Government Ownership Favored By Gompers; Wants Two More Years

Would Give Time To Try Idea

TEST UNNECESSARY

WILL GO TO WILSON URGING DEFEAT OF MEASURE

Washington, Dec. 18.—Protesting against enactment of the railroad bill, Samuel Gompers and representatives of the railway brotherhoods and farmers organizations today urged the Senate inter-state commerce committee to withdraw the measure and give government operation of the roads a full and thorough trial.

Chairman Cummins, who was the only member of the committee present, said he had no authority to withdraw the bill but expressed his intention of bringing the request before the full committee.

At the conclusion of an address by Mr. Gompers, representatives of the brotherhoods announced that they would go to the White House later today to urge President Wilson to use his influence against the passage of the bill. Amendments were up for discussion. Prospects for final action on the bill before the Christmas recess practically vanished.

Some concern was felt over whether President Wilson would turn back the roads to private owners Jan. 1. Many believe he will await passage of remedial legislation before taking such action. It was pointed out, however, that the railroad administration was preparing to turn back the lines Jan. 1. The contracts contain a 30 day release clause so they may be abrogated at any time without heavy loss to the government.

Mr. Gompers declared organized labor wanted the government to retain control of the roads for two years for the purpose of testing out the best method for their continued operation. Referring to the anti-strike provision of the bill, Mr. Gompers, turning to Mr. Cummins said:

"I do not fully understand whether you are drifting and on what point I am apprehensive. This proposal is filled with the gravest consequences. It will stop strikes but will make respectable citizens law breakers." The indignation against the coal miners, Mr. Gompers declared, did not produce a ounce of coal.

"Legislation cannot make men work," he said, "and it is well to remember that if men cannot get justice in other ways they will stop work, and will seek to prevent that which would accomplish their purpose." Mr. Cummins said he fully agreed with the statement that people could not be made to work by injunction.

George P. Manton, managing director of the Farmers' National Council, declared the people of the country did not understand the railroad bill. He said, "The Senate is attempting to rush it through because of the belief that the President would turn the roads back Jan. 1. A two year time extension was that the farmers wanted Hampton, said.

Fred J. Chamberlain, president of the state grange, said government operation of the railroads had failed because men in the service were not loyal to the government but to the interests who desired to get the roads. He said farmers were opposed to rushing through the Cummins bill. H. E. Willis, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and several other speakers pleaded for the two year extension and defeat of the Cummins measure.

SCHOOLBOY ANARCHIST TELLS STORY

SAYS HE OBTAINED HIS RADICAL IDEAS FROM SCHOOL AND LIBRARY BOOKS

New York, Dec. 18.—Thomas Bukhanob, the 17-year-old self confessed schoolboy anarchist now on Ellis Island awaiting deportation to Russia as a dangerous alien, who says he obtained his "education" in radicalism from books obtained at the New York Public Library, in a n interview with a representative of The Associated Press, indicated that a real menace to American institutions rests upon many a free bookshelf.

"Some rich men have unwittingly aided the spread of revolutionary doctrines", he said, referring to the millions invested in libraries all over the English speaking world. "I had no trouble in obtaining the radical books I desired, printed in Russian from the 96th street and Lexington avenue branch of the New York Public Library." The youth who, shortly after graduating from a New York public school, became the secretary of the Union of Russia Workers' Local, an anarchist organization in Brooklyn, with a membership of 150, discussed with perfect frankness the causes which had led him to his impending banishment from the United States. The first step, he said, had been socialism, a theory favored by some of the teachers in his school. It was not radical enough, he said, and so he took up anarchism.

Bukhanob would prove a study for the psychologist. He is more than ordinarily intelligent and quick-witted. A pair of light blue eyes peer from beneath a shock of very light brown hair and when he smiles he shows a fine set of well-kept teeth. Well-dressed and supplied with an abundance of cigarettes he expressed contentment with his lot and hoped he would soon be sent to Kronstadt or Nijni-Novgorod, in Russia, where, he said, there were anarchistic communes. The necessity of leaving his mother and two sisters, one of whom is a student in a Brooklyn high school, and none of whom share his views, caused him few regrets, he said, because "one must be willing to sacrifice himself for a cause."

The prisoner came to the United States from Volhynia, in the Ukraine, or "Little Russia," with his mother in 1912 when ten years old. His father, a Russian milk, is dead. For five years he attended a New York public school, graduating in 1917. He had been taught the usual branches including a knowledge of the United States constitution. He said he had no use for governments of any kind because they were all dishonest. Upon leaving school Bukhanob obtained employment at what he said was fair wages. His home life, he declared, was happy.

FLORIDA STATE LEAGUE WILL START IN MAY

ROSE IS MADE PRESIDENT, SECRETARY AND TREASURER OF THE LEAGUE

W. W. Rose of Orlando was re-elected president of the Florida State League last night at the annual meeting at the Tampa Yacht and Country Club, and upon adoption of an amendment to the constitution permitting one man to hold three offices, he was also elected secretary and treasurer, thus consolidating all the executive machinery of the league in one head to facilitate the handling of the league's affairs.

The 1920 season will open the third Monday in May and a schedule of 102 games was adopted which will carry the season a few days past Labor Day. The season will be divided into two halves.

The president was directed to ascertain the names of any cities desiring to enter the league and inform them that upon the raising of the league guarantee fund of $600 and posting same with the president at the time for filing an application, he would lay the application before the board for action. It is understood St. Petersburg and DeLand are anxious to come into the league, in which case an eight-club league will start the 1920 season.

Players under reservation with other clubs and using assumed names to play in this league will be fined $50, in addition to a $100 fine imposed by the National Association. No club can strengthen by signing new players during the last twenty days of each current half-season and no player can participate in the post-season series who was not signed up prior to twenty days from the date of closing of the last half.

The admission price for 1920 season will be fifty cents, including war tax, and sold for a reserved seat for $15," he said. "They told me all the members of my religious belief were to wait for the end in Cleveland."

BURGLARS ARE HERE THIS WEEK

PROBABLY HEAR OF MSNY BARGAINS AND WANT MONEY TO TAKE ADVAN- TAGE OF PRICES

This is burglar time as well as Christmas time and at this joyous season of the year the joyous burglar must enter into the spirit of the times and along with other big men of the country get his in advance for his Christmas joys and toys.

And probably because they have learned that Sanford has lights only part of the time Mr Burglar has come to Sanford and he seems to be a regular fixture here and also seems to have a great love for Oak avenue between Third and Sixth streets for he has confined his attentions to that part of the city until the other sections of Sanford have become jealous of Oak avenue.

The first visit of the gentleman or gentlemen and they are no doubt young gentlemen was at the home of Dr. Brownlee where they found an access through the pantry window but some noise frightened them away before they had a chance to get anything. Next they paid a visit to the home of Henry McLaughlin and here they missed a chance to get some church money but found Mrs. McLaughlin's pocket book and extracted the change. They did not touch anything else.

Last night they visited Postmaster Elder at his home on Oak avenue and here he went through the postmaster's pants looking for Thrift Stamps and other negotiable securities and also looked over the clothes of Mr. Goodspeed extracting all the small change. He even carried the clothes out in the yard taking only the money and leaving the keys and other articles in the pockets. They also stole a good watch from B. F. Whitner and some money and entered several other homes on Oak avenue.

Regardless of who these light fingered gentlemen are they certainly have scruples about the people they fish from and they are careful to take only sufficient change to buy a few pounds of sugar and a spool of thread and maybe a few cigars and they leave the other valuables as being too bulky and too easily identified.

UNITED STATES SHIPS COTTON INTO POLAND

FIVE THOUSAND TONS OF COT- TON AND FOOD SUPPLIES DAILY

Danzig, Dec. 1.—More than 350,000 tons of foodstuffs and cotton have been shipped to Poland via Danzig from the United States since last February. For a time these supplies were arriving at the rate of 5,000 daily. A shipment of 150 locomotives is expected soon.

The American Relief Administration for feeding European children directs its work in Poland from Danzig, John H. Lange of Seattle, Wash., and Captain C. A. Abele, naval attaché at Warsaw, are in charge. Mr. Lange told the Associated Press correspondent that in Poland alone the American Relief Administration was now feeding about 1,000,000 children. "We expect," he said, "to do some relief work in Germany before long, especially here in Danzig. There is very little milk in this district for children, and meat, sugar and fats are also scarce."

"Danzig will soon be a free city and, as Poland's port, is more Polish than German. At the present time the German government bears the expense of importing most of the foreign foodstuffs and sells it at a price which the people can afford to pay. This arrangement will soon cease, and I think there will be urgent need then of our help."

MOONSHINER WAS CAUGHT SAT. NIGHT

Sheriff and Deputy Pull One Largest Still in History

Moonlight nights seem to be a good time to make moonshine but a good time also to get caught and while John Williams, a gentleman of color, was watching the moonlight filter through the trees in a bayhead south of Goldsboro last night while the moonshine trickled from the still he was stalked by Sheriff Brady and Deputy Sheriff Roy Tillis and before John realized just what had happened he was neatly trapped in the act. He had one of the largest and most complete outfits that have fallen into the hands of the sheriff's office yet being a copper still with one 3 burner and one 1 burner attachments and he had 12 barrels of buck and 6 gallons of liquor in the outfit when caught.

