BIBLE VERSE TODAY

Job had an inner certainty independent of philosophical proof. No one understands the reason for these moments of illumination, but it worked all right with Job. Job, 19:25: I know that my redeemer liveth and that he shall stand at the latter day upon the earth.

The Federal Reserve Board reports unemployment still rising above the 3,200,000 total of last month. We are, of course, sorry to see anyone unemployed, but if someone has got to be fired, we hope it is that fellow who used to say to us, "No, we ain't got any. Don't you know there is a war on?"

Instead of One World which so many high-minded men of good will hoped for after World War II, the Atlantic Defense Pact reveals that we are in reality getting Two Worlds, two hostile well armed worlds, and the fact that a large portion of the globe, China, India, Indonesia, are left out of both worlds, we may in reality be getting Three Worlds.

President Truman banned the use of photographs taken recently while he was in swimming at Key West because of his wife who objected to her husband, the President, being photographed in swimming trunks. It might improve the looks of some of our bathing beauties if some wives showed a similar modesty at least about their husband's appearance.

Mrs. J. N. Whitner, who likes the idea of naming the old Naval Air Station area "Fort Reed" after the fort which was erected there during the Indian wars, recalls that it was named after Col. Leigh Reed, though, through error, it was at that time spelled "Reed". She suggests that in renaming the area, it be properly spelled "Reed" after the manner in which the man who is honored by it spelled his name.

Orlando is setting an example for Sanford in at least two particulars which are worthy of our utmost consideration. An article in Sunday's Sentinel Star tells of a housing project for negroes at Washington Shores sponsored by members of the Rotary Club which might well be duplicated here with great advantage to our community. Another article tells what Orlando is doing about its unhealthful and outmoded sewerage system. It is spending $3,500,000 on new sewers and a sewage disposal system which will give it the most sanitary facilities in this respect of any city in the state and one of the most sanitary in the nation. Orlando is financing this project through the sale of revenue bonds which will be paid off from the income from a ten percent tax on telephone, gas, water and light bills. The total per capita cost is estimated at $12.

Governor Warren who recently denounced the Ku Klux Klan, now admits that he used to be a member of the Klan himself in his younger days, but adds that he joined at a time when he was too young to know what the Klan really was. Justice Hugo Black of the United States Supreme Court is another political leader of our times who was similarly duped. We know that both these men have grown wiser as they have grown older, and we do not believe that either of them would join any organization today without knowing what it is. However, there are some political leaders who are leading their gander to popular front organizations which are as conspicuous as the Klan was formerly, without taking any of the necessary precautions.

The Fixing Of Rents

There is a good deal of pulling and hauling in Congress over the details of proposals for extension of federal rent controls. There is debate over whether rents should be increased five or ten or fifteen per cent, whether controls should be extended for twelve months or for fifteen or eighteen, whether this kind of housing unit should be freed from control or that kind should be brought back into the realm of controls, whether rents should be reduced to the level of some date in 1947, and so on.

There is beginning to be a more widespread inclination on the part of the people at large, to question whether any body of legislators or officials in Washington, however sincere and however well informed, can make a set of rules governing rents which could be applied with fairness and effectiveness to all parts of the country, and to all of the houses in a city, or along a certain street, or even in a single block of that street. For instance, would it be fair either to require the owner of every rental property in the community to reduce his rents to the level of June 30, 1937, or to encourage the owner of every property to raise the rents fifteen percent above that level?

In this community as in every one there are some houses for which the rent is unreasonably high, and there are others where the rent may be too low. How can a federal rent control law be made so flexible that local inequalities are dissolved, and still strong enough that it achieves the aim of preventing rent gouging everywhere? Some people are beginning to believe that there is no answer to that question, which may explain the move to soften the federal law with some kind of local or state option.

Constitutions

The fact that a nation has a constitution does not necessarily mean that it has a constitutional government. It depends on how the constitution is used, and what happens when its provisions get in some politician's way.

What has just taken place in Argentina illustrates the point. Since President Juan D. Peron became president of Argentina he has not taken the constitution too seriously, but even so it got in his way sometimes. By 1952 its effect would have been disastrous, for Peron's term then expires and he would not have been permitted to succeed himself. So a new constitution has been enacted, and Peron has sworn to uphold it. It permits him to be re-elected in 1952.

