

Merry Christmas

First Xmas Carol Found in the Roman Mass

CAROLS were originally accompanied with a dance, and this carol dancing is part of the rhythmic movement of the Oberammergau play, as well as of the dances of the Shakers of Lebanon in New York state.

The first Christmas carol in history is the "Gloria in Excelsis" found in the Roman Mass, and in the Episcopal Book of Common Prayer. It is ascribed to Telesphorus, bishop of Rome, about the year A. D. 139, and is common in both the eastern and western churches.

An old English carol begins with the notable words:

Behold a simple, tender babe
In freezing winter night,
In homely manger trembling lies,
Alas, a piteous sight.

The "higher critics" have wondered how the shepherds could watch their flocks by night, even in winter in Judea, but this presented no difficulty to Robert Southwell, the author of this quaint carol, who as a Jesuit was imprisoned in the Tower of London, and, after enduring the tortures of the rack, was executed in 1594.

A popular carol among the Germans is one written by Martin Luther for his little son Hans. It begins:

From the highest heaven I come to tell
The gladdest news which e'er befell.

A very sad story is told in connection with this carol. In order to give it regular effect in a certain Lutheran church it used to be sung by a boy let down from the roof of the church dressed as an angel. But one day the rope broke, and the boy was killed. This put an end to a very beautiful but dangerous Christmas custom.

At a time when the liturgical and biblical plays were popular the Christmas carol was an important feature. In Italy in the time of St. Francis of Assisi, in order to instruct the people, the villagers came to the church carrying lighted torches, and there they saw the scene of the manger filled with hay, and the ox and ass standing in their places near the Virgin and Child. Then it was that St. Francis and his friars stood by the manger all night long, giving God thanks that by this means the hearts of the people had been touched.

"Rare old Ben Jonson," in the days of the "Good Queen Bess," wrote a carol which begins "I sing the Birth was born tonight." Add about that time appeared a very popular carol which is sung in "Merric England" even to the present day, the first line of which is "God rest you, merric gentlemen." Some old Christmas carols have come down to us in half Latin and half English. Among them is a carol which appears in the collection for Grace church, New York city:

When Christ was born of pure Marie
In Bethlehem, that fair cite,
Angels sang with mirth and glee
In Excelsis Gloria.

In this "Grace collection" there is a carol commencing "Over the world on Christmas morn," by Dr. Mackay Smith.

The uncouth carol of the sixteenth century has given place to the popular Christmas hymn of later days. Wherever the English language is spoken Charles Wesley's hymn, "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" finds a place in the sanctuary. It is also translated into the languages of India, China and Japan. Its author was the brother of the founder of Methodism. He was a true poet and a perfect hymn writer. His masterpiece is the beautiful hymn "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," which was sung by the Princess Alice at the deathbed of the prince consort of England, the lamented husband of Queen Victoria.

"Come all ye faithful" is the "Adeste Fideles" of the Latin, and came originally from the pen of Aurelius Clemens Prudentius, a native of Spain, who flourished about the latter half of the fourth century. There is another hymn by the same Latin author which begins with "Of the Father's love begotten."

We have two well-known Christmas carols by American writers. "O Little Town of Bethlehem" was written by the popular Boston divine, Phillips Brooks. "Shout the Glad Tidings, Exulting Sing" was composed by Dr. Muhlenberg, the founder of the Church of the Holy Communion, St. Luke's hospital, and other charities in New York city.

"Angels from the Realms of Glory" is by the great hymn writer James Montgomery, who for thirty years edited a Sheffield newspaper in England. He is often confounded with Robert Montgomery, who was ridiculed and denounced by Macaulay.

"Sing a Song This Blessed Morn" was written by Bishop Christopher Wordsworth, nephew of the great English poet and father of the present Bishop of Salisbury. Dr. Wordsworth was Master of Harrow, Canon of Westminster, and Bishop of Lincoln.

"While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night" is by Nahum Tate poet laureate, associated with the Tate and Brady version of the Psalms. He died when in prison for debt.

The popular hymn "Christians Awake, Salute the Happy Morn," written by John Byron, a Lancashire man, who was esteemed a good scholar and poet in his day. He was born in Manchester in 1691.

The two eminent sweet singers of the church, John Keble and Reginald Heber, bishop of Calcutta, have written Christmas hymns, but they lack those elements of popular song which constitute the Christmas carol. Keble sweetly sings:

Like circles widening 'round
Upon a clear blue river,
Orb after orb the wondrous sound
Is echoed on forever,
Glory to God on high, on earth
And peace.

The lines of the gentle Heber have their lesson in these days of commercial unrest:

If gayly clothed and proudly fed,
In dangerous wealth we dwell;
Remind us of thy manger bed
And lowly cottage cell.

Christmas Song

In every babe that gains the light
Through rack of human pain,
In each new-breathing soul tonight
The Christ-child lives again.
In every drop of anguish, pressed
From pallid woman's brow,
In every virgin mother-breast
His Mother whispers now.

And wise men through the darkness hie,
Lo! In the East—a Star!
O little Christ who is to die
Was your soul's journey far?
Strange meteor wounds of death and birth
Lighting an endless sea;
A little child has come to earth
And He must die for me!

