Stevenson Proving Himself Quite A 'Not Runner'

By JACK WHEAT
WASHINGTON (UPI) — If my old English masters will forgive me, I would like to offer the young Stevenson a new political term — "not runner."

It is a word I have just learned from the pages of Stevenson's book, "The Not Runner." Stevenson is the author of the book, which is a collection of his speeches and letters. It is a book that Stevenson has written for the purpose of showing the public that he is not a "not runner."

Stevenson is a man who has been running for the White House for many years. He has been running for the White House for many years. He has been running for the White House for many years. He has been running for the White House for many years.

Worry Clinic by Dr. G. W. Crane

Stevenson's reputation has been growing. In four months of his White House, he has been running for the White House for many years. He has been running for the White House for many years. He has been running for the White House for many years.

What I saw was the greatest miracle as regards his rejuvenation. For he has had an arthritis right leg for over 10 years. When we'd dress him, he'd yell. In fact, if his dog would suddenly jump that right leg, Stevenson would yell so you could hear him a block away.

Stevenson is a man who has been running for the White House for many years. He has been running for the White House for many years. He has been running for the White House for many years. He has been running for the White House for many years.

"The birds sing and every-thing is so bright." (This was good for Page 2 at least in San Francisco—in Los Angeles they would throw it out of the paper.)

"California to Reach 20,000,000 'Predicts Famed Scientist'" That was a headline in our paper the other day. (The story was buried in the vitamin ads.)

"Florida Citrus Fruit 'Lacks Vitamin Content' 'Says Famed Professor'" A professor could get famous just making a remark like that.

"We do not battle any longer with Florida." Heavenly days, the way we used to look for ways to bum-rap Florida oranges!

WASHINGTON—Robert Montgomery was telling about his backstage role as TV adviser to the president. He recalled an incident about a golf ball. It was just before air time at the White House a number of years ago.

Montgomery stepped up to the plate, pointed to the cut, and joked: "Mr. President, you know you shouldn't do a thing like this to a golf ball."

The larger a student's estimate of one leading overseas university, the less likely he is to retain his faith in God is the conclusion reached in a survey made by the university magazine.

More than 80% of first-year students believe in God. By senior year this figure drops to 53%.

Free TV Time Bill Strongly Opposed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, former President Hoover and Thomas E. Dewey all strongly opposed Tuesday a bill to require free TV time for election-year debates between presidential candidates.

Opposition to the measure also was voiced by Dr. Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System.

Nixon said the bill would be "service and undecorable." He said it does not seem "appropriate or desirable" for the government to "appropriate" TV time for candidates to the network.

Ferguson, Mrs. Harold Whittier, Mrs. Blaise Sawyer, Mrs. Charles Atkinson and Mrs. Herold Heckenbach. The hostess served Japanese fruit cake with coffee—and the cake sounded so intriguing that I was prompted to find out that the spicy batter is checked full of pecans and raisins and the frosted layers have candied cherries, pineapples and walnuts. Sounds delicious, doesn't it?

Sally, as president of the WCCB of the First Methodist Church, was hostess again on Wednesday when she entertained with a luncheon for new circle chairmen who are Mrs. George Mills, Mrs. M. E. Strickland, Mrs. George Chapman, Mrs. Lloyd Cochran, Mrs. M. E. Baker, Mrs. W. W. Tyre, Mrs. G. E. Hudson, Mrs. Fred Harris, Mrs. Clarence Purcell and Mrs. James Pigot. Others present, who will be in charge of forming the new circles, were Mrs. L. D. Hastings, Mrs. Art Beckwith and Mrs. Joe Azzarello.

MRS. KUTZER

SANFORD REPRESENTATIVES to the convention of the Navy Wives' Club of America, held in Jacksonville last week, were Nell (Mrs. William) Kutzer, president, and Mary (Mrs. William) Leighty, vice-president, of the local club.