John was brought to the county jail with his outfit and he will face Judge Housholder today and there is no reason to doubt but what John has laid enough by with his elegant still in operation to pay his fine and go back again to make some more.

It is said that John was not the owner of the still and the real man behind the still is still at large and keeping still. All of which goes to show that while the sheriff's office may catch the underlings here and there the owners get away and go back to making shine just as soon as they are able to make another still.

This still was located in a bay head near Goldsboro and was built upon a platform with the heavens for a canopy and could have operated for some time without detection only John and John's boss were operating upon such a large scale that detection was inevitable.

And there are other stills, and there will be other stills until the moonshiners are sent to the county gang for a year or more where stills are unknown.

ELKS LODGE OF SORROW SUNDAY

BEAUTIFUL MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD AT THE PRINCESS THEATRE

On account of the uncertainty of obtaining any lights and the fact that a previous announcement had stated that the Memorial services of the Sanford Lodge of Elks would be held at the Star Theatre yesterday and was afterward changed to the Princess Theatre causing some confusion there were few people out to attend these services held yesterday afternoon at the Princess Theatre at 3:30 o'clock.

There were no lights and the beautiful ceremony of the lodge where the names are flashed in electric lights as the roll call of the absent brothers is made, was eliminated from the program and for the same reason the program was cut short in order to finish while there was daylight, but those present witnessed a fine program of music and orations and eulogies on the absent brothers.

The names of the following absent brothers were called:—W D Holden P. E. R.; B. F. Higgins; W. M. Wadley; R. H. Marks; J. C. Higgins; W. H. Underwood; G. H. Fernald; E. W. Rowland, P. E. R.; Jas. D. Roberts; D. G. Monroe; W. J. Hill; J. L. Battle; O. L. Taylor; P. E. R. O. W. P. Akers; C. E. McCrory; J. G. Hurley, P. E. R.

The ritualistic exercises by Exalted Ruler Forest Loke and the officers and members of the lodge were carried out in a most impressive manner and the musical numbers rendered by the chorus composed of Mrs. A. M. Phillips, Mrs. E. F. Housholder, Mrs. W. L. Morgan, Mrs. E. F. Roumillatt and Mr. A. H. Stone accompanied by Mrs. R. C. Bower were rendered in a most fitting manner.

The oration given by Capt. Geo. G. Herring a member of Sanford lodge and lately returned from active service in France was replete with patriotism, the love of the flag exemplified by the Elks lodges of America and true Americanism as practiced by Elks everywhere. Capt. Herring dwelt at length upon the duties of not only the members of the lodge in respect to the flag but citizens of the United States as well and he brought out many historical facts in his earnest plea for real Americans to rally to the support of the flag and our country in this hour of unrest and the tendency of some of the people to slight their duties as citizens and patriots and the tendency toward anarchy and the tearing down of the basic structures upon which the freedom of the government is founded.

The eulogy as presented by Hon. W. F. Shelly was a beautiful peroration upon the absent brothers and gave a brief outline of the life of the late lamented Jesse G. Hurley, the only member of Sanford lodge who passed into the beyond during the year 1919. Mr. Shelly pointed out the precepts and examples of Elks in their fraternity and that living or dead an Elk is never forsaken and never forgotten and urged all brother Elks to remember that in passing of these members a lesson could be learned by those of the living. He paid a beautiful tribute to Brother Hurley giving a brief synopsis of his work in the lodge as a member and as Exalted Ruler, as a citizen and as an employee of the A. C. L. Railway.

The following program was carried out:

March, Mrs. R. C. Bower.
Ritualistic, Lodge.
Prayer, Chaplain A. S. Peck.
Chorus, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought", Mrs. A. M. Phillips, Mrs. E. C. Housholder, Mrs. W. L. Morgan, Mrs. E. F. Roumillatt and Mr. A. H. Stone, Mrs. R. C. Bower accompanist.

Deadly Foe of Tarantula.

The tarantula killer is a species of wasp whose female is the most effective foe of the tarantula. It alights on the spider's back and penetrates its body with a sting. In a few seconds the tarantula is dead. The wasp then deposits an egg in the body and buries it in the ground. The egg changes into a grub which nourishes itself upon the carcass of the tarantula.

LABOR WANTS THE FARMERS TO JOIN UP

RENEWED EFFORTS TO INTEREST FARMERS IN LABOR CONFERENCES

Washington, Dec. 16.—American Federation of Labor officials made another effort today to establish relations with farmers' organizations, the federation's "co-operation committee" appointed at the Atlantic City convention meeting here with the representatives of several farmers' groups. While only one delegate from a farm organization participated in the federation's "reconstruction conference," which opened yesterday, it was understood the invitations sent by the committee for today's meeting were more cordially received. Federation officials declined to discuss the conference today saying that the committee would make a report to the executive council of the organization.

In view of the declaration of principals adopted by the conference, yesterday, it was generally believed in labor quarters that the co-operation committee had made greater progress toward a common ground on which to meet the farmers' representatives than has any previous union group. Organized labor was declared by several spokesmen to be anxious to get organized farmers in the fold for the campaign which the workers plan to wage in the forthcoming election.

In this connection the statements made in the declaration, adopted by yesterday's conference appealing to "all of those who contribute to society to unite in furtherance of the principals," were explained today by labor leaders to mean that organized labor must be joined by the "producing classes if its victory is to be complete." These leaders asserted that the problems faced by organized labor are as much the problems of the agricultural class because they are both political and economic.

Every pressure is being brought to bear on the farmer groups to line them up for labor's program, it was indicated at federation of labor headquarters. Efforts, it was said, will be made to show the farmers that the conference's declaration against radicalism means

EDUCATION FOR UNION MEN IN FEDERATION

WOULD EDUCATE MEN TO BECOME LEADERS TO CO-OPERATE

New York, Dec. 16.—Education of union labor men, both leaders and rank and file, is one of the principal aims of the Associated Teachers' Union, local 71 of the American Federation of Teachers, which is just organizing in the faculties of the colleges and schools of New York. The Teachers' Federation is affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

Professor Herman DeFrein, of Columbia University, who is president of the Associated Teachers' Union, says the union professors and school teachers are not going into the labor movement merely for what they can get out of it for themselves. Instead they plan to help their new associates in the Federation of Labor along the path of knowledge.

They hope, by opening special night courses for labor leaders in economics, management and production problems and kindred subjects, to develop a new type of leader who will cooperate in managing industries instead of spending his time as Professor DeFrein says, "bickering with employers." Under auspices of the Teachers' Union two other sets of classes will be instituted evening classes, in English, history, economics and any other subjects which wage-earners in general may desire to pursue, and day courses from men on strike, so that their time may not be wasted.

The union teachers are in conference with the United Labor Education Committee on details. British universities some time ago embarked upon a program of education designed particularly for wage earners but the idea has not made much progress in this country.

Atlanta, Dec. 16. — Hotels, restaurants and soda fountains in Atlanta may not charge more than the pre-war rate of five cents a glass for coffee, tea, cocoa, chocolate milk, sweet milk or butter milk, under orders of the local "fair-price" committee, effective today. The order also provides that at least 10 fluid ounces of buttermilk and six of the other drinks must be served for a nickel. At nearly all places here ten cents had been the minimum.

as much to the tiller of the wheel as to the industrial worker and that the organized aid of the country worker is needed in the fight against "autocratic control and monopolistic of the nation's raw supplies."

The whole "platform" of Saturday's conference was understood to have been drafted with a view of making it as acceptable as possible to the farmers. It was the work of the conservative element of the American Federation of Labor, and was understood to have been prepared under the personal direction of Samuel Gompers, president of the federation. For the reason it was to put out as a feeler for the farmers. Mr. Gompers would permit no changes to be made in it by the conference, according to authentic information.

While it was noted that a strong sentiment for some political party declaration permeated the general conference yesterday, this as well as the proposed endorsement of the new labor party fell by the wayside because of the likelihood that it would be acceptable to few farmers, labor delegates said.

REDS USE FALSE PASSES

Mystery of How They Get to Copenhagen Solved.

The secret police service of Copenhagen has solved a mystery which for several months had puzzled both the police and the government. Some time ago it was discovered that lots of people were crossing the Schleswig border on passports not issued by the German authorities. They came to Copenhagen, where they were supported by the Danish bolsheviks. The police, on investigating the matter further, discovered that all the refugees were prominent German Spartacist leaders, who tried to hide in Copenhagen. It was also detected that the Danish bolshevik had formed a secret bureau for making out false passports and had supplied all their German Spartacist friends with them to return. The Danish bolshevik organization got great sums of money from the Spartacists.

CHANDLER SIX
Greatest of All Sixes

Spring'll Be Here 'fore You Know It

DESPITE conditions which greatly held back the production of automobiles throughout the early months of this year, nearly twenty thousand discriminating motor car buyers have been made happy and contented by the possession of their new Chandler cars.

