RIVER RATES ARE HIGHER THESE DAYS

BEFORE RAILWAYS COMPETED RIVER RATES WERE LOWER

It is the duty and shall be the purpose of the Sanford Board of Trade to reduce the freight rates to and from Sanford and the first step will be to make this city a basing point, thereby inducing wholesale houses to locate here and make Sanford the greatest shipping center in middle Florida.

That Sanford should have much better rates has long been known by those connected with the railroads and steamships and the shippers of this city. That Sanford will never get cheaper rates unless we get the concerted action is also a well known truth and the concerted action will come from the Sanford Board of Trade, composed of nearly four hundred members, representing every walk of life and every member a live wire working for the best interests of the city.

Sanford at the head of navigation on the St. Johns river which will soon be the Inland Waterway through Florida occupies the most strategic position to enforce the demands for better rates than does any city in Florida. In the early days the transportation rates were cheaper and there was no railroad competition and the joke of the transportation companies in this day is that they cannot reduce the rates and the Clyde Line does not seem to make any material difference in the said rates. What the Clyde Line and the railroads need to bring them to time is another line on the river—an independent line of steamers operated by the business men of this section of Florida and that this line will be operated in a foregone conclusion unless the rates are reduced. The following from Jacksonville Dixie tells of the early days of steamboating and calls attention to the fact that rates are higher now than they were in the early days of no railway competition:

"The first steamboat line inaugurated between Jacksonville and New York was by the Clyde Line, the first vessel being the Cherokee, which arrived here in 1880 and which proved a gala occasion, many leading Jacksonville people going to Charleston and accompanying the vessel to this city.

It was a notable occasion, and the citizens being assured, several other ships were added to the line.

It is strange indeed that river transportation has been so greatly reduced, when the rates were cheaper than at present. Even after the A. C. L. had, as the old Plant System, penetrated to the southern sections, it was the steamboats that carried most of the passengers.

Competition was lively; and boat and railroad solicitors were busy at the hotels. The scenes of greatest activity were at Hogan street and the railroad wharves.

