Hijackers Escape With $1 Million

ALGIERS (AP)—A U.S. airliner taken over by hijackers who collected $1 million ransom landed today in Algiers.

American diplomatic officials said the Delta Air Lines DC3 landed safely at Maison Blanche Airport and no one aboard was hurt during the transatlantic flight from Boston.

Algerian security men took the 13 adults and three children aboard the plane into the airport for screening. It and the crew would be allowed to return to the United States without delay.

Allan Davis, acting head of the American diplomatic mission in Algiers, was on hand when the airliner landed.

The FBI said three men from Detroit took over the Delta airliner Monday on a flight from Detroit to Miami. The hijackers, reportedly armed, were accompanied by two women and three children.

The hijackers let the 87 other passengers get off at Miami and took aboard a suitcase containing the $1 million ransom, which had been collected from Miami banks. With a crew of seven, the DC3 flew to Boston, loaded fuel and food and took aboard an international navigator. Then it flew to Algeria.

The eight passengers, all from Detroit, who remained on the plane were escorted by the FBI in Detroit as Larry Burgess, Jean McNair, Yahari and Ayona McNair, both children; Joyce Tillerson, a child named Kenya Tillerson, Melvin McNair, and Harry Singleton.

Burgess was listed as the Delta passenger list as Rev. L. Burgess.

There was speculation that the Algerian government would return the $1 million as well as the plane. In a similar case two months ago, an American couple hijacked a Western Airliner Boeing 720 to Algiers after collecting $500,000. The Algerians seized the ransom money and returned it to the United States.

However, a passenger, Mrs. Raymond Krutycz of Holland, Mich., said the hijackers all "were very well dressed. They were very polite and didn't bother the other passengers at all."

After about two hours of radio negotiations between the hijackers and FBI agents, two men in bathing suits delivered the money to the plane.

After the money was hoisted into the plane with a rope, the passengers got off, and the plane departed for Boston. There were no injuries.

As the plane flew to Boston, Delta officials reportedly asked the FBI not to try to thwart the hijackers, according to a spokesman for the Massachusetts Port Authority, which operates Boston's Logan International Airport.

After the plane landed about 7 p.m., it taxied to a remote airport adjacent to Boston Harbor. A large contingent of FBI agents clustered to watch from the airport mile station.

Withdraws As Veep Candidate Sen. Eagleton 'Not Bitter'

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Thomas Eagleton said today he is "not bitter" after agreeing to Sen. George McGovern's wishes that he withdraw as the Democratic party's vice-presidential candidate.

He announced, meantime, that he will seek re-election to the Senate from Missouri in 1974.

"I'm not bitter; I'm not going to get bitter," Eagleton said on a CBS television show. He made the comment when asked his reaction to his announcement Monday night that he was withdrawing as McGovern's running mate.

He said McGovern, the party's presidential candidate, "could not have been finer. But I've been momentarily 'troubled' momentarily by one or two members of Sen. McGovern's staff who were doing more backgrounding than they should have been doing."

He said they were "too busy backgrounding reporters that Eagleton should get off the ticket." He did not name the staff members.

Asked whether he thought the controversy over his having been hospitalized three times in the past few months was a political factor, Eagleton said:

He said they were "too busy backgrounding reporters that Eagleton should get off the ticket." He did not name the staff members.

Asked whether he thought the controversy over his having been hospitalized three times in the past few months was a political factor, Eagleton said:

"I'm absolutely satisfied about my health... the last six years I've been sound as a dollar. I have every confidence in my health and my capacity."

As for his political future, he said, "Time will only tell."

Then he announced, "I'm going to run for re-election in 1974. I'll give you a scoop on that. I'm going to run."

He also said he had not been promised any position in the McGovern administration should the South Dakota senator defeat President Nixon in the November election.

Eagleton said he knew support for his position on the ticket was waning Saturday night when, in South Dakota, McGovern table-hopped, talking with newsmen about the 'Eagleton issue, the Eagleton problem,' whatever you wish to call it."

Eagleton, 42, said he agreed to withdraw from the race only at the personal urging of McGovern.

The two met for 1½ hours in one of the Senate's inner sanctums, the Marble Room in the Senate floor.

Demos To Select New VP Nominee

By DON McLEOD
AP Political Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Echoes of one-settled procedural arguments loom before the Democratic National Committee as it sets out to choose a replacement for Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton as the vice-presidential nominee.

The solution, too, probably will have a familiar ring with the committee because known by presidential candidate George McGovern.

Prior to the party's national convention, arguments drolled on for days as competing delegations fought for the right to be seated, but in most disputes, McGovern's wishes prevailed.

Now, as the committee prepared to replay the convention in full, the new rules governing selection of committee members have led to the same sort of seating challenges.

Adding to the sense of déjà vu, the number of members eligible to vote has surfaced as a key question in the committee as it was at one point during the convention.

Eagleton's withdrawal Monday night, an unprecedented move prompted by the pressure stemming from his disclosure of psychiatric treatment on three occasions between 1960 and 1966, left the task of filling out the ticket to the revamped and somewhat confused national committee.

The complications arise from the new national committee structure formulated by the convention last month in Miami Beach. Yet this new-style committee must function under earlier rules, tailored to the old committee.

Convention rules provide that in the event of a vacancy, the national committee is authorized to select the replacement.

"By a majority of the total number of votes provided at the convention."

This means that representatives of each state would cast proxy votes to total 3,016, same as the convention total.

But the new formula adds a lot of extra members to a committee once composed of one man and one woman from each state, territory and the District of Columbia.

About one-third of the new members haven't been elected yet, and staff members say that could take another two weeks.

O'Brien Winning Support

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Florida's two members of the Democratic National Committee said Monday night they would support former committee chairman Lawrence O'Brien as the party's vice-presidential nominee if his name is put forward by Sen. George McGovern.

But state committeemen Hazel T. Evans and committee man T. Wayne Bailey disagreed over how Florida should select two other representatives for the vote on a successor to Sen. Thomas Eagleton of Missouri.

"The more I think about it, the more I like O'Brien for vice president," Mrs. Evans said in St. Petersburg, after presidential nominee McGovern announced Eagleton was stepping down as the Democratic vice-presidential candidate.

Bailey said in Deland that he would vote for the candidate preferred by McGovern, but he would respond enthusiastically if O'Brien was McGovern's choice for the No. 2 spot on the ticket.

Florida will have four votes under complicated new Democratic National Committee rules for selection of the new vice-presidential candidate.

The surprising Maverick.

It's a comfortable, 6-cylinder American compact that's actually priced below the Volkswagen 113.

If you can afford a Volkswagen 113—or almost any little import—you can afford a Maverick. Look:

FORD MAVERICK	2-door	6-cylinder	$2,140*
VW 113 (Super Beetle)	2-door	4-cylinder	$2,159*
TOYOTA COROLLA 1600	2-door	4-cylinder	$2,109*
DATSUN PL 510	2-door	4-cylinder	$2,306*

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price for 2-door models. Excludes dealer preparation charges if any, destination charges, title and taxes.

NOTE: People ask us how we can afford to offer a roomy, 6-cylinder compact at about the same price as the little imports. First, we've been making small cars since 1908. Experience helps. Second, we have a Maverick—except for mechanical improvements—since we first introduced it. That kind of continuity helps to control costs.

Third, recent currency revaluations and devaluations have helped restore the competitive stance of American manufacturers.

Ample room inside.

Maverick's front seat, for example, offers 8" more shoulder room than Volkswagen 113.

There's no wasted space inside Maverick. At the same time, none of that small-car crowded feeling.

Maintenance: Even simpler, more convenient than the little imports.

VW, for example, recommends normal service every 3000 miles or three months, whichever comes first. On Maverick, it's 6000 miles or six months. So Maverick's recommended service interval is twice as long as Volkswagen's.

We also designed Maverick to be a simple machine to care for. In fact, we've even prepared a manual which tells you how to do many maintenance jobs yourself.

One more convenience: there are over 5,600 Ford dealers in the country. VW has about 1100.

AROUND THE CLOCK

By John A. Spolski

There's so much that I could write about the current McGovern-Eagleton fiasco (and probably land in jail for some of my personal thoughts on the matter)... and rather than be coupled-up in either Sheriff Polk's bastle, or that bug-infested relic called a Sanford jail which Chief Ben Butler will take no claim, thank you! I instead, permit me to reprint some of the thoughts of others.

Nope, I can't stand it... just gotta get this one out of my craw.

The issue was built around "stress" and the possibility of "cracking-up," etc.

Well, as far as I'm concerned, the one who cracked was Senator McGovern — not Eagleton!