The Russians have an excellent constitution, established in 1935. Where is it? On the shelf, unused except in a few minor matters.

The strength of constitutional government in the United States is not so much in the document itself as in the respect given to it by the people, and demanded by them of all officials. We should never forget that.

Football Hall Of Fame

New York State, which already has the Baseball Hall of Fame, wants one for football also. The lower house of the legislature has asked that the site, when chosen, be at Cazenovia in the Finger Lakes region, described as the birthplace of Gerrit Smith Miller, "founder of the game in 1863."

Critics of the idea say that it is a game of teams and not individuals, and that individuals should not be singled out for glory. This is probably true enough, though no more applicable to football than to baseball or other team sports. Human nature being what it is, people probably will go on singling out individual players for glory, whether or not there's a hall of fame for them.

But so far no one has devised a way to induce the spectators at a football game to center their attention on the linemen, who do the hard, bruising work, instead of watching the man with ball. That's human nature, too.

Congressman Herlong Reports

There is another side to Washington life than the legislative process. Our families play an important part in this phase. This week I have asked Mrs. Alice to tell the ladies of the Fifth District something of her duties, responsibilities and privileges as the wife of a Member of Congress. She will take over from here.

Hello, everybody! First may I say sometimes I am doubtful as to the difference between duties and privileges. I am sure that what some people consider privileges to others are mere duties. Certainly it is all a responsibility. Seriously, this is a wonderfully interesting life to which you have sent us here in Washington and I am glad to have this opportunity to tell you about some of the things we do. Of course there are the same problems, such as transporting the children to three different schools, packing lunches, seeing Sydney to the early train each morning, coping with a maidless kitchen, finding a sitter, and all the other things so familiar to every wife and mother.

The outstanding activities of the Congressional wife are those engaged in through the medium of the Congressional Club. Since it is impossible to tell you more than one thing this week, I have chosen this subject. The Club was incorporated by an Act of Congress in 1908 and is the only club in history so formed. We are told that it was created because the wives of Members of Congress had so much spare time they needed an outside activity. While I am sure the original reason for the Club no longer exists it still fills a very real need. The club house is a beautiful building, well equipped for almost any type of activity. Within its walls the bewildered newcomer to Congressional circles finds prevailing facts, friendships and helpfulness. Many doubts are dispelled and endless questions answered by the leaders and experienced members who undertake the problems because they, too, were new at one time. Among the past presidents of the Club are Mrs. James B. Byrnes and Mrs. Duncan U. Fletcher.

Through the varied program it is possible to choose an interesting activity. For example, there are classes in Spanish, dress design, art appreciation, interior decorating, flower arrangement, public speaking (perish the thought), etc. Each Friday a tea is given with nationally or internationally known speakers. Also one day each week is given over entirely to Red Cross work, such as most of us engaged in during the war.

The highlight of the season's calendar was the reception for the President and Mrs. Truman. Other outstanding events will be the reception for the Vice President and the Speaker of the House.

So far my activities in the Club have been limited to an occasional Friday tea, but now that I have nursed what I hope are the last of my children to health and the children are all back in school, momentarily at least, I hope to get out a little more.

One of the most interesting programs that I have attended was the delightful Food Fair last Friday. All the members who contributed recipes to the Congressional Cook Book sent food to the Club prepared according to their recipes. They on tables and shelves arranged around the beautiful reception room the food was displayed and later was served by representatives of each party. Don't you think I enjoyed marvelous self-control, coming home with only a coconut cake and a dozen rolls?

Since I have written far too much already I will have to beg for a little more space another time.

THE WORLD TODAY

By DEWITT HACKENZIE, AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

A new British dominion is in the cards for picturesque southeast Asia.

Colonial Undersecretary David Rees-Williams gave the tip-off. It would take a long time, he said in an interview in London, but Britain's rich Southeast Asian colonies and protectorates definitely were slated to become a self-governing dominion.