The convention covered the Southeast region with five states represented and the Sanford women reported a large and successful meeting. Business sessions, luncheons, a Silver Tea, and the meeting of many city and Navy dignitaries were climaxed by a banquet and dance given at the Riverside Lion's Club.

ANOTHER SUCCESS STORY comes from the Navy crowd that attended the Guilded Cage ball at the Langford Hotel Friday night. They said the evening was gay and the decorations were lovely.

Each table held a small gold bird cage with a pink bird on the perch and this decoration was surrounded by fragrant gardenias. In the ballroom were duplicates in larger sizes. Door prizes, donated by local merchants, were won by Lois Elder, "Pug" Tiffany, Steve Oliver and "Skip" Horrell. Jack Neiman arrived in time from Rhoda, Spain, to be named "Beau Brummell" (the first to fill his dance program) and also was the roving photographer during the evening.

In the dance contest, Millie and Ollie Loper won the prize for the best cha-cha—Bertie and Don Brough won for their rock 'n' roll number and Lucy and John Wade were judged best in the walking contest.

CONGRATULATIONS to Margaret and Don Knight. A seven-pound-eleven-ounce son was born to them Monday night at Seminole Memorial Hospital.

MRS. ROBERT SMITH will model hair styles and colors by the Leliani House of Beauty and fashions from Mary Esthers at the Hairdressers Assn. Spring Fashion Show Friday at the Sanford Woman's Club, starting at 8 p. m. Mrs. Smith's hair will be in the new lavender blue color. Bob Markovitz, stylist, will arrange her coiffure.

Cuban Church Opens Offensive On Communism

HAVANA (UPI) — The Roman Catholic Church has taken the offensive against Communism in Cuba, warning President Fidel Castro's government in effect that it will not stand idle while God is denied.

A pastoral letter signed by Santiago's Archbishop Enrique Pérez Serra was read Sunday "not in haste in any way with Communism."

Archbishop Serra, president of the Cuban Bishops' Conference, said he was "convinced that the only way to bring about the necessary reforms is through the Church."

The pastoral letter was read in the cathedral in Santiago in the presence of 100 priests and 10,000 faithful, but copies were not made available to newspaper and radio stations throughout the country.

The reading of the letter made it clear it was meant to apply to all Cubans.

A full Cuban Catholic that they were aware of the "admitted" presence of Marx and other atheistic Communism.

Negroes Stage March To Honor Mixing Ruling

By United Press International
The sixth anniversary of the U. S. Supreme Court's school desegregation ruling was a day of tumult in nine southern states. An estimated 2,000 Negro students staged a "freedom march" in Atlanta. Young Negroes held a prayer meeting on the steps of the federal building in Tampa. Negroes demonstrated against segregated lunch counters in Montgomery, Ala., Memphis, Tenn., Orangeburg, N. C., and in other cities including New York. A new integration suit was filed at Memphis to open Ellis Auditorium to Negroes. The U. S. Justice Department filed suit in Mississippi to integrate a public beach at Biloxi, Miss. Negroes registered to vote for the first time since Reconstruction days in Haywood County, Tenn.

Dozens of other demonstrations, meetings and speeches were held Tuesday—both pro- and anti-integration—to mark the sixth anniversary of the most hotly disputed decision of the nation's highest court. Rep. Adam Clayton Powell (D-N. Y.) told an NAACP meeting in Richmond, Va., that the Negro no longer makes a distinction between North and South because of "increasing hypocrisy" in the North and "increasing honesty" in the South. At Savannah, Ga., the Rev. James Parker, president of the North Carolina "Defenders of State's Rights," told a segregation meeting that "agents of international communism" centered in New York City are the "chief adversaries" of pro-segregation forces. Ray Wilkins, executive head of the NAACP, spoke at Memphis. Clarence Mitchell, director of the NAACP Washington bureau, will speak at Nashville, Tenn., Sunday at a mass meeting. In Louisiana, police arrested the Rev. Ashton Jones, a white minister from San Gabriel, Calif., for ordering lunch in a Negro restaurant at Shreveport.

