ANOTHER ONE WAS CAUGHT BY POLICE

MAY BE BURGLAR BILL AND AGAIN HE MAY POSSIBLY STILL BE AT LARGE

Another Burglar Bill has been caught and this time he was virtually caught in the act of trying to break and enter.

The inhabitants of Magnolia and Palmetto Avenues seem especially to look good to the burglars, and this section of the city has been visited more than any other during the manifestations of the burglarious institt.

He was identified by several parties as the man who was seen around the premises and acting in a suspicious manner and as he undoubtedly was the one who was doing part of it at least, he was given ninety days on the road, where he at least can be accounted for each day and night, and if he is the one the house-breaking will stop for ninety days.

This practice indulged in by idle negroes should be broken up at once for it means annoyance and perhaps killings if continued, for the people are becoming tired of these nocturnal visits.

Poor Attendance

Orlando went down to defeat yesterday at the hands of the Sanford base-ball team. The cigar makers put up a stubborn fight for the game but the Celery City men put one over them, winning by a score of 2 to 3.

The game was a fast and cleverly played one, and showed that there is some fine material in the team. Bennett and Albury did the battery work for the Cigar Makers. Wallace and Lovell for Sanford. Bennett struck out fourteen men and Wallace ten. Orlando made her two runs in the second inning when Bennett fled to the outfield bringing in two men from second and third.

Manager Higgs says the boys are much disappointed in the support which they are receiving from the town people. They have played two games at Orlando so far and the boys are out over fifty dollars. Last week they played at Sanford and although it was raining the grand stand was crowded and the park was full of automobiles.

Sanford Boy's Success

Arthur J. Doyle, a Sanford boy has made good and after ten years in Jacksonville, part of which time he has been in charge of the Florida business of the Burroughs Adding Machine Co., he has accepted the southern management for the company and will make his headquarters in Memphis.

Arthur J. Doyle, who has been a resident of this city for the past ten years, was given a farewell luncheon yesterday by the Rotary Club on account of his leaving the city for his future home in Memphis, Tenn. The affair was held in the Mason hotel and over fifty members of the organization were present to express their regrets at his leaving.

At the meeting yesterday, Vice President, J. H. Gay opened the meeting in the absence of President George E. Leonard. He then turned the session over to Harry B. Hoyt, who acted as toastmaster. Over fifty business men were present to express regret at Mr. Doyle's leaving the city where he has made so many warm friends.

Baptism in Road Camp

Dear Mr. Editor, Will you give me a little space in your paper. I want to announce the religious services and baptism in the Seminole County chain gang of which Capt. Bell is warden. Sammie Randall and Drew Brown were baptized July 26th, 1915 and many other prisoners reformed.

THE GERMANS KNOCK AT WARSAW'S FRONT GATE

WHIE THE RUSSIANS HAVE MADE ALL PREPARATIONS FOR THEIR FLIGHT THROUGH THE BACK DOOR

Warsaw still is in Russian possession by the latest dispatches from the continent. News of its evacuation is expected at any moment, however, but nothing has occurred within the past 24 hours to indicate anything otherwise from the German advance.

The fighting on the Gallipoli peninsula has been desultory for two weeks. According to late estimates, the Italians have in their possession 17,000 Austrian prisoners.

London, Aug. 3.—No direct news from Warsaw has been received here today. While there are increasing indications that Grand Duke Nicholas is withdrawing his army from the Polish capital, there is evidence that the capital is still in possession of the Russians since Petrograd correspondents of Warsaw papers were directed to send accounts of the Duma's opening for Monday issues.

That Russia has not entirely abandoned hope of a diversion in the west, which would relieve the pressure, is shown by the announcement from Petrograd that the German forces before Warsaw have been heavily reinforced from the west, thereby creating favorable conditions for active operations by the Allies. There has been heavy fighting on the Narew front, where the Germans have made some progress between the Narew and Oje rivers.

Latest reports from Vienna are that the Russians are retreating farther east.

The opening of the Russian Duma was held before a brilliant assemblage. The ministers in their speech did not tend to minimize the German situation about all agreed that Russia had not reached the end of her new resources.

The minister of war summed up his views with the assertion that Russia perhaps would surrender Warsaw as Moscow was given up in order to insure final victory.

On the western front artillery duels only marked the military operations.

Conrad's Estate Large

DeLand, Aug. 3.—The last will and testament of the late Senator John B. Conrad, filed for probate here provides that one-half the estate shall be his wife's and that the other portion be divided between his five brothers, four sisters and his nephew, E. Ray Conrad. The will was made February 14, 1916. Senator Conrad was elected a member of the last Legislature, but was unable to serve on account of his illness.

The estate is estimated to be worth a million dollars. Senator Conrad came to Florida from New York, a poor boy, and amassed his wealth by studious attention to business and careful management. He never held any political office except that of State Senator.