Nothing could more clearly show the regard in which America holds the Chandler Six, than the patience with which thousands waited for weeks and months for their Chandlers. They waited because they knew what they were waiting for,—because they know it is worth waiting for.

Chandler dealers will, we hope, be able to fill their orders more quickly next year, but when the first warm days of Spring come, and the country roads call, and everyone decides he wants his new car at once, there will be some waiting again.

Some are still waiting, but their cars are coming. December production is taking care of many orders, and January will see the great Chandler plant on a production basis unprecedented in the medium priced fine car field.

If you want your new Chandler when you want it, place your order now. If you want to be sure of getting the car of your choice, the greatest of all Sixes beyond question, drop in and see your Chandler dealer now, regardless of what the weather may be. For "Spring'll be here 'fore you know it."

All Chandler bodies are mounted on the one standard Chandler chassis, which has made the name famous. Simple, sturdy and dependable throughout, its features embrace, as for years past, the really marvelous Chandler motor, solid cast aluminum motor base, annular ball bearings, silent chain drive for the auxiliary motor shafts, and Bosch magneto ignition.

PRESIDENT WILL ENJOY CHRISTMAS

EXPECTS TO HAVE WHOLE FAMILY AT WHITE HOUSE WITH GRANDPA

Washington, Dec. 07.—Not since the Roosevelt boys hung their stockings in a row under the marble mantel in the east room, has Santa Claus been called upon to load his pack so busily for his visit to the White House as he will be this Christmas.

For Christmas is to be a real season of joy at the executive mansion this year. In addition to the joys accustomed by the foregathering for the first time of all present Wilson children and grandchildren and the regular holiday festivities of the younger generation, there will be added gladness and gratitude on the part of the grown-ups because of the fact that the president "grandfather" to those celebrating the day with him has passed the crisis of a dangerous illness and appears to be on the way to health again.

So definitely has the president's condition progressed in the past two weeks that Christmas plans, held in abeyance during the period when it seemed that Christmas might even be a sorrowful time at the White House are now being made to make the White House a center of yuletide joy.

There will be a busy Christmas eve with tinsel and new gowns and the president's youngest son, Woodrow Wilson Sayre, the youngest of the president's grandchildren, who will be paying his first visit to grandfather, Woodrow 11, however, probably will not appreciate it as much as his elder brother and sister, Francis and Ellen, aged 5 and 3 respectively, for this is his first Christmas.

Ellen and Margaret McAdoo also will be among the juveniles waiting for Santa to come down the big White House chimney, untroubled by the thought that there are half a dozen chimneys in grandfather's house, Santa might choose the wrong one.

In addition to the grandchildren, the White House Christmas party will include the president's three daughters, Margaret, Eleanor and Frances, his two son-in-laws, Francis Sayre and W. G. McAdoo; Mrs. Bolling, Mrs. Wilson's mother, and for Christmas day probably the president's brother Joseph of Baltimore. It is to be a genuine family affair.

The president's participation in the festivities will be shaped by his progress in the meantime, but Dr. Grayson now expects him to be able to preside at the Christmas dinner, though he will not be permitted to share in the plum pudding.

BERGER THE ISSUE FOR CONGRESSMAN IN WISCONSIN

SOCIALIST LEADER ELECTED ONCE BUT DENIED HIS SEAT RUNS AGAIN

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 17.—Victor L. Berger is the issue in the special election called for Dec. 19, in the fifth congressional district of Wisconsin. The socialist leader, who was elected to the present Congress but denied his seat following his conviction for violation of the espionage act, is again the nominee of his party. He is opposed by Henry H. Bodenstab, a republican, whose candidacy is backed also by the democratic organization and a local society known as "The Good Government League."

The fifth district is looked upon as the socialist stronghold in Wisconsin. Berger carried it several years ago when he was elected to Congress the first time, and again at the regular election in November, 1917. At the latter time he had a plurality of more than 5,000 votes, polling 17,920 against 12,150 for Carney, democrat, and 10,678 for Stafford, republican. Carney instituted the contest which resulted in Berger's loss of his seat.

Berger was the unanimous choice of a mass meeting called hurriedly because of lack of time for taking the usual party referendum. The Berger meeting approved his "every act, word and writing." The platform on which Berger seeks reiteration of many of the socialist party principles and declares against prohibition, against "the impertinent presumption of any class or party in the House of Representatives to dictate whom the district is to elect as its representative" and against "meddling in the internal affairs of any foreign country, such as Germany and Mexico."

Bodenstab's candidacy was the outgrowth of a conference between representatives of the Republican and Democrat county committees and a delegation from the Good Government League.

Bodenstab also has announced that he is against prohibition, the hub of his platform is the declaration "to keep inviolate the fundamental principles of our government, and stand opposed to every attempt to Bergerize and Bolshevize this country."

may not act today on the McNary bill providing for the licensing of sugar dealers by the government. At the same time another bill placing an embargo on all sugar exports will be considered. Purchase of the Cuban crop, advocates of the bill declared, would not receive the shortage. The senate passed the McNary bill last week and its supporters fear if it is amended it cannot be finally adopted by the holiday recess.

After approving an amendment that would maintain the measure giving the president power to regulate movements of sugar, the house agricultural committee today ordered a favorable report on the senate bill continuing the United States Sugar equalization board through 1920.

LIQUOR FIGHT JUST STARTED WET SIDE SAYS

EIGHTEENTH AMENDMENT WILL BE ATTACKED AND SUIT FOR DAMAGES

Chicago, Dec. 17.—Four thousand of Chicago's 5,000 saloons will close or go into other business Jan. 1, according to M. J. McCarthy, secretary of the Illinois Liquor Dealers' association. Most of the saloonkeepers had operated left drink establishments with the regular corps of bartenders in hopes that the wartime prohibition law would be found unconstitutional.

Levy Mayer, counsel for the liquor dealers of the middle west, said the real fight has "not yet begun" which brought some cheer to saloon interests and distillery heads. "Yesterday's decision by the supreme court is just a scratch on the surface," he said. "The constitutionality of the eighteenth, or prohibition amendment, will be attacked in a few days."

New York, Dec. 17.—Lawyers representing large liquor interests in New York intimated that a civil action against the government might be the next step in the fight against prohibition and the compensation for losses estimated at $300,000,000 would be sought. The lawyers asserted that the decision of the supreme court virtually confiscated liquor held here. Local banking circles will be little affected by the court's on, it was said. Large loans were outstanding on warehouse receipts earlier in the year, but nearly all have been liquidated.

The man who had been cultivating a highly educated thirst in anticipation of a resumption of the sale of liquor over the bar, bemoaned today the probability of exorbitant prices for a drink obtained "on the quiet." Some unofficial quotations on the "unofficial" market today were: Champagne, $225 a case; imported brandy, $150 a case; Scotch whiskey $250 a case; rye whiskey, $15 a quart, and benedictine, $30 a quart. Individual prices in saloons depended entirely on the bartender.

Louisville, Ky., Dec. 17.—Watching one of their last remaining hopes for a brief "wet" spell go fluttering by the decision yesterday of the federal supreme court upholding the federal wartime prohibition act, Kentucky distillers and former saloon proprietors today were deeply troubled. How to dispose of 63,000,000 gallons of liquor, worth at wholesale approximately $100,000,000, was a big question. While exportation is allowed to Jan. 1, 1920 when national prohibition will be come effective, a scarcity of ocean transportation tonnage makes it almost impossible to transport that the prescribed time.

Many saloons in Kentucky had made ready to open for business during the two weeks remaining before national prohibition becomes effective, and the liquor they hold must be disposed of immediately if they are to remain in the law.

Elwood Nichol, liquor prohibition officer, and State's Attorney Gregory announced that prosecution of violators of the wartime act may be undertaken shortly.

A HERALD WANT AD FOR RESULTS

SUGAR PRICES UNDER CONTROL IS SOLUTION

FOR THE COUNTRY AT LARGE HEAD OF SUGAR BOARD STATES

Washington, Dec. 16.—Complete government control of prices and distribution of sugar is necessary for the protection of consumers from profiteers, members of congress today declared before the house agricultural committee. At the same time George A. Zabryskie, president of the sugar equalization board, advised the committee that continuance of the board would be useless unless it were given control over prices and distribution.

These powers Mr. Zabryskie pointed out in a telegram to the committee, are not included in the pending McNary bill.

Opposition to the McNary bill, passed last week by the senate, led to an informal agreement among the committee and house leaders to eliminate from the measure the provision repealing the licensing power of the government as conferred by the food control act. Chairman Haugen said formal action will be taken tomorrow, under a plan calling for early action by the house. Leaders, however, were doubtful whether the bill, if amended, could be finally disposed of by congress before the holiday recess.

Simultaneously with the meeting of the agricultural committee, the house interstate commerce committee tomorrow will meet to consider a bill proposing an embargo on all exports. Advocates of board government control, as well as the purchase of the Cuban crop, told the committee that "sky high prices" were threatened, and that the mere purchase of the Cuban crop only would add profiteers by increasing the supply.