Chicago Dock Workers Strike

CHICAGO (UPI)—The International Longshoremen's Association called its 3,000 Chicago dock workers out on strike today when bargainers failed to reach agreement on a new contract. The Chicago stevedores joined 1,000 longshoremen already on strike at the Great Lakes ports of Milwaukee, Toledo, Cleveland, Erie, Pa., and Buffalo. William Green, president of the Local 18 in Chicago, said he ordered the strike because "there was just no possibility of getting close to an agreement." The strikes on the Great Lakes halted handling of general cargo shipping and some bulk cargo. Some foreign ships were stranded.

Electronics 'Marvel' Helps Speed Up Navy Supply

Deep in the confines of Building 100 at the Sanford Naval Air Station there dwells an electronic marvel—created by IBM and installed in Sanford, Fla., by the Naval Supply and Fiscal Department.

This short and very busy civilian employee, Mrs. Shirley Horn and Mrs. Nancy Butler, know the common simplicity of this electrical marvel by feeding it punched data cards at the staggering rate of 2,500 per week.

It's name? The Electronic Accounting Machine. (Printing Card Punch and Printing Data Transfer) and it has completely revolutionized the supply and fiscal operations at NAS. First, it saves background information.

The Naval Air Station Supply Department in Jacksonville is the only supply central point of fiscal accounting activity for NAS Sanford. Therefore, if a replacement part is needed for a "nick" aircraft in Sanford, the quicker the Supply "gets the word," the faster the repair can be made. That is where our "marvelous electrical friend" enters the picture. Making use of a direct telephone circuit, (or "hot line" as it is more commonly referred to), information concerning the vital part needed is relayed to the Supply center via the EAM card, which clearly resembles the familiar IBM card. The machine not only transmits messages, but receives them also. The latter feature permits fax to notify Sanford of the action being taken concerning the items requested. During peak periods, as many as 200 items are requested daily; aircraft parts, general stores, electronic equipment; almost everything it takes to keep a Naval Air Station operating efficiently.

In this connection, NAS Sanford Supply maintains stocks consisting of over 24,000 separate items, representing over three and three-quarter million dollars in value. All of these items are received by this defense installation, some less frequently than others, but nevertheless needed in order that NAS Sanford can function effectively as it must.

The advent of the Electronic Accounting Machine, bringing with it a new concept to the supply and fiscal organization, has been in use here since July 1946. The erstwhile Shop Stores Division now bears the title of Mechanized Auxiliary Stores and is operated under the supervision of Herbert Gilliard. For instruction concerning the operation of the machine, Mrs. Horn and Mrs. Butler attended an IBM School for key punch operators and also received of extensive training at the NAS

Jax Machine Records Division.

The "hot line" serves other purposes too. Should NAS Supply Dept. receive a request for a high priority item that is temporarily out of stock, they frequently contact NAS Sanford to supply the needed item, if available here. Such calls are handled by Mrs. Maxine McGrath, who locates the item and invoices it to the activity requiring it. These shipments of emergency nature reach ships and stations throughout the world with a minimum of delay.

Capitol Is Scene Of Mystery Blowup

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A mysterious object exploded with a firecracker-like pop and lit out an eye-smarting vapor in a corridor of the Capitol Tuesday.

Police who were called to the scene said they could find no remains of the object. Nor were they able to locate the person or persons who threw it. They attributed it to a prank by young tourists.

The vapor rose near a barber shop on the House side of the Capitol. An hour later it still had not completely dissipated.

Hunt On For Missing NAS Crewman; Crash Probe Set

The Navy today ordered a full investigation into the cause of Wednesday's crash of a Sanford-based Navy twin-jet plane in the Banana River that took the lives of three men.

