

Sharkey Is Victor over Scott In Sad Miami Fistic Farce

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 28.—The cry of "fair or foul" was raised again today amidst the chaos of the heavyweight fistic realm, waded upon the balmy southern breezes as a result of Jack Sharkey's technical knockout victory over Phil Scott in the third round of the welterweight contest at the Florida moon has shown up.

In a lather that was as hot as the weather, Sharkey was declared the winner by Referee Leo Magnolia last night after the "foul" which he claimed a foul taken a couple of minutes rest in corners, was disallowed and then refused altogether to come in as he swayed against the ropes from the effects of a terrific left hook to the pit of the stomach.

The spectacle of the third round, the climax by a cornucopia of clout that was a financial as well as a fisty top, probably has no precedent in the history of American heavyweight boxing, said Sharkey first, warned for hitting low Scott, then sinking in an agonized look and cry of pain, police and handles in the ring as the referee helped drag Scott to his corner for an examine log and a minute's rest, Sharkey racing around the ring with tears streaming down his face as he feared disqualification, Scott limping out to continue the bout with pain written all over his face and, finally, the ailing enlisting with Scott ere but virtually helpless on the ropes, protesting his inability to continue from the effects of body blows or an alleged foul of both.

Sharkey won the decision as a result, the right to have Max Schmeling, the German champion for a bout that will be held for the world's championship in June at the Yankee Stadium, New York. The Boston boxer, however, in his opinion of most critics, fought an unsatisfactory fight, jeopardized his chances of winning from an opponent he obviously outclassed and added nothing to his prestige as the leading American title contender.

Scott, thoroughly elated from any further consideration in the heavyweight circus, let a sorrowful impression as a fighter, in spite of his apparent show of gameness in deciding to continue in the thin round after a claim of foul. Regardless of the questionable blow struck or the merits of his referee's action, Scott put up a performance that gratified only in emphasizing his reputation for claiming disputed bouts.

The argument as to whether or not Scott was out when he had any ultimate importance or not may go on for some time to come without being settled, experts at the ringside differed sharply on the question, some firmly maintaining that Scott was hit low at least six times and that Sharkey should have been disqualified; others, equally as emphatic in asserting that while the American hit low several times on Scott's thick, he did not deliver any directly foul punches.

Referee Magnolia, veteran New York ring arbiter and the sole ruling official of the bout, declared flatly he saw no low punches but after the fight, examination of Scott showed a lump on the right leg, several inches below the waistline. An examining physician described the injury as traumatic contusion, producing a partial paralysis which contrivance to Scott's apparent collapse at the limping manner in which he went out to resume fighting in the ring, however, at the height of the confusion and during the referee's arithmetic that Magnolia declared to make his examination both the referee and the official boxing commission physician decided Scott was neither fouled nor hurt.

White Sox To Do All Training In 1 Place

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Feb. 28.—(AP)—The Chicago White Sox probably will do all of their training right in San Antonio until the exhibition tour with the New York Giant opens.

It was decided yesterday that the Mexican trip would be taken by the Sox and Giants, although it was possible a set of games in Laredo and Monterey might be arranged. Rain halted practice for the first time of the training season.

TUNNEY STATES SCOTT QUIT AND WAS NOT FOULED

Gentleman Gene Sees Fray As Disappointing Ring Exhibition

By Brian Bell

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 28.—Two big and shoulder men looked at the skirmish of the ropes with expert eyes. One would not have stepped into the ring to his for any amount of money although he could have beaten any of the 10 men in it. The other remained an offer of $10,000 to take part in the second show when he had been principal in the first, one year ago.

The first was Gene Tunney and the second Young Stridler, "Scott quit," said Tunney.

"Scott's a bum," said Stridler.

Watching the spectators, two mostly for both Gene and W. T. Tunney, was looking at the first big boring bout when he left the ring forever after his defeat of Tom Heeney a year ago and a lame Stridler is usually in a corner participant.

"What did you think of Scott?" Tunney was asked.

"I haven't seen him," was the reply. "I told you last night that I had never seen him. Well, that holds good tonight. I haven't seen him yet."

The former heavyweight champion, polite as always, said that the and as a whole was "very interesting." Tunney, who attended the "show" with Mrs. Tunney and a group of friends, arrived just before the opening six round and remained until the close. He was situated in dinner clothe but took no chances on regarding his own valiance from a recent operation of catching cold and wore a wide-brimmed Panama hat.

The youth of Stridler had no hat and wore a sports cap. He, too, like the affair in general, but could not say much for the act occupying the heating spot.

"Just think," boasted the young Georgian, "they wouldn't give me $25,000 to fight on this card and let a fellow like Scott get here for the main bout." The Madison Square Garden manager offered $15,000 for the count with a proposal to fix for $25,000 which was rapidly declined by the promoter.