Origin of Yuletide

Yule was the name of the ancient Scandinavian festival held at the time of the winter solstice. The word is of uncertain origin, says The Housekeeper, but it probably is taken directly from the Icelandic word "jol," meaning a feast. It is curious to note how many nations of old marked the "turn of the year"—that is, the December solstice—by festivals. The Egyptians, the Hindus, the Persians, the Greeks and the Romans all had feasts at this season, but especially the Northern nations—the Teutons, the Scandinavians, the early natives of Britain—rejoiced at the event of the sun's turn on its course. The festival was kept with much eating and drinking and noisy jollity. One of the ceremonies was the placing of an enormous log of wood—often so large that it required the strength of several men to bring it in—upon the hearth fire in the huge fireplace. The burning of the Yule log was thought to insure good fortune to the family, especially when charred pieces of the log burned the year before and kept over for that purpose were used to light it.

CHRISTMAS BELLS

The great yule logs are blazing high,
The halls with holly green are dressed,
And blithesome maids and merry lads
Are gayly clad in all their best,
And have ye seen the fairest maid
That ere hath dwelt 'tween sea and sea?

And for my love and for my faith,
Think ye she'll bring a gift to me?
O, ring, ye joy-bells, gayly ring!
O, merry minstrels, harp and sing!
Fill every heart with Christmas cheer,
For Christmas comes but once a year.

The yule fire blazes warm and high,
On oakened rafters, blackened walls,
It shines upon the fairest maid,
As down she dances thro' the hall,
I fling my weary harp aside,
(And will she stoop to such as I?)
I haste to meet her underneath
The mystic branches hanging high,
O, ring, ye joy-bells, gayly ring!
O, merry minstrels, harp and sing!
O, fill my heart with Christmas cheer,
For Christmas comes but once a year.

Who hath so rare or fair a gift
As this my love hath brought to me?
For I was but a minstrel lad,
A dainty, high-born maid was she,
Yet with her lips her heart she gave,
Her heart, all pure as Christmas snow,
And for her love and for her faith,
Fourth unto joust and war I'll go,
O, ring, ye joy-bells, gayly ring!
O, heart of mine, rejoice and sing,
For Christmas love and Christmas cheer
Shall bless our lives the whole round year.

Xmas Posy Party

"A Garden of Flowers"—an ideal scheme this for a fancy Christmas dress party. When the invitations are sent out each guest should be requested to come to "the Garden of Flowers" dressed to represent a flower. Whatever flower is chosen should be intimated to the hostess when accepting the invitation. For the supper table decoration for this party, in the center stand a large doll dressed as a rose—the queen of flowers. In her hands should be fastened as many garlands of baby ribbons, or strings of small blossoms as there are guests. Attach little gifts at the other ends of the garlands appropriate to the costumes of the guests that are to receive them, such as brooches and scarfpins with flowers in enamel, baskets of sweets trimmed with flowers, or pretty cut glass bottles of perfume, decorated with blossoms. The ribbons or garlands should be arranged that each small guest finds a corresponding gift; thus, Violet's present is adorned with the flowers she represents, etc. The menus should be in the form of flowers or petals, and the lamp or candle shades of rose colored silk.

MUST AMEND CUMMINS-ESCH ACT TO INSURE COVERING ALL LINES

MIAMI, Dec. 20.—Senator A. B. Cummins, who is spending the winter in Miami, said today the decision of the railway labor board that the act does not cover electric or interurban lines, limits the scope of the Esch-Cummins act considerably more than had been intended by framers of the bill, and that in such a case the bill would have to be amended to speak more clearly the intention and scope of the measure.

The plan of the committee drawing up the bill was that all the lines engaged in the transportation of freight no matter by what power the freight carriers were propelled, should come under the act, said Senator Cummins.

WOULD TAX ALL DEPOSITS IN BANKS NEW LAW TO RAISE MORE MONEY

BILL PROVIDES LEVY OF ONE QUARTER OF ONE PER CENT 1 BILLION DOLLARS INCOME ANNUALLY WOULD RESULT FROM SUCH PROCEDURE

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—A tax of one-quarter of 1 per cent on all bank deposits is provided for in a bill introduced by Rep. Treadway, of Massachusetts, a member of the house ways and means committee. Mr. Treadway estimated that such a tax would bring in about $1,000,000,000 annually. Collection of the tax would be made at the time the deposit was made and institutions affected would all national, state and private banks, trust companies, brokers' offices and other institutions, firms or corporations receiving any money on deposit subject to withdrawals by check, cash or otherwise.

Mutual savings banks, co-operative building and loan association, similar institutions, organized and operated exclusively for the benefit of its members, would be exempted. The bill was referred to the house ways and means committee, which is considering changes in internal revenue schedules. Mr. Treadway, in a statement, characterized the proposed tax as a "turn over tax" on deposits. "Nothing could be simpler or more easily administered, while at the same time being greatly productive of revenue," he said. Mr. Treadway said the latest report of the comptroller of currency "shows that the amount of exchanges of clearing houses of the United States for the year 1919 was $387,091,941,000." "Assuming that 25 per cent. of the transactions of the country did not go through clearing houses," Mr. Treadway's statement said, "There should be added amounts $96,772,985,000 and $483,864,926,000. A tax of one-quarter of 1 per cent. of this amount should have brought revenue of $1,209,062,310."

