13 YEAR OLD GIRL SAYS SHE KILLED CHUM

Confession Discloses That Brutal Murder Came Christmas Eve After An Argument

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Dec. 29.—(A.P.)—A 13 year old girl has confessed, District Attorney Frank Coyne said today, to the murder last Sunday of her eight year old girl chum.

Mary Kavala, said Coyne, told him after a long questioning last night that she killed Josephine Waropay, hitting her on the head with a rock and strangling her.

"I did it," Coyne quoted the girl as saying. "Joe told a pack of lies about me and my family. I did it. I lost my temper."

Josephine's body was found on Christmas Eve.

Mary told authorities that they had gone for a walk Saturday afternoon, when an argument arose over false. Mary said she had been telling.

She said she hit her with a rock, stunning the younger girl, and then strangled her with strings from an old mop and an old automobile tire tube.

She also broke a bottle, slashing the child's face and body until she became exhausted. She drug the body under the steps of St. Matthews Church where it was found the next day.

Four Sanford Men Held On Kidnapping Charge

Chester Weller, Claude Weller, Chester Bleney, and Bill Stevens, residents of this city, were reported being held in the Volusia County jail yesterday in default of $5,000 bond pending a preliminary hearing on a charge of having kidnapped J. E. Godwin, alias of this city.

The men were arrested here on Tuesday, according to Deputy Sheriff O. B. Estridge, when Godwin and Gary Johner secured a warrant charging them with kidnapping on Johner's property. The quartet placed $100 bond at once, and was released.

However, on Wednesday, the men were again arrested on a warrant served out in Volusia county, charging them with kidnapping. Deputy T. J. Steeves of DeLand came to Sanford Wednesday and took the men to DeLand.

A press report from that city quotes Godwin as having said that the four men forced him into an automobile and transported him to a lonesome spot in the scrub today. They beat him, the report states, and threatened to take his life before releasing him.

Trade Body Has Name For Bridge At Monroe

Unions stepped forward with a more appropriate name for the proposed bridge which spans the St. Johns River near Monroe, officials of the Orange County Chamber of Commerce are ready to recommend to State Road Department officials that the bridge be named the Lake Monroe Bridge.

The trade body had been approached by the road department to submit suggestions for a name. Several have been gathered, including one which reads: "The Orange." "San Diego," "Orange," because the bridge will be built with De-

Roosevelt Declares United States As Being Opposed To Armed Intervention; Sees Nation On Threshold Of A New Era

President Speaks At Dinner Observing 71st Birthday Of Woodrow Wilson

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(A.P.)—President Roosevelt said last night this country did not contemplate becoming a member of the League of Nations and that the United States would be opposed to armed intervention in the affairs of another nation.

President Roosevelt did not mention by name Cuba, the scene of recent internal trouble, in his speech of the Latin American problems. Nor did he mention Nicaragua, where marines have been sent in the past. He preceded his declaration against armed intervention, however, with the statement:

"I do not hesitate to say if I had been engaged in a political campaign as a citizen of some other American republic I might have been strongly tempted to play upon the fears of my compatriots of that republic by charging the United States of North America with some form of imperialistic desire for selfish aggrandizement.

"As a citizen of some other republic I might have found it difficult to believe in the altruism of the greatest American republic. In particular, as a citizen of one other republic, I might have found it hard to approve of the occupation of the territory of other republics, even as a temporary measure."

Speaking at the observance of the 77th birth anniversary of Woodrow Wilson, the author of his round-up of the national situation under whose sponsorship is the League of Nations and the action which brought a report from the national political "line" banking outlook. Winthrop Aldrich, chairman of the League's own three-point plan, the Chase National bank, joined program for world peace.

While he rejected the idea of any aid conditions were "gradual" States membership in the "line" improving work.

Speaker Rainey sounded a keynote of "short, harmonious and construction" for the congressional session opening next week. He made his prediction at the white house after a talk with the president.

President Wilson's "gallant attempt to banish future wars," Roosevelt said, "meant little to the imagination or the tact of a large number of the so-called 'experts' gathered in Paris for the peace pact of 1919."

"We are going to have a very important session," said the speaker, "but it will be working one rather than dramatic. We will pass the supply bills, the tax bills, the liquor measures and adjourn in early May."

Rainey's program excluded the much-discussed permanent legislation to regulate railroads and stock exchanges, along with attempts to amend the recovery program that was enacted in the special session last spring.