For the first ten months of this year, almost a billion and a quarter pounds of sugar have been exported from this country, said Representative Dallinger, Republican, Massachusetts, citing the equalization board as authority for his figures. The only general opposition to the bill was voiced by Representative Martin, Democrat, Louisiana, who declared it was "unnecessary," and blamed the shortage of congressional agitation for purchase of the Cuban crop and the recent longshoremen's strike which delayed deliveries.

Warts are contagious, as is proved by experiments on their own fingers made by Drs. Udo J. Wile and Lyte B. Kingery of the University of Michigan Medical school. These physicians seem to have proved that warts are caused by some sort of a virus that passes easily through a filter and therefore through the sound human skin.

To Renovate Old Oil Paintings.
When old oil paintings have become dark and cracked they may be made to look like new by the following process, says the Illustrated World: Pour alcohol in a dish and put the picture over it, face downward. The fumes of the alcohol dissolve the paint of the picture, the cracks close up and the color becomes more fresh. Caution is absolutely necessary, as the paint may become so soft as to run together, thus spoiling the whole picture.

Only eight more days till Christmas.

And we have not bought them yet.

We intended to Saturday night but it was too dark.

Do your shopping now. Christmas won't wait.

"Give us this day our daily bread," and please cut the price.

Cheer up, cheer up! Death is humping right along to our relief.

Man gives, and he takes, but in these days of high prices it is principally give.

The kind words of the people of Sanford probably set fire to the plant.

And, while you are about it, just make it a Merry Christmas for yourself also.

Hitting the high spots in life may be all right, provided the low ones don't get you on the rebound.

We see, we want, and we take—if we can. But, then, 'tis but the spirit of our ever changing times.

No matter what we think of the Southern Utilities Co., we do not want them to lose their plant by fire.

The wise man sees the star of hope at Christmas time, but the fool sees only the green cheese in the moon.

And we want them to get fixed up as soon as possible for we need the light and the power and the farmers need the ice.

If the devil should suddenly come to earth he would scamper right back to a safer place again. This would be no happy home for him.

There is always an element of sadness mingled with the joy of witnessing the approach of a new year. We may not all be here to see its close.

Good cheer, brothers and sisters And we may have the pleasure of repeating these friendly salutations to you for many years to come.

Also if they cannot furnish the light and power and gas and water and ice we would like to know that also and we can arrange for some one who can furnish it.

At the time of Christmas rejoicing it is well to remember that the pathway of life is strewn with roses and with thorns, and to each of us is given the privilege of choosing that upon which we would tread.

Nevertheless and notwithstanding we opine the city will take up the matter of public ownership just as soon as possible for what Sanford needs just now is a new plant that will not only take care of the city at present but some time in the future.

Sanford stores never looked more beautiful than they do at present and the Herald wishes to commend them upon their stores and their store windows. They show that the merchants are right up to now and other people are not in it and there are many shoppers coming here from other cities in this section.

No matter how much we may desire to forget him, old man Carranza just keeps right on shaking his whiskers in our faces and asking us what we are going to do about it. One of his latest stunts was to stir up and foment the bolshevist activities in this country, with a view to the overthrow of the government. If old Carranza ever finds his way into hell the devil will surely take to his heels.

Our large cities are full of thieves, thugs, crooks and the nondescript cast-off of humanity. They prey upon the people at will and there appears to be no check. This, perhaps, is because the officials of both of the two great political parties are afraid to undertake a thorough cleaning up of their cities for fear of losing the votes of the underworld at the next election. This is an ugly truth—but truth, nevertheless.

LET THE WOMEN ALONE

women to task for their vagaries in dress. They point to the fact that the modern dress exposes a few inches of feminine charms, and they see in consequence the prompt demoralization of the world. But why all this hubbub over what a woman wears? Is her form one of which she should be ashamed? Ask the men! Eve was garbed in flowing hair and a fig leaf, yet Adam appears not to have been disturbed at this fact. She was Eve, and that was sufficient for him. She represented the most beautiful thing in all the world to him—and from the days of Adam the verdict of man has not changed. The artist sees nothing immodest in the woman who poses for him, because it is art. The savage respects the woman who is clothed only from the waist to the knee, because it is the custom of his country—and custom makes right. The evil, we fear, is often in the eye of the critic and not in the object of his criticism. "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone." And, in the meantime, let the women alone—bless 'em!

WHY LIE ABOUT IT

Every time we have a sugar shortage someone interested in the succulent grapefruit will indict a treatise on how much better the grapefruit is with salt than with sugar. These arguments are meant for the benefit of the Florida grower's side of the case. But there is a very serious doubt if the grower will ever be able to capitalize the salt-on-grapefruit idea. There are two ways to eat grapefruit two ways that fruit will have the appeal to the palate that will make its sale steady and continuous. There are exceptions of course. Some people really prefer salt on their fruit, but they are in such a hopeless minority that their importance to the grapefruit industry is negligible. Early grapefruit, before it has fully matured, needs sugar. Salt ruins it in any shape for the average taste. We have heard many persons say they rather fancy salt on their grapefruit, but when we were looking they would slip the sugar in and the salt out. The other way to eat grapefruit is to allow it to remain on the tree for two seasons then eat it without anything on it. Nature will have provided sufficient sugar. Of course the latter proposition is impracticable. But a small percentage of the fruit will hang on the trees over season. So the only thing left is to continue putting sugar on grapefruit, and if a sugar shortage comes along grin and bear the consequences, for we will never be able to make progress? in cultivating the public taste to grapefruit by advising trying salty and pepper.—Palatka News.

CONSERVATION OF WHISKEY

Sheriff of St. Johns county, just like the sheriff of practically all other counties in Florida, seized a lot of contraband whiskey. It has been customary in other counties to destroy this liquor at stated intervals, but Circuit Judge Gibbs of St. Johns county has what the News seems a very wise act in ordering that this whiskey be distributed among the hospitals of St. Johns county, thus alleviating suffering and perhaps saving lives. Sheriff Morris of Volusia county has a quantity of whiskey on hand. There being no law for distributing this liquor, worth perhaps $12.00 per quart up, among county officials, especially to members of the Board of County Commissioners, The News would like to see Judge Perkins order the whiskey distributed among the hospitals of the county, with orders that it be kept under lock and key, and used only for patients. A better use for this whiskey could not be devised. It is a crime to pour it on the ground in these times.—DeLand News.

SLOW SCHEDULES

The Tribune is convinced that slowing down freight schedules is perhaps the most short-sighted thing the railway administration has yet done. Take oranges, for instance! One man writing in expresses it thus: "In the old days a car of fruit was sold in New York and consumed before it is now delivered, shows what we are up against." Six days is the normal expectation of the shipper for his fruit to reach New York. One-third additional time required, one-third more cost of transportation, and one-third more cars needed. That's what it means, in addition to the depreciation in condition of fruit held a third longer en route. And to show that some blunderer is handling this matter, we have that impossible demand for putting 432 boxes of fruit in a thirty-two foot car, instead of the maximum of 360 which prevailed, a loading that is just as bound to raise the percentage of decays in the car to at least 25 per cent, as it is certain that fruit not ventilated in shipment will rot. Surely the railroad administration when it makes rules governing shipments and schedules does not class citrus fruits and lettuce and green beans with tar, pitch and turpentine, or even with green lumber!

Business manager C. E. Stewart of the Florida Citrus Exchange writes on this subject: "The writer notices that you have started after the prolonged

West Palm Beach, Dec. 12—The crank-shaft broken, the seakiff Kingfisher, ten hours out from the Grand Bahamas, loaded with 100 cases or more of whiskey, was campelled Tuesday morning to call for the aid of a fisherman's boat to tow her in to this port, and the presence on the Kingfisher of 100 or more cases of whiskey was thus disclosed. A part of the illicit cargo was captured, one of the men on the Kingfisher was arrested, the boat will be libelled by the federal government, and owners and members of the Kingfisher's crew are liable to arrest on two or more charges and prosecution in both the state and federal courts. But the larger part of the liquor-runners' stock escaped confiscation and already is in process of distribution.

HILL PLANT

AND EXPECT TO MANUFACTURE ALL KINDS OF CRATES AND HAMPERS AND DRESSED LUMBER

One of the greatest assets to any growing city is the establishment of a factory or mill that gives employment to a number of men and that has a weekly payroll of sufficient proportions to make a noticeable difference in every channel of trade. Sanford has never had any large factories or mills in the sense of the word large but there are a number of smaller concerns that have demonstrated what a larger plant would mean to the city and it is with a feeling of pride that the citizens point to the Zachary-Tyler Crate Co., that has started this week in the manufacture of celery crates. There was a time in the history of this section when people thought a crate mill would not pay—a strange idea in the very center of the greatest vegetable center in the world. That time is past however and the coming of the Zachary-Tyler mill has changed the opinion and with their large plant situated upon the A. C. L. Ry., and Lake Monroe where they can procure timber by rail or water and ship either route they have an excellent opportunity to demonstrate that a crate mill is just what the Sanford section needs now and has always needed.