JOE BREAKS WITH SID

From Saturday's Daily
In the last issue of the Palm Beach Post Joe Earman devotes a page of editorial telling that he has broken with Governor Catts because the governor appointed Edgar Thompson again as State's Attorney after he had been suspended for good and sufficient reasons. Joe made a noble fight in Palm Beach county for Catts for United States Senator against great odds and went down in defeat for a friend. He says that consistency and standing by his friends are the only things he knows in politics and when he has been mistaken in a friend he is through. Joe is right. But as long as there are any politics there will be inconsistency, jealousy, enmity and every other kind of rottenness and Joe knows this as well as anyone. It is an awful jolt to wake up and find out that the friend you have been backing in your paper has played out on you at the first opportunity. It has happened to us several times and it embittered us with the political world to such an extent that our political friends are few and far between but Joe Earman is our friend and always will be and his editorial about Governor Catts going back on him strikes the right spot in our heart for we know it comes straight from the heart of Joe Earman. But such is life and the only way to play safe in politics is to let the procession go by while you watch it from the grandstand. There are just a few people we would get out and work for in politics at the present time and they are ones who have been tried and fire tested and have never been found wanting. Joe also states that his physicians have advised him to quit the active business life and cut out the excitement and this means that we will have to forego the pleasure of any more of Joe's stuff in the Post. But wherever he goes—or whatever he does the world can rest assured that Joe Earman played the game straight and that is more than they can say about some of his so-called friends.

Vegetable shipments continue very heavy from Center Hill and Warm Springs Valley Section, shipment going forward at the rate of 1,000 to 10,000 packages daily. The market is stronger than last week on vegetables and the truckers are reaping the harvest.

The Marion County Fair, held at Ocala recently presented a greater variety of products than ever before seen from one county in the United States. The exhibit certainly showed Florida's versatility—the adaptability of its soil and climate for the production of staples as well as citrus fruits.

Marion: Many farmers are butchering their hogs, rather than accept the low prices being offered. It is believed the cured meat will bring more than the live animals. Poultry products are bringing good returns and mean much to the farmer who has them now.

Tired

"I was weak and run-down," relates Mrs. Eula Burnett, of Dalton, Ga. "I was thin and just felt tired, all the time. I didn't rest well. I wasn't over hungry. I know, by this, I needed a tonic, and as there is none better than—"

CARDUI

The Woman's Tonic

"I began using Cardui," continues Mrs. Burnett. "After my first bottle, I slept better and ate better. I took four bottles. Now I'm well, feel just fine, eat and sleep, my skin is clear and I have gained and sure feel that Cardui is the best tonic ever made."

Thousands of other women have found Cardui just as Mrs. Burnett did. It should help you.

An Appeal to the American People

THREE and one-half million children in Eastern and Central Europe have no alternative to disaster between now and next harvest except American aid. For months these most helpless sufferers in the track of war have been admitted to American feeding-stations only if tragically undernourished, and have received American medical aid only if desperately threatened by death from disease.

One 5 cent hot American meal today has saved a thousand lives.

Winter is closing down. The money of many nations is valueless outside their own boundaries. Economic and crop conditions make famines, with its terrible train of diseases, a certain visitor until next harvest. Inevitably the helpless children will suffer most. No child can grow to health and sanity on the pitiful makeshifts for food with which millions of European adults must content themselves this winter. It is obvious that the remedy can come only from outside.

America saved 6,000,000 European children winter before last. Normal recuperation cut the need nearly in half last year, but unusual conditions have resulted in scant shrinkage of child destitution during the twelvemonth just past. The response of America must now decide whether 3,500,000 of these charges, in acute distress, shall begin to be turned away in January from more than 17,000 asylums, hospitals, clinics and feeding-stations dependent on American support. There would be no tragedy in history so sweeping or so destructive of those who can deserve no evil.

The undersigned organizations, working among every race and creed, many engaged also in other forms of relief, agree unanimously that the plight of these helpless children should have complete priority in overseas charity until the situation is met. This is an issue without politics and without religious lines. There can be no danger of pauperization for the $23,000,000 for child food, and the $10,000,000 for medical service that we seek, will relieve only the critical cases. The medical supplies, of course, must be an unqualified gift, but for every American dollar used in child-feeding the governments and communities aided furnish two dollars in the form of transportation, rent, labor, clerical help, cash contributions and such food supplies as are locally obtainable.

America has not failed in the past in great heartedness. She has never had a more poignant call than this. Contributions should be turned over to the local committees which are now being formed for this national collection, or sent to Franklin K. Lane, Treasurer, Guaranty Trust Co., New York City.

Most Placer Mining Camps Flourish for a Little While and Then Pass Into Oblivion.

Exceptions to the rule governing mining camps, hectic activity and quick decay, are Helena, site of a one-time noted placer camp, and the fine city of Denver, where, in the summer of 1853, James H. Pierce panned out a little gold from a sandbar near the mouth of Cherry creek, a discovery that fired the expectations of thousands and started the historic rush to Pike's peak country.

The fine and progressive city of Lewiston, Idaho, is another exception to the rule of oblivion that has been the almost unending fate of placer camps. While, strictly speaking, Lewiston was not a placer camp, but the outfitting point, at the head of steamboat navigation, for the stampede into the clear-water region. In the early '80s, it was a placer camp in other respects, and in the wild spirit of early gold hunting.