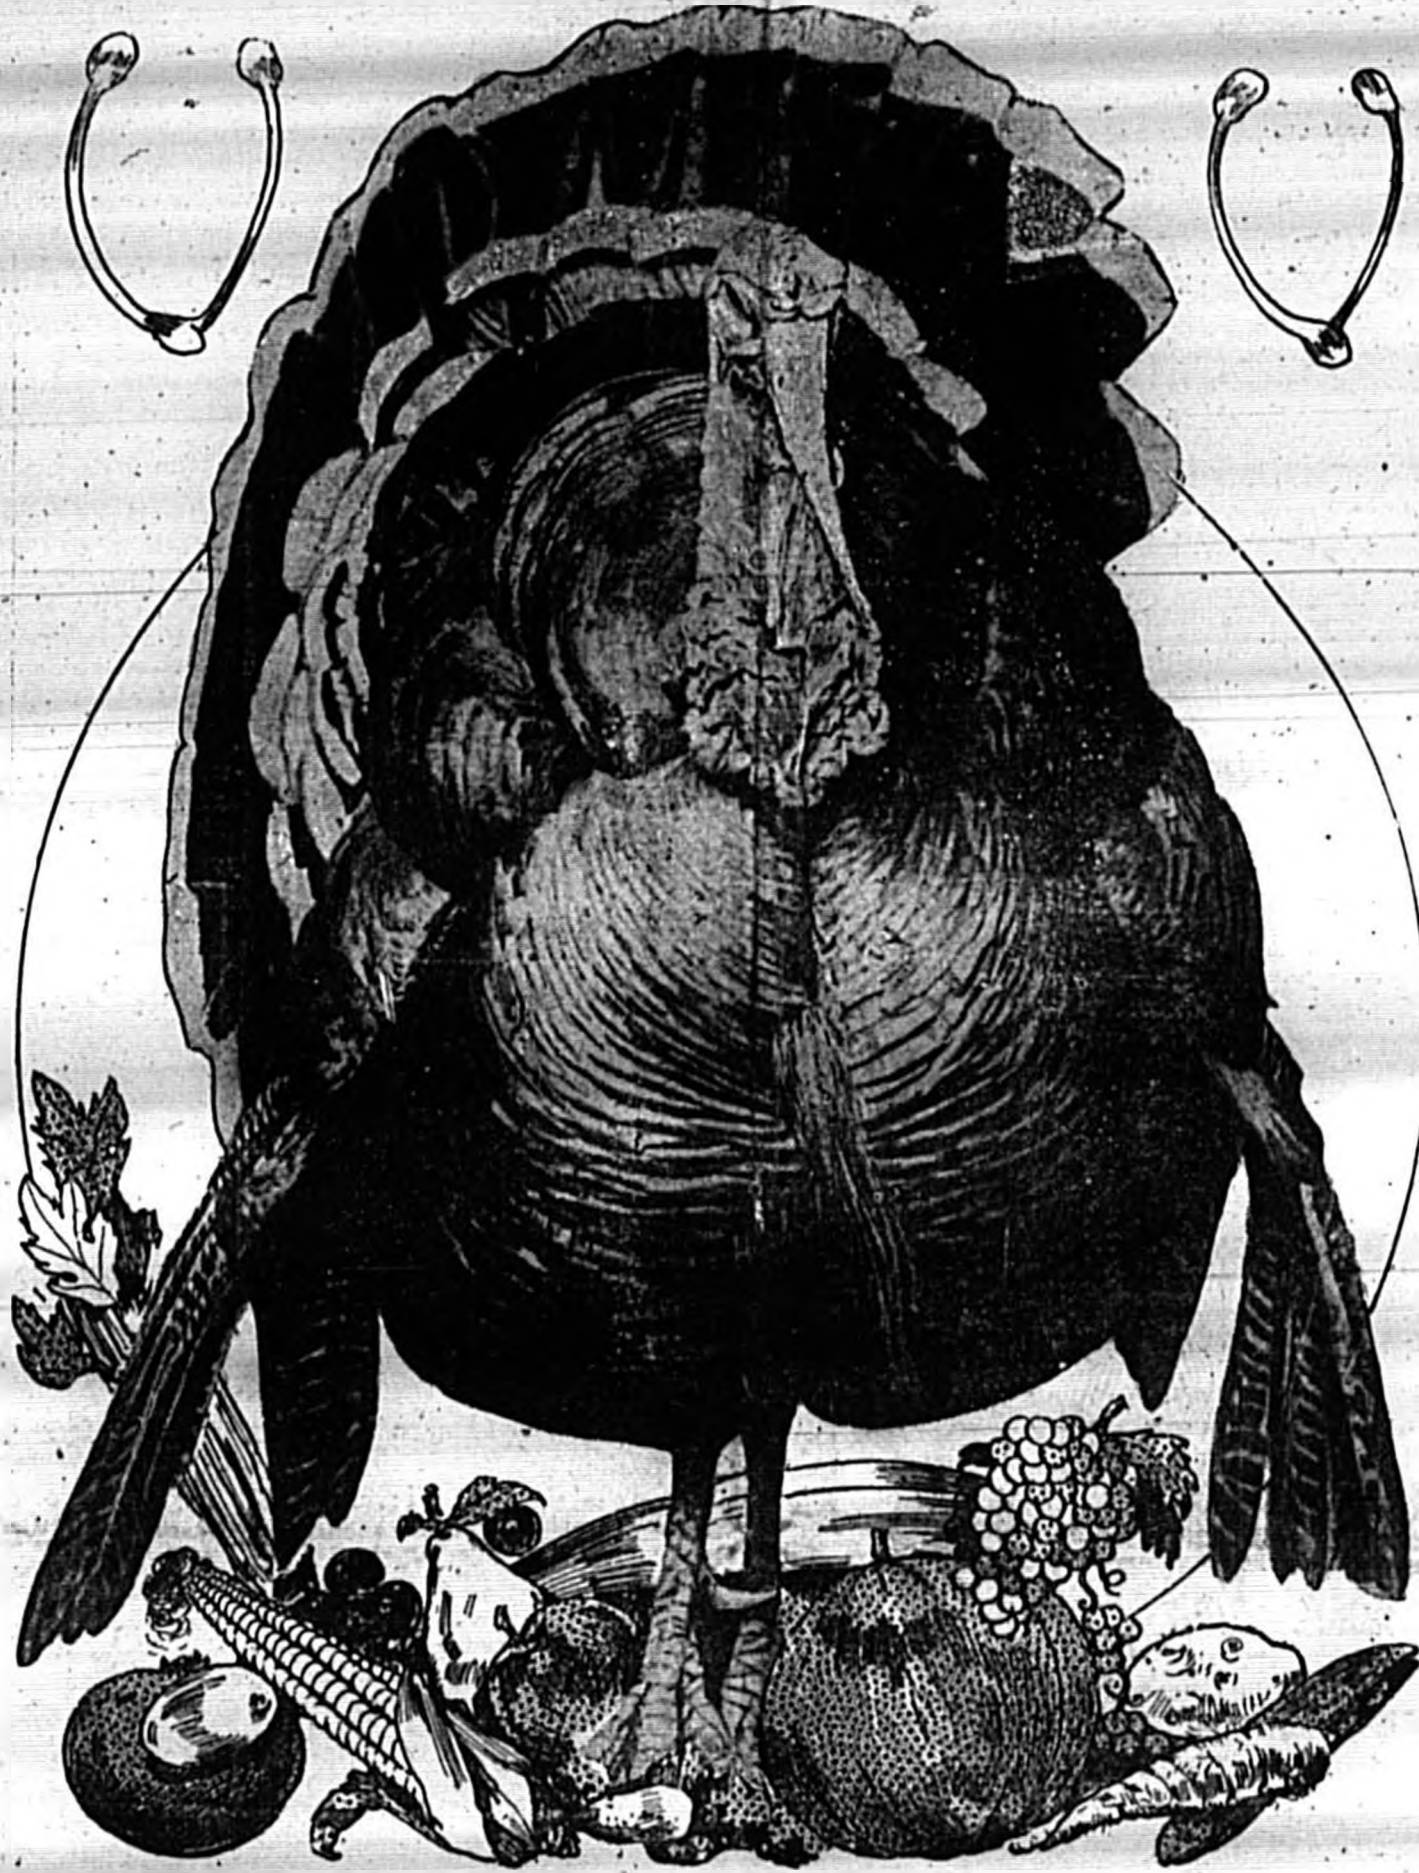

In those days there was no railroad commission and the freight rates then on certain commodities were much lower than now.

In 1880 river transportation on the St. Johns river was the liveliest thing we had in commerce. Every section along the St. Johns river depended on river transportation, but railroads came and drove the business away.

In 1880 eighteen splendid steamers were used between this city and Sanford and every vessel was crowded with passengers and freight.

Those who resided here from 1880 to 1899 will remember the beautiful steamers Frederick DeBarry, H. T. Bay, Welaka, City of Jacksonville, City of Sanford, Eliza Hancock, John Sylvester, Sylvan Glen, H. B. Plant, Jennie Lane, Fannie Dugan and other smaller vessels.

The races daily between the H. T. Bay and John Sylvester, which ran between Jacksonville and Palatka, aroused intense interest and brought thousands to the wharves. Betting was lively and the excitement ran high. Then too, were the daily races between the Sylvan Glen and the Eliza Hancock. The rivalry at times was so intense that there were many previous encounters.

RECENT COLD KILLED CROPS IN NORTH

CALIFORNIA ALSO SUFFERED IN VEGETABLES AND ORANGES

The recent cold that prevailed over the north, east and west played havoc with vegetables and fruits but Florida was practically untouched.

