

Rollins Preps For Tilt With Tampa Friday

WINTER PARK, Nov. 12.—(Special)—The Rollins Tars, faced with the task of subduing the Tampa Spartans in Tampa Friday night, practiced nearly everything in the book yesterday and worked tirelessly on their extensive repertoire of plays.

The varsity scrimmaged the freshmen and experimented with a lot of passing. Grady May, lanky T-tail spinner-back, found targets fairly regularly in Dave Frasier, light-weight wing-back, Sam Pugh, and ends Ralph Chisholm and Reedy Talbot.

Talbot, the only home-town boy on the Rollins squad, has developed great facility in the pass snagging department. That coupled with his aggressive end play has caused him to gain the nod over Red Harris of Clearwater as starting right end, al-

Florida Fans Look With Fear At Miami Contest

GAINESVILLE, Nov. 12.—(Special)—For the first time in the four-year rivalry between the two schools University of Florida fans followed look toward the game with Miami next Saturday with some fear and foreboding.

Even in 1938 when the Hurricanes took their only victory of the series by a 19-7 count Florida supporters were confident of victory up until the closing minutes of the final quarter.

The Miamians undefeated in five games as compared to the Florida record of two wins and five defeats have a veteran line and two brilliant sophomore backs, Howard Plaman and Russ Coates, to throw into the path of the Gators this season.

Any advantage the Gators may have had in material at the start of the season fell considerably as a result of injuries received in the George's game last Saturday.

Full backs Red Mack and Bill Cowen, who had turned in just about all the play at the line-backing post this season, both received injuries likely to keep them out of the game, as did Percy Entzinger, sophomore quarter-back, and Charley Tate's number one reserve.

Improper Diet Is Blamed For Eye Ills

VENICE, Nov. 12.—(Special)—Dr. Fred H. Albee, in an article prepared for the "Florida Optometrist," points out that many eye disorders may be traced directly to improper diet which causes a lack of certain minerals and vitamins.

Albee has been carrying on experiments at his Florida Medical Center for several years and has definitely established the fact that when Florida fruits and vegetables are given proper fertilization and certain chemicals are added to the soil, the mineral and vitamin content can be materially increased.

Cheerful Letters To Soldiers Is Asked

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—(AP)—Girls, forget that moon and "wish you were here" stuff in your letters to soldier boy-friends in camp.

Margery Wilson, head of Massachusetts State Extension courses in charm and etiquette, says so.

She says taboo are such sentences as—"I miss you so, dear—last night the moon was beautiful" and "I'm terribly lonely some now that you've gone to camp."

Letters to boys in camp, she confides, "should be joyous and cheerful—and chatty, too."

Record Crowd Expected To See Gator-Miami Game

CORAL GABLES, Nov. 12.—(Special)—Thirty thousand people—greatest crowd ever to gather for any football game in Florida—either than an Orange Bowl classic—are expected here Saturday night Nov. 15 when the University of Miami Hurricanes battle the University of Florida Gators for the state gridiron championship.

The series started back in 1938 when Eddie Sturn's punting and Johnny Douglas' punting gave the Gators a 19-7 battering before 10,000 surprised fans in Gainesville. The following year, 23,538 fans were in the Orange Bowl to watch Tommy Harrison's passes break a first half tie and bring Florida a 13-0 victory. Last Fall, on a cold, cold night, the crowd dropped to 17,365 because of the weather and Miami's poor team—and the Gators walked home.

Friedson dope made the Gators a heavy favorite to repeat as they retained practically all of the starters from their 1940 team but Coach Tom Lieb's men showed a tendency to let up for a minute or two every game losing a series of close contests. Miami on the other hand, uncovered a flock of good sophomores to back up a few good veterans and a week ago scored a tremendous upset in defeating unbeaten Texas Tech 6-0 before 24,525 fans.