New Subdivision

The new subdivision that is being opened by the Thatcher Realty Co., and that will be placed on the market by the Walter S. Adams Co., at once is creating much favorable comment. The property is just west of the new depot and close in for those especially that are employed by the railroad. As new streets will be opened up from time to time and sidewalks made, this new property will become most popular, and the home builder will be bound to invest in Seminole Park.

The advertisement in today's Herald gives particulars and those wanting a home or those who want to invest some money to obtain quick returns should investigate Seminole Park. Mr. Adams or Mr. Thatcher can give you the particulars if you call them on the phone or call at the offices in the Bishop Block.

Henrys Take Johns House

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Henry have taken the Johns house on Park avenue and will be there for the winter season. The Johns home is one of the most desirable in the city, situated between Fourth and Fifth streets and facing the first park, and the many friends of the Henrys are congratulating them upon their gaining such a fine home. Mrs. Henry and Mrs. R. J. Holly will entertain in the Henry home tonight in honor of Mrs. E. B. Brown of Tampa.

Mayor Forster is Kicked

The old adage, haste makes waste seems to be applicable in the case of Dr. Forster and his fight with his automobile, or Ford, during the heavy downpour of rain last Friday afternoon. The doctor was in a hurry to get the machine started to carry him home out of the rain, and the Ford just was determined to take a bath. Just to show its real feelings in the matter, the machine kicked and the crank hit the doctor on the arm. He is able to use the extremity now, but for a few days the pain didn't bring him any recollections and incidentally and incidentally it caused the mayor of Hawks Park to miss the first town council meeting and the opportunity to be sworn in with the other new officers.—New Smyrna News.

Hon. J. T. Lee of Oviedo is in the city today on matters connected with the good roads.

SHOULD GROW MORE HAY

Although the acreage planted to hays has increased within recent years, the demand has far exceeded the supply in the South as a result hay is selling around $30 a ton. Very few farmers or dairymen can afford to pay such prices for hay. Fortunately there is no need of it for those who are living on farms or who control farms.

Crabgrass, beggarweed, cowpeas and soybeans make good hay but not enough of them are growing. Consequently the South is importing expensive hay from the North. Furthermore sorghum, Kaffir corn and corn can be used for fodder as a substitute for hay if care is exercised in curing and storing them.

According to A. P. Spencer, district agent for Central and South Florida, much of the hay that is raised in Florida is not cured properly. Mr. Spencer says that good crabgrass hay is better than timothy and more palatable if it is cured in the right way and not allowed to burn or rot in the field. Some dairymen are feeding timothy hay to cows at $34 a ton. At that rate cowpeas hay is worth about $60 a ton, and it is extremely better for the cows. Timothy is good for working animals but it is not suitable or profitable feed for dairy cows or fattening animals.

Dried beet pulp is selling around $37 a ton. Beggarweed hay in comparison with the feeding value of the pulp is worth at least $65 a ton and corn fodder about $10. If the farmers can pay $35 a ton for bran he could afford to pay $65 a ton for cottonseed meal for the same amount of food.

It is best to use home grown products, especially when they are cheap and better suited to the needs. The summer feeding can be done largely from soiling crops such as sorghum, corn, the grasses and legumes.

either put into cowpeas or grow hay before needed for lettuce and celery.

Since the silo has been experimented with in different forms in Florida until it has been made a success, and as Sanford can grow the silo crops cheaper and with more certainty than any other place I know of I can see no reason why we should not make it a profitable adjunct to our vegetable business.

A 100 ton reinforced concrete silo with gasoline engine and other machinery costs about $375.00. A 100 ton of silage would feed fifty beef cattle 100 days, which would be more than ample time to turn a lean woods steer into a fat beef animal.

Co-operation with the woods range cattle men might be necessary but a way would be found to get hold of the cattle to fatten if we had the silage. I should like to hear some discussion of this subject.

Yours very truly, C. M. BERRY

MAKING FLORIDA HAY

The value of the hay crop depends upon the quality of the hay whether it is to be marketed or fed. John M. Scott, vice-director of the University of Florida Experiment Station is of the opinion that farmers in general let their hay get too ripe before it is cut.

The greatest feeding value is to be had at early maturity. The older the hay gets after that the more crude fiber or indigestible matter it contains. Crab grass should be cut for hay when it is in good bloom. All the protein or muscle building food has formed that will form. The carbohydrates will increase and the protein will decrease relatively the longer the grass stands after this stage. The feeding value and the digestible rapidly declines because the carbohydrates which are added are largely crude fiber.

Mr. Scott further advises that the grass should not be allowed to lie in the field long enough to bleach. It not only loses color which is a market demand but it loses food value. Do not let the hay lie over night in the swath. Cut in the morning, rake in the afternoon or as soon as the hay begins to rattle, and put in the barn or stack the next day. Light yields may be put up during the same day they are cut.