Sanford section never felt the cold and the growers were wanting just such cold weather to put the finishing touches on the early lettuce.

A Washington special goes into details as to the effect of the cold spell in other sections. A bulletin bureau says practically no harm to fall-sown grain was reported and the damage to cotton was slight, but in California tomatoes were a total loss and truck suffered except in a few sections.

The cold spread southward from Alaska on November 10, driving temperatures in the Rocky Mountain states down to new low marks, and during the week following causing freezing weather and frosts all the way south and east to southern Florida.

"While a large part of the sweet potato yield has been harvested in Mississippi," says the bulletin, "there was much injury to the unharvested, and vines were reported killed in some other sections of the south. White potatoes were slightly damaged in Louisiana.

"Considerable damage to seed cane occurred in Georgia and Florida, but the injured cane remains usable for syrup. In Louisiana the seed cane was mostly saved through warnings, but other cane, through generally winnowed, suffered no harm. Sorghum was mostly killed and sugar cane damaged in Texas, and the uncut cane in Mississippi was much damaged.

"Truck in northern Carolina was killed and most tender truck in northern and western Louisiana, Texas and other southern states was killed, while in California tomatoes were an entire loss. Beans and lettuce were somewhat damaged in the coastal plain portion of South Carolina and Georgia.

"Cabbage, turnips and collards escaped injury in most of Georgia and Alabama, but in Louisiana young cabbage plants, beets and lettuce will be a 50 per cent loss, while hardy vegetables in Texas suffered as far south as Corpus Christi. In California severe injury to truck occurred in all save a few sections, but celery in the Delta district was mostly unhurt. In Georgia, Louisiana and other states seed beds and much truck in fields were saved through timely warnings.

"There seems to have been but little damage to fruit in the south. Citrus fruit in Texas stood the freeze well, save in a few more northern sections, where about half the crop was lost. Arizona orange trees seem hurt in Mississippi, but practically unhurt in Alabama. In Florida the cold was rather beneficial to citrus fruit, improving color and shipping qualities.

"In California citrus fruit in Tulare county was somewhat damaged, and half the young trees near Davis were ruined; but in other parts of the state the damage to citrus fruit was negligible. Table grapes in California are practically an entire loss, and unpicked olives were much hurt, but can still be used for oil."

Death of Mrs. J. F. Arial

Mrs. J. F. Arial died at her home on the west side last Saturday after a short illness and was buried Sunday with her young infant whose ushering into the world caused her death.

The funeral occurred from the late residence on the west side last Sunday afternoon at two o'clock, Rev. Arthur Peck of the Episcopal church officiating. Interment was made in Lakeview cemetery.

The death of Mrs. Arial has cast a sadness over the community where she has resided for many years. Her going leaves a husband and three children to mourn the loss of a devoted mother and wife and the heartfelt sympathy of all is extended to them in their bereavement.

CITY BONDS ABOVE PAR IN DEMAND

SALE YESTERDAY GAVE BEST PRICE OF RECENT YEARS

Everybody wants Sanford city bonds.

They must be good if the demand after them yesterday is any barometer of value for these were some twenty five bond buyers here bidding for the $45,000 5 1/2 refunding bonds advertised to be sold. They were sold to Field & Richardson Co., of Chicago at par and accrued interest and a premium of $3968.00. This is a good figure, for in other words the bonds sold for $1,07878, being the highest price paid for city bonds in recent years. The bond trustees elected at the recent election are A. R. Key, B. F. Whitner and O. L. Taylor.

Our local banks were right on the job and their bids were as follows:

Seminole and First National joint bid, $2571.30 above par and $100 for fees.

The Peoples Bank bid was $2939.00 and $100 for fees.

There were twenty five straight bids with four bids for 5 per cent bonds. The number of buyers here yesterday demonstrates that the bond markets are steady and that the investors have plenty of money and are looking for safe investments in the south.

AMONG THE THEATRES

Chit-Chat of the Play Houses in Sanford

"Honor Thy Name"

Frank Keenan, Charles Ray and Louise Glaum are to be seen in "Honor Thy Name," Triangle-Ince play, to be seen at the Lyric Tonight

"Honor Thy Name" is the story of a father's sacrifice to save his son. Colonel Slocum Castleton (Frank Keenan) was a gay blade in his day, and one of his flames had been the celebrated opera singer Rosita. But, one night returning to his apartment he had found her with another man and promptly dropped her

Now he is a respected southern gentleman, living quietly with his wife and son Rodney. Rodney (Charles Ray) is in love with Rosalee Carey, a distant cousin, and the prospective match is thoroughly acceptable to Rodney's parents. Then the Colonel sends his son to New York to the university. There Rodney falls into bad company and presently is introduced to Viola Bretagne Louise Glaum), a cabaret dancer. She, realizing he is a young man of considerable means spreads her net to catch him, and very soon after Rodney writes home to his father that he is going to marry "the sweetest little girl in New York"

The old man at once comes to New York and, sprucing himself up takes the girl away from Rodney just to show him how unworthy she is. Then it develops that Viola is the daughter of Rosita, and all of her mother's desire for revenge comes back. Viola wins Rodney back, and after a drunken spree he finds that he has married her. She makes him take her to his father's house. There she declines to accept the father's cash terms for final settlement and the old man determines on a way to get rid of her that is one of the most terrible, but without one of the most thrilling series of scenes ever shown upon the screen. Lyric Tonight

"The Years of the Locust"

"The Years of the Locust," something extraordinary.

At last Fannie Ward, brilliant Lasky stars who is noted in two hemispheres as being the best dressed actress on the stage has ample opportunity to display some of her famous wardrobe, in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "The Years of the Locust," which will be seen at the Star Monday, beginning with morning negligees, street costumes, afternoon gowns, tea gowns, ball gowns, opera cloaks, driving furs, cunning frocks and even a cute little riding habit, follow each other in quick succession, and all of them the latest conceptions of the principal Parisian modistes. In the cast supporting Miss Ward in this gripping story are Jack Dean, Walter Long, Charles Ogle and a number of others.

