

Independent Team Trounces Navy Navigators 13-8 In Softball Tilt

A six run rally by the Navy Navigators of the Sanford Naval Air Base taken at the expense of relief pitcher Evans in the sixth inning of the game at City Diamond Ball Park last evening proved too little and too late to defeat a hard hitting independent team of Sanford stars. The score, Independent 13, Navigators, 8.

The Independents started hitting pitcher Evans' offerings in the first inning with singles by Stegle and Moore. Stegle was forced at third on a fielders choice by D. Altman who remained on first. Then up came swarming Duck Ferguson and cleaners the bases with a homer in the second inning the Independents got two more runs, and in the third, Duck hit another long homer, adding to the four run rally. Three more independent runs were scored in the fourth inning, and a lone tally in the sixth by Duck Ferguson.

Ferguson's speedy shoots proved too baffling for the Navigators. However, they took more kindly to Evans' offerings with Collins Higgins and Blenstrom, opening hard grounders good for singles, followed by walkoffs by Grunningater, Everson, Hopp and Evanson, all good for singles which added up to six runs.

Sports Writers Put Georgia U In Second Place

By HAROLD CLASSEN
Associate Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 12. (AP)—Ohio State, coached by Paul Brown, only two years away from capturing a high school eleven, has the best college football team in the opinion of 91 sports writers throughout the United States.

The Buckeyes, undefeated in three starts, top second place by Georgia 141 votes in the Associated Press' first weekly rating of the present season.

Although Minnesota, which was first place in the final polls of both 1940 and 1941, yielded its lofty position and slipped to 14th place, the Big Ten conference dominates with the Ohio and three other entries among the first ten.

Michigan, which has lost only to the Iowa Hawkeyes of Lieut. Col. Bernie Bierman, is third with the surprising Illinois club fifth and Wisconsin seventh, at Ohio State, with victories over Port Knox, Indiana and Southern California, drew 25 first place votes, 23 second place and 22 third place.

The Buckeyes grabbed 15th place in the final ranking of 1941. Georgia, with All-American Frank Binkwich, still has been good enough to subdue four opponents, squeaking by Kentucky, 7 to 6, in the opener, and then measuring Jacksonville naval academy, Furman and Mississippi University.

The Bulldogs, one of the favorites for the Southeastern conference title, drew 18 first place designations, 18 for second, nine for third and 18 for fourth. Their total vote was 494.

Michigan also collected 12 first place tallies and 418 votes for third while Alabama, which is expected to dispute Georgia's right to the Dixie honors was fourth with 10 and 356.

Edwin Teale Is Photographer Of Small Insects

By ROBERT COOL

BALDWIN, L. I. Oct. 12. To most of his neighbors Edwin Teale is known as the man who can spend a solid day in two-acre field without (1) being on a picnic, or (2) apparently doing a stroke of work.

Scientists, however, call him "the American Fabre" and assert that his collection of 15,000 photographs of insects, most of them taken in his same two-acre field, is an important contribution to entomology. Edwin Teale himself insists that he's just an amateur who managed to make a hobby pay.

"In the index of the World Almanac," he says regretfully, "only a single item refers to the 25,000 species of insects which are fellow-dwellers on our planet. It is: Insect Strings. First aid treatment for."

Though not averse to slapping a mosquito, Teale has devoted six years to improving the world's opinion of insects. A large man

HIGHWAY APPROVAL DELAND, Oct. 12. (Special)

The west end of State Road 21 between DeLand and Daytona Beach has been certified by the War Production Board as an access road and is eligible for construction materials normally frozen by government agencies, Division Engineer W. D. Levell of the State Road Department headquarters said here Monday.

Who looks like a former athlete—not at all like one's conception of a "bug expert"—he has become an authority on insect life and an indefatigable photographer.

He can laugh over his own enthusiasm, but four books have opened the eyes of thousands to a new universe beneath their feet. His camera has proved that the tiny occupants of bough and leaf are both photogenic and fascinating.

WORKERS NEEDED
MIAMI, Oct. 12. (AP)—Stressing a "desperate" need for agricultural workers of both sexes, both whites and negroes, to save Dade County's winter crops, James Callahan, manager of the U. S. ## Reds Retake One Section In Stalingrad

Reports Say Russian Armies Are Taking Offensive Around Volga Metropolis

(By Associated Press) Berlin announced today that Heinrich Himmler, chief of Hitler's dreaded Gestapo, is in Rome for a private visit as the guest of the Fascist government but reports of German-Italian fiction suggested this might be more than a social call.