Cdr. Gilbert Blaka, NAS safety officer, was at the scene of the crash at noon today and is expected to call a court of inquiry to determine the cause sometime next week.

Meanwhile, boat crews resumed a search of the river today for the body of one of the victims. Two bodies were recovered within hours after the ASD plunged into the river during a practice series of landings at Patrick Air Force Base. The third victim was still missing when darkness halted a search Wednesday night.

The victims, all from Sanford, were Lt. Harry A. Lackey II of 115 Oakland Dr., the pilot; instructor pilot Lt. (jg) Louis M. Beverly of 615 Briar Cliff and Aviation Mechanic 2C Glen A. Limbert of 1709 1/2 Magnolia Ave., whose body had not been recovered at noon.

Lt. Lackey is survived by his wife Betty and two children. He was born in Carlisle, Pa., and graduated from the U. S. Naval Academy in 1952.

Beverly is survived by his wife, Norma Jean; two children and a sister, Catherine Jane Smith of Appalachian, N. Y. Beverly was born in Schenectady, N. Y.

Limbert is survived by his wife Joan Marie, and his father and mother, Harry and Laura Blanche Limbert of Red Wing, Minn.

NAS officials reported that the plane was approaching a landing strip at Patrick when it suddenly pitched up, burst into flames and dove into the river just west of the base. It sank almost immediately.

Carlton Says He'll Carry Out Federal Mixing Order

By United Press International

Gubernatorial candidate Doyle Carlton said Wednesday night if the federal government ordered a Florida school integrated he would carry out the order.

His opponent, Farris Bryant, appearing with him on a televised debate in Tampa, said he would use every legal means available to circumvent the court order.

Carlton said racial peace would be maintained "if we have stable leadership."

Bryant said there would be no racial trouble "if the head on the helm is firm and steady."

They agreed no new legislation was needed to deal with the issue.

The head-to-head session was without heat words. About the only other difference between the two arose over Bryant's campaign promise to cut $60 million within two years out of state spending, and how reapportionment might best be achieved.

Carlton asked Bryant exactly where he intended to top off the $60 million. Bryant named several agencies where expenditures could be cut but cited no definite figures in the case.

"If we are to continue to talk in generalities," said Carlton, "we might as well proceed (to the next question)."

Bryant said no constitutional amendment was needed to achieve reapportionment. If he is elected, Bryant said, "I think the Legislature will in the opening days of the next session" come up with a reapportionment agreement.

Carlton, pushing his plan to add six more senators and 10 new House members, contended constitutional amendment was necessary.

In an earlier campaigning Wednesday at Tampa, Bryant said Carlton had taken a "Ted David" approach and declared war on "Pork Choppers."

"I looker that kind of approach," the Ocala candidate said. "We're too big for that."

"We've been following the course of fighting the Pork Choppers for five years," said Bryant, "and they are stronger now than ever before."

Blumping through Tampa, Carlton said, "during my eight years in the state Senate I have fought for the right of the majority of Florida citizens in the populous areas."

"I have no commitments to the small county Pork Choppers or any special interest."

Carlton said he would work if elected toward retaining state consumer taxes to the more populous areas which pay the most of them.

He called his plan for that "an exciting formula for state aid to local schools."

"We cannot afford," Carlton said, "to dilute the quality of our public school system by failing to provide enough funds to keep pace with our growth."

Zoning Board Is Overruled

The County Commission overruled a Zoning Board decision Wednesday and agreed to keep Weathersfield Acres commercial instead of residential.

The board, meeting in special session to hear testimony and transcripts before adopting a comprehensive zoning law for the county, agreed that Weathersfield Acres was not suitable for a residential area at this time.

The commission also took into account that at the final public hearing on the zoning proposal Tuesday, 51 property owners urged the commission to keep the land commercial.

There was no opposition to their request.

The board also took under legal advisement a request by Col. J. O. Gregory to enforce stricter restrictions on lakefront property in the Crystal Lake Heights area.