How can you go from "1000 per cent behind the man" to removing him as your running mate because, "It was not Sen. Eagleton's health that was the factor in this decision. It was the debate in the country, it was the furor in the country."

In a word, Senator, "Bull!"

Let someone else take a crack at it, now... from a reader opinion poll published by the CLEVELAND PRESS: "I am a Democrat and I think the vice-presidential candidate should not remove himself. It appears he may be the only same one running."

Proposed Bridge Over St. Johns River on SR 415

By BILL SCOTT

Unless a way is found to prod the State Department of Transportation (DOT) it will be late 1975 before the new Osteen Bridge spanning the St. Johns River and uniting Seminole and Volusia Counties is completed.

This was the disclosure made last night by Frank Jewell, DOT design study engineer, to more than 30 persons who attended the DOT public hearing on bridge design held at the Sanford City Center.

The major hold-up seemed to be the estimated 50 weeks for the DOT engineers to draft the bridge design at their Tallahassee office, according to information from Jewell.

The DOT official stated the length of the proposed project would be 1.63 miles, uniting SR 415, 415A and SR 46 in a 12.7 mile stretch.

No Leads In Ocala Extortion

OCALA, Fla. (AP)—Ocala police say they have no leads so far in the extortion of $5,000 from a local businessman whose family was held hostage.

"This could have been one man involved or a dozen. We just don't know," said Ocala Police Lt. Jim Parker.

Parker said a man entered the home of Ocala businessman Fred Thomas Tuesday and tied up his wife and two children. The man then had Thomas' wife call him at the K-Mart store where she is manager and tell him to "bring all the money in the safe."

Thomas told police he too was bound and gagged when he arrived home minutes later and handed over $5,000 to the extortionist. The man escaped in a 1968 Ford Mustang.

The car was later found abandoned in the parking lot of the K-Mart store. Police said the man apparently switched vehicles there.

Thomas told police he wants to free himself and call for help.

Lone Bandit Robs French Ave. Shop

An armed bandit wearing a paper bag mask Tuesday night robbed Sok's Sandwich Shop, French Avenue near 25th Street, of $300 in cash and escaped out the rear door on foot, according to a report from Det. Sgt. William Lykens.

Lykens said the thief entered the back door at approximately 9 p.m. and, holding a pistol, ordered Patty Walker, 18, of Oviedo, Charlotte Turner, 20, of Park Avenue, and Lance Reigrod, 21, of Delbart, store employees, to "hand over the contents of the cash register."

Polk said such actions constitute a law violation and advised his stickers are found by anyone on signs, they should call him and he will remove them.

The sheriff said he had removed eight of his bumper stickers from stop signs in the county and advised, "I don't feel the rest of the candidates would want anyone placing their stickers on state and county signs."

Polk said such actions constitute a law violation and advised his stickers are found by anyone on signs, they should call him and he will remove them.

McCall Trial To Ocala Venue Change Granted

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Saying suspended Sheriff Willis McCall's reelection campaign in Lake County could be "fraught with emotion," the Florida Supreme Court Tuesday ordered McCall's second-degree murder trial moved from Ocala to Ocala in Marion County.

Justice Adkins said reports of prejudice for and against McCall were not sufficient grounds for a change of venue. But he added that McCall's campaign for reelection—which would coincide with the trial—could be "fraught with emotion" and justification for the transfer.

Adkins has asked Circuit Judge D. R. Smith of Ocala to have 100 prospective jurors on hand for the Aug. 15 trial.

The justice, who is acting as trial judge, read a statement to the news media that a change of venue had been granted.

Sen. Muskie Now Looms As McGovern's Choice

By GREGG HERRINGTON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—George McGovern, the Democratic presidential candidate, says he will announce within a few days his choice of a running mate to replace Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton of Missouri.

McGovern reportedly is checking a half-dozen or so names with other leading Democrats to determine the acceptability—and background—of those under consideration.

Apparently, on the basis of hints and speculation, the most likely replacement for Eagleton is Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine.

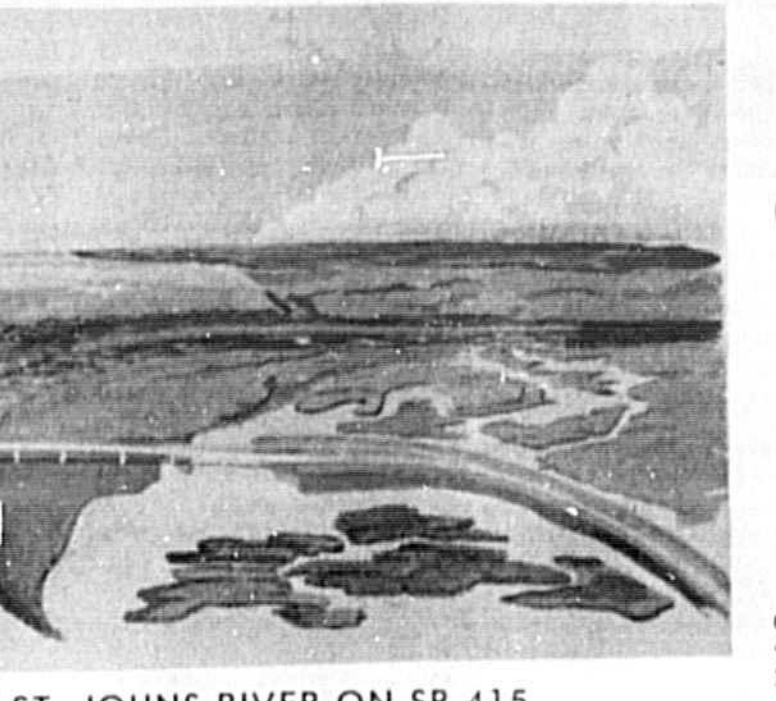

The 1968 Democratic vice-presidential candidate is generally acceptable to all elements of the party, and he is already well known nationally. Muskie, a Catholic and a New Englander, would provide balance for McGovern, a Methodist.

Idaho's Sen. Frank Church, a Protestant, seemed to throw cold water on speculation he might receive the nod. He recommended McGovern find someone who would add more variety to the ticket.

Besides Muskie and Church, speculation has centered on former Democratic National Committee Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien, Boston Mayor Kevin White and R. Sargent Shriver, one-time Peace Corps director. And the name of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy—who says he doesn't want the job—continues to crop up.

Eagleton turned out to be no controversial following disclosure last week that he had been hospitalized for mental depression in 1960, 1964 and 1966 stemming from nervous exhaustion and fatigue.

His withdrawal from the Democratic ticket Monday night following a nearly two-hour meeting with McGovern made him the first major-party candidate for the vice presidency to accept and then give up the nomination.

PROPOSED BRIDGE OVER ST. JOHNS RIVER ON SR 415

Osteen Span Delay To Late 1975 Is Told

Jewell, that will increase to 17,000 by 1970.

Jewell gave the following report on steps left to be resolved before the structure is finally completed: The final design hearing reports are to be submitted to the federal highway board by mid-September since the project is using some federal funding.

Approval by the federal board is expected by late October. This will allow title searches to start by November and the technical design of the bridge will start at Tallahassee when right-of-way are expected to start in June, 1973.

By January, 1974, the actual bridge construction is to begin, according to the timetable, with an estimated 14-16 months required in construction time, Jewell reported.

Appearing at the session to speak in favor of the bridge was Douglas Stenstrom, Greater Sanford Chamber of Commerce chairman, Sanford city commissioner Gordon Meyer and Julian Stenstrom, State Rep. Eugene Mooney and James Young, representing Senator Kenneth Plante.

Officials At Odds Over 'Lot Of Noise'

Lake Orienta Controversy Brings Divergent Views From Altamonte Mayor And State Attorney's Aide

By MARION BETHEA
ALTAMONTE, SPRINGS—Contending that "a lot of noise was made over nothing," Mayor Lawrence Swafford reported to City Council yesterday on the controversy over illegal dredging in Lake Orienta.

Mayor Swafford said he had met with the state attorney's office and a representative from the State Internal Improvement Fund and that there was difficulty in determining where the shore line was when the property was annexed. The annexation ordinance, he said, indicated the city had annexed to the water and, therefore, had no authority over the lake waters. The dredging operation commenced in conjunction with development of a condominium project on a tract of land adjacent to the lake.

In a statement to the Herald, Jack Fulewider, investigator with the state attorney's office, said the issue with the illegal dredging is "far from settled" with respect to that office.