Holdover stars include Capt. Tom Kearns, a fine tackle, and William Wunder, his running mate; Paul Carifco rated Miami's greater center; Joe Krutulis, Fergie Ferguson's closest rival in the state; Red Tobin, Dutch Frohlinger and Russell Coates, three greatly improved backs and Nick Broker and Red Cameron, pretty fair guards. Brightest stars of the five sophomore class are Howard Plaman, full-back who leads the team in ground gaining and who has averaged 45 yards on his punts. Al Adler and George Gagliardi, two great tackles; and a whole host of sophomores who give Hurricanes capable reserves in every position.

Union Leaders Map Telephone Workers Strike In 42 States

Walkout To Go Into Effect 12:01 A. M. Saturday Unless Dispute Is Settled
Wire Newsphotos Will Go Through
15,000 Members Of Long Lines Group Ask Wage Raise

NEW YORK, Nov. 12 (AP)—Leaders of the independent union of telephone workers mapped plans for a strike which union president John J. Moran said would disrupt long distance communications over the American Telephone and Telegraph System in 42 states.

Moran said 15,000 members of the Federation of Long Lines Telephone Workers which is made up of A. T. & T. employees would leave their jobs 12:01 A. M. Saturday unless the wage dispute was settled.

Council for the union said transmission of news newsphotos by wire should not be affected by the walkout.

John J. Moran, president of the Federation of Long Lines Telephone Workers, an independent union, said last night he had taken action to place in effect Nov. 14 a strike of 15,000 workers who handle long distance wires in 42 states over the nation.

The decision to go ahead with the strike, approved Nov. 7, was reached after a meeting yesterday with the U. S. conciliation service and representatives of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company, Moran said.

Union demands include a 4 percent wage boost and narrowing of geographic pay differentials.

Moran said yesterday's meeting failed to make any progress and that no effort had been made to certify the dispute to the national mediation board.

In Washington, an aide to Secretary of Labor Perkins, only official who can certify a dispute, said the labor secretary had not refused to do so.

The side said probably no certification would result unless the conciliation service reported failure to settle the problem.

WASHINGTON, D. C. Nov. 13 (Special)—Florida's general hospitals have only one bed for every 294 persons in the state, the Census Bureau of the Department of Commerce announced today.

The survey listed 119 hospitals and sanatoriums with 12,922 beds in the state. Only 4,422 medicinal care beds were available for general use. The remainder were in mental and tuberculosis sanatoriums.

Florida would have to build 55 more average-size, 170-bed hospitals to meet the minimum requirements for adequate medical services set by the Committee on the Cost of Medical Care. Here's how the number of hospital beds per 1000 population compares:

Priorities Are Not To Affect Home Builders

Sanford Citizens May Erect Residences, Dealer Declares

In regard to Sanford citizens building or remodeling residences, W. J. Toll of the United Lumber Company explained today that government priorities in various fields of construction have unduly influenced people.

He stated that the "real purpose of putting restrictions on the construction industry was to halt construction on any large office buildings, highways or bridges which are not essentially defense projects.

"It is true that defense factories are given first choice on critical materials such as steel, copper and zinc," Mr. Toll continued, "but stocks in the various local lumber yards are adequate as far as lumber, brick, cement, plaster, lime, shingles, glass, doors and windows, cabinets and builders' hardware are concerned."

In addition to citing the various supplies available at the local building material yards, Mr. Toll pointed out the modern facilities Sanford companies, which deal with plumbing, electricity, and heating, are capable of installing and he added that even though it is difficult to secure copper for pipes or fixtures, the defense authorities are careful to exempt copper wiring from the ban on this particular metal that it may be obtained for the "one" use in building where it is absolutely essential.

In conclusion, Mr. Toll quoted the "Building Supply News," a trade magazine of the home-building industry, "in September, the average 16,000 house consumes only 9 tons of steel, 77 pounds of zinc, 144 pounds of copper, 100 to 200 pounds of lead and only 2-3 of an ounce of chromium. Much of this can be, and is being, substantially eliminated from the building program in order to make existing supplies go still further. The defense authorities would have been improved with such facts, and have based their restrictions to avoid the unnecessary waste of building materials."