After voting through a number of petitions and requests for strict zoning, the commission Wednesday authorized their attorney to draw up a resolution adopting the zoning proposal.

Formal adoption is expected at the May 31 County Commission meeting. Meanwhile, Chairman John Krider said after the brief meeting Wednesday, the board will continue study on the proposal.

At the final hearing Tuesday, County Zoning Director Robert Brown, pointed out to approximately 100 property owners that modifications on the law can always be made "if there is a just cause."

Ike Is 'Disgusted' With Red Tactics

By United Press International

James C. Hagerty as "completely disgusted and fed up with the tactics of Khrushchev," said he thought that while there was no pressing reason for dismay, the free nations had to tighten their belts and work harder in the face of Soviet abuse and accusations.

Eisenhower said that while the free world had no high hopes for the summit, the leaders of their nations had thought there might have been some chance of reducing world tension.

"You deserve to know that the representatives of the United States, the United Kingdom and France did our very best to bring about that condition," he said. "We answered abuse with dignity and logic. We answered accusations with facts. There is no reason to be dismayed or disappointed. We have had these conditions before in dealing with the Soviets. Rather than be dismayed we must tighten our belts, keep our chin up and each of us work a little harder for the great cause of peace with justice and freedom."

Asked whether the conference failure would change Eisenhower's plans to submit his "open skies" program for cooperative aerial inspection to the United Nations, Hagerty said "not in the slightest."

