Frost Is Predicted Here Again Tonight; Little Damage Yet

Temperatures As Low As 29 Are Expected In Sanford Section With More Frost

Florida's Citrus Is Little Damaged

Freezing Weather Hits All Parts Of South Causing Suffering

State Does Not Need Wage-Hour Law, Says Wilson

Sanford Representatives Attend State Chamber Meeting

Citrus And Celery In This Area Unharmed But Tender Vegetables Are Destroyed

Although sub-freezing temperatures prevailed throughout Seminole County for most of the night very little damage was reported in vegetables and citrus growing in this locality. O. P. Paxton, local meteorologist, reported that the mercury plunged to 28 degrees during the night and failed to hit the 30 degree mark any time during the day yesterday.

LAKELAND, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The Weather Bureau today warned Florida fruit and vegetable growers to prepare for a second night and an early morning of sub-freezing temperatures and killing frost.

Several representatives from Sanford and Seminole County heard State Marketing Director William L. Wilson of Jacksonville tell the twenty-first annual business conference of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce that Florida does not need the wages and hour law. Seminole County Chamber of Commerce officials who attended the meeting reported today.

Reliable reports indicated that some damage had been done to citrus in the low places but no accurate estimate as to the extent of the damage could be obtained.

Florida's many million dollar crop of oranges, grapefruit, tangerines and winter vegetables suffered some damage yesterday. Growers and marketing authorities said they feared another night and early morning of sub-freezing weather would cause heavy loss.

Speaking before a near capacity audience in the Colonial Orange Court Hotel in Orlando yesterday, Mr. Wilson drew a prolonged applause as he outlined his views on the proposed legislation. Florida can fare better by taking advantage of the God-given advantages for labor that are evident in this State as in no other section of the Nation.

Those close to the industry, however, expressed fears that considerable damage may be done tonight if the steady winds abate and the mercury fails to rise.

The Weather Bureau's frost warning service station here urged growers in north and central Florida to fire their groves and cover vegetable areas again tomorrow. It warned of a "quite rapid fall in temperature after sundown."

The afternoon session ended with a brief memorial service for the late Alfred Warg of West Palm Beach, former State legislator and a past president of the State chamber.

The entire State was gripped in the frigid temperature which accompanied the northwest wind but, according to reports from points in the southern part of the State today, very little damage was done to citrus.

Other speakers included Earl W. Brown of DeLand, vice president and manager of Florida National Exhibits, Inc., who outlined plans for a State exhibit at the New York World's Fair of 1939; Clarence Dilling of Clearwater, and New York, who is president of the United States Sugar Corporation, told of the possibilities of the industry in Florida; and Stephen McCready of Ocala, president of the Florida Association of Real Estate Boards, who told of the real estate possibilities offered by the State.

Considerable damage was reported to cucurbits, lettuce, tomatoes and other leafy vegetables, while the more tender plants, such as tomatoes, eggplant, squash and beans which escaped the last frost blast were completely killed.

The government filed a tax claim on Mar. 29, 1931 with the contention that Mellon's gross income in 1931 was $13,482,660, whereas he had listed a gross income of $6,783,737 in making his tax return.

Several temperature drops were recorded in the Carolinas and Tennessee and western North Carolina, and extended north.

The first day's session ended at a banquet at which Nina Wilcox Putnam, noted writer, discussed Florida. O. G. Ware of Leesburg acted as toastmaster in the absence of Harold Cole of Jacksonville, president.

Reports from Belle Glade indicate that a heavy frost had done considerable damage to truck crops in that section.

Several temperature drops were recorded in the Carolinas and Tennessee and western North Carolina, and extended north.

The American people should take government out of business and put business in government," said President Cole in an address read before the conference.

Reports from Belle Glade indicate that a heavy frost had done considerable damage to truck crops in that section.

Police say she and another girl signed statements giving their version of the affair.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The United States board of tax appeals overruled today a major portion of the government's $3,075,103 tax claim against the late Andrew W. Mellon.

The Sanford Semi-Pro Blackcats won their first game by a 7 to 0 score in a tilt with the Alachua Semi-Pro team there last night.

Two dogs are dead and three are under treatment as the result of an epidemic of poisoning which has occurred in Sanford during the past 24 hours, according to Peter S. Roy, local veterinarian, who described the death tolling poison as strychnine.

Two negroes, charged with possession of illegal liquor and one negro woman charged with sale of the illegal liquor were given stiff fines by City Judge Frank L. Miller in a session of the Municipal Court yesterday afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—(AP)—Methods through which the government can levy on $50,722,000,000 of tax exempt securities and on hundreds of millions of dollars in taxfree state and municipal salaries, were reviewed with-out conclusion last week by a house ways and means subcommittee.

Although both teams were scattered throughout most of the game the Sanford side outplayed the Alachua team, piling up 9 first downs from scrimmage and three from their passing attack, netting a total of 173 yards from the line of scrimmage. The Alachua team made three first downs from their passing attack for a total of 65 yards.