"It would have paid them $10,000," said the boxer. "I could have drawn much more than that. Not in the $25 seats, maybe, but I would have filled up the $10 and $15 seats for them. My friend Rich establishe much better card and their expenses down here but they would all have been able to pay a great deal."

"The show last year drew more than $400,000 and I am not longing when I say I drew more than $100,000 with little short of an outfit."

Dr. Newell said he had seen the affidavit some time ago. He said it had been shown him by W. G. Campbell, director of regulatory work of the department of agriculture. He branded the affidavit as an "ingenious misrepresentation".

In defending the state plant board, Dr. Newell presented affidavits from three inspectors who were among the group of men that visited the Stone grove in Maitland on April 2. They vigorously denied allegations in the Stone affidavit and said they had no more a sports cult. In, too, like the affair in general, but could not say much for the act occupying the heating spot.

Button Plant Represents Last Word In Pre-Cooling Process For Vegetables

Washing and precooling are regarded as among the latest improvements in the preparation of vegetables for market. Not so many years ago the washing was done by hand, but it has been found to be one of the greatest factors in increasing the demand for Sanford celery.

Not only does the washing and precooling of the vegetables produce better preserves it for a longer period. Another advantage is that it generally commands a larger price than the very white stalks which are harvested and refrigerated and washed at the marketing terminals.

In these improved methods F. D. Dutton, Sanford was a pioneer. He designed, equipped and managed the first commercial celery pre-cooling plant in the United States. The first plant was designed by him several years ago, but since then he has erected in the heart of Sanford celery production area what is believed to be the largest plant of its kind in the world.

The new plant represents the latest word in pre-cooling. It is capable of turning out 80 cars in a 15-hour day, and is now washing and precooling about 20 cars daily. About 1000 cars per day are now produced daily by the F. D. Dutton and Company in the operation of their plants here, while another 100 are employed in the processing of vegetables in about 15 miles' longitude of land.

These centers include 1000 acres, rock banks, banks, fields of 30 acres each, gathering the celery for the Sanford plant. Another 150 persons are employed in the various stages of the plant. The weekly payroll for the two plants amount to $4,000, making a total of nearly $100,000 placed in circulation during the year from this one section of the state.

The Dutton plant, which cost approximately $100,000, is a modern, clean, dry, and refrigerated plant, with a metal roof; it is fireproof. The plant is two stories high, the washing and precooling being on the ground floor, and the top floor is occupied by electrical units furnish the motive power for turning over the extensive machinery.

Considering the value of such a plant to a celery producing area, the number of people employed, the large weekly payroll, the Dutton plant is destined to be a leading plant in the section, by local growers to be one of the most important units of this section.

City's Maintenance Requires Extensive Equipage And Men

It is sometimes necessary, and especially so during the rainy season, to use a team of horses to haul the logs out of the timberwood. The work of this supervisor is handled by two men and they are assisted by the pound men who haul the logs and sacks to a nearby sawmill. There is an average of about 12 loads of trash, tree trimmings, etc. collected each day, partly by the garbage truck and grounds of this organization are quite extensive and well kept and present a most attractive appearance. Trimming trees and shrubs are also done by the department.

In the street cleaning department, Sanford has two motor pickup sweepers, one being used to give a general service. The operator takes care of and makes all the necessary repairs on the sweeper, and also takes care of the curb which the curb broom is cleaned and the rear broom, hickory brush. The sweeping covers from 15 to 18 miles, covering over 30 miles of streets.

Sanford has 12 miles of brick streets and about 50 miles of sheet asphalt streets; 20 miles of sewer and 10 miles of sanitary streets. There are also 75 miles of concrete sidewalks.

The only automatic bottle filling station is owned and operated by the Seminole Creamery Company.

Far-Flung Power Sys-

By R. J. Holly

Public service has much or little in the general scheme of cities large and small and the much or little lies usually in the kind of public service handed out to the public by the public utility companies. In the early days of small and comparatively isolated plants many of them municipally owned and few of them sufficiently equipped and manned to take care of rapidly increasing demands made upon them, the big idea of real service had not taken shape in the general scheme of operation.

Public relations was something not even in the lexicon of the early operators and the "public" damned was the rule rather than the practice of endeavoring to give service and if the service was lacking at least to turn away wrath with a soft answer. Those who have lived here for the past twenty years know of some of the hardships suffered for lack of lights and power, telegraph and telephone, gas and water in the early days.

What a difference today with the interconnecting systems of the Florida Power & Light Co., the super power plant near the city and the super power plant at Ft. Lauderdale and many auxiliary plants in between, can at any time of the day or night take up the load regardless of a break in one place and give every com-

S.P.O.E. ROUNDS OUT SUCCESSFUL TERM OF SERVICE

Organization Includes Many Civic Leaders Among Its Members

By Rev. A. B. Peck
Rounding out nearly 20 years of continuous fraternal, charitable, social and community welfare work in Sanford, the Sanford Lodge, No. 1241 of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks was given its charter by the National Order in 1911.

