suspicion of murder.

The convicts, Luther J. Masters, 33, and Harry L. Nelson, 37, set off a wild chase through Atlanta's outskirts by taking the station wagon and fleeing while on a $10,000 bond at the DeKalb County prison camp.

They struck 17-year-old Johnny Howell, who was riding a motorcycle, and Atlanta Patrolman Clyde L. Hickey, 37, who attempted to stop them on a motorcycle.

Morrow Takes Over Managerial Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Everett Franklin Morrow, a Negro, moved into a key managerial post in President Eisenhower's executive office today. He is the first of his race to hold a job of that caliber there.

The White House announced Saturday Morrow's appointment as administrative officer for the special projects group, which includes such planning services as foreign economic policy, public works and Government. The pay scale is between $12,000 and $15,000 a year.

Permanent Power Of 578,000 Is Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has been told the Army is planning on a permanent strength of 578,000 men in the indefinite future.

Retiring Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens told a House Appropriations subcommittee in testimony released today that this is the maximum total for which the Army now intends to ask Congress to finance permanent construction.

Under President Eisenhower's disputed cutback program, the Army is scheduled to be down to 487,000 men by 1956-57.

New York Editor Claims Publicity Has Ruined Scheme

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—New York editor Howard Rushmore, complaining that publicity given a trip he wanted to be secret has made his sources "clam up," flew back to Chicago today.

It's like "working in a gold fish bowl," he said.

Rushmore, a 65-year-old publisher who is editor of Confidential, a monthly national magazine, popped up in Butte, Mont., under an assumed name Saturday. He said he was searching for a man he described as a top Communist leader.

But by then publicity about his being missing from Chicago had caught up with him, and he flew to Salt Lake City looking for another man.

He said the reports about his being missing were "all a big mistake." They arose when he failed to keep an appointment Friday with a Chicago detective.

He denied his disappearance was a publicity stunt.

Foreign Aid Bill Goes For Crossfire

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $2,638,711,750 foreign aid money bill headed into a crossfire from budget-cutters and budget-boosters today in the House.

Already trimmed $27,900,000 before President Eisenhower's requests by the Appropriations Committee, the bill would finance for the current fiscal year the program of military and economic aid to non-Communist nations.

It would supplement an estimated $8,717,000,000 in unexpended balances from previous appropriations.

Some members don't think the Appropriations Committee backed the bill deeply enough, while others contend it has been cut too deeply.

The budget-cutters went into the fray without the services of their usual leader, Rep. John Taber of New York.