Fulewider noted that in the Friday meeting, the representative of the trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund had been in touch with Tallahassee in working out a solution to settlement relative to the fill taken from the lake but that such had not, at that time, been effected. State Attorney Abbott Herring, Fulewider said, has been waiting to get in touch with the city since the meeting.

State Attorney Abbott Herring, Fulewider said, has been waiting to get in touch with the city since the meeting.

Mayor Swafford told council that there has been a settlement with those charged with the illegal dredging of 20 cents per yard on the piled dirt.

The project has ceased, Swafford said, and permits for the building of an "improvement" house held in abeyance.

Mayor Swafford projected the issue will be settled and that a permit for the fill operation will be issued within 120 days.

To Mow, Not To Mow Is Question

By KATHY NIBLACK
CASSELBERRY—The item which caused sparks to fly at last week's meeting of City Council was brought up again this week, and it was decided that the county should be asked to take care of the problem.

Councilmen John Zacco brought up last week the question of the city mowing the grass on Red Bug Road beside the Summer settlement. At the time, debate occurred over whether the city had the responsibility to mow this grass, and whether the city had mowed the grass before the highway was not paved.

Zacco said, "How long are you going to wait for an answer from the county?" He went on to say, "To wait for the county and to play a waiting game is ridiculous."

Council Chairman Edith Duerr apposed the city's mowing of the strip, and recommended that the city ask the county to maintain the strip. "I don't understand why you simply won't have it mowed," Zacco said. "How long are you going to wait for an answer from the county?" He went on to say, "To wait for the county and to play a waiting game is ridiculous."

Duncan Charges Dismissed

The civil case of Seminole County vs. W. Hugh Duncan former Justice of the Peace, 4th District, was dismissed Monday by Judge Volie Williams for lack of prosecution.

The county had filed suit against Duncan over two years ago to recover an alleged overcharge of $3,351.33. Williams said the case had exceeded his jurisdiction over the period of several years collecting fees to which he was not entitled.

Duncan was first suspended by Gov. Claude Kirk in November, 1967, after an audit uncovered irregularities, but was reinstated three times by the state senate. "I believed all along I was right in contesting the audit and now it's been proven through the proper courts," Duncan told The Herald.

Dear Abby Give husband a tip, tell him to watch tips

By Abigail Van Buren I FEEL like those of you who write this, but you might be able to help. I am a grown woman, (college educated) and have always been able to handle any situation, but this one has me stumped.

My husband (also college educated) is friendly, outgoing, and people like him immensely. Especially waitresses. He overtips to an embarrassing degree (waitresses—not waiters) but my main objection is his familiarity toward waitresses when we are out together. He hugs and squeezes them, and calls them "Honey, Sweetie and Darling." I find this extremely offensive.

I keep hoping a waitress will put him in his place, but so much luck. They seem to like it. My husband is 60 and so am I.

Would it be wrong of me to slip one of these waitresses a note with a ten-dollar bill, asking her to please check the bill? TEMPTED

DEAR TEMPTED: Resist the temptation. Simply tell your husband that his behavior makes him conspicuous, and you'd appreciate it if he'd keep his hands off the waitresses and dispense with the sweet talk.

DEAR ABBY: My ex-husband recently remarried. He had a church wedding with a champagne reception at the country club afterwards. In other words, "all the trimmings." I did not find it unusual that our children were invited because after all, he IS their father. However, when I heard that my own sister attended, danced until dawn and planned to entertain for the newlyweds, I felt a stab of disapproval.

The I am happily remarried myself at this point, I think my sister could be a little more considerate of my feelings. Do you blame me for feeling... HURT AND BITTER

DEAR HURT: I see no reason why your sister shouldn't attend your ex-husband's wedding, and even so, certain for the couple if he so wishes. I think your "hurt" and bitterness is uncalled for since you are presently happily married.

DEAR ABBY: We've had a lot of trouble with our teenage son, and my next-door neighbor keeps saying, "If he were MY kid I'd kick him out of the house." I'm thinking of leaving. Maybe my neighbor is right, but I just can't see it. How should I answer him if he says it again? HEARTBROKEN DAD IN KANSAS CITY

DEAR DAD: Say, "If he were YOUR kid I'd probably kick him out of the house, but he's not YOUR kid, he's MINE."

DEAR ABBY: In your answer to my question, you said the only thing that was 100 per cent safe was "ABSTINENCE." Where do you buy it? SHIRLEY D. DEAR SHIRLEY: You don't "buy" it. You practice it.

Highlights TV Time Previews

8:30-9:00 ABC The David Steinberg Show "David" has the assistance of James, Cass tonight in fun sketches. "Cash, who reached stardom this past year for his performance as Brian Feltus in "Brian's Song" on TV, and later as Sunny Corleone in "The Godfather," plays a patient who visits a slightly glibly psychiatrist (Steinberg). They also team for another sketch in "The Godfather."

8:30-9:00 NBC Adam-12 (Remix) "Ambush" The action is good although the plot is overplayed. A pair of hired killers want to rub salt in a homicide, while the witness is being transported in a police car to the custody of officers Reed and Malloy. The killers ambush the police car and capture Reed instead of the witness. Then they try to "blow" the witness on Julie Andrews and Richard Burton in "Camelot." Dubois Jones, some impersonating herself, such as Bette Davis, Katharine Hepburn, Mae West and Barbara Strassand.

8:30-9:00 CBS Mantic (Remix) Mantic is in for a rough time because someone is impersonating him with Mike Connors' gleams, both roles. Mantic becomes a prime suspect because his look-alike, posing as the private detective, pulls off a jewel robbery.

8:30-9:00 NBC Mystery Movie (Remix) "Death Lends a Hand." It's Lieutenant Columbo's segment with a strong guest roster, including Oscar-winner Ray Milland, Robert Culp (remember him from "I Spy") and Patricia Crowley. The plot centers around a pious husband (Milland) who murders his unfaithful young wife (Miss Crowley) in a fit of rage. He discovers her identity after she refuses to pay blackmail to Culp, who has been hired by the husband to tail his wife.

8:30-9:00 ABC The Corner Bar "The Generation Canyon." Love bridges the generation gap. Both Meyer the writer and Fred the taxi driver are having problems with their kids. Both offspring intend to quit college to the disappointment of their father. Harry the bartender tries to fix things up and, in meeting the kids, the daughter of one, son of the other, a romance starts and the young lovers decide to go back to college—together.

9:10 CBS Medical Center (Remix) A heart-tugging story about a young mentally retarded girl (played by Pamela Franklin) and the problems encountered by her and her mother (Inga Swenson). Kim Stanley also is featured as a nurse who appears overly protective of the young girl.

9:30-10:00 ABC The KopyKats (Remix) The regular get strange a "vintage" comic. Debbie Reynolds is guest adre comic Sherry Greene is featured. Any girl features regulars Marvin Michaels and Frank Gorshin doing a takeoff on Julie Andrews and Richard Burton in "Camelot." Dubois Jones, some impersonating herself, such as Bette Davis, Katharine Hepburn, Mae West and Barbara Strassand.

Worry Clinic by George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Fred Lowe at this very moment may be Promotion Manager in the Great Beyond, or it doesn't matter! So consider this dynamic concept of heaven. Scrapbook this column!

Case U-551: Fred Lowe was a superb newspaper Promotion Manager. He served at several famous newspapers, including the Detroit FREE PRESS, Pittsburgh POST-GAZETTE and the New York JOURNAL AMERICAN.

When I was in Denver addressing the State Dental Society there, I received an urgent midnight phone call. "Dr. Crane," Mrs. Love implored, "Fred just passed away suddenly, apparently of a heart attack. You two were such good friends, do you suppose you could fly back tomorrow and conduct his funeral?"

"For Fred would want you to do so, since he liked your dynamic concept of heaven."

DYNAMIC HEAVEN
Several widows of editors and publishers have asked me to do the same, although I am not a clergyman.

It was a shock to me to lose Fred, for he was one of America's most astute newspapermen, with a keen sense of what news like So I flew to New York for the service.

In my 15-minute address, I mentioned that Christ stated (Matthew 10:32): "Whoever confesses Me before men, I will confess him before My Father who is in heaven."

"For, let us remember, when His disciples were there, He would not recognize them, for they were not confessing Him before men, but from the heart they were confessing Him before God."

Fred Lowe at this very moment may be Promotion Manager in the Great Beyond, or it doesn't matter! So consider this dynamic concept of heaven. Scrapbook this column!

Case U-551: Fred Lowe was a superb newspaper Promotion Manager. He served at several famous newspapers, including the Detroit FREE PRESS, Pittsburgh POST-GAZETTE and the New York JOURNAL AMERICAN.