Later a colonial office spokesman confirmed that was what the British have in mind. He expressed surprise, though, that the minister had taken the lid off hitherto secret plans.

A Southeast Asia dominion probably would encompass 132,692 square miles—roughly the combined area of Michigan and Minnesota. The population would be slightly less than California's—about 4,600,000. Thousands more would be included.

Table with 2 columns: AREA (Sq Miles) and POPULATION (Last Census). Rows include Federation of Malaya, Singapore, Borneo, and Brunei.

The prospective dominion's far-flung points would be the Cocos-Keeling Islands, 700 miles south of Java, and lovely Christmas Island, 222 miles south of Java. Both are considered part of Singapore colony.

Possibly Hong Kong might be included. That colorful Oriental island-city has a population of about 1,600,000. Thousands more Chinese refugees are still crowding in. Hong Kong and Kowloon, on the adjacent China mainland, have an area of 391 square miles.

A Southeast Asia dominion would be of great economic importance to the United States as well as Britain. British Southeast Asia produces some of industry's most essential raw materials—many of them available nowhere else. Rubber, tin, petroleum, pepper, palm oil, copra and sugarcane are part of the list. There is gold in Sarawak, too.

More important than the economic side, though, is the political one.

By building toward self-government in one of the hours of empire, Britain is dealing the double-edged sword which really plans their chief propaganda point—that Communism offers their only chance for independence.

Asian authorities believe that is particularly important just now when the total weight of Red and Soviet propaganda is being shifted over India and Indonesia, at Southeast Asia.

The big thing has been to convince the local peoples that Britain isn't handing out political doublets but she really plans to free them as soon as possible. The British feel they have largely succeeded in that.

That means the British can work together with the Asians toward their common goal: dominion status. It may be ten years off, probably a good many more.

As the eighth dominion, southeast Asia would have the same status as Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, India, Pakistan or Ceylon.

Under the Statute of Westminster, the document that reshuffled the old British empire into a team of cooperating independent nations, a dominion is identified as:

- 1. An autonomous community within the British empire.
2. It is equal in every way—both in home and foreign affairs—to Britain and the other dominions.
3. It is united with the rest of the Commonwealth by a common allegiance to the British crown.
4. Its relation with the other dominions is one of "free association."

Apparently, a Russian sector resident who works in Western Berlin still can convert his West marks to East marks at present. The Western sector resident who works in the East zone apparently will not find his money valueless in his home sector, as he had reason to fear.

The official Soviet army newspaper, Tass, has a headline on Jellissarov's statement: "no Soviet counterpressures at the expense of the population." There has been much speculation here, however, that the Western zone would draw some sort of retaliatory action. The Russians announced their financial experts' art conferring to "meet the situation."

Col. Jellissarov said the Western zone would hurt the people and the economy of the Western zone, but "cannot inflict any serious prejudice" on Soviet zone currency.

Anti-Communist newspaper of Western Berlin accepted Jellissarov's statement at face value. The American-licensed Tagespiegel placed this banner on the first page: "no Russian counter-measures."

Socialist newspapers headlined their reports: "no new East mark planned." These newspapers also printed reports by the British-licensed German press service hinting the Communists are considering going further and allowing some circulation of West marks in the Soviet sector.

A. J. Warner, financial expert of the U. S. Military government, said he believed from Jellissarov's statement no reprisal is planned. He said any counter action such as printing new Russian zone currency to cut off Western Berliners could hardly be attempted.

Warren Blasts Postponement Of Fencing Laws

Delay May Amount To Death Sentence For Florida Citizens

JALAHASSEE, Mar. 22 (AP) - Governor Warren said today postponing enforcement of the proposed cattle fencing law would amount to a death sentence for an undetermined number of Florida citizens and tourists.

"I don't believe any legislator will be so callously indifferent to human sufferings as to cast such a cruel vote."

Warren commented a statement from a Florida Cattleman's Association official that a cattle fencing bill should be effective 90 days after its passage "cuts the ground from under those die hards who want to postpone the effective date of the law until 1950."

Vice president Burton Walker of the State Cattleman's Association said last week he "can't see any reason a great argument to prolong the effective date." He reported larger cattle holders already have their lands fenced to improve their breeds and pastures.