The mill is located in the buildings that formerly housed the Zachary Lumber and Novelty Works and the only changes necessary were the installation of the machinery for the manufacture of crates. Like all other plants starting since the war they had great difficulty in obtaining their machinery and Chas. Tyler of the firm went direct to the headquarters of the machine shops in the north this summer and remained until he obtained what he wanted in the very latest improved machinery for the plant. It has now been installed and the big mill is working almost to full capacity with a small army of workmen turning out the material for the heads and sides of the new open head crate with stapled head that will soon be the most popular crate in the market. It is made stronger probably than any other crate in the market and is patterned after the needs of the grower being built for hard knocks and built upon the improved plan of the manufacturers who have studied the needs of the growers.

Machines that grooves the heads and put them together, that staple them and that do the work of many men put up a crate in the shortest space of time. New machinery will also be installed that will make the old fashioned closed head made with nails for these who want them. The new style stapled and ventilated head will no doubt be adopted by the majority of the growers once they have proved their worth. The Zachary-Tyler Co., is well equipped for this work having the latest improved veneer machines and cutting machine and a big brick dry kiln. Their steaming sheds are also arranged for the steam to come from underneath the ventilated floor insuring a uniform steaming and in the dry kiln they have a system of cars that take the immense racks of veneer and taking them into the kiln and from there to the mill and the empty racks are then carried by other cars back to the kiln insuring a steady stream of material for the mill at all times.

In fact the Zachary-Tyler Co. seems to be the last word in a crate mill and they dare now employing about fifty hands with a capacity of 210,000 crates a day, and their pay roll for the week just ending is about 1000 and their combined business means the bringing of $5000 per week into the city of Sanford that formerly went elsewhere. In time they expect to make arrangements for the rafting of logs up and down the river into their mill and they will then manufacture yellow pine lumber and will be able to supply this part of Florida with all the lumber needed for building of all kinds. A. D. Zachary and Chas. Tyler the prime movers in this large enterprise deserve the support of the people of this community in their endeavor to put Sanford on the map in the manufacture of crates. They will confine their attention to celery crates this season but next year will be in a position to make lettuce hampers and everything in the way of carriers for the growers.

WOMAN'S BODY IN LAKE MONROE NEAR ENTERPRISE

HAD BEEN IN WATER SEVERAL WEEKS UNRECOGNIZABLE

The following is from the DeLand News:

The body of what was apparently a white woman was found floating in Lake Monroe yesterday by a man named Lee from Lake Mounty, who was hog-hunting in that section. Mr. Lee dragged the body to the shore and notified the sheriff's office. Deputy Sheriff Morris and Justice of the Peace Tom Hays empaneled a jury consisting of Robert Haynes, George Moore, H. F. Lungren, Peter Gessner, E. P. Frierson and W. H. Bennett, who went to the scene, viewed the body, decided that it was the body of a white woman, and rendered a verdict to the effect that the woman was unknown, and came to her death from unknown causes. The body was buried on the lake shore.

The woman was apparently between 55 and 60 years of age. She was dressed in a dark skirt with a green sweater, laced shoes with rubber heels, white stockings; there were two rows of buttons down the back of the dress. It was not absolutely certain whether she was a white or a negro woman, as all the skin had peeled off of the face and hands and the body was held together simply by the dress. All the hair had fallen off. The body had

REVENUE MEN FINDS STILLS MOONSHINERS

ALSO FINDS MAN OPERATING STILL BUT ALL EVIDENCE PRODUCED U. S. COURT TODAY

This has been a big week in moonshine even though the nights have been dark and several illicit stills have been captured and destroyed and several rounded up and will have to prove their innocence before a United States court. F. J. Cortina the U. S. Revenue officer with headquarters in Jacksonville has been here several days and later a little quiet work succeeded in locating several stills. With the aid of the sheriff's office and in company with Deputy Sheriffs Tillis and Whidden he located a still yesterday on the lower St. Johns river several miles below the Harden ferry and a white man and a negro were found at this still. This was one of the most complete stills in the county being copper and of the most approved pattern. One was 75 gallons and one 50 gallons stills and they were made with a brick furnace and in a most inaccessible spot. They also found 700 gallons of mash. The men who are supposed to own and operate this still have been taken to Ocala today and they will be placed under bond and when they are their names will be published.

Officer Cortina with a posse of citizens located a still in Gee Hammock on Wednesday and here they found a 200 gallon still which was destroyed although no one was near the still at the time and no evidence was obtainable for the conviction of the parties who own it they will be caught if they attempt to operate again. The U. S. government and the Revenue Department requests the co-operation and the assistance of the people of this county in giving any information that they can to the department. It will be treated as strictly confidential, and absolutely secret. If they can receive this co-operation this illicit distilling will be broken up. Mr. Cortina also wishes to say that the sheriff's office gave him all the assistance they could when he called upon them and asked them for aid.

About four weeks ago, a negro woman appeared at the sheriff's office with the complaint that her mother had disappeared at Enterprise Junction. She gave her name as Clara Clemons and her home as Arcadia, and stated that her mother was Helen Ford and came from Griffin, Ga. It is thought that the body found in Lake Monroe may possibly be the body of this negro woman. The body was found in the lake about 2 1/2 miles southeast of Enterprise Junction.

CHRISTMAS DRAWS NEAR MERCHANTS SAY

SANFORD IS SHOWING THE TRUE HOLIDAY SPIRIT

Christmas seems to mean more this year than formerly if the crowds of Christmas shoppers are any rule by which the season can be judged. It is certain that at no time in former years have there been such crowded stores as we now have morning noon and night and the merchants have decided that if possible they will keep the stores open at night part of this week and next always providing there are lights and this will greatly enhance the appearance of the stores and live up business generally.

The merchants of Sanford have kept and better stocks this year than ever before. They are taking more advertising space and paying more attention to their stores and more windows and more attention to the stocks they carry with the result that Sanford is the trading center of this section of Florida many people coming as far as twenty five or thirty or even fifty miles away to trade in Sanford and these people are noted here each week which means that the Sanford stores are what they want and are treating them right or they would not become regular customers.

DISCHARGED SOLDIERS CAN REINSTATE INS.

Will Be Too Late After December 31st If They Cannot Pass The Physical Examination

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 17.—After December 31st many discharged service men who have allowed their Government insurance to lapse, cannot reinstate it, nor secure insurance of any other kind.

For this reason the American Red Cross, through its Home Service section, is endeavoring to communicate by letter, by personal touch and in every way possible with former soldiers and sailors before this date to get them to pay up their premiums before it is too late.

If a man was discharged more than eighteen months ago, he has until December 31st to reinstate his insurance if he has allowed it to lapse through non-payment of premium. After that time he must have a physical examination, and if he does not pass it, his insurance is "fined." If he does not pass the Government examination for insurance, he cannot pass the examination for other kinds of insurance.

This ruling will apply as well to men who are unable to pass the examination on account of wounds received in the service as to men who have suffered injuries, or because discharged after their discharge from the army. If a man was discharged less than eighteen months ago, he has eighteen months from the date of his discharge to reinstate his insurance without examination.

In order to prevent the loss of their insurance to many men who are not aware of the rulings in regard to it, the Red Cross is undertaking to help as many of them as it can reach, and to acquaint every ex-service man with the conditions of reinstatement.

MORGAN EARNED DEGREE

Was Fast Friend of England and Should be Rewarded

London, Dec. 17.—The Spectator points out to the Englishmen that the honorary degree of doctor of laws conferred by Cambridge University on J. P. Morgan, of New York, was "extraordinarily well-earned."

"Mr. Morgan has always been a fast friend of this country and a hard worker for closer Anglo-American understanding," the Spectator continued. "Early in 1915 his firm was selected to act as commercial agents for the British government in the United States. It was he who concentrated and coordinated the enormous orders for war materials. He also acted as agent for the French government and by eliminating competition in prices and deliveries he probably saved the Allies hundreds of millions of pounds."

"It was Mr. Morgan himself who took the chief part in placing on the American market the Anglo-French loan for 100,000,000, a loan unprecedented in the history of external loans by any government. He refused to accept any remuneration for placing this loan. His work in using British securities to establish the exchange was also invaluable."

"He has done more than risk his fortune in the cause of the Allies; he has also risked his life. His escape from the German assassin who twice wounded him was a narrow one. Englishmen may well rejoice in any honor which can give some satisfaction to Mr. Morgan."

ELLIS ISLAND SUBJECT INQUIRY BY CONGRESS

ALIEN ANARCHISTS MAKE THEIR HOME THERE GOING AND COMING

New York, Dec. 16.—Ellis Island known for years as "the open door to the oppressed of every land" and which has become the subject of a Congressional inquiry by reason of its new character as a place of detention for hundreds of anarchists and other "dangerous" radicals, is really three small islands in New York harbor about one mile south-west of Manhattan. Their total area is approximately 29 acres.