When I was in Denver addressing the State Dental Society there, I received an urgent midnight phone call. "Dr. Crane," Mrs. Love implored, "Fred just passed away suddenly, apparently of a heart attack. You two were such good friends, do you suppose you could fly back tomorrow and conduct his funeral?"

"For Fred would want you to do so, since he liked your dynamic concept of heaven."

DYNAMIC HEAVEN
Several widows of editors and publishers have asked me to do the same, although I am not a clergyman.

It was a shock to me to lose Fred, for he was one of America's most astute newspapermen, with a keen sense of what news like So I flew to New York for the service.

In my 15-minute address, I mentioned that Christ stated (Matthew 10:32): "Whoever confesses Me before men, I will confess him before My Father who is in heaven."

"For, let us remember, when His disciples were there, He would not recognize them, for they were not confessing Him before men, but from the heart they were confessing Him before God."

24 Arraignments Before Judge Muldrew

Drug Cases Comprise Half Of Trials On Docket

By MARION BETHEA

The continuing problem of illegal use of drugs by the youth of Seminole County, which has received the attention of several municipalities giving substantial sums of money for support of a program to alleviate and hopefully terminate the drug situation, is amply illustrated with an arraignment docket of many drug-related offenses.

Richard Muldrew for arraignment, 11 were concerned with drug involvement. Defendants charged with illegal use of drugs, all of whom pleaded not guilty, were docketed for trial and charged as follows: John Meager, three count information of possession of cannabis, possession of a hallucinogenic drug and possession of drug paraphernalia, Sept. 25; Jack Miller, charged with a two count information of sale and possession of a prohibited drug, trial Sept. 11; two separate cases against the defendant with the same charge; Donald Alderman, possession of cannabis, Aug. 28; Charles Putman, possession of a prohibited drug, Aug. 28; Kevin McElroy, possession of cannabis, Aug. 21; Charles Hoover, possession of cannabis, Aug. 28; Clydes Hayes, possession of a hallucinogenic drug and possession of drug paraphernalia, Sept. 11; Verne Riggall, three count information of possession of a hallucinogenic drug, possession of a central nervous stimulant and possession of cannabis, Sept. 11; Steven Bucklew, possession of a prohibited drug, Aug. 28; Glenn Young, charged with possession of cannabis sativa L, pleaded guilty as charged and was allowed to remain on bond pending presentence investigation.

Other defendants pleading innocent and trial dates included: Wendell Drummond, level assault on a child, Sept. 11; Winnis Loftin, worthless check, Aug. 28; two cases, same charge; James Williams, breaking and entering with intent to commit a misdemeanor, Aug. 28; Herbert Long, breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny, Sept. 11; Michael Thompson, breaking and entering a vehicle and grand larceny, Sept. 11; and Kenneth Rice, breaking and entering with intent to commit a felony and grand larceny, Aug. 28.

Arraignment was continued in the following cases: Leslie Williams, uttering a forgery; Joe Williams, aggravated battery; George Jackson, breaking and entering with intent to commit a misdemeanor or aggravated assault and use of a firearm in commission of a felony; Raymond Gray, aggravated assault and attempted escape; and James Williams, aggravated assault and attempted escape.

Brown is the jail inmate who precipitated the recent investigation by a county grand jury of alleged brutality by a jailer. The jailer was vindicated in the incident in which Brown attempted escape by a ruse for water, later choking the jailer.

A final continuance for the benefit of "Sir Stock" was granted to Carol Ann May, charged with stopping payment of a check with intent to defraud.

Miracles boost life quality

By FRANK MACOMBER, Chapel News Service

In these days of image-making, the doctors aren't coming out so well, especially since they have quarreled at times with the government over how the various medical insurance programs should be run.

The physician especially has been criticized for what their detractors call a growing lack of the personal touch with patients and latter bills for their services.

All that is rather dismal news, but there is an encouraging note to this story. It is that doctors, while they haven't always been able to cope with a growing population and consequent increase in demand for their services, nonetheless have come up with medical breakthrough that keep many people out of their offices and out of the hospital.

Perhaps Dr. James Carlisle, as well as practicing physicians in Palm Beach, Fla., can explain it better.

"Since I first started practicing," he recalls, "doctors have found a way to control diabetes, tuberculosis has become almost a thing of the past, and polio virtually has been wiped out."

"For the future, lots of things are ahead of us. I expect to see leukemia (blood cancer) controlled, the life-span of man lengthened and, of course, a cure for cancer will be found."

Dr. Carlisle, who worked in a cotton mill and as a cook and bank messenger before he came a doctor, rejects the charge that the new generation of physicians and surgeons is more impersonal than those of the horse-and-buggy and house-call days.

A study of modern medical history shows that doctors have learned to work with each other and with electronics engineers to relieve thousands of afflicted from pain, blindness and organic disorders.

Editorial Comment

Time For Emphasis On The Issues

Replacement of Tom Eagleton as vice presidential nominee of the Democratic party is the key political move as this comment is being made and the decision of Democratic presidential nominee Senator George McGovern is awaited.

Out of the welter of rumors, reports, surveys, polls and editorial columnist punditry during the past week there has emerged a conclusion with which all voters can enthusiastically agree.

It was McGovern who phrased it thus: "Senator Eagleton and I agree that the paramount needs of the Democratic party in 1972 are unity and a full discussion of the real issues."

For Senator Thomas F. Eagleton of Missouri whose candid admission of physical and mental illness in the 60s opened a Pandora's box of troubles which infected his week as vice presidential nominee, the resigned on Monday night) there can be nothing but high respect.

For Senator McGovern, who wrestled with this issue during what was supposed to be his week of rest, there should be a recognition of the light which his attitude towards his choice for vice president, under the guns of sharp-shooting critics reveals. It is a far cry from the treatment which Nixon experienced from General Eisenhower in '52 when the Republicans were confronted by a similar political problem.

But it must be the issues which are set free now for hard and clear discussion. These fall into two general classes: foreign and domestic. Specifically these boil down to the Indochina war and the domestic economy.

Despite the obvious efforts of the Republican administration to keep the spotlight off the continued fighting, destruction and slaying which is going on every day in Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos, this is THE issue.

While it is not to be expected that the administration could or would be candid about losses and costs, yet it is the prime responsibility of the administration to try to bridge its credibility gap.

To withdraw from Vietnam and build-up in Thailand is no winding down of war. To let the slaughter of Vietnamese — North and South — continue is not to seek peace as the man-in-the-street understands it.

For his part Senator McGovern must handle the war issue with more specifics than he has done so far. That he will, is not in question. What is in question is how and when.

It was a year ago this month the President Nixon turned away from the Republican doctrine of no government price and wage controls and went whole hog into the Democratic approach and imposed them. This ended the years when private enterprise and encouragement of private endeavor were Republican gospel.

The economy will continue to be an inescapable issue for both the Republican and Democratic presidential nominees themselves, not spokesmen, to talk about with frankness and clarity.

Yes, indeed, issues themselves are the subjects which must be projected. President Nixon has the task of tracing his performance which has not always been on a straight line but has changed in harmony with the turn of great events.

For McGovern there should now be a time when he can take up the issues and define them and his programs so that no personalities or intra-party hassles can obscure.

Memory Is Your Own Magic Wand

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — His memory enables man to play God every day. With this magic power he reincarnates the dead and revises the vanished past.

How near to God this power of memory really is? It is indeed a form of divine salvation that makes it possible for man to be a human and humane species.

Your own memory collection is pretty extensive if you can remember when:

You knew neighbors had bought a new television set when their house went dark at 8 p.m.

In the era of horse-drawn vehicles no street sweeper had any trouble getting natural fertilizers for his backyard organic garden.

In the days when men wore hats, the polite ones would invariably tip them when they met a lady of their acquaintance.

You could win a reputation for being a dude by wearing a 56-cent clip-on bow tie.

The clearest place to romance a girl was on a 15-cent boatride through the darkened waters of the "Tunnel of Love" in an amusement park. But just about the time she got interested, the ride ended.

When World War I ended, women went openly, bade good-bye around the neighborhood beating kettles and pots and pans strung around their necks, people set fire to brooms doused in kerosene and staged impromptu torchlight parades, and men went out into their front yards and fired pistols, rifles and shotguns up into the evening night. No Fourth of July celebration ever came anywhere near equalling it. You scratched your own and your sweetheart's initials in beach sands for the first time, and felt like crying when the tide came in and washed them away.

It was predicted he soon would have to walk wherever he wanted to go.

America's purposes were pure, its air was pure, and most of its rivers ran pure water. Those were the days — remember?