These reports indicated strongly that German suspicion of Italy's attitude toward the United States is the source of the trouble.

(By Associated Press) Marshal Timoshenko's Red armies were reported today to have driven two new wedges into the 18-mile German barrier northwest of Stalingrad, while inside the city, defenders recaptured a street, yielded to the Nazis Monday.

Russian shock troops advanced in two sectors on the northwest corner, along the vital corridor between the Don and Volga rivers, in fighting that swirled around trench lines, hills and villages.

Latest accounts said the Germans were already shivering in the chilly autumn wind and attempting to dig in for another winter's campaign. Stalingrad the battle appeared to be waning.

Since Hitler boasted last month the fall of Stalingrad was inevitable, the Russians seemed to have improved their position.

Russian troops, wresting the initiative from the Germans in key sectors of the now wintry western front, recaptured lost positions in Stalingrad yesterday and cut a new gash in the Nazi line in the Caucasus, a Red Army spokesman announced today.

"In the Stalingrad area our troops recaptured positions which they had lost the day before in the district of the town," the high command said in its only mention of infantry activity inside the Volga city.

The fierce, unrelenting burst of German attacks Monday shaped up as a flash in the pan instead of the indicated resumption of the conquest of Stalingrad by direct assault.

The late communique and supplementary front reports said the Germans now were on the defensive at Stalingrad and on both wings of the Caucasus front, on which winter had clamped its first numbing grip.

Significance of the change in the situation on the lower Soviet front, the preamble to the night communique said merely that "no change took place on the fronts" for the first time in weeks. Efforts to complete the conquest of Stalingrad by direct assault.

Soviet guardmen attacked German forward positions northwest of Stalingrad, the official bulletin said, and "sprung the German back somewhat." They also destroyed one anti-tank gun, 16 machine guns and one mortar battery.

Salamagundi Is Awarded Highest Honor For Annual School Year Book Is Chosen As Best In 500 And 900 Class

Salamagundi, 1942 year book presented by the senior class of Seminole High School last Spring, has received the highest All American Honor Having, for high school year books, by the National Scholastic Press Association Critical Service, and was adjudged on a basis of artistic appearance, photography, material quality, and financial management. It is an editorial selection for special pages devoted to administration, class organizations and activities, school life and athletics. Mr. McKay said.

Mr. McKay quoted a letter from the Service: "Congratulations on your All American Rating. It is a distinct honor for a book to be listed as one of the superior books listed in the National Scholastic Press Association Critical Service. This honor represents real achievement on the part of those responsible for its production. As one of the best, your book is placed in our S. T. A. A. Six Japanese ships sunk, two heavy cruisers, four destroyers and a transport.

One Japanese destroyer probably sunk. Three Japanese destroyers damaged, one, and possibly two, of them crippled and knocked out of action. Thus, the toll inflicted on the Japanese was 10 warships and auxiliaries sunk or damaged in a four-day period.

But the biggest blow of all was struck about midnight Sunday when the American task force intercepted the force of Japanese cruisers, destroyers and transports apparently bent on landing large-scale reinforcements on Guadalcanal.

The major landing attempt was promptly smashed in perhaps the swiftest and most lethal single blow ever delivered by American warships during a 30-minute period.

A novel feature of the Salamagundi are the two skeletons on the cover which are explained as "My whole skeleton, School Life," "My head which is my body, the Faculty; My backbone, the Classes and my ribs, all the student jokes. My arms represent activities; my legs, naturally, school; my feet, the Faculty and the pedestal on which I stand, the school."

Total Of Jap Ships Sunk Is Raised To 79

5 Japanese Warships Destroyed In 30-Minute Battle In Solomon Islands

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—The Navy announced today that the announced United States Western Pacific sank a Japanese heavy cruiser, four other warships, and probably sank another, and damaged two. This report of successful attacks on eight enemy vessels in recent operations raised the announced United States toll of Japanese naval and merchant shipping to 79 sunk, 20 possibly sunk and 21 damaged, a total of 124.