"I saw that with my own eyes and heard it with my own ears," Roosevelt said, referring to his work abroad as an assistant secretary of the navy during the war and post-war days.

President Rainey's "permanent" prestige, national aggrandizement attended the birth of the League of Nations and handicapped it from infancy by seeking their own support and their own safety first."

"We are not members and we do not contemplate membership," he said.

The President, in outlining his own three points for a universal peace, said he had told "every nation in the world something to that effect."

"Let every nation agree to eliminate over a short period of time its arms and by progressive steps, killed. Mrs. Laird and three others were injured.

Brain Operation On Infant Successful

BALTIMORE, Dec. 29.—(A.P.)—The brain operation on 11 month old Sue Trammell of Texas, whose brain was being destroyed by a disease was "successful" according to a bulletin issued by Johns Hopkins physicians today. The operation may be termed successful. The obstruction which caused the hydrocephalus condition has been removed. The ultimate outcome cannot of course be determined at this time."

SHORT SESSION IS PROMISED BY SPEAKER RAINY

Early Adjournment Of Congress Predicted By Other Officials

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(A.P.)—Congressional leaders yesterday declared themselves against recovery-tinkering efforts and promised President Roosevelt a short, businesslike session devoted almost exclusively to the enactment of the necessary budget measures.

As this well-defined administration program emerged, President Roosevelt neared a conclusion of his round-up of the national situation under whose sponsorship is the League of Nations and the action which brought a report from the national political "line" banking outlook. Winthrop Aldrich, chairman of the League's own three-point plan, the Chase National bank, joined program for world peace.

RECORD COLD IS REPORTED FROM BOSTON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(A.P.)—The thermometer drops to 18 below for 1st time in 63 years of weather reading.

"The dawn of New Year is full of challenge, President says in letter to official.

"We enter the new year with a realization that we have crossed the threshold of a new era."

This was contained in a letter he wrote to Mrs. Grace Morrison Poole, president of the General Federation of Women's clubs. The letter said:

"The dawn of a new year always is a challenge. It suggests new opportunities. It is characterized by inventories, accountings of past performances, making of new estimates and resolutions.

"We enter upon the new year with a realization that we have crossed the threshold of a new era. We have the opportunity of improving conditions and making our country a better home, materially and spiritually, for more than 180,000,000 people.

"To do this will require the concerted aid and continued efforts of many forces of government, federal, state and local; or social, spiritual, industrial and financial agencies.

"I welcome this opportunity to express my thanks for the splendid co-operation which you and members of the General Federation of Women's clubs have given to me and the government.

"Your support of the measures initiated by the government to end the terrible depression and to establish social justice and economic security for all of our people has been and is a real influence for the good we have been able to accomplish.

Morgenthau Orders Holders Of Gold Of Any Description To Return It To Treasury

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29.—(A.P.)—With the law, the treasury said Acting Secretary Morgenthau, of the new order.

Officials insisted to newspapermen that the only purpose of the order was to supplement and tighten President Roosevelt's previous prohibition against gold hoarding by removing the $100 exemption then allowed.

Virtually the only important monetary exception to the order was gold held by federal reserve banks and the Reconstruction Corporation.

The only official explanation forthcoming was that the step "further carries out the purpose of Congress as expressed in the emergency banking act of Mar. 9 to mobilize the gold coin, gold bullion and gold certificates of the country to protect the currency system for the benefit of all citizens."

"It applies to the small holders and to those few relatively large holders who have not complied with the law," the treasury said.

The latest treasury statement showed $31,044,985 of gold coin and $217,485,829 of gold certificates were still in circulation in the United States. How much of

RADICAL RIOTS FATAL FOR 20 IN ARGENTINA

True Picture Of Conditions Impossible As Strict Censorship Is Ordered By Leaders

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 29.—(A.P.)—Outbreaks in two cities of Argentina, which the government described as a radical revolt against it, today resulted in at least 20 deaths and the wounding of 100.

A roundup of the situation revealed that authorities made between 300 and 400 arrests in a vigorous effort to suppress the uprising. Most of these killed were soldiers at Rosario. Many were wounded at Santa Fe.

The outbreaks followed two radical revolts which voted not to participate in the election of one third of the chamber of deputies on the first Sunday in March.

Nothing thus far is heard from other cities described as centers of radicalism. A strict censorship on communication lines made it impossible to get the true situation everywhere.