Mae Murray in "The Plow Girl" Tonight at the Star.

Lyric Tonight

The joys of picture acting were experienced by Frank Keenan and Louise Glaum in "Honor Thy Name" latest Triangle-Ince, when they rode behind a runaway team, winding up with a dash over a cliff in which both were supposedly killed. All they really got was a few sprains, a couple dozen bruises and various rips and tears in their attire. Lyric Tonight

The Scarlet Road

A New Years Eve in a Broadway cabaret palace is a feature, and a remarkable scene in "The Scarlet Road," a George Kleine photodrama released through Kleine-Edison features to be shown at the Star Theatre Saturday. It required the service of about 500 persons for this "set" in "The Scarlet Road" and the result is a faithful accurate portrayal of just about what transpires at some of these palatial places on that particular night each year. The stylishly gowned women and correctly attired men are apparently having the "time of a life" at their festivities and a spectator can almost imagine hearing the pop if the champagne corks and strains of the music, so realistic is the picture.

Mabel Taliaferro Starred in "The Dawn of Love"

Mabel Taliaferro, one of the most popular actresses in this country, and surely one of the most versatile and gifted artists, will be the feature attraction here at the Star on Tuesday in the stellar role of "The Dawn of Love," a five part Metro wonder-play. The story was written especially for Miss Taliaferro by Channing Pollock and Rennold Wolf, two of the foremost dramatists on Broadway who are now turning their talents to the screen. Miss Taliaferro is surrounded by an unusually strong cast. The scenes of "The Dawn of Love" are laid along the coast of Maine and the central plot revolves around the life of the daughter of a fisherman, the role played by Miss Taliaferro. Besides a novel love theme and many beautiful and artistic touches the production teems with thrilling and startling situations—including the burning of a lighthouse and a dramatic scene in a smuggler's cave along the coast. Edwin Carewe, who directed the production, took the Metro company of players to Maine, where the feature was photographed with a correct and realistic background.

EAST COAST CANAL ASS'N BIG MEET

centered midway of the festal adornment was a miniature canal with shipping craft a-sail upon it, the surface life-like with water fowl and kindred appropriateness.

At election of officers time, the chairman of committee on time and place stated that he had received no invitation from any locality for the meeting of the coming year. Seminole's representative was promptly upon his feet with an earnest and well put invite that the Association come to Sanford for its next Annual. Hon. Frank W. Baker, known and well liked in Sanford, having been elected president, offered the suggestion that inasmuch as the Atlantic Deeper Waterways Association is to hold its 1917 Annual in Miami, it would be economy to have this association meet there at the same time. This was adopted, but it was made clear that Sanford's invitation being renewed for the next after Miami, the association fully recognized the force of Mr. Woodruff's logic that the very best thing for our waterway interests that could happen would be for the association people to visit us, see the St. Johns, the lay of things in general, gain some idea of the vast section to be benefitted by the river route, touch shoulders with us and more fully what and how much we can accomplish by a united pull for a waterway, through Jacksonville to Miami and Key West along the natural, scenic and commercially important St. Johns.

Adjournment of the Florida East Coast Canal Association was followed by a cordial invitation from Palm Beach Board of Trade by Secretary Biggars to our representative to attend on Saturday the Growers' Marketing Convention in that city. It seemed politic to do so, and the invitation was accordingly accepted. At this gathering, Messrs. C. E. Bassett and Wells A. Sherman from the Office of Markets, Washington, who had been arranged with for their presence, gave most instructive, practical and helpful information. Space scarcely admits of details here and at this time, but we will state that Mr. Woodruff brought home with him a fund of marketing intelligence as to what is in process of organization, which when perfected promises great helpfulness to those truckers, farmers and fruit growers who get in touch with same. Mr. Bassett was especially requested to come to Sanford and explain to our growers the government plan of cooperation in the distribution and adequate realization of proper price in the marketing of our products, and he assured our representative that he would, if his chief permits, upon application from us, certainly do so. It would be of infinite value to every grower in the Sanford section, if all could hear and act upon the plan proposed, and should Mr. Bassett come, every one must make it a point to let nothing prevent his being in attendance to hear the information he is able to impart.

It will interest Waterway enthusiasts to state that a plan which seems feasible and may very possibly be worked out is the forming of an Intra Coastal Waterway District, where by a fund could be raised which doubtless would be encouraged and supplemented by the Government, and thus desired improvements might be anticipated and realized in the much nearer future.

At all events, we are glad to note that Waterway prospects at the present time appear brighter than at any period since agitation of this inestimable advantage assumed the lively proportions of the past two or more years.

Don't Fail to Attend Florida's Greatest Fair

You'll find a trip to Jacksonville the first week in December mighty enjoyable and interesting. The big Duval County Fair will then be on—and it is going to be some show. The interest in this fair, all over Florida and in neighboring States, insures exhibits and attendance that will make it more of an Inter-State than a county enterprise. Other Florida fairs have been good and will be better, but this one promises to eclipse them all in many important respects.

Come to Jacksonville December 5th to 9th

Spend these five days in busy, bustling Jacksonville and see the Duval County Fair, attend the theatres, do some shopping and have a good time generally. The exhibits at the fair will make you more proud than ever of Florida and you'll learn from them new ideas that will help you and your neighbors. Your friends in the city will be glad to see you, and you will meet many of them from other parts of Florida. Bring the folks—plenty of accommodations at reasonable rates.

Reduced Railroad Rates Ask Your Ticket Agent

All railroad lines entering Jacksonville will give reduced rates for this fair. Tickets will be on sale Monday, Dec. 4th, good returning until the 9th. Ask your ticket agent now about these rates and he will be ready to give you the benefit of them.