Clara Aiken, who was arrested later by members of Police Department who found her selling liquor, was fined $35 by the City Judge.

Henry Rogers, charged with drunkenness, was given a 30 day suspended sentence and Rufus A. Chaucery, also charged with drunkenness was given a 90 day suspended sentence. Guy L. Lasergone, on a similar charge, received a $10 bond and Elbert Bush, negro, charged with being drunk and disorderly was fined $10 or 30 days.

Parish House Meeting Is Tomorrow Night

Jap Troops Climb Walls Of Nanking

Funeral services were conducted yesterday afternoon at the Joseph P. McEllan Funeral Home for Carl Julius Ericson, Jr., 44, accountant of Coral Gables, who died Thursday in the United States Veterans' hospital in Bay Pines.

The annual Parish House meeting and supper of the Holy Cross Episcopal Church will take place tomorrow night at 7:00 o'clock. It was announced this morning by the rector of the church, the Rev. Martin Bram.

Advances columns of Japanese troops assailed Nanking's historic walls tonight. Japanese officers who announced the attack said the spearhead of the invaders was attempting to climb the city's massive battlements with scaling ladders—a maneuver handed down through the middle ages.

A Japanese asserted their main force had not yet reached the city but added that they were "progressing satisfactorily" and according to schedule. The spokesman did not say how soon he expected the fall of the one-time fountain head of nationalist China.

ARCADIA, Dec. 7.—(AP)—The engineer and fireman of the Seaboard Airline freight train were killed today when their locomotive crashed into the rear of another freight train which was standing on the tracks near here. Dupont Plans Huge Program For Recovery

Would Have Industry Finance Recovery Sum Of 25 Billion; Three Million Jobs

Asks Government For Opportunity

Elimination Of Poverty Is Seen As Part Of Program

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—(AP)—A planned recovery financed by industry itself to the amount of $25,000,000,000 or more to create 3,000,000 new jobs was proposed today by Laurence DuPont, president of E. I. DuPont de Nemours and Company in an address to the National Association of Manufacturers.

DuPont pictured the creation of a new era with the eventual elimination of poverty and unemployment through this three-fold program.

Warner said the depression and its "resultant effects" had installed in the average American the notion that there was "something wrong about industry" and that it had become necessary to take positive steps to counteract this belief.

"Our job is to get across to the people the simple, fundamental fact that if industry is encouraged to will benefit. We must concentrate upon the constructive story of it."

LOCAL WEATHER Forecast

Evidently the Japs are going to keep right on shoeing up British steamers and gunboats, and insulting other foreigners as well, until, even though they do apologize, it's going to be just too bad for them.

The Orlando Sentinel reports that there are more winter visitors in the City Beautiful than there were last year at this time. Evidently the "business recession" is not going to hurt the tourist season.

According to the United States News, it now costs $4,435 to build the same house which in 1925 cost only $3,530. And unless we are mistaken the increase during the next few years will be a whole lot more than that. Now is the time to build.

The Japs won another great victory in China the other day. Nearly a hundred children were killed when an airplane was bombed by airplanes. We suppose some Jap flier will now be given a Croix de Guerre, or whatever the Japanese equivalent is, for bravery in action.

According to the United States Secretary of Agriculture, two-thirds of the farmers are producing one-fourth of the crops and three-fourths of the children who will be the next farmers—so that if you drop in on an American farm, the chances are that you'll find one-third of an American farmer raising one-eighth of a crop, and three-eighths of a child. —Toronto Star

The Ocala Star assures its readers that Hendricks and Green won support for the cross state canal by signing the yards and hours bill though of course no trade was made. If you can put over a $4 million dollar project like that—or is it a $60 million dollar project by this time?—merely by signing a petition to bring a bill on to the floor of the house, there wouldn't seem to be much chance of a balanced budget and then in the year 1937.

The Lindberghs Return

Col. and Mrs. Charles Lindbergh have returned to the United States. Press reports and the fact that they left their two little children in England indicate that they are here only for a brief visit and that when the purpose of their journey has been satisfied they will return to the seclusion of their retreat abroad.

We have no doubt that the vast majority of the people of the United States feel like extending a cordial welcome home to this famous pair and would like to see their stay in this country made so pleasant for them that they would have no desire to seek refuge again on a foreign shore. Surely they have only the utmost sympathy from the people of this country for the troubles which have beset them during the past few years.

But that very interest and sympathy which the Lindberghs have aroused has been the means of making their lives miserable for them and was one of the main reasons why they left here two years ago. It was not more to escape the dangers of kidnapping than to avoid the publicity brought them by their fame which induced them to hide in England.

Those who have never been subjected to the barrage of clicking cameras and the cross examination of relentless reporters can hardly appreciate the ordeal constantly faced by the famous. For a celebrity to arrive on a liner in New York harbor is hardly less exacting than to run the gauntlet through a wild Indian tribe. Many a popular figure likes it, fattens on the free advertising so ungenerously given.