Underlying this strategy is the notion that, for the first time in his several quests for the presidency, Nixon's men see his opponent more as a focus on controversy than he is. They want to keep it that way.

They see McGovern stuck with a divided party, moderately plagued by internal staff squabbles, hung with confusing, disputed positions on welfare, tax reform, defense spending, amnesty for draft evaders.

In the view of Nixon's advisers, keeping to the hard road does not rule out ample and continuing reference to McGovern's controversial programs. They will be hammered hard by a variety of administration spokesmen.

The President's strategists think McGovern will respond by trying to portray himself as the victim of a "mean campaign," as the target of a typical "Old Nixon" barrage. The senator already has said some things in South Dakota that fit this pattern.

But Nixon's people question whether this posture will be convincing to many U.S. voters so long as the President himself "keeps his mouth shut" on McGovern the man.

If his judgment is correct, the consequence could be a sustained major hatred for Nixon as an evil figure who must be cast out of the White House at all costs.

That campaign had suffered grievously even before McGovern was nominated. The President's overtures to Peking and Moscow were widely approved. Most voters do not care about the withdrawal of more than 500,000 troops from Vietnam as inaction on the war. And, though he hasn't cried inflation and unemployment, he gets some credit for trying.

Nixon men think McGovern could waste precious time crying "foul" and proclaiming martyrdom. They want voters to believe that the senator marched into a bog of controversy on his own, without the faintest shove from Mr. Nixon.

Nixon's Strategy No Name-Calling

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Republican strategists believe President Nixon has a selection victory in hand, provided he and Vice President Agnew maintain a tight discipline and keep off the low road of personalities and name-calling.

Discipline, indeed, is a key word in the Nixon camp these days. There is a determination not to be drawn into a free-wheeling campaign. The judgment is that it is almost the only thing which could unite the two Democrats and give some real hope to Sen. George McGovern.

The President himself is said to be so fully committed to a high-level, issue-oriented effort that he may engage in traditional campaigning only in the final two weeks before election this year.

And, according to present plan, Mr. Nixon may watch most of the Miami Beach Republican convention from his White House perch, staying above mundane politics until the time comes for his acceptance speech on Aug. 23.

It has already been reported that the President personally has admonished Spiro Agnew to refrain from direct personal assault on McGovern and his running mate, Sen. Thomas Eagleton. I am told this advice has been given to Agnew by others as well.

The vice president's strategy was reflecting this careful counsel when he said in Anchorage, Alaska, that this time it should be "possible" for him to campaign strictly on the issues.

Underlying this strategy is the notion that, for the first time in his several quests for the presidency, Nixon's men see his opponent more as a focus on controversy than he is. They want to keep it that way.

They see McGovern stuck with a divided party, moderately plagued by internal staff squabbles, hung with confusing, disputed positions on welfare, tax reform, defense spending, amnesty for draft evaders.

In the view of Nixon's advisers, keeping to the hard road does not rule out ample and continuing reference to McGovern's controversial programs. They will be hammered hard by a variety of administration spokesmen.

The President's strategists think McGovern will respond by trying to portray himself as the victim of a "mean campaign," as the target of a typical "Old Nixon" barrage. The senator already has said some things in South Dakota that fit this pattern.

But Nixon's people question whether this posture will be convincing to many U.S. voters so long as the President himself "keeps his mouth shut" on McGovern the man.

If his judgment is correct, the consequence could be a sustained major hatred for Nixon as an evil figure who must be cast out of the White House at all costs.

That campaign had suffered grievously even before McGovern was nominated. The President's overtures to Peking and Moscow were widely approved. Most voters do not care about the withdrawal of more than 500,000 troops from Vietnam as inaction on the war. And, though he hasn't cried inflation and unemployment, he gets some credit for trying.

Nixon men think McGovern could waste precious time crying "foul" and proclaiming martyrdom. They want voters to believe that the senator marched into a bog of controversy on his own, without the faintest shove from Mr. Nixon.

Who Said It?

In the great cities, there is "stink of the smoke chimneys," with their "pestilent vapors and soot."

Yes, yes. So there is (or are), or is that? Some Washington, or New York, or Nashville, official speaking out on air pollution? Some agency related to the public health?

The quote is from the complaints of Lucius Annaeus Seneca—born in 4 B.C.—Nashville (Tenn.) Banner

GOP Smells Victory In House Races

The following editorial by Copley News Service Reporter Michael O'Connor was written prior to Senator McGovern's announcement that Senator Eagleton would be removed as his running mate.

By MICHAEL O'CONNOR

WASHINGTON—The Republican Party is hoping this fall to gain control of the House of Representatives, a coup it last pulled off 20 years ago.

The Republican Campaign Committee, House arm of a Capitol Hill group established to work for the election of members of the GOP to Congress, is optimistic.

Minority Leader Gerald Ford of Michigan has made such a prediction based on his feeling that dissatisfaction among Democrats with the national ticket of Sen. George McGovern and Thomas Eagleton will have a broad coalitional effect for President Nixon.

It would take a Nixon landslide to make Ford's prediction correct.

To take control — and to place Ford as speaker of the House — the party needs to make a net gain of 35 seats. No such large gain has been made since 1952 when Gen. Dwight Eisenhower captured the presidency and carried in a batch of new congressmen.

There are 425 seats in the House with all members up for reelection. Republicans hold 178 and the Democrats 255 with cracks. "I can't afford a new one," Jim McDonald, half Cherokee Indian, hails from Oklahoma City. He's the singer and straight man. He started singing and strumming a guitar when he was 10. At 16 he had his own band and he recalls, "The kids were all listening to Elvis Presley and I sang 'Hound Dog' so many times it almost drove me bananas."

The two, both 28, joined forces at Oklahoma State University in 1968. Their professional route has been a familiar one—Las Vegas, Las Angeles, Playboy clubs in a dozen cities, a tour with Count Basie and his orchestra, etc.

BERRY'S WORLD

That's often associated with presidential campaigns. "It's really a thrill to entertain in Washington," McDonald told the correspondents. "I'm just as excited. He has already had two acts perform for the President. Eartha Kitt and the Bay City Singers. We're his last chance!"

"I look a chance," Jeter admitted to the first lady "I ordered the dummy three months before the President was elected. He gave me an awful scare in the home stretch in 1968."

Mrs. Nixon examined the 3-foot-tall dummy after the correspondents' dinner and then agreed to pose for pictures "if you hold him a little higher; he's really taller than I am."

The Oklahoma boys' comedy is in the thick of it and the primary election campaign, thanks to the Nixon dummy and a big laugh from Mrs. Nixon.

The first lady watched Jeter and McDonald perform here at the annual White House correspondents dinner and was delighted.

"I look a chance," Jeter admitted to the first lady "I ordered the dummy three months before the President was elected. He gave me an awful scare in the home stretch in 1968."

Mrs. Nixon examined the 3-foot-tall dummy after the correspondents' dinner and then agreed to pose for pictures "if you hold him a little higher; he's really taller than I am."

Neutrality Fatal In Bloody Belfast

By DON OAKLEY

Recently added to the growing list of dead and wounded in the undeclared civil war in Northern Ireland were a Belfast news vendor and his wife.

According to police, two gunmen fatally shot Leslie Legatt when he tried to prevent them from setting a bomb in his shop. They then critically wounded his wife as she knelt screaming beside his body, then planted their bomb and fled. A passing motorist dragged the couple out of the shop before the bomb went off.

Nothing remarkable about the story, unfortunately. Such things have become routine since Catholic-Protestant violence erupted three years ago.

What makes this particular tragedy worth noting is the fact that Legatt apparently made the mistake of trying to be neutral in the conflict. According to neighbors, he was in the process of selling his newspaper and moving to England after receiving threats from both Roman Catholic and Protestant extremists because of what they considered his "moderate" views.