The same instructions hold for Natal grass. Cut beggar weed when it is about one tenth in bloom. If it gets too ripe it not only gets woody but the leaves shatter. The leaves, like those of alfalfa, are the most nutritious part of the plant since there is relatively more protein and less fiber than in other parts of the plant.

Beggarweed should not get too dry before it is raked because the leaves shatter readily. Rake into windrows before it is cured enough to put in the mow. Do not allow it to lie in the swath over night because rain or dew will discolor it.

Autos Will Carry Mails

Washington, August 2.—Two hundred and eight automobile delivery routes distributed over eight States went into operation today. This means that approximately 11,440 miles of rural post roads will be travelled six days a week during August by automobile.

In all 298 motor routes have been authorized. The routes vary in length from a fifty-mile minimum to 64 miles and will be operated from 9 to 12 months a year.

The 208 automobile routes started today are distributed by states as follows. Oklahoma, 88, California, 24, Georgia, 64, Colorado, 1, Kansas 3, Louisiana, 1, Florida, 13 and Texas 14.

Back From California

W. J. Thigpen, Tom Hawkins and Ben Fish are home from California where they spent several weeks seeing the sights. The celery growers looked over the California celery but they did not think much of California as compared with Sanford.

GOV. TRAMMEL MADE TRIP TO GEORGIA

STUDIES PRISONS, AND WILL TRY TO BETTER REFORM SCHOOL CONDITIONS

The Atlanta Constitution contains the following. To obtain ideas for the construction of a large state industrial school in Florida for boys and another for girls, Governor Park Trammell reached Atlanta to visit several industrial schools of Georgia. Governor Trammell will also visit similar institutions in South Carolina, North Carolina, Tennessee, and Alabama during his short trip.

The present boys industrial school at Marianna, Fla., which will compare with the most advanced views of experts connected with such institutions in Massachusetts and other eastern states. Governor Trammell states, however that he wishes to study the problems encountered among the southern boys as worked out by the superintendents of southern institutions with the view of training to the best advantage the boys of the state.

Governor Trammell highly commended the bill for the establishment of a highway commission which was advocated by the house committee on highways. He pointed out that a bill with very similar provisions was passed by the Florida legislature last April. The only distinguishing feature, he said, between the Georgia and Florida bills was that the latter bill called for commissioners to be appointed for each of the congressional districts of Florida.

As a good roads enthusiast, Governor Trammell was one of the most prominent men at the conference of governors who launched the Dixie highway project at Chattanooga. And it was largely due to his far-seeing advice that the great road-way between the north and south was put upon its present basis.

"Florida is the real mother of the good roads idea," said he. "All over the state this idea is giving itself shape in the most permanent roads on the continent. Many of the counties are issuing bonds for the construction of brick paved roadways, which are going out from the county seats in all directions. We have had 'seeing Florida' tours which have bound the people together as a whole with the object of making our wide-flung roads a state success.

Governor Trammell says that the business conditions of this state are wearing a brighter complexion.

He referred to the naval stores business, which had been hit so hard by the embargo on this branch of trade with European countries, and said that this important activity of the state had nearly reached a normal condition.

ONE YEAR OF THE WAR

GERMANY GAINS SLIGHT ADVANTAGE DURING TIME

One year from yesterday, the first shot of the European war was fired. Austria attacked Belgrade and the carnival of blood was on. From that beginning, nation after nation has plunged into the fray. Conclusive results seen as remote now as they were then.

The advantage throughout has been with Germany. Except for a small corner of Alsace, the foot of an army has not pressed her soil. On the other hand, she has captured and held nearly all of Belgium, a rich section of France, Russian and Polish provinces, and her armies are now knocking at the gates of Warsaw. On the seas, she has destroyed commerce and held the powerful dreadnaughts of Great Britain prisoner in protected harbors. Going into the war better prepared than any of her adversaries, she has steadily forced her way into hostile territory, while her own has been kept free of invaders.

The length of the war depends entirely upon how long Germany can hold out. So far, there have been no evidence of weakening on her part. Her forces are fully equipped, her people well-fed, and while she is engaged in the task of whipping half the world, there are few visible signs of war in her cities. Unless there is much more activity shown on the part of the Allies, the German armies will take what they desire of Russia, and leaving it garrisoned, return to the original job of overrunning France.

While Germany is concentrating its strength for the taking of Warsaw, why are not the Allies striking blows on the western front? If they have the powerful forces which they have intimated, why are they not directing a tremendous drive towards Berlin? If for no other purpose, such a decisive movement would relieve Russia of the burden it is now carrying alone, as it would withdraw much of the German force from its territory to meet the attacks on the west. The inactivity, the apineness of Great Britain and France, at this juncture, constitute the great riddle of the situation.

As it stands now, Germany is fighting the territory of her enemies. She is the invader of Russia, France and Belgium, and is herself practically untouched. If we may liken the war to an encounter in the prize-ring and consider the first year as the first round, we are forced however unwillingly, to admit that the honors are altogether with the Teuton.—Tampa Tribune.