With the sailing away of the steamship Victoria, bearing 350 Nome residents, most of whom announced their purpose never to return, the brooding spirit of melancholy came in with the long, long winter. Again the "wolf's long howl" is heard on Oumalaska's lonely shore, and the little remnant of population is left with memories and disappointed hopes. Yet a few will cling to the deserted beach to the last breath of life, for such is the unending record of every famous camp, to live over again in memory, through the long arctic nights, the stirring scenes of 20 years ago.—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

World's Longest Car Ferry.

The new railway ferry line, which is being planned to run between England and Sweden, will be the longest in the world. A tremendous ferry boat with engines furnishing about 12,000 horse-power is to travel daily between the two countries, bearing upon its huge decks freight trains 48 cars in length. Besides this there will be provisions for taking travelers from the first to the fourth class, together with dining rooms, promenades and other agreeable features. The journey requires 33 hours. After arriving on land the freight train at once proceeds upon the English or Swedish tracks, as the case may be. It is obvious that a tremendous saving both in time and in labor can be thus accomplished.

New Pictures by Radio.

"Very interesting and very important," is the way Marconi recently expressed himself regarding the transmission of photographs by radio. It appears that several systems of this kind are being worked out at present. "I have not followed the experiments, but I know it can be done," continued Marconi. "Pictures were sent over telegraph wires several years ago, and what can be done by wire can be done by wireless. It will be of great interest to watch the progress made. The two chief uses to which the discovery can be put are the quick transmission of photographs for newspaper and police purposes."—Scientific American.

Take Our Advice and Build Now.

DO NOT WAIT TOO LONG

Materials in all building lines are now at a lower mark than they have been for years, and are at a lower level than they will be in a few weeks hence, if all indications point true. Conditions in the lumber market are such that every indication points to an early rise in the price of building materials. The simple law of supply and demand, if there were no other influences, is such as to indicate that the present low prices cannot long prevail. For the past 60 days prices have maintained the unprecedented low level and still remain at that point, but it's not a safe proposition to expect them to remain at this point long. At the present low prices an opportunity is offered the prospective builder for a tremendous saving in building materials. BUT IN ORDER TO GET THE FULL BENEFIT OF THEM IT WILL BE NECESSARY TO START NOW. SO DON'T DELAY.

AIRPLANE STUNTS WERE THRILLING

GEORGE WRIGHT DREW LARGE CROWD TO AVIATION FIELD YESTERDAY

(From Monday's Daily)
The thousands of people who were disappointed on Sunday before last in not seeing Geo. T. Wright perform his wonderful repertoire of air stunts and have been so eagerly anticipating the exhibition booked for yesterday afternoon were given the chance to satisfy their desire by witnessing the most startling and sensational exploits of this world renowned flier yesterday afternoon at "Airport," the aviation field managed by Albert Dornier.

Wright caused all spectators to stand aghast as they saw the fearless death-defying little man loosen his life belt, crawl out from his seat in the plane and walk about on the wings of the machine as calmly as the ordinary person walks on the streets. He hung by his ankles from the wing skid. Did trapeze work from the landing gear, stood on his head on both upper and lower wings and then to conclude the act, stood upright on the top wing while his pilot looped the loop and landed in front of the crowd among cheers.

No other living aviator has ever attempted the marvelous feats accomplished by this wonderful young thrill of the air, who has given to the American public its full quota of thrills in both stunts and straight flying.

The famous stunt pilot accompanying Wright in this act is Jimmy Johnson, who has just closed a most successful season of twenty solid weeks through the southern and western states. He is an ex-army flier, a most careful pilot, always paying strict attention to the traffic laws and has carried many passengers while here, as many of Sanford's residents were glad of the opportunity to take a flight with this interesting young bird man. "Henry" was forced to consider the speed limit of the air yesterday as he had for one of his passengers Sanford's speed cop, Mr. Depper. Other passengers were Mr. Wilman and Miss Kennedy.

FLETCHER'S VIEWS ON FARMER AND CONSUMER GETTING CLOSER TOGETHER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—When the senate was today considering the bill for bringing about a closer connection between the producer of farm products and the consumer Senator Fletcher made a few pointed remarks regarding this important matter.

"About 1915, I think it was, some of us favored an amendment to the appropriation bill coming from the committee on postoffices and post roads, providing for an initial appropriation of $10,000 and authorizing the postoffice department to make experiments and investigations into the question how best to promote direct dealings between the producer and the consumer. They did make that investigation. That was not only in the interest of the producer but it was also in the interest of the consumer, and that includes pretty nearly everybody. Some suggestion is made about this being class legislation. Everyone is interested in the subject not only the farmer.

"That appropriation led to experiments, and finally other appropriations were made in subsequent bills, and that work continued. The postoffice department was putting into use trucks and other means for carrying products from the farm directly to the producer, and it was proving an immense success and a great advantage to the public generally, both the consumer and the producer. But in the last postoffice appropriation bill in another branch of the legislative department of the government, that item was stricken out entirely so that we no longer have that means which was provided for the benefit of the public generally in the distribution of farm products.