Walker said he was speaking for himself only because his organization has taken no position in the matter.

The Governor, who campaigned on a pledge to take cattle off the roads, cited 24 highway fatalities caused during the past two years by roaming livestock. There were 287 injuries and 93 accidents, he said.

"A senator or representative who votes to continue this carnage until 1950 will have to answer to his own conscience as well as to the bar of outraged public opinion," Warren declared.

COMMENTS From The SIDELINES

By ARTHUR BECKWITH, JR. Herald Sports Editor

MUNICIPAL PARK TAX
The City Commission next Monday will consider passage of an ordinance to place a 10 cent tax on each white adult and a 5 cent tax on each colored adult admission ticket to future athletic events at the Municipal Park. The ordinance has already been given its first reading.

All proceeds of the tax will be put into a special fund to construct a new municipal stadium to replace the present ball park.

All other members of the Florida State League have decided to increase the price of admission to their parks for the coming season. Recently, Carl Hubbell, director of the New York Giants farm club, was contacted by Business Manager John Ganzel about the price to be charged at the local park this year. Hubbell said that he had planned no increase for Sanford for the 1949 season. Ganzel pointed out that Deland, Daytona Beach, St. Augustine, Palatka and Orlando have all boosted their prices to 70 cents, while Leesburg and Gainesville will have 75 cent tickets.

To make a long story short, Sanford was asked to increase prices for Florida State League games. Hubbell, knowing the desperate need here for a new grandstand, press box and player quarters, decided that, if the City would take the extra 10 cents and put the money derived therefrom into a special fund to construct the buildings, he would refrain from any further increase in the admission price.

Hubbell immediately contacted City Commissioner John Kridler and Mayor Andrew Carraway concerning the plan, and they agreed that this would be an ideal way for Sanford to start a fund to construct the buildings. The Giants are in effect making this 10 cent per ticket a gift to the people of Sanford. They could have taken the money themselves, but they want to help us build the needed facilities. Commissioner Kridler declared. In simple words, the price advance would have been increased even if the 10 cents tax were not invoked.

Kridler revealed yesterday these monthly reports on the number of tickets sold will be made by the City of Sanford. The City must report to the government on the number of tickets sold in order to pay the 20 per cent federal amusement tax. Monthly reports must be made to Florida State League office in Gainesville on the number of tickets sold at the local park. Sanford citizens have the right to investigate the records kept at the City Hall, and among these records will be accounts of these special funds.

The City, in cooperation with the Giants, is going ahead with plans to construct a grandstand to accommodate 1,000 persons. Kridler declared yesterday that he has written to several manufacturers to secure plans and specifications to consider for the park, but he believes that the City will be able to borrow the blue prints used by the City of Jacksonville in building a stadium and up to date 3,500 capacity stadium in the Gateway City.

The Birmingham Barons defeated the Jersey City Giants at the Municipal Park yesterday afternoon by an 8 to 3 margin. Third baseman Adkins of the Barons rapped a home run with three mates on the sacks in the fourth inning of the contest. Today the Jersey City club tangles with Newark at Haines City and the Minneapolis Millers go to Orlando to meet the Washington Senators.

Jersey City has an open date tomorrow, while the Millers face Chattanooga at Winter Garden.

EXHIBITION GAME
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Mar. 22—(AP)—The Chicago Cardinals and the Washington Redskins will meet in an exhibition football game here Sept. 10. Half of the net proceeds will go to charity.

The game, announced by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be played at night in Legion Field, which seats 45,000.

Henry Gilmer, ex-Alabama star, and Charley Trippi, former Georgia All-American, will be the chief drawing cards. Gilmer, a Redskins, was idle most of last year because of injuries. Trippi was the wheelhorse of the Cardinal offense.

Sid Gordon Belts Two Homers And 2 Singles In Giants Contest

BURBANK Calif., Mar. 22—(AP)—Sid Gordon, Brooklyn born native of the New York Giants, is clouting the ball in the style that made him a standout last year.

Gordon belted two homers and two singles yesterday as the Giants bowled, 7-5, to the Pittsburgh Pirates. Gordon has hit three homers in two days.