Upon these islands, known as No. 1, 2 and 3 are nineteen large and small buildings of brick and stone, many of them handsome structures of four and five stories, used as the United States Immigration Station for this port and which, from July 1 to December 31st, nearly 80,000 aliens entered the land of Opportunity and Freedom. Hundreds of "undesirables" it should be stated, were at the same time sent back to the lands of their birth. The Immigration service here 372 workers including inspectors who board incoming ships.

It seems an incongruity that Ellis Island which, in Summer, gives the foreigner his first glimpse of the wonders of the New World's metropolis, a pleasing view of the beautiful lawns and flowers, well-kept buildings and a fine harbor with the marvelous skyline of New York in the distance, should have metamorphosed during the war into a big detention place for political criminals and the foes of organized government.

The fact is, Ellis Island, according to the authorities, was not intended as a prison for such offenders. Federal judges, in the past two years acting under the authority vested in them, liberated 557 so-called "dangerous aliens" either upon their own recognizance or in the custody of their lawyers, according to Representative Isaac Siegel, a member of the House Immigration Committee which is investigating the Red Peril. During the same period 697 anarchists, bolsheviks and other radicals have been sent from various parts of the United States to New York. Of this number 85 are now in custody of Acting Immigration Commissioner Byron G. Uhl, the successor to Frederic C. Howe, who until recently, and since 1913 had served as Commissioner.

Please allow me to state that I have sold your hog cholera remedy for one season and have ordered more for this season. Last year I sold it to 12 or 15 men who raise hogs. I told each of them to take the remedy, feed it to their hogs and if they lost a single hog from "chouse of any kind not to pay me a cent for the remedy, but when they began to sell cotton every man came in and paid me for the medicine and every one of them told me that it was the best hog medicine they ever used. One man paid me $5 worth more and said it was the best that he had ever tried.

Great Storage Facilities

In Ideal Formulas, we offer you Experience dating from the very beginning of commercial production of Florida crops. This experience shows not only the value of proper materials correctly proportioned as to advisability, but the need of perfect physical condition at time of application. To secure this condition, the fertilizer must be made long in advance, batched and, and reground. This calls for enormous store house capacity. Acres of flooring are necessary to insure goods being thoroughly cured, seasoned, blended, before sending them out to you.

Labor is high and difficult—many other expenses and problems are to be met—hold fast to all the sure things that make your success. By choosing Ideal Fertilizer you have eliminated the fertilizer problem. Over a quarter century of profitable field results back of them. Why take unnecessary chances?

INDIANS HAVE BANK

Yakimas Conduct Institution at Wapato, Wash.

Officers, Except Cashier, Are All Indians, and They Are Proud of the Bank.

Wapato, Wash.—In the heart of the Washington hills lies this little town of Wapato. An Indian as its name, it is the center of the Yakima Indian reservation.

Majestic braves, straight-backed and long-haired, reminiscent of the forebears who fought the fiercest battles of a fierce race, stalk down the main street.

Behind them trail their shawl-wrapped, gayly turbaned squaws, patient, stodgy, enduring, not one whit changed except in dress from the squaws who carried their warriors' tepees and cooked their meals back in the fifties.

With an air of pride they halt before a small concrete building which bears the legend "American Commercial Bank."

The American Commercial bank is an Indian bank. Its officers, from the president of the board of directors, are all Indians, with the exception of the cashier. Half of its depositors are Indians, and the money that goes into its coffers is nearly all the product of the fertile Yakima valley, where the Indians own thousands of acres. It is the only bank of its kind in the United States, and it is a good bank.

It was founded last year by Philip Olney, president, and a group of Indians associated with him.

A descendant of the Yakima chiefs and the Scotch settlers who first built their homes in the valley, Olney is a shrewd business man and a tenacious one. He is tremendously proud of his Indian ancestors, and it is one of his ambitions to live up to the best of their traditions.

He himself owns 240 acres of land, which he farms to the best advantage. He is ever ready to loan money to the Indian who deserves it, and more and more of his neighbors are coming to him to find out how he does his work and how he can help them.

The American Commercial bank was capitalized at $25,000, with a $15,000 surplus. It had on deposit June 1, $80,000.

Gets Gold Watch For Biggest Lie

New York.—In a contest as to who could tell the biggest lie in one minute's time, James McIntyre of McIntyre & Heath won a gold watch at a testimonial concert given for Barney Fagan, minstrel, in the Manhattan opera house.

Mr. McIntyre said that he knew that "at one time there was an honest lawyer." He had barely finished his sentence when his one-minute time was up, but he got the watch.

The performance was given by friends and associates of Mr. Fagan on the stage, and many who are familiar with his career were in the audience.

Old Maid's and Bachelors.

A bachelor may be legal, but there is always something funny about him, in the case of the old maid, there is always the possible excuse that her lover died; but if a man wanted to get married, he wouldn't pay any attention to a thing like that.—Howe's Monthly.

Construction of Pyramids.

How the Egyptians managed to haul the gigantic stones used in building the pyramids has been for centuries a subject for speculation. Of late years some who have examined the pyramids have come to the conclusion that the stones are artificial, a kind of concrete. If so they were probably made where they are, and the sand of the desert was the principal material used.

Origin of Petroleum a Mystery.

Geologists disagree as to the origin of the so-called "mineral oil," or petroleum. The majority of those who have written on the subject appear to believe that the oil is of animal and vegetable origin. It is conjectured to be mainly the fat of fishes, reptiles and animals that lived and died ages ago. Oil-bearing plants or seeds may have contributed to the total supply. The subject is wrapped in mystery.

The English Language.

It is estimated that over 140,000,000 people now speak the English language, over 51,000,000 the French, 75,000,000 German, 35,000,000 Italian, 42,000,000 Spanish, 13,000,000 Portuguese and 75,000,000 Russian.

MOTHER SEEKS MISSING SON

For Fourteen Months Iowa Woman Has Been Hunting for Soldier Boy.

SHELL SHOCKED IN FRANCE

War Department Gives Harry E. Ross Fine Record for Bravery and Coolness in Action—Suffers Lapses of Memory.

Huntington, W. Va.—How a mother's heart is aching for her soldier son, who has been missing for 14 months since he was shell shocked while serving as a dispatch bearer in the battle of Solsonas, was revealed here by Mrs. Clark D. Ross of Des Moines, Iowa, who has been searching frantically for her son, Harry, age twenty-one. Mrs. Ross came to Huntington a few hours too late to find her son, who had appealed to the local Red Cross for aid, but left headquarters before a telegram to his mother was answered.

Suffers Shell Shock.

"My boy was shell shocked at Solsonas while acting as a runner for Major McCloud of the twenty-sixth Infantry, and was reported 'missing in action' in July, 1918," said Mrs. Ross here yesterday. "He was not killed, I am sure, for several of his companions told me he was given first aid. I have been hunting for him vainly for 14 months, and I have questioned hundreds of soldiers, and searched through many hospitals, all of whom have been asked to watch for him. Apparently he is suffering from lapses of memory. One day he knows who he is and the next day he doesn't. I believe from what he told the Red Cross in Huntington that he is getting better and is on his way home. Harry was a good soldier. He was first in the North Dakota National Guard and later with the regular army. His job in the national bank at Wahpeton, North Dakota, is waiting for him. I have a letter from the adjutant general praising him highly for his services and for his bravery and coolness under fire. I am afraid he got scared in Huntington and will not come back here. If he could know and understand that it is his mother who is looking for him, I am sure he would make the effort to come home when in his right mind."

Acted Strangely.

Mrs. Ross' notion of her son's deployment corresponded closely with his actions at Red Cross headquarters. He told the Red Cross authorities he did not want money, but only wanted

OIL WILDCATting AS A FINE ART

How the Swindler Plays the Game in Texas.

LAW CANNOT REACH THEM

"Blus Sky" Legislation Falls to Provide Way of Bringing Offenders to Justice—With an Initial Capital of 25,000 Many Easily Make Profit of $100,000 to $200,000 Within a Few Months.

Notwithstanding the accumulating evidence that systematic oil well swindles are being perpetrated on an extensive scale in Texas, no way has yet been discovered for bringing offenders within the reaches of the law. It has been found that the so-called "blue-sky" law of Texas is practically worthless, so far as preventing the organization of irresponsible oil companies and the sale of stock which has no value.

It is in the wildcat well-drilling game that the biggest swindlers are pulled off. It has been proved time after time that it is possible for a man or set of men with an initial capital of $25,000 to easily make a profit of $100,000 to $200,000 within a period of a few months at the game of drilling wells in wildcat territory. The money in most instances comes from the people of the community in which the fake well is drilled. There is hardly a county in Texas that has not been the scene of one or more well-drilling operations of this kind. Of course, there are a great many legitimate companies that are drilling or have drilled wildcat wells, and in many instances these holes have had to be abandoned for one reason or another, before they were completed. It is the professional swindler of whom the land owners and people generally are beginning to complain loudly. Enormous blocks of stocks of these swindling companies have been sold to people outside of Texas.