SILOS ARE THE THING

THE BEST METHOD OF UTILIZING THE CORN CROP

Being very much interested in saving the corn crop of the Sanford section in its entirety this season The Herald has made many inquiries as the best methods to be employed and recently called upon Mr. C. M. Berry for his ideas of the silo in Florida. He gives below some facts that are well worth the perusal of the farmers of this section and of the state in general.

Sanford, Fla., July 21, 1915. My Dear Mr. Holly,

I have been very much interested in the move made by some of the dairies in Orange county in erecting silos of reinforced concrete which are filled with corn cut green just after the corn is well filled on the cob and somewhat glazed and utilizing everything but the roots and about four inches of the stalks next to the ground.

The value of silage as stock-feed is too well known to need comment here but the point which I wish to make is that the Sanford farmers can grow corn at very little expense following our celery, lettuce and cauliflower crops and could feed a great number of beef cattle from the woods ranges for sixty or ninety days and make more profit than is usually realized from the spring crop of vegetables.

I believe that if a 75 or 100 ton silo were put up on every ten acre farm in the Sanford district and the land planted to corn (either sweet corn or field corn) after the lettuce, celery and cauliflower crops are off, and the silage turned into beef the farmers would have a surer source of profit from their land and labor than the spring crop of vegetables usually affords, that we would then soon have a cold storage plant at Sanford for all purposes needed and this part of Florida would be independent of the western packing-houses for prime beef.

The there is the bi-product to be considered the compost-help that would result from the feeding of 75 or 100 tons of silage on each ten acre farm, and also the advantage in handling the corn crop in that way as compared with letting it ripen and dry in the field as we are now doing. If we made silage of our corn we would have it all off the ground and in the silo by the middle of July or the first of August, with the ground free to

Office in Herald Building Telephone No. 148

The editorial and business offices of The Herald have been screened. There are positively no flies on the Herald now.

The steady grind of the dredge is now heard in the land. The bulkhead is being made every day.

During the summer season or at least until the advertising picks up some Tuesday's Herald will continue to be less than eight pages. There is no need to fill the paper with plate matter just to keep up the original form.

There are plenty of extra copies of last Friday's Herald containing the laws of a general nature passed by the last session of the legislature. If there are any registered voters in the county that have not received their copy let this office know it.

This is the accepted time for the Sanford section to be advertised throughout the north and Friday issue of the Herald should be going to at least two thousand subscribers in the north. It will bring more new people here than any other method. We have the papers.

Brooksville has experienced several fires during the past year that have practically wiped out the wooden stores buildings and other ancient landmarks. The Brooksville Argus thinks it is about time the city was installing a good water-works system. The Argus is right and the time is right but a good department a few years ago in Brooksville would have saved the wooden structures. Sometimes we wish the Sanford fire department was not quite so efficient.

The Herald made an error last week in speaking about the fifty ladies who had signed the petition for the stores to close at ten o'clock on Saturday night. It was not fifty ladies but two hundred ladies that make the request considerably stronger. And furthermore these ladies are not discouraged at their first defeat but purposes to fight it along the same lines if it takes all summer and part of the winter. There is really no valid reason for any shopping any later than ten o'clock and a concerted effort on the part of the buying public to abstain from shopping after ten would make the stores close whether they wanted to or not. No store wants to remain open if there are no customers.

Some enterprising newspaper published within a thousand miles of Orlando recently contained a complimentary notice about Senator Igou, of Lake county, advocating him for commissioner of agriculture. So far as Orange is concerned, the senator's "valiant work for county division when Seminole county was created is too well known for him to expect a "landslide from this section should he become a candidate.—Orlando Sentinel.

Geo, but you fellows are poor losers. Why don't you cure up that old sore some time. Sulphur and lard is said to be good for the sore head and a small application ought to help you wonderfully.

Hugh Sparkman who is making a good paper out of the Daytona Journal and laying plans for a new building and a big daily for the winter season had a run in with the mayor of Daytona the other day so some of the exchanges state and the mayor said the Journal and its editor ought to be thrown into the sea or the editor made to leave town. To which Hugh very pertinently replied that he will leave it to a vote of the people as to whether he should leave or the mayor should leave and up to the present time the mayor has not called this election to decide. We rather opine that Hugh will stay on the job and we hope he will for on our next visit we want a "cheeroot.

The Herald is in receipt of a letter asking for help for the war babies of Europe. Now there is no reason why Europe should not take care of their own babies. We do not remember the time when America asked any other country to take care of our babies and war babies are no worse off today than many babies in this country that have been left by unnatural parents or by the death of their parents to shift for themselves. We have babies in America, in Florida and perhaps in our own county that need help and if there is help to be given let our own babies get it. America did not bring on the war in Europe and America has no call to help them. If we are not badly mistaken America at the present time is sending millions of dollars to help Belgium because Germany has that country under foot. We sympathize with all unfortunates but believe in home work first.