"Cooling Off" Period Sought Before Strikes

Farm Bureau President Says Labor Unions Must Yield Rights To Defense

High administration officials were today reported authoritatively to be considering legislation requiring a "cooling off" period before workers could strike in defense industries, but providing for bonuses to employees based on the cost of living.

In Lansing, Mich., President Earl C. O'Neal of the American Farm Bureau Federation asserted that labor unions must yield some of their rights in the present defense program.

He asserted that the "strides" industry and labor now are taking soon will sweep the nation into inflation, and that only government control could protect the farmer and other little fellows from the ruthless play when booming prices and wages explode.

President Roosevelt called a new conference on the raging coal dispute yesterday as mounting a crippling blow to that peace-making agency, Roosevelt asked three C. I. O. leaders and three major steel company executives to talk with him at the White House Friday.

The location of the houses are to be advertised in the Sanford Herald within a few days, and the Commission will be required to receive sealed bids on them, Mr. Sayer explained.

A strike of 15,000 workers who handle long distance telephone wires in 42 states, effective at midnight Friday, was forecast by John J. Moran, president of the independent Federation of Long Lines Telephone Workers.

Representative Smith (D., Va.), long a supporter of administration foreign policy, arose in the house to announce that unless action were taken to curb the "unruly elements in our midst," he would vote against the bill to permit armed merchantmen to sail into combat zones.

"For Rent" List Yonnally Shoots High Match Score At Gun Club Meet

Listings of all houses for rent, apartments and rooms for rent has been compiled by the Semholo Realty Company of Jacksonville in order to complete the list the Chamber expects to publish in the Sanford Herald in the near future. Edward Higgins, chamber secretary, said today.

"The list now compiled is complete and accurate with the information on hand. However, we are of the opinion that it is not fully complete and for that purpose, unless some objection is made by people with the accommodations, we will publish the list together with the rate asked for a given number of this type of accommodations a change to be given on the list," Mr. Higgins stated.

When the completed list is compiled the Chamber of Commerce will have made and sent them out in answer to inquiries for accommodations, including the places not rented at the time," the Secretary explained.

If there is anyone that is sure his name is not included in the Chamber's list he is asked to get in touch with the Chamber of Commerce at once. Or, if anyone objects to having his name included in the list, he is asked to get in touch with the Chamber of Commerce at once. Nazis Storm City Of Kerch; Russians Hold Defenders Declare Lines Unbroken At Sevastopol, Large Soviet Sea Base

Defenders Declare Lines Unbroken At Sevastopol, Large Soviet Sea Base

London Claims Nazis Baffled

Fierce Fighting Is Reported On Both Flanks Of Moscow

The Germans reported today they were storming the fortifications of Kerch, Black Sea gateway to the Caucasus oil fields, and also reported the capture of several coastal defense points south of that city. Reuters quoted a Rome radio as claiming the occupation of the port by German-Kommando forces but Russian sources declared the Red Army beat off an Axis attempt to turn the Kerch defense lines.

The Russians claimed the Germans were "logically unsuccessful" in the fighting near Sevastopol, the big Russian naval base, and said that the defense lines remained unbroken. The Nazis, however, reported the dive-bombing of the port and harbor and heavy damage to three Russian cruisers, a destroyer and five merchant ships.

London observers said the Germans were "still baffled" in their attempt to find a "soft spot" in the Moscow defense, and said that approximately a million and one-quarter German troops had suffered "appreciable casualties" in the Moscow assault. Bitter fighting was continuing in the snow, mud and cold weather, London said.

The Moscow radio said the Nazis central front command was moving up a division of Hitler's elite guards in the Volokolamsk sector, 65 miles northwest, and London said the Germans were preparing a new Moscow offensive despite enormous losses.

The German war machine has been stopped everywhere on the eastern front except in the Crimea, although heavy fighting continues in various local actions, front dispatches indicated Wednesday.

Attacking German forces were thrown back five miles from Tula, 110 miles south of Moscow, and were repulsed with heavy losses at Kalinin, 95 miles north of the capital, Soviet reports said. But in the Crimea, the Germans claimed, without Russian denial, to have reached the eastern coast 20 miles from Kerch and the narrow strait leading to the Caucasus.