How It is Worked.

J. C. Burkett of Taylor county describes how the wildcat oil well men operate:

"All at once there will appear upon the streets of the town two or three strangers, and in a few days they will let it out in some way that they are making investigations to know if there are men in the section who will lease their land for oil purposes. They walk about among the farmers and ranchmen and soon secure 15,000 or 20,000 acres for a dollar an acre or less.

"Then they send for an 'expert' geologist to go over the land and locate a place to put in a well. He makes an examination and gives a favorable report. In a short time a man is employed to put down a well, and in a few weeks the derrick is put up, and the owners of the leases begin to make arrangements to sell leases at high prices. After the well is down 300 or 400 feet, the owners of the leases make it known that the 'log' of the well is first class—just like the wells at Ranger, Caddo, or some other oil field. This creates a little more excitement, and some of the leases that cost 50 cents or a dollar now sell for $5 or $10 per acre. But the greatest excitement has not come yet. Wait until they get down about 1,500 feet and then see what will take place.

"All at once the report goes out like wildfire over the town and the country where the well is located that they have struck a 'showing of gas', and the excitement runs a little higher and leases go up again.

"If you are not careful a bit will get hung about this time, but it may be a little later on.

Then Comes the Cleanup.

"When they get down about 100 feet farther, then the thing comes off just right; they strike a 'showing of oil'. By this time the oil dealers are wild with excitement and the leases go up again.

"Now they get ready and put a guard about the well and allow no one except some oil 'expert' to go about it. Soon afterward a bit gets hung or a casing is pulled apart, and there is a six-weeks' delay, and during this delay the owners get busy and sell at several thousand dollars per acre near the well.

"Just as soon as the excitement begins to die down they send out a report that the bit is hung and it is impossible to pull it, and they take down the derrick and leave the country with a fine bag of money and the community in wonder as to why they did not get more than a 'showing' of oil."

The fakers got just what they want after—the people's money, and when they got that they pulled up and left. Once in a hundred times it may be that such men really find oil and the neighbors make money, but in most cases the well is a fake and poor men and women are stripped of their money.

Dying Act Saves Passengers.

A dying motorman's last act was to apply the brakes to his car to prevent it from going over the precipitous incline on the Hudson palisades at Edgewater, N. J. Thrown from their seats by the sudden stopping of the car, the 30 passengers found the motorman, Alexander Rabb, dead from heart disease. The car had stopped on the edge of the precipice.

In the Days of Beaver Hats.

In the olden days in the United States soon after the Revolutionary war, a good beaver hat became a kind of family heirloom, and was handed down from father to son. For some strange reason it was considered to be rather frivolous and extravagant to be seen wearing a new beaver hat and it was the custom when a man bought one to leave it in stormy weather before wearing it, to "take the newness off."

As to the Number "Forty."

Forty may not be a "magic number" like three, or seven, and it has not the extraordinary properties which mathematicians have discovered in the number nine, about which a whole volume might be written without exhausting the subject. But the manner in which it figures in both fact and fiction is certainly calculated to pique curiosity. It is impossible to discern any mathematical reason for such use of it, wherefore the natural assumption is that it had its origin in some striking incident.

Quebracho Bark Valuable.

Quebracho bark, one of the chief exports of the Argentine, will take leather at least three times as fast as the bark of the oak or the hemlock and in less than ten years fortune have been made by investing in quebracho lands. Nearly 1,000,000 tons of the wood, or the dry extract, are sent to the United States and Europe annually. The growth of the tree is the slowest, and it is estimated that 1,000 years is required for it to reach maturity.

Esperanca Found Rubber.

It is believed that the rubber tree was discovered by a Jesuit missionary, Fr. Manoel de Esperanca. He found it while on one of his apostolic journeys among the Cambelas Indians of South America and gave it the singular name of the seringueira, because he remarked that the savages used the sap of this tree, which hardens quickly, to make rude bottles that were shaped like a syringe.

them to wire his mother, giving her address and his regiment and company. When the Red Cross authorities arranged to provide him with a meal ticket and a hotel room until his mother could be heard from, as a test of his identity, he seemed to take fright. He left Red Cross headquarters telling them he would be back again, but he never returned.

While at Red Cross headquarters here young Ross behaved so queerly that the Red Cross workers thought him mentally deranged, but they stated they had no power to detain him pending word from his mother and could not prevent him from leaving the headquarters.

He is still in uniform, and following is his description:

Height 5 feet 8 inches; slender; dark hair and eyes; uniform cap; marksman's medal on left breast.

He was without funds, and told the Red Cross here that he had been making his way on freight trains and said he had been at Palm Beach, Fla.

Would Abolish Wigs.

London.—Agitation has been started among English barristers to abolish the weighty horse-hair wig and the flowing gown which for centuries has been the costume of the profession in court. "The wig is hot, it tickles, and however dignified a man will look with one on, he never quite gets over the feeling that it is made up for comedy," said an eminent K. C.

YANKS, TRAPPED, WIN HOT FIGHT

Sensational Feat in Russia Not Surpassed in Whole History of War.

BETRAYED BY DESERTER

Americans Attacked While Asleep by Superior Force of Russians—Victory Finally Crowns Heroic Struggle of the Doughboys.

San Francisco.—Stories of heroism may be told of the Argonne until they are written in the pages of history the gallantry of the American marines at Chateau Thierry may thrill mankind to the end of time itself, the glory of the western front may pass into the generations, but never will there be a story that can surpass the one brought home by the handful of Americans who battled at Romanofka, Siberia, on June 20, 1919.

It was disclosed here for the first time by Lieut. Lawrence D. Butler of the Thirty-first Infantry. With the lower half of his jaw shot away a wound received in the engagement, Butler recited the tale haltingly.

Guided by American.

An American soldier deserted and guided a numerically superior force of Russians to a poorly protected camp, where the Americans were bivouacked. They were sleeping when the onslaught opened. The Russians were massed on the crest of a heavily timbered hill commanding the entire camp, and poured a deadly rifle and machine gun fire into the thin lines of the Doughboys.

The Russians had posed as simple country folk, friendly to the Americans. They outnumbered their benefactors ten to one. But when they turned to attack they fired even into their own homes where some of the Americans had fled for protection against the hail of steel pellets that rained into the camp. Victory finally crowned the heroic struggle of the doughboys.

"Most of the boys who were killed never had a chance to leave their beds," the officer said. "They were shot while asleep. The others came scrambling out, and fought in their underclothing. I ordered them on to advance in skirmish order. They moved as though on the drill ground. A corporal, already wounded in the foot, led them. He walked and the men followed.

Buried Without "Taps."

"We reached a low-lying gorge, and I organized my defense with two men on each flank, three to protect the rear, and sixteen facing the enemy. This is the manner in which the men met the Russians, armed with German and Russian rifles.

"My orderly was behind me, carrying my rifle. My pistol was empty, and I turned to him, asking for the rifle. As he handed it to me his head was blown off. I was wounded in the leg by an American bullet, fired by a Russian.

"A Russian ran to our ammunition tent. I put my head out of a window in a house where I had gone to pick a sharpshooter and received a bullet in the jaw. My teeth flew over the place like so many pellets. Before long, though, we had them on the run."

When the fight was all over the victors started to bury the enemy dead. Lying face down, shot three times in the back, they found the body of the former "buddie" who had betrayed them. He, too, was buried, but no taps made him rest in peace.

FRENCH TO BE WITHOUT COAL

Impossible to Find Remedy for Situation, Paris Officials Decide.

Paris, France.—Governmental and municipal authorities and coal merchants admit the virtual impossibility of finding a remedy for the situation which has arisen here because of the coal shortage, although cold weather has not yet really begun.

At a secret session under the presidency of M. Evain, the municipal council discussed the situation and reached the conclusion that within a few weeks coal will not be available, not only for private houses, but also for public utility services.

Penknife Will Pass Through Needle Eye

Wellesley, Mass.—A gold handled pen-knife that is so small it could pass through the eye of an ordinary darning needle is on display in the window of its maker, Solomon L. Baxter, Jeweler here. Baxter claims it is the smallest penknife in the world.

The little knife has two steel blades measuring three thirty-seconds of an inch. Three tiny steel rivets hold the sides and blades in position.

"Oil of Joy" Is Produced From the Cactus Plant

Various species of the cactus plant have been used by men seeking forgetfulness of the woes of their existence. The "mescal" intoxication, which is produced by a beverage of this sort and which has in Egypt and India numerous devotees, is described as being even more enticing than the "hashish paradise," without causing the physical and mental disorders of the latter. A similar beverage is the "pulque" of the Mexicans, which is prepared from an American species of aloe. At the present time it is largely supplanted in Mexico by "tequila," which is made from sugar and pineapple juice.

Alligator Farming Brings Good Returns for Effort

There is much money to be made in alligator farming. The demand for alligators is large, constant and rapidly increasing; the supply is limited and there is not much competition. The few alligator farmers in America are prospering. Alligators have to be fed on meat, but they need no food from September 1 to May 1, for this is their hibernating season, when they do not eat at all. Alligator skins are used for making bags, suitcases, purses, belts, cushion covers, etc., and the teeth and bones are made into cutlery, paper knives, whistles and many forms of cheap jewelry and ornaments.