American fleet units, returning to the battle of the Solomons, sank a Japanese heavy cruiser, four destroyers and a transport during a fierce 30-minute battle Sunday night in perhaps the biggest single blow delivered against the enemy fleet there. The Navy disclosed last night.

Navy and Marine topography and dive bombers pursuing the retreating Jap force Monday then knocked another cruiser out of action and probably sank another destroyer.

Only one unnamed American destroyer was lost in the sea battle. Thus did Uncle Sam's blue jackets and armor-averse the loss of the cruiser, heavy cruiser, and four other vessels, which were sunk on Sunday night in the final phase of the American offensive against the Solomons.

An announcement of the smashing victory came Saturday at the United States Navy Department. The new land force, which succeeded in strengthening the American position, was accompanied by savage offensive and defense aerial thrusts which cost the Japanese two cruisers, four destroyers and a transport.

Those attacks were completed Sunday a few hours before the American task force of cruisers and destroyers intercepted the Jap fleet unit and pounded it into defeat.

Today's two Navy communiqués brought the best news of destruction for the two actions of the week. Six Japanese ships sunk, two heavy cruisers, four destroyers and a transport.

Thus, the toll inflicted on the Japanese was 10 warships and auxiliaries sunk or damaged in a four-day period.

But the biggest blow of all was struck about midnight Sunday when the American task force intercepted the force of Japanese cruisers, destroyers and transports apparently bent on landing large-scale reinforcements on Guadalcanal.

The major landing attempt was promptly smashed in perhaps the swiftest and most lethal single blow ever delivered by American warships during a 30-minute period.

Reds Retake One Section In Stalingrad

Reports Say Russian Armies Are Taking Offensive Around Volga Metropolis

(By Associated Press) Berlin announced today that Heinrich Himmler, chief of Hitler's dreaded Gestapo, is in Rome for a private visit as the guest of the Fascist government but reports of German-Italian fiction suggested this might be more than a social call.

These reports indicated strongly that German suspicion of Italy's attitude toward the United States is the source of the trouble.

(By Associated Press) Marshal Timoshenko's Red armies were reported today to have driven two new wedges into the 18-mile German barrier northwest of Stalingrad, while inside the city, defenders recaptured a street, yielded to the Nazis Monday.

Russian shock troops advanced in two sectors on the northwest corner, along the vital corridor between the Don and Volga rivers, in fighting that swirled around trench lines, hills and villages.

Latest accounts said the Germans were already shivering in the chilly autumn wind and attempting to dig in for another winter's campaign. Stalingrad the battle appeared to be waning.

Since Hitler boasted last month the fall of Stalingrad was inevitable, the Russians seemed to have improved their position.

Russian troops, wresting the initiative from the Germans in key sectors of the now wintry western front, recaptured lost positions in Stalingrad yesterday and cut a new gash in the Nazi line in the Caucasus, a Red Army spokesman announced today.

"In the Stalingrad area our troops recaptured positions which they had lost the day before in the district of the town," the high command said in its only mention of infantry activity inside the Volga city.

The fierce, unrelenting burst of German attacks Monday shaped up as a flash in the pan instead of the indicated resumption of the conquest of Stalingrad by direct assault.

The late communique and supplementary front reports said the Germans now were on the defensive at Stalingrad and on both wings of the Caucasus front, on which winter had clamped its first numbing grip.

Significance of the change in the situation on the lower Soviet front, the preamble to the night communique said merely that "no change took place on the fronts" for the first time in weeks. Efforts to complete the conquest of Stalingrad by direct assault.

Soviet guardmen attacked German forward positions northwest of Stalingrad, the official bulletin said, and "sprung the German back somewhat." They also destroyed one anti-tank gun, 16 machine guns and one mortar battery.

Salamagundi Is Awarded Highest Honor For Annual School Year Book Is Chosen As Best In 500 And 900 Class

Salamagundi, 1942 year book presented by the senior class of Seminole High School last Spring, has received the highest All American Honor Having, for high school year books, by the National Scholastic Press Association Critical Service, and was adjudged on a basis of artistic appearance, photography, material quality, and financial management. It is an editorial selection for special pages devoted to administration, class organizations and activities, school life and athletics. Mr. McKay said.