Favorable rates on exhibits also have been authorized by the railroads. Agricultural products, art and needlework, livestock, fruits, flowers and vegetables from any section of Florida may be shown.

Generous prizes offered. Send for catalog and full particulars to H. H. SIMMONS, Chairman Entrance Committee. For other information, address

THANKSGIVING FOR FLORIDA
Governor Trammell Designates November 30th State of Florida—Executive Offices By the Governor A Proclamation

Looking backward through the years to the time when our forefathers were establishing in this country institutions that characterize a great and enduring civilization, there comes to our view no more significant hall mark of the fine Christian characteristics of the men and women of that day than the beautiful custom they began for us in observing a day of Thanksgiving and Praise. The people of Florida for the blessings of prosperity, peace and happiness that prevail in our commonwealth and in the nation should be profoundly grateful.

To us has been vouchsafed a year unmarred by epidemic, serious disturbances or economic loss. To us has been given a year of peaceful enjoyment of the prosperity of the commonwealth; and a year witnessing great progress in our industries and arts of peace. Our fields and groves are richly laden with the fruits of industry and are not laid waste in the devastating path of war. The busy whirl of the wheels of commerce have not been supplanted by the rumblings of the wheels of cannon, the song of the harvester is heard in the lane and we have no discordant note of strife within our borders.

Therefore, in keeping with the beautiful custom which delights our hearts to follow, I, Park Trammell, Governor of the State of Florida, do hereby designate and set apart

Thursday, November 30, 1916 to be observed as a day of Thanksgiving.

That this nation of ours has been spared the suffering, loss and bloodshed, yea, even the wholesale slaughter of men, which are the necessary results of cruel and merciless war; that we have been kept out of its awful horrors, yet steadfastly have maintained the national honor, should fill us with a spirit of solemn gratitude.

For these things and for whatever our individual blessing and prosperity have been let us be truly thankful, reverently observing the day set apart in offering praise and Thanksgiving to the Giver of all Good who giveth the earth its increase and guideth the destinies of nations.

Let the people gather where convenient for a service of Praise and Thanksgiving appropriate to the occasion, and manifest their gratitude also in substantial form by having thought for any unfortunate in their midst.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be affixed this 16th day of November, A. D. 1916.
PARK TRAMMELL,
Governor.

Attest:
H. Clay Crawford,
Secretary of State.

WANTS RACE TRACK

McDannel Thinks County Fair Should Have the Fast Horses Also

The following from F. J. McDannel of Owosso, Michigan about the county fair idea gives his opinion of the same.

"I notice the suggestion in the last issue of The Herald that the new lake front be utilized as county fair ground.

As a member of the Sanford Board of Trade I would like to enter a most vigorous protest on any move of this kind. The lake front property is entirely too valuable to be tied up in this way.

I would suggest that a suitable location for a permanent fair ground be picked out somewhere in the vicinity of the junction of Celery and Mellonville avenues, just outside of the irrigable district, or where the land is not so expensive. A site should be chosen with special regard to race track location and then build your fair grounds around it. A first class track would be an asset which you could realize from continually. By reason of Sanford's location, with a first class race track and grounds you ought to be able to attract horses of national reputation and pull off some meets there that would be hummers, aside from your county fair meets.

And that is not all. Soon as it becomes generally known that Sanford had a fast track, and first class stable accommodation you would be getting some of the fast ones there to work out and train. All this means earnings in addition to your county fair earnings.

"THINK IT OVER."

Mr. McDannel's idea is good but he loses sight of the fact that such an enterprise would cost more money than Seminole county could raise in some time. The distance out of the city would help to kill the attendance and only the Florida town that can have the fair in reasonable walking distance can expect anything in the way of attendance. Another thing the grounds and race track and other buildings tie up a bunch of money and money is something that the county is shy of when it comes to the county fair plan. Until a permanent organization can be formed with the idea of having grounds and having plenty of money there is nothing to do but have it on a smaller scale down town. The bulkhead idea would only be temporary with no buildings that would mar the bulkhead in any manner.

Live on 40 Cents a Day
Chicago, Nov. 22.—Twelve employees of the Chicago Health Department today began a two weeks' experiment intended to demonstrate that a person can live properly on forty cents a day.

At the first meal, breakfast, served at 8:20 o'clock, Dr. John D. Robertson, health commissioner, directed the "diet squad" to learn to eat slowly, asserting that "the faster you eat the more you eat."

Forty minutes was allowed for breakfast, the menu for which consisted of fresh apples, liver, bacon, one egg, muffins, butter and coffee. Each dieter was pledged to deny himself all nourishment except the meals prepared at the School of Domestic Arts and Sciences.

Dr. Robertson announced, however, that they might drink water, chew gum and smoke if they desire. The experiment is attracting wide attention, especially among physicians and economists, numbers of whom have asked for specimens of menus and reports of progress.

Six men and six women are making the test. Throughout the two weeks they will pursue their regular vocations in an attempt to keep conditions as nearly normal as possible. At the outset the weight of the women varied from 161½ to 110 pounds and that of the men from 220 to 147½ pounds. The heavy-weight is Dr. A. J. Stokes, chief of the city's food bureau.

Jack London Dead
Santa Rosa, Cal., Nov. 22.—Jack London, the author, died at his Glen Ellen ranch near here at 7:45 o'clock tonight, a victim of uremic poisoning. London was taken ill last night and was found unconscious early today by a servant who went to his room to awaken him.

His condition at first alarmed his sister, Mrs. Eliza Shepard, who summoned physicians from this city. It was at first believed that the author was a victim of tomato poisoning. Dr. J. Wilson Shiele of San Francisco a close friend of the writer was summoned during the day and declared that the patient's condition was serious.

From the time London was found this morning he did not regain consciousness. About midday he seemed to rally but later suffered a relapse and sank rapidly until the end came.