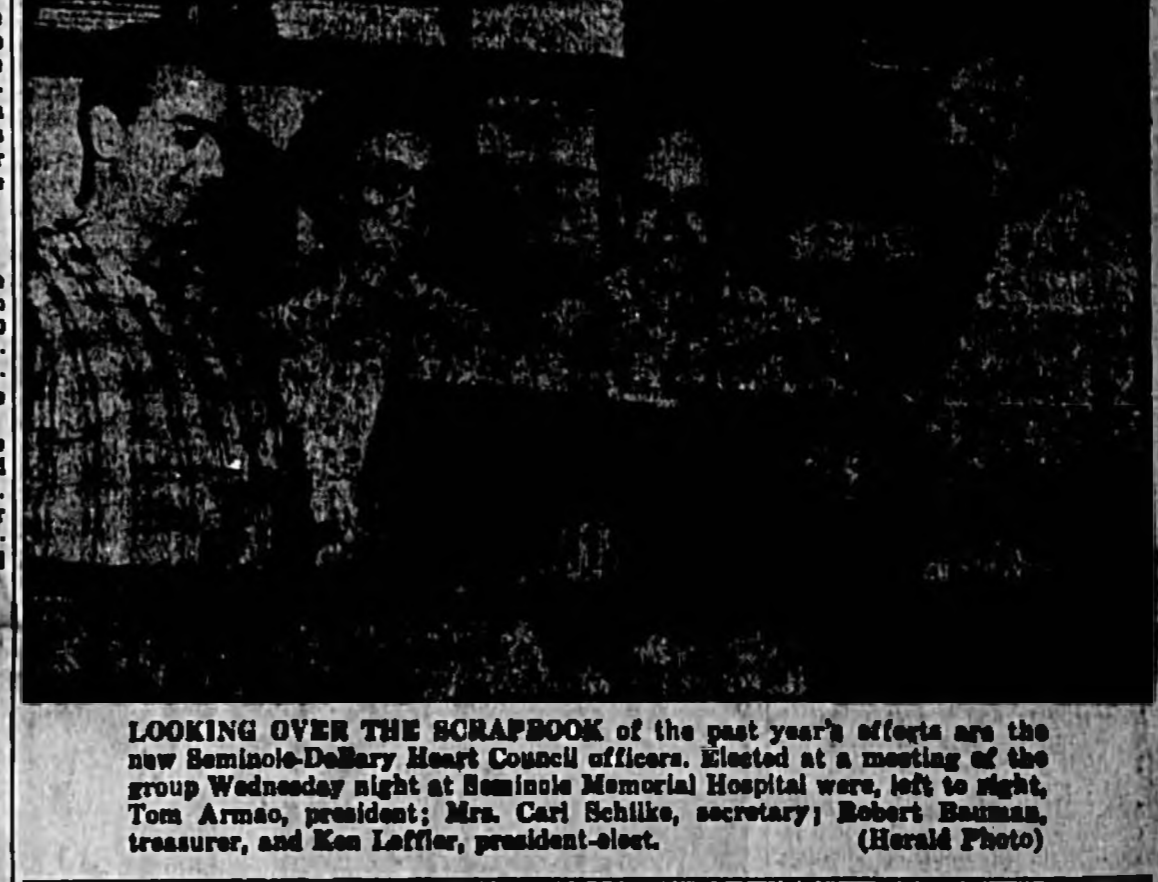

Khrushchev already had threatened to sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany—a move aimed at forcing the Allies out of West Berlin, isolating the city and splitting Germany forever.

He is expected to state his intentions Friday in another of his fiery speeches before a huge Eisenhower rally being prepared by the satellite nations. Today the Reds greeted him with denunciations of Eisenhower and West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

In the remembrance of veteran correspondents, such openly anti-American rebuff was without precedence in the 13 years that this city has been a divided between Soviet and Western rule.

It was considered the suitable atmosphere in which Khrushchev could spring a big fall of ugly surprises for free West Berlin, which he has designated a "cancer" to be eliminated unilaterally upon the failure of East-West negotiations.

West Berliners vent about their daily business as usual amid the general feeling that whatever the Soviet Premier had planned for them after the summit blowup in Paris, they could do nothing about it.

Tornadoes, Rain Hit U.S. Midsection

A far-reaching storm system hit the country's midsection during the night with tornadoes, high winds, rain and hail.

One man died near Tulsa, Okla., when flying debris caved in the top of his car during a brief but strong windstorm.

The 70-mile an hour winds which raked the area also lifted a roof from a motel and downed power lines.

The Weather Bureau said a possible tornado damaged barns and houses in the Hagartyville, Ark., area. Funnel clouds were also sighted near Hot Springs, Morrilton and Adkins, Ark., but did no damage.

Observers sighted other tornadoes near Sallisaw, Okla., and Lincoln, Neb., but neither apparently touched ground. Oklahoma and Nebraska were battered by winds and hail.

Heavy rain, marble-size hail and winds over 30 miles an hour hit the Omaha area, and a heavy downpour left two inches of hail at Mill City, Kan.

A3J Model To Highlight Armed Forces Parade

County residents will get their first chance Saturday to see a model of the new A3J Vigilante jet bomber that will be based at the Sanford Naval Air Station later in the summer.

A model of the craft will be mounted on a float at the Armed Forces Day parade scheduled to begin at 9:30 a. m.

Parade Chairman Joel Field announced this morning that the A3J will be among the many highlights of the parade which will feature about 1,250 civilians and military personnel and four Seminole County marching bands.

The parade will form at 9 a. m. and start moving at 9:30, beginning at Fourth St. and Oak Ave., it will go north on Oak to First St., turn east and move along First to San Carlos Ave.

As part of the Armed Forces Day activities here, a show will be held at the Navy base from 11 a. m. until 3 p. m. The Navy will open its gates to the public and camera regulations have been waived so that the public might get an opportunity to obtain pictorial evidence of the Navy's role in "Power for Peace."

Tentative plans during the Navy open house include several demonstrations of Navy operations and static displays of aircraft, guided missiles, and other Navy equipment.

Grand Marshal of the parade in Sanford will be J. Q. Galloway. Marching bands will include Seminole High, Sanford Junior High, Lyman High and Grooms Academy.