VERO BEACH, Mar. 22—(AP)—Brooklyn Dodger President Branch Rickey is impressed with the showing of third sacker Johnny Jorgensen. Rickey said he was amazed at the infielder's hitting power. Jorgensen blasted a triple with the bases loaded against Montreal yesterday and then scored the winning run in Brooklyn's 6-5 triumph.

Central And South Florida Flood Funds Get Committee O.K.

Appropriations Group Recommends Money For Start Of 1st Phase Of Projects

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—(AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today recommended funds for the start of the first phase of a flood control project in Central and Southern Florida.

The budget has $1,000,000 for the work but the committee in approving this and other projects stated it expected them to be done for less because it anticipates reduction in construction costs.

Florida Congressmen have asked for $16,300,000. The estimated cost of the first phase of the project is $58,129,000 and Army engineers figure the overall operation at $208,000,000. Florida is expected to pay 15 percent toward the work.

Rep. Rogers (D-Fla.), whose district includes much of the area involved in the project, told a reporter the Florida congressional delegation will push for the $10,300,000 when the Senate Appropriations Committee gets the bill.

Engineers, in testimony made public today, said the $1,000,000 would be used to start a levee on the east coast through the south bank of the Hillsboro Canal and the North New River Canal.

The levee would provide a drainage system behind West Palm Beach, Fort Lauderdale, Miami and other points along the east coast to protect them from flood waters caused by heavy rainfall over the Everglades.

Brig. General Peter A. Ferrinas, pointed out that the flood water "is not forced from the sea during hurricanes" but the result of heavy rainfall.

Among the river and harbor projects were in Florida: Jim Woodruff Lock and Dam (part of Apalachicola, Chattahoochee and Flint Rivers system), Fla. and Ga.; $10,000,000; the Intracoastal Waterway, Tributary Channel, Okeechobee Waterway, $360,000; St. Andrews Bay $130,000; St. Johns River, Jacksonville to ocean $1,200,000; Tampa Harbor $617,700.

Lake Monroe Club Wins First Prize For Fair Exhibit

The Lake Monroe Home Demonstration Club won first place in awards for exhibits at the Seminole County Fair with Miss Allie Lee Rush, county home demonstration agent of Marion County as judge.

Miss Lila Woodard, local home demonstration agent, said the exhibits were very good, and said that it was unusual for more than 50 percent of the clubs in the county to have exhibits the first time. She praised the workmanship and planning of the displays and pointed out that much time was spent in preparing them.

An interesting exhibit by the Future Farmers of Seminole High School depicts in miniature two farm houses, one run, farm and shabby looking, the other neat, painted and screened and with a fenced chicken yard in the rear. Nearby some fine poultry exhibits have been entered by Mrs. Johna, Kenneth Gano and Albert Green. David Hues, president of the Seminole Chapter, FFA.

Churchill Says He Favors Full Alliance Support

War-Time Prime Minister Of Britain Arrives In U. S.

NEW YORK, Mar. 23.—(AP)—Winston Churchill said today as he arrived for a visit in the United States that he gave "whole-hearted support to the Atlantic Pact."

The war-time prime minister of Great Britain added, however, at a news conference aboard the liner Queen Elizabeth that "I won't say more than that" about international affairs.

Another slogan was "no North Atlantic Pact. We want peace." Wearing a traditional bow tie and puffing on a long cigar Churchill was questioned and photographed by a group of about 175 reporters, radio and cameramen.

He smilingly tried to disarm questioners at the start of his news conference: "We had a nice crossing," he said. "I am particularly glad to come to America to express the thanks we all feel on the other side in many nations for what she is doing for the world."

Churchill said he preferred to give his opinions on international affairs "in ordered sequence and in a setting I choose."

State's '49 Crop Acreage Will Be Under '48 Level

ORLANDO, Mar. 23.—(AP)—Florida's 1949 field crop acreage will be not quite so large as last year under present indications, the U. S. Department of Agriculture says.

It says crops not under agricultural programs, such as cowpeas, corn, oats and sweet potatoes, show little change from 1948 plantings but that program crops such as peanuts, tobacco and Irish potatoes are following allotment.