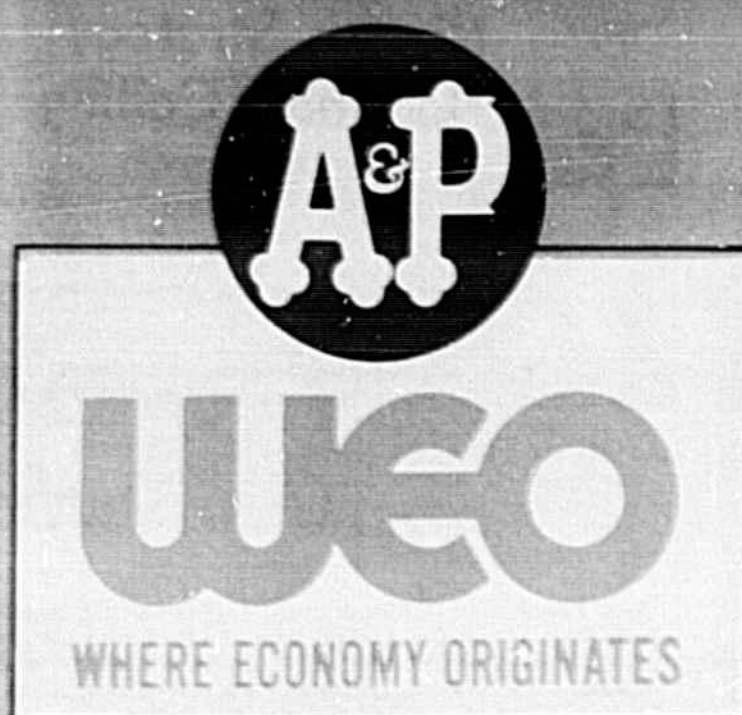

If the situation in Northern Ireland has reached the point where it is a bit to be moderate, the outlook can only be for continuing and increasing violence. The first casualty in every civil conflict has been the voice of moderation.

As for Northern Ireland, it used to be said—not entirely jokingly—that if only the Catholics and the Protestants were atheists, maybe then they could get along like Christian gentlemen.

There are not only few atheists in Northern Ireland, but it is apparently becoming dangerous there even to try to leave the neighbor.

Natural Food Wave Spreading Throughout U. S.

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

Early settlers of this country would be perfectly at home preparing and eating natural foods. For, way back when, most animals, fruits and vegetables grew on land untouched by pesticides, insecticides or chemical fertilizers. Antibiotics and growth-stimulating hormones were not used in the raising and breeding of animals to be eaten.

The current wave of rejecting foods subjected to chemicals of any sort is spreading throughout the United States. Many individuals find a new joy in growing their own fruits, vegetables, and even beef and chickens organically. This can be very expensive. But, devotees of natural foods feel they capture a truer flavor and gain more vitamins and minerals in this way. One new cookbook, "Whole Earth Cook Book," (Houghton-Mifflin and San Francisco Book Company), explains simply the whole earth and natural foods philosophy. Its authors, Sharon Caldwell and Judi Orr, include 136 recipes developed and tested at the Whole

Earth Restaurant on the University of California campus at Santa Cruz.

Very important in the natural foods eating scheme is the use of high protein items such as soybeans, peas, beans, nuts, fish and seafood. Salads, vegetables (eaten raw or slightly cooked) and the use of whole grains also are natural food essentials. Emphasis on all these reflect a well-rounded, well-balanced selection of nutritional items all Americans need to eat for better health but too often overlooked in favor of snack foods, colas and sugary treats. Natural food cookery is for everyone since there is nothing mysterious about the basic ingredients.

NUT LOAF
1 large bunch of greens (chard, spinach, turnip, or beet)
1/2 cup oil
1 medium onion, sliced thin and chopped

2 tablespoons fresh, chopped parsley
1 garlic clove, mashed
1 teaspoon dried oregano
2 cups ground almonds, walnuts, or pecans, or in combination

1 cup dried whole-wheat bread crumbs
1/2 cup wheat germ
1/2 cup caissip
1 tablespoon soy sauce
Chop and steam greens for 5 minutes. Sauté in oil the onion, parsley, garlic, and oregano. Combine all remaining ingredients. (Incidentally, ground nuts are better than chopped, which tend to become too dry.) Shape into a loaf and bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. This loaf is not as firm as a meat loaf, so cut gently. Makes one loaf.

BASIC SOYBEAN RECIPE
2 cups dried soybeans
2 1/2 cups water
To prepare: Soak soybeans in 3 cup water for 1 to 2 hours; then place in flat dish in freezing compartment overnight.
To cook: Remove from freezer; crack to remove from tray and drop into 1 1/2 cups boiling water. Cover. Reduce heat to simmer for 3 to 4 hours. The last hour is the time to add onions, seasonings, oil or ham, spices, tomatoes or soy sauce. There are many ways to improve the palatability of soybeans. Imagination and experimentation may create a favorite recipe.

SUPER SOYBEAN CASSEROLE
1 slice salt pork or 2 or 3 slices bacon, or may substitute with 2 tablespoons of oil, then top last few minutes with vegetarian bacon bits
1 green pepper, diced
1 onion, chopped
1 garlic clove, mashed
1 cup milk
2 teaspoons butter

2 stalks celery, diced
2 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1/2 cup bell pepper, cut into 1-inch squares
3 teaspoons curry powder
2 cups chicken stock or broth
2 teaspoons soy sauce

Four oil and salt in wok and preheat at 375 degrees. Add 1/2 of chicken and stir-fry for 3 or 4 minutes or until browned. Push up the side. Repeat with remaining chicken. Add onions, garlic, celery, monosodium glutamate, bell pepper, curry powder, chicken stock and soy sauce. Stir all ingredients with chicken together. When mixture reaches a boil, reduce heat to "simmer" and prepare for 30 minutes, covered, or until chicken is tender. If thicker sauce is desired, add 2 tablespoons cornstarch with 2 tablespoons cold water. Add pasta gradually. Stir and mix until gravy thickens. Serve chicken curry with or over hot steamed rice.

Chinese Cooking

CURRIED CHICKEN KANTONISE
(4-5 Servings)

3 tablespoons vegetable oil
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 3 to 4 pound fryer chicken, skinned, boned and cut into 2-inch slices
1/2 cup sliced dried or fresh onions
1 clove garlic, crushed

2 stalks celery, diced
2 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1/2 cup bell pepper, cut into 1-inch squares
3 teaspoons curry powder
2 cups chicken stock or broth
2 teaspoons soy sauce

Four oil and salt in wok and preheat at 375 degrees. Add 1/2 of chicken and stir-fry for 3 or 4 minutes or until browned. Push up the side. Repeat with remaining chicken. Add onions, garlic, celery, monosodium glutamate, bell pepper, curry powder, chicken stock and soy sauce. Stir all ingredients with chicken together. When mixture reaches a boil, reduce heat to "simmer" and prepare for 30 minutes, covered, or until chicken is tender. If thicker sauce is desired, add 2 tablespoons cornstarch with 2 tablespoons cold water. Add pasta gradually. Stir and mix until gravy thickens. Serve chicken curry with or over hot steamed rice.

Chinese food is not only good to eat, but it's nutritious, economical, low in calories, and easy to make. And since President Nixon's China trip it has become the "in" thing in dining and entertaining. Curried Chicken Kantonise, a specialty of the house of the world-famous Johnny Kwan's Restaurant in San Francisco's Chinatown, is a dish you can prepare and serve at your next dinner party, using standard, everyday ingredients. But it has a taste that's anything but ordinary. Preparation is made easier with an electric Wok, a modern-day version of a centuries-old Oriental cooking vessel characterized by its unique conical shape.

Overweight Endangers Health

Worrying about overweight is a popular American pastime, and rightly so. Being overweight does matter: It matters to one's health in general, and to one's heart in particular. Overweight is one of the six risk factors which could lead to heart attack — the others being high levels of cholesterol in the blood, cigarette smoking, high blood pressure, lack of exercise, and diabetes.

Excess poundage puts undue strain on the human body, particularly the heart. Those who are overweight also seem to be more susceptible to certain other diseases, such as circulatory diseases and diabetes. In general, the weight that is desirable for a person in his mid-20s is considered the best weight for later years, too.

Calories Equal Energy — Food is the source of energy for the body. When the foods we eat, however, provide more energy than is needed to meet the daily demands of the body, this extra energy is stored in the body as fat. The term "calories" is commonly used to mean food energy.

The "why" of overweight cannot be answered simply. The more science investigates the causes, the more complex they appear.

Disturbances in metabolism (the process by which the body used food energy, maintenance and repair) may contribute to overweight. Even if this is your problem, a careful reducing diet (under your doctor's supervision) can melt away pounds.

Fat Factors — Heredity, too, plays a part, though just how important is still not known. But remember, family eating habits are vital, and by changing them people from so-called "overweight families" can reduce "Middle-age spread" is not inevitable, and it certainly can be corrected. True, muscle tone tends to slacken as we get older, which makes it difficult for some people to hold that youthful waistline. But when birthdays begin to pile up pounds, it usually means one thing: a person's activity is slowing down while he is eating at the same old pace. As we cut down on physical activity, we need fewer calories.

Food Gratifies — Individual temperaments and emotional problems sometimes contribute to a weight problem. Some of us eat too much when we're bored or restless, or want of something better to do.