I believe that I am correct in stating that the item providing for the development of facilities for promoting direct dealings between the producer and the consumer was stricken out of the last postoffice department appropriation bill, or was not put into it when the bill originated at the other end of the capitol, and therefore that whole sort has fallen to the ground. It means all the greater necessity for this kind of legislation in order that the producers may cooperate for the advantage and for the good of the public."

Practically all the packing houses in Polk county are now open and doing business. Fruit is beginning to move in greater quantities and will soon be moving at an average winter speed.

CHRISTMAS PROGRAMS AT PRIMARY SCHOOL

The Christmas programs at the three primary schools were most interesting and largely attended last Friday morning.

Each program gave first a part that told of Santa Claus and then the Christ idea was presented. The programs were very well arranged and clearly presented with great credit to the teachers.

At the Grammar School the third and fourth grades gave their program for the entire school and their parents, it, too, followed the same outline but on a larger scale. The carols were especially beautiful.

During the morning the school presented a gift of silver to Miss Miller, the principal, whose wedding is to be an event of the holidays.

In each room the children had Christmas trees where they had a great deal of fun and pleasure over the gifts that were exchanged.

KINDERGARTEN CHRISTMAS

Sanford has one little school that few know about yet it is quite deserving of mention. Little Misses Carmetta Barber and Ruth Henry are teachers of quite a unique kindergarten, which is not a play one, but a real school.

The Christmas program last Friday was delightful with a real Santa and a Christmas tree.

The work the children have done is very good indeed and the little teachers have quite a bit to be proud of.

C. E. DEBATE

These Sunday evening meetings are full of enthusiasm and inspiration. All young people are invited to attend.

JACKSONVILLE GERMAN WAS TARRED AND FEATHERED

REAL ESTATE DEALER WROTE TO METROPOLIS OBJECTING TO THE WORD "HUN."

(By The Associated Press)

JACKSONVILLE, Dec. 20.—John D. Bischoff, a real estate dealer here, was tarred, feathered and pushed out of an automobile on a crowded street last night with a placard on him reading, "Herr John Bischoff, a Hun." He will not leave Jacksonville as ordered by the masked men but will report at his office today, his wife announced. The attack followed the printing of a letter in the newspaper from Bischoff referring to the Germans as Huns and threatening to withdraw his advertising unless it was stopped.

TO BUILD HOME IN FLORIDA FOR MEN CONFEDERATE NAVY

A home for the Navy Men of the Confederacy, to cost at least $150,000 and to be located in Florida at a place to be selected later, is the program of the Southern States, which is being worked out under the direction of Admiral A. O. Wright, the only surviving admiral of the Confederacy, and Miss Theodore Turney of Nashville and New York. The headquarters of the committee is the Aragon Hotel, Jacksonville.

The general plan is to build the home by popular subscription and support it by the legislatures of the several states. The legislatures of eleven of the thirteen states interested have agreed to do their part and it is expected that the consent of the other two will be secured as soon as they meet.

The location of the home will be decided on when the plans are well under way. A citizen of Fort Pierce has offered this place as a proper site and the offer is made under advisement. Should Fort Pierce be considered favorably, the people of the town will be called together for consultation and co-operation.

Miss Turney has here Wednesday looking over the field and organizing her force here. She is the active field agent and holds a high honorary rank in the Confederate Navy organization. The county committee, suggested by her, will be: L. F. Chapman, chairman; Elywyn Thomas, Harry Katz, J. Davidson, with honorary members of Mesdames Edgar Lewis and Dan McCarty and the Rev. C. F. Reade.

There are 600 of the Confederate Navy now living, and probably 300 of them will be furnished accommodations in the home. As the ranks are thinned out, the veterans of the Spanish-American war will occupy the home, and later veterans of the world war.

This is an interesting development and there is a good chance for Fort Pierce to secure this home. Developments will be made public as fast as they are available.—Times-Union.

SOME FASHIONABLE FEMININE FOLLIES

What started this craze for bare knees? One could understand the desire of women to have their knees bare in summer, especially down here where it gets hot, but there is no such excuse in the winter. And there is no real reason why bare knees should be displayed on Central avenue. Yet twice lately the Rambler has seen women with their bare knees displayed. In each instance there was no way to avoid seeing the knees, which were on display on the street and every passerby had the same opportunity as the Rambler. In each instance the wearer or rolled down stockings was sitting with legs crossed in such a way that the knee, uncovered, was visible.

Girls are foolish dressers, anyhow. They wear furs around their necks and then wear short skirts, thin stockings and low shoes and the skirts are none too thick, even the coldest day. The Rambler saw a pretty girl, one of the coldest days during the last cold snap here, with her neck and shoulders and arms enveloped in heavy furs that extended down to her waist and below the waist she had on a costume that looked like the front row in a musical comedy chorus. The dress was almost to her knees and the stockings were the thinnest and when she walked the dress, made of silk, clung to her in a way that made it very apparent she had on little except that thin skirt. No wonder she was shivering, even with her furs.

That reminds the Rambler: Recently he saw advertised invisible stockings. Now, if a stocking is to be invisible, what the Sam Hill is the use of paying some $5 or $6 for a pair? Why not go without any and save the money. If the stockings are so thin that the wearer appears to have none on, then where's the use of wearing any. And, by the way, the word invisible, as applied to the stockings in that ad, did not mean that they were to be concealed; by no means. In this day and generation, women believe that stockings were made to be seen. — The Rambler in St. Petersburg Independent.