The outlook for the country as a whole was given as the smallest in spring-planted crops since 1937-39.

The report said that if present plans are consummated, there will be 4700 acres of wheat in the Georgia-Florida area, 200 acres up over last year.

Crops are being seeded under generally favorable conditions and as season has been early, the report went on, although rain is needed for best development of the newly-seeded acreage.

The Irish potato crops have made excellent progress and now are being harvested in South Florida along with other vegetables. Weather conditions for the first half of March have been cool and dry, and frost damage has been negligible and confined to those crops planted on very low ground.

The report said some slight damage was reported, however, to watermelons, tender vegetables and some early sweet corn. In general, the cool weather to have had a delaying effect and will cause spring crops to be spread out over a longer harvesting period than was at first expected.

Supplies of winter vegetables continue available in volume quantities from all producing areas, the report said. In general, the report said, the first half of March was favorable for the production and marketing of Florida vegetables.

Mayors Back Truman Plan On Rent Law

Resolution To Throw Weight Behind Administration Passage In Conference

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—(AP)—The United States conference of mayors today threw its weight behind the Administration's drive for strengthening rent controls, minus the "home rule" clause approved in Congress.

The resolution was one of 17 adopted in the final session of the mayors' three-day annual meeting here. Mayor W. Cooper Green of Birmingham was chosen the new president of the big-city mayors and Mayor David Lawrence of Pittsburgh vice president.

The resolutions embraced a far-sized part of President Truman's 1949 legislative program. Housing aids and slum clearance, federal grants for education and school building, a public works planning program and Social Security for municipal employees were all endorsed by unanimous vote.

The rent resolution called on Congress to "extend, strengthen and improve existing rent control legislation until the present housing shortage is alleviated."

The mayors advised Congress that state and municipal governments are ill equipped to administer rent controls in a form which would give adequate protection to the people of our cities."

This was a blow at provisions in the House and Senate bills under which cities or counties could remove ceilings. The Senate voted that decentral plan into its bill last night with a proviso that governments must give assent. The House bill, already passed, does not require action by the government.

Other policy statements in summary, called for: Creation of a Senate-House joint tax commission made up of Congress members and federal, state and city officials, to study and recommend the removal of overlapping taxes.

"Prompt" enactment of the pending slum clearance and housing bill, as approved by the Senate Housing Committee.

Building of the state federal and highway funds devoted to city arteries.

Low-interest loans and outright grants to cities for construction of schools, a matter neglected in the federal aid to education bill.

Federal payments to cover the revenue cities would collect from private owners of property owned rent-free by the government.

An outline by the government of what cities should do in preparing for civil defense.

Repeal of the federal tax on theater and other admissions.

"Thus leaving this source of revenue to the local governments."

Loans to public agencies for self-supporting airport buildings; also, appropriation of the full amount of subsidy permitted under the program.

Kiwanis Club Is Told Of Historic Florida Animals

Gut Reveals Many Fossils Have Been Found Near Sanford

Fossils of 21 species of mammals dating back to Pleistocene epoch of the Quaternary period 1,000,000 years ago have been found in the Sanford area, H. James Gut, former Sanford mayor, whose hobby is vertebrate paleontology, told the Kiwanis Club at their luncheon today.

Among the fossils which he has found in the material dredged from the bottom of Lake Monroe have been parts of skeletons belonging to the saber-tooth tiger, the Harlan ground sloth, the glyptodont, the extinct horse, the camel, the Florida tapir, the bison and the American mastodon.

"Twenty-three years ago I started collecting fossils from the dredged material on both the East and West sides of Sanford where dredges were filling in the lakefront. This continued for some years and then in 1934 when the State Road Department filled in the roadbed for the lakefront, the hunting started again. At this time my associate, E. J. Moughtin, Jr., also began collecting. In 1937 we discovered some interesting fossils on the North shore of Lake Monroe that were washed out of a mud bed," Mr. Gut said.

Presenting a brief description of some of the more unusual of the fossils he has found, Mr. Gut said: "The modern beaver reaches a length of less than 4 feet, including tail, and a weight not exceeding 20 pounds. Their length often exceed 3 feet. The Florida Pleistocene Giant capybara was almost as large as the Giant beaver."