THE RATTLER TEST
Some time since our county had a poor paving brick shipped in and they were not discovered until the roads were ready to be laid. In fact some of them were not discovered until they were on the road. The brick were tested at the factory and tested after arrival and tested by all the tests known but the greatest test was made after they had been laid and when the defects were discovered. The brick manufacturers have given bond to replace all the poor brick in the road and are doing this on the roads today. But the rattler test did not seem to be the supreme test. Willis Powell gives his opinion of the test in the Clearwater Sun.

"Most of the anti-roads men are talking about the low test of brick as per specifications and refer to Tampa where only the VERY HIGHEST test is used, yet the Board of Public Works of that city stated yesterday in open meeting that roads laid of this HIGH TEST brick two years ago are GOING ALL TO PIECES and that the brick on Franklyn street laid 12 years ago before the RATTLER TEST was demanded, are in good shape—and Franklin street has more wear and tear in one day than those side streets where the HIGH TEST brick were used have in a month. What's the answer? This test business is all tommyrot. Let a committee of three citizens pass on the brick as laid in Pinellas county and you will get good brick regardless of the rattler test.

JOKES DONT PAY
It doesn't pay to play jokes on unsophisticated country people. Guileless Bob Holly, editor of the Sanford Herald, came to town a short time ago and someone palmed off a cheroot on him when he ordered a ten center. It was all right until someone told him the joke and then he went home and wrote the following.

"Daytona Beach people have been awakened to their own interests and also those of the state and are trying to attract summer visitors to the beach by arranging for summer rates on the Florida-East Coast. A better rate on the railroads and a better rate after the beach is reached would get the crowd and fewer of the people would be going to the mountains. There is no better place to spend the heated term than the beaches of Florida but some of the people who have charge of the hotels seem to forget that the northern tourists leave Florida in March and the people of the interior will not stand for tourist prices. After riding on the trains half a day from Sanford to the beach a distance of forty miles, we are usually in a poor frame of mind to stand the gaff. Therefore we would advise our neighbors on the Atlantic seaboard to remember that we are not millionaires even though we may grow celery.

Now, Bob Holly is ordinarily a good natured individual, but that cheroot joke got his goat, upset his liver and caused him to do the hotels of Daytona Beach a grave injustice.

The summer rates at the best hotels in Daytona Beach are two dollars a day without bath, and two and a half with bath. Weekly rates range from ten to fifteen dollars. Fine Sunday dinners are served at these hotels for fifty cents.

Can Sanford, noted for its lack of first class hotels, beat these rates for reasonableness? We think not. Innumerable boarding houses make even lower rates than those quoted above, which apply only to the leading hotels of Daytona Beach.—Daytona Journal.

The article does not state that the hotels of Daytona Beach are at fault, does it, Hugh? The kicks are coming from the people who have been at the various Atlantic beaches. As far as we are concerned the Daytona Beach people treated us right and on the other hand The Herald has averlastingly and eternally boosted Atlantic beaches. But some of the Sanford people have been charged high rates and they kicked. Comparing the hotels of Daytona and Sanford, is no argument. However the beaches are not getting the people this summer which proves conclusively that former guests are not altogether satisfied.

SANFORD OFFERS A LESSON
The writer visited Sanford this week and was shown the work now going on there in filling in behind the new bulkhead recently built along the lakefront for a distance of about three-quarters of a mile. The filling in work was shown us by "Bob Holly, the far-famed editor of the Sanford Herald, who takes a great pride in this improvement. The bulkhead is a fine piece of concrete engineering and appears to be built to last for ages. When the filling in is completed and the city streets are extended to the water's edge Sanford will have an improvement of which the city can feel justly proud. The bulkhead is well braced with concrete and steel braces placed at intervals and anchored to "dead men well buried in the sand. As a whole the bulkhead appears to be so constructed as to stand the wear of a century.

The trouble has been the dredging in of substance from the bottom of the lake to fill up the lowland behind the bulkhead to a height of about six feet. Until recently the company having this in charge failed to solve this problem, but a new man was recently placed in charge. His method of moving the dredge farther out into the water and sinking his suction pipes deep into the black muck bottom was criticized by his predecessor, who said that he would break the machinery. To this he replied that he would rather break the machinery than the company. Since that time, about two weeks ago, the dredge has been working successfully with night and day shifts and the low ground is rapidly being filled up.

This experience of Sanford proved that there is always a solution. With every engineering problem, the right man is found to solve it. It is now estimated that Sanford's new bulkhead and fill will cost that city about $50,000 for a three-quarter mile stretch. This seems a reasonable figure and offers us here in Kissimmee some practical idea of what we may some day expect when we prepare to bulkhead our own lake front.

It has been contended by some that a suction dredge can not be used in pumping material from the lake to make a fill behind a bulkhead, but Sanford's experience would prove that if we should get the right man and the right machinery the task could be performed. When Sanford has finished her work we should all pay her a visit and look over the improvement and the change made in the appearance of her water front. It might be that such a visit would give us added incentive to lay definite plans at a future date to do a similar work here.