Sanford looks mighty good to the strangers in our midst right now. This city is some lively burg and we should keep it such.

DEATH OF A. B. ALLEN.

Mr. A. B. Allen, for several years a resident of Sanford and Master Car builder of the South Florida Railroad when owned by H. P. Plant, died in West Baldwin, Maine, on Tuesday, December 14th.

Mr. Allen was 81 years of age at the time of his death, was a man of fine character, and throughout his life had held important positions in his chosen line of work. Starting as a young man in the Vermont Central car shops, he steadily went forward in the first place in that organization, and then was selected to do all of the car construction work up on a new road from McCombs City, Miss., to New Orleans. He then became Master Car Builder of the C. B. & Q. Railroad, one of the great trunk lines of the middle west. After some years in their service, he came to Sanford and became Master Car Builder of the South Florida Railroad for several years, under the administration of James E. Ingraham.

Mr. Allen was the inventor of the Allen-Vanleu Grain Door, which is in general use throughout the grain belt for the rapid loading and unloading of grain. Balanced Feed a Money-Maker

Why is it that 100 lbs. of oats goes further than 100 lbs. of corn in feeding horses and mules? Everybody knows this is so, and that it is because oats is better balanced than corn.

Purina O-Molene is a carefully milled product, and is better balanced than either corn or oats. Two thirds of a ton of Purina O-Molene goes as far as a ton of oats and much further than a ton of corn. Why not let us prove this to you? Phone us for samples and prices.

THE MILLION DOLLAR BAND WILL PLAY FIRST CONCERT NEXT SATURDAY AFTERNOON

FINE MUSICAL ORGANIZATION WILL BE HERE ALL WEEK

FREE CONCERTS WILL BE GIVEN EVERY AFTERNOON OF HOLIDAY WEEK

One of the biggest things this city has ever undertaken is the bringing of the Million Dollar Band here holiday week to enliven the place and bring the people in from the surrounding country to hear this fine musical organization.

At the demand of this association the Federal department of justice ordered Federal District Attorney Herbert S. Phillips of Tampa to make an investigation and report on the Ocoee incident.

In The Tribune of Saturday morning Federal District Attorney Phillips said: "My investigation of the Ocoee race trouble showed that there were five deaths during the clash, two of these being negro women, one negro man and two white men."

The "13" Club have guaranteed the hand their money but they asked the enterprising business men of Sanford and many citizens who are not in business to help them out in paying for the band and the response has been most generous.

The band will be a great drawing card for the week and if there is anyone who has not donated to this cause they can leave their money with Schelle Malmes or Chas. Britt.

The entire country after enjoying unprecedented prosperity in fertility of the land, unlimited demands for building material, machinery, automobiles, clothing, shoes and luxuries, due to only one thing, which is that Venus reigns supreme in 1920, but must now undergo a three-year adjustment to bring business to a satisfactory basis.

During the year 1921 Mercury, a doubtful planet in many ways, like the thermometer, will regulate business and prices in all parts of the country.

Prices are regulated according to what it stands to reason prices will gradually decrease. Capital and labor will have many disputes; some are never satisfied. A person should the price of iron and pork. When iron and pork are high, wages and commodities will be high and vice versa.

It will require two or three years for those who have left the farms to plunge into town and city life to realize there is more real living and money in raising crops than in manufacturing luxuries for foreign countries.

In 1921, government officials will investigate many concerns and as a result fraud orders will be issued in general to protect the public. The weather for 1921 will, in general, be somewhat disagreeable. January and February will be changeable. The spring will be inclined to be dry, cold and unseasonable. Plant accordingly. The summer will be wet, which will benefit those living in locations with very little rainfall.

In some localities, hay and grain will rot, unless given proper attention. The fall will be wet with early frosts. Be prepared for such weather and gather crops carefully.

The winter will be one with plenty of snow and ice which is good for the soil. Fruit will vary—in certain localties some kinds will be abundant, in others somewhat of a failure unless given special attention. Grapes will be doubtful. It will be an off year, which will give the vines a rest. Nature knows best. Mice will be very numerous. Better feed a cat than mice. Worms scarce, consequently, fish will be scarce and poor in quality. Big fish stories will be out of fashion. Disease of all kinds will cure, but slowly. Contagious diseases will occur, but not alarmingly. An epidemic will prevail in cattle, sheep and hogs, but will be soon overcome by government service and restrictions. The agricultural departments will be of great help to the people in many ways—the information sent out is reliable and should be appreciated by more persons.

FLEER'S FLORIDA FRUIT CHEWING GUM

FIRST CELERY OF THE SEASON FROM SANFORD

FLORIDA PRODUCE COMPANY SHIPPED FROM FARM OF H. H. CHAPPELL.

(From Saturday's Daily)

The first celery of the season will be shipped from Sanford today by the Sanford Produce Company and came from the Celery avenue farm of H. H. Chappell. Celery is very early this season, some of the growers planting extra early in the effort to have some Christmas celery and while there has been a few small patches here at Christmas time every year this is probably the first time that any of it has been shipped by December 18th.