A German military spokesman admitted that with the exception of the Crimea and another Russian attempt to break out of Leningrad, all was comparatively quiet on other sections of the eastern front.

War developments, as described by both sides, included: 1. The Russians said that a three-day battle had rolled the Germans back five miles from Tula, east of that peninsula already had partially blocked the Kerchenski straits and were (Continued On Page 51)

Hospital Facilities

It is not with feelings of any particular pride we point out that Florida ranks 38th among the 48 states in the Union in hospital facilities provided for the care of the sick and injured. With a population in excess of a million and a half, there are only 112 hospitals in the state with only 12,652 beds available and with half of these devoted exclusively to tubercular and mental cases, leaving only 6,452 hospital beds for victims of all the other diseases and accidents which normally afflict mankind.

This information comes to us from the Census Bureau of the United States Department of Commerce and we have no reason at all to doubt its authenticity. In order to meet the "minimum requirements for adequate medical service," Florida will have to build 55 more average size, 170 bed hospitals. But if we are to give the kind of service we should to the enormous tourist population we have during the winter, we will have to build more and bigger hospitals than that. The size of the hospital under study for Sanford and Seminole County is 40 beds, not exactly over-size.

According to the Census Bureau, every ten thousand of population, every city the size of Sanford, requires a hospital with 116 beds. That means for a county the size of Seminole, at least 232 beds are needed. Of the 116 beds for every 10,000 people, 46 are needed for general cases, 14 for tuberculosis, and 56 for mental cases. There are in Florida at the present time 35 beds for general cases, 3 beds for tuberculosis and 29 beds for mental cases. The average in the United States is 38 beds for general cases, 6 beds for tuberculosis and 46 beds for mental cases.

Summing all this up, we find 67 beds for every 10,000 people in Florida, 90 beds in the United States while 116 beds are actually needed. Remember that in Sanford the new hospital which we are planning to build would have only 40 beds or less than half the number which adequate hospital service requires, while the present hospital has only 23 beds or not enough to provide hospitalization for one-fourth our population.

All this simply means that there are today in this year of civilization, civic enlightenment and humanitarianism, scores of people right here in Sanford who are sick, who should go to the hospital where they can be properly cared for and where their chances for recovery would be immeasurably increased, but who are compelled to remain at home, in some boarding house room, or wayside shanty, under conditions which are not always sanitary and without the benefit of modern facilities for prolonging life.

Because of this, many persons needlessly die when they might have been restored to health and long years of usefulness to the public; many persons linger on indefinitely in ill health, a drag on the entire community, when they might easily be put in good physical condition or at least given sufficient strength and energy to take care of themselves. Needless to say it is false economy on the part of the public to pinch pennies where the public's health is concerned.

Who's Responsible?

Declaring that they are "Not Newspaper Babes," the St. Augustine Record mentions two of the bills passed by the recent session of the Legislature and gives the entire credit to other groups. One of these has to do with the abolishment of disreputable and promiscuous signs along the highways for which the garden clubs worked so long and so hard, and the other has to do with making businesses use their right names.

The matter has been pushed so vigorously for several years that the "big boys" in the highway sign business realized that they had better get things changed for the better, doing away with unrighteous nuisance signs, and have fewer of the other kind to clutter up the highways, says the Record.

The other law is what is known as the "fictitious name" law, which has put all operators of businesses not incorporated in the trouble and expense of running advertisements in newspapers setting forth the ownership of their businesses, and then getting this registered with the clerk of the court.

Again this is something the newspapers had nothing to do with, although they are profiting a little by the advertising. According to best advice, the Federal government was behind this, and was responsible for its passage in the Legislature.

The law has its uses, because it is a well known fact that some people carry on business under a trade or firm name, and nobody ever knows who is responsible; who is owner or operator. Particularly in this time in some of the larger tourist cities of the state where certain "fly-by-night" businesses open in the winter season, make what they can, honestly or dishonestly, and then fit away, possibly owing numerous bills.