Mr. McKay quoted a letter from the Service: "Congratulations on your All American Rating. It is a distinct honor for a book to be listed as one of the superior books listed in the National Scholastic Press Association Critical Service. This honor represents real achievement on the part of those responsible for its production. As one of the best, your book is placed in our S. T. A. A. Red Cross Notes
By MRS. ROY F. MANN
Just another reminder of the American Red Cross Institute that is to be held Oct. 20, at the Episcopal Parish House from 9:30 to 11:30 A.M. and 2:00 to 4:00 P.M. This Institute is to discuss Disaster Preparedness and Civilian War Aid and will be under the direction of Mr. Clarence F. Rowland, General Field and Liaison Representative in Florida. The meetings are open to anyone who might be interested but it is especially urged that all persons in Seminole County who are in any way connected with Disaster Preparedness and Civilian War Aid to be present for all or part of the meeting.
Mr. Rowland, the director, has had a wide and varied background of international relief work, field assignments, disaster relief service and executive experience. He served in the army for two years during the last war, and then joined the Red Cross to serve with a commission to bring medical and other relief to sufferers in Siberia. After compiling a report for the Red Cross on the distribution of supplies in Russia, Mr. Rowland joined the Near East Relief Field Staff, and during the next four years saw service in Turkey, Armenia and South Russia. He again joined the Red Cross in 1929, serving as assistant director of Disaster Preparedness for all midwestern states in 1930, and directed drought relief operations in Montana and the Dakotas in 1931-32. He continued his work in this area until 1936 when he was appointed field representative for Florida. During the past several years he has directed important disaster operations including the Greensboro, N.C. tornado, 1936; Portsmouth, Ohio, flood disaster, 1937; Charleston, E. C., tornado, 1938; and the Louisiana Tropical Storm disaster, 1940. In his present assignment he is the Red Cross Representative in all negotiations with State and Civilian Protective Services in Florida.
You can see from the above sketch of Mr. Rowland's experience and work that he is well qualified to direct an Institute that should be of great interest and assistance in perfecting the plans of our local agencies.
At the conclusion of the business session a social hour was

Farmers Urged To Support Bureau

LEESBURG, Oct. 14 (FNS)—Terminating Agriculture the basic industry of the nation, an address to local agricultural leaders here last week, Delos L. James, director of the Agricultural Department of the United States Chamber of Commerce, urged farmers to give their fullest support to the Farm Bureau as the best means of advancing agricultural interests and meeting the industry's trying problem.
He stressed the seriousness of the present farm labor shortage and warned bluntly that we are facing a food shortage unless something is done to quickly relieve the situation that is handicapping farmers, growers and dairymen not only here but throughout the country.
Faced with an impossible situation, he pointed out many dairy men are selling their best stock and going out of business, while the same situation is found with poultry farmers and cattlemen.
Many growers are planting only such acreage as they feel they can handle themselves, fearing inability to get either help or machinery. In the meantime, the military services and industrial plants continue to drain every available man from rural areas.

Reds Retake One Section In Stalingrad

flank in that sector the Russians clung to their positions, and in some sectors undertook reconnaissance. A Red army patrol attacked camouflaged pillboxes on a certain height and, hurling in grenades, forced their Rumanian complements to flee in panic, the communique reported.
A Soviet front dispatch said the Germans had struck back across the 100-50 miles northwest of Stalingrad, evidently in an extension of the drive against the German flank between the Don and Volga.
In the Mordok area of the east Caucasus, the German battalions of probably 2000 men supported by tanks and planes attempted to attack Red army positions. Artillery and mortar fire checked them, and a counter-attack forced back to their starting line, the high command reported.
The Germans lost up to 300 in killed, along with three field guns, two trench mortars, six trucks and one tank disabled, and other booty captured.
Soviet marine fighting south-east of Novorossiisk on the Black Sea coast improved their positions after repelling an Axis attack, the high command said. Two companies of Rumanian infantry were wiped out and three tanks disabled.
Earlier reports said the Russians had forced ahead again in the Mordok area and counter-attacked heavily below Novorossiisk. The new reports say a Red patrol was pushing snowing troops in the Mordok region clad in winter clothing and heavy greatcoats, fur caps and ear flaps. The snow was tumbling down from the Caucasus slopes at an increasing rate, heading the traffic blizzard normally beginning in mid-November and the earlier ice plus immobilizing transportation.