There will also be close order drilling by the Infantry, Cavalry, SNAS Marine Color Guard and a contingent of sailors.

A reviewing stand will be placed at First and Magnolia with county, Navy and city officials viewing the parade.

Missile 'Brains' Are Successful

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The delicate guidance systems of America's Polaris and Bomarc A missiles "though" their way to three successes in the skies over Florida Wednesday.

At the Cape, the 28-foot-tall Polaris proved that even a jolting "shot from a cannon" couldn't saddle its steering "brain."

The rocket was fired from an underground "ship motion simulator" tube to its fourth straight success at ranges of more than 1 1/2 million miles.

At Eglin Air Force Base, two Bomarc A intercepter missiles successfully intercepted a supersonic Regulus target rocket. These were near-misses, but the Air Force said the Regulus would have been knocked down if tactical warheads had been used.

Experts Conduct Lawn Care Clinic

Lawn problems were discussed by agricultural experts and about 200 homeowners who asked questions at a county lawn clinic at the Home Demonstration Center.

Following an illustrated presentation of lawn care by Frank Wilson, extension turf specialist, scores of questions were answered by the panel of experts.

Meeting in the panel, moderated by County Agent Cecil Tumbler, were Dr. John Wilson, entomologist; Dr. John Darby, pathologist; Dr. Mildred Rhoades, ornamentalist; all staff members of the Central Florida Experiment Station.

Rhoades presented an interesting discussion of nematodes and their effect on lawns and ornamentals.

During the clinic period, individual home owners brought forward diagnosed lawn samples for identification and recommendations.

Teacher said today that homeowners may bring both lawn and soil samples to the agent's office for the same purposes.

"For the most part," Wilson said, "problems seem to stem from diseases, particularly one disease brought about by the heavy rains in mid-March."

Wilson added that "while the disease may not be as active now as it was then, the reduced root system does not allow the plant to take up adequate moisture in the present dry period."

Home owners were cautioned against fertilizing at this time but practice encourages the development of dense lawns.

Home owners were also cautioned against fertilizing soil made from concrete because of the danger of burning the roots.

Criticized Deland Jury Is Dismissed

DELAND (UPI) — A 12-man jury, accused of a "gross miscarriage of justice" in their verdict in a Negro rape trial, was discharged Wednesday by Circuit Judge Robert Wingfield.

Wingfield acted after the consent by State Attorney W. W. Charles Boyd Howard, 19, and Clarence Heath, 20, two Daytona Beach Negroes, were tried for the alleged rape of a Negro woman.

The jury found the two guilty of the lesser offense of assault with intent to rape, and Wingfield sentenced them to 20 year prison terms.

Judge made the remark after the verdict was announced. "It would be unfair of them to try further cases after Judge's comment."

He called his plan for that "an exciting formula for state aid to local schools."

"We cannot afford," Carlton said, "to dilute the quality of our public school system by failing to provide enough funds to keep pace with our growth."

Big Runoff Vote Seen; Rally Friday

Supervisor of Registration Camille Bruce predicted today that the voting turnout in next Tuesday's second primary will be greater than the first primary.

Mrs. Bruce explained that in the first primary 9,100 persons voted in the 10 county precincts, but said many were turned away because of the crowded polling places.

This time, Mrs. Bruce said, many persons have better understanding of voting procedures and voting should move rapidly.

Mrs. Bruce also said that in the second primary the 10 County Commission races at stake.

There also will be runoff in the District 6 constitutional race and District 6 peace justice race.

The first political rally before the primary will be held Friday night at the Fern Park Legion Hall. The rally is sponsored by the County Executive Democratic Committee and will start at 8 p. m.

The second will be held Saturday night at Sanford's Memorial Stadium and will be held at 7:30 prior to the Greyhound baseball game.

Mrs. Bruce said that a special school for clerks and inspectors will be held at the Home Demonstration office at 7:30 p. m. today.