Local CWA Payroll For 5 Week Period Nears $45,000 Mark

With the distribution in the county tomorrow, of about $7,000 representing payrolls for this week, nearly $45,000 will have come into the hands of nearly 600 white and colored persons who have been Civil Works Administration employees during the past five weeks.

This was learned today at the CWA office where Roland Lamb, disbursing officer, announced that the same schedule of payrolls will be in effect tomorrow as in past weeks—all persons are to be paid off on their projects except the following: all of whom are to be paid off at the Ellis Station:

Persons under Foreman Thompson, at 5:00 o'clock; under Calfee, 6:00 o'clock; under Britton, 5:30 o'clock; under Martin, 6:00 o'clock; under Wallace, 6:00 o'clock; under W. R. Dyson, 6:00 o'clock; under F. A. Dyson, 6:00 o'clock.

They equalled the old record of eight days, four hours and five minutes at 5:00 P. M., assured official recognition of their efforts by remaining shift on an added hour, and continued flying.

Mrs. Marsalis thus became twice holder of the record, having established the record broken yesterday with Mrs. Louise Thaden Aug. 22, 1932, over Valley Stream, Long Island.

Mrs. Marsalis, in a note dropped shortly after equaling the record, declared the women had no intention of landing last night, providing the plane and its motor continued functioning.

Suggesting 1:03 P. M., Saturday, exactly 10 days from the time they took off from the municipal field as a possible landing time, she asked that the ground crew be informed.

"Gee, I'm so tired," she said, indicating that both she and her companion were worn out from the long hours at the controls and making emergency repair jobs on the plane.

It probably will be hard enough for me to land in the day time because my graph is probably off a trifl," she wrote. "We will not try to land tonight unless it is all there." The change should be returned to the cash drawer, and the customer should then be handed the bill he originally tendered.

Jerome Singleton and Henry Brink were fined $5 each for disorderly conduct.

Martha Hawkins, Chico cloth and Mary Arnett were fined $2 each for disorderly conduct. The Arnett woman's fine was suspended.

Willie Lee Redding and James Curtis were fined $2 each for disorderly conduct.

W.C.T.U. SHOWS TRANS-ATLANTIC LITTLE CONCERN PHONE WEDDING OVER WET TREND HALTED BY U.S.

Problem Of Women As Drinkers Seen One Of Long Standing

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Dec. 29.—(UPI)—The Woman's Christian Temperance Union is neither greatly alarmed nor greatly disconcerted by the educational director of its new campaign against alcohol drink said recently, "over problems of women drinking at public bars and campus institutions."

For, said Miss Bertha H. Hobel Palmer, former superintendent of public instruction, in North Dakota, who is presenting "scientific truth" about alcohol in an initial four-day training school for temperance workers at the National W. C. T. U. headquarters here:

"The problems of women and student drinking are not problems created; as wet interests would have the world believe, by prohibition."

"Women didn't learn to drink during prohibition. They knew how before, for more women drank before prohibition than during prohibition. And drinking among college and university students—women and men—was greater before prohibition than it was during that period."

"Before, prohibition, student drinking was the major campus behavior problem."

Miss Palmer holds the opinion that distinct progress in eradicating drinking among women and young people has been made due to prohibition. She believed they slipped through the back door because laws prohibited them going through the front. They included all classes of women—

"And then women drink in the houses—not all houses, of course, and very often women were the tempters of men urging them to drink."

The hip flask type of drinking, the stopping on the way to a party for a "snort" was not as unusual before prohibition as it was during the dry era," she said, adding:

"Young folks drank after they got to many of the homes."

Miss Palmer in the training school is presenting, to social workers, state W. C. T. U. officials, field secretaries and educators, numbering about 35 new methods aimed at turning people against alcoholic liquor.

"The new attack upon the drinking problem must be made from the viewpoint of its gaskets and disabilities to the one who drinks."

What's "the difficulty?" inquired Judge Britt.

"Miss Weiss has gone to Mun-lac," replied the consul general. Munkac is 20 hours by train from Prague.

AMERICAN PRESS IS NRA WITH DEEP INTEREST

1st Words Of Act Bear Directly On Free- dom Of Expression

This is the last of a series of two articles on "Freedom of the Press," explaining why this issue is important to every newspaper.

NOW YORK CITY, Dec. 29.—

It is in time of war or other emergency that freedom of expression always is in danger.