"The saber-tooth tiger had the size and bulk of a large African lion and its enlarged upper canines had a length of 7 feet and weight estimated at 300 pounds. This is about the size and bulk of a modern bear."

Labor Bill Is Approved By House Group

Appropriations Committee Seeks Cut In Funds To Back Army Civil Work

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—(AP)—The House today voted down two efforts to exclude veterans of World War II from any severance's provision law enacted at this time.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—(AP)—The Administration's labor bill was approved today by a House labor subcommittee, 8 to 5. The vote was a straight party line affair, with the Democrats for it, the Republicans against it.

The measure goes before the full committee tomorrow. It would repeal the Taft-Hartley Law, and reconstitute the Old Wagner Act, with some modifications. The Senate Labor Committee already has approved a similar bill.

In another development in the House, the appropriations committee recommended a deep cut in a bill to finance the civil functions of the Army.

The $500,000,000 total is $100,000,000 below the amount President Truman asked in his budget message, and $1,361,813,666 less than the sum the Army Engineers got for the current fiscal year.

The committee voted to freeze government and relief work in unoccupied areas overseas in a separate bill but it also made a 15 per cent cut in all domestic construction programs, on the theory that prices have been dropping since the original estimates were made.

"Congress will not always follow their own advice," This was demonstrated yesterday when the House first voted tentatively to reject the Rankin bill for veterans' pensions and then withdrew to take it up.

It works this way, the House often decides to "go into the committee of the whole." It's the same outfit, operating under a little different arrangement. The "committee of the whole" meets on roll call votes (which require 30 minutes or more) and any votes it takes are tentative, subject to a roll call later if one is demanded.

The committee of the whole can vote: 1. By voice, where the Speaker rules whether the ayes or noes are more numerous; 2. By division, where the ayes and noes stand up separately and are counted; 3. By teller, where the ayes and noes are counted by tellers, or counters.

In the House itself—not the committee of the whole—no roll call is permitted; the roll call, in which each member's name is called off and he is put on record as for or against.

The House becomes itself when it has finished debating and amending the legislation in the committee of the whole. Adoption of a simple motion makes the change. The main difference is that the House alone can pass a bill.

Meanwhile Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said he will vote to cut up to $1,000,000,000 off the bill for (Continued On Page Two)

Acheson Denounces Charge That U. S. Is Fortifying Iran

Israel, Lebanon Market Records Sign Armistice Shattered Again Near En Naqura By Large Sales

Bunche Accuses 3 Nations Of Breaking Palestine Pact

LONDON, Mar. 23.—(AP)—Israel and Lebanon signed an armistice today.

The action at the Lebanese border point of En Naqura came as acting Palestine Mediator Ralph Bunche accused Israel, Trans-Jordan and Britain of violating the U. N. truce in Palestine through troop movements around the Trans-Jordan port of Aqaba on the Red Sea.

The British foreign office quickly disclaimed any truce violation. A foreign office spokesman said "our troops have been in Aqaba since January. It there has been a violation of the truce, which we do not admit, why should the charge be made now?"

Bunche is conducting armistice talks on Rhodes between Israel and Trans-Jordan. He asserted British troop reinforcements at Aqaba violated the truce which began July 19, 1948, but troops in January under the original armistice treaty with Trans-Jordan King Abdullah's government, involved the armistice, which is based on a division from Israel.

Israeli troops moved up to the Palestine Red Sea coast opposite Aqaba earlier this month.

Lebanon was the second of seven opposing Arab states to sign an armistice with Israel, whose troops had secured the town of Jewish state carved out of Palestine by United Nations action.

Israel hailed the Lebanon armistice as "the beginning of an era of peace and happiness for the Middle East." (Continued On Page Two)

Cabbage And Celery Prices Show Drop; Supplies Increase

Although produce sales at the Sanford State Farmers Market for the first 18 days of the month have hit a record peak of $525,487 as compared with sales of $135,290 during the corresponding period last year, Market Manager Sandy Anderson has lost hope of hitting the million dollar sales mark during March.