It has had a large and most representative membership from its start. Its members have been professional and business men of Sanford. Its roster counts the builders and leaders of the City. The present Seminole County Court House was the original Court House.

The work accomplished and that which is being carried on, in accordance with the strict principles of the order. The order of Elks does not selfishly confine its charity or offer the helping hand to brother Elks only. As the National Order contributes million of dollars annually to "outside" needed causes, which work otherwise would remain undone; the only limit is its financial ability. Especially at Thanksgiving and Christmas, the local Elks lend out the true Elk spirit of Elation. They welcome at all times opportunity of being of service to their fellowmen.

The local lodge believes in education and stimulating a desire for education in the child. The Elks are making it possible for a local Sanford young man to attend the University of Gainesville. This year will mark his graduation. At least for some years, the local lodge has maintained annual prizes for competitive essays in the less junior and Senior High Schools. The essay is to stimulate love for and devotion to the American flag. The prizes awarded at commencement are two in each school—$20.00 in gold and a gold medal; $10.00 in gold and a silver medal.

The public and open exercises of the lodges are evidently appreciated by the large audiences attending. Mother's Day Flag Day and the Memorial Sunday, for "The Abing Brothers" "For a Living ready an Elk is never forgotten." At our last Memorial Day services held in the City Hall auditorium, Dean G. of Southern College, Lakeland was the orator.

The local lodge now has its home and lodges and club room at 20 Oak Ave., where all visiting Elks as well as home members are always most welcome. Mr. Hugh Waters is our most genial host. The present officers of the Lodge are: Rev. Father Peck, saluted ruler and state chaplain Joseph Ludwig, esteemed leading knight; Steve Bonkis, esteemed royal knight; Roy Harbin, esteemed lecturing knight; S. Runge secretary; Rex Packard, treasurer; Hugh Waters, J. R. Stewart and Perry Weinberg, trustees; Edward Overlin, chaplain; Sherman Lloyd, exalted; Ed. Bourke; and J. N. Johnson, Jr., junior guard.

Whiskey Still Found Inside Steam Shovel

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 28.—(AP)—A steam shovel, it appears almost impossible to public day after day without inviting gawk. This steam shovel sat in an excavation here. It toiled and puffed with great ado, attracting the attention of passersby just like countless other hard working steam shovels.

In this case, however, there was something wrong with the technique. Expert steam shovel watchers observed that while there didn't seem to be anything wrong with its stance or its posture, it didn't move much more than the average duffer with a good midiron.

Memorial Hospital Has Every Modern Medical Facility

With every modern convenience and operated economically, the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Hospital, located near the business section of Sanford yet far enough away to insure the quietness of a residential section, has been managed by the Fernald-Laughton Memorial Association, under the Presidency of T. W. Lawton since January of 1920.

The building and property were donated in 1920 by Mrs. Mabel L. Fernald, formerly of this city to be used as a hospital. Today the building, property and equipment is valued at approximately $40,000.

During 1929 this institution cared for an average of 612 patients daily, who usually remained in the hospital for a period of seven days. The costs of operating this hospital during the past year were $19,726.04, this placing a cost of $44.45 per day on each patient.

Besides receiving funds from patients the institution is maintained from donations from Seminole County citizens and from annual contributions from local civic clubs, organizations, and business houses.

LAKE MARY SCHOOL

Carlton's Name No Longer With Firm

Though no formal announcement was made it was understood the action was prompted by a desire of other members to avoid embarrassing the executive through appearance of his name in connection with court activities. Governor Miller, who told authorities that he felt two shots hit the plane after which an alien refused to function just before the accident he said, he looked down to see two horses racing away into the hills. Authorities said cattle rustlers have been active in the vicinity.

Pilot Claims Shots Caused His Plane To Have Fatal Fall

WALSBURG, Colo., Feb. 28.—(AP)—The theory of a pilot that his plane was crippled by shots fired at it by cattle rustlers caused an investigation into an airplane crash that brought death to a high school girl and serious injuries to another on isolated Mesa Pass yesterday.

Miss Elsie White, 16, a student at Centennial High School, Pueblo, was killed and Miss Abra Talbot, 16, also a student at the school, seriously injured. Harry Miller, the pilot of the plane which was owned by the Alamosa Mining Co., Inc., suffered slight injuries.

Sheriff Harry J. Capps, of Fremont county will head a posse to the scene of the crash to investigate the theory given by Miller, who told authorities that he felt two shots hit the plane after which an alien refused to function just before the accident he said, he looked down to see two horses racing away into the hills. Authorities said cattle rustlers have been active in the vicinity.

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion.

Women who prize the modern figure with its subtle, seductive curves—men who would keep that trim, proper figure, eat healthfully but not immoderately. Banish excessiveness—eliminate abuses. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. When tempted to excess, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, reach for a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence. If you would maintain the lithesome, youthful, modern figure.