And the first words of the National Industrial Recovery Act are: "A national emergency . . . is hereby declared to exist."

That makes the editorial mind turn immediately to the wartime emergencies which so often have meant censorship and oppression.

That is why American editors have watched so carefully the development of NRA and the rest of the new deal as they may affect directly or indirectly, freedom of expression.

That is why it is important to every man—because any restriction on those liberties are restrictions on you, the readers, as well as on the publisher.

The recovery act then goes on to state that "Whenever the president shall find that destructive wage or price cutting or other activities contrary to the policy of this title are being practiced in any trade or industry or any subdivision thereof, he may, after public hearing, place that industry under license."

That means he can refuse to allow certain companies to carry on, simply by refusing them licenses. From such decision there is no appeal, and fines of $500 a day for operating without license are provided.

Now if a manufacturer is producing pickle tubs, there is little chance that he would be refused a license except for "destructive wage or price cutting."

Now in the case of a newspaper, editors point out that "other activities contrary to the policy of this title (act)" might well include printing material critical of it. And if the government took it that way, it would be a plain case of licensing the press and controlling its utterances by threatening to refuse a license.

That is why many editors have insisted that any code they sign must contain a specific statement that they do not relinquish any of the constitutional rights of a citizen to print and publish freely, though of course the newspaper code, whether or not it contains such a provision, cannot exempt the press from the NRA, a law of congress.

This "licensing provision of the act, however, expires June 16, 1934, and vehement assurances have been given by the administration that no such use of the licensing power is contemplated by Pres. Roosevelt.

It is not expected to be a real factor in making the publishers' code though publishers are likely to insist on a free press clause. That is because the NRA is a law of congress and not their doing.

But anything the publishers sign, such as the code, must obtain an assurance that they themselves are not giving up the constitutional right of freedom of expression. It all will be ironed out very soon.

But there are many other straws blowing about which indicate that the present government, like any government in power, grows restless under criticism from time to time, and wishes it had greater control over what people say and think about it.

The very reluctance of the crisis authorities to include a free press clause in the publishers' code, leaving it "unnecessary," led to suspicion on the part of editors.

If it was merely "unnecessary," why not just put it in, anyway? They asked.

Then along came the two "temptations in teapots" in the NRA and the treasury department. Neither was a clear case of violation of the freedom of the press, but both showed that this government is no different from any other government, republican or democratic dictatorship or commune.

All try to get the kind of publicity they want, by one means or another.

General Johnson, after announcing that NRA was to be conducted "in a goldfish bowl," became annoyed by unfavorable statements on the workings of NRA by James True, author of a "news letter" on Washington affairs.

Johnson barred True from his press conferences. This was, of course, only indirectly a restriction on freedom of the press, but such penalties cast shadows over the mind of every reporter, and none feels as free as formerly, when he sees that his access to news sources may be closed if it does not "toe the line."

Secretary Ickes and Solicitor Margold of the interior department already had ordered subordinates in their department not to give information to newspapermen. This order was rescinded only after strong protests by newsmen.

Then Acting Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr., no more than succeeded to Secretary Woodin's chair that he issued a similar order, and further ordered that no statistics be issued by sections of his department except through a central board.

That included many figures and bulletins which had been issued for years by subordinate sections of the treasury department.

These events, while not literally infringements on freedom of the press, show a tendency of of-

Short Session Is Promised By Speaker Rainey

Washington, Dec. 29.—And revenue bills as Roosevelt turned to the preparation of his next budget message to Congress.

Rainey came from high quarters that he would seek a government collection of funds sufficient to cover about $1,000,000,000 above ordinary expenditures for a continuation of the recovery drive and emergency agencies.

Rainey said the first order of legislative business in the house would be the liquor control bill for the District of Columbia. This will be followed by the general liquor revenue bill establishing a tax of $2 a gallon on whisky. The supply will follow.

"There will be no attempts to overthrow the recovery agencies," said Rainey. "There will be no attempt seriously to oppose the President. All of this is not possible. We had an extra session and laid down the recovery program and it is just beginning to work. Recovery is on the way."

Rainey said he believed some or possibly all of the 15 percent pay cut for government workers should be restored.

Official to grow thin-skinned as criticism rises. And one of the basic requirements of an official under democracy is: He must be able to "take it."