Herbs, Spices 'Beef Up' The Life Of Meat Loaf

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
2 eggs, beaten

2 teaspoons onion powder
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon ground

nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper

In a large mixing bowl combine all ingredients. Mix well, but do not overmix.

Turn into a 4 1/2-cup ring mold. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven 45 to 50 minutes. Remove from oven; let meat loaf cool in pan 10 minutes. Turn out onto serving plate. Fill center with cooked peas and carrots, if desired. Makes 8 portions.

Meat loaf is a favorite of millions as a main dish or filling for a sandwich. However, the tendency is to create one's own recipe or inherit a meat loaf recipe and never vary the ingredients. Herbs and spices do much to "beef" up the flavor of this popular dish. Next time, when mixing a loaf, try dehydrated onion and garlic products, chili powder, curry powder, Italian seasoning, poultry seasoning or a meat loaf seasoning. Use some of these in combination or singly. Also, don't forget that sweet spices add intriguing tastes, too. Some spices to try individually are ground allspice, cumin, ginger, cinnamon, cloves, cardamom, nutmeg or mace, caraway or fennel.

NUTMEG MEAT LOAF RING
2 pounds ground lean beef
1 cup soft bread crumbs
1 cup (1/2) tomato sauce

Mint, Lime Salad
By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

A crisp and colorful fruit salad restores sagging interest in food, especially during warmer days. An added bonus to the flavor of fresh fruit is a zippy dressing, such as one mingling the flavors of mint and lime. The base is peanut oil, which does not add a taste of its own to a salad but clings evenly to ingredients. When serving a fruit salad, chill ingredients first but always serve the salad dressing at room temperature. Make the fruit dressing at least a half-hour before serving to allow the seasonings to blend into the oil. Add the dressing at the last moment before serving.

FRUIT SALAD DRESSING
1/2 cup peanut oil
Juice of one average-size lime (about 1 1/2 oz. lime juice)
1/4 teaspoon grated lime rind
1 tablespoon honey (sugar may be used but honey is better)
2 teaspoons dried mint flakes
Dash salt

Blend oil, lime juice, grated lime rind, honey and salt. Crush or roll mint flakes with fingers and add to liquid mixture. Let stand at room temperature at least a half-hour before using to allow time for mint flavor to blend into mixture. Stir or shake briskly before serving. Pour over lettuce leaves topped with sliced favorite fruits in season: peaches, apples, berries, melons, pears. Also delicious over fruit salads to which a scoop of cottage cheese has been added. Makes two generous main dish salad servings.

When fresh peaches are in season and you have some extra egg yolks on hand, you can make the following new version of Peach Bavarian Cream. Serve this creamy dessert at a company lunch or supper and along with it offer iced tea. In connecting with tea, make it extra strong by using fifty per cent more tea than ordinarily would allow for mulling.

PEACH BAVARIAN CREAM
2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1 cup granulated sugar
Pinch of salt
3 egg yolks
3 cups fresh peach pulp
1 cup heavy cream
1/2 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1/4 teaspoon almond extract, if desired

Sliced peaches and mini springs for garnish.
In a saucepan thoroughly stir together the gelatin, granulated sugar and salt. In a small mixing bowl, beat egg yolks until they are thickened and yellow color; stir into gelatin mixture with peach pulp.
Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin is completely dissolved. Chill until mixture mounds slightly when dropped from a spoon.
Whip cream, toward end of beating, gradually beat in confectioners' sugar and, if used, the almond extract. Gently fold into chilled mixture. Pour into a 5- or 6-cup mold. Chill until firm.
At serving time, unmold and garnish with sliced peaches and mint leaves. If you prepare the sliced peaches ahead, dip them in citrus juice to keep them from darkening.
Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Notes: To prepare the peach pulp used in this recipe, you'll need about 2 pounds fresh stone peaches. Peel, halve and pit the fruit; slice and puree in an electric blender or force through a wire sieve.

Corn Bread Rings Flavor Bell For Good Eating

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

corn has played an important role in nourishing the nation.

A corn bread ring with tasty barbecued beef filling makes for wholesome good eating. For economy, use beef stew meat simmered until tender in a spicy tomato sauce.

CORN BREAD RING WITH BARBECUED BEEF

Corn Bread Ring: 1 1/4 cups enriched cornmeal
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 egg
1 1/4 cups milk
3 tablespoons melted or liquid shortening

Sauce:
1 1/2 pound beef stew meat, trimmed and cut into 1/2-inch cubes
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
One 8-ounce can tomato sauce
One 8-ounce can tomato paste
One 8-ounce can mushroom stems and pieces, drained
2 teaspoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon onion powder
1 teaspoon chili powder
1 teaspoon garlic powder
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
2 1/4 cups water
1 tablespoon cornstarch

Heat oven to 425 degrees. For corn bread ring, sift together cornmeal, flour, baking powder and salt. Add egg, milk and oil. Mix just until dry ingredients are moistened. Pour into greased 5 1/2-cup ring mold. Bake at 425 degrees 25 to 30 minutes. Invert on serving platter. For sauce, brown meat in butter; drain off fat. Add tomato sauce, tomato paste, mushroom, sugar, salt, onion, chili powder, garlic powder, onion and 2 cups water. Simmer. Cover. Simmer about 1 hour until meat is tender. Drain off fat if necessary. Combine cornstarch and 1/2 cup remaining water. Add to meat sauce, stirring quickly. Bring to a boil. Simmer 1 minute. To serve, pour into center of corn bread ring. Cut ring in 4 pieces. Spoon sauce over top of each piece. Serve immediately. Makes 4 servings.

Make Yours 'Berries

By AILEEN CLAIRE
NEA Food Editor

It's fresh blueberry time and those who have been shifting to a diet of more fresh fruits and vegetables will want to add this nutritious berry to any meal list. Blueberries are high in vitamins A and C and also add needed minerals, including iron, to the diet. They're also low in calories when eaten without sugar, milk or cream. For a make-ahead dessert, try Blueberry Cream Cheese Squares.

BLUEBERRY CREAM CHEESE SQUARES
1/2 cup cornstarch
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
2 cups blueberries rinsed and drained
1 package (12 1/2-oz.) Graham cracker crumbs
1 1/2 sticks butter or margarine, melted
2 packages (8-oz.) cream cheese
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
1 package (9-oz.) frozen whipped topping, thawed

Combine cornstarch, sugar, water and blueberries. Cook while stirring over medium heat until sauce bubbles and thickens. Cool. Combine cracker crumbs and butter. Press one-half of the crumbs into the bottom of a foil lined 13 x 9 x 2-inch pan. Mix cream cheese until soft. Gradually beat in sugar and vanilla. Fold in whipped topping. Spread one-half of this mixture carefully over the crumbs. Sprinkle with cream cheese. Easy to spread evenly over crumbs and blueberries, drop mixture by spoonfuls over the entire surface. Then spread gently, using a spatula. Spread blueberry filling evenly over cheese. Spread with remaining cream cheese mixture. Sprinkle with remaining crumbs. Chill overnight. Using foil to remove from pan, place dessert on a platter and cut into squares. Makes 15 servings.

APPLE DOLLS
WINNIEG (AP) — Jean Lambert refuses to eat apples because she says it's "cathartic." But the suburban St. Vital housewife has for the last 10 years made them into dolls. Mrs. Lambert says the apples dry naturally over a period of three to four weeks after being peeled and are formed into faces by gently applying pressure daily over the drying period.

You Read It Here First! City Hall Pact Okayed

By DONNA ESTES

LONGWOOD — Chairman Eugene Jaques, at a special meeting of the City Council this morning, told The Herald he has no plans to be the city's first administrative aide or city manager under the proposed new charter. He denied vehemently that he has any interest in supervisory work and stated that he would not accept either position if offered to him.

The chairman announced the work session with Mayor Kenneth Brown, the charter revision commission, City Council and city attorney S. Joseph Davis Jr. to complete work on the charter has been rescheduled for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Jaques said the public is invited to attend the meeting when the document — to be voted upon the people — probably in September — will be given its final polish.

He added that the controversial section recommended by the charter board banning elected officials from accepting salaried positions with the city again will be discussed before formal action is taken to either retain or delete it.

At the first council charter work session two weeks ago, the section was tentatively removed on request of Councilman William Klosky. Although Klosky said he asked for the deletion at the urging of Mayor Brown, Brown denied this to The Herald Wednesday night. Brown said Klosky approached him and asked his support in removing this section, because Councilman Agnes Weber wished to be an assistant water clerk when her term of office expires in January.

Mrs. Weber held the position when she was elected 20 months ago and is currently on the city's water committee. "I didn't care one way or the other," Brown said.