He attributes this to the fact that two major vegetables showed a slump in price this week as compared to last week. Golden celery, which a week ago sold for $4.35 a crate, is down to $2.85 to $3.00 the revealed, while Pascal celery, dropped from $4.25 to $4.50 to between $2.75 and $2.75.

Cabbage, which soared to a peak of $2.10 a bag last week is now down to $1.50 to $1.75, he stated. These prices, however, are still good in comparison with those of 14 weeks ago. Celery and cabbages sold for 15 to 16 cent a bag, he pointed out.

Mr. Anderson attributed the drop in celery and cabbage prices to increased supplies, especially in celery from California. According to the Market News Service, 404 cars of celery were on the track yesterday as compared with 314 cars on March 22, 1948. The Sanford celery deal is nearly over, with but a few acres remaining, and local growers have profited from the high prices.

In the State Farmers Market has shipped 1988 cars of celery compared with 2,012 at this time last year. (Continued On Page Two)

State Secretary Re-affirms American Interest In Greece, Turkey Protection

WASHINGTON, Mar. 23.—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson today denounced as "altogether false" Russian charges that the United States is turning Iran into a military base for use against Russia.

At the same time Acheson reaffirmed American interest in the security of Greece, Turkey and Iran.

His statements to a news conference were evidently intended to prevent any impression that recent Washington concentration on the North Atlantic Pact meant a lessening of American interest in the Middle East.

Acheson said he denied any "lessening of our interest" in that area. He recalled the statement he made on his recent speech on the Atlantic Pact last Friday. This was that American policy is "to help the peoples to maintain their integrity and independence as well as to provide them with the means to do so."

In his Friday speech he also said: "Our actions in supporting the integrity and independence of Greece, Turkey and Iran are expressions of that determination." He recalled these statements to his news conference.

On the matter of Russia and Iran, Acheson said that the American embassy in Tehran has reported intensifying Soviet pressure upon Iran in the form of persistent press and radio propaganda in recent weeks.

The propaganda, Acheson said, charges among other things, activity by United States advisors in Iran hostile to the Soviet union. Acheson recalled that the Iranian government recently protested to the State Department and radio at Tokyo against these statements. He said he had presented to Acheson a copy of the protest which was released publicly in Washington.

Yesley Memorial Parsonage Fund Nears $5,000 Goal

The Yesley Memorial Parsonage Fund of the First Christian Church has now reached $1,800 and is nearing its goal of $5,000, it was announced today by Lester Tharp, campaign chairman.

The campaign to raise funds for a parsonage in honor of the late pastor, the Rev. William Perry Yesley, who died on May 4, was started by the church group on June 11. Rev. Yesley had faithfully served the church for two years after coming here from St. Louis, and his kindness and friendliness had reached the hearts of all the members, said Mr. Tharp.

The parsonage will be occupied by the Rev. J. R. Farris, pastor. As soon as the goal is reached an advisory committee will meet and select plans for a two or three bedroom residence, he announced. It is expected that two or three thousand dollars may be borrowed on a long term plan.

Two more lots adjoining the church at 1600 Sanford Avenue have been purchased in addition to two other lots, and space between the parsonage and the church will be devoted to a playground.

The committee includes: Orin D. Landress, Mrs. R. G. Fox, L. Tharp, with the Rev. J. E. McKinley of the First Methodist Church and the Rev. Paul Carpenter of the First Christian Church of Orlando in an advisory capacity.

Group Of Florida Boosters Tells State To Stress Education In Ads

TAMPA, Mar. 23.—(AP)—A bunch of high-powered Florida boosters advised this state to quit excessive advertising of bathing beauties and stress educational opportunities.

Roger Babson, the economist, led off with the suggestion that all Florida advertisements have the word "education" inserted in them.

He was backed up solidly in this by William Holler of Mt. Dora, a retired Chevrolet auto manufacturer; George B. Storer, radio and television operator of Detroit; and Miami and Karl Bickel, former president of United Press.

The suggestions came at a session of the State Advertising Commission, which asked advice from these and others on what and how to tell the world about Florida. (Continued On Page Two)