Our lake front would not require as heavy a fill as Sanford has been obliged to make owing to the fact that our lands do not rise so abruptly from the water's edge. A fill here of about four feet would accomplish the same thing that a fill of six or more feet has accomplished there.

Let us hope that some day we shall be able to bring people here from Sanford and say to them "Here is a real lake front bulkhead, which makes yours look like an experiment."—Kissimmee Gazette.

Silo Helps Save the Corn Crop
Corn is the primary silage crop in the United States and no other crop is so well suited for the purpose. Florida is particularly fortunate in having a large number of silage crops, but none is so suitable in every way as corn. Corn silage is particularly useful in tiding over seasons of short pasture. It duplicates as nearly as is possible a green succulent feed.

There is a still greater reason for making corn into silage in Florida. Under customary methods of handling, a large part of the feeding value of the plant is lost. Consequently the silo is the very best method of preserving corn.

The Missouri Station estimates that the silo saves from 25 to 35 per cent of the feeding value of that corn which is ordinarily lost under usual methods of handling. Professor C. L. Willoughby, of the University of Florida College of Agriculture, said recently that even a greater percentage would be saved in Florida because it is subjected to greater losses. The plant and foliage is rendered worthless after standing a short time in the field. Very often the grain is damaged by rainy weather. It is especially difficult to cure fodder in this state because of the excessive rainfall, and furthermore the sun will over cure it.

The Handy Shoe Bag.
"Last year one member of the family was unable to be out of bed. I took a shoe bag that had ample pockets and pinned it neatly with safety pins to the side of her bed. In its pockets I put her books and various articles that she needed. Everything was within reach."—Woman's Home Companion.

CURBSTONE GLEANINGS

BUDGET OF OPINION "JUST BETWEEN YOU AND ME."

EVEN THE GATE POST NOT IN IT

A CHIEF IS AMONG YE TAKING NOTES AND FAITH. "HELL PRENT 'EM"---SO SAYS SAUNTERER.

I was in the dentist's chair a few days ago and when he had fixed the rubber curtain over my mouth so that I could not speak he began probing for something about 300 feet down in the depths of the tooth. The pain was excruciating and realizing my desire to say something, he went to the ante room and returned with a card on which was printed half a dozen phrases in cuss words. Hanging it on the wall where I could see he asked me if that was the way I felt about it. I nodded my head and he said to keep my eye on the card and he would be through in a few minutes. That card certainly did me a lot of good and was the first time such a stunt of silent cussing was tried on me.

Now is the time to advertise our city and county before the rush for Florida begins, and it seems to me that a good plan to be adopted would be to send out papers or literature now when the people of the north are beginning to think about Florida. In years gone by this city advertised and always had the crowds. All we need now is a few more small hotels, one large one and more people with money to come here and start something.

I have often agitated the idea of a Country Club for Sanford and always met with the reply that the city is not large enough and we must wait for tourists to do these things. I contend that our home people are well able to invest in a country club, starting in a small way at first and building up. Tourists are essential if the club is to be a large affair but I would cite you to Kissimmee as a city that built its own country club and built a good one and it was the home people backed by the proper spirit that obtained one of the finest small country clubs in the state. Sanford could have one if the proper effort was made to get one.

Unconquerable.

The habit of never being whipped, of always keeping up the fight—that is the quality of the great leader. The man who never admits defeat is the man the world has to take into account. Time and again the foes he is fighting may think they have him down. But before they know it he is on his feet sounding the advance. Such a man molds events. He helps create the new heavens and the new earth of the prophet's vision. A mighty force of the universe is the unconquerable soul!

Two Kinks of Religion—Both Bad.

"Dar's de man dat takes his religion in spasms, and gits over it 'bout as quick," stated good c'd Parson Bagster. "And den ag'in, dar's de yudder kind dat has it all de time, and 'magines his whole duty is done when he says 'Amen' in a deep voice. And I dunnuh, sah, which of 'em gives me de least satisfaction."—Kansas City Star.

Land of Cocoa.

Ecuador's chief product is cocoa. It is the largest grower of this commodity in the world. The bean is perhaps the richest and most highly flavored and is in great demand in the trade. Europe buys 80 per cent of this article, and although we are the biggest individual consumer of chocolate on earth, our merchants purchase but 20 per cent direct.

Much Depends on the Way It's Sold.

"I don't claim to be a judge of women," said Noyes E. Brewmore, "but when I call one up I can tell by the short, sharp 'hello!' that I am not the most welcome person in the world. But when she draws out in a soft, purring voice that word 'hello-a-a-a,' I feel quite assured that I may report at her domicile long enough to leave a dollar-a-pound box of chocolates."—Kansas City Star.