In official action at the special action at the council meeting this morning, the board awarded contracts to Kearney Industries, as predicted in The Herald Wednesday, for construction of the expansion of city hall. The award was contingent on a change order being negotiated to expand the addition 10 feet west to within five feet of the property line. Negotiating session with architect Dick Bennett will be held today. The expansion will provide three office spaces.

Representatives of the Longwood-based contracting company said work could commence on the construction in about one week.

The Kearney bid was for $7,725. Low bid of $7,200 submitted by Richards Construction Company was rejected because the owner of the company does not hold the state certification required for work on state, county, or municipal buildings.

Some 40 applications for the new position of assistant clerk of city hall were not considered as originally announced. Mayor Brown said he will have recommendations to make concerning the position at the Aug. 10 regular meeting.

Altamonte Building $36 Million

Total '72 To Date Well Above New Construction In All 1971; That Of 1970 Was A Mere $180,000

Youngstown, Ohio. The developer requested a change from residential to commercial zoning upon a less than one acre site-shaped strip north of the mall property which had been previously overlooked on the 88-acre site.

The other property requesting rezoning is the Crane's Roof office park area being developed by Ackerman and Associates on a 15-acre tract. Here, too, rezoning was requested from residential to commercial.

The 200-acre office park complex is located at the intersection of 14 and Semoran Boulevard.

In other action of council, the city attorney was authorized to prepare ordinances rezoning two multi-million dollar projects.

First to be approved was the $30 million Altamonte Mall located on Semoran Boulevard and DeBartolo Company Boulevard.

In 1971 the figure totaled $1,601,415 and in 1970 it was $181,572.

Mayor Swafford also told council the city's budget for the coming year will be $5,375,496.

In another matter, City Council voted to adopt a resolution extending the city's moratorium upon changing of zoning classification and annexation in H-3 areas for another 60 days.

The moratorium was imposed three months ago in order for the city's planning consultants to determine the growth needs of the municipality.

INTERIOR is beginning to "shape up" at the new $19 million Seminole County courthouse, as evidenced in these pictures taken this morning by Herald photographer Bill Vincent Jr. Offices will start transferring from the present courthouse during this month. ## New Bids Asked For City's Chairs

By BILL SCOTT

Sanford City Commission, at its first budget session Wednesday, continued a subject which has become greatly interesting in the past month — new judicial type chairs for commissioners.

City Manager W. E. Knowles disclosed he had received bids from three firms for the chairs at prices ranging from $19.19 to $115.50 each for 10 posture type chairs.

Personal — thanks for the opportunity of hearing the actual tape of the now "infamous" Casselberry council meeting in which Mayor Blawie was obliged to use the choice "military" term in describing the actions.

As a matter of fact, were I in His Honor's place at that time, I believe I'd have asked another choice explictive or two to the conversation.

And talking about Mayor Blawie, he asks that I remind residents of Casselberry, to please limit the use of water, during the weekend and after 4 p.m. during the week — refrain from watering the lawns, cleaning the family jugs, and doing another choice explictive or two to the conversation.

Yesterday it was Muskie and today for a laugh, that is, the McGovern tippers are alluding to Hubert Humphrey's chance of being "Number 2" on the Denro ticket. (Funny, but by now I'd have sworn that Glenn Turner's name would also have been bandied about in this area also.)

Spy Suspect's Trial Near

TYNDALL AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — A military judge today refused to dismiss espionage charges against Sgt. Walter Perkins on the grounds that he was a "chronic alcoholic."

The presiding judge, Col. Joe Peck also dismissed a defense motion seeking to have the trial of the 37-year-old father of four transferred to a civilian court.

Perkins, a 19-year Air Force veteran who worked in the intelligence division of the Air Defense Weapon's center here, is charged with allegedly attempting to pass national defense secrets to "persons not authorized to have them."

Industrial Group Unhappy Budget Cuts Irk Board

By BILL SCOTT

A strongly worded statement to the Seminole County Commission from the Seminole County Industrial Development Authority (SCIDA) over the commission's action in making cuts in the 1972-73 industrial board's budget was approved at SCIDA's Wednesday afternoon session.

John V. Mercer, industrial board's chairman, said: "When we started looking at the $41,713 County Commission approved budget for SCIDA, we thought we had received $8,000 more this year than last, but upon closer examination we found we had actually received $183 less than the previous year."

In effect, Mercer said, the commission had increased advertising by $5,000 but that was the amount which had gone to the Seminole County Port Authority (SCOPA) prior to the formation of SCIDA.

SCIPA voted last year to allow SCIDA to advertise for industry for both boards and the two even went so far as to pool their money into one advertising account, under SCIDA control.

Since the commission lopped off the advertising line item, the effect was a reduction in advertising funds for both boards.

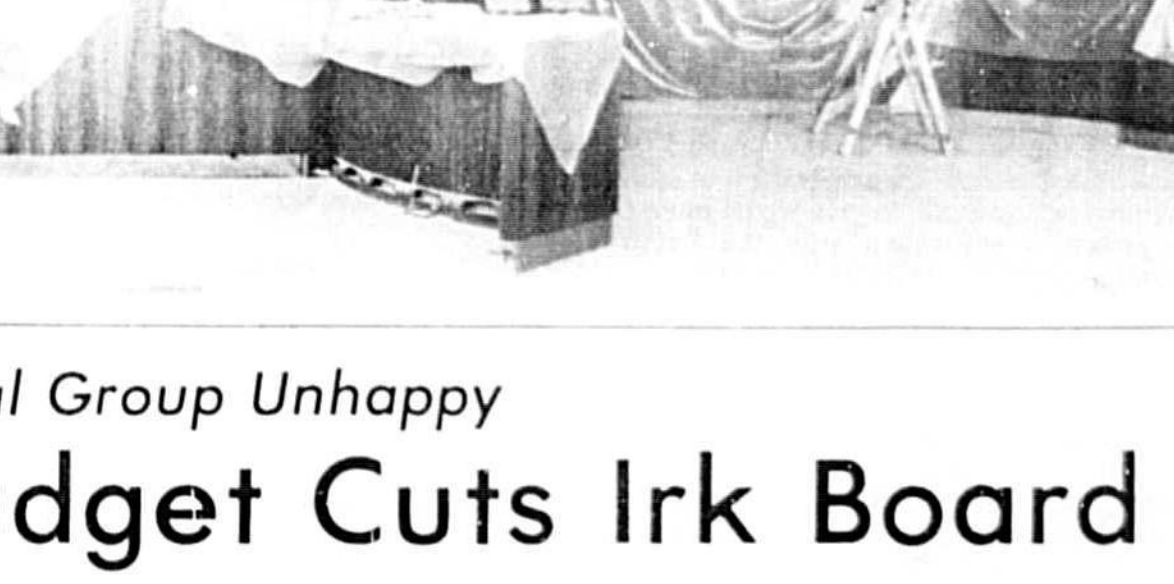

To make matters worse, the commission approved $4,875 salary for SCIDA's secretary and adding the salary to the $12,770 salary for David F. Kelley, SCIDA executive secretary, plus Kelley's travel and other expenses, the fact disclose that the commission approved approximately $23,000 in salaries and expenses to administer less than $18,000.

"It's a ridiculous situation and a slap in the face of the authority," Mercer said, in wondering how the County Commission could treat its own creation in such a manner. The strongly-worded protest will be drawn up by the SCIDA board for presentation to the County Commission at the earliest possible time.

In another SCIDA development, Kelley disclosed he is working with Ralston Purina Company to locate a mushroom plant in Seminole County.

The said company officials have been meeting in an effort to finalize plans to use industrial revenue funds with which to contract a plant for the operation, which is expected to be in the Oviedo area.

Ralston Purina wants an 80,000 square foot building and would employ some 53-73 workers in the operation.

Little things mean a lot.

Surprisingly enough, our little features don't add up to lots of dollars. In $1,999.00, a new Volkswagen is easy to buy and even easier to own. Our warranty is longer than anybody's except Roth's. And for efficient service nothing will beat our built-in computer service system starting later this year. Of course, someday you may decide to sell your Beetle. Don't be alarmed. After 3 or 4 years used Volkswagens Beetles have had a higher resale value than other economy cars. Selling it is the final joy of buying it.

If an owner maintains and services his vehicle in accordance with the Volkswagen maintenance schedule any factory part found to be defective in material or workmanship within 24 months or 24,000 miles, whichever comes first (except normal wear and tear) and service items will be repaired or replaced by any U.S. Volkswagen Dealer. And this will be done free of charge. See your dealer for details.