Beside his sister, Mrs. Shepard, London is survived by a daughter who is a student at the University of California; his mother, who lives in Oakland, Cal., and his wife, Charmion London. Mrs. London was with her husband when death came.

London would have been forty-one years old on January 12. He was one of the foremost American writers of fiction.

Mr. and Mrs. London recently returned from a sojourn of several months in the Hawaiian Islands and have been living on their Glen Ellen ranch, one of the most elaborately equipped in northern California.

BIRDS VS. BUGS

"The Perry Herald advocates a law protecting the partridge for at least five years," says the Madison Enterprise Recorder which also approves of the idea. That the partridge, or more properly speaking for this locality, the quail, is a great destroyer of insects and is particularly fond of the boll weevil is claimed by some and the two newspapers quoted are anxious to know if the claim regarding the quail's appetite is true. "It is our idea," says the Enterprise Recorder, "that our farms never would have been subjected to so many pests if the birds had not been killed off." The paper believes that "the indiscriminate slaughter of our wild bird life is a piece of supreme folly, and should not be permitted regardless of the amount of license paid." It is likely that the state does not regard the money received for licenses of any special importance—but allows a number of sportsmen to hunt, charging the nominal fee to assist in paying game wardens. One of Florida's attractions is hunting and it would be too bad to deny sportsmen any pleasure while here.— Jacksonville Times-Union.

THE NEGRO EXODUS

The negro exodus from the southern states to the north is causing much speculation from students of the race question in various parts of the country and the many thousands of negroes transplanted in the colder climate gives rise to much speculation as to whether the negroes are bettering their condition or not. Many of the recruiting agents in Florida and other states are collecting money from the men in advance promising to give them tickets and afterward forgetting to come back. These people are fakes pure and simple but that many of the southern negroes have found employment in the mines, workshops and railroads is a well known fact. As to whether these negroes, especially those from Florida can stand the rigorous climate, as to whether they will fare as well with the people who know nothing about them and care less and as to whether big wages in the north where for eight months in the year they will be obliged to wear thick clothing and have fires will pay them as well as average wages in Florida remains to be seen. The hysteria exhibited in some places about the negroes leaving this state in droves and depopulating Florida of laborers is all luncheon. If every negro in Florida left there would be other laborers to take their places and if they do leave they will find their places filled when they return as they are bound to do. The employer in the north will exact long hours and a full measure of work from the negro. He knows nothing about the negro and cares less. If the negro gets into trouble the employer will let him get out the best way he can and they will find none of the sentiment of the south about the negro. He will have to take his chances in living, chances in working, chances in standing the cold and chances of starving to death and there will be none to look after him. The white man of the north knows nothing about the negro and feels that he owes him nothing. The question of race equality that seems like Elysium to the negro will be his undoing, for he will find the doors of hope closed against him when he tries to enter. In fact the negro going north will find much to his disadvantage and the trades and employments to which he has been accustomed in the south will be closed against him in the north.

There is no need to fear the exodus of the negro north or to any other place as long as he can live easy, get as much for wages and be treated as well as he is in Florida. If there are any who wish to leave, let them go. They will soon find out for themselves as to which is the best country.

PLACE THE EMBARGO

The newspaper agitation country wide that is being made for the United States to place an embargo on foodstuffs curtailing the shipments of food to Europe and consequent high prices for this country should receive the hearty support of all the people. Unless an embargo is made when congress meets in December the people of this country will be starving to death in January of 1917—starving to death in the land of plenty and in a land where there is no war. The ordinary citizen of the United States does not see the impending danger of this country shipping all her food supplies to Europe. We sit supinely by and see the prices soaring while listening to the siren song of prosperity and factories working overtime and while we delay there is a tightening of the coils of the trusts and food is going higher with each day and weak and winter is upon us. The Leesburg Commercial has the following facts and figures that will scare the thinking man into action and demand from our congressman and senators that they force the embargo:

In all great waves of speculation, where the few were becoming millionaires and riding a wave of spendthrift affluence that gave a false impression of a country prospering beyond belief; there have been the undertows of starvation. When the few prosper beyond reason, more must go without the necessities of life. But never before has there been in this or any other nation a great wave of prosperity, reaching to the very uttermost ramifications of the body politic and the citizenry, that has brought with it the danger of an empty national larder.

Our bread has gone up in price. It did not disturb us greatly because we did not stop and reason what was to follow. Now comes the menace of a time before next harvest when we cannot get bread at any price unless we begin now to eat less bread than we did last year and the year before.

Why? Because this year's wheat crop lacked 19,000,000 bushels of reaching the quantity we ate last year AND WALL STREET HAS SOLD 400,000,000 BUSHELS OF OUR SHORT CROP TO THE WARRING NATIONS ABROAD.

Don't you see? It is not a question of price alone, though, Heaven knows, we shall pay a terrible price before the winter is past. SOME OF US CANNOT EAT BREAD, FOR THERE WILL BE NO BREAD TO EAT.

Let's bring it home to you and to each of us! There are in round numbers 100,000,000 people in the United States. And in round numbers we have 400,000,000 bushels of wheat less this year than last. Now do you see?

YOU—YOU—YOU MUST EAT FOUR BUSHELS LESS WHEAT THIS YEAR! THAT IS EQUIVALENT TO MORE THAN A LOAF OF BREAD A DAY!

At first glance that seems impossible, but remember all wheat does not go into bread. Some of it you eat in pies, some in cookies, some in puddings, some in gravy, some in your morning "hot cakes."

Perhaps it will mean more to you when you realize that you will have ONLY TWO AND ONE THIRD BUSHELS OF WHEAT TO EAT THIS YEAR. LAST YEAR YOU ATE SIX AND ONE THIRD BUSHELS.

WOMAN'S CLUB

Literature Department
Members of the Literature Department and their friends enjoyed the afternoon of Nov. 22, at the home of Mrs. L. R. Phillips. Radiographic views of South America were shown. Prehistoric Remains of the Incas, Peru. Mrs. J. N. Whitner told in an interesting story the description of the pictures.