The Florida Produce Company, composed of C. R. Kirtley, W. H. Wight, and R. B. Wight are live wires in the produce business and recently purchased the business and office equipment of the Florida Produce Co., that was being operated by Sam Yount and this business was started in Sanford in 1905 by J. D. Hood and has a fine reputation among the buyers of fruits and vegetables.

Mr. H. H. Chappell, who is one of the pioneers in celery growing in this section says that his early celery is of very good quality considering that it is extremely early and that it should bring a good price on the market. The Florida Produce Co., sold this celery for $6.50 per crate and expect to ship a large quantity as the season grows older.

While there is considerable celery in the northern markets just now all that the southern markets use must come from New York state, Michigan or California and the fresh celery from Florida takes first place in the southern markets and while there will be no movement in car lots of Sanford celery before the last of January the real early celery has a good chance in the express shipments and the Florida Produce Company are to be congratulated upon their being the first of the shippers of the season on Sanford celery.

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS FELT IN ALBANIA—A VILLAGE DESTROYED

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, Dec. 18.—New earthquake shocks today completed the destruction of the Albanian village Tepeleni, according to reports received here. The tremor was accompanied by an immense tidal wave and many land slides. Twenty-two are known to have been killed and many buildings were razed.

A bus line between Fort Pierce and West Palm Beach will be operated this season by Robert Eble, who is having a fourteen-passenger bus fitted for that purpose.

CO-OPERATION FOR SELLING FARM PRODUCTS

WILL BE WORKED OUT BY THE GOVERNMENT.

(By The Associated Press.)

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 18.—Plans for conducting the various co-operative agencies for the distribution of the farm produce of the nation were discussed today at the final session of the agricultural conference. The plan includes elimination of the middleman and the co-operative purchasing of agricultural supplies.

Twenty-one counties, including several of northern and western Florida, are now enrolled in the departments of exhibition of the South Florida fair, the dates of which are February 3 to 12, and indications are that several will be added to the list when newly-elected boards of county commissioners assume office in January. Thus the greatest state or sectional fair of Southern history is assured from an exhibition viewpoint, and thousands of tourists from all sections of the nation will have the privilege of learning what Florida in every section is capable of producing. To the county exhibits will be added those of Mexico, Canada and Holland.

The cold wave is bringing the new people here and we should get busy right after the holidays and build houses, build sheds, build tents, build anything and everything to take care of the thousands that are writing here every day wanting accommodations. We have many more hotels than ever before but they are filling up rapidly and every family does not want to live in a hotel no matter how nice they may be. We need hundreds of new houses and we need them this season.

J. E. Johnson, Atlantic Coast Line railway car inspector, was killed in the Lakeland yards Monday morning when he was caught between two freight cars. At the time of the accident Mr. Johnson was under a string of freight cars coupling air hose and it is not known how the accident occurred. His body was found later, badly crushed, one leg being cut off. Deceased came to Florida about a year ago from Galesburg, Ill. He was forty-five years old and leaves a family.

BLADE QUICKER THAN PISTOL

Expert Gunmen Meet More Than Their Match in the Knife Throwers of the Argentine.

The danger zone encircling a gaucho (cowboy of the Argentine) with his knife in his hand is by no means limited to the circle he sweeps with his extended arm. I am not sure just how far it does go, nor have I the least desire to find out. I heard, however, a crack revolver shot, a man who could blot out the spots on a ten of spades at a dozen paces, say that he would be extremely reluctant to take his chance at a draw-and-let-go with a gaucho at any distance under 20 yards.

An illuminative case in point came to my attention in Buenos Aires. As a class the American agricultural machinery experts sent to Argentina are as handy with sixshooters as any I have ever met. They are mostly westerners, have used revolvers from their childhood, and their arms, from which they never separate themselves for a moment while in campo, are always of the best and latest pattern.

Not once or twice, but on dozens of occasions, have I seen one or another of these men with his Colt's or Muser "automatic" after a preliminary shot or two to get the range blow over a rabbit running at full speed across the pampa. This is good shooting, as will be appreciated by anyone who has had experience with the revolver. Yet the case I have in mind is that of a thrashing machine expert from Texas—a crack shot—who had trouble with his Argentine maquilista, had an even break on a draw at 25 or 30 feet, and was retired from action with a knife through his shoulder before his revolver was clear of its holster.—Lewis R. Freeman in the Cornhill Magazine.

USE OF ETHER IN SURGERY

Youthful Dentist Said to Have Been Responsible for its Introduction to General Practice.

While various experiments had been made with so-called "laughing gas" or nitrous oxide gas in America prior to 1840, it was some 74 years ago that the first practical operation under ether was performed in the Massachusetts General hospital in Boston, and the peculiar part of it was that the sulphuric ether was given, not by one of the house physicians, but by a young dentist who had been experimenting on himself and had gone to sleep for eight minutes. He rushed over to the hospital and asked a chance to demonstrate his discovery. A man about to have a tumor removed from his neck gave permission to have the "new-fangled dope" applied. Dentist Morton went to work and the tumor was removed. The patient opening his eyes after the operation cried, "Gentlemen, this is no humbug," and with that remark ether was given to the medical world.

Oliver Wendell Holmes came forward with names for the process and the liquid, and the dictionary gained "anesthesia" and "anesthetic." In three months the drug was being used throughout the civilized world.