Radio, which theoretically ought to have the same rights to speak facts and opinions as a publication to print them, already is hindered by licensing. This probably was unavoidable, as the air has room for only a limited number of stations whereas printed matter may be produced without limit and still not exclude the other fellow from the field.

Necessary or not, the fact remains that every radio station depends on the government for its license to do business, and the result, according to H. V. Kaltenborn, a noted news broadcaster, is this:

"Broadcasting stations need the co-operation of federal authorities. They wish to remain on good terms with the authorities at Washington . . . No one out of tune with generally accepted principles or policies is apt to be welcomed 'on the air.' . . . Unknown to the general public there is a thoroughgoing radio censorship already in effect. It operates quietly and efficiently, through a process of exclusion."

Thus, surrounded by a world drawing away from those inseparable twins, democracy and freedom of expression, confronted by the licensing of radio speech, and the possibility (even if remote) of licensing of the press, viewing an increasing flood of state regulation and restriction, and watching a national government that shows signs of restlessness in the face of criticism, the American press has been more than usually vigilant.

For the rights they seek to protect are not merely the rights of the newspapers themselves, but of the publishing trade, but the right of every citizen to speak his mind. That is why it is important to you.

LIQUOR EFFECTS CAN BE STILLED BY USING COFFEE

Science Proves Theory Long Practiced By Nation's Drinkers

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Dec. 29.—(AP)—How to stop liquor and coffee, and it's easy to get two separate "tugs" out of one round of drinks was described by a psychologist yesterday before the American association for the advancement of science.

The results of the latest results of new experiments on the effects of alcohol and coffee on the human body, conducted at Cornell university by Dr. L. Winslow and Dr. E. I. Steinberg.

The experiments confirmed the old belief that drinking black coffee is a good way to recover from the effects of drinking liquor, and that the drinker of alcohol and coffee have an antagonistic effect against each other in the body. Taken together, alcohol and coffee are "natural cutters," in medical terms, while the weak drinker leaves the drinker about where he started.

The test showed also why one glass of beer and coffee afterward may aid digestion and why drinkers are thirsty for water after a number of alcoholic drinks. The reason was, the scientists

HUGE CONTINENT BABY DOB KEEPS FOUND BENEATH FAITH WITH WISH NORTH PACIFIC OF DEAD SPOUSE

Sonic Depth Finder On U.S. Craft Discloses Tremendous Deeps

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Dec. 29.—(AP)—Strewn beneath the surface of the north Pacific lies a continent almost unknown, with deep plains, broader than the land above, and the width of America; with mountains higher than Mt. Everest and with great depths, equivalent to six miles in thickness.

This unknown territory was discovered recently. It was disclosed yesterday by the echoes from the sonic depth finder aboard the U.S. S. "Tobor," which has a voyage to make bottom from America to Asia and from 10 to 10 degrees latitude when she was examined by Capt. Claude M. Lee, A. W. Tabor and "Baby Dan" his wife.

Since last 10 years to young Tobor, coming to her rescue from the expense of liquidation amounted to $11,250,000 went to attorneys, and $23,250,000 to liquidators.

The figures come from the first six months of Mr. Lee's term, and the figure for the final year before July 1, 1932 to June 30, 1933.

The report states that the widow of "Baby Dan" has been given up to the widow of the late Captain of the ship.

The submerged territory is not made by steep depths in its separation from North America, which appears to be a raised eastern seaboard, but the western coast of the continent will be shown a series of tremendous peaks, the highest known to Pacific masters are islands (Hawaii, etc.), banks and reefs. Although there is no proof it may be conjectured that when survey in course of the voyage is completed, the unknown land will be discovered to be 10 degrees north of where it will be discovered.

From north to south in the west part of the continent is a narrow land, located in front of the east, which peaks are known to Pacific masters as islands (Hawaii, etc.), banks and reefs. Although there is no proof it may be conjectured that when survey in course of the voyage is completed, the unknown land will be discovered to be 10 degrees north of where it will be discovered.

That was the last sentence of the report, which was the only outside interest retained by Mr. Roosevelt when he entered the White House.

Woodrow Wilson

DOUGLASS F. POWELL
I am writing to you in regard to the question of offense. This would be affected by the order.

As a penalty for refusing to turn in their gold, money orders, and certificates would be paid by the treasury with their silver.

It is my opinion that the same would be paid with the right to forfeit.

As a result of the agreement that President Roosevelt had in mind, the same would be paid by the treasury with the right to forfeit.