The "fictitious name" act is supposed to help counteract this elusive tendency on the part of this particular type of business. If it does that, it serves as a protection to all business men, and the small sum which each one is called upon to spend in this connection is a good investment.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

The prize Duke and Duchess of Windsor are coming to my attention in the sense that has to do with the annual experience of two Polk county girls, which rivals the story of Cinderella.

When it was learned that Edward and Wallis, returning to Nassau, would pass through Sanford, the enterprising community got busy and planned a "royal greeting."

The crack High School Band and several thousand citizens were assembled to meet the train and do honor to the royal couple. Of course there should be flowers to present great girls of them... someone 'phoned Dick Pope at Beautiful Cypress Gardens, asking if he would be good enough to fix up a bouquet of a bouquet to be presented during the ceremony.

Since the speedy "Silver Meteor" was scheduled to stop for breath at Winter Street, Dick arranged with Seaboard officials to place the two girls (Miss Martha Mitchell, "Gardenia Queen," and Miss Alice Bryan, "Cameilia Queen," known as the most photographed girls in America) aboard in the train so that they would be on hand to make the presentation during the ceremony planned at Sebring.

The girls, of course, were thrilled and as nervous as a couple of foxes in a forest fire at the thought of actually meeting the Duke and Duchess, even if only to curtsy and present a bouquet.

They were hardly settled in their seats before an immaculately dressed gentleman approached them, introduced himself as Secretary to His Royal Highness, and stated that the Duke and Duchess were ready to see them.

"There must be some mistake," said Martha, dimly. "We're just the girls Mr. Pope sent to present the flowers at Sebring." The gentleman smiled graciously and replied: "I understand, but the Duke and Duchess wish to see you in their private cars."

Following their guide, with quaking limbs and thumping hearts, the two girls were ushered into the presence of the royal couple. They arrived to find the Duke and Wallis all smiles and waiting to greet them.

With their warm welcome and gracious and friendly manner, the royal couple put the girls at ease. "And how is my friend Mr. Pope?" questioned the Duke. "Oh, he couldn't come," Alice replied; "you see, he had to stay at the gardens and entertain a group of Garden Club ladies."

"Do you know Dick Pope," queried Martha in amazement. "I've never had the pleasure of meeting him," his royal highness replied, "but I know his wonderful flowers and have heard so much about him and his lovely Cypress Gardens from his charming friends the Hostess of Charleston that I want to meet him."

Conversation then turned to Florida, flowers, Nassau, and before anyone knew it the train was pulling into Sebring. Panicky, the girls remembered their duty and explained that they had not expected to meet the royal couple on the train, but were supposed to present the flowers at Sebring.

"Of course, I understand," said the Duchess, handing the gorgeous bouquets back to Alice. By this time the train had come to a stop with several thousand people jammed about the back platform of the private car. Alice, her arms full of flowers, was nearest the door and stepped out with Martha close behind her, eager to get off the train and play their part in the arranged ceremony.

The mob at the station, waiting to receive their "Duchess and Duke," took no time for identification and seeing the beautiful and charming girl emerge with her flowers, immediately assumed that she was the Duchess and the cry arose: "The Duchess! The Duchess!"

The real Duchess, amused, comforted Alice and urged the girls to remain with them on the trip to Miami.

"Oh, she was wonderful—so gracious—so beautiful and so kind," said Alice in recounting her experience. "No wonder the king renounced his throne," said Martha.

"When you stay Beautiful Cypress Gardens," said Martha and Alice to tell you all about it in their own words.

President's Cold Shows Improvement

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13.—President Roosevelt's cold which kept him confined to his quarters in the White House since Wednesday, was better last night.

The President's personal physician, Rear Admiral McIntire, said the President had half a degree of temperature this morning but that this vanished during the day. He said he thought Roosevelt would be back on a normal schedule today.

The President caught a head cold when he spoke before and without an overcoat at Armistice Day ceremonies Tuesday in the amphitheater in Arlington Cemetery.

Production Curtailed On New Automobiles

DETROIT, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The nation's automobile industry has a defense-curtailed production quota for December, but it probably will produce few of these units during the latter half of the month.