Fallen Fruits Never Good.

The difference between humans and fruits lies in the fact that the human is largely the master of his own destiny. A man does not need to fall if he does not want to. He may have the talents that imperfect hereditary leaves, but even they are not bound to cause him to fall. If he can be surrounded with the right environment much of what is in the blood can be turned to good account. But if the fellow himself wants to fall the world is only too ready to make the way easy for him. And there are many that seem to want to try everything that any one else has ever done. It may lead them to the lowest pit, but they are always sure they can worm out somehow. Only after it's too late do men and women realize that fallen fruits have not real rating among good products.—Exchange.

Archeologists Interested.

That the remote ancestors of the American Indians may have lived in Spain in prehistoric days is indicated by some very remarkable discoveries of rock paintings that archeologists have made at El Bosque, in the hilly country north of Aleria, a Spanish town about half way between Alhambra, situated in the plains of La Mancha, and Alicante, on the Mediterranean. Anthropologists also say that these discoveries throw a fresh light upon the life of prehistoric man in southwestern Europe during the Magdalenian period of the great ice age. These Paleolithic tribes, when not compelled by the rigor of the climate to find their dwellings in caverns where they obtained protection against both the intense cold and the attacks of ferocious animals, lived under rock shelters on the sides of valleys.

Relation of Doctor and Patient.

The relations between a doctor and his patient are absolutely confidential and are safeguarded by law, which forbids a physician from testifying to what he has learned in treating the patient, unless the latter expressly waives his right to secrecy. If, however, a patient has employed several doctors, and has at a trial called some of these to testify to his condition as the result of an injury, the other side has a right to call the other doctors, as the calling of some of the physicians by the plaintiff is a waiver of his rights.

CLEARWATER MAY DO GAINESVILLE STUNT

CLEARWATER, Dec. 18.—This city is destined to be one of the leading places for tenters to spend the winter. Clearwater authorities are endeavoring to do the right thing by them and at a meeting of the council, they were given permission to move their tents from the city park to lots that have been offered them by property owners.

The park had become too congested for the campers and a number of complaints had been made by the adjoining property owners.

Mayor Booth has suggested that this city have a rally day, similar to that held in Gainesville, when the city people will have a holiday, a big picnic, and clear up five acres of the new campsite, which has been provided for the campers.

Some of the campers already signified their willingness to co-operate with the city in helping to clean up the site.

RULED KING IN SUCCESSION

Three Sisters of Noble Family Who Became the Favorites of Great French Monarch.

King Louis XIV of France fell in love with three sisters, one after the other, the daughters of the marquis of Neule. The first was not a beauty, but she was a clever woman and a good dresser. Her reign ended after three years, when her younger sister appeared. The king's devotion to the first sister was a secret until Louis, after indulging too heavily in champagne, paid a call upon his wife, who was so disgusted by his condition that she ordered him to leave her presence. He was bitterly angered, and a few days later he publicly acknowledged his devotion to Mme. de Mailly.

Her younger sister, Pauline, came to the palace with the firm intent of winning the king from her sister.
She did, but died suddenly shortly after her success. Then the third sister, Marie Anne, the young widow of the marquis of Tournelle, the most able, the most unscrupulous and the most beautiful of the family, appeared. Mme. de la Tournelle, in love with a young nobleman, refused to listen to the king. Louis sent his rival to war, but the young man came back wounded, and a hero. A young woman of great beauty was instructed to woo the king's rival, which she did so effectively that his passionate letters to her were sent to the king, who promptly showed them to Mme. de la Tournelle.

This crafty plot was successful, and the ambitious favorite, after insisting that her sister should be sent away, was given an official place at court and the title of the duchess of Chateauroux.

FLORIDA WELCOMES AND PROVIDES FOR ALL

The following from the Literary Digest is good publicity for Florida:

Each winter the migration from the north and middle west Florida-ward increases. This season the southward tide promises to exceed even that of last year which is accredited the largest in history.

It is a democratic throng which flows into the Peninsula state—the multi-millionaire, the moderately well-to-do, and even those of meager means. For Florida welcomes and provides for all. There are all types of hotels from the most palatial and expensive to the simplest; there are winter homes from magnificent villas to humble bungalows.

Lack of living accommodations to meet the influx of visitors has led many to own or rent winter homes in Florida. Many people have proved that with vegetable and fruit gardens of their own they can escape the rigors of the northern winter and live more comfortably and economically in Florida.

Florida's resorts are divided geographically into three main divisions—the east coast chain, those which cluster about the interior lake and river region, and the west coast recreation centers built for the most part upon indentations of the Gulf.

Tourist traffic by motor, train, or steamship pours into and out of the state through two main gateways, Jacksonville on the northeast, and Pensacola on the northwest. Into the former, over the great arteries from the north, run the trains of the Atlantic Coast Line, the Seaboard Air Line, and the Southern Railway. Into the latter lead the Louisville and Nashville and connecting lines. At Jacksonville begins the Florida East Coast System intersecting the seagirt resorts of the Atlantic as far as Key West, where the traveler may embark for the short sail to Havana. The water route from the north to Florida is by the Clyde Line from New York to Jacksonville, also by Merchants and Miners Transportation