HAS FAMOUS PANTRY

MOST WOMEN WOULD ENVY QUEEN MARY'S TREASURES.

Besides Possessing Great Historic Interest, Their Financial Value Is Enormous—Some Marvels of Workmanship There.

Among the famous pantries of the world is that of Queen Mary at Windsor. This pantry comprises two rooms of no great dimensions, but it contains treasures in the form of plate and household articles that are valued at more than a million pounds sterling. Many of these possess historic interest. For example, there is a conspicuous exhibit in the form of a table of solid silver. This is nearly a yard in length, and its top, with an area of several square feet, bears the royal arms and exquisitely chased designs of the symbolic rose, thistle, harp, etc. Every reign since that of Elizabeth has contributed to this table a design of some sort.

The most imposing of all the dazzling array of plate is the so-called gold dinner service for occasions of the highest state.

The walls of the two rooms of this royal pantry, the larger of which is 30 feet by 16 feet, and the smaller a square of 16 feet, are lined with cases of plate glass and mahogany, and in these and similar cases, occupying the center of each room, are some of the most extraordinary examples of art in gold, silver and precious stones that the world has ever seen.

There are tall, graceful ewerjars, each of which would tax the strength of two men to lift it; there are dishes in gold and silver, any one of which would be too heavy to run away with; dainty toilet services in gold and silver, candelabra, communion services, flagons, vases, punch bowls, wine coolers, fountains and fonts in silver, wrought in designs of great beauty by the most skillful artists.

The most beautiful of all these, it is said, is the Nautilus vase, fashioned by the hands of pearl, gold and silver by the hands of Benvenuto Cellini, himself, although it bears the name of an artist of Nuremberg, Nicholas Schmidt. The shell, which is of pearl, mounted in silver and gold of the most delicate chasing, is poised on the shoulders of a superbly mounted horseman, and above the pearl shell another figure is thrown.

Another marvel of workmanship is the rose water fountain, in silver, with its dome supported by columns, around which are grouped horses and hounds.

In point of interest it would be difficult to picture any article of the kind more artistically perfect than the silver gilt flagon, that was rescued from the armada more than three hundred years ago. This flagon is a yard high and its value runs far into the thousands.

One of the historic bits that are highly prized is a quaint pair of bellows, mounted in silver and gold, that once belonged to Nell Gwynn. There are ponderous silver "fredogs" of the time of Charles II, and near by is an enormous punch bowl, contributed by George IV as an example of the art of Flaxman.

Unquestioning Obedience.

Much trouble as well as much amusement was caused during the early stages of the canal work by the inability of the Jamaican negroes to take any except a strictly literal view of orders. In unloading a vessel at Colon a rope in a pulley at the head of the mast got jammed and a Jamaican was ordered to climb up and release it. He did as ordered. Some minutes later the boss of the gang missed him, and asked with some impatience where he was. He was pointed out sitting calmly at the mast-head.

"What are you doing up there?" roared the boss.

"You told me to come up here, sah," the man answered, "but you haven't told me to come down!"—Joseph B. Bishop, secretary of the Isthmian Canal commission, in the Youth's Companion.

Had Duties to Attend To.

The first morning my little brother went to kindergarten he was very good until about ten o'clock, when he got up and started out. The teacher asked where he was going. He replied, "I 's doin' to det some lunch." Not living very far she let him go. He returned in the afternoon and was very good until about three o'clock, when he started out again. The teacher called him back and said, "Where are you going now?" He answered, "I des I deta take my nap, don't I?"—Chicago Tribune.

New Fishing Grounds.

Albacore and tunny, fish which until recently have been found only in the Mediterranean in sufficient quantities to form the basis of an industry, are said now to be caught in enormous quantities along the coast of southern California. At San Pedro a fleet of gasoline launches finds profitable employment during the season in catching these fish for the packers.

The Greater Honor.

Cato, the Greek, on observing that statues were being set up in honor of many, remarked: "I would rather people would ask, why is there not a statue to Cato, than why there is."

WARSAW HAS FALLEN GREAT VICTORY FOR THE GERMANS

GERMANS HAVE PUT A CRIMP IN THE RUSSIAN BEAR THAT MAY POSSIBLY BRING WAR TO END

London, Aug. 6.—Advices here are to the effect that Warsaw has fallen, and the Germans will be in actual possession of the entire city in a few hours.

Petrograd, Aug. 5.—The German cavalry is scouring the country 80 such numbers north of Warsaw that the railroad is in danger.

Berlin, Aug. 5.—It is reported that the Germans have occupied the western portion of Ivangorod fortress.

Petrograd claims that the Ivan gorod Warsaw railroad is still open and that the western front is comparatively quiet.

Prominent K. of P. Dead

Tavares, Fla., Aug. 6.—W. H. Latmer, who was recently stricken with paralysis, died at one o'clock Tuesday morning.

Christian Endeavor in August: We would welcome news items from Sanford, Monroe and Oviedo.