China Egg Traps Snake. Swallowing a chicken egg was the fatal mistake which brought to a close the long egg-stealing career of a black snake. Found in a hen house which it had been plundering, the reptile was vainly trying to squeeze through the hole by which it had entered the building. The lump formed in the scaly body by the nest egg would not permit the exit, and the snake was killed. A post-mortem operation was performed to remove the egg.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

ONE-FOURTH WORLD'S WOMEN IN CHINA

Seventy Per Cent. Employees in Shanghai Cotton Mills Women and Children Working Twelve Hour Shifts.

One-fourth of the women in the world are Chinese—200,000,000 of them. They are going into industry in large numbers to work long hours and for little money.

In Shanghai, for instance, seventy per cent. of the employees in the cotton mills are women and children. Working hours for spinners are from six in the morning until six at night and from six at night until six in the morning. Weavers work from 5:30 in the morning until seven at night and the wages are from ten to twenty cents a day. Hundreds of women are employed in silk flature mills, standing hour after hour washing cocoons in basins of boiling water in the excessively hot rooms necessary for apartments where fine silk is spun. In Canton alone, there are 150,000 women in factories at a maximum wage of forty cents a day for women and of fifteen cents a day for girls.

As part of its program of world service for women the National Young Women's Christian Association is expecting to put on its staff of secretaries in China an expert on industrial conditions who will develop social work in factories, and work to improve conditions for women employees. This work will include the introduction of recreation and social life among the workers and of health lectures and educational classes.

Y. W. C. A. STUDENTS TEACHING IN CHINA

Physical Training School Maintained in Shanghai.

The vast majority of Chinese men remember their mothers as cripples. Many a girl wanders into a mission school who has not had her own feet bound, but has never seen a woman of her own class who could walk, and, therefore, she walks in a most ungainly fashion—scarcely conscious of her natural feet.

The Chinese Medical Association—an Association composed only of Chinese physicians mostly graduates from American and English institutions—have asked the entire educated community of the country to co-operate to better health for the children of China. All the Mission Boards operating in China felt that one of the greatest contributions the Young Women's Christian Association could offer to the health of China would be to establish a normal school for the training of physical directors.

Accordingly, in Shanghai, which is the greatest port in China, the national committee established such a school in 1914. The school has won favor with all educationalists, both missionary and government. There have already been nine graduates from this school, Miss Ying Mei Chun, a graduate of the Wellesley School of Physical Education, has been dean of the school. Graduates of the school are scattered from Canton to Peking, teaching with conspicuous success in twelve mission and government schools.

KILLS TREE PESTS

Doctor Woodpecker Is Nature's Chief Wood Surgeon.

In Everlasting Conflict With Millions of Dangerous Enemies That Would Destroy the Life of the Sturdy Forest Monarchs.

If half a thousand disease germs should suddenly begin eating into the life tissues of your body, you would surely need a doctor, writes F. E. Brimmer in the Farm Journal. Yet more than 500 species of insects prey upon the oak tree, and still we wonder at its strength and vigor. So much, indeed, that "sturdy as an oak" has become an advertising slogan.

The sturdy oak owes much of its long life to Doctor Woodpecker, nature's skilled wood surgeon. One bore would kill a tree single-handed if left at his deadly work long enough; so will a few beetles. A single mother beetle will produce nearly 500,000 young destroyers in a summer of uninterrupted activity. Weevils only stunt the growth of the tree and leave it full of holes, an easy victim to other destroyers. Saw flies, caterpillars, ants and moths are among the hosts of tree pests that damage the outer part of the trees. Against all these, the tree is defenseless, except for the busy surgeon. A hungry bird of any other kind cannot help the tree, for the pests are hidden beneath the bark or far under the surface.

Just as plagues and epidemics wiped out whole villages of people in the middle ages, so if left to their enemies it would be only a few decades before all forests would be murdered—nothing but dead, grub-bored stumps and fallen trunks left. To prevent this terrible condition nature sends a physician regularly to each patient. Sometimes Doctor Woodpecker has been known to spend as many as three days operating on one very bad case, constantly using to advantage his tree-surgery tools. Generally his incision is only as deep as the thickness of the bark. Often he slides his spearbill between seams or crevices and draws out the worm, leaving no mark or scar on the bark to show where he did it. At other times his cuttings may be deep galleries, tunnels or caverns.

A great deal of the drumming that we hear is only for sounding purposes—much like a man taps the wall with a hammer to find a studding. When Doctor Woodpecker has discovered a diseased part he directs a rapid fire of rattling beats upon the spot with his pecking bill, raising his hammer-like blows with automatic and astonishing precision, until his prey is brought to light. Then he thrusts in his barbed bill and, with a sudden backward jerk, brings forth the deadly grub.

Early Aviation Flight.

One who is reasonably surprised that interest in aviation has not sooner revived, as a curiosity of the past, the legend of Alexander the Great and his youthful ascent in a small car drawn by gryphons. The legend was widely current in the middle ages, and many who heard it doubtless believed that Alexander's "gryphoplane," as a modern headline writer cheerfully calls it, had attained an altitude which would make the record ascension of modern aviation seem like a childish experiment. Gryphons, as those who know their "Alice in Wonderland" will remember, were odd birds, and Alexander, an adventurous boy of twelve, was said to have harnessed two of them to a basket of rushes and been carried to a height of 917,654 feet, returning to meet a protesting parent, who asked him "how long he expected to keep up his infantile tricks."—Christian Science Monitor.

How Much You Should Weigh.

A simple way to ascertain one's ideal weight was told recently by Dr. Harvey G. Beck of the University of Maryland. In an address before the Los Angeles County Medical association at Los Angeles, Cal. First, put down 110. Then multiply by 5 1/2 the number of inches by which one's height exceeds five feet. Add the result of the multiplication to the original 110 and the sum is one's "ideal weight."—Popular Science Monthly.

In Death Valley.

Death valley is a narrow area between the Panamint and Funeral mountains in California. It is traversed by the Amargosa river, which is usually a dry channel, though probably it was formerly full of water. The level of the valley is covered with salt, supposed to have been brought by the torrents from the surrounding desert and left on the evaporation of the water. Death valley is said to be the hottest and driest place in the United States.

Cancellation.

The cook of a certain family had been in the same situation for years. One afternoon the mistress of the house visited the kitchen and said, "You know, cook, we are all very fond of you. I hope you like your present room and are content with your wages? I am thinking of giving you one of my silk petticoats." The cook's eyes widened, and she said, "Oh, m'm, however many people have you asked to dinner now?"

Costliest of Books.

It is said that the highest price ever realized for a book, was paid at an auction sale in London recently, for a book of private devotion, a "XIV Century Book of Hours," formerly the property of Jeanne II, Queen of Navarre, which brought $59,000.

Fear in the Child.

"There is a world of truth in Prof. Angelo Mosso's emphatic declaration: 'Every ugly thing told to the child, every shock, every fright gives him, will remain like infinite splinters in the flesh, to torture him all his life long.'"

—"Psychology and Parenthood," by H. Addington Bruce.

Civilization in Korea.

History for many years H. G. tells us that the people of Korea were among the highest in genuine civilization. About the year 1577 a general by the name of Li built the first iron fleet, composed of wooden circular vessels with iron plates on top, studded with iron teeth. Because of the prosperity of the Korean nation, Japan was extremely jealous, and had therefore brought 700 boats in battle array. However, Li, with his 50 boats, succeeded in inflicting a disastrous defeat upon the Japanese.

Whistling for Wind.

Everybody is familiar with the old superstition of sailors that, to bring a favorable breeze, they must whistle during the calm. From the remotest times there seems to have prevailed a belief that libation or sacrifice would placate the storm spirits and induce them to permit the vessel to proceed unmolested on its course. Russian sailors have been known to pour oatmeal and water over a rocky promontory in order to obtain a wind favorable to their designs.

Great Occasions Reveal.

Great occasions do not make heroes or cowards; they simply unveil them. Silently and imperceptibly we grow and wax strong, we grow and wax weak; and at last some crisis shows what we have become.

Artificial Eyes.

During the year 1840 Professor Boscovich of France created what could honestly be called an eye that was human in appearance. The method of manufacturing was practically the same as that employed at the present time, with the exception that in the intervening years great improvements have been made in imitating the colors, that are almost lifelike in their effect. Besides, many improvements have been made in the shapes, which are practically molded to conform to the socket and fill all the available space.

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

The Ford Sedan, with electric starting and lighting system, demountable rims with 3 1/2-inch tires all around, is the ideal family car because of its general utility and refined and comfortable equipment. Finely upholstered. Plate glass windows. An open car in the spring, summer, and early fall. A closed car in inclement weather and winter. Rain-proof, dust-proof. In the city or the country, a family car. The low cost of operation and maintenance is not the least of its charms. Won't you come in and look it over?