To carry out another defense requirement—the elimination after Dec. 15 of almost all the bright work finish currently used on passenger cars—the industry will have to suspend passenger vehicle production activities for a time, perhaps for three weeks. While the problems involved are not as great as in the usual annual model change-over, the switch cannot be made overnight, according to one leading car manufacturer.

Whether the assembly plants can produce the full December quota in the first half of the month will depend largely upon the availability of materials. All companies are reported to have adequate supplies of plated trim, fabricated on orders placed long before the curtailment of its use was considered. They hope to be able to use up most of this stock to avoid the heavy loss involved in junking it.

Florida Ship Canal Loses Indorsement

MIAMI, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The projects committee of the national rivers and harbors congress refused Wednesday to recommend against construction of the multi-million dollar St. Lawrence seaway.

Frank Macy, who said he spoke for the New York State Waterways association, the New York State Chamber of Commerce, and the Buffalo and Rochester chambers, asked the committee to oppose the vast project, but his request was rejected.

The committee did not receive a request that it endorse the $200,000,000 Florida ship canal and it was not discussed.

FLORIDA FLIER MISSING OTTAWA, Nov. 13.—(AP)—A Canadian Air Force casualty list Tuesday night listed two United States airmen missing in active service overseas. They were: Pilot Officer Donald Arthur Webster, Mrs. A. Webster (mother), 1071 Lakewood drive, Winter Park, Fla. Sergeant Gerald Frederick Stentford, Mrs. J. S. Stentford (mother), Roxbury, Mass.

Power Official Advises Builders To Consult Them

MIAMI, Nov. 13.—(Special) Advising prospective home builders, real estate developers, municipal fathers and building contractors that recent priority rulings under preference rating order P-46 of the Office of Production Management have curtailed expansion of electric service lines, Harry E. Simpson, vice president of the Florida Power & Light Company, yesterday urged that anyone contemplating new building or material changes in his electric service requirements should consult with the company before starting construction.

"Blame it on Hitler," Mr. Simpson commented, "but our country needs vast quantities of materials such as copper, aluminum, zinc and steel—to arm itself against the totalitarian threat. There are not enough of these materials to do the defense job and to keep other business production functioning on normal peacetime scale. Therefore, we've all got to make sacrifices in the primary interest of keeping our country free and preparing it to defend its freedom. Our government has asked us to economize on all materials and we are cooperating in every way possible.

"It is important that the public understand the situation. The only materials that OPM allows us to have are those needed for keeping our service facilities in repair and maintaining and operating them. Until priority restrictions are lifted, we cannot extend our service lines beyond the areas we are already serving. Nor can we make major improvements. The means that, during this emergency, plans for new construction outside of areas now served, and even plans for materially increasing service requirements in present locations, should be discussed with us to make certain that the desired service can be made available."

Farm Profits In State Take Upward Trend

TALLAHASSEE, Nov. 13.—(Special)—The continued upward trend of business in general and of farm income in particular as reported by the Federal Reserve Bank for the sixth district should stimulate every Florida farmer into greater activity, Nathan Mayo, commissioner of agriculture, announced today.

The Federal Reserve Bank's report for September shows that farm income lead all other branches of industry in increase for the first nine months of the year, and that Florida with an increase of $18,131,000 leads all six southern states covered by the report.

Tennessee ranked second in farm income increase for the period with a gain of $17,247,000; Mississippi showed an increase of $10,060,000; Alabama $8,530,000; Louisiana, $8,058,000; and Georgia, $4,459,000, according to the report.

This report is in line with records of State Farmers' Markets, Mayo said, which shows that Florida farm products sold through their facilities for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1941 totaled $11,088,968; an increase of $3,903,121 over the total of $7,185,847 reported in 1940.

While it is too early in the fruit and vegetable season to make any definite prediction as to what the report will show for this year, Mayo stated, livestock sales which have been continuing all through the summer at our State Livestock Markets have shown such increases as to indicate a ready market for everything the farmer can produce.