But there are those to whom it becomes sheer persecution. Such a one is Col. Lindbergh. Because of his natural shyness, because of the great tragedy in his life, and because of his extreme popularity and the consequent extremes to which reporters have gone in their quest for "news" of him, he has been hounded by reporters as perhaps no other man in America, either now or throughout the history of this country.

Legitimate news concerning the Lindberghs, of course, has to be obtained and published, but it should be of no great public concern what the Colonel has for breakfast, what kind of B. V. D.'s he wears, and how long before their next "blessed event." These are the sort of questions which are fired at him constantly whenever he is cornered by reporters.

It will not hurt American newspapers to forego such news. Their readers in most cases will applaud. And so while the Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh are in this country, we for one hope that the newspapers will do their part to make their visit as pleasant as possible and let them know that they can return permanently to this country without fear of further persecution from the press.

For Business Men

Ten commandments for business men which we like appeared recently in the Nation's Business. If every business man would study these commandments and then stick to them, everyone would be a lot better off and there would be less cause for complaint against hard times throughout the world today. What do you think? Here they are:

1. Don't wait for the other fellow to come to you; go to him.
2. In competition with others, always give them the credit of being a little smarter than you are. Then work like the deuce to prove that they aren't.
3. If you have no money and little credit, capitalize your personality. Sometimes it pays to have nerve.
4. Never admit to anybody—and least of all to yourself—that you are licked.
5. Keep your business troubles to yourself. Nobody likes a calamity howler; besides, he finds scant favor with the bankers.
6. Don't be afraid of dreaming too big dreams. It won't hurt you to figure on owning a railroad, even if you have to compromise on a flivver.
7. Make friends; but remember that the best of friends will wear out if you use them too frequently.
8. Be square even to the point of finickiness, and you will have mighty little occasion to complain of a crooked world.
9. Take advice but do your own deciding.
10. Don't teady. The world respects the man who stands up on his hind legs and looks it in the eye.

YOU AND I must not complain if our plans break down if we have done our part. That probably means that the plans of One who knows more than we do have succeeded.—E.F. Hale.

Barclay Ignores Hearing Summons Of Labor Board

Youthful Editor Says Communism Taught American Laborers

NEW YORK, Dec. 7. (AP)—Hartley W. Barclay, youthful editor who challenged the right of the national labor relations board to subpoena editorial records and notes, addressed an industrial gathering here yesterday on "labor racketeering" and failed to attend a board hearing at Steubenville, Ohio, to which he had been summoned.

Barclay, speaking at the annual meeting of the national industrial council, charged communism was being taught American workers. He said the attempt of the labor board to gain access to his notes and other records was an invasion of the freedom of the press.

The editor of "Mill and Factory" was summoned to produce his papers at a hearing on charges the Weirton Steel company, a subsidiary of National Wagner labor relations act. In a recent article he had described the hearings as a "colossal burlesque staged with taxpayers' money."

"Not His Party" Last week Barclay said he would not attend the hearing. Yesterday, asked if he had changed his mind, he replied it was "not my party."

Labor troubles in many American factories and plants recently, he asserted in yesterday's address, were part of "an organized campaign, protected by the government, which is circulating workers in disrespect of the constitution, the laws and the courts."

Asked after the meeting if he had intended to refer to the act, headed by John L. Lewis, he said 400 unions were involved in most of the labor troubles he had investigated in the last year. He praised the American Federation of Labor for "not engaging in politics."

Barclay illustrated his speech with a string of allusions intended to bear out his assertion that certain labor "racketeering" had gone so far as to threaten the supremacy of the law and the freedom of the press. He declared radical and communist influences were largely responsible.

Cites Loss Labor troubles, he said, had forced the permanent closing of hundreds of factories throughout the country and he cited an alleged loss of a $17,000,000 annual payroll in 41 cities and 17 states through this cause alone. The department of labor, he said, had no statistics on the number of plants thus forced to close down.

C. M. White, executive vice president of Republic Steel corporation, asserted the CIO's program demanded regular collection of dues from its workers members and declared that, when dues failed to come regularly, "the next step, undoubtedly, will be the demand for first the closed shop and then the check-off."

"I don't know how you feel about this," he said, but to me it is undemocratic and un-American; and our fight against the signing of any contract last spring was largely motivated by our active antagonism to a closed shop agreement."

The national industrial council, sponsored by the National Association of Manufacturers which opens a three-day conference here today, is composed of representatives of national, state and local industrial associations.

Fish Must Submit To 'Planned Economy'

BUFFALO, Wyo., Dec. 7. (AP)—There will be no more privacy in Wyoming's fish and streams than in a gold fish bowl.

The United States government has decided it is about time the fish had a program of "planned economy."

So the U. S. bureau of fisheries and the Wyoming game and fish department are seeking information on the feeding, breeding and fighting habits of all the fish that live in Wyoming.

The purpose is to determine what types of fish are best suited to the various streams and lakes, what fish should live where and in what numbers. And of course the fish experts hope to improve the fishing.