The general view of Machu Picchu was shown. This included the Sacred Hill, Temple of the three windows and the sacred plaza, the principal cross street in the city and one of the finest stairways, a group of houses characterized by having four doors in the principal house. Then the beautiful outer wall of the King's group, and finally the semi-circular tower of the Princess group.

The picture of the sacred white rock near Viteos and general view of the great monolith at Nusta España. A portion of the rock overhangs a spring of water. Near this rock is Viteos, the last Inca capital.

The western terraces and steep winding stairway of Machu Picchu was interesting. It was difficult to see the thousands of people who at one time may have occupied Machu Picchu and every square foot of available land was terraced off to provide a place for the crops of Indian corn and potatoes which were their chief resource. These terraces which are connected by stairways, sometimes steep, sometimes narrow and winding.

The inner wall and city gate of Machu Picchu was a curiosity. By building this wall forward from the gate it was possible to direct a lateral fire on besiegers. Ammunition consisted of stones—large ones which could be thrown on the heads of an attacking force. Small cobble stones were brought up from the river 2,000 feet below to be used in slings. Piles of this selected ammunition were found in various parts of the defenses.

A bit of Ollantaytambo, southern Peru, was of historical interest. On top of the crag which overlooked the little village of Ollantaytambo the Incas and their predecessors built a remarkable fortress. Some of the single stones used in the construction of this fortress weigh over eight tons.

Very wonderful was the altar of the chief temple of Machu Picchu, such wonderful care in choosing size of stones. The stones were placed so as to decrease gradually in each ascending tier. The main altar is fourteen feet in length and a little over nine feet in height.

The curious sacred white rock, Nusta España was flattened artificially and carved in rough relief. Ten projecting square stones, seven in a line, and three rocks at the very top, were carved out of the face of the large stone. It is a significant fact that if the stones were intended to cast a shadow they were carved on the north side of the rock, where they would always be exposed to the sun. (The stones were put together without mortar.)

The snake was held sacred by the people of this day, apertures being made in stone for the snakes to go through.

A rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. Whitner for this most entertaining afternoon and also to Miss Farnsworth and Miss Leflor who helped make the program a success.

"The Historical Facts of the Incas" were choice bits given by the members at the calling of the roll. The literature of the Incas—The process of embalming bodies was curious and lasting.

The domestication of the animals was a good story. The fashion of constructing bridges was entertaining, also the various herbs upon which the natives depended for their medicine.

Following which the club adjourned after a most pleasant afternoon.

Music Department

At the Music Department meeting on Wednesday afternoon a beautiful program of songs and a piano number, the compositions of Fay Folter, an American composer, who has made a place for herself in the world of music that places her among the foremost women composers of America was rendered by Mrs. Lucille Aspinwall Takach at the Woman's Club before a large and representative gathering of women and, although it was an afternoon program, a number of men were present who availed themselves of the opportunity that is given by the open department meetings, to enjoy the music. Mrs. Takach possesses a voice of excellent quality, especially in the lower register; resonant, vibrant and penetrating, she knows how to use it. Her full round tones and smooth delivery, combined with a charmingly unaffected manner compels admiration. Her success in Miss Foster's songs was most pronounced. The insight with which she interpreted the spirit and significance of each number was wonderfully pleasing. The favorite songs of the afternoon were "The Daughter," one of the Irish group and "The Springtide of Love." The former was conceded by many present to be the sweetest, most tender mother song that has ever been published. Replete with pathos and longing, Mrs. Takach's rendition displayed the spirit of the song in all its pathetic charm, she was equally at home, the repeated encores testifying to the appreciation of the audience and incidentally the music lovers of Sanford are a critical audience and a musician and composer must be of a high order to please.

Each selection was received with enthusiastic applause and the singer was requested personally to repeat, after the conclusion of the program, "The Daughter." "One Golden Day" which was sent to Mrs. Takach by the composer herself, is conceded by Miss Foster's critics to have immortalized her in song. Other selections, all of which were charming were "The White Blossoms of the Bog," "Sing a Song of Roses," and "Petite Valse de Ballet" (a piano number). Preceding the music, Mrs. Takach gave an interesting sketch of Miss Foster's musical career at home and abroad, touching on the phases of her work that have won for her various prizes, one of which won one thousand marks in Germany, "The Prairie Flower Waltz," in competition with several hundred competitors and another of recent date which will appear in The Etude in the near future. Mrs. Frances Aspinwall Fry, a young sister of Mrs. Takach played the accompaniments. Mrs. Takach rendered the Petite Waltz de Ballet and played her own accompaniment for "One Golden Day." The largest silver offering that has been given on the open days of the Music Department programs was given on Wednesday.

Club Notes

There will be a meeting of the Junior Civic League at the Woman's Club tomorrow morning (Saturday) at 10 o'clock.

Daily rehearsals are being held at the Woman's Club for the Ladies' Minstrels that will be presented next Tuesday night at the Lyric.

It is worthy of note that two papers prepared for and read at the Literature Department meetings this season have been requested by Mrs. Blacman, state chairman of Literature, and are making the rounds of the Florida clubs in the Federation. These are Miss Lillie Farnsworth's paper on the "Flora and Fauna" of South America, and "The Empire of the Incas" written by Mrs. Geo. Dickenson. Both papers are unusually fine and merit the distinction that has been given them.

"Children are the jewels of God. Let us be sure that we so facet them that they reflect His image."

Programs throughout the Department are unusually fine and interesting this season, and the members who fail to attend are missing an inspiration and pleasure immeasurable.

It is quite in order to remit club dues to Mrs. Deane Turner, first vice president of the club and chairman of finance.

It will be well for club members to remember that names will be posted in December for non-attendance at business meetings.