The fact that State Farmers' Markets have offered a reliable and established outlet for farm products at the higher levels is reflected in the increase reported by the Federal Reserve Bank, and this has benefited even those farmers who dispose of their produce through other channels, Mr. Mayo said.

BOOKS AND AUTHORS

By MRS. IRVING FEINBERG

For the reviews of "Sarotoga" and "The Book" by Edna Ferber, see the previous page. In "Sarotoga" she tells the colorful story of the Oklahoma oil rush, ranged across America for scene. Her characters, taken together, are a tribute to the epic of the West. Now, in "Sarotoga" she tells the story of a young Texan whose father's fortune had been swept away by the railroad, and of the daughter of a great Greek architect who inherits a fortune that depends upon the fashionable world of Sarotoga, of their growing romance and their first bloody taste of the railroad wars that were building the country and draining it at the same time of the tremendous beginning of the Maroon legend.

and "love conquers all." Her stories stem from the lives of the men and women who make up America. Her long list of novels, plays, short stories is a testament to faith in people, often ordinary people who work, sometimes flamboyant, meteoric characters. Better than any other writer today, she understands the tangled, complex, "little" emotions that blend into human happiness and tragedy; she sees too, with the vigor of one passionate American, the grand adventurous sweep which has carried this country forward.

Farmers Raising Chickens Will Be Help To Nation

CAINESVILLE, Nov. 13—Florida farmers who take advantage of good egg prices prospect by raising fall-hatched pullets of heavy breeds, to add to their flock next spring, will be helping Uncle Sam and themselves, too, according to N. E. Mehrhoff, poultry specialist with the State Agricultural Extension Service.

Local farmers are advised to purchase chicks for fall brooding from hatcheries having a sound breeding program such as those participating in the National Poultry Improvement Plan, a cooperative effort to improve and standardize the production of poultry in the United States.

But the Germans admittedly had not reached the narrowest part of the straits, where the Russians were believed to have installed heavy artillery and strong defenses. The Luftwaffe was reported bombing Kerch Sevastopol on the southern western tip of the Crimea, and Anapa, across Kerch-naki strait to the Caucasian shore. In a local battle near Tula a Soviet cavalry division was almost completely smashed and captured.

Gators Expect No Easy Win Over Miami Saturday

GAINESVILLE Nov. 13 (Special)—Florida's Fighting Gator football team expects no repetition of its 48-6 victory over the University of Miami eleven last year, when it plays the rejuvenated Hurricanes in the "Magic City" Saturday night. In fact, many Florida supporters would settle right now for a one-point win.

Possessing one of the finest gridiron machines in their class in the nation this fall, the Miami team present the strongest threat to the state university's football supremacy at Florida since the Hurricane team of 1938, which defeated the Gators 19-7 in the first meeting between the two teams.

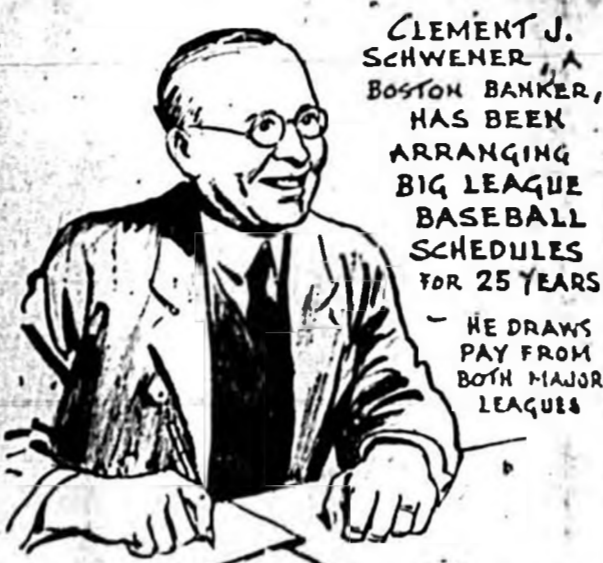

Comparative difference between this season's Miami team and the 1940 aggregation, can be gained by noting the defeat of Texas Tech in Miami last week. Last year the Techmen beat Miami even worse than did Florida, but were overpowered by Jack Harding's men in a return game this year.