A kindly greeting came last week from Prof. Garfield Evans, president of the State Epworth Leaguers, and who lives in Southerland.

The state department secretary has no been off her job but two days since April. One of those was in celebration of the Fourth, and the other to attend a Sunday School meeting in Interlachen.

Commencing wisely to advertise in time, the "Kissimmee Valley Gazette" had a communication last week from the United Brethren society of Union Center, which desired attention to a social on the 12th.

Sanford Presbyterian and Congregational workers, aided by some other kind hearted folks gave nearly ninety-two dollars last year for the children's Home Society.

In Miami the Epworth Leaguers in a recent social had the young men blindfolded and given bags of peanuts to "feed their pardners."

Miss Mattie Marshall, and active worker in Ocklawaha, and district Quiet Hour Superintendent, has been visiting in Candler.

In "The Tropical Sun West Palm Beach Juniors were given a nice notice in a recent daily issue.

Virtue in Yellow Stockings: The yellow silk stockings of an Atlanta society girl have led to an interesting scientific discovery.

The young lady in question was invited to a house party with half a dozen other belles, at a country place near Atlanta, where mosquitoes are very prevalent.

There happened to be a physician in the party who knew that a various kinds have been found peculiarly susceptible to colors, and he went about making experiments.

Wear yellow this summer and you will escape mosquito bites. The champagne colored shoes and stockings, so fashionable this year, therefore, seem to have a purely accidental practical value.

Mrs. L. L. Taylor and daughter Miss Ethel arrived Wednesday, from Tampa and will make their home in this city in the future.

New Haven Road Shows Profit: New York, Monday—The New Haven system, according to reports submitted to the directors, will have a surplus for the year ended on June 30 of $2,418,000.

The tentative report shows that gross earnings decreased $2,073,000. The operating expenses, however, decreased $5,106,000.

All the interest for the New York, Winchester & Boston had to be paid out of the New Haven treasury. In addition a shortage of $116,000 for general expenses had to be met.

Out of the New Haven's surplus of $2,418,000 deficits of about $176,000 would be paid, as interest on the bonds of the New York & Stamford Railway, the Westchester Street Railroad Company, and the Berkshire Street Railway system the three trolley systems still managed by the New Haven.

To Help Move Crops: Washington, Aug. 3—Preliminary plans designed to make available the resources of the Federal Reserve system in the annual Fall movement of crops have been worked out by the Federal Reserve Board.

Usually the crop movement has been taken care of by Government deposits in banks or the issue of emergency currency under the Aldrich-Vreeland act, which expired last month.

"In view of the large surplus reserves now held by the Federal Reserve banks, by member banks, and by other banks throughout the country, says the board's letter, "there should be no difficulty in affording the producers the assistance necessary to enable them to market their products in volume corresponding to the power of the trade to absorb them."

"Through such a policy, together with the proper methods of warehousing, Federal Reserve banks can be a potent factor in assisting the normal movement of staple agricultural products from the field to the factory or the consumer.

The board calls for special attention to marketing of the cotton crop, because it is "clearly to the common interest that credits based upon this crop be protected as far as possible from the danger of demoralization."

"Sudden and violent fluctuations are clearly to the advantage of neither the loaning banks, the producer, the manufacturer, nor the consumer. They offer on the contrary, an inviting field for the speculator, and should the Federal Reserve system in making possible the more normal movement of the crop, be a contributing factor in reducing these fluctuations, it would have accomplished a great public good."

INTER-STATE WATERWAYS AGAIN BEING AGITATED

THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT WANTS TO PURCHASE THE EAST COAST INLAND ROUTE

There has been much discussion about the Florida Inland Canal and the feasibility of using the St. Johns river in preference to the inland waterway that is now being used on the east coast.

"Taking the first step toward the purchase of the franchise of the East Coast Canal & Transportation Co., owner of the intra-coastal canal the government, through Major W. B. LaDue, engineer, has written the Chamber of Commerce for a mass of data regarding the amount of traffic on the canal."

Character tonnage and value of the present outgoing commerce from Miami, proportion of tonnage moved by rail and by water; markets shipped to; method of handling rail and water shipment whether by through bill of lading from point of origin to the market or re-billed at Jacksonville; proportion shipped by rail and by water; same information regarding incoming shipments.

The engineer also wants to know if boats now operated in the canal are able to carry all the fruits, vegetables and other produce offered for transportation, if they get all the business they can handle, if not why is not more produce shipped by water; if present boats are offered more than they can handle, why are not more or larger boats put on the run.

"If the present east coast canal should be purchased by the United States and made a free and open waterway, or if a parallel canal of the same depth and width should be dug by the United States, what would result? is one of the questions asked by Major LaDue.

"Would the abolition of tolls in itself affect the freight rates, or the volume and nature of the business handled by water, or result in placing more boats on the water route. If so, to what extent?"

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce will at the next meeting endeavor to answer the questions of the government engineer."