Dutch Party
 Mrs. J. F. Reitzel celebrated the birthdays of her two little sons, Wiley and Franklin, Jr., on Wednesday afternoon with a Dutch party, one of the most charming of the many lovely children's parties given in Sanford this season. The Dutch idea prevailed in all the arrangements, from the colors of blue and orange to the birthday cakes and refreshments. Cuddling little Dutch boys and girls decorated the invitations and a hand painted representation of a big Dutch boy played a prominent part in the amusing games of the afternoon. The rooms were beautifully decorated with orange and blue effectively carried out with a profusion of yellow cosmos and the blue and orange crepe paper which drooped in festoons from the ceilings and entwined with ferns about the chandeliers. In the dining room where the decorations were most elaborate, the central adornment of the table was a large basket of blue and orange filled with the brilliant cosmos in which nestled a little Dutch lad with a Dutch lassie for companionship. On either side was a pretty birthday cake with two yellow candles on one and five blue candles on the other, representing the ages of the two attractive little fellows in whose honor a large crowd of young friends had gathered to help along the fun and frolic. The favors were sticks of candy tied with the party colors and little Dutch baskets filled with bonbons. In the parlor which was also prettily adorned with the prevailing colors and flowers, the principle game of the afternoon was enjoyed. The children were blindfolded and given an umbrella to attach to the stick of the big Dutch boy. In the contest which elicited the merry laughter of little folks, Theodore Miller won first prize and Charlotte Hansell won the booby. Orange ice and cakes were served in the dining room while out upon the lawn a table piled high with oranges and apples delighted the children. Many presents were received by the tiny hosts. Assisting Mrs. Reitzel were Mrs. W. D. Lees, Mrs. A. M. Phillips, Mrs. B. F. Ezell and Mrs. William Gillen. During the afternoon a picture of the children grouped about the flag was taken. In the center were the Miller twins.

MET AT ST. CLOUD

South Central District of Christian Endeavorers

For the division of our state union called "South Central" the annual convention this month convened in the famous soldier's city of St. Cloud. It has been our good fortune to attend three such meetings here and this was by far the largest, and the only one having to help make it successful, a visitor from the outside, Mr. Karl Lehmann, southern states secretary from Birmingham.

The two Kissimmee Young People's societies, Union Center United Brethren, near Kissimmee; Orlando, the two societies of Sanford, Lake Jennie Jewel, near Orlando, and Monroe were all represented. But Winter Park sent the most, two for the entire convention lasting two days and fifteen by automobile on Sunday. There was a total of about 42 present from outside. St. Cloud, and of course, its own, two societies and their friends turned out in good numbers. Although it proved a splendid affair, full of enthusiasm, cheerful songs, helpful conferences, generous silver offerings, devotional services full of that spirit and fellowship "one to another" all through. Much of the time was filled by the special friends from out of the district: Miss Coffin, state secretary; Messrs. Lehmann and Curry, the "Children's Friend," Mr. Fagg, and Rev. Geo. Waldron, State Supt. of Congregl. churches, but local workers and those from other societies took part and did it well.

The theme of the convention was "Preparedness for Service," and this helpful thought was carried out in every session. Besides the serious portions of the excellent program which had been prepared by Messrs. Curry and Lehmann there was time allowed for pleasures. Chief among them was the "weenie roads" at a beautiful home built by one of the many old soldiers who have made St. Cloud magic in growth in the short period of its existence.

Though all sessions were held in the Presbyterian church, Christian church friends helped entertain and carry out all the local convention plans.

The following workers were installed by Mr. Lehmann in the last session: President, Edwin McQuarters, Orlando; vice president, Miss Florence H. Melizer, Winter Park; secretary, Miss Beulah Roney of Orlando; treasurer, J. H. Cellar, St. Cloud; superintendents as follows: Quiet Hoar, Mrs. R. C. Maxwell, Sanford; Tenth Legion, R. H. Muirhead, Sanford; Christian Citizenship, Mr. W. J. Watwell, Kissimmee; Missionary, Miss Margaret A. Lemmon, Orlando; Intermediate, Miss Alice Whitner, Sanford; Junior Supt., Miss Grace Holt, Orlando; For the counties comprising South Central District three secretaries were chosen: for Seminole, Kent Rossetter, Sanford; Orange, Miss Eva McQuarters, Orlando; and for Ocala county, Y. O. Ricketts of St. Cloud. In all this array of workers only Miss Roney, and Messrs. Cellar and Muirhead were re-elected, we think. The latter, Mr. Muirhead has been in continuous service and never missing either a district or state convention for many years, something equaled by few in Florida.

The next convention holds in hospitable Wint Park.

Grace A. Townsend.

Fighting 8 Hour Law

Kansas City, Nov. 24—Federal Judge William C. Hook has declared the Adamson eight hour law unconstitutional. This decision was made today in the suit of the Missouri, Oklahoma and Gulf R. R. attacking the law.

Judge Hook has directed the receivers of the railroad, which is in bankruptcy, to accept government aid in expediting the case to the supreme court and to invite the attorney of every railroad in the country to participate in the supreme court hearings. A transcript of the case will be filed before the supreme court reconvenes on Dec. 4th.

"Son, Buckeye Root-Stock's Older an' No Tellin' How Much Better!"
 Yearly the Buckeye experts discard thousands of citrus seedlings that a nursery with less reputation at stake might bud. Only the very best-developed root-stock is good enough to bear the Buckeye name.
 Again, all stock must be 12 to 18 months older than is customary, before we will bud it. Our trees have an uncommonly fine root-development and absorb more nourishment than others with buds of equal age.
 The result shows in the grove. Writes a customer, "During 1913-14 we planted 2,341 trees—1,022 were from you. We were so pleased with your stock that we planted 5,405 Buckeye trees since, and no others."
 For the past 36 years Buckeye's Gillett-grown trees have been undergoing a merciless selection. Only the finest can survive. Our catalog tells about this, about our service, why Buckeye trees grow vigorous, fruitful, disease-resisting. Write for copy.