At the Gators last week prepared for their game with Georgia, they could not help looking back to Miami's record of five wins and no defeats. This only Hats off: One senior at the University of Florida deserves state wide recognition for his achievements. That boy is from Sanford and his name is Walter B. Stovall, Jr. Walter, who began his college career in September, 1939, became a member of Phi Eta Sigma, a national honorary scholastic fraternity, for freshmen, and was also on the Dean's list.

Majoring in Chemistry, he made a brilliant record and was initiated to an honorary chemical fraternity, Gamma Sigma Epsilon. Also studying Spanish, Walter is being initiated this week to Los Pecos de Quevedo, an honorary fraternity for those who excel in this language. Stovall will graduate in June, accomplishing 4 years work in 3 years.

To top it all he has made A's in all his courses! Only two other seniors, Charlie Sherman, president of the student body and John Cotten Brown, editor of the campus newspaper, have such a record. We would like to join Sanford in saying, "Well done Mr. Stovall."

Student Comments: "I saw quite a few boys from Sanford this week. Many of the boys asked us to convey this message to local school students. 'Your boys are really lucky. I thought high school was hard until we came to college. If any of you are planning to attend college, study hard and learn all you can. You'll need it.'"

"Do or Die" Branran must have died Friday night because "Mighty Man" Truluck seemed to be the only threat that the locals had against the conference leading Leon Lions from Tallahassee.

The little right half of the Feds gained 108 of the 181 yards gained by the locals. This came rather as a surprise because Branran usually carries the load in the ground gaining department - but Truluck really proved that he could hold his own with the best that the Feds had to offer in the way of yard snatching.

The passus which the Feds worked on all week did not click and no one but Truluck did any damage on the ground. The whole team seemed to go like wild, fire for a short period of time but then someone, somewhere would let up and the cat would be out of the bag.

Carter, the all-conference back for the Lions, proved that he really deserved to be called the best back that has been seen in these parts in ages. Greene, also of the Lions, proved to be a very keen-eyed passer.

SHORT SHOTS - It did look like the Indiana had escaped from the Reservation Friday night, the way Tallahassee ran wild. The change which so many of the local fans have been looking for has taken place - The big blond right tackle of the Feds, Billy Fleming, has finally been moved to the fullback spot - Some seem to think that this should have taken place long ago - Taylor Bird Legs Brown was also moved, he takes over the backfield relief job. This came very much as a surprise because Brown has proven himself very capable at the flanker position.

The Fed team is looking forward to facing some Mullin at St. Augustine way this week and if this comes about and the Feds go on to win a couple more they will have salvaged something from this season.

Cuban Officials Study Sugar Crop

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP) - Members of a Cuban mission headed by Amadeo Lopez Castro, secretary to the presidency, spent Wednesday in preliminary conferences seeking to determine what role the 1942 Cuban sugar crop should play in world affairs of the moment.

At hotel headquarters of the Cuban mission Dr. Arturo Masas said that there was nothing worthy of announcement to the press. He indicated that members of the mission had spent most of the day which followed yesterday's Armistice day holiday in correlating information.

Roosevelt Asks For Support Of Red Cross

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13 (AP) - President Roosevelt appealed for support of the Red Cross as "an essential part of our preparedness program which opened the annual Red Cross membership roll call.

Both Roosevelt and Norman H. Davis, Red Cross chairman who read the President's message, emphasized the increasing tasks now being placed upon the organization.

Secretary of War Stimson, Secretary of the Navy Knox, Secretary of Labor Perkins and Clark Gable, motion picture actor, also appealed for the public's support.

team played by both halves - Tampa - lost to Florida by a 4-0 count, as compared to the Hurricane 20-0 victory, but the Gators have had rough sledding lately, losing to Villanova, Maryland, and I. S. U. before the Georgia game.

In Howard Plaxman and Russ Coster, the Hurricanes are said to possess their best pair of backs since the great Eddie Dunn and Johnny Douglas key men on the 1938 team, and Carleton, Miami center, is a leading candidate for all-state intercollegiate honors at its post.
